

REFERENCE

John Willard Bristow
Library
Memphis State University
Memphis, Tennessee

MSU LIBRARIES

3 2109 00092 0893

WITHDRAWAL

A DICTIONARY
OF
ENGLISH AND WELSH
SURNAME

WITH SPECIAL AMERICAN INSTANCES

BY THE LATE

CHARLES WAREING ^{Endell} BARDSLEY, M.A.

WORCESTER COLLEGE, OXFORD

LATE VICAR OF ULVERSTON, LANCs., AND HONORARY CANON OF CARLISLE CATHEDRAL

AUTHOR OF 'ENGLISH SURNAMES, THEIR SOURCES AND SIGNIFICATIONS'

'CURIOSITIES OF PURITAN NOMENCLATURE,' ETC.

REVISED FOR THE PRESS BY HIS WIDOW

London

HENRY FROWDE

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS WAREHOUSE, AMEN CORNER, E.C.

NEW YORK: 91 & 93 FIFTH AVENUE

1901

Oxford

HORACE HART, PRINTER TO THE UNIVERSITY

C5
2505
B3
1901

TO
WILLIAM · MCKINLEY
PRESIDENT · OF · THE · UNITED · STATES · OF · AMERICA
THIS · DICTIONARY · OF · ENGLISH · AND · WELSH · SURNAMES
WITH · SPECIAL · AMERICAN · INSTANCES
IS · BY · EXPRESS · PERMISSION
GRATEFULLY · DEDICATED

Digitized by the Internet Archive
in 2024

https://archive.org/details/bwb_P9-EIE-107

PREFACE

BY THE LORD BISHOP OF CARLISLE

AT the request of friends I have consented to write a short preface to the Dictionary of English and Welsh Surnames, not as possessing any technical knowledge of the subject, but because, as eldest brother of the author, it was assumed that it would be in my power to supply some biographical details which might be acceptable to many of his numerous and attached friends.

Charles Wareing Bardsley was the sixth of the seven sons of the late Canon James Bardsley and of Sarah his wife. He was born at Bank House, Burnley, in Lancashire, December 29, 1843, of which parish his father was for many years the still well-remembered curate. There can be little doubt that his early environments exercised a great influence upon his character and future pursuits. His parents were strong personalities, holding firmly the distinctive tenets of the old Evangelical school with a tendency to Puritan asceticism in the enforcement of their practical Christianity. The times in which our author's childhood was spent were stirring, and as the father possessed the confidence of his fellow townsmen, the life at the old house in which the seven brothers were brought up was an exceptionally full life. Crossing the Yorkshire moors, Burnley was not very far away from Haworth, the home of the Brontës. It was the curacy at Haworth which Mr. Bardsley had originally accepted when on the point of ordination. It was only on the day preceding his ordination at Bishophthorpe that the Archbishop of York, for some private reason of his own, refused to sanction this arrangement, and assigned to him the curacy of Keighley as a title. As Keighley however was conveniently near, the friendship between the Brontës and Mr. Bardsley was not broken, and it was to the parsonage at Haworth that Mr. Bardsley on Saturday afternoons frequently took his young wife to drink tea. When some years subsequently Shirley was published, the young couple read the book with keen interest, and were greatly relieved to find that they personally had not supplied any materials for the lively sketches of the three typical curates delineated in its pages. To our author and to his brothers the names of the Brontës and the associations of Haworth were very familiar.

At a somewhat later date the late Philip Gilbert Hamerton (editor of the Portfolio) became a school-friend of the writer of this preface. The Worsthorpe Moors and the country adjoining the 'Hollins,' so graphically depicted in 'A Painter's Camp,' were traversed together; and many incidents might be recalled to illustrate the literary tastes which that precocious and brilliant youth did much to foster among his friends at Bank House.

A silent but abiding influence was the surrounding country, containing Pendle Hill and the Cliviger district, with its strange superstitions and traditions of Lancashire witches. Rich also was the neighbourhood in ancient ruins of castles and abbeys. Within the limits of a Saturday ramble were Ribchester and its Roman remains; Mytton with its marble effigies of knights in armour and its chained books. Old houses, such as Townley, Royle, Gawthorpe, lying amid lovely sylvan scenery, were open to the sons; by the kindness of a friend of their father the great works of Dr. Whitaker, the historian of Craven and of Whalley, were accessible, and the Traditions of Lancashire by Roby were their constant diet.

The old home—Bank House—in which the sons were brought up also exercised its spell. That the house was haunted all declared. Isolated at that time, it was after sunset a house which no one alone would willingly approach. There were cellars and even dark garrets which it required no ordinary courage to explore. When on windy moonlight nights the figures in canvas of heroic size in the great tapestry room moved to and fro, swayed by the currents of air behind the wainscot, they imprinted on the imagination of the solitary inmate impressions which fifty years and more have failed to efface from the mind of the writer¹. As, moreover, the times were crowded with political, social, and religious controversies, in all of which his father played the local leading part, it would indeed have been strange if our author as a child in such a home and in such an atmosphere, and amid such associations, had not been thereby moulded and fashioned. Excitable, highly sensitive, and yet withal dreamy and imaginative, his whole future life was intensely coloured and affected by his environment.

¹ A few years ago the writer, having heard that the old home—Bank House—had fallen on evil days and had been let out as small tenements, paid a visit to Burnley to revisit the scenes of childhood and, if possible, to purchase the grand old tapestries. He was unhappily too late. 'May I see the old tapestry?' he inquired. 'It's all taken down and been made into floor-cloth,' replied the tenant; 'and there (pointing to a well trodden but featureless strip of canvas beneath the table) there's the very last bit of it.' 'But how could you do that?' said the visitor, in a tone of reproach. 'Well, you see,' was the reply, 'it was so boggartly at nights!'

Upon the removal of the family to Manchester, in which city the late Canon Bardsley diligently laboured for thirty years, first as Rector of St. Philip's, Bradford Road, and latterly as Rector of the Central City Parish of St. Ann's, our author was duly sent to the Manchester Grammar School. And it was as he daily passed along Market Street on his way to the school that the names over the shops arrested his attention, and thus became the first germs of his future life study. The Cheetham Hospital adjoining the Grammar School, with its quaint rooms and ancient library, became his favourite resort, and among the black book-cases he spent all his leisure hours. Having won the school English Prize Poem he proceeded to Worcester College, Oxford, where three of his elder brothers had preceded him. Possessing much social charm with remarkable powers of composition, not only as a writer of prose and verse but also as a musician, he was in great request at college parties. His improvisations reflected every passing mood, and at times frolicsome, but mostly pathetic, they betrayed the deepest musical feeling. The dark shadows cast by insomnia and an over-vivid imagination were even then haunting him. During his first term at Oxford, oppressed by fear of darkness, he never once slept in his bed, but paced the quad, or dozed away in his armchair, the long and weary hours of night. The straitened finances of his home led him to abbreviate as much as was possible his Oxford course, and having taken his degree, he applied for admission to Holy Orders at the hands of the late Bishop Fraser of Manchester.

There are those who can still recall a somewhat unique experience in connexion with that ordination. In the early morning of the Saturday preceding his ordination, Charles Bardsley was urged to take the place of one of a cricket team by whom an important match was that day to be played on the adjoining Broughton ground. The examination was over, and his time for a few hours was his own. The Bishop was consulted, and under the circumstances his approval was obtained. Bardsley took his place, and played so successfully that he carried out his bat, winning thereby a new bat; whilst on the following morning, in the cathedral, he read the Gospel, having obtained first place in the examination. Throughout his ministry he was greatly sought after as a preacher, and as a visitor by the sick bed his ministrations were to the last singularly helpful. After a few years spent in Manchester, for the greater part at St. Ann's as curate to his father, whose health had already begun to fail, our author became Vicar of Ulverston. He had not been long vicar of that parish before the late Bishop, Dr. Harvey Goodwin, appointed him honorary canon of his cathedral of Carlisle. whilst the clergy of the new archdeaconry of Furness returned him as their proctor to the Convocation of York. When some fifteen years had thus passed, realizing that insomnia had practically disabled him from the active discharge of pastoral work, he retired with his wife and two children to Oxford. There, happily absorbed by the genius of the place, the education of his children, and the quiet prosecution of his favourite studies, he lived the latter part of his life, being very suddenly called to rest on the morning of October 30, 1898. His body was buried in Ulverston, the much-loved scene of his former ministry, and the thousands who followed him to his last resting-place felt that there was much fitness that he who among them for so many years had suffered from loss of sleep should there find that unbroken last sleep for which he had longed—

‘Think of the rest to one who long has striven
 ’Gainst wind and tide to reach the further shore.’

Thirty years have passed since the Dictionary now launched was first laid on the stocks. It involved close research and diligent study for the greater part of the author's life. Realizing that very many years would pass before he would be justified in the publication of the Dictionary, he gave to the press some results of his studies in works which obtained from the first great reputation. Five years after leaving Oxford, in 1873, he published English Surnames, their Sources and Significations. This work was at once most favourably reviewed by the London Times, ran through several editions, and is still regarded as a standard work. In the United States it is even better known than at home, and among the greater pleasures of his life were the grateful communications and pressing invitations conveyed to him by correspondents that the author would pay a long visit to his unknown friends in America. At one time he found it necessary to set aside a day in each fortnight for correspondence with his transatlantic friends¹. In 1879 he published the Romance of the London

¹ The author frequently expressed great admiration for the noble endeavours made by President McKinley to strengthen the ties of brotherhood among English-speaking peoples, and had declared his intention of dedicating his Dictionary to him. This wish having been made known to the President by Mr. Choate, the Minister of the United States to the Court of St. James's, Mr. McKinley very cordially assented to the request.

Directory, and in 1880, Curiosities of Puritan Nomenclature, works which greatly enhanced his reputation. Akin to these works were the Memorials of St. Ann's Church, Manchester, in 1877; The Register of Ulverston Parish Church, published in 1886, in combination with his friend, the Rev. L. R. Ayre, the Rural Dean of Ulverston; and also The Chronicles of the Church and Town of Ulverston, published independently. For several years the author's pen was also employed on works of fiction. Brownie, a short story, was a study drawn from the neighbourhood of the Duddon; whilst His Grandfather's Bible portrayed the scenery and customs of the Furness fells. Many other short sketches and tales were contributed by him to the magazine literature of the day. The materials for his first and largest work of fiction, however, entitled John Lexley's Troubles, a three-volume novel, were drawn mainly from the neighbourhood of Burnley. When published, many recognized, or thought that they recognized, not only the customs and localities of that district, but also some of the characters. It has already been mentioned that the family of which our author was a member was ruled on somewhat austere lines. The late Rector, the father, was beloved by all who knew him, and was oftentimes betrayed into some laxity with his own principles. Great was the delight of his sons when they beheld the good old man enjoying to the full the entertainments of the inimitable Corney Grain, whilst carefully drawing for their moral benefit a distinction between such an entertainment and a visit to a good theatre, which would have been an offence in no way to be condoned! The Puritan atmosphere of the home did not recognize the novel strictly so called. When Now and Then, by the late Samuel Warren was published, it was regarded not as a novel, but as a moral tale which might be profitably read aloud to the younger members of the family! Something however like a scandal ensued when it was found that, one evening, such was the interest displayed that the sons had been allowed to transgress the usual time for bed as they sat around their father and mother, who alternately took up the reading until, incredible to relate, the morning light broke in, the tale was ended, and all sought their couches at an unknown hour. The publication of John Lexley occasioned much perplexity. Its preparation was kept secret from the parents, and when at last a publisher had been found and the volume was favourably reviewed in the London Daily News, the revelation that a novel had been written and published by one of the sons could be no longer withheld—it was an anxious question as to which would prevail, Puritan prejudice or parental pride. The question was never actually decided; for whilst the good old man smiled with approval, it was with a reproving tone that he exclaimed, 'Oh, Charles, Charles!'

It was with intense sorrow that his friends learned the sad news of our author's sudden death. Those who knew him best felt, however, that they would not have had it otherwise. His failure of health and the non-fulfilment of his own plans and purposes were tending to sadden his closing years. After his death there were found among his papers, in his own hand, the pathetic lines of Greg—

'Yes, I have failed: that golden prize
Of life, success—ambition's boast,
Which dazzled once my boyish eyes,
I strove for, prayed for, and have lost.

'Yet I may not have lost the prize,
It only may not yet be won;
I see with dim and tearful eyes
The goal may still be further on.

'The star again, like morning sun,
May rise upon some happier shore;
And when a nobler race is run,
My Master bid me try once more.'

This Dictionary of English and Welsh Surnames was among the unfinished tasks, although it had absorbed the best years of the author's life. It now goes forth to the public as the result of his widow's devotion to her husband's memory. For nearly two years she sought to decipher the microscopic writing until at length it was found possible to place the manuscripts in the hands of the Controller of the University Press. It is possible that some errors may exist which a final revision by the author would have prevented. Those members of the author's family who still survive him, with deep affection tender their thanks to her without whose loving toil the work had been wholly lost.

Of the value of his own work the author entertained a lowly estimate: not so the Quarterly Review, p. 209, 1895. In a long and appreciative article the reviewer, although more than twenty years had elapsed since the publication of English Surnames, states his conviction that 'though the earliest in date of the works reviewed, Mr. Bardsley's work is in our opinion by far the most generally useful, and has the merit of being based on essentially sound principles. We find in it the right classification. The preuves given in the form of an index are taken from actual records, and the curiously apposite quotations from popular mediaeval literature enforce at every point Mr. Bardsley's conclusions.'

On January 1, 1896, the author, in closing his Introduction to this Dictionary, which he did not live to see in print, adds the following words:

'This preface is very unscientific in its arrangement. I frankly admit it, for I am not scientific. I never had the chance. The cares of a heavy parish have only allowed me minutes to jot down the results of past readings, and my occasional holidays were spent in search of proof. My MS. has been locked up for two years through illness and partial blindness. Still, the Dictionary may be useful to students. In any case, its slow preparation of twenty years has given me the one great pleasure of my life. Unhappy the man who has no hobby. I have simply been an earnest but unfortunately a flagging follower in the pursuit of the subject I love.'

The writer of this preface believes that as years pass other students will supply fresh materials and accumulate more adequate and abiding contributions to this fascinating subject, but he trusts that in the meanwhile this Dictionary will accomplish that modest object which was its author's highest aim.

JOHN W. CARLISLE.

ROSE CASTLE, CARLISLE,
April, 1901.

LIST OF REFERENCES AND KEY TO ABBREVIATIONS

- A. Hundred Rolls, 1273.
B. Calendarium Inquisitionum Post Mortem.
C. Calendarium Rotulorum Patentium in Turri Londinensi.
D. Calendarium Rotulorum Chartarum.
E. Rotuli Litterarum Clausarum in Turri Londinensi.
F. Valor Ecclesiasticus.
G. Calendarium Rotulorum Originalium.
H. Rolls of Parliament.
J. Placitorum in Dom. Cap. Westminster.
K. Testa de Neville, sive Liber Feodorum, temp. Hen. III-Edw. I.
L. Calendarium Genealogicum.
M. Writs of Parliament.
N. Munimenta Gildhallae Londoniensis.
O. Issues of the Exchequer.
P. Issue Rolls.
Q. History and Antiquities of York. (Pub. 1785.)
R. Placita de Quo Warranto, temp. Edw. I-III.
S. Guild of St. George, Norwich.
T. Excerpta e Rotulis Finium in Turri Londinensi.
V. Camden Society Publications.
 V. 1. Bury St. Edmunds Wills.
 V. 2. Dingley's History from Marble.
 V. 3. Trevelyan Papers.
 V. 4. The Camden Miscellany.
 V. 5. Obituary of Richard Smyth.
 V. 6. Diary of John Rous.
 V. 7. Liber Famelicus of Sir Jas. Whitelock.
 V. 8. Chronicon Petroburgense.
 V. 9. Proceedings against Dame Alice Kyteler.
 V. 10. Autobiography of Sir John Bramston.
 V. 11. Domesday Book of St. Paul's.
 V. 12. Ricart's Kalendar.
 V. 13. Proceedings in Kent.
 V. 14. Rutland Papers.
W. Surtees Society Publications.
 W. 1. Coldingham Priory.
 W. 2. Testamenta Eboracensia.
 W. 3. Durham Household Book.
 W. 4. Kirkby's Inquest.
 W. 5. Knights' Fees.
 W. 6. Nom. Villarum.
 W. 7. Illustrative Documents.
 W. 8. Priory of Finchale.
 W. 9. Fabric Rolls of York Minster: Wills and Inventories.
 W. 10. Hexham Priory.
 W. 11. Corpus Christi Guild.
 W. 12. Historiae Dunelmensis.
 W. 13. Barnes' Eccles. Proceedings.
 W. 14. Visitation of Yorkshire.
 W. 15. Feodarium Prioratus Dunelmensis.
 W. 16. Depositions from York Castle.
 W. 17. Memorials of Fountains Abbey.
 W. 18. Depositions and Eccles. Proceedings.
 W. 19. Liber Vitae.
 W. 20. Remains of Dean Granville.
X. Memorials of London (Riley).
Y. Proceedings and Ordinances: Privy Council.
Z. Calendar of Proceedings in Chancery (Elizabeth).
AA. Chetham Society Publications.
 AA. 1. Wills and Inventories, Lancashire.
 AA. 2. Three Lancashire Documents.
 AA. 3. Lancashire Chancies.
 AA. 4. Birch Chapel.
BB. Rotuli Normanniae in Turri Londinensi.
DD. Documents Illustrative of English History.
EE. Index to 'Originalia et Memoranda.'
FF. History of Norfolk (Blomefield and Parkin).
GG. Fines (Richard I).
HH. History of Hertfordshire (Clutterbuck).
MM. Rotuli Curiae Regis.
NN. Calendar and Inventories of the Treasury.
PP. History of Leicestershire (Nichols).
QQ. Register of St. James', Piccadilly.
RR. State Paper Office Publications.
 RR. 1. Patent Rolls.
 RR. 2. Compoti.
 RR. 3. Issue Rolls.
SS. History of Durham (Surtees).
TT. Calendar of State Papers (Domestic).

- XX. 1. Materials for History of Reign of Henry VII.
 XX. 2. Registrum Abbatiae Johannis Whethamstede.
 XX. 3. Letters from Northern Registers.
 ZZ. Calendar to Pleadings (Elizabeth).
 BBB. Calendarium Genealogicum: Henry III—
 Edw. I. Ed. by Chas. Roberts.
 DDD. Hist. and Antiquities of the County Palatine of Durham (Robert Surtees).
 EEE. Petition in Parliament, 1402. Rolls of Parliament, vol. iii, p. 519.
 FFF. Cartularium Abbatiae de Whiteby, Ordinis
 S. Benedicti (Surtees Society).
 GGG. Memorials of the Church of SS. Peter and Wilfrid, Ripon, vol. i. (Surtees Society).
 HHH. Sanctuarium Dunelmense et sanctuarium
 Beverlacenae (Surtees Society).
 KKK. History of Northumberland (Rev. John Hodgson).
 PPP. History of Newcastle and Gateshead (Richard Welford).
 QQQ. History and Antiquities of North Durham
 (Rev. James Raine, 1852).
 RRR. The Pipe Rolls, or Sheriffs' Annual Accounts for the Counties of Cumberland, Westmoreland, and Durham during the reigns of Hen. II, Ric. I, and John.
 TTT. The History of Liddesdale and the Debateable Land (Robert Bruce Armstrong.
 Pub. by Douglas, Edin.).
 VVV. Household Books of Lord William Howard of Naworth Castle (Surtees Society).
 YYY. History and Antiquities of Bristol (William Barrett, Surgeon, F.S.A.).
 WWW. Chronicles of the Mayors and Sheriffs of London, 1188–1274 (Henry Thos. Riley).

- C. R.—Close Rolls.
 C. S. P.—Calendar of State Papers.
 Cath. Ang.—Catholicon Anglicum. Ed. by S. J. H.
 Herrtage (Camden Society), 1882.
 Cotg.—Cotgrave's French and English Dictionary, 1673.
 E. E. T. S.—Early English Text Society.
 E. and F.—Estates and Families of co. Cumberland (Denton).
 H. E. D.—Historical English Dictionary.
 L. and C. R.—Lancashire and Cheshire Record Society.
 MDB.—Modern Domesday Book, 1873.
 Patr. Brit. = Patronymica Britannica (M. A. Lower, 1860).
 P. T. Howdenshire.—Poll Tax. Howdenshire.
 P. T. Yorks.—Poll Tax, West R. of Yorkshire, 1379.
 Prompt. Parv. = Promptorium Parvulorum. Ed. by Albert Way (Camden Society), 1865.
 W. D. S.—Wappentagium de Strafford.

- Bapt. = Baptismal. Occup. = Occupative.
 Dim. = Diminutive. Offic. = Official.
 Nick. = Nickname. Pat. = Patronymic.

DIRECTORIES CITED.

1. English and Welsh Post Office Directories, &c.
 Birmingham, Staffordshire, Warwickshire, Worcestershire, 1872.
 Cambridge, Norfolk, and Suffolk, 1865.
 Crockford's Clerical Directory, 1881–91.
 Devon and Cornwall, 1873.
 Durham, Northumberland, Cumberland, and Westmoreland, 1873.
 Lancashire, 1873.
 London Commercial and Court Directories, 1870.
 (When cited as London simply, the Commercial Directory is intended.)
 Monmouthshire, and Chief Towns and Places in South Wales, 1871.
 Kelly's Oxford Directory, 1899.
 North and East Ridings of Yorkshire, with City of York, 1872.
 West Riding of Yorkshire, 1867.
 Return of Owners of Land, 1873, commonly known as the Modern Domesday Book, and quoted throughout as MDB.

2. American Directories.

- Boston, U.S., 1886 (Sampson, Thurlock & Co.).
 New York, 1877 (Wilson).
 Philadelphia, 1885 (Jas. Gopsill & Sons).
 Worcester, U.S., 1884 (Drew, Allis & Co.).

N.B. The figures attached to various towns, villages, and hamlets refer to the above Directories, and show the number of instances of surnames therein recorded as resident in those places at the date of publication.

These numbers are arranged in the same order as the different spellings of the surnames to which they are annexed, e. g.

Abbey, Abbee, Abbe.

London, 4, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 11, 0, 6.

Other works referred to:

- A Lyttel Geste of Robin Hode, 16th cent.
 Atkins' (R.) History of Gloucestershire, 1712.
 Bailey's English Dictionary. Edit. 1737–42.
 Baines' Hist. of Lancashire. Edit. John Harland.
 Bardsley and Ayre's Register of Ulverston Parish Church. Pub. by Jas. Atkinson, Ulverston, 1886.
 Bardsley's (C. W.) Curiosities of Puritan Nomenclature, 1st edit., 1880. Pub. by Chatto & Windus.
 —English Surnames, 4th edit., 1889. Pub. by Chatto & Windus.

- Blomefield and Parkin's History of Norfolk. 11 vols. 1805-10. (man.)
 Bowditch's Suffolk Surnames, 1861.
 Brand's (J.) History and Antiquities of Newcastle-on-Tyne, 1789.
 Brockett's Glossary of North-Country Words, 1825.
 Burn's Hist. of Parish Church Registers in England, 2nd edit., 1862.
 Camden's Remains. Nicholas Okes, 1623.
 Charnock's Ludus Patronymicus, 1868.
 Cocke Lorelle's Bote, 16th cent.
 Coucher Book of Furness Abbey. (Chetham Society.) Edited by J. C. Atkinson. 3 vols.
 Dictionary of National Biography. Edited by Leslie Stephen and Sidney Lee.
 Earwaker's (J. B.) History of East Cheshire, 1877.
 Freeman's (E. A.) Norman Conquest of England.
 Ferguson's Surnames as a Science.
 Halliwell's (J. O.) Dictionary of Archaic and Provincial Words, 6th edit., 1868.
 Hotten's (J. C.) Original Lists of Emigrants, 1600-1700. Pub. 1874.
 Jamieson's (J.) Dictionary of the Scottish Language.
 Kirby's Quest for Somerset, in which is contained the Exchequer Lay Subsidy for 1 Edw. III. (Somerset Record Society, 1889.) Edited by F. H. Dickinson, F.S.A.
 Lewis' (S.) Topographical Dictionary of England. 4 vols. 5th edit., 1842.
 Lower's (M. A.) Patronymica Britannica. Edit. 1860.
 Madden's Privy Purse Expenses of Princess Mary, daughter of Henry VIII, afterwards Queen Mary. Edit. 1831.
 Nicolas' (N. Harris) Privy Purse Expenses of Henry VIII. Edit. 1827.
 — Privy Purse Expenses of Elizabeth of York. Edit. 1830.
 — Wardrobe Accounts of Edward IV. Edit. 1830.
 Nicolson (J.) and Burn's (R.) History and Antiquities of the counties of Westmoreland and Cumberland, 1777.
 Ormerod's History of Cheshire.
 Oxford Historical Society Publications:
 Wood's History of the City of Oxford. Edited by A. Clark, 1889.
 Register of the University of Oxford, vol. i. Edited by C. W. Boase, 1884.
 Ditto, vol. ii, pts. i, ii, iii, iv. Edited by A. Clark, 1887-89.
 Piers Plowman (Pickering's edit. 1842).
 Pipe Rolls, in the reign of Hen. II. Published by the Pipe Roll Society, established 1883.
 Poll Tax (West Riding of Yorkshire), 1379. Published by the Yorkshire Archaeological and Topographical Association, 1882. (Always quoted as P. T. Yorks.)
 Quarterly Review. Jan. 1895.
 Register of the Freemen of the City of York, vol. i, 1272-1558. (Surtees Society.) Edited by Dr. Francis Collins, 1897. (Quoted as Freemen of York.)
 Rudder's (S.) History of Gloucestershire, 1779.
 Rylands' (J. P.) Lay Exchequer Subsidy Rolls, co. Lanc., 1332.
 Skeat's (W. W.) Etymological Dictionary, 1884.
 Stockdale's Annals of Cartmel, 1872.
 Taylor's (Isaac) Words and Places, 1865.
 Toulmin Smith's (Joshua) Memorials of Old Birmingham, 1864.
 — English Gilds (E. E. T. S.), 1870.
 — (Lucy) York Mystery Plays, 14th to 16th cents. (1885).
 Tyrwhitt's (Thos.) Chaucer. Edit. 1843.
 Whitaker's (T. D.) History and Antiquities of Craven, 1812.
 Yonge's (Miss) History of Christian Names, 1863. (Quoted as Yonge, i, ii.)
- PUBLICATIONS OF THE LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE RECORD SOCIETY.
- Lancashire Wills proved at Richmond (1531-1760). Edited by Lieut.-Col. Fishwick.
 Preston Guild Rolls (1397-1682). Edited by W. Alexander Abram.
 The Register of Leyland Church (1653-1710). Edited by W. S. White.
 The Registers of Prestbury Church, co. Chester (1560-1636). Edited by Jas. Croston.
 Wills at Chester (1545-1720). Edited by J. P. Earwaker, F.S.A.
- PUBLICATIONS OF THE HARLEIAN SOCIETY.
1. Church Registers.
- Canterbury Cathedral (1564 onwards). Edited by Robt. Hovenden.
 Kensington Parish Church (1539-1675). Edited by F. N. Macnamara and A. Story-Maskelyne.
 St. Antholin, Budge Row (1538-1754); also St. John

- Baptist on Wallbrook Island (1682-1754). Edited by J. Lemuel Chester and Geo. J. Armytage.
- St. Dionis, Backchurch, London (1538-1754). Edited by J. Lemuel Chester.
- St. George's Chapel, Mayfair (1740-54). Edited by Geo. J. Armytage.
- St. George, Hanover Sq. (1725-1809, 2 vols.). Edited by John H. Chapman.
- St. James, Clerkenwell (1551-1754). Edited by Robert Hovenden.
- St. Mary, Aldermary (1558-1754). Edited by J. Lemuel Chester.
- St. Michael, Cornhill (1546-1754). Edited by J. Lemuel Chester.
- St. Peter, Cornhill (1538-1774, 2 vols.). Edited by G. W. G. Leveson Gower.
- St. Thomas the Apostle, London (1558-1754). Edited by J. Lemuel Chester.
- Stourton, co. Wilts (1570-1800). Edited by John Henry Ellis, Rector.
2. Marriage Licences.
- 1520-1828. Allegations for Marriage Licences issued by the Bishop of London. Edited by Geo. J. Armytage. Described in this work as Marriage Lic., London, i, ii.
- 1543-1869. Allegations for Marriage Licences issued from the Faculty Office of the Archbishop of Canterbury at London. Edited by Geo. J. Armytage. Described as Marriage Lic., Faculty Office.
- 1558-1699. Allegations for Marriage Licences issued by the Dean and Chapter of Westminster. Edited by Geo. J. Armytage. Described as Marriage Lic., Westminster, and sometimes as Marriage Alleg., Westminster.
- 1660-1694. Allegations for Marriage Licences issued by the Vicar-General of the Archbishop of Canterbury. Edited by Geo. J. Armytage. Described as Marriage Alleg., Canterbury.

LIST OF SUBSCRIBERS.

- | | |
|---|---|
| ALLEN, E. G., Bookseller, London, W.C.
 ANGUS & ROBERTSON, Booksellers, Sydney,
 N.S.W. (2 copies.)
 ASHER & CO., Booksellers, Berlin.
 AYRE, Rev. Canon, Ulverston. BAKER, T., Bookseller, London, W.
 BARDSLEY, Rev. J. U. N., Ulverston.
 BARDSLEY, Mrs. J. W., Huddersfield.
 BARDSLEY, Rev. R. W., Ripon. (6 copies.)
 BARROW-IN-FURNESS FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.
 BELL, Rev. J. B., Ulverston.
 BROOKE, Sir Thomas, Bart., Huddersfield.
 BRUNNER, Henry, Esq., Liverpool.
 BRUNNER, Sir John, Bart., Liverpool.
 BUMPUS, J. & E., Ltd., Booksellers, London, W.
 (2 copies.)
 BUMPUS, J. & E., Ltd., Booksellers, London, E.C. CARDIFF FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.
 CARLISLE, Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of.
 (3 copies.)
 CARLTON CLUB, London, S.W.
 CAZENOVE, C. D., & SON, Booksellers, London,
 W.C.
 CHADWICK, S. J., Esq., Dewsbury.
 CHAPMAN, Mrs., Manchester.
 CHRYSTAL, R. S., Bookseller, Manchester.
 CLARK, H., Esq., Croydon.
 COLLINS, Dr. F., Pateley Bridge.
 COLLINS, Rev. Henry, Huddersfield.
 COWARD, J., Esq., Ulverston. | COWELL, Peter, Esq., Liverpool.
 CROYDON PUBLIC LIBRARIES.
 CYMMER WORKMEN'S LIBRARY, near Porth. DAVIES, Rev. Prof. T. Wilton, D.D., Bangor.
 DEAN, C. W., Esq., Ulverston.
 DEIGHTON, BELL & Co., Booksellers, Cambridge.
 DICKENSON, J., Esq., Ulverston.
 DIGBY, William, Esq., C.I.E., Bromley. EDINBURGH FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.
 ELLISON, Thomas, Esq., West Kirby.
 ENYS, John D., Esq., Enys Penryn. FRESTON, Thomas Westfaling, Esq., Prestwich. GERISH, W. B., Esq.
 GLAISHER, H. J., Bookseller, London, W.
 GONVILLE AND CAIUS COLLEGE LIBRARY,
 Cambridge.
 GOODCHILD, D., & Co., Booksellers, London, E.C. HAINES, C. S., Esq., Ulverston.
 HALES, Prof., London, N.W.
 HARRASSOWITZ, Otto, Bookseller, Leipzig.
 HARRISON, T., Esq., Ulverston.
 HATCHARDS, Booksellers, London, W. (2 copies.)
 HODGSON, J., Esq., J.P., Ulverston. (2 copies.)
 HORNSBY, Miss, Ulverston. JACKSON, R., Bookseller, Leeds. (4 copies.)
 JAMES, Rev. Dr., Rugby.
 JONES, Surgeon-General Evan, Aberdare.
 JONES, E. Penllyn, Esq., Aberystwyth. |
|---|---|

KLINCKSIECK, C., Bookseller, Paris.

LANCASTER, E. M., Esq., Worthing.

LAWES, E., Esq., J.P., F.S.A., Tenby.

LEEDS PUBLIC FREE LIBRARIES.

LEES, Rev. Samuel, West Bromwich.

LITERARY AND PHILOSOPHICAL INSTITUTION,
Newcastle-on-Tyne.

LONDON LIBRARY, W.

LOW, S., MARSTON, & CO., Booksellers, London,
E.C. (3 copies.)

MACKERETH, Mrs., Ulverston.

MACKERETH, E., Esq., Ulverston.

MACKERETH, G., Esq., Ulverston.

M McNALLY, Rev. F. G., Windermere.

MANCHESTER FREE REFERENCE LIBRARY.

MELVILLE, MULLEN, & SLADE, Booksellers,
Melbourne. (3 copies.)

MILLER & GILL, Booksellers, London, W.C.

MORLEY, Miss, Eton College.

MORRELL, W. W., Esq., J.P., York.

MORRIS, T. E., Esq., London, E.C.

NEWINGTON, A., Esq., Croydon.

OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE CLUB, London, S.W.

PARKER, R., Esq., Ulverston.

PATCHETT, A., Esq., Liverpool.

PIERCE, Ellis, Bookseller, Dolyddelen. (2 copies.)

PLATT-HIGGINS, Mrs. H., London, S.W.

POLLARD, J., Esq., Truro.

PRICHARD, Thomas, Esq., Llanerchymedd.

QUARITCH, Bernard, Bookseller, London, W.
(6 copies.)

RATCLIFFE, Mrs., Grange-over-Sands.

REDHEAD, W., Esq., Ulverston.

RYLANDS, J. Paul, Esq., F.S.A., Birkenhead.

RYLANDS, W. H., Esq., London, W.C.

SALISBURY, Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of.
(2 copies.)

SIMPKIN, MARSHALL, HAMILTON, KENT &
Co., Ltd., Booksellers, London, E.C.
(6 copies.)

SOTHERAN, H., & CO., Booksellers, London,
W.C.

SPOTTISWOODE & CO., Ltd., Booksellers, Eton.

STECHELT, G. E., Bookseller, London, W.C.
(3 copies.)

STEVENS, B. F., & BROWN, Booksellers, London,
W.C.

THIN, James, Bookseller, Edinburgh.

THOMAS, Lieut-Col. G. T., Surbiton.

THOMPSON, Miss, Ulverston.

THOMPSON & CO., Booksellers, Belfast.

THURSHANG, Peter, Esq., Redruth.

TODD, W. H., Esq., Ulverston.

TRUSLOVE, HANSON, & COMBA, Ltd., Booksellers, London, W.

TWIETMEYER, A., Bookseller, Leipzig.

WALKER, E., Esq., Ulverston.

WELTER, H., Bookseller, Paris.

WHITHAM, S. J., Bookseller, Ulverston. (6 copies.)

WILLIAMS & NORGATE, Booksellers, London,
W.C.

WILSON, A., Bookseller, London, E.C.

WITHAM, J. S., Esq., Ulverston.

WOODBURN, Miss, Ulverston.

YOUNG, H. E., Esq., Blundellsands.

ZAEHNSDORF, J., Esq., London, W.C. (2 copies.)

INTRODUCTION

THE purpose of this work is to supply materials for an etymological dictionary of English and Welsh surnames. It must be understood at once that I have gone little further than an attempt to trace back our names to their original forms, to clear them from the incrustations of time, and to place each, however misleading in appearance to-day, in its own particular class. For instance, I do not give the etymology of Richard, for that has already been done by other workers, but I proceed to show that Higginson is equivalent to Dixon, by demonstrating that Hick and Dick were the *nicks*¹ of Richard in the hereditary surname period, and that Hick was lazified into Higg (just as Dicks became also Diggs); then that the diminutive of Higg became Higgin, whence the patronymics of Higgins and Higginson. Dick stuck more closely to the sharpened form and became Dickin, whence the patronymic is Dickins and Dickinson—Tillotson, son of Tillot, diminutive of Till, nick of Matilda. Similarly with regard to local surnames, I attempt to prove that such a directory name as Philbrick is a corruption of Fellbridge, through the modified forms of Fellbrig, Philbrigg, and the sharper Phillbrick. But I do not state, however simple it may be, the etymology of the local term Fellbridge: I have tried to get through the modifications, not to say mutilations, back to the original parent. A single other instance will suffice. The surname of Physick occurring in the London Directory is a corrupted form of Fishwick, but I do not give the etymology of that local name, simple as it seems to be: I leave that to other workers.

English surnames have been made the subject of endless guessings. Several years ago I wrote an article for a monthly Church magazine. Amongst other little items, I gave the origin of the simple occupative surname Mason, a builder. A few days later, I received an angry letter from a lady in the West Country, who stated that her name was Mason, and that she was a direct descendant of Mnason in the Acts of the Apostles, and that the family had worked their way through Phrygia and Pamphylia into Western Europe, and finally settled in the county from which she addressed her letter. I at once dispatched a note of apology! Morley is commonly claimed to be from Morlaix, though the moor-ley abounds on every side. Twopeny is derived from Tupigny, in Flanders, although pence-names were quite familiar in the hereditary surname period. Fivepence, Fourpence, and Halpeny existed, and Nincpence lasted through three generations, at least, in the county of Durham. D'Aeth now takes the place of Death in our modern directories, because it was guessed by some one that it came across the 'little streak' from Aeth in Flanders. It is probably a Cambridgeshire name and comes from some little, and now forgotten, spot so called in the county. In the Hundred Rolls (1273) occurs

¹ This contraction of the word 'nickname' is used by the author throughout this work, and is printed as he wrote it.—[A. B.]

HUGO DE DETHE, co. Camb.

ALICIA DE DETHE, co. Camb.

Every undergraduate at Cambridge is familiar with the name to this day. In fact, talk to a very large number of people about their surname and you will find that their family came in with the Conqueror, their visiting cards laughing at them 'behind their backs.' William evidently had a very easy time of it. It is quite clear that he had only a handful of opponents to meet, and that the story of the Battle of Hastings is a gross historic fraud.

Throughout my work I have divided our surnames into the five classes I confined them to some twenty-two years ago, viz:—(1) Baptismal or Personal Names. (2) Local Surnames. (3) Official Surnames. (4) Occupative Surnames. (5) Nicknames. Practically there are only four classes, for it is often hard to distinguish between occupation and office.

After local names the largest class is baptismal names, with their endless nicks, pet forms, diminutives, &c. It may interest the reader to study my analysis of the first five letters of the alphabet in the London Directory (1870). I need not apologize for so many doubtful instances.

	A	B	C	D	E	Total
Local	915	5093	3259	1377	716	11360
Baptismal	1763	1647	1535	1935	1323	8203
Occupative	37	899	1546	169	—	2651
Official	139	575	949	48	26	1737
Nicknames	45	2089	685	210	67	3096
(Foreign)	184	569	293	419	119	1584
(Doubtful)	120	850	476	193	56	1695
Total	3203	11722	8743	4351	2307	30326

All the countries of Western Europe seem to have adopted the same means of securing identification, or their neighbours did it for them. Wales is the great exception. Here there is scarcely a trade name, only a few nicknames, no official surnames that I know of, just a sprinkling of local surnames, and the rest, quite 95 per cent., are baptismal names. Hence the great difficulty of identification in the Principality. Some spirited effort ought to be made by Welshmen to remedy this great defect. At present the surnames of 'gallant little Wales' defeat their own intention, namely to give individuality to the nominee.

The English natural growth of distinct branches of hereditary surnames from, say, 1250 to 1450, fortunately escaped this obstacle to identification. The five classes mentioned above have proved amply sufficient for the purpose.

One of the greatest difficulties in solving the origin of our surnames comes under the law of imitation. The parentage being forgotten, people naturally began to pronounce their names in such a way as seemed to convey a meaning. After the institution of Church Registers the clerks wrote down accordingly. Hence the pitfall into which so many stumble. Hence in co. Somerset, Greedy for Gredhay, Rainbird for Reynebaud, Trott for Troyt, Bacchus for Bakehouse, Toogood or Doogood for Thurgod, Goodyear for Goodier, Gospell for Gosbell, Physick for Fishwick, Potiphar for Pettifer, Pitchfork (co. Linc.) for Pitchforth (i.e. Pickford), Roylance for Rylands, Gudgeon for Goodson (cf. the pronunciation Hodgkin for Hodgson in the North), Twentyman for Twinterman, Sisterson for Sissotson (Cecilia), Rayment for Raymond, Garment for Garmond, Forty for the old 'de la Fortheye' of co. Oxford (which still exists as Forty in the city), and a host of others. All this was perfectly natural, and to this day the provincial sparrowgrass remains for asparagus, and causeway for causey. For similar instances v. Gumboil, Popkiss, or Birdseye. Therefore, as the newspaper advertisements say, 'beware of imitations.'

Many familiar dictionary words are closely connected with surnames, which materially help to elucidate their meaning, v. Codling (apple), Cocket (coquette), or Gillott (jilt); but jilt has been already explained in my English Surnames.

Some extraordinary modifications may be mentioned. One day (1895) the driver of a tram-car on Banbury Road, Oxford, told me his name was Woosnam. I at once asked him if he came from South Lancashire. He looked somewhat astonished, but said 'yes.' 'From the neighbourhood of Bury or Rochdale?' I inquired. 'Rochdale,' he said. His ancestors were the familiar Wolstenholme, of that district, but he persisted that his father and mother spelt the name Woosnam, and so in some cases it is found in the Lancashire directories. In the registers of St. Mary, Ulverston, the great Furness name of Postlethwaite is often entered Poslet. Chawner represents the occupative Chaloner; Rownson, Roanson, or Ronson represent Rowlandson or Rollinson in the Furness district of North Lancashire, and are found in the Manchester and other directories. Townson in the same division of the county stands for Tomlinson. Conclusive proof, or circumstantial evidence not absolutely proof, in these cases is forthcoming. I have only given a few instances, but many others will be found in the pages of this book. Here again the student must be warned against guessing. Only earnest reading of the published works of County Archæological Societies and Church Registers will give him the desired key to the elucidation of such curious modifications, not to say mutilations.

It may be noticed that aspirates were indifferently used—Ilbert and Heleberd were the same. Hunderhill is found for Underhill (Kirby's Quest, 1 Edw. III, p. 325). Hatchard now stands for Achard; Hellison is found for Ellison in the Yorkshire Poll Tax, 1379. In the Hundred Rolls of 1273, the same individual is referred to as Hippwell and Ippewell. To-day we find Hadkins and Adkins, Harnett for Arnett, Haskew and Askew, Houseley and Ouseley, Hadcock and Adcock, Hosgood and Osgood, Effingham and Heffingham, &c., running side by side.

In the surname period there seems to have been no law as regards aspirates. Many of these h's are modern, but the larger number, as this dictionary will show, date from the period when surnames were becoming established. Of course it is a vice versa affair. Cf. Armitage in the directory with hermitage in the ordinary dictionary. Many old English personal names, now completely forgotten, survive in our surnames. Aldus is one such, now found as Aldus, Aldis, Aldhous, the imitative Aldhouse, Aldous, or Alldiss (v. Aldhouse). In the eastern counties it was evidently a popular font-name, especially in Norfolk:

WILLIAM FIL ALDUSE, co. Notts, 1273. A.

ALDUS WAVELOC, co. Camb., 1273. A.

HUGH FIL ALDUS, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Just another instance from a large list, that of Aldrich:

JOHN FIL ALDRECH. C.

JOHN ALDRYCHE, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1469: FF. xi. 325.

This still lives in our directories, both in America and England, as Aldrich, and the imitative and local-looking Aldridge. From twenty to twenty-five surnames, more or less flourishing in our English and American directories, spring from the great personal name, Sagar, or Sayer. It plays havoc with the vowels; one individual, Siger de Freville by name, is found in the Hundred Rolls (1273) as Siger, Saer, Sayer, and Seer (ii. 152, 514, 153, 523): v. Sayer for many present forms. But, as a personal name, Sayer is completely forgotten. The same remark applies to Hake and Hacon. These must suffice. A large number of examples will present themselves to those who care to consult the pages of this book; as for instance, Elvey (or Allvey), Woolrich (or Woolwright), and Kendrick (or Kenwright). A large number of names have two or three distinct origins; take Bell, for instance:

NICHOLAS FIL BELE, co. Beds., 1273. A.

BELLA or BELE COTTY, co. Linc., 1273. A.

HUGH LE BEL, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

RICHARD ATTE BELL, 1307. M.

Here are three derivations of Bell: a personal name, a nickname, and a local sign-name. Or again, Horn:

ADAM HORN, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

ROGER DE HORNE, co. Kent, 1273. A.

WILLIAM ATTE HORN, co. Soms., i Edw. III.

Here we have first, a personal name; secondly, a local name, Horn being a parish in co. Kent; and thirdly, a sign-name.

Or once more, Gulliver. This also has three parentages: a personal, a local, and again a personal (v. Gulliver (1), (2), and (3)).

The instances of a double derivation are endless. One example will suffice. Lamb is just as often a personal name as a nickname. Lambert was a great favourite in the surname period, and its nick was Lamb; its diminutives being Lamb-in and Lamb-kin. Such an entry as—represents the nickname.

WILLIAM LE LAMBE, co. Camb., 1273. A,

The statement that surnames from female names never existed is too absurd to contradict; and the idea that such names denote illegitimacy is as utterly ridiculous to the careful student. So far as the first allegation is concerned, it is enough to point to the enormous influence such girl-names as Juliana, Constance, Isabella, Matilda, Margaret, Avice (Heloise), Emma, &c., with their many diminutives, such as Jowett, Gillott, Cust, Custance, Ibb, Ibson, Ibbott, Ibbotson, Tillott, Tillotson, Magg, Megson, Moxon, Avison (sometimes), Emmot, Emlin, Embling, Emmotson, Emmet, and dozens of other girl-names, have had on our directories of to-day. Dennison or Tennyson, or Tennison, in nine cases out of ten are descendants of the feminine Dionise; v. Isard for a large batch. If any one will take the trouble to study the Yorkshire Poll Tax of 1379, he will be astonished to find how many children were styled after the mother's personal name while the father was living; probably because she was a stronger personality than he in the eyes of her neighbours, or because she had a dowry. In many cases, too, the child would be posthumous.

It is curious to notice apparently extinct surnames in England crop up in the U.S.A.; v. for instance, Holy Peter, now Hollopeter across the Atlantic. It seems to have long died out in the old country. So with Liard, which I can only find in New York. The same remark applies to Pallister and to Chickin. The last is found in the Boston Directory.

Circumstantial evidence. There are many cases where proof of the derivation is not absolute, and yet where you can scarcely hesitate to accept the evidence: v. Pim, or Pimm, or Pilson, where the origin is practically settled.

Some local and official names are to all intents and purposes the same. Hence Spence and Spencer, Panter and Pantry, Kitchen and Kitchener, Port and Porter. Take but one instance:

ROBERT LE PANTER, co. Camb., 1273. A.

JOHN DE LA PANETERIE, London, 1273. A.

Both of these occupied the position of steward of the pantry. Many instances of this double description will be found in the pages of this book. It may be argued that some of these local names may represent under-servants of the steward. That is possible.

Variants of family names are extraordinary in number. The Mannerings of Cheshire are said to have 137 different ways of spelling the name in their archives. I think it was Mr. Chaloner Smith who found over 400 variations of Cushion in old wills, &c. In Furness, North Lancs., Crewdson, Croudson, or Crowdson run together, and some of them are even now known to be connected. Dearnally and Dearnley may be seen side by side over shops; I have seen them in Higher Broughton, Manchester, eighteen years ago. Several years ago I saw Povah and Povey close together in Ellesmere, co. Salop. The Cheshire Cumberback is found in America as Counterpatch. Raleigh or Trott will furnish good instances of variety of spelling in the unsettled period of orthography. Just take Blenkin-sopp as an example: 'On April 23, 1470, Eliz. Blynkynesopppe, of Blynkynsoppe, widow of Thomas Blynkyensope, of Blynkkensope, received a general pardon' (Hodgson's Northumberland, iii. 130). Here are four variations within two lines written by the same hand. This will give the casual reader an idea of the vagaries in spelling. Many of these names, like our dictionary words, attained one settled orthography; but far more did not, as shown above. A final example: Slater, Slatter, and Sclater, are all prospering in our directories to-day; Sclaster, mentioned elsewhere, is extinct. We find

ADAM LE SCLATTERE, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

RICHARD LE SCLATTERE, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Every Oxford undergraduate is familiar with Slatter, but the entries of this surname show the natural tendency to diverge into three variants.

Of course, the further off the more likely modifications would arise, as in the case of Counterpatch referred to above. Chisholm is an instance. In Philadelphia this name is found as Chisom; and in Boston, although Chisholm is preserved, we find Chisam.

It is important, where possible, to give the county wherein early extracts from records can be found. Browning, although universal, was specially a popular personal name in the West Country. The surname is common there. You must look for Death in Cambridgeshire, and Daft in co. Nottingham. Jolland was a Lincolnshire personal name; it is there you must look to-day for the surname as well as its variants. Halliwell, in his Provincial Dictionary, gives us 'hext, highest.

"The erchebischop of Canturberi
In Engelonde that is hext."

Cf. this with

WALTER HEXTE, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 186.

There are four Hexts to-day, in M.D.B. (co. Cornwall). Probably the ancestor was the tallest in the family. Again, Halliwell furnishes us with 'halse, hazel, co. Somerset.' In Kirby's Quest, quoted above, we find RICHARD ATTE HALSE, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III, p. 181.

Thus from residence by some prominent hazel-tree we have not only surnames representing Hazel, &c., but an early form, Halse, still preserved in the vernacular of the county in which it arose. There are four Halses in the London Directory, and two in Boston (U.S.A.). Again, take co. Durham. There are curious surnames of local origin which found their rise in certain monastic or ecclesiastical fabrics. Galilee is an instance.

WILLIAM DE LA GALILYE, C.R., 2 Edw. III, pt. i.

JOHN GALILEE, 1498 (Hist. Newcastle and Gateshead, i. 408).

No doubt this surname was attached to Durham Cathedral. It still exists in Sunderland, and has reached Liverpool, and in a modified form is found in New York. Cardinal Langley was buried in the Galilee of Durham in 1437. Now go to the Western Country. A twitchen was an alley or passage that went between two thoroughfares; hence

RICHARD DE LA TWICHENE, co. Devon, 1273. A.

NICHOLAS TWYCHEENWEYE, co. Soms.: Kirby's Quest, p. 234.

Twitchen and Twitchin are the present form of the surname. Any reader of Anthony à Wood's Oxford will be familiar with this local term.

While on this subject we may notice that h is frequently lost in local surnames where the suffix begins with h: cf. Foxell for Foxhall, Greenall for Greenhall, or Blackall for Blackhall. Buckle no doubt represents Buckhill, as Windle, Windhill. Haslam is a modification of Hasleham, and Barnum is an American form of Barnham, as Chessum is an English form of Chesham. Goodenough has lost the h in the suffix hough. The most important instance of all, ey for hey, is treated of elsewhere.

In some cases the personal suffix cock (as in Wilcock, &c.), becomes the local suffix cott, and vice versa. Thus Glascott has become Glascock, Jeffcock has been turned into Jeffcott, and Grocott stares you in the face as Growcock.

In many cases English surnames are a mere translation of Norman-French names: cf. Cutbush with Talboys (i.e. Taillebois), Fairbrother for Beaufriere, Handsomebody for Gentilcorps, or Whitebread (or Whitbread) for Blanchpain. Plenty of similar instances will be found.

In an article in the Quarterly Review, January, 1895, a stern but kindly critic doubts the existence of surnames from sign-names of taverns, &c. I feel sure that I can satisfy him that such is the case:

THOMAS DEL HAT, co. Oxf, 1273. A.

JOHN ATTE HATTE. J.

JOHN ATTE BELLE, London. X.

RICHARD ATTE BELL, 1307. M.

HUGH ATTE COKKE. B.

WILLIAM ATTE ROBUCK, 1313. M.

GILBERT DE LA HEGLE, co. Sussex, 1273. A.

RALPH DE LE RUNCE, co. Notts, Hen. III, Edw. I. K.

With this last entry cf. Grayhorse and Whitehorse:

WILLIAM DEL WHITHORS, Fines Roll, 2 Edw. I.
 THOMAS ATTE SWAN, Close Rolls, 2 Hen. IV, pt. ii.
 JOHN DE LA ROSE, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
 WILLIAM ATTE RAMME, Fines Roll, 14 Edw. II.

I think it is impossible to resist the evidence that many of our surnames (even when they have several parentages, as in the cases of Bell and Horn) sprang from sign-board names, and are therefore local. Most of these surnames are signs for taverns or hotels to-day: cf. Crosskeys.

At first even formal recorders, or, as we might say, registrar officers, were only too pleased to receive evidence of identity. Putting aside occupative, baptismal, and nick-names, all local helps were 'thankfully received.' Take the following, from a single register:

ADAM IN THE HURNE (i. e. the corner).
 JOHN UNDERHULLE (i. e. under the hill).
 WILLIAM UPEDOWN (i. e. the upper part of the down).
 JOHN BY THE WODE (i. e. from residence thereby).
 JOHN BITHEWATER, now Bywater (from residence thereby).
 ROBERT IN THE MERCHE (i. e. from residence in the marsh).
 ALICIA IN THE DICHE (from residence by the dike).
 ROGER BENETHECLIVE (from residence under the cliff).
 LUCIA ATTE RUGEWEY (from residence on the way to the hill-ridge).
 MATILDA UPHULLE (from residence up the hill).
 JOHN BY THE MORE (from residence beside the moor).
 ROBERT BYTHEWEYE (from residence by the road side).
 ROBERT BYNETHEMOR (from residence below the moor).
 GEOFFREY BOVEWEYE (from residence above the road side).
 WALTER BYENDEBROK (from residence behind the brook).

These are all from Kirby's Quest, 1 Edw. III. The Hundred Rolls (1273) are just the same:

EDWARD BY THE WODE, co. Dorset.
 ALYVA BENETHETON (i. e. below the town), co. Camb.

It is thus by incorporation we get such names as Bywater, Bythesea, Underhill, Underwood, Underdown, Attewell, Attwood, Townsend, &c.

It is interesting to observe the various meanings of man as a suffix:

(1) Man, meaning a servant, either semi-official or occupative, either for indoor or outdoor service. Our Grangemens looked after the grange; the ancestors of our Denmans attended to the pannage of the pigs (cf. Swinnart); our Bridgmans took the toll (cf. Bridger). Ladyman and Bowerman are easily explained: take from the Yorkshire Poll Tax (1379) Ricardus Ladyman (p. 233), Johanna ye Ladimayden (p. 33), Johannes Serve-lady (p. 231), William Masterman (p. 231), William Halleman (p. 232), Cecilia del Boure (p. 154), Johannes Boureman (p. 154)—all these latter were indoor servants. Bowerman and Ladyman therefore attended 'my lady's' behests. Cf. also such names as Monkman, Priestman, or Vicarman, all servants. But we have not done; man, in the sense of servant, is conjoined with the master's personal name; hence the Yorkshire Matthewman, i.e. the servant of Matthew; Addyman, the servant of Adam (from the nick Addy): cf.

MATHEUS DE LOFTHOUS, firmarius, 1379, Poll Tax, Yorks. p. 241.

WILLELMUS MATHEWMAN, ibid. p. 241.

MAGOTA MATHEWOMAN, ibid. p. 241.

Here the hind and the kitchen wench take their surname from their master's personal name. Cf. again:

ADAM SYMMESON, souter (i. e. shoemaker), 1379, P. T. Yorks. p. 25.

JOHANNES serviens Ade Symmeson, ibid. p. 25.

Or take another instance:

ADAM DE WODHALL: marchaunt, ibid. p. 25.

THOMAS serviens dicti Ade, ibid. p. 25.

This class is a fairly large one, and corrects Mr. Lower's view that Harriman was a freebooter. Hughman, and probably Human, were Hugh's servants. Even Hughesman is found in the London Directory; cf. Smithman, the blacksmith's assistant, or Dayman, or Daymon, the dairyman's assistant, v. Day.

(2) Man, a modification of mond in personal names: cf. Gorman for Gormund, Osman for Osmond, Rosaman for Rosamond, Wyman or Wayman for Wymond. Miss Yonge (Christian Names, ii. 414) has Hartmund as a personal name. I find a Herteman Hauberck in (O), showing how early the variation occurred.

As regards nicknames with an augmentive man, we may cite such designations as Longman, Shortman, Leishman, or Wightman. One instance seems to occur equally early. On the same page I find Nicholas Richemonde and Nicholas Richeman (1 Edw. III, Kirby's Quest, p. 183). I say seems, because it is possible that these are separate in their parentage although related.

(3) Man, as an augmentive suffix in personal names or nicknames. Therefore such surnames as Goldman, Tiddiman, Bateman, Richman or Rickman, Hardman, Speakman, Sweetman (commonly Swetman in the Hundred Rolls, 1273), Hickman (except when it means the servant of Hick, i.e. Richard), Harman, Spillman (German Spielman), &c.

It may be added that there are two or three curious terminatives in man, which have no connexion with the word. One is Gillman or Gilman, not a dweller in a gill, but an imitative variant of Gillemin, or Gilmyn, a popular font-name in the surname period (v. Gilman). Another is Godliman, for Godalming:

1696-7. Married—SAMUELL CARR and ANNE HALL, of Godlyman, co. Surrey: Reg. St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 45.

1792. Married—GEORGE WILD and MARY GODLIMAN: Reg. St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 75.

This again is imitative. Cf. also Quarterman for the old Quatremayns.

(4) Man for nham in local surnames. Instances will be found scattered over the country. Indeed it is a fairly large class; cf. Parman for Parnham, Deadman for Debenham, Putman (in many cases) for Puttenham, Swetman (in some cases) for Swettenham, Highman for Highnam (a place in co. Gloucester), or Downman for Downham (in some cases). The most interesting instance, however, is Lyman for Lyneham, on account of the rapidity with which it has spread in the United States. Lyneham is a chapelry in the parish of Shipton, co. Oxford. The first instance of the change of the surname to Lyman I can find is dated 1591. A few years after, a Lyman went with the Puritan fathers to Virginia, and I was told in 1888, while at Boston, that every Lyman in the States had sprung from one individual settler. One or two of these names ending in man may be locative or occupative. Pullman (the poolman) may have supplied fish for his master's table, and Heathman may have been a keeper. Also Townman may have been a farm labourer. But Styleman is evidently locative (one who lived by the stile); so must be considered Hearnman (one who lived in a hearn, or corner).

R in nicks becomes h and d. This is of historic interest.

(1) Hence nicks, Hob and Dob, for Robert; whence Hobbs, Dobbs, &c.

(2) Hence nicks, Hodge and Dodge, for Roger; whence Hodgson, Dodgson, &c.

(3) Hence Hick¹ and Dick for Richard (the first in the surname period seemingly the most popular), whence Hickson, Dickson, &c.

These three nicks have given us a very large number of names. Robert, through its two nicks, has given us Hobbs, Hobson, sharpened into Hopps, Hopkins, Hopkinson, &c. Roger has, through its two nicks, given us Hodgson, Dodgson, Hodgkins, Hodgkinson, &c. Richard gave us, through its two nicks, scores of ¹ Wrongly attributed to Isaac in English Surnames, but corrected in the fifth edition.

surnames. Hick, as stated above, at first the favourite, gave us Hicks, Hickson, and the lazified Higg, Higgs, Higson, and the dim. Higgin, Higgins, Higginson, &c. From Dick we get Dicks, Dickson, Dixon, Dix, Dickinson, &c. This reference to Hick and Dick brings us to a very interesting point as regards the antiquity of nursery rhymes. The late Mr. Halliwell Phillipps would have enjoyed the confirmation of his views. From these two nicks we got

‘Hick-ory Dick-ory dock
The mouse ran up the clock,
The clock struck one, the mouse was gone,
Hick-ory Dick-ory dock.’

As Hick disappeared almost immediately after the Reformation, this verse is stamped with the mark of age.

The same remark applies to Humpty Dumpty. Humphrey was a most familiar name, and gave us amongst other surnames Humphrey and Dumphry, both existing to-day. Hence, certainly long before the Reformation,

‘Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall,
Humpty Dumpty had a great fall;
Not all the King’s horses, nor all the King’s men,
Could put Humpty Dumpty together again.’

I once noticed in a magazine article a doubt thrown on the antiquity of Four and Twenty Blackbirds, on account of the line ‘The King was in his Counting-house,’ stating that it was a modern term. The following entry settles that matter:

NICHOLAS DEL COUNTYNNGHOUSE, Issue Rolls, 4 Ric. II.

While on this subject, we must mention Bunting. It is a flourishing surname to-day. It is evidently some form of bon-et-on, a Norman-French expression of endearment, meaning ‘good wee little one’; the final g, of course, being excrescent, as in Jennings, &c. Thus we have, as old as the hills, so to speak:

‘Baby, Baby Bunting,
Daddy’s gone a-hunting,
To get a little rabbit-skin
To wrap the Baby Bunting in.’

The fact that Bunting was a kind of nickname is proved by the fact that four women are mentioned in the Coventry Mysteries, their names being (three of them baptismal):

'Bontyng the Brewster, and Sybyly Slynge,
Megge Merywedyr and Sabyn Sprynge.'

Cf. ALICE BUNETUN, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
HUGH BONTING, co. Linc., 1273. A.

In the latter case the final g would be an excrescence.

Y, or a, or i: intrusive for euphony. Hence Lockyer for Locker, Tawyer for Tawer, Sawyer for Sawer, Bowyer for Bower, Quarrier for Quarrer, Glasyer or Glasier for Glaser, &c.; cf. lawyer for lawer. Also we get Hard-a-way for Hardway, Green-a-way for Greenway, Ott-a-way for Ottway, Hath-a-way for Hathway, Hen-e-ry for Henry, Thack-e-ray for Thackwray, Horn-i-man for Hornman; Nap-i-er is an historic surname for the official Naper, and even such local names as Dearnally and Dearnley go side by side.

Y and i. By some unwritten law, an occupative surname, and the name of the occupation itself, are discriminated. It seems to be settled that tailor is Taylor, that rider is Ryder. Similarly, a sike is Sykes, dike is Dykes, stile is Styles.

Here we come to a curious but natural custom. It is evident that in monosyllabic local names a genitive form was used. Brooks meant Brook's son, Dykes was Dyke's son, Sykes was Syke's son, Briggs was Brigg's son, Holmes was Holm's son, Styles was Style's son, Myers was Myer's son: cf. Jones, Williams, Tompkins, &c., a large class. The dissyllabic local class is small, the only one I remember at the moment being Borroughs or Burrows for Burrough.

Son for ston, thus turning a local into a baptismal surname: cf. Balderson for Balderston, Kelson for Kelston, Sherson for Sherston, Shillson for Shilston, Sprosson for Sproston, or Huddleson (Philadelphia) for Huddleston. Probably Hillson stands for Hillsdon. This list is by no means exhaustive: cf. Chilson for Childeston, Coltson for Colston, or Compson for Compston.

Sp for th, &c. Sturgess stands for the great personal name Thurgis, Pillsbury for Spillsbury, Pickernell for Spigurnell, and Pichfat for Spichfat. These are oddities that may be placed together. But these freaks were not uncommon: cf. Potticary and Prentice for Apothecary and Apprentice, or Cater for Achatour.

Ph for f, and vice versa. Cf. Physick for Fishwick, Phetteplace for Fetteplace, Philbrick for Fellbrigg (a parish in co. Norf.), Philby for Filby. On the other hand, Philcock is found as Filcock (v. Philcox), Filpot stands for Philpot, Filkin for Philkin. Again, Phillis has taken the place of Felice. Perhaps the most interesting instance in the list is that of Phillimore for Finamour, 'pure love'

(v. Finnemore, Filmore, and Phillimore, where a local origin is also given). That this charming old Norman name is parent of most of our Phillimores there can scarce be a doubt. The seeming local suffix presents no difficulty: cf. Parramore for Paramour, which when it arose meant an honest lover.

OFFICIAL AND OCCUPATIVE.

There are few variations to be mentioned under this head. The official comprises the smallest class, and occupative names the next smallest. There is no material change or modification in their form, but historically they are very interesting. Such names as Napier (with intrusive i), Carver, Sewer, Ewer, Chamberlain, Butler, Spencer, Page, Smallpage, &c., are with us to-day, and represent indoor offices familiar to the baronial halls of the surname period.

Of outdoor positions of official or semi-official importance we may mention such duties as those of Woodward, Pinder, Catchpole, Hunt, Falconer or Faulkner, &c. Of course, Catchpole was a nickname, but it acquired a semi-official position, like Shakespear, &c.

Son as a suffix to occupative names. This is a small but interesting class: cf. Hindson or Hinson, Herdson, Shepherdson. Even Taylorson exists in Yorkshire; I have seen the name over a shop in Ripon. I hope some member of the family will marry and have, say, nine sons, all healthy, and continue this old English surname. Tinkerson also holds a precarious existence; so does Cooperson.

Herd, as a suffix, has undergone strange experiences. The suffix itself has given us Herd, Hird, and Heard; and in compounds we get such surnames as the Yorkshire Calvert for Calvcherd, Coward for Cowherd, Swinnart for Swineherd, Stoddart for Stotherd, and the old Yorkshire Oxenherd still manages to survive in Oxnard. I was delighted to see it above a shop in Newcastle-upon-Tyne at the Church Congress some years ago. Many more cases occur in this dictionary.

Monger as a suffix: cf.

RICHARD LE FLESMONGERE (butcher), co. Bucks, 1273. A.

THOMAS LE GARLYKMONGER, c. 1310. M.

RALPH LE CORNMONGER. T.

JOHN LE MELMONGERE (meal), c. 1310. M.

DENIS LE OTEMONGER, London. X.

WALTER LE HEYMONGERE. G.

All these are obsolete, I fear, as well as Woodmonger, &c.; but Iremonger or Ironmonger still survives.

Maker as a suffix: cf.

WILLIAM PARCHMENTMAKER, Close Roll, 4 Henry V.

AGNES POCHEMAKER, co. York. W. 2.

JOHN MONEMAKER, co. York. W. 2.

JOHN LE CANDLEMAKERE, t. 1300. M.

THOMAS CLOKMAKER, 1428: Proceedings and Ordinances of the Privy Council.

THOMAS LE-AUNSEREMAKER (a scale or balance maker), London. X.

This list also could be easily added to.

Hewer as a suffix. This represents a small number, but one or two still live: cf. Woodyer for Woodhewer ('hewers of wood,' A.V.), or Stonehewer, or Fleshewer, a butcher.

WILLIAM FLESSCHEWER, co. York. W. 2.

JOHN FLESHIEWER, carnifex, 1379, P. T. Yorks. p. 196.

JOHN STONEHEWER. AA. 4.

ROBERT LE WODEHYEWERE. H.

Smith as a suffix. The colour of the metal worked on was frequently compounded with smith. We find Brownsmith, Blacksmith, Greensmith, Whitesmith, and Redsmith, who seem severally to have worked in copper, iron, lead, tin, and gold, the last-named being in fact a goldsmith. Most of these still survive. Arrowsmith explains itself, in spite of what has been written. Billsmith and Spearsmith also require no interpretation. As regards colour-names, several examples may be mentioned:

WILLIAM BROUNSMYTH, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 107.

SIMON BRONSMYTH, 1379, P. T. Yorks. p. 163.

WILLIAM LE BLAKESMITH, C. R., 54 Henry III.

RICHARD GRENSMYTHE, t. Eliz. Z.

RICHARD LE WYTESMITH, C. R., 45 Henry III.

JOHN RODESMITHE (Redesmith?). D.

Oddly enough, whitesmith and blacksmith remain as occupative terms, and the others, saving one, as surnames. It is probable that Nasmith is Knifesmith; but if not it is Nailsmith, now as an occupative term, nailer. But I suspect it will be found to be Knifesmith.

Wright as a suffix. Compounds ending in wright are generally simple of explanation. Take such entries as:

- JOHN BOTEWRIGHT, co. Norf., 1474. FF. vi. 215.
 HUGH LE LIMWRYTE (a lime-burner), co. Bucks, 1273. A.
 THOMAS LE GLASWRYGHTE, London. X.
 JOHN CHESEWRIGHT, t. Eliz. Z.
 HUGH LE SCHIPWRYTE, co. Camb., 1273. A.
 WALTER WELWRYGHTE (a wheelwright), co. Essex, 1273. A.
 ROBERT LE CARTWRIGHT. B.
 ROBERT LE WAINWRIGHT. H.
 JOHN BORDWRYGT (a carpenter), 1379, P. T. Yorks. p. 161.

We may mention also the Yorkshire Arkwright, a maker of meal-bins, shaped like a Noah's ark; Tellwright, a manufacturer of tiles, found around Burslem; or Slaywright, a maker of looms. Of the above, nearly all survive in our directories. But we must not be deceived by such names as Allwright, or Woolwright, or Kenwright. These are personal names; Allwright's descent is plain:

- ALRICUS DE AULABY, co. York, 1273. A.
 WILLIAM ALRIGHT, co. Bedf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

For Woolwright v. Woolrich, and for Kenwright v. Kendrick.

Er as a suffix. This requires small attention: cf. Tucker, Walker, or Fuller, all in the same business:

- ROGER LE TUKERE, co. Dorset, 1273. A.
 GEOFFREY LE WALKERE, London, 1273. A.
 ROBERT MEGSON, walkare, 1379, P. T. Yorks. p. 159.

Hence such occupative surnames as Parker, Tasker, Fletcher, Baker, Conder, Mawer, Mather, Kisser, Spicer, or Poulter. Kisser deserves notice, as the name still exists:

- RICHARD LE KISSERE, London. X.
 WALTER DE BEDEFONT, kissere, London. X.

The Kisser was a maker of cuishes, thigh-armour.

Ster as a suffix. At first a feminine terminative: cf. Spinster for Spinner. Hence such occupations as Rokster, Brewster, Baxter for Baker, Kempster (a wool-comber), Simister (now sempstress), Blaxter (a bleacher), Pipester (a piper), Breadmongster, all of which may be looked upon probably as avocations followed by women:

- JULIANA ROKSTER, 1388. RR. 2.
 MATILDA BLAKESTER, London, 1273. A.
 GILIANA LE BACKSTER, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
 SARA LA BREDEMONGSTERE, London. X.

ALICE PIPESTRE, Close Roll, 30 Edw. I.

AGNES KEMBESTER, 1379, P. T. Yorks., p. 219.

JOHANNA SAPER, kemster, 1379, P. T. Howdenshire, p. 12.

The same suffix is found in Walkster, i.e. Walker (a fuller), and Webster, both probably female employments.

JOHANNES WALKESTER, fullo, 1379, P. T. Yorks., p. 186.

ALICIA WRYGHT, huswyfe, webster, ibid., p. 66.

Of other examples, cf. Glaister for Glaser, Palister for Paliser, Litster (now Lister) for Litter, Slaster for Slater, Thackster or Thaxter for Thacker, or Dempster for Deemster. Palister still survives in American directories. It was an old Yorkshire term for a parker. Glaister was a glazier, and the name still lives.

ROBERTUS CLERKSON, sclaster, 1379, P. T. Yorks., p. 61.

AGNES SCLASTER, ibid., p. 3.

This is a Yorkshire term for a slater. Many of the above surnames flourish to-day in England and the United States.

BAPTISMAL SURNAMES.

Ing and win as suffix. It is curious to notice that these two suffixes go side by side, sometimes suggesting that ing is the parent, sometimes that win is, and that from a modified in, and excrescent g, it has become ing. The instances seem innumerable: cf. Hurlwin and Hurling or Hurlin, Hardwin and Harding, Brunwin and Bruning or Browning, Gunwin and Gunning, Goodwin and Gooding, Goldwin and Golding.

Idge as suffix for ich. Thus Aldrich becomes Aldridge, Eldrich becomes Eldridge, Surrich becomes Surridge, &c. These look local but are not so.

T as prefix to a. Hence Taggy for Aggie (Agnes), still used as a nick in Furness, North Lancashire; Taddy for Addy (Adam): cf. Teddy for Edward.

G after n, an excrescence. Hence Jenin (Littlejohn), Jening, and gen. Jennings; cf. Collin (Nicholas), Collins, and Collinge; Embling for Emlin or Emeline. This list could be extended to any amount.

X for ks and cks. Cf. Coxon for Cockson, Wilcoxon for Wilcockson (the son of William), Dixon for Dickson, Rixon for Rickson (Richard), Cox for Cocks, Hixon and Hix for Hickson and Hicks (Richard); cf. Baxter for Bakester (a female baker), Blaxter for Blakister (a female bleacher).

P after m: cf. Thompson for Thomson, Simpson for Simson (the son of Simon), Hampson for Hamson (the son of Hamon). Lampson is Lambson, i.e. Lambert's son, and is strictly only a change from b to p: cf. the local Hampton, or Southampton.

B after m. Cf. Embling (with excrescent g) for Emlin (Emeline), or Hambling for Hameline (Hamon).

D, an excrescence after n. Cf. ribbon and riband, and the provincial drowned for drowned, or gownd for gown. Thus Simmonds for Simmons (Simon), Hammond for Hamon, Jolland for Jollan, Walrand for Waleran, Hind for Hine, Hollingdrake for Hollingrake, Grindrod for Greenroyd, Standfield for Stanfield, Standring for Stantering. Even Somendour for Sumner existed. Rowantree is found also as Roundtree to-day, and in my London Directory occur three Towndrows for Townrow. Take two examples:

1603. Buried—SUSAND CARDWELLE, St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 74.

But Susan in this form has made no impression. It is different with Simon: the excrescent d was early in vogue:

JOHN SIMOND, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

‘JOHANNES that was servant of Symond Godewyne.’—Patent Roll, 17 Ric. II, pt. 2.

Hence not merely Simmons but Simmonds. There is not the slightest evidence that Sigismund was the parent of Simond or Symond. Simon was more popular than Peter, probably because of the obnoxious Peter's pence. This objection has made a great difference to the directories of to-day.

N, a prefix to personal and local surnames with an initial vowel. Thus Nab was the nick of Abel, whence Nabbs; Nibb was the nick of Isabel; Nobbs was a variation of Hobbs, sharpened into Nopps and Hopps (Robert); cf. Noll, the nick of Oliver. Other instances may be furnished; Nanson for Anson. Later on Nan became Nanney and Nancy. In some cases Nelson must not be attributed to Nel (Eleanor, a most popular girl-name in the surname epoch) but to Neilson, from an equally popular Niel or Nigel. As regards Nab, we may quote the Alchemist (1610), where Abel, the tobacco-man, is familiarly Nab:

‘Six o' thy legs more will not do it, Nab.’—Act ii. sc. I.

Of local instances where the final n of ‘atten’ became the prefix of the name proper, we may mention Nokes, ‘atten-okess’; Nash, ‘atten-ash’; or Nail, ‘atten-ale’ (i.e. alehouse); all from residence thereby; cf. also Nalder:

PHILIP ATTENOKE, Close Roll, 3 Edw. I.

RICHARD ATTE NOKE. P.

ALICE ATTENALRE, i. e. 'at the alder-trée.' J.

SARRA ATTENESHE. B.

AGNES ATE NASSE, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Nale, and its modern imitative Nail, is an interesting relic:

'And maken him gret festes at the nale.'—Chaucer, C. T. 6931.

Nelmes belongs to the same category:

OSBERT ATTE ELME, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

A or i turned into in. Hence Pottinger for Potager, Massinger or Messinger for Messenger, Clavinger for Claviger. Pennager seems to have remained unmodified:

ROBERT CLAVYNGER (the mace-bearer). H.

JOHN LE POTAGER (a maker of pottage, a thick soup), co. Soms., 1 Edw. III, Kirby's Quest, p. 272.

1762. Married—BENJAMIN POTTINGER and ELIZ. DANCE, St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 112.

WILLIAM LE PENNAGER (an ensign bearer). E.

T for d, and vice versa. Hence Atkins for Adkins (Adam), Atty for Addie (Adam), Tandy for Dandy, Tyson for Dyson, Tennyson for Dennison, Chantler for Chandler, Hazleteen or Hazletine for Hazledean, Prout for Proud, Thring for Dring, Henty for Hendy, Rayment for Raymond, or Dottridge for Doddridge. On the other hand we find Dandridge for Tandridge, Dibble for Tibble, Ditchburn for Titchburn, Doogood for Toogood, or Dunnicliff for Tunnicliffe. A good instance of the disposition to interchange is found in the two entries following:

1651, Oct. 12. Bapt.—RUTH, d. ROBERT and ELIZABETH TOOGOOD, Reg. St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 59.

1653, Feb. 15. Bapt.—RALPH, s. ROBERT and ELIZABETH DOOGOOD, Reg. St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 59.

Ch for j. Hence probably Chubb for Jubb (Job). Hence also such an entry as Challand for Jalland:

1789. Married—JAMES WIMBLE and MARTHA CHALLAND, St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 34.

Cf. Choice for Joyce.

J and g interchangeable. Hence Jack and Gill, now more correctly printed Jack and Jill; Joscelyn for Goscelin, now Gosling (imitative); Jarrett for Gerard; cf. gaoler for jailer.

G and c. Hence Gusterson for Custerson, Grain (imitative) for Crane, Glitherow for Clitheroe, and vice versa. Especially interesting is the North English Candlin for the famous old name of Gandelyn. Grandage is found to-day for Cranidge, Cammell (imitative) for Gammell. Even Gatcliff is entered as Catliff in P. T. Yorks., 1379, p. 63, showing how early such changes occurred. Cf. also Carbutt for Garbutt, or Camidge for Gamage.

M for n, when the termination of each syllable is n. Cf. the words random and ransom, for randon and ranson. Similarly Pensom represents Penson, Hansom is Hanson, Ransom and Ransome are Ranson (Randolph). Professor Skeat says that Hansom means Handsome. After thirty years' study I find no instance of this nickname, and it may be taken for granted that Hans (John) is the parent. We may notice here that Kingdon has become sometimes the imitative Kingdom. Amabel also became Annabel, then Hannibal, whence many curious surmises as to its origin. Passing along we may observe that Mumby is Munby, and Mumford is Mundford.

N for m, and vice versa. Cf. Sinkinson for Simkinson (Simon), Grinstead for Grimstead (the homestead of Grim), Sunter for Sumpter; cf. Henning and Hemming (v. Henning), vice versa; cf. Stimpson for Stinson (Stevenson), or Hempstock for Henstock. An instance may be given where Sandbach is turned into Sambach:

1677. SAMUEL CARNABY and AMY SAMBACH, Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 272.

Ce for s. Cf. Preece for Prees, Ellice for Ellis, Pearce for Piers, Evance for Evans, Bevance for Bevans, Hance for Hans, or Hemmence for Hemmens. Clemence for Clements may also be mentioned, although it sometimes represents the baptismal Clemens.

K for g, or vice versa. Cf. the present Kilbey and Gilby. A tendency to elide c in surnames ending in cliff is seen in Antliff for Antcliffe, Sutliff for Sutcliffe, Topliff for Topcliff, or Hinchliff for Hinchcliff.

N for l, and vice versa. A common illustration is banister for baluster. Even the old twichen (an alley) of the western and southern counties is found as twichell in the North, whence Twichell and Twichen.

W for g (Norman-Fr.). William for Guillaume, Warren or Waring or Wareing (excrement g) for Guarin, Wye for Guy, and the dim. familiar Wyatt (originally Wyot) for Guyot. Also cf. Whichard for Gwichard, and Wyon (dim.) for Guion (Guy).

G prefixed to w (Welsh). Gwalter for Walter, Gwynne for Wynne, Gwatkin for Watkin, Gwelch for Welch, sharpened also into Quelch (St. Jas. Register, Clerkenwell, proves the two names to be the same); also Gwyther for Wither; Gwillam stands for William; cf. the local Quickley for Whixley.

Reversal of r to first syllable. Grundy for Gundry, the once famous girl-name Gundreda. I should like to know if Brodrick is not in some cases the Welsh ab-Roderick, but I have no evidence.

V for f, generally a West Country dialectic change. Thus Vowell for Fowell, Venn for Fenn:

JOHN ATTE VENNE, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III, Kirby's Quest, p. 94.

Vowler for Fowler:

THOMAS LE VOWELAR, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III, ibid., p. 256.

Vox for Fox:

JOHN LE VOX, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III, ibid., p. 93.

Vry for Fry:

STEPHEN LE VRYE, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III, ibid., p. 171.

Vrench for French:

JOHN LE VREYNCH, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III, ibid., p. 230.

Cf. Vidler for Fidler, Vanner for Fanner, or Viveash for Fiveash.

P for m in female names:—

(1) Hence Margaret became the nick Meg, then Peg, whence Pegg, Pegson, &c. Also Margaret became nick Mog (Moggy is still in use in North England), hence the sharpened Mockson (Mogson), now more generally Moxon (a Yorkshire surname).

(2) Hence Martha became Matty, then Patty (except when descended from Patrick and its nicks in North England), Pattinson, Patterson, &c.

(3) Hence Mary became Moll and Molly, whence Poll and Polly, and resulted in such surnames as Polson, &c.

Kins (suffix) abbreviated to iss and es. Hence Perkins (Peter) became Purkiss and finally Perkes; so also Wilks for Wilkins, Danks for Dankins, Tonks for Tonkins, Dawks for Dawkins, &c.; cf. Hobbins, Hobbiss, and Hobbis, also Hollins, Holliss, Hollis (Holly).

Ou or ow for o. Cf. Poulson and Powlson for Polson (but sometimes for Paulson pronounced Powle), Howell and Powell for Hoel, Houlden for Holden, Houle for Hole, Hault for Holt, Boulton for Bolton, Houlgate for Holgate, Houlbrook for Holbrook, Houldsworth for Holdsworth, or Houlditch for Holditch. The pretty girl's name Gold is now as a surname Gould: 'He gave me a gowlden sovereign.' Cf. browt for brought, or Browton-in-Furness for Broughton-in-Furness. Cf. a sentence like this: 'He owt to give me something off, I bowt it at his shop.' Hence Cowlings (with excrescent g) for Collins, Cowles or Coules for Coles (Nicholas). This practice may be described as a provincialism, but it has left a permanent impression on our nomenclature.

Ck and g (lazified forms). Cf. Fligg and Flick, Slagg and Slack, possibly Segger and Secker. In Piers Plowman we find Jagg for Jack. Black is found as Blag; hence Blagg, Blagden, or Blagbrough. Also cf. Brogden for Brockden.

P for b. Hopps is Hobbs, Hopson is Hobson, Hopkins is Hobkins, Ropkins is Robkins, and Nopps is Nobbs; Epps is Ebbs, and probably Puckle is Buckle; Plackett represents Blackett, Pullinger Bullinger, and Peverley Beverley; Pickerdike stands for the North English Bickerdike, and Peattie for Beattie has made its way into the London Directory. It is somewhat doubtful whether P or B was the original initial of Pickwick, an old West Country surname:

WILLIAM DE PIKEWIKE, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

WALTER DE BYKEWYK, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III, Kirby's Quest, p. 103.

For further references v. Pickwick; cf. purser and bursar. It is hard to tell also whether p or b is correct in Stapler and Stabler, or Stapleford and Stableford. Some will remember, after the great Times Trial, the play upon Pigotry and Bigotry.

A and e interchangeable. Gervis and Jarvis, Clerk and Clark, Perkin and Parkin, Hermitage and Armitage, &c.

Er for in or en. This was a very natural corruption; cf. Patterson for Pattinson (Patrick), Catterson for Cattinson (Catherine), Steverson for Stevenson (Stephen), Dickerson for Dickinson (Richard), Matterson for Mattinson (Martha or Matthew), Batterson for Battinson (Bartholomew), all from the nicks of Patrick, Catherine, Hugh, Stephen, Richard, Martha, Bartholomew, with the Norman-French dim. in attached (as in viol-in, &c.); turned popularly into er. Thus without doubt Hugh is the parent of such a name as Hutcherson (New York). These, and others, are all the result of quick or hurried pronunciation.

O and a. Generally North Country variations: cf. Dabbs for Dobbs, Dadd and Dadson for Dodd and Dodson; cf. also the many local Rattan Raws in the North with Southern Rotton Row.

Double diminutives in el-ot or el-et. These are found in such dictionary words as tartlet, bracelet, gauntlet, roblet, gimblet, poplet. The old ruff, or high collar, was styled a partilet:

'Jan. 1544: item from Mr. Braye ii high collar partletts, iii^s ix^d.—Privy Purse Expenses, Princess Mary.

Hence partlet, a hen, on account of its ruffled feathers. In our modern nomenclature we find few traces of this diminutive. The Paris Directory has many instances. But in old days we were very familiar with it: cf. Evelot for Eve, Emelot for Emma, Edelot for Ede, Gibelot (now Giblett) for Gilbert, Custelot for Custance, Richelot or Rikelot for Richard or Rikard, Sisselot for Cecilia, Hobelot for Robert, Herbelet for Herbert (found in the Liverpool Directory). Of this list several have made a marked impression on our English and American directories: Hewlett (for Hugh or Hew), a flourishing surname in North England, is a case in point:

THOMAS HUGHELOT, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III, Kirby's Quest, p. 220.

WALTER HUWELOT, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Again, we retain the historic Hamlet (Shakespeare's little son was baptized Hamnet) for Hamelot, a dim. of Hamon. As a baptismal name it is not dead:

HAMLET MILOT, of Carrington, husbandman, 1587: Wills at Chester, i. 136.

Bartlett or Bartelot for Bartholomew, also still lives:

BARTELOT GOVI, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Eline, a dim. Cf. Hamlyn or Hambling for Hameline (Hamo), Emberlin or Embling for Emeline, Hanselin for Hans, Hewling for Hughelin (Hugh), Roblin for Robert. The excrescent g is strongly represented in this class.

We may notice one peculiar girl's name—Arrabella. This has puzzled even Miss Yonge. The original name was Amabel, then Annable (in Scotland sharpened to Annapple), whence with aspirate the surname Hanniball. Amabella became Anabella, then Arrabella—one of those freaks hard to account for.

Double diminutives in in-ot or in-et. France has plenty of these, we have few. The Paris Directory on a cursory glance furnishes us with such surnames (at first, of course, Christian names) as Margotin (we simply kept to the one diminutive Margot), Marioton (our Mariot), Lambinet (Lambert), Perrinot or Perrotin (Peter), Philiponet (Philip), Jannotin (Jane), Hugonet (Hugh) whence Huguenot, Fauconnet (Fulke). Perrinot and Perrotin (little wee Peter) simply reverse the order of the two diminutives. The dictionary word 'marionette' in the puppet-show owes its name to Mary (we were content with the single diminutive Marion). So far as this class of double diminutives goes we have only four names to show, namely, Robinet, Dobinet, Colinet, and Jannetin (this last also reversing the order). Robinet still lives as a surname. In Spenser's Shepherd's Calendar we find:

‘Hearken, while from thy green cabinet,
The laurel song of careful Colinet.’

Colnett and Colenutt are yet alive. Jannetin also occurs (Jannet was our familiar form):

‘The one’s Nancy Curds, and the other Hanna Jenniting; Ditty and Jenniting [excrement g] are agreed already.’—London’s Chanticleers, sc. xiii.

Jenniting is the apple-girl (v. Jenneting, Skeat). Dobinet existed till the middle of the fifteenth century, for we find one John Dobynette is mentioned in an inventory of goods, 1463 (Mun. Acad., Oxon.).

Diminutives in ot and et. These may be illustrated thus. Take Tillotson, a great Yorkshire name. Tillotson was the son of Tillot, which was the dim. of Till, which was the nick of Matilda. All the diminutives in ot and et were added to the nick of the name, which was always one syllable. Emmett or Emmott, or Emmetson or Emmotson, are sprung from Emma, but the nick being Em the dim. was Emmot or Emmett. Collett is the dim. of Col or Cole, the nick of Nicholas. This rule reigned supreme. I have only mentioned two instances; the directories abound with them. Thus we find Emmott or Emmett:

‘Licence to the Vicar of Bradford to marry ROGER PRESTWICK and EMMOTE CROSSLEY. Bannes thrice in one day.’—1466, Test. Ebor. iii. 317.

Under date 1414 occurs Tyllot Thompson in the Fabric Rolls of York Minster (Surtees Soc.). Hence Ibbott, Ibbett, Ibbotson or Ibbetson (Isabel), Mabbott (Mabel), Dowsett or Doucett (Douce), Margott or Magot (Margaret):

THOMAS DE BALME et MAGOTA uxor ejus: chapman, 1379, P. T. Yorks.

Sissot was very popular (Cecilia):

‘SISSOT, wife of Jak of Barsley.’—Manor of Ashton-under-Lyne (Chetham Soc.).

It is needless to proceed. Mary became Mariot, Theobalda (fem. form) became Tibbot, whence a large number of surnames:

‘Work Tibet: work Annot: work Margery:

Sew Tibet: knit Annot: spin Margery.’—Ralph Roister Doister.

Parallel dictionary words are found in jacket, lancet, target, latchet, pocket, chariot, &c.

Diminutives in on or in. A dictionary parallel is found in viol-in, a fiddle with four strings instead of six. The Paris Directory has very many illustrations, this being a Norman-French diminutive. Beton represented Beatrice:

'Beton the Brewestere
Bade him good-morrow.'—Piers Plowman.

Alison still survives in Scotland as the dim. of Alice :

'This Alison answered: Who is there
That knocketh so?'—Chaucer, C. T. 3788.

Huggins or Hutchins represents a once familiar term for Hugh, Perrin for Peter, Marion for Mary, Robin or Dobbin for Robert, Colin for Nicholas, Phippin for Philip, Gibbin or Gibbon for Gilbert. This class is also a large one. An excrescent g was frequently appended to the surname; cf. Jennings (John), Tippings (Theobald), or Collings (Colin). The London Directory contains Lamming and Laming, representatives of the old Lambin, diminutive of Lambert. Lambyn Clay played before Edward at Westminster in 1306 (Chappell's Popular Music of ye Olden Time, i. 29). I find also WILLELMUS LAMBYN et ALICIA uxor ejus, 1379, P. T. Yorks.

Diminutives in kin.

Kin came to mean a 'young one,' a child. We still speak in a diminutive sense of a lambkin, a manikin, a pipkin, a kilderkin, a jerkin, or a doitkin. Appended to baptismal names it became familiar. A litul soth Sermun says—

'Nor those prude yongemen
That loveth Malekyn (Mary),
And those prude maydenes
That loveth Janekyn' (John).

'Masses and matins
He kepeth they nouht,
For Wilekyn (William) and Watekyn (Walter)
Be in their thouht.'

The incomers from Brabant and Flanders gave a great impetus to this diminutive. They brought us Hankin (John), Lambkin (Lambert), and Bodkin (Baldwin). Of a large list I may mention Hawkins (Henry), Tompkins (Thomas), Simkin (Simon), Jenkins (John), Jeffkin (Jeffrey), Atkins, originally Adkins (Adam), Dawkins (David), Larkin (Lawrence), Dickins (Richard), and Perkins or Parkins (Peter). These are the most familiar.

Diminutives in cock.

The term cock implied pertness, especially the pertness of lusty and swaggering youth. Hence it was applied to the scullery lad, or stable-boy, or prentice :

'Come hither, Cock; what, Cock, I say.'—Gammer Gurton's Needle.

We still use the term 'cock-sure.' Appended to the nick of boy-names we find Jeffcock (Jeffrey), Simcock (Simon), Batcock or Badcock (Bartholomew), Sandercock (Alexander), Luccock (Luke, sometimes), Maycock or Mycock (Matthew), Hitchcock or Hiscock (Hick or Hitch, i.e. Richard), Hancock or Handcock (Han, Hand, or Hans), Adcock or Atcock (Adam), Drewcock (Drew), or Palcock (Paul). Many more examples will be found in the pages of this book. Cock was always added to the nick of the baptismal name.

'HAMME, son of ADECOCK, held 29 acres of land;

MOKOCK DE LA LOWE, for 10 acres;

DIK, son of MOCOCK, of Breercroft, for 20 acres.'—De Lacy Inquisition, Chetham Soc.

So they run.

Ecclesiastical, natural, and holiday seasons have had considerable effect upon our nomenclature. Whitsunday, Pentecost (just dying out in Cornwall as a girl's baptismal name), Easter, Pash, Pask, Pace, Pacey, Midwinter, Candlemas, Noel or Nowell, Michaelmas, Christmas, and Tiffany (Epiphany), all represent old font-names, commemorating the time of the birth or baptism of the child. All but Whitsunday are existing surnames. Of the natural seasons we may mention Winter, Spring, and Summer (sometimes). Of high days we have memorials in Hockday and Hobday. Tiffany was popular, shortened frequently to Tiffen:

THEOFANIA DE BOLEBEK, C. R., 46 Henry III.

TEFFAN DANYLL, 1379, P. T. Yorks., p. 148.

JOHANES HOLAND et TIFFAN uxor ejus, 1379, P. T. Yorks., p. 134.

Evidently it was a girl's name. It has left many memorials in our modern directories.

In regard to local surnames pure and simple, we have, of course, to deal with the prefix and suffix.

Taking the prefix first, the fight lay between the name of the primary settler or proprietor, and the distinctive local surroundings. Thus we get Ashton, Birkhead (now Birkett as a surname), Oakden (or Ogden), Acton, Acland, Beecham, Beechey, Hazelden, Sandford, Bradford, Oxenford, Twelvetrees, Viveash, Longton, Plumtree, Rowntree, and an enormous number of local affixes. But there is an extremely large number of local surnames prefixed with the personal name of the first settler or owner. The great name of Ulf or Wolf gives us Ulverston, Wolferton, Wolverhampton; Wolfstan gives us Wolstenholme or Wolstencroft, Hacon gives us Haconby, Dolphin gives us Dovenby in co. Cumb., Cholmond gives us Cholmondeley, Margaret gives us Murgatroyd. In fact a huge host of surnames compounded of the occupant's personal name with the style of the dwelling, or the natural surroundings of the place, can be seen scattered over the country. Osmotherley, a place-name in cos. Lanc. and Yorks., was Osmunderley (i. e. the meadow of Osmund), sometimes written in old documents Asmunderlaw.

We find also variants of a personal name; cf. Shillingford, Killingworth, and Chillingworth. These seem to represent changes rung upon what we should now style a baptismal name; unless they represent a family name, as in Washington, Birmingham, &c. Hundreds of these are personal names now obsolete. Audenshaw is now a suburb of Manchester. It was once Aldwinshaw (the wood that belonged to Aldwin). Liverpool is interesting; at first it was Litherpool, and no doubt the occupier of Litherland, now a suburb of the city, was the possessor or tenant of the pool as well. Lither or Leather was a personal name, as our topography proves (cf. Leatherbarrow, Leatherhead, &c.). Take two instances as regards Liverpool, no doubt representing the same man:

RICHARD LITHERPOL, co. Lanc., Hen. III, Edw. I. K.

RICHARD DE LIVERPOL, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Even now Leverton exists for Lether-ton. But it may be asked why Litherpool became Liverpool at such an early period? The reply is simple. If you say Litherland quickly, say twelve times in a breath, with the aid of the liquid you can do it easily. Try to say Litherpool quickly twelve times in a breath and only a small percentage would escape saying Liverpool on account of the labial p. Thus the bird styled the liver, and emblazoned on the arms of the city, is imaginary and never existed. In a word we have yet to recognize the tremendous influence of personal names on local nomenclature.

Coming to the suffixes I shall not name many. To the general reader I advise a study of Canon Isaac Taylor's appendices to Words and Places. I want to point out chiefly the mutilations of such suffixes.

One of the most familiar suffixes is ey (sometimes ay). This in nineteen cases out of twenty represents hey, or hay, the h being elided, and meant a hedge, an enclosed place. Hay still survives in co. Norfolk for a hedge, but is dying out (Halliwell); cf. Churchey, Fotheringay, Goldingay. Of course this ey is to be distinguished from ey and eyot, a little islet in a stream: cf. Forty for Forthey,

'de la Fortheye,' existing in co. Oxford in 1273, and still found there in the imitative form of Forty.

White for thwaite, a clearing. Cf. Applewhite, Kibblewhite, Hebblewhite, &c.

Thorpe becomes thrup, throp, trup, or trop. Cf. Calthrop for Calthorp, Feltrup for Felthorp, Winthrop for Winthorp, Guntrop for Gunthorp, &c. Thrupp for Thorpe is well known to our directories.

Ham sometimes becomes um; rare in England, but fairly common in America: cf. Barnum for Barnham, or Holtum for Holtham.

Royd (presumably a ridding, a clearing) sometimes becomes rod. While we have Oldroyd, Murgatroyd (Margaret's clearing), &c., we have also Ormerod (Orme's clearing), Grindrod (the green clearing), with an intrusive d. In the Pirates of Penzance Murgatroyd is placed in Cornwall! It is a purely West Riding name. But poets have a recognized licence to place anybody anywhere. Cf.

JOHANNES MERGRETRODE, 1379, P. T. Yorks., p. 187.

Halg for hough or haugh, a hill, a mound, the same as How; cf. Featherstonhalgh for Featherstonhaugh, Greenhalgh for Greenhow. Ridehalgh is a familiar name in co. Lanc.

By as a suffix is not unfrequently found as bee. This is not unknown in England, but is a more familiar suffix in America. Still we have a fair number of examples; cf.

1667. THOMAS LOWNES and MARY DIMBLEBEE, Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 143.

1667. Married—JOHN DAGGOT and ANN FARRABEE, St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 135.

1775. WILLIAM NORRIS and SARAH APPELBEE, St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 258.

Appelbee is still in the London Directory. One other instance will suffice:

1669. Married—WILLIAM CARNABEE and MARTHA COWLEY, St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 160.

Carnaby is a village near York. Crossing the Atlantic in the Puritan period this form of the suffix by has become popular in the States. Many local suffixes describe situation. Thus:

End, as in Townsend, Woodend, from residence at the end of the town or wood; cf. Gravesend.

Side, as in Akenside or Garside, from residence by the side of the oak-trees or the garth.

Bottom or botham, as in Sidebotham, Higginbottom or Hickinbottom, from residence at the side of the bottom, a hollow at the foot of a hill, or from a dwelling in the hollow where Higgin (Richard) lived. As for Shufflebotham, it has been constantly asserted that it means the shaw-field-bottom. This is not true (v. Shufflebotham), but under protection of Mr. Lower, who later on changed his opinion, several who bear the name have styled themselves Shawfield; I know a clergyman who has done so. Almost all the names with bottom as suffix hail from the district where the three counties, Lancashire, Derby, and Chester, converge in the neighbourhood of Stockport.

Head (i.e. the upper end) becomes frequently ett. Aikinhead is 'the head of the oak trees,' Muirhead is 'the head of the moor,' and Birkinhead is 'the head of the birch trees,' both Aiken and Birken being adjectives as in golden. These have retained their original form, but others have not. Birkett represents 'at the birk-head,' from residence at the upper end of the birch trees. Hazlitt is Hazlehead (the head of the hazel grove). Blackett is Blackhead, if not a nickname, then from residence at the black headland. Becket is the beck-head, from residence at the commencement of the beck: hence A'Becket (i.e. atte beck-head); and Greenett is probably from residence at the upper end of the village green. I have no proof of this last, but it looks all right. And so with many others. It is all very well to call these modifications; they are really mutilations, and require close attention.

Dale as a suffix becomes commonly dall. Cf. Tindall for Tindale, Tweedall for Tweedale, Dunderdall for Dunderdale, Yewdall or Udall for Yewdale, Dowdall for Dowdale, or Chippindall for Chippindale. All these are North Country variants.

How (a hill, a mound) as a suffix frequently becomes oe and o. Cf. Sholto, or Shillitoe.

Hope (a sloping hollow) as a suffix is easily obscured. Cf. Blenkinsop, Allsopp, Winship, and Nettleship. The terminations in ship I cannot prove, but feel sure of their parentage.

Hus or us for house, seemingly old English and not a modification. We not only have Chanonhouse (the Canon's house), Moorhouse, Wodchouse or Woodhouse, Claverhouse (?Culverhouse), Parkhouse, Taphouse, so familiar to every musical Oxford man, Pithouse, &c., but we still possess Kirkus (Kirkhouse), Loftus (Loft-house), Malthus (Malthouse), or the imitative Bacchus (Bakehouse or Backhouse, i.e. the house at the back): I suspect Bakehouse is the chief parent. I may add that the nearly extinct Pithouse (the house by the pit or hollow) may be seen at Langley, co. Bucks (1894).

Gate or yate must be mentioned among the suffixes. Not only have we Yates or Yeats, Yeatman or Yatman, the caretaker of the gate, but the interesting Lidgett for Lidgate, and the still more interesting West Country Lippiatt or Lipyatt (q. v.).

Brigg (a bridge) occasionally becomes brick. Cf. Philbrick (a good instance) or Maybrick.

The change in suffixes ending in all or ol, to aw or ow, is curious but natural. Hence Bristow for Bristol. There is one Bristoll in the London Directory to twenty-four Bristows. Latimer, writing to Thomas Cromwell, speaks of the bishop of 'Gloucester and Bristow.' A farmer in the North tells you he is going 'to th' haw' (i. e. hall). Hence Howgate for Holgate, Howroyd for Holroyd. The old Furness name of Picthall is found there to-day, and in the United States as Pickthawe and Picthow. Similarly the ancient Lancashire name, Preesall, is found now only as Presow. These are instances out of a large list.

I must hurry over some suffixes that vary. Cf. Grave, Greave, Grove: hence Snelgrove, Hargreaves. Cf. Clough and Clow or Clowe, now as surname Clowes. We find the same change in enough and enow. Cf. also worth and worthy, as in Kenworthy, Whitworth, Langworthy, and Langworth. Cf. also Craft and Croft, as in the occupative Crafter and Crofter, and the local Calcraft and Bancroft, &c. Cf. also ford and forth: Stockport was formerly Stopford or Stockforth, and Bradford in the Yorkshire Poll Tax (1379) is Bradford or Bradforth, according to the mood of the registrar. One more example must suffice here: Ley, Lea, Lee, Legh, Leigh, Legge (as in Whitelegge), as local suffixes are all variants of the same word, ley, a meadow.

NICKNAMES.

FISH-NAMES.

With regard to nicknames, we have to be careful. The great unwritten law of imitation once more comes in. Fish-names, so called, excepting the generic term of Fish, or Fisk, are scarcely ever what they seem, being in nine cases out of ten personal or local names. We are on safe ground when we come to bird and beast nicknames. These all represent some physical or moral characteristic that appealed at once to the popular understanding. The ruddock, or the sparrow, or the bull, or the hart, were always before people's eyes. As nicknames, they represented some quality of strength, stolidity, quickness, or song. There was nothing particularly characteristic about the fish, and they were not always to be seen. But the habits of bird and beast were always observable, and were comparable with the habits of mankind. Scarcely a single bird or beast name has escaped immortality through the aid of our nomenclature. A fierce man would be termed Wild, but often Wildbore. An agile man might be termed Lightfoot or Golightly; but others would be styled Hare, or Hart, or Stag. A musical voice would gain for the possessor the sobriquet of Nightingale; a homely man would be called Sparrow or Ruddock, just as often Goodfellow or Goodman. It is quite different with fish-names so called. We may quote the famous chapter on 'Snakes in Iceland': 'There are no snakes in Iceland,' and say 'there are no fish-names in England.' They possessed no individuality so to speak; they led a dull and monotonous life. But in respect to Hogg, Lamb, Wildgoose, Wildbore, Fox, Woodcock, Pidgeon, Spink, Speight, Swift, Hawk, Roebuck, &c., all implied some characteristic on the part of the nominee common to the bird or the beast. Take a few instances of so-called fish-names. Spratt, like Sprott, represents the old Domesday personal name, Sprot; Salmon is the mediaeval and popular English Salamon (i.e. Solomon); Haddock is easily proved to be the same as Haydock, a parish in South Lancashire; Pike is strictly local, and Chubb is most probably a sharpened form of Jubb (i.e. Job). Turbot is the son of Turbert:

TURBERT DE WESTCOT, Pipe Roll, 2 Hen. II, p. 74.

I only furnish a single instance. Trout is the son of Troyt, a great personal name in the West Country in the surname epoch (now generally Trott). Even Plaice is Place, from residence by the place or stead, or manor, or public roadway, or courtyard:

JOHN ATTE PLACE, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III, Kirby's Quest, p. 258.

WILLIAM DE LA PLACE, co. Linc., 1273. A.

In fact Plaice in the London Directory is simply an imitative form. The law of imitation, to assert it once more, must be carefully reckoned with by the student. It is the same with Roach, which is purely imitative, being simply the 'de la Roche' of early rolls:

GILBERT DE LA ROCHE, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

1675-6. Bapt.—ELIZ., d. THOMAS ROACH, St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 121.

Gudgeon is an imitative form of Goodson or Goodison (cf. Hodgon for Hodgson, in Cumberland and North Lanc.). Keeling may represent the now nearly extinct name for a small cod, once so common on the north-east coast; but in the Hundred Rolls (1273) it is local. Finally, Herring is, as in Harrington, a family name. The Yorkshire Bucktrout seems to be really a fish-name, and is found early :

ROBERTUS BUKTROUT, 1379, P. T. Yorks., p. 218.

BEAST-NAMES.

We still find traces of the habit of styling people by some animal that seemed to represent their chief characteristic. Hence vixen for a shrewish wife ; rascal for a vile, mean man ; or urchin for a rough, mischievous boy. Without being uncomplimentary, as our Authorized Version of the Book of Revelation proves, our Bests represent Beast :

HENRY LE BESTE, London. X.

RICHARD LE BESTE, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Our Oliphants or Olivants (i.e. elephant) were so called from their size. From surliness the sobriquet 'le Bere' arose, now Bear. Fierceness of temper originated 'le Wolfe,' now Wolf ; wiliness, 'le Renaud,' 'le Tod,' and 'le Fox' ; swiftiness, and other characteristics, 'le Hare,' 'le Buk' (Buck), 'le Hart,' 'le Stagge,' &c. The badger is parent of 'le Broc' (Brock). The farming stock gave us Bull, Vache, Bullock, Colt, Stott, Veale, Mutton, Lamb, Kidd, Hogg, Bacon, Pigg, Pork, Purcell, Grice, and so on. Camel or Cammell does not belong to this list, being but a sharpened form of the great personal name, Gamel ; and Badger is generally occupative, meaning a hawker, a dealer in corn.

BIRD-NAMES.

The generic term 'Bird' was common, and still is:

DAVID LE BRID, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

HENRY LE BRID, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III, Kirby's Quest, p. 92.

Coming to species, falconry helped to make 'le Falcon,' 'le Kyte,' or 'le Hawk' familiar, the originals being probably of an eagerly grasping disposition. Hence also Muskett, Buzzard, Puttock, Goshawk, Tassell, Glead (or Glide), or Sparrowhawk. Thus was it with other birds. A showy man was Jay, a proud man Peacock or Pocock, a man of guile Rook ; if pert, then Pye, Pyet, or Pyett ; if musical, Laverock (or Lark), Woodlark, Nightingale :

THOMAS NIGHTEGALE, co. Glouc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Finch, Goldfinch, Spink, Goldspink, or Thrush. A young and lusty swaggerer is immortalized in Cockerell or Cock, and as a suffix (cf. Wilcock, &c.) the latter has made the word famous in English nomenclature. We still say, 'Well, old cock, how are you?' It is not necessary to go on. We have still Ruddocks, Popjays:

ROBERT POPINGEAY, 1371, co. Norf. FF.

Gulls, Storks, Crows, Doves, Speights, Pinnocks, Turtles, Swans, Ducks, Duckerells, Sheldricks, Mallards, Goss's, Woodcocks, Partridges, Pheasants, Rains:

WILLIAM LE RAIN. J.

&c., in our directories. Raven and Sparrowhawk (now Spark), however, were personal names at first (as doubtless some others). The last is as old as Domesday.

NAMES OF RELATIONSHIP.

Relationship has given us many surnames, some of which will be unrecognizable to the ordinary reader. Fairbrother represents the Norman-French Beaufrere, a brother-in-law; Fairbairn probably is equivalent to the Norman-French Beaufils (or Beaufitz), a stepson (Lower). Frearson explains itself. The Yorkshire surname Bairnfather, or Barnfather or Banfater, is the child's father, probably one with some considerable inheritance (v. Barnfather). Hitchmough or Hickmott is 'Richard's brother-in-law'; Watmough is 'Walter's brother-in-law,' and is sometimes found as Watmuff, Whatmough, and Watmore in North England. Hence also such extinct surnames as Barnmawe (the child's brother-in-law), or Elysmagh (Ellis' brother-in-law), or Hudmagh (Richard's brother-in-law), or Susannemagh (Susan's brother-in-law), or Tailliourmoghe (the tailor's brother-in-law), (v. Watmough for convincing evidence). Sisterson, a Durham and North Riding surname, must not be put in this category always. It is doubtless generally an imitative form of the old and popular Yorkshire Sissotson, 'the son of Cecilia' (v. Sissot). Again, these are only examples. It would be easy to quote such names as Uncle, Cousin or Cousins, Neave, Senior, Younger, or Widowson (sometimes). We must not include Kinsman.

TERMS OF ENDEARMENT AND FRIENDSHIP.

We still in common converse say, 'Well, old chap,' or 'My good fellow.' Hence Goodfellow, Goodbody, Goodman, Goodchild, Leifchild, Bellamy, Bonamy, Well-beloved, Truelove, Sweetcock, Lemon or Leman, Douceamour, Parramore, Bunting. Some of these names were at first baptismal.

DESCRIPTIVE COMPOUNDS.

Akin to the above we constantly come across descriptive compounds; cf. John Little with Littlejohn, Bonjean (possibly now Bunyan, but that is more probably Welsh), Prettyjohn, Blithman, Younghusband, Littlehick, Micklejohn, Leishman, Gawkroger, Wightman, Merriman, Muddiman, Colfox (?). We may incidentally point out the predominance of John in names of this character. Included in this list we find such nicknames as Shakespear, Wagstaff, Breakspear, Shakelance; but not Bickerstaff, which is local. Such names as Proud fellow and Long fellow, or Freebody, explain themselves. So do Littleproud, or Sharparrow, or Bendbow (now Benbow), or Strongbow.

AGE, SIZE, SHAPE, CAPACITY.

Again we are on safe ground. We have the necessary proofs. In the surname epoch we find names that not merely described the build of the bearer, but distinguished him from somebody else with the same baptismal name. Take Little as an instance—

JOHANNES DE BLAND et uxor, 1379: P. T. Yorks., p. 289.

JOHANNES DE BLAND, littill, 1379: ibid.

(John Bland, jun., we might almost style him.)

Again—

JOHANNES TAILLOUR, parvus (parvus), 1379: P. T. Yorks., p. 278.

JOHANNES TAILLOUR, de Hyle, 1379: ibid.

Living each pair in their own small hamlet, and John being the prevailing name, they had to be identified. Thus we get familiarized with such early entries as—

WILLIAM LE LETTLE, co. Ox., 1273. A.

JOHN LE LITTLE, co. Berks, 1273. A.

Thus all is clear, and hence such entries as Robert le Fatte, Henry le Lene, Henry le Crask, William le Thikke, &c., occur in early rolls, and are now found in our directories as Craske, or Fatt, or Lean, or Thick, or Strong, or Long, or Short, or Longman, or Long fellow, or Ould, or Young (or Yonge), or Bigge, or Grose, or Grant (or Grand), or Grass (or Grace), or Petty, or Jeune, &c., many being Norman-French.

NICKNAMES FROM PECULIARITIES OF COMPLEXION.

A full account of these names will be found in my English Surnames, fourth edition, pp. 443-54. Suffice to say that we owe to nicknames a large and important list. Hence Morell, Lyard, Bayard, Favell, Burnell, Brunell, Russell, Rouse, Sor, Sorrell, Hore, White, Lilywhite, Black, Brown, Blanchflower, Brune, Grey, Grissell, Reed, Reid, Read, Swarte, Blund, Blunt, Blount, Blondin, Blundell, Dun (in most cases), Borrell, Burrell, &c. Let one or two instances suffice: the rest can be sought for in this dictionary with further information:—

ELENA LA SORE, co. Soms., 1273. A.

ROGER LE SOR, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 258.

WILLIAM LE DUN, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

ROBERT LE BRUNE, c. 1300. M.

ADAM LE HORE, co. Derby, 1273. A.

So they run, occasionally taken from the colour of the cloth they wore, as in Scarlett or Burrell (sometimes), but in general from the complexion of the hair, face, or beard. Such compounds as Nutbrown, Silverlock, Brownbeard, Flaxenhead, and Whitehead will be found in abundance. We find Anne Griselwhite mentioned in Blomefield's History of Norfolk (v. Index). Many of these compounds survive, many are extinct.

MENTAL AND MORAL PECULIARITIES.

This is an extremely large class. Kindly qualities are represented by Makepeace or Makejoy; social by Bland, Merry, or Gay; courteous by Curteis or Pollit; refined by Gentle, Sweet, or Hendy (or Henty); lowly by Humble or Meek; arrogance by Proud or Prout; alertness by Quick, Smart, or Snell; daring by Freak or Orped; miserliness by Pennifather; daringness again by Doughty or Bold; showiness by Gerrish; virtue by Bunn, Righteous, or Good. Bunker represents the old Bonquer; Moody and Musard testify to dreamy temperaments. But it is needless to go on. Examples will be found on every page of this work. Many forgotten expressions are recorded in our directories, as Orped or Orpwood, brave, daring, referred to above; or Crease, squeamish or particular. But there are dangers even here. We may be misled by modern spelling, Greedy (a Somersetshire name), for instance, being local, with the suffix hey; another illustration of imitation. Merriman, Moodiman, Slyman, Sillyman, Merryweather, Fairweather, Gladcheer, Littleproud, Proudlove, Proud fellow, or Proudfoot represent compound forms.

I have to acknowledge my deep indebtedness to Professor Skeat for a large number of M.E. instances which concern a section of names that belong to the English dictionary as well as the English directory. I have kept his Etymological Dictionary constantly at my elbow. I have also used his terms 'intrusive' and 'excrement,' not merely because they are simpler than my own, but also because these terms are needed on account of the extraordinary number of surnames in which intrusions and excrescences occur.

This preface is very unscientific in its arrangement; I frankly admit it, for I am not scientific. I never had the chance. The cares of a heavy parish have only allowed me intervals of minutes to jot down the results of past reading, and my occasional holidays were spent in search of proof. My MS. has been locked up for two years through illness and partial blindness. Still, the dictionary may be useful to students. In any case its slow preparation of twenty years has given me the one great pleasure of my life. Unhappy the man who has no hobby. I have simply been an earnest but unfortunately a flagging follower in the pursuit of the subject I love.

C. W. BARDSLEY.

OXFORD, Jan. 1, 1836¹.

¹ N.B. After writing this introduction, the Author added quotations from more recent publications, e.g. Register of the Freeman of the City of York (Surtees Soc.).—A. B.

DICTIONARY

OF

ENGLISH AND WELSH SURNAMES

A

AARON

Aaron, Aarons, Aaronson.—Bapt. 'the son of Aaron'; a Jewish surname settled in England. I have not met with a single English Aaron in mediaeval times.

Jacob Aaron, 1696: Reg. St. Mary Aldermar, London, p. 112.
London, 8, 4, 4; Philadelphia, 12, 17, 7.

Abadam.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam' (Welsh ap- or ab-Adam); cf. Bethell, Bloyd, Breeze, &c.

Thomas Appadam, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 219.
1754. Married—Richard Powney and Eleanor Abadam: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 280.

Abbey, Abbee, Abbe.—(1) Local, 'at the Abbey,' from residence thereby. (2) Offic., from the ecclesiastical title. All the evidence is in favour of this view except in one instance.

Henry le Abbé, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Ralph le Abbe, co. Devon, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.
William le Abbe, co. Devon, ibid.
Robert del Abbay, 1332, co. Lanc.: Lay Subsidy (Rylands).
William de Mikelfeld, dictus del Abbay, 12-13 Edw. I.: Freeman of York, i. 4.
William del Abbay, ceyntures: ibid.
1594. George Abbey, Magd. Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 181.

1601. Richard Abby and Eliz. Hodgkins: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 267.
1648. Married—George Abbey and Mary Feild: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 82.
London, 4, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 11, 0, 6.

Abbinett.—Bapt. 'the son of Abraham,' or 'Abell,' q.v., from the nick. Abb, with double dim. Abb-in-et; cf. Robinet and Colinet.
Liverpool, 1.

Abbiss.—Bapt.; v. Abbs, of which, no doubt, it is a variant.

'William Abbys, now mayor of the Towne of Bedford,' 1534: Visitation of Bedfordshire, 1566, p. 73.
1628. Buried—George Woodlve, from Dan. Abiss: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 192.
— Edward Green, from Danyell Abbisse: ibid. p. 193.
1631. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Henry Abbes: St. Mary Aldermar, p. 82.
1770. James Rycroft and Elizabeth Dianah Abbiss: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 303.
London, 1.

Abbitt, Abbot, Abbott, Abbotson, Abbett.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Abraham,' from the nick. Abb, and dim. Abb-ot. It is all but certain that the majority of our Abbotts, although bearing a conventional title, are thus descended. Abraham was a favourite name in the 13th century. Abel was also popular, and may have shared the parentage. (2) Offic., or nickname, 'the Abbot.'

Henry Abbod, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
William Abbod, co. Oxf., ibid.
Adam Abbot, co. Hunts, ibid.
Juliana Abbot, co. Bedf., ibid.
Margareta Abbot, co. Camb., ibid.
1720. Married—Edward Sanders and Anne Abbitt: St. Antholin, London, p. 134.
London, 2, 4, 72, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 6, 72, 0, 4.

Abbs, Abson, Abbison.—Bapt. 'the son of Abraham' or 'Abel,' from nick. Abb or Abbie. This was a familiar Norfolk surname as Abbys or Abbes. To-day it is familiar in the same county as Abbs.

William fil. Abi, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
Willhelmus Abson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 71.

A'BECKET

John Abbys, co. Norf., 1480: FF. vi. 445.

Thomas Abbys, co. Norf., 1536: ibid. p. 446.
James Abbes, buried at Thetford, co. Norf., 1555: ibid. ii. 141.
Edward Abbs, 'imbarqued in the George' for Virginia, 1635: Hotten's Emigrants, p. 124.

1641. Bapt.—Willm., s. Willm. Abbison: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 149.

1750. Married—William Abson and Mary Downes: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 158.

MDB. (Norfolk), 3, 0, 0; London, 1, 0, 0; Liverpool, 0, 2, 0; Wakefield, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 1.

Abdy.—Local, 'of the Abdy'; query, an old form of 'Abbey' (?). Lower says: 'Abdy, an estate in Yorkshire, where the family anciently resided.' This is corroborated by the following entries:—

Robert del Abdy, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 17.

Johannes del Abdy, et Agnes, uxor ejus, taylour: ibid.

Johannes del Abdy, et Margareta, uxor ejus: ibid.

All these were living at Brampton-juxta-Wath. The 'del' is interesting.

1577. Edmund Abdie, London: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 76.

1583. Christopher Abdye and Mary Sentell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 119.

1776. Married—Sir William Abdy, Bart., and Mary Gordon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 250.

MDB. (W. Rid. Yorkshire), 1; London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1.

A'Becket.—Local, 'at the Beck-head,' from residence at the head or source of the beck; cf. Birkett, originally Birk-head, or Birkenhead, the head of the birch-trees. Birkett is a Cumberland surname.

Birkenhead, co. Chester, is but a variant, being the adjectival form; v. Beck. Cf. Roger a'Hulle (co. Oxf., 1273. A.), i. e. Roger at the Hill.

Wydo del Beck't, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

1801. Married—William a'Beckett and Sarah Abbott: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 233. Philadelphia, 3.

Abel, Abell, Abells, Ableson, Able.—Bapt. 'the son of Abel.' Much more popular in mediaeval society than in that of the 19th century. Among the peasantry, however, Abel still receives a certain amount of attention as a font-name.

Richard Abel, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Abel le Specer, co. Derby, ibid.

Henry Abel, co. Notts, ibid.

Allan Abel, co. Camb., ibid.

Abel le Orfeure. T.

Richard Abel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 201.

1578. George Abell, co. Derby: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 83.

1623. Richard Abelson and Ellen Brocke: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 29.

1714. William Abell, patron of Brampton, co. Norf.: FF. vi. 440.

Boston (U.S.), 58, 10, 2, 0, 0; London, 7, 8, 1, 1, 0; MDB. (N. Rid. Yorkshire), Able 1.

Abethell.—Bapt. 'Ab-Ithel' (Welsh); i. e. the son of Ithel; v. Bethell, and cf. Abadam. London, 1.

Ablett, Ablott, Abletson.—Bapt. 'the son of Abel,' from dim. Abel-ot. A feminine form occurs in the Hundred Rolls; v. infra.

Abelot (without surname), co. Camb., 1273. A.

William Abelot, co. Camb., ibid.

Abalotta de la Forde, co. Hunts, ibid.

Richard Abelote. V. 111.

William Ablot, 10 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 31.

Jan. 16, 1437. Robert Rodes, of the town of Newcastle upon Tyne, conveyed a house in Gateshead to William Ableton and Agnes his wife: Brand's Hist. of Newcastle, i. 261.

1770. Rene Rogier and Hannah Ablett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 194.

London, 4, 0, 0.

Ablewhite.—Local, doubtless a corruption of Appletwhaite, q. v.; cf. Hebblewhite.

Ablyn.—Bapt. 'the son of Abel,' from the dim. Abel-in; v. Aplin (2).

Thomas Abelyn, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Isolda Abelin, 6 Edw. I. BBB.
1685. Bapt.—John, son of Edward Ablin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 311.
1721.—Thomas, son of Francis Ablin: ibid. ii. 127.

Abraham, Abrahams, Abrahamson, Abram, Abrahams, Abramson.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Abraham.' A popular font-name in the 13th century; v. Abbot. In the Fen district especially the entries are common. The instances in the Hundred Rolls are all but entirely confined to the Fen counties. A glance at the London Directory will show that in general Abraham represents the old English stock, and Abrahams the more modern Jewish. This is proved by comparing the personal or Christian names prefixed to the instances; cf. Solomon and Salmon.

John Abraam, co. Bedf., 1273. A.
Ralph Abraham, co. Camb., ibid.
John Abraham, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 111.

William fil. Abraham, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Magota Abraham, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 299.

(2) Local, 'of Abram,' a township in the parish of Wigan, Lanc., originally written Adburgham. The Lancashire Abram and Abraham spring from this place.

Gilbert de Abram, temp. Hen. IV.
John Abraham of Abraham, temp. Hen. V: Baines' Lanc. ii. 190.

Isaac Abraham, of Liverpool, 1613: Wills at Chester, i. 128-9.

Nicholas Lucas, of Alpraham, 1508: ibid.

Robert Lythgoe, of Abram, 1578: ibid.

William Abram, parish of Sephton, 1617: ibid.

London, 24, 56, 3, 3, 0, 0; Liverpool, 11, 3, 0, 2, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 14, 21, 2, 11, 28, 1.

Abry.—Bapt. 'the son of Abrahee,' presumably a form of Abraham.

Alan fil. Abrahee, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Dyav fil. Abrahe, co. Linc., ibid.

William fil. Abbrahee, co. Linc., ibid.

1598. Edward Abrey: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 340.

Alice, married to Arthure Abry, of Charnish, in com. Wilts': Visitation of Dorsetshire, 1623, p. 15.

1786. Married—Richard Lucas and Elizabeth Abrey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 302.

1787.—Robert Abray and Jane Ward: ibid. p. 410.

New York, 3.

Absalom, Absalon, Abso-lom.—Bapt. 'the son of Absolom.' A fairly popular font-name in the 13th century, and not confined to the Jews.

'Now was ther of that chirche a parish clerk,

The which that was ycleped Absolon.

Chaucer, C. T. 3312.

Thomas Apson, London, 1273. A.

Absolon in le Dyche, ibid.

Thomas Absolon: Patent Roll, 19 Eliz. pt. 7.

Absolon fil. Simon. C.

William Absolon, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 172.

George Absolon, 'bound for ye Bormodos,' 1635: Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 132.

1756. Married—Clemmuell Clark and Eliz. Absalom: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 65.

London, 1, 1, 3; New York, 1, 1, 0.

Abson.—Bapt. 'the son of Abraham'; v. Abbs.

Aburn.—Local, 'at the burn,' corrupted to Aburn; cf. A'Becket, A'Wood, &c.

Henry Ateburn, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Richard Atteburne, co. Kent, ibid.

1641. Francis Edmonds and Mary Aborne: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 251.

1690. John Fishwick and Mary Aburne: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 166.

1695. John Aburne and Ann With: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 216.

London, 1.

Acatour, Achatour.—Official; v. Cator.

Bernard le Acatour, temp. 1300. M.

Henry le Achatour. H.

Jocius le Achatour, 1273. A.

Chaucer says of the manciple who was so 'wise in buying of victuals,' that of him

'Achatours mighten take ensample.'

Achard.—Bapt. 'the son of Achard'; v. Hachard.

London, 1; New York, 1.

Achurch.—Local; v. Atkirk.

Ackerman, Ackermann, Ackerman, Ackermann.—Occup.

'the Acreman': a ploughman, a husbandman, a tiller of the soil;

'both prestis and knightis mosten bicomme acremen and heerdis,' 1389: Hist. Eng. Dic.

'The foules up, and song on bough,

And acremen yede to the plough.'

Lay le Freine, 176 (Halliwell).

Roger le Acreman, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Alexander Acherman, co. Hunts, ibid.

Hugh Ackerman, co. Camb., ibid.

Peter de Akerman, o. Oxf., 1273. A.
Akermann is of German birth.
1802. Married—John Sandford and Mary Ackerman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 272.
London, 2, 2, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 20, 8, 3, 1.

Ackley.—Local, 'at the Ackley,' i.e. the oak-meadow. The exact equivalent of Oakley, q.v.

Ralph de Ackle, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
John de Acle, co. Oxf., ibid.
Robert de Acle, co. Bucks, ibid.
1571. Henry Akeley, Ch. Ch. Coll.:
Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 44.
1610. Henry Cannon and Mary Aclay:
Marriage Lic. (London), i. 322.
1769. Married—Henry Hughes and Betty Akeley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 184.
Boston, 1; Philadelphia, 17.

Acklom.—Local, 'of Acklam,' two parishes in co. York, one in the union of Malton, the other in the union of Stockton.

Robert de Acclom, co. York, 1273. A.
1742. Married—John Newman and Eliz. Acklom: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair,
p. 23.
1806. —John Philip Acklam and Eliz.
Robinson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 353.
MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1.

Ackroyd, Ecroyd, Ackeroyd, Akroyd, Akeroyd.— Local, 'of the Ackroyd,' i.e. the oak clearing; cf. Ormerod, Murgatroyd, &c. A well-known Yorkshire surname.

Richard de Akerode, co. York. W. 2.
1612. John Ackroyd, co. York: Reg. Univ.
Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 328.
1618. Matthew Aickroid, co. York:
ibid. p. 372.
1619–20. Samuel Akeroyd, co. York:
ibid. p. 380.
1655. Buried—Mary, d. Robert Acrod:
St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 131.
1678. John Somerscales and Susanna
Aykroyd: Marriage Lic. (Westminster),
p. 179.
1687. James Galliere Vareilles and Faith Akeroyd: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 278.

West Riding Court Dir., 28, 2, 0, 2, 6;
MDB. (W. Riding), 17, 0, 1, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 8, 0, 0, 0, 0.

Acland, Ackland.—Local, 'of Acland.' 'From the situation of their ancient seat in Lankey, near Barnstaple, co. Devon, which, being in the midst of a large grove of oaks (in Saxon ac), obtained the name of Ac or Oakland. . . They were settled in this place as early as the reign of Henry II.' (Lower, quoting Kimber's Baronetage.)

Richard Ackelonde, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 247.

1609. Baldwin Aclande, co. Devon,
Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 305.
John Acklande, temp. Eliz. 2.
1641. Buried—Elizabeth Acklande, widow: St. Peter's, Cornhill, i. 198.
Exeter, 1, 2; MDB. (co. Devon), 3, 2;
London, 4, 6; Philadelphia, 0, 2; Boston, 0, 3.

Acock, Acocks, Haucock, Haycock, Haycox.—Bapt. 'the son of Alcock,' q.v., corrupted to Acock. This took the imitative form of Haycock. At least it would appear so. If we could find any instances of Halcock representing Henry, we should then be obliged to refer the three last to that personal name.

Roger Acock et uxor, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 270.
1633. William Acooke and Rebecca Richardson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii.
210.

1782. Married—George Betterton and
Sarah Acock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 338.
London, 1, 2, 1, 6, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 0, 2, 0.

Acomb, Acome.—(1) Local,
'of Acomb,' a parish near York.
(2) Local, 'of Acomb,' two townships in the union of Hexham, co.
Northumberland.

Willelmus de Acom, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 301.
Elena Acom, 1379: ibid.
1670. Married—Henry Acom and Eliz.
Blackwell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 171.
1692. Samuel Acomb and Ann Best:
Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 220.
1767. Married—Owen Scott and Mary
Acombe: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 170.
West Riding Court Dir., 2, 0; London,
0, 3.

Acott, v. Acock; a variant; cf.
Glasscock for Glasscott.
Oxford, 1.

Acre, Acres, Acker, Akers.
—Local, 'of the Acre,' or Acres, from residence beside the field or fields called the Acre or Acres.

Bartholomew de Acre, or Akers, bailiff of Norwich, 1282: FF. iii. 74.
Oliver del Acre, 36 Hen. III. BBB.
Walter del Acre, ibid.
Walter del Acre, C. R., 42 Hen. III.
William del Acre, co. Essex, Hen. III.
Edw. I. K.
Johannes Acrys, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 29.
Roger Acres, 1379: ibid. p. 291.
1691. Bapt.—John, s. Richard Acres:
St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 340.
London, 0, 2, 1, 8; Philadelphia, 1, 0,
27, 0.

Acton.—Local, 'of Acton.'
There are in England no less than sixteen parishes, hamlets, townships, &c., called Acton, i.e. the farmstead among the oaks.

John de Aketon, co. Soms., 1273. A.
Nicholas de Aketon, co. Northumb.,
ibid.

John de Actone, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 188.

Drue de Acton, co. Norf., c. Hen. III.:
FF. ix. 111.

Johannes de Ayketon, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 251.

1569. Bapt.—Alexdr., son of Alexdr.
Acton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 5.

1582. John Acton, co. Salop: Reg.
Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 119.
London, 6; Philadelphia, 7.

Acworth.—Local, 'of Ackworth,' a parish near Wakefield, co. York.

Ricardus de Ackeworthe, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 60.

Adam de Ackeworth, 1379: ibid. p. 33.
1529–30. Robert Charnock and Frances Acworth: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 7.

1589. Richard Acworth, London:
Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 172.

1600–1. Buried—Thomas Acworth:
St. Leonis Backchurch, p. 205.

West Riding Court Dir., 1.

Adam, Adames, Adams,
Adamson.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam.' Almost the prime favourite as a font-name in the 13th century;
v. Addis, Acock, Atkins, Atkinson, Addyman, &c. Adams is remarkably well represented in the United States. A single glance at the Index to Hotten's Lists of Emigrants will suffice to show that many Adams,
Addams, Adamsons, or Addamsons were among the early settlers.

John fil. Adam, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Hugh fil. Adam, co. Oxf., ibid.
German Adam, co. Camb., ibid.
Juliana Adams, co. Hunts, ibid.
Johannes Adamson, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 112.

Johannes Adam, carnifex, 1379: ibid.
p. 113.

Thomas Adamson, 1379: ibid. p. 300.

1619. Thomas Williams and Anne
Addams: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 80.
1640–1. Thomas Almes and Eliz.
Emerson: ibid. p. 250.

London, 11, 2, 180, 14; Boston, 9, 0,
363, 14.

Adamthwaite.—Local, 'of Adamthwaite' (i.e. the clearing of Adam the first settler, probably in the 12th century), a small hamlet in Ravenstonedale, co. Westm.;
v. Thwaites.

Reynold Adamthwaite, 1541: W. Nicholls, History and Traditions of Ravenstone-dale, co. Westm., p. 113.

Robert Adamthwaite, 1541: ibid.
Richard Adamthwaite, 1541: ibid.
1638. Bapt.—Mary, d. Thomas Adamthwaite: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 139.
1665. Buried—Sibell Adamthwaite: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 186.
MDB. (co. Westm.), 2.

Adcock, Atcock.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam,' from the nick. Ade with suffix -cock (cf. Wilcock, Jeffcock, Watcock, &c.); v. Addis with Atcock; cf. Atkins for Adkins.

'Hamme, son of Adecock, held 29 acres of land': De Lacy Inquisition, 1311. Robertus Adecock, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 203.

Robertus Adkokson, 1379: ibid. p. 287.
William Atcock, 1379: ibid. p. 234.
1539. Married—Thomas Smith and Katurne Adecock: St. Antholin, London, p. 1.

1673. Bapt.—Thomas, son of Thomas Adecock: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 259.
London, 12, 0; New York, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Adderley, Atherly.—Local, 'of Atherley,' a parish in co. Salop, pronounced Adderley.

Henry de Addeleg, co. Salop, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Roger de Addeleg, co. Wilts, ibid., 1574-5. Ralph Adderley, co. Linc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 69.

1855. Ralph Adderley, co. Staff.: ibid. p. 142.

1599. Humphrey Adderley, co. Warw.: ibid. p. 235.

1686. William Cuttler and Ruth Adderley: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 44.
London, 6, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Addinell.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam,' from an early dim. (?) ; cf. Adnett and Adnitt, q.v.

Tadcaster, 3.

Addis, Addison, Adds, Addy, Ade, Ades, Adey, Adie, Ady, Addey, Aday, Adees.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam,' from the nick. Ad, Ade, or Addy. All are reminders of the wonderful popularity of Adam in the north of England, if not in the south; cf. Adcock and Adkin, q.v.

Nicholas fil. Ade, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 203.

Matilda Addy, 1379: ibid.
Robertus fil. Ade, 1379: ibid.
Alicia relicta Ade, 1379: ibid.
Willelmus Adde, 1379: ibid. p. 195.
Agnes fil. Ade, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Robert Ade, co. Leic., ibid.

Emma fil. Ade, co. Linc., ibid.

A common entry in the Hundred Rolls.

1574. John Addye and Eliz. Walker: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 5.

1575. Edward Adice, co. Salop: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 65. With the variant Adice cf. Ellice for Ellis, or Bevance for Bevans.

1580. Thomas Buller and Agnes Adye: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 7.

1585. Henry Adis, co. Dorset: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 141.

1665. Henry Marsh and Leah Ady: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 106.

1673. John Addis: ibid. p. 215.
—William Bright and Jane Adey: ibid. p. 217.

Edward Addice, 1679: Hotten's Emigrants, p. 473.

1699. Bapt.—John, son of John and Susanah Ade: St. Dionis Backchurch, London, p. 138.

1713.—Edward, son of John Addis: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 71.

London, 8, 12, 1, 1, 2, 3, 6, 2, 1, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 23, 8, 0, 1, 6, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0; New York, 0, 5, 0, 2, 1, 0, 0, 2, 0, 1, 1, 12.

Addyman.—Occur. 'the servant or knave of Addy,' i.e. Adam; v. Addy and Addison. This is decidedly interesting. It is one of the chief witnesses to-day of the existence of the class of surnames to which it belongs. As a matter of course its home is in Yorkshire; cf. Mathewman, Peterman, Perryman, Jackman, Bartleman, &c. In the following entries, although Ade (i.e. Addy) is given as the nick. of Adam, the entry is unfortunately in Latin. In English it would have read Thomas and Johannes Addyman.

Adam Symmeson, souter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 25.

Johannes servicus Ade Symmeson, 1379: ibid.

Adam de Wodhall, marchaunt, 1379: ibid.

Thomas servicus dicti Ade, 1379: ibid.

We are more fortunate in a further instance, where the English form is given.

Johannes Addeman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 195.

1775. Samuel Hill and Elizabeth Addeman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 248.

West Riding Court Dir., 3; Leeds, 2.

Ade, Adey; v. Addis.

Adkin, Adkins, Adkinson, Atkin, Atkins, Atkinson, Atkyns, Adkisson.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam,' from the nick. Addy, dim. Adkin, sharpened to Atkin. There is no need of course to prove this, but it is interesting to note the following: 'Adam le Fullere,' a citizen of London, is twice referred to as Adekin le Fullere (1273, Hundred Rolls, i. 426). Six centuries ago Adam probably ranked as second or third favourite among boys' names throughout England. In the north it attained a most remarkable pre-eminence. Four Adams are mentioned in the revenues of Conishead Priory, A. D. 1256 (West's Furness, pp. 192, 195). No fewer than six Adams figure as benefactors of Furness Abbey, circa 1290 (ibid.). The everyday form was Adekin, then Adkin, and finally Atkin (see Addison).

Geoffrey Adekyn, 10 Ric. II, co. Norf.: FF. viii. 446.

William Adekyn, co. Soms, 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 122.

Willelmus Adkynson, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 16.

Edmund Adkynson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 152.

Hatkin Benete, 1379: ibid. p. 109.

The following come together:—

Johannes Attekynson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 238.

Alicia soror Adekynson, 1379: ibid.

1680. Married—William Deevey and Eliz. Adkins: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 39.

1709. Elizabeth, d. of John Adkison: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, p. 49.

1718. Married—George Handaye and Mary Adkisson: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 60.

London, 5, 10, 0, 9, 51, 60, 1, 0; Philadelphia, Adkisson, 3.

Adlam, Adlum, Adman; v. Adnam.

Adlard.—Bapt. 'the son of Adelard' or 'Athelard'; v. Allard. Adelhard was a cousin of Charlemagne, and Abbot of Corbie. (Yonge, ii. 399.)

Adelardus: Domesday.

Athelard de Barwe: Close Roll, 2 Edw. I.

Adam Adelard, co. Camb., 1273. A. Simon fil. Adelerd, co. Linc., ibid.

'Adelard, or Alard, or Aluerd Baate, chaplain of Magdalen, 1505': Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 40.

John Athelard, co. Soms, 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 120.

1704. Married—William Tollitt and Eliz. Adlard: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 120.

MDB. (Lincoln), 5; London, 4; New York, 2.

Adlin, Adling.—Bapt. 'the son of Adeline,' alias Atheline; cf. Athelard and Adlard.

William Atheline, co. Ox., 1273. A. Richard Athelyne, co. Camb., ibid. Adelinus (without surname), co. Linc., ibid.

William Adelyn, co. Norf., ibid. Henry fil Adeylene, co. Derby, ibid. Geoffrey Adeylene, co. Camb., ibid. 1542. Buried—Richard Adlin: St. Antholin, London, p. 3.

1558. — Margaret Adlyn: St. Peter's, Cornhill, i. 113.

1572. Bapt.—Jane, d. of John Adlin: ibid. p. 14.

Elizabeth, d. of John Adlyn, of London, draper, 1625: Visitation of London, 1634, ii. 241.

Adnam, Adlam, Adman, Adlum, Adnum.—Local, 'of Addingham.' Parishes in co. Cumberland and W. Rid. Yorkshire; cf. Swetnam and Swetman for Swettenham, or Debnam and Deadman for Debenham, or Putnam and Putman for Puttenham. Adlam is a further and natural variant; cf. bannister for baluster. With Adnum, cf. Barnum for Barnham.

1574-5. Robert Kycheil and Anne Adnam: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 63. 1768. Married—John Adlam and Ann Rode: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 171.

1774. — John Mason and Dorothy Adnam: ibid. p. 238.

London, 1, 3, 0, 0, 0; New York, 0, 1, 0, 3, 0; MDB. (co. Gloucester), 0, 0, 0, 1, 1.

Adnett, Adnitt, Adnet, Adnot.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam,' from the nick. Addy, dim. Add-in, second dim. Add-in-et; cf. Addison, q.v. Adin or Addin was evidently the O.F. equivalent of Adkin, the customary English form; v. Atkins and Atkinson.

Henricus fil. Adynet, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 200.

Adinet del Forest, 1379: ibid.

William Addynet, co. York, 1525: W. 11, p. 201.

William Haddynytt, co. York, 1530: ibid. p. 215.

1604. Ezekiel Burbury and Anne Adnitt: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 288.

London, 1, 1, 0, 0; New York, 0, 0, 1, 1.

Adney.—Local (†).

1599. Andrew Adney, co. Salop: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 236.

1617-8. John Adney and Mary Steedman: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 58.

1792. Married—Lazarus Plummer and Elinor Adney: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 73. London, 2.

Adrain, Adrian, Adrinson.—Bapt. 'the son of Adrian.' The form Adrain is an old one. The sheriff, John Adrian, entered below, is recorded as John Adrain: A. i. p. 403.

John Adrien, co. Suff., 1273. A. John Adrian, 1258, sheriff of London: WWW.

1565-6. Audrian Awdryan and Christiane Ede: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 32.

1597. Matthew Merytt and Elizabeth Adriuson: ibid. p. 241.

1628. Adrian Eyers and Ellen Woodcocke: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 32.

London, 1, 0, 0; Crockford, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 6, 0; New York (Adrain), 1.

Adshead.—Local, 'of Adshead,' some spot in the neighbourhood of Prestbury, co. Chester, whose church register teems with entries relating to the family. The surname has crossed the Atlantic.

1560. Married—John Wilkinson and Margret Adshed: Reg. Prestbury (Ches.), p. 2.

1612. Bapt.—Isabell Adshed: ibid. p. 193.

Reynold Adshed, 1558, Pott Shrigley, near Prestbury: East Ches. ii. 218.

Thomas Adshead, 1579, of Birchcliffe: ibid. i. 18.

1731. Married—Philip Platt and Dorothy Adshad: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 258.

London, 3; Manchester, 9; Philadelphia 4.

Affleck, Afflick.—Local, 'of Auchinleck,' N.B. 'A singular contraction of the surname Auchinleck, borne by an ancient family 'of that ilk' in Ayrshire. Sir Edmund Affleck, created baronet in 1782, was sixth in descent from Sir John Auchinleck, son of Gilbert A. of Auchinleck': Lower, Pat. Brit., p. 3.

1679. Bapt.—Andrew, ye son of Lt. Colonel Andrew Affleck (also spelled Afflick): St. Jas. Ch. Barbadoes; Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, pp. 497, 500.

1748. Married—William Darby and Mary Affleck: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 40.

1749. — Thomas Affleck and Margaret Stuart: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 141.

Manchester, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 5; New York, 6, 0.

Agar, Agars, Ager.—Bapt. 'the son of Agar,' or 'Ager.' Probably a form of Algar, a Domesday personal name, and very popular for several centuries; v. Algar.

Thomas Agar, 1544, co. York: W. 11, p. 233.

Wilfrid Agar, 1544, co. York: ibid.

1578. Buried—Joane Agar, a mayde, of fourscore years olde: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 195.

1619. Andrew Agar: Reg. Univ. Ox. i. 350.

1635. Married—Thomas Agar and Mary Rigley: St. Peter's, Cornhill, i. 255.

London, 9, 1, 8; Boston (U.S.), 5, 7, 0.

Agard.—Bapt.; v. Haggard. Arthur Agard, a distinguished antiquary, was descended of an old Derbyshire family. He was born in 1540, and died in 1615. He was one of the original members of the Society of Antiquaries, and was buried in Westminster Abbey. (Dict. Nat. Biog. i. 173, and Stanley's Westminster Abbey, p. 443.) Haggard is the usual form of this patronymic.

1591. Stephen Agard, co. Northampt.: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 184.

1634. Married—John Aggard and Mary Adderley: St. Antholin (London), p. 68.

Agasson, Agace, Aggas, Haggis.—Bapt. 'the son of Agace'; a form of Agatha.

John Messor et Agacia, uxor sua, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Agacia de Gatesdon, co. Devon, ibid.

Robert fil Agacie, co. Camb., ibid.

Symon Agace, co. Hunts, ibid.

William Agaz, co. Bucks, ibid.

Simon Agasson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 244.

'Agas Zibrandson, of Amsterdam,' Sept. 21, 1565: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), i. 258.

'Ralph Agas (1540-1621), a land surveyor, who rose to eminence by making maps of London. A native of Stoke-by-Nayland, in Suffolk': Dict. Nat. Biog. i. 173. This district agrees with the chief entries above.

Edward Aggas (1564-1601), bookseller and printer, son of Robert Aggas of Stoke-by-Nayland, in Suffolk: ibid. 175.

1547. Buried—Agas Larbroke: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 181.

1578. Ralph Agas, rector of Grassenhale, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 519.

London, 0, 1, 1, 2.

Agate.—(1) Local, 'at the gate,' from residence thereby; cf. Atwood, Bywater, &c.

Adam Ategate, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Alan Attegate, co. Camb., ibid.

Leonard Agate, temp. Eliz. Z.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Agnes,' from the nick, Agg, dim. Agot.

Thomas Agot, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 69.

Johanna Agot, 1379: ibid.

John Agate, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 135.

1768. Married—James Agate and Ann Bennett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 177. London, 2; New York, 1.

Agg, Agge.—Bapt. 'the son of Agnes,' from the nick. Agg, Aggie is still the favourite north English nick.

Alice Agge, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Thomas Agge, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Agge, co. Linc., ibid.

1669. Philip Gurdon and Elizabeth Agge: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), ii. 169.

Boston (U.S.), 0, 1; New York, 1, 0.

Agland.—Local, a corruption of Acland, q.v. Ackland, Acland, and Agland are all found indifferently in co. Devon, the home of the name; v. Devon Directory; cf. the Lancashire Ogden for Oakden.

London, 3; Seaton (Devon), 3.

Aglionby.—Local, 'of Aglionby,' a township in the parish of Warwick, three miles from Carlisle, co. Cumb.

1583. John Aglionby, co. Cumb.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 132.

1610. George Aglionbey, Oxon. doc.: ibid. p. 379.

MDB. (co. Cumb.), 4.

Aguiler, Aguyar.—Occup. 'a needler,' a maker of needles.

'A silver needle forth I drew

Out of an aguiler quaint ynow.'

Chaucer, Rom. Rose, 98.

O. F. aguille, a needle.

Thomas le Aguiler, co. York, 1305. M.

William le Aguiler. Q.

Lucas le Aguiler, co. Camb., 1273. A. Philadelphia (Aguyar), 2.

Aiken, Aikin, Aikens, Aikins.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam,' from the nick, Ade and dim. Adkin. The Scotch form of Atkin, q.v., was Aitkin. This was further corrupted to Aiken and Aikin.

1752. Married—Thomas Aikin and Ann Whittington: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 226.

1771. — Henry Aikin and Rebecca Adams: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 210.

1783. — John Aickin and Mary McDanel: ibid. p. 346.

London, 1, 3, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 18, 5, 18, 5.

Ainscough, Ainscow.—Local; v. Askew.

Ainsley, Ainslie, Annesley, Aynsley.—Local, 'of Annesley,' a parish in co. Notts, near Nottingham. But there is probably a north English local origin also. There is also Ansley, a parish in co. Warwick.

'De Reginald' de Anisleg... in Anisleg,' Hen. III—Edw. I: K. p. 12, Notts and Derbyshire.

Johannes de Anneslegh, co. Notts, 1273. A.

John de Annesley, co. York, 20 Edw. I. R.

Johannes de Andeslay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 166.

Sir Johne Ainslye, curate of Holy Island, 1544: QQQ, p. 153.

1730. Married—John Annsley and Bridget Rose: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 320.

1751. — John Sharp and Martha Ainsley: ibid. p. 194.

London, 2, 1, 1, 1; New York, 3, 1, 1, 0.

Ainsworth.—Local, 'of Ainsworth,' a chapelry in the parish of Middleton, co. Lanc., formerly Aynsworth.

William de Aynsworth, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 33.

John de Aynsworth, 43 Edw. III: Baines' Lanc. i. 404.

Lawrence Ainsworth, of Pleasington, 1573: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 2.

William Allen, of Ainsworth, 1588: ibid. p. 3.

Cecilia Ainsworth, of Ainsworth, widow, 1630: ibid. (1620–50), p. 2.

John Aynsworth (Linc. Coll.): Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 185.

London, 3; Manchester, 15; Philadelphia, 7.

Airey, Airy, Airay.—Local, 'of Airey.' I cannot find the spot, but the family arose in co. Cumberland or Westmoreland. Almost every instance can be traced back to one or other county.

'Christopher Airay (1601–70), a pioneer of English logic, was born at Clifton in Westmoreland': Dict. Nat. Biog. i. 199.

'Henry Airay (1560?–1616), a puritan divine and author, was born at Kentmere, Westmoreland, being son of William Airay, the favourite servant of Bernard Gilpin': ibid.

In the muster roll of the dependants of Walter Strickland, deputy steward of Kendal (temp. 18 Henry VI), occurs 'Edward Airay, a byll': Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westm. and Cumb., i. 97.

1580. Henry Ayrey, co. Westm.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 91.

1681. Anthony Ayrey, of Chipping: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, ii. 10.

1783. Married—Joseph Airey, of Kendal, and Sarah Salthouse, of Ulverston: Ulverston Church Reg. ii. 427.

London, 5, 1, 0; Lancaster, 3, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 7, 1, 0.

Aiskell.—Bapt. (?) 'the son of Auskettle,' q.v. Probably a modified form. On the other hand it may be local, with the suffix -gill, so common to the narrow gorges of the northern counties.

1576. Henry Aisgill, co. Westm.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 72.

1608. Joshua Aisgill, co. Glouc.: ibid. p. 268.

Aislaby.—Local, 'of Aislaby,'

(1) a township in the parish of Eaglescliffe, co. Durh.; (2) a chapelry in the parish of Whitby, N. R. Yorks, formerly Aslakeby (v. Aslac). Hence the meaning is 'the dwelling of Aslac,' the first settler. 'Aislabe, one of the oldest names in the county of Durham, from Aislaby, a parish on the river Tees, on the banks of which the family still reside. In old documents it is written Ashlackby, and in about fifty other modes' (Lower).

Hugo de Aslaby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 192.

William Aslakeby, or Aislaby, 1572: Visitation of Yorkshire, 1564, p. 3, and see note.

Katherine Aislaby, d. of Francis Aslakeby, 1557: ibid. p. 4.

1705. Charles Allanson and Elizabeth Aislaby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 140.

Aitcheson, Aitchison, Acheson, Ackerson.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Archibald' (?), from the nick. Archie, a Scotch Border favourite; † intrusive, as in Ritchie, from same district, q.v.

John Acheson, 1563: Cal. State Papers relating to Scotland, edited by Thorpe, 1888, p. 190.

Archie of Gingles, 1552: Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westm. and Cumb., i. p. lxxxii.

John Archerson, 1602: ibid. pp. cxii, cxiv.

Archie Halliday, 1602: ibid.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Adkin,' q.v. A Border form of the great north English surname Atkinson. This is the true source of the majority of our Aitchesons, &c.

Atshison = Atkinson; Dickinson's

Glossary of the Words and Phrases of Cumberland, p. 4.

John Attechenon. XX. i.

On Nov. 1, 1596, 28 people were drowned returning by boat from Church at Canonbie. One was buried at Kirk-andrews-upon-Esk on the following day, named William Atchison, of Millriggs. This is the earlier form of the corruption, and marks the first step: Trans. Cumb. and Westm. Ant. and Arch. Soc., vol. viii. 287.

London, 2, 6, 0, 0; New York, 0, 2, 3, 13; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 5, 8.

Aitken, Aitkin, Aitkens.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam.'—The Scotch Border form of Atkin, q.v.

1744. Married—Alex. Aitkens and Jane Mecallpen: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 32.

1773. — William Aitken and Eliz. Shelton: ibid. p. 233.

London, 7, 0, 1; Crockford, 3, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 26, 0, 0.

Aizlewood.—Local, 'a variant of Hazlewood,' q.v.

West Rid. Court Dir., 2.

Aked.—Local, 'at the oak-head' (from residence thereby), the top or furthest reach of the oak-trees; cf. Birk-head, now Birkett; and v. Akenhead for further instances.

Johannes de Aykehened, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 289.

West Rid. Court Dir., 14; Philadelphia, 1.

Akenhead.—Local; v. Aken-side. Lower says, 'Akenhead: Aken-side—doubtless local; from Aiken, an early proprietor.' This latter statement is wholly incorrect.

Aken-side, Akenhead, Aikenhead.—Local, 'of Aken-side,' i.e. the side of the clump of oak-trees; A.S. ácen; cf. Beechen, Linden, Birchen, with the adjectival suffix -en. The place, whether a manor or mere farmstead, is distinctively set down in the list of landed proprietors in Hodgson's Hist. of Northumberland (iv. 268). Aken-side, the poet, it will be remembered, was born at Newcastle-on-Tyne in 1721. His parentage and descent, therefore, were strictly local, and his 'forbears' had wandered but a few miles from their original home; cf. Thomas Carlyle and the city Carlisle (v. Carlisle). -side is a common suffix of north English local names, used in the same sense as lake-side, pit-side;

cf. Fawcett or Garside, q.v. Also, cf. Adam de Birkin-side, 1322: E. and F., co. Cumb. p. 165.

Mark Aken-side: KKK. ii. 424.

Thomas Akenhead: ibid. p. 449.

Akenhead, i.e. at the head of the oak-trees, corresponds with Birkenhead, Birkett, and Beckett, q.v.

David Akenhead, 1763: Brand's Hist. of Newcastle, i. 550.

Johannes de Aykehened, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 289.

1769. Married—William Nedham and Eleanor Akenhead: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 185.

Crockford, 0, 2, 0; MDB. (North Rid. Yorkshire), 0, 0, 1.

Akister.—Local, 'of Acaster,' two parishes of this name near York. This surname has crossed from Yorkshire into Furness, Lancashire.

William de Acastie, cotoler, 1319–20: Freeman of York. (Surt. Soc.), i. 19.

Robertus de Acastre, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 4.

Johannes Acastre, 1379: ibid. p. 296.

Ulverston, 1.

Alabaster, Allblaster.—Occup. 'the Arbalester,' i.e. cross-bowman; O.F. arbalastier; v. H.E.D.

'So great power oft his land, and of France le nom

With him into England, of knights, and squires,

Spearman anote, and bowemen, and also arblasters.'

Robert of Gloucester.

'And in the kernels, here and there,

Of arblasters great plentie were.'

Chaucer, Rom. Rose, 4196.

Henry le Alblaster, c. 1300. M.

Richard le Alblaster. B.

Reginald le Arbelestre, co. Devon, 1273. A.

William le Arblaster, co. Oxf., ibid.

John le Arblaster, co. Oxf., ibid.

James Arblaster, co. Norf., 29 Hen. VI: FF. viii. 300.

Odo Arbalistar, co. Norf., temp. Stephen: ibid. xi. 142.

1565–6. Robert Eton and Margaret Alebaster: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 33.

1624. Buried—Mr. Thomas Allyblaster, gent.: St. Peter's, Cornhill, i. 181.

London, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Albany.—(1) Local, 'de Albini,' not the Scotch Albany, 'William de Albini attended William the Conqueror. Wace mentions him as "the butler d'Aubignie"' (Lower). Hence the Earls of Arundel.

Hugh de Albany, Earl of Arundel, temp. 1312, co. Norf.: FF. i. 504.

Godfrey Giffard, rector of Attleborough, co. Norf., temp. Hen. III, presented by Hugh de Albany: ibid. p. 523.

Nigel de Albini, tenant in capite, co. Bucks: Domesday.

William de Albini, or D'Aubigny, pin-cerna regis: FF. ix. 42, 44.

William de Albania, or Albany, co. Notts, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Walter de Albanay, co. Linc., ibid.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Alban,' popularly Albany. This form has survived in some districts till today.

Albany Holmes, farmer, Farnley, near Otley: West Rid. Court Dir., p. 332.

Albany Wade, of Dothand, co. Northumberland, 1663: KKK. iv. 314.

Albany Ferthorston, of Kirkhaugh, Northumberland, 1663: ibid. p. 319.

1626. John Hawthorne and Mary Albanie: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 167.

Philadelphia, 4.

Albert, Albright, Allbred, Albright.—Bapt. 'the son of Albert,' from Ethelbert or Adelbert; German Albrecht; v. also Allbright for further instances.

Aylbreds de Cheyny. A. ii. 463.

Aylbriht le Turner. A.

Albreds de Kanville. T.

Albred de la Hays. T.

The Albrechts of the London Dir. are all of late German immigration. Also the Albrechts of Philadelphia.

Walter Albard, co. Soms., 20 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 184.

1607. William Albright, Magd. Hall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 272.

London, 7, 0, 0, 0; Ulverston, 0, 1, 0, 0; Boston (Albright), 1; Philadelphia, 24, 9, 0, 66.

Albery, Albury.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Albray,' probably Aubrey. (2) Local, 'of Aldbury,' a parish in co. Hertfordshire, three miles from Tring; v. Albury for other instances.

Willelmus Dyan et Albray uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 42.

Albreds de Hill, vidua (?), 1379: ibid.

Albray Rayson, vidua, 1370: ibid. p. 41.

1683. Bapt.—Samuell, s. William Al-bury: St. Mary Aldermany, p. 109.

Albin.—Bapt. 'the son of Albin' or 'Alban': pet form Albany, q.v.

Albin le Porteur. N.

Albinus de Stapelford, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Albinus le Alblaster, C. R., 33 Edw. I.

Earlier still, in 1269, we find one

Albin de Dereby forbidden to dwell within the precincts of London city: WWW. p. 125.

For other examples see next article.

1664. Bapt.—Mary, d. Hugh Albin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 221.

1786. Married—Benign Albin and Louisa Charlier: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 382.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Albinson, Albesson, Allbesson, Albason.—Bapt. 'the son of Albin,' or 'Alban'; v. Albin.

Isabella fil. Albin, co. Camb., 1273. A. John fil. Albini, co. Camb., ibid.

The following entry has probably no connexion with Alberston:

1790. Married—James Barlow and Jane Alberson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 40.

With this variant cf. Patterson for Pattinson.

Manchester, 2, 1, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 0, 1.

Albon, Albone.—Bapt. 'the son of Alban'; v. Allbon.

1787. Married—James Albon and Ann Pook: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 401.

London, 1, 1.

Albury, Alburo.—Local, 'of Albury,' or 'Aldborough,' parishes in cos. Norfolk, Suffolk, York (W.R.), York (E.R.), and Hertford; v. Eldborough.

David de Aldebury, co. Salop, 1273. A. Stephen de Aldebury, co. Oxf., ibid.

William de Aldebiry, co. Oxf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Richard de Aldeburgh, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.

1809. Married—William Alberry and Esther Kemp: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 420. London, 2, 0; New York, 0, 13; Philadelphia, 0, 4.

Albutt, Allbutt.—Bapt. 'the son of Albot,' probably a popular form of Albrecht; v. Albert.

John Albot, co. Devon, 1273. A.

Augustin Albot, co. Hunts, ibid.

Roger Albot, co. Bedf., ibid.

Henry Albot, rector of Rockland, co. Norf., 1350: FF. v. 486.

1751. Married—Joseph Haddock and Sarah Allbut: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 108.

London, 1, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Alcock, Alecock, Allcock, Alcockson.—Bapt. 'the son of Allen,' from the pet form Alli-cock or Allcock; v. Cock, and cf. Wilcock, Jeffcock, Simcock. 'The same holds one message which formerly belonged to Matilda Alcocke, doghtyr.' 'The same holds one tenement which formerly belonged to Alcocke of Hynganderode': Rental of Halifax (1439), Cotton MSS. Vespasian; F. 15, Brit. Mus.

Alcock de Stonys, co. Derbys., 1273. A. Johannes Alcockson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 124.

Alcoocus de Stublay, 1379: ibid. p. 202.

Willelmus Alcock, 1379: ibid. p. 152.

John Alcoe, co. Camb., 1273. A.

1578. Married—John Booth and Sicelye Allcocke: Prestbury Ch. (co. Chester), p. 63.

1585. — John Alycocke and Mawde Leigh: ibid. p. 85.

Humfry Alcockson, sup. for B.A., Oct. 10, 1552: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 219.

1627. Richard Hatton and Ellenor Alcocke: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 191.

Mr. Lower says this name is a dim. of Hal, the nick. of Henry. The evidence is against this view; v. Allkin. There is clear proof that the original form was Alycock, and that this was abbreviated to Alcock. Allen would readily take the nick. Ally or Aly, and the suffix -cock was added as a matter of course. The important point is to remember the enormous popularity of Allen in the 13th and 14th centuries, and the absolute certainty that both nick. and pet forms would be in everyday use.

Cecilia Allcock, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 124.

Henry Alycock, rector of Colney, co. Norf., 1481: FF. v. 3.

'In 1493, Thomas Allicok gave 10 marks to buy a cope': ibid. iv. 128.

1692. Thomas Abbott and Frances Allcock: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 313.

London, 9, 2, 3, 0; New York, 1, 0, 1, 0.

Aldam.—Local, 'of Aldham,' q.v.

Alden, Aldin, Aldine.—Bapt. 'the son of Aldwin'; i.e. Aylwin, with intrusive d. 'This town (Shelton, co. Norf.) in the Confessor's time belonged to Bishop Stigand, and was held of him by Aldwin, or Ailwin': FF. v. 263. The surname was common in the 13th century, but, like every other of the numerous compounds of -win, settled into -en, -in, and -ing; cf. Golden, Goldin, Goulding. Audenshaw, a division of Ashton-under-Lyne, was originally Aldwinshaigh, i.e. the wood of Aldwin.

William de Aldwinshaw, 1422: Baines' Lanc. i. 440.

Adam de Aldewyneshawe, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I: R. p. 230.

Aldwina de Blancpain, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

William Aldyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 104.

Richard Aldewyn, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

Alexander Aldeyn, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert fil. Aldun, co. Oxf., ibid.

Reginald Aldyne, co. Norf., ibid.

Alan Aldwyne, co. Camb., ibid.

1678-9. Philip Aldwin and Susanna Weekes: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 294.

London, 4, 1, 3; New York, 22, 0, 2.

Alder.—Local, 'at the alder-tree'; cf. Ash, Nash, Birch, Rowntree, &c., from residence thereby. The plural is found in the two entries following:—

Thomas in the Alren, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 182.

Henry in the Alren, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 259.

'Aldren = elders': Halliwell.

Richard atte Alre, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 220.

John atte Alre, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 221.

Robert in the Alre, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 265.

Thus the d in Alder is excrement.

1605. Buried — Isaacke, s. Henrie Alders: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 89.

1621. — Margaret, wife of Richard Alder: ibid. p. 154.

1743.—Eliz. Alder: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 156.

London, 13; Philadelphia, 3.

Alderman.—Official, 'the alderman,' probably used sometimes personally; cf. Bateman, Tiddyman, &c.

Aldermann' de Bretford, co. Sussex, 1273. A.

Jukel Alderman, Sheriff of London, 1194: WWW. p. 187.

Jacob Alderman, Sheriff of London, 1199: ibid. p. 188.

Robert le Alderman, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Benjamin Aldermannus, co. Sussex, ibid.

Thomas Alderman, rector of St. Butolph, Norwich, 1388: FF. iv. 442.

1691. Bapt.—Thomas, son of Joseph Alderman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 341.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 2.

Aldersey.—Local, 'of Aldersey,' a township in the parish of Coddington, near Chester. This is settled beyond controversy by the following entries:—

Ralph Aldersey, of Chester, alderman, 1555: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 3.

Thomas Aldersey, of Middle Aldersey, Cheshire, 1588: ibid.

Hugh Aldersey, of Aldersey, yeoman, 1635: ibid. (1620-50), p. 3.

1588-9. John Aldersey, co. Ches.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii, pt. ii, p. 168.

1630-1. Robert Eyre and Anne Aldersey: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 201.

1635. Thomas Blechynden and Margaret Aldersey: ibid. p. 224.

The grandfather of Anne and Margaret Aldersey was 'John Aldersey, of Aldersey, co. Chester,' who married Anne Low, sister of Sir Thomas Low, alderman of London. Their father was Samuel Aldersey, of London, haberdasher: v. Visitation of London, 1633-4, p. 8.

Liverpool, 2; MDB. (Cheshire), 2.

Alderson.—Bapt. 'the son of Aldus' (v. Aldhous), a once familiar personal name. Aldus-son would soon settle down into Alderson.

1554. John Aldeson: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii, pt. ii, p. xiv.

1591. John Alderson, of London: ibid. p. 183.

1620. Bapt.—Richard, son of Richard Alderson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 88.

1634. Anthony Alderson and Margaret Askell: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 216.

William Alderson, clerk, 1766: Brand's Hist. of Newcastle-on-Tyne, i. 323.

London, 11; West Rid. Court Dir., 7; Philadelphia, 3.

Aldham, Aldam.—Local, 'of Aldham,' probably an early form of Oldham, co. Lanc., on the borders of Yorkshire. There are, however, parishes of this name in cos. Essex and Suffolk.

Adam de Aldam, 1379: P. T. Yorks. P. 17.

Isabella de Aldam, 1379: ibid. p. 62.

John Aldham, of Shimpling, co. Norf., 1553: FF. i. 132.

1607. Married—Richard Aldam and Agnes Over: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 18.

1671. Richard Kingsmill and Eunice Aldham: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 117.

London, 2, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 4.

Aldhouse, Aldhous, Aldis, Aldous, Aldus, Alldiss.—Bapt. 'the son of Aldus'; not local, as several of its corrupted forms would seem to prove. These are simply imitative. The documentary proofs are extremely strong. Norfolk has been a long-established home for this name, both in its fental and patronymic character.

William fil. Alduse, co. Notts, 1273. A.

Cecilia fil. Aldus, co. Oxf., ibid.

Aldus Waveloc, co. Camb., ibid.

Hugo fil. Aldus, co. Norf., ibid.

Hugo fil. Alduse, co. Norf., ibid.

Johannes Aldus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 113.

Alan Haldehous, 1379: ibid. p. 226.

Walter Aldous, rector of Wreningham, co. Norf., 1393: F.F. v. 120.

Robert Aldhouse, rector of Narburgh, co. Norf., 1355: ibid. vi. 165.

London, 0, 1, 4, 10, 0, 0; New York, 1, 2, 1, 0, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 0, 1, 3, 0; Crockford, 1, 0, 1, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (Suffolk), 0, 0, 0, 3, 0, 1.

Aldith, Awdith.—Bapt. 'the son of Aldith,' an early form of Edith (?).

Alditha uxor Willelmi Aufuerer, C. R., 42 Hen. III.

Adam fil. Aldith, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

William fil. Aldith, co. Wilts, ibid.

John Aldit, co. Hunts, ibid.

1588. Bapt.—Hellen, d. of Edward Awdeth: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 20.

Aldred, Aldried.—Bapt. 'the son of Aldred.' This personal name died out soon after the surname epoch, and instances of its occurrence as a fental name are scarce.

Aldred fil. Roger. T.

Aldred Ander, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Nicholas Alrede, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 98.

William Aldred, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 174.

1550-1. William Hawke and Magdalen Aldred: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 13.

1603. Henry Aldred, vicar of Rushall, co. Norf.: FF. v. 343.

London, 9, 0; Boston (U.S.), 2, 1.

Aldrich, Aldridge.—Bapt. 'the son of Alderich.' Although wearing a local guise, it is easy to see that Aldridge belongs to the baptismal class.

William Ailrich, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 243.

John fil. Aldrech. C.

John Aldrich, co. Camb., 1273. A.

John Alrich, 1313. M.

Robertus Aldrech, 1379: P. T. Yorks. P. 255.

John Aldryche, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1460: FF. xi. 325.

1600-10. Peter Aldrich and Catherine Rowell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 318.

* Robert Aldrich, or Aldridge (d. 1556), scholar and divine, was born at Burnham, in Buckinghamshire, towards the close of the 15th century': Dict. Nat. Biog. i. 252. London, 4, 43; Philadelphia, 13, 13.

Aldwinckle.—Local, 'of Aldwinckle,' a parish three miles from Thrapston, co. Northampton.

Henry de Audewinkle, co. Northampt., Henry III-Edw. I. K.

1648. Married—William Allwinckle and Mary King: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 26.

1654. Buried—Sarah Alwinckle, an ancient widd: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. p. 302.

1655. — Eliz. Alwinckle, an ancient wyddowe: ibid. p. 304.

London, 1.

Aldworth.—Local, 'of Aldworth,' a parish in co. Berks, near Wantage.

John Aldeworth, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

1587-8. Francis Feilde and Agnes Aldeworthe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 168.

1595. John Aldworth, co. Glouc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii, pt. ii, p. 210.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 3.

Alefounder.—Official, 'the alefounder,' an inspector appointed by the Court Leet to assist and supervise the brewing of malt liquor. Another term for this office was ale-conner. A poem of James I's reign says—

'A nose he had that gan show,
What liquor he loved I trow;
For he had before long seven years
Been of the towne the ale-conner.'

A confirmation by John, Abbot of Cockerham, Lancashire, 1 Ric. III, says, in regulating the price of beer, 'Yai sall gyf Ale-fwnders a fwnding galon or else a taste of ylke vessell,' &c.; Baines' Lanc. ii. 588. This word is neither in Halliwell nor in the Hist. Eng. Dictionary; cf. 'fondyn, or asayyn—atempto,' Prompt. Parv. p. 169. Way adds in a note: 'A.S. fandian, tentare.' Lower quotes as follows from the Norfolk Chronicle, Aug. 19, 1854: 'At a Court Leet, or Law Day . . . of the Borough of New Buckenham, the sub-bailiff, affiers, searchers, and sealers of leather, examiners of fish and flesh, alefounders, inspectors of weights and measures, and a pinder were appointed': Patr. Brit. p. 5. Again Lower quotes from Three Early Metr. Rom. (Camden Soc.), p. xxxviii, as follows: 'In the records of the manor of Hale in the xvth cent. one Thomas Layet is mentioned as being fined . . . for having concealed the foundyng pot (quia concealavit le foundyngne pot), 3d.' Evidently the official term as well as the surname were in existence in Norfolk till a very recent period.

Mary Alefounder. PP.
Richard Alefounder. Z.
William Alefounder was rector of Birchamwell in 1374: FF. vii. 295.
'There is a brass in East Bergholt Church to Robert Alefounder in the middle of the last century': N. and Q., June 11, 1887, p. 474.
1671. Buried—Sarah Elfounder: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 258.
1746. — John, son of John Alefounder: ibid. p. 208.
'John Alefounder (d. 1795), portrait and miniature painter, studied at the Royal Academy, and gained a silver medal in 1782,' &c.: Dict. Nat. Biog. i. 254.
MDB. (Suffolk), i.

Aletunner.—Occup. 'the aletunner,' one who filled tuns or casks with ale; v. Turner and Tunneler.

Walter le Aletunnere, C. R., 16 Edw. I.

Alexander.—Bapt. 'the son of Alexander'; v. Saunders. This personal name is common to all Europe, and in England was an early favourite. Stories of prodigious achievements, many of them miraculous, caused it to be immensely admired. Miss Yonge (i. 199–202) quotes Chaucer as saying—

'Alisaundres storie is commune,
That everie wight that hath discrecion
Hath here somewhat.'

'Alysaunder, proppr name Alexander': Prompt. Parv.

Geoffrey fil. Alexandri, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Alexander le Syre, co. Hunts, ibid.
Custance Alexandre, co. Camb., ibid.
Henricus Alisaundre, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 189.

John Alysaunder, of Attleburgh, co. Norf., 1508: FF. i. 530.

1614–5. George Barrume and Barbara Alexander: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 30.
1617. Bapt.—Francis, d. Peter Alexander: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 79.
London, 89; Philadelphia, 201.

Alford, Alforth.—Local, 'of Alford.' Parishes in cos. Linc. and Somerset, and no doubt smaller spots in various counties, as meaning 'the old ford.' For the form Alforth, v. Forth.

Robert de Aldeford, 1184: Annales Cestrienses, p. 33 (Lanc. and Ches. Rec. Soc.).

John Alforde, co. Soms., i. Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 216.

John de Aldeford, co. Hereford, 1273. A. 1644. Thomas Alford, of co. Wilts., and Bennett (i. e. Benedicta) Berisford: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 219.

1763. Married—Thomas Ruston and Betty Alford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 123.
London, 14, i; Philadelphia, 10, o; Boston, 5, o.

Alfred, Alured.—Bapt. 'the son of Alfred,' or 'Alured.' This latter form is still found as a surname, although Alfred has long been the accepted orthography of the fontal name. It is curious that Alfred has so few representatives in the directories. Where Allen occupies columns, Alfred occupies lines.

Alphred Hock, co. Devon, 1273. A.
Alured de la Dene, cos. Essex and Hertf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Robert Alured, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
William Alured, co. Camb., ibid.

Stephen Alfrad, co. Oxf., ibid.
Michael Alfred, co. Bucks, ibid.

Thomas Alfred, vicar of Moulton, co. Norf., 1434: FF. xi. 109.

John Alford, co. Soms., i. Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 127.

1617. Thomas Alured and Mary Jones: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 50.

1634. Andrew Clare and Everell Alured: ibid. p. 20.

London, 3, i; Philadelphia, 2, o.

Alfrey, Alfreay, Alfree.

Alfree.—Bapt. 'the son of Alfrey,' i. e. Alfred. Alfried, Alfred, Alfrey; cf. Godfrey, Godfried, Humfrey, Humfreid: Yonge, i. pp. lxxviii and lxxviii.

Eliferus Tannator, co. Sussex, 1273. A.

Ricardus Alfray, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 9.
Thomas Alfray, 1379: ibid.

Haldefrus fil. Hugh, Hen. III—Edw. I. K. 1666. Micklepher Alphey and Mary Wood: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 117.

1679. Sampson Winckworth and Mary Alfrey: ibid. p. 297.

London, 1, 3, o, o; Crockford, o, o, 5, o; Philadelphia, o, o, o, i.

Algar, Alger, Elgar.—Bapt. 'the son of Algar,' or 'Alfgar.' In Domesday commonly found as Algar. It is also met with alone without surname attached in the Hundred Rolls, ii. 472. This surname is a familiar one as Algar in co. Norfolk. It is early found there both as a personal and a surname. Algar, although forgotten now, was evidently popular in its day and generation; cf. the place-name Algerthorp, co. Norf.

Algar le Savener, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Elena fil. Algar, co. Camb., ibid.
Ayelyne Algar, co. Camb., ibid.
John Algar, co. Oxf., ibid.
Alicia relicta Algar, co. Camb., ibid.
Eylgar de Berwe, co. Sussex, ibid.
Algar West, co. Oxf., ibid.

Walter Algar, co. Soms.: Kirby's Quest, p. 97.

Algar de Summertun, Norwich, c. 1160: FF. iii. 600.

Algar de Flegg, co. Norf., temp. Henry II: ibid. xi. 194.

Roger Algor, co. Norf., c. 1300: ibid. iv. 285.

1767. Married—Charles Allger and Sarah Davis: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 70.

London, 4, 2, 4; MDB. (Norfolk), 5, o, o; Boston (U.S.), o, 15, i.

Alison, Allison.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Alice.'

Richard fil. Alice, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Nicholas fil. Alice, co. Camb., ibid.
Isabel fil. Alice, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Allicesone. RR. i.
Richard Alsesone, co. Soms., i. Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 249.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Alice,' from the popular dim. Alison; cf. Marion from Mary, Gibbon from Gib (i. e. Gilbert), Beaton from Beatrice, &c.

'This Alison answered: Who is there
That knocketh so?'

Chaucer, C. T. 3788.

'Item.—To Symkyn, and Watkyn, and Alison Meek, servantes of John of Bolton, to ilk one of yaim, 26s. 8d.': Test. Ebor. iii. 21 (Surtees Soc.).

Alisceon de Tuxforth, co. York. W. 2.

Alison Gelyot. H.

Alison Wrangwisch, co. York. W. 11.

Johannes Alysson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 106.

1590. Bapt.—Mary, d. Abraham Allyson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 23.

Thomas Alysson, rector of Melton Constable, co. Norf., 1447: FF. ix. 426.

(3) Bapt. 'the son of Allen,' corrupted from Allenson. Such a corruption was bound to take place; cf. Pattinson and Pattison. There can be no doubt many of our Allisons are traceable to this source. For early instances, v. Allenson.

1617–8. Leonard Allensone and Christian Stavelly: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 57.

1618. William Alleson and Eliz. Broomer: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 60

Allison has ramified very strongly in the United States.

London, 2, 15; West Rid. Court Dir., o, 6; Philadelphia, o, 86.

Alker.—Local, 'of Altcar,' a village six miles from Ormskirk, co. Lancaster. This surname is rarely found outside the county. Its origin is easily proved by the following instances:—

Margaret Alcar, of Ormskirk, widow, 1644: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 3.
Hector Alkar, of Ormskirk, webster, 1647: ibid.

William Alker, of Burscough, 1630: ibid. Manchester, 4; Liverpool, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Alkins, v. Alkins.

Allamand.—Local; v. Allman, and cf. Lallimand.

1578. Oliver Allmonde, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 83.

1592. Roger Allmonte, or Almon: ibid. p. 192.

London, 2.

Allard, Allardson.—Bapt. 'the son of Alard,' abbreviated from Adelard; v. Adlard.

Alard le Fleming, B.

Alard le Bursor, H.

Robert Alard, 1307. M.

Ralph fil. Alard, temp. Hen. III: BBB. p. 174.

Adam Adelard, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Adelard, or Alard Baate, 1505: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 40.

Aluwardus de Camar, Hen. III-Edw. I. K. Alardus Flandr, ibid.

Aylard atte Stlo, co. Essex, 1273. A.

1541. Married—Robertae Walles and Eliz. Aylarde: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 2.

Item, the x daye paied to Alart Plymer, the jeweller, etc. Jan. 1530: Privy Purse Exp., Henry VIII, p. 16.

John Allardson, C. R., 32 Hen. VI.

1738. Bapt.—Ann, d. Edward Allard: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 230.

London, 7, o; Boston (U.S.), 20, o.

Allardyce, Allardice.—Local, 'of Allardyce,' an estate in the parish of Arbutnot, co. Kincardine, N.B.

1795. Married—James Farquhar and Helen Innes; witnesses, Alex. Allardyce and Gavin Young: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 130. London, 4, 1.

Allatt.—Bapt. 'the son of Elliot,' q.v., the dim. of Ellis.

Robert Aliot, 1273. A.

Walter Aliot, ibid.

'Alyott de Symondston held half an oxgang of land': De Lacy Inquisition, 1311 (Cheth. Soc.).

1581. Robert Allatte, co. Linc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 99.

1587-8. William Albanie and Margaret Allatt: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 168.

London, 1.

Allaway, Ellaway.—Bapt.; v. Alvey, Alloway. This is a natural variant, the intrusive a being euphonic; cf. Greenaway, Hathaway, Ottaway, &c.

1608. Edward Allaway, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 301.

1731. Married—John Raymond and Eliz. Allaway, co. Bedf.: St. Antholin, London, p. 144.

1807. — William Lester and Maria Allaway: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 374.

London, 2, 3.

Allbaster.—Occup. (v. Albaster: an American variant.)

Allbon, Allbones.—Bapt. 'the son of Alban,' patr. Albans; v. Albinson. In the register of the parish church, Bolingbroke, Albans in the 17th century is represented by Allbones in the 19th; v. Allibone, Alban, and Albany.

John Bordett, of St. Albones, Wood Street, 1647: Reg. St. Mary Aldermay, London, p. 20.

Francis Fynimore, of St. Albones, Wood Street: Reg. St. Peter's, Cornhill, p. 248.

'Stol'n from mine host of S. Albones': Falstaff, i Hen. IV, iv. 2.

Willelmus Albanes, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 210.

Richard Albon, co. Norf., 1273. A.

1588. Bapt.—Alban, s. Thomas Bull: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 20.

Antony Albon, or Albons, sup. for B.A., Jan. 14, 1532-3: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 172.

1677-8. Peter Noyes and Mary Alban: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 274.

London, 2, o; MDB. (Lincoln), u, 2.

Albright, Albrecht, Albert, Albertson, Albright.—Bapt.

'the son of Ailbrit'; in Domesday Ailbriht. Albrecht is a German immigrant of much later date. Albright is English. Albert, again, is ancient and modern. For other instances, v. Albert.

Eusebi Ailbrit (also Ailbric), co. Hunts, 1273. A.

John Albert, co. Hunts, ibid.

Walter Albert, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Albertson, mayor of Yarmouth, 1688: FF. xi. 330.

Farman Alberd, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1325: ibid. p. 333.

London, o, 6, 7, o, o; Philadelphia, 9, 38, 24, 52, 65.

Allbut.—Bapt.; v. Albutt.

Alcorn, Alchin, Allechin, Alchorn, Alcorn.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Alcuin' (v. Yonge, ii. 350), corrupted to Oldcorn in north England. I have one representative in my parish (Ulverston). I place all these surnames together because it is impossible to separate them. No doubt both (2) and (1) have assimilated. In a general way Alchorn represents the local, and Alcorn the personal surname.

Richard Halchein, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Hugh Eldcorne, co. Oxf., ibid.

Eustace Eldcorn, co. Kent, ibid.

John Alcorn, co. Essex, ibid.

Stephan Alcorn, co. Kent, ibid.

(2) Local, 'of Alchorne,' a manor in the parish of Rotherfield, co. Sussex, where the family lived in the 14th century. Some of their descendants, still resident in that parish, have, within a generation or two, corrupted their name to Allcorn (Lower).

Thomas Allcorn, 1774: Reg. Cant. Cath. p. 34.

John Alchorne, 1690: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 110.

Alex. Alchorne, of Southampton, married, 1695: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 44.

London, 3, 1, 5, o, o; Boston (U.S.), o, q, 1, 1, 7.

Allcroft; v. Holdercroft.

Alday, Alday.—Bapt. 'the son of Aldy,' a popular form of Aldwin, or Aldred, or Aldrich, or Aldus, or some other of the once popular compounds of Ald. But the probable ancestor was Aldwin, which was early modified into Aldwy; v. Alvey.

William Aldwin, or Aldwy, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

1541. Anne, d. of Nicholas Aldy: St. Antholin (London), p. 3.

1584. John Aldaye and Anne Cowper: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 131.

London, 2, o; Philadelphia, o, 1.

Allen, Alleine, Alleyne, Allan, Allin, Alland.—Bapt.

'the son of Alan,' or 'Allen,' or 'Aleyne': Yonge, i. 396-7.

'Aleyne, propry name, Alanus': Prompt. Parv.

'Forth goth Alein, the clerk, and also John.'—Chaucer, C. T. 4015.

(The d in Alland is an excrescence as in Simmonds.) One of our most popular names while surnames were becoming hereditary; said to have come into England with Alan Fergéant, Count of Brittany, a companion of the Conqueror, and first Earl of Richmond, co. York. Very soon common to north England and the Scottish border.

Henry Aleyn, 1273. A.
Hugh fil. Aleyn, ibid.
Ailaine Bawdson. V. 3.
Aleyn Forman. H.
Thomas fil Alani. M.

The founder of Dulwich Coll., 1619, was Edward Allen, or Alleyne. Derivatives, Allcock, Allkins, Allnutt, and perhaps Allatt, q.v. Possibly an abbrev. of Alinot; v. Allnutt.

London, 230, 0, 2, 27, 8, 1; Philadelphia, 532, 0, 0, 11, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), Alland 4, Allin 1.

Allenby.—Local. Doubtless a modification of Aglinby, q.v. The surname is found in Cumberland, and the full title was cumbrous.

1581. Francis Alanbye, co. Camb.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii, pt. ii, p. 110.
— Thomas Alanbye, co. Camb.: ibid.
1742. Married—John Allenby and Martha Barnes: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 18.
MDB. (co. Camb.), 1; London, 1.

Allenson, Allinson, Allanson.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Allen,' q.v.

Hugh fil. Aleyn, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Johannes Alynson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 87.
Robertus Alynson, 1379: ibid. p. 219.
John Alleysonne. S.
William Alleysonne. BB.
George Alonsonne. ZZ.
William Allenson, co. Norf., 1625: FF. iv. 487.
1782. Married—James Read and Agnes Allinson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 331.

(2) Local, 'de Alencon,' in Normandy. Probably in some cases this is the true solution.

John de Alencon, 1 Ric. I: FF. viii. 162.
Robert de Alencon, co. Norf., 1220: ibid. p. 375.
Herbert de Alenzun, sheriff of Norfolk, 25 Hen. III: ibid. vi. 123.

William de Alencon, co. Norf., 6 Ric. III: ibid. xi. 242.

William Allenson, co. Norf., 1625: ibid. iv. 487.
London, 1, 6, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 2.

Allerton.—Local, 'of Allerton,' a parish five miles from Knaresborough, co. York; cf. Northallerton. Also, a township in the parish of Childwall, near Liverpool. Also, a township in the parish of Kippax, W. Rid. York.

Willelmus de Allirton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 148.
Johannes de Allerton, 1379: ibid. p. 181.
1698. Bapt.—Eliz. d. Robert Allerton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 378.
1762. Married—John Allerton and Mary Hill: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 109.
Boston, 1.

Alley.—(1) Local, 'of the Alley,' i.e. from residence in a narrow passage; M.E. aley and alley. The first instance I possess is that of a founding, found in an alley. But the name was an older one, of similar but more legitimate descent. The Hundred Rolls instances from Oxford and Cambridge seem very natural, just where we should expect alleys to be found; v. Twitichen. Simon de Ally, co. Lanc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.
Walter Alleye, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
John Alley, co. Camb., ibid.
1623. Thomas Hambleton and Anne Alley: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 131.
1706. Bapt.—Sarah Alley, a founding: St. John Baptist, on Wallbrook (London), p. 175.
William Allee, of Litcham, co. Norf.: FF. x. 14.
1726. Married—Thomas Bougin and Jane Alley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 2.

(2) Bapt. Probably in some cases Alley (a pet-name for very great favourites, Allen and Alice, q.v.); cf. Charlie, Teddy, &c.

London, 3; Boston (U.S.), 25.

Alfrey, Allfree.—Bapt.; v. Alfrey.

Allgood, Elgood, Elegood.—Bapt. 'the son of Algod,' a forgotten personal name. Allgood, like Thoroughgood and Toogood, seems very complimentary, but it is without doubt a baptismal name, as are they. I see Lower says Algod occurs as a personal name before Domesday (Patr. Brit. p. 6).

William Algod, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
Robert Algod, co. Camb., ibid.
Ralph Algod, co. Kent, ibid.
1570. Richard Algood and Sence Dunn: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 46.
1575. James Morton and Jane Algood: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 66.
Bartholomew Algood, vicar of Wyken, co. Norf., 1679: FF. viii. 339.
John Algoode or Algoode, adm. B.A., June 30, 1449: Reg. Univ. Oxf., vol. i. p. 4.
1786. Married—Henry Algood and Hannah Lloyd: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 301.
London, 2, 2, 0; Philadelphia (U.S.A.), 0, 0, 1.

Allibone, Alliborn, Alabone, Allaband, Alleborn.—Bapt. 'the son of Alban,' or 'Albon'; v. Allbon. The i and a are intrusive for euphony, as in Greenaway, Hathaway, for Greenway and Hathaway; cf. Ottaway for Ottway. The d in Allibond is excrescent; cf. provincial gound for gown, and v. Simmonds.

Alibun Clipsam, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Alibin de Wodehill, co. Wilts, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.
Luke Alibon, rector of Burgh, co. Norf., 1631: FF. vi. 428.
Henry Allibone, 1695: St. Peter's, Cornhill, p. 107.
Helline Allibone, 1642: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 19.
William Albond, co. Soms., 2 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 225.
Job Allibon, or Allibond, fellow of Magdalen College, Oxf., 1687: Magdalen Coll. and James II, p. 169.
1665. Buried—Samuell Allebond, stationer, of this parish: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 235.
1672. Pompey Allibond and Mary Tilney: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 201.

A book on the 'Cure of Consumption' is advertised by the author, Edwin W. Alabone, in the Weekly Pulpit for May 22, 1887.

Allaband and Alleborn are American variants.

London, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 0, 2, 1.

Allingham.—Local, 'of Allingham,' a parish in co. Kent.

1792. Married—Allen Allingham and Sarah Atkins: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 76.
London, 5.

Allington.—Local, 'of Allington,' parishes in cos. Dorset, Kent, Wilts, Devon, and Lincoln.

William de Allynngton, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 171.
Peter de Allington, co. Wilts, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

William de Alington, co. Norf., 1273. A. 1575. Bapt.—Medcalf, s. Mr. Allington: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 27. 1687. Married—Giles Allington and Mary Lunn: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 33. London, 1.

Allis, Alliss.—Bapt. 'the son of Alice'; v. Alison (1).

Gocelinus fil. Alice, co. Linc., 1273. A. Richard fil. Alice, co. Salop, ibid. 1571. George Haynes and Agnes Alles: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 50. 1675. Bapt.—Mary, d. William Allis: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 269. 'Exuvias Antonii Alyis, armigeri . . . obiit vicesimo, nono die Octobris anno salutis, 1709, aetatis suae, 76': St. Nicholas, Yarmouth, see FF. xi. 394. MDB. (Lincoln), i. 4; Philadelphia, i. o.

Allison.—Bapt.; v. Alison.

Allkins, Allchin, Alchin, Allkin, Alkins.—Bapt. 'the son of Allen,' from the dim. Alkin or Allkin; cf. Per-kin, Wat-kin, &c. Mr. Lower suggests that it stands for Halkin, the dim. of Henry. This view is defeated by the fact that Alkin has always been without the aspirate, and has always run side by side with its close relation Alcock, q.v. Let it not be forgotten that Allen, as one of the favourite personal names of the 13th and 14th centuries, must have had its popular nick, and pet forms. I have included Allchin and Alchin as variants of Allkin. But v. Allcorn.

John Alkyn, 1306. M. 1617. Thomas Alkin and Mary Newman: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 53. 1693. Married—Richard Alkin and Mary Green: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 43. 1754. —Richard Allchin and Mary Chandler: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 55. London, 2, 5, 1, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 1, 0, 9.

Allman, Almond, Allmond, Allmen.—Local, or nick. 'the Alemaund,' i.e. German; cf. Fr. Lallimond; or still more locally 'of Alemaigne,' i.e. Germany; cf. Fr. D'Almaigne. With Almond cf. almond-furnace, i.e. a German furnace (H.E.D.); also under Almain, 'the almond-leape,' a German dance.

'The Almains ben ouer come,' 1314: Guy Warw. 70 (H.E.D.). 'Forth he went into Speyne And after into Almayne.'—ibid. 35. 'Item, the last daie (Nov. 1531) paide in rewarde to a gentleman of Almayne': Privy Purse Exp., Henry VIII, p. 178. John Almasen, or Aleman, 1216: GGG. p. 247.

Terrile le Alemaund, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Henry de Alemania, co. Notts, ibid. Bertram de Alemania, co. Linc., ibid. Willelmus Alman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 300.

William Alemannus. C. John le Aleman, co. York. W. 7. Robert Almene, co. Camb., 1273: A. 1582. Buried—Thomas Allmon: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 198.

Hanekin Almond, John de Almann, varlets of Countess of Surrey, Household Book of Queen Isabella, 1358 (Cott. MS. Galba, E. xiv.). Libertus Alman, rector of North Repps, co. Norf., 1583: FF. viii. 154. 1622. Thomas Minne and Susan Almond: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 114. London, 2, 8, 0, 0; Manchester, 3, 7, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 8, 8, 7, 0.

Allmark; v. Hallmark.

Manchester, 2.

Allnutt.—Bapt. 'the son of Alnot' or 'Alnoth,' the A.S. Alnod.

'The Earl Warren had also two carucates of land, which Alnod, a freeman, possessed in King Edward's reign': FF. x. 308.

'Alnoth, a freeman of Archbishop Stigand, was lord in King Edward's reign': ibid. viii. 25.

Rockland belonged 'to Alnoth, Godric, Ulketil, Ulf, and William de Noers at the Confessor's Survey': ibid. v. 483. Earlham's Manor in Surlingham belonged to 'Godric the Sewer, and Alnot the Saxon': FF. v. 460.

William Alnoth, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Cecil Aylnet, co. Oxf., ibid. Alnot Red, co. Salop, ibid. William Alinot, co. Bucks, ibid. Havisia Alinet, co. Oxf., ibid. Alnoth Arcscote, sup. for D.C.L., Nov. 10, 1513: Reg. Univ. Oxf. p. 89.

As will be seen from the above instances, Alnot or Alnoth remained in use as a personal name till the 16th century.

Cicely Alnet, temp. 1580: Visitation of London, 1634, ii. 168.

1787. Dew Brockett and Harriot Allnutt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 406. London, 7; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Allott, Allett, Alletson, Allot.

—Bapt. 'the son of Alot'; query, a form of Eliot, with Eliota as fem.; v. Elliot. In the Ulverston Registers, co. Lanc., the forms are Alletson, Aletson, Elatson, Elatson, Elettson, Elettson, all representing the same patronymic Eliotson; v. Alletson in Index of Registers of St. Mary, Ulverston. In any case the surname, with its variants, is of fontal origin.

Alyott de Symondston. AA. 2. William Alofessone, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands). Alet fil. Boydini, Essex, Hen. III-Edw. I. K. Alota fil. Robert le Archer, co. Derby, 1273. A.

Phillip Allote, co. Hunts, ibid. Peter Allot, co. Camb, ibid. Adam Alot, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 204. Richard Alot, 1379: ibid.

1568. Richard Allett, sup. for B.A. Dec. 17: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 273. Thomas Alot, rector of Brandonston and Guton, co. Norf.: FF. viii. 109.

1707. Buried—Anne Alletson, a maid to Mr. Winton: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 210.

1781. Benjamin Williams and Margaret Alletson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 323. Crockford, 4, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 1, 0, 1.

Alloway, Allaway.—Bapt.

'the son of Aldwy'; v. Alloway and Alvey, where Alway is clearly identified. From Alway or Allway to Alloway is an easy gradation; cf. Ottaway or Greenaway for Otway and Greenway. Alloway has ramified somewhat strongly in America. But it arose in England. No connexion with local Hollo-way; v. Allaway.

1616. Edward Hewlinge and Eliz. Allowaye: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 43. 1780. Married—William Maslen and Mary Alloway: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 311. 1786. —James Alloway and Barbara Pittet: ibid. p. 396. Philadelphia, 13, 0; London, 0, 2.

Allpress.—? Nick. 'the holy priest' (?); A.S. halig, holy, from hal, whole. Whatever the meaning, the following entry refers to the ancestor:

Thomas Alprest, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Thus -prest (priest) and not -press is the suffix. The surname has always had cos. Cambridge and Hants for its habitat. There need be no anxiety as to the want of an h if Holy-priest be the parent. The Hundred Rolls (1273) in scores of cases ignore the aspirate. The Cockney is not in it, judging by early registers.

London, 2; MDB. (co. Hunts), 7; (Cambridge), 1.

Allsop, Allsopp, Allsup, Alsop.—Local, 'of Alsop-en-le-dale,' a chapelry in the parish of Ashbourne, co. Derby. The corruption 'Allsup' is suggestive of universal pale ale! The reason why Alsop and its variants are common in the United States is because several of the name were among the earliest settlers there.

William Alsape, co. Camb., 1273. A. Elena Alsop, co. Camb., ibid.
Thomas Alsop, 'gentleman potycary' to Hen. VIII, 1538; Privy Purse Exp., Princess Mary, p. 78, and note.
1612. John Francis and Magdalen Alsop: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 17.
1622-3. Edward Alsopp and Anne Barker; ibid. p. 120.
1652. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Lewis Alsoppe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 180.

Joseph Alsopp (aged 14) went out to New England in the Elizabeth in 1635. Also Thomas Alsopp (aged 20). Also Robert Alsopp (aged 18). Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, pp. 58, 78, 123.
London 7, 3, 1, 8; Philadelphia, 1, 2, 0, 11.

Allured.—Bapt.; v. Alfred.

Alvey, Alvey, Alway, Elvey.—Bapt.—'the son of Alwly,' a fontal or personal name long ago forgotten in England, but it lives to-day in several patronymics. Of some land in Somerton, co. Norfolk, it is said 'the Conqueror had granted this to Alwy de Tetford' (FF. xi, 197).

'Roger Bigot had a small tenure at the Survey, held by a freeman of Alwi, in King Edward's reign': FF. xi, 150.

Robert Alewi, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Aldwy ad Fontem, co. Oxf., ibid.
William Aldwy, co. Oxf., ibid.
Walter Elwy, co. Oxf., ibid.
Stephen Alwy, London, ibid.
1544. Ralph Alway and Mary Bylby: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 3.
1561-2. Thomas Alvie and Eliz. North: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 1.
1599. Married—John Alwaye and Anne Potte: Prestbury Ch. (co. Chester), p. 142.
1681-2. John White and Susan Aylwey: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 159.
London, 3, 4, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 0, 0.

Allwright, Alright.—Bapt. 'the son of Aldrich.' Mr. Lower suggests Awl-wright, a maker of awls. The origin is obvious enough. It is a mere corruption of Alderich (now Aldrich and Aldridge, q.v.), thus: Alderich, Alrick, Alwright; cf. Woolwright for Wulfric (v.

Woolrich), and Kenwright for Kendrick.

William Alricht, co. Bedf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Alicrus de Aulaby, co. York, 1273. A. Richard Airich, co. Oxf., ibid.
William Alwrech, co. Camb., ibid.
Johannes Alwrich, co. Wilts, ibid.
William Alriht, co. Camb., ibid.

A good example of the intermediate form is found in the following instances:—

1720. Married—Isaac Simpson and Eliz. Aldwright: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 244.
John Alrick, vicar of St. Peter's, Southgate, Norwich, 1593: FF. iv, 66.
1765. Married—William Alwright and Mary Clarkson: St. Geo. Han. Sq., i. 146.
London, 10, 0; Ledsham, Yorks., 1, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Almond, Almonds.—Local; v. Allman.

Almsdeed. (?)

Agnes Almesdeed, 1563: Reg. Broad Chalke, co. Wilts, p. 8.

Alpe.—Nick. 'the Alpe,' i.e. a bullfinch. 'Alpe, a bryde: ficedula.' Prompt. Parv. 'Alpes, fynches, and wodewales': Chaucer, R. R. 658. Alpe has existed as a surname in co. Norfolk for six centuries; cf. Finch, Sparrow, Nightingale, &c.

Thomas le Alpe, C. R., 8 Edw. III.
Matilda Alpe, co. Norf., 1273. A. William Alpe, abbot of Langley, co. Norf., 1488: FF. x, 150.
1579-80. Thomas Staunton and Hester Alpe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 93.
Mary Alpe, of Burston, co. Norf., 1687: FF. vi, 338.

1698-9. Edward Alp and Dorothy Wilson: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 232. MDB. (Norfolk), 1; London, 1.

Alstead.—Local, 'of Alstead.' I cannot find the precise locality; but v. Halstead.

Henry de Alsted, co. Essex, 1273. A. Roger de Alsted, co. Linc., ibid.
London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Alston, Alstone.—Local, 'of Alston,' a parish in co. Cumberland; a chapelry in the parish of Ashburton, co. Devon; a township in the parish of Ribchester, co. Lanc., &c. Also Alstone, a hamlet in the suburbs of Cheltenham, and a chapelry in the parish of Overbury, co. Worc.

Henry Alston, co. Camb., 1273. A. Robert Alston, co. Camb., ibid.

Ralph de Alleston, co. Salop, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1624. Edward Alston and Sarah Hussey: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 147.
1664. John Wittewronge and Clare Alstone: ibid. p. 293.
London, 11, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 1.

Altobasse.—Nick. Possibly from the high and low range of voice. But see legal 'alto et basso,' the submission of all differences, high and low, to an adjudicator (Bailey's Dict., 1742).

Peter Alto-basse. O.

Ambler.—Occup. 'the ambler,' one who looked after the ambler in his lord's stables; one who taught horses to amble. Lower says 'le Ambleur, Fr., an officer of the king's stable.' Almost akin to Palfreyman, q.v. This surname has ramified strongly in Yorkshire.

'And mony fat palgray ambant [i.e. ambling]. King Alisaunder, 3461.
'Upon an ambler esly she sat.'

Chaucer, C. T. 471.

Among his other duties the ambler broke in horses, i.e. taught them to amble.

'1320. Item, pro informatione unius pulli ad ambulandum, 11s. 6d,' i.e. for teaching a colt to amble.

Whittaker's Craven, p. 466.
Thomas le Amblur, co. York, 1273. A. William Ambler, co. York. W. 9.
1632. Bapt.—Martha, d. Humfry Ambler: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 120.
1656-7. Married—John Keys and Martha Ambler: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 32.
London, 5; West Riding Court Dir., 25; Philadelphia, 18.

Ambrey, Amberson.—Bapt. 'the son of Amery,' q.v.; cf. Emberson and Embery from Emery. The b is intrusive, as usual after m.

Richard Amberson: Barrett, History of Bristol, index.
Robert Amberson: ibid.
Manchester, 1, 0.

Ambrose, Ambross.—Bapt. 'the son of Ambrose'; Fr. Ambrose. No doubt the fair amount of popularity obtained in England for this fontal name was due to the great St. Ambrose, Archbishop of Milan. The Church would not readily let his name be lost in obscurity (v. Yonge, Hist. Christian Names, i. 248). Ambrosi is a familiar Italian surname.

William Ambroys, co. Bedf., 1273. A.
Robert Ambros', co. Hunts, ibid.
Richard Ambrosie, co. Hunts, ibid.
Henry Ambreis, co. Oxf., ibid.
1567. Bapt.—Johane, d. William Ambrose : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 4.
1641-2. Zacharie Lambert and Rachall Ambrose : Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 263.
1729. Married.—Joseph Mottram and Ambrosia Ambrose : St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 6.
London, 8, 1; Philadelphia, 15, 0.

Amelot.—Bapt. 'the son of Amy,' from the double dim. Amel-ot (v. Ames and Amyot); cf. Hamelot from Hamo, or Hewel-ot from Hugh or Hew; v. Hamlet and Hewlett.

Nicholas Amelot, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
Richard fil. Amelot, co. Devon, ibid.
Amelota ad Fontem, C. R., 12 Edw. I.

Ameredith.—Bapt. 'the son of Meredith,' Ap-Meredith. Lower speaks of this name as still existing.

Hercules Ameredethe, sup. for B.C.L., Oct. 1564: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 256.
1586. Lewis Ameredeth, co. Devon: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 148.
1588-9. Edward Amerideth, co. Devon: ibid. p. 232.

Amery, Amary, Amory, Amerson.—Bapt. 'the son of Amery' or 'Emery,' q.v.; common to both sexes. Other variants were Americ, Almeric, and Almaric. It was decidedly popular. In the Italian dress of Amerigo it gave title to the great western continent. The United States has restored the feminine form in America, not an uncommon font-name for girls. I see in the Boston Directory, 'America Anderson, widow.' However strangely this may read, it was a common girl's name six centuries ago.

Roger Ammary, co. Bedf., 1273. A.
Americus Balistarius. E.
Johannes fil. Americ, 1379: P. T. Yorks. P. 154.

Ameria filia Hugonis, 1379: ibid. p. 202.
Ameria Henr Wyf, 1379: ibid.
Americ Breton, 1306. M.
Hugh Amery, H.
Almaricus le Bottiller. B.
Amery Martin, widow, 1584: Reg. St. Peter's, Cornhill.

'Amary Clarke, widow, applies for arrears of pay due to her husband': May 13, 1656, Cal. State Papers (Dom.).
Oswald Amerson, minister of the Word, sup. for B.D., April 10, 1562: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 248.

1779. Married.—William Ricks and Hannah Amerry: St. Geo. Han. Sq. p. 303.
1781. — Charles Wadlow and Elizabeth Amory: ibid. p. 321.
London, 11, 0, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0, 22, 0.

Ames, Amies, Amis, Amiss, Aymes.—Bapt. 'the son of Amys,' or 'the 'son of Amy,' with the patronymic s. 'Ameye, Amy, propre name: Amia': Prompt. Parv. The origin is the same. But Amice or Amys seems to have become the popular English form of the O. F. Aimée, just as Piers or Pearce came to represent the O. F. Pierre. Perhaps the Latinized forms had something to do with it. The two first entries occur close together, and probably refer to the same individual.

William fil. Amys, co. Linc., 1273. A.
William fil. Amice, co. Linc., ibid.
Adam Amys, co. Camb., ibid.
Robert Amys, co. Camb., ibid.
Amicele Noble, co. Hunts, ibid.
Hugh fil. Amicie, co. Linc., ibid.
Alice fil. Amicie, co. Suff., ibid.
John Amice, co. Oxf., ibid.

Amia, Amicia, Amise, and Amisus all occur as personal names without surnames in the Hundred Rolls, 1273.

Amis de Selves, co. Kent, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Amia de Rydeford, co. Linc., ibid.

The form Amiss in the London Directory is met by the entry:

'Gregory Amys, or Amisse, sup. for B.A., July 12, 1525': Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 139.
Also: 1766. Thomas Amiss and Eleanor Cadman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 153.

✓ In the United States the form is all but invariably Ames. Amice or Ames continued as a girl's fontal name till the 16th century.

1540. Buried.—Ameis Austin, Mr. Smith's maid: St. Antholin (London), p. 2.

The family of Ames in the Register of St. Dionis Backchurch is found as Amyes (p. 8), 1576; Ames and Ammes (p. 130), 1690; and Amis (p. 22), 1627. In the Register of St. Michael, Cornhill, the name is often found as Aymes:

1603. Bapt.—Daniel, son of George Aymes: p. 104.

London, 25, 4, 1, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 61, 0, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 9, 8, 1, 0, 0.

Amflis.—Bapt. 'the son of Amflis.' This name seems to be extinct. It has long been forgotten as a fontal name, and so far I can find the surname no later than the 16th century.

Robert fil. Amflisie, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Amflis de Roldiston, co. Notts, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Henry Aunflis, co. Camb., 1273. A.
William Aunflis, co. Camb., ibid.
John Amfleys, co. Norf., 4 Hen. VIII: FF. x. 374.

William Amflys, mayor of Lynn Regis, 1494: FF. viii. 533.

Amiable.—Bapt. 'the son of Amabel'; v. Annable and Hanniball.

Amabil fil. Emme. J.
Thomas Amable, co. Camb., 1273. A.
John fil. Amabilie, co. Hunts, ibid.
Edward Amiable, temp. Eliz. Z.
Joan Amiable, ibid.

Amias, Amyas.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Amias'; v. Ames. (2) Local, 'of Amiens.'

Amias de Cotehal, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
William de Amyas, 20 Edw. I. R.
Robert de Amias, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Honore de Amyens, 1273. A.
Mercatores de Amias, ibid.

John Amyas, of Stotidon, co. Salop, 1625: Funeral Certificates (Ches. and Lanc.) p. 50.

Robertus Amias, 1379: R. T. Yorks. p. 93.
John Amias, co. Norf., 7, Edw. VI: FF. xi. 73.

1631. Francis Amyas and Anne Athill: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 201.
MDB. (Norfolk), 0, 0, 11

Amison, Amson.—Bapt. 'the son of Amice'; v. Ames:

Geoffrey fil. Amice, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

John Amysson, C.R., 7 Ric. II.
Willelmus Amyson, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 8.

Amicia atte Weye, co. Somers., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 146.

The Amsons of co. Ches. all descend from Ameson.

Hugh Ameson, co. Ches., 1537: East Cheshire, i. 175.

1568. Married.—Mathew Amson and Agnes Strettone: Prestbury Ch. (Cheshire), p. 25.

1622. — John Smale and Ellen Ameson: ibid. p. 236.

Henry Amson, of Cotton, Cheshire, 1502: Wills at Chester, i. 4.

Ralph Amson, of Sandbach, Cheshire, 1580: ibid.

Manchester, 0, 1; MDB. (Cheshire) 0, 1; New York, 0, 3.

Amner.—Offic. 'the amner,'

i. e. almoner, a distributor of alms in a religious house or household. 'Was Jesu Crist ammoner?' 1300, Cursor Mundi, 15219. 'Dr Fox the Kynges Amner made an eloquent oraçon in Latin': 1548, Hall, Chron. 790 (H.E.D.).

John le Aumoner, C. R., 56 Hen. III. William le Aumoner, Fines Roll, 14 Edw. II.

Richard Aumoner, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Alan le Aumener, co. Linc., ibid. William Aumoner, co. Northampton, 20 Edw. I. R.

Peter Aumener, rector of Mileham, co. Norf., 1427: FF. x. p. 25.

1697. Married—John Spencer and Elizabeth Amner: St. Dionis Backchurch, London, p. 45.

1773. Richard Amner and Frances Owen: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 234. London, 1.

Amor, Amore, Amore.—Local, 'at the Moor.' Abbreviated to A'Moor; cf. A'Beckett, Abrook, A'Wood, &c.

John Atte Mor, co. Norf., 1273. A. Adam Ate More, co. Oxf., ibid. Oliva Ate More, co. Oxf., ibid. John Amour, C. R., 10 Ric. II.

'In 1528, Richard Amore, of Norwich, priest, gave 3 acres': FF. v. 108.

1766. Married—John Amor and Ann Howard: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 155.

1767.—William Amor and Catherine Rochet: ibid. 168.

London, 8, 2, 0; New York (Amore), 1.

Amos, Amoss.—Bapt. 'the son of Amys.' Without doubt a variant, and one more instance of the great popularity of Amice. The name of the Old Test. prophet was unknown in the 13th century. There is not a single trace of its existence. Amos, like Amias or Amyas, represents popular forms of the Norman-French Aimée, or Amys, now generally known as Amy; v. Ames. I do not suppose there were any Amos's previous to the Reformation. This variant has arisen since the Bible, in the vulgar tongue, became familiar to the people. It is simply imitative.

Thomas Amys, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 209.

1677-8. Aaron Amos and Eliz. Potter: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 215.

The above Aaron Amos may have been a Jew.

1767. Married—James Amos and Eleanor Jinks: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 163.

London, 10, 1; Philadelphia, 31, 0.

Amphlett.—Local, 'of Amfleet,' one of many local names found on the east coast of England, from Durham to Suffolk, which have -fleet for their suffix, a shallow creek. I have not yet identified the place. [Since writing the above I find my statement as to suffix confirmed, but not that relating to the locality. Mr. Lower quotes Lambarde's Dictionary: 'Amflete, Amflete, et alii Ampleot, a haven in France, as I gesse, near Boloigne'; v. Patr. Brit. p. 8.]

1516. Robert Amflet, mayor of Lynn Regis, co. Norf.: FF. viii. 533.

1517. William Amflete, rector of West Lexham, co. Norf.: ibid. x. 5.

1692. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Joseph Amflitt: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 345.

1695.—Sarah, d. Joseph Amphlete: ibid. p. 363.

1797. Married—Edward Weigh and Mary Amphlett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 163. London, 2.

Amps.—? Bapt. 'the son of Ampe.' This has been a Cambridgeshire surname for six centuries. It is possible that it is of local origin, but there is no local prefix in my references from the Hundred Rolls, and the patronymic form Amps (cf. Williams, Jones, Wilkins, &c.) is confirmatory proof.

Richard Ampe, co. Camb., 1273. A. Elena Ampe, co. Camb., ibid.

1567-8. William Smeethe and Joanna Ampes: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 38.

1674-5. Thomas Brace and Joane Amps, co. Camb.: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 235.

1779. John Amps and Ann Jones: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 206.

Crockford, 3; MDB. (Cambridgeshire), 2.

Amyot, Amyatt.—Bapt. 'the son of Amiot,' from Amy, O.F. Amé or Aimée, dim. Ami-ot. We find Aimée in north England at an early period in the entry:

Amya del Stable, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 241.

Cf. also: Ammya de Wydecombe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 119.

William Amyot, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Amiot de Pontefracto. DD. (v. index).

Walter fil. Amiot. GG. (v. index).

1564. James Amott: Wills at Chester, i. 4.

1612. Robert Amott, of West Derby: ibid.

1622. John Amatt, co. Essex, and Eliz. Wood: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 117.

London, 1, 0; Crockford, 0, 1; Liverpool, 1, 0.

Ancell, Ancill, Ansell, Ansel.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Ancel,' whence dims. Ancelot and Ancelin; v. Lancelot and Lancelin. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Anselm' (?). I merely suggest this as a possibility. No doubt the final m in Anselm might be easily dropped. But of course (1) is the true and natural solution in the majority of cases.

Ansell de Seleden, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K. Brianus fil. Aunselli, ibid.

William Ansell, 1273. A. Ansellus de Bray, ibid.

Aunsellus de Bray, ibid. Ansellus de Braytem, ibid.

1545. Buried—Ansell Bonyam: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 181.

1667. Nowell Ansell and Mary Snipe: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 44.

1693. Buried—John Ansell, of Norwich: FF. iv. 239.

1727. Bapt.—Thomas, s. of Thomas Ansell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 173.

London, 2, 1, 27, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 2, 3.

Ancock.—Bapt. 'the son of John,' a vile variant of Hancock, q.v.; cf. the common United States surname, Arrison. It is interesting to note that Ancock is found in the county which had so close a connexion with the Flemings, who introduced Han, Hans, &c.

1619. Married—Davie Evans and Annis Ancocke: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 250.

Annis represents Agnes; v. Annis.

MDB. (Lincoln), 3.

Anderson, Anders.—Bapt. 'the son of Andrew,' q.v. It was of course inevitable that Anderson should become toned down to Anderson. Even Andrews has occasionally assumed the form of Anders.

Rogerus Andreweson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 237.

Martin Anderson, 1495, Yorks. W. II.

1611. Richard Anderson and Eliz. Hawkins: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 8.

1769. Frederick Anders and Mary Harper: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 185.

London, 138, 2; Boston (U.S.), 271, 1.

Anderton.—(1) Local, 'of Anderton,' a township in the parish of Standish, co. Lanc. There seems to be a second Anderton, Samuel Oldknow, of Mellor, was 'born at Anderton, near Bolton, in Lancashire, Oct. 5, 1756, . . . and established a large muslin manufactory at Stockport in 1784': v. East Cheshire, ii. 54. Probably, however, the same place is meant. (2) Local, 'of Anderton,' a township in the parish of Great Budworth, co. Chester.

Peter Anderton, of Anderton, 2 Eliz.: Baines' Lanc. ii. 165.

William Anderton, of Little Lever, 1590: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 4. James Anderton, of Bury, 1609: ibid.

1661. Bapt.—Jane, d. Christopher Anderton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 211.

1772. Married—Thomas Anderton and Eliz. Brittan: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 218.

Manchester, 9; London, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Andrew, Andrewes, Andrews.—Bapt. 'the son of Andrew'; v. Anderson. This name was very popular in the 13th century. As the name of the patron saint and knightly champion of Scotland, as title of the primatial see, no wonder that the Scotch have tried to monopolize Andrew, and no wonder that Anderson has followed Scotch emigration till Canada and the United States are flooded with it. But Andrew was very popular in its day in England, as our Andrews can testify. In any case, as an apostolic name it was bound to be popular all over Europe.

Willelmus Anderewe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 219.

Robert Andreu, co. Camb., 1273. A. Nicholas fil. Andree, co. Salop, ibid.

John Andre, co. Camb., ibid. Henry fil. Andr., co. Oxf., ibid.

Thomas Andreu, vicar of Briston, co. Norf., 1442: FF. ix. 376.

1619. Thomas Fuller and Eliz. Andrews: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 74.

1623. Buried—Benjamin Andrewes, of Norwich, merchant: FF. iv. 365.

London, 26, 2, 107; Philadelphia, 18, 0, 127.

Angel, Angell.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Angel'; in later days Angela and Angelina. For the full history of this once-popular name, v. Yonge, i. 126-7. The Puritans could not oust this name, though bitterly hated by them.

1645. Buried—Angela Boyce: Canterbury Cathedral.

1682. Bapt.—Angel, d. Sir Nicholas Butler, Knt.: St. Helen's, Bishopgate.

Weymouth, March 20, 1625. Embarked for New England, Angell Holland, aged 21 years': Hotten's Emigrants, p. 285.

(2) Local, 'at the Angle'; v. Angle. Most probably the source of the majority of our Angels and Angells. The font-name was unknown in England, so far as I can discover, in the 13th and 14th centuries.

Robert Angel, 7 Jas. I, co. Norf.: FF. vi. 236.

1578. Michael Angell, co. Glouc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 80.

1618-9. John Angell and Anne Palmer: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 70.

1667. Robert Mellish and Frances Angell: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 143.

1751. Married—James Angel and Ann Lownds: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 46.

London, 9, 15; Philadelphia, 3, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 13.

Anger, Angier, Aungier.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Aunger.' This is the probable origin of most of the variants found in modern directories.

Anger le Venator, co. Berks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

William fil. Aunger, co. Camb., 1273. A. Beatrix Aunger, co. Hunts, ibid.

Peter Aunger, London, ibid. Anger or Aunger le Rus, co. Camb., ibid.

Onger de Leycestre, co. Devon, ibid. Robert Aunger: Kirby's Quest, p. 186.

Roger Anger, co. Soms., 20 Edw. III: ibid. p. 240.

'Angier de la Strille, a French merchant, prisoner at Dover, May 25, 1564': Rec. Office, Cal. State Papers (Domestic), i. 241.

1702. Married—Henry Angier and Anne Jones: St. Peter's, Cornhill, p. 64.

(2) Local, 'of Angers,' a city of Anjou.

Hugh de Angiers. J. Robert Angier. XX. Isabella Angier. H.

'A quarter of a fee in Burnham held by William Angre': FF. v. 246.

'John Angere, parson of Southacre': ibid. vi. 220.

1633. John Hercy and Mary Angier: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 213.

1702. George Angier and Judith Seymour: ibid. p. 328.

London, 0, 5, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 11, 0.

Angle.—Local, 'in the Angle,' i.e. nook, corner; from residence in some nook or corner of the road.

'Go, run, search, pry in every nook and angle of the kitchens, larders, and pastries': The Woman Hater, i. 2; v. Nangle, and cf. Herne and Wray.

Henry in the Angle, C. R., 8 Edw. I. Alice in Angulo, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Roger in Angulo, co. Camb., ibid.

The English portion of the Angels and Angells in the London Directory are probably from this source; v. Angel.

Elias Angel, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 200. 1570. Baried—Danyell Angell, son of Mr. Angell: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 102.

1722. Married—John Angil and Eliz. Beale: St. Antholin (London), p. 137.

1744. Bapt.—Thomas, son of George Angle: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 174.

London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Angold, Angood.—Bapt. 'the son of Angold' or 'Angod.'

Nicholas Hanegod, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 198.

John Angod, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 213.

Geoffrey fil. Angodi, co. Oxf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Henry Angod, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Richard Angot, co. Suff., ibid.

Stephen Angole, vicar of Rowdham, co. Norf., 1589: FF. i. 435.

London, 2, 0; MDB. (Norfolk), 1, 0; Cambridge, 0, 5.

Angush.—Local, 'of Angus,' N.B. Although most of the instances occur in co. Norfolk, it will be seen that they are of comparatively modern date. They represent an immigration from the north. There can be no doubt about the origin. It is simply imitative, as was the custom in spelling or even pronouncing surnames.

David, Erl of Anguyshe (Angus): Visitation of Yorkshire, 1563, p. 18.

Elisabeth, Countess of Anguyshe: ibid. p. 242.

'Item: to my lady Margaret Anguisshe . . . for to disporte her withall this Christmas, £6 13s. 4d.' D.c. 1530: Privy Purse Exp., Henry VIII, p. 98.

Richard Anguish, rector of Scarning, co. Norf., 1639: FF. x. 44.

William Anguish, gent., died July 6, 1668, Norwich: ibid. iv. 365.

Thomas Anguish, of Norwich, 1633: Visitation of London, 1634, p. 227.

1749. John Anguish and Deborah Tupper: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 43.

'William Anguish appeared in court as defendant': Manchester Evening Mail, Feb. 15, 1888.

Leeds, 1.

Angwin.—Local, 'the Angevine,' an immigrant from Anjou. Although fairly common in mediaeval registers, this surname barely survives. It has obtained a footing, however, in the United States.

Maurice le Angevine, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Reginald le Angevine, co. Oxf., ibid.
Geoffrey le Angevyn. L.
Simon le Angevin. E.
Gilbertus Angevinus, Pipe Roll, 5 Hen. II.
William Angewyne, Close Roll, 14 Hen. IV.

'Osmund held it under Eustachius, and Wido Angevin after Osmund, being his nephew': FF. viii, 333.

Thomas Angwyn, lic. for M.A., June, 1511: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i, 50.
Thomas Angwyn, vicar of Witchingham, co. Norf.: FF. viii, 311.

Mary Aungvine, 7 Hen. V, co. Norf.: ibid. ix, 109.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Anker.—Occup. 'the anker,' an anchorite or hermit; see next article.

'Sometime I am religious,
Now like an anker in an hous.'
Chaucer, R. R. 6348.

The following is imitative, the second instance probably being the name of a foundling, discovered at an inn styled 'the Anchor.'

1674-5. Bapt.—Edward, s. John Anchor: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 120.

1717. Buried—Mary Anchor, a poor child: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 165.

MDb. (Cambridge), 2; (Oxford), 3; Philadelphia, 3.

Ankerman.—Occup. 'the ankerman,' i.e. the servant of the anker or hermit, now generally styled an anchorite; but ancre was the earlier form. Cf. Matthewman, Monkman, Priestman, Vikerman, Armetman (v. Armet), &c., all Yorkshire surnames.

'An anchor's cheer in prison be my scope.'
Hamlet, iii, 2.

William Ankerman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 17.

My one London Directory instance deserves to be set in full:

'Frederic Ankerman, boot-maker, 77, Provost St., Hoxton.'

Probably u is a misreading for n in the following entries:

Lucia ye Aukereswoman, London, 1273: A. i, p. 413.

Lucia la Aukereswomman, London: ibid. p. 426.

Cotgrave has ankrosse, a female hermit.

London, 1.

Ankettle, Anketell.—Bapt. 'the son of Arnketel,' eagle cauldron; Arkettle, q.v., is but another form of the same name. Both are compounds of 'Kettle,' q.v.

Anketil le Mercer, London, 1273. A.
Peter fil. Anketill. C.
Anketill fil. Thomas. K.

The Norman form was Anskettle; v. Oskettle.

William, son of Anschetillus, temp. 1100: Lincolnshire Survey, p. 6.

Anschetillus de Egheling: ibid. p. 25.

Robert Amketyl, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 213.

Roger Anketyl, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 221.

John Anketill, of Shafton, obiit 1610: Visitation of London, 1634, p. 21.

Francis Anketill, of Holborne, living 1634: ibid.

I dare not say this surname is extinct in 1610, for I find one in Crockford; see, however, Anskettle and Arkettle.

Philadelphia, o, 4; Crockford, o, 1.

Annable.—Bapt. 'the son of Annable,' a corruption of Amable; v. Hanniball. This surname is well represented in the United States.

Simon Annable, vicar of Hemlington, co. Norf., 1401: FF. xi, 107.

1584. John Hallywell and Alice Annable, co. Suffolk: Marriage Lic. (London), i, 135.

1665. Thomas Barrow and Eliz. Annable: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 90.

1711. Married—John Daw and Mary Annable: St. Antholin (London), p. 124.

1736. Buried—Mrs. Elizabeth Annable: St. Peter's, Cornhill, p. 135.

Derby, 3; Boston (U.S.), 10.

Annan, Annandale.—Local, 'of Annan' or 'Annandale,' a parish and dale in co. Dumfries, through which the river Annan flows.

1702. Buried—Sarah Annand: St. Antholin (London), p. 116.

Cf. Simmonds for Simmons, or the provincial gownd for gown.

London 3, o; MDb. (Northumberland), o, 2; Philadelphia, 2, o.

Annis, Annison, Anningson, Anness, Aningson, Annin, Anning.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Ann,' from the dim. Annie.

'Pay me, quod he, or by the swete Seinte Anne.'
Chaucer, C. T. 7193.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Agnes,' popularly Annis, Annes, or Annas. The variant Anningson is curious, and seems founded upon some early dim. Annin, with an excrement g, as in Jennings; cf. Pattison and Pattinson. In general (2) must be looked upon as the parent of all these names. Annis was the popular form of Agnes from the 14th century downwards.

'Anny's: proppr name (Anneys, H., Annycce, P.)—Agnes': Prompt. Parv.

Anish Luke: Reg. St. Colomb Major, p. 39.

Annis Thring, 1606: Reg. Broad Chake, co. Wilts, p. 42.

Annis Teswell, 1623: Canterbury Cath. p. 115.

Annis Brittanie, 1625: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 15.

All these cases are feminine, and represent Agnes.

James Annyson, 1687: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 109.

Isaac, s. Francis Annison, 1660: FF. iv, 265.

Maria, uxor Johannis Annyson, 1700: ibid. p. 501.

1616-7. Peter Kinge and Mary Annys: Marriage Lic. (London), ii, 48.

London, 2, 2, o, o, o, o, o; MDb. (Norfolk), o, 3, o, 1, o, o, o; (Lincoln), 1, 1, 2, o, 1, o, o; (Burnley, co. Lanc.) Anningson, 1; Philadelphia, 3, o, o, 1, o, 2, 1.

Annore.—Bapt. 'the son of Alianore,' popularly Annore, whence later Nora, or Norah.

William Annor, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Annor (without surname), co. Bucks, ibid.

Annore Beine, co. Camb., ibid.

Annora Vidua, co. Oxf., ibid.

Annora de Aencurt, co. Notts, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Annot, Annotson, Annett, Annette.—Bapt. 'the son of Anne,' dim. Ann-ot; v. Anson for many instances and fuller history.

'Annet, the common gull, so called in Northumberland': Halliwell. No doubt taken from the once popular dim. of Anne, especially popular on the north-east coast of England. Annot Alyface is a character in Ralph Roister Doister, by Nicholas Udall, written about 1550. She sings:

'Work, Tibet: work, Annot: work, Margery: Sew, Tibet: knit Annot: spin, Margery: Let us see who will win the victory.' Dodsley's Old English Plays, iii. 72.
'Peter Annet (1693-1769), deistical writer, is said to have been born at Liverpool in 1693': Dict. Nat. Biog. ii. 9. Anota Canun, co. Oxf. 1273. A. Johannes Anot, 1370: P.T. Yorks. p. 131. Johannes Warnfold et Annot uxor ejus: ibid. p. 175.
Robertus Bolt et Annot uxor ejus: ibid. p. 175.
Annot Lund: ibid. p. 175.
Simon Annotson: ibid. p. 254.
Thomas Annotson: Pardon's Roll, 16 Ric. II.
John Annottson, rector of Edgefield, co. Norf., 1458: FF. ix. 388.
1707. Buried.—Nicholas Annett: St. John Baptist on Wallbrook (London), p. 196.
1717. —Richard Annett: ibid.
1781. Henry Annetts and Mary Bugg: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 321.
1786. Edward Annett and Elizabeth Parsons: ibid. p. 393.
London, 0, 0, 1, 0; New York, 0, 0, 3, 2.

Ansell.—Bapt.; v. Ancell.

Anselm.—Bapt. 'the son of Anselm.' This personal name was decidedly popular in its day, and if it has no representatives in our modern directories, the explanation is simple: they have become incorporated with our Ansell; v. Ancell.

Anselmus fil. Anselm', co. Linc., 1273. A.
Anselm (without surname), co. Northampton, ibid.
Anselm le Formiger, co. Kent, ibid.
Anselm de Gyse, co. Hunts, ibid.
William Anselme, 1642: Peacock's Army List of Roundheads and Cavaliers, p. 56.
1679. James Cotter and Mary Anselme: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 297.

Anskettle, Askettle, Askell, Askill, Aiskell, Askel.—Bapt. 'the son of Anskettle,' or 'Askettle,' or 'Askell' (kettle as a suffix always became kell, kill, or kle). Anskettle (a variant of Askettle, q.v.) was probably a Norman introduction. For other instances, v. Astell.

Robert Asketil, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 245.
Robert fil. Anskitell, co. York. W. 12. Aschetillus Bardel. Z.
Jordan Asketil, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Peter Askyl, co. Camb., ibid.
William Asketil. Q.
Askell le Fisherman. V. 8.

Simon Asketil, rector of Boyton, co. Norf., 1361: FF. xi. 99.
Roger Asketil, rector of Randworth, co. Norf., 1391: ibid. p. 115.
1563. Married.—Ales Askell, widowe: St. Mary Aldermary (London), p. 3.
London, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0; New York (Askell), 1.

Anson.—Bapt. 'the son of Anne'; v. Annis and Annot.

1767. Married.—Isaac Anson and Judith Dean: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 161.
London, 6; Philadelphia, 10.

Anstee, Anstey, Anstie, Ansty, Anstice, Anstise, Anstiss.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Anastasia, from the nick. Anstie and Anstice, 'Anstiss, Anstish, Anstye, all occur frequently as female names in the older pages of a Devonshire parish, where Anstie is now a surname': Yonge, i. 250.

Anstey Mankyswyl, 1520: Reg. Univ. Oxf. (v. index).
Anstey Hicks, 1657: Reg. St. Columb Major, Cornwall, p. 35.
Anstie, daughter of John Nanskevill, 1602: ibid. p. 20.
Anstes Hawk, widow, buried, 1616: ibid. p. 207.
Anstiss Symons: ibid. p. 154.
Anstis Thomas: ibid. p. 35.
Sampson Ansties, married, 1709: ibid. p. 293.
John Anstis, 1717, co. Norf.: FF. v. 317.
John Anstey, 1623: St. Mary Aldermary (London), p. 15.

(2) Local, 'of Anstey' or 'Ansty.' Parishes in diocese of Peterborough, Sarum, St. Albans, Exeter, and Worcester. This will concern Anstey, Anstie, and Ansty only. Anstice, Anstis, and Anstiss are undoubtedly to be placed under (1).

Roger de Anesti, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Richard de Anesty, London, ibid.
Henry Ansty, vicar of Guestwick, co. Norf., 1386: FF. viii. 222.
1642-3. Richard Anstye and Anne Churchy: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 269.
1785. Married.—John Anstice (co. Somerset) and Mary Selby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 378.
London, 2, 6, 3, 1, 0, 0, 0; Crockford, 0, 3, 0, 0, 1, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0, 0, 2, 3, 0; MDB. (Somerset), Anstice, 7.

Anstruther.—Local, 'of Anstruther,' in co. Fife, N.B.

'William de Candela held the barony of Anstruther, in co. Fife, about 1153. His grandson Henry appears to have assumed the surname in or before 1221' (Lower).

1690-1. Jonathan Compton and Frances Anstruther: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 172.
London, 1.

Anthony, Antony, Antonison.—Bapt. 'the son of Antony'; the h is intrusive. 'Antony, propr name, Antonius': Prompt. Parv. The name had become fairly popular in England in the 13th century, as having been borne by the great hermit of the 4th century. He was the patron saint of the swineherd, and 'as fat as a Tantony pig,' and 'to follow like a Tantony pig,' became proverbial expressions; v. Yonge, i. 306; Halliwell, i. 67. 'I have behest a pygge to Saynt Antony'; v. Prompt. Parv. p. 29, and note by Way.

John fil. Anton', co. Linc., 1273. A.
Alice fil. Anton', co. Hunts, ibid.
Antony Stillman. H.
Agnes Antonison, temp. Eliz. Z. (v. index).
1010. Francis Griffin and Sibill Anthonie: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 45.
1716. Married.—George Brough and Apphia Anthony: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 59.
London, 8, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 24, 2, 0.

Antill.—Local, 'of Ampthill.' I owe the suggestion to Lower, and doubt not it is correct. The corruption was inevitable. Cf. Amphield, or Anfield, a hamlet in the parish of Hursley. Ampthill is a market town seven miles from Bedford. The surname in its corrupted form is better represented in the United States than in England. A single glance at the two forms below will settle any doubts as to the true parentage of the name.

1567. Married.—John More and Joane Antill: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 4.
1606-7. William Hames and Fidocia Ampthill: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 15.
1670. Matthias Lodge and Frances Anthill: ibid. p. 179.
1734. Married.—John Anthill and Jane Batt: Reg. Stourton, co. Wilts.

The second entry practically settles any doubt.

London, 5; Manchester, 1; Philadelphia, 4.

Antioch.—Local, 'of Antioch'; cf. Veness, Janeway, &c. Probably imported as the result of the spicery trade with the East.

Codard de Antioche, Sheriff of London, 1195: WWW. pp. 187, 190.

William de Antioche, co. Soms., Hen. III.-Edw. I. K.

Nicholas Antioch, 1300. M.

Robert de Antiocha. E.

I cannot discover any modern representatives.

Antcliff, Antcliff, Antcliffe.

—Local, 'of Arncliff,' a village and parish, W. Rid. of Yorkshire, sixteen miles north of Shipton. In local names, whose suffix is -cliff, there is a tendency to elide the c; cf. Cuncliffe or Topcliff for Cunccliff and Topcliff. This surname has crossed the Atlantic. No doubt the meaning is the eagle-cliff.

Thomas Arnecliff, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 269.

1748. Married—Luke Antcliff and Mary Tallance: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 114. Ulverston, 1, 0; Manchester, 0, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 2.

Anton, Antoine.—Bapt. 'the son of Antony'; Fr. Antoine, Ger. Anton, M.E. Antoyne. Of course many of the United States representatives are of French and German extraction.

Robertus Antoinson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 265.

Antoyne Taillour: ibid. p. 267.

1613. Gregory Roberts and Ursula Antunn: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 21.

London, 2, 0; Liverpool, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 11, 3.

Antrobus.—Local, 'of Antrobus,' a township in the parish of Great Budworth, co. Cheshire. Apart from the well-known family of that name and place, many Antrobus's may be seen in the Lanc. and Cheshire directories. They may represent junior branches of centuries ago or separate stocks. This surname has crossed the Atlantic.

1600-1. Thomas Antrobus, co. Cumb.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 246.

William Antrobus, of Over Peover, 1506: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 5.

Henry Antrobus, of Knutsford, 1620: ibid.

1635. Joan Antrobuss 'imbarqued in the Planter' for New England: Hotten's Emigrants, p. 45.

1660. George Antrobus and Anna Franklin: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 53.

London, 4; Manchester, 5; Philadelphia, 2.

Anvers.—Local, 'of Anvers,' i.e. Antwerp. This surname seemingly did not last long. I find no representatives during the last three centuries.

Ralph de Anvers, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Thomas de Anvers, co. Berks, 20 Edw. I. R.

Anwyl, Anwell.—Bapt. 'the son of Anwyl.' This is a Welsh surname, and as at least ninety-five per cent. of its nomenclature is baptismal, I feel bound to place it under that class; but I have not met with the name in early records.

1794. Married—Ellis Anwyl and Priscilla Ryder: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 110.

MDb. (co. Montgomery), 2, 0; (co. Denbigh), 1, 0; (co. Flint), 1, 0; (co. Carnarvon), 1, 0; London, 1, 0; Liverpool, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Anyon.—Bapt. 'the son of Eignon' or 'Enion,' a Welsh surname; v. Benyon and Eynon.

1640. John Anyon and Martha Lownds: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 253.

1648. Married—Reginald Baxter and Martha Annion: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 18.

1791. Married—David Williams and Frances Anyon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 66. Manchester, 1.

Ape.—Nick, 'the ape.' For a reason that can be well understood this surname has not come down to modern times. 'Wilde beris and apes,' 1350: Will. Palerne, 2298 (H.E.D.).

John le Ape, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Alured Ape, co. Norf., ibid.

Aplin, Applin.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Appoline.' The homily 'Against the perils of Idolatry' says, 'All diseases have their special saints as gods, the curers of them: the toothache, St. Appoline.' This was the usual English form of Appolonia, a martyr at Alexandria, who, among other tortures, had all her teeth beaten out. It was a popular girl's name, and survived the Reformation.

1593. Bapt.—Apline, d. John Morris, clothworker: St. Peter, Cornhill.

1609. — Apoline, d. William Burton, merchant: ibid.

Appolonia Cotton. TT. Aplin Thomas: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 174.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Abel,' from dim. Abelin, sharpened to Apelin; cf. Apps for Abbs, or Epps for Ebbs.

Thomas Abelyn, co. Kent, 1273. A.

(3) Bapt. 'the son of Lyon,' a Welsh personal name, whence the patr. ap-Lyon. This undoubtedly became Applin, and represents the Applins of cos. Somerset, Hereford, and south-west England generally; cf. Applejohn.

Ap-lln-ap-Gwyll, 1490: Hist. and Ant. of St. Davids, p. 376.

Jonedafil. Aplyon: Visitation of Glouc., 1623, p. 98.

1734. Anne, d. of Edmund Aplin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 217.

1802. Married—Samuel Ramsey and Eliz. Aplin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 271.

London, 5, 1; MDb. (co. Somerset), 5, 0; Boston (U.S.), 3, 3; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Apperly, Apperley.—Local, 'of Apperley.' (1) An extra-parochial district in the parish of Bywell, co. Northumberland; (2) a hamlet in the parish of Deerhurst, co. Glouc., near Tewkesbury.

John de Apperleghe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 191.

William de Appert, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

The above entries seem to prove that Apperley, in co. Glouc., is the real parent.

London, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Appleby, Applebee, Appelbee.—Local, 'of Appleby,' parishes in cos. Westm., Lincoln, and Leicester. Many local surnames ending in by are now found as bee, as this dictionary proves in various pages.

Geoffrey de Appleby, co. Linc., 1273. A. John de Appleby, vicar of Tilney, co. Norf., 1372: FF. ix. 83.

Thomas de Appleby, Bishop of Carlisle, 1 Ric. II: ibid. iii. 102.

Henry de Apeby, 1367, rector of Bolton-juxta-Bowland: Whittaker's Craven, p. 131.

Johannes de Appleby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 296.

1624. William Browne and Rachel Appleby: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 147.
1775. William Norris and Sarah Applebee: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 258.
London, 20, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 1, 0;
Boston (U.S.), 7, 3, 0.

Appledore.—Local, 'of Apple-dore.' Parishes in diocs. of Canterbury and Exeter.

William atte Apeldor, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 277.
Geoffrey Apeldore, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Salcombe (Devon), 1.

Appleford.—Local, 'of Appleford.' A chapelry in the parish of Sutton Courtney, co. Berks.

Lucia de Apelforde, co. Camb., 1273. A. William de Appelford, co. Suff., ibid.
Pagan de Appelford, co. Berks, 20 Edw. I. R.

1630. Married—Roger Scrutton and Marie Appleford: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 23.

1769. Benjamin Appleforde and Elizabeth Piggott: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 185.
London, 1.

Applegarth, Applegate.—Local, 'of the Apple-garth,' apple, and garth, an enclosure; v. Appleyard. 'Appelle-garth: pometum': Cath. Angl. This surname seems now generally found as Applegate.

Geoffrey de Appelgarth. K.
William Applegart, co. Norf.: FF. ii. 110.
Ralph de Apelgard, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Robert del Apelgard, co. York, ibid.
Ralph le (de) Apelgart, co. Bucks, ibid.
Richard de Appelgart, temp. Stephen, co. Norf.: FF. v. 83.
Robert del Appelgarth, 10 Edw. II: Freemen of York, i. 16.

This last is a second entry of a name instanced above.

1769. Married—Robert Applegate and Mary Crouch: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 185.
London, 2, 6; Philadelphia, 0, 32.

Appleman.—Occup. 'a seller of apples'; cf. 'apple-monger: pomilius': Huloet, 1552.

Nicholas Appleman: Close Roll, 16 Edw. III, pt. i.
Philadelphia, 1.

Applethwaite, Ablewhite, Applewhite.—Local, 'of Applethwaite,' a township in the parish of Windermere, co. Westmoreland. With Applewhite, cf. Hebblewhite for Hebblethwaite.

1639. Married—Thomas Applewhaite and Mary Fead: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 24.

1646. Buried—Eliz. Applewhite: ibid. p. 225.
1679. May the 6th. Dennis Burne, a servant belonging to Mr. Henry Applewhite in the Ketch Prosperous for Virginia: Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 352.

Appleton.—Local, 'of Appleton.' Parishes in diocs. of Norwich, Oxford, York (3), and Ripon. The meaning is obvious: appel or appl, apple, and ton, a town, an enclosure; cf. Appleyard and Applegarth. Many places would naturally acquire such a title. There are townships so called in cos. Lancaster and Chester.

Thomas de Appleton, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Wydo de Appleton, co. York, ibid.
Willelmus de Appilton, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 300.

Reginald de Aputon, rector of Flitcham, co. Norf., 1369: FF. viii. 417.

William de Appleton, rector of Titchwell, co. Norf., 1376: ibid. x. 397.

Mabel Apulton, Norwich, 1456: ibid. iv. 119.

1604. Christopher Appleton and Mary Lovelasse: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 14.

1687. William Appleton and Mary Steele: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 309.
London, 27; Philadelphia, 25.

Appletree.—(1) Local, 'at the apple-tree'; cf. Plumtree, Rowntree, Crabtree, &c.

(2) Local, 'of Appletree,' a hamlet in co. Northampton, seven miles from Banbury. Of course the origin is the same.

1548-9. Simon Appultree and Agnes Rudyck: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 14.

1611-2. John Appletree and Susan Hodges: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 11.
1730. Married—John Appletree and Ann Wych: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 309.

MDB. (Northampton), 1; (Oxford), 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Appleyard.—Local, 'of the Appleyard,' from apple, and yard, or garth, an enclosure, an orchard. 'Appullyerde, or gardeyne, or orcherde: Pomerium': Prompt. Parv. Evidently a familiar word all over the kingdom for an orchard; cf. Applegarth.

Nicholas de Apelyerd, co. Norf., 1273. A. Adam del Apelyerd, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 194.

Magota de Appilyerd, ibid.

Alicia del Apelyerd, ibid. p. 91.

Bartholomew de Appilyerd, burgess for Norwich, 49 Edw. III: FF. iii. 101.

William de Appilyerd, bailiff of Norwich, 1386: ibid. p. 116.

Thomas Appleyard, temp. Eliz. ZZ. (v. Index.)

1629. Leonard Slater and Grace Appleby: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 33.

1760. Married—Jonathan Dadford and Ann Appleyard: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 92.
London, 8; West Riding Court Dir., 16; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Applin; v. Applin.

Apps.—Bapt. 'the son of Abraham,' or 'Abel,' from the nick. Abb, sharpened to App; cf. Epps for Ebbs, Hopkins for Hobkins, Hopps for Hobbs, &c. But it is only fair to suggest that App may have been the nick. for the 13th century popular name of Apsalon (Absalom). Apps would then be the patronymic. I have no evidence for this, and merely throw it out for consideration. There can be no doubt that if Apsalon be cast aside, then Apps stands for Abbs, q.v.—Since writing the above I have come across the following entry:

Thomas atte Apse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 174.

This, of course, is a local surname, and may share in the parentage of Apps. This would be by residence beside the apse of a church; cf. Galilee, Porch, &c.

1658. Buried—Mary, d. Thomas Ap: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 322.

1694. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Bodwine Apps: ibid. i. 357.

1787. Married—Thomas Barker and Eliz. Apps: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 402.
London, 8.

Arbuckle, Arbuckel.—Local, a corruption of Harbottle, q.v.; and found, like Harbottle, in the neighbourhood of that place. This surname has crossed the Atlantic, and is spreading in the United States.

Newcastle, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 9, 2.

Arbuthnot, Arbuthnott.—Local, 'of Arbuthnot,' a parish in Kincardineshire. The first of the family was Hugh de Arburbothenoth, who assumed his surname from the lands which he acquired in 1105 with the daughter of Osbert Olifard, and on which his descendants have resided for more than twenty generations: Lower's Pat. Brit. p. 10.

1752. Married—Robert and Ann Arbuthnot (sic): St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 219.

1752. Married—Anthony Dauvert and Mary Arbuthnot: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 48. London, 3, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1; New York, 3, 0.

Archbell.—Bapt.; a corruption of Archibald, q.v.

West Riding Court Dir., i, New York, 1.

Archbrag.—Nick. 'a great braggart.' Arch = chief, as in Archdeacon, Archpriest, q.v. Also cf. 'archwives': Chaucer, C. T. 9071. Ormus Archbragge, co. Westm., 20 Edw. I. R.

Eva Archbragge, co. Westm., ibid.

Archbutt, Archbold, Archibald.—Bapt. 'the son of Archibald.' These three are simply variants; v. Archibald.

1567. Edward Brooke and Alice Archbold: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 37.

1743. Married—Anthony Stewart and Eliz. Archbold: ibid.

1772. —Elias Archbold and Bridget Dardis: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 223.

London, 3, 0, 0; Newcastle, 0, 2, 0; New York, 0, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 4.

Archdeacon, Arcedeckne.—Official, 'the archdeacon.' The name still survives, and not long ago I saw it over a hatter's shop. 'Daniel Archdeacon was recommended to the king for his services, 1610': State Papers, 1623–5, p. 545. Quite recently some members of the Archdeacon family have adopted the mediaeval Arcedeckne, 'not wisely, but too well.'

William de (le?) Archdeacon, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 186.

Johannes Archedeken et uxor, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 145.

Thomas le Arsedekene, co. Herts, 1273. A. Adam Arcedeckne, co. Suff., ibid.

Richard l'Arcedeckne. V. 0.

1751. Married—John Archdeacon and Mary Williamson: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 109.

1786. Peter Archdeacon and Ann Clark: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 386.

London, 1, 0; Halifax, 1, 0; Liverpool, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Norfolk), 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 5, 0.

Archer.—Occup. 'the archer,' a professional bowman; O.F. archier. The arbalester was a cross-bowman; v. Alabaster; cf. Bowman, Bowmaker, Fletcher, Flower, &c.

Odo le Archer, co. Devon, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

John le Archer, co. York, 20 Edw. I. R. Richard le Archer, co. Wilts, ibid.

Thomas le Archer, co. Derby, 1273. A.

Pagan le Archer. E. Colin le Archer, co. Heref., 45 Hen. III. BBB.

William Gilbert, rector of Riddlesworth, co. Norf., presented by Alexandrina le Archer, 1375: FF. i. 275.

1567. Married—Roberte Garnett and Alyce Archer: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 9. London, 52; Philadelphia, 46.

Archerson.—Bapt.; v. Aitcherson; not the son of the Archer.

Liverpool, 1.

Archibald.—Bapt. 'the son of Archibald.' German, Erchanbald; O.F. Archambault; Italian, Arcibaldo. Miss Yonge (ii. 255) adds, 'So frequent was it (Archibald) in the houses of Campbell and Douglas, that, with its contractions of Archie and Baldie, it has become one of the most commonly used in Scotland, recalling many a fierce worthy, from old Archibald Bell-the-Cat downwards.' Archbold, Archbutt, and Archbould are modern English forms of the surname; v. Archbold, Archbutt.

Archibaldus le Flemyng, 34 Edw. I.: BBB. p. 710.

Archenbald le Flemeng, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Roger Arkebald, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Richard Arkebolt, co. Camb., ibid.

William Ercebaud, 44 Edw. III. P.

Richard Archibald, sup. for B.D., Oct. 30, 1451: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 14.

1557. Married—John Archembolde and Eliz. Wylson: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 3.

Archambault is common in Philadelphia. Twelve representatives appear in the directory. This is the result of French immigration. London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 22.

Archpriest.—Official, 'the archpriest,' a chief priest, a vicar to a bishop, later a rural dean; v. H.E.D. The term was in use in the 17th century, for Smith, the 'silver-tongued' preacher, speaks of 'priest, or priests, or archpriests, or any such like': God's Arrow against Atheists.

Roger le Archepestre. T. William le Erchepestre: Fines Roll, 12 Edw. I.

Arderne, Arden, Ardron.—Local, 'of Arderne.' The present representatives in south-east Lanc. directories preserve the spellings, as Arden and Ardren are frequently found in the records of the family. They resided at Harden Hall, near Stockport, and are reputed to have been an early branch of the Warwickshire Ardernes; v. East Cheshire, i. 161.

Heloise de Arderne, 1171: FF. viii. 342. John de Arderne, 1220: East Cheshire, i. 462.

Peter de Arderne, 1270: ibid. Jordan de Arderne, co. York, 1273. A. Ralph de Arderne, co. Linc., ibid.

The de was dropped about 1420.

William Arderne, of Timperley, esquire, 1584: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 5.

Mary Arderne, of Stockport, 1610: ibid.

John Arderne, mayor of Stockport, 1524: East Cheshire, i. 347.

1666. William Arderne and Alice Smith: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 114.

Manchester, 1, 1, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 4.

Argent, Argentine.—Local, 'of' or 'from Argentan,' a town in south Normandy. David de Argentomago was a tenant-in-chief under the Conqueror in cos. Bedford and Camb. His descendants were ennobled as Barons Argentine (Lower).

Richard de Argentine, co. Herts, 1273. A. Reginald de Argentine, co. Essex, ibid.

John de Argentine. R.

Gyles Argentine: Visitation of Bedfordshire, 1566, p. 41.

Reginald de Argentine, co. Norf., 1265: FF. v. 91.

Giles de Argentine, co. Norf., 1281: ibid. 368.

John Argentine, minorite, sup. for B.D., Oct. 20, 1440: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 5.

1572. Henry Potkyn and Sicily Argentine: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 53.

John Argentine, temp. 1600: Visitation of Dorsetshire, 1623, p. 98.

London, 10, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Aris, Ariss.—Local, 'of Arras,' a town in Artois famous for the manufacture of tapestry. Not a vulgarism for Harris.

1397. 'Draps d'Arras': Will of John of Gaunt in Nichols' Royal Wills, 156 (H.E.D.).

1536. 'Craithis of arrres and tapestres': Bellendene, Cron. Scotl. ii. 56 (ibid.).

1562. 'One bedd covering of aries worke, 8s': Richmondshire Wills, i. 161.

—'Grant to John Bakes, arras-maker, of the office of maker and mender of the king's cloths and pieces of arras and tapestry with 12d. a day for wages': Materials for History of Reign of Henry VII, p. 259.

Robert de Arraz, London, 1273. A. Matthew de Araz, London, ibid.

Ralph de Aras, co. Salop, 20 Edw. I. R.
Robert de Arraz. N.
Richard de Arraz, 20 Edw. I. BBB.
Thomas Arras, co. York, 1510. W. 11,
p. 175.
1726. Married—Thomas Coggan and
Sarah Aris: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 2.
1761. — Edward Aris and Mary
Cockerill: ibid. p. 101.
1787. — Edward Ariss and Ann Barbere: ibid. p. 406.

The Boston Directory has an entry as follows: 'Roger S. Arras, watchman.' This is much nearer the original than the modern English variants.

London, 5, 1.

Arkettle, Arkell, Arkle, Arkless, Arkcoll.—Bapt. 'the son of Arketel.' Norsk, Arnkjell, eagle cauldron; v. Yonge, ii. 283.
One more compound of Kettle
(q.v.) contracted to kell, kill, or kile.
'Archill revolts against William';
Freeman, Norman Conquest, iv. 186.

Archil de Corebrige: Pipe Roll, 5
Hen. II, pt. i.

Simon fil. Arkill. E.
Roger Arketel, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
William Arkell, co. York. W. 2.
Arkill, son of Ecgrif: Symeon of Durham (Surt. Soc.), v. index.
Alicia Arkill, 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 245.
Rannulf fil. Arkill, 1203: RRR. p. 104.
Archil de Botercrame, temp. 1300:
FFF. p. 302.

1676. Edward Freeman and Ellinor
Arkell: Marriage Lic. (Westminster),
p. 260.

1760. William Puttman and Elizabeth
Arkoll: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 93.

London, 0, 6, 0, 1, 2; Lancaster (Arkle),
3; New York (Arkell), 4.

Arkinstall.—Local; v. Artingstall.

Arkmaker.—Occup. 'a maker of arks'; v. Arkwright.

Ibota Arkmaker, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 26.

Arkwright.—Occup. 'the ark-wright,' a maker of arks. This article of furniture was a north
English manufacture, and the surname originated there. The ark was the old-fashioned meal-chest.

'When this corn to the kniht was sold,
He did it in an arc to hold,

And opened this arc the third day.'
Tale of a Usurer.

In an inventory of household goods, dated 1559, are mentioned
'one trussin bed, with a teaster of yealow and chamlet, one old arke, old hangers, of wull grene and red,' &c.: Richmondshire Wills,

p. 135. Twenty years earlier I find the contents of a 'mylke howse' including 'an arke, a tub, a stande, a chyrne': ibid. p. 42.
In the same book a sheep is bequeathed to one Henry Arkwright,
p. 155, note.

William Arkwright, taylor, 1562: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 30.

John Arkwright, of Broughton (Furness), 1683: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, ii. 5.

Laurence Arkewrighte, temp. Eliz. ZZ.
Crockford, 2; Preston, 6; Philadelphia, 1.

Arlett.—Occup. for Harlot, a fellow, a servant.

'A sturdy harlot wente hem ay behind.'
Chaucer, C. T. 7336.

'He was a gentil harlot, and a kind.'
ibid. 649.

Professor Skeat connects Charlotte with this word, and refers to Arletta, the reputed mother of William I; v. Harlot (Skeat's Dict.).

John le Harlet, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Muriel Arlot, co. Camb., ibid.

John Harlot, co. Camb., Hen. III—Edw.
I. K.

1768. Married—Bartholomew Arlett and Eliz. Tellam: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 177.

1785.—Witham Arlott and Eliz.
Thorogood: ibid. p. 379.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Arment, Armand.—Bapt. 'the son of Armund'; cf. Rayment for Raymund, or Garment for Gar-mund. The true English form is Armine or Armyñ; Fr. Armand;
Dutch, Herman.

Armundus le Cawer, co. Linc., Hen.
III—Edw. I. K.

Armand de Aspays, 1348: FF. x. 356.
London, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 3.

Armer, Armerer, Armour,
Armor.—Occup. 'the armourer, a maker of armour.

'Armurers and Arowsmythis,' c. 1400:
Destr. Troy, v. 1588 (H.E.D.).

'Armateur, an Armer, a provider of armes or weapons': Cotgrave (H.E.D.).

John Armourer, mayor of Rising, co.
Norf., 1343: FF. ix. 52.

Guy le Armerer, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Simon le Armerer. G.

Adam le Armerer, 1307. M.

Marion Armourer, co. York. W. 18.

1562-3. Buried—Syr John Armerar, parson of this parishes: St. Dionis Back-church, p. 186.

1640. Buried—John, sonne of Thomas
Birkett, armorer: St. Peter's, Cornhill,
p. 198.

London, 1, 0, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 3, 2.

Arminger, Armiger.—Official, 'armiger,' an armour-bearer, a squire. This became Arminger, just as Potager became Pottinger, and Messenger Messinger. Thus n is intrusive.

Radulphus Normanill and Alicia uxor
ejus, armiger, 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 62.

Thomas Armiger. C.

Nicholas Armiger. E.

Jeffry Arminger, temp. Eliz. Z.

Robert Amiger, ibid.

Thomas Armiger, of Beaconsthorp, co.
Norf., 1573: FF. vi. 354.

1634. Edward Armer and Alse Buds-dell: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 218.

1746. Married—Robert Armiger and Eliz. Bunbury: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 38.

London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Arminson, Armsom.—Bapt.
'the son of Armand'; v. Arment.
Armandson would easily vary to Arminson, and this to Armsom.

1749. Married—John Holliday and Mary Armsom: St. Geo. Chapel, Mayfair,
p. 156.

Preston, 2, 0; MDB. (Lancashire), 2, 0;
(Salop), 0, 2.

Armistead, Armstead, Armitstead.—Local, 'at the Hermit-stead,' from residence at a hermitage or hermit-stead. M.E. eremite, a hermit, pronounced armit; cf.
Clark and Clerk, Darby and Derby,
&c. This has been a Yorkshire surname for five centuries at least;
see next article.

Laurencius del Armetsted, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 278.

Johannes de Armetstede, 1379: ibid. p.
263.

William Armistead, vicar of Berwick
Parva, co. Norf., 1587: FF. x. 207.

1618. Henry Knevet and Alice Arme-stead: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 25.

William Armystede, or Harnestede,
M.A., July 4 1527: Reg. Univ. Oxf.
i. 148.

West Rid. Court Dir., 6, 1, 1; London,
4, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0; Boston
(U.S.), 0, 6, 0.

Armit, Hermit.—Official, 'the hermit.' M.E. eremite and heremite. Pronounced also armitas in Armitage (q.v.) for Hermitage; see last article.

John Heremite, London, 1273. A.

Gerard Heremite, co. Warw., ibid.
Silvester le Heremite, B.

Johannes Armet-man, i.e. servant of the hermit, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 286 (cf. Ankerman).

William Ermyte, or Armytt, sup. for B.A., March, 1515: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 94. 1768. Married—William Armat and Ann Carrington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 175. London, 1, 0.

Armitage, Hermitage.—Local, 'of the Hermitage,' once pronounced harmitage or armitage in the north; cf. Clerk and Clark, Derby and Darby, &c.; v. Armit and Armistead. A great Lancashire and Yorkshire surname.

John Harmaytaye, co. York. W. 3. Willelmus del Ermytache, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 176.

Gregory Armitage, temp. Eliz. Z. 'William Armitage, rector (of Billingford, co. Norf.), compounded for first-fruits in April, 1506': FF. viii. 194.

1705-5. Married—Joseph Armitage and Mary Kedon: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 52.

1784. — Stephen Harmitage and Sarah Benfield: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 361.

West Riding Court Dir., 56, 0; London, 12, 3; Philadelphia, 17, 0.

Armrod.—Local; v. Ormerod. An American variant. Philadelphia, 2.

Armstrong, Armstrang.—Nick, 'arm-strong'; cf. Strongitham. The name of a familiar Border clan.

'Ye need not go to Liddisdale,
For when they see the blazing bale
Elliot's and Armstrongs never fail.'

This surname has ramified very strongly in the States and in Canada.

William Armstrange, co. Cumb., 23 Edw. I. BBB.

Eckie Armstrong, 1615: Household Books of Howard of Naworth Castle (Surt. Soc.) p. 444.

1627. Michael Jermyn and Frances Armstrong: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 191.

London, 37, 0; Philadelphia, 275, 0.

Arnald, Arnall, Arnell.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Arnald,' q.v. The omission of the final d in Arnald was perfectly natural, just as natural as to have added it if it were not there; cf. provincial gownd for gown, or Simmonds for Simmons. (2) Local, 'of Arnald,' a village in the parish of Long Riston, co. York; also 'of Arnald,' a parish in co. Notts.

Richard de Arnall, 20 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 23.

John fil. Arnaldi, co. Notts, 1273. A.

Alexander fil. Ernald, co. Oxf., ibid.

Jordan Ernald, co. Oxf., ibid.

1409. Walter Arnald, rector of Thelton: FF. i. 153.

1465. 'John Arnald, gent., buried by the porch door': FF. iv. 122.

1616. Married—Richard Jaggard and Eedy Arnall: St. Antholin (London), p. 52. London, 1, 2, 5; Boston (U.S.) (Arnall), 1.

Arne.—Bapt. 'the son of Arne,' either the nick. of Arnold (v. Arnett) or a personal name Arn (eagle), which is itself the first syllable of Arnold.

Alice Arn, wife, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

1680-1. Thomas Arne and Mary Thurstfield: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 303.

'Thomas Augustin Arne (1710-78), musical composer, son of Thomas Arne, an upholsterer, who lived in King St., Covent Garden': Dict. Nat. Biog. ii. 104.

Arnett, Arnet.—Bapt. 'the son of Arnold'; v. Arnold and Arnett. An early corruption.

Lecia Arnet, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Milisent Arnet, co. Camb., ibid.

John Arnet, co. Camb., ibid.

Arnet le Mercer, co. Oxf., ibid.

1785. Married—Charles Arnett and Mary Newton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 371.

London, 6, 0; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0; Philadelphia, 7, 2.

Arnison, Armeson(?), Arnoldson.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Arnald,' through some nick. or pet form; v. Arnold. Armeson may be a corruption. Arnoldson, which exists to-day in the United States, would naturally become Arnison; see next article for instances in the Hundred Rolls. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Arnys'; v. Harness.

1572. Married—Richard Foord and Eliz. Armeson: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 229.

Sheffield, 2, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 1.

Arnold, Arnoll, Arnott, Arnot, Arnould.—Bapt. 'the son of Arnold'; Fr. Arnould. With the corruption Arnott, cf. Archbutt for Archibald. Of course Arnold is now practically forgotten as a personal name in England. Nevertheless it was very popular in its day, and being in great favour just when fontal names were candidates for immortality as surnames, it is not to be wondered at that Arnold and its variants and corruptions are familiar to all our directories at the close of the 19th century. I only furnish a few instances. The United States has such continental forms as Arnhold and Arnholt.

Arnald or Arnard Atte-broke, co. Essex, 1273. A.

Walter fil. Arnald, co. Linc., ibid.

Stephen Arnald, co. Kent, ibid.

John fil. Arnoldi, co. Camb., ibid.

Ayelina relicta Arnold, co. Hunts, ibid.

Warin Arnold, or Ernold, Norwich, 1486: FF. iv. 414.

1611. John Arnold and Winifred Nelham: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 6.

London, 80, 1, 12, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 147, 0, 2, 1, 0.

Arnulf.—Bapt. 'the son of Arnulf'; v. Arnolf, Yonge, ii. 282. Just as Randolph or Randulf became Randle, so Arnulf, no doubt, became Arnulf, and thus was lost in Arnell and other variants of Arnold, q.v.

John fil. Ernulf, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Arnulph Grugge, co. Dorset, ibid.

Arnulfi de la Cuba, co. Devon, ibid.

1766. Married—John Arnulf and Eliz. Blake: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 158.

Aron, Arrend.—Bapt. 'the son of Aaron,' Generally of Jewish descent, but not necessarily so in all cases.

Judaus Aron (i.e. Aron the Jew), co. York, 1273. A.

Adam Aron, vicar of Bacton, co. Norf.: 1420: FF. xi. 21.

Jacob Aaron, 1696: Reg. St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 112.

Jacob Arone, 1697: ibid.

Arone, s. of Arone Steeres, 1697: ibid. p. 204.

1664. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Thomas Aran: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 112.

1658. Bapt.—Mary, d. Thomas Aron: ibid. p. 115.

From Aran to Arran was an easy transition.

1728. Married—William Ivie and Martha Arran: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 4.

This, with an excrescent d, became Arrend; cf. gownd for gown, or Simmonds for Simmons. There can be no doubt about the fact that Arrend is Aaron in disguise.

London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Arrison.—Bapt. 'the son of Harry' (v. Harrison), unless Arrison be a corruption of Aaronson, which is not probable. I fear there are Cockneys in America as well as in London.

Philadelphia, 21.

Arrowsmith, Athersmith, Arsmith.—Occup. 'the arrow-smith,' a maker of iron tips, a smith. This surname is corrupted to Athersmith in Furness, North Lanc. I have two Athersmiths in my parish (Ulverston). A late occupative term. No instance in the Hundred Rolls or any other records of the 13th century, so far as my researches go. For the earliest instance given in the H.E.D. (c. 1400) v. Armer.

'Arowe-heders, maltemen, and corn mongers.'

1510. Cocke Lorelles Bote.

Henricus Breysarth, arusmyth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 45.

Johannes Arrowsmyth, ibid. p. 293.

Stephen Arrowsmyth, faber, ibid. p. 293.

Johannes Arughsmeynt, ibid. p. 66.

William Arowesmythe, temp. Eliz. ZZ.

Richard Arsmith, temp. Eliz. Z.

John Arrowsmyth, curate of Lynn, co. Norf., 1643: FF. viii. 504.

1748-9. Bapt.—Noble, s. Robert Arrowsmyth, butcher: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 174.

London, 8, o, o; MDB. (Stafford), 2, 1, o.

Arslett, Asslett, Aslett.—Bapt. 'the son of Ancelot'; v. Ancell and Lancelot. There can be little doubt about this solution, but I have no absolute proof. If Ancelot was known familiarly as Ascelot, then the rest is easy to accept.

1775. Married—Bennick Smith and Ann Aslett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 259.

1777. — Edward Asslett and Rhoda Pressey: ibid. p. 274.

1781. — Thomas Smith and Mary Aslett: ibid. p. 318.

London, 1, o, o.

Arthur, Arthurs, Arter.—Bapt. 'the son of Arthur.' A rare font-name in the Hundred Rolls. Very common since the battle of Waterloo and the publication of Tennyson's poems.

Walter fil. Arthuri, co. Linc., 1273. A.

William Arthur, co. Essex, ibid.

Stephen Arthur, co. Wilts, ibid.

William Artur, co. Soms., ibid.

Henry Artur, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 111.

Robert Arthur, rector of Castor, co. Norf., 1334: FF. v. 428.

1615. Robert Arthur and Margaret Ballis: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 31.

1700. Bapt.—Benjamin Arthur, a young man about 18: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 148.

London, 21, 2, 3; Boston (U.S.), 15, o, o.

Artingstall, Artinstall, Arstill, Arkinstall.—Local, 'of Artinstall.' I do not know the precise spot, nor can I say whether it is in Lancashire or Cheshire. The following entries will assist in the search:

1578. Bapt.—Elizabeth Artonstall, of Mottram: Prestbury Ch. (co. Chester), p. 58.

John Arstall, of Hale, 1590: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 5.

William Arstall, of Ringey, parish of Bowden, 1618: ibid.

Robert Artenstall, of Hale, 1632: ibid. (1621-1650), p. 6.

Edward Arstall, of Hale, 1633: ibid.

1596. Married—William Arstall and Jane Booth: ibid. p. 132.

One thing is certain, Arstill and Artinstall represent the same name.

Manchester, 1, 1, 1, o; MDB. (co. Salop), Arkinstall, 2.

Artis, Artiss, Artson.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Arthur,' a corruption of Arthurs or Arters; v. Arthur. The final s will thus be patronymic, as in Williams, Jones, Jennings, Wilkins, &c. (2) Local, 'of Artois.' The two first (not Artson) might easily be so derived. But I have no instances.

1619. Thomas Artice, died in Civill in Spain, and was here buried: St. Antholin (London), p. 54.

1649. Married—St Peter le royre Mortimer and Sarah Artson: ibid. p. 79.

1661. John Jerson and Anne Artson: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 59.

London, 5, 1, o; Philadelphia, 3, o, o.

Arundel, Arundell, Arundle.—Local, 'of Arundel,' a parish in dioc. of Chichester, co. Sussex, ten miles from Chichester.

John Arundel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 176.

William de Arundell, co. Salop, 1273. A.

John de Arundell, co. Cornwall, 20 Edw. I. R.

Roger de Arundell, co. Soms., ibid.

Adam de Arondel, co. Salop, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Gilbert de Arundell, rector of East Wrotham, co. Norf., 1321: FF. i. 467.

1612. Gregory Arundell and Eliz. Smithe: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 13.

1765. Married—William Arundale and Ann Barnes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 146.

London, 3, 5, 1; Philadelphia, 3, o, o.

Asculf.—Bapt. 'the son of Asculf.' No doubt this surname is lost in Hasell and Hazell, q.v.

There are no modern representatives of the true original form. Probably some of the many Hasells and Hazells of Berkshire (a district which was familiar with the fontal name Asculf or Hascul) are to be referred to this source.

Harsculph, alias Ascurt de Cleseby, 1301. M.

Hascul de Praces, co. Oxf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Robert Ascolf, provost of Norwich, 1219: FF. iii. 58.

John Asculf, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Roger Hasscholf, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 172.

Asulph Ma, co. Essex, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Aseltine.—Local; v. Hasleden; an American variant.

Boston (U.S.), 1.

Ash, Ashe, Aysh.—Local, 'at the ash,' from the original bearer's residence by a certain ash-tree; cf. Birch, Oak, Lynde, and v. Nash. 'Esche-tre—fraxinus': Prompt. Parv. v. 143.

John de le Ea, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Roger de le Ea, co. Norf., ibid.

Agnes Ate Nasse, co. Oxf., ibid.

Henry de Asse, co. Warw., ibid.

Joan atte-Esche, co. Norf., 1345: FF. v. 145.

Roger atte-Ashe, temp. Edw. II, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 505.

John at-Ash, of Bintre, co. Norf., 1349: FF. v. 295.

Robertus del Asch, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 102.

John atte Assh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 164.

1611. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Antony Ashe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 61.

1635. Married—John Drew and Eliz. Ash: St. Antholin (London), p. 69.

London, 20, o, o; Crockford, o, 13, o; Boston (U.S.), 21, 1, o; MDB. (co. Devon), 6, o, 2.

Ashburne.—Local, 'of Ashbourne,' a well-known parish in co. Derby.

Robert de Esseburne, co. Derby, 1273. A.

Henry de Essebourne, co. Derby, ibid.

Thomas de Assheburne, co. Derby, 20 Edw. I. R.

Thomas de Asheborne, rector of Colveston, co. Norf., 1351: FF. ii. 231.

1625-6. Thomas Ashborne, co. Notts, and Eliz. Watson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 161.

1777. Married—John Ashburn and Catherine James: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 282.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Ashburner.—Occup. 'the ashburner'; one of the oldest and most familiar names in Furness and the English Lake district. The ash-burner was a manufacturer of charcoal, to be used for the bloomsmithies of the middle ages. It is probable that the ash-burner's craft covered the process of smelting as well. The traces of ancient bloomeries are still to be found in the coppice woods that skirt the shores of Windermere, Coniston, and the Duddon estuary. Gradually the occupative term became collier, and ousted the other. The surname, Ashburner, however, will for ever remain a memorial of the primitive period when iron ore was smelted in the woods, whose trees supplied the fuel; see Bloomer and Collier. Instances from the Furness church registers are needless; they abound on every page.

1545. Bapt.—John Asburner: St. Mary's, Ulverston, p. 1.

William Ashburner, of Cartmell, 1696: Lancashire Wills (Richmond), p. 7.

1734. Bapt.—William, s. of Joseph Ashburner: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 216.

London, 3; Crockford, 2; Philadelphia, 7; MDB. (co. Lanc.), 17.

Ashby, Ashbee, Ashbey.—Local, 'of Ashby,' parishes in dioc. of Lincoln (4), Norwich (3), Peterborough (7). With Ashbee, cf. Applebee.

Peter de Askeby, co. Norf., 1273. A. Gilbert de Askeby, co. Linc., ibid.

Roger de Ascheby, co. Linc., ibid. Henry de Ascheby, co. Linc., ibid.

David de Assheby, co. Northampton, 20 Edw. I. R.

Jordan de Asscheby, 22 Edw. I. BBB. 1620. John Ashbey and Joane Watson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 92.

1780. Married—Charles Asbee and Eliz. Thornell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 311.

London, 37, 2, 3; New York, 2, 2, 2.

Ashcroft, Ascroft, Ashcraft.

—Local, 'of Ashcroft.' Seemingly a Norfolk surname. The suffix -croft is often found as -craft; cf. Meadowcroft and Meadowcraft, and v. Croft and Craft, or Crofter and Crafter. Of course the origin is simple enough, i.e. the croft or enclosure where the ash-trees grew. It is quite clear also that a Lancashire family are sprung from a place named Ashcroft in that county.

Margaret de Ascroft, co. Norf., 1273. A. Richard Ashcroft, co. Norf., 22 Jas. I: FF. x. 206.

Humphrey Ashcroft, of Prescott, co. Lanc., 1592: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 6.

Henry Ashcroft, of Preston, co. Lanc., 1602, ibid.

1684. Bapt.—Mary, d. Sara Ashcroft, widow: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 308.

Manchester, 11, 0, 0; London, 3, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 0, 4.

Ashdown.—(1) Local, 'of Ashdown,' a parish in dioc. of Winchester. (2) Local, 'of Ashdon,' a parish in co. Essex, three miles from Saffron Walden.

William de Assendon, London, 1273. A. 1640-1. Bartholomew Ashdowne and Mary Cuddon: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 256.

1663. John Ashdowne and Sarah Woodgate: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 88.

1778. Married—George Ashdon and Hannah Cope: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 294. London, 10; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Ashenden.—Local, 'of Ashenden,' a parish in dioc. of Oxford, co. Bucks.

John de Assendon, co. Hertf., 1373. A. Adam de Assenden, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert de Assenden, co. Oxf., ibid.

1639. Humphrey Nicolls and Barbara Ashenden: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 244.

1663. Buried—Widow Assenden, a pensioner: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 234.

1665. Married—Valentine Ashenden and Jane Wilkins: Canterbury Cathedral, p. 60.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Asher.—Bapt.; v. Asser.

Ashfield.—Local, 'of Ashfield,' two parishes in co. Suffolk and a township in co. Salop.

1582. Michael Ashfild, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 120.

1572. Edmund Ashfeilde, co. Bucks: ibid. p. 55.

1613. Buried—Anthony Ashfild: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 124.

1677. Richard Ashfeild and Mary Gunning: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 274.

MDb (co. Bedf.), 1.

Ashford, Ashforth, Ayshford.—Local, 'of Ashford,' parishes in dioc. of Canterbury, Exeter, London, Southwell, and Hereford; v. Ford and Forth for the two suffixes.

John de Esseford, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Eudo de Assheford, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

1563. Buried—William Ashford, prentis to Roger Beawe: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 135.

1594. Thomas Aysheford, co. Devon: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 208.

1773. Married—Joseph Ashford and Charlotte Probert: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 228.

London, 15, 2, 2; New York, 0, 3, 0; MDB. (co. Devon), 7, 0, 4.

Ashley.—Local, 'of Ashley,' parishes in dioc. of Canterbury, Chester, Ely, Gloucester and Bristol, Lichfield, Peterborough, Winchester, and Oxford.

Robert de Aslegh, co. Devon, 1273. A. Henry de Assele, co. Norf., ibid.

Walter de Asseleghe, co. Soms., ibid.

John de Asselegh, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Robert de Asshele, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.

1617. Richard Reeve and Anne Ashley: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 56.

1741. Married—Perret Fenton and Mary Ashley: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 51.

London, 26; Boston (U.S.), 10.

Ashlin.—Bapt.; v. Aslin.

1733. Married—William Thackeray and Abigail Ashlin: St. Michael's, Cornhill, p. 66.

1750. — Thomas Ashlin and Sarah Middleton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 45.

London, 1.

Ashman.—Bapt. 'the son of Ashman'; cf. Bateman. This surname would seem at first sight to be local, representing one who lived at the ash-tree (v. Ash and Nash), but there can be little doubt that it is a personal name, and perchance the same as Assemannus in Domesday; cf. the place-names Ashmanhaugh, Ashmansworth, compounded with the name of the original tenant. Cf. the German surname Aschemann; one occurs in the New York Directory.

William Asseman, co. Suff., 1273. A. Peter Asseman, co. Camb., ibid.

Reginald Asseman, co. Suff., ibid.

Walter Ascheman, co. Suff., ibid.

Henry Asseman, co. Suff., ibid.

Thomas Asseman. B.

Nicholas Ashman, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1299: FF. xi. 322.

Robert Ashman, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1316: ibid.

1740. Bapt.—Hannah, d. of John Ashman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 250.

1760. Married—John Ashman and Eliz. Skillin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 99.

London, 5; Boston (U.S.), 4; New York, 5.

Ashmead.—Local, 'of Ashmead,' i.e. some spot where the mead or meadow was surrounded by ash-trees. I cannot find the spot. The surname has ramified strongly in America.

Nicholas de Astmede, co. Glouc., 1273. A.

1783. Married—Benjamin Ashmead and Eliz. Clough: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 348. London, 5; Philadelphia, 24; MDB. (co. Gloucester), 3.

Ashmore.—Local, 'of Ashmore,' a parish in co. Dorset, five miles from Shaftesbury.

1584-5. Robert Johanes (i.e. Jones) and Ann Ashmore: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 138.

1587-8. Married—Hugh Richardson and Ashmore (sic): St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 11.

1592. Buried—Ann Ashmore: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 47.

1773. Married—Thomas Hind and Sarah Ashmore: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 227. London, 3; Philadelphia, 13.

Ashton, Aston.—Local, 'of Ashton' or 'Aston,' parishes in dioc. of Exeter, Peterborough, Bath and Wells, Sarum, Gloucester and Bristol, Chester, Liverpool, and Manchester. The meaning is simple: the ash-town, i.e. the enclosure with ash-trees in it; v. Ash and Town. Naturally this would be a common place-name. With the form Aston, cf. Ascroft and Ashcroft.

Roger de Astun, co. Salop, 1273. A. Thomas de Aston, co. Lanc., ibid. William de Aston, co. Heref., ibid. John de Ascheton, co. Soms., ibid. Roger de Assheton, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Johannes de Aston, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 278.

1618-9. William Freaque and Philippa Aston: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 69.

1646. Bapt.—Peter, s. Peter Ashton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 164.

London, 41, 19; Boston (U.S.), 10, 4.

Ashurst, Ashhurst.—Local, 'of Ashurst.' (1) A parish in co. Kent, about four miles from Tunbridge Wells; (2) a parish in co. Sussex, three miles from Steyning. The origin is simple, 'the Ash-hurst' or wood; v. Ash and Hurst. There is evidently a spot in co. Lanc. bearing this name.

Adam de Asshurst, co. Lanc., 1322: Lay Subsidy (Rylands).

Thomas de Asshurst, co. Lanc., ibid.

1549. Married—Mihill Assherst and Christian Bowin: St. Antholin (London), p. 7.

1628. Bapt.—John, s. John Ashhurst: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 101.

1636-7. Richard Hutton and Anne Ashhurst: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 229. London, 2, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Ashwell.—Local, 'of Ashwell.' (1) A parish in co. Hertford, about four miles from Baldock; (2) a parish in co. Rutland, three miles from Oakham.

Richard de Aswelle, co. Suff., 1273. A. William de Assewelle, co. Rutl., ibid.

Nichol de Assewelle, 22 Edw. I. BBB. Thomas Ashwell, sheriff of Norwich, 1647: FF. ii. 308.

1627. Bapt.—Richard, s. John Ashwell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 106.

London, 11; New York, 2.

Ashworth.—Local, 'of Ashworth,' a chapelry in the parish of Middleton, co. Lanc., anciently Assehworth. This small place (pop. 233 in 1861) has given birth to a surname that has become largely represented. It is familiar to every town and village in south Lancashire. Henry Ashworth (1794-1880), the friend of Cobden, was born at Birtwistle, near Bolton, a few miles from Ashworth, on Sept. 4, 1794. Caleb Ashworth, D.D. (1722-75), a celebrated dissenter, was born at Rossendale, co. Lanc. John Ashworth (1813-75), preacher, manufacturer, and author, was born at Cutgate, near Rochdale; v. Dict. Nat. Biog. ii. 187-8. The little village has kept itself well in the remembrance of Lancashire people.

John Ashworth, of Castleton, co. Lanc., 1617: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 7.

Oliver Ashworth, of Wolfenden, co. Lanc., 1611: ibid.

1641. Buried—Henry Ashworth, a stranger: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 223.

1705. Married—Robert Sewell and Ann Ashworth: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 146.

London, 2; Middleton, 6; Manchester, 63; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Ask, Aske.—Local, 'of Aske.' Aske, a township in the parish of Easby, near Richmond, North Riding of Yorkshire. This surname is nearly, but not quite, obsolete.

Richard de Ask, 1369: DDD. i. 54. Conan d'Ask, 1391: ibid. p. 51.

John d'Ask, 1398: ibid. p. 55.

Robert Aske (d. 1537), leader of the insurrection called the "Pilgrimage of Grace," was of an old Yorkshire family which took its name from Aske, in Richmondshire: v. Dict. Nat. Biog. ii. 189.

1602. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Robert Aske: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 104.

1678-9. Robert Aske and Mary Bonfoy: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 293.

1765. Married—William Baiton and Dorothy Ask: St. Geo. Han. Sq. p. 141. Sheffield, 1, 0.

Askell.—Bapt. 'the son of Askettle'; v. Askettle.

Askew, Ascough, Ainscough, Ainscow.—Local, 'of Askew,' a township in the parish of Bedale, co. York; v. Askey. 'Anne Askew (1521-46), protesting martyr, was the second daughter of Sir William Askew, or Ayscough, knight, who is generally stated to be of Kelsey, in Lincolnshire': Dict. Nat. Biog. (v. Askew). As shown above, the original form was Aiskew or Ayscough. This by an intrusive n became, in Lancashire, Ainscough and Ainscow. But Askew is the generally adopted form. It was natural that the surname should cross the border from Yorkshire to Lancashire.

1545. John Aiscoughe and Grisella Tuke: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 6.

1553. Anthony Twysylton and Alice Askewe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 14.

Margaret Askew, of Kirkbye Ireleth, North Lanc., 1570: ibid.

Ellen Ascough, of Latham, co. Lanc., 1595: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 5.

John Askew, of Osmudeley, North Lanc., 1597: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 8.

1661. Edward Bedell and Barbara Ayscough: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 55.

London, 8, 2, 0, 0; Manchester, 1, 0, 1, 7; Philadelphia, 1, 7, 0, 0.

Askey, Askie.—Local; v. Askew. These are variants. It is perfectly natural to find Askey in co. Lincoln, where Askew was familiar for centuries.

1616. Henry Askley and Eliz. Dimmock: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 42.

1618. Thomas Johnson and Amy Askie: ibid. p. 65.

London, 0, 1; MDB. (Lincoln), 2, 0; New York, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Askham, Ascham.—Local, 'of Askham,' two parishes in co. York; also Askham, a parish in co. Cumb., near Barrow-in-Furness.

Avice de Askum, co. Westm., 20 Edw. I. R.

Thomas de Askam, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 61.

Roger Ascham (1515-68) was born in 1515 at Kirby Wiske, near Northallerton. His family seems to have been of considerable antiquity, and to have taken its name from the villages known as East and West Askham, near York. A Roger de Askham is mentioned as an adherent of Thomas, Earl of Lancaster, in 1313: Dict. Nat. Biog. ii. 150.

1752. Sir Thomas Hatton and Harriott Askham: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 346. West Riding Court Dir., 6, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 0.

Askill.—Bapt. 'the son of Askettle,' q.v.

Askin, Askins, Haskin, Haskins.—Bapt. 'the son of Asketin' (?), an O.F. dim. of Askettle. As Askettle became undoubtedly Askell, q.v., so Asketin probably became Askin. For further instances and remarks, v. Astell. Nevertheless, I am not quite satisfied with this solution. Like Wilkin and Wilkins from William, it would appear that Askin and Askins represent a popular nick of some once familiar personal name.

Robert Asketin, co. Kent, 1273. A. William Asketin, co. Kent, ibid. 1626. John Haskins and Grace Johnson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 168. 1774. Married—John Asking and Hannah Reedhead: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 239. Crockford, i. 1, 0, 1; London, 0, 0, 0, 3; New York, 1, 3, 3, 9.

Askwith, Asquith.—Local, 'of Askwith,' a village in the parish of Weston, near Otley, co. York. Askwith and Ashworth are the same compound, viz. Ash and Worth, q.v. Asquith is the modern popular dress.

Johannes de Askwith, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 260.

Hugo de Askwith: ibid. p. 238. 1579. William Askwith and Rosina Gocianos: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 88. 1590. Michael Asquith, co. York: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 177. London, 0, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 3, 9; Philadelphia, 0, 5.

Aslac, Aslachson, Hasluck, Haselock.—Bapt. 'the son of Aslak'; v. Yonge, i. 46. A well-known name in its time, of Scandinavian origin.

Thomas Aslake, co. Norf., 16 Edw. IV: FF. x. 259.

Walter Aslake, of Creke, co. Norf., 1503: ibid. p. 320.

William Aslack, co. Norf., 1531: ibid. 'The land and tenure of John, son of Aslath, of Flockthorp': ibid. iv. 557.

Aslack Lany, co. Norf., 1639: ibid. v. 304.

John Aslac, co. Suff., 1273. A. William Haselock, co. Worc., 1601: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 248.

Cf. the local Aslacton.

Reginald de Aslacton, co. Notts, 1273. A.

Richard de Aslakeby, co. York, Hen.

III-Edw. I. K.

Thomas Aslakby, sup. for B.A., 1462: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 35.

These would signify 'the dwelling of Aslac.'

Mary, d. of Christopher Ashlock, temp. 1600: Visitation of Dorset, 1623, p. 14.

John Ashelok, sup. for B.A., May 16, 1521: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 119.

1624. Bapt.—Ellis, son of Robert Aslacke: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 99.

The Rev. Oscar Aslachson occurs in Crockford, 1886.

London, 0, 0, 2, 0; Sheffield (Haselock), 1; Crockford, 0, 1, 3, 1.

Aslin, Ashlin, Asling, Ashling.—Bapt. 'the son of Ancel,' from the dim. Ancelin, popularly Asselin or Acelin; v. Ancell. Asselin and Ascelyne occur as personal names in the Hundred Rolls without surnames attached; v. Lancelin.

Ascelyne de Peykirk, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Acelin Wyteknave, co. Hunts, ibid. Richard Asselin, co. Camb., ibid. William Asselyn, co. Camb., ibid. Asselin (without surname), co. Northampton, ibid.

Andrew Asselyn, vicar of Northall, Middlesex, 1399: Memorials of Merton Coll. (Oxf. Hist. Soc.), p. 218.

1551. Nicholas Browne and Joanna Astlen: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 13.

The corruption to Ashlin is clearly traceable.

1557. Buried—Jone Aslyn: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 66.

1708.—Jacob Asselin: St. John Baptist on Wallbrook, p. 106.

1725. Married—William Aslin and Eliz. Prestly: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 5.

1733. William Thackeray to Abigail Ashlin: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 181.

1750. Married—Thomas Ashlyn and Sarah Middleton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. p. 45.

1782.—George Asling and Sarah Eades: ibid. p. 336.

The g in Asling is excrement, as in Jennings, &c. The Cambridge-shire form is Ashling. Six centuries ago, in the same county, it was Asselin. But the change is an ordinary one.

London, i. 1, 0, 0; MDB. (Lincoln), 0, 1, 1, 0; (Cambridge), 0, 0, 0, 1.

Aspden.—Local, 'of Aspden,' a village near Buntingford, co. Hertford. As nearly all the instances are found in Lancashire it is quite possible another locality exists, or has existed, in that county called Aspden. The origin of the word is simple; v. Dean and Aspinall.

William Aspden, of Cliviger, 1597: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 7.

Robert Aspden, of Culcheth, 1607: ibid.

James Aspden, of Tockholes, 1622: ibid. (1621-50), p. 8.

London, 1; MDB. (Lancashire), 8; Manchester, 8; Philadelphia, 2.

Aspell.—Local, 'of Aspell,' a parish in co. Suffolk, one mile from Debenham.

'She gave her manors of Stonhall and Aspell, in Suffolk, which came by her mother, daughter and co-heir of Sir John de Aspal,' 1385: FF. ix. 23.

Gilbert de Aspale, co. Norf., 44 Edw. II: ibid. ii. 265.

Robert de Aspale, co. Norf., 1323: ibid. v. 73.

Thomas Aspal, rector of Francham Magna, co. Norf., 1529: ibid. ix. 499.

Probably the Lancashire Aspells represent Aspinall, q.v.: a clear instance is there given. This surname has crossed the Atlantic. Oddly enough, I find but scanty English representatives as yet.

New York, 4; Middleton (co. Lanc.), 1.

Aspenlon, Asplen, Asplin.

—Bapt. 'the son of Absolom'; O.E. Aspelon. The change of b to p, and removal of s from after to before p, seem to have begun in the early decades of the 13th century. This font-name was very popular, and as a surname has existed in co. Cambridge for six centuries.

Aspelon Odieme, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Hugo fil. Aspelon, co. Camb., ibid.

Waria fil. Aspelonis, co. Camb., ibid.

Henry Aspelon, co. Oxf., ibid.

Aspelon fil. Nicholas, co. Bedf., ibid.

John Asplon, co. Hunts, ibid.

Asplon Faber, co. Hunts, ibid.

Ann Aspelin and John Asplin: Visitation of Essex, 1541, p. 279.

Thomas Wright and Eliz. Asplin, 1636: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 228.

Samuel Asplin, rector of Geyton-Thorp, co. Norf., 1722: FF. viii. 440.

'This morning the crew will walk over to Mortlake, whither their boat will be taken in charge of Asplen, the University waterman': Cambridge Crew (Standard, March 15, 1887).

The first three instances above are from the county of Cambridge. It is odd to think that Asplen is unquestionably from Absolom.

London, 3, o, 1; MDB. (co. Camb.), o, 2, o.

Aspinall, Aspinwall, Aspinell.—Local, 'of Aspinwall,' a property in the parish of Aughton, co. Lanc.; lit. 'the aspen-well,' i.e. the poplar-well, the well by the poplar-trees; cf. Popplewell. We still speak of 'trembling like an aspen-leaf.'

'Richard le Walais, lord of Litherland, grants by deed (temp. Hen. III) to William Pike of Aspenwelle, &c.: Baines' Lanc. ii. 400.

'Aspinwall, or, as it is here called, Aspill Lane, was the paternal inheritance of Edward Aspinwall, &c.: ibid. p. 404.

Gilbert de Aspenwall, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rvlands).

James Aspinall, of Aspinall, 1591: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 7.

Katharine Aspinwall, of Aspinwall, 1596: ibid.

Were there the slightest doubt that Aspinall is a variant of Aspinwall, the above quotations would set the question at rest for ever. The place is styled Aspinall in documents, 15 Charles I; v. Exchequer Depositions by Commission, Lancashire (Lanc. and Ches. Record Soc. V. xi. 26).

1761. Married—Solomon Franklin and Mary Aspenwall: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 103.

1782.—Humphrey Aspinall and Elizabeth: ibid. p. 340.

London, 4, 3, o; Manchester, 10, 4, o; Boston (U.S.), o, 8, 2; New York, 2, 8, o.

Asplen and Asplin; v. Aspenlon.

Asquith.—Local, 'of Askwith,' q.v.

Asser, Asher.—Bapt. 'the son of Asser,' 'Asser (says Mr. Lower), an ancient personal name, as Asserius Menevensis, the preceptor of King Alfred. Two tenants called Azor are found in Domesday': Patr. Brit. p. 13. The frequent occurrence of Asher in the United States directories is due to an influx of German Aschers, who perhaps represent the same personal name.

Asser (without surname), canon of St. David's, 1202: Hist. and Ant. St. David's, p. 364.

John ap-Asser, canon of St. David's, 1218: ibid.

William Asser, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Robert Asser, co. Derby, ibid.

Jordan Asser, co. Northampton, 20 Edw. I. R.

William Asser, rector of Aylmerton, co. Norf.: FF. viii. 82.

1653. Married—Bradford Bury and Eliz. Asser, of Barling, co. Essex: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 29.

1671. John Adams and Philippa Asser, co. Herts, Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 197.

1756. Thomas Asser and Ann Coventry: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 61.

London, 4, 4; Philadelphia, o, 13; New York, o, 19.

Assman, Assmann.—Bapt.; v. Ashman.

Nichol Asseman, co. Suff., 1273. A.

New York, 1, 4.

Astell, Astle.—Bapt. 'the son of Asketil,' one of the many corruptions of this early and popular name; v. Oskell. Asketil became, of course, Askil; v. Kell. Hence the Askils below. From Askil to Astell was an easy transition. Aschetil de Ousegarth, co. York, is set down in one record variously as Aschetin, Asketin, Aschetel, and Astill; v. Index, FFF.

Anketinu de Martivall, co. Linc., 1 Edw. I. R.

Astell fil. Wlfriche, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Astell Prepositus, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Astil, co. Oxf., ibid.

Peter Askyl, co. Camb., ibid.

Alan Askil, co. Camb., ibid.

Stephen Astel, co. Camb., ibid.

Simon Astil, co. Bucks, ibid.

Robertus Ascall, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 33.

Hugh Astel, rector of Aylmerton, co. Norf., 1371: FF. viii. 82.

Nicholas Astell, vicar of Stradset, co. Norf., 1450: ibid. vii. 453.

As Asketin was a familiar form (possibly diminutive) of Asketil, it is probable that Askin, Askins, and Haskins are thus derived; v. Askin.

'Item paid to Edmonde Astell, keeper of Grenewiche park for thornes, &c., £3 17s. 6d., April 7, 1532: Privy Purse Exp. Henr. VIII, p. 205.'

1675. William Haltheid and Anne Astle: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 243.

1722. Bapt.—Thomas, s. John Astill: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 123. London, 2, o; Boston (U.S.), o, 1.

Astie.—Bapt. 'the son of Anastasia,' from the nick. Anstie (v. Anstee), abbreviated to Astie. There can be little doubt that this is the true solution. It has never been a common surname, and at present I can find representatives only in the United States. But this is not a rare occurrence.

Adam Asty, co. Kent, 1273. A.

John Asty, co. Norf., ibid.

Thomas Asty, co. Norf., 1374: FF. i. 349.

Robert Asty, rector of West Herling, co. Norf., 1410: ibid. p. 311.

1658-o. Bapt.—Francis, s. Francis Asty: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 115.

1686.—John, s. Henry Aystie: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 317.

New York, 2.

Astin, Asten, Astins.—Bapt. 'the son of Austin,' an early variant. Of course the majority of the representatives of these variants of Austin are now lost in the local surname Aston, q.v. This was inevitable, hence the scarcity of modern instances. That Astin is a variant of Austin is settled by two entries concerning the same individual; v. Aust.

Astin, or Austin Creik, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Astinus Benington, co. Linc., ibid.

Warin Astin, co. Camb., ibid.

Rogerus Astyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 63.

Johannes Aystyn, 1379: ibid. p. 295.

John Astyn, vicar of Wigenhale, co. Norf., 1421: FF. ix. 185.

Robert Astyn, co. Norf., 1592: ibid. p. 154.

The dim. Austiline is also found. Austelin Gournay, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 172.

West Riding Court Dir., 1, o, o; London, o, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), o, 1, o; New York, 1, 11, o.

Astle, Astell.—Local, 'of Asthill.' The suffix is commonly turned into 'le' or 'ell'; cf. Tickle for Tickhill, Buckell for Buckhill.

Richard de Asthill, 11 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 32.

For another origin v. Astell.

London, o, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1, o.

Astley.—Local, 'of Astley.' (1) A chapelry in the parish of Leigh, co. Lanc.; (2) a chapelry in the county of Salop, five miles from Shrewsbury; (3) a parish in co. Warwick, near Nuneaton; (4) a parish in co. Worcester, near Stourport. The Lancashire Astleys are all from the chapelry near Leigh in that county.

John de Astley, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Richard de Astlegh, co. Salop, ibid.
William de Astlegh, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 10.
George Astley, of Heywood, co. Lanc., 1573: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 8.
Margaret Astley, of Dean, co. Lanc., 1595: ibid.
1622. Richard Astley, co. Oxf., and Anne Gilborne: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 28.
1762. Married—Alexander Dusser and Sarah Astley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 112.
London, 4; Manchester, 6; MDB. (Lancashire), 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Aston.—(1) Local, 'of Aston' or 'Ashton', q.v. (2) Bapt., 'the son of Astin', q.v. That Astin became Aston is clear from three entries in the same village.

Johannes Aystyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. P. 295.
Henricus Astyn, 1379: ibid.
Willelmus Aston, 1379: ibid.

Atcheson, Atchison.—(1) Bapt., 'the son of Adam.' (2) Bapt., 'the son of Archibald'; v. Aitchison and Adkin.

1734. Anne, d. of John Atchison: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 213.
1748. Married—Matthew Bell and Mary Atchison: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 41.
1783.—John Hyatt and Eliz. Atchason: ibid. p. 342.
London, 2, 5; Philadelphia, 7, 7.

Attend.—Local, 'at the fen.' The final d in Attend is excrement; cf. gownd for gown, or Simmonds for Simmons, or Hamond for Hamon.

Isabella Ate Fenne, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Henry Atefen, co. Camb., ibid.
Walter Atefen, co. Camb., ibid.
Thomas Atefen, vicar of Appleton, co. Norf., 1407: FF. viii. 332.
1678. William Attend and Elizabeth Andrewes: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 285.
1692. Francis Atfen and Ann Totthill: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 229.

Attford.—Local, 'at the ford.'

from residence thereby; cf. Attwood, Attwell, &c.

John Ate Forde, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Henry Ateforde, co. Oxf., ibid.
Gillian Ateford, co. Camb., ibid. 1641. Bapt.—Hannah, d. Robert Ateford: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 106.
1673. John Ateford and Mary Soaper: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 45.

I cannot find any modern representatives, but doubtless some exist.

Athawes.—Local, 'atte-haws,' from residence beside the haws; cf. Attwood, Attwell, Athow, &c., and v. Hawe.

William Attelhawse, vicar of South Wylsham, co. Norf., 1379: FF. xi. 143.
1755. Married—Thomas Boucher and Ann Athawes, of Chiswick: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 60.
London, 1; MDB. (co. Essex), 1.

Atherly.—Local; v. Adderley.

Atherton.—Local, 'of Atherton,' a chapelry in the parish of Leigh, co. Lanc. The Boston Directory shows that the name crossed the Atlantic some generations ago.

'Oct. 4, 1679. William Atherton, in the ship Nathaniel for Boston': Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 349.

'In the reign of King John, Robert de Atherton served the office of sheriff for the county of Lancaster, and held Atherton of the Barons of Warrington. His son William de Atherton held this manor by the tenth part of a Knight's fee,' &c.: Baines' Lanc. ii. 201.

Hugh de Atherton, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands).
Godfrey Atherton, of Bickersteth, 1597: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 8.
Philip Atherton, of Atherton, 1618: ibid. 1662. Peter Shepherd and Christian Atherton: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 42.
Atherton (co. Lanc.), 1; Manchester, 15; London, 9; Boston (U.S.), 20.

Athow, Attoe, Attchow, Ato.—Local, 'at the how'; v. How; cf. Attwell, Attwood, &c., for 'at the well,' 'at the wood,' &c. With the variant Attoe, cf. Hoo and Hoe, q.v.

Philip Atteho, co. Kent, 1273. A.
William Attchow, co. Norf., 14 Edw. I: FF. vii. 195.
Thomas Attchow de Methwolde, vicar of Griston, co. Norf., 1357: ibid. ii. 291.
Francis Athow, Visitation of Essex, 1541, p. 122.
Thomas Athow: ibid.

Clement Athow, rector of Bicham-well, co. Norf., 1623: FF. vii. 296.

The Lincolnshire variant Ato, although curious to look at, is perfectly plain as regards its parentage.

1694. Thomas Vincent and Dynah Athow: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 286.

MDb. (Suffolk), o, 1, o, o; (Norfolk), o, o, 2, o; (Lincoln), o, o, o, 1; Philadelphia, 2, o, o, o.

Atkin, Atkins, Atkinson; v. Adkin.

Atkirk, Achurch.—Local, 'at the kirk' or 'church,' from residence thereby; v. Kirk and Church. Atkirk, unlike Attwood or Attwell, seems to have become extinct; but Achurch, abbreviated from Atte-Church, still exists. This, however, may represent Achurch, a township in co. Northampton.

Robert Ate Church, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Emma Ate Chereh, co. Oxf., ibid.
Robert Atte Chyrche, co. Norf., ibid.
John Attecherch, rector of Metton, co. Norf., 1338: FF. viii. 140.

William Attechirche, co. Norf., 29 Edw. I: ibid. vii. 114.

'Agnes, wyff to Pall Atkyrke, temp. 1520': Visitation of Yorkshire, 1563, p. 164.

MDb. (Lincoln), o, 1.

Atock, Attack, Atack, Attick.—Local, 'at the oak'; A.S. ac; cf. Acton, Ackworth, Ackroyd, acorn, &c., and v. Attwood, Attwell, &c.

Adam At the Ock, co. Salop, 1273. A.
1709. Bapt.—Eliz., d. of Thomas Attack: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 49.

1765. Married—Samuel Cooper and Christian Attack: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 141.

1790.—Miles Attack and Eliz. Fryer: ibid. ii. 39.

MDb. (Cambridge), o, 1, o, o; West Riding Court Dir., 1, o, o, o; Philadelphia, o, o, 2, 2.

Attenborough, Atterbury.—(1) Local, 'of Attenborough,' a parish in co. Notts. (2) Local, 'of Atteburgh,' a town in co. Norf. I have placed Attenborough and Atterbury together, as they have probably become confused in the course of centuries. In any case Atterbury represents the older Atteburgh. (3) Local, 'at the borough' or 'bury'; v. Bury.

Walter Attebure, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Alicia de Atteburwe, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Margaret de Atteburwe, co. Camb., ibid.

Richard de Atleborw, co. Camb., ibid.
Ralf de Atteburgh, temp. Edw. III, co. Norf.: FF. iv. 225.

John de Atlebergh, co. Norf., 1256: ibid. iii. 489.

John Atte-bary, 1306. M.
1661. Laurence Atterbury and Eliz. Poynter: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), P. 65.

1769. Married—Louis Gouyn and Eliz. Atterbury: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 184.
London, 10, 3; New York, 0, 9.

Atteslow.—Local, 'at the slough'; v. Slough, where manifest proof is given; cf. Attwood, Attwell, &c.

Peter Atteslow, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
William Atteslont, co. Camb., ibid.
Edward Attislow, or Atslow, adm. B.A., June 26, 1555: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 229.
Luke Atteslowe, or Atsloe, adm. B.A., Jan. 24, 1559-60: ibid. p. 241.

Attfield.—Local, 'at the field,' from residence thereby; cf. Attwood, Attwell, &c.; v. Field.

Richard Ate Felde, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Linot Ate Felde, co. Oxf., ibid.
John Atefelde, co. Oxf., ibid.
John Attfeld, co. Norf., 10 Hen. IV: FF. vii. 40.

1675. John Attfeild and Elizabeth Hall: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 239.
1785. Married—James Attfield and Mary Colburn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 372.
London, 7.

Atthill.—Local, 'at the hill,' from residence thereon; v. Hill; cf. Attwell, Attwood, &c. This surname has existed in co. Norfolk for at least five centuries.

Bateman Attehill, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Everard Attehill, co. Camb., ibid.
Henry Attehill, co. Camb., ibid.
Gregory Attehill, rector of Ingworth, co. Norf., 1356: FF. vi. 369.

John Atthill, co. Norf., 1384: ibid. vi. 501.
1558. Edward Dixon and Margaret Atthill: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 18.
Crockford, 2; MDB. (co. Norfolk), 3.

Atthow; v. Athow.

Atteley, Attlee, Atlay, Atlee.—Local, 'at the lee,' from residence thereby; v. Lee; cf. Attwood and Attwell.

John Atte Lee, co. Northampt., 20 Edw. I. R.
Roger Attleye, co. Kent, ibid.
William Attelan, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
John Attele, co. Berks, ibid.
1588. Bapt.—John, s. Francis Attley: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 86.

1687. William Att Lee and Elizabeth Bonfoy, Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 186.

1751. Bapt.—Charles, s. Benjamin Atlee: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 131.
London, 1, 1, 0, 2; Crockford (Atlay), 2; Philadelphia (Atlee), 12.

Attmore, Atmore.—Local, 'at the moor,' from residence thereon; v. Moor.

Adam Ate Mor, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Oliva Ate Mor, co. Oxf., ibid.
Ralph Atemor, London, ibid.
Beatrix Attmore, Norwich, 7 Ric. II: FF. viii. 270.

Simon Attmore, vicar of Criplesham, co. Norf., 1398: ibid. vii. 314.

1748. Married—Thomas Hopes and Mary Attmore: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 40.
Philadelphia, 6, 12; MDB. (Norfolk), 0, 4.

Attridge, Attriche.—Local, 'at the ridge,' from residence thereby; v. Rigg or Ridge; cf. Attwood or Attwell.

Jacob Atteriche, co. Berks, 1273. A.
1777. Married—William Fowler and Jane Attridge: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 282.
1800.—Edward Walker and Sarah Attridge: ibid. ii. 225.
London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0; New York, 5, 1.

Attwell, Atwell, Atwill, Attiwell, Attwill, Attewell.—Local, 'at the well,' from residence thereby; v. Wells; cf. Attwood.

Adam Ate Welle, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
John Atewelle, co. Camb., ibid.
John Atte-Well, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.
Simon Atte Well, C. R., 43 Edw. III.
William Atte Well, 1313. M.
John Atwelle, ibid.
Willelmus Attewell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. P. 193.

Jeffrey At-welle, rector of Erpingham, co. Norf., 1448: FF. vi. 411.

1663-4. Married—William Attwell and Mary Tyrell: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 37.

The variant Atwill is found as early as the beginning of the 17th century.

Hugh Attwill, parson of Cawverly, co. Devon, 1602: FF. iii. 358.
New York, 6, 4, 1, 0, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.) (Atwill), 2; London, 13, 5, 1, 0, 0, 0; Sheffield (Attiwell), 1.

Attwood, Atwood.—Local, 'at the wood,' from residence thereby; cf. Attwell, and v. Wood. Every English county has representatives of this surname.

Geoffrey Atte Wode, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Mathew Atewode, co. Camb., ibid.
Agnes Attewode, co. Oxf., ibid.
Gilbert Atte Wode, co. Sussex, ibid.
John Attewode, co. Norf., 1391: FF. viii. 170.

William Attewood, co. Norf., 1439: ibid. 171.

1726. Married—George Atwood and Sarah Laurence: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 47.

Atwood has ramified strongly in Boston and the district.

'Philip Atwood sailed for New England in the Suzan and Ellin in 1625': Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 59.

London, 13, 4; Boston (U.S.), 3, 123.

Atty.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam,' from the colloquial Addy, q.v. This was sharpened into Atty. Similarly Addison became Attison.

1624-5. Christopher Attye and Eliz. Richardson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 148.

1639. Bapt.—Leah, d. Thomas Atty: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 106.

1640-1.—Mary, d. Edward Attye: ibid. 'Here lyeth the body of Richard Attyson, late pastor of Cley, who departed 7th Nov. 1659.' Cley, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 379.

1711. Married—William Attey and Frances Parr: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 233.
London, 1.

Atwater, Attwater.—Local, 'at the water'; cf. Bywater, Attwood, Attwell, &c.; v. Waters. This surname, having crossed the Atlantic, is more strongly represented in New York than London.

John Atte Watere, co. Surrey, 20 Edw. I. R.

William Atte Wattere, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
John Atte Water, co. Suff., ibid.
Elias Atewater, co. Camb., ibid.
Thomas atte Watyr, C. R., 4 Hen. V.
1430. Robert atte Watre: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting, Z.

1605. Married—Thomas Attwater and Jane Page: St. Antholin (London), p. 43.
Crockford, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0; New York, 15, 1.

Atwick.—Local, 'at the wick'; v. Wick; cf. Attwood or Attwell.

Geoffrey Attewyk, co. Essex, 1273. A.
Geoffrey Attewyche, co. Essex, ibid.
John Attewick, co. Camb., ibid.
Gervase Att-wyke, rector of Aylmer-ton, co. Norf., 1379: FF. viii. 82.

1779. Married—Thomas Cotton and Mary Atwick: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 304.
— John Doratt and Elizabeth Atwick: ibid.

Still existing on authority of Lower (1860).

Atworth.—Local, 'of Atworth'; not a compound of 'atte' and 'worth,' but from a parish in dioc. of Sarum.

Geoffrey de Attewurth, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
William de Attewurthe, co. Wilts, ibid.

Aubin.—Bapt. 'the son of Aubin.' I presume a variant of Alban or Albin, q.v.; cf. St. Albyn for St. Alban.

Santa Aubin, co. Hunts, 1273. A. William Aubyn, co. Soms, ibid.. Felicia Aubyn, co. Hunts, ibid.. John Aubyn, co. Norf., 2 Edw. III: FF. viii. 461.

William Aubyn, rector of West Walton, co. Norf., 1388: ibid. ix. 141.

1699. Bapt.—Abraham Harcy, s. Abraham Aubin: St. Mary Aldermar, p. 113.

London, 1; MDB. (Cambridge), 5; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Aubrey, Aubery, Aubury, Aubreyson.—Bapt. 'the son of Aubrey' (Domesday, Albericus); fem. Albreda, whence Aubrey, both masc. and fem.

Anbri Bunt, co. Camb., 1273. A. Johannes fil. Aubre, co. Oxf., ibid.. Geoffrey Aubri, co. Camb., ibid.. Richard fil. Albrici, co. Camb., ibid.. Albericus Balister, C. Albricus le Child. T.

Ralph Aubre, rector of Antingham, co. Norf., 1305: FF. viii. 76.

Robertus Ley, Aubray uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 44.

John Aubrayson, C. R., 6 Hen. VI: FF. iii. 165.

John Aubrey, or Awberry, or Aubry, sheriff of Norwich, 1460: ibid. p. 171.

1576. Married.—John Awberrie and Margaret Wallis: St. Mary Aldermar, p. 6.

1695. Charles Gibbon and Frideswid Aubrey: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 47.

1771. Married.—John Aubrey and Mary Colebrooke: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 206.

London, 4, 0, 1, 0; New York, 1, 1, 0, 0, (Aubry) 7.

Aucher.—Bapt. 'the son of Aucher'; v. Auger.

Auden.—Bapt. 'the son of Aldwin.' The ordinary and natural modification, v. Alden; cf. Bawden and other forms from Baldwin.

Crockford, 3.

Audley, Audlay.—Local, 'of Audley', a parish in dioc. Lichfield and co. Stafford, formerly Aldithley; Aldith no doubt being the name of the original proprietor; v. Aldith.

Eva de Audley, 45 Edw. III, co. Norf.: FF. x. 424.

Jacob de Aldithlegh, co. Salop, 1273. A. Henry de Aldithlegh, co. Salop, ibid.

Hugo de Audleygh, co. Staff., 20 Edw. I. R.

Nicholas de Audeley, co. Salop, ibid.

Robert Awdelye, co. Norf., 34 Hen. VIII: FF. ii. 360.

1674-5. Matthew Audley and Alice Hale: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 238.

1780. Married.—John Fardell and Ann Audley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 307.

New York, 3, 1.

Audrey.—Bapt.; v. Awdry.

Audus, Awdas.—Bapt. 'the son of Aldus,' a natural modification; v. Aldhouse.

1799. Married.—William Guntrip and Mary Andass: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 195.

Sheffield, 0, 4; West Riding Court Dir., 2, 0.

Aufre.—Occup. 'le Orfevre,' the goldsmith; v. Offer.

Auger, Augier, Augur,

Aucher.—Bapt. 'the son of Auger' or 'Aucher,' probably a French form of Oger, whence Odger, q.v. Auger and Aucher are treated as the same name in the Visitation of Essex (1541), pp. 36, 181, 211, 753.

Henry Auger, alias Henry fil. Aucher, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Auger fil. Eudon, co. Salop, ibid.

John fil. Aucher, co. Camb., ibid.

1581. Nicholas Awger and Elizabeth Russell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 103.

1674. Buried.—Elizabeth Aucher, only daughter of Sir Antony Aucher, Bart., co. Kent: St. Mary Aldermar (London), p. 180.

London, 1, 1, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 6, 0, 1, 0.

August.—Bapt. 'the son of Auguste.' Probably an importation from the Low Countries or France, as I find few traces of the name in England as a font-name, except in the form of Austin, q.v. The Boston (U.S.) Directory has August, Auguste, Augusta, Augustine, and Augustus among its list of surnames; cf. German August, Fr. Auguste.

1663. Francis August, of Greenwich, and Mary Fisher: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 93.

Francis August, 1693: Reg. St. Mary Aldermar (London), p. 111.

1772. Married.—Isaac Augustus and Rebecca Rawlings: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 221.

London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 4.

Augustine.—Bapt. 'the son of Augustine.' Popularly known in England as Austin, q.v. Augustine is a dim. of August, q.v.

Augustin Aceris, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Mariota fil. Augustin, co. Hunts, ibid.

John Augustyn, co. Camb., ibid.

1596. Married.—Guilbart Wylkison and Gertrude Augustin: St. Antholin, p. 38.

1613. Bapt.—Thomazin, d. John Augustine: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 67.

1667-8. Nicholas Reeves and Sarah Augustin: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 232.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Auld, Ault, Aulde.—Nick. 'the old,' a North English form; v. Old; cf. Young, Yonge. The following is curious:—

1608. 'July 7, was delivered unto Christes hospitall a child that was laid at Sir William Paddie's dore, who is named Elizabeth Alde': St. Mary Aldermar, p. 70.

1788. Married.—John Ault and Mary Williams: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 16.

1805. — George Slemaker and Ann Auld: ibid. p. 333.

— James Ault and Sarah Poucher: ibid.

London, 2, 0, 0; Manchester, 3, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 7, 2, 1.

Aust, Austen, Austin, Austing, Asten, Astin, Astins.—Bapt. 'the son of Augustine'; O.E. Austin. Very popular in the 13th century.

'Til he foundede freres of Austynes ordre.' Piers Plowman, 10193-4.

A whole column of Austin appears in the London Directory. The name was made common by the Austin Friars, or Black Canons, as they were often styled from their black cloaks, who were established early in the 12th century in England, and possessed of about 170 houses. Astin (q.v.), confounded often with the local Aston, was an early form.

Astin de Bennington, co. Linc., 1273. A. Wilekin fil. Austin. C.

Austin Trim, C. R., 41 Hen. III.

Augustinus Mewhird, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 286.

Willelmus Austyn-man, i. e. servant, 1379: ibid.

John Austen, or Austyn, or Augustyne, 1538: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 190.

1557. Buried.—Austin Clark: St. Dionis Backchurch (London).

1570. — Alice, d. of Austyn Pawmer: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 191.

1777. Married.—George Stanser and Ann Aust: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 273.

London, 3, 18, 89, 2, 1, 0, 1; New York, 2, 4, 94, 1, 11, 1, 0.

Auty, Awty.—Bapt. 'the son of Auty' (?). Seemingly an early personal name. A well-known surname in co. York.

Simon Auty et Johanna uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 72.
Robertus Auty: ibid. p. 73.
Cecilia Auty: ibid.
George Autie, of Lydiat, 1596: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 8.
1784. Married.—John Baldwin and Eliz. Auty: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 363.
West Riding Court Dir., 4, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0.

Aveling.—Bapt. 'the son of Aveline'; v. Eveline. The g in Aveling is, of course, excrement, as in Jennings.

Avelina le Gros. J.
Avelina de Leys. J.
Avelina (without surname), co. Suff., 1273. A.
William Aveline, co. Camb., ibid.
Thomas Kyng et Avelyn uxore ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 127.
Avelina Batay, co. Norf., temp. 1430: FF. x. 342.

Andrew Avelyn, rector of Swanton-Morley, co. Norf., 1489: ibid. x. 57.
John Avelyn, vicar of Tibenham, co. Norf., 1503: ibid. v. 278.

Aveline is found both in the 16th and 17th centuries as a font-name.

1575. Tremor Harvyne and Aveline Baldwin: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 66.
1661-2. Samuel Temmatt and Avelin Bateman, co. Berks: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 66.
1708. Samuel Aveline and Eliz. George-Laroche: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 337.
London, 3; Boston (U.S.), 2; MDB. (Cambridge), 7.

Avenell, Averell, Averill.—? Bapt. 'the son of Avenel' (?). Always without prefix in the Hundred Rolls, whose instances are generally in the neighbourhood of co. Camb. Mr. Lower suggests a local origin from Avenelles, in the department of Eure. This is quite possible; one thing seems quite certain, the chief modern variant is Averill or Averell. Any one who has studied the corruptions undergone by surnames will feel no surprise at this.

John Avenel, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Ralph Avenel, co. Norf., ibid.
Elena Avenel, co. Oxf., ibid.
1626. Richard Treat and Mary Averill, d. William Averell (sic): Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 178.
1664. Bapt.—Ann, d. George Averill: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 221.
London, 3, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 3, 19.

Avenner.—Occup. 'the avenner,' 'O.F. avenier, avener, oat-merchant. A chief officer of the stable, who had charge of the provender for the horses' (H.E.D.).

'The aveynere shall ordeyn provande good won
For the lordys horsis everychon.'
1460. Boke of Curtasye, 305.
'To John Redyng, avenner, for the expenses of le palfrais, 50*l.*': Materials for History of Reign of Henry VII, p. 407.
Alan le Avenner, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Walter le Avenner, co. Oxf., ibid.
William le Avenner, co. Oxf., ibid.
Ralph le Avenner, 1306. M.

I am afraid the surname is extinct.

Avery, Avory, Auvrey, Averson.—Bapt. 'the son of Avery'; v. Every. Avery is strongly represented in the United States, especially in Boston. This is easily accounted for. Jacob Averie (aged 33) and George Averie (aged 23) sailed for Virginia in 1635. Others of the same name followed. (v. Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 121, and v. Index.)

Hugh fil. Auveray, co. Notts, 1273. A.
Ralph Avery, co. Oxf., ibid.
1541. Ralph, son of Mr. Averson: St. Peter's, Cornhill, p. 2.
1608. Avere Thompson, co. Camb., Queen's Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 301.
1609. Married.—Mathewe Averson and Eliz. Philipps: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 19.
1621.—John Burley and Mary Avarey: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 102.
1780.—James Avory and Lucy Christmass: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 315.
London, 13, 3, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 41, 0, 0, 0.

Aves, Avis, Avison.—Bapt. 'the son of Avis,' originally Hawisia or Hawoyse. This very soon settled into Avicia, Avice, or Avis. It was decidedly popular for several centuries, and is just coming into use again, after two hundred years of almost entire neglect. (For history of the name, v. Yonge, ii. 212.) For further instances, v. Haweis.

Eusebius Avice, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Geoffrey fil. Avice, co. Linc., ibid.
Margaret fil. Avice, co. Camb., ibid.
Avice le Aubergere. H.
Hawisia le Gros. J.
William Avison. ZZ.
1590. Bapt.—Avis, d. Philip Cliff: Stepney Parish Church, London.
1600.—Avice, d. Thomas Bennett: Reg. St. Columb Major, Cornwall.
1601. Buried—Margery Avison: St. Peter's, Cornhill, p. 151.
1622. Samuel Avis and Eliz. Lenton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 118.

1773. Married.—George Plumley and Dorothy Avis: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 231.
1778.—William Aves and Mary Schooling: ibid. p. 288.
London, 5, 7, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 3.

Awdrey, Awdry, Audrey.—Bapt. 'the son of Etheldreda,' popularly Awdry. St. Awdry's Fair is held on Oct. 17, at the Isle of Ely. Its St. Awdry necklaces, showy but cheap, gave rise to the term 'tawdry-lace,' whence adj. tawdry; v. Skeat.

Etheldredale Ray, C.R., 27 Edw. III, pt. 1.
Etheldreda Plote, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Audrey Bendish, co. Norf.: FF. viii. 188.
Awdrie Butts, temp. Eliz. Z.
1567. Bapt.—Awdrye Chatterton: St. Michael, Cornhill.

1579. Married.—George Burton and Joane Awdry: St. Antholin (London), p. 27.
1610. Bapt.—Awdrey, d. John Cooke, butcher: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), 1624-5. Thomas White and Audrey, alias Etheldred Annie: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 149.
Awdry Almond, 1635: Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 93.
Awdie Bullingham (fem.), 1636: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 18.
1737. Buried—Audry, wife of Thomas Amys, surgeon: St. Andrew the Apostle (Norwich): FF. iv. 311.
1768. Married.—Rowland Hopkins and Audry Stevens: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 182.
London, 0, 0, 0; Crockford, 0, 5, 0.

Awre.—Local, 'of Awre,' a parish in co. Glouc.

Robert de Awre held Awre and Box, co. Glouc., 55 Hen. III: Atkyn's Hist. Glouc., p. 122.
Walter de Awre, co. Glouc., 1 Edw. I: ibid. MDB. (co. Glouc.), 1.

Axon.—Bapt. 'the son of—' (?). This Lancashire and Cheshire surname has clearly no connexion with Axton (q.v.). It is a patronymic formed like Jaxon, Dixon, Dix, or Cox, which represent Jackson, Dickson, Dicks, or Cocks. I can but suggest that it is Atkinson, which in my part of Lancashire (Furness) is invariably pronounced Atkison or Akison; v. Atkinson.

Thomas Acson, of Knottysforth, in Cheshire, 1561: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 1.

John Acson, of Leftwick, 1585: ibid.
John Ackson, of Leftwick, yeoman, 1641: ibid. (1621-1650), p. 1.
Thomas Axon, of Ashton-under-Lyne, husbandman, 1635: ibid. p. 10.
1581. Bapt.—Ellen Ackeson: Prestbury Ch. (co. Chester), p. 68.
1602. William Acson, co. Ches.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 250

1616. Married—Ralph Houghton and Anna Axon: Prestbury Ch. (co. Chester), p. 210.
London, 1; Manchester, 4; Philadelphia, 1.

Axtell.—? Bapt. 'the son of Axtell' (?); probably a variant.

Ralph Axtell, co. Soms, 1 Edw III: Kirby's Quest, p. 100.
1683. Joseph Collyer and Eliz. Axtell: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 128.
1686. John Axtell and Mary Drew: ibid. p. 249.
1690. Married—Richard Axtill and Susanna Belt: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 209.
London, 4.

Axton, Axten, Axon.—Local, 'of Axton.' A hundred in co. Kent. Axon in the south of England seems to be but a lazy corruption. The following entries (1557-77) manifestly refer to the same family:—

1557. Married—Lawrence Axson and Margaret Tipper: St. Peter's, Cornhill, p. 15.
1561. Bapt.—Lawrence Axtoune: ibid. p. 124.
1562. Buried—Lawraunce Axton: ibid. p. 115.
1572. Bapt.—Margery, d. of Lawrence Axon: ibid. p. 223.
1577. Buried—Lawrence Axsoune, merchant taylor: ibid. p. 9.
1630. Bapt.—Everelda, d. Robert Axon: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 116.
1642. —Charles, s. John Axton: ibid. i. 152.
London, 2, 2, 1; Manchester, 0, 0, 4; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 1.

Aylen, Ayling, Aylin.—Bapt. 'the son of Aylwin', q.v. Compounds of win always corrupt to in, en, and ing; v. Golden and Golding for Goldwin. The g in Ayling is, of course, excrement; cf. Jennings.

Ayelyne Algar, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Adam Ayline, co. Oxf., ibid.
Richard Ayline, co. Hunts, ibid.
Thomas Ailwine, co. Oxf., ibid.
1621. Bapt.—Blaise, s. Nicholas Ayleing: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 90.
1760. Married—George Waldie and Ann Ayling: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 183.
MDB. (co. Essex), 1, 0, 1; London, 2, 11, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1, 0; New York, 0, 2, 0.

Aylett, Ayllett, Aylott.—Bapt. 'the son of Ailet.' This is the Domesday form of the personal name (Lower). For other forms, v. Allott.

Walter Aylet, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Katerine Ayllyht, co. Camb., ibid.

John Ayllyth, co. Camb., ibid.
William Allot, co. Camb., ibid.
1628. Thomas Westbrook and Joane Aylet: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 104.
1653. Bapt.—Charles, s. Edward Allett: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 185.
1739. Married—George Turner and Eliz. Aylett: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 67.
London, 9, 1, 4; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 1.

Ayliffe, Aylieff.—Bapt. 'the son of Ailof.' In Domesday.

Ailef de Palestu, 1176: KKK. p. 25.
Eilaf fil. Gospatric, 1166: ibid. p. 10.
Arnaed Fitz-Aluf, sheriff of London, 1198: WWW.
Robertus Haylyf, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 157.
Alif White (masc.), 1648: Reg. St. Jas. Clerkenwell, p. 171.
John Aliff, 1645: ibid. p. 161.
Thomas Ayloffe, co. Essex, c. 1500: FF. v. 325.

1608. Katherine, d. of Thomas Ayloffe: St. Peter's, Cornhill, ii. p. 21.
1702. Bapt.—Elizabeth, d. of Thomas Ayloffe: St. John Baptist on Wallbrook (London), p. 174.
1783. Married—William Ayliffe and Frances Weston: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 344.
London, 3, 1.

Aylmer, Aymer, Aymar.—Bapt. 'the son of Aylmar' or 'Ailmar.' Several instances occur in Domesday; v. Amery. A common surname in the Hundred Rolls. It was already going out of fashion in the 13th century as a font-name, and is rarely found as such in the 14th century, but it secured hereditary honours as a surname somewhat early, and as a consequence is well represented in our directories. The l is usually elided in the United States, but this occurred so early as the 13th century.

Aymar Hitche, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Adam Aylmer, co. Camb., ibid.
William Aylmar, co. Oxf., ibid.
Avic Ailmar, co. Camb., ibid.
John Aylmere, rector of Ingworth, co. Norf., 1353: FF. vi. 368.
Thomas Ailmer, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 129.
1616. Married—Henry Cartwright and Ann Ailmer: St. Antholin (London), p. 52.
1607. Justinian Aylmer and Catherine Faulkner: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 323.
London, 2, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 3; New York, 0, 0, 5; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0.

Aylward, Aylard.—Bapt. 'the son of Aylward'; v. Allard.

Aylward Oldcorn. L.
Bernard Aylward, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
Beatrix Aylward, co. Bucks, ibid.
Alan Alward, co. Camb., ibid.

This last variant (common in the Hundred Rolls) led on to Allard, q.v.

Simon fil. Aylward, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.
John Ayleward, Norwich, 1325: FF. iv. 477.

Hamond Ayleward, vicar of Swardeston, co. Norf., 1376: ibid. v. 52.
Nicholas Aylward, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 179.
1691. Bapt.—William, s. William Ayleward: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 343.
1705. Buried—Thomas Aylward: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 274.
London, 2, 1; Boston (U.S.), 12, 0.

Aylwin, Alwin, Alwine, Alwyne.—Bapt. 'the son of Aylwin'; v. Aylen.

Richard Alewyn, co. Wilts, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Alewyn (without surname), co. Norf., 1273. A.
Alwyne Tyche, co. Camb., ibid.
Robert Aylwyne, co. Camb., ibid.
Emma Aylwyne, co. Hunts, ibid.
Reginald Ailwyne, co. Camb., ibid.
Richard Aylweyn, rector of Dickleburgh, co. Norf., 1394: FF. i. 194.
1666. Thomas Aylwin and Mary Hunt: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 125.
1760. Married—William Aylwin and Mary Wright: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 189.
London, 1, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 1, 1.

Aynsley; v. Ainsley.

Ayre, Ayer.—Official or nick. 'the heir.' It is curious to note that while Ayre is the almost universal English form (saving Eyre), Ayer is equally universal in the United States. For early and other instances, v. Ayres and Eyre.

Roger le Hayre, or Eyre, or Ayer, co. Norf., 1264: FF. v. 310.
1583. Humphrey Mercer and Katherine Ayer: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 118.
1757. Married—Francis Lee and Ann Ayre: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 74.
London, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 49.

Ayres, Ayars, Ayers, Ayris, Ayrs.—Nick. 'the son of the heir.' No doubt a variant of Ayre or Eyre, q.v., with the patronymic s suffixed, as in Jones, Simmons, Roberts, &c. Therefore literally 'the son of the heir.' My first instance seems to set the matter at rest.

John fil. Aer, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Henry Ayer, co. Linc., ibid.
'This year (1510) was Thomas Ayers, priest, of Norwich, burnt at Eccles': FF. iii. 193.
1582. John Ayer and Alice Moyle: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 111.

1610. Hugh Jones and Eliz. Ayres: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 325.
1724. Married—Richard Ayars of St. Alpage: St. Antholin (London), p. 139.

Several families of Ayres or Aires went out to America in the 17th century, which fact accounts for its familiar recurrence in the United States; v. index, Hotten's Lists of Emigrants.

MDb. (co. Norfolk), 6, 4, 0, 1, 0; London, 25, 6, 0, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 7, 0, 30, 0, 0.

Ayrton.—Local, 'of Ayrton,' a township in the parish of Kirkby-in-Malham-Sale, near Settle, West Rid. Yorks.

Nicholaus de Ayrton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 206.

Willelmus de Ayreton: ibid. p. 271.

1662. John Bond and Margery Ayrton: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 50.

1797. Married—John Barlow and Charlotte Ayrton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 172.

1805. — William Garrott and Ellen Ayrton: ibid. p. 336.

London, 2.

Aysh, Ayshford.—Local; v. Ash and Ashford. These seem to be Devonshire variants; cf. Ric. de Ayswell (Ashwell) or Philip de Ayston (Ashton), 1273. A (index).

1627. Thomas Aysse and Katherine Sheppard: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 194.

1663. Thomas Sayward and Mary Gold. Alleged by Thomas Aysse: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 89.

1704. Robert Barker and Eliz. Aishe: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 332.

London, 0, 2.

B

Baalham, Balam.—Local, 'of Baylham,' a parish two miles and a half from Needham, Market, co. Suffolk. The surname is evidently imitative of Baalam.

1577. Edward Ballam, co. Bucks: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 78.

1613. Richard Balam: ibid. p. 329.

Robert Balam, rector of Walsoken, co. Norfolk, 1635: FF. ix. 129.

'Juxta deponuntur Anna, uxor prima Jacobi Verdon, A.M., filia Gulielmi Balam, armigeri, 13 die Februarii, 1684.' East Dereham, co. Norfolk: ibid. x. 214.

Alexander Balam, co. Norfolk, 21 Eliz.: ibid. ix. 131.

1684. Anthony Balaam and Matilda Vernon: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 175.

1731. William Tuffnell and Mary Balam: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 252.

London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 5.

Babb, Babbs.—Bapt. 'the son of Barbara,' from the nick. Babb. Barbara was extremely popular in the 13th and 14th centuries; v. Barbot.

Walter Babbe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 147.

1259. Nicholas Bab: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting.

Berthol Babbe, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

John Babbe, co. Wilts, ibid.

William Babbe, co. Oxf., ibid.

1553. Married—Richard Babb and Eliz.

Tomson: Kensington Church, p. 50.

1558. — John Baldyn and Eliz. Babbs: ibid.

1596. John Babb, co. Linc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf., vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 216.

1757. Married—Walter Shropshire and Catherine Babb: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 73.

1765. — George Solden and Elizabeth Babbs: ibid. p. 143.

Crockford, 1, 0; London, 1, 3; Philadelphia, 12, 0.

Babbage, Babbidge, Babidge.—Local, 'of Babbage.' Probably some local name with the same prefix as Babbacombe, co. Devon, from which district the family are sprung.

1754. Buried—Edmund Babbidge: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 229.

1792. Married—Benjamin Babbage and Betty Plumleigh Teape: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 84.

Charles Babbage (1792–1871), the inventor of calculating machines, was born near Teignmouth, in co. Devon: Dict. Nat. Biog. ii. 304.

London, 2, 1; South Molton, co. Devon, 1, 0, 0; List of Farmers (Devonshire Dir.), 6, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 5, 0.

Babelot.—Bapt. 'the son of Barbara'; v. Barbot.

Baber.—Local, 'of Baber.'

Mr. Lower derives it from the Hundred of Babergh, co. Suffolk.

But in the Cornwall Directory occurs a place called Baber, seemingly the same as St. Dominick.

Baber is a familiar Devon and Cornwall surname.

Henry Babre, co. Camb., 1273. A.

1570. Bapt.—Alice, d. of Edward Baber: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 6.

1582. Francis Baber, London: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 118.

1601. Married—John Baber and Jane Whitlocke: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 17.

1608. John Baber, co. Soms.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 300.

1621. Edward Baber, co. Soms.: ibid. p. 392.

1757. Married—Noah Baber and Susan Monk: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 73.

Crockford, 3; London, 10; New York, 1.

Babington.—Local, 'of Babington,' a parish in co. Somerset, five or six miles from Frome. Also hamlets, Great and Little Babington, near Hexham, co. Northumberland.

Hugh de Babintone, co. Derby, 1273. A.

Robert de Babington, co. Linc., ibid.

Richard de Babington Magna, co. Northumb., ibid.

William de Babynnton, co. Northumb., 1340: KKK. vol. vi. p. xxxviii.

Henricus de Babbyngton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 33.

1576. John Babington, co. Notts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 71.

1597. Henry Babington, co. Oxf.: ibid. p. 220.

Anthony Babington (1561–86), leader of a Catholic conspiracy against Queen Elizabeth, ... descended from John de Babington ... owner of the district round Mickle and Little Babington, or Bavington, co. Northumberland: Dict. Nat. Biog. ii. 308.

The writer adds that branches of this family settled in cos. Derby and Leicester. From the latter Macaulay took his second name.

London, 3; Crockford, 10; New York, 3.

Bachelor, Bachelder.—Official, 'the bachelor'; v. Batchelar and Batchelder.

Jordan le Bachiler, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Robert Bachelere, co. Wilts, ibid.

1583. Edmund Bachelor and Eliz. Swinson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 126.

1600. William Bachiler, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 243.

1610. Stephen Bachiler, co. Hants: ibid. p. 317.

Boston (U.S.), 9, 25.

Back, Backe.—(1) Local, 'at the back,' i.e. one who resided in a cottage lying behind some others.

(2) — ? In the Eastern Counties Back seems to correspond with the German Bache.

John atte Back, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 173.

1562-3. Richard Mothe and Beatrice Backe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 25.

'Robert Bache, of Diss, co. Norf., husbandman,' Dec. 23, 1504: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), iii. 560.

1754. Married—Edward Back and Alice Fowler: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 277.

London, 10, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 3.

Backer.—Occup. 'the baker,' q.v.; cf. Backhouse and Baxter.

'To . . . the backers wyffe, for v. menses borde': 1466, Mann. and Housch. Exp. 211 (H.E.D.).

1547. James Bacar and Hungerford (sic): Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 11.

Edward Baccar, Aug. 20, 1591: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), iii. 95.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 4.

Backhouse, Bacchus, Backus.—Local, 'at the bake-house,' from residence therein. 'Bakehouse, or bakynge house: pistrina.' Prompt. Parv. Halliwell mistakenly makes it a back-house, or wash-house (v. Backas, i. 130).

1502. Arnold, Chron. 93, 'Ye shal kepe noe bachous' (H.E.D.).

William atte Bakehous, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 208.

Nicholas atte Bakhouse, co. Soms., ibid. p. 80.

Edmund atte Bakhus, 1307. M. Thomas Bacchus. ZZ.

With Bacchus (imitative), cf. Kirkus (Church-house), Malthus (Malt-house), or Loftus (Loft-house).

Thomas del Bakhouse, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 203.

William del Bakeus, 1379: ibid. p. 78.

William Backhouse or Bacchus, secular chaplain, 1538: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 192.

1571. George Backhouse and Ann Meryton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 51.

1753. Bapt.—John Bacchus, an adult: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 11.

London, 8, 0, 0; Crockford, 1, 0, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 8, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 9.

Backler.—Official, 'the bachelor'; v. Batchelor and Blackler.

Nicholas le Bakelere, C. R., 13 Edw. II. 1641. Bapt.—William, s. of George Backler: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 54.

1808. Married—William Chitty and Eliz. Backler: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 394.

London, 2.

Backster, Bagster, Baxter.—Occup. 'the baker,' a baker of bread, with the feminine suffix; originally a woman's occupation. Langland speaks of 'Baksteres and brewesteres,

And bochiers manye.'

'Baxter, bakstare, baker': Prompt. Parv. p. 21.

Backster is one of the names in Foxe's list of Marian martyrs. The ordinances of the Guild of the Purification (Bishop's Lynn, 1367), are signed by 'Johannes Austyn, baxter' (English Guilds, p. 90). Capgrave says, 'In this same tyme (B. c. 205) lyved the eloquent man which hite (was called) Plautus, and for al his eloquens he was compelled for to dwell with a baxter, and grind his corne at a querne.'

Giliana le Bacster, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

John le Bakstere, co. Norf., ibid.

Elias le Baxtere, 1302. M.

Bartholomew le Bakstere. B.

Andrew le Bakester. G.

Agnes Bakester, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 107.

Cecilia Bakester, vidua, ibid. p. 42.

William Mytton, backster, co. York, 1440: W. 11.

Patrick Adamson (1537-92), a Scotch prelate. 'His enemies taunted him with being a bakers son, "ane baxter's sone";' Dict. Nat. Biog. i. 111.

Thomas Smith, backster, 1622: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 73.

London, 0, 2, 56; New York (Backster), 1; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 99.

Bacon.—Nick. 'the Bacon,' a swineherd's sobriquet (?). A very common nick. in the Hundred Rolls; cf. Pigg, Wildbore, Hogg, affording proof that Bacon may have been used of a live pig originally.

John le Bacon. T.

Cecilia Bacon, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Wymer Bacon, co. Suff., ibid.

Simon Bacon, co. Oxf., ibid.

Walterus Bacon, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 101.

Thomas Bacon, 1379: ibid. p. 34.

1546. Humphrey Luce and Ann Bacon: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 9.

1576. Matthias Bacon, London: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 70.

London, 63; Philadelphia, 78.

Badams.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam'; Welsh, Ap-Adam, equivalent; to English Adamson; cf.

Bowen, Bevan, Bevans, Bethell, &c.

Thomas Apadam, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 94.

John Abbadam, Bristol, 27 Edw. I. BBB.

John ap Adam, 24 Edw. I. ibid.

1597. Married—John Hunter and Mary Baddam: Kensington Ch., p. 64.

1623. Thomas Batt and Mary Baddam: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 120.

1630. Bapt.—Phillip, s. William Badams: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 116.

Liverpool, 1.

Badcock, Batcock.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from nick. Bat or Bate, and suffix -cock; v. Cock; cf. Wilcock, Jeffcock, &c.

Geoffrey Batecock, London, 1273. A.

William Badcock, co. Camb., ibid.

Robert Batecock, co. Oxf., ibid.

Roger Badcock, 1306. M.

Stephen Badcock, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 88.

Badokok Jerveys, co. Soms., ibid.

1563. Buried—Vincent Badcooke: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 117.

1609. Married—John Forwood to Briget Bedcooke: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 11.

1611.—John Fell and Margerie Badcock: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 247.

Crockford, 3, 0; London, 6, 1.

Baddeley, Baddiley.—Local, 'of Baddiley,' a parish in co. Chester, near Nantwich. Also 'of Badley,' a parish in co. Norfolk.

William de Badeleye, co. Essex, 1273. A.

Geoffrey de Badele, co. Suff., ibid.

Robert de Badele, co. Norf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1608-9. William Badeley and Sarah Rathbone: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 310.

An unhappy corruption, of the imitative class, occurs in the following entry:—

1702. Married—James Page and Jane Badly: St. Antholin (London), p. 116.

London, 10, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Badger, Bagger.—Occup. 'the badger,' a hawk, a dealer in corn and other commodities, buying in one place to sell in another.

Thomas le Baggere, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Robert le Bagger, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands).

Willelmus Bagger, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 109.

Ricardus Badger, 1379: ibid. p. 128.

John le Baggere, C. R., 27 Edw. I.

1573. Roland Badger, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 55.

1605. Bapt.—William, s. John Bagger: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 38.

Rotherham Dir., 4, 0; London, 7, 0; Crockford, 4, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 7, 0; Boston (U.S.), 33, 0; New York, 3, 1.

Badkin.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from nick. Bate or Bat, and dim. Batkin; cf. Wilkin, Watkin, &c.; v. Badcock.

Batekyn Clericus, co. Essex, 1273. A. Batekin Lahan, co. Essex, ibid. 1779. Married—William Allen and Hannah Battkin; St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 298. London, 2.

Badnall; v. Bagnall.

Bagge, Bagge, Baggs, Back, Backe.—Bapt. 'the son of Bagge.' This surname occurs frequently in early rolls, and always without prefix. There seems no reason to doubt its being a Scandinavian personal name. This is confirmed by the dim. Bagelyn (cf. Hewling) and by the entry Bagekoc, where the suffix -cock occurs, which is only added to font-names; v. Introd. p. 26.

William Bage, co. Camb., 1273. A. Henry Bagekoc, co. Camb., ibid. Cattle (i.e. Ketel) Bagge, co. Camb., ibid.

Robert Bagge, co. Bucks, ibid. Helias Bag, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 158. Robertus Bag, 1379: ibid. Willelmus Bag, 1379: ibid. Walter Bagge, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 125.

William Bagelyn, co. Soms., ibid. p. 167.

In this same record we find Bagshay, i.e. 'the hedged enclosure,' belonging to Bagge.

Walter Baggesheyghe, ibid. p. 169. London, 4, 0, 1, 12, 0; Crockford, 0, 1, 0, 4, 0; New York, 2, 0, 3, 15, 2.

Bagger.—Occup.; v. Badger.

Bagley.—(1) Local, 'of Bagley.' Bagley Wood is an extra-parochial liberty near Abingdon, co. Berks. (2) For a second parentage, v. Baguley.

Tholomeo de Baggeleyhe, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 277. 1576. Thomas Bagley and Eliz. Hadwyn: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 72. 1581. Buried—Agnes, wife of Nicholas Bagley; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 85. 1642.—Humfry Bagly: ibid. p. 253. London, 5; Philadelphia, 9.

Bagnall, Badnall, Bagnell.—Local, 'of Bagnall,' a chapelry in the parish of Stoke-upon-Trent, in the co. of Stafford. Badnall is a modern corruption. Both forms are familiar in the county.

1578. Humfrey Bagnoll and Alice Hudson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 80. 1584. Robert Bagnald, co. Staff.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 139.

1597. Nicholas Bagenall, co. Carn.: ibid. p. 222.

1599. Ralph Bagnall, co. Worc.: ibid. p. 234.

1604. Married—Richard Morer and Ellen Bagnall: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 17. 1753.—Francis Bagnell and Eliz. Dickerson: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 237.

London, 2, 1, 0; MDB. (Stafford), 20, 3, 0; Boston (U.S.), 3, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 5.

Bagridge.—Local, 'of Bagridge.' The Hundred Rolls mention a place called Baggeriggestrete, co. Dorset (A. i. 102).

Walter de Baggerigg, co. Dorset, 1273. A.

Cristian Baggerig, co. Dorset, ibid.

Amice Baggerig, co. Dorset, ibid. London, 2.

Bagshaw, Bagshawe.—Local, 'of Bagshawe.' I cannot find the spot. Probably 'the shaw of Bagge,' the first settler; v. Bagge and Shaw.

Oliver de Bogeschaghe, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 216.

Richard de Bogeschaghe, co. Soms., ibid.

Nicholaus de Bagschaghe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 42.

Nicholas Bagshawe, temp. Eliz. Z.

Humfry Bagshawe, temp. Eliz. ZZ.

1563. Married—Richard Warren and Elenor Bagshawe: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 3.

1604. Edward Bageshaw, London: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 278.

Sheffield, 13, 2; London, 3, 5; Philadelphia, 3, 0.

Bagster.—Occup. 'the baxter'; v. Backster.

Baguley, Bagley, Baggallay, Baggalee, Baggerley.—Local, 'of Baguley,' a township near Northenden, co. Chester. The Manchester Directory has Bagoley and Baggoley; v. Bagley.

Henry de Bageler, cos. Salop and Staff., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

William de Baggilegh, 1318: Earwaker's, East Ches. i. 156.

Hamo de Baggelegh, 1352: ibid. ii. 234.

Johannes de Bagley, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 63.

William de Baggiley, mayor of Stockport, 1382: Earwaker's East Ches. i. 346.

1589-0. Thomas Baguley and Katherine Aufen: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 185.

1597. William Denby and Johane Baggalea: ibid. i. 242.

Thomas Baguley, 1622, Heaton Norris: Lanc. and Ches. Rec. Soc. xii. 152.

Manchester, 3, 2, 0, 0, 0; London, 2, 5, 4, 3, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2, 34, 0, 0, 0.

Bailey, Baillie, Bailly, Bailly, Bayley, Baylie, Bayly, Baylis, Bayliss, Bayles, Bayless.—Office, 'the baillie,' i.e. bailiff. The same forms, or nearly all, may be seen in H.E.D. (v. Baillie); 'now obsolete in England, but retained in a special sense in Scotland'. O.F. bailli (13th cent.), later form of baillis (H.E.D.). Hence Baylis, Bayliss, &c.; cf. Jolly and Jolliffe.

'Artow than a bayely?' 'Ye,' quod he.—Chaucer, Freres Tale, 92 (quoted in H.E.D.).

Roger le Baillif, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 248.

Richard le Baillif, C. R., 7 Edw. I.

Alvered Baillivus, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Henry Bailly, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Bailif, co. Oxf., ibid.

Seman le Baylif, J.

Henry le Baillie, 1307. M.

Richard le Baylif, co. Heref., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Adam Ballef, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 197.

London, 135, 3, 1, 14, 29, 1, 5, 20, 6, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 216, 2, 0, 16, 14, 9, 2, 4, 1, 5, 0.

Bainbridge, Bambridge, Bainbrigg.—Local, 'of Bainbridge,' a township in the parish of Aysgarth, N. Rid. Yorks. This surname has spread widely, and ramified strongly.

Rogerus de Baynbryg, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 288.

'Christopher Bainbridge (1464?–1514), archbishop of York, born at Hilton, near Appleby, co. Westm.': Dict. Nat. Biog. ii. 433.

Thomas Bainbrigg, master of Christ's College, Camb. (1620–1646), "descended out of the North": ibid. p. 445.

'Reginald Baynbridge or Bainbrigg (1545–1606), schoolmaster and antiquary, born probably in Westmoreland': ibid. p. 434.

London, 11, 1, 1; West Riding Court Dir., 2, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 17, 0, 0.

Baines, Baynes, Bains.—Local, 'of Baines,' some spot in co. York (?). Lower says 'a village near Bayeux in Normandy, probably so called from bain, a bath' (p. 16).

Henry de Bayns, co. Linc., 1273. A. John de Bayns, co. Linc., ibid.

John de Bayns, co. Staff., Hen. III. Edw. I. K.

Susprius de Bayons, C.R., 20 Edw. I. Thomas de Baines, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 48.

1577. Bapt.—Franunces, d. Richard Baines: St. Peter's, Cornhill, i. 18.

West Riding Court Dir., 17, 3, 0; London, 17, 9, 0; Philadelphia, 7, 0, 10; New York (Baynes), 1.

Baker.—Occup. 'the baker'; v. Backster and Baxter.

Walter le Baker, co. Devon, 1273. A. William le Bakere, co. Oxf., ibid.

Alan le Baker, co. Sussex, ibid. John le Baker, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 219.

Roger le Baker, co. Soms., ibid. p. 220. 1555. Bapt.—Jane Baker: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 7.

London, 272; Philadelphia, 420.

Balancer.—Occup. 'the balancer,' a maker of balances or weighing machines. 'Weighed in the balances,' Dan. v. 27. F. balance, 'a balance, a pair of weights, or ballances,' Cotg. Cocke Lorelle's Bote includes—

'Aroweheders, maltermen, and cornemongers.

Balancers, tynne-casters, and skryveners.'

Ralph le Balancer, Liberate Roll, 15 Edw. II. He was sheriff of London in 1316.

Rauf le Balancer. M. Radulf le Balancer. N.

John Balauncer. G. Ralph le Balauncer, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

Balch.—? Bapt. 'the son of Balch.' Mr. Lower suggests that this is an abbreviation of Balchin. I should rather say it was the parent; v. Balchin.

Robert Balch, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 252.

1604. John Balche: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 400.

1659. Buried—Mary, d. John Balch: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 328.

London, 5; MDB. (co. Soms.), 4; Philadelphia, 3.

Balchin.—Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin,' from nick. Ball (q.v.) and suffix -kin; cf. Wilkin, Tompkin, &c. Balchin is a Dutch form. Lower says the fuller form Baldech is a German surname. We may gather from the want of early instances that this is a name more recently introduced from the continent.

1721. Bapt.—Mary, d. Richard Baulchin: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 122.

1753. Married—William Dean and Mary Balchin: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 236. London, 4.

Balcock.—Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin,' from the nick. Ball (q.v.) with suffix -cock (v. Introd. p. 26); cf. Wilcock, &c. This has become corrupted to Bawcock, an ordinary corruption; cf. Shallcross and Shawcross.

Alan Balkok, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Geoffrey Balcok, co. York, ibid.

Johannes Balkok, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 43.

Ibbot Bolkok, 1379: ibid. Robertus Balcok, 1379: ibid. p. 138.

1627. Married—Richard Foge and Sara Bawcoke: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 16.

Still exists according to Lower.

Baldbody.—Nick. equivalent to Ballard, q.v.; cf. Freebody, Goodbody, Handsomebody, or Peabody.

Johanna Baldbody, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 5.

Balderson, Bolderson.—Local, 'of Balderston,' q.v.; cf. Kelson for Kelston. The suffix -ston is frequently modified to -son.

London, 4, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0; Manchester, 0, 3.

Balderston.—Local, 'of Balderston' or 'Balderstone,' a parish in co. Lanc., near Blackburn; v. Balderson.

Richard de Baldreston, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands).

Johannes de Baldreston, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 289.

Robertus de Baldreston, 1379: ibid. Ric. de Baldirston, 1397: Preston Guild Roll, p. 11.

William Balderston, 1459: ibid. p. 12. 1591. James Balderstone and Constance Spackman: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 194.

London, 2; Manchester, 2; Philadelphia, 12.

Baldock.—Local, 'of Baldock,' a parish in co. Herts, eighteen miles from Hertford.

Robert de Baldok, co. Northampt., 20 Edw. I. R.

William de Baldak, co. Camb., ibid. Elias Baldek, co. Wilts, ibid.

1537. George Baldock and Agnes Hatton: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 9.

1648. Married—Nathan Baldocke and Ann Gibbons: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 18.

1676. Bapt.—George, s. Samuel Baldocke: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 103.

London, 6; New York, 2.

Baldrey, Baldry.—Bapt. 'the son of Baldric' or 'Balderic'; v. Brodrick.

Hugo fil. Baldrici: Domesday. Baldricus de Noneton, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Edward Baldri, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Matilda Baldri, ibid.

Alicia Balrich, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 130.

Matylda Baldry, ibid. p. 260. 1595. William Baldrye and Alice Binckes: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 223.

1665. Married—John Baldrey and Em Smith: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 125.

London, 1, 6; New York, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 5, 0.

Baldwin.—Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin.' As a personal name, so popular in the surname period that it has left its mark deeply indented on all our modern directories; v. Ball, Bodden, Bawcock, &c. Baldwin occurs in Domesday. An aunt of the Conqueror married Baldwin, earl of Flanders; and William himself espoused Matilda, daughter of the fifth Baldwin of that earldom. No wonder Flanders was called 'Baldwin's land' (Freeman's Norm. Conq. i. 601).

Stephen fil. Baldwyn, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Thomas Baldwyn, co. Oxf., ibid. Robert Baldwyne, co. Camb., ibid.

Johannes Bawdwin, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 175.

1580. Thomas Baldwyn or Bauldwin, co. Salop: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 180.

1597–8. Edward Baldwyn and Margery Draper: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 246.

London, 39; Philadelphia, 94.

Balestier, Ballister.—Occup. 'the arbelister,' an arbalester, or balister, a cross-bowman; v. Banister and Alabaster.

Simon Belystre, or Belystre, B.A., June, 1530: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 104.

Henry Balistarius, co. Berks, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1674. Bapt.—Ann, d. Thomas Balisster: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 265.

New York, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Balguy.—Nick. 'the bulgy' or 'bulky,' a stout, paunchy man; v. Skeat (bulge and bulk); cf. Fatt, Bigg, Little, &c.

Hugh li (sic) Baylgy, co. Norf., 1273. A. Hugh le Balgy, ibid.

Magota Balgy, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 83. Matilda Balgy, 1379: ibid.

Dionicia Balgy, 1379: ibid. Cf. Geoffrey Balky, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Nicholas Balgie, or Balgee, sup. for B.A., 1566: Reg. Univ. Ox. i. 242.
1593. Bapt.—Richard, son of John Balgay: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 34.

1602. Married—John Ellis and Jane Balgay: ibid. p. 9.
London, 1; West Riding Court Dir., 1.

Balkwill.—Local, 'of Bake-well,' ? parish in co. Derby.

William (Rector de Baukwel), co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

John de Bauquelle, co. Kent, ibid.
Cecilia de Baukwell, London, ibid.
Roger de Bauquell, co. Derby, ibid.
1892. Died—William Edward Balkwill: Daily Telegraph, July 14.
London, 1; New York, 1.

Ball.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin,' from the nick. Bald. This was popularly Ball. The large number of Balls in the London Directory is accounted for by the great favour in which the name was held, and the constant influx from the Low Countries, where for a time it ruled supreme. The d in some cases might be dropped later on, on account of its suggesting baldness. We find Balcock in the Hundred Rolls, -cock being the suffix usually appended to the nick. of fontal names (v. Balcock). (2) Nick. 'the bald'; v. Ballard. The representatives of this sobriquet have also dropped the final d to hide the truth. Amongst very many instances occur:

Custance Balde, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Richard Bald, co. Ox., ibid.
John Balde, co. Norf., ibid.
Albred Balle, co. Hunts, ibid.
John Balde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 115.
Isabella Balle, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 212.
Johannes Balde-man, i. e. John, the servant of Balde: ibid. p. 217.

From either (1) or (2) or both came a pet name given to various animals. Ball is mentioned as the name of a horse in Chaucer and Tusser, of a sheep in the Promptorium, and of a dog in the Privy Purse Expenses of Henry VIII (Halliwell).

'Item, the 14th day (May, 1530) paid to one in rewarde for bringing home Ball the Kinges dog that was loste in the Forrest of Waltham 5s.' Privy Purse Expenses, Henry VIII, p. 43.

'Balle, schepys name': Prompt. Parv. p. 22.

(3) Local, 'at the Ball,' a sign-name; cf. Bell, Roebuck, &c.

John atte Balle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 149.

Henry atte Balle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 258.

This sign-name has existed for centuries.

London, 64; Philadelphia, 104.

Ballard.—Nick. 'bald-headed.' The hair, or absence of it, gave us a large number of early nicknames, the majority of which still exist as surnames. Ballard seems to have been very popular for a bald-headed man; v. Ball. Professor Skeat quotes:

'And scorneden to hym saying, Styte up, ballard,' 1382: Wyclif, 2 Kings ii. 23.

Richard Balleheved, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 206.

Peter Ballard, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 252.

Alured Balard, co. Essex, 1273. A.
Dreu Ballard, co. Hunts, ibid.

Thomas Ballard, co. Suff., ibid.
Henry Ballard, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

1615. Ralph Ballard, co. Ox.: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 339.

1634. Married—William Mayle and Mary Ballede: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 19.
London, 26; Philadelphia, 10.

Balleine, Ballin.—Nick. 'le Balun,' i. e. the whale; Fr. balaine.

Baloun (without surname), co. Leic., 1273. A.

Balun, ibid.
John le Balun, co. Heref., ibid.

Alan Balun, co. Northampton, ibid.
John le Balun. L.

London, 0, 2; Crockford, 4, 0; New York, 0, 14.

Ballinger, Ballenger.—Occup.; v. Bullinger.

1670. Edmund Burt and Audrey Ballinger: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 45.

1701. Married—Henry Kirby and Patience Ballinger: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 63.

Balm, Balme.—Loc. 'of Balne,' a parish near Snaith, co. York. The corruption was an early and natural one. The surname is well known in the county.

The following entries occur in the same village (Wadworth):

Johannes Balne, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 76.

Johannes Balm, 1379: ibid.
Willelmus de Balne, 1379: ibid. p. 50.

Emma de Balne, 1379: ibid. p. 40.
Thomas de Balme, 1379: ibid. p. 39.

1745. Married—John Balm and Sarah Brewerton: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 50.
West Riding Court Dir., 1, 5; New York, 0, 2.

Balshaw.—Local, 'of Balshaw,' some spot in the vicinity of Lathom, co. Lanc.

Adam de Balshagh, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 120.

John de Balshagh, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid.
1608. John Balshaw, of Snape within Scarisbrick: Wills at Chester, i. 10.

1622. William Balshaw, of Walton-le-Dale, ibid.

1628. Margaret Balshaw, of Mawsley, spinster: ibid. ii. 11.

MDb. (co. Lanc.), 6; Liverpool, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Bamber.—Local, 'of Bamber,' now more familiarly known as Bamber Bridge, a village three miles from Preston, co. Lanc.

1619. Robert Bamber, of Dukinfield: Wills at Chester, i. 10.

1642. Robert Bamber: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 95.

—John Bamber: ibid.

1664. Bapt.—Katharine, d. John Bomber, of Farrington: Reg. Leyland (co. Lanc.), p. 44.

1683. William, s. Thomas Bomber, of Fuxton: ibid. p. 73.

London, 2; Liverpool, 7; Manchester, 6; Boston (U.S.), 6; Philadelphia, 1.

Bambrough, Bamburg.—Local, 'of Bambrough,' a parish in co. Northumberland.

Beatrix de Bamburg, co. Northumb., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

William de Bamburg, co. Northumb., ibid.

Anselm de Bamburg', co. Norf., 1273. A.
Robertus Janitor Castri de Bamburg, co. Northumb., ibid.

William de Bamburg, prior of Coldingham, 1355: QOO, p. 380.

1524. John Fairfax and Alice Bamburg: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 4.

1775. Married—William Bamburg and Ann Goodin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 252.

London, 1, 1; New York, 1, 1.

Bamfield, Bampfield, Banfield, Banfill.—Local, 'of Bamfylde,' some place in co. Devon or co. Somerset, whence in the latter Weston-Bamfylde, a parish six miles from Castle-Cary. As a surname Banfield is the chief variant.

1575. Ames (Amias) Banfilde, co. Devon: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 63.

1581. Richard Bampfield, or Bamfield, co. Devon: ibid. p. 100.

1582. Giles Bampfield, co. Devon: ibid. p. 121.

1752. Married—William Smith and Hannah Bamfeld: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. p. 47.

1766. Married—Sir John Saunders Sebright and Sarah Knight. Witness, Copp Warre Bampfylde: ibid. p. 154.

—John Bamfield and Betty Nunn: ibid. p. 156.

London, i, 1, 6, 0; Exeter (Banfill), i, 1; MDB. (co. Devon), 0, 1, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 2, 0.

Bamford, Balmforth, Bamforth, Bamfard. Local, 'of Bamford.' Bircle-cum-Bamford is a township in the parish of Middleton, near Bury, co. Lanc.

'The estate of Bamford was granted to Thomas de Bamford by Sir Adam de Bury, temp. Henry III, for his homage and services,' &c.: Baines' Lanc. i. 525.

Richard de Bamford, co. York, 1273. A. Adam Bamforth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 80.

Adam de Baumford, 1379: ibid. p. 123. 1602. William Bamford, of Bamford, parish of Bury: Wills at Chester, i. 10.

1613. James Bamford, of Hurdfield: ibid.

1738. Henry Bamford and Eliz. Becket: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 22.

London, 9, 1, 0, 0; Manchester, 3, 1, 0, 0; Bury, 1, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 10, 1, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 1, 1.

Bampton.—Local, 'of Bampton,' parishes in cos. Devon, Oxford, Cumberland, and Westm. A variant of the name is Banton, q.v.

Philip de Bampton, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest. p. 148.

Brian de Bampton, co. Oxf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

John de Bampton, co. Wilts, ibid. Thomas de Bampton, co. Cumb., 20 Edw. I. R.

1785. Married—Joshua Bampton and Rebecca Stiles: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 371. London, 2.

Banbury, Bambury, Bambery.—Local, 'of Banbury,' a well-known town in co. Oxford.

Thomas de Banneburi, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Edmund de Bannebur', co. Oxf., ibid. William de Bannebir', co. Oxf., ibid.

1591. Edward Banberye, co. Middlesex: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 184.

1619. Thomas Bunburie, or Banbury, co. Kent: ibid. p. 376. But see Bunbury.

1765. Married—Joseph Powell and Mary Banbury: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 146.

London, 9, 1, 0; New York, 0, 0, 2.

Bancroft.—Local, 'of the bankcroft,' i.e. the enclosure on the slope. An east Cheshire name that has many representatives in the directories of south-east Lancashire; v. Bank and Croft.

1570. Buried—Jone Bancrofte, of Butley: Prestbury Ch. (co. Chester), p. 32.

1595. John Bancroft, of Macclesfield: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 10.

1603. William Bancroft, of Wilmslow: ibid.

1669. Henery Banckcroft, sone of Henery Banckcroft, of Maple, bapt. April 14: Reg. Disley Church (East Cheshire), ii. 100.

1764. Married—John Bancroft and Mary Barbon Glover: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 136.

Manchester, 18; London, 3; Philadelphia, 30.

Banfater.—Nick.; v. Barnfather.

Banfield; v. Bamfield.

Banister, Bannister.—(1) Occup. A balister (l becoming n; cf. banisters, lit. balusters, staircase, railings), an arbalester, a cross-bowman. O. F. balestier: 'trecenti loricati, cum balistariis et artificibus machinarum multis' (Giles, i. 57, quoted by Freeman, Hist. Norm. Conq. iv. 583); v. Alabaster. The name in various forms is found in every early list. It is sufficient to turn to the London Directory to see by the number of Bannisters the commonness of the occupation.

'Gosners, balesters, and archers': Caxton, 1489 (quoted in H.E.D.).

1557. Buried—John Corker, bailister, Ulverston (Ulverston Church).

Probably this is an instance of the curious Elizabethan custom of appending the old feminine -ster to names of masculine occupation. John Corker was, I suspect, the bailie or bailiff of the town. But he may have been a cross-bowman.

(2) Local.

Adam de Banistre, temp. 1320: Baines' Lanc. i. 83.

This is the only entry with de I can find. The Testa de Neville, Hundred Rolls, and Placita de Quo Warranto have many instances, but all without prefix. It is clear however that (1) is not the only origin, judging by the character of these entries.

John Balistar', co. Norf., 1273. A.

Wyot Balistarius. E.

Renaud Balistarius. C.

Henry Balistar', co. Oxf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Robert Balistarius, co. York, ibid.

Agnes Banastre, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Henry Banastre, co. Camb., ibid.

Thomas Banastre, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

John Banastre, co. Berks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Johannes Banastre, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 292.

1674. Bapt.—Anne, d. Thomas Balister: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 265.

The surname is found all over the kingdom in large numbers. It is quite possible that some of these entries represent a personal name now forgotten.

London, 12, 25; Boston (U.S.), 3, 6.

Bank, Banks, Bankes, Banke.—Local, 'at the bank,' i.e. the slope or declivity in the land. Like all other local monosyllables, it takes a final s, perhaps the patronymic, as in Jones, Simmonds, &c.; cf. Brooks, Styles, &c.

Nicholaus del Bancke, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 16.

Adam del Bank, 1379: ibid. p. 48.

Magota del Bancke, 1379: ibid. p. 202.

Richard del Bank, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

William del Bank, co. Lanc., ibid.

1506. Simon Bancke, co. Cumb.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 218.

1597. William Banks, co. Devon: ibid. p. 224.

1760. Married—John Bankes and Ann Killmister: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 91.

1767. —John Banks and Mary Odwell: ibid. p. 181.

London, 0, 30, 1, 0; New York, 5, 57, 0, 0; Philadelphia (Banke), 1.

Banker.—Offic.; v. Bencher.

Banknott.—Local, 'at the bank-knot,' one who resided on the slope or small prominence on the side of the bank. The name looks anachronistic, and suggests the notes issued by the Bank of England.

Robert Banknott, 30 Hen. VI: Cal. Inquis. Post Mortem.

John Banknotte, C. R., 7 Edw. IV.

Banton; v. Bampton, and cf. Banfield for Bamfield.

1656. Married—Banton and Elenor Morice: Kensington Ch., p. 75.

1757. —Josias Banton and Eliz. Price: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 71.

London, 2.

Banwell.—Local, 'of Banwell,' a parish in co. Soms., near Axbridge.

William of Banewell, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 84.

Walter Banewell, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

John Bannwell, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 125.

1658. Bapt.—Clement, s. Job Baniwell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 200.

1694. Thomas Jepson and Margaret Banwell: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 291.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Soms.), 12.

Baptist.—Bapt. 'the son of Baptiste,' Fr. I have not yet found Baptist as an English font-name before Henry VII. It never took root in England. The surname is very rare. Naturally, nearly all my instances are Johns.

1551. Bapt.—Sara, d. of John Baptysse: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 75.

1552. —Gresell, d. of John Baptysse: ibid.

1716. Buried—John Baptist: St. John the Baptist, Walbrook, p. 200.

1772. Married—John Baptist and Abigail Fielder: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 226.

1804. —Joseph Baptis and Sarah Evan: ibid. ii. 302.

London, 1; New York, 1.

Barbe.—Bapt. 'the son of Barbara,' from the nick. Barb, whence Babb, q.v., a Norman-French form; v. Yonge, i. 261.

Richard Barbe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 240.

1795. Married—Peter Barb and Sarah Chandler: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 138.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Barber.—Occup. 'the barber,' one who trimmed or shaved beards; v. Barbour.

Thomas le Barbitonsor. J.
William le Barbitonsor. H.

Henry le Barbur, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 220.

Alexander le Barbur, London, 1273. A.
Henry le Barber, co. Oxf., ibid.

Richard Barbitonsor, co. Oxf., ibid.
John le Barber, co. Camb., ibid.

Geoffrey le Barbir, co. Hunts, ibid.
1543. John Sturley and Agnes Barbor:

Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 1.
London, 83; Philadelphia, 100.

Barberess.—Occup. 'the barberess,' a female barber. Matilda has long anticipated the lady barbers of to-day.

Matilda la Barbaresse, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Barberry, Barberie.—Bapt. 'the son of Barbara,' once popularly Barbery. Barbara was a favourite font-name in the surname period; v. Babb, Barbot, &c.

1581. Married—William Grosse and Barbery Marbeck: St. Antholin (London), p. 28.

1609. Buried—Helline, d. Henrie Barbery: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 109.

1692. —Barberry, an old maid: Chestnut Church Reg.

1696. —Barbery, d. Jeremiah and Barbery Bird: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 204.

1715. Married—Francis Lee and Catherine Barberry: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 238.

London, 1, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Barbican.—Local, 'at the bar-bican,' from residence thereby; an outwork, an outwork of a fort.

William Barbican, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 247.

Barbon, Barebone, Barebones, Barbone.—Local, (1) 'of Barbon,' a chapelry in the old parish of Kirkby Lonsdale. This originated Barbon and Barben, still existing in Furness and the district; v. Dalton in Furness Dir.

(2) Barbourne, a parish in Worcestershire. To this place we probably owe the south English Barbons, one of whom, Praise-god, was written variously Barbon, Barbone, and Barebones. A good deal of fun would have been lost to the world if a certain Parliament had been more correctly styled Barbon's Parliament. Even Bare-bones' Parliament is inaccurate, it should be Barebone's. 'The Long Parliament in Cromwell's time, called by derision the Rump, was headed by one Barebones, a leather-seller' (Curiosities of Literature).

Here Isaac Disraeli is manifestly in error. Peck in his Desiderata Curiosa, speaking (1646) of a member of the family, styles him 'Mr. Barborne,' probably the original form, and suggesting Worcestershire as the home of the race.

John Barbon, or Barbone, 1569: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 277.

John Barebone, B.A., Oxon, 1574: ibid. vol. ii. pt. i. p. 39.

1589. Bapt.—Thomas, son of John Barbon, merchant taylor: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 63.

1690. Buried—Henry Barbon, or Barebone: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 258.

Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 2.

Barbot, Babelot.—Bapt. 'the son of Barbara,' nick. Barb or Bab, dims. Barbot and Babelot. Diminutives in elot were not rare at the period; cf. Hamelot from Hamo, Richelot from Richard, and Hobelot or Robelot from Robert.

Barbata, or Barbota, fil. Willelmi Garwey, temp. Hen. III. BBB. p. 166.

John Barbot, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Adam Barbot, co. York, ibid.

Nicholas Babelot, co. Camb., ibid.
Cecilia Berbotte, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 15.

Betrix Barbot, 1379: ibid. p. 27.
Barbota uxor Martini, C. R., 44 Hen. III, pt. 2.

1656. Married—Jeffery Barbet to Margaret Coife: Canterbury Cath.

1784. —John Barbot and Maria Gwynn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 358.

Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Barbour.—Occup. 'the barber.' As a surname a North English form, and sometimes 'of Barbour' in Scotland.

'A barbour was redi thare.' 1320, Sir Tristr. i. lxiii. (H.E.D.)

'She clepide the barbour': Wyclif, Judges xvi. 19.

Alice le Barbour, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Richard le Barbour, 1302. M.

Robert le Barbour, 1307. M.
Johannes de Catton, barbour, 1379:

P. T. Yorks. p. 251.
Edmundus Barbour, 1379: ibid.

1754. Married—Joseph Trambley and Ann Barbour: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair,

p. 271.
London, 1; Manchester, 4; New York, 20.

Barchard.—Bapt. 'a variant of Burchard'; v. Burchett.

MDB. (co. Sussex), 2.

Barclay, Berkeley, Berkley.—Local, 'of Berkeley.' An early variant. Berkeley is a parish and market town in co. Gloucester.

Egidius de Berkeleye, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Maurice de Berkeley, co. Soms., ibid.

Robert de Berclay, co. Northumb., 1195: KKK. vi. 53.

Gyles de Berclay, co. Derby, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Seman de Berclawe, co. Camb., 1273. A.
William Berclay, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 238.

1704. Married—Henry Barclay and Thomazine Bloomer: St. Peter, Cornhill,

ii. 65.
London, 29, 6, 1; Philadelphia, 46, 1, 2.

Barcroft.—Local, 'of Barcroft,' a property in Cliviger, co. Lanc. A family of that name lived there until 1668, being found there so early as Hen. III; v. Baines' Lanc. (Croston's edit.), ii. 389. A rare surname in the 19th century—almost extinct, in fact.

Thomas Barcroft, of Burnley (co. Lanc.), 1571: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 11.

Henry Barcroft, of Lancashire, 1576: ibid.

1502-3. Thomas Barcroft, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 125.

1632-3. Charles Barcroft and Dorothea Crosby: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 27.

1657. Bapt.—John, s. John Barcroft, gent.: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 196.

Liverpool, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Bardolph, Bardell, Bardol, Bardel.—Bapt. 'the son of Bardol' (Yonge, ii. 404). 'Bardell: a corruption of Bardol' (Lower). This statement is confirmed by the following entry:

Osbertus Bardolf, alias Bardol, 45 Hen. III. BBB. p. 94.

Cf. Randle or Randell for Randalph.

Dodo Barduf, co. Notts, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Barduphus de Cest'ton, ibid.

Uxor William Bardouff, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Roger Bardolf, co. Salop, ibid.

Henry Bardolph, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 167.

Hugh Bardulph, 8 Ric. I, sheriff of Westmorland: Hist. West. and Cumb. i. 27.

Edmond Bardolfe, 1572: Visitation of Hertfordshire (Hart. Soc.), p. 26.

Edward Bardolph, 1634: ibid. p. 2.

1668. Bapt.—Robert, s. John Bardell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 237.

1781. Married—Joseph Bardell and Mary Willoughby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 326.

London, 1, 2, 0, 0; New York, 1, 1, 0, 1; Philadelphia (Bardol), 1.

Bardsley, Beardsley, Beardslee.—Local, 'of Bardsley,' a parish between Ashton and Oldham, near Manchester. But some place in the south-west district must have borne the same name, judging from references given below. All the American Bardsleys, and all the North English Bardsleys, and perhaps all the Beardsleys, hail from the Lancashire parish stated above.

Uxor William de Bardsley, de Ha, 1422: Custom Roll and Rental of the lordship of Ashton-under-Lyne (Cheth. Soc.).

The Ha above represents the now thriving parish of Hey, close to Oldham.

1667. Samuel Bardsley, clerk, minister of Disley and Marple: Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 57, 98.

Robert de Berdesleghe, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 101.

Roger de Berdesleghe: ibid.

Robert de Bardsley, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

William de Bardsley, H.

John Bardsley, of Staley, 1599: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 11.

William Bardsley, of Ashton, 1609: ibid.

Ann Bardsley, of Greenacres, Oldham, 1617: ibid.

London, 2, 0, 0; Manchester, 17, 1, 0; Ashton-under-Lyne, 3, 0, 0; New York, 3, 17, 2; Philadelphia, 24, 2, 1.

Bardwell.—Local, 'of Bardwell,' a parish in co. Suffolk, near Ixworth.

Nicholas Berdwell, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 280.

1637. Married—Thomas Bagall and Margaret Bardwell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 68.

London, 2.

Barebone.—Local; v. Barbon.

Barefoot, Barfoot.—Nick. or Eccles. 'on naked foot,' one who went with feet bare; a friar or pilgrim.

'Thy temple in Delphos wol I barefoot seke': Chaucer, The F. Tale, 11390.

'Frauncys had his brethren Bar-fot to wenden.'

Piers P. Creed, 593-4.

'A barefoote brother': Rom. and Jul. v. ii. 5.

Norman Barfot, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Roger Barfot, co. Oxf., ibid.

Alan Barfot, co. Camb., ibid.

John Barfoote, 1568: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 272.

Roger Barfoote, temp. 1580. Z.

1581-2. Edward Barefoote and Winifred Hildersham: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 105.

1625. Buried—Thomas Barfoote, a stranger: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 225.

1715. Francis Barefoot: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 71.

1717. Married—John Light and Mary Barfoot: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 59.

1748. —William King and Eliz. Barfoot: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 103.

London, 2, 6; Oxford, 4, 5.

Bargate.—Local, 'at the Bargate.' The entrance to a city, as Temple Bar; formed originally of posts and chain.

Jordan atte-bargate, J.

William atte Barezete, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 199.

Jordan de la Barigate: Fines Roll, ii. Edw. I.

'The street, as well within as without the old Gate or Bar, called Fishergate Bar, goes by the name of Fishergate': Hist. and Ant. of York, 1785, ii. 189.

1607. Married—Abraham Hill and Agnes Bargett: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 11.

Barrow-in-Furness, 1.

Barge, Bargeman, Bargman.—Occur. 'the barge-man.' The first entry below concerns three royal bargemen who attended the king in his journeys by water.

Petrus del Barge, mariner, 33 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 53.

John Bargeman, John Amyson, John Book, bargemen: Wardrobe Account, 48 Edw. III—i Ric. II, 4/10.

Patricius Bargeman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 206.

George Bargeman, 1579: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), i. 642.

1666. John Bargeman and Eliz. Dickens: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 91.

1749. Married—Jonas Bargman and Eliz. Biggs: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 153.

London, 1, 1, 0; New York, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 1.

Barham.—Local, 'of Barham,' a parish in co. Hunts, six miles from Kimbolton; also a parish in co. Kent, six miles from Canterbury; also a parish in co. Suffolk, four miles from Ipswich.

Henry de Berham, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.

Andrew de Berham, co. Linc., 1273. A.

1564. Peter Nott and Margaret Barham: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 29.

1615. Robert Barham, co. Kent: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 338.

1654. Buried—John, s. John Barham: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 301.

London, 7; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Baring.—Bapt. 'the son of Baring'; cf. Harding and Browning, q.v. 'The peer and the baronet descend from John Baring, of Devonshire, 18th century, son of John Baring, minister of the Lutheran church at Bremen, in Saxony' (Lower). Probably of the same parentage as Behring. True as the above may be, the same personal name was found on English soil in the surname period, and has its own descendants.

John Bering, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 205.

Joseph Baring, Ram and Magpie, i Fleet Street, Bethnal Green: London Dir. 1872.

London, 2.

Barkas, Barkus.—Local, 'at the bark-house,' where the bark was stored for tanning purposes,

From residence therein or thereby; v. Barker; cf. Bacchus, Malthus, Loftus, or Lewtas.

1774. Married—George Barkas and Hannah Barnes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 241 Newcastle-on-Tyne, 4, 1; Gateshead, 0, 1.

Barker, Barkmaker, Barkman.—Occup. 'the barker,' one who stripped trees of bark for the tanner. Then a preparer of bark for tanning. 'Escorceur, a barker of trées' (Cotg.). In the conversation between Edward IV and the tanner of Tamworth (Percy) it is said:

'What craftsman art thou?' said the king,
'I pray thee telle me trowe';
'I am a barker, sir, by my trade;
Now tell me, what art thou?'

In the Chester Play the barkers and tanners marched together (Ormerod's Cheshire, i. 300).

1402. 'Lego uxori Ricardi Skyrtynbek, barkar, i togam': Test. Ebor. i. 289.

Robert Barcarius, co. Linc., 1273. A. Alan le Barkere, co. Camb., ibid.

Osbert le Borker, 1306. M. William de York, barker, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 251.

Edmund Barkmaker, temp. Eliz. ZZ. John Barkman. W. 18. London, 111, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 96, 0, 0; New York (Barkman), 1.

Barleggs.—Local. This curious-looking name is manifestly local, the suffix being -ley, or -leggh, or -legg, as in Whitelegg, q.v. I do not know the spot.

1627-7. John Dawston and Hellen Bareleggs: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 182.

1667. Married—John Bareleggs and Eliz. Doulin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 131.

1747. — Thomas Bearleggs and Ann Addison: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 85. MDB. (co. Herts), 1.

Barley.—(1) Local, 'of Barlow (?)', a probable variant. (2) Local, 'of Barley,' a parish in co. Herts, near Barkway. No doubt (2) is the chief parent of our southern Barleys.

William de Berle, co. Camb., 1273. A. 1565. Thomas Felde and Alice Barley: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 31.

1573. George Barley, of Overton: Wills at Chester, i. 12.

1596. Richard Barley, co. Herts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 215.

1603. Married—James Barley and Eliz. Miller: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 14.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 4; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Barlow.—Local, 'of Barlow,' near Manchester. The Lancashire Barlows spring from Barlow Hale and Barlow Moor, near Manchester. The name has ramified in an extraordinary manner. Barlow is also a parish in co. Derby, near Chesterfield, but nearly all our Barlows trace back to the neighbourhood of Manchester. The Barlows of Barlow Hale (whence William Barlow, bishop of Lincoln, born about 1550) were seated there so early as 20 Ric. II. The first entry below probably represents Barlow, a chapelry in the parish of Brayton, West Rid. Yorks.

Johannes de Berlowe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 33.

1584. Henry Barlow, co. Derby: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 130.

1600. John Barlow, co. Chester: ibid. p. 244.

1583. George Barlow, of Manchester, baker: Wills at Chester, i. 12.

1594. Ottiwell Barlow, of Heaton Norris: ibid.

1620. Sir Alex. Barlow, of Barlow: ibid.

1566. Married—John Barlow and Mary Tolley: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 32.

West Riding Court Dir., 15; Manchester, 75; London, 33; Philadelphia, 47.

Barnaby, Barnabee.—Local, 'of Barnby,' q.v.; cf. Greenaway for Greenway, or Ottaway for Ottway, or Hathaway for Hathway. No connexion with the later Barnaby used familiarly for Barnabas.

1524. Thomas Barnaby and Margaret Wallop: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 49.

1534. John Barnabe and Catherine Bonham: ibid.

1621. Eustace Barneby, or Barnaby: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 402.

1665. Buried—John Barnabee: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 368.

1756. Married—John Barnaby and Eliz. Tree: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 66. New York, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 2, 2.

Barnacle.—Local, 'of Barnacle,' a hamlet in the parish of Bulkington, six miles from Coventry, co. Warwick.

Custance de Barnaucle, co. Suff., 1273. A. Richard Barnikel: Close Roll, 18 Edw. III, pt. i.

Richard Barnakyll, 1514: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 91.

1545. Married—John Barnacle and Annes Chapman: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 2.

Crockford, 3; New York, 1; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Barnard, Barnett, Barnet.—Bapt. 'the son of Bernard,' or 'Barnard.' The Cistercian monk gave a wonderful impetus in the 13th century to this name, already popular. A large number of Bernards sprang up in Furness after the Abbey came under the Bernardine rule; Bernard Gilpin's name is a case in point. The popular form was Barnet. There are more than a hundred Barnetts in the London Directory. Barnes and Barnet seem to suggest a nick. Barn and a dim. Barnett. It is quite possible that such is the case, but in general Barnes must be looked on as local, and Barnett is simply a provincial pronunciation of Barnard. Barnet is turned into a title of high degree in the following entry:

'Of Barronet Coll, for his child's layreston, 15. 8d.' Churchwardens' Accounts, Gateshead, 1643.

For instances v. Bernard.

London, 71, 101, 2; Boston (U.S.), 82, 28, 1.

Barnby, Barmby.—Local, 'of Barnby,' i.e. Barnby-upon-don, near Doncaster. With Barmby, cf. Barnborough, or Barmborough, in same neighbourhood. Also cf. Bamfield and Banfield.

Richard de Barneby, co. York, 1273. A. Henry de Barneby, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Thomas de Barmby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 65.

Thomas de Barnby, 1379: ibid. p. 241.

1584-5. Charles Barneby, or Barneby, co. York: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 140.

1585. Francis Barnbye, co. York: ibid. p. 142.

1684. Martin Bellamy and Ann Barnby: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 170.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 1; New York, 1, 0.

Barne, Barnes, Barns.—(1) Local, 'at the barn,' from residence thereby. (2) Nick. 'the bairn'; M.E. barne, a child; cf. Child and Childs. If local, Barnes takes a patronymic s like other monosyllabic local surnames; cf. Styles, Brooks, Sykes, &c.

Henry de le Berne, co. Norf., 1273. A. Richard de la Berne, co. Kent, ibid.

William de la Berne, co. Dorset, ibid.

John atte Bern, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 119.

Henry atte Bern, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 119.
 William le Barne, co. York, 1273. A.
 Walter le Barne, co. Linc., ibid.
 Ricardus le Barne et uxor, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 144.
 Thomas le Barne. T.
 London, 1, 139, 6; Philadelphia, 0, 222, 13.

Barnfather, Bairnfather, Banfather, Banfather.—Nick. 'the bairn's father,' father of the bairn or child; v. Barne and Child; cf. Priestfather, q.v. The possessive s is unknown in these early North English entries.

Robertus Thom-barne (i.e. Tom's child), 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 155.
 Johannes Wil-barne (i.e. Will's child), 1370: ibid. p. 162.

Willelmus Barnefadir, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 209.

Johannes Barnefader, 1379: ibid. p. 162.
 Johanna Barnefadir, 1379: ibid. p. 198.
 Mary Barnfather, co. Cumb., temp. 1620: VVV, p. 491.

1745. Married—Joseph Barnfather and Jane Grove: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 51.
 1770. — William Barnfather and Eliz. Carthel: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 200.
 1777. — James Banfather and Eliz. Pellett: ibid. p. 273.

'Mr. Barnsfather's election to the Directorate was confirmed, and Mr. John Petch was re-elected auditor': The Yorkshire Post, Feb. 28, 1887.
 West Riding Court Dir., 1, 0, 0, 0; Crockford (Banfather), 3.

Barnmaw.—Nick. 'the child's brother-in-law.' A very interesting name corroboratory of the definition given of Watmough, q.v.; cf. Barnfather, found also in co. York.

William le Barnemawe, co. York, 1273. A.

Barnsley.—(1) Local, 'of Barnsley,' a parish fourteen miles from Sheffield, W. Rid. Yorks. (2) Local, 'of Barnsley,' a parish in co. Gloucester, four miles from Cirencester. Evidently (2) is the chief parent.

1578. Walter Barnsley, co. Salop: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 80.

1584. Thomas Barnesley, co. Oxf.: ibid. p. 137.

1660. Buried—Walter Barnsley: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 187.

1690. Henry Barnsley and Frances Moody: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 156.

1767. Married—William Barnsley and Mary Johnson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 171.
 London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Barnstable.—Local, 'of Barnstable,' a port, market town, and parish in co. Devon; v. Bastable.

MDb. (co. Soms.), 4.

Barnum.—Local, 'of Barnham,' parishes in dioc. Ely, Chichester, and Norwich. An American spelling. One of the earliest entries of this name only differs by a vowel from the transatlantic form; cf. Farnum, the American form of English Farnham.

Willelmus Barnom, 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 152.

Simon de Bernham, co. Norf., 1273. A.
 Walter de Bernham, co. Suff., ibid.

John de Bernham, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.

Thomas de Bernham, co. Suff., ibid.
 1572. Benedict Barnham, St. Alban Hall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 41.

1592. Stephen Barneham and Ann Dawkes: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 199.

1598. Sir John Packington and Dorothy Barnam: ibid. p. 256.

New York, 20.

Barnwell, Barnwall.—Local, 'of Barnwell,' two parishes in co. Northampton. Barnwall is an American variant.

William de Barnwell, vicar of Frethorp, co. Norf., 1307: FF. vii. 232.

John Berneyle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 200.

Robert de Barneville, co. Soms., 1273. A.
 1593-4. Robert Barnwell, St. Mary Hall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 200.

1598. Tristram Slader and Eliz. Sparrowe. Attested by Richard Barnwell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 251.

1778. Married—Robert Barnewall and Ann Hervev: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 280.

MDb. (Norfolk), 1, 0; (Suffolk), 2, 0; London, 2, 0; New York, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 6, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Baron, Barron.—Official or nick. 'a baron,' or a man who put on an air of dignity such as might become a baron. M.E. baron and barun.

Osbert le Barun, Close Roll, 2 Edw. I.
 Richard le Baron, co. Devon, 1273. A.

Geoffrey le Barun, co. Oxf., ibid.
 John Barun, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

1545. John Baron and Eliz. Mathew: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 4.

1632. Nicholas Boemond and Susan Barron: ibid. p. 17.

London, 6, 15; Philadelphia, 3, 33.

Barr, Barre.—Local, 'at the Bar,' i.e. the entrance to the city or town; v. Bargate, usually made of posts and chain.

Maurice de la Barre, co. Devon, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

John de la Barre, co. Staff., 20 Edw. I. A., William atte Barre, co. Derby, ibid.

Gunilda de la Barre, co. Herts., 1273. A.
 Philip de la Barre, co. Hunts, ibid.

Thomas atte Barr, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 150.

1765. Married—Henry Barr and Eliz. Richardson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 143.

London, 27, 1; Boston (U.S.), 30, 1; Philadelphia, 152, 0.

Barrable. (?)

Emma Boribal, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
 London, 1.

Barrat, Barratt, Barret, Barret, Berrett, Berret.—Bapt. 'the son of Berold,' the French Berard. This great surname appears as a personal name in Domesday: Baret, co. York.

Stephanus fil. Beroldi, Pipe Roll, 5 Hen. II.

Berard de Wattlesfeld, co. Suff., 1273. A.
 Robert Berard, co. Bedf., ibid.

Agnes Barat, co. Camb., ibid.
 Harvey Baret, co. Norf., ibid.

John Baret, co. Linc., ibid.
 1575. Edward Barret, co. Devon, Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 63.

London, 9, 22, 1, 87, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 2, 0, 160, 0, 2.

Barrell.—(1) Local, 'of Barwell,' a parish in co. Leic. and dioc. of Peterborough. Barrell is a modification, as the following entries show:

1688. Bapt.—Giles, son of John and Susan Barrell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 328.

1691. — Thomas, son of John and Susanna Barwell: ibid. p. 339.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Barel.' There seems to have been an early personal name Barel, which may share the parentage.

John Barel, co. Salop, 1273. A.
 Ralph Barel, co. Suff., ibid.

William Barel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 193.

1600. Robert Barrell, co. Soms.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 242.

London, 4; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Barringer.—Bapt. 'the son of Beringer'; v. Berringer.

Barrington.—Local, 'of Barrington,' parishes in cos. Cambridge, Berks, Somerset, and Gloucester.

Warin de Barenton, co. Camb., 1273. A.
 Gilbert de Barenton, co. Camb., ibid.

Drogo de Barentin, co. Oxf., ibid.
 William de Barentin, co. Oxf., ibid.

1575. Thomas Berington, co. Berks: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 63.
 1767. Married—Thomas Stephen Nocus and Phillis Barrington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 170.
 London, 5; Philadelphia, 13.

Barrow, Barrows.—Local, 'of the barrow,' a long low hill or mound, gen. barrows; cf. Borroughs and Borrough.

Walter de la Barowe, C. R., 14 Edw. III. pt. ii.
 Robert de la Barwe, C. R., 3 Edw. I.
 John de la Berewe, co. Worc., Hen. III. Edw. I. K.

Richard de Barowe, co. Suff., 1273. A.
 William de la Barowe, co. Essex, ibid.
 John atte Barwe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 100.
 John atte Berwe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 227.

1759. Married—Thomas Barrows and Mary Jones: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 83.
 London, 30, 2; Philadelphia, 10, 13.

Barrowclough, Barrowcliff, Barraclough.—Local, 'of the Barrowclough'; some spot in co. York, which I have failed to discover; v. Barrow and Clough. Cf. Johannes de Barowchag' (i.e. Barrowshaw), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 187.

1626-7. John Champ and Eliz. Barraclue: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 183.
 1690. William Heasey and Rebecca Barocough: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 144.

—William Smith and Ann Barraclough: ibid. p. 138.
 1765. Married—Edward Barracliff and Martha Whittaker: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 141.

London, o, 1, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 1, o, 20; Philadelphia, 2, o, 3.

Barry.—Local, 'of Barry.' There can be little doubt that this was of Norman extraction; cf. the French Du Barry. The Irish Barrys have made a large inroad in the American directories. I cannot say whether they are of the same parentage or not.

John de Barry, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 211.
 Isabella Barri, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Robert Barry, co. Notts, Hen. III. Edw. I. K.
 William Barry, co. Notts, ibid.
 Hugh Barry, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
 Geoffrey Barri, co. Linc., ibid.
 London, 36; Boston (U.S.), 314.

Barter.—Occup. 'the barter,' a dealer in goods; one who chafered, an exchanger.

Hugh le Bartur, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
 1578. Adam Barter, co. Cumb.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 82.

1657. Married—Robert Porch and Eliz. Bator: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 27.
 1747. —Richard Verrier and Betty Batar: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 88.
 London, 17; Boston (U.S.), 9.

Barth.—Bapt. 'the son of Barth,' i.e. Bartholomew, from nick. Barth; v. Bate.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 62.

Bartholomew.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew.' A great favourite in the surname period, as its nicks. and dims. (Bartle and Bartlett, q.v.) prove.

Robert Bartelmeu, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
 William Bartolomeus, co. Suff., ibid.
 Gilbert fil. Bartholomew, co. Camb., ibid.
 Matilda fil. Bartholomei, co. Camb., ibid.

1579. John Curtys and Frances Bartilmewe: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 7.

1616. Married—William Dycke, of St. Bartlemew Exchange, and Maria Wallis: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 21.

1617. —Robert Turner and Suzan Bartlemew: ibid.
 London, 14; Philadelphia 34.

Barthrop, Barthropp, Barttheropp, Bartropp, Bartrop, Bartrap.—Local, 'of Barthorpe,' a hamlet in the parish of Acklam, E. Rid. Yorks.: cf. Thrupp for Thorp, and v. Winthorp.

1687. John Hole and Hester Bartrap: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 11.

1766. Married—Christopher Barthorp and Mary Hughes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 50.
 MDB. (Suffolk), 1, 2, 1, 1, o, o; London, o, o, o, o, 2, o; Bartrap (MDB. co. Notts), 1.

Bartle.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from the nick. Bartle, a form popular in north England. For dim., v. Bartlett.

John fil. Bertol, co. Camb., 1273. A.
 Bartel Frobisher, co. York. W. 9.
 Bartly Bradforth, co. York. ibid.
 Bartell Story, co. Northumb., 1528: TTT. p. xxviii.

1752. Married—Samuel Spencer and Sarah Bartle: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 226.

1762. —William Baxter and Ann Bartle: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 116.
 London, 1; West Riding Court Dir., 3; Philadelphia, 26.

Bartlett.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew'; v. Bartlett.

London, 4.

Bartleman.—Occup. 'the ser vant of Bartle,' i.e. Bartholomew. A form of surname almost confined to Yorkshire, where Matthewman, Addyman, Priestman, and Vickerman (q.v.) arose.

Adam Batel, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 196.
 Simon Batelman, 1379: ibid.
 1750. Married—Thomas Scott and Janne Bartleman: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 183.

1780. —David Bartleman and Mary Brown: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 310.
 London, 2; Newcastle-on-Tyne, 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Bartlett, Bartlot, Bartlott, Bartolet, Bartolet.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from the nick. Bartle, and dim. Bartl-ot and Bartl-et. I subjoin a few out of many instances in the Hundred Rolls. The variants were numerous. It is quite evident that Bartlet or Bartlot was the popular nick. for this then favourite Apostolic name.

Bartelot (without surname), co. Bedf., 1273. A.

Thomas Bartholot, co. Camb., ibid.
 William Bartlot, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Bartelot Govi, co. Hunts, ibid.
 Alan Bartelot, co. Camb., ibid.
 Richard Bartlot, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Thomas Bartlot, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 196.

Robertus Bertlot, 1370: ibid. p. 142.
 1524. Thomas Barthelette and Agnes Langwyth: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 4.
 1578. Robert Bartlet, co. Dorset: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 81.
 1673. Buried—William s. John Bartlett; St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 240.
 London, 83, 10, o, o, o; Philadelphia, 43, o, 2, 1, 5.

Bartley.—(x) Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from the nick. Bartle and pet Bartley-y; cf. Charlie, Teddy, Bobbie, &c. Although looking strongly local, I find no evidence of this. We have, on the contrary, proof that Bartley owns Bartholomew as its parent.

Bartly Bradforth, co. York. W. 9.
 This occurring in the county where Bartle was so popular clinches the argument; v. Bartle, Bartlett, Bate, &c.

(a) Local, 'of Berkeley,' a variant.

1571. Francis Barteleye, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 50.
 1501-2. Richard Barkeley, or Bartley, co. Glouc.: ibid. p. 188.

In the above two entries we see evidence that the west-country surname Berkeley was sometimes modified into Bartley.

1691-2. Married—William Bartley and Eliz. Newbery: St. Dionis Backchurch, P. 43.

London, 6; Philadelphia, 24.

Barton.—(1) Local, 'of the barton,' literally the barley-croft; A.S. bere, barley, and tun, an enclosure. Afterwards 'barton' got the secondary sense of a courtyard.

William de la Berton, co. Wilts, 1273. A. John de la Berton, co. Kent, ibid.

Reginald de la Berton, co. Glouc., ibid.

(2) Local, 'of Barton.' There are twenty-six parishes so called in Crockford. The origin is the same as (1), with this difference, that 'barton,' the single enclosure, had already grown into Barton, the hamlet or town.

Adam de Berton, co. Cumb., 20 Edw. I. R.

John de Berton, co. Kent, ibid.

Richard de Bertone, co. Hunts, ibid. London, 57; Philadelphia, 60.

Bartram, Bartrum.—Bapt. 'the son of Bertram,' q.v.; cf. Barnard and Bernard.

Robert Bartram, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Thomas Bartram, co. Bucks, ibid.

1563. Bapt.—Francis and Amy Bartram: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 2.

1578. Elias Martin and Bridgett Bartram: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 81.

1588. George Bartrame, co. York: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 148. London, 5, 4; Philadelphia, 11, 0.

Barwell.—Local, 'of Barwell,' a parish in co. Leic.; v. Barrell.

Ralph de Barwell, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

1603. Adam Barwell, co. Warwick: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 264.

1664-5. Edward Barwell and Mary Holman: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 85.

London, 10; Philadelphia, 2.

Barwick.—Local, 'of Barwick,' parishes in cos. Norfolk, Somerset, and W. R. Yorks. A small spot in Furness furnished a local surname which has spread. I could give many instances from the Ulverston register and the Lancashire Wills at Richmond, to which I simply refer the reader.

Sampson de Berwyk, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Philip de Berwyke, co. Wilts, ibid.

1567. Robert Debanke and Eliz. Barwyke: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 14.

1573. George Barwycke and Ellen Parkyns: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 56.

1610. Thomas Barwicke and Eliz. Pett: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 321.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 5.

Barwise, Barwis.—Local, 'of Barwise.' I cannot find the spot. But although my earliest instance comes from co. Derby, I believe the parentage of the name will be found in Cumberland. Mr. Lower says, 'An ancient name at Ilkirk, co. Cumb.'

Henry de Barweis, co. Derby, 20 Edw. I. R.

1742. Married—Joseph Barwis and Mary Fisher: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 16.

1894. Died—John Adolphus Barwise: Daily Telegraph, Jan. 6.

MDB. (co. Cumb.), 8, 2; London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 5.

Base.—Nick. 'the base,' i. e. of low stature; v. Bass.

Geoffrey Base, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Isabella Base, 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 193. Thomas Base, 1379: ibid. p. 42.

1579. Antony Base and Eliz. Awdeley: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 88.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 1; New York, 1.

Basford, Bashford.—Local, 'of Barford,' a parish in co. Notts, near Nottingham. Also townships in cos. Chester and Stafford.

(Chaplain) de Basford, co. Notts, 1273. A.

1565. Henry Basford and Joanna Newington: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 30.

1621. Samuel Basforde, co. York: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 308.

1695. Buried—'A child still-born to Edmond Basford': St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 56.

London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 7, 1.

Baskervill, Baskwill.—Local, 'of Bascreville,' now Bacqueville, in the arrondissement of Dieppe? (Lower).

Roger de Bascrevill, co. Salop, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Nesta de Baskervill, co. Salop, ibid.

Thomas de Baschevill, alias Baskervill, cos. Norf. and Suff., ibid.

Hugh de Baskerville, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Richard de Bascerville, 1297. M.

1590. James Baskerville, co. Glouc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 176.

1601. Humphrey Baskerville, co. Heref.: ibid. p. 249.

1623-4. Buried—Jarret Baskeuill: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 216. London, 1, 1; New York, 2, 0.

Baskett.—? Bapt. 'the son of Pasket,' from Pask, q.v.; dim. Pasket. This is all I can suggest. But Lower says, 'Probably Fr. Basquet, a dim. of Basque, a native of Biscay; a page or footboy, because the natives of that province were often so employed.' If I am right, the change from P to B is, as is so common in nomenclature, imitative.

William Pasket, co. Berks, 1273. A. Adam Basket, co. Soms., i. Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 217.

1612. Thomas Baskett, co. Hants: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 326.

1621. Robert Baskett, co. Dorset: ibid. p. 391.

1670. Richard Peesly and Margaret Baskett: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 113.

1677. Bapt.—Mary Baskett, a foundling: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 104. London, 3.

Basley, Bazley, Baseley.

Basely.—(1) Local, probably 'of Baslow,' a parish in co. Derby, three miles from Stoney Middleton.

(2) Local, 'of Bassaleg,' a parish in co. Monmouth, near Newport (legge = lee; cf. Lee and Legh).

(3) Bapt. 'the son of Basil,' from the pet Basily. Let me put first the following entry:

Hugh fil. Basilie, co. Notts, 1273. A.

My other instances seem strongly confirmatory:

'Alan Baseli, co. Camb., ibid.

Richard Baseli, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Basely, co. Camb., ibid.

Michael Basely, co. Bucks, ibid.

John Baseley, co. Hertf., 20 Edw. I. R.

1655. Married—Edward Baseley to Alice Barton: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 20.

I firmly believe (3) to be chief parent of the surname; cf. Charlie, Teddy, &c.; v. Bassil.

London, 2, 2, 1, 1; New York, 1, 4, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 0, 0, 0.

Bason.—? Nick. 'the base son' (?) i. e. bastard; v. Bastard.

Willelmus Baseson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 16.

1583. Robert Bason, Queen's Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 109.

1800. Married—William Bason and Mary Haines: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 213. London, 1.

Bass.—Nick. 'of low stature,' short and stout, corresponding to the French 'le Bas.'

Nicholas Basse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 271.
Hugh Basse, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
John Basse, co. Oxf., ibid.
Alicia la Basse, co. Oxf., ibid.
1616. Married—Nicholas Basse and Hester Gore: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 13.
1646. Buried—Edward Basse, tallow chandler: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 241.
London, 12; Philadelphia, 12.

Bassett, Basset.—(1) Nick. 'the dwarf' = O. F. basset, 'a dwarf, or very low man' (Cotgrave), a dim. of basse. (2) Local, 'de Basset,' of Norman origin. It is probable that most of the existing Bassetts can claim a local descent.

Golda Bassat, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Ela Bassett, co. Southampton, ibid.
Fulco Basset, co. Oxf., ibid.
Ralph de Basset, co. Linc. Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Gilbert de Basset, co. Bedf., ibid.
Hugo de Basset, co. Devon, ibid.
Simon Basset, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, 92.
1575. Edward Basset, co. Glamorgan: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 62.
London, 21, 1; Boston (U.S.), 44, 3.

Bassil, Bassill, Bazell, Bazelle.—Bapt. 'the son of Basil.' But more commonly a girl's name, in the form of Basilia or Basilie. It is now invariably a boy's name.

Basilia Reyngud, C. R., 23 Edw. I.
Basilia de Otteley, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
William Basille, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Hugh fil. Basilie, co. Notts, ibid.
Robert Basil, co. York, ibid.
Basil de Borendys, co. Suff., ibid.
1665. Married—Richard Beard and Basilly W.—: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 122.
1675. John Bassnett and Eliz. Basill: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 46.
London, 1, 1, 0, 0; Crookford, 0, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1, 0, 0.

Bastable.—Local, 'of Barnstaple,' a parish in co. Devon; a manifest corruption; v. Barnstable.

Ralph Barstaple, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 215.
(Prior) de Barnestapole, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

The halfway to Bastable is seen in Barstaple. The following entry and note establish this derivation:

1617. William Barstable, co. Devon. Subsc. April 11 as Barstable, and on May 30 as Bastable: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 362.

London, 7; Philadelphia, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Bastard.—Nick. 'the Bastard,' a name proudly borne by at least one ancient English county family. 'William the Bastard' occurs in State documents as the Conqueror's surname.

Nicholas le Bastard, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
William le Bastard, co. Notts, 1273. A.
Jordan Bastard, co. Bucks, ibid.
Roger Bastard, co. Northampt., 20 Edw. I. K.
Elias Bastard, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 292.
Thomas Bastard or Basted, 1530: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 193.
1586. Thomas Bastard, co. Dorset: ibid. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 156.
London, 5.

Baster.—Occup. 'the baster,' probably a kitchen servitor who basted the joint. 'Baster, one who bastes meat. 1525. Churchw. Acc. Heybridge (Nichols, 1797), p. 181, "To she that turned the spitt, 8d.: to the Basteter, 4d." (H.E.D., v. Baster).

John le Bestere, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
London, 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Bastian, Basten, Bastin, Bastien, Bastion.—Bapt. 'the son of Sebastian.' In early though rare use in Cornwall and south-west England, where Spanish influence would be expected to prevail. Particularly Bastian; cf. French Bastien, which perhaps had its effect on Basten.

William, son of Sebastian Trevethan, buried 1607: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 203.
William, son of Bastian Trevithan, bapt. 1599: ibid. p. 19.
1565-6. Bastian Bumfoy and Juliana Francke: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 32.
1603. Buried—Richard Bastian: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 207.
1611. William Bastian or Bastin: Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 311.
1796. Married—Bastien Chevrey and Joanna Gale: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 145.

The form Bastion occurs in the Devonport Directory, co. Devon.

London, 1, 6, 5, 1, 0; List of Farmers (Devon Trades Dir.), 0, 0, 4, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 35, 0, 0, 0, 0.

Bastimer.—Occup. Perhaps for 'bastiner,' a sewer, stitcher; 'baste, to sew slightly. M. E. basten, baslyn' (Skcat); v. Way's Prompt.

Parv., note 4, p. 25; cf. Latimer for Latiner, q.v.

Hugh le Bastimer, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Hugh le Bastimer, co. York. W. 9.

Batchelar, Batcheler, Batcheller, Batchelor, Batchelour, Batchler, Bacheller, Batchelder.—Offic. 'the bachelor,' a young knight, member of a guild, an unmarried man.

John le Bachiler, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Nicholas le Bachelor, co. Oxf., ibid.
William le Bachelor, co. Camb., ibid.
Magg' (Margaret) Batcheler, co. Hunts, ibid.

Jordan le Bachelor. L.
Gilbert le Bachelor. E.
1621. William Batcheler, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 390.

1651. Thomas Funston to Cassandra Batchler: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 22.
Abraham Ridder, batchler, to Jane Parsons, vergen: ibid.
London, 1, 1, 1, 25, 2, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1, 8, 5, 0, 0, 9, 25.

Batchelder, Batcheldor.—Offic. 'the bachelor.' A corruption; v. Batchelar, and cf. Blackler.

1677. Walter Butler and Elizabeth Batchildar, of Chesham, Bucks: Marriage Lic. (Canterbury), p. 271.
1746. Married—William Batchelder and Ann Marshall: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 75.
London, 2, 0; Liverpool, 0, 2; Boston (U.S.), 70, 0.

Bate, Bates, Bateson.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from the nick. Bate. The form Bathe below will mark the step by which Bate was reached.

Bate de Butwick, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Bate le Tackman, co. Linc., ibid.
Bathe fil. Robert, co. Linc., ibid.
Thomas Bateson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 66.
Alicia Bate, wyf, 1379: ibid. p. 124.
Johannes Bateson, 1379: ibid. p. 19.
Adam Bate, 1379: ibid. p. 4.
Christopher Bateson, of Caton, co. Lanc., 1587: Lanc. Wills at Richmond, p. 23.
1615. Humphrey Bates and Joane Empson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 32.
1621. William Bate and Ann Hill: ibid. p. 106.

London, 8, 53, 4; West Riding Court Dir., 1, 15, 7; Philadelphia, 2, 116, 8.

Bateman, Batemanson, Batman.—Bapt. 'the son of Bateman.' Not found in Yonge's Christian Names. An old personal name. The suffix -man may be -mond or -mund; cf. Wyman, Osman, Roseaman.

Bateman de Capele, co. Suff., 1273. A. Bateman Taye, co. Kent, ibid.
 Bateman de Apletrewyk, co. York, ibid.
 Cecilia Bateman, co. Hunts, ibid.
 Bateman fl. Cressaunt, Close Roll, Hen. III.
 5. Willielmus Batemanson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 263.
 William Batemanson, 1423: DDD. ii. 370.
 1577. Married—Raffe. Battman and Audrian Beane: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 8.
 1611-2. George Bateman and Mary Goodcole: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 8.
 1685. Married—John Bateman and Harinon Kynvin: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 33.
 London, 40, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 32, 0, 1.

Bath, Bathe.—Local, 'of Bath,' the cathedral city in co. Somerset.

Job de Bath, co. Sussex, 1273. A.
 John de Bathe, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 158.
 John ate Bathe, co. Soms., i Edw. III: ibid. p. 253.
 1595. Richard Bath, co. Hants: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 211.
 1611-2. Roger Bird and Doras Bath: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 9.
 1674. Bapt.—William, s. Joseph Bath: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 263.
 MDB. (co. Somerset), 8, 1; London, 15, 3; Boston (U.S.), 10, 1.

Bather.—Lower says, 'The keeper of a bath,' but without proof or reference. I look upon this as out of court; v. Batho.

1683. Married—Michael Chapman and Elizabeth Bather: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 43.
 1752. —William Whennell and Hannah Bather: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 216.
 London, 2.

Batho, Battthew, Bather, Batha.—Local (?). This surname, with its variants, has troubled me much. Cheshire seems to have been the home of the stock. It seems probable that the Shropshire Bathers represent another variant. If local, then, like Shillito, or Shillito, or Shafto. &c., the original suffix would be Bat-how (v. How). But this is all I dare suggest, as I can find no spot so entitled. Bathall again suggests a local Bathall, which would become popularly Bathaw.

Richard Bathaw, of Kyddington, 1574: Wills at Chester, i. 15.
 Aaron Bathall, of Over Alderley, 1603: ibid.
 William Batha, of Dokington, in Malpas, 1610: ibid.

Adam Batho, of Cuddington, in Malpas, 1613: ibid.

Thomas Bathoe, of Larton, 1616: ibid.
 1586-7. Richard Batho, Wales: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 157.
 William Batho, rector of St. John th. Baptist, Norwich, 1598: FF. iv. 288.
 Ralph Bathoe, of Cuddington, gent., 1622: Earwaker's East Cheshire, i. 177.
 1767. Married—Charles Brando and Ann Bathoe: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 166.
 London, 1, 0, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Stafford), 0, 2, 0, 0; (co. Salop), 5, 0, 8, 0; (co. Denbigh), 0, 0, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 0, 0.

Bathurst.—Local, 'of Bathurst,' an ancient manor near Battle Abbey, co. Sussex, which was possessed by the family in the 14th century (Lower).

1604-5. George Bathurst, of London: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 281.
 1610. Robert Bathurst, of London: ibid. p. 316.
 1660. Richard Blake and Eliz. Bathurst: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 47.
 London, 3.

Batkin, Batken.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from the nick. Bat and suffix -kin; cf. Wilkin, Tom-kin, Wat-kin. But Batkin was evidently rare, the simple Bat or Bate being the popular form of address.

Batekin (without surname), co. Essex, 1273. A.
 1779. Married—William Allen and Hannah Battkin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 208.
 MDB. (co. Salop), 1, 0; (co. Stafford), 8, 1.

Batley.—Local, 'of Batley,' a parish in the union of Dewsbury, W. Rid. Yorkshire.

John de Bateley, co. York, 1273. A.
 Isabella de Batelay, 1372: P. T. Yorks. p. 183.
 1625-6. William Hampe and Ellen Batlee: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 161.
 1772. Married—John Battley and Susannah Parks: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 222.
 London, 5; West Rid. Court Dir., 4; Philadelphia, 1.

Batling.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from the nick. Bate or Bat, dim. Bat-elin or Bat-ling. I fear this surname is extinct: cf. Hewling. With Batlins or Batlings, cf. Hewlings.

Thomas Batlyng, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 245.
 Robertus Batlyng, 1379: ibid.
 Johannes Battelyn, 1379: ibid. p. 21.

1705. Bapt.—Sarah, d. William Batlins: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 22.
 1711. —John, s. William Batlings: ibid. 60.

Batsford.—Local, 'of Batsford,' a parish in co. Glouc., near Moreton-in-the-Marsh: or 'of Battisford,' a parish in co. Suff., near Needham Market.

William de Batesford, co. Suff., 1273. A.
 Samson de Batesforde, co. Bedf., ibid.
 John de Batesford, rector of Basingham, co. Norf., 1326: FF. viii. 84.
 Maud de Batistford, co. Norf., 1335: ibid. ix. 480.
 1766. Married—John Batsford and Ann Crook: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 151.
 London, 5; New York, 1.

Batson.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from the nick. Bat; v. Batt.

1574-3. Henry Batson, co. Lanc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 61.
 1593-4. Henry Batson, co. Wilts: ibid. p. 200.
 1754. Married—Peter Batson and Jane Hobs: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 270.
 London, 7; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Batt, Batts.—(r) Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from the nick. Bate or Bat; v. Batson, Bate, and Batty. Batts represents the patronymic s, as in Jones, Richards, Williams.

Gilbert Batte, co. Rutland, 1273. A.
 Matilda Battes, co. Camb., ibid.
 Stephen Bat, co. Wilts, 20 Edw. I. R.
 Clarice Batte, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 149.
 John Bate or Batt, 1570: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. i. p. 280.

(2) Nick, 'the bat.'

Osbert le Bat, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
 Reginald le Bat, co. Essex, 1273. A.
 1730. Married—William Batt and Grace Wormell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 7.
 1786. —John Rae and Sarah Batte: ibid. i. 384.
 London, 14, 2; West Riding Court Dir., 5, 0; Philadelphia, 16, 4.

Battell, Battle.—Local, 'at the battle'; M.E. bataille, i.e. battalion, guard, army, camp, 'Bataille,' an army. "Than thir twa batelles mett'" (Halliwell).

Richard de la Batayle, co. Berks, 1273. A.
 Adam de la Batayle, co. Norf., ibid.
 Saer Batayle, co. Essex, ibid.
 Philip de la Batayle, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Richard de la Batayl, co. Glouc., 1289:

Household Exp., Bishop Swinfield (Cam. Soc.), p. 151.

1650. Bapt.—John, son of John Battell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 105.

London, 1, 3; Crockford, 0, 1; New York, 3, 6; Philadelphia, 1, 1.

Batten, Battenson, Batteson, Battinson, Battison, Battin, Bat.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from the nick. Bat or Bate, dim. Batt-in; cf. viol-in, a little viol.

Joel Batin, co. Devon, 1273. A. Thomas Batyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 91.

Batin atte Yete, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 92.

Batin Power, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 103.

Batin Walkelayn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 121.

Bathon Mayster, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 150.

Andrew Batensonne, co. Durham, 1561: QQQ, p. 26.

John Battenson, temp. 1580. Z. Daniel Battin, of London, haberdasher:

1633: Visitation of London (1633), i. 52.

1774. Married—Joseph Battin and Eliz. Purvis: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 240.

1784. — William Baugham and Martha Battison: ibid. i. 357.

London, 22, 0, 1, 0, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 0, 0, 2, 1, 0; New York, 5, 0, 0, 0, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 3, 0, 0, 0, 5, 0.

Battersby.—Local, 'of Battersby,' a township in the parish of Ingleby Greenhow, in the North Rid. Yorks. This family name has ramified strongly, being now best represented in the Lancashire directories.

Rogerus de Bathersby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 284.

1591. Henry Battersby, of Bold: Wills at Chester, i. 15.

1613. Nicholas Battersby: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 331.

1616. John Battersbie, of Shakerley: Wills at Chester, i. 15.

London, 6; West Riding Court Dir., 3; Manchester, 11; Philadelphia, 23.

Battershall, Battershall, Battishill, Battershill.—Local, 'of Battishill' or 'Battishall,' probably a manor or small locality in co. Devon.

William de Batteshol, co. Devon, 1273. A.

Antony Luther claims lease of Manor of Battylshall, 1582: Rec. Office, Cal. State Papers (Domestic), ii. 83.

1691. Peter Battishill and Ann Howkey: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 104.

Jonathan Battishill, 1738-1801, musical composer: Dict. Nat. Biog. iv. 421.

1746. Buried—Jonathan Battishill: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 140.

London, 1, 2, 0, 0; Plymouth, 0, 0, 0, 1; List of Boot and Shoe Makers' (Devon Trades Dir.), 0, 0, 1, 3; New York, 1, 0, 0, 0.

Batterson.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' nick. Bat, dim. Batten or Battin, patr. Battinson, corrupted to Batterson; cf. Paterson, Catterson, Custerson, Matterson, and Dickerson.

London, 1; New York, 6.

Batting.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew'; v. Batten. The g is excrement.

1565. William Battyn and Amy Rogers: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 30.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Battinson, Battison.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew'; v. Batten. With Battinson, cf. Pattinson and Pattinson.

1702. Married—Thomas Batison and Eliz. Paradine: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 64.

Battle.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from nick. Bartle; Bartle modified to Battle to meet Bat. In the instance below, Batel-man means the 'man' or servant of Batel.

Thomas Batell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 196.

Adam Batell, 1379: ibid. Simon Batel-man, 1379: ibid.

(2) Local; v. Battell.

1625. Buried—Hannah, d. Thomasin Battle: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 170.

1648. Thomas Fiddes and Mary Battle: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 39.

London, 3; Leeds, 1; New York, 6.

Batty, Battye, Battey, Battie, Battes, Batts.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from the nick. Batt, popularly Batty. With the patronymic s appended, Batty became Battys and Battes; cf. Jones, Williams, &c. Batt and Batty were favourite Yorkshire forms, and they have left their mark on its present nomenclature; v. Batson and Battison.

Dyota Batty, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 181.

Thomas Batty, 1379: ibid. p. 181. Johannes Batt, 1379: ibid. p. 251.

1570. Peter Pynder and Agnes Battye: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 46.

1603. John Battye, co. York: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 264.

1603. James Battye, co. Middlesex: ibid. p. 266.

1772. Married—Richard Battey and Betty Gerrard: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 217.

London, 10, 3, 0, 0, 3, 2; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 0, 1, 4, 0, 0; MDB. (West Riding, Yorks), 17, 20, 0, 1, 0, 0; New York, 2, 0, 2, 2, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 16, 1, 0, 0, 1, 4.

Baud, Baude.—Nick. 'le baud'; O.F. baud, jocular, gay; cf. Merry, Gay, Jolly.

Alan le Baud, co. Middlesex, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Geoffrey le Baud, co. Northampton, 1273. A.

Robert le Baud, co. Derby, ibid. Johannes Baud, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 86.

Richard le Baud, co. Northampton, 20 Edw. I. R.

Simon le Baud, co. Northampton, ibid. Dominick Baude, co. Norf., temp. Hen. IV: FF. viii. 505.

'In 1543, the first cannon of cast iron that ever was made in England was cast at Buckstead, in Sussex, by Ralf Hogg and Peter Bawd': ibid. iii. 214.

1626. Bapt.—Elline, d. Jane Baud: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 104.

London, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 5.

Baudet, Baudett.—Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin,' from nick. Baud, whence the dim. Baud-et; v. Body. Roger Baudet, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Baudet le Messager, co. Glouc., 1289-90: Household Exp., Bishop Swinfield (Cam. Soc.), p. 144.

New York, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Bavent, Bavin.—Local, 'of Bavent,' a place 'four leagues north-east of Caen' (Lower). The family gave name to Eston-Bavent, co. Suffolk. Bavin and Baven are palpably variants.

Walter de Bavent, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Richard de Bavant, co. Norf., 1273. A. Hugh de Bavent, co. Norf., ibid.

Jollan de Bavent, co. Linc., ibid. Elizabeth de Bavent, co. Norf., 20 Edw. I. R.

1614. Thomas Bavand: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 333.

1619. William Baven and Jane Millett: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 79.

1626. Jonathan Head and Mary Bavin: ibid. p. 168.

London, 0, 5.

Bavington; v. Bevington.

Bawden, Bawdon.—Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin,' popularly Baudwin. This was gradually toned down to Baudin; v. Boden and Godin.

Baldwin or Baudwin de Rumeny, co. Worc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
 Johanna Baudewyn, co. Camb., 1273. A.
 Bawden, son of John Jane, 1544: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 3.
 1547. Augustin Bawdwin and Eliz. Wilson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 11.
 Bawden, d. of John Moyle, 1550: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 5.

Johane Bawden, buried, 1589: ibid. p. 193.
 1575. Nicholas Bawden, co. Cornwall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 63.
 1577. William Bawden, co. Cornwall: ibid. p. 74.

Thomas, son of Bodwine and Hanah Apps, 1694: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 357.
 Bawden Maynard, English Guilds, p. 320.

London, 5, 2; MDB. (co. Cornwall), 5, 0; New York, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Bawtree.—(1) Local, 'of Bawtry,' a small market town near Doncaster. (2) Local, 'at the Bortree' or 'Baw-tree,' i.e. the elderberry, from residence thereby; cf. Rowntree, Birch, Nash, Nutbeam, &c. A word still in use in Furness. Elderberry wine is there 'bor-tree' or 'bawtry-jack.' Bawtry or Bortery Stile is a farmstead in my old parish, and is found in many spellings in the Ulverston church-register.

Coning de Bautre, co. York, 1273. A.
 Hugh de Bawtre, co. Notts, ibid.
 Elena de Bautre, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 18.

Ranaldus Bawtree, co. York, 1429: W. II, p. 245.
 1604-5. Hamond Bawtry, co. Linc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 280.

—Edward Bawtry and Judith Langton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 202.
 1623-4. Richard Bawtry and Wilmott Buffome: ibid. ii. 133.
 London, 3.

Baxendale, Baxendell, Baxenden, Baxendine.—Local, 'of Baxenden' or 'Baxendale,' a locality in the district of Accrington, East Lanc. For the suffixes, v. Dean and Dale. The first named seems to have been the earliest, although both practically mean the same thing.

William de Bakestonden, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 79.

John Baxenden, of Accrington, 1614: Wills at Chester, i. 15.
 William Baxenden, of Croston, 1672: ibid. iii. 23.

Thomas Baxtendine, of Bretherton, 1700: ibid. iv. 21.

Thomas Backstendean, of Croston, 1681: ibid. iv. 12.

MDB. (co. Lanc.), 4, 1, 0, 0; Manchester, 2, 2, 0, 0; London, 0, 0, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 4, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0, 5.

Baxter.—Occup. 'a female baker,' a baker; v. Backster.

Bay.—(1) Local, 'at the bay,' i.e. bay-tree; very rare; cf. Box, Beech, Ash, Nash, &c.

John ate Bey, co. Camb., 1273. A.

(2) Nick, 'the bay,' i.e. bay-coloured or complexioned; v. Bayard.

Walter le Bay, co. Camb., 1273. A.
 Nicholas le Bay, co. Bedf., ibid.

1595. Richard Cole and Mary Bay: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 227.
 London, 3; Philadelphia, 6.

Bayard, Byard, Byatt.—(1) Local, 'of Castle Bayard,' near Grenoble. Pierre Bayard, the knight sans peur et sans reproche, was born here in 1476. (2) Nick. The English Bayard is, without doubt, a name of complexion, from bay, reddish brown, whence bayard, a bay horse; cf. Favel, a horse's name, and Burnel, an ass's name. 'As bold as is Bayard the blind,' i.e. a blind horse (Chaucer, C. T. 16881).

Robert Bahard, or Baiard, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Roger Bayard, co. Norf., ibid.
 Thebald le Bayard, co. Linc., ibid.
 Thomas Bayard, co. Oxf., ibid.

Ricardus Bayard, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 90.

Thomas Bayard, 1379: ibid. p. 111.

Margaret Buard, co. Camb., 1273. A.
 Ralph Baird, co. Northumb., 1175: KKK. vi. 22.

1665. Married—James Bayarde and Elizabeth Weekes: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 39.

1726. Bapt. — Peter Beyard: St. Antholin (London), p. 158.

London, 0, 1, 4; Philadelphia, 15, 8, 0

Bayldon, Bayldone.—Local, 'of Baildon,' a parish near Shipley, co. York.

Matilda de Bayldon, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 190.

Ricardus Bayldon, 1379: ibid. p. 204.
 West Riding Court Dir., 8, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Baylis, Bayliss.—Nick. This surname is hard to classify, but its meaning seems obvious, viz. 'the son of the Bailey,' i.e. bailiff; v. Bailey. Thus the final s is the patronymic, as in Williams, Richards, Jones, Wilkins, &c.; cf. Wrightson, Taylorson, Smithson, &c.

'Orate pro anima Willi. Baly's': Blickling Church, co. Norf.: FF. vi. 407.

1767. Married — Thomas Baylis and Rachel Nereaway: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 161.

1778. — John Parry and Eliz. Bayless: ibid. i. 284.

London, 26, 6; New York, 11, 2.

Bayman.—Bapt.; v. Baynham, a corruption to which there are many parallels; v. Deadman, Putman, Swetman. This surname is still familiar to co. Wilts, bordering on the district where Baynham arose. There cannot be a doubt as to the origin.

1658. Married — Richard Bayman to Hannah Curlinge: Canterbury Cath., p. 59.

London, 3; MDB. (co. Wilts), 2.

Baynard.—Bapt. 'the son of Barnard,' q.v. 'Meet me within this hour at Baynard's Castle' (Rich. III, Act iii. sc. 5).

1550. William Curteys and Margery Baynerd: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 12.

1616. John Baynard, New Inn Hall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 350.

1625. Adriel Baynard, Ball. Coll. and Magd. Hall: ibid. p. 439.

1645. John Mills and Ithamar Baynard: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 276.

Crockford, 1; Philadelphia, 8.

Baynham.—Bapt. 'Ab-Eignon' (Welsh), i.e. 'the son of Eignon' or 'Ennon.' A Gloucestershire surname. Robert ap Eignon had for his son Robert Baynham, of Chorewall, in the forest of Dean. Henceforward the family were so known (vide Visitation of Gloucestershire, 1623, p. 14; Harleian Soc.). The name looks wonderfully English and local, but, as shown, is not so. Beynon, Binyon, and Benyon, q.v., are other forms; but not Bunyan, I think.

Thomas ap Eignon, 7 Edw. III: Visitation of Glouc., 1623, p. 13.

Richard ap Eignon, 6 Ric. II: ibid.
 Thomas Baynam, High Sheriff of Gloucestershire, 1476: Atkyn's Hist. Glouc., p. 40.

Alex. Baynham, High Sheriff of Gloucestershire, 1501: ibid.

1738. Married—Richard Baynham and Frances Griffith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 21, 1760. Married—John Baynom and Ann Yeates: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 94.

London, 1; Crockford, 4.

Baynton.—Local, 'of Baynton' or 'Bainton': (1) a parish in co. Northampton; (2) a parish in co. Oxford; (3) a tything in the parish of Edgington, co. Wilts.

John de Baynton, faber, 20 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 23.

1661. Sir Edward Baynton of Bremhill, Wilts, and Stuart Thynne: Marriage Alleg. (Westminster), p. 59.

1754. Married—Edward Bainton and Ann Hart: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 275.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 5.

Bazin, Bason.—(1) Local, 'of Basing.' (2) Nick; v. Bason.

Salomon de Basinge, sheriff of London, 1214: WWW. pp. 187-190.

Adam de Basinge or Basinges, London, 1273. A.

Robert de Basinges or Basinge, London: ibid.

1583. Robert Bason, Queen's Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 109.

1688. Bapt.—John Bazen, a foundline: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 109.

London, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 5, 0.

Bazley.—Local; v. Basley.

Beaby.—Local, 'of Beeby'; v. Beebe.

Beach.—Local; v. Beech.

Beacham; v. Beauchamp.

Beadle, Beaddall, Beadell, Biddle, Beadel, Biddell.—Offic. 'the beadle,' one who executed processes or attended proclamations. The H.E.D. gives the following early dictionary forms (among others): bidel, beadel, beddell.

John le Bedal, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 188.

Alan Bedellus, co. Kent, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Geoffrey le Bedel, co. Kent, 1273. A. Martin le Bedel, co. Norf., ibid.

Walter Bidellus, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

1578-9. Richard Bedal, co. Stafford: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 86.

1580-1. Richard Beedle, co. Worc.: ibid. p. 96.

1632. Bapt.—John, son of John Biddall: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 122. The same person is entered as Beddell, p. 124. Beedelle, p. 126.

1660. Married—Marke White and Mary Biddle: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 36.

London, 4, 0, 3, 13, 2, 3; New York (Bedell), 47; Philadelphia, 5, 0, 0, 140, 0, 0.

Beadman.—Occup. 'the beadman,' one who prays for others; one paid to pray for the soul of his benefactor.

'Other smale mynisters, As reders and singers, Bedemen and bellringers,' 1528: Skelton (H.E.D.).

William Bedman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 271.

1659. Buried—Eliza, d. John Bedman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 328.

1793. Married—William Cullen and Catherine Beadman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 88.

London, 2.

Beake, Beak. ? I cannot discover the meaning of this surname.

Emma la Beke, co. Hunts, 1273. A. William le Beke, co. Hunts, ibid.

Alde Beke, co. Hunts, ibid.

William le Byk, co. Oxf., ibid.

1589-90. Simon Beake, co. Kent: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 175.

1609. Nicholas Wilson and Joan Beake: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 312.

1657. Bapt.—Eliz, d. Frederic Beake: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 199.

London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Kent), 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 3.

Beal, Beale, Beall.—Local, 'of Beal,' sometimes called Beal-on-the-Hill, a hamlet in north Durham, close to the sea. In Testa de Nevill it is spelt Behil, and it is recorded there that Gilbert de Behil held it of the see of Durham (QQQ. p. 203).

William Selby, de Beall, 1631: QQQ. Appendix, p. 156.

Thomas de Behil, 1382: ibid. p. 203.

Laurence Beil, 1517: ibid. p. 221.

John Bele, 1561: ibid. p. xxxii.

Willelmus Beall, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 301.

1583. Thomas Beale or Bele, co. Heref.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 128.

1697. Married—John Deane and Ann Beale: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 35.

London, 14, 31, 1; Philadelphia, 9, 40, 3.

Beam, Beams, Beames.—Local, 'at the beam,' from residence by a prominent tree; beam, wood: O.E. a tree; cf. Nutbeam.

Osborn Atebeame, co. Essex, 1273. A. Robert atte Byrne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 250.

1750. Married—Aaron Hargrave and Eliz. Beams: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 182.

London, 0, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Soms.), 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 26, 0, 0.

Beaman, Beament, Beaumont, Beeman.—Local, 'de

Beaumont,' q.v.; cf. Rayment for Raymond, Wyman for Wymond, Osman and Osment for Osmond. The spellings of this surname in the Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. are Beaman, Beament, Beaumont, Beyman, Beymond, &c.

1583. Thomas Hawarde and Agnes Beyman: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 126.

1614. Richard Beaumont and Eliz. Bannister: ibid. ii. 30.

1748. Married—Thomas Wright and Grace Beaumont: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 115.

1749. — Richard Daniel and Margaret Beaman: ibid. p. 142.

London, 1, 2, 1, 1; New York (Beament), 1; Boston (U.S.), 12, 0, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 1.

Beamish.—Local, 'of Beamish,' a parish in co. Durham, seven miles from Gateshead. It is possible the entries below belong to some other locality.

Robert de Beaumeis, alias Beameis, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Roger de Beaumes, co. Salop, ibid.

Agnes de Beaumeys, co. Hunts, ibid.

1748. Married—John Hughes and Ann Beamis: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 102.

London, 1; New York, 2; Crockford, 5; Philadelphia, 4.

Bean, Beane.—(1) Local, —? (2) Bapt. 'the son of Benedict,' from the nick. Ben, dim. Bennett.

Maurice de la Bene, co. Salop, 20 Edw. I. R.

Ediva Bene, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Johannes Bene, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 16.

Willelmus Bene, 1379: ibid. p. 261.

On the same page as the preceding, in the same village, occurs Willelmus Benne. If the same, the origin is simple.

Willelmus Bene, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 257.

Thomas Bene, 1379: ibid. p. 244.

1656. Married—Isack Beanne and Rebecca Jenner: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 26.

West Riding Court Dir., 7, 0; Boston (U.S.), 95, 2; Philadelphia, 37, 1.

Bear.—(1) Local; v. Beer. (2) Nick, 'the bear,' one of surly temper. A common entry in early registers.

Robert le Ber, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Adam le Bere, co. Camb., ibid.

Clement le Bere, co. Oxf., ibid.

Walter le Bere, co. Oxf., ibid.

1614. Married—Fauor Beare and Catherine Powell: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 13.

1628. Hugh Beare and Dorothy Skeares: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 32.

London, 6; Philadelphia, 9.

Bearbait, Bearbaste.—Nick. 'one who baited or basted the bear.'

'Thanne men doth the bere beyte.'
Havelok, 1838 (Skeat).

John Barbast or Barebaste, co. Glouce,
1273. A.

Geoffrey Barebast, co. Glouce, ibid.
Alexander Barebat, co. Bucks, ibid.
Thomas Barebat, co. Bucks, ibid.
John Barbast, co. Wilts, Hen. III.—Edw.
I. K.

Bearblock.—? Local, 'at the bearblock' (?), the block to which the bear was chained, from residence thereby.

1575. Edward Bereblocke, co. Kent:
Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 68.
1577. Henry Bereblocke, co. Kent: ibid.
p. 78.

'Purchase by William Bearblocke, &c., of the reversion of certain messuages in the city of London, July 12, 1590': Cal.
State Papers (Domestic), ii. 679.

1610. Antony Ramme and Susan
Bereblock: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 326.
1674. Buried—Daniell Bareblocke: St.
Mary Aldermar, p. 189.

Charles Bearblock occurs in the Devonport Directory, co. Devon, 1873.

MDB. (co. Essex), 4.

Beard.—Nick. 'the bearded.'
An early surname. Speaking of Geoffrey Martel's death, A.D. 1060,
Freeman says, 'To his namesake
Geoffrey, surnamed the Bearded,
he left Anjou and Saintogne'
(Norm. Conquest, iii. 180); v. Withibeard.

William Cum-Barba, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Richard Cum-Barba, co. Oxf., ibid.
Hugh cum-Barba, co. Bedf., ibid.
Adam cum-Barba, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 238.

1622-3. Gerrard van Holbrooke and Susan Beard: Marriage Lic. (London),
p. 120.

1645. Buried—Mr. Edward Bearde, grocer, in Cornhill: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 240.

1771. Married—Richard Beard and Ann
Ginder: Canterbury Cathedral, p. 96.
London, 33; Philadelphia, 28.

Beardsall.—Local, 'of Buerdsall,' a place in the parish of Rochdale, co. Lanc.

Henry Clegg, of Buerdsall, parish of Rochdale, 1607: Wills at Chester, i. 41.

James Buerdsall, of Blakley, 1610: ibid.
41.

Adam Buerdsall, of Manchester, 1546:
ibid. p. 33.

Manchester, 1.

Beardsley, Beardslee; v.
Bardsley.

Beare.—Local; v. Beer.

Bearward, Bearwood (?).—
Occup. 'the bearward,' i.e. the keeper of a bear for exhibition of tricks; one who travels from place to place with a bear, '1399. A bere-ward fond a rag' (H.E.D.).

Michael le Bereward, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
1594. Buried—Margaret Barward: St.
Michael, Cornhill, p. 206.

1609. — Robert Bearewoode, who fell doun dead in Popes Head Alley, of the plague: ibid. p. 217.
New York, o. 1.

Beater, Bater.—Occup. 'the beater,' a wool-beater, a fuller.
'To full cloth is to felt the wool together: this is done by severe beating and pounding'; v. Full (3), (Skeat). 'Jacobus, the son of Joseph, was throwe there fro the pinnacle of the temple, and after smet with a fuller's bat' (Capgrave's Chronicles, under date 30 A.D.; v. Woolbeater). 'A betor, verberator, baculator,' 1483 (Cath. Angl.).

Hugh de Ferlington, batur, 28 Edw. I:
Freemen of York, i. 8.

John le Betere, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
William le Betere, C. R. 1 Edw. III:
Kirby's Quest, p. 126.

John Batour, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:
ibid.

1777. Married—James Baughan and
Ann Beater: St. Geo. Han. Sq. l. 272.
London, 1, 1; Crockford, 1, 0; Boston
(U.S.), o. 4.

Beaton.—Bapt. 'the son of Beatrice,' from nick. Bete and dim. Bet-on. It is found till recent days in Cornwall, that last home of decayed forms of English font-names. But its origin does not appear to have been known.

'Beton the Brewestere
Bade him good morrow.'
Piers Plowman, Pass. V.
'Bete,' or Betune, propr name,
Beatrix: Prompt. Parv. p. 34.

Johannes Beton, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 87.

Beton de Wath: ibid. p. 100.
Beton, servant of Robert, fil. Ade, 1379:
ibid. p. 88.

Betin de Friscobald. O.

John Betyun. HH.

John Betun, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Beaten, d. of John Hoswell, 1637: Reg.
St. Columb Major, p. 215.

Beaten, d. of Richard Cornishe, 1630:
ibid. p. 212.

Beaten, d. of Thomas Bayley, 1629:
ibid.

1694. Bapt.—Robert, son of William
Beton: St. Mary Aldermar, p. 111.
London, 8; Philadelphia, 5.

Beatson, Beeton.—Bapt. 'the son of Beatrice,' nick. Bete; v.
Beaton. Beatrice was, together with its nicks., a prime favourite in Yorkshire. The Poll Tax (1379) teems with it. Hence still largely represented; v. Beaton, Bettinson, and Betts.

Walter fil. Beatrice, 1273. A.
Richard Beatriceson, C. R., 11 Edw. II.
Iabelle fil. Willelmi Beteson, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 220.

Richard Beteson, 1494, co. York. W. 11.

These two last entries agree with Prompt. Parv. supra; v. Beaton.

1718. Married—William Grant and Elizabeth Beatson: St. Mary Aldermar,
p. 44.

London, 1, 0; Sheffield, 5, 0; West Riding
Court Dir., 6, 0; New York, 3, 2; Philadelphia, 5, 0.

Beattie, Beattay, Beatty.—
Bapt. 'the son of Beatrice.' Beattie was the Northumbrian and Low-land Scotch form of the pet name.
'An abbreviation of the female name Beatrix' (Jamieson). The following variants of this surname are found on the Border: Baetie, Baitle, Baitle, Batie, Baty, Batye, Baytie, and Bette; v. The Debateable Land, by Robert Bruce Armstrong, p. 184.

1729. Married—William Beaty and Sarah Davis: St. Peter, Cornhill, il. 78.
London, 11, 1, 1; Newcastle, 4, 0, 0;
Philadelphia, 19, 0, 120.

Beauchamp, Beacham, Bea-chem, Beecham.—Local, 'of Beauchamp.' Mr. Lower mentions a Beauchamp near Avranches, and another near Havre. Its equivalent local term in England is Fairfield. Hugh de Bel-Champ, or Beauchamp (latinized in early records as 'de Bello-Campo'), obtained forty-three lordships from the Conqueror (Lower). Some of the variants may relate to some spot called Beecham (cf. Ashton), which would make them purely English, but I cannot find such a place.

John de Bello Campo, co. Soms., 1
Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 187.
Thomas de Becham, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
III: ibid. p. 195.

William de Bechehom, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Roger de Bello-Campo, co. Camb., ibid.
Angareta de Bello Campo, co. Oxf., ibid.
William de Beauchamp, co. Warw.,
Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Roger de Beauchampe, co. Bedf., 20
Edw. I. R.

1600. William Beauchamp, co. Cornw.:
Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 245.
London, 3, 2, 1, 3; Philadelphia, 1, 1, 0, 0.

Beauclerk, Beauclerc.—Nick, 'the beauclerk' (a nickname of Henry I), 'learned clerk, good scholar'; cf. opposite characteristic in Manclarke, q.v.

1367. 'Henricus cognomento Beauclerk': H.E.D.

'Walker speaks satirically of one who bribed a Bishop's secretary to pass him through his examination for orders, and so 'rigged he returned to Wapenham a beauclerk': Sufferings of the Clergy, edited by Whittaker, p. 176.
Charles Beauclerke. PP.

1722. Lord William Beauclerk and Charlotte Werden: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 249.
MDB. (co. Kent), 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Beaufoy, Boffey.—Local, 'of Beau-Fai,' in the arrondissement of Mortagne, in Normandy (Lower, p. 22).

Ralph de Beanfow, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Richard de Beanfow, co. Linc., ibid.
Richard de Beanfow, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Thomas de Beanfow, co. Linc., ibid.
Ralph Beaufey, co. Linc., ibid.
1675-6. Hercules Beaufoy and Mary Rust: Marriage Alleg. (Westminster), p. 280.
London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Beaufrere.—Nick, 'Beaufrere,' probably an address of courtesy like Beaupère, Bonamy, Belcher, and Bellamy; the exact equivalent of English 'Fairbrother,' q.v. I doubt not buffer, a term of fellowship still in use, is thus explained. 'Well, old buffer,' was a common expression of greeting in my school-days.

Walter Beaufrere, co. Northumb., 1278: Hodgson's Hist. Northumberland, Introduction, p. 295.

Roger Beaufrere, 1305. M.
Walter Beaufrere, 1305. M.
Walter Baufreire, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 106.
John Beaufrere, C. R., 3 Edw. IV.

Beaumont, Beaman, Bea-ment, Beaumont, Beman, Beamand, Bement.—Local, 'de Belmont' or 'de Beaumont,' 'Roger de Belmont appears in Domesday as a chief tenant in cos. Gloucester and Dorset' (Lower), probably a near kinsman of the Conqueror. 'The Itin. de la Normandie gives five places in that Province called Beaumont' (ibid.). Nearer home are parishes or places named Beaumont in cos. Cumb., Essex, and Leicester (ibid.). Generally speaking, the surname is of Norman extraction; v. Beaman.

Mathaeus de Bello Monte, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Richard de Beaumund, co. Devon, 20 Edw. I. R.

Geoffrey de Beaumund, co. Southampton, 1273. A.

William Beaumund, co. Oxf., ibid.
Godfrey de Beaumund, co. Northampton, ibid.

Richard de Bello Monte, co. Devon, ibid.

Willelmus Beaumond, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 301.

William de Bellemonte, Prepositor of Bristol, 1240. YYY. p. 669.

1596. Francis Beaumont, co. Leic.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 218.

1622. John Beaumond, of Manchester: Wills at Chester, ii. 18.

London, 28, 1, 2, 1, 1, 2, 1; New York (Beament), 1; Boston (U.S.), 4, 12, 0, 1, 1, 0, 5.

Beaupre.—Local, 'of Beaupreau,' a town in France. Possibly its manufactures of linen and woollen originated the name of the linen fabric, beaupers or beupers (v. H.E.D. 'beaupers'). At any rate, the fact that the surname existed and reached England is corroborative, as suggesting mercantile relations.

John de Beaupre, co. Devon, 1273. A.

Beavan, Beaven, Beavins.—Bapt. ab-Evan (Welsh), i.e. 'the son of Evan'; v. Bevan and Bevans. Similarly Evan and Evans are found as Heaven and Heavens, q.v.

1676. Matthew Denis and Hannah Beaven: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 137.

1752. Married—John Beavens and Eliz. Roulat: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 233.

London, 10, 4, 1; New York, 0, 1, 0.

Beaver, Beever, Bever.—(1) Local, 'de Beauver,' spelt in general history 'de Beauvoir.' The Prior of Beauver is frequently alluded to in early registers.

(Prior) de Beuver (co. Notts), or Beauver (co. Leic.), 1273. A.

John de Beauver, co. York, ibid.
Thurstan de Beauver, co. York, ibid.

John de Beauver, co. York, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1751. Bapt.—Bois, s. Osmond Beauvoir: Canterbury Cath. p. 29.

(2) Nick, 'the beaver,' a sobriquet from the animal so called.

Adam Bever, co. Soms., 1273. A.
John le Bever. G.

Jno le Bevere. N.

1675. Edward Beaver and Ellinor Jefferies: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 249.

1729. Bapt.—Eliz., d. William Bever: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 78.

London, 3, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 40, 0, 1; New York, 16, 1, 0.

Beavis, Beaves, Beavies, Beauvais.—(1) Local, 'of Beauvais,' in France. (2) Bapt. a modification of Beavins or Bevins, q.v.; cf. Purkiss for Perkins.

Simon de Beauveys, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

Philip de Beauveys, London, ibid.

1557-8. Edward Beavys and Eliz. Comes: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 18.

1601. John Grantham and Jone Bevys: ibid. p. 266.

1606. Peter Bevis, co. Devon: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 292.

1614. Charles Beavis, ibid. i. 277.
London, 15, 1, 1, 3; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0, 0.

Bebb.—Bapt. the son of Barbara, a variant of Babb, q.v.

1611. Married—Roger Beb and Alice Bowles: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 20.

1741. —John Bebb and Sarah Prigg: ibid. p. 69.

London, 1.

Beck, Becke.—Local, 'at the beck,' from residence beside the beck, a running stream, a small rivulet, a word still in common use in the North. 'Bek watyr, rendylle, rivulus, torrens': Prompt. Parv.

Richerus del Bek, C. R., 55 Hen. III.
William en le Bec, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Ricardus del Bek, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 247.

Robert atte Bek, C. R., 19 Ric. II.
William atte Bek, temp. 1300. M.

'Robert atte Bek and Maud his wife held lands here (Beck-Hall) in the 33rd of Edward III': FF. viii. 189.

1624. Alexander Shanche and Catherine Becke: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 140.

1759. Married—Joseph Beck and Catherine Andrews: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 88.

London, 38, 1; Philadelphia, 200, 1.

Becker.—? Bapt. 'the son of Becker' (t). Some old personal name; cf. Beckett (German) in London Directory.

Alicia Becker, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 84.
Magota Becker, 1379: ibid.
1668. Married—Roger Becker and Ann Nicles: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 164.
1761. —Ludewig Becker and Jane Toolken: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 101.
London, 9; Philadelphia, 104.

Beckett.—(1) Local, 'at the beek-head'; v. A Beckett. (2) Bapt.; cf. Birkett. Probably a personal name; cf. Becker.

John Beckett, co. Soms., I Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 93.

Robertus Becket, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 287.

1532. Robert Bekett and Elene Marshall: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 8.

1586. Thomas Jennings and Eliz. Beckett: ibid. p. 152.

1610. Richard Beckett, of Ch. Ch.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 380.

London, 22; Philadelphia, 20.

Beckford, Bickford.—Local, 'of Beckford,' a parish in co. Gloucester, about six miles from Tewkesbury.

(Prior) de Bekeford, co. Glouc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

(Prior) de Beckford, co. Glouc., 1273. A. Adam de Beckeford, co. Glouc., ibid.

Henry de Beckeford, co. Glouc., ibid. Alex. de Bikeford, co. Staff., ibid.

*William Beckford (1709-70), twice Lord Mayor of London. . . The Beckfords were descended from a family long resident in Gloucestershire: Dict. Nat. Biog. iv. 80.

1743. Married—Francis Beckford and Lady Albinia Bertie: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 31.

London, 2, 1; Boston (U.S.), 12, 45.

Beckles.—Local, 'of Beccles,' a parish in co. Suffolk.

Daniel de Beccles, Norwich, 1256: FF. iii. 488.

Hugh de Beccles, co. Suff., 1273. A. Crockford, 2.

Beckley.—Local, 'of Beckley,' (1) a parish in co. Oxford; (2) a parish in co. Sussex, near Rye.

Thomas de Beckelegh, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Henry de Beckele, co. Oxf., ibid.

1622. Simon Beckley, co. Berks, and Mary Winch: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 68.

1680. Edmund Winder and Elinor Beckley: ibid. p. 120.

1753. Married—John Beckley and Eliz. Withers: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 258.
London, 6; Philadelphia, 9.

Beckman, Beckmann.—Bapt. 'the son of Beckmann'

(German). For an English example, v. Bickman.

1667. Married—John Becman and Susanna Wright: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 140.

Philadelphia, 29, 5; London, 0, 2.

Beckwith.—Local, 'of Beckwith,' a hamlet in the parish of Pannall, near Harrogate, co. York (cf. Askwith; no doubt the suffix is a variant of worth; v. Worth). This surname is strongly established in Boston (U.S.). 'Robert Beckwith, aged 21, went out in 1635 in the Transport, bound for Virginia' (v. Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 103).

Willelmus Bekwyth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 190.

Willelmus de Bekwyth, 1379: ibid. Johannes de Bekwyth, 1379: ibid.

1562. William Beckewithe and Margaret Daye: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 24.

1572. Roger Beckwith, St. Alban Hall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 41.

1754. Married—Ambrose Beckwith and Martha Smith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 54.

London, 11; West Riding Court Dir., 5; Boston (U.S.), 10.

Bed.—Local, 'of the bed,' an official title: the yeoman of the bed-chamber.

Gilbert del Bed. H. Gilbert del Bed, Close Roll, 30 Edw. I.

'To Lamberte yoman of the Bedde, viis. viij. 1540: Privy Purse Exp., Princess Mary, p. 86.

Beddall.—Offic. 'the beadle'; v. Beadle.

Simon le Beddel, C. R., 56 Henry III. 1586-7. Richard Cottman and Alice Bedall: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 158.

1746. Married—Thomas Shepherd and Mary Beddall: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 68.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 1; New York, 1.

Beddoe, Beddoes, Beddow, Bedow, Peddowe, Beddows.

—Bapt. ap- or ab-Eddow. A Welsh patronymic, 'the son of Eddow'; cf. Bevans, Bethell, Bloyd, Benyon, &c. My view is corroborated by the fact that Eddowe existed alongside Beddowe; cf. Bithell and Ithell, Ennion and Bennion. Also as Eddowe became Eddowes, so Beddoe became Beddoes; v. Eddowes. Although I may not have got the exact form of the personal name, there can be no doubt about the origin as stated above. Beddoes is a double patronymic, part English, part Welsh: ab-Eddow-s. This final s is the same as the s in Williams or Jennings; v. Bevans.

1577-8. Richard Peddowe and Johanna Green: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 78.

—Richard Love and Johanna Bedowe, widow: ibid.

1578-9. Thomas Bedo, co. Salop: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 85.

Edward Beddowe, of Tybroughton, co. Flint, yeoman, 1650: Wills at Chester (1621-1650), p. 18.

Margaret Beddowe, of Hanmer, 1622: ibid.

William Beddowe, clerk, vicar of Hanmer, 1574: ibid. (1545-1620), p. 16.

David Eddowe, of Iscoyd, co. Flint, 1605: ibid. p. 59.

Thomas Eddowe, of Oldcastle, 1615: ibid.

London, 2, 0, 2, 1, 0, 0; Manchester, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0; Crockford (1879), 0, 1, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Radnor), 0, 1, 0, 0, 0; (Salop), 2, 17, 3, 0, 0, 0; (Pembroke), 1, 0, 0, 0, 0; (Montgomery), 0, 4, 0, 0, 0, 0; New York (Beddows), 1; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 3, 0, 0, 0.

Bedford.—Local, 'of Bedford,' in the co. of Bedford.

John de Bedford, tailleur, 9 Edw. III: Freemen of York, i. 30.

Jordan de Bedeford, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Robert de Bedeford, co. Hunts, ibid.

Johannes de Bedforth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 168.

1578. Antony Bedford, co. Salop: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 84.

1589. John Robynson and Ann Bedford: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 180.

1707. Bapt.—Eliz., d. William Bedford: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 37.

London, 33; Manchester, 4; Philadelphia, 17.

Bedingham.—Local, 'of Bedingham,' parishes in diocs. of Norwich and Chichester. It is possible that in some instances Beadman is a corrupted form. We have parallel instances in Deadman for Debenham, and Putman for Putnam, i.e. Pottenham. Of course it would be more satisfactory to refer it to the same origin as Paternoster, and there is strong evidence for this view. The corruptions would be as follows: Bedingham, Beddenham, Bednam, Bedman, Beadman; v. Beadman for a really satisfactory solution of that surname.

Clarice de Bedyngnam, co. Norf., 1273. A.

1525-6. William Bedyngnam and Elen Bolande = Marriage Lic. (London), i. 5. London, 2.

Bedward, Beddard.—Bapt. ab-Edward (Welsh) = English Edwards or Edwardson; v. Bellis for further instances. Only found on the borders of the Principality.

Richard ap Edward, of Overton, 1581: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 59.

Edward ap Edward, of Knolton, 1629: ibid. (1621-1650), p. 72.

In the 18th century this had assumed the form of Bedward.

John Bedward, 1747: List of Freemen in Chester (in the Byrom Library, Chetham Library, Manchester).

From Bedward to Beddard was an easy and natural step.

1556. Edward ab-Edward, citizen of Oxford: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. i. p. 298.

1647. Married—William Bedward and Mary Hayward: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 81.

1752. — Edward Beddard and Mary Pritchard: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 234.

The above entry is very Welsh.

Liverpool, i. o; London, i. i; MDB. (Salop), i. o.

Bedwin.—Local, 'of Bedwin,' two parishes, Great and Little Bedwin, in co. Wilts.

William Bedwine, co. Devon, 1273. A.

1744. Married—Cramond McDugall and Mary Bedwin: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 40. London, i.

Bee.—(1) Nick. 'the bee,' an industrious man, a busy woman. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Beatrice,' from the nick. Bee, still in use.

Alicia Bee, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 272.

Thomas Bee, 1447: cos. Northumb. and Durham: PPP. i. 315.

1587. Bapt.—William, son of Agnes Bee: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 19.

1597. Edward Bee and Margery Pyke: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 245.

1745. Married—John Bee and Eliz. White: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 35. London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 4.

Beebe, Beeby, Beaby, Beebee.—Local, 'of Beeby,' a village six miles from Leicester; v. Bibby.

1678. Thomas Beeby and Hannah King: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 282.

1744. Married—James Beeby and Mary Dorman: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 44.

1760. — James Beeby and Mary Dennis: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 98.

London, 2, 5, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Leicester), o, 1, o, o; (co. Wilts), o, o, 2, o; (co. Stafford), o, o, o, 12; Philadelphia, 12, o, o, o.

Beech, Beach.—Local, 'at the beech-tree'; cf. Ash, Oak, Birch, &c.

Eufemia de la Beche, co. Norf., 35 Edw. III: FF. viii. 187.

Thomas atte Beche, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 139.

Jacob de la Beche, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Matilda de la Beche, co. Camb., ibid.

William de la Beche, co. Oxf., ibid. 1623. Bapt.—Rebecca, d. Roger Beech: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 97.

1718. Married—Thomas Beech and Rebecca Horne: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 60.

London, 15, 16; Philadelphia, 9, 21.

Beecham; v. Beauchamp.

Beecher.—(1) Occup. I am not able to state the avocation followed by 'le Beecher.' (2) Local, 'the beecher,' one who lived by some prominent beech-tree (v. Beech); cf. Bridger.

Henry le Beechur (also Becchur), co. Camb., 1273. A.

John Beecher, co. Camb., ibid. 1588-9. Henry Beecher, co. Hants: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 168.

1594. William Beecher, or Beecher, of London: ibid. p. 204.

1670. Married—Oliver Beecher and Sarah Wyan: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 39.

1747. — James Beecher and Abigail Oakman: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 82. London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 5; New York, 12.

Beechey.—Local, 'at the Beechey,' i.e. the beech-isle, the little island covered with beech-trees. Seemingly some small islet in one of the streams or rivers in co. Oxford.—I wrote the above several years ago, but I find a second derivation, and possibly the true one in all cases:

Brownynng Bychehey, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 94.

This means Browning at the Beech-hey, i.e. he lived beside the beech enclosure; v. Hey, a field enclosed by beech-trees.

Thomas de la Beechey, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

1769. Married—William Beechey and Francis McLaughlin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. p. 183.

London, 2; MDB. (co. Oxford), 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Beecroft.—Local, 'at the bere-croft,' i.e. barley-croft (v. Croft); cf. Rycroft. A.S. bere, barley. Evidently a Yorkshire local surname. I find no instances in the London church registers printed by the Harleian Society. There can be no doubt about the origin of this name.

Walter de Bercroft, co. York, 1273. A. Matilda Bercroft, co. York, ibid.

Johannes de Bercroft, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 182.

Willelmus de Bercroft, 1379: ibid. p. 191.

James Beecroft, 1587: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 16.

Thomas Beecroft, Norwich, 1710: FF. iv. 365.

1803. Married—Robert Beecroft and Rebecca Smith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 288. West Riding Court Dir., 4; London, 4; MDB. (West Riding Yorks), 5; Philadelphia, 9.

Beef.—Nick. 'the Beef,' beef, an ox; O.F. boef; cf. Bull, Pigg, &c.

John le Bef, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Robert le Bef, co. Oxf., ibid.

Beeman.—Local, a corruption of Beaumont; v. Beaman.

Beer, Beere, Beare, Bear.—Local, 'at the bere,' i.e. at the byre, the farmstead, cowshed, or village; v. Words and Places, p. 157; cf. Coneybeare. Common in Devonshire place-names. The same as by in Formby, Rugby, Willoughby, &c.; cf. such places as Bere Ferrars, Bere Regis, Beer Alston, Beer Hacket, Langabeer, all in Devonshire and Dorset district.

John de Bere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 143.

Robert atte Bere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 253.

William atte Byr, co. Hertf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Lucy de la Bere, co. Devon: ibid. Elyas de la Byare, co. Devon, 1273. A.

John de la Byare, co. Devon, ibid. Reginald de Bere, co. Devon, ibid.

Richard de la Bere, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.

Robert de la Bere, co. Southampt., ibid. Elyas de la Byare, 1534, rector of Endellion, co. Cornwall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 103 and index.

1614. Married—Favor Beare and Catherine Powell: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 13.

1713. — Samuel Keymer and Sarah Beer: ibid. p. 42.

London, 12, 4, 1, 6; Plymouth, 4, 0, 2, 0; Exeter, 6, 0, 0, 0; Devonport, 4, 0, 0, 0; New York, 26, 3, 2, 15.

Beerbrewer.—Occup. 'the beer-brewer.'

'Chymney-sweepers, and costerdomongers,
Lodemen and cockebrewers.'

Cocke Lorelle's Bote.
Lambert Beerbruer, co. York. W. 11.
'Hic jacet Ricardus Lawrence filius
Laurentii Berbrewer, alias Wylliamson.'
A.D. 1500: St. Simon and St. Jude (Norwich): FF. iv. 357.

Beeston, Beeson, Beesting.
—Local, 'of Beeston,' a village near Leeds. With Beeson, cf. Kelson for Kelston, &c.

Radulphus de Beeston, Esquier, of Beeston, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 192.
Willelmus de Beeston, 1379: ibid. p. 201.
Johannes de Beeston, 1379: ibid. p. 206.
1579. Robert Beistone, co. York: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 88.
1701. Married—Ralph Beeston and Eliza Wellin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 223.
1793. — Joseph Beeson and Eliz. Killmaster: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 102.
London, 8, 0, 0; Sheffield, 1, 2, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 2, 0.

Beet.—Bapt. 'the son of Beatrice,' from the nick. Pete; v. Beaton and Beatson. Bete or Beet was a familiar nick. in Yorkshire, where Beatrice was very popular as a font-name in the 13th and 14th centuries.

Alicia Bete, daughter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 233.
Johannes Bete, son, 1379: ibid. p. 13.
1687. William Beet and Rachell Sweet: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 10.
London, 2; Sheffield, 4.

Beetson; v. Beaton and Beet.

Belcher, Belchier.—Nick. 'belsire,' grandfather, or perhaps bel chere, good friend; cf. Bellamy, Bowsher, and Bonamy.

'Lo, here is the belshire broght that ye bad bring': York Mystery Plays, p. 262.
'Belsyre, or belfather, faders or moders fader, avus': Prompt. Parv. See also Belsire (H.E.D.).

Richard Belchere, co. Glouc., 1273. A.
John Belsire, co. Kent, ibid.
Leonard Belshyre, squire bedell, Oxford, 1553: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. i. p. 288.
William Belsher, sheriff of Bristol, 1562: YYY. p. 685.

1673. Buried—Katherine Bellshar: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 140.
1783. Married—Walter Belchar and Mary Ware: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 350.
London, 20, 2; Philadelphia, 18, 0.

Beljambe.—Nick. 'handsome legs'; cf. Foljambe.

Alexander Bele-Jambe, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Peter Belejambe, co. Wilts, ibid.
Richard Beljaumbe, c. 1315. M.

Bell.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Bell,' i.e. Isabel; nick. Bella or Bell; v. Belson.

Bela le Barber, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Bella or Bele Cotty, co. Linc., ibid.
Nicholas fil. Bele, co. Bedf., ibid.
Bele Scampeyn, co. Camb., ibid.

(2) Nick. 'le bel,' i.e. the beautiful.

Ralph le Bele, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Hugh le Bel, co. Oxf., ibid.
Thomas le Bel, co. Suff., ibid.
Robert le Bell, mayor of Bristol, 1239: YYY. p. 669.

(3) Local, 'at the Bell,' i.e. an inn-sign, or one who dwelt by the bell, i.e. bell-chamber.

John atte Belle. V.
Richard atte Bell, 1307. M.
John atte Belle (London). X.
Roger atte Bell, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 81.
London, 158; Philadelphia, 324.

Bellamy, Bellamey.—Nick. a familiar expression, 'my good friend'; cf. Bonamy. A common surname in early registers.

'Feste! fy! that were a wykyd treson!
Bellamy, thou shal be smytt.'
York Mystery Plays, p. 391.
'Thou bel-amy, thou pardonere,' he said.
Chaucer, C. T. 12252.
'Belamy, fayre frynde': Prompt. Parv. p. 29.

Henry Belamy, Close Roll, 2 Edw. I.
Hugh Belami, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Roger Belamy, co. Oxf., ibid.
John Belamy, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 233.
John Bellmy, Norwich, 1603: FF. iv. 167.
1634. Bapt.—Eliz., d. John Bellamy: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 127.
1757. Married—Charles Parent and Eliz. Bellamy: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 71.
London, 24, 1; New York, 5, 0.

Bellard; v. Bellhird.

Belchambers, Belchamber.
—Local, 'of Belencumbre,' in the arrondissement of Dieppe, in Normandy. The present forms are imitative. There is not the slightest evidence in favour of an origin akin to Bellhouse. Dr. Charnock has unwisely permitted himself to write as follows: 'A friend assures me he knows of a William Chambers who changed his name to Bill-chambers, of which he says Belchambers is a corruption' (Ludus Patronymicus, p. 6). 'Save me from my friends' receives a fresh consecration after this.

John de Belencumbre, co. Essex, 1273. A.
Robert de Belecumbre, co. Essex, ibid. 1654.
Buried—Mary Belchamber: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 130.
1677. Thomas Shelbery and Merrian Belchamber: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 265.
1794. Married—Samuel Belchambers and Eliz. Grant: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 112.
London, 2, 2; New York, 2, 0.

Bellett, Bellott, Belot.—Bapt. (?) 'the son of Isabel' (?), from the nick. Bel, dim. Bel-ot or Bel-et; v. Bell (1). The writer of the article on Hugh Bellot (1542-96), bishop of Chester (Dict. Nat. Biog. iv. 195), says, 'The Bellots were early seated in Norfolk. ... It has been suggested that the name is derived from belette, a weasel, or belotte, gentle, pretty. ... We find the name spelt in various ways: Billel, Bellell, Billellet, &c.' After writing the above I find a local origin implied by two entries in Blomefield's Hist. of Norfolk. If correct, those entries are entitled to the first consideration. But I strongly suspect a double origin.

Adam Belot, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
William Belet, co. Norf., ibid.
Hervens Belet, co. Oxf., 20 Edw. I. R.
Lawrence de Belet, co. Linc., ibid.
Hervy de Belet, co. Norf., 1236: FF. v. 143.
Ingelram de Belet, co. Norf., 6 Edw. II: ibid. viii. 434.
Robert Belet, 8 Edw. II: ibid. vii. 288.
1708. Married—Charles Davis and Ann Bellot: St. Mary Aldernary, p. 38.
1758. — James Bellell and Jane Thompson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 78.
London, 1, 1, 0; Crockford, 3, 0, 0; New York, 1, 0, 1.

Bellhird, Bellard.—Occup. 'a bull-herd,' a tender of bulls; A.S. bellan, to bellow; cf. Coward, Oxhird, Calvert, Stoddard, or Shepherd.

Simon Belhyrd, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 273.
Henry Bellard, 1379: ibid. p. 6.
1657. Bapt.—Henry, s. Robert Bellard: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 197.

MDb. (East Rid. Yorks), o, 1; New York, o, 1.

Bellhouse, Bellows.—Local, 'at the Bell-house.' The bell-house or tower was frequently detached from the church; v. Bellhouse (H.E.D.), early corrupted to Bellows.

Richard de Belhouse, co. Norf., 31 Edw. III: FF. vi. 16.

John de Belhouse, co. Norf., 1333: ibid. p. 384.

Ricardus de Belhus, co. Suff., 1273. A. Thomas de la Belhuse, co. Kent, ibid.

Johannes de Bellehous, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 160.

Thomas Belhowse, C. R., 18 Ric. II. William Bellows, co. York, 1440. W. 2.

1590. Bapt.—Richard, s. Edward Bellowse: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 23.

1771. Married—John Bellhouse and Jane Butson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 209.

Crockford, i. o; Manchester, 4, o; Philadelphia, o, 8; Boston (U.S.), o, 27.

Bellinger.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Beranger,' a corruption, v. Berlinger. (2) Occup.; v. Bullinger. The first is the more probable origin.

1563. Buried—William Bellinger: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 118.

Married—Thomas Bland and Rose Belynger: ibid. p. 226.

1572-3. William Bellinger and Dorothy Ferrybye: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 55.

1620. Married—Richard Ashman and Joan Belinger: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 250.

1658. Bapt.—Ann, d. Giles Bellinger: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 201.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 1.

Bellingham, Billingham.—

(1) Local, 'of Bellingham,' a parish in co. Northumberland. (2) Local, 'of Billingham,' a parish in co. Durham.

I strongly suspect that some small spot, also called Bellingham, existed or exists in co. Norfolk, whence some of our Bellinghams and Billingham. Mr. Lower says there is a family of Bellinghams in co. Sussex, sprung 'from Belingeham, a manor near Hastings, mentioned in Domesday' (Patr. Brit. p. 24).

William de Belingham, co. Norf., 1273. A. Edward Billingham, co. Norf., 1546: FF. i. 458.

Henry Bellingham, co. Norf., c. Henry V: ibid. ix. 109.

1557. Married—Cristofer Bellingham and Eliz. Scott: St. Antholin (London), p. 11.

1578. Richard Bellingham, co. Sussex: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 82.

1580. Henry Belingam, co. Sussex: ibid. p. 92.

1621. Grivell Gibbes and Eliz. Bellingham: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 105.

1783. Married—Joseph Davis Baker and Martha Bellingham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 353.

London, 4, 1; MDb. (co. Norfolk), 1, o; (co. Sussex), 4, o; Philadelphia, 1, 1.

Bellion.—Bapt. 'the son of Enion'; Welsh Ap-Enion = Benion, q.v.; further corrupted to Bellion; cf. banisters for balusters, staircase railings; n and l are constantly interchangeable in nomenclature.

Liverpool, 2; London, 1; New York, 1.

Bellis, Belliss, Bellys, Bellise.—Bapt. 'the son of Ellis,' from Welsh Ap-Ellis, which became Bellis; cf. Bloyd = Ap-Lloyd, Bethell = Ap-Ithell, Beddard = Ap-Edward. Found much in Cheshire and the borders of the Principality. Also in cos. Denbigh and Flint.

Edward ap Ellis, of Royton, 1631: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 73.

John ap Ellis, of Allington, 1641: ibid.

John Bellis, 1747: List of Freemen in Chester (in Byrom Library, Chetham Library, Manchester).

Edward Bellis, 1747: ibid.

Griffeth lloyd ap Ellis de Yate, co. Denbigh: Visit. Glouc., 1623, p. 96.

John ap Ellis ap Griffeth, co. Denbigh: ibid.

1610. Thomas Bridge and Ursula Bellies: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 320.

1888. Married—Richard, only son of John Bellis, of Llandudno, and Judith Amelia Eaton: Manchester Courier, March 10, 1888.

MDb. (co. Ches.), 1, o, 1, 4; Liverpool, 6, o, o, o; March, 2, o, o, o; London, o, 1, o, o; Philadelphia, 8, o, o, o.

Bellison, Belson.—Bapt. 'the son of Bell'; v. Bell (1) and Belson. The i in Bellison either represents the a in Bella-son, or is euphonically intrusive, as the a in Greenaway (for Greenway) or Ottaway (for Otway).

1556-7. Thomas Androwes and Jane Belson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 35.

1651. Buried—William Belson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 288.

MDb. (co. Warwick), 3, 1; London, o, 2; Philadelphia, o, 4.

Bellman.—Office, 'a bell-ringer' (cf. Knowler), probably the old town-crier, or the officer who rang the hours in corporate towns.

Robertus Belleman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 123.

The first two following entries seem to suggest a second derivation:—

1600-1. Richard Bellmayne, co. Devon: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 322.

1621. Robert Bellmayne, co. Devon: ibid. p. 393.

1596. Buried—Zachary, s. Zachrie Bellman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 58.

1612. —Helliin, wife of Zachary Bellman: ibid. p. 122.

1752. Married—James Bellman and Ann Bennett: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 207.

1753. Buried—Agnes, d. John Belman: Reg. of Ulverston Parish Ch. p. 275.

London, 4; Ulverston, 1; New York, 3; Philadelphia, 6.

Bellwether.—Nick. 'the bellwether.' 'A very early instance of the use of this word will be found in the custumal of the manor of Brithwolton, co. Berks (Camden Soc.), where the keeper of the wethers was entitled, among his perquisites, to the bellwether's fleece ("belwertheresfles"). The date is 1284-5' (J. H. Round in Notes and Queries, Feb. 19, 1887.)

John Bellwether, 1307. M. Stephen de le (?) Belwether. MM.

Belsham, Bellsham.—Local, 'of Belchamp,' a parish in co. Essex, three miles from Clare.

Roger de Belesham, co. Sussex, 1273. A. 1661. Jonathan Belsham, of Fulham, and Eliz. Bowles: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 286.

London, 5, 3.

Belshaw.—Local, 'of Belshaw' or 'Balshaw.' I cannot identify the spot.

'John de Balschagh, for the service of Rochdale fee, yearly 26s. 8d.,' 1311: Baines' Lanc. i. 483.

Johannes Belschagh, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 22.

Agnes de Bolchawe, 1379: ibid.

Adam de Bolchawe, 1379: ibid.

1608. John Balshaw, of Snape-within-Scarlsbrick: Wills at Chester, i. 10.

London, 2; Manchester, 4; Philadelphia, 7.

Belson.—Bapt. 'the son of Bell,' i. e. Isabel; v. Bell (1).

Robert fil. Bele, co. Suff., 1273. A. 1575. Thomas Belson, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 63.

1596. Augustine Belson, co. Oxf.: ibid. p. 216.

1707. Bapt.—Mary, d. of William Belson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 37.

1724. Married—Daniel Congey and Mary Belson: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 46.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 4.

Belstead.—Local, 'of Belstead,' a parish in the dioc. of Norwich and co. Suffolk. This surname is in general lost in Benstead, q.v.

Walter de Bellestede, co. Bucks, 20 Edw. I. R.

John de Belstede, co. Suff., ibid.
John de Belstede, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Robert de Belsted, co. Suff., ibid.
London, 1.

Belter.—Occup. 'a bell-founder'; v. Billiter.

John Belletor, or Belter, secular chaplain, sup. for B.A., 20 May, 1522: Reg. Univ. Ox. i. 125.
New York, 2.

Belton.—Local, 'of Belton,' parishes in dioc. of Norwich, Lincoln, and Peterborough. The Lincoln Beltons have strongly ramified in that county.

Hamon de Belton, co. Norf., 1257: FF. iv. 398.

John de Belton, rector of Ovington, co. Norf., 1366: ibid. ii. 296.

Henry de Belton, pistor, 17 Edw. II: Freemen of York, i. 22.

John de Beletun, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Gervase de Belton, co. Suff., ibid.

Nicholas de Belton, co. Suff., ibid.
William Belton, 1570: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 3.

1775. Married—David Belton and Mary Nichols: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 251.

1782.—John Lewis and Ann Belton: ibid. p. 331.

London, 6; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 28; New York, 6.

Beman.—(1) Occup. 'a bee-man,' a 'custos avium.' (2) Local, a corruption of Beaumont; v. Beaman. For want of proof in favour of (1) it is manifest that (2) is the chief parent. The occurrence of Beaman in Yorkshire is strongly corroborative.

Johannes Beman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 156.

Alicia Beman, 1379: ibid. p. 157.

1674. Bapt.—John, son of Richard Bemon: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 265.

1703. Married—Thomas Ellsey and Amelia Beman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 95.

London, 2; New York, 3.

Bemand, Bement.—Local; v. Beman, Beaman, and Beaumont.

1797. Married—William Bement and Mary Roberts: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 167.

London, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 9, 6.

Bembridge.—Local, 'of Bembridge,' a chapelry in the parish of Brading, Isle of Wight. Sometimes probably a variant of Bainbridge, q.v. The following entries will show the tendency to variation:

1600. Buried—Eliz., wife of Edward Bembridge: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 67.

1637. — John Bembridge: ibid. p. 233.

1664. — Jane Bembridge: ibid. p. 359.

These, no doubt, were all related to one another.

London, 1.

Benbow, Benbough.—Nick.

'Bendbow,' a complimentary sobriquet for a stout archer; cf. Stiff bow, Strongbow, Sharparrow, &c. 'Let the archer bend his bow.'—Jer. li.

3 (Auth. Version).

Roger Benbow. F.

William Bendebowe, London. X.

John Benbow, 1440, co. York. W. 11.

Robert Benbowe, cantor Ecclesiae Christi: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. i. p. 285.

'Vice-Admiral John Benbow (1653-1702) was son of a tanner at Shewsbury': Dict. Nat. Biog. iv. 207.

1885. Nicholas Benbowe and Eliz. Welford: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 142.

1607. Married—Robert Bendbowe and Jone Bowers: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 11.

1622-3.—Leonard Knight and Constance Benbowe: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 21.

London, 6, 1.

Bence.—Bapt. 'the son of Bennett'; v. Benns; cf. Evance for Evans.

Bencher, Banker.—Offic. 'the benchier,' the 'banker.' Very early instances of some office in legal or exchequer matters, although the instances given in the H.E.D. belong to the 16th century.

Roger de Bencher, co. Ox., 1273. A.

John le Bancker (London), 1300. M.

Robert le Banker, 1298. M.

Philadelphia, 9, 5.

Benedict, Benedictus.—Bapt.

'the son of Benedict,' more generally Bennet, q.v. One of the most popular personal names of the surname epoch, owing its favour to the Benedictines. Several of its derivatives, such as Bennet, Bennett, and Benson, are among the most familiar of English surnames.

Benedict de Pennington, co. Cumb., 1185: RRR, p. 30.

Benedictus Willeeson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 232.

Benedictus Colier, 1379: ibid. p. 233.

Reginald fil. Benedicti, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Clemens fil. Benedicti, co. York, ibid.

George Benedict, co. Norf.: FF. v. 211.

London, 1, 1; New York, 66, 0.

Benger. ?—

Robert Benyger, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 185.

Manchester, 1.

Benjamin.—Bapt. 'the son of Benjamin.' Most of the instances in the London Directory are modern Jewish, but several, no doubt, represent a period when Benjamin, like Joseph, was not unpopular in England.

Caterina fil. Benjamini, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Robert Benjamin, co. Bedf., ibid.

1802. 'The wife of S. S. Benjamin, prematurely, of a son': Daily Telegraph, Aug. 18.

London, 32.

Benn.—Bapt. 'the son of Bennet,' i.e. Benedict, from the nick. Benn; it has nothing to do with Benjamin. Benn is a familiar surname wherever the Benedictine monks had a convent. Furness Abbey, founded in the 12th century, has made Benn and Benson (q.v.) a common surname in Furness and south Cumberland.

Eborard Benne, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Robert Benne, co. Norf., ibid.

Ricardus Benne, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 190.

Thomas Benne, 1379: ibid. p. 218.

William Benne, vicar of Castor, co. Norf., 1410: FF. xi. 211.

Peter Benne, vicar of Rowdham, co. Norf., 1430: ibid. i. 435.

1634. Married—Anthony Beomont and Eliz. Benn: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 15.

1662. Tempest Milner and Rebecca Benn: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 78.

1771. Married—Richard Brooks and Sally Benn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 205.

London, 3; MDB. (co. Cumb.), 9; Philadelphia, 10.

Bennet, Bennett.—Bapt. 'the son of Bennet,' i.e. Benedict, q.v.

Bennet was the usual English form.

While Furness Abbey was administered under the Benedictine Order, Bennet was one of the commonest of baptismal names in the surrounding district (v. Benn).

West, in his Hist. of Furness (pp. 188, 60, 29), records, amongst the benefactors of the Abbey and

Conishead Priory, 'Benet, son of Alan,' 'Benet Penington' (1290),

'Benet de Rotington' (1256), and

'Benet, son of William' (1256).

These were all living in the immediate neighbourhood of the Abbey. Indeed, it will be found that Bennet and Benson are still common surnames in districts where the Benedictines have had foundations.

Benedict, or Benett of Hankeston, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Beneyt Mercator, co. Camb., ibid.
Nicholas Beneyt, co. Oxf., ibid.
Reginald fil. Beneyt, co. Hunts., ibid.
Robert Benet, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 89.

Joanna Benet, daughter, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 232.

1581. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Bennet Calway: St. Columb Major (Cornwall), p. 11.

The feminine Benedicta was also familiarly Bennet.

1561. Bapt.—Bennet, d. Robert Garret: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 22.

1575. — Bennet, d. James Blower: ibid. p. 22.

1577-8. William Stiche and Bennett Bennett, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 78.

1578. Bapt.—John, s. Thomas Bennett: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 11.
London, 8, 183; New York, 18, 234.

Bennie, Benny.—Bapt. 'the son of Bennet,' i.e. Benedict, from the nick. Benn, colloquially Benny or Bennie. As a surname very rare; v. Benn and Benson.

Johannes Benny, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 126.

1576. Arthur Leighe and Joanna Bennie: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 70.

1681. Buried—Peeter Benny: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 247.
London, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0.

Benning.—Bapt. 'the son of Benning'; cf. Harding, Browning, &c. Among our place-names we have Bennington, Benningbrough, and Benningholme.

Jacob Beynyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 223.

John Beynyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

David Bening, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
Torald Bening, co. Norf., ibid.
1689. George Benning and Sarah Noltan: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 116.

—Isaac Cardel Perdriel Dorgeval, captain in ye King's Troops, and Christian Bening: ibid.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 3.

Bennington.—Local, 'of Bennington,' two parishes in co. Linc., one near Boston, the other seven miles from Grantham.

Alan de Benington, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Ralph de Benington, co. Linc., ibid.
Alice de Bennington, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Astin de Bennington, co. Linc., ibid.
1668. Married—Robert Hanwell and Margaret Benington: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 144.
London, 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Bennion.—Bapt.; Welsh Ap-Enion; v. Benyon.

1581. Laurence Bynion, or Benyon, or Benion, or Bygnion, co. Bucks: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. pp. 59, 106.

1663. Married—Thomas Benyon and Eliz. Erland: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 113.

1687. Robert Ryder and Ann Bennion: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 4.
Liverpool, 3; Manchester, 2; New York, 1.

Bennison.—Bapt. 'the son of Bennet,' i.e. Benedict; v. Bennet. This surname in south Lancashire was at first Bennetson, but naturally settled down into Bennison.

Reginald Bennetson, of Werneth, co. Lanc., 1575: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 17.

Richard Bennetson, of Romiley, 1590: ibid.

Edward Bennetson, of Stockport, 1617: ibid.

Later on this form disappears, and Bennison takes its place.

John Bennison, of Duckenfield, 1677: Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 25.

Mary Bennison, of Gorton, 1678: ibid.

Jonathan Bennison, of Thornham, 1677: ibid.

1565. Married—William Bennetson and Katherine Cowper: Prestbury Church (co. Chester), p. 16.

1630. Buried—Ellen Bennison: ibid. p. 275.

Thus Bennison is not an extension of Bennion, although the ultimate origin is the same, but an abbreviation of Bennetson.

Manchester, 4; Boston (U.S.), 6.

Benns, Bence, Bense.—Bapt. 'the son of Bennet,' from the nick. Benn; v. Benson and Benn. The patronymic Bens became Bence; cf. Ellice for Ellis, Evance for Evans. And as regards the patronymic s, cf. Jones, Williams, Richards, &c.

John Bennes, of Ipswich, rector of Bowthorp, co. Norf., 1420: FF. ii. 382.

1644. Bapt.—Elizabeth, d. Robert Bence: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 55.

John Bense and Eliz. de la Hay, 1663: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 96.

Sir Vere Vaine and Rachell Bence, 1671: ibid. p. 192.

London, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Norfolk), 5, 1, 0; New York, 0, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 4.

Benson.—Bapt. 'the son of Bennet,' i.e. Benedict, from the nick. Ben or Benn. This great Benedictine name has made its mark on the modern directory in several surnames, but after Bennet, Benson occupies the first place.

Germanus Benson, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 232.

Thomas Benson, rector of Houghton, co. Norf., 1559: FF. vi. 133.

1570. Bapt.—William, s. John Benson: St. Antholin (London), p. 20.

1611. — Mary, d. Peter Benson: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 109.

1617. Married—George Stokes and Agnes Benson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 44.

London, 28; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks.), 10; Manchester, 10; Philadelphia, 74.

Benstead.—Local, 'of Bin-stead' or 'Binsted,' parishes in cos. Sussex and Hants.

John de Benstede, co. Norf., 20 Edw. III: FF. vii. 288.

Maud de Bensted, co. Norf., 23 Edw. III: ibid. p. 504.

William de Benstede, co. Kent, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1574-5. Gregory Benstede, co. Hants: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 61.

1606. Married—Robert Foster and Mary Benstead: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 31.

1786. — Richard Didham and Frances Bensted: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 394.

1787. — William Nursey and Eliz. Bensted: ibid. p. 402.

London, 3; Boston (U.S.), 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Bent, Bente.—Local, 'at the Bend' or 'Bent,' from residence thereby. Probably the bend in a river, or valley, or hillside.

Robert de la Bende, co. Salop, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1607. Nicholas Bent, co. Leic.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 299.

1684-5. William Turton and Eliz. Bent: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 306.

1744. Married—John Bent and Mary Oliver: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 33.

London, 10, 0; New York, 10, 3.

Benthall.—Local, 'of Benthall,' a parish in co. Salop, near Much Wenlock.

1610. Laurence Benthall, co. Salop: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 314.

1602. Buried—A male child of Walter Benthall: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 260.

1753. Married—Thomas Benthall and Isabella Smalley: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 264.

London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Bentham.—Local, 'of Bentham,' a parish in West Rid. Yorks, twelve miles from Settle. Most of the Bentham's in the Dict. Nat. Biog. are referred back to a Yorkshire parentage.

Johannes de Bentham, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 280.

Ricardus de Bentham, 1379: ibid.

Thomas de Bentham, 1379: ibid.

All three were inhabitants of Bentham.

1576. Buried—Margaret, daughter of Sir Edward Bentame: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 194.

1758. Married—Matthew Bentham and Hannah Taylor: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 81.
London, 2; West Riding Court Dir., 3; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Bentley.—Local, 'of Bentley,' parishes in cos. Suffolk, Hants, Warwick, Derby, and Essex; also many small hamlets in various counties. In general the surname is literally Benet-legh, i.e. 'the field of Benedict,' the first occupier; v. Bennet.

John de Bentelege, co. Derby, 1273. A. Roger de Benetleye, co. York, ibid.

William de Benetleg, co. Salop, Hen. III. Edw. I. K.

William de Bentelee, co. Salop, ibid.

Simon de Benetl, co. York, ibid.

Alicia de Benteley, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 200.

Richard de Benteley, co. York, 20 Edw. I. R.

William de Benetely, co. Bucks, ibid.

Ricardus de Benteley, carpentar, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 194.

1580. Edward Bentley, co. Warw.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 91.

1786. Married—John Ostler and Abigail Bentley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 385.

London, 20; West Riding Court Dir., 24; New York, 25.

Benwell.—Local, 'of Benwell,' a township in the parish of St. John, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

1543-4. Walter Benwell and Johanna Barnes: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 2.

1753. Married—Thomas Benwell and Margaret Alsop: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 249.

London, 9; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Benyon, Binyon, Pinnion,

Pinyon.—Bapt. Ap-Eignion, or Eignon, or Enion, i.e. 'the son of Eignon,' &c. A once popular name in the Principality. St. Einiawn was one of the early saints of the Cymry, after whom is named a spring at Llanvareth, in Radnorshire (Yonge, ii. 161); v. Eynon and Baynham, and cf. Bevan for Ap-Evan, Bowen for Ap-Owen.

Joane Howell ap Eignion: Visit. Glouc. p. 188.

Raffe ap Eignon: ibid. p. 12.

Ennian fil. Kenewrec, 7 Hen. III: Pipe Roll, iv. 39.

David ap Eynon, 1313. M.

Meredith ap Eynon, 1322, ibid.

Rwrith ab Eynon, 23 Edw. I. BBB.

1620-1. Married—George Benyon and Alice Weste: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 20.

1665. Bapt.—Robert, s. of Thomas Byneon: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 101.

'Sunday Preachers, Finsbury Park Chapel—Rev. T. Eynon Davies, 6.30': Pall Mall Gazette, Saturday, June 11, 1887.

London, 1, 2, 1, 1; MDB. (Denbigh; Bennion, 2; (Flint) Benyon, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 0, 0.

Beresford.—Local, 'of Beresford,' a manor and township in Astonfield, co. Stafford, possessed by the ancestors of the several noble families of this name (Lower, Patr. Brit. p. 26).

William de Boresforde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 233.

William de Beresford, co. Camb., 1273. A.

1612. Michael Beresford, co. Herts, Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 327.

1647. Christopher Beresford and Mary Morgan: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 37.

London, 8; Philadelphia, 3.

Berger, Bercher.—Occup. 'a shepherd'; Fr. berger. 'Bercaria or Berceria (Old Law), a sheep-pen, or sheep-fold' (Bailey's Dict. 1742).

'Bergeret, a pastoral song' (Chaucer). A statute, 37 Edw. III, c. 14 (1363), speaks of 'bovers, vachers, berchers, porchers, &c.' (v. full quotation under 'Day').

Henry le Bercher, Close Roll, 45 Hen. III.

Thomas le Bercher, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Dorken le Bercher, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Richard le Bercher, co. Oxf., ibid.

Ivo le Bercher, co. Camb., ibid.

Walter le Bercher, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 148.

1753. Married—John Paul Berger and Betty Billington: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 256.

London, 13, 0; Crockford, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 6, 0.

Berghman; v. Berryman.

Berkeley; v. Barclay.

Bernard, Bernardin.—Bapt. 'the son of Bernard,' dim. Bernardin; v. Barnard.

Walter fil. Bernardi, 1214. RRR. p. 156.

William fil. Bernard, 1273. A.

Bernard Coronator, ibid.

1581. Abel Bernarde, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 106.

1595. Benjamin Bernarde or Barnarde, of London, ibid. p. 110.

1753. Married—Francis Bernard and Sarah Bleamire: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 245.

London, 10, 1; New York, 36, 0.

Berner, Burner.—Occup. 'the Berner' (cf. Ventrer), one who had charge of fresh relays of dogs in hunting, a huntsman. O. F. brénier, bernier, berner; Godefroy, i. 727 A). Notes and Queries, p. 370, 1885).

Special mention of the 'berner' is made in a hunting record, 5 Hen. III (Rot. Litt. Claus. i. 462; N. and Q. above). The 'yeoman-berner' is mentioned in the Parliamentary Rolls.

Richard le Berner, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Geoffrey Berner, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Reginald le Birner, co. Wilts, ibid.

Walter le Berner, co. Oxf., ibid.

Hugh Berner, co. Linc., ibid.

John le Brynner, Patent Roll, 20 Edw. II.

For a full account of this word and name, v. H.E.D.

Philadelphia, 10, 2.

Berney, Burney.—Local, 'of Berney,' a town in the hundred of North Greenhow, co. Norf.

Henry de Berney, co. Norf., 1268: FF, xi. 123.

Adam de Berney, co. Norf., 15 Edw. I: ibid. ix. 213.

Richard de Berney, co. Norf., 48 Edw. III: ibid. xi. 124.

Sir Thomas de Berney, of Reedham, co. Norf., 1389: ibid. 125.

Roger Burney, vicar of Holm-by-the-Sea, co. Norf., 1451: ibid. x. 334.

1591. Henry Burney, co. Norf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 184.

1759. Married—Richard Toft and Ellenor Burney: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 83.

1697. Bapt.—Ann, d. John Burney: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 158.

London, 0, 5; Crockford, 1, 6; MDB. (Norfolk), 3, 0.

Berrall, Berrill.—Local, 'of Burghill,' a parish in co. Hereford, four miles from Hereford. This probably is also the source of the references to cos. Soms. and Devon.

Of the others I can say nothing, because I cannot identify the spot.

Robert de Bihulle, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

John Berhull, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Richard de Berhulle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 236.

Adam Berhull, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

1607-8. Tristram Berrill, co. Devon: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 300.

1632. Married—Thomas Deeping and Mary Berrill: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 63.

1742. — Benjamin Berrell and Agnes Hill: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 16.

London, 2, 2; New York, 1, 1.

Berrett.—Bapt.; v. Barrat.

Berrier.—Occup. 'the berrier,' i. e. the thrasher. 'Berrier, a thrasher, North.' 'Berry, to thrash corn, North.' (Halliwell.)

'iij plewmen, j berryer, and j hird,' 1573: Wills and Inv. N. C. 399 (H.E.D.).

Johannes Wachter, berier, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 30.

Johannes Beryar, laborer, 1379: ibid. p. 2.

Willelmus Beryar, laborer, 1379: ibid. David Beryer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 296.

Johannes Berier, 1379: ibid. p. 232.

1585. Gregory Berrier, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 148.

Berringer, Berenger, Barringer.—Bapt. 'the son of Berenger.'

Berenger Gifard: Domesday.

Berenger de Todeni, ibid.

Reinerus fil. Berengarii, Pipe Roll, 5 Hen. II.

Berengarius fil. Gervase. C.

Barengaria was a fem. form familiar to English history. French, Béranger; Germ. Beranger; Span. Berenger (Yonge, ii. 275).

Berenger le Moine, co. Northampton, 1273. A.

Robert Beringer, co. Camb., ibid.

William Berenger, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 186.

1614. William Barringer: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 334.

1694. Bapt.—Andrew, son of Simon Beranger: St. Antholin (London), p. 108. London, 1, 0, 3; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 3.

Berry.—Local, 'at the Bury,' i. e. borough; v. Bury, Burrows, Burroughs, &c.

1513. John Bery, or Bury: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 88.

1575-6. Henry Berrie, co. Kent: ibid. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 66.

1609. James Berrie, of the Hey, parish of Wigan: Wills at Chester, i. 18.

The Yorkshire folk have a strong propensity for quaint and humorous baptismal names. Father and son are thus described in the West Riding Directory (Stainland): John Berry, shopkeeper; Young John Berry, clogger. Young John was the son's fontal name.

London, 85; Philadelphia, 150.

Berryman, Berriman, Borrowman, Berghman.—(1) Occup. 'the bury-man,' i. e. boroughman, a man dwelling within the borough; v. Berry. (2) Possibly official from the bearer of the name occupying some position akin to a borough-reeve. As a rule a West-country name.

Robert Buryman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 83.

William Buryman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 96.

1587-8. Samuel Beriman, or Berriman, co. Glouc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 162.

1615. Hugh Berriman, or Berriman, co. Soms., ibid. p. 341.

1732. Mr. John Berryman: St. Antholin (London), p. 145.

1774. Married—John Shaw and Eliz. Berriman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 242.

1784. — Gerard Maley and Eliz. Berryman: ibid. p. 367.

1807. — George Richards and Margaret Borrowman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 373.

London, 6, 1, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Soms.), 2, 1, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 15, 4, 0, 0.

Bertenshaw.—Local; v. Birk-inshaw.

Bertin, Bertie.—Bapt. 'the son of Bertin.' St. Bertin of France made the font-name familiar in that country, and as a French surname it occurs in the Lon. Dir. We must ascribe the English surname to the same source, although there seems strong evidence in favour of its being a pet form of Bertram, nick. Bert, dim. Bert-in. The early Bertie was evidently a popular form of Bertin.

Bertin de Boyuill, C. R. Hen. III.

1541. Bertyn Flecchar, Bury, Lanc.: Rec. Soc. Lanc. and Ches. vol. xii. p. 144.

Berton Venator, co. Glouc., 1273. A.

Bartin de Verdun, 1432: Historiae Dunelmensis (Surt. Soc.), p. lxi.

Bertram de Burgo, co. Staff., 1273. A.

Bertin de Burgo, co. Salop, ibid.

Bertram and Bertin are probably one and the same individual.

Berty Fleschar, co. Northumb., 1541. TIT. p. lii.

Compare this also with Bertyn Flecchar, above recorded, same date.

1578-9. William Dade and Lucy Bertie: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 86.

1691. Isaac Dupré and Ann Bertin: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury, p. 205.

London, 5, 0; New York, 1, 1.

Bertram, Bertrand.—Bapt. 'the son of Bertram'; v. Bartram and Bertin.

Richard Bertram, co. Northumb., 1168: KKK. vi. 13.

Berteram le Barbur, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Bertramus de Verdun, 7 Hen. II: Pipe Roll, iv. 41.

Ricardus Bartrem, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 84.

Johannes Bartrem: ibid. p. 88.

1741. Married—Benjamin Bertram and Sarah Mills: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 27.

London, 2, 6; Philadelphia, 10, 0; New York, 13, 12.

Berwick.—Local, 'of Berwick-on-Tweed.' But v. Barwick, and cf. Derby and Darby, or Clerke and Clarke, or Perkins and Parkins.

William de Berwyk, cotoler, 18 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 22.

Johannes de Berwyk, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 252.

1616. Michael Berwicke, co. Notts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 354.

1621. Samuel Berwicke, co. Notts: ibid. p. 398.

1725. Married—Isaac Dalston and Ann Berwick: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 1.

1745. — William Scaddan and Frances Berwick: ibid. p. 47.

West Riding Court Dir., 3; Philadelphia, 4.

Besant, Bezant, Bessant,

Beasant, Bessent, Beazant,

Bayzand.—Local, 'of Byzantium'

(?). 'To oone he gave fyve talentis, or besautis,' 1382. Wyclif (Matt.

xxv. 15); v. H.E.D. for various instances. 'A bisaunt, bezant, or bizantine was an old coin both in gold and silver, and so called from having been minted at Byzantium.

The silver bezant passed current for 2s. or thereabouts' (Pipe Rolls, vol. iii. p. 74: Pipe Roll Soc.).

As almost every other coin has its representative in our nomenclature so may this. More probably, however, like Turk and Saracen, it is local, denoting an immigrant from Byzantium.

Robert Besant, sheriff of London, 1194: WWW.

1748. Married—John Besant and Britania Freeman: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 105.

1752.—Henry Hicks and Eliz. Bessant: ibid. p. 208.

1776. Married—Robert Besant and Sarah Myers: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 270.

London, 3, 1, 1, 2, 1, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Glouc.) Bayzand, 1; New York, 3, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0.

Best, Beste.—Nick, 'the beast,' probably not in an complimentary sense; cf. beast in the Authorized Version of the Bible, especially in the Book of the Revelation; cf. Bull, Stott, Bullock, &c. M.E. beste or best.

'Neyther man ne best.'

Chaucer, C. T. 1978.

Richard le Beste, co. Camb., 1273. A.

William Best, co. Bucks, ibid.

Walter Best, co. Oxf., ibid.

Thomas Best, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 300.

Agnes Best, 1379: ibid. p. 258.

Robert Beast, or Best, sheriff of Norwich, 1495: FF. iii. 101.

1732. Married—Matthew Topham and Hannah Best: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 10.

London, 30, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 11, 0; Philadelphia, 34, 1.

Beswick.—(1) Local, 'of Beswick.' Lately a small hamlet, one mile and a half from Manchester, now a suburb of that city. (2) Local, 'of Beswick,' a township in the parish of Kilnwick, East Rid. Yorks. The many Beswicks of Lancashire undoubtedly hail from (1).

Thomas de Bexwick, of Manchester, 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 35.

Edward Beswick, of Gorton, near Manchester, 1597: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 18.

Richard Beswick, of Blakeley, Manchester, 1580: ibid.

1580. Married—William Beswicke and Isabell Dosone: Prestbury Ch. (Cheshire), p. 100.

1592. Robert Beswicke and Katherine Parkyns: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 203. Manchester, 25; London, 3; Philadelphia, 9.

Betham.—Local, 'of Beetham,' a parish in co. Westm., near Burton-in-Kendal.

Richard de Betham, co. Norf., 20 Edw. I. R.

1599. Edward Bethom, of Kendal: Lanc. Wills at Richmond, i. 31.

1622. Robert Betham: ibid.

1659. Buried—Thomas Kemton, Thomas

Betham's apprentice: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 331.

1665. Buried—Mary Bethum: ibid. p. 363.

1684. Married—Jacob Betham and Eliz. Levin: ibid. iii. 202.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 5.

Bethell, Bithell, Bethel.—

Bapt.; Welsh, Ap-Ithell, 'the son of Ithell'; cf. Bevan, Bloyd, &c.

Lewlyn ap Ithell, 1325. M; Evan ap Ithell. Z; Jevan ap Ithell. Z;

Ann Ithell. HH; Ithell Wynn. AA. 1.

Bethell is still a considerable surname in the Principality.

John Bithell is found among the List of Freeman in Chester, 1747.

Stephen Bethel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 88.

Richard Bythell, of Chester, innholder, 1635: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 42.

1560. Nicolas Abithel, sup. for incorporation: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 243.

1706. Bapt.—Eliz., d. of Henry Bethel: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 29.

London, 5, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Denbigh), 0, 2, 0; (co. Chester), 2, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 3.

Bethune, Beaton, Betton.—

Local, 'of Bethune,' in Artois. Of course Beaton has a baptismal origin also; v. Beaton. But the Scotch Beaton, of whom came the great cardinal, are probably Bethunes. The Testa de Neville mentions the 'Advocatus de Bethun,' alias 'Betun,' alias 'Beton' (pp. 32, 36, 279).

Baldwyn de Bretonia, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Ingram de Betoyne, London, ibid.

John de Beton, alias Betton, London, ibid.

Walter de Betonia, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Ingram de Betun, co. Bedf., ibid.

William de Betonia, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

Laurence de Beton, London, 20 Edw. I. ibid.

Richard de Beytayne, Lord Mayor of London, temp. Edw. II: WWW. p. 210.

1765. Married—Joseph Betton and Jane Raynor: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 139.

1769.—Francis Beaton and Eleanor Frale: ibid. p. 185.

London, 0, 8, 1; Crockford, 2, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 3, 4, 1.

Bettin, Bettinson.—Bapt. 'the son of Beatrice,' from the nick.

Bete, dim. Beton; v. Beaton.

1583-4. Degory Betenson, or Bettenson, co. Cornw.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 132.

1598. Thomas Bettenson, or Bettinsonne: ibid. p. 227.

Johannes Betonson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 300.

Willemus Betonson, 1379: ibid. p. 233.

1543. Married—John Brewer and Elizabeth Bittinson: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 221.

1582. Bapt.—Davie, son of Edward Bettine: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 60.

1661.—Ann, d. Richard Bettenson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 211.

1779. Married—Charles Whitting and Mary Bettinson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 302.

London, 0, 2; New York, 1, 0.

Betts, Bettson, Bettison, Bett, Betson.—Bapt. 'the son of Beatrice,' from the nick. Bete or Bet; v. Beaton and Beatson. No connexion with Elizabeth. Both the nick. and the dim. occur together in Piers Plowman:

'And bade Bette cut a bough,
And beat Betoun therewith.' Pass V.

Betissa Browne, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 119.

Johannes Beteson, 1379: ibid. p. 39.

Gilbertus Bet, 1379: ibid. p. 41.

William Beteson, co. York. W. 2.

1581. Frances Bettes, co. Hants: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 108.

1590. John Betts, co. Kent, ibid. p. 176.

1696. Buried—Betson: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 204.

1743. Married—Thomas Bett and Sarah Frimley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 31.

1770.—Stephen Smith and Ann Bettes: ibid. p. 202.

London, 37, 1, 0, 0, 0; Leeds, 1, 0, 1, 0, 0; Sheffield, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 30, 0, 0, 0, 8.

Betty, Bettyes, Bettice.—

Bapt. 'the son of Beatrice,' from the nick. Bet or Bett, and pet

Bettie; cf. Charley or Teddie. No connexion with Elizabeth; v.

Betts.

Thomas Bettison. FF.

1549. Bapt.—Tamson (Thomasine), d. John Bettie: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 5.

1690. William Bettis and Catherine Groves: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 150.

1697. Buried—Katherine Bettyes: Canterbury Cath., p. 30.

1745. Married—Richard Betty and Hannah Curtis: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 56.

London, 3, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0.

Bevan, Bevand, Bevans, Bevins, Bevins.—Bapt. 'Ab-Evan' ('the son of Evan') = Bevan (Welsh). The d in Bevand is excrement, as in Simmonds.

Rys ap Madoc ap Tudir ap Hoel ap Evan: Visit. London, 1633, i. 220.

Howel ap-Evan, c. 1300. M; Eyyneun ap Yevan. D. John and Richard Bevand are contained in the List of Freemen in Chester, 1747. Bevans is a double patronymic, part English, part Welsh = ab-Evan-s; v. Beddoes.

Thomas Bevans, prebendary of St. David's, 1680: Hist. and Ant. St. David's, p. 362.

1560. Married—Rycharde Bevande and Ann Kempe: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 10 (elsewhere in same register Beavin).

1748. — John Baynham and Margaret Bevan: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 108.

1753. — Thomas Bevans and Alice Finney: ibid. p. 267.

London, 24, 0, 1, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 37, 0, 16, 4, 3.

Bever; v. Beaver.

Beveridge, Beverage.—Bapt. 'the son of Beverache.' Like Aldridge (from personal name Aldrich), Beveridge has a distinctly local look about it. But the instances below make the question very doubtful. If a nick., v. Beverage (H.E.D.). Probably a personal name.

Hugh Beverach, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Ralph Beverache, co. Camb., ibid.

Agnes Beverach, co. Camb., ibid.

Walter Beverage, co. Linc., ibid.

Thomas Beverage, co. York, ibid.

Ralph Beuerage, C. R., 2 Edw. I.

1579. Marriage Licence — Henry Buckett and Johanna Beveridge, by Bishop of London: i. 89.

— Francis Beveredge, co. Derby: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 222.

London, 5, 0; New York, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 6, 0.

Beverley, Beverly.—Local. 'of Beverley,' a town in the East Riding of Yorkshire.

John de Beverley, co. Northumberland, 1273. A.

Adam de Beverle, boucher (i.e. bowyer), 4 Edw. II: Freemen of York, i. 14.

1564-5. James Beverley, of Henley, co. Ox., bargeman: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 13 n.

1674. James Beverley (co. Hunts) and Anne Duncombe: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 236.

1778. Married—James Beverley and Mary Davey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 294.

London, 6, 3; Boston (U.S.), 0, 6.

Bevington, Bavington.—Local, 'of Bavington.' Great and Little Bavington are townships in the parish of Bellingham, co. Northumberland.

1583. John Beavinton, or Bevinton, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 131.

1585. Richard Bavington and Johnna.

Harcourte: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 142.

1635. Richard Bevington and Mary Griffin: ibid. ii. 223.

London, 10, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 7.

Bewick, Bewicke.—Local, 'of Bewick.' Old and New Bewick, places in co. Northumberland. A surname still familiar on the English border. Thomas Bewick, the wood engraver, was born in the parish of Ovingham in Northumberland.

William de Bewyk, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

Robert de Bewyk, co. York, ibid.

Julian Bewyk, co. Linc., ibid.

1602-3. Edward Hunt and Sarah Bewick: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 275.

1781. Married—Thomas Bond and Margaret Bewicke: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 324.

London, 1, 1.

Bewsher; v. Bowsher.

Beyer.—Occur, 'the beyer' (?). Perhaps a 'buyer,' one who purchased for the household. One instance in the London Directory, at least, is foreign.

John le Beyere, co. Hertf., 20 Edw. I. R.

Simon le Beier, co. Glouc., 1273. A.

1700. William Beyer and Eliz. Wolfe: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 236.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 22.

Beynon, Baynon.—Bapt. 'Ab-

Enion'; Welsh, 'the son of Enion.'

One of many existing forms; v.

Baynham, Bennion, and Benyon.

Two of the four clergymen in Crockford hold Welsh livings.

Enion seems to have been the

William or John of the Principality in the surname period.

John Beynon, sup. for B.C.L., June 22,

1507: Reg. Univ. Oxf. p. 54.

1738. Bapt.—Thomas, son of Thomas

Beynon: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 242.

Crockford, 4, 0; London, 5, 0; Liverpool, 2, 1; MDB. (co. Glamorgan), 8, 0;

(co. Carmarthen), 9, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 1.

Bibby, Bibbey, Bibbye.—

Bapt. 'the son of Bibby,' i.e. Isabella.

There can be little doubt about this derivation. Bibby is a

York and Lancaster surname, where Isabel was a prime favourite in the surname period. As Aggy

(Agnes) became Taggy, so Ibby became Bibby. It seems clear that

Bibby in Lancashire and Yorkshire has no connexion with the Leicestershire Beebys (v. Beebe), although some of the Beebys may now be represented by Bibby in the south of England.

Henricus Bibbe, 1397: P. T. Yorks, p. 176.

Willelmus Bibbe, 1379: ibid. p. 57.

Richard le fiz Bilby, C. R., 17 Edw. I.

1595. Thomas Bybie, co. Essex: Reg.

Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 211.

Nicholas Bibby, of Openshaw, co. Lanc.,

1597: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 18.

Thomas Bibbie, of Pemberton, co.

Lanc., 1607: ibid. p. 19.

1603. Buried—Susan, d. Adam Bibye:

St. Mary Aldermay, p. 150.

— Adam Biby, ibid.

Manchester, 9, 0, 0; London, 4, 1, 1;

MDB. (West Riding), 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia,

5, 2, 0.

Bick.—Bapt. 'the son of Bike.'

The surname is a curious one, but it seems beyond dispute to have been a personal or baptismal name at the first. Amongst the New York Bicks is found 'Gustav Bick.'

I find a dim. Bikelot in A. 1273.

In place-names we find Bickford,

Bicham, Bicknor, and Bickley, q.v., seemingly representing the personal name of the first settler.

Richard Bikelot, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Bike (without surname), co. Essex, ibid.

Walter Bike, co. Camb., ibid.

Bike le Clerk, co. Essex, ibid.

William Byk, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 107

1618. Thomas Bicke and Eliz. Pooley:

Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 66.

1652. Buried—Thomas Bick, servant to

Mr. Noakes: St. Dionis Backchurch,

p. 228.

London, 2; New York, 9.

Bickerdike, Biggadike.—Local,

'of Bicker-dike.' I cannot find the spot. Evidently it means 'the dike of Bicker,' Bicker representing an early personal name, as is proved by such place-names as Bickerton (in cos. Chester, York,

Northumberland), Bickerton (co.

Norfolk), Bickering (co. Lincoln), and Bickerstaffe (co. Lancashire).

Probably Lincolnshire is the home of this surname.

Henricus Bikerdyk, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 242

1518. John Bekerdyke: Reg. Univ. Oxf.

i. 105.

1564. Buried—Margret Beckerdick:

St. Mary Aldermay, p. 134.

1638. Francis Hamond and Magdalen

Bicardike (co. Essex): Marriage Lic.

(London), ii. 234.

1701. Nicholas Bickerdik, Norwich: FF. iv. 206.

London, 1, 0; Harrogate, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 0, 2.

Bickerstaff, Bickersteth, Bickerstafte.—Local, 'of Bickerstafte,' a village near Ormskirk, co. Lancashire; in early records spelt Bickerstat and Bykystath. Bickersteth is found later.

Ralph Hey, of Bickersteth, husbandman, 1662: Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 128.

Adam de Bykerstaff, co. Lanc., 1289: Baines' Lanc. ii. 413.

Gilbert de Bykerstaff. J. Robert Bickersteth, of Bickersteth, 1580: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 19. Hugh Bickerstaff, of Bickerstaff, 1600: ibid.

1752. Married—John Richards and Susanna Bickerstaff: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 209.

MDB. (co. Lanc.), 2, 0, 2; Manchester, 1, 0, 0; London, 2, 0, 0; Crockford, 3, 6, 0.

Bickerton.—Local, 'of Bickerton,' (1) a township in the parish of Malpas, co. Chester; (2) a township in the parish of Rothbury, co. Northumberland; (3) a township in the parish of Bilton, W. Rid. Yorks. There can be no doubt that (3) is the chief parent, and then (1).

Johannes de Bickerton, gaunter, 25 Edw. I: Freeman of York (Surt. Soc.), i. 6.

Thomas de Bigerton, co. York, 1273. A. Johannes de Bykerton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 301.

Willelmus de Bickerton, 1379: ibid. p. 235.

John Bycharton, co. York, 1533: W. 11, p. 219.

Edmund Bickerton, of Sound, co. Ches., 1617: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 19. Humphrey Bickerton, of Wrenbury, 1504: ibid.

1502. Thomas Bickerton, co. Ches.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 103. London, 4; Manchester, 3; Philadelphia, 8.

Bickford; v. Beckford.

Bickham.—Local, 'of Bikome,' a West-country name (some small spot I cannot identify), with the suffix -comb; v. Bick and Comb.

Walter de Bikome, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 245.

Godfrey de Bycombe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 247.

1748. Married—Thomas Bickham and Susanna Jeffs: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 106.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Soms.), 5; Philadelphia, 4.

Bickleigh, Bickleigh.—Local, 'of Bickleigh,' (1) a parish in co. Devon, four miles from Tiverton; (2) a parish in the same county, seven miles from Plymouth; (3) 'of Bickleigh,' a township in the parish of Malpas, co. Chester; v. Bick.

Henry de Bickleghe, or Bickele, co. Devon, 1273. A.

Richard de Bicalagh, co. Devon, ibid. Huword de Bikeleg, co. Soms., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

William de Bikelegh, co. Devon, ibid. 1575. Ralph Bicklie, co. Hants: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 63.

1607-8. John Bickleigh and Mary Brogden: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 302. London, 4, 0; MDB. (co. Devon), 3, 1; Philadelphia, 21, 0.

Bickman.—Bapt. 'the son of Bickman,' the same as the German Beckmann; v. Beckman and Bick. Sarra Bykeman, co. Camb., 1273. A. Philadelphia, 1.

Bickmore.—Local, 'of Bickmore.' I cannot find the spot.

John de Bykemere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 251. London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Bicknell.—Local, (1) 'of Bicknell,' a parish in co. Warwick, seven miles from Birmingham; (2) 'of Bicknell,' otherwise called Bicknell, a parish in co. Somerset, near Taunton; v. Bignall.

William de Bigehull, co. Oxf., 1273. A. John de Bidehulle, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Bykenhulle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 105.

John de Bikenhull, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 173.

1607. Married—Richard Bicknell and Eliz. Baker: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 46.

1726.—Benjamin Timbrell and Mary Bicknell: ibid. p. 62.

1751. Bapt.—Mary, d. of Samuel Bicknell: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 175.

Crockford, 6; MDB. (co. Soms.), 9; London, 10; Boston (U.S.), 24.

Bickner.—Local, 'of Bicknor,' parishes in cos. Kent, Gloucester, and Monmouth; v. Bick.

(Homines) de Bykenauere, co. Soms., 1273. A.

Philadelphia, 1.

Biddell, Biddle; v. Beadle.

Biddlecombe, Biddiscombe.

—Local, 'of Bittiscombe,' a hamlet in the parish of Upton, co.

Somerset, originally Biteliscombe. The two present forms of the surname seem to be a kind of compromise.

Robert de Biteliscombe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 177.

Stephen de Bitelescumbe, co. Soms., 1273. A.

1747. Married—Jonathan Turner and Susanna Biddlecombe: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 88.

1750.—Henry Biddalcomb and Mary Stringer: ibid. p. 160.

MDB. (co. Soms.) 8, 1.

Biddulph.—Local, 'of Biddulph,' a parish in co. Stafford, three miles from Congleton.

1598. Michael Biddulph, co. Staff.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 228.

1605. Walter Biddulph, co. Staff.: ibid. p. 283.

1670-1. Edward Littleton and Susanne Biddulph: Marriage Alleg. (Westminster), p. 186.

1694-5. Married—Michael Bidulph and Mary Aston: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 44.

London, 4; New York, 1.

Bidgood.—Bapt. 'the son of Bidgood,' originally Biggegod, one of a fairly large class of personal names ending in good; cf. Scattergood. The early form is Biggegod.

John Biggegod, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 244.

1606. Nicholas Bidgood and Alice Howe: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 15.

1621. George Bidgood, co. Somerset: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 398.

1798. Married—James Burrows and Ellen Bidgood: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 186.

London, 3; MDB. (co. Soms.) 1; New York, 2.

Bigg, Bigge.—Nick, 'the big,' one of large, bulky proportions; cf. Little, Long, Short, &c. A familiar entry in registers of the surname epoch.

Alan Bigge, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Robert Bigge, co. Hunts. ibid. William Bigge, co. Oxf. ibid.

1614. Richard Bigge, Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 29.

1659. Bapt.—Katherine, d. John Bigg: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 206.

1752. Married—Henry Bigg (Berkshire) and Sophia Cook: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 47.

London, 13, 0; New York, 1, 0.

Biggadike.—Local; v. Bickerdike; cf. Biggerstaff for Bickerstaff.

Biggerstaff.—Local; v. Bickerstaff; cf. Biggadike for Bickerdike. London, 1.

Biggin, Biggen, Biggins, Biggans.—Local, 'of Biggin,' a township in the parish of Church Fenton, co. York. No doubt other spots are so called, from bigging, a building, biggins, buildings, i.e. a stead, a habitation, a dwelling; cf. Newbiggin.

'When he come to his byggynge,
He welcomed fayr that lady vyngie.'
c. 1425: Emare, 709 (H.E.D.).

'Byggynge, or beeldynge, edificacio, structura': Prompt. Parv. p. 35.

Robertus de Byggyn', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 237.

Ricardus Bygyn, 1379: ibid. p. 155.

'William Burrow, of Biggins': Hist. Westm. and Cumb., i. 205.

James Bigines, of Barrowheade, Furness, 1593: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 32.

John Biggins, of Ulverston, Furness, 1596: ibid.

1727. Married—William Voce and Mary Biggins: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 3.

1759. — James Biggins and Jane Bond: ibid. p. 91.

London, 0, 0, 1, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 8, 1, 1, 0; Sheffield, 10, 0, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 2, 1.

Bigland.—Local, 'of Bigland,' an estate in the parish of Cartmell, North Lancashire. Bigland Hall is still the residence of the Biglands.

Isabell Bigland, of Bigland, in Cartmell, 1645: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 32.

James Bigland, of the Grange, in Cartmell, 1623: ibid.

Henry Bigland, of Cartmell, 1634: ibid.

1738. Married—John Atkinson and Dorothy Bigland: Reg. Ulverston Ch. p. 379.

1766. — James Bigland, husbandman, and Mary Jackson: ibid. p. 411.

London, 2; Liverpool, 4.

Bignall, Bignell, Bignold.—Local; v. Bicknell. But Lower says, 'Bignall or Bignold, a township in co. Stafford' (Patr. Brit. p. 27). The index to the register of St. Michael, Cornhill (Harl. Soc.), refers the reader from Bicknell to Bignall. So does the Reg. Univ. Oxf. (Index, vol. ii. pt. ii).

1726. Bapt.—Mary, d. of Thomas Bignall: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 169.

1727. — Martha, d. of Thomas Bignall: ibid.

1733. Married—Andrew Mills and Anna Bignell: St. Antholin (London), p. 146.
London, 3, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 5, 0.

Bigod, Bigot.—Nick. or offic. Roger le Bygod. A; Alina le Bigod. J; William le Bygot. A; John le Bygot. M; Gundred la Bygote, Close Roll, 5 Edw. I. Three of these entries are of the 13th century. For the controversy on these terms, Bigod and Bigot, see Skeat's and Wedgwood's Dictionaries; also reply to Skeat by Wedgwood in the Academy, Aug. 9, 1879; see also Freeman's Norm. Conq. ii. 288. That the derivative term 'bigod' arose from the oath 'by God' seems probable. 'Pardew' (i.e. 'par Dieu') is a still existent surname with a similar origin. That it was transferred to some religious order seems equally certain (v. Wedgwood), and that through them it became a term to express religious devotion seems almost clear.

1750. Married—John Bigot and Grace Williams: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 159.
Philadelphia, 0, 2; New York, 0, 3.

Bilbrough, Bilberry, Billbrough.—Local, 'of Bilbrough,' a village parish near Tadcaster, co. York. Bilberry seems imitative.

Richard de Bilburgh, molendinarius, 1 Edw. I: Freeman of York (Surt. Soc.), i. 1.

Abraham de Bilburg (of Bilburgh), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 298.

Willelmus de Bilburgh, 1379: ibid. p. 301.

1567. Buried—Johane Bilbery: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 8.

1625. Buried—Widow Billbroughe, a pentioner: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 226.

1632. — Thomas, s. John Bilborough: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 205.

1634-5. — Jane Bilbearey: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 221.

West Riding Court Dir., 5, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 4.

Bilby, Bilbie, Bilbee.—Local, 'of Bilby,' a township in the parish of Blythe, co. Notts.

Robertus de Bilby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 33.

Willelmus de Bilby, 1379: ibid.

1544. Ralph Alway and Mary Bylby: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 3.

1635. Bapt.—Anne, d. Francis Bilbye: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 131.

1730. Married—George Torrat and Frances Bilby: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 318.

London, 4, 0, 0; MDB. (Somerset), 0, 3, 1.

Bilcliffe; v. Billcliff.

Bill.—Bapt. 'the son of William.' This nick. was very uncommon; Will maintaining its hold, as Wilson, Wilkins, Wilcocks, &c., fully prove.

John Bille, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 155.

1523. John Hall and Katherine Byll: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 3.

1567-8. William Lucas and Alice Bill: ibid. p. 39.

London, 5.

Billard.—Occup.; v. Bellbird. Sheffield, 2; Philadelphia, 2; New York, 4.

Billecliff, Bilecliffe, Binteliffe, Bincliff.—Local, 'of Bilecliff.' I have not identified the spot. Of course they have all one common parent; cf. bannister and baluster.

1581. Thomas Bileclif: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 99.

1615. Thomas Bilecliffe, co. Berks: ibid. p. 344.

1668. Lancelot Griffin and Ann Bilecliffe: Marriage Alleg. (Westminster), p. 153.

Manchester, 1, 0, 1, 2; London, 0, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.) (Bilcliff), 1.

Biller.—Occup. 'the biller,' probably not a billman, i.e. one who carried a pike or halbert, but a manufacturer of the weapon.

Hugh le Biller, seller, 25 Edw. I: Freeman of York (Surt. Soc.), i. 6.

Henry le Billere, co. Camb., 1273. A. John Billere, co. Suff., ibid.

1666. Thomas Terrier and Mary Billier: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 181.

London, 3; New York, 4.

Billing, Billinge, Billings.—Local, 'of Billing,' a parish in dioc. of Peterborough; also 'of Billinge,' a parish in dioc. of Liverpool. At first, no doubt, a patronymic, as proved by such place-names as Billingborough (Lincolnshire), Billington (Norfolk), Billingham (Durham), Billingham, a parish in dioc. of Chichester; Billingsley, a parish in dioc. of Hereford; and Billington, a parish in dioc. of Ely.

Agnes Billyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 153.

Thomas de Billinge, co. Hunts, 1273. A. William de Billinge, co. Notts, ibid.

Adam Billing, co. Suff., ibid. Mary de Billinge, co. Lanc., temp. Edw. I.: Baines' Lanc. ii. 189.

1581. John Billings, co. Denbigh: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 103.

Alexander Billing, of Billinge, 1621: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 22.

London, 12, 3, 5; New York, 2, 2, 24.

Billingsay, Billingshay.—Local, 'of Billingshay,' a village in co. Lincoln, about nine miles from Sleaford.

Peter de Byllinggeye, co. Linc., Edw. I.—Edw. III. R.

1735. Bapt.—Richard Claridge, son of Richard Billingsay: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 222.

London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 0, 1.

Billingham.—Local, 'of Billingham,' a parish in co. Durham, near Stockton-on-Tees.

1760. Married.—William Billingham and Mary Pearce: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 93.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Billinghamurst.—Local, 'of Billinghamurst,' a parish in co. Sussex, seven miles from Horsham.

1613. Robert Billinghamurst, co. Sussex: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 331.

1673. Buried.—Mr. George Billinghamurst in the middle of those two seats under ye Arch on ye North side of the Church: Kensington Ch. p. 144.

1778. Married.—John Billinghamurst and Eliz. Amey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 286.

London, 5.

Billingsley, Billingsly.—Local, 'of Billingsley,' a parish in co. Salop, six miles from Bridgenorth.

1581. Richard Billingslie, co. Warw.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 98.

1587-8. William Byllingsley, co. Warw.: ibid, p. 162.

1593. Buried.—John, s. John Billingsley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 51.

1635. — A still-born child of William Billingslye: ibid, p. 210.

1652. — Robert Billingsly: ibid, p. 291.

London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Billington.—(1) Local, 'of Billington,' a parish in dioc. of Ely. (2) Local, 'of Billington,' a township and manor in the parish of Blackburn, co. Lancashire. The surname is well established in that county.

William de Billington, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 76.

Johannes de Billington, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 284.

Adam de Billington, co. Lanc., 13 John: Baines' Lanc. ii. 85.

Antony Billington, of Wood Plumpton, veorman, 1575: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 32.

Margaret Billington, of Catforth, 1663: ibid.

Richard Billington, of Whalley, co. Lanc., 1595: Wills at Chester, i. 19.

1737. Married.—Richard Billington and Eliz. Devonshire: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 19.

London, 6; Manchester, 6; Blackburn, 3; Boston (U.S.), 4.

Billiter.—Occur. 'a bell-founder.' An East-Anglian term. No instances appear in the Hundred Rolls (1273). 'Bellejetare (belyatere), campanarius': Prompt. Parv. In the Register of Wills (London), ii. 226, occurs 'William Burford, billeytere.' I forgot to look for the date of this. Stowe informs us that Billiter Lane was once known as Belzetters Lane. This settles the origin of the surname. 'In 1349, Thomas de Baldeswell presented to the Church aforesaid as chief lord of this fee: in 1367, Adam Humphrey: and in 1385, Adam Pyk, and in 1400, Edmund Belytter, alias Belzeter' (Blomefield's Norfolk, viii. 383).

Robert le Belyetere, C. R., 7 Edw. III. pt. i.

William le Belzetere. B.

Margaret Bilyetter, co. Norf. FF.

Edmund Belletere, co. Norf., ibid.

Robert le Bellegeter, 12 Edw. I.: Freeman of York, i. 4.

Bilney.—Local, 'of Bilney,' a parish in co. Norfolk. 'Thomas Bilney, or Bylney, martyr, was member of a Norfolk family which took its name from the villages of the same designation in that county': Dict. Nat. Biog. v. 40.

Geoffrey Bylney, co. Camb., 1273. A. John de Bilney, 1301. M.

William de Bilney, co. Norf., 2 Edw. III. FF. viii. 355.

Walter de Bilney, co. Norf., 6 John: ibid, p. 446.

1627. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Edward Bilney: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 107.

Bilsborough, Bilsbrough, Bilsborow, Bilsborrow, Bilsbury, Bilsboro.—Local, 'of Bilsborough,' a small hamlet in the parish of Garstang, co. Lancashire.

Richard de Bilsburgh, co. Lanc.: Baines' Lanc., ii. 538.

Thomas Bilsborow, buried at Ribchester, 1540: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 32.

Henry Bilsborrow, of Cottam, 1593: ibid.

1542. Jacobus Bilsborow: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 17.

1602. Henry Bilsborow: ibid, p. 51.

1642. Richard Bilsborow: ibid, p. 96.

Manchester, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0; Preston, 0, 1, 4, 1, 0, 0, 0; Liverpool, 0, 1, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks), Bilsbury, 1; New York (Bilsboro), 1.

Bilson, Billson.—Bapt. 'the son of Bell'; v. Bell (1). There is no evidence in favour of 'the son of Bill,' i.e. William. That nick. is comparatively modern. In the Modern Domesday Book (co. Warwick) there are four Bellisons, one Belson, and one Bilson, all evidently of the same stock, namely, Bellson (i.e. the son of Isabella). Bilson is an easy variant of Belson.

1561. Thomas Bilson and Margery Pussey: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 21.

1606. Thomas Bilson, of Winchester: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 292.

1627. Bapt.—James, s. Richard Bilson: Kensington Ch. p. 23.

1750. Married.—Richard Weller and Elizabeth Bilson: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 176.

London, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Bilton.—Local, 'of Bilton,' a village parish about nine miles west of York.

Thomas de Bilton, carter, 7 Edw. II.: Freeman of York, i. 15.

Adam de Bilton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 293.

Johannes de Bilton, 1379: ibid.

1584. Bathazar Bucke and Ann Bylton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 133.

West Riding Court Dir., 2; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Bimson, Bimpson.—Bapt.; a corruption of Binson, itself a corrupted form of Benson.

1727. Bapt.—Sarah, d. of William Binson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 173.

1743. Married.—John Bimson and Ann Stone: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 29.

London, 1, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Binder.—Occur. 'the book-binder.' This is practically settled by the Hundred Rolls, where, in the town of Oxford, Stephen Ligator, librorum, is mentioned again as Stephen Ligator. Also in the case of a William Ligator, as below; v. Bookbinder.

William Ligator, libror, Oxford, 1273. A.
William Ligator, Oxford, ibid.
Simon Ligator, Oxford, ibid.
Lawrence Ligator, Cambridge, ibid.
1578-9. William Hammond and Johanna
Bynder: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 84.
1595-6. Edward Bynder and Katherine
Raynstropp: ibid. p. 228.
London, 2; New York, 6.

Bindlose, Bindloss, Bindlass.—Local, 'of Bindlows.' I cannot find the spot. It is clear that the suffix is -low (v. Lowe).

Robertus Byndlowys, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 256.

Johannes Byndlowys, 1379: ibid.
1582. Christopher Bindlos (co. Westm.), Queen's Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 123.

1666. Thomas Sutton and Grizell Bindlose: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 170.

MDb. (co. Lanc.), o, 2, 1; London, o, 2, o; Manchester, o, 1, o.

Bingham.—Local, 'of Bingham,' a parish in dioc. of Southwell, co. Nottingham.

John de Byngham, co. Soms., i Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 194.

Joanna de Byngham, co. Soms., i Edw. III: ibid. p. 207.

William de Bingham, co. Soms., 1273. A.
Geoffrey de Bingham, co. Wilts, ibid.
Robert de Bingham, co. Dorset, ibid.
Alicia de Byngham, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 40.

1567-8. Ellis Byngham and Johanna Ellis, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 39.

1610. Buried—Thomas Bingham: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 217.

1645. — Mighell Bingham: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 173.
London, 15; Philadelphia, 30.

Bingley.—Local, 'of Bingley,' a parish and market town in the West Rid. Yorks.

(Batts) de Bingelay, co. York, 1273. A.
Willelmus de Byngelay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 294.

1570. Married—Rycharde Caryngton and Katharyn Byngley: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 6.

1740. — John Richard Brinckman and Ann Bingley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 24.
West Riding Court Dir., 14; London, 10; Philadelphia, 4.

Binks, Binkes.—(?) For Bilks, by change of l to n, very common in nomenclature; cf. Banister, q.v.

William Bilkys, or Bilkes, co. Linc., 1273. A.

1583. Robert Binks, or Binckes, co. York: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 131.
1595. William Baldrye and Alice Binckes: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 223.

1676. Bapt. — Robert, s. Andrew Binckes: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 104.

1727. Married—William Binckes and Deborah Wrench: St. Antholin (London), p. 142.

1749. — Thomas Keen and Mary Binks: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 71.
London, 5, o; MDb. (Lincoln), 4, o; Philadelphia, o, 2.

Binney, Binnie.—Local, 'of Binnie,' an estate in the parish of Uphall, Linlithgowshire (Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 28).

Willelmus Bynny, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 40.

London, 1, 3; West Riding Court Dir., 4, o; Boston (U.S.), 16, o.

Binning.—Bapt. 'the son of Binning'; v. Benning, and cf. Browning and Harding.

William Bining, co. Norf., 1273. A.
John Bining, co. Norf., ibid.

1894. 'At Arkwood, Spital, Ches., the wife of T. J. Binning, of a son': Daily Telegraph, Feb. 6.
London, 3.

Binnington.—Local, 'of Binnington,' a township in the parish of Wilerby, East Rid. Yorks, lit. the farmstead of Binning; v. Benning, and cf. Bennington.

1893. 'At Gledhow Terrace, South Kensington, the wife of F. W. Binnington, of a son': Daily Telegraph, Dec. 16.
MDb. (East Rid. Yorks.), 4.

Binnion.—Bapt.; Welsh, Ap-Ennion; v. Bennion and Benyon.
Liverpool, 1.

Binns.—? Local. This surname has ramified most strongly in co. York.

Robert Binns, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Johannes de Bynnes, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 182.

Willelmus Byenne, 1379: ibid. p. 8.

Roger Byn, 1379: ibid. p. 44.

Thomas Byenne, ibid.

1780. Married—John Robinson and Hannah Binns: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 313.
West Riding Court Dir., 27; Halifax, 5; Philadelphia, 13.

Birbeck.—Local; v. Birkbeck.

Birch, Burch.—Local, 'at the birch,' from residence by a birch-tree (cf. Oak, Ash, Nash, &c.); v. Birks. In Lancashire, Birch generally hails from Birch, a chapelry in the parish of Middleton, near Manchester. Of course, a surname of this class is originated in a hundred different places. Every directory teems with the name.

Hugh de la Byrche, co. Devon, 1273. A.
John atte Birche, temp. 1300. M.

Henry del Birches, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 10.

Robert del Birches, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 37.

Willelmus del Birch, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 293.

1571-2. Richard Byrche and Margaret Gibson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 52.

George Birch, of Birch, 1602: Wills at Chester (1:45-1620), p. 10.

Gilbert Birch, of Middleton, 1562: ibid. p. 19.

John Birch, of Manchester, innholder, 1502: ibid. p. 20.

London, 38, 22; Manchester, 27, 1; Philadelphia, 50, 4.

Birchall.—Local, 'of Birtles.' Odd as this may seem, it is true. For further evidence, v. Birtles.

John de Birchall de Birtles, of Gaws-worth, co. Ches.: Hist. East Ches. ii. 587 n.

Richard Birchall, of Parr, webster, 1581: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 20.

James Birchall, of Winwick, 1591: ibid.
Geoffrey Birchall, of Croft, in Winwick, 1614: ibid.

1778. Married—Edward Frewer and Elizabeth Birchall: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 289.

London, 3; Manchester, 6; MDb. (co. Lanc.), 7; Philadelphia, 15.

Birchenough.—Local, 'of the birchen-hough,' from residence thereby. Birchen is the adjective of birch, a birch-tree or trees (cf. Golden), and hough, like haugh, or how, means a hill or mound. Hence Birchenough is simply the mound or hill covered with birches; cf. Goodenough. In both cases the h is elided.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Birchwood.—Local, 'at the birchwood,' from residence by a clump or grove of birch-trees; cf. Birkinshaw, an exact equivalent.

John de Birchewode, of Turtton, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 40.

Ralph Birchwood, of Ormskirk, co. Lanc., 1608: Wills at Chester, i. 20.

Henry Birchwood, of Bostock, co. Lanc., 1616: ibid.

Liverpool, 3; Manchester, 2.

Bircumshaw.—Local; v. Birk-inshaw.

Bird.—Nick, 'the bird,' perhaps from the singing propensities of the original bearer; cf. 'He sings like a bird.' Also cf. Nightingale, Sparrow, Finch, Lark, &c.

David le Brid, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
John le Brid, co. Oxf., ibid.
Stefan Brid, co. Suff., ibid.
Geoffrey Bryd, co. Salop, ibid.
Henry le Brid, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.
Kirby's Quest, p. 92.
Johannes Bridde, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 204.

1764. Married—George Bird and Ann Skinner: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 137.
London, 92; Philadelphia, 70.

Birdsall, Beardsell, Beard-sall.—Local, 'of Birstall' (?), a village parish near Dewsbury, Yorks.

Robert de Bidsall, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 236.
1769. John Beardsall and Elizabeth Austin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 192.
Church Fenton (Yorks), 1, 0, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 2, 0; Sheffield, 0, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 3, 0, 0.

Birdseye, Birdsey.—Local, 'of Birdsey.' I cannot find the spot. Manifestly Birdseye is imitative. But the meaning seems clear, the 'Birdseye,' i.e. the islet or eyot in the stream frequented by birds.

1665. William Wakeling and Mary Birdsey: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 134.
1675. Bapt.—Edward Birdsey: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 121.
1687. Buried—Anne Birdsey: ibid. p. 254.

The index under 'Birdsey' refers the reader to 'Budsey.'

1652. Married—Francis Burgis and Eliza Budsey: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 28.

1753.—William Birdseye and Eliz. Drane: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 231.
London, 3, 1; MDB. (co. Bedford), 0, 2; New York, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Birdwhistle.—Local. A somewhat pretty imitative corruption of Birtwhistle, q.v.
Manchester, 1.

Birkbeck, Birbeck.—Local, 'of Birkbeck,' so called from the beckor streamlet that flowed through the birks or birch-trees (v. Birks and Beck). A Cumberland surname. Of course, Birkbeck was too big a mouthful for ordinary and current usage, and Birbeck took its place.

Adam Byrkbeke, sup. for M.A., 16 June, 1507: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. i. p. 54.
1583. Humphrey Byrkbecke (co. Westm.), Queen's Coll.: ibid. p. 127.
1600. Symond Birkebecke (co. Westm.), Queen's Coll.: ibid. p. 243.
1771. Married—Thomas Birkbeck and Susannah Evratt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 213.
London, 3, 5; MDB. (co. Cumberland), 0, 4; New York, 1, 1.

Birkenhead.—Local, 'of Birkenhead,' co. Chester. The meaning is 'the head of the birch-trees'; cf. Aikenhead, and v. Birkett and Birkhead.

Edward Birkenhead, of Runcorn, 1607: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 20.
Richard Birchenhead, of Ashton, 1617: ibid.

John Birkenhead, of Manley, 1620: ibid.
'Sir John Birkenhead, or Berkenhead (1616-79), author of the Mercurius Aulicus and satirical poems, is said by Anthony à Wood to have been son of Randall Birkenhead, of Northwich in Cheshire': Dict. Nat. Biog. v. 81.
1617. Henry Birkened, co. Ches.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 364.
Liverpool, 1; New York, 1.

Birkett, Birkhead.—Local; North English, 'of the birch-head,' i.e. the head of the birches; cf. Birkenhead and Beckett. The surname Haslefoot is of the same class.

Stephen Birkheade, of Borwicke, 1607: Lanc. Wills at Richmond, i. 33.
Stephen Birket, of Warton, 1573: ibid.
Myles Birkheade, of Winster, 1623: ibid.
Miles Birkett, of Winster, 1646: ibid.
Adam Birkeued, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 233.

John Byrkheved, vicar of Giggleswick, in Craven, 1425: Whittaker, p. 166.
Christopher Birkhed, vicar of Long Preston, 1436: ibid. p. 145.
Georgius Byrkett, 1503: HHH. p. 38.
Georgius Byrkhehed, 1507: ibid. p. 47.

The three references following concern the same person:—

Bridgitt Birkett, 1634: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 85.
Bridget Birkhead, 1638: ibid. p. 197.
Bridgette Birkhead, 1653: ibid. p. 207.
'Petition of John Birked, vicar of Christ Church, Sep. 9,' 1550: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), i. 29.
William Byrkhed, C. R., 3 Edw. IV. London, 16, 1; New York, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 8.

Birkinshaw, Birkenshaw, Burtenshaw, Bertenshaw, Bircumshaw.—Local, 'of Birkenshaw,' a chapelry in the parish of Birstall, co. York. The meaning is 'the birch-wood,' birken being the adjective (v. Birkenhead, Akenhead, &c.). The variants are curious, but only found at a distance from their native home.

John Birchynshaw, Hen. VIII: Cal. State Papers.
Thomas Birkyschaghe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 163.

1634. Bapt.—Humphrey Birchenshaw: Prestbury Ch. (Cheshire), p. 292.

Robert Birkenshaw, 1587: Wills at Chester, i. 21.

Ambrose Birtenshaw, of Manchester, 1584: ibid.

Robert Birtinshaw, of Manchester, 1609: ibid.

1782. Married—William Fligg and Isabella Burckingshaw: St. Geo. Han. Sq. p. 339.

The Standard of Oct. 12, 1886, p. 3, reports Emma Bircumshaw as appearing in court at Nottingham in a legal case. This spelling is a manifest corruption of Birkinshaw.

London, 1, 0, 3, 0, 0; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks), 2, 5, 0, 0, 0; (co. Notts), 0, 0, 0, 2; Manchester, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0.

Birks.—Local, 'at the hirks,' from residence beside a clump of birch-trees. North English birk, a birch-tree; v. Birkenhead, Birkett, Birkbeck, &c.; and v. Birch.

Johannes del Byrkes, 1372: P. T. Yorks. p. 215.

Cf. John del Byrches, Pardons Roll, 17 Ric. II: Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 267.

1607. Richard Birkes, Jesus Coll.: ibid.

1741. Married—Edward Birkes and Susanna Selby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 27.

1753.—Benjamin Birks and Mary Slater: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 239.

London, 2; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks), 17; Philadelphia, 2.

Birley.—Local, 'of Birley' or 'Burley,' several places in co. York; v. Burley and Burleigh.

Robert de Berlay, mercator, 19 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 23.

Johannes de Berlay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 143.

Willelmus de Birlay, webster, 1379: ibid. p. 36.

Rogerus de Birlay, 1379: ibid.

Evian Birley, webster, 1622: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 88.

Manchester, 4; Preston, 2; London, 2.

Birtles.—Local, 'of Birtles,' a township in the parish of Prestbury, co. Cheshire, formerly spelt Birchels as well as Birtles; v. Birchall.

'Cristiana, the widow of Henry de Birchels,' 17 Edw. I: East Cheshire, ii. 357.

John de Birtlis, 1324: ibid.
Ralph de Byrtheles, 6 Hen. VIII: ibid.
1503. Buried—John Birtles, of Birtles: Prestbury Church (Cheshire), p. 12.

1582. — James Birchels, of Adlington: ibid., p. 75.

Edward Birtles, of Birtles, yeoman, 1505: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 21.
Roger Birtles, of Birtles, parish of Prestbury, 1616: ibid.
Manchester, 4; London, 1.

Birtwhistle, Birtwistle.—Local, 'of Birtwistle.' I cannot find the spot; cf. Entwistle. But as it is evidently in the West Rid. Yorks, it may be an early form of Briestwhistle, a hamlet in the parish of Thornhill. Birdwhistle (q.v.) is a curious imitative form.

Rob. filius Joh'is Birtwissill, 1397: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 3.

Henricus Birktwysell, sutor, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 218.

Johannes de Brytwele, 1379: ibid. p. 284.

Ricardus de Brytwele, 1379: ibid.

Gilbert Birtwistle, of Love Clough, 1504: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 21.

George Birtwistle, of Goodshaw, 1610: ibid.

1566. Anthony Birtwessel, Bras. Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 26.

The fact that Anthony was at Brasenose College is all but absolute proof that he came from co. Lanc.

Manchester, 1, 4; MDB. (co. York, West Rid.), 2, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Bishop, Bishopp.—Nick. 'the bishop,' a common entry in early registers, a sobriquet readily affixed on one of ecclesiastical appearance. Nevertheless, most of our Bishops owe their title to the custom of electing a boy-bishop on St. Nicholas' Day (v. Brand, Pop. Antiq.). The ceremony was a very familiar one. Lyson quotes from the Lambeth Churchwardens' Accounts, 1523: 'For the Bishop's dynner and hys company on St. Nycolas' Day, iis. viiij.' King arose similarly, q.v.

John le Bissup, co. Oxf., 1273. A. William Bisscop, co. Norf., ibid.

Henry Biscop, co. Linc., ibid.

Elvena, relicta Peter Bissop, co. Camb., ibid.

Alice Bissop, co. Oxf., ibid.

A curious proof of the existence of this popular nickname is seen in the following entry:

Bissop atte Comb, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 182.

In the formal roll of the Preston Guild Merchant for 1602 appears the name of 'William Browne, alias Bushopp' (Preston Guild Rolls, p. 64).

James Bishop, of Warrington, 1614: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 21.

1656. Married—John Golling and Eliz. Bishopp: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 36.

1749. Bapt.—Ebenezer Busup, a founding: ibid. p. 175.

London, 121, 5; Philadelphia, 89, 0.

Bishoprick.—? Local. Probably the suffix is -rigg, a ridge.

Robert Bishoprick, of Newbeggin, Richmond: North Riding Yorks. Directory, 1872.

Bispham, Biscomb.—Local, 'of Bispham,' a village three miles from Poulton, in the Fylde district, co. Lancashire; anciently Biscopham, i.e. the bishop's dwelling (v. Baines' Hist. Lanc. ii. 507).

Averia de Bispham, co. Lanc., 1288: Baines' Hist. Lanc. ii. 507.

Henry de Bispham, co. Lanc., 1365: ibid. p. 508.

Robert de Bispham, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 45.

Laurence Byspham, co. Lanc., 1542: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 18.

Margaret Bispham, of Pilling, 1670: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 34.

John Bispham, of Little Woolton, 1689: Wills at Chester, i. 27.

Blackburn, 1, 0; Manchester, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 16, 0.

Biss.—Local; v. Bysh.

Bissett, Bessett, Bissatt, Biset, Bisset.—Bapt. 'the son of Biset.' This so far tallies with Mr. Ferguson's statement that Bissett is a dim. of an old Teutonic personal name Bis. But I suspect that Biset is the full name, and not a diminutive (v. Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 29).

Biset Dapifer, co. Glouc., Edw. I. R. Robert Biset, co. Hunts, ibid.

Maunsel Bisset, co. Worc., 1273. A. John Besette, 1455, York. W. 11.

1602. William Bissett, co. Glamorgan: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 256.

1764. Married—William Bisset and Jane Mills: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 137.

London, 1, 1, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (W. Rid. Yorks), 0, 0, 2, 0, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 2, 0, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 11, 0, 0, 0, 2.

Blab.—Nick. 'atell-tale'; Simon le Blabe (Close Roll, 3 Edw. I); M.E. blabbe, a tell-tale. 'Blabbe, or labbe, wreyare of counselle': Prompt. Parv.

New York, 1.

Blabber, Blaber.—Nick. 'the blabber,' a revealer of secrets, a tell-tale; v. Blab. '1557. He was a great blabber of his tongue' (H.E.D.).

William Blaber, co. Norf., 1273. A. Johannes Blabour, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 202.

1803. Married—James Brookes and Barbara Blaber: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 274.

New York, 0, 1.

Blaby.—Local, 'of Blaby,' a parish in dioc. of Peterborough and co. Leicester.

John de Blabi, co. York, 1273. A. John de Blaby, rector of North Barham, co. Norf., 1361: FF. vii. 51.

Thomas Blaby, rector of Woodrising, co. Norf., 1356: ibid. x. 280.

1575-6. John Blabye and Dorothy Gabbott: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 68.

1579. Tristian Blaby, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 86.

1767. Married—Thomas Blabey and Ann Beording: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 167.

London, 3.

Black, Blake.—Nick. 'the black,' from the complexion; cf. Blackman, Blue, White, Hoare, Blunt, Russell, &c.

Hamo le Blake, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Reginald le Blake, co. Camb., ibid.

Reynor le Blake, co. Norf., ibid.

Edericke le Blacke, co. Linc., ibid.

William le Blake, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 107.

Margery la Blak, C. R., 3 Edw. II. 1783. Married—Allin Blake and Dorothy Peregrine: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 345.

London, 23, 69; Philadelphia, 300, 84.

Blackadar, Blackadder.—Local, 'of Blackadder,' not far from the English border in Scotland. A river of that name also runs there.

'The lairds of Wedderburn, Blackadder, and West Nisbet,' 1545: Calendar of State Papers relating to Scotland, edited by Markham John Thorpe (London: Longmans), p. 57.

Adam Blackader, prior of Coldingham, 1524: ibid. p. 19.

Patrick Blacater, 1559: ibid. p. 122.

London, 1, 0.

Blackall, Blackhall.—Local, 'of the Black-hall.' Mr. Lower says that it is a corruption of Blackwell, but this is not borne out by evidence.

Nicholas of the Blakehall, C. R., Ric. II. 1702. Married—George Blackall and Martha Cornish: St. Mary Aldermay, P. 37.

1774. — Charles Burrell Massingberd and Ann Blackall: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 248.

London, 2, 2; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0; New York, 0, 2.

Black-ballook.—Nick.; v. Ballock (H.E.D.).

Robertus Blackalloe, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Blackbeard.—Nick. 'with the black beard.' M.E. berd or berde; cf. Brownbeard. Blackbird is an imitative form. Blackberd occurs in Yorkshire so early as 1379. It is still to be met with there in the shape of Blackbeard.

John Blackberd, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Richard Blackberd, co. Oxf., W. 20.

Johannes Blackberd, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 196.

Thomas Blackberd, co. York. W. 18. Peter Blackberd, co. York. W. 20.

John Blackbird, co. Cumb., 1612: VVV. p. 490.

1721. Bapt. — Henry, son of Henry Blackbird: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 123.

'Mr. J. Blackbeard, of 119 Brompton-road, applied to Mr. Biron for advice respecting the action of the Chelsea Water Company,' &c.: Standard, Sept. 21, 1888, p. 5.

Exeter, 1; London, 1; MDB. (N. Riding Yorks.), 1.

Blackburn, Blackborn, Blackborne, Blackbourn, Blackburne.—Local, 'of Blackburn,' a large and thriving town in co. Lanc. There is no negro taint in Blackburn.

Willemus de Blackburn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. pp. 252-3.

Cristoforus de Blackburn, 1379: ibid. Johannes de Blackburn, 1379: ibid.

John de Blackeburn, 1397: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 4.

1593. Edward Blackburne, of Leyland, co. Lanc.: Wills at Chester, i. 21.

1605. William Blackburne, of Billington, co. Lanc.: ibid.

Manchester, 11, 0, 0, 0, 0; London, 20, 1, 1, 4, 2; Philadelphia, 41, 0, 0, 0, 9.

Blackcow, Blacow, Blackoe, Blackow.—Local, 'of Blackhall,' co. Lanc. This looks like a nickname or sign-board name, but it is from Black-hall, near Preston; pronounced Blackow (cf. Lindow for Lindale, Pictaw for Pickthall, &c). This name has taken the imitative form of Blackcow: William Blackcow (Proctor's Manchester Streets).

Henry Hartley, of Blacow, co. Lanc., 1615: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 85.

Margaret Blacow, of Sarniesbury, 1611: ibid. p. 21.

Antonius Blacoll, 1562: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 22.

Antonius Blackecowe, 1582: ibid. p. 24.

In this same series of records the surname is variously spelled Blacoll, Blacoe, Blackowe, Blackecowe, and Blakow; v. Index.

Manchester, 0, 1, 0, 0; Preston, 0, 1, 2, 2.

Blacker.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Blacre' (Domesday).

Ric. fil. Blacker, 12th century: FFF. P. 47.

Baldwin fil. Blacker, 12th century: ibid.

Walterus fil. Godfridi fil. Blaker, 12th century: ibid. p. 21.

(2) Occup. 'the bleacher'; for a feminine form, v. Blaxter.

Roger le Blackere, 1312. M. Geoffrey le Blakere, 1313. M.

Walter le Blacker, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 225.

Stephen le Blakar, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 263.

1605. William Blacker, co. Wilts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 287.

1610. Edward Blacker, co. Wilts: ibid. p. 314.

London, 3; Crockford, 3; Boston (U.S.), 6.

Blackett, Blacket.—(1) Local, 'at the Blackhead,' the dark headland, from residence thereby; cf. Birket and Becket, for Birkhead and Beckhead (v. Redhead). (2) Nick. 'with the black head'; cf. Whitehead. In any case the original form is Blackhead.

'The Blacketts of co. Northumb., trace to William de Blackheved (i.e. Blackhead), forester of Stanhope, 1350': Lower, Patr. Brit. p. 29.

'Mr. John Blackhead, merchant (of Norwich), gave 4 acres of land,' &c.: FF. iv. 222.

Michael Blacket, of Newcastle, temp. 1720: ibid. iii. 591.

1608. Henry Blackhead, co. Herts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 300.

'Dismission for Edward West, defendant, v. William Blackhead, complainant, Dec. 1, 1591: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), iii. 135.

1786. Married—Arthur Blackett and Mary Barlow: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 346. London, 8, 0; MDB. (co. Northumberland), 3, 1; New York, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Blackeyes.—? Nick. 'with the black or very dark eyes.' But it may be local; v. my first instance and cf. Birdseye.

1625. Buried—Marke Blackseye: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 185.

1752. Married—Thomas Blackeyes and Elizabeth Bridge: Canterbury Cath., p. 92.

Blackford.—Local, 'of Blackford.' (1) a parish in co. Soms., near Wincanton; (2) a chapelry in the parish of Wedmore, co. Soms., near Axbridge.

Robert de Blakeford, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 123.

Adam de Blakeford, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 180.

1689. Buried—Margrett Blackford: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 257.

1753. Married—John Baptist Blackford and Betty New Tinling: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 244.

London, 8; MDB. (co. Soms.), 1; Philadelphia, 4.

Blackhall.—Local; v. Blackall.

Blackham.—Local, 'of Blakenham.' Probably the same as Blakenham: two parishes, Great and Little Blakenham, near Ipswich.

My instances all point to this.

Alan de Blackham, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Richard de Blackham, co. Suff., ibid.

Thomas de Blackham, co. Suff., ibid.

Benedict de Blackham, 1279. M.

1626. John Griffyn and Margaret Blackham: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 180.

1669. Benjamin Blackham and Ellinor Preston: Marriage Alleg. (Westminster), p. 164.

MDB. (co. Suffolk), 1; New York, 2.

Blackistor.—Occup. 'the bleacher'; v. Blaxter.

Blacklamb.—Nick. 'the black lamb,' the naughty, the bad; William Blacklambe (Close Roll, 8 Edw. III). Cf. 'Ba, ba, blacksheep, have you any wool?' also 'black sheep,' for a man of exceptionally bad qualities.

Blackledge, Blackleach.—Local, 'of the Black-lake,' corrupted by imitation into Blackleach. Probably the spot mentioned in a charter (c. 1200) connected with property in Wilmslow parish, East Cheshire, from which district the name in most cases is undoubtedly sprung. 'Fulseha, Chorlegh, Pounale, and Morlegh, . . . as far as the mid stream of the Siche, which comes from the Black Lache of Shadoke mosse,' &c. Mr. Earwaker adds, 'The name Black Lache or Black Lake is now applied to a large pond on Lindow Common' (East Ches. i. 42); v. Depledge and Cartledge.

John del Blakelache, of Layland, co. Lanc.: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 52.

'John Blackleech, of Layland, co. Lanc., sonne of Nicholas Blackleech, doctor of phisick to King Henry VIII': Visit. London, i. 76.

John Blakelach. AA. 3.

Thomas Blakelache, ibid.

William Blacklach, of Wigan, 11 Eliz.: Lanc. and Ches. Rec. Soc. viii. 409.

1570. William Blackleach and Mary Kentish: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), P. 3.

1587. Nicholas Blackleech, co. Glouce.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 160.

1601. John Blacklege, co. Soms.: ibid. P. 252.

Samuel Blacklach, mayor of Macclesfield, 1615: East Cheshire, ii. 465.

London, 1, 0; Liverpool, 3, 0; Preston, 1, 0; New York, 6, 0.

Blackler.—Offic. 'the bachelor,' a surname peculiar to the West country, especially to co. Devon. The two instances below pave the way to the little eccentricity of Blackler; v. Batchelar.

Henry Bakeler, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 276.

Adam Bakeler, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid.

MDB. (co. Devon), 6; Oxford, 1.

Blackley, Blakeley, Blackley, Blackly, Blakely, Blackley.—(1) Local, 'of Blackley' (usually pronounced Blakeley), a township in the old parish of Manchester. (2) Local, 'of Blakeney,' q.v. This corruption was an early one; v. infra, and cf. Blankley for Blankney.

Adam de Blakeneye, alias Adam de Blakeley, London, 1273. A.

William de la Blakelegh, 1301. M.

1626. Jane Blakeley, of Bury, widow: Wills at Chester, ii. 24.

1628. Ralph Blakeley, of Bury: ibid.

1701. Bapt.—William James, son of James and Esther Blackley: Reg. Canterbury Cath. p. 39.

London, 1, 3, 0, 1, 0, 0; Manchester, 3, 15, 5, 0, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0, 1, 17, 2.

Blacklock.—Nick. 'with the black lock of hair' (cf. Silverlock, Goldlock, Lovelock): a familiar Cumberland surname.

William Bernard, alias dictus Blaklok: Close Roll, 22 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Peter Blackoke, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

1597-8. Married—William Blacklocke, co. Cumb.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 226.

1744. Married—William James and Mary Blacklock: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 44.

London, 3; MDB. (co. Cumb.), 3; New York, 1.

Blackman, Blakeman.—Nick. 'the blackman,' i.e. the dark-complexioned man; cf. Black and Blacklock, White, Whiteman, and Whitman.

John Blakeman, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Henry Blacman, co. Oxford, 1273. A.

Peter Blakeman, co. Camb., ibid.

Robert Blakeman, co. Bucks, ibid.

1591. Bapt.—John, s. John Blackman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 24.

1617. Adam Blakeman, co. Staff.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 361.

1767. Married—Robert Blackman and Eulina Price: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 181.

London, 23, 3; Philadelphia, 8, 2.

Blackmonster.—Local, 'of Blanchminster,' Latinized into 'De Albo Monasterio.' Killminster and Killmaster (q.v.) seem quite as repellent, and have a similar origin. Black = O.E. blāc, white, pale.

Thomas de Blauncmustre, co. Essex, 1273. A.

Matilda de Blancmustre, co. Middlesex: Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

William de Blancmoster, co. Essex, ibid.

Reginald de Blancnimstre, co. Oxf., ibid.

William de Albo Monasterio, co. Salop, ibid.

Lower gives the name as now existing. I have not met with it.

Blackmore, Blackmoore, Blackmur, Blakemore.—Local, 'of Blackmore,' (1) Blackmoor, parish in dioc. of Winchester; (2) Blackmore, parish in dioc. of St. Albans. The form Blakamoor seems to suggest a French nickname; cf. Phillimore, Parramore, &c. Still, it is better to consider the a as intrusive, as in Greenaway, Ottaway, Hathaway, &c.

William Blak-homme, Norwich, 1398: FF. iii. 114.

William de Blachomor, Norwich, 4 Ric. II: ibid. p. 117.

Margery de Blakemor, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 244.

Richard de Blakemor, co. Oxf., 1273. A. (Prior de Blakemor, co. Essex, ibid.

Simon Blakamoor. RR. i.

Beatrix Blakamoor, London. X.

Richard Blackamore. FF.

1632. Bapt.—Ralph, s. Raph Blackmore: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 121.

1745. Married—Thomas Cox and Mary Blackmore: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 36.

London, 23, 1, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0, 12.

Blacksley.—Local; v. Blakesley.

Blacksmith.—Occup. 'a worker in iron.' This and Whitesmith are the only survivals of the custom of styling the different workers in metals by the colour of that on which they spent their energies; cf. Whitesmith, Greensmith, Redsmith, Brownsmith.

William le Blakesmith, Close Roll, 54 Hen. III.

Nicholas the Blacksmith. FF.

John Blacksmythe. ZZ.

'Brydel-bytters, blackesmythes, and ferrars': Cocke Lorelle's Bote.

Blackson.—Personal, 'the son of Black'; cf. Brownson or Green-son. Sometimes, no doubt, a corruption of Blackstone, a local surname. But the above derivation is in general the correct one, baptismal or personal names from colours not being uncommon.

John Blakson, C. R., 17 Edw. III. pt. i. London, 0; Philadelphia, 9.

Blackston, Blackstone, Blakiston, Blaxton.—Local, 'of Blaxton,' a township in the parish of Finningley, West Rid. Yorks. No doubt originally Blackston or Blackstone; cf. Buxton for Buckstone. Of William Blackstone, one of the earliest episcopal clergymen resident in New England (d. 1675), a biographer writes: 'His name was variously spelled Blackstone, Blackston, and Blaxton': Dict. Nat. Biog. v. 132. But it is not likely that Blaxton in co. York is the sole parent of Blackstone and its variants. Doubtless other places in South England of the same name have had their share in making up the list of surnames found in our modern directories.

Agnes Blaxton, co. Camb., 1273. A.
William Blackstone, co. Bucks, 20 Edw. I. R.

Bartram Blaxton, 1530, Newcastle-on-Tyne (List of male population capable of bearing arms): PPP. vol. ii. pp. 174, 194.
1579. Marmaduke Blackston, co. Durham: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 87.
1625. James Blackstone, or Blackstone, and Mary Peacocke: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 154.

1668. Married—Thomas Blackstone and Anne Fan: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 141.

1776. Married—Hugh Cane and Dame Annabella Blakiston: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 268.

London, 0, 2, 0, 0; Crookford, 0, 0, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 1, 11, 1.

Blackwell.—(1) Local, 'of Blackwell,' a parish in co. Derby near Alfreton. (2) Local, 'of Blackwell,' a township in the parish of Darlington, co. Durham. Other and smaller places could also be cited.

Margery de Blacwelle, co. Camb. 1273. A.

Thomas Blakewell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 256.

Margaret de Blakwell, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 8.

1599. Richard Blackwall, co. Derby: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 237.

1615. John Blackwell, co. Glouc.: ibid. p. 346.

1753. Married—William Blackwell and Jemima Fowle: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 258.

London, 24; Philadelphia, 12.

Blades, Blade.—? Bapt. 'the son of Blade.' An unquestionable compound personal name occurs in the case of Gilbert Bladewine, co. Norf., 1273. A; cf. Unwin, Goodwin, &c.

Juliana Blade, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Emma Blade, co. Hunts, ibid.
1572. Robert Blades, Glouc. Hall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 380.

1575. Randall Blades, Glouc. Hall: ibid. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 34.

1747. Married—Thomas Brown and Jane Blade: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 101.

London, 12, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 1.

Bladesmith.—Occup. 'the blade-smith,' a sword manufacturer. The 'Cutters, Bladesmiths, and Shethers' went together in the York Pageant (York Mystery Plays, p. xxiii, ed. Toulmin Smith). Cocke Lorelle's Bote couples 'cutlers and bladesmiths.' 'Bladsmythe, scindifaber': Prompt. Parv.

John Bladesmith. SS.
Thomas Bladesmith. S.

John Bladesmith, co. York. W. 13.

John Bladsmith, Swaffham, co. Norf.: FF. vi. 219.

Robert Raw, bladysmythe, 1530, Newcastle-on-Tyne (List of male population capable of bearing arms): PPP. vol. ii. pp. 174, 194.

John Fyche, bladsmith, Norwich, 1489: FF. iv. 461.

Bladon, Bladen.—Local, 'of Bladon,' a parish in Oxfordshire, near Woodstock.

Walter de Bladone, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Agnes de Bladene, co. Oxf., ibid.

Hugh de Bladene, co. Oxf., ibid.
1659. Married—Henry Bladon, of Birmingham, and Ann Betts: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 35.

London, 1, 0; Crookford, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 3.

Blagbrough.—Local; v. Blakebrough.

Blagden, Blagdon.—Local, 'of Blagdon.' (1) A township in the parish of Stannington, co. Northumberland; (2) a parish in co. Somerset, eight miles from Axbridge; cf. Slagg and Slack.

Walter de Blakeden, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 247.

1587. Robert Blakeden, co. Surrey: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 160.

1631. Bapt.—Ann, d. John Blackden: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 121.

1688.—Sarah, d. James and Sarah Bladon: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 325.

1689. Thomas, s. James and Sarah Blagden: ibid. ii. 332.

1697. Married—Thomas Charlton and Catherine Blagden: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 46.

London, 2, 1; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1, 4; New York, 3, 0.

Blagg, Blagge.—? Nick. 'the black' (?), from the dark hair or swarthy complexion of the nominee. A variant of Black, q.v.; cf. Slagg and Slack, Higgs and Hicks. Even Jack is found as Jagge in Piers Plowman's Vision; cf. Blagrove for Blackgrove, or Blamire for Blackmire.

Robert Blagge, co. Norf., 10 Hen. VIII: FF. ix. 497.

John Blagg, of Macclesfield, 1617: Wills at Chester, i. 21.

Katherine Blagg, of Bosden, parish of Cheadle, 1619: ibid.

1784. Married—William Blagg and Eliz. Reah: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 362.
London, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Notts), 6, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Blagrove, Blaggrave.—Local, 'of Blaggrave,' a tithing in the parish of Lambourn, co. Berks; lit. 'the black grove'; v. Blagg and Grove or Grave.

1662–3. Edward Homewood and Thamor Blagrove: Marriage Alleg. (Westminster), p. 81.

1670. Bapt.—Ann, d. Edward Blaggrave: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 243.

1705. Married—John Blaggrave and Mary Walter: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 37.

London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Berks), 0, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Blake.—Nick.; v. Black.

Blakebrough, Blakeborough.—Local, 'of Blackborough,' a parish in co. Devon, near Cullompton. Probably some smaller spot bore this name also in co. Suffolk. The lazified variant Blagbrough is common; v. Blagg.

Simon de Blakeberwe, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Robert de Blakeberg, co. Suff., ibid.

London, 2, 0, 0; Manchester, 0, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 0.

Blakemore.—Local; v. Blackmore.

Blakeney.—Local, 'of Blakeney.' (1) A small seaport on the coast of Norfolk; (2) a chapelry in the parish of Awre, co. Glouc.

Johannes Blaunkene, smyth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 13.

Adam de Blakeneye, London, 1273. A.
Peter de Blakeneye, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

Nicholas de Blakney, co. Norf., 1392: FF. v. 101.

Elizabeth Blakney, co. Norf., 1515: ibid. ii. 446.

Crookford, 4; New York, 4.

Blakesley, Blackesley, Blakeslee.—Local, 'of Blakesley,' a parish in co. Northampton, four miles from Towcester. Blacksley is a modern variant.

Joseph Williams Blakesley (1808–1885), dean of Lincoln, . . . was born in the City of London. . . His parents were Jeremiah George and Elizabeth Blakesley, as the name was then spelt': Dict. Nat. Biog. v. 187.

1624. Thomas Belley and Mary Blakesley: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 140.

1723. Married—Thomas Blakesley and Rachael Dukes: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 62.

1775. — Samuel Blakesly and Mary Jolly: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 254.

London, 2, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 2.

Blamester.—Nick, 'the blamer,' with fem. suffix -ster; cf. Brewster, Spinster, &c.

Robert le Blaimister, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Blamire, Blamires, Blaymire.—Local, 'of the blamire,' i. e. black mire, from residence thereby. A North-country name; v. Myers.

William de la Blamire, E. and F., co. Cumb., p. 163.

1753. Married—Francis Bernard and Sarah Bleamire: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 245.

London, 0, 1, 0; Manchester, 0, 0, 2; Ulverston, 1, 0, 0; New York, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 1.

Blanch, Blanche.—Bapt, 'the son of Blanche.' Sometimes, no doubt, a nickname answering to English 'White.'

John Blaunche, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Elianora Blanche, co. Camb., ibid.

Clement Blaunche, co. Warwick, 20 Edw. I. K.

John Blanch, C. R., 2 Edw. IV. 1716. Bapt.—Sarah, d. Daniel Blanch: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 95.

London, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 1.

Blanchard, Blanchard, Blanchet.—Nick, 'Blanchard,' O. F. blanchart, whitish. A sobriquet of complexion, and probably used as a fontal name. It was used as the name for a white horse; cf. Bayard, for a bay horse.

'Vppon my stede blanchard thu ridest here.' c. 1440. Generydes (H.E.D.).

Nicholas Blanchard, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 8.

Gilbert Blanchard, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

William Blanchard (sic), co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 175.

William Blanchard, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Reginald Blanchard, co. York, ibid.

Robert Blanchard, co. Linc., ibid.

Willelmus Blanchard, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 236.

Elena Blanchard, 1379: ibid.

1587. Buried—Ann Blanket: Kensington Church, p. 92.

This last form is imitative, and still lives.

London, 17, 4, 1; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 20, 0, 1.

Blanchflower, Branchflower.—Bapt, 'the son of Blanchefleur,' Angl. 'white-flower.' There is the story of 'Floriz and Blanchefleur,' E. E. Text Society (circa 1280). Lower sets down the corrupted Branchflower as still existing.

1618. George Blanchflower, co. Soms.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 367.

Faith Blanchflower, temp. Eliz. Z.

George Blanchflower, of Kingston, Soms., 1625: Abstract of Somersetshire Wills, p. 21.

Thomas Blanchflower, of Gotehurst, Soms., 1659: ibid. p. 82.

From Somersetshire the surname seems to have travelled into Devonshire:

Barnabas Blanchflower, Myrtle Cottage, is set down in the Directory for Kilmington, co. Devon, 1873.

MDb. (co. Norfolk), 3, 0; (co. Devon), 1, 0.

Blanchfront.—Local, 'of Blanchfront,' from some spot in Normandy. Not a nickname, as suggested by Lower.

Johannes de Blauncefrent, co. York, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Walter de Blauncefrent, co. York, ibid.

Henry de Blauncefrent, cos. Bucks and Bedf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Henry Blanchfront, co. Bucks, ibid.

Robert Blanchfront, co. Bedf., 1273. A.

Nicholas Blaunfront, co. Bedf., ibid.

Philip Blanchfront. FF.

Joan Blaunfront. XX. 4.

Anabel Blanchfront. GG.

Blanchmains.—Nick, 'white hand,' q. v. Lower says, 'Fr. blanches mains, "white hands." From this peculiarity Robert de Beaumont, 3rd Earl of Leicester, received his sobriquet. It also became the hereditary surname of a family' (Patr. Brit. p. 30).

Robert Blanchmains. FF.

Humbert Blanchmains. PP.

Blanchpain.—Local, 'of Blanchpain,' of which the English translation was Whitebread and Whitbread, q. v. Some spot in Normandy. Blanchpain has a strong nickname appearance about it, but the evidence is against such a derivation.

Aldwina de Blanchpain, co. Berks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Roger Blankpayn, co. Camb., 1273. A.

William Blankpain, co. Camb., ibid.

Edmund Blankpayn. D.

John Blankpayn represented Cambridge in Parliament: C. R., 50 Edw. I. pt. ii.

Eugene Aram was usher, in 1744, to the Rev. Mr. Painblanc, in Piccadilly.

Bland.—Local, 'of Bland,' one of the four hamlets of which the town of Sedburgh (co. York) is comprised. It is not a complimentary nickname, but distinctly local. The name ramified strongly.

Johannes de Bland, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 289.

Adam de Bland, 1379: ibid.

Matilda Bland, 1379: ibid.

Wymker de Bland, 1379: ibid. p. 246.

1753. Married—Edward Bland and Eleanor Turnbull: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 257.

London, 25; West Riding Court Dir., 12; Philadelphia, 9.

Blankley.—Local, 'of Blankney,' a parish in dioc. of Lincoln; v. Blankley for a corresponding change of suffix -ney to -ley.

Adam de Blankenay, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Robert de Blankeney, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Richard de Blankeney, co. Oxf., ibid.

(Vicar) de Blaunkeneye, co. Linc., ibid.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 8.

Blanks, Blankson.—'The son of Blanch' (q. v.); a variant.

1613. Thomas Blank, or Blank, Glouc. Hall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 324.

The following two entries manifestly concern the same couple.

1676. Married—John Crose and Eliz. Blankson: St. Antholin (London), p. 96.

—John Cross and Eliz. Blanks: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 253.

London, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Blatherwick.—Local, 'of Blatherwycke,' a parish in the dioc. of Peterborough and co. Northampton.

Simon de Blatherwyke, rector of Barton, co. Norfolk, 1314: FF. vii. 278.

1746. Married—John Blatherwick and Elinor Brearcliffe: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 73.

1785. — Robert Foster and Ann Blatherwick: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 369.

London, 3.

Blaxter, Blackister, Blackistor.—Occup. 'the bleacher,' with fem. suffix -ster; cf. Baxter. 'Pleykstare, candidarius'; 'whytstare or pleykstare, candidarius, candidaria'; 'bleystare or wytstare (bleykester, or whytster), candidarius' (Prompt. Parv.). Robert Blaxter appeared as defendant in a Norfolk case at the close of the 16th century (Proceedings in Chancery, Elizabeth, i. 250). Both Blaxter and Blackistor still exist. For masculine form, v. Blacker (2).

Matilda Blacketer, London, 1273. A. William le Blackestere, co. Camb., ibid.

John le Blackestere, co. Norf., ibid. Richard le Blackster, 1307, Gloucester. M.

John de (misprint for 'le') Blexter, bailiff of Norwich, 1286: FF. iii. 74. 1608. Bapt.—Thomas, son of Henry Blaxter: Reg. Deopham, co. Norf. Derby, 1, 0, 0; London, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (Suffolk), 0, 0, 1.

Blaze, Blazey, Blazy, Blease, Bleas, Blase.—Bapt. 'the son of Blaze.' St. Blaise was the patron saint of wool-combers, and his festival (Feb. 3) till recent days was faithfully commemorated in Yorkshire. A full-sized effigy of the bishop is carved in the principal entrance to the Bradford Exchange. As a font-name Blaise, or Blaze, just managed to survive the Reformation. Gil Blas has immortalized the name in literature; v. Puritan Nomenclature, pp. 93, 94.

1550. Bapt.—Blaze, daughter of — Goodwinne: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 5. 1555. Married — Blase Sawlter and Collis Smith: ibid. p. 223. 1662 — Blase Whyte to Mrs. Susanna Wright, widow: Canterbury Cath. p. 60.

'Jan. 1537. Item, payed to Blaze for brawdering a payre of sleeves for my lady's grace, xxxs': Privy Purse Expenses, Princess Mary, p. 14. Blasius Billard: Patent Roll, 10 Hen. VII.

Blase Caryll, temp. 1600: Visitation of London, 1634, p. 144.

1605. Bapt.—James, s. Andrew Blase: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 46.

1744. Married — Joseph Tucker and Mary Bleeze: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 32. London, 0, 3, 1, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0, 1, 1, 2.

Bleasdale, Blazdell, Blasdale, Blesdill.—Local, 'of Bleasdale,' a chapelry in the parish of Lancaster. The surname is still chiefly found in that district. But it has managed to cross the Atlantic, and lives in Boston in a slightly varied form.

John Bleasdale, of Inkleingreen, in Bolland, 1619: Wills at Chester, i. 22.

Robert Bleasall, of Bolland, 1611: ibid.

Henry Bleasall, of Chepin, husbandman, 1616: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 36.

Alice Bleasdaile, of Chipping, 1668: ibid.

London, 1, 2, 0, 0; Lancaster, 5, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Lancaster), 6, 0, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 1, 1.

Blencowe, Blinko.—Local, 'of Blencowe,' a township in the parish of Greystoke, co. Cumb. The corruption into Blinko, found in the London Directory, is explained by instances in London church registers.

1590. George Blincow and Eliz. Fowler: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 188.

1618. Christopher Blencow, co. Cumb.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 366.

1624. Married—George Blincow and Mary Hickee: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 23.

1778. Married—Thomas Blencow and Dorothy Marshall: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 285.

London, 2, 1; Oxford, 5, 0.

Blenkarn, Blenkarne, Blenkirion, Blenkhorn, Blenkhorne, Blankhorn, Blinkhorn, Blenkin.—Local, 'of Blenkarne,' a township in the parish of Kirkland, co. Cumberland. The surname has spread far, and has assumed many guises.

1576. Buried—Dennis Blinkhorne: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 140.

1666. Bapt.—John, s. John Blenkerne: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 119.

1681-2. Joseph Pawlett and Eliz. Blinckarne: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 87.

1777. Married—Thomas Blenkhorn and Mary Watson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 277.

London, 2, 1, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0; Crockford, 0, 1, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0; Sheffield (Blenkhorne), 3; Huddersfield (Blankhorn), 1; West Riding Court Dir. (Blenkin), 2; Manchester (Blenkhorn), 3; New York (Blankhorn), 1; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 4, 0.

Blenkinsop, Blenkinsop, Blenkenish, Blenkinship.—Local, 'of Blenkinsop,' a township in the parish of Haltwhistle, co. Northumberland.

Antony Blencansop, 20 Ric. II: Hodgson's Northumberland, i. 362.

Ranulf de Blenkeneshope, 1240: ibid. iii. 129.

The following spellings are curious:

'On April 23, 1470, Elizabeth Blynkkynesoppe, of Blynkkynsoppe, widow of Thomas Blynkkyensoppe, of Blynkkensoppe,' received a general pardon: Hodgson's Northumberland, iii. 130.

Why such a variety it is hard to say.

Randolf de Blekenishop, co. Northunb., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1572. Charles Blenckinsopp, co. Westm.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 54.

1794. Married—Thomas Blenkinship and Sarah Allen: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 123.

London, 4, 0, 0, 0; Penrith, 0, 0, 0, 4; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 5, 0, 1, 0.

Blennerhassett.—Local, 'of Blennerhassett,' a township in the parish of Torpenhow, co. Cumb.

'Johannes de Hayton quondam tenuit . . . in Alderscogh, et quondam peciam terre in Blenerhayset,' 16 Ric. II: E. and F., co. Cumb. p. 174.

Thomas Blennerhassett, of Carlisle': ibid. p. 83.

Thomas Blevherhasset, appointed rector of Hardingham, co. Norf., at the age of 11, by the Pope's dispensation: FF. x. 227.

John Blenerhayset (writes) to Thomas Fayrfax, Feb. 22, 1572: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), i. 438.

Crockford, 1; New York, 2.

Bletsoe, Bletso.—Local, 'of Bletsoe,' a parish in the county of Bedford, six miles from Bedford.

John de Bletsho, temp. 35 Edw. III: FF. vii. 70.

Sir John Bletso, 21 Henry VIII: ibid. ii. 442.

1587. George Bletso and Eliz. Dudley: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 164.

1641. Bapt.—Hugh, s. Nicholas Bletso (sic): St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 147.

MDB. (co. Northampton), 2, 1; London, 1, 0.

Blevin, Blethyn, Bliven, Bleything.—Bapt. 'the son of Blethyn' (Welsh). 'Meredith ap Blethyn was prince of N. Wales in the eleventh cent.' (Lower).

'At the Survey we see that King William was Lord of this manor (Mileham), but soon after Alan, son of Flaald, obtained it by the gift of William the Conqueror; also the castle of Oswaldstrey in Shropshire . . . which belonged to Meredith ap Blethyn, a Welshman or Briton': FF. x. 16.

Frederick Blethyn C. Hulton appears in the obituary of Manchester Guardian, June 10, 1886, descended from Blethyn de Hulton, temp. Edw. II.

Robert Blevyn, co. Norf., 1273. A. Lewelyn ap Bledyn, 1313. M.

Nicholas Blythewin, C. R., 42 Edw. III.

'William Blethyn, bishop of Landaff,' writes to Sir Francis Walsingham, Feb. 3, 1579: Rec. Office, Cal. State Papers (Domestic), i. 617.

1601-2. Philemon Blethin, of Llandaff: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 255.

James Blevin, of Croston, co. Lanc., husbandman, 1669: Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 31.

Jennet Blevins, of Formby, 1677: ibid.

Richard Blevin, of North Meols (Southport), 1627: ibid. (1621-50), p. 24.

As will be seen below, the name is still represented in that district. For a sharpened form, v. Plethin.

Liverpool, 3, o, o, o; Southport, o, i, o, o; Formby (co. Lanc.), i, o, o, o; Milford, o, i, o, o; New York (Bliven), 10; (Bleything), 1.

Blew, Blue.—Nick. 'the blue,' blue of complexion or dress. Cf. Black.

Walter le Bleu. E.

Robert le Bleu. E.

1581-2. Henry Blewe and Margaret Peacocke: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 107.

1700. Bapt.—Thomas, s. James Blew: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 139.

1746. Married—Mr. Mathew Blakiston and Mrs. Mary Blew: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 60.

1808.—Thomas Blue and Eliz. Bean: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 396.

London, 1, o; New York, 3, 5; Philadelphia, 5, 12.

Blewett, Blewitt, Bluett.—Nick. 'bluet,' one of the many nicknames of complexion. In this case probably from the dress. Fr. bluet, a blue woollen cloth; cf. Burrell, Burnet, Cawry-mawry, &c. 'Item, lego Gilberto Skut . . . togam meam de bluett furr': 1437. Bury Wills (H.E.D.).

Robert Bluet, co. Bucks, 20 Edw. I. R. John Bleuit, co. Glouc., 1273. A.

Robert Bluet, co. Linc., ibid.

Walter Bluet, London, ibid.

Thomas Bloet, co. Southampton, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Reculandus Bloet. C.

1584. William Bluet, co. Cornwall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 135.

1593. Roger Bluett, co. Devon: ibid.

p. 105.

1754. Married—James Blewett and Catherine Curtiss: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 279.

London, 1, 3, 4; Crockford, o, o, 7;

Boston (U.S.), 2, o, o; Philadelphia, o, 2, 1.

Blick.—Nick. 'the blike,' probably cognate with Blake (s.v. Black); v. Blake and Blick in H.E.D.

John le Blyk, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 221.

Richard le Blyke, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

1670. Leonard Clerke and Mary Blick: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 115.

1654. Married—William Johnson and Mary Blick: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 259.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Blind.—Nick. 'the blind.'

Ralph le Blinde, co. Norf., 1273. A.

1544-5. Silvester Blinde and Alice Gawe: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 3.

New York, 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Blinko.—Local; v. Blencowe.

Bliss.—Nick. 'of blithe disposition.'

John Blisse, co. Buck., 1273. A.

John Blisse, co. Cant., ibid.

1596. Bapt.—Ann, d. Richard Blisse, St. James Clerkenwell, i. 31.

London, 13; Philadelphia, 17.

Blissett, Blizard, Blizzard.

—(1) ? Nick. or personal name like Joyce, Bliss (i. e. blithe); dim. Blissot.

Blissot (no surname), co. Oxf., 1273. A.

(2) Local.

Hugh de Blesset', co. Oxf., 1273. A.

1752. Married—Joseph Blizzard and Mary Bassitt: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, i. 226.

London, 2, 5, o; Philadelphia, o, 2, 11.

Blisswench.—Nick. 'blithe-wench.'

Alicia Blissewenche, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Blithe.—Nick.; v. Blyth.

Blocker.—Occur. 'the blocker,' a maker of blocks for hats, a blocker or block-hewer. Also a blocker for shoemaking. The H.E.D. quotes: '1609. Fishers, Forestallers, Regraters, Sutours, Kemesters, Bloccers' (s.v. Blocker). Hence blockhead, a duffer.

Deodatus le Blokkere, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Richard le Blockhewere. E.

Blockley.—Local, 'of Blockley,' a parish in co. Worcester, near Moreton-in-the-Marsh.

Geoffrey de Blockeye, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Petrus de Blockeye, 30 Edw. I: BBB. p. 634.

1806. Married—Thomas Blockley and Mary Crook: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 339.

London, 5; New York, 1.

Blofeld, Blofield, Blowfield.

—Local, 'of Blofield,' a parish in co. Norfolk, seven miles from Norwich.

Richard de Blofeld, rector of Witton, co. Norf., 1349: FF. vii. 266.

Adam de Blofield, vicar of Tunstall, co. Norf., 1377: ibid. xi. 120.

William Blofield, Norwich, 1489: ibid. iv. 461.

1596. A child of Richarde Blofelde, buried: Reg. St. Mary Aldermary (London), p. 148.

1613. Bapt.—Marie Blowfeild: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 61.

London, 2, 1, o; MDB. (Norfolk), 1, 4, o; (Co. Hunts), o, o, 2.

Bloomfield.—Local; v. Bloomfield. London, 4.

Blondel, Blondell.—Nick.; v. Blundell.

Blood, Blud, Bloyd.—Bapt.

'the son of Lloyd,' from Ap-Lloyd; cf. Bethell, Benyon, &c. Lloyd is found as Floyd, Flood, and Flud.

The patronymic became in a similar way Bloyd, Blood, and Blud.

The Manchester Courier, Jan. 8, 1886, describes a trial at the Cheshire Quarter Sessions, in which a woman named Bythell (Ap-Ithell) is accused of robbing a fellowmonger named Blud (Ap-Lud); cf. Bowen or Bevan (Ap-Owen or Ap-Evan).

1741. Married—John Blood and Eliz. Mann: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 83.

1750.—Ralph Walker and Hannah Blood: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 173.

London, 2, o, 1; Philadelphia, 18, o, o.

Bloodletter.—Occur. 'the blood-letter,' a barber-surgeon. This name is now obsolete, I think, and requires no explanation. The letting of blood was a cure for all manner of complaints with our forefathers. Mr. Lower mentions a Gold le Bloodletter in the records of Yarmouth as living in the 14th century (Patr. Brit. p. 31).

Thomas Bloodletter, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

William Bloodletter, London. X.

John Bloodletter, co. York. W. 12.

Hugh le Bloodletter, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 280.

Bloom.—Local, 'of Brome,' a parish in the dioc. of Norwich; or 'of the broom'—a manifest corruption of Broom, q.v.—from residence near the plant so called; cf. Furse. The Norfolk Blooms are all Brooms. For further instances, v. Broom.

Henry de Brom, vicar of Great Ellingham, co. Norf., 1312: FF. i. 485.

Sir Roger de Brome, of Brome Manor, co. Norf., 1304: ibid. xi. 139.

1575. Francis Everall and Mary Blome: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 67.

1583-4. Thomas Bloomè and Agnes Stempe: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 127. 1805. Married—William Bloom and Ann Young: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 331. MDB. (Norfolk), 8; London, 5; Philadelphia, 23.

Bloomer, Blomer, Blumer.—Occur. 'the bloomer,' a worker at bloomery, or bloom-smithy. The surname is found in Ulverston church register alongside Ashburner (q.v.), while remains of ancient bloomeries are found in the woods throughout the district: '1571, March 1. Buried—Edmund Blomer, Ulverston.' Reference is repeatedly made to these bloomeries in the records of Furness Abbey (West's Ant. of Furness, 1774).

Johannes Blomere, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 232.

Johannes Blomer, smyth, 1379: ibid. p. 81.

Johannes de Kirkeby, blomer, 1379: ibid. p. 230.

William le Blomere. L. Henry Blewmer, co. York, 1513: W. 11, p. 181.

William Blumer, co. York, 1515: ibid. p. 185.

1587. Geo. Blomer, co. Glouc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 161.

London, 2, 1, 0; New York, 24, 0, 2.

Bloomfield, Blomfield, Blunderfield.—Local, 'de Blundeville,' probably Blonville, a place near Pont l'Éveque in Normandy. There can be no doubt as regards this origin so far as the Norfolk and Suffolk families of this name are concerned.

'In 1567 Thomas Blundevice, Esq., settled Blumville's manor, &c., on John Blumville, in trust for the said Thomas': FF. v. 68.

'In 1490, Richard Blumville, or Blundevice, Esq., had his manor and Heverlond, and died seized of them in 1603': ibid. p. 186-7.

John de Blomeville, 1249, co. Norf.: FF. ii. 491.

William de Blundevice, 1282, co. Norf.: ibid.

William de Blumville, co. Norf., 1273. A. Henry Blomefield, of Fersfield, gent., 1731: FF. i. 93.

Francis Blomefield, rector of Fersfield, 1736: ibid. p. 101.

Here lyeth Patience, the wife of Robert King, and daughter of Thomas Blundevice, who lived virtuously, and died religiously, Jan. 7, 1638, Newton Ch., co. Norf.: ibid. v. 70.

1778. Samuel Blomfield to Eliz. Gould: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 285.

Lower, writing about Blunderfield (v. London Directory), says: 'A corruption of Blondeville. This awkward and unpromising name was borne some years ago by a farming bailiff at Bayfield Hall, co. Norfolk' (Patr. Brit. p. 32). Oddly enough he does not recognize Bloomfield as a corruption. He says, 'Bloomfield, a village in co. Worc., and probably other localities. Norfolk has long been the greatest habitat of the name' (ibid. p. 31). Of course Bloomfield in co. Worc. and co. Cumb. may have given rise to families of this name, but in nine cases out of ten the derivation given above will apply, and is absolutely correct of the East-Anglian representatives.

London, 11, 4, 1; MDB. (Suffolk), 9, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 1, 0.

Blore, Bloor, Bloore.—(1) Local, 'of Blore,' a parish in co. Stafford. (2) Occur. 'the blower' (q.v.), a corruption. But the local origin is manifestly the one to be chiefly considered, as Blore and its variants are very familiar to Staffordshire directories, and on the Cheshire border.

1574-5. Ralph Blowre, co. Staff.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 59.

1618. Ralph Bloore, of Atherton: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 22.

1625. Humphrey Blore and Alice Zankie: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 154. 1639. Married—William Blore and Marye Poynes: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 71.

London, 3, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Stafford), 5, 3, 1; New York, 0, 2, 0.

Bloss.—Local, 'of Blois,' the well-known city in France. That the Suffolk Bloss is a variant of Blois is incontestable.

William de Blois (natural son of King Stephen): FF. viii. 358.

Thomas Bloys, mayor of Yarmouth: ibid. xl. 326.

Prudence Blois, died 1634, Norwich: ibid. iv. 447.

The same lady is styled Prudence Bloys: ibid. iii. 409.

Again she is styled 'Prudence Blossie, widow of Mr. Alderman Blossie,' of Norwich: ibid. p. 377.

Thomas Blossie, sheriff of Norwich, 1606: ibid. p. 370.

Thus the conclusion is inevitable; Bloss in the 19th century is but a variant of Blois of the 12th century.

MDB. (co. Suffolk), 2; New York, 7.

Blossom.—Nick. 'the blossom,' i.e. the flower (cf. Flower), probably in a complimentary sense. 'Blosme, or blossom frons': Prompt. Parv.

Hugh Blosme, co. Suff., 1273. A. Robert Blosme, co. Camb., ibid. William Blosme, co. Essex, ibid. Thomas Blossom, C. R., 20 Ric. II. pt. ii. London, 2; New York, 8.

Blot hunt.—Occur. 'the blot-hunt' (v. Hunt, Boarhunt, &c.), a huntsman who exposed himself to the chief danger in attacking the wild boar, stag, or wolf (?). This instance of the word is three centuries earlier than the H.E.D.: 'In backgammon, an exposed piece or "man," liable to be taken or forfeited... 1598. Florio, Caccia, a hunting, a chasing... Also... a blot at tables' (v. Blot, sb.). Perhaps the blot-hunt went after exposed animals, i.e. wild beasts that came under range of his arrow. Anyway the name is interesting to philologists.

Humfrey le Blothunte, co. Berks, 1273. A.

Blount.—Nick. 'the blonde' (v. Blunt), fair of complexion.

Blow.—? Nick. Probably a sobriquet for the then common horn-blower. Lower's suggestion is impossible. He says, 'Blow—a contraction of Bellew, Bellow, q.v. The parish in Norfolk popularly called Blo' Norton is really Norton-Bellar' (Patr. Brit. p. 31). The simple answer to this is that in 1273 the name was commonly written Blower. Blow is the name, and Blow is what has to be explained. As Blower and Blowhorn, and Hornblower and Hornblow, were then familiar sobriquets, it is quite possible that Blow was a nickname.

Henry Blowre, co. Camb., 1273. A. Isabella Blowre, co. Oxf., ibid. William Blowre, co. Oxf., ibid. John Blowre, co. Soms., & Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 156.

1548 o. John Blowe and Beatrice Dawe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 12.
1761. Married—John Puttrill and Frances Blaw: St. Geo. Han. Sq. iii. 106. London, 6; New York, 2.

Blower.—Occup. 'the blower,' probably a horn-blower; possibly an early 'bloomer,' or charcoal burner; v. Bloomer and Ashburner.

Henry le Blower, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 113.

Mablia la Blouer, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Ran' le Blower, co. Suff., ibid.

Adam Blower, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 249.

William le Blower, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 88.

1598-9. Robert Blower, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 233.

1643. Married—Humfrey Blower and Elinor Wright: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 19.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 1.

Blowhorn.—Nick. 'blow-horn,' a sobriquet for a horn-blower; v. Hornblow.

Gilbert Blowhorn, co. Linc., 1273. A. Alicia Blawhorn, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 7.

Alicia Blawhorn, breuster, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 239.

Blows, Blowes.—Local, 'of Blois,' a city in France. It has already been shown that the Suffolk Bloss is a modern variant of Blois (v. Bloss). Another variant was Blows or Blowes.

1407. John Bloys, or Blowes, rector of Shelton, co. Norf.: FF. v. 271.

Cf. William de Bloes (Blois?), co. Linc., 1273. A.

London, 1, 1.

Bloxam, Bloxham, Bloxsom, Bloxum, Bloxsome, Bloxome.

—Local, (1) 'of Bloxham,' a parish in co. Oxford; (2) a parish, Bloxham or Bloxholme, in co. Lincoln. Bloxsome is a somewhat curious variant. With Bloxum cf. American Barnum for Barnham.

William de Bloescham, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Alexander de Bloxam, co. Oxf., ibid.

Alan de Bloxham, co. Oxf., ibid.

Geoffrey de Bloxham, co. Oxf., ibid.

Alexander de Bloxham, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Geoffrey de Bloxholme, co. Linc., ibid.

Matilda de Bloxholme, co. Linc., ibid.

1621-2. Nicholas Bloxam, co. Glouc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 4.

1712. Married—Nathaniel Bloxham and Mary Webster: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 234.

1725. Married—Samuel Bloxham and Mary Smith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 1.

1779. Mathew Bloxam, rector of Bourton-on-the-hill, co. Glouc.: Rudder's Hist. Glouc. p. 302.

London, 4, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 1, 2, 0, 0, 2, 0; (co. Hereford), 0, 0, 0, 0, 1; (co. Oxford), 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0; (co. Leicester), 0, 2, 3, 1, 0, 0; New York, 0, 1, 1, 0, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 3, 0, 0, 0, 0.

Blloyd.—Bapt. 'Ap-Lloyd,' i. e. 'the son of Lloyd' (v. Blood). Cf. Floyd, showing the difficulty to English people of pronouncing the Ll in Lloyd.

Blubber.—Nick. 'the blubber,' i. e. the weeper, or whimperer.

William le Blubure, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Nicholas Bluber, co. Oxf., ibid.

John de (?le) Blubure, co. Oxf., ibid.

Blue; v. Blew.

Blund.—Nick. 'the blonde,' from the complexion; v. Blunt.

Flora la Blunde, C. R., 3 Edw. I.

Blundell, Blondel, Blondell.

—Nick. 'Blondel' or 'Blundel,' the blonde, a sobriquet of complexion, 'yellow-haired.' Fr.

Blond or Blund (q.v.), with terminative 'el' as in Russell and Burnell, all names of the same class, 'le Blund' was the English register form; hence Blundell is more common than Blondell. A like change is seen in other colour names found also as personal names; cf.

Brown, Burnell, and Burnett.

Walter Blundel, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Geoffrey Blondel, co. Hunts, ibid.

Geoffrey Blundel, co. Leic., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Nicholas Blundel, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Robert Blundell, co. Bedf., ibid.

Amicia Blondelle. FF.

Theodora Blundell, Pat. Roll, 2 Eliz. pt. 14.

Boneface Blundell, or Blundell, 1456: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 28.

Blondel de Nesle is reputed to have been the faithful minstrel of Richard Cœur de Lion.

Three names of complexion,

Russell, Plunket, and Blundell, have made themselves conspicuous amongst English county families.

London, 21, 2, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0, 1.

Blunderfield.—Local; v. Bloomfield.

Blunsum, Blunsom.—Local, 'of Bluntisham,' a parish near St. Ives, co. Huntingdon. The corruption is a very natural one.

1400. John Bluntesham, rector of Snoring Parva, co. Norf.: FF. vii. 187.

We next find the name entered Bluntsham:

1406. John Bluntsham, co. Norf.: FF. v. 353.

The last stage of modification was inevitable:

1661. Thomas Blumsome and Jane Lewgar: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 286.

1734. Bapt.—John, s. John Blonsom: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 79.

London, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Northampton), 0, 1.

Blunt, Blount.—Nick. 'the blonde,' i. e. from the fair complexion of the nominee. Originally found as le Blound or le Blund. The early entries are very numerous.

Melodia le Blount, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Margareta le Blound, co. Camb., ibid.

Richard le Blont, co. Wilts, ibid.

Alan le Blund, co. Oxf., ibid.

Richard le Blunt, co. Wilts, ibid.

Hugo le Blund, co. Staff., 20 Edw. I. R.

Amabilia le Blunt, co. Glouc., ibid.

John le Blont, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 244.

Johannes Blont, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 45.

Ricardus Blont, 1379: ibid.

Ascelina le Blund, or Blunt, co. Norf., 1272: FF. v. 498.

1767. Married—George Blount and Isabella Tinker: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 166.

1786. — Edmund White and Ann Blunt: ibid. p. 389.

London, 6, 6; Boston (U.S.), 10, 6.

Blyth, Blythe, Blythman, Blithe.—(1) Nick. M.E. blithe, gladsome, happy, a sunshiny fellow.

(2) Local, 'of Blyth,' a parish in Northumb., also a parish in diocese of Southwell. This would not explain Blythman, which belongs to (1).

'My purpos was to have deynd to-day At Blythe or Dankastere.'

Robin Hode, i. 149.

William de Blithe, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Willelmus de Blythe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 50.

Robert de Blythe, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 109.

William Blythman, co. York. W. 3.

1569. Christopher Blitheman: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 275.

1585. Edward Blithman, co. Durham: ibid. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 141.

Parse Blithman, 1539, Newcastle-upon-Tyne (citizen capable of bearing arms): PPP. vol. ii. pp. 174-194.

(3) Bapt. 'the son of Blithe'; cf. Joyce, Lettice, &c.

Blithe de Ryseford, 1273. A. London, 23, 6, 0; Creckford (Blythman), 1; Philadelphia, 0, 12, 0, 7.

Boaler.—Occup. 'the bowler,' q.v. Seemingly a Yorkshire variant; cf. Boalter for Boulter.

West Riding Court Dir., 2; Sheffield, 2; London, 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Boalter.—Occup.; v. Boulter; cf. Boaler for Bowler.

London, 1.

Boar, Bore, Boor, Boore.—Nick. 'the boar.' M.E. bore and bor; cf. Wildbore.

Robert le Boor, Fines Roll, 14 Edw. II: Kirby's Quest, p. 237.

Richard le Bor, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

John le Bor, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Reginald le Bor, co. Camb., ibid.

Richard le Bor, co. Oxfr., ibid.

1616. Buried—Anne Walker, servant to Henry Boare; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 133.

1800. Married—William Bore and Eliz. Franklin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 228.

London, 1, 0, 2, 3; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 2, 0.

Board, Boards, Bord, Boord.—Local, 'at the borde' (O.F. horde), from residence therein. With the modern Board cf. Boardman and Boarder, both from the same parent-word. A familiar West-country surname. 'Borde, a little house, lodging, or cottage of timberstanding alone in the fields': Cotg.; cf. Fr. 'de la Borde.' Boards is the genitive, as in Styles, Brooks, Holmes, &c.

Robert Bourde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 228.

1597. William Taylor and Ellen Boarde: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 244.

1634. Bapt.—Thomas, s. James Boord: Kensington Ch. p. 20.

1742. Married—John Board and Eliz. King: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 21.

MDb. (co. Soms.), 24, 1, 2, 0; London, 3, 0, 1, 1; New York, 3, 0, 2, 0.

Boardcleaner.—Occup. 'the board-cleaner' = dapifer.

Henricus de Werldlay, boardcleaner, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 230.

Robertus Burdeclener, 1379: ibid. p. 143.

Margareta Bordclener, 1379: ibid. p. 234.

Boarder, Border, Bordier.—Occup. 'the boarder,' a bordar, a cottage; v. Boardman. O.F. bordier; Domesday, bordarius. One who tenanted a cottage at his lord's pleasure, rendering menial service; v. Bordar, H.E.D.

William le Border, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 226.

1570. Married—Peter Bowrden and Francis Browne: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 4.

1647. — Thomas Mapsonne and Eliz. Bordder: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 20.

London, 1, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 4, 0.

Boardman, Bordman.—Occup. 'the boardman,' a bordar, a cottager, a tenant in bondage. Found in the Latinized form bordmannus. A villen of the lowest rank; v. Boarder.

1588. George Bordman to Margaret Milford: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 7.

1618. Thomas Bordman and Anne Philippines: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 59.

1619–20. Samuel Bordman, co. Lanc.: Reg. Univ. Oxfr. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 381.

1622. William Ivat and Anne Boardman: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 59.

Samuel Bordman, Norwich, 1657: FF. xi. 301.

1674. William Bordman, of Goose-nargh: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 38.

1755. Married—Thomas Boardman and Eliz. Ball: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 60.

London, 3, 0; MDB. (Norfolk), 2, 0; Philadelphia, 24, 0; Boston (U.S.), 54, 4.

Boardwright.—Occup. 'the boardwright,' a carpenter, a maker of tables and chairs, &c., probably to distinguish him from the arkwright, wainwright, wheelwright, and plowwright. A surname long obsolete, I fear.

Johannes Bordwrygt, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 161.

Robertus Burdewryth, 1379: ibid. p. 156.

Boarhunt.—Occup. or official. A hunter of the wild boar, a huntsman. M.E. hunte, a hunter (v. Hunt); v. Blothunt.

Henry Borehunt. D. Thomas le Borhunt (the king's huntsman): Wardrobe Account, 3 Edw. III: 33/10.

Boatman.—Occup. 'the boatman'; cf. Bargeman.

Jeffrey Boteman, rector of Wood Norton, co. Norf., 1320: FF. viii. 316.

Nicholas Boteman, rector of Castor, co. Norf., 1326: ibid. xi. 211.

1566. Bapt.—Richard, s. John Botman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 3.

1654. Mr. John Boatman, upper minister, on the donation of the feoffees (Norwich): FF. iv. 189.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Boatswain.—Occup. 'the boat-swain,' one who held the tiller; cf. coxswain, i. e. cogswain, from cog, a boat (v. Swain).

Richard le Botsweyn, 1301. M. Edward Botswine, temp. Eliz. Z.

1782. Married—Henry Boatswain and Ann Croucher: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 339.

Boatvillain.—Occup. 'the boat-villain,' a boatman; cf. Boat-swain, Boatman, and v. Villain. There was nothing strictly complimentary about the title; v. Knave.

William Botevillein, co. Notts, 1273. A. Richard Botevileyn, co. Bedf., ibid.

Roger Botevileyn, co. Linc., ibid.

Boatwright, Botwright, Boatright.—Occup. 'the boatwright,' a ship-carpenter, a boat-builder. 'Botwrythe, botwright, navicularius': Prompt. Parv.

John Botewright, or Botewryth, master of Corpus Christi Coll., Camb., 1474: FF. vi. 215.

On his monument a 'third shield bears 3 boats, or barges, and a fourth has 3 wimbles, or augurs, by way of rebus, and in allusion to his name, Boatright, or Botwright': ibid.

1779. Married—Samuel Boatright and Ann Hiller: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 300.

London, 0, 2, 1; MDB. (Norfolk), 2, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0.

Bobbett, Bobbet.—Bapt. 'the son of Robert,' from the nickname Bob, whence the dim. Bobbett; v. Bobbin (2). In the same way Rob was the nickname of Robert, with dim. Robet.

Robert Robet, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 102.

Bobbett is still found in co. Soms., indeed it is the chief home of the name.

1668. Married—Thomas Evines and Eliz. Bobitt: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 140.

1742. — Samuel Sheltron and Martha Bobbet: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 25.

1753. — Henry Webb and Eliz. Bobbet: ibid. p. 253.

London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Soms.), 11, 0; New York, 2, 1.

Bobbin, Bobin, Bobins, Bobbins.—(1) Local (?), 'of Bobbing,' a parish near Milton, co. Kent. (2) Bapt. (i) 'the son of Robert,' from the nick. Bob, whence the dim. Bob-in, and with the ex-crescent g Bobing; cf. Jennings, q.v. Possibly bobbin, the wooden pin on which the thread is wound, is thus derived, the custom of giving such articles personal names being common (v. Jack); 'Bobine, a quill for a spinning wheele' (Cotg.); cf. Robin and Robins, also from Robert.

Nicholas Bobing, co. Camb., 1273. A. 1637. Married—John Bobins and Clemens Anderton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 69.

1688. David Bobin and Susan Chevalier: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 63. London, 1, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia (Bobbins), 2.

Bobby.—Local, 'of Boby.' Bob is almost unknown as a nick. of Robert in the surname period. Hob was the household nick. all over the country. But v. Bobbett. Even there, however, I have scarcely any instances to record. Probably Bob came into fashion among the 'upper ten' later on, just as Jane took the place of Joan in aristocratic circles, when every kitchen wench was called by the latter form.

Osbert de Boby, co. Linc., Henry III—Edw. I. K.

Hugo de Bobi, co. Linc., 1273. A. Emma de Boby, co. Linc., ibid. Walter de Boby, co. Linc., ibid. 1786. Married—Thomas Bobby and Diana Henley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 388. London, 1.

Bock.—Nick. 'the buck,' he-goat, &c.; v. Buck.

William Bocke, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 231.

Richard Boke, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Robert Bok, or Bokke, co. Hunts, ibid.

John Boc, co. Camb., ibid. Thomas de (l) Boc, co. Camb., ibid. 1571-2. Buried—Susan, d. William Bocke: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 13. 1583-4. Francis Bucke, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 133. London, 4; Boston (U.S.), 2; Philadelphia, 13.

Bockett.—Bapt. 'the son of Bokard,' one of the many forms of Burchard; v. Buckett. Nevertheless, in one case the prefix de is used, suggesting a local origin. For this, v. Boycott.

Isolda fil. Bochar: Denton's Estates and Families of co. Camb., p. 102.

Peter Bokard, co. York, 20 Edw. I. R. William Bochar, co. Linc., 1273. A. Hugo Bochar, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.

Richard de Bochar, co. Bedf., 1273. A. Thomas Bokett, M.A., 1452: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 17.

1517. Buried—John Bokett: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 181. London, 3.

Bocking, Bockings.—Local, 'of Bocking,' a parish in co. Essex, near Braintree.

Reginald de Bocking, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Walter de Bockyng, or Bockings, co. Glouc., ibid.

Robert de Bocking, London, ibid. London, 3, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 37.

Boddington, Bodington.—Local, 'of Boddington,' parishes in cos. Glouc. and Northampton.

Robert de Bodinton, co. Bucks, 20 Edw. I. R.

1707. Married—William Strengfellow and Frances Bodington: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 38.

1730. Buried—Ann Bodington: St. John the Baptist, Wallbrook, p. 210.

1752. Married—Thomas Collyer and Eliz. Boddington: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 222.

London, 6, 1; Manchester, 3, 0.

Boddon, Boddin.—Local, 'of Boddin.' I cannot find the spot.

Richard de Boddene, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 228.

John de Boddene, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

London, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Boddy; v. Body.

Boden, Bowden.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin,' popularly, and under French influence, Bodin and Boden (v. Bawden); cf. Godin for Godwin, q.v.

Bodin de Langehull, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Boyedinus de Gaunt, co. Linc., ibid.

Bodyn de Kant (London citizen), ibid. Walter Bodin, co. Oxf., ibid.

Dallirvyer, d. Boden Moylle, 1588: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 15.

Richow, d. of Boden Moylle, 1591: ibid. p. 17.

Thomas, s. of Bawden Moylle, 1595: ibid. p. 19.

Margaret Bowden, 1600: ibid.

(2) Local, 'of Bowden,' a parish in E. Cheshire, near Altrincham.

1581. Eliz. Bowden, of Bowden, widow: Wills at Chester, p. 25.

1583. Thomas Boden, co. Derby: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 129.

1594. John Boden, of Childer-Thornton, husbandman: Wills at Chester, p. 22.

1694. Bapt—Thomas, s. of Bodwine Apps: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 357. London, 8, 35; Philadelphia, 4, 19.

Bodenham.—Local; v. Bodman.

1568. John Bodenham, Hart Hall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 29. MDB. (co. Soms.), 1.

Bodger.—Occup.; v. Botcher.

Bodkin.—Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin,' from the nick. Baud, dim. Baudkin. A Flemish introduction.

Baudchon le Bocher, London, 1273. A. Robert Bodekin, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Bodekin, co. Kent, ibid. Andrew Bawdkyn, co. York. W. 9.

John Bodychen, 1623: Exchequer Depositions, co. Lanc., p. 20.

1752. Married—Michael Stone and Hannah Bodkin: Canterbury Cath. p. 92. London, 2; Philadelphia, 8.

Bodley, Bodilly, Bodely.—Local, 'of Budleigh.' Two parishes in dioc. of Exeter, in which district Bodilly is well known, and whence Sir Thomas Bodley, the founder of the Bodleian Library, sprung. His father was a Bodleigh, 'descended from an ancient family of Bodleigh, or Budleigh, of Dunscombe-by-Crediton' (Dict. Nat. Biog., v. 294). The origin is thus clearly apparent.

William de Bodele, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

John de Bodet, co. Camb., 1273. A. Dennis de Buddeleghe, co. Devon, 20 Edw. I. R.

1565. Bapt.—Alice, d. John Bodely: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 24. 1668. Buried—Stephen Bodily: Kensington Ch. p. 138.

London, 3, 2, 0; Exeter, 3, 0, 0; Penzance, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 2.

Bodman.—Local, 'of Bodenham,' a parish in dioc. of Hereford. One of a small but distinct class of corruptions; cf. Deadman, Putman, from Debenham, Pottenham, &c. Bodmin will suggest itself, but I find no evidence to confirm this.

1586. Married—Francis Foster and Ann Bodnam: St. Michael's, Cornhill, p. 13.

1598. Christopher Whitteridge and Margaret Bodnam: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 257.

1647. Married.—Thomas Bodnam and Vreylaye (Ursula) Watworth: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 2.

London, 4; New York, 1.

Body, Boddy, Bodd, Bode.—Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin,' from the nick. Baud or Bodd, familiarly Boddy. From this nick, were formed the dims. Bod-in (v. Boden), Bod-kin (q. v.), and Baud-et. It is only by realizing the enormous popularity of Baldwin that we can understand the marvellous impress it has made on hereditary nomenclature. Perhaps in some cases Body or Boddy represented the dim. Baudet, of which I furnish an instance.

William Body, co. Devon, 1273. A.

John Bodd, co. Oxf., ibid.

Richard Bodde, co. Oxf., ibid.

Thomas Bodde, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Bodde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 114.

Baudet le Messager, co. Glouc., 1289-1290: Household Exp., Bishop Swinfield, Cam. Soc. p. 144.

1544. Married.—William Dowell and Margaret Body: St. Antholin (London), p. 4.

London, 4, 4, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 3, 5, 1, 0; New York (Bode), 23.

Bodycoat.—Local, 'of Bodicott,' a chapelry in the parish of East Adderbury, near Banbury, co. Oxford. Bodycoat is imitative.

Robert de Bodicot, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Walter de Bodicot, co. Oxf., ibid.

1627. Humphrey Bodicot: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 323.

Philadelphia, 1.

Boffey.—Nick, 'good faith.'

1650. Nicholas Bonfoy and Mary Sheppard: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 45.

1655. Bapt.—Loetitia, d. Thomas Bonfoy: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 60.

1793. Married.—Thomas Aldridge and Ann Boffey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 105. London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Boffin.—Nick, 'bonfin,' a name of endearment. Bon, good; fin, fine, delicate.

William Bonfyn, C. R., 41 Henry III.

Thomas Boffin, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

John Bofyn, co. Oxf., ibid.

The two last entries are printed Boffin and Bofyn (i.e. s not f), but I strongly suspect this is a misreading of the text. If it be so, the surname so familiar to Oxford citizens existed in the vicinity six centuries ago.

1764. Married.—James Rimes and Ann Buffin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 130.

MDb. (co. Oxf.), 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Bofill.—Nick.; v. Bonfills.

Bogg, Boggs.—Local, 'at the bog,' from residence thereby.

Boggs is genitive, as in other monosyllabic local names, such as Styles, Brooks, Sykes, Holmes, &c. Boggs therefore = Bogg's, i.e. Bogg's son; cf. Jones, Williams, Perkins, &c.

John atte Bogge, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 146.

Robert Bogg, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 255.

Nicholas Bogges, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 256.

1637. Bapt.—Nataeneel, s. John Bogges: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 127.

London, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 6.

Boland.—Local, 'of Bolland,' q. v.

Bold, Bolde, Bolt.—(1) Local, 'at the bold.' A.S. bold, a dwelling; cf. Danish bol, a small farm. In Lancashire, more specifically 'of Bold,' a township in the parish of Prescott. No doubt the origin is the same.

Robert de Bolde, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Johan de la Bolde, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Elias de la Bolde, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert de la Bolde, co. Oxf., ibid.

Margaret Bold, of Upton, 1572: Will's at Chester (1545-1620), p. 23.

Henry Bold, of Bold, 1603: ibid.

(2) Nick. 'the bold.'

Richard le Bolde, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

William le Bolde, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert le Bolde. R.

Richard le Bolt, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Robert le Bolt, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 150.

London, 0, 0, 9; New York, 4, 1, 2;

Liverpool, 6, 0, 0.

Bolden, Bolding, Boldin.—Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin,' popularly Bolder, or, with excrement g, Bolding; cf. Golden and Golding for Goldwin, an exact parallel.

William Bolding, co. Salop, 1273. A.

1702. Married.—Samuel Boldwin and Martha Paske: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 50.

John Bolden, co. Norf., 2 Edw. VI: FF. viii. 507.

1761. Married.—Thomas Flarty and Joanna Bolden: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 105.

1764. Married.—John Coppe and Sarah Boldwing: ibid. p. 136.

London, 4, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 9, 0, 3.

Bolderson; v. Balderson.

Bolitho.—? Local. A common Cornish name, and no doubt local.

1673. John Bolitho and Ann Cox: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 127. Penzance, 2; Plymouth, 1.

Bolland, Boland.—Local, 'of Bolland,' Bolton-by-Bolland (or Bowland), a village parish about six miles from Clitheroe. The instances below are mostly taken from the near neighbourhood.

Robertus de Boghland, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 217.

Thomas de Bouland, 1379: ibid. p. 292.

Robertus de Bowland, 1379: ibid. p. 293.

Agnes de Bowland, 1379: ibid. p. 259.

Thomas Bolland, of Houston, 1593: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 23.

Richard Bolland, of Ashton, 1618: ibid.

1765. Married.—John Hillier and Eliz. Bolland: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 143.

West Riding Court Dir., 6, 0; Manchester, 1, 0; London, 0, 1; New York, 4, 25.

Bollen.—Local, 'of Boulogne'; v. Bullen.

1621. Daniel Bollen, or Boulon, co. Essex: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 307.

1641. Bapt.—Phebe, d. Daniel Bollen, petty canon: Canterbury Cath. p. 9.

London, 2.

Bolling, Boling.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Bolling'; cf. Harding, Browning, &c.

William Bolling, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 214.

(2) Local, 'of Bowling,' q. v.

1529. Christopher Herd and Grace Bolyng: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 7.

1613. Married.—Thomas Creswell and Beatrice Bollinge: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 13.

London, 0, 1.

Bollington.—Local, 'of Bollington.' (1) A township in the parish of Rosthern, co. Ches.; (2) a township in the parish of Prestbury, co. Ches. The place-name is derived from the little river Bolling, which flows through this district.

Willelmus de Bolyngton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 272.

Hugh Bollington, of Buglawton, co. Ches., 1613: Wills at Chester, i. 23.

1564. Married.—James Bollington and Jone Kenricke: Prestbury Ch. (co. Ches.), p. 13.

1605. Married—John Bollington and Jane Jacson: Prestbury Ch. (co. Cheshire), p. 167.

1766. — Daniel Mack Bain and Mary Bollington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 151. London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Bolsover.—Local, 'of Bolsover,' a village in co. Derby.

1755. Married—William Weaver and Eliz. Bolsover: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 56.

1773. — John Hayden and Jemima Bowlsover: ibid. p. 234.

MDb. (Derbys.), 3; (Cheshire), 1; Manchester, 2.

Bolster; v. Bowlster.

Bolt; v. Bold.

Bolter.—Occup.; v. Boulter.

Bolton, Boulton, Bolten.—Local, 'of Bolton' or 'Boulton,' parishes, townships, and chapelries in various counties, mostly in Lancashire, Yorkshire, Cumb., and Westm.

Michael de Boulton, co. York, 1273. A. Thomas de Boulton, or Bolton, co. Linc., ibid.

Richard de Boulton, co. Northumb., 20 Edw. I. R. Agnes de Bolton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 291.

1688—q. Hugh Boulton, or Boulton, co. Staff.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 167.

1766. Married—George Bolton and Ann Bowker: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 152.

1772. — George Boulton and Sophia Morgan: ibid. p. 222.

London, 58, 20, 0; Philadelphia, 39, 7, 2.

Bonamy.—Nick. corresponding to English 'Goodfellow,' q.v.

William Bonamy, co. Salop, 1273. A. Roger Bonamy, 1295. M.

1603. Buried—Francis, d. Jacob Bonamee: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 86.

1692—3. Louis Belain and Mary Bonamy: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 250.

Bonaventure.—Nick. Probably a kindly wish; cf. Goodspeed. It is found, as might well be expected, as a pursuivant's sobriquet.

'Bonne-Aventure, pursuivant of Sir Thomas Hoo': Wars of England in France, Hen. VI.

John Bonaventure. H. Gist Bonaventure. J.

Bonaventura is an Italian font-name, after San Bonaventura. Probably it was transferred to England by the merchants. 'Fair-aventure' (q.v.) also existed.

Thomas Bonaventure and Henry Grand, merchants of Ireland and Wales, C. R., 17 Ric. II. New York, 3.

Bond, Bonde.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Bond,' v. Bonder (Yonge, Glossary). 'There are several persons called Bonde in Domesday, one of whom is somewhat contradictorily called "liber homo"' (Lower). For meaning, v. (2) below.

Bonde Brit, co. Norf., 1273. A. 'Richard Aghton v. Roger Bondesson and John Stelle,' 1352: Croston's edit. of Baines' Lanc. i. 149.

(2) Occup. 'the bond,' a householder, a husbandman, a boor, one under the tenure styled bondage.

Emma le Bonde, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Robert le Bonde, co. Worc., ibid.

Walter le Bond, co. Camb., ibid. Robert le Bonde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 81.

John le Bonnde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 188.

London, 64, 0; New York (Bonde), 2; Philadelphia, 96, 0.

Bondman, Bonman.—Occup. 'the bondman'; v. Bond (2). Bonman is a modified form.

William Bondman. XX. 1. Nicholas Bondman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 224.

Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Bone.—(1) Nick. 'le Bon,' corresponding to English Good.

John le Bon. O. Durand le Bon, 1303. M.

Edward le Bone, co. Oxf., 1273. A. John le Bone, co. Oxf., ibid.

Thomas le Bone, co. Oxf., ibid. Roger Bone, co. Kent, 1273. A.

(2) Local.

Simon de la Bone, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

London, 23; New York, 4.

Bonecors.—Nick. corresponding to English Goodbody.

Manellus Bonecors. E. John Bonecors, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 244.

Bonehill, Bonhill, Bonell, Bonnell.—Local, 'of Bonehill,' a township in the parish of Tamworth, co. Stafford. The variants are well known in the county.

1585. John Bonell, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 143.

1606. Thomas Bonnell, co. Ches.: ibid. p. 290.

Robert Bonnell, of Littleton, 1590: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 23.

1705. Married—William Faulkner and Mary Boneal: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 228.

1768. — Joseph Bonell and Mary Salter: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 173.

MDb. (co. Stafford), i. 1, 1, 1; Manchester, 2, 0, 0, 0; London, 0, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 0, 4.

Bonfellow.—Nick. 'Goodfellow,' a half translation of Bon compagnon. Robert Bonefelaa (Pardon's Roll, 5 Ric. II) is a still surviving name.

'John Bonyfelow, a scholar of Cambridge,' examined on oath, Feb. 2, 1572: Rec. Office, Cal. State (Domestic) Papers, i. 435.

Crockford, 1.

Bonfils, Boffil.—Nick. 'Goodson,' an expression of endearment, 'My good lad'; cf. Bellamy and Bonifant.

"Beaufitz," quod his fader.' Piers Plowman, 4819.

Hugh Beaufitz, co. Camb., 1273. A. William Beufitz, co. Camb., ibid.

William Beaufitz, co. Warwick, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Richard Beaufitz, C. R., 33 Edw. III. 1618. Buried—Elizabeth Bufoyll: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 174.

1719. John Beaufills: St. Antholin (London), p. 130.

1728. Married—Henry Godde and Elizabeth Beaufields: ibid. p. 142.

London, 0, 1; New York, 1, 0.

Bonfortune.—Bapt. or nick.; cf. Bonaventure and Fairaventure.

William Bonfortune, sup. for B.A., Feb. 9, 1519-20: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 112.

Bonham.—(1) Nick. 'le Bonhomme,' i.e. 'the Goodman,' the cant name for a begging or mendicant friar (the order came into England in the 13th century). 'Bonhom, a religious man, bonhomme,' 1530: Palsgr. (H.E.D.)

Agnes, relicta Bonhomme, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Anketin Bonhom, co. Camb., ibid. Humfrey Bonhome, co. Camb., ibid.

William Bonhome, co. Camb., ibid.

(2) ? Local 'of Bonham' (?). I cannot find the spot, and strongly suspect that the 'de' in my first instance below is a misreading of 'le' through the fact that the surname looks local.

Maurice de Bonham, co. Somerset, 1273. A.

1597 Richard Bonham, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 220. London, 4; Philadelphia, 5.

Boniface.—Bapt. 'Boniface,' i.e. 'well-doer'; the name of a martyr, and also a pope (Yonge, i. 384); a cant term now for the host of an inn, not from his round rubicund face, but from 'the jovial innkeeper in Farquhar's Beaux' Stratagem, 1707' (H.E.D.).

Archibald Boniface, co. Kent, 1273. A. Ernald Boniface, co. Oxf., ibid. Bonifacius le Clerc, co. Linc., ibid. Bonifacius Servicus, 1228: KKK. vi. 151. William Boniface, C. R., 44 Edw. III. Robert Boniface. B.

Boniface atte Poule, co. Som., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 192. Boniface Meorys and Jackamyn Kelderley, married, 1543: St. Dionis Backchurch, London.

Boniface Blondell, sup. for B.A., 1456: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 28.

1606. Buried.—Boniface Tatam, vintner, whose dwelte in marke laine: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 162.

Boniface of Savoy, archbishop of Canterbury (d. 1270), would give an English impetus to this name, just at the time when surnames were becoming hereditary.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Sussex), 9; Philadelphia, 2.

Bonifant, Bonnafant.—Nick. 'bon enfant,' corresponding to English Goodchild, a term of endearment; v. Bullivant.

London, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Bonjohn.—Nick. 'Good-John,' v. Bunyan, and cf. Littlejohn, &c.

Duraund le Bon-johan, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Bonjohan (without surname), co. Linc., ibid.

John Bonjohn, London. X.

Bonken.—Nick. An expression of endearment, 'good little one'; cf. Bonfils and Bonfellow.

John Bonkyn, co. Sussex, 1273. A. London, 1.

Bonnell; v. Bonehill.

Bonner, Bonnor, Boner.—Nick. 'the debonaire'; bonair, civil, gentle, courteous; spelt also bonere; v. Kyng Alisaunder, 6732, &c. (Halliwell); cf. O.F. debonere, debonaire, i.e. de bon aire. Lower remarks that 'Bishop Bonner was an excellent illustration of Horace Smith's dictum that surnames "even go by contraries"' (Patr. Brit. p. 34). 'In sykenesse and in helthe to be boneere, and buxum in bed and at bord tyll deth us depart': Missale ad usum Eccles. Sarum (N. and Q. 1857, p. 397).

William le Bonere, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Alice la Bonere, co. Hunts, ibid. Walter Bonere, co. Bucks, ibid. Johannes Boner, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 242.

1577. George Bonner, co. Glouc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 74.

1578. John Bonner, co. Oxf., ibid. p. 80. London, 13, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 76, 0, 12.

Bonnet, Bonnett, Bonney,

Bonny, Bonnin, Bunnett,

Bonnyson.—Nick. of endearment,

'good little one,' found also as a Christian name. Bonny (comely) occurs early, and bonye was one form of it; v. H.E.D. But the popular pet form was Bunting, q.v.

Agnes Bonye, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Alicia Bonye, co. Oxf., ibid.

Johannes Bonett, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 209.

Juliana Bonet, 1379: ibid. p. 212. Johannes Bunnay, 1379: ibid. p. 231.

Agnes Bonny, 1379: ibid. p. 178. Bonnetta Tyson, temp. Hen. III.: Visitation of Yorks, 1562, p. 10. Harl. Soc.

1567. William Norris and Margaret Bonnyson: Marriage Lic. (London), 1. 36.

1599. John Bonnytt, co. Leic.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 238.

London, 3, 4, 6, 1, 5, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 2, 5, 0, 2, 0, 0.

Bonsall, Bonsal, Bonsale.—

Local, 'of Bonsall,' a parish in co. Derby, near Matlock.

London, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Derby), 5, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 40, 5, 0.

Bonserjeant.—Nick. 'the good serjeant,' an officer of the law.

John Bonserjant, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Bonsquier.—Nick. 'the good squire'; v. Squire.

William Bonsquier, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Bonswain.—Nick. 'the good swain'; v. Swain.

Richard Bonesweyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 107.

Bonvallet.—Nick. 'the good valet,' i.e. valet or groom.

John Bonvalet, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Richard Bonvallet, co. Oxf., ibid.

Boobhyer, Boobier, Boobyer.

—Local, 'of Bowebeare,' a place in co. Devon, with the local suffix -beare, so common in that district. The modern variants are somewhat curious to look at.

1605. William Bowebeare, co. Devon: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 283.

1758. Married.—William Warbutton and Mary Boobier: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 77.

1798. — James Boobhyer and Sarah Roussett: ibid. ii. 181.

London, 1, 1, 1.

Boodle, Boodle.—Official, 'the beadle.' A common form was Budel (v. Buddle), from which Boodle would easily be formed.

This is more satisfactory, I think, than Lower's suggestion that it is a disguise of Bootle.

1640. Bapt.—Sara, d. Symon Bowdle: Kensington Ch. p. 32.

With this entry cf. Cowper and Cooper.

London, 4, 1; New York, 0, 1.

Bookbinder.—Occup. 'the bookbinder,' an early craft, whence a surname as old as the 13th century.

'Parchmyners and Bokebynders.'

York Mystery Plays, p. viii.

'Bokebynders and lymners.'

Cocke Lorelle's Bote.

An indenture between Oxford

University and the Town, dated

1459, includes 'alle bedels . . . alle

stacioners, alle bokebynders, lympners, wryters, pergemeners,'

&c.: Mun. Acad. Oxon. p. 346.

Stephen Ligator, libror, Oxford,

1273. A.

William Ligator, libror, Oxford, ibid.

John Bokbyndere, London. X.

Dionisia le Bokebyndere, London, ibid.

Robert Bukeybinder, co. York. W. 9.

I fear the surname is now extinct, but it lives in Binder, q.v.

Booker.—Occup. 'the butcher';

v. Bowker, of which it is a known

Lancashire variant.

John Boker, co. Norf., 1273. A.

William le Bocer, co. Salop, ibid.

John Booker, of Chester, 1588: Wills

at Chester (1545-1620), p. 23.

In the pedigree of Booker

(London Visitation, 1633-5, vol. i.

p. 87) the following variations occur: John Booker, John Boo-chard, and Edmund Boocher.

Nicholas Bowker, or Booker, co. Glouc., 1607; Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 299.
 'John Booker, a noted astrologer of the 17th century, was the son of John Bowker (commonly pronounced Booker), of Manchester, and was born on the 23rd of March, 1601'; Baines' Lanc. i. 405.
 1807. Married—Joseph Booker and Sarah Mathews: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 363. London, 13; Philadelphia, 6.

Bool, Boole.—Local, 'of Bole,' a parish in co. Notts, three miles from Gainsborough.

John de Bole, co. Lincoln, 1273. A. Gilbert Bole, co. Lincoln, ibid.
 1577-8. James Ireland and Susanna Boole: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 70.
 1620. George Bower, co. Kent: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 385.
 1746. Married—John Parrott and Jane Boole: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 67.
 'George Boole (1815-64), mathematician and logician, was born on Nov. 2, 1815. His father was a small tradesman in Lincoln': Dict. Nat. Biog. v. 369.
 MDB. (co. Lincoln), o, 1; London, 3, o; Philadelphia, o, 3.

Boon, Boone, Bown, Bowne.—(1) Local, 'de Bohun,' modified early to Bown and Boon; cf. Moon for Mohun.

John de Boon, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R. Matilda Boon, co. Camb., 1273. A. Reginald Boon, co. Camb., ibid.

(2) Nick. Sometimes, no doubt, a form of Bunn and Bone (the Good).

1614. William Draper and Ellen Boone: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 27.
 1717. Michael Boon and Ann Forcer, married: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 59.
 London, 9, o, 7, 1; Philadelphia, 26, 29, 3, 4.

Boor, Boore; v. Boar.

Boord; v. Board.

Boorman.—Official; v. Bowerman.

Boot, Boote; v. Bott.

1584. Henry Boate, or Bote, co. Kent: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 138.
 1590. John Boate, London, ibid. p. 178.
 London, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 3.

Booth, Boothe.—Local, 'at the booth,' a hut, a cottage; M.E. bothe. The will of Thomas del Booth (1368), dwelling at Barton, near Manchester, is printed in Baines' Lancashire (edited by Croston), ii. 45. Booth, as a surname, has become strongly ramified in South Lancashire.

Rogerus del Bothe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 181.

Adam del Bothe, 1379: ibid. p. 189.
 Margeria del Bothe, 1379: ibid.
 Odo de la Boothe, bailiff of Norwich, 1291: FF. iii. 74.

1548. Thomas Lawrence and Dionise Boothe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 12.
 Hamnet Booth, of Mouldsworth, husbandman, 1593: Wills at Chester, i. 23.
 1716. Married—George Booth and Mary Silver: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 43.
 Manchester, 88, o; Leeds, 6, o; London, 42, o; Philadelphia, 102, 2.

Boothby.—Local, 'of Boothby,' two parishes in co. Linc.

Adam de Boothby, abbot of Peterborough: FF. vii. 463.
 Henry Boothby, vicar of Stow-Bardolph, co. Norf., 1497: ibid. p. 447.
 John de Botheby, rector of Ryton, co. Durham, 1312: DDD. ii. 264.
 Thomas de Botheby, co. Linc., 1273. A. 1608. Matthew Beadle and Anne Boothby: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 306.
 1784. Married—Brooke Boothby and Susanna Bristow: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 362.
 London, 6; Philadelphia, 2.

Boothman, Bootman.—Occup. 'the boothman,' one who lived in a booth or hut (v. Booth); cf. Bridgman, Heathman, &c.

Roger Bothman, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Henry Bootheman, temp. Eliz. ZZ.
 1675. William Budge and Margaret Boothman: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 147.
 1749. Married—Christopher Boothman and Margaret Norbury: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 156.
 London, o, 1; Manchester, 3, o; New York, o, 1.

Boothroyd.—Local, 'of the booth-royd'; v. Booth and Royd. A Yorkshire surname.

Ricardus de Botherod, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 179.
 Willelmus Bowderode, 1379: ibid. p. 197.
 Ricardus Butrode, 1379: ibid. p. 189.
 West Riding Court Dir., 7; Philadelphia, 11.

Bootiman, Bootman, Bootyman.—Occup. 'the boothman.' Found in co. Northumberland, and no doubt the Scottish bothie-man, a cottager. It is a well-known surname about Newcastle-on-Tyne. Rather curiously Bonnyman and Bootiman occur together in the South Shields Directory (1885-6). 'Bothie-man, equivalent to Eng. hind, and borrowed from the circumstance of hinds inhabiting bothies' (Jamieson). v. Boothman.

South Shields, 1, o, o; London, o, 1, o; Plymouth, o, o, 1; New York, o, 1, o.

Bootle.—Local, 'of Bootle.' (1) A parish in the suburbs of Liverpool: v. Bottle (2) for meaning; (2) an ancient town and parish in South Cumberland under the Black Combe. But (1) is the chief parent.

Matthew Bootle, co. Lanc., a serving-man, 1595: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 38.

Thomas Bootle, of Tatham, co. Lanc., 1598: ibid.

Thomas Bootell, co. Lanc., 1602: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 48.

William Bootell, co. Lanc., 1602: ibid.
 Laurence Bootle, of Ince Blundell, 1614: Wills at Chester, i. 24.

Margaret Bootle, of Melling, 1610: ibid.
 1605. Bapt.—John, s. James Bootle: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 47.
 London, 2; Liverpool, 3.

Bord; v. Board.

Borden.—(1) Local, 'of Borden,' a parish in co. Kent, near Sittingbourne. (2) Local, 'of Borden,' a tithing in the parish of East Meon, near Petersfield, co. Hants.

Richard Bordon, co. Linc., 1273. A. Robert Bordon, co. Wilts, ibid.
 Richard Bordon, co. Hunts, ibid.
 1750. Married—John Canewood and Ann Borden: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 180.
 Philadelphia, 31.

Border.—Occup.; v. Boarder.

Bordman; v. Boardman.

Boreham, Borham, Boram.—Local, 'of Boreham,' a parish four miles from Chelmsford, co. Essex.

Thomas de Borham, co. Suff., 1273. A. Hernet de Borham, co. Northampton, ibid.

Harvey de Borham, co. Essex, ibid.
 Robert de Borham, co. Essex, ibid.
 1398. John Boram, rector of Bircham, Newton, co. Norf.: FF. x. 290.

1745. Married—Samuel Boreham and Mary Phillips: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 275.

1779. — Michael Boreham and Eliz. Syme: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 298.

London, 10, o, o; MDB. (co. Essex), 6, o, o; (co. Suffolk), 4, 1, 1; New York, 1, o, o.

Borman.—Official; v. Bowerman.

Born.—Local, 'at the bourn,' from residence thereby; cf. Brook and Beck, and v. Burn.

William atte Borne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 109.
1560. John Borne and Margaret Paddy: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 20.
1582. Francis Bowne, or Borne, co. Soms.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 123.
1609. Buried—Angell, d. Henrie Borne: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 108.
London, 7; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Borough.—Local; v. Bury.

London, 1.

Borradaile.—Local, 'of Borrowdale,' a chapelry in the parish of Crosthwaite, co. Cumb., six miles from Penrith.

1547. Robert Borodall and Margaret Braryge: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 11.
1596. John Barrodall, co. Leic.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 217.
1602. Edmund Sylfeld and Martha Borowdale: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 269.
1684. William Rimes and Rebecca Borradaile: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 173.
London, 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Borrell, Borrel, Burrell, Burrill.—(1) Nick, 'the borel,' originally a term for a kind of coarse cloth. Afterwards used adjectively for a comely man, a peasant, a countryman; v. H.E.D., s. v. Burel (also v. Burler, ibid.). Borel was also used as a personal name.

Johanna, relicta Burel, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Burelius de Rathesnese, co. Norf., ibid.
Emma Burel, co. Norf., ibid.
Willelmus Burell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 234.
Johannes Borell, 1379: ibid.
William Burel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 193.
1627. Bapt.—Robert, s. William Burrell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 106.

(2) Local, 'of Burrel,' a township in the parish of Bedale, North Rid. Yorks.

London, 1, 0, 22, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 1, 13, 2.

Borrowman.—Occup.; v. Berryman.

Borton, Bourton.—Local, 'of Borton' (formerly chiefly Borton), parishes, chapelries, hamlets, and tithings in cos. Berks, Bucks, Dorset, Oxford, Glouc., Soms., and Warwick.

Walter de Bourton, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
Robert de Borton, co. Dorset, ibid.
Henry de Borton, co. Norf., ibid.
Hugh de Bourtone, co. Bucks, ibid.
John de Bortone, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 175.
Alicia de Borton, co. Staff., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
William de Boureton, co. Devon, ibid.
1598. Buried—Joan, wife of Roger Borton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 63.
1683. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Lancelott Borton: ibid. i. 303.
1796. Married—William Borton and Hannah Smetham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 150.
London, 2, 7; Philadelphia, 5, 3.

Bosher.—Occup. 'the butcher'; M.E. bocher; v. Boucher and Batcher.

Richard le Bossour, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 165.
1678. James Bosher and Mary Waring: Marriage Alleg. (Westminster), p. 290.
London, 6; Philadelphia, 3.

Bossum, Bussom.—Local, 'of Bosham,' a parish in co. Sussex, four miles from Chichester; cf. Barnum for Barnham.

1594. John Hibberd and Eliz. Bosam, of Cambridge: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 218.
1743. Married—John Kent and Sarah Bossum: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 33.
London, 0, 1; Oxford, 2, 12; Boston, 0, 4.

Bostock, Bostick.—Local, 'of Bostock,' a township in the parish of Davenham, co. Cheshire. This local surname has ramified strongly, and has wandered far.

Hugh de Bostock, co. Ches., 1423: East Ches. i. 323.
David de Bostok, co. Ches., 1428: ibid. i. 188.
'Philip Bostocke, of Bostocke, gent.,' 1634: ibid. i. 178.
Arthur Bostock, of Bostock, 1560: Wills at Chester, i. 24.
Thomas Bostock, of Chester, brewer, 1507: ibid.
Ottwell Bostock, of Warrington, 1610: ibid.
1620. Married—William Bostock and Margrett Pilesburie: Prestbury Ch. (co. Chester), p. 227.
1674. Bapt.—Jane, d. of George Bostocke: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 265.
Manchester, 7, 0; London, 7, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 14.

Boston.—Local, 'of Boston,' the well-known town in co. Lincoln.

Thomas de Botulfston, co. Suff., 1273. A.
William de Boston, prior of Beeston, co. Norf., 1314: FF. viii. 91.

John Boston, vicar of Tottington, co. Norf., 1459: ibid. ii. 356.
1615. Bapt.—Rebecka, d. Josias Boston: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 112.
1786. Married—James Boston and Ann Kitchen: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 395-
London, 5; Philadelphia, 26.

Boswell, Boswall.—Local, 'de Bosville,' 'a village of 1400 inhabitants, near Yvetot, in Normandy. The family were in England in 1126, and probably from the period of the Conquest' (Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 35). This is the true parentage of Boswell, although it has such an English local look.

John de Bosevill, co. Linc., 120 Edw. I. R.

John de Bosevil, co. York, 1273. A.
Henry de Bosevil, co. Northampt., ibid.
Simon de Bosevill, co. Bedf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Agnes Bosseuill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 34.

Robert de Bossewill, or Bosville, co. Norf., 1360: FF. i. 118.
Walkeline de Bosevile, co. Norf., 1199: ibid. v. 139.

Isabell Boswel, co. Norf., 1464: ibid. ii. 430.

William Boswell, co. Norf., 1620: ibid. v. 222.

1752. Married—Thomas Simpson and Sarah Boswell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 47.
1780. —William Ward and Julia Bosville: ibid. p. 313.
London, 10, 3; MDB. (co. Norfolk), 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 26.

Bosworth.—Local, 'of Bosworth,' two parishes, Husband's Bosworth and Market Bosworth, in the county of Leicester.

John de Bosworth, co. Norf., 1377: FF. ii. 272.

Edward Bosworth, rector of Tasburgh, co. Norf., 1679: ibid. v. 213.

1570. Bapt.—Rebecka Bosworthe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 6.

1591-2. Edmund Rionte and Margery Bosworthe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 196.

1625. Buried—Samuell, the servant of Thomas Bosworth, brasier, in Gracechurch St.: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 185.

1639. Married—William Shipley and Mary Bosworth: ibid. p. 256.

MDB. (co. Leicester), 7; (co. Lincoln), 5; London, 6; Philadelphia, 5.

Botcher, Bodger, Botcher.—Occup. 'the butcher.' No connexion with botcher or bodger, a cobbler (v. Bodger, H.E.D.). M.E. bocher, a form of butcher.

'Brewsters, Bakers,
Bochers and Cookes,'

Piers Plowman's Vision.

Elias le Bocher, temp. 1300. M.
John le Bocher, temp. 1300. M.
William Baley, bocher, 1562: Preston
Guild Rolls, p. 30.

John Schyrwood, bocher, co. York, 1416.
W. 11, p. 19.

Willelmus Prestman, bocher, 1379:
P. T. Yorks. p. 213.

Adam Bocher, 1379: ibid. p. 160.
Richard Bocher, 1379: ibid.

With Bodge for Botcher, cf.
Boodger below for Butcher:

1748. Married — John Boodger and Susanna Mason: St. Geo. Han. Sq.
i. 50.

MDb.(co.Hertford), o, 1, 0; (co. Hunts), o, 2, 0; New York (Botcher), 2.

Botham, Bottom.—Local, 'at thebottom,' a depression in the land, the fall of a hillside, as in Lancashire dialect, 'bottom o'th moor',
'bottom o'th hill'; cf. Birkenshaw Bottoms, near Gomersal, co. York; also Bottom Brow, near Skircoat,
co. York. M.E. botun, bottomne, and bothom. 'Botune, or botum (botym), fundum': Prompt. Parv.
Many compounds have found their way into our directories, all hailing from North-English localities; cf.
Bottomley and Bothamley, Long-bottom and Rowbotham, Sidebottom and Sidebotham, Higginbottom and Higginbotham, Shufflebotham,
&c., q.v.; cf. also Robertus de
Crumwelbothom, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 117.

John del Bothom, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay
Subsidy (Rylands), p. 30.

Willelmus de Bouthom, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 187.

Laurence de Bothum, co. York,
1207. M.

1010. Married—Gilbert Bothom and
Mary Clee: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 12.
London, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Botly.—Local, 'of Botley,' a parish in co. Hants, six miles from Southampton.

Mathew de Botelcheye, co. Soms., 1
Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 259.

1661. Geo. Holland and Hannah
Botlee: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 287.

1663. Buried—Thomas Botteley: St.
Mary Aldermary, p. 184.
London, 1.

Bott, Botte.—(1) Local, 'of Botte.' I cannot find the spot; probably a variant of Booth, q.v.
v. Adam Bootiman.

Adam de Botte, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Walter le (? de) Botte, co. Oxf., ibid.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin,' from the nick. Bodd sharpened to Bott; cf. Botten and Botting, undoubted instances of the dim. form.

Henry Botte, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Richard Botte, co. Salop, ibid.

Robert Botte, co. Bucks, ibid.

London, 7, 0; New York, 11, 1.

Botten, Botting.—Bapt. 'the son of Bodin,' i.e. Baldwin, sharpened to Bottin and Botting, with the customary excrement g.
An instance occurs early; v. Boden.

Botoun le Ken, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

1731. Married—Nicholas Philips and Eliz. Botting: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair,
p. 322.

London, 2, 6; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1;
Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Botterill, Bottrell, Bottrill.
—Local, 'of Bottreaux.' Lower suggests this corruption. His view is strongly supported by the first two entries below, which occur close together in the Hundred Rolls of Shropshire.

Roger de Botereus, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Reginald de Boterel, co. Salop, ibid.

William de Boterell, co. Somerset,
ibid.

1672. Bapt.—William, son of Ephraim Botterell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 253.

London, 4, 1, 2.

Bottle.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Bothild.'

Botil or Botild Hod, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Margaret Botild, co. Camb., ibid.

Ralph Botild, co. Hunts, ibid.

1565. Cuthbert Bottyll, New College:
Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. iii. p. 22.

(2) Local, 'at the bottle'; bottle =
a seat, a mansion; cf. Newbottle, Harbottle.

Richard de Botele, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Walter de Botele, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert atte Bothele, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
III: Kirby's Quest, p. 185.

Michel atte Bothele, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
III: ibid.

'Friend Bottle' reads curiously in the London Directory (1870).

1799. Bapt.—James, s. Samuel Botle, a soldier: Canterbury Cath. p. 40.

London, 2.

Bottlemaker.—Occup. 'a maker of bottles,' 'Myllers, carters, and botylemakers': Cocke Lorelle's Bote.

Thomas Botelmaker, Close Roll, 10
Ric. II.

Bottomley, Bothamley, Bot-tomly.—Local, 'of Bottomley' or
'Bothamley,' some small spot, probably in the W. Rid. Yorks., which I have failed to identify.
The instance below occurs in the township of Barkisland, in the parish of Halifax. Bottomley now, 500 years later, is found in the same township; v. W. Rid. Directory.

Johannes de Bodhomlay, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 185.

Margaret Bothomley, of Deane, co.
Lanc., 1580: Wills at Chester, i. 25.

1742. Married—Joseph Bottomley and Ann Gant: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 28.

London, 9, 1, 0; West Rid. Court
Dir., 36, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 2, 1;
Philadelphia, 23, 0, 0.

Botwright; v. Boatwright.

Boucher.—Occupative, 'the butcher'; v. Bowcher, Botcher, and Bosher.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 12.

Bouffler.—Nick; v. Bouflower.

Boughen, Bowgen, Bou-ghan.—? A Norfolk surname.
I suspect it is an immigrant from the Low Countries. I can offer no satisfactory solution of its meaning.

George Bowgeon, sheriff of Norwich,
1574: FF. iii. 359.

John Bowgeon, rector of West Tofts,
co. Norf., 1546: ibid. ii. 262.

James Bowgin, vicar of Surlingham, co.
Norf., 1720: ibid. v. 465.

1726. Married—Thomas Bougin and Jane Alley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 2.

MDb. (co. Norfolk), 2, 2, 0; London,
1, 0, 0; New York (Boughan), 1; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0.

Boughey, Bowhay.—Local,
'of the Boghey,' seemingly one who resided by the enclosed bog.
The suffix is -hey, a hedge, or fenced plot of ground; v. Hey.

Thomas Boghey, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
III: Kirby's Quest, p. 199.

1681-2. Married—Kenelm Smith and Ann Boughey: St. Dionis Backchurch,
p. 39.

1803. — Daniel Boughey and Eliz.
Manley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 275.

London, 2, 1; MDb. (co. Devon), 0, 2.

Bould; v. Bold.

London, 3; New York, 1.

Boultee, Boulby, Bowlby.
—Local, 'of Bolthy,' a parish in co. York; cf. Applebee for Appleby. It appears more natural to assume that Boulby and Bowby are modifications, but my last entry from the Hundred Rolls suggests a separate and independent origin.

Adam de Bolteby, co. York, 1273. A.
Hugh de Bolteby, co. York, ibid.
Adam de Bolteby, co. Northumb. ibid.
William de Boleby, co. Bucks, ibid.
Crockford, 4, 1, 3; Boston (U.S.), o, 3.

Boulter, Bolter, Bulter.—Occup. 'the bolter,' a sifter of meal. In the ordinances of the household of Henry VI, 1455, mention is made of the 'bakhous' (bakehouse) under thirteen officers, of whom are to be 'six gromes bulters' (Proc. Ord. Privy Council, vi. 226).

John Boltor, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 159.
Geoffrey le Bolter, co. Berks, 1273. A.
Richard le Boltere, co. Norf., ibid.
John le Boltere, co. Hunts, ibid.
Ricardus Bultere, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 160.

1573-4. Ralph Daulton and Dorothy Bowler, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 59.

1674. Bapt. — Thomas, s. Thomas Boulter: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 267.
1759. Married—Benjamin Boulter and Mary Warrick: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 85.
London, 11, o, 1; New York, o, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 6, o, o.

Boumpfrey.—Bapt. 'the son of Humphrey,' from the Welsh 'Ap-Humphrey,' which became Pumphrey or Bumphrey (v. Pumphrey); cf. Bloyd, Bethell, Bowen, Bennion, &c.

1633. Roger Bomfrey and Susanna Ivery: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 34.

'Mr. Boumpfrey, general manager of the Cunard Company, advised Mr. Jesse Collings to abstain from proceeding in the steam tug 'Mr Chamberlain's arrival at Liverpool: Manchester Courier, March 12, 1888.

Liverpool, 2.

Bourn, Bourne.—Local, 'at the Burn,' q.v.

Bourse.—Local, 'at the Bourse.'

Robert atte Bourse, vicar of Briston, co. Norf., 1354: FF. ix. 376.

Bourton; v. Borton. *

Bousfield.—Local, 'of Bousfield,' a hamlet one mile from Orton, a parish in co. Westm.

1541. Stephen Bousfell: Hist. and Traditions of Ravenstonedale, co. Westm. (W. Nicholls), p. 113.

— Reynold Bousfell: ibid.

— Henry Bousfell: ibid.

1575. Bartholomew Bousfield, or Bussell, Queen's Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 23, 22.

1809. Married—Stephen Bousfield and Louisa Layton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 408.

London, 9; MDB. (co. Cumb.), 1; (co. Westm.), 17; New York, 1.

Boutecher.—Occupative, 'the butcher,' one of various forms; v. Butcher, Bowker, Bowsher, Bowcher.

Christopher Smythe, boutecher, 1539, Newcastle-on-Tyne (List of male population capable of bearing arms): PPP. vol. ii. pp. 174-194.

1676. George Johnson and Deborah Boucher: Marriage Lic. (Canterbury), p. 260.

London, 2; Liverpool, 1; Philadelphia, 3.

Boutflower, Bouffler.—Nick. 'Beauflower,' comely flower; cf. Lillywhite.

James Beauflower, C. R., 10 Edw. II.

Thomas Beauflower, 1301. M.

James Beaufur, London. X.

Margaret Boutflower. FF.

William Beauflower. B.

Nicholas Bowtefflowre, 1539, Newcastle-on-Tyne (List of male population capable of bearing arms): PPP. vol. ii. pp. 174-194.

Jeffery Beauflower, seneschal of Bristol, 1357: YYY. p. 676.

John Beauflower, mayor of Bristol, 1280.

ibid. p. 673.

William Boutflower, sheriff, 1702:

Brand's Newcastle-on-Tyne, i. 14.

Manchester, 2, o; Crockford, 3, o;

London, o, 3; New York, o, 4.

Bovill, Bovell.—Local, 'of Boville,' now Bouville, a parish in the arrondissement of Rouen (Lower).

Warin de Bovile, co. Notts, 1273. A.

John de Boville, co. Suff., ibid.

Matthew de Boville, co. Surrey, 20 Edw. I. R.

Anastach' de Boyvill, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1790. Married — Thomas Bovill and Eliz. Jones: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 39.

London, 6, o; Boston (U.S.), o, 2.

Bovingdon, Bovington.—Local, 'of Bovington,' a parish in co. Herts, near Hemel Hempstead.

Thomas Bove'don, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

1581. Richard Bovingdon, co. Bucks: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 110.

1774. Married — William Bovington and Eliz. Wood: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 241.

London, 1, 2.

Bow, Bowe.—Local, 'at the Bow,' a sign-name, from residence at an inn so called; cf. Roebuck. A likely sign in the days of archery.

Roger atte Bowe, citizen of London, C. R., 9 Edw. II.

1403. Cristina atte Bowe: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting (2).

1579. John Bowe and Joanna Bybie: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 87.

1580. William Bow, co. Cumberland: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 173.

1801. Married—Richard Hartley and Lydia Bow: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 249.

London, 1, o; Boston (U.S.), 4, 12; Philadelphia, o, 8.

Bowcher.—Occupative, 'the butcher'; v. Botcher and Boucher. 'Bouchers, Bocheres,' York Plays, pp. xxvi, 359; 'Bowchyer, a butcher' (Halliwell).

Edward le Boucher, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 205.

Johannes Bowcher, co. York, 1420: W. II. p. 21.

William Butcher, or Bowcher, 1543: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 207.

1661. John Radcliffe and Judith Bowcher: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 51.

London, 4.

Bowd.—Local, 'of Bowood.'

(1) A tithing in the parish of Netherbury, co. Dorset; (2) a liberty in the parish of Calne, co. Wilts.

John Bowode, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 195.

London, 3.

Bowditch, Bowdidge, Bowdage, Bowdich, Bowdigne.—Local, 'of Bowditch,' 'an estate in Dorsetshire possessed by the family at an early period' (Lower). The name is evidently of south-western origin, and is manifestly local. With Bowdage or Bowdidge, cf. Bromage for Bromwich.

1554. Richard Bowdyche and Joanna Savage: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 15.

1769. Married—Thomas Bowditch and Hannah Fowler: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 180.

MDb. (Dorset), 7, o, o, 1, o; (Somerset), 1, o, 1, 1, o; (Devon), 1, o, o, 1, 1; London, 3, 1, 1, o, o; Exeter, o, 1, o, o; New York (Bowditch), 2; Boston (U.S.), 31, o, o, o.

Bowdler, Bowdlear.—Occup. 'the bowdler,' i.e. the pudler. A steady number in the directories. 'Bowdlerized editions' has made the name famous. 'Buddle, to cleanse ore. North. "A vessel made for this purpose, like a shallow tumbrel, is called a buddle": Ray's English Words, ed. 1674, p. 116' (Halliwell). One instance below is that of a Yorkshireman, the other of a Salopian, so there can be no doubt about the origin of Bowdler; cf. 'pudde,' to work in iron, and 'pudder,' one who works iron. 'To buddle, to wash ore' (Imperial Dict., Annandale, 1882).

Richard le Bowdler, co. Salop, 1273. A. Richard le Bowdlere, co. York. W. 9. 1569. Richard Bowdeler and Agnes Yonge: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 43. Marmaduke Bowdler, sheriff of Bristol, 1693: YYY. p. 695. 1738. Buried—Francis Bowdler: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 204. London, 4, o; New York, 1, o; Philadelphia, 1, o; Boston (U.S.), o, 3.

Bowell.—Local; v. Bovill, a modification.

Henry le Bowl, co. Kent, 1273. A. Walter de Bowell, co. Herts, ibid. 1584. Henry Skyner and Jane Bowell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 131. 1620. George Bowll, co. Kent: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 385. London, 2.

Bowen.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Owen,' from the Welsh Ap-Owen = Bowen; cf. Bevans = Ap-Evan, Bethell = Ap-Ithell, Bloyd = Ap-Lloyd, &c. In the Visitation of London, 1634, Thomas Bowen claims descent from Thomas Bowen of Llewenny, co. Denbigh.

1487. Lewis ap-Owen, archdeacon of Cardigan: Hist. and Ant. of St. David's, p. 360.

1568. Bapt.—Daniell, son of John Abowen: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 13. Thomas ap-Owen, Cal. State Papers, Hen. VIII.

1582. Thomas Bowen, co. Cardigan: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 122.

1507. Hugh Bowen, co. Carmarthen: ibid. p. 223.

1601. Arnold Bowen, prebendary of St. David's: Hist. and Ant. of St. David's, p. 362.

(2) Local, 'de Bohun,' sometimes no doubt for Bown, q.v.

London, 27; Liverpool, 11; Philadelphia, 130.

Bower, Bowers.—(1) Local, 'of the bower,' an indoor servant, one who waited 'in my lady's chamber'; v. Bowerman. 'Bowre chambyr': Prompt. Parv.

'That chanteth thus under our boures wal.' Chaucer, C. T. 3307.

The added s is common to these specific names. Thus the exact equivalent 'Chamber' is more generally found as Chambers; cf. Brooks and Styles for Brook and Style. Possibly it is the patronymic s, as in Perkins or Jones.

Robert Atte-bure, rector of Gunton, co. Norf., 1372: FF. viii. 123.

Perhaps the above represents Bury, q.v.

Richard atte Boure, C. R., 20 Edw. II. John atte Beur, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 161.

Richard atte Bowre, 1306. M. Agnes del Bowre, 1372: P. T. Yorks. p. 36.

(2) Occup. 'the bowyer,' The y has crept in as in lawyer, sawyer, &c. In the Order of the Procession of Occupations, Crafts, and Companies to be made on Corpus Christi Day at Norwich, 1533, the 'Fletchers, Bowers, and Turners' were placed in the second division: Blomefield's Norfolk, ii. 148.

Thomas le Bower, C. R., 7 Edw. III: pt. i. London, 22, 14; Philadelphia, 84, 130.

Bowergroom.—Official, 'the bower-groom,' a servant who attended the room called the bower; v. Groom and Bower (1). As a servant, groom does not seem to have been confined to the male sex; v. Bowerman.

Alicia Bourgrom, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 167.

Bowerman, Boorman, Borman, Boreman.—Official, 'the 'bowerman,' i.e. the servant of the bower, the male equivalent of 'bower-maiden,' an indoor servitor, a chamberlain. The corrupted forms of the surname are easily traceable; v. Burman. Below are two entries that occur side by side: Cecilia del Boure, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 154.

Johannes Boureman, 1379: ibid. This places the origin beyond dispute.

Gilbert Barman, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Isabella Barman, co. Essex, ibid. William Bourman. F. William Bowerman, or Bourman, 1506: Reg. Univ. Ox. i. 51.

Robert Boreman, or Bourman, died 1675: Dict. Nat. Biog. v. 304.

Simon Boureman, son of James Bowreman: Visitation of London, 1633-5, vol. i. p. 92.

1632. Buried—Job Boorman, a apprentice: St. Antholin (London), p. 66.

London, 2, 8, 3, 0; New York, 4, 2, 2, 0.

Bowgen; v. Boughen.

Bowker.—Occup. 'the butcher,' a North-English form. A very familiar form of the surname in co. Lancashire; v. Booker, and cf. Cowper and Cooper.

Thomas le Bouker, co. Lanc., 1379: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 5.

Thomas le Bouker, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 37.

Margaret Bowker, of Manchester, 1591: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 25.

Arthur Bowker, of Bispham, co. Lanc., 1605: ibid.

1618. Buried—James Bowker, Prestbury Church (co. Chester), p. 221.

1629. Bapt.—Nathanyell, son of Adam Bowker: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 112. London, 5; Manchester, 30; New York, 6.

Bowland.—Local; v. Bolland.

Robertus de Boghland, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 217.

Rogerus Bowland, 1379: ibid. 1550. Roger Bowland and Avice Gryggesbie: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 12.

1570-1. John Bowlande and Eliz. Thene: ibid. i. 48. London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Bowler.—Occup. 'the bowler,' a maker of wooden bowls and dishes. 'Bolle, vesselle: concha, luter.' 'Bolle, dysche: cantare': Prompt. Parv.

John Foune, oller, 9 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 30.

John le Bolur, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Stephen le Bolur, co. Suff., ibid.

Robert le Bolur, 1301. M. Adam le Bolour, 1307. M.

Richard le Bolour, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 64.

1700. Bapt.—Angellet, d. of William Bowler: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 385.

London, 11; Philadelphia, 10.

Bowleress.—Occup. 'the bowleress' (v. Bowler), a woman who made bowls, dishes, &c.; Juliana la Boleresse (Close Roll, 54 Hen. III). Bowlister (q.v.) also existed.

Bowling.—Local, 'of Bowling,' a chapelry near Bradford, co. York. Cf. Bolling. (2)

'Tristram Bollyng, of Bradford in co. Yorke, temp. 1580': Visitation of London, 1633-5, vol. i. p. 84.

His grandson was Robert Bollyng, of London, "saddler and silk throwster," 1633: ibid.

1579. William Bowling and Rose Aske: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 91.

1647. Married—Robert Crosby and Mary Bowleing: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 25.

London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Bowlster, Bolster.—Occup. 'the bowlster' (v. Bowler), a maker of bowls, dishes, &c. (with feminine terminative). Robert le Bulester (Patent Roll, 20 Edw. II); cf. Brewster, Baxter, &c.

1542. John Bolster, goldsmith, and Cristones Wolfe, married: St. Antholin (London), p. 3.

1605. Married—Henry Bolster and Joanne Hinton: Reg. Stourton, co. Wilts, p. 50.

1804. — Thomas Bolster and Mary Williams: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 307.

New York, o, 2; Boston (U.S.), o, 18.

Bowmaker.—Occup. 'the bowmaker,' a bowyer. North English in origin. A family of the name lived in Alnwick for several centuries, and it is chiefly in Newcastle and South Northumb. that we find the surviving representatives. Fox numbers one John Bowmaker among the Marian martyrs.

Thomas Bowmaker, 1539, Newcastle-on-Tyne (List of male population capable of bearing arms): PPP. vol. ii. pp. 174-194.

Ralph Bowmaker, 1745: Blair's Hist. of Alnwick, p. 457.

George Bowmaker. SS.

Robert Bowmaker, co. York. W. 1.

John Bowmaykere, co. York. W. 3.

The surname still exists, I am glad to say.

Liverpool, 1.

Bowman.—(1) Occup. 'the bowman,' an archer. Mr. Lower quotes Richardson's Gathering Ode:

'Come Spearman, come Bowman,
Come Bold-headed Truewicke,
Repel the proud foeman,
Join lion-like Bewicke.'

(2) Occup. 'a maker of bows,' a bowyer.

To Nicholas Frost, bowman, Stephen Sedar, fletcher, Ralph the stringere... to the aforesaid Nicholas for 500 bows, £31 8 0: to the aforesaid Stephen, 1,700 sheaves of arrows, £148 15 0: Exchequer Issues, 14 Henry IV.

John Yonger, bowman, 1539, Newcastle-on-Tyne (List of male population capable of bearing arms): PPP. vol. ii. pp. 174-194.

Robert Bowman, temp. Eliz. Z.

1570. Bapt.—Judith, d. Edmund Bowman: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 25.

1581. Gabriel Bowman, co. Surrey: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 108.

London, 28; Philadelphia, 116.

Bown, Bowne.—Local, 'of Boun,' i.e. Bohun; v. Bowen (2).

Humfredus de Boun, co. Heref., 1273. A.

Franciscus de Boun, co. Dorset, ibid.

Milo de Boun, co. Dorset, ibid.

John de Bounn, co. Linc., ibid.

Milo de Boun, above-mentioned, occurs at p. 97, and Milo de Bohun at p. 102. The two entries, without doubt, refer to the same individual.

1579. John Bowne and Eliz. Gryffyn: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 94.

London, 7, 1; Philadelphia, 3, 4.

Bowring, Bowering.—? Bapt. 'the son of Bowring,' seemingly a personal name, like Harding and Browning. A West-country name.

Walter Bowryng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 104.

1807. Married—Hesama Curme and Mary Bowering: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 376.

1808. John James Bowring and Mary Kelsey: ibid. p. 384.

London, 7, 0; MDB. (co. Soms.), 1, 3; (co. Devon), 4, 0.

Bowsher, Bowser, Bewsher.

—(1) Occup. 'the butcher'; v. Bowcher, Botcher, &c. (2) Nick.

O.F. Beau-sire, 'fair sir,' an address of respect or courtesy; cf. Bellamy, Bonamy, Belcher. 'Beau sire . . . thu spext as a fol,' c. 1300. Beket, 768 (H.E.D.); 'Thou shalle abak, bewshere,' c. 1460. Towneley Myst. 241 (ibid.).

Thomas le Bousyre, 1278. M.

Roger Beausire, co. Herefordshire, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1575. Henry Bowschere, Exeter Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 389.

1614. Bapt.—Frederick, son of Frederick Bousyr: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 70.

London, 3, 2, 0; Liverpool, o, o, 1; Boston (U.S.), o, 7, 0.

Bowyer.—Occup. 'the bowyer,' a maker of bows. The bowyers and fletchers (v. Fletcher) always marched together in the trade processions. Skelton in 'The Maner of the World' says:

'So many bowyers, so many fletchers,
And so few good archers, saw I never.'

William le Boghyere, co. Sussex, 1273. A.

William le Bowiere, London, ibid.

Adam le Boghiere, c. 1310. M.

William le Bowyer. H.

With the intrusive y or i, cf. lawyer for lawer, or sawyer for sawer; v. Bower (2).

1613. Bapt.—Willmy, s. Anthony Bowyer: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 68.

London, 22; Philadelphia, 4.

Box.—(1) Local, 'of Box,' a parish in co. Wilts, seven miles from Chippenham. (2) Local, 'at the box,' i.e. box-tree, from residence thereby; cf. Pine, Birch, Oak, Ash, Nash.

John de la Boxe, Close Roll, 10 Edw. III.

William atte Box, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 152.

John atte Boxe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 269.

Elena de la Boxe, co. Glouc., 1273. A.

Hamo Box, London, ibid.

Sampson de Boxe, co. Wilts, ibid.

Martyn Box, sheriff of London, 1283.

Henry Box, co. Norf., 1649: FF. viii. 540.

1600. Henry Box, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 243.

1615. Isaac Eve and Eliz. Boxe: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 37.

1623. William Box and Charity Holmes: ibid. p. 131.

1743. Buried—Priscilla Box: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 296.

London, 17; Philadelphia, 2; New York, 1.

Boxall, Boxell, Bostell.—

Local, 'of Boxwell,' a parish in co. Glouc., six miles from Tetbury.

With Bostell, cf. Axtell for Axell.

1575. Robert Boxall, New Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 82.

1579. John Boxall, New Coll.: ibid.

The spellings in this register are Boxald, Boxold, and Boxwell.

1750. Married—Robert Boxold and Rebecca Vanbrakill: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 165.

1790. — Daniel Boxall and Sarah Cripps: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 51.

London, 8, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), o, o, 1.

Boyce, Boys, Boyse.—Local, 'del Bois,' from residence by or in a wood; cf. French Dubois, and English Wood and Attwood, Thomas del Boyz, co. Dorset, 1273. A.

 Ralph del Boys, co. Norfolk, ibid.
 Henry du Boys, 1313. M.
 Katerina Boyse, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
 p. 149.
 Richard Bosse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:
 Kirby's Quest, p. 100.
 John de Boys, rector of Fincham, co.
 Norf., 1350: FF. vii. 357.
 Robert de Bosco, or Boys, rector of Fritton, co. Norf., 1300: FF. v. 311.
 1590. Bapt.—John, s. Thomas Boys:
 Canterbury Cathedral, p. 1.
 1594. John Bois, co. Kent: Reg. Univ.
 Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 206.
 1760. Married—John Fendall and Susanna Boyce: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 91.
 London, 20, 12, 1; MDB. (Norfolk), 13,
 o, o; New York, 37, o, o; Philadelphia
 (Boys), 1.

Boycott, Boykett, Bockett (?).
 —(1) Local, 'of Boycott.' Lower says, 'An estate in co. Salop still possessed by the family' (Patr.
 Brit. p. 37); v. Bockett for another origin of that name. (2) Local, 'of Boycutt,' an extra-parochial liberty in co. Oxford, three miles from Buckingham. The evidence is in favour of this parentage.

Johannes de Boykote, co. Bucks,
 1273. A.
 William Boycote, co. Kent, ibid.
 John de Boycote, 1302, burgess for Leominster. M.
 1781. Married—Richard Boycott and
 Eliz. Malpas: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 329.
 London, 1, o, 3; Crockford, 2, 1, 2.

Boyd.—Bapt. and nick. Boidh, an Erse name, meaning yellow.

'Boyd, Gael. boidh, fair, or yellow-haired. A nephew of Walter, first high-steward of Scotland, circ. 1160, was known by this appellation, and was ancestor of the Lords Boyd, Earls of Arran': Lower, p. 37.
 'Grim, the grandson of Duff, reigned for a short time, but was slain in battle, in 1004, by Malcolm, and his son Boidh was set aside, and disabled from reigning': Yonge, ii. 90.

Boidh, Lady Macbeth's brother, was yellow, a name surviving in the Scottish family of Boyd': ibid. p. 101.
 1741. Married—Donald Valentine and Caler Boyd: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair,
 p. 15.
 London, 26; Philadelphia, 300.

Boydell.—?Local, 'of Boydell'(?).
 I cannot find the place.

Caterina Boydell, co. Norf., 1273. A.
 1787. Married—James Boydell and Catherine Rutland: St. Geo. Han. Sq.
 i. 407.
 London, 2.

Boyden.—Bapt. 'the son of Baldwin,' popularly Bodin, Bawden (q.v.), and Boyden, through
 Fr. Baudoin; v. Baldwin.

Boyden de Gaunt, 1273. A.
 Thomas Boydin, ibid.
 Nicholas Boydyn, ibid.
 Ralph Boydin, ibid.
 1505. Ralph Boydon, Ch. Ch.: Reg.
 Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 13.
 1797. Married—James Hexter and Martha Boyden: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 171.
 London, 5; New York, 4.

Boyer.—Occup. 'the bowyer'; v.
 Bowyer. This form is found in the Chester Play. Among other guilds and companies that took part were the 'Boyeres, Flechers, and String-eres' (Ormerod's Cheshire, i. 300).
 'Every boier make . . . two bowes of elme,' 1514: Fitzherb., Justyce
 Peas (H.E.D.).

Geoffrey le Boyer. T.
 Adam le Boiere. E.
 William Boyer, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
 1506. Bapt.—Alice, d. Thomas Boyer, or Bowier: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 31.
 1608.—John, s. Edward Boyer: ibid.
 i. 52.
 1611. Thomas Boyer, or Bowyer, vicar of Addingham: Whitaker's Craven,
 p. 292.
 1795. Married—Thomas Boyer and Eliz. Carington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 134.
 London, 4; Boston (U.S.), 11; Philadelphia, 152.

Boykett.—Local; v. Boycott.

Boykin, Boykins.—Nick. 'the boy-kin,' i.e. the little boy; cf.
 Wilkin, Perkin, Watkin, &c. With the genitive Boykins, cf. Wilkins,
 Perkins, Watkins, &c.

Philadelphia, 4, 1.

Boylard, Boylan.—Local, 'of Boyland.' The place 'Boyland' is mentioned in the Hundred Rolls,
 co. Norf., vol. i. pp. 473, 476.

Richard de Boyland, co. Norf., 20 Edw.
 I. R.
 Thomas le Boylaund, co. Suff., ibid.
 Robert de Boylond, co. Devon, 1273. A.
 Ralph de Boyland, co. Norf., ibid.
 1806. Married—Thomas Boyland and
 Mary Wool: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 247.
 London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 4, 17.

Braban, Brabant, Braben.
 —Local, 'of Brabant,' natives of the Duchy of Brabant. Andrew Borde speaks of 'Flaunders, Han-way, and Braban, which be commodious and plentiful contreys' (Boke of Knowledge).

Mathew le (sic) Brabayn, co. Lanc.,
 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 111.
 Gilkin de Braban, 25 Edw. I: Freemen of York (Surtees Soc.), i. 6.
 Heliseus de Brabayn, co. Linc., 1273. A.
 John Braban, co. Suff., ibid.
 Saher de Braban. E.
 Arnald de Braban, 1307. M.
 1582. Buried—Susan Brabane: St.
 Dionis Backchurch, p. 197.
 1742.—Robert Braben, ibid. p. 310.
 1795. Married—Thomas Forty and
 Sarah Brabant: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 126.
 London, o, o, 1; Philadelphia, o, 1, o.

Brabaner, Brabner, Brabiner.—Local, 'the Brabaner,' i.e.
 a native of the Duchy of Braban or Brabant, more generally 'le Brabancon'; v. Brabazon.

Petrus Brabaner, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
 p. 267.
 Petrus Brabaynner, 1379: ibid. p. 222.
 Johannes Brabaner, textor, 1379: ibid.
 Adam Brabaner, 1379: ibid. p. 239.

The name is still found in the same county. William Brabiner is or was, landlord of the Three Cranes, Doncaster (West Rid. Dir., 1868).

Isabel Brabaner, temp. 1570. ZZ.
 Robert Brabaner, ibid.
 1588. Buried—Hellen, wife of Thomas
 Brabynder: St. Thomas the Apostle
 (London), p. 85.
 London, o, 1, o; Boston (U.S.), o, o, 2.

Brabazon.—Local, 'le Brabancon,' a native of Braban, q.v.

Thomas Brabeson, co. York, 1273. A.
 Walter Brabeson, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Roger le Brabazoun, London, 20 Edw.
 I. R.
 William Brabazonn, co. Northampt.,
ibid.
 Roger le Brabazonn, 1306. M.
 Reginald le Brebanzon. H.
 1601. Henry Brabazon, co. Warw.:
 Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 248.
 1715. Married—Barnabas Brabazon and Hester Knewstub: St. Michael, Cornhill,
 p. 58.
 London, 1; Crockford, 3; Philadelphia, 2.

Brace.—Local; v. Brass.

Bracebridge.—Local, 'of Bracebridge,' a parish in co. Linc., two or three miles from Lincoln.

Anketell de Bracebregg, co. Warw.,
 1273. A.
 John de Bracebrig', co. Linc., ibid.
 Johannes de Bracebryg, 1379: P. T.
 Yorks. p. 139.
 1553. Thomas Brasbridge, Magd. Coll.:
 Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 6.

1754. Married—Jonathan Bracebridge and Ann Bell: St. Geo. Mayfair, p. 280. London, 3.

Bracegirdle, Bracegirdler.—Occup. 'the brace-girdler,' abbrev. of bracegirdle. It is somewhat hard to define this occupation. If it refers to 'braces,' they are an earlier institution than is generally imagined. If it be a corruption of 'breck-girdle' (Maundeville speaks of a 'breck-girdle' in his Travels, p. 50), then the difficulty is cleared up. In Memories of London (Riley) mention is made of one John le Bregderelere, and this strengthens the latter supposition (v. Brailer). The breeches girdle would be a waistband. [In the Preston Guild Rolls, under date 1562, occurs 'William Harryson, brekemaker' (p. 29); and twenty years later 'John Sudell, breeckman' (p. 32). These may refer to brickmaking or bricklaying.]

Justinian Bracegirdle, temp. Eliz. 3.
Roger Bracegirdle, or Brachgirdle, or Brasgirdell, sup. for B.A., Dec. 3, 1550: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 233.

John Brachgyrdyll, or Breckegirdle, 1544: ibid. p. 208.

Timothe Brasegirdell, 1620: St. Mary Aldermar, p. 14.

Roger Bracegirdle, of High Leigh, yeoman, 1649: Wills at Chester, ii. 30.

1751. John Jarman and Sarah Bracegirdle: St. Antholin (London), p. 155. MDB. (co. Chester), 11, o.

Bracer.—(1) Occup. 'the bracer,' i.e. the brewer. (2) Occup. 'possibly a maker of bracers,' the armguard in a suit of armour; v. Bracer (H.E.D.). But (1) I think will be found correct; v. Braceress.

Robert le Bracer, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Jocius le Braciator, London, ibid.
Arnold Braciator, co. Camb., ibid.
Bartholomew le Bracer, C.R., 9 Edw. II.
Walter le Bracur, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Braceress.—Occup. 'the braceress,' i.e. the brewster; cf. Bracer and Braceress with Brewer and Brewster.

Alicia Braciatrix, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Clarence le Braceresse, co. Suff., ibid.
Letitia Braciatrix, co. Camb., ibid.
Emma le Braceresse. T.

Bracewell.—Local, 'of Bracewell,' a parish in co. York and dioc. Ripon.

John de Bracewell, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Willelmus de Braycewell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 138.

1610. George Brasswell and Margaret Milliter: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 18.

1616. Robert Bracewell and Grace Toller: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 43. London, 1; West Riding Court Dir., 5.

Bracken, Brackin.—Local, 'of Bracken,' a township in the parish of Kilnwick, E. Rid. Yorks. This surname seems to have thrived in the United States.

1619. Henry Burbedge and Eliz. Bracken: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 78.

1766. Married—Henry Bracken and Eliz. Hughes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 154.

1782.—John Deakins and Rebecca Brackin: ibid. i. 339.

MDB. (W. Rid. Yorks.), 2, o; Philadelphia, 25, 5.

Brackenberry, Brackenbury, Brakenbury.—Local, 'of Brackenbury,' a parish in co. Lincoln, near Louth.

Jordan de Brakenberhe, co. Linc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Robert de Bracumbergh, co. York, 20 Edw. I. R.

William de Brakenberch, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Johannes de Brakenbergh, 34 Edw. I: BBB. p. 715.

Robert de Brackenberewe, co. Linc. M. 1592. Richard Brackenbury: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 235.

London, 1, 1, o; Crockford, o, 4, o; MDB. (co. Lincoln), o, 20, 1.

Brackley, Brackly.—Local, 'of Brackley,' a parish in co. Northampton, twenty miles from Northampton.

Mikael de Brackele, London, 1273. A.
William de Brackley, London, ibid.

1619. Thomas Brackly: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 361.

1671. Married—Thomas Brackley and Sarah Turner: St. Mary Aldermar, p. 31.

1704. Robert Brackley and Eliz. Dryden: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 246.

Boston (U.S.), o, 1.

Braconer.—Official, 'the braconer,' a hunter (v. Berner), one who held the hounds in leash (?). 'Braconier, the berner' (Halliwell). Perhaps connected with brach (Shakespeare), a hunting dog; O.F. brache (Fr. braque), a hound.

Gilbert le Braconer, Close Roll, 28 Edw. I.

New York, 1.

Bradbeer.—Local, 'of Bradbeer,' i.e. the broad bere or byre; v. Beer, and cf. Langabèer, the long bere. Of course a co. Devon surname.

1607. Buried—Thomas, s. Thomas Bradbere, or Bradbeer: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 99.

1720. Married—Samuel Faulkner and Jane Bradbeer: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 290.

London, 3; Exeter, 1.

Bradburne.—Local, 'of Bradburne,' a parish in co. Derby, five miles from Ashbourne.

1540. Richard Bradborne: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 285.

1573-4. John Cotton and Eliz. Bradborne: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 16.

1662-3. Richard Morley and Anna Bradburn: ibid. p. 68.

Philadelphia, 1.

Bradbury, Bradberry.—Local, 'of Bredbury,' a township in the parish of Stockport. The name of the place is found spelt Bradbury frequently in old wills, &c. (v. instances under Brookshaw). The surname is almost universally Bradbury in the present day.

Jordan de Bredbury, co. Chester, 1270: Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 40.

Adam de Bredbury, co. Chester, 1332: ibid. p. 78.

John Bredbury, of Bredbury, 1672: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 38.

Alice Bredbury, of Moberley, 1679: ibid.

1559-60. Henry Bradberye and Alice Lewley: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 20.

1562. Bapt.—Robert Bredbury: Prestbury Ch. (Cheshire), p. 6.

—Married—Richard Stockes and Ales Bradburye (Bredbury): ibid. p. 7.

1604. Bapt.—Ernund, s. Edmund Bradbury: Disley Church.

MDB. (West Rid. Yorks.), 25, 1; (co. Chester), 2, o; Manchester, 24, o; London, 16, o; Philadelphia, 22, 2.

Bradby.—Local, 'of Bradby,' a township in the parish of Repton, co. Derby.

London, 1.

Bradden, Braddon, Braden.—Local, 'of Bradden,' a parish in co. Northampton, near Towcester.

William de Bradden, co. Northampt., 1298. M.

William de Bradene, co. Southampt., 1273. A.

1571. Edward Braddon and Ursula Stoker: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 16.

1802. Married—William Mole and Anna Bradon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 265. London, 1, 3, 4; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 8.

Braddock, Briddock.—(1) Local, 'of the Bride-oak,' from residence thereby; cf. Ash, Birch, &c. A Lanc.-Yorks. surname (v. Brideoake). Ralph Brideoake of Manchester (1613-78) became Bishop of Chichester. He was also known as Briddock, v. Dict. Nat. Biog. vi. 313. (2) Local, 'of Braddock,' a parish in Cornwall; but I do not find any representatives.

1575. William Braddock, Corpus Christi Coll.: Reg. Univ. Ox. i. 352.

1584. Thomas Braddock: ibid. iii. 84.

1605-6. William Hill and Frances Bradick: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 318.

1751. Married—James Braddock and Mary Moss: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, i. 200.

Manchester, 3, 0; London, 6, 1; Philadelphia, 15, 0.

Bradfield.—Local, 'of Bradfield,' parishes in cos. Berks, Essex, Norfolk, and Suffolk, and smaller localities. 'At the broad field' would naturally give birth to surnames in many parts of the country; cf. Broadfield, Broadmeadow.

Cecile de Bradfeld, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Robert de Bradfeld, co. Suff., ibid.

Walter de Bradfeld, co. Suff., ibid.

William de Bradfeld, co. Wilts, Hen.

III—Edw. I. K.

Richard de Bradfeld, co. Soms.,

1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 275.

1750. Married—John Bradfield and Jane Carr: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 159.

London, 7; Philadelphia, 17.

Bradford.—Local, 'of Bradford,' parishes in W. Rid. Yorks, Wilts, Dorset, Soms., and Devon. Also two townships in co. Northumberland, and a township, now a suburb, of Manchester. The 'broad ford' would naturally be familiar to many places.

Alexander de Bradford, co. Northumb., 1107: KKK. vi. 62.

Hugh de Bradford, co. Devon, 1273. A.

John de Bradford, co. Wilts, ibid.

Alex. de Bradford, co. Northumb.,

ibid.

Johanna Bradford, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 225.

Johannes de Bradford, 1379: P. T.

Yorks. p. 193.

1788. Married—John Bradford and Susannah Wyberd: St. Geo. Han. Sq.

ii. 7.

London, 25; Philadelphia, 44.

Bradlaugh.—Local, 'of Bradlaw.' I have not been able to identify the spot; v. Broad and Law.

William de Bredlawe, co. Derby, 1273. A.

Robert de Bradlawe, co. Derby, ibid. London, 1.

Bradley, Bradly, Bradlee.—Local, 'of Bradley.' Of course the local spots entitled the broad ley, i.e. broad meadow, would naturally be expected to be great. There are parishes, townships, tithings, hamlets, and chapelries of this name in cos. Berks, Ches., Devon, Leicester, Hants, Worc., Westm., Suff., Stafford, Soms., Wilts, and W. Rid. Yorks; cf. Broadmeadow and Bradfield.

Robert de Bradeleye, co. Camb.,

1273. A.

Érice de Bradeleghe, co. Soms., ibid.

William de Bradeleghe, co. Devon,

Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Willelmus Brodeleghe, 1379: P. T.

Yorks. p. 12.

Agnes Brodeleghe, 1379: ibid.

Agnes de Bradelay, 1379: ibid. p. 200.

Richard de Bradleghe, co. Soms.,

1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 180.

Henry de Bradeleye, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: ibid. p. 203.

1749. Married—Noah Bradley and Jane

Barnee: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 139.

London, 52, 6, 0; West Riding Court

Dir., 17, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 332, 2, 1.

Bradnam, Bradnum, Bradman.—Local, 'of Bradenham,' a parish in the county of Norfolk; cf. Barnum for Barnham. Bradman belongs to a somewhat large class of variants of local names ending in -enham; cf. Deadman for Debenham, &c.

Richard de Bradenham, co. Norf.,

1273. A.

Alan de Bradinham, co. Hunts, ibid.

William de Bradenham, co. Norf., 20

Edw. I. R.

Richard de Bradenham, co. Norf., 1337:

FF. v. 67.

1739-40. Bapt.—Robert Bradnam: St.

Dionis Backchurch, p. 160.

London, 6, 0, 0; MDB. (Norfolk), 0,

1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 4.

Bradney.—Local, (1) 'of Bardney,' a parish in co. Lincoln, ten miles from Horncastle, sometimes called Bradney. (2) 'Of Bradney,' a place in co. Soms. belonging to Sir Simon de Bredenie in 1346 (Lower).

Simon de Bradneghe, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 240.

John Brodenyne, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: ibid. p. 270.

Simon de Bardney, mayor of Bristol,

1276: YYY. p. 672.

(Abbas) de Bardeneye, co. Linc.,

1273. A.

1670. Bapt.—Henrey, s. Paul Bradney:

St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 65.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Bradshaw.—(1) Local, 'of Bradshaw,' a village in the chapelry of Illingworth, near Halifax. Some of the Lancashire Bradshaws are sprung from Bradshaw Hall, near Wigan (v. Baines' Lanc. ii. pp. 184, 197), originally spelt Bradshaigh, but the majority from Bradshaw, an old chapelry in Bolton parish. Indeed, this last must be looked upon as the true home of four-fifths of our Bradshaws.

Alan de Bradeshagh, of Radcliffe, co.

Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands),

p. 20.

Richard de Bradeschawe, co. Lanc.,

20 Edw. I. R.

Johannes Bradeschawe, 1379: P. T.

Yorks. p. 290.

Alexander Bradshaw, of Bradshaw, parish of Bolton, 1587: Wills at Chester,

i. 26.

Richard Bradshaw, of Bolton, dyer,

1614: ibid.

London, 23; West Riding Court Dir.,

12; Manchester, 37; Bolton, 10; Philadelphia, 32.

Bradstock, Broadstock.—Local, 'of Bradenstoke,' a parish in dioc. of Salisbury. The abbreviation was an early one.

Simon de Bradestok, co. Ox., 1273. A.

(Prior) de Bradenestock, co. Wilts, ibid.

(Prior) de Bradestok, co. Ox., ibid.

1674. Bapt.—John, son of William

Bradstock: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 148.

London, 1, 1.

Bradstreet.—Local, 'of the broad street,' i.e. the broad paved way. Evidently some spot in co. Norfolk or Suffolk.

1372. John de Bradstrete, rector of Colby, co. Norf.: FF. vi. 423.

1595-6. Thomas Boldero and Ann

Broadstreet: Marriage Lic. (London),

i. 228.

1625. Edmund Slater and Margaret

Bredstrete: ibid. ii. 153.

With this latter instance cf. Bred-bury for Bradbury, q v.

1730. Married—Jonathan Bradstreet, of Ipswich, and Mary Moulton: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 65.

1764. — Robert Garstin and Anna Eliz. Bradstreet: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 136. London, 1; Crockford, 1; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 2; Philadelphia, 8.

Bradwell.—Local, 'of Bradwell,' parishes in cos. Bucks, Suffolk, and Essex. Also townships in cos. Chester and Derby.

Richard Bradewelle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 272.

Hamond de Bradewell, co. Ox., 1273. A. Roger de Bradewelle, co. Suff., ibid.

Agnes de Braythewell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 178.

Willelmus de Braythewell, 1379: ibid. p. 17.

1593. Sampson Leycroft and Ann Bradwell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 211.

West Rid. Court Dir., 3; London, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Brady.—Local, 'of the broad hey,' from residence thereby, i.e. the broad enclosure; v. Hey. The great number of Bradys in the American directories are mostly of Irish origin.

Johannes Bradhee, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 262.

1587. George Bradie and Frances Gente: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 158.

1612. Married—John Brewer and Marie (?) Brady: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 11.

1729. — James Brady and Sarah Lowing: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 291.

West Riding Court Dir., 4; Sheffield, 2; London, 9; Philadelphia, 270.

Bragg, Bragger, Brager.—Nick, 'abraggart,' a boaster. 'Braggere' (Piers Plowman); 'Brisk, full of spirit' (Halliwell); 1300, 'That maketh us so brag and bold' (H.E.D.).

Henry Bragg, co. Camb., 1273. A.

1573. Edward Bragge, of London: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 55.

1601. Edmund Bragge, of London: ibid. p. 252.

1795. Married—John Bragg and Mary Terry: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 131.

1809. — Edward Jones and Mary Bragger: ibid. ii. 401.

London, 9, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 7, 0, 2.

Braham.—(1) Local, 'of Braham.' As in the case of Braim (q.v.). I cannot find the place. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Abraham.' Some Jewish Abrahams have adopted Braham.

Alan de Braham, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Richard de Braham, co. Suff., ibid.

Roger de Braham, co. Suff. ibid.

Ralph de Braham, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.

1805. Married—John Gray and Hannah Braham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 335.

London, 8; Philadelphia, 6.

Brailer.—Occup. 'the braeler,' a maker of cinchures or girdles, from the Old English brayle, from French braie or braye, i.e. breeches, whence brail, a band to fasten breeches. Sailors still speak of 'brailing up sails.' Under date 1355 Mr. Riley, in his Memorials of London, gives the 'Articles and Ordinances of the Braelers.' He also has an account of the burning of some gloves and braels for being false in make and fashion (pp. 277 and 249).

Roger le Braeler, London, 1273. A.

Stephen le Brayeler, London. X.

Brailsford.—Local, 'of Brailsford,' a parish in co. Derby and dioc. Lichfield.

Robert de Brailsford, co. Derby, 1273. A.

Henry de Braylesford, 1301, co. Derby. M.

1666. Theophilus Brailsford and Mary Oliver: Marriage Alleg. (Westminster), p. 116.

1678. Thomas Byfeld and Ann Braylesford: ibid. p. 285.

London, 3.

Braim, Braime, Braham.—Local, 'of Brame,' a local spot that I cannot discover. Braham looks like an early mutilation of Abraham, but the instances below evidently belong to a common stock; v. Braham.

Agnes de Brame, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 301.

Johannes de Brame, 1370: ibid. p. 298.

Willelmus Brame, barker, 1379: ibid. p. 259.

Nicholaus Braham, 1379: ibid. p. 250.

1751. Married—Peter Pailon and Mary Braem: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 201.

West Riding Court Dir., 3, 1, 1; Leeds, 2, 1, 0.

Brain, Braine, Brayne.—? Bapt. Possibly a form of Brand, but this is a mere guess.

Alicia Brayn, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Helena Brayn, co. Hunts. ibid.

John Brayn, co. Camb., ibid.

1580. Thomas Braine and Hellen Maskall: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 96.

1751. Married—Richard Brain and Catherine Martin: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 201.

London, 5, 5, 2; New York, 0, 2, 0.

Braithwaite, Braithwait, Brathwait, Brathwaite, Breathwaite.—Local, 'of Braithwaite.' (1) A hamlet in township of Dacre, near Pateley Bridge, co. York; (2) a hamlet in parish of Keighley, co. York; (3) a hamlet in parish of Kirk Bramwith, near Doncaster.

Alan de Braithethwait, hoser, 20 Edw. II: Freemen of York, i. 23.

Geoffrey de Braytweyt, co. York, 1273. A.

Alicia Brathwayt, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 243.

Willelmus de Brathwat, 1379: ibid. p. 237.

Willelmus de Brathwayt, 1379: ibid. p. 234.

1744. Married—Mr. Benjamin Brathwait and Mrs. Emery Coles: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 86.

1750 — William Braithwaite and Mary Crowthers: ibid. p. 186.

London, 11, 0, 0, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 1, 1, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 12, 1, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 6, 0, 0, 3.

Bramhall, Bramall, Brammall, Brammald, Broomhall, Broomall.—Local, 'of Bramhall,' formerly also Bromale, a township in the parish of Stockport. The variants are of a natural character. The d in Brammald is, of course, excrescent; cf. Simmonds for Simmons, Bryant for Bryan. The form Broomhall is a reminiscence of Bromale, as already stated, an early spelling.

Mathew de Bromale, co. Ches., temp. 1150: Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 9.

Ann Bickerton, of Bromall, widow, 1616: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 19.

Hugh Bramhall, of Hatherton, 1595: ibid. p. 27.

Hugh Bramall, of Nether Peover, co. Ches., 1628: ibid. (1621-50), p. 31.

Margaret Broomhall, of Little Peover, co. Ches., 1633: ibid. p. 35.

Richard Bromall, of Birch, 1639: ibid. p. 35.

Philip Brommall, of Knutsford, co. Ches., 1632: Earwaker's East Ches., ii. 343.

Thus every one of the variants in our modern directories is easily accounted for.

MDB. (West Rid. Yorks.), 2, 5, 1, 2, 0, 0; Manchester, 1, 4, 1, 0, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 0, 0, 1, 12.

Bramley.—Local, 'of Bramley,' a chapelry and village near Leeds.

Nigel de Bramleye, co. York, 1273. A. Willelmus de Bramley, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 246.

1754. Married—Thomas Hancock and Elizabeth Bramley: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 280.

West Riding Court Dir., 11; New York, 1.

Brampton.—Local, 'of Brampton,' parishes, townships, &c., in cos. Cumb., Norf., Derby, Linc., Hunts, Northampton, and Suff.

Geoffrey de Bampton, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Brian de Brampton, co. Glouc., ibid. Alan de Bramtone, co. Camb., ibid.

William de Brampton, co. Oxf., ibid. Adam de Brampton, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

John de Brampton, co. Heref., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Will'm de Brampton, co. Norf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1591. Thomas Brampton and Johanna Kyng: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 192.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 5.

Branch.—Local, 'of Branch,' a hundred in co. Wilts.

Thomas Branche, C. R., 3 Edw. I. Benjamin Branche, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Joanna Branche, co. Soms., ibid. Joanna de Branche, co. Soms., ibid.

1720. Married—John Prince and Mary Branch: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 287.

London, 12; MDB. (co. Soms.), 2; New York, 5.

Brand.—Local, 'of Brand,' the son of Brand': said to be still in use in Iceland as a fontal name. In England it had gone out of use before the 13th century began.

William Brand, or Brant, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Walter Brand, or Brant, co. Linc., ibid.

John Brand, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Robert Brand, co. Inf., ibid.

Wymer Brant, co. Norf., ibid. 1706. Married—John Brand and Elizabeth Clubb: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 157.

1802. — Thomas Brant and Abigail Bone: ibid. ii. 257.

London, 25, 9; Philadelphia, 20, 51.

Brandon.—Local, 'of Brandon,' parishes in co. Norfolk; also townships in cos. Durham and Northumberland; also a hamlet in co. Warwick, in the parish of Woltston.

Magota de Brandon, chapman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 11.

1632-3. Richard Barnes and Susan Brandon: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 25.

1634. Married — Edward Smith and Alice Brandon: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 15.

1791. — William Brandon and Margaret Elliott: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 57.

London, 12; New York, 16.

Brandwin, Brangwin, Brangwyn.—Bapt. 'the son of Brandwin'; cf. Unwin, Baldwin, Godwin, &c.; v. Brand. Miss Yonge says, 'Bregwain, f. Eng.-Kelt. white bosom': Glossary, p. xxxvii.

Alicia Brandewyne, 1348: Pat. Roll, 22 Edw. III.

1672. Buried — John Brangwin: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 239.

London, 0, 1, 1.

Branson.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Brand,' q.v. (2) Local, 'of Branson,' a township in the parish of Burton-on-Trent, co. Stafford.

Agnes Branson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 149.

1623. Buried — John Bransoun: St. Antholin (London), p. 57.

1708. Bapt.—Ann, d. William Branson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 42.

London, 4; West Rid. Court Dir., 5; Philadelphia, 44.

Branston.—(1) Local, 'of Branston,' a parish in dioc. Lincoln; (2) 'of Branstone,' parishes in diocs. Lichfield and Peterborough; (3) 'of Braunston,' a parish in dioc. Peterborough; (4) 'of Branxton,' a parish in dioc. Durham.

Richard de Brandeston, co. Norf., 1273. A.

William de Brancston, co. Northumb., ibid.

Hugh de Braundeston, 1282. M. John de Brandeston, 1301. M.

1731. Married — John Branstone and Christian May: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 323.

1800. — Henry Branstone and Harriet Minto: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 229.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 6.

Brant.—Bapt. 'theson of Brand,' or 'Brandt,' q.v.; cf. Blund and Blunt.

Wymer Brant, co. Norf., 1273. A. Walter Brant, co. Linc., ibid.

1615. John Brant and Mary Marsh: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 33.

1750. Married—Richard Munday and Hannah Brant: St. Antholin (London), p. 155.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 16.

Branthwaite, Branwhite.—Local, 'of Brunthwaite,' a hamlet in the parish of Kildwick, near Skipto, co. Yorks. With the corrupted Branwhite, cf. Applewhite for Applethwaite, or Hebblewhite for Hebblethwaite.

Robert Brownthwayt, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 251.

Thomas de Brantwayt, 1379: ibid. p. 289. Johannes Brantwayt, 1379: ibid.

1418. Anora Brantwayt: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting (2).

1594. William Branthwait: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 354.

1764. Bapt.—Mary, d. Bloss Branwhite: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 49.

London, 0, 1; MDB. (co. Westm.), 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Branton.—Local, 'of Branton.' Branton, or Brampton, is a hamlet in the parish of Cantley, West Rid. Yorks; v. Brampton.

Johannes Branton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 26.

1665. Edward Husbands and Mary Branton: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 89.

London, 3; West Riding Court Dir., 1; Philadelphia, 3.

Branwhite.—Local; a corruption of Branthwaite, q.v.

Brasdefer.—Nick. 'iron-arm,' or 'arm of iron,' a sobriquet for one of great physical strength; v. Fire-brace.

Walter Brasdefer. E. Simon Brazdefer. E.

Michael Brasdefer. BB.

Cf. Armstrong and Strongitharm. The name seems obsolete in England, but Pedefer has a strong position; v. Pettifer.

Brashier, Brassier; v. Brazier.

Brass, Brace.—(1) Local; probably a form of Braose, for which v. Bruce. (2) Local, 'of Brace,' a parish in dioc. Hereford, co. Salop.

Nicholas de Bras, co. Bucks, 20 Edw. I. R.

Walter Bras, co. Salop, 1273. A. Thomas Braz, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 218.

Willelmus Brasse, husband, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 29.

Juliana Bras, vidua, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 41.

Johan Brase, 1379: ibid. p. 43.

1581. Thomas Brace, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 110.

1594. John Brace, co. Worc.: ibid. p. 205.

1607. Bapt. — Ann, d. of Antony Brass: St. Jas. Clekenwell, i. 372.

London, 3, 11; Philadelphia, 5, 4.

Brassey, Bracey, Bracy.—Local, 'of Bréci,'? in Normandy; cf. Vessey, undoubtedly for Vesci, a Norman local name.

Alice de Bresci, co. Camb., 1273. A. Elias de Braci, co. Oxf., ibid.
Richard de Braci, co. Oxf., ibid.
Gilbert de Bracy, co. Bucks, ibid.
Thomas Bracey, son of Edmond Bracy, 1567: Reg. St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 80.
Edmond Bracey, son of Edmond Bracy, 1569: ibid.

Thomas Brassye, son of Edmond Brassye, 1575: ibid. p. 82.

Izack Brassye, son of Edmond Brassye, 1578: ibid. p. 83.

1553-4. Thomas Brassye and Anne Ober: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 14.

London, i, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2, 5.
Bratton.—Local, 'of Bratton,' a chapelry in the parish of Westbury, co. Wilts.

John de Bratton, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 248.

Emma de Bratton, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Godfrey de Bratton, co. Wilts, 1273. A. 1794. Married—William Richards and Mary Bratton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 110.
London, 1; Philadelphia, 14.

Braun, Braund.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Brand,' q.v. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Bryan,' q.v. With the excrement d, cf. the excrement t in Bryant.

1660-1. Richard Brawne and Mary Strete: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 50.

1711. Champion Branfil and Mary Braund: ibid. p. 247.

London, 5, 6; Philadelphia, 15, 0.

Bray.—Local, 'of Bray,' parishes in cos. Berks and Devon.

Thomas de Bray, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Aunsell de Bray, co. Camb., ibid.

Henry de Bray, co. Devon, ibid.

Gundreda de Bray, co. Devon, ibid.

1579. Silvester Braye, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 90.

1601. Oliver Braye, co. Oxf.: ibid. p. 253.

1791. Married—Thomas Bray and Elizabeth Southall: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 67.

London, 28; Philadelphia, 22.

Braybrook.—Local, 'of Braybrooke,' a parish in co. Northampton, near Market Harborough.

Henry de Braybroc, co. Linc., 1273. A. John de Braybrock, co. Bucks, ibid.

Robert de Braybrok, co. Bucks, ibid.

1626. John Carr and Eliz. Braybrooke: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 172.

London, 2.

Brayer.—Occup. 'the brayer,' one who brays or pounds in a mortar.

Godfrey le Brayer, co. Oxf., 1273. A. William le Brayer, co. Oxf., ibid.
New York, 1.

Brayshaw, Brashaw.—Local, 'of Bradshaw,' q.v.

MDb. (West Rid. Yorks.), 11, 2; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Brazier, Brashier, Brasier, Brazer, Brasher.—Occup. 'the brazier,' a worker in brass. 'Brasyere, erarius': Prompt. Parv. 'Payers, bell-makers, and brasyers': Cocke Lorelle's Bote.

1617. Married—Peter Clarke, brasier, and Eliz. Cizeley: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 21.

Reginald de Brazur, Fines Roll, 11 Edw. I.

Henry le Brazur, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Richard le Brazur, co. Salop, ibid.

William le Brasour. N.

Robert le Brazur. G.

Thomas Brasyer, C. R., 33 Hen. VI. 1533-4. Thomas Semer and Elene Brasyer: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 9.

1574-5. Thomas Brazier, co. Salop: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 61.

1730. Married—William Adkins and Sarah Brasier: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 64.

London, 7, 3, 4, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 0, 6, 0; New York, 3, 0, 3, 0, 3.

Breach.—Local, 'of the breach,' i.e. the break in the land.

John de la Breche, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Isaak de la Breche, co. Oxf., ibid.

Isotta atte Brech, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 137.

1802. Married—William Breach and Lucy Merritt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 259.

London, 4; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Breadmongster.—Occup. 'the breadmongster,' a curious feminine of breadmonger.

Sara la Bredemongstere. X.

Sara lived in London.

Breakbalk.—Nick.; one who could win at the balk-staff, or quarter-staff; one who could shiver his opponent's lance; cf. Breakspear, v. Balk, sb. 14 (H.E.D.).

Adam Brekebalk, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 298.

Breakspear, Breakspere, Breakspear.—Nick. One of a large list of sobriquets that have become hereditary from the badge of office, or ensign of authority, or weapon carried (v. Shakespear).

Like 'Bruselance' and 'Crack-shield,' Breakspear would be cheerfully accepted as a nickname by the successful candidate in the tournament.

Adrian Braksperre. HH.
Alexander Braksperre. MM.

William Brakespere, C. R., 3 Hen. IV. pt. ii.

Jane Breakspear, 1633: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 29.

1665. Buried—Patience Breakspear: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 138.

Topsham (co. Devon), 0, 0, 1; MDb. (co. Oxford), 1, 1, 1; Oxford (city), 2, 0, 0.

Brear, Brears.—Local, 'at the brere,' i.e. briar-bush. M.E. brere: '—sharp as brere.'

Chaucer, C. T. 9699.

Cf. Brearley and Brereton. Brear is a well-known Yorks. surname.

John in le Breres, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Willelmus del Breres, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 58.

Ricardus Brere, 1379: ibid. p. 258.

Robertus Brere, 1379: ibid. p. 241.

1759. Married—Robert Sharp and Sarah Brears: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 85.

1780. —John Betteley and Eliz. Brear: ibid. 314.

West Riding Court Dir., 7, 0; MDb. (co. Lincoln), 0, 2; (West Riding Yorks.), 0, 4; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Brearley, Brierley, Brierly.—Local, 'of Briarley,' a township in the parish of Felkirk, co. York.

Johannes de Brerelay, clerk, 13 Ric. II: Freemen of York, i. 89.

Adam de Brerelay, wever, 13 Ric. II: ibid. p. 105.

1752. Married—John Crother and Mary Brearley: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 234.

London, 0, 4, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 0.

Breathwaite; v. Braithwaite.

Breedon, Breeden, Briddon, Bridden.—(1) Local, 'of Bredon,' a parish in co. Worcester, near Tewkesbury; (2) 'of Breedon,' a parish in co. Leicester, near Ashby-de-la-Zouch.

Ralph de Bredon, co. Leic., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

William de Bredun, co. Derby, 1273. A. Johannes de Bredun, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 28.

1603-4. Zacchaens Breedon, co. Bucks: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 270.

1709. Married—Luke Breedon and Margaret Binyon: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 231.

West Riding Court Dir., 1, 1, 3, 0; Sheffield, 0, 0, 3, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 4, 0, 0; New York (Briddon), 1; Philadelphia (Bridden), 1.

Breese, Breeze.—Bapt. 'the son of Rees,' Welsh Ab-Rees; cf.

Bethell, Bloyd, Benyon, Bowen, &c. Breeze is an imitative form, and is a familiar surname on the South Welsh border. Of course, Breese and Breeze are but variants of Preese or Price; v. Brice.

Robert Breese, of Poulton, co. Chester, yeoman, 1666: Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 38.

Richard Breese, of the city of Chester, 1670: ibid.

1621. David Breese, of London (Jesús Coll.): Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 396.

1720. Married—William Green and Elizabeth Breese: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 296.

London, 2, 2; Shrewsbury, 0, 6; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0; New York, 8, 2.

Brench.—A variant of Branch, q. v.

John Brench, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 212.

Ralph Brench, co. Hunts, 1273. A. London, 1.

Brenchley.—Local, 'of Brenchley,' a parish in co. Kent, near Lamberhurst.

1788. Married—Thomas Brenchley and Sarah Meates: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 2. London, 7; MDB. (co. Kent), 7.

Brend.—Local, 'at the breed.' 'Brent, steep. North' (Halliwell). A probable subs. 'a steep,' a declivitous hill; cf. Brand and Brant.

Symon del Brend, mariner, 12 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 18.

Willelmus del Brend, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 51.

1571-2. Richard Osborne and Martha Brend: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 51. London, 2.

Brennan, Brennand, Burdand, Brennard.—Bapt. 'the son of Brennand.' Brennard is a corruption, v. Brennaud, infra.

Simon Brennan, co. Camb., 1273. A. Cecil Brennaud, co. Notts, ibid.

Johannes Brynnchand, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 200.

Robertus Brennand, 1379: ibid. p. 245. Adam Brennand, 1379: ibid. p. 248.

1806. Married—Francis Brennan and Elizabeth Bartlett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 346.

London, 6, 3, 9, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 0, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 140, 0, 0, 0.

Brenning.—Bapt. 'the son of Brenning,' seemingly a variant of Browning. The two following entries occur together, with one other entry only intervening:

William Brennyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 234.

William Brounyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. London, 1.

Brent.—Local, 'of Brent,' parishes in co. Somerset, Devon, and Suffolk.

Fulco de Brent, temp. Hen. III: FF. ii. 243.

Thomas de Brente, co. Camb., 1273. A. Robert de Brente, co. Soms., ibid.

Faulkus de Brente, co. Essex, ibid. Robert de Brente, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 119.

1610. Bapt.—Susan, d. Richard Brente: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 71.

1637. Thomas Brent and Eleanor Strood: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 234.

1672. Benjamin Taynton and Judith Brent: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 200. London, 7; New York, 2.

Brentford.—Local, 'of Brentford,' a market-town in co. Middlesex, of which it is the county town. Philadelphia, 1.

Brereton.—Local, (1) 'of Brereton,' a village in the parish of Knaresborough, co. York; (2) 'of Brereton,' a village three miles from Sandbach, co. Chester.

William de Brerton, carpenter, 6 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 15.

Adam de Brereton, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 254.

Robertus de Brereton, 1379: ibid. p. 227.

Thomas de Brereton, 1379: ibid. p. 300. William Brereton, of Brereton, co. Ches., 1601: Wills at Chester, i. 28.

Amy Brereton, of Ches., 1616: ibid. 1585. John Brereton and Margaret Kempton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 141.

1606. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Thomas Briarton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 366.

London, 4; Manchester, 4; New York, 4.

Bretherton.—Local, 'of Bretherton,' a township in the parish of Croston, co. Lancashire.

Henry de Brethirton, 1397: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 5.

Ric. de Brethirton, 1397: ibid. p. 6. Thomas de Brethirton, 1415: ibid. p. 7.

Henry Bretherton, of Croston, co. Lanc., 1612: Wills at Chester, i. 28.

Thomas Bretherton, of Mawdesley, co. Lanc., 1610: ibid.

1778. Married—Joseph Spooner Warren and Amelia Bretherton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 295.

London, 1; Manchester, 1; Preston, 2; Chorley, 1; New York, 1.

Brett.—Local, 'le Brit,' a native of Brittany.

Jordan le Bret, co. Northamp., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Eva la Brette, co. Essex, ibid. Adam le Brett, co. Norf., temp. Edw. III: FF. ix. 234.

Ricardus le Bret, co. Hunts, 1273. A. William le Bret, co. Soms., ibid.

Wydo le Brit, co. Devon, ibid. Nicholas le Brett, co. Kent, ibid.

1559-60. William Brett and Johanna Hayward: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 20.

1624. Bapt.—Martha, d. George Brett: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 100.

1773. Married—Abell Brett and Ann Wetton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 230.

London, 36; Philadelphia, 14.

Breviter, Brevitor, Bretter, Brevetor.—Official, 'the brevetour,' a private clerk, a writer of brevets for his lord; probably analogous to a private secretary; from brevet, dim. of brief, a letter. Still more probably one whose duty it was to note down household expenses, a clerk to the steward.

'At counting stuard schalle ben, Tyll alle be brevet of wax so grene.'

Boke of Curtasye.

'The clerke of the kitchen shalle alle thynges breve.' Ibid.

'Breuetowre, brevigerulus': Prompt. Parv.

Peter le Brevetour, 1302. M. Ely le Brevetor. O.

Richard Breyter. Z.

The name has never died out, although it has ever been rare. It is found in 1580 as Breviter in a Cambridge list (v. Hist. C.C.C. Camb., index). Bretter is a manifest corruption, and is found so spelled in the Calendar to Pleadings (Elizabeth). Still exists: Mr. Brevitor (Standard, March 25, 1886, p. 3, col. 7).

New York, 0, 0, 1.

Brewer.—Occur. 'the brewer,' (v. Brewster). Only one or two instances occur in the Hundred Rolls.

John le Brewer, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 231.

William le Brewere, London, 1273. A. William le Brywer, co. Devon, ibid.

1588-9. Anthony Bruer, co. Wilts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 169.

1750. Married—Charles Brewer and Pennie Mattichamp: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 180.

London, 38; Philadelphia, 37.

Brewery. — Local, 'at the brewery'; v. Brewhouse.

Reynfrey de la Bruere, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Thomas de la Bruere, co. Camb., ibid.
Robert de la Bruere, co. Oxf., ibid.
Walter de la Bruario, temp. 1300. M.

Brewhouse, Brewis, Browse. — Local, 'of the brewhouse.' Mr. Lower says, 'a known corruption of Braose,' now Briuse, in Normandy. Why not brewhouse?

Walter fil. Hugh del Breuhous, 31 Edw. I: Freeman of York, i. 9.
Hugo del Brewhouse, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 202.

John de Brewouse, C. R., 3 Edw. III. 1703. Married—Henry Wyle and Ann Brewhouse: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 64.
1739. Bapt.—Sarah, d. of Stephen Brewhouse: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 245.
1760. Married—Gaetano Cozi and Ann Bruthus: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 94.
London, 0, 1, 2.

Brewin. — Bapt. 'the son of Brun'; v. Brown and Brune.

1595. Married—Roger Brewen and Susanna Harris: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 15.
1609. Bapt.—Dorothee, d. Thomas Bruin: ibid. p. 108.
London, 1; Philadelphia, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Brewster. — Occup. 'the brewster,' with the feminine suffix because it was probably a woman's business at first; cf. malster, spinster, and Baxter.

Alicia de Wetmong, breuster, 6 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 14.
Matilda Clerk, braciatrix, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 300.

Thomas Breustar, 1379: ibid. p. 27.
Isabella Brewster, 1379: ibid. p. 5.
Emma la Brenstere, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
1587. Robert Brewster, co. Northampton: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 161.
1749. Married—John Brewster and Rebecca Wild: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 135.
London, 8; Philadelphia, 26.

Brian, Briant. — Bapt.; v. Bryan.

Brice, Bricot, Bryce, Bryson (?). — (1) Bapt. 'the son of Brice,' dim. Bricot. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Rice' (Welsh), from Ap or Ab-Rice; cf. Breeze for Ab-Rees, Bloyd for Ab-Lloyd, &c.; v. Breese and Price. Although, no doubt, (2) has some share in the parentage of Brice, (1) is the true source. A few instances will be sufficient evidence.

Brice fil. William, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Brice de Bradelegh, co. Soms., ibid.
John Brice, co. Camb., ibid.
Bricius de Penred, co. Cumb., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
John Brice, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 153.
Bricius le Daneys, co. Rutland. R.
Bricot de Brainton. MM.

As a font-name I find no trace of Brice after the Reformation, nor indeed for several generations before, but it must have been fairly popular in the hereditary surname period, judging by the strong establishment of the surname in our present directories. Bryson (possibly Brideson, now Bridson) is early met with in Henry fil. Brice (V. 8), and Barnabe Brisson (V. 4).

1753. Married—Stephen Brice and Jemima Pennell: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 248.
1790. — Alex. Bryson and Hannah Reed: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 52.
London, 10, 0, 3, 4; Philadelphia, 27, 0, 0, 27.

Brickdale. — Local, 'of the Bridge-dale (?)', i.e. the bridge-valley (?); cf. Philbrick for Felbridge. The suffix -brig often becomes brick; cf. Maybrick, Warbrick, &c. The simple derivation is 'the bridge that led into the dale'; v. Bridge or Brigg, and Dale.

1551. Married—John Brigdale and Joane Rokennan: St. Antholin (London), p. 9.
1610. John Brickdall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 367.
London, 3.

Brickett. — (1) Bapt. 'the son of Burchard'; v. Buckett and Burchett. The corruptions are all traceable. The r is transferred to the first syllable, as in Brodrick for Balderick. In his Index to Marriage Licences (London) the editor refers the reader from Buckett to Brickett. (2) Local, 'at the birkhead,' i.e. from residence thereby. There is much evidence in favour of this as the true parent; v. Birkett for meaning.

George Birkhead, or Brickhead, 1599: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. iii. p. 214.

But cf. John Brykhede, C. R., 12 Hen. VI. This is confirmatory of the following:

1583. John Bryckett, co. Northampton: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 161.

The editor refers the reader to Birkhead. In this case the surname is again local.
London, 2.

Brickman. — Occup. 'the bridge-man' (v. Brigman), of which an early form would be Brig-man; cf. Brigg. This, of course, became Brickman; cf. Hickman and Higman; v. Philbrick.

John Brickman, Pat. Roll, 3 Edw. VI, pt. ii.
1564. Married—Nicholas Brigman and Als Milmon: St. Antholin (London), p. 17.
1567. Edward Birkman: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. i. 300.
London, 1; Philadelphia, 1; New York, 1.

Bricknell and Bricknall. — Local; v. Brignall.

Briddon. — Local; v. Breedon.

Brideoake. — Local. This surname seems to have come from Yorkshire into Lancashire. From Manchester it reached the neighbouring town of Oldham, where it still thrives.

Ralph Brideoake (1613-78), bishop of Salisbury, was of lowly parentage, being son of Richard Brideoake, or Briddock, of Cheetham Hill, Manchester: Dict. Nat. Biog. vi. 313.

1323. Ralph Brydock, of Gateside, a benefactor to Tyne-Briggs: Brand's Hist. of Newcastle, i. 41.

Robert Bridoake, 1334. DDD. ii. 242.
Johanna Brydok, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 11.

Ralph Brydok, 1403. PPP. i. 237.
Edward Bridoake, of Cheetham, Manchester, 1609: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 29.

Jane Bridoak, of Cheetham: ibid. (1621-50), p. 33.
Edward Briddock, of Cheetham: ibid. (1660-80), p. 39.
Oldham, 2.

Bridge, Bridges. — (1) Local, 'at the bridge.' The variant Bridges is not a plural form. It answers to Brooks, Holmes, Styles, &c., and probably represents the genitive s, as in Williams, Jones, Roberts, Coles, &c. (v. Briggs). (2) Local (as regards Bridges), 'of Bruges.'

Saher de Bruges. E.
Oliver de Bruges, ibid.

The two following entries refer to the same individual :

Giles Bruges was seised of the manor of Archer-Stoke, co. Glouc., 6 Edw. IV : Atkyn's Hist. Glouc. p. 186.

Giles Brydges, died seised of the manor of Stoke-Archerds, co. Glouc., 3 Hen. VIII: ibid.

The next two entries bring us back to Bridge, of purely English introduction.

Robert atte Brugge, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 105.

William atte Brugge, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 106.

1673-4. Buried—Ann Bridge: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 240.

1736. Married—Samuel Calderwood and Mary Bridges: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 18. London, 22, 22; New York, 10, 7.

Bridge-end.—Local, 'at the bridge-end,' from residence thereby; v. Townsend or Woodend.

John atte Bruge-ende, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Stephen atte Brigende. B.

Bridgeford.—Local, 'of Bridgeford.' I cannot find the spot.

Dominus de Bridgeford, co. Soms., 1273. A. 1619. Buried—Agnes, wife of Thomas Bridgiort: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 146.

The preceding is another instance of change from d to t.

1792. Married—George Bridgeford and Sarah Gretton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 73. London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Bridger.—Local and occup. 'the bridger,' one who lived at the bridge; cf. Bridgman. 'This surname belongs to the same class as Churcher, Kirker, Brooker, and Crosser. It is probable that the bridger, like the bridgeman, took toll.

Walter le Briggere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 173.

1582. Henry Bridger, co. Surrey: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 122.

1602. Samuel Bridger, co. Glouc.: ibid. p. 256.

John Bridger, temp. Eliz. Z.

1677. Henry Bridger and Elizabeth Budgen: Marriage Lic. (Canterbury), p. 270.

1803. Married—Richard Bridger and Mary Anne Whatton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 289.

London, 16; New York, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Bridgewater.—Local, 'of Bridgewater,' a seaport and market-town in co. Somerset.

1742. Married—John Bridgwater and Ann Hartly: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 20.

1745. Buried—Bridgwater: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 297.

1760. Married—John Barrett and Margaret Bridgwater: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 97.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 2.

Bridgman, Bridgeman.—Local and occup. 'the bridgeman,' one who resided at the bridge and took toll. Sometimes simply a resident by a bridge.

Johannes Brigeman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 18.

1582. John Bridgman, co. Glouc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 119.

—Winter Bridgman, co. Glouc.: ibid. 1646-7. James Bridgman and Prothesa Gurney: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 33.

1796. Married—James Bridgman and Hannah Treadler: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 154.

London, 12, 3; New York, 5, 3.

Brien.—Bapt. 'the son of Brien'; v. Bryan.

Brier, Briers.—Loc.; v. Brear. London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 4, 1.

Brierley.—Local; v. Brearley.

Brigg, Briggs.—Local, 'at the bridge,' from residence thereby; M.E. brigge; cf. Briggate, in Leeds. 'Brygge, pons': Prompt. Parv. Brigg is a well-known Yorkshire form.

Hugh atte Brugge, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Roger atte Brugge, co. Oxf., ibid.

Amice atte Brugge, Close Roll, 8 Edw. I.

Roger del Brigge. M.

Sarra atte Brigge. B.

Juliana del Bryg, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 199.

Robertus atte Brig, 1379: ibid. p. 23.

Ricardus atte Brygg, 1379: ibid. p. 45.

Simon Atte-brig, vicar of Stalham, co. Norf., 1355: FF. ix. 344.

Roger Attebrigge, rector of South

Pickerham, co. Norf., 1338: ibid. vi. 74.

1615. William Crippes and Juliana

Briggs: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 31.

West Riding Court Dir., 14, 44;

London, 3, 49; Philadelphia, 1, 87.

Brighouse.—Local, 'of Brigh-house,' a hamlet about five miles from Halifax, co. York.

Johannes de Brighous, 1379: P. T.

Yorks. p. 137.

1605. Robert Brighouse: Reg. Univ.

Oxf. i. 356.

1636. Benjamin Brighowsse and Anne

Cowles: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 228.

1787. Married—John Brighouse and Margaret Richards: St. Geo. Han. Sq.

i. 397.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1; Leeds, 1;

MDb. (West Rid. Yorks), 1.

Bright.—Bapt. 'the son of Bricht.' In Domesday, 'Bright,' co. Suffolk, is found as a suffix in Albrecht (now Albert, and as a surname Allbright), or as an affix in Brightwen (q.v.), and such early personal names as Brichtfrid, Brichtmar, Brichtric, or Brichtstar (v. Yonge's Glossary) = bright, clear, shining, flaming. John Bright's son, Mr. Albert Bright, bears twice the name his father has immortalized. As regards the style of the great Tribune's oratory, too, no title could be more fitting. So does Time bring round the changes.

Bricetus le Blake, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Hervey Brithe, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Walter Britch, co. Bucks, ibid.

Roger Britch, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Bright, co. Norf., ibid.

Adam Bryte, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 231.

Simon Bright, Norwich, 1514: FF. iv.

253.

William Bright, prior of Peterston, co.

Norf., 1393: ibid. vii. 24.

1727. Married—Joseph Minus and Grace Bright: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 64.

London, 25; New York, 12.

Brighteve, Brightey?, Brighty?—Bapt. 'the son of Brighteve' ('Brichteve, fem. Nor.-Teu. bright gift': Yonge, ii. 405). The Brighteves in numerous variants dwelt for centuries in co. Norfolk, and I suspect Brightey and Brighty, in the neighbouring counties of Lincoln, Cambridge, &c., are popularized forms.

Edmund Brighteyve, or Britiff, 1467, co. Norf.: FF. ii. 379.

John Brighteve, co. Norf., 1497: ibid.

p. 381.

John Brightiff, rector of Francham

Magna, co. Norf., 1559: ibid. ix. 499.

Simon Britiffe, co. Norf., 1663: ibid.

ix. 222.

Robert Brightiff, co. Norf., 1733: ibid.

p. 442.

MDb. (co. Lincoln), o, 1, 1; (Hunts), o, 0, 1; (Cambridge), o, 0, 2.

Brightman.—Bapt. 'the son of Brichtman.' In Domesday, 'Brihtmanus,' co. Suffolk; v. Bright, of which it is an augmentative, and cf. Bateman or Tiddyman.

John Brithman, co. Norf., 1273. A.

1561. William Brightman and Eliz.

Iryve: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 23.

1753. Married—Daniel Kerridge and Rebecca Brightman: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 252.

1755. Married—James Brightman and Sarah Price: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 59. London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Brightmore, Brightmoor.—Bapt. 'the son of Brichtram' (Yonge, ii. 405). Brimmore was a learned scholar at Oxford in the 14th century (Dict. Nat. Biog. vi. 312). The name is again found at Oxford in the case of Thomas Brydmer, 1519 (Reg. Univ. Ox. i. 110). Brightmore is the modern form; the name was always rare.

John Brithram, co. Norf., 1273. A. Harvey Brithnor, co. Camb., ibid. Martin Brithnor, co. Camb., ibid.

1422. Thomas Brightmer, vicar of Thorp Market, co. Norf.: FF. viii. 174. Adam Brithmere, co. Norf.: ibid. p. 208. 1652. John Brightmer, co. Norf.: ibid. xi. 354.

Found as Brickmire in the 18th century:

1706. Bapt.—Sarah, d. Eleanor Brickmire: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 33. London, 1, 0; Manchester, 1, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Brightric.—Bapt. 'the son of Brichtric' (v. Yonge, ii. 405).

Brithric, rector of Aylesham, co. Norf., at the Conquest: FF. vi. 274. Hardwin fil. Brichtric, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Brightwell.—Local, 'of Brightwell.' (1) A parish in co. Berks, near Wallingford; (2) also a parish in co. Suffolk, near Ipswich; v. Brittle, an evident popular variant.

Robert de Brichwell, co. Wilts, Hen. III—Edw. I. K. Simon de Brichtewell, co. Northampt., 1273. A.

Turstan de Brictewell, co. Ox., ibid. 1675. Buried—Benjamin Brightwell: Kensington Ch. p. 147.

1806. Married—Edward Bailey and Hannah Brightwell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 342.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Brightwin, Brightwen.—Bapt. 'the son of Brightwin,' or 'Bertwine' (v. Yonge, ii. 404).

Thomas Brightwyn, 1535: Reg. Univ. Ox. i. 184.

1586. William Brightewyn, of London, and Johanna Tournor: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 156.

London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 0, 1.

Brignall, Bricknall, Bricknell.—Local, 'of Brignall,' a village in the North Rid. Yorks, near Greta Bridge. Brignall early gave rise to a surname, and, of course, it has occasionally changed itself into Bricknall and Bricknell. The progressive stages are easily marked, as the instances below demonstrate.

Thomas de Briggenale, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 228.

1664. Married—George Ogleby and Hester Brignell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 114.

1675. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Nicolas Brignell: ibid. i. 270.

1764. Married—William Bricknell and Winifred Profit: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 130.

1774. —Richard Heard and Winifred Bricknall: ibid. p. 236.

London, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0.

Brigstock.—Local, 'of Brigstock,' a parish in co. Northampton, twenty-two miles from Northampton.

Walter de Brigestok, co. Linc., 1273. A.

1631. John Brigstock and Francis Sutton: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), P. 33.

1663. George Brigstocke (Sussex) and Margaret Seares: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 99.

1763. Married—William Burgin and Mary Brigstock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 128. London, 1.

Brimson.—(1) Local; probably a corruption of Brimstone: cf. Kelson for Kelston, &c. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Bryan,' a corruption of Bryanson, v. Bryan. For change of n to m, cf. Sinkinson for Simkinson, or Stimpson for Stinson, i.e. Stevenson.

Adam de Brymston, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 258.

1633. John Brimson, of Shevington, co. Lanc.: Wills at Chester, ii. 34.

1638. George Brimson, of Mawdsley: ibid.

1777. Married—George Card and Ann Brimson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. p. 276. London, 2.

Brinkman, Bringeman, Brinkman, Brinkmann.—An imported surname. Lower says, 'Brinkman; from Hanover with George I' (Patr. Brit. p. 41). In co. Lincoln this surname seems to have assumed the form of Bringeman.

1740. Married—John Richard Brinkman and Ann Bingley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 24.

1778. Married—George Brinkman and Mary Richardson: ibid. p. 293.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1, 4, 0, 0; London, 0, 0, 4, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 8, 2.

Brindle.—Local, 'of Brindle,' a village near Chorley, co. Lancaster.

James Brindle, of Chorley, yeoman, 1608: Wills at Chester, i. 29.

John Brindle, of Walton-le-dale, 1620: ibid.

1662. Robert Brindle: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 126.

Liverpool, 3; Chorley (co. Lanc.), 8; New York, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Brindley.—Local, 'of Brindley,' a township in the parish of Acton, co. Chester.

1575. Edmund Brindley, of Ex. Coll.: Reg. Univ. Ox. i. 389.

1637. John Brindley, of Macfen, parish of Malpas: Wills at Chester, ii. 34.

1642. John Brindley, of Hampton, co. Chester: ibid.

1748. Married—George Bates and Eliz. Mary Brindley: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 112.

London, 3.

Brindsley, Brinsley.—Local, 'of Brinsley,' i.e. the meadow belonging to Brun, the first settler or proprietor. The d is intrusive.

Roger de Brunlesleghe, 1282. M.

Gilbert de Brunlesleghe, 1277. ibid.

Robert de Brunysleghe, co. Notts, 1273. A.

Gilbert de Brunysleghe, co. Notts: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 123.

1618. Buried—Eliz., wife of Mathew Brinsley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 142.

London, 0, 1.

Brine.—Bapt. 'theson of Brien';

v. Bryan. The first five following belong to one family:

Thomas Bryne, 1539: Reg. Broad Chalke, co. Wilts, p. 6.

Jone Brine, 1570: ibid. p. 1.

Walter Bryne, 1638: ibid. p. 5.

Margaret Brine, 1657: ibid. p. 22.

William Bryan, 1740: ibid. p. 57.

1586. Thomas Bryn, of Kilkenny: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 152.

1688. Robert Bryne, co. Dorset: ibid. p. 154.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 2.

Bringhurst.—Local, 'of Bringhurst,' a parish in co. Leic., near Rockingham.

1614. Thomas Cooper and Eliz. Bringhurst: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 29.

1748. Married—John Bringhurst and Eliz. Somerset: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 327.

Philadelphia, 17.

Bringman, Brinkman ; v. Brinckman.

Brinkley, Brinckley.—Local, 'of Brinkley,' a parish in co. Camb., near Newmarket.

Martin de Brenkelee, co. Camb., 1273. A. Robert de Brinkele, co. Camb., ibid. 1665. Buried—Lawrans Brinkley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 367.

1748. Married—James Brinkley and Louise Bouquet: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 103.

London, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 9.

Brinklow.—Local, 'of Brinklow,' a parish in co. Warwick, near Coventry.

1743. Married—William Brinklow and Phillis Logie: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 30. London, 1.

Brinkworth.—Local, 'of Brinkworth,' a parish in co. Wilts, near Wotton Bassett.

1783. Married—William Addis and Sarah Brinkworth: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 342. London, 3; MDB. (co. Soms.), 3; (co. Wilts), 2; Philadelphia, 6.

Brinton.—Local, 'of Brinton,' a parish in co. Norfolk, near Holt.

Adam de Brinton, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Thomas de Brinton, co. Hunts, ibid. Richard de Brinton, co. Northampton, Hen. III—Edw. I, K.

1620. William Brinton and Johanna Griffith: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 26.

1784. Married—John Brinton and Eliz. James: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 365. London, 2; Philadelphia, 25.

Briscoe, Briscoe, Brisco.—Local, 'of Briscoe,' a spot close by Newbiggin, co. Cumb. (v. E. & F., c. Cumb., pp. 84-5), spelt variously Birkskeugh, Bruskowgh, and Briskow. Hence the origin is Birkshaw (the Birchwood); v. Birks and Shaw.

Isold de Briskow, E. & F., co. Cumb., p. 84.

William Brys(k)how, co. York, 1410. W. 11.

1586. William Briskoo, co. Cumb.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 155.

1592. John Briscoe, co. Herts: ibid. p. 192.

1788. Married—Edward Briscoe and Catherine Pheasy: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 15.

London, 3, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 13, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 4, 0, 4.

Bristo, Bristow, Bristowe, Bristoll.—Local, 'of Bristol,' an old provincialism. Latimer, in a letter to Lord Cromwell, speaks of 'Gloucester and Bristow' (Parker Soc. Letters to Lord Cromwell, p. 190).

John de Bristoll, co. Soms.: Kirby's Quest, p. 87.

Thomas de Bristoll, co. Soms.: ibid. p. 190.

Richard de Bristowe, co. Soms.: ibid. p. 271.

Jane Mericke, of Bristow: Visit. of London, 1634, i. 217.

Philip Grene, de Bristow: Visit. of Glouc., 1623, p. 98.

1582. Francis Bristow, co. Heref.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 118.

1750. Bapt.—John James Bristol, a black man: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 10. London, 1, 24, 5, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 8, 0, 4; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 0, 1.

Brittain, Brittan, Britten, Britton, Britain, Brittin, Britann.—(1) Local, 'of Brittany.' (2) Nick. 'the Breton.' Immigrants from Brittany. A very large number occur in the Hundred Rolls of 1273.

John de Brytaygn, co. Camb., 1273. A. Giffard le Bretun, co. Bucks, ibid.

Hugo le Bretun, co. Camb., ibid.

Roger le Bretun, co. Suff., ibid.

Alicia de Britten, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 185.

Elias de Britton, 1379: ibid.

Ricardus Britton, 1379: ibid.

1790. Married—William Britten and Anne Keene: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 52.

1796. — John Britton and Sarah Wilkins: ibid. ii. 150.

London, 7, 4, 11, 13, 3, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 9, 1, 1, 57, 0, 16, 2.

Brittle.—? Bapt. 'the son of Britell.' But it may be a corruption of Britwell, a parish in co. Oxford, and also a liberty so termed in the parish of Burnham, co. Bucks. This modification would be very natural; v. Brightwell.

Richard de Brittewell, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Eadmund de Britwell, co. Camb., ibid. Britellus de Ambreres, Hen. III—Edw. I, K.

1626. John Darling and Jane Britle: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 176.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Brittoner, Brettner.—Local, 'the Brittoner,' a native of Britany; v. Brett.

'A Bretoner, a braggere.'

Piers P. 4105.

'He buffeted the Bretoner.'

Ibid. 4148.

1599. Thomas Brettner and Ann Kyn-ton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 262.

Joel Brettner, linen draper, Penistone, co. York.

MDB. (West Riding Yorks.), 0, 1.

Broad.—(1) Nick. 'the broad,' i.e. the stout, the broad-shouldered. M.E. brod, broad.

'It was almost a spanne brode I trowe.'

Chaucer, C. T. 155.

Cf. Broadbelt.

(2) Local, 'at the broad,' from residence thereby. Broad: a wide place; cf. the Norfolk Broads. Oxford undergraduates still talk of 'the Broad,' for Broad Street in that city.

John le Brode. B.

Richard le Brod, temp. 1310. M.

Katerina Brode, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 21.

Johannes Brode, 1379: ibid.

Alicia Brode, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 115.

Henry atte Brude, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 132.

Michele le Brode, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 184.

1589. John Brode, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 172.

1803. Married—John Surman and Sarah Broad: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 291.

London, 23; Philadelphia, 4.

Broadbelt.—Nick. 'broadbelt,' stout, with a wide waist. Found in Lanc. and Yorkshire. Sobriquets of this sort were common (v. Broadgirdle).

Joan Broydelt, co. York. W. 2.

Robert Brodebelt, co. York. W. 17.

Adam Bradbelt, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 275.

Dorothy Broadbelt, Cal. State Papers, 1562.

Thomas Brodbelt, churchwarden of Prestbury, 1820: East Cheshire, ii. 188.

Wakefield Dir., 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Broadbent.—Local, 'at the broad bent,' i.e. the broad bend in the land (v. Bent). The precise spot I cannot find. It is, or was, undoubtedly in South-East Lanc., on the borders of Yorks., and probably in the parish of Saddleworth.

1579. Lawrence Bradbent, Ball. Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. iii. 84.

1590. Alice Broadbent, of Saddleworth, spinster: Wills at Chester, i. 29.

1630. George Broadbent, of Harrep, Saddleworth: ibid. ii. 34.

1646. James Broadbent, of 'the Green,' in Saddleworth: ibid.

Manchester, 19; London, 5; Philadelphia, 40.

Broadbotham.—Local, 'of Broadbottom,' a hamlet in the parish of Mottram-in-Longendale, co. Chester (v. Botham, Longbottom, &c.). The meaning is 'the broad hollow.'

Simon de Brodebotham (without date): East Ches. ii. 154.

1330. William de Brodebotham, ibid.
In 1393-4, Agnes, the widow of Robert de Woley, grants to Robert de Staveley all the messuages, lands, &c., in le Brodebotham, which came to her as dower': ibid.

Antony Wild, of Broadbotham, 1608: Wills at Chester, i. 209.

Broadbridge.—Local, 'at the broad bridge.' I cannot identify the spot.

1750. Married—Thomas Edwards and Ann Broadbridge: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 160.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Broadfield.—Local, 'at the broad field,' from residence thereby; cf. Bradfield.

John del Brodefeld, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 118.

Meurik del Brodefeld, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 36.

1746. Married—Richard Ward and Eliz. Broadfield: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 78.

1808. — William Henry Broadfield and Eliz. Forbes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 381. Manchester, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Broadgirdle.—Nick. for a paunchy man; cf. Broadbelt.

William Brodgirdel, co. Notts, 1273. A.

Broadhay.—Local, 'at the broad hay,' i.e. broad hedge or enclosure; v. Hay and Hayes.

Robert de Brodheye, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Broadhead, Brodhead.—Local, 'at the broad head,' i.e. a wide headland, from residence thereby; cf. Birkett, Blackett, Redhead, Whitehead, &c. Some of these, doubtless, are nicknames.

Adam del Brodeheued, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 113.

Alan del Brodeheued, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid.

Walter Brodheved, co. Camb., 1273. A. Johannes Braydhed, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 121.

Edmund Broadheade, temp. Eliz. ZZ. 1572. Married—Roger Brodharde and Tymothe (sic) Porte: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 10.

1610. Richard Broadhead, Anglesea: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 316.

London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 3; New York, 4, 7.

Broadhurst.—Local, 'of Broadhurst,' i.e. the broad wood (v. Hurst). The Cheshire Broadhursts spring from some small spot in the east of the county, but I have failed to discover its whereabouts.

1566. Married—Radulf Brodehurst and Eliz. Barlowe: Prestbury Ch. (co. Chester), p. 19.

1597. — John Brodehurst and Eliz. Blagge: ibid. p. 23.

1592. John Broadhurst, of Sandbach: Wills at Chester, i. 29.

1607. Richard Broadhurst, of Sutton, parish of Prestbury: ibid.

1683. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Ralph Broadhurst: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 304.

1756. Married—William Broadhurst and Sarah Tagg: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 65.

London, 5; Manchester, 6; MDB. (co. Chester), 3; Philadelphia, 8.

Broadmeadow, Broadmead.

—Local, 'at the broad meadow' or 'mead,' from residence thereby; v. Medd. Cf. Broadfield, Bradfield.

Roger atte Brodmed, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 138.

1642. Bapt.—Marye, d. of Thomas Broadmeadowe: St. Mary Aldermar, p. 88.

1724. Married—William Bradmead and Mary Mackeleon: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 63.

Manchester, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Soms.), 0, 4.

Broadribb.—Local; v. Broderip.

Broadwater.—Local, 'of Broadwater,' a parish in co. Sussex, near Worthing.

(Dominus) de Brawwater, co. Sussex, 1273. A.

1590-1. Isaac Geslinge and Mary Brawdwater: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 100.

1610. Buried—Anne, wife of Thomas Bradwater: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 107.

1623. — John Broadwater: St. Mary Aldermar, p. 161.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 9.

Broadway.—(1) Local, 'at the Broadway,' from residence there beside; cf. Greenway, Ridgway, &c.

(2) Local; more particularly 'of Broadway,' parishes in cos. Dorset, Worcester, and Somerset.

Hugh del Brodweye, co. Camb., 1273. A. John de Broadways, prepositor of Bristol, 1225: YYY. p. 669.

Ernald de Bradeway, co. Norf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Adam de Bradeweie, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 110.

John de Bradeweie, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

1579. Buried—John Brodwaye: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 198.

— Danyell Brodwaye: ibid.

1601. Thomas Bradway, sheriff of Bristol: YYY. p. 695.

London, 3; New York, 7.

Broadwood.—Local, 'of the Broadwood,' from residence thereby.

Walter de Brodwode, co. Soms. A.

1563. Married—Rycharde Bradwode and Alyce Dayle: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 8.

London, 2.

Brocas.—Local, 'of Brocas.'

The two representatives in the London Directory, one a botanist, the other a fishing-tackle maker, may probably congratulate themselves in being the descendants of some junior branch of the Hereditary Masters of the Royal Buck-hounds. They hailed from the district of Sault and St. Sever.

For a full account, v. 'The Family of Brocas of Beaurepaire, and Roche Court': by Professor Montagu Burrows (Longmans, 1886).

I quote two entries from the book simply to prove the local origin.

Arnald de Brokays, 1315.

John de Brocas, 1340.

1578. Pexall Broccas, co. Bucks: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 80.

1661. Sir William Gardiner and Jane Brocas: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 51.

London, 2; New York, 1.

Brock.—(1) Nick. 'the brock,' i.e. the badger. 'Thei wenten about in brok skynnes': Heb. xi. 37 (Wyclif).

Robert le Brokk, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 86.

William le Broc, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 93.

Gilbert le Brok, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Henry le Brok, co. Devon, ibid.

Walter le Broc, co. Glouc., ibid.

(2) Local, 'at the brock'; v. Brook.

Laurence del Broc, co. Herts, 1273. A.

Jocens de la Brok, co. Kent, ibid.

Geoffrey de la Brok, co. Kent, ibid.

William del Brok, co. Essex, ibid.

London, 23; Philadelphia, 28.

Brockbank.—Local; v. Brooks-

Brockhill.—Local, 'of the brock-hole,' from residence thereby; v. Brock. Of course the brock-hill, i.e. the hill frequented by brocks, may be the parent, but the evidence below seems to point to hole and not hill as the true suffix. But v. Brooksbank.

Johannes de Brokehole, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 65.

Magota Brokehole, 1379: ibid.

1742. Married—Thomas Brockell and Mary Pearse: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 19.

1791. — William Fitz-herbert Brockholes and Mary Heneage: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 62.

London, 1.

Brookhouse, Brookhouse.—Local, 'at the brook-house,' the house by the brook. More specifically 'of Brookhouse,' a hamlet in the parish of Laughton-en-le-Morthen, co. York.

William del Brokhouses, of Ecclestoncum-Heskin, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 50.

Hugo de Brokehouse, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 57.

Alicia de Brokehouse, 1379: ibid. p. 81.
1588. John Henley and Margaret Brockhus: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 174.

1791. Married—William Chapman and Mary Brookhouse: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 57.

London, 1, 0; Manchester, 0, 1; New York, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 2.

Brocklebank, Brockelbank.—Local, 'of Brocklebank,' a township in the parish of Westward, near Wigton, co. Cumb.

1576. Bapt.—Cristorfer Brockbanke: Reg. Ulverston Ch. p. 67.

This register terms with entries relating to Brockbank and Brocklebank. The surnames still abound in Cumberland and Furness.

1632. John Brockelbank, or Brockilbancke: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 344.

William Brockelbank, rector of Southacre, co. Norf., 1725: FF. vi. 84.

London, 1, 1; Manchester, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Cumb.), 1, 0; New York, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 2.

Brockley.—Local, 'of Brockley,' a parish seven miles from Bury St. Edmunds, co. Suffolk.

1325. William de Brokkeley, rector of Howe, co. Norf.: FF. viii. 27.

Peter de Brokeley, co. Norf., temp. Hen. III: ibid. x. 155.

Lescelina de Brokeley, co. Norf., temp. Hen. III: ibid.

John Brocklee, rector of North Lynn, co. Norf., 1420: ibid. viii. 540.

Philadelphia, 2.

Broderick, Brodrick.—Bapt. 'the son of Baldrick' (Yonge, ii. 210). The intrusive r is the r in the second syllable thrown back; cf. Crewdson from Cuthbert, from the nick. Crewd or Crud, and Broderip or Brodrib (also Broadribb, Lon. Dir.) from Bawdrip, a manor near Bridgewater; v. Baldrey.

Hugh fil. Baldrici, Domesday.

Balderic Piscinar, London, 1273. A. Bauderic (without surname), London, ibid.

Baldric de Bosco, co. Suff., ibid.

Baldric de Taverham, co. Norf., 1327: FF. x. 472.

Thomas Bradryk, co. York, 1510: W. 11, p. 171.

1722. Bapt.—Charles Adams Baldrick: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 123.

London, 3, 5; Philadelphia, 25, 0; Boston (U.S.), 47, 5.

Broderip, Brodrib, Brodrick, Broadribb, Brodrupp.—

Local, 'of Bawdrip,' a parish near Bridgewater, co. Somerset (cf. Broderick for the intrusive r in the first syllable). Most of the variants are still found in co. Somerset, and are undoubtedly to be referred to Broderip.

Christopher Broadripp, co. Soms., 1610: Abstract of Somersetshire Wills, p. 15.

Peter Brodrippe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 204.

1581. Thomas Brodrib, co. Soms.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 105.

—William Brodrybbe, co. Soms.: ibid. p. 106.

1748. Bapt.—Charles, s. William Broderip: Canterbury Cath., p. 20.

London, 0, 1, 0, 1, 0; Crockford, 0, 0, 2, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Soms.), 1, 0, 1, 0, 1.

Brogden.—Local, 'of Brogden.' M.E. brok, a badger; A.S. broc (v. Brock (1)) and den; M.E. dene, a valley (v. Dean). A township in the parish of Barnoldswick, ten miles from Skipton, co. York. Other spots were probably so called. With this lazy pronunciation of Brocken, cf. Slagg for Slack, &c.

Cristiana de Boroghden (?), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 207.

William Brockden, co. York, 1544: W. 11, p. 233.

1579. Dennis Brogdon and Eliz. Galand: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 87.

1687. Richard Brocken, or Brogden, alderman of Norwich: FF. iii. 423.

1741. Ingram Brogden: Ch. Accounts, Skipton (Hist. of Skipton, p. 363).

1769. 'To George Brocken, for repairing the clock 5 li. 15s. 6d.': ibid. p. 164. London, 4; West Riding Court Dir., 2; Philadelphia, 3.

Broker, Brooker.—Occup. 'the broker,' an agent in business transactions.

'And gart bakbityng be a brocour
To blame mennes ware.'

Piers Plowman, 2731-2.

William le Brokour, Fines Roll, 19 Edw. II.

Elena Brocker, C. R., 5 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Adam Brocker, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 235.

1426. Nicholas Broker: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting (2).

1798. Married—Soloman Brooker and Eliz. Hale: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 191.

1807. — William Broker and Eliz. Jaquest: ibid. ii. 378.

London, 0, 12; Philadelphia, 0, 7.

Bromage.—Local, 'of Bromwich' (v. Bromwich); cf. Bowdage for Bowditch (q.v.). Proof, if needed, is furnished below:

John Bromage, patron of Bromsberrow Vicarage, co. Glouc., 1583: Atkyn's Hist. of Gloucestershire, p. 158.

The true name of the patron was John Bromwich. Thus this variant is, at least, three centuries old.

1581. Thomas Bromidge, co. Berks: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 98.

1771. Married—William Bromage and Ann Willcox: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 212. London, 2.

Bromet, Bromhead.—Local; v. Broomhead.

Bromfield; v. Broomfield.

Bromley, Bromly, Bromley.—Local, 'of Bromley.' (1) A parish in co. Kent; (2) a township in the parish of Eccleshall, co. Stafford. Also Bromley Abbots and Bromley Bagots in co. Stafford, and Great Bromley in Essex, &c.

Thomas de Bromleh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 256.

Robert de Bromlegh, co. Salop, 1273. A. Geoffrey de Bromleye, co. Stafford, ibid.

Johannes de Bromylegh, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 9.

1573. Buried—Edward Bromley: St. Antholin (London), p. 23.

1587. Married—Walter Bromeley and Joane Mouldinge: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 13.

1587. Married—Richard Bromley and Amye Mawdes: ibid.

West Riding Court Dir., 6, o, o; London, 19, 1, o; MDB. (co. Stafford), 5, o, o; (co. Salop), 11, o, o; Philadelphia, 35, o, 7.

Brommell; v. Brummell.

Bromwich.—Local, 'of Bromwich.' (1) Little Bromwich, a hamlet in the parish of Aston, co. Warwick; (2) West Bromwich, a parish in co. Stafford; (3) Castle Bromwich, a chapelry in the parish of Aston, co. Warwick (v. Bromage).

1671-2. Thomas Brumwyche and Eliz. Smith: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 68.

1748. Married—Joseph Breedon and Mary Bromwich: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 128.

1772. — Joseph Gunningham and Eliz. Bromwich: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 226.

London, 2; MDB. (co. Warwick), 2; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Brook, Brooke, Brookes, Brooks.—Local, 'at the brook,' one who lived by the brook-side. Common to all parts of England, and is especially one of the great local surnames of Yorkshire. The s is customary in these short spot-names; cf. Briggs, Styles. Possibly it is the patronymic s, as in Jones, Williams, &c.; of this I cannot be sure.

Edelina del Brok, Hen. III-Edw. I. K. Robertus del Brok', ibid.

Alice de la Broke, 1273. A.

Laurence del Broc, ibid.

William atte Broke, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 81.

Richard atte-Brook, vicar of Horseford, co. Norf., 1419: FF. x. 436.

1604. Bapt.—Edward, s. Hugh Brooke: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 44.

1616. John Thornell and Martha Brookes: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 44. London, 17, 28, 17, 121; Philadelphia, 22, 43, 6, 228.

Brooker; v. Broker.

Brookfield.—Local, 'at the field by the brook,' from residence thereby.

Adam del Brokefeld, of Ormskirk, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 110.

Gilbert del Brokefeld, of Burscough, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 117.

George Brookfield, of Kingsley, yeoman, 1637: Wills at Chester, ii. 35.

Liverpool, 6; Manchester, 1; London, 2; Philadelphia, 5.

Brookhouse; v. Brockhouse.

Brooksbank, Brookbank, Brookbanks, Brockbank.—Local, 'at the brook's bank,' from residence by the bank of the brook; cf. North English Gillbanks, q.v. In some cases Brockbank may be a variant of Brocklebank, q.v. I suggest this because Brockbank runs side by side with Brocklebank in North Lancashire (Furness district), which is not far from Brocklebank in co. Cumberland. Brockbank, too, is common as a surname in the latter county. There is no reason to suppose that Brock, a badger, has any connexion with these names; v. Brock (2).

Thomas Brokesbank', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 187.

1591. Married—Florence Cawdwell and Sibell Brokebanck: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 15.

1777. John Brockbank and Louisa Maria Nicholson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 273.

1779. — Christopher Smirthwaite and Eliz. Brooksbank: ibid. i. 300.

West Riding Court Dir., 7, o, o, o; London, 3, 1, 2, 2; MDB. (co. Cumb.), 1, o, o, 5; Boston (U.S.), o, o, o, 3; Philadelphia, o, 1, o, o.

Brookshaw, Bruckshaw.—Local, 'of Brookshaw,' i.e. the wood by the brook, from residence thereby (v. Brook and Shaw). Some spot in East Cheshire probably, but I cannot as yet discover it. As will be seen from the entries below, the two forms of the surname have a common parent.

1574. Married—John Brookeshawe and Anne Clarke: Prestbury Ch. (co. Ches.), p. 45.

John Brookshaw, of Stockport, 1618: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 30.

George Bruckshaw, of Bredbury, 1611: ibid. p. 32.

John Brookshaw, of Bredbury, 1622: Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 12.

Henry Brookshaw, of Bradbury, 1670: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 45.

1775. Married—Thomas Bruckshaw and Ann Waterer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 258.

MDb. (co. Ches.), o, 1; Manchester, 2, 4; London, o, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1, o.

Broom, Broome.—Local, 'of the broom,' from residence near the plant so called; cf. Furse, Gorst, &c. The Norfolk Brooms have generally become corrupted to Bloom, q.v. They are generally, but not always, 'of Brome,' a parish in the dioc. of Norwich.

William de Broom, co. Norf., 1273. A. Henry de Broom, co. Norf., ibid.

Eustace de la Brome, co. Kent, ibid. Nicholas atte Brome, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 146.

William atte Brome, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 260.

Willelmus del Brome, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 32.

Rogerus del Brome, 1379: ibid. p. 31. Robert atte Broom, rector of Sengham, co. Norf., 1338: FF. vii. 197.

Adam de Brome, co. Norf., 1322: ibid. ix. 209.

1587. Bapt.—James, s. Henry Brome: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 19.

1777. Married—John Sutton and Sarah Broome: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 279.

London, 23, o; MDB. (Suffolk), 2, o; (Essex), 1, 2; Philadelphia, 16, 8.

Brooman.—Occur. v. (1) Berryman, or (2) Bowerman. Doubtless a modification of one or the other. Nevertheless it may be baptismal, meaning 'the son of Bruman.'

Bruan de Riche, co. Oxf., 1273. A. 1749. Buried—Henry Brooman: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 228.

London, 2.

Broomfield, Bromfield.—Local, 'of Bromfield,' parishes in cos. Cumberland and Salop. Also 'of Broomfield,' parishes in cos. Somerset, Kent, and Essex. Doubtless many small spots in various counties have also helped to swell the total.

Harno de Bromfeld, co. Kent, 1273. A. Walter Bromfeld, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 100.

William Bromfeld, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 278.

Robert Bromfield, of Witton, 1602: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 29.

Thomas Broomfield, of Stretton, 1588: ibid. p. 31.

1619. Ralph Bromfield, co. York: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 379.

London, 3, 3; Manchester, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 1.

Broomhall.—Local; v. Bramhall.

Broomhead, Brummett, Bromhead, Bromet.—Local, 'of Broomhead,' an estate in Hamshire, co. York, which passed from the family through an heiress so early as temp. Ric. II. 'Courtheose's Debreit, quoted by Lower (Patr. Brit. p. 42). This surname with several variants is still well known in the West Riding, and has come down through some junior or independent stock. Brummett and Bromet are very natural corruptions; cf. Birkett for Birkhead, q.v., or Beckett for Beckhead, q.v. Broomhead means the topmost reach or 'head of the broom,' from residence thereby, just as Birkett means the topmost reach or 'head of the birch-trees'; cf. Akenhead, q.v. In the same way side was used (v. Garside and Akenside).

1667. Married—John Broomehead and Alice Bates : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 131.

1717. — George Simpson and Mary Brummett : ibid. iii. 241.

1772. — John Bromhead and Eliz. Raine : St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 217.

1784. — William Lusty and Eliz. Brumhead : ibid. i. 356.

MDB. (West Rid. Yorks), 6, o, 1, 2; Boston (U.S.), o, 4, o, 1; Philadelphia, 5, o, 1, o.

Brotherhood, Brotherhead.—Local, 'of the brotherhood.' One of a religious confraternity or convent. 'As for their school, it hath been maintained heretofore by a brotherhood called a Gylde, I trow not without some guile': Latimer to Lord Cromwell, 1538 (Remains, Parker Soc. p. 403).

Nicholas Brotherhood. PP.
John Brotherhood, co. York. W. 20.
London, 1, o; Philadelphia, o, 3.

Brothers.—Nick, 'the brother,' gen. brother's.

William le Brother, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Thomas le Bruther, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III : Kirby's Quest, p. 233.

John Brother, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III : ibid. p. 255.

1621. John Brothers and Alice Harris : Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 104.

1666. Robert Milwarde and Susanne Brother : Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 186.

London, 2; Ulverston, 1; Boston (U.S.), 6.

Brotherton.—Local, 'of Brotherton,' a parish in the rural deanery of Pontefract, co. York.

Alex. de Brotherton, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Walterus de Brotherton, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 155.

Ricardus de Brotherton, 1379 : ibid.

Thomas de Brotherton, co. Norf., temp. 1340 : FF. i. 230.

1623. Michael Brotherton and Joanna Price : Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 29.
1702. Married—Richard Brotherton and Drusilla Pearson : St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 88.

London, 6; Philadelphia, 6.

Brough.—Local, 'of Brough,' Parishes, hamlets, and townships in cos. Westm., Derby, N. Rid. and E. Rid. Yorks., &c.

William de Bruggh, 1273. A. (No county mentioned.)

1566-7. Arthur Browghe and Alice Clarrys : Marriage Lic. (London), i. 35.

1684. Henry Furnis and Ann Brough : Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 181.

1744. Married—Philip Lambeth and Hannah Brough : St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 34.

1748. — John Maxwell and Margaret Brow : ibid. p. 104.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 7.

Brougham.—Local, 'of Brougham,' a parish in co. Westm., near Penrith.

William de Brouham, co. Norf., 1273. A.
1742. Married—Thomas Taylor and Dorothy Brougham : St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 30.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 1; MDB. (Westm.), 1.

Broughton.—Local, 'of Broughton.' Parishes, hamlets, chapelries, and townships in cos. Hants, Bucks, Lancs., Linc., Northampton, Oxford, Salop, Hants, Stafford, &c. Originally no doubt for Borough-town.

Mathew de Brouhton, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Honé de Brôton, co. Salop, ibid.

William de Brouhton, co. Hunts, ibid.

John de Brouhton, co. Oxf., ibid.

1520. John Bassett and Eliz. Broughton : Marriage Lic. (London), i. 7.

1588. Buried—Margery, d. John Broughton : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 38.

1666. Christopher Broughton and Martha Temple : Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 95.

London, 9; Boston (U.S.), 6.

Brown, Browne.—(r) Bapt. 'the son of Brun' (i.e. Brown), whence also Brownson, q.v. In Domesday Brun appears as a personal name; cf. German Bruno. Brown stands sixth among the surnames of England and Wales in point of numbers.

Gamel fil Brun, c. Hen. I : E. and F., co. Cumb., p. 49.

Brun Edrith, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Matilda relicta Brun, co. Oxf., ibid.
Brune relicta Johannis, co. Camb., ibid.
Reginald fil. Brun. MM.
Willelmus Brunson, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 273.

(2) Nick. 'the brown,' a sobriquet of complexion, extremely common in all early registers.

Hugh le Brun, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Robert le Brun, co. Bucks, ibid.
Johanna la Brune, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert Broun, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III : Kirby's Quest, p. 219.

Willelmus Broune, et uxor, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 193.

London, 647, 63; Philadelphia, 1636, 20.

Brownbeard.—Nick. 'John Brownberd, son of William, a hostage from Galloway' (Letters from Northern Registers, p. 163). Janet Brownbeard was an inmate of St. Thomas' Hospital, York, Feb. 6, 1553 (Corpus Christi Guild, Surt. Soc. p. 304). The sobriquet was clearly hereditary for a time.

New York, 1.

Brownbill.—? Local. Probably an imitative corruption of some local surname at a time when the brownbill (the halbert of the English foot-soldier) was a familiar term.

1561. Buried—Eliz. Brownbell : Prestbury Ch. (co. Ches.), p. 5.

1565. — Joane Brownbell : ibid. p. 17.

George Brombell, of Poynton, 1573.

Nicholas Brombill, of Roby, 1608.

Lawrence Brownbell, of Poynton, 1602 : Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 29.

Oliver Brownbill, of Kirkby, 1614 : ibid. p. 31.

Thus it is clear that our Brownbills have no connexion with the old weapon of the English infantry. The variants in the registers of Prestbury Church (co. Ches.) are Brownbill, Brambell, Broombill, Brownbell, and Brownbell. The earliest entries (1560-80) are almost always Brownbell.

Manchester, 3; Liverpool, 2.

Brownett, Brunet, Brunett.—Bapt. 'the son of Brown,' from Brun or Brune, dim. Brunett; v. Brown.

Brunetta uxor Salomonis. T.
1676. Lewis Brunet and Dorthory Collet : Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 174.

London, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 5, 2; New York, 0, 1, 1.

Browning, Brunning, Brunwin.—Bapt. 'the son of Browning,' sometimes Bruning. The name was very popular.

Henry Brunwyne, co. Suff., 1273. A. John Brunwyn, co. Suff., ibid. Richard Brunwyn, co. Linc., ibid. Avice Bruning, co. Camb., ibid. John Bruning, co. Norf., ibid. Roger Bruning, London, ibid. Ivo Brunig, co. Hunts, ibid. Brounyng le Fox, co. Soms., 1 Edw. I: Kirby's Quest, p. 81. Brounyng Bycheheye, co. Soms., 1 Edw. I: ibid. p. 94. Agnes Browning, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 287. 1804. Married—John Garrard and Ann Brunning: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. p. 313. 1809. — Stephen Browning and Elizabeth Yarrow: ibid. p. 409. London, 48, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 40, 0, 0.

Brownjohn.—Nick. 'brown John,' a reversal of John Brown; cf. Prettijohn, Littlejohn. John was so common as a font-name that a qualifying adjective was necessary to identify the different bearers of the name, especially in days when all the sons in a family might be called John (v. my Curiosities of Puritan Nomenclature, p. 4). The same remark applies to Brownrobert, q.v.

'Eleanor Swetenham married to Henry Brownjohn, gent,' c. 1720: East Cheshire, ii. 648.

1676. Nathaniel Ferebee and Sarah Brownjohn: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 182. London, 3; MDB. (co. Surrey), 1.

Brownnutt.—Nick. Probably a variant of Brownnett, q.v. I do not suppose it is a reversal of the syllables in Nutbrown, q.v.

1779. Married—Richard Poppel and Sarah Brownnutt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 306.

1800. — William Brownnutt and Diana Williams: ibid. ii. 215. London, 1.

Brownridge, Brownrigg.—Local, 'at the brown ridge,' from residence thereby. I cannot find the spot, but it looks North English.

1589. Buried—Helen, d. Peter Brownrigge (Brownridge): St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 39.

1639-40. — Margaret Brownerigg: ibid. iv. 241.

1643. Buried—Margaret, wife of Roger Brownerigg: ibid. iv. 259.

1784. Married—Peter Brownridge and Jane Barker: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 335. London, 2, 4; Boston (U.S.), 0, 2.

Brownrobert, Brownrobin.—Nick. 'brown Robert' or 'brown Robin,' a mere reversal of Robert Brown; v. Brownjohn. Brownrobin, or Brunrobyn, occurs as a surname in the archives of Yarmouth (Norfolk Arch. Soc. iv. 253). In the following instance the same individual took four successive oaths to observe the privileges of the University:

Richard Brownerobarts, citizen of Oxford, 1567: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 306.

Richard Brownrobins, citizen of Oxford, 1569: ibid.

Richard Brownerobins, citizen of Oxford, 1570: ibid. p. 301.

Richard Brownrobert, citizen of Oxford, 1573: ibid. p. 302.

1567. Richard Brownroberts, or Brownrobins: ibid. i. 410.

Brownshank.—Nick. 'Brownshank'; cf. Redshank, Shortshank, Sheepshank, &c.

Johannes Brouneshank, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 53.

Brownsmith.—Occup. 'the brownsmith,' a worker in copper and brass; cf. Whitesmith, Blacksmith, Redsmith, and Greensmith. I fear this name is obsolete.

William Brownsmith, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 107.

Willelmus Bronesmyth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 166.

Simon Bronsmyth, 1379: ibid. p. 163.

'Rallyn Bronsmyth, of Midelham,' 1447, co. York: QQQ. p. 242.

William Brownsmith, rector of Stiffkey, co. Norf., 1559: FF. ix. 253.

1581. William Brownsmith, co. Essex: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 111.

1694. Richard Soame and Mary Brownsmith: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 213.

Brownson.—Bapt. 'the son of Brown.'

1776. Married—Stephen Brunson and Jane Boulton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 271.

For other instances, v. Brown (1).

Manchester, 3; New York, 2.

Brownsnain.—Nick. John Brownsweyn, P.; Thomas Brouneswayne, C.R., 13 Ric. II. pt. i.

Swain here may be Swain, a font-name, or swain, a peasant (v. Swain).

Brownsword, Brownsworth.—Local, 'of Brownsword,' or 'Brownsward' (v. Worth). The following entry: Richard Whitswerd, C.R., 6 Edw. III, seems to prove -ward the suffix; cf. Greensward. On the other hand the register of Prestbury Church, co. Cheshire, the district in which the surname seems to have arisen, has it indifferently Brownsword and Brownsward, and the former still exists in the neighbouring directories.

John Brownsword, master of Macclesfield Grammar School, 1561: East Cheshire, ii. 518.

1583. Married—Randell Brownsworth and Ellen Fernley: Reg. Prestbury Ch. p. 79.

1607. — John Brandreth and Dorothe Brownsorde: ibid. p. 176.

1622. George Newall and Eliz. Brownsword: ibid. p. 236.

Richard Brownsword, AA. 3.

Thomas Brownsword, temp. Eliz. ZZ.

1707. Married—William Brownsword and Elizabeth Akerman: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 54.

1726. Buried—Ellis Brownsword: St. Antholin (London), p. 158.

Liverpool, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 3.

Browse; v. Brewhouse.

Broxholm.—Local, 'of Broxholme,' a parish in co. Lincoln, near Lincoln.

1570. Thomas Broxsam and Ann Lawghton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 45.

1805. Married—Charles Coltes and Jane Broxholm: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 317.

London, 1.

Bruce, Browse, Brewis.—Local, 'of Braose' or 'Brause,' the castle of Braose, 'now Briuese, two leagues from Falaise in Normandy' (Lower, p. 39). Spelt in every conceivable manner. I only furnish a few instances. Sussex, I believe, was the original home of the family.

William de Brause, co. Devon, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Bernard de Brus, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Isabel de Brus, co. Essex, ibid.

Margery de Bruys, co. Oxf., ibid.

William de Breuse, co. Sussex, ibid.

Robert de Brewes, co. Linc., ibid.

William de Brewus, co. Kent, ibid.

This William is spelt in various ways, including most of the above and many others.

London, 28, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 50, 0, 0.

Bruckshaw.—Local; v. Brookshaw.

Brumfit, Brumfitt.—Local, 'of Broomfield,' q.v.; field as a suffix has been much tortured; cf. Hatfull for Hatfield.

Henry Bromfyd: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 184. London, 2, 0; Otley, 0, 3.

Brummell, Brommell, Brummell, Bromell.—Local, 'of Bromhill,' part of the parish of New Romney, co. Sussex; cf. Brummett for Broomhead. There seems to have been another locality of the same name in the West country.

John Bromhulle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 280.

Geoffrey Bromhulle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Walter de Bromhill, co. Devon, 1273. A. Robert de Brumel, co. Wilts, ibid.

Looking at these references we must undoubtedly seek the West country for the parentage of this local surname.

1758. Married—William Crawshaw and Sarah Brummell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 82.

1796. — Daniel Weston and Hannah Brummell: ibid. ii. 145.

London, 0, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 1, 2.

Brummett; v. Broomhead.

Brumpton.—Local, 'of Brumpton.' Parishes, hamlets, townships, and chapelries in cos. Salop, Kent, Middlesex, N. Rid. Yorks, and Somerset.

Peter de Brumpton, co. Derby, 1273. A. Hugh de Brumpton, co. Hunts, ibid.

Bryan de Brumpton, co. Heref., 20 Edw. I. R.

Adam de Brumpton, co. Salop, ibid. 1552. Buried—John Brumton: Kensing-ton Ch. p. 83.

— Bapt.—Ann, d. John Brumpton: ibid. p. 3.

1768. Married—William Myers and Ann Brumpton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 182. London, 1.

Brumwich; v. Bromwich.

Brumwin; v. Brunwin.

Brundish.—Local, 'of Brundish,' a parish in co. Suffolk.

Robert de Brundis, co. Essex, 1273. A. Edmund de Brundish, rector of Castor, co. Norf., 1349, 'buried at Brundish, in Suffolk': FF. v. 428.

1601. Robert Brundish: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 355.

MDb. (Suffolk), 3.

Brundrett, Brundrit, Brundritt, Brundrette.—? Local, 'of Brundreth' (?). A surname belonging to the Lanc. and Cheshire border. Probably the suffix is -heath, as in Blackheath.

1562. Married—Robert Brundreth (of Bollington) and Ales Potte: Reg. Prestbury Ch. (co. Ches.), p. 7.

Two close neighbours are thus described:

Margaret Brundreth, of Bowden, 1618: Wills at Chester, L. and C. R. S. p. 32.

Edward Brundrett, of Bollington, 1618: ibid.

It will be seen that the Bollington Brundreths have become Brundrett.

John Brundreth, mayor of Macclesfield, 1621: East Cheshire, ii. 465.

1757. Married—William Brundritt and Ann Rothwell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 73.

Manchester, 12, 1, 1, 0; London, 1, 0, 0, 0; MDb. (co. Ches.), 2, 2, 1, 0; Brundrette, Boston (U.S.), 1.

Brun.—(1) Bapt. (2) Nick; v. Brown.

Brunel, Brunell, Brunnell.

—Nick. Personal name of complexion, dim. of Fr. Brun, Eng. Brown, generally found as Burnell, q.v. Brunellus Carpenter (E.) is also entered as Burnellus.

1571. Robert Brownell and Alice Mathewe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 49. London, 1, 0, 1; New York, 0, 1, 0.

Brunet, Brunnett; v. Brownett.

Brunker.—Bapt. 'the son of Brungard'; cf. Brynjar (Yonge, ii. 313).

Edyth Brungar, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 239.

Adam Bryngard, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 241.

John Bryngard, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Aylwin Bringert, co. Berks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1603. Edward Brouncker, co. Wilts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 268.

— William Brouncker, co. Wilts: ibid.

1617. Henry Brouncker, co. Middlesex: ibid. p. 364.

1605. Buried—Dorothie Brunker: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 80.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Brunning.—Bapt.; v. Brown-ing.

Brunswin.—Nick. 'the Brunswine' (i.e. the brown swine), an early name for the porpoise or seal. 'Bunswyne, or delyfne, foca, dolphinus, suillus': Prompt. Parv. p. 54. v. Way's note appended.

Richard Brunswin, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Brunton.—Local, 'of Brunton,' two townships in the parish of Gosforth, co. Northumberland. But no doubt often 'of Brumpton,' q.v.; cf. Brunwin and Brumwin.

Adam de Brunton, co. Salop, 20 Edw. I. R.

1773. Married—Joseph Wheatley and Eliz. Brunton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 227. London, 11; Boston (U.S.), 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Brunwin, Brumwin.—Bapt. 'the son of Brunwin.' It is curious to note how frequently n and m are interchangeable. Brunwin is sometimes found as Brumwin. In the Modern Timesday Book for co. Essex there are four Brunwins and two Brumwins.

1801. Married—Henry Brunwin and Eliz. Hancock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 234. London, 1, 0.

Bruselance, Brusebat.—Nick; cf. Breakspear, Wagstaff, Shakespear, &c.

Robert Bruselance, co. Linc., 1273. A. John Bruselaunce, mayor of Bristol, 1229: YYY. p. 669.

Nicholas Brusebat, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 230.

Brushfield.—Local, 'of Brushfield,' a township in the parish of Bakewell, co. Derby.

1799. Married—Joseph Brushfield and Eliz. Taylor: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 201. London, 2.

Bruton.—Local, 'the Breton,' a native of Brittany; v. Brittain.

Elias le Bruton, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Almaric le Bruton, co. Bucks, ibid.

John le Bruton, co. Oxf., ibid.

Richard Bruton, co. Oxf., ibid.

1616. William Bruton, co. Devon: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 357.

1750. Married—William Bruton and Frances Richardson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 44. London, 8; Philadelphia, 1; New York, 8.

Bryan, Bryant, Brien, Brian, Briant.—Bapt. 'the son of Bryan.' The t in Briant and Bryant is of course excrement. Bryan was not an importation from Ireland, though its popularity as an English font-name is gone. It lingered in North Yorkshire, Westmoreland, and Furness till the close of the last century. 'The Bretons, who joined in the Norman Conquest, imported it to England' (Yonge, ii. 50). 'Brien was always a favourite in Brittany, and is very common as a surname with the peasantry there' (ibid.); v. Brine.

Wydo Bryan, co. Devon, 1273. A.
Alicia Brien, co. Camb., ibid.
Acelot Bryon, co. Camb., ibid.
Thomas fil. Brian, co. York, ibid.
Alan fil. Brian, co. York, ibid.
Brian de Brampton, co. Glouc., ibid.
William Brian, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 207.
Colin Briant, London, 1269: WWW. p. 125.

The intermediate stage between Brian and Briant, or Bryant, is found in the following entry: '1772. Married—John Briand and Barbara Backhouse': St. George's, Hanover Square, p. 222. Cf. riband and ribbon, and Simmonds and Simmonds.

London, 24, 61, 6, 2, 14; Philadelphia, 102, 48, 4, 0, 0.

Bryce.—Bapt.; v. Brice.

Bryer.—Local; v. Brear.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 1; New York, 2.

Brymer, Brimmer.—Bapt. 'the son of Brihmar,' or 'Brichtmar.' In Domesday Brihtmar, co. Suffolk; Britmar, co. Somerset; Brihmarus and Brumarus, co. Suffolk.

Brihmer Prepositus, Pipe Roll, 5 Hen. II. Adam Brihmar, co. Hertf., 20 Edw. I. R.

1731. Married—John Blake and Ann Maria Brimmer: St. Antholin (London), p. 144.

1722. — Luke Brimer and Frances Kerwinn: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 22.

1745. — Robert Brymer and Margaret Hogg: ibid. p. 25.

London, 2, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Bryson.—Bapt.; v. Brice.

Bubb, Bub.—Bapt. 'the son of Bubb.' Lower, quoting Ferguson, says: 'Bubba, an ancient Teutonic name.' I would, however, suggest that in some cases, like Babb (q.v.), it is a nick of Barbara, a favourite fontal name in the surname period.

Henry Bubbe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 193.

Robert Bubbe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid. p. 195.

William Bubbe, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Simon Bubbe, co. Wilts, ibid.

Matilda Bubbe, co. Camb., ibid.

'Richard Dubbe, alias Bubbe de Horsey', 18 Edw. I.: BBB. p. 420.

1801. Married—Joseph Bubb and Martha Purkiss: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 236. London, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 1; New York, 0, 3.

Buchanan.—Local, 'of Buchanan,' a parish in co. Stirling. This name has ramified strongly, and almost become English by familiarity.

1807. Married—John Buchanan and Elizabeth Richardson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 377.

London, 18; Philadelphia, 144.

Buck, Bucke.—Nick. 'the buck.' Two Johns in the village of Linford, co. Oxf., are set down as John Giffard le Bok and John Giffard le Hof (Placita de Quo Warranto, Edw. I. p. 86). No doubt both were sons of one Giffard, both being baptized by the same name, as was then common. The nicknames were added to secure identity (v. my Curiosities of Puritan Nomenclature, p. 4, where records of even three Johns in a family are quoted).

Roger le Buk, 1313. M. Robertus Buk, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 147.

Robert Bok, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Richard Boke, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert de (7)le Buk, co. Essex, ibid. Thomas Buk, co. Camb., ibid.

1572. Bapt.—Joyce, d. William Bucke: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 7.

1764. Married—Benjamin Buck and Ann Taylor: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 130.

London, 27, 1; Philadelphia, 116, 0.

Bucky, Buckbee, Bugbee, Bugby.—Local, 'of Bucky,' a parish in co. Northampton, four miles from Daventry. I can find but one or two modern English representatives, but the surname thrives across the Atlantic. With Bugbee, cf. Applebee for Appleby, and Bugden for Buckden.

William de Buckeby, or Bukeby, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

1665. William Tighe and Hannah Bucky: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 104.

1675. William Holbeach and Jane Bugby: ibid. p. 246.

1806. Married—Joseph Baker and Sarah Bugbee: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 344.

1807. — Jervoise Clark Jervoise Witcum Dancaster Bugby and Harriet Denman: ibid. p. 364.

London Court Dir., 0, 0, 0, 1; New York, 0, 7, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 0, 4, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 18, 0.

Buckenham.—Local, 'of Buckenham,' four parishes in co. Norfolk, viz. Old and New Buckenham, Buckenham Parva, and Buckenham Ferry.

William de Bukenham, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Ralph de Bukenham, co. Norf., ibid.

Peter de Bukenham, co. Norf., 1277: FF. i. 261.

Hugh de Bukenham, co. Norf., 1332: ibid. p. 422.

Richard Buckenham, vicar of Quarles, co. Norf., temp. 1300: ibid. ix. 248.

Oliver Buckenham, co. Norf., 25 Eliz.: ibid. x. 14.

1786. Married—Edward Mayhew and Sarah Buckinham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 385.

London, 3; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 1; New York, 3.

Buckerell.—(1) Nick. 'the buckerell,' a young buck; cf. Cockerell and v. Buck. (2) Local, 'of Buckerell,' a parish in co. Devon, near Honiton.

Andrew Bokerell, Lord Mayor of London, 1232-7: N. and Q. 1857, p. 197.

Peter Bokerell, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Mathew Bokerell, London, ibid.

Robert Bokerell, co. Norf., ibid.

William Bokerell, London, ibid.

Buckeridge, Buckridge.—Local, 'at the Buckeridge,' with an intrusive e, making three syllables; cf. Green-a-way or Ott-a-way. I cannot find the spot, but evidently it was a ridge frequented by bucks; v. Buck and Ridge.

1615. Anthony Buckeridge, co. Wilts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 340.

1621. John Buckeridge, London: ibid. p. 400.

1747. Married—Thomas Hill and Mary Buckeridge: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 99.

London, 5, 0; New York, 0, 3.

Buckett, Budgett, Bowkett.—Bapt. 'the son of Buchard,' a form of Burchard; v. Burchett, and cf. Rickett for Ricard.

Robert Bukhard, rector of Gawsorth, Cheshire, 1383; East Cheshire, ii. 587.

Ralph Buchard, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Walter Buchard, co. Wilts, ibid.

Godfrey Buchet, or Bucket, co. Camb., ibid.

1591-2. Matthew Bucket, co. Dorset: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 190.

Foreign immigration has swelled the number of our Bucketts, &c. The Visitation of London (1633-5), vol. i. p. 117, has 'Michaell Bucket borne in the dominions under the Emperor nigh Hedleborow.' His son was 'Michaell Bucket of London, made a free denison anno 14 Elizabeth.' His son Rowland Bucket was a London alderman, 1634. The origin of the surname remains the same.

London, 2, 3, 1.

Buckholt.—Local, 'at the buckholt,' i.e. the wood frequented by bucks; v. Buck and Holt.

Peter Atte-buckholt. J.

Buckingham.—Local, 'of Buckingham.'

John de Bakingham, co. Oxf., 1273. A. 1648. Bapt.—George, s. John Buckingham: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 171.

1773. Married—Philip Buckingham and Eliz. Coward: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 229. London, 24; MDB. (co. Devon), 15; Philadelphia, 24.

Buckland.—Local, 'of Buckland,' parishes in cos. Bucks, Gloucester, Hertford, Kent, Somerset, Surrey, &c. Originally the lawn, or open space in the wood, where the bucks grazed; a glade, now spelled lawn (v. Lowndes).

Robert de Bokelond, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 95.

Jackyn atte Boclund, C. R., 32 Edw. I. John de Bocclonde, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Nicholas de Bocland, co. Kent, ibid. William de Boclund, co. Bedf., ibid.

Phillip de Boclaund, co. Herts, ibid. John de Boclaunde, 1306. M.

1574. Bapt.—William, s. Walter Buckland: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 8.

1579-80. Thomas Leadham and Cicely Buckland: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 94.

1588. Bapt.—Margery, d. Thomas Buckland: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 20.

London, 20; Philadelphia, 4.

Buckle, Buckell, Buckel.—Local, 'at the buck-hill,' from residence thereby, i.e. the rising ground frequented by bucks; cf. Buckhurst, Buckholt, &c. With the modified Buckle or Buckell, cf. Tickell or Tickhill. Dozens, I might say hundreds, of similar instances will be found in this dictionary.

1570-1. Christopher Buckle and Alice Buntinge: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 47.

1588. Married—Robert Purie and Elizabeth Buckle: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 7.

1612. Thomas Buckle and Mary Cansfield: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 16.

1626. John Buckell and Eliz. White-side: ibid. p. 167.

London, 5, 1, 1; New York, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 0.

Buckler.—Occup. 'the buckler,' a maker of buckles.

Beatrice Bokeler, 4 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 26.

Reginald le Bokiller, Fines Roll, 14 Edw. II.

John le Bokeler, London, 1273. A. 1572. Nicholas Buckler, St. Alban Hall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 40.

Richard Bokeler, temp. Eliz. Z. 1651. Married—Hugh Edwards to Jane Buckler: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 19.

1764. William Taylor and Eliz. Buckler: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 138.

London, 4; New York, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Bucklermaker.—Occup. 'a maker of bucklers,' i.e. shields. 'Bokelermakers, dyers, and leathersellers' (Cocke Lorelle's Bote). The 'Buklermakers' played with the 'Shethers' and Bladesmiths in the York Plays (p. xxiii).

Mathew Bucklermaker, Ludlow Ch. Camd. Soc.

Bucklesmith.—A manufacturer of buckles, included in the list by the author of Cocke Lorelle's Bote: 'Brydel-bytters, blackesmythes, and ferrars; bokell-smythes, horseleches, and goldbetters.'

John le Bokelsmyth, London. X. John Bukelsmyth, Patent Roll, 2 Hen. IV. pt. ii.

Buckley.—Local, 'of Buckley.' (1) A parish in dioc. of St. Albans; (2) a township (Bulkeley) in co. Cheshire; v. Bulkeley. The Buckleys of cos. Lancashire and Cheshire are nearly all Bulkeleys by descent.

Christian de Bukkelegh, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 34.

David de Buckelay, co. York, 1273. A. Michael de Bokeler, co. Suff., ibid.

'I, Caterin Bulkeley, of Chedale . . . geve and bequehte unto Sir Ric. Buckley, Kt., my nepewhe, my best table clothe of diapir': Will of Lady Katherine Bulkeley, 1559.

In the same will Lady Katherine refers to 'Mr. Thomas Buckley, my brother' (East Cheshire, i. 206).

1589. Abraham Buckley, co. Lanc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 174.

London, 20; Manchester, 52; West Riding Court Dir., 14; Philadelphia, 166.

Buckman, Bucknam.—Local, 'of Buckenham.' Several parishes so called in co. Norfolk; cf. Deadman, Totman, Putman, for Debenham, Tottenham, and Puttenham. Thus Buckman is one of a distinct class of local surnames where the terminative -enham is modified into -man.

Ralph de Bukenham, co. Norf., 1273. A. William de Bukenham, co. Norf., ibid.

1619. Robert Gould and Ursula Buckman: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 76.

1799. Married—James Buckman and Hannah Collier: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 205.

London, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 21, 0; Boston (U.S.), 6, 8.

Buckmaster.—Local, 'of Buckminster,' a parish in Leicester, not far from Melton Mowbray; cf. Killmister for Kilminster. There is a strong official appearance about the name, suggesting a 'master of the hounds,' but I find no evidence for it; the corruption is merely imitative.

Simon de Bokminstre, 1295. M. Simon de Bukminstre, 1297, ibid.

Roger de Bukeminstre, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1618. Bapt.—James, son of James Bookemaister: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 75.

1623. John Buckmaster, settled in Virginia: Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 227.

1629. Bapt.—Susan, d. William Buckmaster: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 112.

1769. Married—Joseph Buckmaster and Mary Tinker: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 187.

London, 8; Crockford, 5; New York, 4.

Bucknall, Bucknell, Bucknill.—Local, (1) 'of Bucknell,' a parish in co. Oxford, near Bicester; (2) 'of Bucknall,' a parish in co. Salop, twelve miles from Ludlow.

Adam de Buckenhill, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Robert de Buckelhull, co. Oxf., ibid.

Gilbert de Bockenhill, co. Salop, ibid.

Juliana de Buckenhull, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Madoc de Bockenhill, co. Salop, ibid. 1713. Bapt.—Edward, s. of Saml. Buckenhull: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 73. London, 2, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 2, 0.

Buckskin, Buskin.—Nick. A soft leather specially prepared for leggings; probably the sobriquet of a leather-hosier (v. Leatherhose). Hence 'Buskines, fine boots' (Florio).

Walter BUCKSKYN, Close Roll, 31 Edw. I. Peter BUCKSKYN. B. Nicholas BUCKSKYN, temp. 1300. M. Thomas BUCKSKYN, rector of Stokesby, co. Norf., 1337: FF. xi. 251. 'A very stout, puffy man in buckskins and Hessian boots': Thackeray.

Buckskin inevitably tended to Buskin, and is so represented in the directories.

London, 0, 5.

Buckson.—Local, 'of Buckston'; v. Buxton; cf. Kelson for Kelston, &c.

Philadelphia, 2.

Buckston.—Local; v. Buxton.

Buckthorp, Buckthought.—Local, 'of Buckthorpe,' a parish in E. Rid. Yorks, about seven miles from Pocklington. Having travelled in recent times to Land's End, it got corrupted 'by the way' into Buckthought.

Hamelin de Bugtorp, co. Notts, 1273. A. Geoffrey de Bugetorp, co. York, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

1806. Married—Joseph Buckthorp and Ann Bonner: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 345. London, 1, 0; New Quay (co. Cornwall), 0, 1; East Taphouse, Liskeard (co. Cornwall), 0, 1; St. Colomb Major, 0, 2.

Buckton, Bucktone.—Local, 'of Buckton,' a township in the parish of Bridlington, E. Rid. Yorks; also a parish in dioc. of Hereford.

Laurence de Bukton, co. Northampt., 1273. A.

Nicolas de Boketon, co. Notts, ibid. Simon de Buctone, co. Linc., ibid. Adam de Bucton, co. Soms., 20 Edw. I. R.

1565-6. William Bucton and Sabina Huntman: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 32. West Riding Court Dir., 6, 0; London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Bucktrout.—Nick. 'the male trout.' The surname still lingers well-nigh on the very spot of its birth; cf. Trout.

Johanna Buktrowte, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 180.

Robertus Buktrout, 1379: ibid. p. 218. 1578. William Buktrowt: Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 74.

1700. Bapt.—Mary, d. of Benjamin Bucktrout: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 386. Leeds Dir., 1.

Budd.—Bapt. 'the son of Bud,' or 'Bude,' a strongly established surname as the Hundred Rolls prove, some of the fontal names attached suggesting a Flemish origin. Both Budkin and Budcok, the pet forms, existed, confirming its popularity. No doubt Bud was the nick. of the universal favourite, Baldwin, to avoid the form Bawd; cf. Bubbs and Babb from Barbara.

William Budekin, co. Camb., 1273. A. Simon Budecok, co. Norf., ibid.

Juliana Budde, co. Oxf., ibid.

Iward Bude, co. Norf., ibid.

William Budde, co. Oxf., ibid.

Simon Bud, co. Hunts, ibid.

John Budde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 84.

1626. Bapt.—Ellinor, d. Symon Budd: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 104.

1740. Married—Christopher Budd and Prudence South: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 24. London, 16; MDB. (co. Soms.); Philadelphia, 47.

Budden.—Bapt. 'the son of Budden,' i.e. Baldwin; v. Budd.

Ermegard Budun, co. Northampt., 1273. A.

1582. John Budden (co. Dorset), Merton Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 123.

1597. Bapt.—Katherine, d. Clement Budden: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 89.

1632. Married—Simon Budden and Joane Hulberstav: Kensington Ch. p. 70. London, 10; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Buddle.—Offic. 'the beadle'; M.E. bedel; A.S. bydel. Cf. Boodle.

Lucas Budellus de Clayburne, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Eylardus le Budel, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Reginald le Budell, co. Salop, ibid.

William le Budel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 234.

Robert le Budel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 268.

1778. Married—Matthew Sooby and Grace Buddles: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 291. London, 1.

Budgett.—Bapt. 'the son of Buchard'; v. Buckett.

1787. Married—John Hawkins and Sarah Budgett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 404.

Bugbee and Bugby.—Local; v. Buckley.

Bugden.—Local, 'of Buckden,' a parish in co. Huntingdon, four miles from Huntingdon, where for generations was a residence for the bishops of Lincoln. It was familiarly known as Bugden. Thomas Barlow (1607-91), bishop of Lincoln, 'resided so constantly at the episcopal palace at Buckden, near Huntingdon, and was so little seen in other parts of the diocese, that he was contemptuously styled "Bishop of Bugden," and charged with never having entered his cathedral' (Dict. Nat. Biog. iii. 227). The instances below supply ample proof of locality.

John Bukden, rector of Baldswell, co. Norf., 1419: FF. viii. 186.

John Bugden, gent., co. Huntingdon: ibid. i. 545.

1807. Married—William Bugden and Ann Webley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 375. London, 1.

Bugg, Bugge.—(1) ? Nick. 'the bug,' i.e. the hobgoblin, the scarecrow; M.E. bugge. (2) ? Personal, 'the son of Bugge' (?). The early entries seem to prove conclusively that it is not local; there is no local prefix to any of them. Probably (1) is the correct origin. The sobriquet would be a most natural one; v. Bug, sb., H.E.D.

Bate Bugge, co. York, 1273. A. William Bugge, co. Oxf., ibid.

Osborne Bugge, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Bugge, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 129.

Willelmus Bugge, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 25.

Robertus Bugg, 1379: ibid. p. 26.

Johannes Bugg, 1379: ibid. p. 27.

Edmund Bugg, C. R., 1 Hen. IV. pt. i. 1548. Bapt.—John Bugge: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 75.

John Bugg, March 30, 1592: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), iii. 205.

1781. Married—Henry Annets and Mary Bugg: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 321.

London, 3, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Builder, Bulder.—Occup. 'the builder,' a mason, a waller, a builder; M.E. bulden, to build.

Robert Bulder, co. York, 1273. A. Rogerus Bulder, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 54.

Alicia Bulder, 1379: ibid.

Johannes Bulder, 1379: ibid. New York, 0, 1.

Bulkeley, Bulkley.—Local, 'of Bulkeley,' a township in the parish of Malpas, co. Cheshire. The Manchester Directory contains fifty-two Buckleys. Most of these represent a modified form of Bulkeley; v. Buckley. I may add that the township is set down in Lewis's Topographical Dict. as 'Buckley or Bulkeley.'

Richard de Bulkelegh, Cheadle, 1349: East Cheshire, i. 181.

William de Bulkelegh, Cheadle, 1379: ibid.

Richard de Bulkeley, Cheadle, 1454: ibid.

1587. Lancelot Bulkeley, Anglesea: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 160.

1597. Gabriel Bulkley, Anglesea: ibid. p. 224.

London, 0, 2; Crockford, 4, 1; Philadelphia, 5, 0; Boston (U.S.), 4, 2.

Bull.—Nick, 'the bull,' from the fierce disposition, or thickset proportions, of the original bearer of the sobriquet; cf. Pigg, Wildbore, Bullock, &c. John Bull is now the national nickname in a similar sense.

John le Bole, co. Soms., i. Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 101.

William le Bole, co. Camb., 1273. A. Geoffrey Bole, co. Suff., ibid.

Ralph le Bule, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert le Bule, co. Soms., ibid.

Willelmus Bulle, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 193.

Elena Bull', 1379: ibid. p. 197.

1550. Robert Bull and Grace Paget: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 13.

1588. Bapt.—Alban, s. Thomas Bull: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 20.

London, 81.

Bullard.—Occup. 'a bull-herd,' v. Bellbird; cf. Coward, Oxnard, &c., and v. Bullockherd.

Fulco Bullard, co. Kent, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Geoffrey Bolhard, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Fulco Bulard, co. Kent, ibid.

1672. Jeremiah Bullard and Lucy Snowe: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 73.

1806. Married.—John Bullard and Mary Carter: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 342.

London, 3; MDB. (co. Hunts), 1; Philadelphia, 6.

Bullen, Bollen, Bullene, Boleyn.—Local, 'of Boulogne.'

'Edmond Gray, slene at Bollen': Visit. Yorkshere, 1563, p. 149.

Gilebert de Boolon, co. Northumb., 1168: KKK. vi. p. 13.

Pharamund de Boloynne, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Richard de Boloynne, co. Soms., ibid.

John de Boloynne, co. Camb., ibid.

Thomas Boloynne, co. Essex, ibid.

Simon, Count of 'Buloynne,' co. Oxf. A. Simon de Boleyn. FF.

Robert Buleyn, temp. 1580. Z.

1734. Married.—Nicholas Bullen and Jane Carr: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 14.

1739. — Thomas Bulline and Mary Stanfield: ibid. p. 23.

1759. — Joseph Cooper and Ann Bullin: ibid. p. 89.

London, 17, 2, 0, 0; Crockford, 4, 0, 0; New York, 1, 0, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0, 0, 1.

Bulley, Bolley.—Local, 'of Bulley,' a parish in co. Glouc. A very familiar name in co. Devon.

Hugh de Bolley, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Mariel de Bolley, co. Devon, ibid.

Johannes de Bullay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 139.

1699. Married.—John Pitcher and Eliz. Bulley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iiii. 221.

London, 4, 1; Exeter, 2, 0; Plymouth, 3, 0; New York, 2, 1.

Bullfinch.—Nick, 'the bullfinch'; cf. Goldfinch and Finch. This surname seems to have deserted us and emigrated to America.

Robert Bullfinch, Close Roll, 14 Edw. III. pt. i.

1670. John Bullfinch and Mary Reeves: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 186.

Philadelphia, 5; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Bullhead, Bullitt.—Nick, 'the bull-head,' a man with a bull-shaped head, or of bull-headed impetuosity; v. Bullhead and Bull-headed in H.E.D. My instances in this sense are very much earlier than those there given. With the American Bullitt, cf. Birkett for Birkhead, or Blackett for Blackhead, q.v.

John Boleheved, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Richard Boleheved, co. Hunts, ibid.

John Boleheved, c. 1300. M.

Adam Bulhead, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 236.

Philadelphia, 0, 4.

Bullingbrook.—Local, 'of Bolingbroke,' a parish in co. Lincoln.

MDB. (co. Suffolk), 1.

Bullinger, Pullinger, Ballinger, Ballenger.—Occup. 'le boulanger,' the baker. Pullinger is a sharpened form.

Richard le Bulgenger. E.

1564. Bapt.—(blank) d. John Bullinger: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 23.

1711. Married.—Abraham Bishop and Anne Ballinger: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 69.

1769. Bapt.—John Turd and Rebecca Pullinger: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 186.

London, 0, 1, 1, 0; Crockford, 1, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 18, 13, 18.

Bullitt.—Nick; v. Bullhead.

1751. Married.—John Harcastle and Ruth Bullit: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 192. Philadelphia, 4.

Bullivant, Bonnavant, Bonifant, Bonnivant.—? Bapt. and nick. 'Bon-enfant,' Englished in some cases to Goodchild, q.v. Bullivant is the present representative form.

William Bonenfaunt, or Bonaffaunt, 1302. M.

Bonenfaunt Judæus (the Jew), Pipe Roll, 5 Hen. II.

Walter Bonenfaunt, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Bonenfaunt Judæus, co. Camb., ibid.

Henry Bonenfaunt, co. Bucks, ibid.

John Bonenfaunt, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert Ballyfaunt, temp. Eliz. Z.

John Bonnyvaunt, ibid.

Phillip Bonivant, 1631: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 102.

1637. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Edmond Bollifante: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 135.

1674. Bapt.—Frances, d. William Bullivant: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 66.

London, 7, 0, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 0, 1.

Bulman, Bulman.—Occup. 'the bull-man,' i.e. bull-herd; v. Bullard, and cf. Coward and Cowman, Hefferman, &c.

John Boleman, co. Camb., 1273. A.

1392. Walter Bulman, rector of Intwood, co. Norf.: FF. v. 42.

1530. Thomas Bulman, prior of Wayborn, co. Norf.: ibid. ix. 451.

1577. Thomas Wrothe and Johanna Bulman: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 78.

William Bulman. D.

1569. Buried.—Ralph Bulman: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 191.

1601. Married.—Thomas Baskerville and Anne Bulman: St. Antholin (London), p. 40.

1628. Bapt.—John, s. Richard Bulman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 110.

London, 1, 3; New York, 3, 2.

Bullock.—Nick, 'the bullock,' affixed upon some one young, strong, and sturdy; cf. Bull, Stott, &c. A common entry in early registers.

Alan Bulloc, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Ralph Bullokke, co. Norf., ibid.

Godwin Bulloc, co. Suff., ibid.

Richard Bulloc, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Bolloc, co. Oxf., ibid.

Walterus Bullok, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 153.

1508. Simon Bullocke, Norwich: FF. iv. 458.

1576. John Bullock and Amye Pollye: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 71.

1606. Married—George Pattenson and Alice Bullock: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 15.
London, 32; Philadelphia, 29.

Bullockherd.—Occup. 'the bullock herd,' a tender of bullocks; cf. Calvert, Coward, Oxnard, &c.; v. Hird.

John le Bollochorde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 231.

Bulpitt.—Local, 'at the bull-pit' (?); cf. Cockpit and Bearblock, q.v.

1738. Married—John Bulpitt and Mary Watts: St. Antholin (London), p. 149.

1756. — Edward Willan and Mary Bulpitt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 63.

1780. — William Cooke and Amy Bulpitt: ibid. p. 315.
London, 1.

Bulmer, Bullimer.—Local, 'of Bulmer,' parishes in N. Rid. Yorks and co. Essex. Doubtless the former place is the chief parent. In the latter county the surname is found sometimes in the guise of Bullimer; cf. Greenaway for Greenway, or Ottaway for Ottway.

Walter de Bulmer, merc., 1319-20: Freemen of York (Surtees Soc.), i. 19.

Richard de Bulmer, leaver, 1310-12: ibid. p. 14.

Bertram de Bulemer, 1143: DDD. i. 97.
John de Bulmer, co. Leic., 1273. A.

Roger de Bolemere, co. Essex, ibid.
Anstethill de Bulmer, co. York, 20 Edw. I. R.

Walter Bolmyer, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 117.

1576. Richard Leyle and Margaret Bulmer, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 69.

1595-6. John Beeston and Prudence Bulmer: ibid. p. 228.

1656. Married—Henry Bosgrave and Mary Bullmar: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 26.

1780. — William Bulmer and Sarah Boyton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 307.

York, 6, 0; London, 10, 0; MDB. (co. Essex), 0, 1; New York, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 8, 0.

Bulstrode.—Local, 'of Bulstrode,' an estate in co. Bucks (Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 45).

Preceptor Domus Milicie Templi de Bulestrode, Bucks, 1273. A.

1592. Henry Bulstrode, co. Bucks: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 194.

1603-4. Edward Boulstrode, co. Bucks: ibid. p. 269.

1617. Thomas Bulstrode, co. Berks: ibid. p. 365.

1675. Whitlock Bulstrode and Eliz. Dineley: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 241.

London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Bulteel.—The Bulteels seem to have come into England at the close of the 16th century. The Visitation of London (1633-5), vol. i. p. 118, says: 'James Bulteel of Tournay, in Henault.' His grandson, Charles Bulteel, was living in London in 1634. The family seems to have rapidly increased, as five or six branches were settled in the south of England by the year 1670. The first instance below is interesting as marking an early settlement. Probably this family died out.

Agnes Buletel, co. Camb., 1273. A.

1673. Samuel Bulteel and Mary Jurin: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 95.

1675. John Bulteel and Mary Woodward: Marriage Alleg. (Westminster), p. 238.

Crockford, 1; Manchester, 1; New York, 1.

Bulter.—Occup.; v. Bolter.

Bumfrey.—Bapt. 'Ap-Humphrey' (Welsh), i.e. the son of Humphrey; v. Bounphrey and Pumphrey.

1633. Roger Bomfrey and Susanna Ivery: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 34.

Newcastle, 1.

Bumpus.—? Nick. Lower suggests Fr. bon pas, good pace; corresponding to English Lightfoot, Golightly, &c., the opposite of Malpas. This view is strongly confirmed by the first entry below:

1616. John Lloyd and Anne Bompass: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 45.

1628. Buried—An infant daughter of Thomas Bumpas: Kensington Ch. p. 110.

1629. Bapt.—John, s. Thomas Bumpasse: p. 24.

1670. — James, son of James Bumpus: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 245.

London, 7; Boston (U.S.), 11.

Bumstead, Bumsted,

Bumpstead.—Local, 'of Bumstead,' more correctly Brumstead. The r was lost very early. There are parishes of Brome, Broome, and Bromeswell in co. Norf. The broom seems to have been a feature in the county.

Christopher Brumstede, co. Norf., 1534: FF. ix. 327.

Jordan de Bumstede (also Bunstede), co. Norf., 1273. A.

William de Bumstede, co. Norf., ibid.

Robert de Brumsted, co. Norf., ibid.

Edward de Brumsted, co. Norf., ibid.

Thomas de Bumstede, bailiff of Norwich, 1380: FF. iii. 116.

1640. Bapt.—Richard, son of Elizabeth Bumstede: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 145.

London, 2, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Suff.), 0, 0, 2; Boston (U.S.), 8, 0, 0; New York, 2, 2, 0.

Bunbury.—Local, 'of Bunbury,' a parish in co. Chester, near Tarporley; v. Banbury.

Elizabeth de Bunbery, co. Camb., 1273. A.

1473. John Bunbury, Earwaker's East Cheshire, p. 86, n.

1557. John Bunbury, of Chester, merchant: Wills at Chester, i. 33.

1585. Eliz. Bunbury, of Chester, widow: ibid.

1619. Thomas Bunburie, co. Kent: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 376.

1634. Bapt.—Daniell, son of Lawrence Bunburie: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 127.

Crockford, 5.

Bunclark.—Nick. 'bon-clerk,' the learned; cf. Beauclerk and Manclark. Bunclark still survives in the south-west of England.

Emma Bonclerk. H.

John Bonclerk. H.

MDb. (co. Devon), 2; Exeter, 1.

Buncombe.—Local, 'of Buncombe,' or 'Boncombe,' some spot in the West country, probably co. Soms. For suffix, v. Combe.

Richard de Bouncombe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 147.

MDb. (co. Soms.), 3; London, 2.

Bund, Bundy.—Bapt. 'the son of Bund.' The masculine Bundus is found in Domesday in cos. York, Essex, and Norfolk.

Bunde fil. Hervici, co. Norf., Hen. III-Edw. I: K p. 284.

1741. Married—Frederic Bund and Margaret Law: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 27.

London, 1, 3; Philadelphia, 1, 5.

Bundy.—? Bapt. 'the son of Bundy' (?), i.e. Bundig. Bondig was staller under Harold, and in command at Stamford Bridge (Freeman, N. C. vol. iii. pp. 51, 361). The Yorkshire entries below may be a traditional memory; v. Bund.

William Bondi, co. Bedf., 1273. A.

Richard Bondy, co. Bucks, ibid.

Robert Bundy, co. York, ibid.

Adam Bundy, co. York, ibid.

1663. Edward Bunde and Jane Dover: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 89.
1801. Married—George Bundy and Sarah Brant: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 242.
London, 3; Boston (U.S.), 8; Philadelphia, 5.

Bungey.—Local, 'of Bungay,' a market-town in the co. of Suffolk. A priory there gave it prominence, such institutions giving a great impetus to local surnames.

Jeffrey de Bungey, co. Norf., temp. Edw. I: FF. iv. 225.

John de Bungey, rector of Hockwold, co. Norf., 1385: FF. ii. 186.

Remer de Bungey, sheriff of London, 1239: WWW. pp. 187-190.

Stephen de Bungey, co. Norf., 20 Edw. I. R.

Ralph de Bungey, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Robert de Bungey, co. Norf., ibid.

1565. Married—John Bungey, preacher, and Margaret Parkes: St. Antholin (London), p. 17.

1771. — Thomas Hicks and Hannah Bungey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 209.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Bunker.—? Nick, 'bon cœur' (?); cf. English Goodhart. But possibly a form of banker, a money-changer (v. Bank and Banker in H.E.D.). Nevertheless the familiar existence of Goodhart proves the nick. origin to be quite possible, and the instances below are somewhat corroborative.

William le Bonquer. O.

John le Boncer. B.

1584. Edward Bunker and Margaret Rowden: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 134.

1662-3. Jeremiah Swift and Elizabeth Bunker: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 63.

1789. Married—William Bunker and Jemima Skedmore: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 26.

London, 6; MDB. (co. Bucks), 3; New York, 7.

Bunn, Bunce.—(1) Nick, 'le bon,' i.e. good. Often an expression of endearment, 'good little one' (v. Bunting and Bonnet). Fr. bon, good, dim. bonet. Probably Bon or Bunn was sometimes a Christian name, as was so frequently Good, q.v.

Bonne Welle, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Rocelin le Bun, co. Wilts, ibid.

Rogerus Bonne, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 163.

Johannes Bunne, 1379: ibid.

(2) Local, 'de Bohun'; v. Bown.

John de Bunn, co. Sussex, 1273. A.

1618. Josias Bunn, co. Herts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 372.

1788. Married—John Bunn and Mary Wallington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 16.

Bunce is for Bunn as Ellice for Ellis, Dance for Dans, or Evance for Evans.

Walter Buns, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

1671-2. John Butcher and Jane Bunce: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 68.

1766. Married—James Howton and Martha Bunce: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 152.

London, 6, 9; Philadelphia, 23, 3.

Bunnell.—Local, 'of Bonehill,' co. Staff.; v. Bonehill; cf. Buckle and Buckell for Buckhill.

1608. Thomas Bunnell, co. Flint: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 300.

1609-10. Jerome Fisher and Eliz. Bunnell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 317.

London, 1.

Bunnett; v. Bonnet.

Bunney, Bunny.—Nick. An expression of endearment. No doubt a pet form of Bunn, q.v.

1574-5. Edward Bonny, co. Sussex: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 59.

1588. Peter Bunney and Eliz. Stockbridge: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 169.

1601. Francis Bunny, co. Durham: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 253.

1612. Buried—Henry Bunny: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 168.

London, 2, 2.

Bunting, Buntin.—Nick. 'good little pet,' a term of endearment for a little child, afterwards applied more generally. 'Bunting: a term of endearment' (Halliwell).

'Buntin, adj., short and thick, as "a buntin brat, a plump child,"

Roxb.' (Jamieson). The idea here is "a good healthy child." Fr.

bonnetin or bonneton, from bonne, good, with dim. et = bonnet (v. Bonnet or Bonnett), and second dim.

in or on = bonn-et-in, or bonn-et-on.

This became 'buntin,' or with excreascent g 'bunting' (cf. Jenin and Jenning). Many old French names are double diminutives (cf. Guillotin and Philponet), and the practice was extended to England; cf.

Col-in-et, Dob-in-et, and Rob-in-et,

where the same two dims. are reversed. These, being taken from reversed. Jannetin (afterwards in England Janneting) keeps the dims., as in Bonnetin, which probably was also used as a girl's font-name, as were Bonne and Bonnette. Four women are mentioned in the Coventry Mysteries:

'Bontyg the Brewster, and Sybyly
Slynge,
Megge Mery-wedyr and Sabyn
Sprynge,'

where Brewster preserves its feminine sense. Here Bonnetin has become Bonting. The name is curiously interesting as surviving in one of our favourite nursery rhymes, a strong proof of its antiquity:

'Baby, baby Banting,
Daddy's gone a hunting;
Gone to get a rabbit skin
To wrap his baby Banting in.'

Thus Bunn (q.v.), 'good,' is the first stage; Bonnet or Bunnett (q.v.), 'good little one,' the second; and Bunting, 'good little pet,' the third. All are well preserved in our directories.

Hugo Bonetun, co. Herts, 20 Edw. I. R.

Alice Banetun, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Thomas Banetun, co. Oxf., ibid.

Hugh Bonting, co. Linc., ibid.

Henry Buntyn, co. Suff., ibid.

John Buntyn, co. Sussex, ibid.

1687. Married—Earnest Collman and Anna Maria Bonatine: St. Dionis Back-church, p. 41.

The suffix in or on is frequently found as oun or un in early registers. Both Alison and Beton (Alice and Beatrice) are met with as Alisoun and Alisun, and Betoun and Betun. Should Bunetun prove to be local, several of my instances must be withdrawn, but they will not affect the origin of Bunting.

London, 12 (and in all town directories), 0; Philadelphia, 72, 2.

Bunyan, Bunyon.—(1) Nick.

'Bon-jean'; in English Goodjohn.

(2) Bapt.; v. Benyon or Onion. I wrote a series of articles some years ago entitled the 'Romance of the London Directory,' afterwards printed in book form. I stated that Bunyan was Bonjean, and that when we talked of 'Good

John Bunyan' we simply said 'Good John' twice over. This, I believe, was incorporated in a recent life of the great dreamer. But writing more soberly now, and after more study, I feel fairly confident that Bunyan's ancestry was Welsh. The great personal name of Enion or Eignon has left a very varied number of Welsh surnames, for 'Ab-Enion,' as Benyon (q.v.) will show, played freely with the vowels. Still Bonjean is not impossible.

1624. John Olyver and Ann Bunnyon: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 141.

1640. Robert Bunyon and Margaret Baynes: ibid. p. 252.

— Married—Mathew Bunnyon and Frances Rawlins: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 256.

1677. Bapt.—John, son of Rowland Bunyon: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 276. London, 2, 1; New York, 0, 2.

Burchett.—Bapt. 'the son of Burchard'; occurs as Burchardus, a personal name, in Domesday. In the form of Burckhardt, the surname has been imported recently from Germany; v. Buckett.

Robert Burghard, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Thomas Burghard, co. Suff., ibid.

Warin Burghard, co. Suff., ibid.

Walter Burghard, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

1632. Married—John Cowell and Sarah Burchett: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 15.

1679. Bapt.—Elizabeth, d. of Borchard Popping: ibid. p. 68. London, 7.

Burden, Burdon.—Local, 'of Burdon.' There are two townships of this name in co. Durham, which have given their title to a local family.

John de Burdon, cos. Notts and Derby: Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Nicholas de Burdon, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

Lucy de Burdune, co. Devon, ibid.

Thomas Burdon, co. York, ibid.

Robertus Burdon, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 241.

1597. Jeffery Burden, co. Wilts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 221.

1797. Married—Edward Burden and Susannah Randall: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 168.

1808. — William Jackman and Sarah Burdon: ibid. p. 388.

London, 19, 7; New York, 3, 1.

Burdett, Burditt.—? Local, 'of Burdet.' Invariably without prefix, with one exception. But this one instance is valuable. Probably, as Hugh and Robert Burdet occur in Domesday, the family hail from some spot in Normandy, and 'came in with the Conqueror.'

Nicholas Burdet, co. Linc., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Peter Burdet, co. Leic., ibid.

John de Burdet, Isle of 'Gerneseye,' 20 Edw. I. R.

Almeric Burdet, co. Linc., ibid.

William Burdet, co. Leic., 1273. A.

Stephen Burdet, co. Linc., ibid.

Nicholaus Burdet, frankeleyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 90.

Gilbertus Burdet, faber, 1379: ibid. p. 206.

Clement Burdett, or Barditt, 1536: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 185.

1788. Samuell Burditt and Rebecca Burditt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 14.

1804. Samuel Burdett and Charlotte Burdett: ibid. p. 309.

London, 5, 1; New York, 18, 0; Boston (U.S.), 13, 18.

Bureler.—Occur 'the bureler,' one who sold or manufactured burel cloth; v. Borrell or Burrell.

Henry le Bureler: Wardrobe Account, 49 Hen. III.—1/31.

1279. Roger de Brokesheved, burrier: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting.

Burford.—Local, 'of Burford,' parishes in cos. Oxford and Salop.

William de Berford, corduauer, 19 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 23.

William le Berford, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 163.

Walter le Berforde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Hugo de Bureford, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Roger de Bureford, co. Salop, ibid.

1575. Francis Burforde, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 68.

1796. Married—John Burford and Mary Warberton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 162.

London, 6; Boston (U.S.), 4.

Burge, Burdge.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Burge.'

Burge Attewater, co. Kent, 1273. A.

(2) Local, 'at the birch.'

John de la Burchge, co. Southampt., 1273. A.

1798. Married—James Jemmett and Elizabeth Burge: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 190.

London, 17, 4; Philadelphia, 0, 2; Boston (U.S.), 4, 1.

Burger.—Occur, 'the burger,' i.e. the burgher.

Henry le Burger, London, 1273. A.

1753. Bapt.—John, son of Elizabeth Burger: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 308.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 31.

Burgess, Burges, Burgis.—Occur, 'the burgess,' i.e. the citizen; M.E. burgyses.

Hawise Burges, co. Bedf., 1273. A.

Philip Burges, co. Oxf., ibid.

John le Burges, co. Southampt., ibid.

Thomas Burges, co. Norf., ibid.

Adam Burges, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 59.

Johannes Burges, 1379: ibid.

Robert Burges, Norwich, 1519: FF. iv. 180.

1614. Married—Edward Burgis and Maud Goorde: St. Antholin (London), p. 50.

1624. Bapt.—Symon, s. Alice Burgis: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 98.

London, 76, 2, 1; West Riding Court Dir., 4, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 37, 2, 0.

Burgen, Burgoyne, Burgin, Burgoin.—Local, 'de Burgoyne,' a native of Burgundy.

John de Burgoyne, co. Soms., 1273. A.

Almaric Burgoyne, co. Bedf., ibid.

John Burgoyne, co. Glouc., ibid.

Thomas Burgoyne. B.

Elizabet de Burgen, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 125.

Richard Burgoyne, rector of Newton, co. Norf.: FF. v. 67.

1638. Bapt.—Anne, d. John Burgin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 138.

1703. Roger Burgoyne (co. Warwick) and Constance Middleton: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 330.

1764. Married—John Burgen and Susanna Farkin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 138.

London, 0, 6, 3, 0; Crookford, 2, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 3, 15, 0.

Burgullian, Burling, Burlin.—? Nick, 'the Burgullian,' i.e. the boaster; it occurs in Ben Jonson's

Every Man in his Humour (iv. 4):

'That rogue, that foist, that fencing

Burgullian' (H.E.D.). A boaster, a braggadocio. Nevertheless the prefix is as often de as le, denoting a local origin.

William de Burgiloun, co. Norf., 41

Hen. III: FF. ix. 254.

Richard de Burguiloun, co. Norf., 16

Hen. III: ibid.

Philip le Burgelun, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Hugo Burgillun, co. Hunts, ibid.

William Burgellyn, co. Norf., ibid.

William de Burgiloun, co. Linc., ibid.

William le Burgullian. L.

Geoffrey le Burgillun. T.

Perhaps corrupted to Burdline and Burline, now Burling.

1561. Bapt.—Ellin, d. Richard Burline:

St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 23.

1562. — Elizabeth, d. Richard Burdlin:

ibid. p. 22.

1563. Buried—Richard Burdlin: ibid.

p. 88.

London, 0, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 5, 1.

Burke, Burk.—Local, 'de Burgh,' a sharpened pronunciation. The Irish Burkes are traced to the Anglo-Norman De Burghs, one of whom settled in Ireland soon after the acquisition of that country by the English monarchs. The name Alfric de Burc, apparently of Saxon origin, appears in the Domesday of Suffolk. In the Hundred Rolls the name of the famous Hubert de Burgh, temp. King John, is sometimes written 'de Burk.'

Geoffrey de Burk, co. Hereford, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Walter de Burk, co. Hereford, ibid.
Hubert de Burk, co. Soms., 1273. A.
John de Burk, co. Soms., ibid.

1792. Married.—James Burke and Susannah Reading: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 71.

1803. — John Burk and Elizabeth Wise: ibid. p. 287.

London, 20, 1; Philadelphia, 228, 136.

Burleigh, Burley.—Local, 'of Burleigh' or 'Burley,' the spellings being interchangeable. Places (including parishes, chapellies, liberties, and tithings) occur in cos. Rutland, Hants, W. Rid. Yorks, and Chester. With regard to the suffix -leigh or -ley, v. Leigh.

Nicholas Borleigh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 156.

John de Borley', co. Salop, 1273. A.
Simon de Burley', co. Salop, ibid.

Hugh de Burley, co. Berks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1577. Edward Burleigh, co. Wilts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 75.

1578-g. Edward Burley, co. Wilts: ibid. p. 85.

1605. Henry Burlighe, co. Devon: ibid. p. 284.

London, 4, 16; Philadelphia, 6, 3; Boston (U.S.), 10, 12.

Burleson.—Local, 'of Burleson,' a parish in co. Dorset, six miles from Dorchester; cf. Kelson for Kelston, &c. But v. Burletson or Burlinson, of which it may be a modification.

1633. Bapt.—Susan, d. Matthew Burlison: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 50.

1645. Married.—Thomas Haddington and Cicily Burlyson: ibid. p. 17.
Boston (U.S.), 1.

Burletson, Burlinson, Burlingson.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from nick. Bartle, dim, Bartlet. In this case Bartletson has become corrupted to Burletson. The name was long confined to co. Durham and South Northumberland, but has now reached London. Burlinson, a further corruption, still remains in the Palatinate.

William Byrtletson, co. York. W. 17.
Robert Burletson, 1601: DDD. i. 110.
Bryan Burletson, 1651: ibid.
William Burletson, SS.

1627. Bapt.—Stephen, s. of Mathew Burlesone: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 80.

'Her Majesty and the Princess were received on alighting (at Windsor) by Mr. Burlinson, traffic manager': Standard, April 29, 1889.

London, 2, 0, 1; Sunderland, 0, 1, 0; New York, 2, 3, 0.

Burlingham, Burlingame.—Local, 'of Burlingham,' two parishes in co. Norf., near Acle. This surname has thrived in America, where it has assumed the form of Burlingham.

Hugh de Byrlingham, co. Norf., 1273. A.
London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 4; Boston (U.S.), 0, 7.

Burls.—Probably a form of the Cornish surname Borlase. The name reached London early.

1646. Married.—John Burlace and Sarah Langcraft: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 24.

1055. — John Blande and Sarah Burles: ibid. p. 31.

1623. Edward Burles and Mary Potter: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 123.
London, 8; New York, 1.

Burman.—Offic. 'the burman,' i.e. bowerman, a chamberlain; A.S. bur, a chamber; v. Bowerman.

Gilbert Burman, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Robertus Burman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 242.

1587-8. William Burman, co. Warwick: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 124.

1669. Married.—Thomas Howard and Eliz. Burman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 167.

1783. — William Breeze and Hannah Burman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 344.
West Riding Court Dir., 4; London, 7; New York, 1.

Burmeister, Burmester.—Offic. 'the mayor,' an importation. Dutch, burgomaster; Ger. Bürge-meister.

London, 1, 1; New York, 4, 3; Philadelphia, 2, 1.

Burn, Burne, Burns, Bourr, Bourne.—Local, 'at the burn,' i.e. stream; M.E. burne or bourne. More especially parishes in cos. Camb., Linc., and Hants. With Burns, cf. Styles, Bridges, Holmes, Brooks, &c. Possibly the patronymic s, as in Williams, Jennings, and Jones.

John atte Bourn, C.R., 17 Edw. III. pt. 1.

John de Bourne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 232.

William atte Borne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 247.

John de la Burn', co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Richard de la Burne, co. Soms., ibid.

John de la Burne, co. Essex, ibid.
Robert Atte-borne, rector of Ingworth, co. Norf., 1360: FF. v. 368.

1618. William Bourne and Agnes Johnson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 67.
1754. Married.—Edward Burne and Susanna Basile: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 53.

London, 24, 4, 9, 3, 29; New York, 9, 2, 425, 1, 11.

Burnaby, Burnby.—Local, 'of Burnby,' parish in dioc. York. For intrusive a, cf. Ottaway, Greenaway, Hathaway, &c.

Nicholas de Burneby, boundour (probably for foundour), 2 Edw. II: Freemen of York, i. 17.

John de Burneby, co. Bedf., 1273. A.
1631. Richard Burneby and Tiberia Dingley: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 201.

1742. Bapt.—Ann, daughter of John and Mary Burnby: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 8.

London, 1, 0; New York, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Burnand.—Bapt. 'the son of Brennan'; v. Brennan.

Burnard, Burnet, Burnett.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Bernard,' or 'Barnard'; cf. Barnard and Barnett. Burnard is found without surname attached in the Hundred Rolls, ii. 633.

Custance Burnard, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Richard Burnard, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert Burnard, co. Bedf., ibid.
1546. Andrew Burnet, Jesus Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 410.

1729. Married.—Lewis Burnett and Jane Daniel: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 302.

1789. — Joseph Sparkhall and Ann Burnard: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 25.

London, 5, 6, 27; Philadelphia, 0, 4, 43.

Burnell, Burnel.—Bapt. and nick. As bapt. 'the son of Burnell,' as nick. 'the Burnell,' in both cases taken from the complexion; a dim. of Fr. brun, i.e. Brown. In the surname period it was a popular name for the donkey.

'Dan Burnel, the asse.'

Chaucer, The Nonnes Preestes Tale.

A few lines later occurs 'Dan Russel, the fox'; v. Russell, another name of complexion. Also v. Borrell.

Burnellus Carpenter. E.
John Burnel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 157.

John Burnellus, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Phillip Burnell, co. Leic., 1273. A.
Hubert Burnell, co. Norf., ibid.
Geoffrey de Burnell, alias Guffy de Burnwell, co. Camb., ibid.

Hugh Burnel, co. Salop, 20 Edw. I. R.
Robert Burnell, co. Devon, ibid.
1558. Buried—Agnes Burnell, St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 113.

London, 12, 1; Philadelphia, 4, 0.

Burnet, Burnett; v. Burnard.

Burney.—Local; v. Berney. But I suspect there was a Burney in co. Soms., the ey or eyot in the bourne, i.e. the river; or the hey enclosing the bourn at some particular spot; v. Hey.

John de Bourneghe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 231.

1738. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Thomas Burny: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 168.
London, 5; MDB. (co. Soms.), 2.

Burnley.—Local, 'of Burnley', an important town in co. Lancaster, in the old parish of Whalley.

Thomas de Brunlay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 210.

1609. John Burnley, Bras. Coll. (probably of co. Lancaster): Reg. Univ. Ox. iii. 284.

1732. Married—John Burnley and Mary Swainston: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 223.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 7.

Burns.—Local, 'at the burn'; v. Burn.

Burnside.—Local, 'of the burnside'; v. Burn, and cf. Garside (i.e. Garthside), Akenside (the side of the oak-wood), &c. Probably a Scottish local surname.

1751. Married—John Burnside and Sarah Button: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 202.

Crockford, 3; London, 1; Philadelphia, 14.

Burrage, Burridge.—Bapt. 'the son of Borrich'; cf. Aldridge for Aldrich, &c.

Henry Borrich, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 217.

1660. Buried—Susanna Burrage: St. Antholin (London), p. 87.

1709. Bapt.—George, s. George Burrough: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 148.

1738. Buried—Ann Burridge: ibid. p. 306.

London, 5, 12; Boston (U.S.), 0, 3.

Burrell; v. Borrell.

Burrough, Burroughes, Burroughs, Burrow, Burrowes, Burrows.—Local, 'at the borough'; v. Bury. The final s is appended as in Brooks, Styles, Briggs. Perhaps the patronymic as in Jennings, Jones, Simonds, &c.

John atte Boroghe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 180.

Richard atte Boroghe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Thomas Brewere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 218.

1742. Married—William Burroughs and Elizabeth Knight: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 18.

1752. —Hercules Burrows and Sarah Whitehead: ibid. p. 228.

London, 8, 2, 7, 2, 6, 50; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 11, 1, 2, 42.

Burser.—Offic. 'the bursar,' a purser, a treasurer, one who bore the purse and paid the expenses (v. Purser). 'Purs, or burs, bursa': Prompt. Parv.

John le Burser, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 160.

Roger le Bourcier, Stamford, 1306. M. Adam le Burser. E.

Alard le Burser. H.
1563. Married—John Smythe and Joyce Bursor: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 5.

Probably now lost in Purser, q.v.; cf. Pullinger for Bullinger.

Burstall.—Local, 'of Burstall.'

(1) A parish in co. Suffolk, near Ipswich; (2) a parish in W. Rid. Yorks, seven miles from Leeds (spelt Birstall).

Robert de Burstal, co. Leic., 1273. A. Magota de Burstalle, co. Suff., ibid.

Geoffrey de Burstalle, co. Suff., ibid.

Henry de Burstalle, co. Hunts, ibid.

1576. Thomas Burstall: Reg. Univ. Ox. iii. 55.

1655. Married—William Burstall and Elizabeth Basse: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 93.

London, 1.

Burstow.—Local, 'of Burstow,' a parish in co. Surrey. No connexion with Bristowe, q.v.

John de Burstowe, 1301. M.
1573. Thomas Jouden and Marcia Burstow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 57. London, 1.

Burt.—(1) Local, 'of Burt,' evidently a spot in the Eastern counties. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Burt'; possibly a variant of Bright, as in Ethelbert; v. Bright.

Thomas de Burt, co. Norf., 1273. A. Hamo Burt, co. Norf., ibid.
Ralph Burt, co. Leic., ibid.
Roger Burt, co. Ox., ibid.

1610. Tristram Burt, co. Dorset: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 315.

1749. Married—John Burt and Anne Dickens: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 146.

London, 37; Philadelphia, 32.

Burtenshaw.—Local; v. Birk-inshaw.

Burtheyn.—Offic. 'a bowerthane,' a chamberlain; cf. 'Burmayden, ancilla' (i.e. a chambermaid): Prompt. Parv.
William Burtheyn. G.

Burtle.—Bapt. 'the son of Bartholomew,' from the nick. Bartle (q.v.), a corruptive form; cf. Buletson. Nevertheless it may be local, as Burtle is a parish in dioc. of Bath and Wells.

Edward Burtle, kelman, 1539, Newcastle-on-Tyne (List of male population capable of bearing arms): PFF. vol. ii. pp. 174-94.

London, 1.

Burton.—Local, 'of Burton.' There are at least twenty-nine parishes called Burton in England (v. Crockford).

Richard de Burton, mercator, 5 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 14.

John de Burton, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 85.

Willelmus de Burton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 139.

Emma de Burton, 1379: ibid.

1754. Married—Giles Burton and Hannah Aberley: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 271.

London, 84; Philadelphia, 112.

Burtonwood.—Local, 'of Burtonwood,' a chapelry in the parish of Warrington, co. Lanc.

Thomas Burtonwood, of Warrington, 1618: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 35.

Henry Burtonwood, of Acton Grange, 1617: ibid.

1607. Married—Thomas Puttevant and Alice Burtenwood: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 10.

1667. Thomas Burtenwood and Eliz. Leyton: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 209.

1702. Married—William Burtonwood and Sarah Watts: St. Antholin (London), p. 115.

Manchester, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Burwash.—Local, 'of Burwash,' a parish in dioc. of Chichester, co. Sussex, formerly Burghersh and Burghest.

William de Burwash, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.

Robert de Burgheste, co. Sussex, 1273. A.

Henry de Burghersh, co. Notts, 20 Edw. I. R.

1678. Stephen Burwash and Eliz. Merricke: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 228.

London, 6.

Bury, Berry.—(1) Local, 'at the borough'; v. Burrough for other forms.

William atte Bergh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 86.

Richard atte Bury, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 106.

William atte Burgh, co. Wilts, 20 Edw. I. R.

John atte Burgh, co. Wilts, ibid.

(2) Local, 'of Bury,' with a similar but earlier origin.

Adam de la Bury, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Richard de la Bury, co. Oxf., ibid.

Geoffrey de la Burg, co. Devon, ibid.

Richard de la Burg, co. Devon, ibid.

1646. Married—Thomas Burye and Hannah Parmenter: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 79.

1748. — Edmund Berry and Mary George: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 122.

London, 4, 85; New York, 2, 83.

Busby, Bushby.—Local, (1) 'of Busby,' now Great Busby, a township in the parish of Stokesley, N. Riding Yorks; (2) 'of Bushby,' a hamlet in the parish of Thurnby, four miles from Leicester.

John Busseby, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Ricardus de Busby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 238.

Adam de Buskeby, 1379: ibid. p. 226.

Anne Busbie, 1595: Reg. St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 88.

Humphrey Busby, rector of Bexwell, co. Norf., 1556: FF. vii. 310.

1767. Married—John Hayward and Eliz. Busby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 161.

— Henry Smith and Elinor Busby: ibid. 169.

London, 14, 9; MDB. (North Riding

Yorks), 0, 1; Philadelphia, 3, 2; New York, 4, 0.

Bush.—Local, 'at the bush'; v. Busk and Buss.

1600. Bapt.—Dorathe, d. Nicholas Bush: Kensington Ch. p. 13.

1670. Thomas Bush and Ann Chambers, alias Goodwin: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 30.

1747. Married—Luke Bush and Isabel Fleck: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 95.

London, 34; Philadelphia, 76.

Bushby; v. Busby.

Busher; v. Bowsher (2), and perhaps (1).

1568. William Bussher and Joanna Smith: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 39.

1575. Henry Busher: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 389.

1605. Abraham Busher, of London: ibid. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 280.

1602-3. Francis Martin and Susan Busher: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 67.

Boston (U.S.), 2.

Busk.—Local, 'at the busk,' a bush, a thicket, from residence thereby. 'Under boske shal men weder abide': Proverbs of Hendyng. 'Buske, or busshe, rubus, dumus': Prompt. Parv. This surname has generally become Bush (q. v.) in modern times.

Hamo le Bosco, 1273. A.

Henry del Busk, ibid.

Thomas atte Busk, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 110.

Agnes at Busk, 1379: ibid.

Thomas Bosc, 1379: ibid. p. 6.

1796. Married—Ebenezer Lankester and Hester Busk: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 166.

London, 7; New York, 2.

Buskin; v. Buckskin.

Buss, Busse.—Local, 'at the bush'; v. Bush and Buss.

Matilda Bus, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Robertus Busse, co. Devon, ibid.

Adam Busse, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 252.

Willemus de Busse, 1379: ibid. p. 250.

1771. Married—Henry Galon and Susanna Buss: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 213.

London, 8, 1.

Bussell, Bushell, Bushill, Buswell, Bushel.—(1) Local, 'of Bossall,' a parish in the N. Rid. Yorks. This seems to have made little impression upon the directories. (2) Bapt. 'theson of Bussell,' undoubtedly a fontal name that made itself felt throughout South England from East to West, and was not unknown in the North.

Stephan Busselman (i. e. the servant of Bussel), co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 102.

Robert Bussel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 117.

Margareta Bosell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 31.

Johannes Bussell, 1379: ibid.

Laurentius Bosell, 1379: ibid.

Johanna Bosell, 1379: ibid. p. 34.

Geoffrey Buscel, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Reginald Buscel, co. Norf., ibid.

William Buscel, co. Hunts, ibid.

John Buscel, co. Camb., ibid.

1793. Married—George Busnell and Elizabeth Spiller: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 98.

1807. — John Bushell and Mary Barnfield: ibid. ii. 372.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 1, 0, 0, 0; London, 5, 8, 3, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 6, 0, 2, 1.

Bussey.—Local, 'de Bussey,' or perchance 'of Bushey,' a parish in co. Hertford, near Watford. But there is evidence in favour of an immigration from Normandy (v. Lower, Patr. Brit. p. 47).

Amabilia de Bussehay, co. Northampton, Hen. III-Edw. I. R.

William de Bussey, co. Linc., ibid.

Lambert de Bussaye, co. Notts, 20 Edw. I. R.

Hugo de Bussey, co. Linc., 1273. A.

William de Bussy, co. York, ibid.

Philip Buscy, co. Wilts, ibid.

'Sir John Bussey (d. 1309), Speaker of the House of Commons, was sheriff of Lincoln in 1379. Holinshed speaks of him as "Sir John Bushie"': Dict. Nat. Biog. viii. 40.

Hugo de Busshy, alias Bussey, 34 Edw. I: BBB. p. 714.

1777. Married—Robert Bussey and Esther Reynolds: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 275.

London, 7; New York, 2.

Bustard.—Nick, 'the bustard,' a large bird, now as rare as the eagle in England, but familiar in the surname epoch. Nearly all the birds, large and small, are common to the directories.

John Bustard, Fines Roll, 16 Edw. II.

Robertus Bustardbank, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 210.

Johannes Bustard, 1379: ibid. p. 291.

The name lingered on, and may still exist in England.

1582. Cristofer Hudson and Elizabeth Bustard: St. Antholin (London), p. 28.

1589. Charles Bustarde, co. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 173.

1671. John Greenwood and Alice

Bustard: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 58.
Philadelphia, 9.

Bustler.—Nick. 'the bustler,' an active but fussy man; cf. Snell, although fussiness does not attach to that nick.

Robert le Bustlere, M.P. for co. Camb.: Close Roll, 14 Edw. III. pt. ii.
William le Bustlere, Hen. III. T.
Robert le Bustlere, Hen. III. T.

Butchart.—Bapt. 'the son of Buchard'; cf. Burchett.

Walter Buchard, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 208.
Ralph Buchard, co. Ox., 1273. A.
Walter Buchard, co. Wilts, ibid.
London, 2.

Butcher.—Occup. 'the butcher'; M.E. bocher; O.F. bocher. Below are the only instances in the Hundred Rolls, and one is that of a manifest foreigner. A few years onward the name grows more familiar. For these later instances, v. Botcher and Bowker.

William le Boer, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Baudechon le Bocher, London, ibid.
Simon le Bucher, co. Norf., ibid.
Michael le Bucher. T.
1704. Married.—Jonathan Butcher and Mary Ellen Dosset: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 106.
London, 56; Philadelphia, 57.

Butler.—(1) Occup. 'the bottler,' i.e. bottle-maker; v. Bottle-maker. The 'pouchemakers, bottlers, and capmakers' acted together in the York Plays (p. xxii). These bottles were evidently of leather. (2) Offic. 'the bottler,' i.e. butler, one who looked after the bottles. The forms of entry are endless.

'Botler schalle sett for each a messe,
A pot, a lofe, withouten distresse.'
Boke of Curtasye.
'The first yere, my son, thou shalt be pantere, or butillare.'

Boke of Nurture.
Katerina la Butelere, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Adam le Buteler, co. Heref., ibid.
Clement le Butiller, co. Norf., ibid.
Faukes le Buteller, co. Linc., ibid.
Richard le Botlier, co. Bucks, ibid.
William le Botlier, co. Notts, ibid.
Hugo le Botlyer, co. Camb., ibid.
1635. Bapt.—Tomas Bottler, son of William Bottler: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 125.
London, 114; Philadelphia, 238.

Butlin, Bucklin.—Local, 'of Buttevelyn,' some spot in Normandy. The abbreviation to Butlin is quite natural. The corruption is satisfactorily proved in Lower's Patr. Brit., Introduction, p. xxxvi. Bucklin is a modern variant.

Robert de Buttevellane, co. Norf., 1139: F.F. v. 71.
William de Butveln, co. Norf., 1321: ibid. ii. 302.
Thomas Botevelyn, co. Norf., 1344: ibid. v. 72.
Roger Botevileyn, co. Linc., 1273. A.
William Botevileyn, co. Bedf., ibid.
Richard Botevileyn, co. Notts, ibid.
1662. Bapt.—Mary, d. William Butlyn: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 216.
1707. Bapt.—Joseph, son of John Butlin: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 162.
1786. Married.—James Bucklin and Rebecca Fowe: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 382.
London, 6, 1; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 1, 0.

Butter, Buter.—Nick. 'the butur,' 'Buture, the bittern. North' (Halliwell). 'Botor, a bustard.'

"Ther was venisoun of hert and bors, Swannes, pecokes, and botors."
Arthur and Merlin, p. 116; ibid. v. Bustard.

John le Butur, co. Camb., 1273. A.
John le Botur, co. Camb., ibid.
John Botere, co. Hunts, ibid.
1581. Richard Butter, New Coll.: Reg. Univ. Ox. iii. 157.
1786. Married.—William Torris and Frances Butter: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 382.
London, 5, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Buttercarver.—Occup. 'a butter-printer,' one who prints devices on butter. 'Avice la Buttercuere' (u for v) (Close Roll, 1 Edw. II), to carve, to notch, to grave (Skeat's Etym. Dict. 'Carve').

Butterfield.—Local, 'of Butterfield,' some small spot, seemingly in W. Rid. Yorks. The surname has crossed the border into co. Lanc., where it is to-day familiar.

Willelmus de Botterfeld, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 284.
Isabella Botterfeld, 1379: ibid. p. 285.
1668. John Butterfield and Elizabeth Nash: Marriage Alleg. (Westminster), p. 155.
1795. Married.—Joseph Butterfield and Alice Kirk: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 129.
London, 12; Manchester, 3; New York, 14.

Butterick.—Local, 'of Butterwick,' an abbreviation. Places in cos. Durham, York, and Lincoln; cf. Fennick (i.e. Fenwick). As in the pronunciation of Warwick and Norwich, the w is entirely dropped.

Elena de Butterwyk', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 297.
Simon de Butterwyk, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 2.
1700. Bapt.—Thomas, son of Thomas Butterick: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 388.
1755. Married.—Robert Morgan and Mary Butterwick: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 60.
London, 2; New York, 3.

Butterkid.—Nick. 'Butter-tub' or 'Butter-kit'; Robert Butrekyde, 1273. A. (v. Kidder). 'Some will cutte their cake, and putte (it) into the creame, and this feast is called the creame-potte, or creame-kitte' (Farming Book of Henry Best, p. 93, 1641).

Butterworth.—Local, 'of Butterworth,' an ancient division of the parish of Rochdale, co. Lanc. This surname has ramified in the most extraordinary manner. We meet with it in every village and town in Lancashire, and it has wandered into all the English colonies.

Reginald de Boterworth, temp. Hen. II.: Baines' Lancashire, i. 505.
John Butterworth of Butterworth, 1595: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 35.
Alice Butterworth, of Rochdale, 1587: ibid.
1661. Bapt.—Margarett, d. Robert Butterworth: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 211.
1766. Married.—Joseph Butterworth and Jane Moss: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 160.
London, 9; Manchester, 51; Rochdale, 44; Philadelphia, 47.

Buttery.—Offic. 'at the buttery.' The keeper of the buttery, or store for liquor; 'buttery-bar' (Shakespeare); v. Skeat. Early corrupted to buttery. 'Boterye, celarium, boteria, pincernaculum': Prompt. Parv.

Richard of the Botery, Close Roll, 8 Hen. IV.
Bolton Abbey possessed (1526) 'The Kitchene, West Larder, Paintree, Buttery, Law Wrie, Backhouse, and Bruhouse': Whitaker's Craven, p. 401.
'To the Drawer of the Buttry, 11s.' : Privy Purse Exp., Princess Mary, p. 92.
1530–1. John Buttery and Eliz. Burnell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 7.
1669. Bapt.—Mary, d. of John Buttery: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 242.
1670. Robert Pargetter and Cassandra Buttery: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 178.
London, 2.

Button.—Local, 'of Button,' probably, as suggested by Mr.

Lower, an early variant of Bitton, a parish in co. Glouc.

John de Buttone, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 110.

For another John of this name, v. ibid. p. 70.

1568. Ambrose Button, co. Wilts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 48.

1578-9. Henry Button, co. Wilts: ibid. p. 85.

1589. Richard Button, co. Staff.: ibid. p. 170.

1683-4. Robert Smyth and Ann Button: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 168. London, 18; Philadelphia, 12.

Buttoner.—Occup. 'the buttoner,' i.e. a maker of buttons. M.E. boton; O.F. boton.

Reginald le Botaner, London, 1273. A. Henry le Botoner, London, ibid.

Richard le Botyner. H. Lawrence le Botaner. N.

Buxton, Buckston.—Local, 'of Buxton,' parishes in dioc. of Southwell and Norwich. All the early instances point to the latter as the home of the surname. All commercial activity lay in that direction. Cf. Dixon and Dickson.

Warner Buckston, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Andreas Buckton, co. Hunts, ibid.

1669. Edward Weeks and Adry Buckston: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 22.

1745. Bapt.—Ann, d. of Wilson Buxton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 278.

1747. — Mary Arabella, d. of Wilson Buckston: ibid. 284.

London, 10, 1; Boston (U.S.), 21, 0.

Buzzard.—Nick. 'the buzzard.' M.E. busard; Fr. busard.

Eustace Busard, co. Camb., 1273. A. Peter Busard, co. Suff., ibid.

John Busard, co. Linc., ibid.

William Buscard, co. Norf., ibid.

Andrew le Buscari (Buscard?), co. Norf., ibid.

1672. Thomas Dearing and Eliz. Buzzard: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 72.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 4.

Byas, Byass.—Local, 'of the by-house' (?), i.e. the town-house; cf. by as suffix in Newby, Formby, Grimsby, &c., or as affix in Byfield, Bygrave, Byfleet, &c. It is possible the by-house was used for the court that passed the local by-laws. The corruption is, if such be the case, imitative, as is customary with surnames; cf. Loftus, Bacchus (Bakehouse), &c.

Adam de Byus, co. Linc., 1273. A. John de Bayhus, co. Bedf., ibid.

Simon de Bayhus, co. Bedf., ibid.

Jocce de Bayouse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 95.

'On the motion of Mr. Crewe, seconded by Mr. Byas, a resolution adopting Mr. E. Brodie Hoare as the Conservative candidate for Hampstead was passed with great enthusiasm': Standard, Feb. 23, 1888, p. 3.

London, 2, 3; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Byatt, Byette.—Local, 'by the yate' (i.e. gate); v. Yates; cf. Hyatt for Highgate.

Radulphus By-the-yate, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 8.

1669-70. Richard Warner and Mary Byatt: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 27.

1693. Thomas Wilson and Eliz. Byatt: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 209.

London, 4, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Bye.—Local, 'at the bye,' from residence therein; M.E. by, a dwelling, a village.

William in the By, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 97.

1568. Married—Robert Bye and Susan Martin: St. Antholin (London), p. 19.

1588. Robert Bye, London: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 164.

1599. William Hawley and Eliz. Bye: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 261.

1621. Rice Byw, co. Wilts: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 392.

London, 10; Philadelphia, 11.

Byers.—Local; v. Beer.

London, 4; New York, 11.

Byfield.—Local, 'of Byfield,' a parish in co. Northampton, seven miles from Daventry.

John de Byfeld, co. Northamt., 1273. A.

William de Byfeld, co. Bucks, 20 Edw. I. R.

Matilda de Byfeld, co. Bucks, ibid.

1597. Nicholas Byfield, co. Warw.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 210.

1616. Richard Byfield, co. Wore.: ibid. p. 349.

1741. Married—Robert Byfield and Eliz. Mole: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 26.

London, 6; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Byford.—Local, 'of Byford,' a parish seven miles from Hereford, co. Hereford.

1600. Buried—Roger Byforde: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 68.

1603. — Albon, s. Roger Byford: ibid. p. 77.

1789. Married—John Byford and Martha Baldwin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 20.

London, 10; Philadelphia, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Byron, Byrom, Byrne.—(1) Local, 'of Byram,' a township in the parish of Brotherton, co. York, formerly Byrom ('Byrom,' 1379. P. T. Yorks. p. 155).

Roger de Birun, co. York, 1273. A.

Ralph de Birun, co. Linc., ibid.

Hugh de Byron, co. Notts, ibid.

Johannes de Byrom, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 145.

The following three entries concern individuals in the immediate neighbourhood of Byrom:

Elena de Byrom (Byrom), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 155.

Roger de Birne (Monk Fryston), 1379: ibid. p. 154.

Thomas de Byrne (Selby), 1379: ibid. p. 155.

(2) Local, 'of Byrom,' an estate (possibly once a manor) in the parish of Winwick, co. Lanc. All the Lancashire Byroms hail from this spot. There is clear evidence that the four following entries concern one individual:

John de Byrum, John de Byrun, John de Byryn, John Byrn, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

John Byrom, the Manchester Jacobite and famous epigrammatist, was a descendant.

'Henry Byrome, of Byrome, died seised of the mayors of Parre and Byrome,' 1614: Baines' Lancashire, ii. 214.

John Byrom, of Byrom, in the parish of Winwick, 1593: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 35.

George Byrom, of Salford, 1558: ibid.

1604. George Byrom, or Byrame, co. Lanc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 271.

London, 3, 0, 22; Liverpool, 2, 4, 21; Philadelphia, 8, 2, 98.

Bysh, Bysshe, Biss.—Local, 'at the bush.' A form of M.E.

busch, a bush, a thicket, from residence thereby; cf. Wood, Shaw, or Hurst.

William de la Buisse, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.

Walter de Buisse, co. Bedf., ibid.

Walter Bysshe, co. Wilts, Magd. Hall: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 299.

William Byse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 213.

Edward Bisse, or Bysshe, co. Soms., 1608: Abstract of Somersetshire Wills, p. 7.

1627. Married—William Biss and Jane Sharrow: St. Antholin (London), p. 62.

1651. Bapt.—Robert, son of Bartholomew Biss: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 184.
London, 2, 0, 1; MDB. (co. Somerset), 0, 0, 5; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 2.

Byson.—Bapt. 'the son of Bye,' probably an early and soon forgotten nick. of the then favourite Barbara (?).

Henry fil. Bye, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Thomas fil. Bye, co. Camb., ibid.
London, 1.

Bythesea, Bythsea.—Local,

'by the sea,' from residence on the sea-shore; cf. Sandys.

John of the See, 6 Ric. II: Pardon's Rolls.
Thomas Bythesea, co. Soms., 1615: Abstract of Somersetshire Wills, p. 60.
MDB. (Somerset), 1, 0; Wilts, 2, 1.

Bywater, Bywaters.—Local, 'by the water.' A common entry in Latin and English forms.

Mariot juxta Aquam, co. Camb., 1273. A.

John ad Aquam, co. Camb., ibid.
John Bithewater, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 109.
Johannes Be the Water, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 180.
Johanna Bythewater, 1379: ibid. p. 17.
Johannes Bethewater, 1379: ibid. p. 195.
1597-8. Buried—Lawrence Bywater: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 62.
1666-7. Thomas Bywater and Mary Hunscoot: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 43.
London, 1, 2; Crockford, 2, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 6, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 0; New York, 1, 0.

C

Cabbell, Cabell, Cable, Cabbie.—Bapt. 'the son of Cabel,' one of the many variants of Cabbold; v. Kibble and Cobbold.

Adam Cabel, co. Norf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Richard Cabel, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Benedict Cabbell, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 197.
Henry Cabbell, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 209.

Thomas Cabbell, rector of Irstead, co. Norf., 1506: FF. xi. 48.
1554. Thomas Cable and Emma Woddecock: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 15.
1640. Bapt.—Ann, d. Morris Cable: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 145.
1788. Married—Samuel Kent and Kezia Cable: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 16.
London, 1, 1, 5, 0; New York, 0, 0, 14, 4.

Cadbury.—Local, 'of Cadbury,' two parishes in co. Somerset.
1808. Married—Mark Cadbury and Charlotte Cunningham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 397.
London, 2; Philadelphia, 5.

Cadby.—Local, 'of Cadeby,' a township in the parish of Sprotborough, W. Rid. Yorks. Also parishes in the dioc. of Lincoln and Peterborough; v. Cadeson.

Ricardus de Cadby, tinctor, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 239.
Johannes de Cadby, 1379: ibid. p. 3.
Agnes de Cateby, 1379: ibid. p. 18.
1790. Married—George Cadby and Jane Springell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 48.
London, 4.

Cadeson, Caddy, Cadd, Cade, Cady.—Bapt. 'the son of Cade,' an early personal name embedded in the local names Cadbury and Cadeby (three parishes in Crockford, in dioc. of York, Peterborough, and Lincoln). With the augmentative man, Cademan or Cadman was fairly popular as a font-name so late as the 13th century; v. Cadman. Caddy was the pet form of Cade.

Margery Cade, co. Camb., 1273.
William Cade, co. Linc., ibid.
Adam Cadeson: C. R., 17 Edw. III, pt. ii.
Matilda Cadi, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 273.
Robertus Cadison, 1379: ibid.
Johannes Cady, 1379: ibid. p. 25.
William Cade, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 153.
Richard Cade, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

1573. Bapt.—Katherine, d. William Cade: St. Mary Aldermar, p. 57.
1602. John Cadye and Joane Tucker: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 270.
London, 0, 0, 2, 0; Ulverston (Caddy), 2; Boston (U.S.) (Cady), 24; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 0, 9, 3.

Cadger.—Occup. 'the cadger,' a carrier, packman.

1642. Buried—Jane Cadger, servant of Henry Cox: St. Mary Aldermar (London), p. 172.

Cadman.—Bapt. 'the son of Cædmon.' Cadman is a North-English name. The temptation to make it occupative is great. A 'cade of herynge' is as old as the Prompt. Parv., and the cademan would seem naturally to be one who packed herring in cades, or barrels, or perhaps the cooper who made them. But the name is always found without prefix.

I think it certain that Cadman must go with Bateman and Coleman into the list of personal names. It explains Cade and Caddy as nicks. and Cadeson as a patronymic.

Walter Kademan, 1276. A.
Robert Cademan, J.
Thomas Cademain, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 208.
Robertus Cadman, 1379: ibid.
Ricardus Caddeman, 1379: ibid.
1752. Married—Hutton Hodgkinson and Susanna Cadman: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 211.
1759. — Thomas Cadman and Ann Pain: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 89.
London, 2; West Rid. Court Dir., 19; Sheffield, 14.

Cadogan.—Bapt. 'the son of Cadogan,' a Welsh name.

Cadogann ap Henry, 23 Edw. I: BBB. p. 507.
Eva fil. Kadugan, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Yorwor fil. Kadugan, co. Salop, ibid.
Cadug Wydhel, co. Salop, ibid.
1762. Married—John Cadogan and Esther Wale: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 110.
London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 7.

Cadwallader, Cadwallider, Cadwalader.—Bapt. 'the son of Cadwaladyr' (Welsh); v. Yonge, ii. 94.

David ap Cadwallader, 1322. M.
Kedwallader Rogers, 1598: Reg. St. Mary Aldermar (London), p. 66.
1683. Thomas Ann and Elinor Cadwallader: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 200.
1781. Married—Daniel Cadwallader and Mary Rabey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 326.
Liverpool, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Salop), 3, 2, 0; London, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 1.

Cadwell.—Local, 'of Cadwell,' a tithing in the parish of Baldwyn-Brightwell, co. Oxford.

German de Cadewelle, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Robert de Cadewelle, co. Oxf., ibid.
Roger de Cadwell, co. Oxf., 20 Edw. I. R. 1583. Married—William Page and Eliz. Cadwell: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 13.
1662. John Bouden and Margaret Cadwell: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 60.

London, 0; New York, 8.

Caesar.—Nick, 'the kaiser,' the emperor. Kaiser and Cayzer (q.v.) represent the early English form of the name; Caesar, generally speaking, being an immigrant. 'Julius Cesar, phisitian' to Queen Elizabeth, was a Venetian by birth. His son, Sir Julius Cesar, was Master of the Robes to James I and Charles I, and lived at Hackney, and the family ramified somewhat strongly.

'Julius Cesar Delamare, vel Seysar Delamare, docter and phisitian to Q. Eliz.': Visit. Herts, 1572-1634, p. 133.

'At Ashton-under-Line, after a lingering illness, aged 17 months, Julius Caesar Thompson. This was the child brought into the world by the Caesarean operation at the Manchester lying-in hospital': Gent. Mag. 1800, vol. lxx. pt. 2, p. 293.
1581-2. Married—Julius Caesar and Dorcas Lusher: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 107.

1705. Buried—Ann, d. John James Caesar: St. Antholin (London), p. 118.

1758. Married—Robert Chester and Harriet Caesar: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 76. London, 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Caffin, Caffyn.—Nick.; v. Coffin.

Cage.—Local, 'at the cage,' from residence therein—probably some building so called, possibly for prisoners. But Halliwell has 'Cag: a stump. West.' In this case Cage = Stubbs.

John atte Cage, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 146.
1633. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Thomas Cage: St. Antholin (London), p. 67.
1668. Married—Robert Cage and Eliz. Kilbourne: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 47. London, 1.

Cain, Caine.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Kane' or 'Cain,' a Manx surname; cf. Irish O'Kane. In Manx records it is found as McKane (1408); MacCann (1430); Mac Cane (1511); Cain (1586); Cane (1601); Caine (1609); Cayne (1610): v. Manx Note Book, ii. 24. Mr. Caine, formerly M.P. for Barrow-in-Furness, and Mr. Hall Caine, the novelist, are both of Manx descent.

(2) Local; v. Cane. This surname still lives in co. York, and occurs early.

Johannes Cayne, Kirkby Overblow, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 233.

Johannes Cayne, Knaresborough, 1379: ibid. p. 239.

1585. Richard Cayne and Anne Porye: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 141.

1653. Married—John Cane and Marie Wilshire: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 31. Liverpool, 20, 4; Philadelphia, 50, 2.

Caines, Cains, Keynes.—Local, 'of Cahagnes,' in the department of Calvados, a village lying south-west of Caen. Early branches of the family gave title to Milton Keynes, co. Bucks; Keynes Court, co. Wilts; Combe Keynes, co. Dorset; and Winkley Keynes, co. Devon (v. Lower).

John de Kaynes, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Lucas de Kaynes, co. Bucks, ibid.

Robert de Kaynes, co. Wilts, ibid.

Geoffrey de Kaynes, co. Wilts, ibid.

1756. Married—William Holford and Eliz. Caines: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 200.

1770. Robert Lamb and Mary Kaines: ibid. p. 62.

London, 2, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.) (Cains), 1.

Caird, Card.—Occup. 'the caird,' a gipsy, a travelling tinker. A Scotch surname.

'What means that coat ye carry on your back?
Ye maun, I ween, unto the Kairds belang.'

Koss, Helenore, p. 66 (Jamieson). 'This captain's true name was Forbes, but nicknamed Kaird, because when he was a boy he served a Kaird.'

Spalding, i. 243 (Jamieson).

1802. Married—Henry Woodger and Eliz. Card: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 268.

London, 3, 4; Philadelphia, 1, 2.

Caitiff, Catiff.—Nick.; M.E. caitif, a captive, a wretch; O.F. caitif; Lat. captivus. Probably the Catiff of the Sheffield Directory is a corruption of Catcliffe, a township in the neighbouring parish of Rotherham.

Thomas Queytyff, 1457: Reg. Univ. Oxf. p. 31. Sheffield, 0, 1.

Cakebread.—1 Nick. I cannot suggest any origin but a sobriquet for one who made cake-bread; cf. Blanchpain or Whitebread.

1613. Married—Thomas Cakebread and Isbell Barnes: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 248.

1632. Buried—Thomas, s. Richard Cakebread: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 205. London, 2; New York, 1.

Calcott, Calcut, Calcutt, Caldecott, Caulcutt, Caldecourt, Caldercourt, Caldico, Cawcutt, Callcott, Callcott, Caldicot, Caldicourt.—Local, 'of Caldecote.' Whatever this local term may mean, it is variously scattered. Of parishes alone there is a Caldecote in the dioc. of Ely, Peterborough, and Worcester; and a Coldecott in the dioc. of Peterborough and St. Albans. Mr. Lower says there is a Caude-Côte in Normandy. He adds, 'It is a singular fact, says the Rev. John Taddy, that "wherever we have traces of a Roman road, we find hamlets in the near neighbourhood of it of the name of Caldecott. I could quote abundance of such" (Papers of the Architect. Soc. of Northampton, York, Lincoln, and Bedford, ii. 429).'

Henry de Caudecote, co. Suff., 1273. A. William de Caudecote, co. Bucks, ibid.

Alexander de Caldicote, co. Camb, ibid.

Albin de Caldecote, co. Hunts, ibid.

Edmund de Caldicote, co. Bucks, ibid.

Roger de Caldecote, co. Northumb., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1752. Married—Alex. Caldicutt and Ann Goodman: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 222.

1758. Married—Thomas Parsley and Susanna Caldecott: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 80.

1783. — William Callcott and Ann Wheeler: ibid. p. 347.

London, 6, 1, 3, 0, 1, 1, 2, 0, 1, 4, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Camb.) Cawcutt, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 1.

Calder.—Local, 'at the Calder,' from residence beside the Calder, one of the many rivers of that name.

Adam de Calder, 1179: RRR. p. 24.

1711. Buried—Robert, s. John Calder: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 280.

1798. Married—Henry Calder and Hannah Henderson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 180.

London, 10; Boston (U.S.), 7.

Calderbank.—Local, 'of the Calder bank,' from residence on the bank of one of the rivers Calder; cf. Gillbanks, Windibank, &c.

Manchester, 1; Ulverston, 1.

Caldercourt.—Local; v. Calcott.

Calderwood.—Local, 'of Calderwood,' i.e. the wood by the Calder, q.v.

1789. Married—William Calderwood and Ann Sowersby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 29.

London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 4.

Caldicot, Caldicott, Caldicourt.—Local; variants of Calcott.

Caldwell.—Local, 'of Caldwell,' parishes in the dioc. of Ripon and Peterborough. Probably 'the cold-well' = cold, or cald. A.S. ceald; v. Coldwell and Caudle. This surname has ramified in the most extraordinary manner in the United States. One or two early settlers must have bred a healthy family of boys, who thrived and married.

Ricardus de Coldewell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 3.

Johannes de Coldewell, 1379: ibid. p. 19.

Johannes de Coldewell, 1379: ibid. p. 174.

1581. John Caldwell and Margaret

Hilde: Marriage Lic. (London), 1. 103.

1796. Married—John Caldwell and Margaret Mathews: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 152.

Manchester, 5; London, 6; West Rid.

Court Dir., 5; Philadelphia, 157.

Calf.—Nick. 'the calf'; cf. Bull, Bullock, &c.

Reginald Cauf, co. York, 1273. A.

John le Cauf, co. Linc., ibid.

Nicholas Calf, co. Glouc., ibid.

Richard Calf, c. 1300. M.

Cicilia Calf, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire,

p. 6.

Nicholas Calf, secular chaplain, B.C.L.

1458: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. i. p. 32.

1605. Bapt.—Benjamin, s. Joyes Calf, merchant, stranger; christened in the Dutch Church: St. Dionis Backchurch,

p. 92.

1738. Bapt.—Mary, d. John Calfe: St.

Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 238.

London, 1; New York, 1.

Callaway, Callway, Calloway.—Local. Not as suggested by Lower, a corruption of Gallo-way (though, considering the fact that C and G are so constantly interchangeable, the idea was sensible enough), but a surname derived from some small locality in co. Devon or Cornwall, which I cannot identify. The middle syllable is probably intrusive. Cf. Otaway and Greenaway for Otway and Greenway. The suffix is, no doubt, way, a road, a path.

Walter Calwey, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

William Calwey, co. Devon, Hen.

III—Edw. I. K.

Cassadra Cayllewey, co. Wilts, 20

Edw. I. K.

1524. William Caloway and Alice

Cower: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 4.

1549. Bapt.—Robert, son of John

Calwaie: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 5.

1554. — Jane, d. of Thomas Calwaye:

ibid. p. 7.

1683. — Phillip, son of Richard Calla-way: ibid. p. 72.

1803. — Henry Callaway and Mary

Selden: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 275.

London, 1, 0, 0; Exeter, 1, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 3.

Callbeck.—Local, 'of Caldbeck.' An American variant; v. Calbeck.

Boston (U.S.), 3; New York, 1.

Callcott, Calcut.—Local, 'of Caldecote'; v. Calcott.

Callender, Callander.—(1) Occup. 'the calender,' one who calenders cloth, a calenderer.

Cowper's 'John Gilpin' has immortalized the word. 'To calender (F. calendrier), to press, smooth, and set a gloss upon linnen, &c.; also the engine itself' (Bailey's Dict., 2-vol. edit. 1737). Orig. from cylinder, a roller.

Robert le Kalendar, C. R., 6 Edw. I.

It is possible this entry may concern some money-changer, one who kept accounts by the calender.

'The Goldsmiths, Diers, Calanderers, and Sadlers' (order of Procession of Crafts on Corpus Christi Day (1533) from Common Hall, Norwich): FF. ii. 148.

(2) Local, 'of Callender.' Several localities in Scotland are so called in cos. Perth and Stirling.

1748. Married—John Callender and Ann Bradshaw: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair,

p. 115.

1794. — James Callender and Jane

Rannie: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 121.

London, 5, 0; Boston (U.S.), 13, 0;

Philadelphia, 2, 1.

Callis, Calliss.—Local, 'from Calais'; v. Challis and Challice.

John de Caley, Jersey, 20 Edw. I. R. Robert de Calays, co. Kent, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Henricus de Calays, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 191.

Robertus Calas, 1379: ibid. p. 132.

1560. Buried—a poor starved Callis man: Reg. Allhallows, Barking, p. 69.

1603. Thomas Walker and Judith

Callice: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 278.

1798. Married—Thomas Callis and

Peggy Broliat: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 181.

London, 2, 0; Sheffield, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0; New York, 2, 1.

Callow.—Nick. 'the callow' (M.E. calewe), said of unfledged birds, and applied as a sobriquet; cf. Suckling. Probably it was a nickname for a bald-headed man; cf. Ballard.

John le Calewe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 137.

Gilbert Calwe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

ibid. p. 147.

Walter Calwe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

ibid. p. 148.

1660. Edward Barnaby and Susan

Callow: Marriage Alliance (Canterbury),

p. 54.

1756. Buried—Sarah Callow: St.

Peter, Cornhill, ii. 142.

London, 12; MDB. (co. Soms.), 2;

Boston (U.S.), 1.

Calman.—Bapt. 'the son of Caleman,' i.e. Carleman (v. Yonge, ii. 360).

Harvens Caleman, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Roger Caleman, co. Camb., ibid.

London, 1.

Calthorp, Calthrop, Colthup.—Local, 'of Calthorpe.' (1) A parish in co. Norfolk, four miles from Aylsham; (2) 'of Calthorpe' or 'Calthorpe,' a parish in co. Leicester, four miles and a half from Lutterworth.

Radulf de Kalthorp, co. Norf., 20

Edw. I. R.

Bartholomew de Calthorp, co. Norf.,

1273. A.

Gilbert de Calthorp, co. Linc., ibid.

Ranulf de Calthorp, co. Linc., ibid.

Mathew de Calthorp, co. Norf., ibid.

William de Calthorp, 14 Edw. III:

FF. x. 168.

Walter de Calthorpe, 20 Edw. III: ibid.

Johannes de Colthorp', 1379: P. T.

Yorks. p. 300.

Matilda de Colthorp', 1379: ibid. p. 209.

1578. Clement Calthorpe and Jane

Sampson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 80.

1615. Married—George Colthrop and Anne Evans: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 41.

London, 0, 1, 1; Crockford, 0, 4, 0.

Calverley.—Local, 'of Calverley,' a parish five miles from Bradford, W. Rid. Yorks. For a variant, v. Caverley.

Christiana de Kalverle, co. Northumb., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Gilbert de Calverley, co. Northumb., 1273. A.

Agnes de Calverslay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 30.

Johanna de Calverley, 1379: ibid. p. 47. 1588. Married—Richard Calverley and Dorithie Okes: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 14.

1785. — Joseph Calverley and Hannah Compton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 370.

Crockford, 2; London, 3; West Rid. Court Dir., 4; Philadelphia, 17.

Calvert.—Occup. 'the calf-herd,' a keeper of calves. A familiar Yorkshire surname; cf. Oxnard, Coward, Stoddart, Shepherd; v. Herd.

Henry Calvehird, c. 1300. M.

John le Calvehird. H.

Warin le Calvehird, co. York. W. J.

Johanna Calfhird, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 301.

Johannes Calvehird, 1379: ibid. p. 269.

Magota Calvehird, 1379: ibid. p. 9.

Thomas Calvert, of Cockerham, 1567: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 55.

1604. Married—George Calvert and Anne Myne: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 244.

1719. — Joseph Hall and Anne Calvert: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 61.

London, 3; West Riding Court Dir., 25; Philadelphia, 11.

Cam, Camm.—Local, (1) 'of the Cam,' one of the rivers or streams of that name, from residence on its banks. (2) 'Of the camb,' from residence on the camb or crest of a hill, or dike. The Yorkshire Cams represent (2).

Willelmus Cambe, constabularius, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 276.

Johannes Cambe, 1379: ibid. p. 274.

Nicholaus Cambe, 1379: ibid.

Henry del Cam, co. Suff., 1275. A.

Robert de Cam, co. Oxf., ibid.

Osbert de Cam, co. Norf., 24 Hen. II: FF. ix. 523.

John de Cam, rector of Kirkby-Cane, co. Norf., 1326: ibid. viii. 34.

Thomas Cambe, of Capenwray, 1678: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 55.

Jonathan Cam, of Capenwray, 1716: ibid. ii. 50.

1733. Married—Dymock Morrice and Mary Cam: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 12.

1771. — Edward Green and Eliz. Camb: ibid. p. 204.

London, 0, 0; Sheffield, 3, 7; West Rid. Court Dir., 2, 5; Philadelphia, 0, 4.

Camberbirch; v. Cumberbatch.

Cambray.—Local, 'of Cambray,' a city in the Netherlands. An early immigrant.

Mathew de Cambrey, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Egidius de Cambrey, London, ibid.

1604. Married—William Camray and Ann Inglefeld: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 116.

1701. — Thomas Cambray and Ruth Haynes: ibid. 223.

1798. — John Holmes and Anne Cambray: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 180.

1806. — Phillipe Cambraye and Caroline Hossick: ibid. p. 355.

London, 1; Oxford, 4.

Cambridge.—Local, 'of Cambridge,' the well-known University and capital town of the county of that name.

Johannes de Cambrey, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 119.

1720. Married—Abraham Cambridge and Millicant Tidman: St. Antholin (London), p. 143.

1760. — John Cambridge and Flora Marlow: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 93.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 3.

Camidge, Cammage, Gam-mage.—(1) Local, 'of Gamages.'

It is possible, of course, that Camidge may be a corruption of Cambridge.

Godfridus de Gamages, 38 Hen. III: BBB. p. 57.

Enfemia de Gamages, 38 Hen. III: ibid.

(2) —?

Henry le Gammage, 1273. A.

1607. Buried—A still-born son of Thomas Camage: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 100.

1769. Married—John Gamage and Mary Cooper: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 190.

1772. — Thomas Gammage and Eliz. Burgis: ibid. p. 223.

London, 2, 1, 1.

Cammel, Gamel.—(1) Bapt.

'the son of Gamel'; no connexion with the animal. G constantly becomes C in English nomenclature; cf. Crane for Grane, Candlin for Gandelin, &c. The first two instances occur in close juxtaposition in the same village list:

Johannes Camyll, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 20.

Cicilia Gamyll, 1379: ibid.

Again we find placed together:

Agnes Gamel, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 76.

Elizabet Gamel, 1379: ibid.

Willelmus Camel, 1379: ibid.

(2) Local, 'of Camel,' or 'Camel Queen,' a parish in co. Somerset.

Ernicus Camel, co. Heref., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Henry de Camel, co. Wilts, ibid.

1642. Buried—John Cammell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 254.

1752. Married—George Camwell and Eliz. Harison: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 222.

London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Camp.—(1) Local, 'at the camp,' i.e. field.

Felicia in Campo, co. Camb., 1273. A.

William de Campo, co. Oxf., ibid.

Johannes de Kempe, 1379: P. T. How-denshire, p. 24.

1584. William Campe and Mary Farmer: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 130.

1609. Married—Thomas Nash and Anne Camp: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 48.

(2) Official, 'a soldier,' a form of Kemp, q.v.

1736. Bapt.—Mary, d. John and Eliza-beth Camp: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 228.

London, 13; Philadelphia, 40.

Campion.—Occup. 'le Cam-pion,' a fighter, a contester; O.F. champion, campion. 'Campon, or champon; athleta' (Prompt. Parv.); v. Champion.

Beatrix le Campiun, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Custance Campyun, co. Camb., ibid.

John Campioun, co. Hunts, ibid.

Walter le Campion, co. Bucks, ibid.

Simon Campion, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 12.

Ricardus Campion, 1379: ibid. p. 30.

1553. Buried—Cecilie Campyon: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 180.

1569. Henry Campion and Eliz. Lawrence: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 42.

London, 11; MDB. (co. Camb.), 2; Philadelphia, 18.

Camplin, Campling.—? —

The suffix is manifestly the dim.-elin (cf. Hewling). Thus it may be of the baptismal or nickname class. If the latter, it may be a dim. of Campion, i.e. Champion, q.v. In any case William Campelin (infra) must be looked upon as the progenitor.

William Campelin, co. Norf., 1273. A.

John Camplyon, rector of Rackheath Parva, co. Norf., 1401: FF. x. 453.

1627. Buried—Margaret Camplin, Repham, co. Norf.: ibid. viii. 247.

1679. — Titus Campliin, chymist, Norwich: ibid. iv. 157.

1790. Married—William Maken and Eleanor Camplen: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 35.

1791. — John Parks and Carolina Camplin: ibid. p. 62.

1797. Married—Edward Page and Mary Campling: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. p. 170. London, 5, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Camps.—Local, 'de Campes,' apparently some continental spot. The name now seems peculiar to the county of Cambridge.

Salomon de Campis, co. Kent, 1273. A.
William de Campes, Camb., ibid.
Henry de Campes, co. Suff., ibid.
William de Campes, co. Linc., 20
Edw. I. R.
London, 0; MDB. (co. Cambridge), 11;
New York, 1.

Candleman.—Occup.; v. Chandler.

William Candelman, C. R., 47 Hen. II.
Adam Candelman, temp. 1300. M.

Candlemaker.—Occup.; v. Chandler.

John le Candlemakere, temp. 1300. M.
Candlemass.—Bapt. (?); cf. Christmas, Middlemas, Nowell, Pask, &c., all from the season of the year in which the child was born.

Matilda Candelmes, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 216.

Candlin.—Bapt. 'the son of Gandelyn.' The ballad of 'Robyn (Robin Hood) and Gandeleyne' is probably as old as the reign of Edw. I (v. Encyc. Brit., 9th edit., article Robin Hood).

'Gandeleyne bent his goode bowe,
And set therein a flo.'

Robyn and Gandeleyne (A Lytell Geste of Robin Hode, ii. 38).

Gandelyn still survives in Yorkshire in the form of Candlin, where we find several instances of initial G becoming C; cf. Cammel and Gamel.

Robertus Candelayn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 8.

Thomas Candelayn, 1370: ibid. p. 9.
John Candelayn, 1379: ibid.

The solitary owner of this historic name that I can discover ought to have his title set down in full. Here it is—

John Candlin, corn, hay, and straw-dealer, 187 and 189 Bright St., Sheffield (West Riding Directory, 1867).

Candy.—Local; v. Gandy.

Cane.—(1) Local, 'of Caen,' in Normandy; v. Cain (2).

Hugh de Caen. C.

Richard de Cane. H.

Roger de Cane, co. Linc. 1273. A.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Cane.' 'Cane, Cana, or Canus appears in the Domesday of Sussex as a baptismal name': Lower, Patr. Brit. p. 51.

Adam Cane, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Alicia Cane, co. Oxf., ibid.
Walter Cane, co. Hunts, ibid.

(3) Bapt. for Cain, q.v.

1747. Married—Philip Watkins and Jane Cane: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 98. London, 6; Philadelphia, 4.

Cann.—Local, 'of Cann,' a parish in co. Dorset. The name is very familiar in co. Devon.

Richard de Canne, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
1678. John Cann and Eliz. Pewtner: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 221.

1751. Married—Richard Cann and Mary Reddell: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 205.

1765. — John Cann and Ann Stevens: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 140.

London, 9; Plymouth, 4; Exeter, 4;
Devon Dir. (Farmers' list), 13; Philadelphia, 11.

Cannon, Canon.—Official, 'the Canon' (v. Shannon); cf. Archdeacon, Bishop, Priest, Deacon, &c.

John le Cannon, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
William le Canon, co. Oxf., ibid.

1527. William Leghe and Alice Cannon: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 6.

1570. Bapt.—Jone. d. Jeames Cannone: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 85.

London, 27, 0; Philadelphia, 130, 6.

Cant.—Local, 'of Kent,' an old pronunciation and spelling; cf. Cantis for Kentish.

Edmund de Cant, or Kente, bailiff of Norwich, 1356: FF. iii. 99.

1625. James Cant and Susan Dobinson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 155.

1751. Married—Peter Cant and Ann Richardson: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 202.

1759. — Stephen Cant and Eliz. Hughson, St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 83.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 3.

Cantis.—Local, 'the Kentish,' i.e. Kentishman; cf. Cornwallis, and v. Kentish and Cant.

1722. Married—Valentine Cantis and Mary Cantis: Canterbury Cath. p. 75. London, 1.

Cantlay, Cantley.—Local, 'of Cantley,' (1) a parish in co. Norfolk, four miles from Acle; (2) a parish in co. York, three miles from Doncaster.

Rogerus de Cantelay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 102.

1797. Married—Robert Mulcaster and Margaret Cantley, co. Cumb.: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 165.

London, 1, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1; New York, 0, 1.

Cantrell, Cantrill, Cantle.—Nickname. One who rang the chanterelle. O.F. chanterelle, a small bell; from chanter, to sing; cf. chantriel, a decoy partridge (Howell, quoted by Halliwell). Most of my instances hail from Yorkshire. I could have adduced others. It is there the surname is still most largely represented. With Cantrell (instead of Chantrill) cf. Candler and Chandler, Capel and Chappell, Cancellor and Chanceller.

Alice Cantrel, co. York, 1273. A.
William Chanterel, co. Northampt., ibid.

Richard Chaunterel, co. Wilts, ibid.

Martin Chanterel, co. York, ibid.

Roger Chantrel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 103.

Johannes Quayntorell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 28.

Johauna Quayntell, 1379: ibid.

1560. Bapt.—John, son of John Chauntrell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 5.

1632. John Yorke and Judith Cantrell, co. Berks: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 29.

London, 1, 1, 2; West Rid. Court Dir., 4, 0, 0; Sheffield, 9, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Somerset), 0, 1, 2; Philadelphia, 10, 0, 0.

Cantwell.—Local, 'of Kentwell.' I cannot find the spot.

Gilbert de Kentewelle, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Thomas Cantwell, C. R., 24 Hen. VI.

1743. Married—Joseph Shirley and Martha Cantwell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 30.

London, 1; Oxford, 1; New York, 13;

Philadelphia, 12.

Canvasser.—Occup. 'the canvasser,' a manufacturer of canvas, hempen cloth; M.E. canevas, a trisyllable in Chaucer, C. T. 12866 (Skeat).

Henry le Canevacer, temp. 1300. M.
Richard le Canvasser, ibid.

Capel, Caple, Capell, Capelle.—Local, 'at the chapel'; Low Latin, capella, a sanctuary. Many chapels are so styled in England and Wales; cf. Capel-Cynon, Capel-Dewi, Capel-Colman, and Capel-Coelbren, all in dioc. of St. David's; Capel St. Andrew and Capel St. Mary in dioc. of Norwich; cf. Caplin for Chaplin.

Bateman de Capele, co. Suff., 1273. A.
 Andrew de Capella, co. Camb., ibid.
 Maynard de Capella, co. Bucks, ibid.
 Elizabeth Capell, 1696: Reg. St.
 Columb Major, p. 245.
 Edward Chapell, 1697: ibid.
 William Caple, 1770: ibid. p. 129.
 1701. Bapt.—William Capell: St.
 Michael, Cornhill, p. 160.
 1795. Married—Owen Myers and Mary
 Capel, St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 139.
 London, 11, 1, 2, 0; New York, 2, 0, 0,
 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 1, 7.

Capgrave.—Local, 'of Capgrave,' a place in co. York. The etymology is simple enough, 'the shaw or little wood on the top of the hill'; v. Cope and Grave.

Richard de Copgrave, 29 Edw. I: Freemen of York, i. 8.

Johannes Copgrave, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 92.

1621. Thomas Copgrave and Rose Woodward: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 104.

Caple.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Cabel'; v. Cabbell, a famous West-country surname, which has given us Keble, &c. The b has been sharpened in this instance to p.

(2) Local, 'at the chapel,' from residence thereby; v. Capel.

1623-4. James Smith and Dorothy Caple: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 135.
 MDB. (co. Somerset), 10.

Caplewood.—Local, 'of Caplewood,' probably meaning 'the chapel-wood,' i.e. the wood beside the chapel; v. Capel.

Ricardus Capulwode, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 45.

Adam Capilwode, 1379: ibid.
 1613. Married—George Carter and Katherine Caplewood: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 30.

1616. Richard Caplewood and Sarah Peasecod: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 42.

1617. Buried—Widow Caplewood: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 214.

I do not find this name existing to-day. Still, it probably lives.

Caplin.—Official; v. Chaplin.

Capmaker.—Occup. 'the cap-maker,' a maker of caps; v. Capper. Coke Lorelle's Bote includes, 'spynsters, carders, and cappeknitters.' In the York Pageant the cap-makers are mentioned (York Mystery Plays, p. xxii, ed. Toulmin Smith).

Joan Chaumpeneye, capemakere, C. R., 4 Ric. II.
 Thomas Capmaker, H.

Capman.—(1) Occup. 'the chapman,' q.v.; cf. Cancellor, Candler, or Caplin, for Chancellor, Chandler, or Chaplin.

(2) Occup. 'the capman'; v. Capper and Capmaker.

John Capman, c. 1300. M.
 James Kapman, temp. Eliz. Z.
 In memory of Mrs. Mary Chapman, relict of Samuel Capman (sic) . . . 1724.
 —Thorpe, near Norwich: FF. vii. 262.

Capon.—Nick. 'the capon,' a young cock; A.S. capun. 'Capvne, or capone; gallinacius.' Prompt. Parv. Cf. Cock, Henn, Cockerell, &c. In East Anglia the surname has always held its own.

Ralph Capon, co. Norf., 1273. A.
 Agnes Capun, co. Norf., ibid.
 Ranulph Capun, co. Linc., ibid.
 Adam Capoun, co. Camb., ibid.
 Thomas Capon, dean of Ipswich, 20 Hen. VIII: FF. vi. 207.
 John Capon, co. Norf., 1541: ibid. x. 448.

1800. Married—Joseph Capon and Ann Williams: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 219.
 London, 7; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 10; New York, 2.

Capper.—Occup. 'the capper,' a maker or dealer in caps. Thomas Pendilton, capper, 1562 (Preston Guild Rolls, p. 30). Probably made of woollen cloth, though felt was used. An Act of Parl., 4 Hen. VII. c. ix, begins, 'No hatter or capper shall felt any hat,' &c. In the York Pageant amongst other crafts marched the 'cap-makers'; in the Chester Pageant the 'Cappers, Wyerdrawers, and Pynners'; in the Norwich Pageant the 'cappers, hatters' (FF. ii. 148).

Symon le Cappere, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
 John le Capiere, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Thomas le Capiere, co. Oxf., ibid.
 1581-2. Francis Capper and Eliz. Willson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 106.
 1800. Married—More Cleland and Lydia Capper: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 225.
 London, 10; New York, 2; Philadelphia, 9.

Capron, Capern, Chapperon, Chapron.—Nick. Probably a sobriquet for the cowed monks. M.E. cape, or cope (a hood); O.F. cape, augmented into caperon, now chaperon. The modern sense of chaperon has no place in nomenclature. My first instance is interesting as describing a maker or manufacturer of caperons.

William Caperoner, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 88.
 Edmund Caprun, co. Norf., 1273. A.
 John Caprun, Camb., ibid.
 Stephen Caprun, co. Hunts, ibid.
 Alice Caprun, co. Bedf., ibid.
 Thomas Chaperoun, J.
 Almeric Chaperon. O.
 John Chaperon, co. Norf., 1400: FF. ii. 97.

1550. Hugh Beete and Anne Capron: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 13.

1788. Married—Robert Capron and Mary Thomas Nixon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 4.

London, 2, 2, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 1, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia (Chapron), 2; New York, 3, 1, 0, 0.

Capstick.—Local; v. Cope-stake.

Carberry, Carbreay, Carbury.—Local, 'of Carberry,' a parish in co. Kildare, Ireland. As this surname looks very English, I insert it to prevent any misapprehension.

1743. Philip Carbery and Mary Chester: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 345.

1792. Married—The Right Hon. George Evans, Baron Carbery, and Susan Watson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 82.

1806. — John Dollman and Jemima Mary Carbery: ibid. 344.

London, 0, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 9, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 23, 1, 0; New York (Carbury), 1.

Carbine; v. Corbyen.

Carbonel.

Peter Carbonel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 231.

Peter Carbonel, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Richard Carbonel, co. Salop, ibid.
 Ralph Carbonel, co. Camb., ibid.

1654. Married—William Carbonnell and Eliz. Delillors, St. Antholin (London), p. 83.
 London, 1.

Carbutt.—Bapt.; v. Garbutt, of which it is a corruption; cf. Cammel for Gamel, &c.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Carder.—Occup. 'the carder,' a carder of wool, probably a felder industry; cf. Kempster.

John le Carder, 7 Edw. III: Freemen of York, i. 27.

Robert de Coleby, carder, 8 Edw. III: ibid. p. 28.

Margareta Cardar, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 294.

1670. Married—Willia' Johnson and Ane Carder: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 172. 1750. Bapt.—Ann, d. of Nicodemus and Ann Carder: ibid. ii. 294. London, 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Cardew.—Local, 'of Cardew,' a manor in the old barony of Dalton, co. Cumb.

William de Carthew: E. and F., co. Cumb., p. 93.

Thomas de Karthew: ibid. 1602. Married—Robert Cardew and Ann Harte: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 26. 1694. — Jeffery Cardue and Margaret Jesty: ibid. p. 19. Crockford, 3.

Cardiff.—Local, 'of Cardiff,'

William de Cardiff, canon of St. David's, 1201: Hist. and Ant. St. David's, p. 364. William de Karthurdf, co. Heref., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

William de Kerdoft, co. Wilts, ibid. John Cardiff, co. Southampton, 1273. A. Henry Cardyef, co. Southampton, ibid. Ralph Cardiff, of Woolfall, parish of Audlem, 1612: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 36.

1692. Married—John Cox and Mary Cardiff: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 212. 1747. — Thomas Cardiff and Eliz. Baker: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 80. Liverpool, 1.

Cardinal, Cardinall.—Nick, 'the cardinal,' the ecclesiastical dignitary; cf. Italian cardinali; cf. Bishop, Archdeacon, &c.

William le Cardin', co. Salop, 1273. A. Henricus Cardynall, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 126.

Walter Cardinall. P. William Cardynall, temp. Eliz. Z. 1683. Married—John Bramton and Margaret Cardinall: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 200.

1802. — John Cardinall and Jane Evans: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 257. London, 1, 0; New York, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 7, 0; MDB (co. Essex), 0, 4.

Cardmaker.—Occup. 'the card-maker,' a manufacturer of the 'card' or 'comb' used by the cloth-worker in the carding of wool and other raw material.

John Cardmaker, minorite, 1532: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. i. p. 172.

Willelmus Cardemaker, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 98.

Willm. Raweff, kardmaker, 1441: W. 11.

William Cardemaker, C.R., 3 Edw. IV. 'John Cardmaker, alias Taylor (d. 1555), martyr, was originally an Observant friar. . . . He became vicar of St. Bridget's in Fleet St., and one of the lecturers at St. Paul's. He was brought before Bonner, May 25, 1555, and burnt alive at Smithfield, May 30': Dict. Nat. Biog. ix. 39-40.

The occupative term is found in the 17th century:

James Dewhurst, parish of Rochdale, cardmaker, 1637: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 64.

I fear the surname is obsolete.

Cardus.—Local, 'of Carruthers'; v. Carruthers. Manchester, 1; Colne, 1.

Cardwell.—Local, 'de Cardeville.' This surname seems to be of Norman extraction. The suffix -ville is commonly turned into -well; cf. Boswell and Bosville.

William de Cardeville, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Richard de Cardeville, co. Southamp., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1603. Buried—Susand Cardewell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 74. 1612. Married—ThomasCoe and Dorath Cardwell: St. Antholin (London), p. 49. 1754. — Charles Bradley and Alice Cardwell: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 276. London, 3; Philadelphia, 16; MDB (co. Oxford), 2.

Care.—Local, 'at the care,' a form of Carr, q.v., from residence thereby.

Lucas de la Care, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R. 1663. Buried—Robert Care: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 352.

1706. Married—John Car (or Care) and Eliz. Ariss: St. Antholin (London), p. 119. London, 2; Philadelphia, 6.

Careless, Careless.—Nick, 'the careless,' free from anxiety and sorrow; cf. Merry, Jolly, &c.

Willelmus Careles, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 262.

Antony Careless, temp. 1570. Z. 1722. Married—Charles Carelesse and Rebecca Moor: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 247.

1699. — William Careless and Lydia Coles: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 190. London, 3, 1; MDB (co. Hereford), 0, 4; Philadelphia, 3, 0.

Carey, Cary.—Local, 'of Carey,' a great West-country surname. Mr. Lower, quoting Sir Bernard Burke's Landed Gentry of Great Britain and Ireland, says, 'Cary: the ancient family of Cary derives its surname from the manor of Cary, or Kari, as it is called in Domesday Book, lying in the parish of St. Giles-on-the-Heath, near Launceston.'

John de Cary, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 261.

Roger de Cary, co. Soms., 1273. A. 1545. Henry Carey and Ann Morgan: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 4.

1592. Buried—John Cary: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 46.

MDb. (co. Soms.), 20, 2; London, 14, 15; Philadelphia, 116, 8.

Carle, Carleman, Karl, Karle, Carl.—Occup. 'the carle,' or 'the carleman,' a rustic, a bondman, a churl. 'Carle, or Chorle: rusticus. Carle, or Chorle: bonde-man, or woman; servus nativa, serva nativa': Prompt. Parv. Way adds in a note, 'Anglo-Saxon ceorl, carlman: rusticus.'

Henry le Carle, co. York, 1273. A. Ida Carle, co. Camb., ibid.

Robert Carleman, co. Camb., ibid.

Henry Carle, co. York, ibid.

Robert Karleman, co. Camb., ibid.

1438. John Carle, rector of Weeting, co. Norf.: FF. ii. 169.

1603. Buried—George Carle: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 150.

1627. Married—John Carle and Jone Weaver: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 57.

London, 1, 0, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 6, 0, 1, 3, 7.

Carleton, Carlton.—Local, 'of Carlton.' There are at least twenty-two parishes and townships so called in England; v. Charlton and Chorlton, literally the town of Karl, or the churl.

Reginald de Carleton, co. Linc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Alan de Carleton, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

John de Carleton, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Geoffrey de Karleton, co. Bedf., ibid.

Edmund de Carleton, rector of Little

Porlingland, co. Norf.: FF. v. 445.

Robert de Carleton, co. Soms., 1

Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 129.

Anabella de Carleton, 1379: P. T.

Yorks. p. 268.

Thomas de Carleton, 1379: ibid. p. 24.

Johannes de Carleton, 1379: ibid. p. 46.

1562-3. Edward Brisley and Grace

Karleton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 26.

1587. Married—Robert Harvie and

Agnes Carleton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,

iii. 13.

London, 3, 0; New York, 16, 14.

Carlisle, Carlyle, Carlile,

Carlill.—Local, 'of Carlisle,' the county town of Cumberland. The surname crossed the Border, the spelling undergoing slight changes.

Still it is easy to see that Thomas

Carlyle was born and brought up not very far from the city whence his ancestors originally sprang.

Nicholas de Carliolo, aurifaber, 4 Edw. II : Freeman of York, i. 13.

Thomas de Carlell, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 247.

Willelmus de Karleyll, osteler, 1379 : ibid. p. 96.

Walterus de Carlhill, 1379 : ibid. p. 97. 1547. Hugh Karlyle and Christian Saunders : Marriage Lic. (London), i. 11. 1586. Bapt.—Hellen, d. John Carleill : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 18.

1598. Robert Jenkinson and Margaret Carleill : Marriage Lic. (London), i. 249. 1608. Richard Moorer and Bridget Carleill : ibid. p. 309.

London, 4, 1, 3, 1 ; West Rid. Court Dir., 5, 0, 3, 0 ; Philadelphia, 27, 1, 10, 0.

Carman.—Occup. 'the carman,' one who drove or let out vehicles, a carrier. The instance from Yorkshire seems to suggest this origin, as appended to the name is the occupative term hostiler. Shakespeare has carman (Measure, ii. 1). O.F. car, a car.

Henry Carman, co. Suff., 1273. A. Matilda Carman, co. Norf., ibid. Thomas Carman, hostiler, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 146.

Alicia Carman, 1379 : ibid. p. 68. John Carman, co. Norf., 1408 : FF.

x. 27. 1580. Christopher Plashe and Eliz. Carman : Marriage Lic. (London), i. 96.

1583. Buried—John Rychardes, a carman, who brake his neck with a fall : St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 190.

1794. Married—Hugh Bethel Simpson and Mary Carman : St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 119.

London, 7 ; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 2 ; (co. Camb.), 1 ; Philadelphia, 40.

Carn, Carne.—Local, 'of Carne.' Cornish car, a rock = cairn. (1) South and West Carne are in the parish of Alternun, near Launceston ; (2) Carne is a small place in the parish of St. Anthony-in-Meneage ; (3) also, there is a Carne in the parish of Crowan, near Camborne, all in Cornwall. There are five Carnes in the Dict. Nat. Biog. Four were born in Cornwall.

1547-8. Richard Carne and Adriana Lynch : Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 12.

1736. Buried—Jane, wife of Thomas Carne : St. Colum Major (Cornwall), p. 267.

1746. Married—John Wilcocks and Eliz. Carn : St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 64.

London, 1, 5 ; Cornwall Court Dir., 0, 4 ; Penzance, 2, 0 ; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Carnaby.—Local, 'of Carnaby,' a parish in East Rid. Yorkshire, about three miles from Bridlington.

Rogerus de Carnaby, brasiator, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 296.

Johannes Carnaby, 1379 : ibid. p. 141. 1669. Married—Walter Carnaby and Martha Cooley : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 160.

— William Carnabee and Martha Cooley : ibid.

1677. Samuel Carnaby and Amy Samback : Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 272.

London, 1 ; MDB. (East Rid. Yorks.), 1.

Carnifex.—Occupative, 'the butcher or flesh-hewer.' Latinized in old registers into Carnifex. A very common entry.

Gocelin Carnifex, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Berneus Carnifex, co. Camb., ibid.

Johannes Fleshewer, carnifex, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 196.

Carpenter.—Occup. 'the carpenter' ; O.F. carpentier, a worker in wood. An extremely common entry in the Hundred Rolls.

Stephen Carpentarius, co. Devon, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Henricus Carpentarius, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

John le Carpenter, co. Bedf., ibid.

Ricardus Carpentarius, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Hugh le Charpenter, co. Wilts, ibid.

Johannes Carpenter, wryght, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 33.

Willelmus Wryght, carpenter, 1379 : ibid. p. 34.

1550. John Carpenter and Alice Segrave : Marriage Lic. (London), i. 12.

London, 54 ; Philadelphia, 152.

Carpmile.—Loc. ; v. Cartmell.

Carr.—Local, 'at the carr' or 'kerr,' q.v. The latter is the common form of entry in the Yorkshire Poll Tax, &c. The frequency with which such entries as Robert or William del Carr, or atte Carr, or Karr, or Kerr recur in Lancashire and Yorkshire records of the 13th and 14th centuries is explained by the fact that Carr or Kerr meant a low-lying meadow. It is still so used in all the northern counties. I saw in the Clifton Arms Hotel, Blackpool, Dec. 6, 1887, a placard announcing the sale of a freehold farm near Bisp-ham. 'All that Meadow, or Carr, containing six acres' occurred twice, and one plot of ground was called Fayles Meadow, or Deborah's Carr. In the Yorkshire Poll Tax (1379) almost every village has some one styled William or John del Kerr in it ; v. Carus.

Thomas Carr, Agnes uxor ejus, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 43.

Willelmus att Karr, 1379 : ibid. p. 44.

Johannes del Karr, 1379 : ibid. p. 67. 1610. Buried—Mabell, d. John Carr : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 114.

1742. Married—James Carr and Ann Holt : St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 20.

London, 62 ; Philadelphia, 344.

Carradus.—Local ; v. Carruthers.

Carrick.—Local, 'at the carrick,' from residence on or by the carrick, or craig, or crag ; Gaelic, carraig, a rock. A Scotch surname. It seems at times, however, to be a French form of the above—Breton, karrek, a rock in the sea (v. Crag in Skeat's Dict.).

Richard Carricke, of Tewxbury, temp. 1580 : Visitation of London, 1634, p. 140.

Martin Carrique, of London, 1634 : ibid.

William Carriq, of Yateley, co. Southampton, 1657 : Reg. St. Dionis Backchurch, London, p. 33.

1809. Married—John George Carrique and Jane Rorie : St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 410. London, 2 ; Philadelphia, 18.

Carrier.—Occup. 'the carrier,' a carter. This surname barely exists in England. I do not find it in leading English directories. But it has crossed the Atlantic and is found occasionally in the States.

Willelmus Cariour, wright, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 135.

Johannes Kerrear, 1379 : ibid. p. 11.

Johannes Charyer, 1379 : ibid. p. 12.

Richarde Cariar, 1559 : Reg. St. Mary Aldermay, p. 53.

1605. Married—Leonard Chapman and Margaret Carrier : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 30.

1739. — Thomas Carrier and Eliz. Bliss : St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 7.

The Daily Telegraph, Jan. 11, 1895, records the death of Thomas W. Carrier. Philadelphia, 1 ; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Carrington.—Local, (1) 'of Carrington,' a chapelry near New Bolingbroke, co. Lincoln ; (2) 'of Carrington,' a chapelry in the parish of Bowdon, co. Ches. ; (3) 'of Carrington,' a village in the parish of Basford, co. Notts. Both (1) and (3) have undoubtedly given birth to representatives of this surname.

1589-90. Thomas Jenkinson and Katherine Kington: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 184.

1631. John Carrington, of Bollington: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 43.

1640. Thomas Carrington, of Chester: ibid.

1763. Married—John Carrington and Eliz. Ashwell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 118. London, 11; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 2; (Cheshire), 4; Philadelphia, 4.

Carrodus.—Local, 'of Carruthers,' q.v.

Carruthers, Carrudders, Cruddas, Cruddis, Cruddace, Carrodus, Carradus.—Local, 'of Carruthers,' a hamlet in the parish of Middlebie, co. Dumfries. This Border name early penetrated into Cumberland, Westm., and North Yorks, and one familiar variant is the curious surname Carrodus found in the same districts. This is proved, if proof were necessary, by such an entry as the following:

Simon Carruders, co. Northumb., temp. Edw. VI: TTT. p. lxxiv.

1616-7. John Murrey and Jane Carruthers: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 23.

1622. George Caruthers and Eliz. Tilstone: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 114.

1772. Married—Walter Carruthers and Susannah Robinson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 217.

London, 6, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0; Newcastle, 2, 0, 1, 2, 1, 0, 0; Keighley (Carrodus), 4; Sedburgh (Carrodus), 1; 'Carruthers': Philadelphia, 3; Boston (U.S.), 9.

Carsley.—Local, 'of Carsley,' some small place in the West country.

Richard de Carslegh, co. Soms., i. Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 128. Boston (U.S.), 3.

Carson.—? Bapt. 'the son of —?' Probably the prefix Car is a pet or popular nick. of some personal name; but I cannot suggest it. But there is one solution which would easily explain the surname, viz. Garson, i.e. Garçon, a servant (v. Gasson). C and G as initials were practically interchangeable in the nomenclature of the 13th, 14th, and 15th centuries (v. Cammel).

Alicia Careson, wyf, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 168. London, 4; Philadelphia, 162.

Carswell, Casswell, Kerswell, Kerswill.—Local, (1) 'of Abbots Kerswell' (or simply Carswell), a parish a mile or two from Newton Abbot, co. Devon; (2) 'of Kings Kerswell' (or simply Carswell), a couple of miles south of Newton Abbot.

Robert de Carswell, co. Soms., i. Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 234.

Richard de Carswall, co. Devon, 1273. A. (Dominus) de Carswill, co. Devon, ibid.

William de Karswill, co. Devon, ibid.

John Careswell, vulgo, Caswell, of Wedon: Visitation of London, 1634, p. 141.

1598. William Kerswell and Joane Warde: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 252.

Alexander Carswell, of Thorne, St. Margaret, co. Soms., 1609: Abstract of Somersetshire Wills, p. 3.

1681. Married—Thomas Godbould and Eliz. Casewell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 190.

1757. — Stephen Fryer and Abigail Caswell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 70.

London, 2, 3, 1, 2; Devon Dir. (Farmers' List), 0, 0, 5, 3; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0, 0; New York, 1, 0, 1, 1.

Carter.—Occup. 'the carter.' Cart is really a dim. of car, hence some of the fuller forms below; cf. Charter.

Jocius Caretarius, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Juliana le Cartere, co. Camb., ibid.

Nicholas le Carter, co. Oxf., ibid.

John le Cartere, co. Norf., ibid.

Robert le Carreter, co. Hunts, ibid.

Margaret le Carreter, co. Hunts, ibid.

Ricardus Carter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 5.

Thomas Bell, carter, 1379: ibid. p. 110.

1570. Married—Robert Carter and Margaret Byllynge: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 6.

1574. — Richarde Carter and Cecily Ellinar: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 6.

London, 221; Philadelphia, 169.

Carteret, Cartrett.—Local,

'de Carteret,' a parish adjoining Barneville, in the arrondissement of Valognes, in Normandy. The name is found early in Jersey.

Philip de Cartaret, Jersey, 20 Edw. I. R. John de Carteret, Jersey, ibid.

Geoffrey de Carteret, Jersey, ibid.

No doubt the name has sometimes become confused with Cartwright.

1663. Thomas Scott and Carolina de Carteret: Marriage Lic. (Canterbury), p. 91.

1670-1. Benjamin Carteret and Dorothy Lane: ibid. p. 188.

1725. Married—Edward Harvey and Mary Carteret: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 62.

Crockford, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Carthew.—Local, 'of Carthew' or 'Cardew,' a spot in the parish of St. Issey, co. Cornwall; v. Gilbert's Cornwall, ii. 255. The meaning is said to be car-dew, i.e. black rock (v. Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 54). There is, however, a hamlet Carthew in the parish of Carnmenellis; also another small hamlet of the same name in the parish of Treverbyn, co. Cornwall; v. Cardew.

1548. Bapt.—Richard, son of one Cardewe: Reg. St. Columb Major (Cornwall), p. 5.

1551. — William, son of Cost Cardew: ibid. p. 6.

1594. Married—Jeffrey Cardue and Margaret Jepsy: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 19.

Thomas Carthew (1657-1704), sergeant-at-law, was eldest son of Thomas Carthew, of Cannaliggy, St. Issey, in Cornwall: Dict. Nat. Biog. ix. 219. London, 3; Cornwall Court Dir., 1.

Cartledge, Cartlidge.—Local, 'of the Cartlach.' I cannot find the spot. No doubt it lies in South Lancashire or East Cheshire. The suffix is -lake, a pond, or boggy spot, constantly found as -ledge or -leach in compound local surnames; cf. Blackledge or Blackleach, and Depledge (i.e. the black pond and the deep pond), both found in the same district.

1627. Married—William Froste and Mary Cartlach: Reg. Prestbury Ch. (co. Chester), p. 261.

Eliz. Cartledge, of Betchton, widow, 1700: Wills at Chester (1681-1700), p. 48.

Thomas Cartlich, of Barthomley, 1671: ibid. (1660-80), p. 51.

1695. Bapt.—Hannah, d. William Cartlitch: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 363.

1778. Married—James D. Kislina and Sarah Cartlage: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 329.

London, 3, 0; Manchester, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 10, 0.

Cartman.—Occup. 'the carter'; v. Chartman and Carter.

Manchester, 1; New York, 1.

Cartmell, Cartmel, Cartmale, Cartmael, Carpmaile.—Local, 'of Cartmell,' a well-known town in Furness, North Lancashire. The Staffordshire variants of this surname seem to have come from North Lancashire via Cheshire.

Robert Cartmell, of Cloughton, 1578: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 58.

Elizabeth Cartmell, of Cloughton, 1716: ibid. (1681-1748), p. 53.

Ann Cartmell, of Pullgarth, in Cartmell Fell, 1701: ibid.

Thomas Cartmell, of Chester, 1648: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 44.

John Cartmell, of Simondston, 1673: ibid. (1660-80), p. 51.

London, 2, 1, 0, 0, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Stafford), 0, 0, 1, 1, 0, 1; Philadelphia (Cartmell), 1.

Carttar.—Occup. 'the carter,' a whimsical spelling; v. Carter.

London, 2.

Cartwright.—Occup. 'the cartwright,' a maker of carts; cf. Wainwright.

Robert le Cartwright. B.

Johannes Toppe, cartwryght, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 14.

Magota Cartwryght, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 7.

Henricus Wryght, catewryght (sic), 1379: ibid. p. 10.

Johannes Warde, cartwright, 1379: ibid. p. 11.

Johannes Percivale, cartwryght, 1379: ibid. p. 13.

Geoffrey Cartewright, 1379: ibid. p. 78.

1572-3. Richard Cartewrighte and Thomasine Baker: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 55.

1602. Married—Richard Greene and Anne Cartwright: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 26.

London, 35; Philadelphia, 22.

Carus, Cariss, Carass.—Local, 'of the carr-house,' i. e. the house by the carr (v. Carr or Kerr). There is no evidence in favour of the Latin carus, dear, beloved. It is a mere guess. Cariss and Carass seem to be Yorkshire corruptions; cf. Loftus, Bacchus, Kirkus, &c. It is quite possible 'carr-house' may refer to the house where the car was kept. M.E. carre; O.F. car or char (v. Charer, Charman, and Carman). The derivation in that case would still be local.

Richard Carous, 49 Edw. III: Hist. Westm. and Cumb., i. 37.

Thomas de Carrehuis, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 48.

Johannes de Carehuis, 1379: ibid. p. 137.

William Charus, Merton Coll., co. Westm., 1582: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 119.

1601-2. Peter Carus and Ellen Lego: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 266.

1808. Married—Robert Starkey Carus and Maria Day: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 394.

Crockford, 3, 0, 0; Pallathorp (Bolton Percy, Yorks), 0, 0, 2; York, 0, 1, 0.

Carver.—Official, 'the carver,' a servitor whose duty it was to carve at table. 'Item, to William Denton, carver to the Queen, £26 13s. 4d.' (1503): Privy Purse Exp., Eliz. of York, p. 100.

Adam le Karver, co. Devon, 1273. A. Richard le Kerver, co. Linc., ibid.

1565. Married—Steven Carver and Jayne Byllam: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 5.

1613. Bapt.—Thomas, s. John Carvor: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 68.

London, 12; Philadelphia, 38.

Carvill, Carvell, Carville.—Local, 'de Charville,' evidently a Norman surname, spelt Chereville or Kervile (FF. ix. 73). The following quotations from Blomefield's History of Norfolk will settle the point beyond the possibility of dispute:

Robert de Cherevill, co. Norf., 29 Hen. II: FF. vii. 82.

Roger de Cherevile, co. Norf., 10 Rich. I: ibid. ix. 73.

Walter Chervyle, rector of Bichamwell, co. Norf., 1329: ibid. vii. 297.

Frederic de Carvill, co. Norf.: ibid. viii. 368.

Humphrey Carvile, co. Norf., 30 Hen. VIII: ibid. p. 474.

Thomas Carvel, co. Norf., 1662: ibid. vi. 93.

Edmund Carvill, co. Norf., 1599: ibid. vi. 163.

1668. Married—John Carvell and Mary Rowland: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 155.

1778. — John Winbush and Esther Carvill: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 293.

London, 3, 4, 0; New York, 1, 0, 4.

Carwardine.

MDB. (co. Essex), 1.

Cary; v. Carey.

Case, Cash.—Bapt.; v. Cass.

Cashman, Casman.—Offic. 'a catchpoll' (v. Catcher); M.E. cachen, to catch; O.F. cachier, to pursue.

Roger Cashman, 1562: Reg. Broad Chalke, co. Wilts, p. 1.

1783. Married—Mathew Casman and Catherine Dunavan: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 352.

London, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 15, 0; New York (Casman), 1.

Casman; v. Cashman.

Cass, Casson, Cash, Case.—Bapt. 'the son of Cassandra,' from the nick. Cass, a common girl's name in the 12th and 13th centuries. I only furnish a few instances:

Albric fil. Cassandre, co. Camb., 1373. A. Ralph fil. Cassandre, co. Camb., ibid.

Cassandre (without surname), co. Hunts, ibid.

Cassandra Metcalfe, York, 1509: W. 11.

Casse Rump, co. Kent, 1273. A. Stephen Casse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 165.

Johannes Case, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 37.

Willelmus Casson, 1379: ibid. p. 186.

Cassander Danyll, 1379: ibid. p. 148.

1676. John Casse and Eliz. Bright: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 130.

1747. Married—Daniel Cass and Eliz. Pritchard: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 99.

London, 4, 3, 7, 12; West Rid. Court Dir., 10, 5, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 30, 3, 7, 20.

Castellan.—Offic. 'the castellan,' the constable of a castle. It is very probable, and almost certain, that Castleman is a corrupted form of Castellan.

Jocelin le Castelyn, co. Sussex, 20 Edw. I. R.

John Castelyn, co. Bedf., ibid.

Thomas le Chastelain, c. 1300. M.

William Castelain co. Camb., 1273. A.

Gilbert Chasteleyn, co. Suff., ibid.

1547-8. William Hamerton and Benet Castelyn: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 12.

Castle, Castell, Cassell.—Local, 'at the castle,' from residence thereby or therein as a servitor or keeper.

Alan de Castell, London, 1273. A.

Andrew de Castello, co. Norf., ibid.

Rannulph del Chastel, C. R., 2 Edw. I.

Robert del Chastel, co. Northumb., 1340: KKK. p. xl.

William atte Castle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 134.

Thomas de Castell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 119.

Magota atte Castell, 1379: ibid. p. 179.

Roger atte Castell: Household Book of Queen Isabelle, 1358; Cott. MS. Galba, E. xiv.

1548. Bapt.—Katherine Castle: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 4.

1652. Married—Richard Castle and Eliz. Newton: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 31.

1795. — Joseph Clarke and Frances Castle: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 133.

London, 30, 4, 6; Boston (U.S.), 6, 2, 10.

Castleman.—(1) Offic. 'the castle-man,' a servant, a keeper;

cf. Templeman, Towerman. (2)

Offic.; v. Castellan, of which Castelman is probably a corrupted form.

Ralph Castelman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 126.

Richard Castelman, C. R., 25 Hen. VI. Thomas Castylman, C. R., 1-2 Philip and Mary, pt. i.

1758. Married—Henry Castelman and Dorothy Richardson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 76.

1798. — William Castelman and Sarah Steptoe: ibid. ii. 193. Philadelphia, 1.

Caston.—Local, 'of Caston,' a parish in co. Norf., three miles from Watton. A well-known family sprung from this spot and ramified strongly.

Robert de Caston, co. Norf., 1273. A. Wydo de Caston, co. Norf., ibid.

John de Casteton, co. Norf., 30 Edw. III: FF. vii. 222.

William de Castetune, or Caston, co. Norf., 1200: ibid. x. 245.

William Caston, co. Norf., temp. 1415: ibid. ii. 56.

1604. Bridget Caston: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 289.

1796. Married—Matthew Coston and Mary Castle: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 144. London, 4; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Catcher.—Nick. 'the catcher,' a huntsman, a follower of the chase; perhaps sometimes a catchpoll (v. Catchpoll); M.E. cachen, to catch. 'Cachare or dryvare: minator, abactor': Prompt. Parv.

Richard Catcher, of London, traces descent from John Cacher, 1484: Visitation of London, 1634, p. 145.

Adam le Cacher, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Richard le Catchere, co. Norf., ibid.

William Catchare, co. Norf., temp.

Edw. I: FF. vii. 306.

Hugh Catchare, co. Norf., 3 Edw. III:

ibid. p. 304.

1570. Bapt.—Rycharde, s. Thomas

Katcher: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 85.

1575. John Catcher: Cal. of Wills in

Court of Husting (2).

1621. Married—Thomas Haukes and

Hester Catcher: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,

iii. 50.

I do not find any present instances, but no doubt they exist.

Catcherell.—Offic. 'the catcher,' a catchpoll, petty sergeant, under-bailiff, policeman. The instances in the Hundred Rolls (very many) lie almost entirely between Norfolk and Essex. 'Cacherele, a catchpole' (Halliwell). In my notebook (unfortunately without reference) I have a couplet from an old political song:

'Nedes I must spend that I spared of yore
Ageyn this cacherele cometh.'

Hugh le Chaccherel, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Grig le Cacherele, co. Suff., ibid.

Adam le Kacherel, co. Norf., ibid.

Alexander le Cacherele, co. Norf., ibid.

Robelard Cacherelell, co. Sussex, ibid.

Thomas Cacherelellus de Lodenygges, elsewhere described as the 'Cacherel de

Lodene,' co. Norf., ibid.

This surname seems now lost in Catherall (q.v.), an early variant; also in Catterall (q.v.), a local surname.

Catchpenny.—Nick. 'a catchpenny,' a man who tried to hit the popular fancy as a chapman, who had something to sell that would readily catch a penny.

N. (?) Nicholas) Kachepey, co. Soms., 1273. A.

Catchpoll, Catchpool, Catchpole.—Offic. 'the catchpoll,' one who seized people by the head; a sheriff's officer, a bailiff; Latinized into cachepollus.

'A cachepol cam forth
And cracked both their legges.'
Piers Plowman.

The weapon the catchpoll carried may still be seen in the Tower of London.

'William Cachepoll, cust. gaiole. nri Salop': C. R., 55 Hen. III.

Geoffrey le Cachepol, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Ralph le Cachepol, co. Oxf., ibid.

Hugh le Cachepol, c. 1300. M.

Michael Catchpoole, temp. Eliz. Z.

Henry Catchpole, M.P. for Hereford,

C. R., 45 Edw. III.

1627. Married—Edward Bishop and Bridget Catchpoole: St. Antholin (London), p. 62.

1647. Buried—William Catchpole, servant to Mr. Humphries, victualler: St.

Michael, Cornhill, p. 242.

London, 0, 4, 11.

Category.—Nick. 'one of a particular class or list.'

John Categorye, fellow of All Souls, Oxf., 1545: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 222.

Cater, Cator, Caterer.—Offic.

'the cater,' a caterer, more correctly a cater, contracted from acatour, a buyer for a house. 'Of which achatours mighten take ensemble':

Chaucer, C. T. 'Catur

of a gentylmans house, despensier':

Palsgrave. 'Catours, manciples, spencers, cokes': 1459. Mun. Acad. Oxon., p. 346; v. Chater. The final er in Caterer is a needless addition, as in poulterer and upholsterer. It occurs early, as will be seen below.

William le Catur, co. Essex, 1273. A.

Henry le Catur, co. Hunts, ibid.

John le Achatur, co. Camb., ibid.

John le Catur. J.

Bernard le Acatur, c. 1300. M.

Nicholas le Catur. B.

William Katerer, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

1523. John Cater and Johanna Thrower:

Marriage Lic. (London), i. 3.

1569. Married—Henry Cater and Joan

Powter: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 4.

1803. — Francis John Cator and Mary

Ann Humphreys: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 280.

London, 12, 1, 0; Sheffield, 1, 0, 3;

Philadelphia, 0, 0, 1.

Catesby.—Local, 'of Catesby,' a parish in co. Northampton.

Robert de Catesby, co. Northampt.,

Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

William de Cattesby, co. Northampt.,

ibid.

All the Catesbys mentioned in the Dict. Nat. Biog. can be ultimately referred to Northamptonshire. William Catesby (d. 1485), councillor of Richard III, of whom, and others, the couplet was written:

'The Cat, the Rat, and Lovel our dog Rule all England under a hog.'

was son of Sir William Catesby, of Ashby St. Legers, co. Northampton.

1668. Thomas Catesby and Hope Kilcocke: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 295.

1747. Married—Mark Catesby and Eliz.

Rowland: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 92.

London, 2.

Cathcart.—Local, 'of Cathcart,' a town in co. Renfrew.

1744. Married—Robert Cathart and Eliz. Jones: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 35. London, 1; Philadelphia, 21; New York, 3.

Cather.—Offic. 'the catcher.' In the same way Catcherell is found as 'le Catherel'; v. Catherall.

Richard le Cather, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Robert le Cathere, co. Norf., ibid.

The above Richard is set down also as Richard Catherellus; v. Catherall.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Catherall, Cathrall.—Offic. 'the catcherell,' q.v.; an early variant. But vide also Cattarall.

Thomas le Catherel, co. Norf., 1273. A. Alexander Catherel, co. Norf., ibid. Richard Catherellus, co. Norf., ibid. 1611. Buried—Jane Catheralles: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ibid. 115. 1633. — Jane Caterrall: ibid. p. 211. 1636. Edward Cathrall, curate of Great Carbrook, co. Norf.: FF. ii. 338. London, 4, 0; Manchester, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 6.

Catlin, Catling, Catlyn, Catlinson, Cattlin.—Bapt. 'the son of Catherine,' from the nick. Kate or Cat, and dim. Catlin; cf. Hewelin (v. Hewling), Tomlin or Tomling. The g in Catling is excremental, as in Jennings. A simple glance at the directory will prove that the Irish Kathleen was once a familiar English form. Catlin and Catling are common surnames in most counties. 'Item, given to Kathelyne, 7s. 6d.'; Privy Purse Exp., Princess Mary (1536-7), p. 8.

Elias Katelin, co. Camb., 1273. A. Katerina, or Katerine de Sanston, co. Hunts, ibid.

Stephen Cateline: C. R., 35 Edw. I. Johannes Cattelynson, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 17.

Willelmus Catlyn, 1379: ibid. p. 17. Henricus Catlyn, 1379: ibid. p. 71. Thomas Katlynson, co. York. W. 11. Stephen Cathilyn, Patent Roll, 19 Eliz. pt. iii.

Elenore Catlynson, co. York. W. 12. 1587. John Reppingall and Elizabeth Catlyn, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 164.

1788. Married—John Catlin and Susanna Hayes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 15. 1794. — William Catling and Eliz. Church: ibid. p. 109.

London, 9, 5, 1, 0, 5; Boston (U.S.), 5, 0, 0, 0.

Catlow, Cattlow.—Local, 'of Catlow,' some spot near Burnley or Marsden, co. Lanc.

Adam de Catlowe, of Marsden, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 83.

Robert de Catlowe, of Marsden, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 84.

John Catlow, of Handbridge, Chester, 1642: Wills at Chester, ii. 45.

Manchester, 1, 0; Liverpool, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 3.

Caton.—Local; v. Catton.

Catnose.—? Nick. From some imagined resemblance. Not a complimentary sobriquet. But perhaps after all local; cf. Holderness, Furness, Thickness.

Agnes Kattese, or Kattisnese, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Catt.—Nick. 'the cat,' a sobriquet affixed on the nominee for some supposed sleekness of manner, &c. A well-known Norfolk surname: at least six centuries old in that county.

Adam le Kat. C. Milo le Chat. E. Elyas le Cat, co. Norf., 1273. A. Reginald le Cat, co. Essex, ibid.

Henry le Catt, co. Norf., 14 Edw. I: FF. vii. 305.

William le Cat, co. Norf., 1275: ibid. vi. 376.

Roger le Chat, co. Norf., temp. King John: ibid. p. 375.

1465. William Catte, rector of Edingthorp, co. Norf.: ibid. xi. 29.

William Cat, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 143.

1678. James Catt, rector of Gresham, co. Norf., FF. viii. 129.

1692. Bapt.—Avis, d. Thomas Catt: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 344.

1803. Married—Richard Catt and Mary Stedman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 295.

London, 5; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 5.

Cattarall, Catherall, Cattrell.—Local, 'of Catterall,' a township between Preston and Garstang, co. Lanc. But v. also Catherall.

'Gilbert de la Legh, and the heir of John de Caterale, holds in demesne and service the vill of Hapton'; Knights Fees, 23 Edw. III: Baines' Lanc. ii. 693.

'In 42 Hen. III (1257-8) Richard de Catherale . . . held, among other places, Gosenhar and Katerale': ibid. ii. 537.

Lora de Catherale, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 58.

1562. Thomas Caterall: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 26.

1593. Ellen Catterall, of Croston, co. Lanc.: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 37.

Manchester, 2, 1, 4, 0, 0; Preston, 0, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Chester), 0, 0, 0, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), (Cattrell), 1.

Cattermole, Cattermoul, Cattermull, Catmull.—? Local, a Norfolk and Suffolk surname. I find no early traces; perhaps an immigrant from the Low Countries.

'George Cattermole, water-colour painter (1800-68), was born at Dickleburgh, near Diss, co. Norf.': Dict. Nat. Biog. ix. 322.

1802. Married—John Cattermold and Jane Ford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 256.

London, 4, 1, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 5, 0, 0, 0; (co. Essex), 0, 0, 0, 1.

Catterson.—Bapt. 'the son of Catherine,' from the dim. Catlin, q.v. Hence Cattlinson or Cattinson corrupted to Catterson; cf. Patterson, Dickenson, or Matterson for Pattinson, Dickinson, and Mattinson.

Francis Catterson, churchwarden of Skipton, 1664: Dawson's Hist. Skipton, p. 161.

1733. Married—John Brown and Martha Catterson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 12. London, 1.

Cattle, Cattell.—Bapt.; v. Chettle.

1683. Thomas Gibson and Alice Cattell: Marriage Alleg. (Carterbury), p. 146.

Cattlin, Cattling.—Bapt. 'Little Katharini'; v. Catlin.

Catton, Caton.—Local, 'of Catton,' (1) a chapelry in the parish of Croxall, co. Derby; (2) a parish in co. Norfolk, two miles from Norwich; (3) a parish in East Rid. Yorks; (4) a township in the parish of Topcliffe, N. Rid. Yorks; (5) 'of Caton,' a chapelry in the parish of Lancaster.

Robert de Catton, or Cattune: co. Norf., 1273. A.

John Caton, co. Hunts, ibid.

John de Caton, of Lancaster, co. Lanc., 1322; Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 88.

Johannes de Catton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 20.

Willelmus de Caytton, 1379: ibid. p. 105.

1569. Married—Thomas Stevens and Agnes Catton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 4.

1773. — William Clark and Eliz. Catton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 232.

London, 4, 8; Liverpool, 0, 5; West Rid. Court Dir., 2, 2; Boston, 0, 13.

Caudle, Cawdell, Cadle.—Local, 'of Cauldwell,' a parish in dioc. Lichfield, co. Derby. No doubt many places were so called; v. Coldwell and Caldwell.

Cristina Caudel, co. Camb., 1273. A. William Caudel, co. Camb., ibid.

(Prior) de Caudewelle, co. Bedf., ibid.

1587. Thomas Cawdell, yeoman, and Johanna Lowen: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 162.

1604. Bapt.—William, son of Wm. and Mary Cawdle: Reg. St. James, Clerkenwell.

1727. Married—Edward Foss and Eleanor Caudell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 4.

London, 2, 2, 1.

Caughey; v. Coffee.

Cauleutt.—Local, 'of Caldecote'; v. Calcott.

Caunter.—Occup. 'the gaunter,' a glover; v. Ganter and Gaunter. The change from G to C is common in surnames; cf. Candlin and Clendenen.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Devon), 12.

Caurymaury.—Nick. 'Item, presentatum quod est Johannes Caurymaury, Johannes le Fleming, . . . consueti fuerunt currere cum canibus suis sine warento' (Chronicon Petroborgense, Camd. Soc., p. 138). A very coarse cloth.

'Some loke strawy,
Some cawry mawry.'

Skelton's Elynour Rummyng.

Causton, Cawston, Cawstan.—Local, 'of Causton.' The manor of Causton in South Erpingham, co. Norfolk, is mentioned in the Hundred Rolls of 1273 (ii. 513). No doubt Causton and Caston (q.v.) have become confused, both being Norfolk surnames, but they must be carefully separated, nevertheless.

Beatrix, relict of Stephen de Causton, Edgfield, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 385.

Richer de Causton, co. Norf., 1265: ibid.

Godfrey de Causton, co. Norf., 1273. A. William de Causton, co. Norf., ibid.

Robert Cawston, or Causton, co. Norf., 1673: FF. iv. 208.

1633. Bapt.—Thomas, s. William Cawston: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 125.

1711. Buried.—James Causton: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 281.

London, 5, 3, 0; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 2, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 1.

Cavalier.—Offic.; v. Chevalier.

Cave.—Local, (1) 'at the cave,' from residence therein or thereby; (2) 'of Cave,' two parishes, North and South Cave, in E. Rid. Yorks.

Roger de Cave, co. Linc., 1273. A. Robert de Cave, co. Bucks, ibid. Willelmus del Cave, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 66.

Willelmus de Cave, 1379: ibid. p. 53. 1654. Married.—Philip Cave, upholder, and Sarah Martin: St. Michael, Cornhill.

1602. Bapt.—John, s. John Cave, packer, St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 131.

West Rid. Court Dir., 2; London, 22; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 3; Philadelphia, 16.

Cavel, Cavell, Cavill.—Local, 'of Cavil,' a township in the parish of Eastrington, E. Riding Yorks, two miles from Howden. Thence the name easily crossed over into co. Lincoln. In some cases it may be represented by some more southern locality.

Robert de Cavilla, co. Linc., 1273. A. 1353. John Cavel, rector of Sizeland, co. Norf.: FF. x. 170.

Walter Cavel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 110.

1546. Humfrey Cavell and Alice Nassahe: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 7.

1703. Married.—Charles Lavell and Ann Seberner Cavill: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 80.

London, 1, 6, 2; MDB. (co. Lincoln), Cavill, 6; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 5.

Caverley, Caverly.—Local, 'of Calverley,' q.v.; a variant. Calverley is a parish near Bradford, Yorks.

1562. Bapt.—Edmond, s. Bryan Caverley: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 81.

The personal name of the father would of itself suggest a Yorkshire parentage. Bryan, until the 18th century, was a great favourite in North Lancashire, and West and North Yorkshire. Of this fact I might give endless proofs. Caverly is well known in the United States. It went out early.

'Charles Caverlie, aged 17'—'imbarqued in the Mathew of London' for St. Christophers in 1635: Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 81.

London, 1, 0; New York, 0, 8.

Cawcutt.—Local, 'of Caldecote'; v. Calcott, a variant.

1554-5. George Mutsett and Catherine Cawcutt: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 16.

1700. Bapt.—Mary, d. Robert Cawcutt: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, p. 385.

The surname is further disguised in the following entry:

1793. Married.—Francis Younger and Susanna Cawkett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 101.

MDB. (co. Camb.), 2.

Cawley.—Local; v. Cayley.

Cawood, Cauwood.—Local, 'of Cawood,' (1) a small town near Selby, W. Rid. Yorks; (2) a chapelry in the parish of Melling, North Lancaster.

Johannes de Cawode, 1383-4: Freeman of York, i. 81.

Johannes de Cawod', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 3.

Willelmus de Cawod', 1370: ibid. p. 300. Alicia de Cawode, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 17.

This surname crossed the Atlantic, and is still found in the States.

Richard Cawood, aged 25 years, 1635: Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 71.

1560. John Cawood and Agnes Keane: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 42.

1771. Married.—William Cawood and Mary Jones: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 206.

London, 2, 0; Sheffield, 1, 4; New York, 3, 0.

Cawsey.—Local; v. Cosway.

Cawston.—Local; v. Causton.

Cawthorn, Cawthorne, Cawthron, Corthorn.—Local, 'of Cawthorne,' a village four miles from Barnsley, co. York. Corthorn is a manifest variant and is found in the district.

Camel de Cauthorn, co. York, 1273. A. John de Cauthorn, co. York, ibid.

Johannes de Cauthorn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 124.

Johanna de Cauthorn, 1370: ibid.

James Cawthorn (1710-61), poet, was son of Thomas Cawthorn, upholsterer, and born at Sheffield, Nov. 4, 1710: Dict. Nat. Biog. ix. 380.

Thus for 400 years the ancestry of the last-named had clung to the district of his birth.

1788. Married.—Matthew Oliver and Ann Cawthorn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 10.

London, 5, 0, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 1, 0, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 0, 1, 0; Sheffield, 0, 1, 1, 1.

Caxton.—Local, 'of Caxton,' a parish in co. Cambridge.

John de Caxton, co. Camb., 1273. A. Robert de Caxton, co. Camb., ibid.

Simon de Caxton, co. Hunts, ibid.

William de Caxton, co. Northampt., ibid.

I fear the surname is extinct.

Cayley, Caley, Cawley.—Local, 'de Cailli,' from Cailli, in the arrondissement of Rouen. Hugh de Cailly, lord of Orby, co. Norfolk, was head of the family whence sprang the barony.

Osbert de Caly, co. Norf., 1273. A. Hugh de Caly, co. Norf., ibid.

1666. John Whalley and Mary Cayley: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 121.

London, 8, 3, 4; New York, 0, 5, 0.

Cayzer.—Nick. 'the emperor,' the Caesar, Kaiser, a title of the Holy Roman Empire; v. Kaiser and Caesar.

— of Jacob a star shall spryng
That shall overcom Kasar and Kyng.
Townley Mysteries.
'Kynges and Knyghtes,
Kaysers and Popes.'
Piers Plowman.

Samson le Cayser, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Thomas le Cayser, co. Oxf., ibid.
1796. Married—Robert Cayzer and
Sarah Ambridge: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii.
147.
London, 4.

Cecil.—Bapt. 'the son of Cecil,' masc.; or Cecile, fem. (v. Siss, Sis-sot, Sisselot, Sisselson, Sisson; for the popularity of these Yorkshire variants, v. Siss). Nearly all these names represent the feminine form.
Cecil seems always to have descended from the masculine form.

Richard fil. Cecille, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Cecille in the Lane, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
William Cecille, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Cecilia Gamyll, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 20.
Cecilia fil. Roberti, 1379: ibid.
Sissille Linscale, co. York. W. 16.
Thomas Cecil, temp. Eliz. Z.
James Cecilia, co. Norf., 1361: FF.
vi. 521.

Sir Thomas Cecil, Knt., co. Norf.,
1591: ibid. ii. 486.
1776. Married—Henry Cecil, Esq., and Emma Vernon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 265.
London, 8; New York, 6.

Centlivre.—Nick.; v. Hundred-pound.

Chad, Chadd.—Bapt. 'the son of Chad.'

Cedda de Alrewys, co. Stafford, 1273. A.
Henry Chadde, London, ibid.
John Chadde, London, ibid.

Henricus Ced, 1379: P.T. Howdenshire,
p. 12.

Roger Chadde, or Chede, 1518: Reg.
Univ. Oxf. i. 104.
1774. Married—William Best and Peggy
Chad: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 236.
London, 1, 2.

Chadband.—Local, 'of Chat-burn,' q.v. Nearly all Dickens' character-names are to be found in the directory; v. Pickwick,
Winkle, Snodgrass. Doubtless
Chadband is a variant of Chadburn.
It is found alongside Chadbourne in the Boston (U.S.) Directory.

1788. Married—John Chatband and Susannah Johnson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 5.
1802. — John Chatband and Sarah
Violet: ibid. p. 271.
Boston (U.S.), 1.

Chadburn, Chadbourne,
Chadbourn.—Local, 'of Chat-burn,' a township in the parish of Whalley, co. Lanc.

Johannes de Chatteburn, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 256.

Henricus de Chatteburn, 1379: ibid.
p. 256.

Ricardus Chatterburne, 1379: ibid. p. 268.
1636. Buried—John, s. John Chadbourne: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 225.

1660. — John Chadbourne, a poore auncient man: ibid. p. 333.
West Rid. Court Dir., 3, 0, 0; Sheffield,
3, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 10, 38.

Chadderton, Chatterton.—
(1) Local, 'of Chadderton,' a township in the parish of Oldham, co.
Lancashire; (2) 'of Catterton,' a township in the parish of Healaugh,
W. Rid. Yorks.

Margaret de Chadretton, of Chaderton,
co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands),
p. 30.

'William Chadderton, or Chadderton, or Chatterton, D.D. (1540?–1608), bishop of Lincoln,' was born at Moston, near Chadderton: Dict. Nat. Biog. ix. 432.

Thomas Chadderton, of the Lees, Oldham, 1575: Wills at Chester (1545–1620),
p. 38.

Imyne Chatterton, of Heaton Norris,
1594: ibid. p. 39.

Alan de Catterton, co. York, 1273. A.
Willelmus de Catterton, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 248.

Although in general Chatterton must be regarded as a variant of the Lancashire Chadderton, it is almost certain that some of the Chattertons found in the Yorkshire directories are variants of Catter-ton, a township in the W. Riding.

1560. Robert Chadderton and Margaret
Revell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 42.

1570. John Wyllett and Margaret
Chatterton, widow: ibid. p. 46.

London, 0, 7; Sheffield, 0, 5; Manchester, 4, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 5.

Chaddock.—Local, 'of Chad-dock,' an estate in the township of Tyldesley, in the parish of Leigh, co. Lancaster. Chaddock Hall was in possession of a family of that name in the early part of the last century. Not to be confounded with Chadwick, as is done in the Index to the Preston Guild Rolls.

Daniel Chaddocke, 1682: Preston
Guild Rolls, p. 166.

Ann Chaddock, of West Leigh, spinster,
1607: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 28.
Peter Chaddock, of Prescot, 1613: ibid.

John Chadocke, of Chadocke, co.
Lanc., 1610: Lancashire Inquisitions,
pt. ii. p. 25.

John Cheydock, of Cheydock, co.
Lanc.: Wills at Chester (1621–50), p. 48.
1787. Married—James Sweetman and
Ann Chadock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 398.
Liverpool, 1; London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Chadfield.—Local, 'of Chad-field,' i.e. the field of Chad; v.
Chadd, Chadwick, &c.

1685. Charles Browne and Eliz.
Chatfield: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury),
p. 199.
Manchester, 2.

Chadwick, Chatwick.—
Local, 'of Chadwick,' a hamlet in the parish of Rochdale, co. Lanc.
This surname is to be met with in every town in Lancashire. It must have crossed the Atlantic at an early period, as it is strongly represented in the States directories. There is a hamlet named Chadwick in the parish of Bromsgrove, co. Worcester; but I do not think it has made any considerable impression on nomenclature.
Lancashire is the true home of the surname. Chadwick no doubt means the wick or dwelling of Chad, the original settler (v. Wick).

Nicholas de Chadwyke, temp. Edw. III:
Baines' Lanc. i. 512.

Elena Chadwyk, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 22.

John Holt, of Chadwick, husbandman,
1641: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 113.

Ann Chadwick, of Chadwick, spinster,
co. Lanc., 1636: ibid. (1621–50), p. 45.

John Chadwick, of Chadwick, gentleman, 1630: ibid.

1660. Bapt.—Margaret, d. Edward Chadweke: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 239.
Manchester, 55, 0; London, 17, 0;
Philadelphia, 40, 0; New York, 11, 1.

Chafen.—Nick.; v. Coffin.

Chaffe, Chaff.—Nick. 'le chauve,' the bald, whence dim.
Chaufin; v. Coffin.

John Chauf, co. Camb., 1273. A.
John le Cauf, co. Linc., ibid.

Reginald Cauf, co. York, ibid.
1640. Buried—Richard Chafe: St.
Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 281.
London, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Devon), 2, 4;
New York, 1, 0.

Chaffinch, Chiffinch, Chiffence.—Nick. 'the chaffinch'; cf.
Spink, Goldspink, Finch, &c.

Abraham Caffinch: Proceedings in Kent
(Camden Soc.), v. index.

1659. Married—John Caffinch and Ann Mason: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 102.
 1683. George Saintloe and Eliz. Chaffinch: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 305.
 1684. Thomas Fryer and Eliz. Caffinch: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 169.
 MDB. (co. Wilts), o, o, 2.

Chaldecroft.—Local, 'of Caldecote,' one of the endless variants of this surname; v. Calcott.

London, 1.

Chalfont, Chalfant, Chalfain.—Local, 'of Chalfont,' two parishes (St. Peter and St. Giles) in co. Bucks.

1570. Thomas Chalfonte and Margaret Cornewallis: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 15.
 1689. William Chaffaut and — Tame: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 120.

London, 2, o, o; Philadelphia, o, 10, o; New York, o, o, 1.

Chalk.—Local, (1) 'of Chalk,' a parish in co. Kent, near Gravesend; (2) 'of Chalk,' the Hundred of Chalk, in co. Wilts.

William Choc, co. Salop, 1273. A.
 Reginald Chock, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 138.

1600. Alexander Chocke, co. Soms.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. 305.

1707. Married—Thomas Chalk and Eliz. Lawrence: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 169.
 London, 10; MDB. (co. Wilts), 1; Philadelphia, 3.

Challand, Challands, Challans.—Bapt. 'the son of Jalland' or 'Jolland,' q.v.; a great Lincolnshire personal name in the 12th and 13th centuries. Jallands, the patronymic, became Challands, just as Jubb (q.v.) became Chubb. So also Jalland became Challand.

1789. Married—James Wimbale and Martha Challand: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 34.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), o, 2, 2; (co. Notts), 5, 1, o.

Challen, Chalon.—Local, 'of Chalons.' The town of Chalons-sur-Marne is meant. There would be a steady immigration from the fact of its close trade relations with England (v. Chalonier).

Godfrey Challon, co. Devon, 1273. A.
 Peter de Chalouns, co. Bucks, ibid.
 Ralph de Chaluns, co. Wilts, ibid.
 John Chalun, co. Oxf., ibid.

1706. Married—Christian Josi and Caroline Susanna Chalon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 143.

London, 4, o; Philadelphia, o, 1.

Challenger.—Nick. 'the challenger,' equivalent to Champion, q.v. I cannot help suspecting, however, that it is an imitative corruption of Chalonier, q.v. I find no early instance.

1565. Buried—Sir Thomas Challenger, Knt.: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 7.

1764. Married—William Challinger and Mary Wilks: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 134.

London, 4; Knottingley (co. York), 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Challis, Challice.—Local, 'of Calais' (v. Callis); cf. Chatterton and Catterton, Chandler and Candler, Chancellor and Cancellor, &c. Challis was bound to become Challice, just as Calais became Calice. Of Norwich, Blomefield in his History says: 'In 1435 the city furnished out forty men, well armed, and sent them to the defence of Calice': FF. iii. 146.

1779. Married—John Ealey and Eliz. Challice: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 302.

London, 8, 3; Devon Court Dir., 1, 4; Philadelphia, 2, o.

Chalonier, Challenor, Chaloner, Chalenor, Challiner.—Occup. 'the chaloner,' a manufacturer or seller of chalons, woollen stuffs, especially coverlets or blankets.

'In his owen chambre he made a bedde With shetes, and with chalons fair yspredde.' Chaucer, Reve's Tale.

The term still remains in Yorkshire in the word shalloon (with which cf. Willelmus Shalunhare, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 183). In the York Pageant, 1415, the Chaloners and Fullers were allowed four torches each (Hist. Ant. York, ii. 1267). The will of William Askam, dated 1390, says, 'Item, Margarette prenticia Willielmi Askams do et lego a fedir bedd, and i matras, ii shetes, and a coverlet. . . Item, Johanne Daghe, crisp violet and a chalon' (Test. Ebor. i. 130, Surt. Soc.). 'And that no chalon of ray, or other chalon, shall be made, if it be not of the ancient lawful assize, ordained by the good folks of the trade' (Ordinance of the Tapicers, Riley's London, 179). The chaloner is described as 'chalounmakyere' in a Winchester Ordinance (English Gilds, p. 352). The origin of the word is simple. Like many another cloth stuff, it took its name from the town that had won celebrity by its manufacture. This was Chalons-sur-Marne, at the period in question one of the most prosperous centres of industry on the continent. How time obscures history may be seen in the fact that Mr. Lower (Patr. Brit.) gives the origin as 'boatman' or 'fisherman' from the old French chalun, a boat, or chalon, a net. Mr. Toulmin Smith (Old Birmingham, p. 83) records a John Phelyps, chalounere, in a charter of 1426, and styles him 'master of a ship,' and then sets to work to explain how a skipper could be found at work in the Midlands!

Jordan le Chaluner. T.
 John le Chaloner. B.
 Geoffrey le Chaloner, co. Essex, 1273. A.
 Thomas le Chalunner, co. Camb., ibid.
 Nicholas le Chalouner, co. Derby, ibid.
 Elizabetha Chaloner, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 25.

Ricardus Schaloner, coverlet-wever, 1379: ibid. p. 26.

Adam Chalonar, coverlid-wefer, 1379: ibid. p. 97.

The last two entries are very interesting, connecting as they do the name with the trade.

Thomas Spaldyng, chaloner, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 150.

1616-17. Thomas Jones and Ann Challener: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 49.

1626. Robert Barnfield and Eliz. Challiner: ibid. p. 188.

1635. William Spranger and Catherine Chaloner: ibid. p. 223.

London, 2, 1, o, o; Sheffield (Challiner), 1; Boston (U.S.), 5, o, o, 2, o.

Chamberlain, Chamberlayne, Chamberlaine, Chamberlin.—Offic. 'the chamberlain,' lit. one who had care of a chamber; he who had charge of his lord's receipts and issues, a treasurer; v. Chambers, where 'de la chambre,' though local in form, is practically official, and frequently meant the chamberlain.

Walter le Chamberlayn, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Martin le Chaumberleyn, co. Camb., ibid.

Geoffrey de Chamberlang, co. Wilts, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.
Ivo le Chamberleyn, co. Warw., ibid.
Henry le Chamberlein, co. Bucks, 20 Edw. I. R.
Johannes Chaumburlyne, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 66.

The following eight variations occur in one register:

Colly Chamberlain: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 123.
Anne Chamberlaine: ibid. p. 89.
William Chamberlane: ibid. p. 94.
Mary Chamberlayne: ibid. p. 90.
Elizabeth Chamberlen: ibid. p. 102.
Grace Chamberlin: ibid. p. 100.
Edward Chamberline: ibid. p. 90.
Alice Chamberlyn: ibid. p. 209.
London, 36, 5, 3, 5; Philadelphia, 37, 0, i, 18.

Chambers.—Local, 'of the chamber.' It is somewhat curious that I cannot find any modern instance of Chamber; it is invariably Chambers; why, I do not quite see, except that the latter looks more important. Strictly speaking, Chambers is in many cases as official as Chamberlain. Both surnames arose from the exchequer room in which the revenue was paid. To pay in cameram was to pay into the exchequer, and the camerarius, or chamberlain, had the charge thereof.

Griffin delChambre, scutifer of Princess Isabel: Household Book of Queen Isabelle, 1358 (Cott. MS. Galba. E. xiv).
Richard atte Chambre, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 106.
Walter de la Chaumbre, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Henry de la Chambre, co. Linc., ibid.
John of the Chaumbre, C. R., 7 Ric. II.
Robertus del Chaumbire, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 17.
Willelmus del Chaumbir, 1379: ibid. p. 202.
Gilbert de la Chaumbre, C. R., 25 Edw. III.
Johannes del Chaumbir, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 14.
Alicia Chaumbir, maydyne, 1379: ibid. London, 71; West Rid. Court Dir., 28; New York, 45.

Chamen.—Bapt. 'the son of Chamond,' popularly Chaman; cf. Osman, Tesseymen, Wyman, for Osmund, Tesseymond, Wymond. Probably Chamond was an abbreviation of Charimond (v. Yonge, ii. 410).

William Chamund, co. Sussex, 1273. A.
Richard Chamun, co. Camb., ibid.

1753. Married—John Chamin and Mary Wood: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 50.
1762. — David Frost and Ann Chammond: ibid. p. 110.
London, 3.

Chamflower.—Local, 'de Chamflur.' There are two parishes in co. Somerset connected with the Chamflower family, viz. Huishe-Chamflower, near Taunton, and Wyke-Chamflower, near Bruton (N. and Q., January 12, 1889, p. 37).

Martin de Chamflur, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Adam Chamflur, co. Dorset, ibid.
Hugo Chamflur, co. Warw., ibid.
1597. Buried—Hestiar, wife of Robert Chanflowre: St. Antholin (London), p. 38.
— Robert, s. Robert Chanflowre: ibid.
1668. Married—Giles Chamflower and Sines Bert: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 145.
London, 0.

Chamney, Chamley, Chambley.—Local, 'le Champagnois,' an immigrant from the province of Champagne. Chamney, &c., are variants of Champney, q.v. From Yorkshire it passed into Furness, where for centuries Chamney or Chamley has been a familiar surname. Besides the original Champney, the first three following are specimens of entries in my old church-books at Ulverston:

1546. Bapt.—Isabell Chamney: Reg. Ulverston Ch. p. 2.
1547. Buried—John Chamney: ibid. p. 5.
1696. — Joyce Chamley: ibid. p. 186.
James Champney, of the parish of Ulverston, 1631: Wills at Richmond, p. 62.
James Chamney, of Ulverston, 1596: ibid.

Henry Chamley, of Dalton-in-Furness, 1672: ibid.
1565. Francis Wolman and Margaret Chamley: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 31.
1593-4. Christopher Taylor and Ann Chamblly: ibid. p. 213.

In the form of Chambney this surname went out to Virginia in 1635 (v. Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 113). It is found in Boston as Chamley, and at Philadelphia as Chambley. The change from n to l or vice versa is common; cf. balusters and banisters, the latter being modern.

Liverpool, 0, 1, 0; Ulverston, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 2, 0.

Champain, Champagne, Champin.—Local, 'of Champagne,' an immigrant from the province of that name.

Margery de Champain, co. Norf., 1345: FF. vi. 302.
Robert de Champayne, co. Norf., 1392: ibid. i. 61.
Hugh de la Chaumpeyne, Pardons R., 6 Ric. II.
Hugh de Champayne, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Robert de Champaigne, 1306. M.
1806. Married—John Champain and Ann Douglas: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 341.
New York, 0, 1, 1.

Champion.—Occup. 'the champion,' a soldier, a warrior, the winner in village sports; O.F. champion, campion. For further instances v. Campion.

Henry le Champin, C. R., 56 Hen. III.
Hugo Champyon, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 167.

John le Champion, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Katerina le Champioun, co. Bedf., ibid.
Edmund Campyon, or Champion, 1514: Reg. Univ. Oxf. p. 94.

1524. John Peron and Alice Champyon: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 4.

1592. Married—John Manser and Alyce Champion: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 15.
1718. — John Champion and Eliz. Hubbard: St. Antholin (London), p. 131.
1795. — Isaac Champion and Margaret Tracy: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 131.
London, 24; Philadelphia, 17.

Champlin, Chamblen.—Either a variant of Chaplin (q.v.) or of Camplin (q.v.). This is likely enough; cf. Champion and Campion, Chandler and Candler, Chancellor and Cancellor, &c. I do not find these forms in England, but only across the Atlantic.

1637. Buried—Mary, d. Michael Chamblaine: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 231.

This entry seems to point to Chamberlain as the original form.

Boston (U.S.), 9, 3.

Champness; v. Champneys.

Champney.—Local, 'le Champagnois,' an immigrant from the province of that name (v. Champneys). For several variants of this surname, v. Chamney. In Yorkshire the surname seems to have been pronounced without the s. Perhaps, however, it was a dialectic form of Champagne. If so, the origin would still remain the same (v. Champain).

Johannes Champenay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 58.

Johanna Champenay, 1379: ibid.
 Henricus Champnay, 1379: ibid. p. 237.
 1580-1. William Champney and Emma Crokshall: Marriage Lic. (London),
 i. 100.
 1782. Married—John Platford and Eliz.
 Champney: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 329.
 London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 16.

Champneys, Champness, Champniss.—Local, 'le Champpagnois,' an immigrant from the province of Champagne; v. Cham-ney and Champney.

Roger le Champeneys, co. Norf., 1273.
 A.

John Champneis, co. Linc., ibid.
 Rosa Champneys, co. Kent, 1273. A.
 Bartholomew Champenais, London,
ibid.

Hugh le Champneys, Hen. III—Edw. I.
 K.

Robert le Champeneis. E.
 Stephen le Champenays. L.
 1422. Thomas Champneys, rector of Oxwick, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 508.
 1693. Buried—Hanna, wife of Arthur
 Champneys: St. Dionis Backchurch,
 p. 261.
 1796. Married—Rev. William Henry
 Champneys and Lucy Horaby: St. Geo.
 Han. Sq. ii. 147.
 London, 4, 2, 1.

Chance.—? Bapt. 'the son of Chance' (?). It is quite possible that Chance may have been a personal name, like Bonaventure, which it exactly represented;
chance in M.E. generally meaning a happy accident, a good mishap.
 It is interesting to notice that the surname is well represented in the district where I find my earliest instance:

Richard Chance, co. Warw., 20 Edw. I. R.

If it were not for the above entry we might be disposed to agree with Mr. Lower in his suggestion that Chance is a variant of Chancy (v. Chauncey). But there is not an atom of evidence so far as I know in its favour.

1747. Married—Henry Clark and Ann
 Chance: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 84.
 1802. — John Chance and Eliz. Allen:
 St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 269.
 London, 11; MDB, (co. Worcester), 6;
 (co. Warwick), 1; Philadelphia, 22.

Chancellor, Cancellor, Chancery.—Offic. 'the chancellor,' a custodian of writings or records.
 The chancery (i.e. chancellery) also gave a local (practically official) surname, but it is put in an abbreviated Latin form in early records, as for example:

Richard de Canceff, co. Hertf., 1273. A.
 Emeric de Canceff, co. Southampt.,
 1273. A.

These stand for 'de Cancellaria,' i.e. the record-room. The forms of Chancellor are somewhat varied.
 I furnish instances from a single register:

Robert le Chaunceler, co. Camb.,
 1273. A.

Alan Chancellor, co. Norf., ibid.
 Walter Chancellor, co. Norf., ibid.
 Robert le Caunceler, co. Bedf., ibid.
 Roger le Cancellor, co. Bedf., ibid.
 William Cancellarius, co. Oxf., ibid.

With Chancellor and Cancellor, cf. Chandler and Candler. Since writing the above I have come across a local form in full:

Willelmus del Chaincery, 1370: P. T.
 Yorks. p. 236. 'Serviens Edmundus
 Moubray, Esquier.'

1749. Married—Thomas Brooke and Eliz. Chancellor: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 141.
 London, 3, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 0.

Chandler, Chantler, Candler,
 Cantler.—Occup. 'the chandler':
 (1) a candlemaker; (2) the official who attended to the lights in his lord's household (v. Prompt. Parv.
 p. 71, and Way's note). 'Candelere, candelarius': Prompt. Parv.

Nicholas de Malton, candeler, 7 Edw.
 II: Freeman of York, i. 15.

Johannes Thurton, candelere: Guild of St. George, Norwich. English Gilds.

Matilda Candeler, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
 p. 25.

Robertus Knyghtman, chaundeler, 1379:
ibid. p. 222.

John le Chanteler, C. R., 34 Hen. III.
 Reginald le Chandelre, London, 1273. A.
 Mathew le Candeler, London, ibid.
 William Cancellarius, co. Leicester,
ibid.

Jordan le Chaundler. C.
 John Candler, or Candeler, or Chanler,
 1548: Reg. Univ. Oxf. p. 213.

1566. Married—Richard Harrison and Margrete Chantler: Reg. Prestbury Ch.
 Cheshire, p. 19.

1567-8. Richard Candler and Eliz.
 Locke: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 38.
 1628. 'Paid unto Thomas Chantler for a new clocke . . . £. 5. 3. 4'—Churchwardens' Accounts, Wilmslow; v. East
 Cheshire, i. 107.

London, 66, 2, 7, 0; Norfolk, 34, 0, 3, 0.

Chaney, Chany.—Local; v.
 Cheney.

Changer.—Occup. 'the changer,' a money-changer.

Simon le Changeur, C. R., 25 Hen. III.
 Symon le Changur, co. Linc., 1273. A.
 Cf. John del Chauge, 2 Edw. III:
 Freeman of York, i. 24.

Channon.—Offic. 'the canon';
 M.E. chanon; v. Shannon. 'Chano-none, chanonicus': Prompt. Parv.

'Nay, nay, God wot, al be he monk or frere,
 Preest or chanon.'

Chaucer, C. T. 16307.
 Richard Chanon, co. Soms., 1627: Abstract of Somersetshire Wills, p. 34.

1607. Buried—Barnabie, s. John Chan-non: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 97.

1616. William Chanon, co. Devon:
 Reg. Oxf. Univ. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 357.
 London, 5; Philadelphia, 4.

Chanonhouse, Channel-house, Chandlehouse, Char-nelhouse.—Local, 'at the chanonhouse,' i.e. the residence of the canon; M.E. chanon. This name,
 I believe, is obsolete in England,
 but still remains in the United States. A gentleman of this title was drowned in 1859 near New York.
 For many centuries the name was confined to Furness and the neighbouring district, and the last of the local branch died at the close of the last century. Shannon-house is now an old farm by Pennington Church, near Ulverston. Six hundred years ago it was the Chanon-house, where resided the canon of Conishead Priory, who undertook the parochial charge of the church at Pennington, then in the possession of the Augustinians. In old deeds it is written Chanonhouse and Channellhouse, and in the registers of Pennington and Ulverston both surname and place-name are found in every conceivable and inconceivable spelling, including the forbidding
 'Charnel-house.'

1547. Buried—Margaret Chanonhowse:
 St. Mary, Ulverston, p. 5.

1642. Bapt.—Christopher, s. James
 Fell, of Chanonhouse: Pennington Ch.,
 Ulverston.

1670. Buried—James Fell, of Challen-house: ibid.

William Channellhouse, of Ulverston, 1642: Lancashire Wills at Richmond,
 p. 62.

Isabel Channonhouse, of Ulverston, 1613: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 62.

Chanster.—Offic. or occup. Strictly the feminine of Chanter, a reciter (v. Chanter). Cf. Sanger and Sangster, q.v.

Stephen le Chanster, J.
Williametta Cantatrix. E.

Chanster could not fail to become Chancer, in which form it is found in the last century:

1780. Married—John Tatum and Barbara Chancer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 28.

Chanter.—Offic. 'the chanter,' a precentor, one who recites in song. Probably one who sang the masses in a chantry, a chantry priest. But certainly occupative sometimes. 'Chawntowre, Cantor': Prompt. Parv.

William le Chantur, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Cristiana le Chauntur, co. Camb., 1273. A.

William le Chantour, 1301. M.

Vines le Chauntur, C. R., 51 Hen. III.

William Chauntor, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 140.

Johannes Chanter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 120.

Agnes Chauntour, 1379: ibid. p. 217.

1735. Married—Edward Smart and Joyce Chanter: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 15.

1761. Buried—Stephen Chanter: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 144.

London, 2.

Chanticleer.—Nick. 'clear singer,' a familiar name for a barn-door cock. Hence, perhaps, a boaster, one who 'crows loudly.'

'A cok, highte Chaunteclere,
In all the land of crowing n'as his pere.'
Chaucer, C. T. 14854.

Roger Chauntecler, C. R., 6 Edw. III.
Thomas Chaunticler, of Attleborough, co. Norf., 1359. FF. i. 505.

If this surname descended to modern times it would probably be lost in Chantler (s.v. Chandler).

Chantler.—Occup.; v. Chandler.

Chantrey, Chantry.—Local, 'at the chantry.' The name being so rare we may readily believe that the John below was ancestor of the sculptor, Sir Francis Legatt Chantrey (1781–1841), who was the son of a carpenter living at Jordanthorpe, near Sheffield.

Johannes del Chauntre (Sprotborough), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 53.

1445. Henry Chantrey, vicar of East Dereham, co. Norf.: FF. x. 210.

1465. Richard Chauntrey, rector of Knaptun, co. Norf.: ibid. viii. 135.

1662. Married—William Howard and Ann Chauntree: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 110.

1780. — Henry Chantree and Phoebe Woodcock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 18.

1803. — Nathaniel Chantry and Frances Dutereau: ibid. p. 277.

London, o, 2; Goole, o, 1; MDB. (Lincoln), o, 4; Philadelphia, o, 2.

Chapeler.—Occup. 'le chapelier,' a hatter; O.F. chapel, a hat, a head-dress, whence dim. chapellet, now chaplet. 'E qe chascun esquier porte chapel des armes son seigneur.' 'And that every esquire do bear a cap of the arms of his lord' (Stat. of Realm, i. 220).

Robert le Chapeler, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Mabil le Chapelere, co. Camb., ibid.
Theobald le Chapeler (London), ibid.
Edmund le Chapeler, c. 1300. M.

I find no modern representatives of this surname. I fear it is obsolete.

Chaperon, Capron, Chapron.—Nick. 'a hood or bonnet'; F. chaperon, an augmentative form of chape, a hood. A common surname in the 13th and 14th centuries. It was probably the popular nickname of the cowl'd monks; cf. Barefoot. The chaperon of modern society, though the same word, has no place here.

'Her shapperoones, her perriwigs and tires
Are reliques which his flatt'ry much admires.'

Taylor's Workes, 1630, ii. 111.

Walter Chaperun, 1190: R.R.R. p. 56.

Edmund Caprun, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Sibill Caprun, co. Bedf., ibid.

William Capron, 1515: Keg. Univ. Oxf. i. 98.

Almeric Chaperon. O.

Thomas Caparoun. J.

1550. Hugh Beete and Anne Capron: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 13.

1788. Married—Robert Capron and Mary Thomas Nixon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 4.

London, 1, 3, 1; Philadelphia, o, o, 2; New York, o, 3, o.

Chaplin, Caplin, Chaplain.—

Offic. 'the chaplain,' the minister of a sanctuary or inferior church.

With Caplin, cf. Candler for Chandler, Capell for Chapell, and Chancellor for Chancellor, &c. The Low Latin Capellanus is the common mode of entry.

Richard le Chapeleyn, co. Devon: Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Simon Capellanus, co. Essex, 1273. A.

Richard le Chapeleyn, co. Linc., ibid.

Nicholas le Chapeleyn, co. Oxf., ibid.

Adam le Chapelayn, co. Northumberland, 20 Edw. I. R.

Johannes Chapeleyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 151.

1592. Robert Chaplyn and Alice Caterall: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 198.

1594. Henry Caplyn and Margery Unthanck: ibid. p. 216.

1638. Buried—Mary Chaplin, widow: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 197.

1804. Married—George Caplin and Frances Winham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 312.

London, 29, 7, o; Philadelphia, 1, o, 1; Boston (U.S.), 12, o, o.

Chapman.—Occup. 'the chapman.' It is probable that the early chapman was stationary, and dealt in a much larger way than we are now accustomed to suppose. The travelling chapman was of a lower grade. An Act of Edward VI speaks of 'person or persones commonly called Pedler, Tynker, or Pety Chapman' (5 & 6 Edw. VI, c. 21).

Cf. Nicholaus Fleschewer, chapman de Bees, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 97.

Robertus Wulchapman, marchand: ibid. p. 150.

Thomas le Chapman, co. Leic., 1273. A.

Grante le Chapman, co. Devon, ibid.

Geoffrey le Chapman, c. 1300. M.

Alard le Chapman. T.

William le Chepman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 92.

Alicia Shepsbank, chapman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 3.

Agnes Chapman, 1379: ibid. p. 5.

Magota de Brandon, chapman, 1379: ibid. p. 11.

Henricus Schapman, 1379: ibid. p. 41.

1541. Bapt.—Robert Chapmanne: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 2.

1610. — Alice, d. Gyles Chapman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 86.

London, 165; Boston (U.S.), 132.

Chappell, Chapel, Chapple, Chapell.—Local, 'at the chapel';

cf. Kirk, Church, Churchyard, &c.

Hugh de la Chapele, co. Notts, 1273. A.

Thomas de la Chapele, co. Northumberland, 20 Edw. I. R.

John atte Chapele, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 238.

William a la Chapele, Fines Roll, 9 Edw. I.

Johannes del Chapell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 101.

1671-2. William Chappell and Margaret Heeley: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 121.

1689. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Thomas Chappel: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 333.

With Chapple, cf. such an entry as—1705. Married—William Lynford, of Whitechapple (i.e. Whitechapel), coachman, and Mary Jenkinson: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 38.

London, 35, 2, 14, 0; Philadelphia, 14, 2, 0, 2.

Chappelow, Chapplow, Chapelhow, Chaplow.—Local, 'at the chapel-how' (v. Howe). This rare surname is found in the London Directory. It has travelled from the borders of Cumberland and Westmoreland. In the former county it still exists as Chapplow, which is very misleading, suggesting low (v. Lowe) as the suffix.

Christopher Chappellow, Hackthorp, 1602: Hist. Westm. and Camb. i. 97.
Thomas Chappellow, Hackthorp, 1602: ibid.

Thomas Chappillhow, of Underbarrow, parish of Kendal, 1608: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 30.

1742. Married—Duncan Bayne and Barbara Chappelow: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 28.
—George Chapplehow and Eliz. Diment: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 23.
London, 1, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Westmoreland), 0, 0, 2, 1; (co. Cumberland), 0, 1, 0, 0.

Chard.—Local, 'of Chard,' a market-town and parish in co. Somerset.

John Chard, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 269.

1604. Married—John Chard and Lucretia Turner: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 117.

1754.—Richard Chard and Hannah Groves: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 53.
MDB. (co. Soms.), 22; London, 13; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Charer, Charman.—Occup. 'the charer' or 'charman,' a driver of a char or chare, a carman; from O.F. char, a car. 'Chare, currus': Prompt. Parv. 'To Master William la Zousche, clerk of the King's great wardrobe, in money, paid to him by the hands of John le Charer, for making a certain chariot,' &c. (Issues of the Exchequer, 6Edw. III). See also instances in Prompt. Parv. in Mr. Way's note. Capgrave says of Helianore of France, under date 1394, 'She brought oute of Frauns xii chares ful of domicelles,' v. Carman.

Thomas le Charer, C. R., 18 Edw. I. John le Charer, co. Notts, 1273. A. Richard le Charer, c. 1300. M. Nicholas le Charer, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 164.

1752. Married—John Bulley and Mary Charman: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 220.

1809.—Francis Charman and Amy Fielder: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 415.
London, 0, 3; New York, 0, 2.

Charioteer.—Occup. 'one who drove a chariot'; M.E. charet, the dim. of chare; v. Charer. 'Char-yetter, aurigarius, quadrigarius': Prompt. Parv.; v. Carter, which is, strictly speaking, a doublet.

Peter le Charetter, co. Camb., 1273. A. John Charioteer, co. York. W. 2.
Thomas Charietter, temp. Eliz. ZZ.

Charity.—Local, 'of the charity,' Possibly a dispensary or 'spittle' connected with an ecclesiastical foundation.

William de la Charity. J. John Charite, C. R., 3 Edw. I. Ricardus Charyte, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 128.

Willelmus Charite, 1379: ibid. p. 141.
Thomas Charite, 1379: ibid. p. 193.

1612. Buried—Sara, d. Frederick Charitie: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 121.

1642. Married—William Charitye and Emma Last: ibid. iii. 75.

The origin as above given cannot be doubted. The baptismal Charity came far too late to obtain surnominal honours.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Charles.—Bapt. 'the son of Charles'; German, Carl. 'Charlys, propr name, Carolus': Prompt. Parv.

Colina Charles, co. Norf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Charles (without surname), co. Kent, 1273. A.

Edward Charles, co. Suff., ibid.
William Charle, co. Norf., ibid.

Alan Charle, co. Camb., ibid.

Ida Carle, co. Camb., ibid.

Ralph Carles, co. Camb., ibid.

William Carolus, co. Norf., ibid.

1482. William Cherlys, vicar of Great Ellingham, co. Norf.: FF. i. 486.

1551. Bapt.—John Charles: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 1.

1585-6. Tertullian Pyne and Mary Charles: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 145.

1621. Bapt.—Thomas, s. George and Jone Charles: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 115.

London, 30; MDB. (co. Camb.), 4; Philadelphia, 17.

Charlesworth.—Local, 'of Charlesworth,' a hamlet in co. Derby, eight miles from Chapel-en-le-Frith. Hence well represented in Sheffield and the Yorkshire border. This surname has ramified in a remarkable manner. It seems to have reached London at a fairly early period.

Johannes de Chalesworth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 81.

Crossing over into East Cheshire it is found in a curious form:

1610. Married—William Choleseworthe and Ellen Adshead: Prestbury Ch. (Cheshire), p. 186.

1571. John Pettie and Margery Charlesworth, of Stepney: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 49.

1802.—John Green and Margaret Charlesworth: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 269.

London, 7; West Rid. Court Dir., 10; Sheffield, 10; MDB. (co. Derby), 8.

Charlett.—Bapt. 'the son of Charles,' from Carl or Charl, and dim. Charl-et. This came into England a second time in the 17th century as Charlet or Charlotte. Again, in the 18th century in the form of Caroline (wife of George II) it obtained a new lease of popularity. Once more, in the 19th century the lamented Princess Charlotte caused the earlier form to become immensely fashionable.

Gregory Charlett, 1512: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 83.

1803. Married—Anthony Charlett and Mary Green: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 279.
London, 1.

Charlton.—Local, 'of Charlton.' There are nineteen parishes called Charlton in the index to Crockford; v. Carlton and Chorlton.

Richard de Charleton, co. Suff., 1273. A. Geoffrey de Cherlton, co. Oxf., ibid.

Daniel de Cherleton, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.

John de Cherelton, co. Northamp., ibid. 1588. John Charlton, of Tatton: Wills at Chester, i. 39.

1594. James Charlton, of Ashton, ibid. Johanna Cherleton, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 27.

1654. Married—Nicholas Charleton and Sarah Abbott: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 34.

1572. Roger Charleton and Margaret Wade: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 52. London, 20; Philadelphia, 39.

Charlwood, Charlewood.—Local, 'of Charlwood,' a parish in co. Surrey, seven miles from Reigate. John Charlewood, Charlwood, or Cherlwood (d. 1592), the stationer and printer, seems undoubtedly to have sprung from Surrey. 'Charlewood apparently came from Surrey, as on Jan. 12, 1591, we find him taking as an apprentice "Geffry Charlwood, son of Richard Charlwood, of Lye (Leigh), in the county of Surrey." Charlwood is a Surrey parish, and is not an uncommon county surname': Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 120.

1779. Married—Edward Charlwood and Betty Quarrell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 305.

1800. — John Charlwood and Eliz. Billing: ibid. ii. 228. London, 2, o.

Charman.—Occup.; v. Charer.

Charnock.—Local, 'of Charnock'; two townships in the parish of Standish, co. Lanc., styled respectively Charnock Richard and Charnock Heath. 'Stephen Charnock (1628-80), Puritan theologian, was born in 1628, in . . . London, where his father, Richard Charnock (a relation of the Lancashire family of Charnock of Charnock), was a solicitor': Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 134.

Robert Charnock, of Charnock: Baines' Lancashire, ii. 165.

Elizabeth Charnock, of Leyland, co. Lanc., 1575: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 39.

Miles Charnock, of Wigan Woodhouse, 1592: ibid.

James Charnock, of Charnock Richard, 1633: ibid. (1621-1650), p. 46.

William Charnock, 1582: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 44.

1563. Bapt.—John, s. Nicholas Charnock: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 4.

1806. Married—James Charnock and Charlott Stacks: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 341. London, 2; Manchester, 1; MDB. (co. Lanc.), 2; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Charrington; v. Cherrington.

Charsley, Chesley.—Local, 'of Chearsley,' a village in co. Buckingham, three miles from Thame, said to be originally Cerdicesleagh, i.e. the lee or meadow of Cerdic. My first instance corroborates this view. There can be no doubt that Chesley, through Chearsley, is a variant.

Robert de Cherdesle, co. Oxf., 1273. A. 1575. Married—William Chearsley and Ellyn Edwardes: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 11.

1809. — William Chearsley and Mary Grainger: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 412. MDB. (co. Buckingham), 5, o; Boston (U.S.), o, 22.

Charter.—Occup. 'the chariot-tee,' from O.F. charète, a chariot, a wagon. I suspect Carter (q.v.) has swallowed up all other forms; v. Charioteer. One of the most interesting things in the study of English nomenclature is to note the existence to-day of surnames in the same district where they arose. It is only in cos. Cambridge and Hunts that Charter is common.

Peter le Charetter, co. Camb., 1272. A. Ralph le Charetter, co. Camb., ibid. Simon le Charetter, co. Camb., ibid. Lovecock Chartre, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 117.

1600. John Charter, rector of Bale, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 358.

1675. Bapt.—John, son of Joseph Charter: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 267.

1798. Married—George Charter and Eliz. Hancock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 182. London, 1; MDB. (co. Hunts), 4; (co. Cambridge), 5; Philadelphia, 3.

Charteris, Chartres, Chatteris.—Local, 'of Chartres,' in France. The variants are all of a very natural character.

Richard de Chartray, co. Devon, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Alan de Chartres, co. Hunts, 1273. A. John de Chartres, co. Linc., ibid.

Ralph de Chartres, c. 1300. M. Johannes Charteres, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 13.

1638. Married—Christopher Chattrice and Mary Bingham: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 256.

1639. Bapt.—Joseph, s. Christopher Chatterisse, cooke: ibid. p. 88.

1693. Married—Richard Hawson and Martha Charterisse: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 47.

1771. — Francis Charteris and Susan Keck: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 212.

1797. — William Marshall and Sarah Charters: ibid. i. 169.

London, o, 4, 4, o, 1; New York, o, 4, 1, o, o.

Chartman.—Occup. The same as Cartman, a carter; cf. Charter for Carter.

John Chartman, rector of Sedistern, co. Norf., 1361: Bromfield's Norfolk (v. index).

Chase.—Local, 'at the chase,' from residence in that part of the forest or park termed the chase; an open piece of ground for the herding of deer and other game; cf. Forest, Park, Lowndes. This surname has ramified strongly in the United States.

1626. Married—John Chase and Hanna Tailor: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 56.

1657. — Richard Chase and Bridgett Monday: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 37.

1746. Richard Chase, rector of Ellingham, co. Norf.: FF. viii. 7.

London, 15; Philadelphia, 73.

Chaser.—Occup. 'the chaser,' i.e. a hunter; v. Hunter.

Brutone le Chaceour, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 221.

Chaston.—Local, 'of Caston,' q.v. No doubt a variant, as found in the Norfolk and Suffolk counties.

MDB. (co. Suffolk), 6; London, o.

Chater, Chaytor.—(1) Offic. 'the escheator' (?), one who inquired into escheats. After the death of a tenant an inquiry was made, and if there was failure of issue, the land escheated or lapsed to his lord. It was the same after attainder for treason or felony. Possibly Cater (q.v.), but the above is almost certainly the true derivation (v. Cheat in Skeat's Dictionary). (2) Offic. 'the chater,' v. Cater; cf. Candler and Chandler, &c.

Henry Escacior, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Ralph le Chater, co. Warw., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Stephen le Chater, co. Warw., ibid.

Thomas Chetur, smith, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 41.

Walter le Chatur, co. Camb., 1273. A. Agnes le Chatur, co. Camb., ibid.

1737. Married—Thomas Cheater and Sarah Blackstaff: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 66.

1801. — John Jeans and Martha Chater: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 235.

London, 8, 1; New York, 3, 1.

Chatman.—Occup. 'the chapman' (q.v.). An American variant. New York, 4; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Chattaway.—Local, 'of Chadway.' This has become first Chadway, then Chattaway; cf. Ottaway, Hathaway, or Greenaway for Ottway, Hathway, or Greenway. I have not discovered the spot. Of course the suffix is -way, a road, a path, i.e. the road leading to Chad's dwelling; v. Chad.

1687. Bapt.—Susan, d. John Chadway: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 320.

1791. Married—William Chadway and Dorothy Clayton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 68.

1800. — James Davidson and Eliz. Chadway: ibid.

London, i.; Philadelphia, i.

Chatteris.—Local, 'of Chatteris,' a parish in the Isle of Ely, co. Camb. Found as Chaterich, Chatteris, and Chaterus in the Hundred Rolls (1273).

Richard de Chaterus, co. Camb., 1273.

A. Sarra de Chaterus, co. Camb., ibid. London, i.

Chatterton.—Local; v. Chaderton.

Chatwin.—Local; v. Chetwynd.

Chaucer.—Occup. 'le chaucer,' a maker of chausses, i.e. leathern breeches; Latin, calcearius. Chaucer's grandfather was connected with Ipswich (v. Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 155). The surname was early found in that district.

Roger Calcwere, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Gerard le Chaucer. H.

Mary le Chaucer. N.

Ralph le Chaucer. E.

Robert le Chaucer, c. 1300. M.

Chauncey, Chauncy.—Local, 'de Chauncy.' Said to have been an estate near Amiens. The name is clearly continental, and almost certainly Norman. Among a batch of French and Walloons who went out to Virginia in 1621 are found 'Charles Chauncy, wife, and two children' (Hotten's Emigrant Lists, p. 198). Chauncy has become a popular font-name in the United States. There are four Chauncey Smiths in the New York Directory. In England Percy and Sydney, both local surnames, have undergone the same experience.

Philip de Chauncy, co. Linc., Hen. III. Edw. I. K.

William de Chaunci, or Chancy, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Humfridus de Chauncy, co. Linc., ibid.

Josep de Chauncey, co. Hunts, 20 Edw. I. R.

Thomas de Chauncey, co. York, ibid.

1663. John Chauncey and Eliz. Taylor: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 98. New York, 3, 1.

Chawner.—Occup. 'the chaloner,' q.v. A known corruption.

Hugh Chawner, of Wigan, 1607: Lancashire Inquisit. p. 79.

Or, Hugh Challenor, of Wigan, 1610: ibid. p. 166;

Or, Hugh Challiner, of Wigan, 1612: ibid. p. 107.

1507. Married—Randall Oakes and Jone Chawnor: Reg. Prestbury Ch. (Ches.), p. 22.

1573. Abraham Wrables and Agnes Chawner: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 56.

William Chawner, vicar of Hursfield, near Macclesfield, 1846: East Cheshire, ii. 454.

London, i.

Cheales, Cheals, Cheal, Cheel.—Local, 'de Chele' or 'Cheles.' Cheal is a hamlet in the parish of Gosberton, south Linc., three miles from Donington.

Gilbert de Chele, or Cheles, or Cheyle, or Cheyle, co. Linc., 1273. A.

William de Cheyle, co. Linc., ibid.

William de Cheles, co. Salop, ibid.

Robert de Cheles, co. Salop, Hen. III. Edw. I. K.

Alex. de Cheyles, co. Salop, ibid.

1668. Edward Newcomen and Mary Cheales: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 105.

1682. John Mellersh and Dorothy Cheale: ibid. p. 163.

Crockford, 2, 0, 0, 1; London, 0, 0, 0, 1.

Checker.—Occup. or offic. 'the checker,' one who checked accounts (?); cf. Scorer (r). More probably, however, a maker of chess-boards.

John le Cheker, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 191.

Matthew Checker, C. R., 8 Edw. I.

William Checker, 1547: TTT. p. lxxx.

Chedzoy, Chedzey, Chidzoy, Chidzey, Chedgey, Chedsey.—

Local, 'of Chedzoy,' a parish near Bridgewater, co. Somerset. Chedzey in the London Directory is a very natural variant. Such surnames get more corrupted the further they wander from home.

'William Chedsey, or Chedsey (1510?-1571), divine, was a native of Somersetshire': Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 174.

John Chedsey, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 101.

1778. Married—Robert Warlow and Grace Chidzey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 291.

MDb. (co. Somerset), 2, 1, 1, 1, 0, 0; London, 1, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0; New York (Chedsey), 1.

Cheese.—? Nick. Probably the nickname of a cheese-factor or cheese-farmer. But I cannot speak positively; still, cf. Pepper.

John Cheese, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Hamo Cheese, co. Salop, ibid.

Ricardus Cheese, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 270.

Thomas Cheese, 1370: ibid. p. 274.

1597. Richard Cheese and Anne Biggleskyrte: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 238.

1808. Married—William Cheese and Sarah Murray: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 398. Crockford, 3; London, 0.

Cheese-and-bread.—Nick. for one who was notoriously fond of bread and cheese.

Geoffrey Cheese-and-brede, co. Yorks. W. 5.

Cheesehouse.—Local, 'at the cheese-house,' the store-house for cheeses.

Adam del Cheshus, co. Camb., 1273. A.

This surname was existing in the 17th century:

1660. Married—Richard Chezus and Anne Hignett: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 103.

Cheesemaker.—Occup. 'the cheesemaker,' a maker of cheeses (v. Cheeseman). The surname does not seem to have lasted through many generations.

Robert le Chesemaker, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Thomas le Chesemaker, C. R., 17 Edw. I.

Cheeseman, Cheesman.—Occup. 'the cheeseman,' a maker or seller of cheeses; M.E. chese.

John le Cheeseman, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Edward Cheesman. H.

1523. Robert Cheesman and Eliz. Wodell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 3.

1675. Bapt.—John, s. Frances Cheesman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 268.

1704. Buried—William Cheesman: St. John Baptist on Wallbrook, p. 195.

London, 3, 11; New York, 0, 6.

Cheesmonger.—Occup. 'a seller of cheeses.'

Adam le Chismonger. H.

Alan le Chesmongere. L.

Cheeswright, Cheeswright, Cheeseright.—Occup. 'the cheeswright,' a maker of cheese.

Wright as a suffix was generally associated with work in wood; cf. Wheelwright, Wainwright, Cartwright, Arkwright. In Cheesewright we see a departure from this usage.

John Chesewright, temp. 1570. Z.

William Cheswright, ibid.

Marke Chiswright, son of Mr. Cheswright, 1609: St. Dionis Backchurch, London, p. 94.

London, 5, 2, o; MDB. (co. Camb.), o, o, 1.

Cheetham, Chetham.—Local, 'of Cheetham' or 'Chetham,' a township and suburb of Manchester. The two Chethams recorded in the Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 206-7, viz. Humphrey Chetham (1580-1653), founder of the Manchester Hospital and Library that bear his name, and James Chetham (1640-92), writer on angling, were both born within two miles of Chetham, one at Crumpsall Hall, the other at Smedley. Chetham of Chetham was a surname so early as Edward I (Baines' Lanc. i. 405).

Henry Chetham, of Crumpsall (Manchester), 1603: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 39.

William Chetham, of Blakeley (Manchester), 1612: ibid.

Laurence Chetham, of Stockport, 1590: ibid.

1758. Married—Joseph Cheetham and Sidwell Cornish: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 79.

Manchester, 43, 2; London, 4, o; Philadelphia, 4, o.

Chell.—Local, 'of Chell,' a township in the parish of Wolstanton, co. Stafford.

1711. Married—Arthur Gilbert and Anne Chell: St. Antholin (London), p. 124.

1768. — Richard Chell and Frances Sutton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 178.

Crockford, 3; MDB. (co. Stafford), 3; New York, 1.

Chenery, Chinery, Chinery. — ? I cannot help thinking this is an immigrant from the Low Countries. It is found in cos. Norfolk and Suffolk. But it might easily stand for Chinbury and be a local English surname.

Ralph de Chinebury, co. Norf., temp. 1380: FF. ii. 439.

1393. John Chenery, patron of Barton, co. Norf.: ibid. vii. 282.

1675. John Chinery, rector of Bretenham, co. Norf.: ibid. i. 443.

1682. Henry Chennery, mayor of Lynn Regis, co. Norf.: ibid. viii. 533.

1804. Married—William Mitchell and Hester Chinnery: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 315.

London, 3, 3, 3; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 2, 3, o; Philadelphia, 1, 2, o.

Chenevix. — ? Mr. Lower says 'a Huguenot family settled in Ireland: one of that name was consecrated Bishop of Waterford in 1745' (Patr. Brit. p. 58). This was Richard Chenevix, son of Colonel Chenevix of the Guards, and grandson of the Rev. Philip Chenevix, the Protestant pastor of Limay, near Nantes, who settled in England at the time of the revocation of the Edict of Nantes (Smiles, Huguenots, p. 375). His grand-daughter and heiress, Melesina Chenevix, married—first, Colonel Ralph St. George, and secondly, Richard Trench, brother of the first Lord Ashtown in the peerage of Ireland, by whom she was mother of Richard Chenevix Trench, archbishop of Dublin (Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 184).

1726. Married—Paul Daniel Chenevix and Eliz. Deards: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 253.

Crockford (Chenevix-Trench), 2.

Cheney, Cheyney, Cheyne, Chaney, Chany.—Local, 'de Quesnay' (?), in the canton of Montmartin, department of La Manche, Normandy (Lower).

William de Cheyney, co. Norf., 2 Hen. II: FF. x. 433.

Felicia de Cheny, co. Devon, 20 Edw. I. R.

Philip de Cheny, Guernsey, ibid.

Walter de Chenay, co. Salop, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Henry de Cheney, co. Camb., 1273. A. Nicholas de Cheney, co. Camb., ibid.

William de Cheney, co. Suff., ibid.

1661. Thomas Cheney (co. Suffolk) and Eliz. Clopton: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 59.

1663. Christopher Wilkinson and Ellen Cheyne: ibid. p. 99.

London, 3, 1, 1, 2, 1; New York, 10, 2, 1, o, o; Philadelphia, 3, 13, 1, 3, o.

Cherrill.—Local, 'of Cherrhill,' a parish in the dioc. of Salisbury and co. Wilts, three miles from Calne. This place was parent of an early surname.

David de Churhille, co. Devon. A. Adam de Churhille, co. Devon. ibid.

1788. Married—Richard Cherrill and Ann Hewitt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 13.

London, 2.

Cherrington, Charrington.—(1) Local, 'of Cherrington,' a parish in co. Warwick, four miles from Shipston-upon-Stour; (2) 'of Cherrington,' a township in the parish of Edgmond, in co. Salop; (3) 'of Cherrington,' a parish in co. Gloucester; cf. Carrington and Sherrington.

William de Cherinton, co. Norf., 1273. A. Richard de Cherinton, co. Salop, ibid.

Thomas de Cherinton, co. Salop, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

William de Cherinton, co. Salop, ibid.

1768. Married—John Allchin and Margaret Charrington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 177.

1780. — James Winter and Ann Cherrington: ibid. p. 311.

London, 4, 3; MDB. (co. Salop), 1, o; Boston (U.S.), 10, o.

Cherry.—Local, 'at the cherry,' from residence by a cherry-tree; cf. Crabtree, Chestnut, Oake, Ash, Nash, &c. M.E. chery or chiri.

William Chirie, co. Derby, 1273. A. William Chery, C. R., 21 Hen. VI.

1569. Married—William Cherye and Alyce Foxe: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 10.

1606. — Henrie Cherie and Joane Fenner: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 31.

Henry Cherry, 1701: Exchequer Depositions by Commission, Cheshire, p. 168.

1788. Married—John Cherry and Rebecca Holdsworth: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 7.

London, 16; New York, 13.

Chesher, Cheshire, Cheshyre, Chesshire.—Local, 'of Cheshire'; cf. Derbyshire, Wiltshire, &c.

Thomas de Chastirshir, C. R., 6 Edw. II. Henricus de Chesterschyr, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 166.

John Cheshire, of Farrington, 1631: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 47.

Alice Cheshire, of Warrington, 1615: ibid. (1545-1620), p. 39.

1609-10. Thomas Langton and Dorcas Chesshire: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 318.

London, 1, 14, o, o; Manchester, o, 2, 1, o; Philadelphia, o, 2, o, 2.

Chesley.—Local; v. Charsley.

Chestnut.—Local; v. Chestnut.

Chessell.—Local; v. Chishull.

Chesser.—Local, 'of Cheshire,' q.v.; a modern variant.

1609-10. Thomas Langton and Dorcas Chesshire: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 318.

1759. Married—John Cheser and Ann Gibs: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 90.

1782. Married—James Hamilton and Margaret Chessor: ibid. p. 339. Philadelphia, 1.

Chessman. — Occup. 'the cheeseman,' a dealer in cheese; v. Cheeseman. In no way connected with the royal game of chess.

1736. Married—Absolom Robinson and Eliz. Chessman: St. Antholin (London), p. 147.

1746. — Christopher Rayner and Eliz. Chessman: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 77. 1783. — John Burgess and Ann Chessman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 342.

London, 1; MDB. (E. Rid. Yorks), 1; Philadelphia, 3; Boston (U.S.), 13.

Chessum, Chesson.—Local, 'of Chesham,' a natural variant; cf. Barnum for Barnham. Chesham is a market-town and parish in co. Bucks, three miles from Amersham. Chesson is as naturally a variant of Chessum; cf. Ransom and Ransom, Sansom and Samson, &c. The first entry following either confirms my view or denotes a different birth-place for Chesson. But cf. Cheston.

1653. Married—Thomas Creak, of Chesson, co. Harford (sic), and Eliz. Warren: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 29.

1728. — John Chessum and Martha Howlett: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 48.

1754. — John Hunt and Mary Chessum: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 272.

1804. — William C. Flower and Hester Chesson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 299.

London, 1, 2; MDB. (co. Middlesex), 1, 0.

Chester, Chesters.—Local, 'of Chester,' the capital town of Cheshire. Chesters is modern, and probably a kind of patronymic; cf. Brooks, Styles, Holmes, for Brook, Style, Holme, &c. Hence Williams, Jones, &c., for Williamson, Johnson, &c.

Petrus de Cestr', co. York, 1273. A. William de Cestre, co. Bedf., ibid. Symon de Chestrie, co. Derby, 20 Edw. I. R.

William de Chestere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III. Kirby's Quest, p. 272.

Elisabet de Chester, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 152.

Cristiana de Chester, 1379: ibid. p. 157. 1561-2. John Gardener and Anne Chester: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 23.

William Chester, of Newton, near Middlewich: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 140.

Margaret Chester, of Coole Lane, Chester, 1623: ibid. (1621-50), p. 47.

London, 18, 0; MDB. (co. Chester), 2, 6; Manchester, 3, 7; New York, 10, 0.

Chesterfield.—Local, 'of Chesterfield,' a town in co. Derby. A rare surname.

Robertus de Chesterfield, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 118.

Agnes de Chasturfield, 1379: ibid. p. 41. Liverpool, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Chesterman.—Nickname, 'the Chester man,' one who hailed from Chester; cf. Penkethman, found in the neighbourhood of Warrington. This surname is well known in the States. Adam Chesterman 'imbarqued in the Mathew of London' for St. Christophers, May 21, 1635. He was nineteen years old. Probably the present Chestermans are his descendants (v. Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 81).

1772. Married—Mathew Pouncy and Hannah Chesterman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 222.

1778. — George Goodwin and Hester Chesterman: ibid. p. 284.

Liverpool, 1; London, 3; Philadelphia, 5.

Chestnut, Chesnut.—Local, 'at the chestnut,' from residence by a chestnut-tree; cf. Nash, Rowntree, Crabtree, Oake, &c. This surname, while very rare in England, has at some period crossed the Atlantic, and has now many representatives.

Philadelphia, 40, 5.

Cheston.—Local, 'of Cheshun,' a town in co. Hertford, formerly styled Cheston; cf. Bristow for Bristol, or Stopford for Stockport. For further information, v. Notes and Queries, Nov. 8, 1890.

1565. Thomas Chestonne, New Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. i. pt. ii. p. 22.

1612. Buried—Richard Chestone: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 121.

1658. — Beniamyn Cheston: ibid. p. 325.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 5.

Chettle, Cattle, Cattell, Catell.—Bapt. 'the son of Chetel,' a weakened form of Ketel (v. Kettle). A northern mythological name. Cf. Arketle.

Chetel Frieday, a freeman, co. Norf., 1087: FF. viii. 51.

Cattle Bagge, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Thomas Chetill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 133.

Johannes Chetel, 1379: ibid. p. 75.

1561. Married—Henry Chettle and Johane Talbott: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, p. 1.

Margery Chettle, of Taunton, co. Soms., 1630: Abstract of Somersetshire Wills, p. 14.

1780. Married—William Cattell and Susanna Heakes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 316.

1781. — Joseph Bridges and Hannah Chettle: ibid. p. 324.

London, 1, 8, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 13, 1; Boston (U.S.) (Cattle), 1.

Chetwynd, Chatwin.—Local, 'of Chetwynd,' a parish in co. Salop, near Newport.

'William Richard Chetwynd, third Viscount Chetwynd (1680?-1770), was the third son of John Chetwynd... who was younger son of Sir Walter Chetwynd of Ingestre, head of the ancient family of Chetwynd, first of Chetwynd, Shropshire, and then of Ingestre': Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 213.

John de Chedewinde, co. Salop, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Adam de Chetewynde, co. Salop, 1273. A.

John de Chetewind, co. Salop, ibid.

The following entries practically prove that Chatwin is a variant of Chetwynd:

Thomas Chetwen, or Chetwyn, 1511: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 74.

Edward Chetwind, or 'Chetwine,' 1506: ibid. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 195.

William Chetwin, of West Kirby, 1607: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 40.

1754. Married—Robert Nash and Isabell Chetwynd: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 54.

London, 1, 4; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Chevalier, Cavalier, Chevalier.—Offic. 'the chevalier,' a knight; v. Horseman.

Thomas le Chevalier, co. Kent, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Jordan le Chevalier, co. Northampton, 1273. A.

Walter le Chevalier, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

Ralph Chivalier, C. R., 1 Edw. III. pt. i. Thomas de Reresby, chivalier, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 5.

1546. Thomas Cheveler, vicar of Stow, co. Norf.: FF. ii. 281.

1805. Married—William Edward Chevalier and Mary Williams: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 331.

London, 5, 4, 2; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia (Chevalier), 5.

Chew.—Local, (1) 'of Chew.'

Two parishes, Chew-Magna and Chew-Stoke, are situate in co. Somerset; (2) 'de Cheux,' a village near Caen, in Normandy. This latter suggestion is Lower's (Patr.

Brit. p. 59). Of course (r) is the natural derivation of most of the representatives of this surname. It has ramified strongly in America. John Chew settled in Virginia as early as 1624 (v. Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 237).

1501. Robert Chew, of Billington: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 40.

1603. Married—Theodore Hanley and Jane Chew: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 27.

1612. Roger Chew, of Mottram: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 40.

1667. Thomas Chew, of Woodplumpton: Wills at Richmond, p. 64.

1766. Married—John Chew and Jane Gifford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 158.

London, 4; Manchester, 3; MDB. (co. Chester), 2; Philadelphia, 49.

Cheyne, Cheyney.—Local; v. Cheney.

Chichester.—Local, 'of Chichester,' a city and market-town in the co. of Sussex. This surname has crossed the Atlantic, and is well represented in the States; rare in England.

1582. John Chechester (co. Devon), Exeter Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 119.

1679. Sir John Chichester, Bt., and Eliz. Bickerstaffe: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 10.

London, 1; New York, 13.

Chick.—Nick. 'the chick'; v. Chicken.

Walter Chike, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Thomas Chike, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 249.

Robert Chicke, co. Soms., 1586: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 153.

1601. Bapt.—Edith Chicke, reputed d. of John Loddon: Reg. Stourton, co. Wilts, p. 3.

1803. Married—Jacob Chick and Eliz. Fidler: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 287.

London, 10; MDB. (co. Soms.), 8; Boston (U.S.), 36.

Chickin.—Nick. 'the chicken'; cf. Henn, Cock, &c. 'Cheyn, pullus': Prompt. Parv.

John Chikin, co. Camb., 1273. A. Philip Chikin, co. Camb., ibid.

Hugh Chyken, Fines Roll, 11 Edw. I. 1650. Bapt.—Mary, d. John Chickin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 176.

'Joseph Chickin sailed for New England in 1635': Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 285.

I fear this surname is extinct in England, but it survives in the States.

Boston (U.S.), 1.

Chidley, Chidlow.—Local, 'of Chidlow,' a township in the parish of Malpas, co. Chester.

In memory of John Chidlow, rector of Hobbies, who died Dec. 14, 1652; Sizeland Ch., co. Norf.: FF. x. 180.

1803. Married—Joseph Wood and Mary Chidlaw: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 275.

—Samuel Cooper and Ann Chidlow: ibid. p. 279.

—Thomas Chidley and Eliz. Farlow: ibid. p. 289.

London, 7, 0; MDB. (co. Salop), 5, 1.

Chiffence, Chiffinch.—Nick.; see Chaffinch.

Chilcott, Chilcotte.—Local, 'of Chilcote,' a chapelry in the parish of Burton-upon-Trent, co. Derby.

Gilbert de Chilcote, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 260.

1602. John Gillett and Frances Chilcott, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 270.

1694. Bapt.—Sarah, d. James Chilcot. 1793. Married—John Chilcot and Mary Williams: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 99.

1795. —Thomas Chilcott and Sarah Crow: ibid. 140.

London, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 1.

Child, Childe, Childs, Chiles.—Nick. or offic. 'the child.'

Perhaps the eldest son, the heir (v. Eyre and Ayre). Hence Childe Harold simply revives the 'Childe Waters,' 'Childe Rolands,' or 'Childe Thopas's,' of mediaeval days. It is somewhat hard to fix the sense of Child in nomenclature. It evidently means a page occasionally. In the Morte Arthure mention is made of a youth named 'Chastelayne, a chylde of the Kynges chambyre.'

William le Child, C. R., 12 Edw. I. Godwin Child, co. Berks, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Brian le Child, co. Camb., 1273. A. Walter le Child, co. Oxf., ibid.

John le Child, co. Sussex, 20 Edw. I. R. Robertus Childe, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 59. Emma Child, 1379: ibid. p. 59.

1639. Married—Robert Childe and Ann Leyton: St. Antholin (London), p. 72.

The form Childs and the corrupted Chiles seem to represent the patronymic s, as in Jones, Williams, Simmonds, &c. Lower says, 'In Domesday the epithet Child or Cilt is applied to several persons of distinction' (Patr. Brit. p. 59).

London, 52, 2, 15, 1; Philadelphia, 20, 0, 51, 1.

Childerhouse.—Local, 'of the Childerhouse.' Probably a children's home or school attached to some monastery or church. It is quite clear from the evidence that the surname has sprung from Norfolk or Suffolk.

William de Childerhouse, Fines Roll, 12 Edw. I.

Alex. del Childrehus, co. Norf., 1273. A. William del Childrehus, co. Norf., ibid.

John del Childrehus, co. Suff., ibid.

Ranulf del Childrehus, co. Suff., ibid.

Bartholomew at Childerhouse, vicar of Lakenham, co. Norf.: FF. iv. 518.

Guy Childerhouse, rector of Stiffkey, co. Norf., 1413: ibid. ix. 253.

1801. Married—Robert Childerhouse and Margaret Drury: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 245.

'An inquest on the body of a man named William Childerhouse was held at Scarborough on Monday,' &c.: Standard, Feb. 22, 1888.

London, 1.

Childers, Childress.—Local, —!

Isabel de Childers, C. R., 37 Hen. III. 1665. Buried—Thomas Childers: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 364.

1746. Married—William Knight and Phillis Childres: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 78.

Crockford, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Childerstone; v. Chilson.

London, 1.

Children, Childrens.—Probably some form of a personal name. Lower writes, quoting Ferguson, 'Probably the O. Germ. personal name Childeruna or Hilderuna' (Patr. Brit. p. 59).

William Chyldren, C. R., 3 Edw. IV. 1539. Married—Symon Ponder and Dorety Children: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 221.

1661. Richard Children and Eliz. Everest: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 15.

1662-3. John Childron and Susan Stretfeild: ibid. p. 66.

MDB. (co. Kent), 1, 1.

Chillingworth.—A variant of Killingworth, q.v.; cf. Church and Kirk.

Chilman, Chillman.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Childman.'

Child, with augmentative man, as in Bateman, Coleman, Tiddy-man; cf. Childebert, Childebrand, Childeric, probably all hard forms of Hild, as in Hildegard, Hildebrand, Hildebert, &c. (v. Yonge, ii. 234).

Childman (without surname), co. Camb., 1273. A.

Childmannius (without surname), co. Camb., ibid.

Nicholas Childman, co. Camb., ibid.

Eleanor Childman, ux. or. co. Camb., ibid.

Mariot Childman, filia, co. Camb., ibid.

Alan Chilleman, Fines Roll, 12 Edw. I.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Chilmond'; cf. Osman and Wayman for Osmund and Waymond.

William Chilemound, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 147.

Henry Chilemounde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 148.

John Chylemonde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 258.

1579-80. William Hollforthe and Agnes

Chilmon: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 95.

London, i, o; Crockford, i, o; Philadelphia, o, 2.

Chilson, Childerstone.—Local, 'of Chilson,' a tithing in the parish of Charlbury, co. Oxford. This seems to have been originally Childeston.

Reginald de Childeston, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

John de Childeston, co. Oxf., ibid.

1771. Married—Martin Childerson and Mary Jackson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 207.

1788. — John Witton and Ann Chilly-stone: ibid. ii. 15.

All the above references settle the origin of Childerstone. If Chilson is not of the same family, it must be a variant of Jilson or Gilson; cf. Chubb for Jubb, &c.

London, o, 1; Boston (U.S.), i, o.

Chilton.—Local, 'of Chilton.' There are many parishes in various counties of England bearing this name.

Hugh de Chilton, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

Robert de Chilton, co. Suff., 20 Edw. I. R.

Robert de Chilleton, co. Kent, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Chilton seems to have been introduced into America from the Kentish family.

1586-7. Bapt. — Isabell, d. James Chilton: St. Paul's, Canterbury.

1599. — Ingle, d. James Chilton: ibid.

This James Chilton was one of the Pilgrim Fathers; v. N. and Q., March 1, 1890, p. 166.

1590. Bapt. — Priscilla, d. Edward Chilton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 23.

London, 6; Philadelphia, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1; New York, 1.

Chimney.—Local, 'at the chimney'; O.F. cheminée.

John de la Chimyne, co. York, 21 Edw. I. R.

Ching, Chinn, Shinn.—Local, 'at the chine,' from residence thereby. A chine was a crevice or chasm; cf. Black Gang Chine, or Shanklin Chine. In the H.E.D. are such variants as Chyne, Chynne, Chinne, or Chin (v. Chine, sb.). The g in Ching is evidently an excrement; cf. Jennings for Jenins.

Henry de Chine, co. Camb., 1273. A.

John Chynne, co. Hunts, ibid.

1803. Married — Charles Ching and Mary Osland: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 279.

1803. — Isaac Chinn and Sarah Stacey:

ibid. ii. 304.

London, 2, 1, 3; MDB. (co. Camb.), o, o, 3; Boston (Shinn), 1.

Chipman.—Occur. 'the chapman,' q.v. A variant still common in America, and which we find in English documents of the 14th and as late as the 17th and 18th centuries.

John Chipman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 194.

1667. Married—William Penington and

Marye Chipman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,

iii. 133.

1795. — John Hanington and Mary

Chipman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 140.

Boston (U.S.), 22.

Chipp.—Local, 'at the Cheap,' i.e. the market-place, from residence therein; cf. Cheapside and Eastcheap. Possibly, however, a personal name; cf. the dim. Chipet:

Roger Chipet, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 220.

This is somewhat strong evidence in favour of a fental origin.

John Chip, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 192.

With this cf. the Somersetshire Chisman for Cheeseman; also cf. Chipman (q.v.) for Chepman, or Chapman, in the same county.

Oliver Chyppe, or Chepe, 1531: Reg. Univ. Oxf. p. 164.

1620. Married — Richard Chypp and Ellin Church: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 250.

1767. — William Slaughter and Ann

Chipp: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 160.

London, 1; New York, 1.

Chippendale, Chippindale, Chippindall.—Local, 'of Chippendale,' or 'Chippendale,' the dale in which stands the village of Chipping, on the north-eastern confines of Lancashire. An old-established family of Chippindall still has representatives in the town of Lancaster. Although the furniture-maker, Thomas Chippendale, was a native of Worcestershire, his progenitors must have 'worked down' from Lancaster. There can be no doubt about his descent. Lying on the confines of Yorkshire we find the earliest instance in that county:

Ricardus Chippyndale, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 181.

1624. William Chippendall, of Gressingham: Lancashire Wills proved at Richmond, p. 65.

1649. Edward Chippendale, of Claughton, linnen webster: ibid.

1679. Robert Chippingdale, of Claughton: ibid.

All these dwelt in the neighbourhood of Lancaster.

London, 1, 2, o; Crockford, o, o, 3; West Riding Court Dir., o, 1, o; Leeds, 1, 1, o.

Chippin, Chipan.—Local, 'of Chipping,' anciently Chapin, a village and parish in the archdeaconry of Lancaster; v. Chippendale.

John de Chepyn, co. Lanc., 22 Edw. III: Baines' Lanc. ii. 95.

Agnes de Chypyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 149.

Magota Chybyn, 1379: ibid. p. 42.

1695. Married — Thomas Chippin and Martha Gooding: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 48.

London, 2, o; New York, o, 1.

Chisholm, Chisolm, Chisom, Chisam.—Local, 'of Chisholm.' I cannot find the spot, but -holm, the suffix, means an islet in a stream, and the affix is found in such places as Chiswick, Great and Little Chishall, &c. Lower says the prefix chis is cisil, gravel. Thus Chisholm would mean an islet with a gravel soil. The surname has been long settled in the Highlands of Scotland.

1798. Married—John Burrell and Eliz.

Chisholm: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 176.

London, 2, o, o, o (Chisholm), 1; New York, 4, 2, o, o; Boston (U.S.), 38, o, o, 1; Philadelphia (Chisom), 1.

Chishull, Chessell.—Local, 'of Chishall,' two parishes in co. Essex.

'John Chishull (d. 1280), bishop of London, was probably born in Essex, in the village of Chishall': Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 264.

He was also known as John de Chishull; v. Lewis's Top. Dict. England, i. 595. Also as John de Chisil, v. FF. vii. 62.

William de Chishill, co. Camb., 1273. A. John de Chishull, co. Camb., 20 Edw. I. R.

1582-3. Christopher Pepper and Barbara Chisshull, of Bradfield Parva, co. Essex: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 114.

1809. Married—George William Chessell and Sarah Wightman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 409.

London, o, 1.

Chislett, Chiselett.—Local, 'of Chislett,' a parish in co. Kent, seven miles from Canterbury.

1581-2. Thomas Chislett, co. Soms.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 117.

1602. William Chislett and Emma Barlow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 271. 1639. Emmett Chislett: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting (2).

London, 4, o; Oxford, 1, 1.

Chisman.—Occup. 'the cheeseman' (v. Cheeseman). An old variant of the West country.

Adam le Chisman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 181.

Alicia Chisman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

William Chisman, 1606: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 15.

1748. Married—John Rumsey and Ann Chisman: Reg. Stourton, co. Wilts, p. 56.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Wilts), 1.

Chisnall, Chisnell.—Local, 'of Chisnall,' now a farm-house in the township of Coppull, in the parish of Standish, co. Lanc.

'Edward Chisnehale, or Chisenhall (died 1653?), historian, was the eldest son of Edward Chisnall, Esq., of Chisnall, Lancashire': Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 259.

Edward Chisnall, of Chisnall, 1646: Baines' Lanc. (Croston), p. 304.

Bryan Chisnall, 1642: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 109.

Alice Chisnall, of Chisnall, widow, 1607: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 40.

Humphrey Chisnall, of Coppull, 1610: ibid.

Manchester, 2, o; Liverpool, 2, 2; London, 1, 2.

Chitterling.—Nick. 'the chitterling,' a dim. of chit, a little child; v. Chitty. 'A small child is called a chitterling in Cotton's Works, ed. 1734, p. 264.' (Halliwell).

Richard Chiterling, co. Worc., 1273. A.

Chitcock, Chittick.—? Nick. 'the baby-faced' (?). Probably a dim. of chit (v. Chitty and Chitterling), formed like bullock, a little bull.

Warin Chitcock, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Roger Chitcock, co. Hunts, ibid.

1471. John Chitok, alderman of Norwich: FF. iv. 369.

1796. Married—Ellis Chitcock and Phoebe Russell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 142.

1806. — John Chitcock and Harriot Lyne: ibid. ii. 352.

London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, o, 8.

Chitty.—Nick. 'chitty'; cf. chitty-faced, i.e. baby-faced. In Furness the small tender twigs or shoots are commonly known as chits. We still call a young and somewhat forward child a chit. Chit is strictly a young sprout; v. Chitterling. Possibly the first two instances refer to this word.

Nicholas Kitte, co. Northampton, 1273. A. William Kitte, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Chytte, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 208.

Agnes Chytte, temp. Eliz. Z.

John Chittie, ibid.

1587. John Maye and Isabell Chettye, relict of William Chytte: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 166.

Mr. Henry Chitty, merchant, 1667: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 87.

1790. Married—Charles Chitty and Martha Laggatt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 37.

London, 8; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Chivell, Shovel.—Nick. Fr. cheval, a horse. There can be no doubt that Shovel is an imitative corruption.

Osbert Chevall, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Roger Chevall, co. Bucks, ibid.

1626. William Chevall and Mary Wheeler: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 176.

1729. Married—Daniel Chivell and Ann Dell: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 291.

1753. — Thomas Shovell and Jane Neau: ibid. p. 257.

London, 1, o.

Choice, Choyce.—Bapt. 'the son of Joyce,' q.v. This sharpened form is not uncommon; cf. Chubb for Jubb, or Challand for Jalland. That this is the true derivation of Choice there can be little doubt.

Steven Choyse, 1624: Reg. St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 15.

1794. Married—William Choice and Catherine Garrett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 109.

London, 2, o; MDB. (co. Leicester), 1, 1.

Cholmeley, Cholmondeley, Chumley.—Local, (1) 'of Cholmondeley,' a township in the parish of Malpas, co. Chester, pronounced Chumley; (2) 'of Chulmleigh,' a parish in co. Devon, twenty-one miles from Exeter. It is probable that in the south of England, Cholmeley and Chumley represent the Devonshire parish.

1566-7. Thomas Cholmeley and Dorothy Bedle: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 35. Richard Cholmondeley, of Eccleston, 1593: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 40.

1656. Bapt.—Edward, s. Henry Chomley, apothecary: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 113.

1666. Buried—William Chombley: ibid. p. 237.

1689. — Susanna Chumbly, widow: ibid. p. 256.

1726. Married—John Chumley and Alice Todd: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 2.

London, 2, 1, 1.

Chopping.—? Bapt. 'the son of Chopin,' one of the many personal names ending in ing; v. Browning or Harding.

John Chopyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 244.

1781. Married—Frederic Choppin and Susanna Sophia Bishopp: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 326.

1789. — William Wilson and Ann Chopping: ibid. ii. 29.

London, 1.

Chorley.—Local, 'of Chorley,' townships in cos. Lancaster and Chester.

Bridget Chorley, of Chorley, 1595: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 40.

John Chorley, of Chester, 1610: ibid. London, 8; Philadelphia, 4.

Chorlton.—Local, 'of Chorlton,' chapelries and townships in cos. Lancaster, Chester, and Stafford: v. Charlton for other early instances.

Alan de Cherleton, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 127.

1587. Richard Chorlton, of Chorlton: Wills at Chester, i. 40.

1603. John Chorlton, of Manchester: ibid.

Manchester, 15; Philadelphia, 4.

Chown, Chowne.—Bapt. 'the son of Chun.' Probably the same as Chuon (v. Chuonmund, Yonge, ii. 417).

Chun Mervyn, co. Camb., 1273. A. Chun Pimne, co. Camb., ibid.

Chun Pistor, co. Camb., ibid. William Chaun, co. Linc., ibid.

Hugh Chone, co. Oxf., ibid.
Robertus Chaune, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 240.

Since writing the above I have come across the following strongly corroborative evidence:

1596. Francis Chowne, or Chune,
Christ Church: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii.
pt. iii. p. 196.

It may be looked upon as certain that Chown and Chowne represent the old personal name Chun.

1668-9. Thomas Chowne and Eliz.
Foice: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury),
p. 161.

West Riding Court Dir., 1, o; London,
3, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1, o.

Chrimcs.—Bapt. 'the son of Grim,' v. Grimes, of which I doubt not it is a corruption. G and C constantly change places in English nomenclature; cf. Grain and Crane, Gamel and Cammel, Gandelyn and Candlin, &c. Chrimcs is found chiefly in the district where Grim was familiar. That Grim was a Cheshire personal name we know from the fact that Grimsditch is a place in that county, whence has sprung the surname. In the Modern Domesday Book (1875)
we find in the same county four Chrimcs and two Grimes.

Thomas Crimes, of Nether Whitley,
1616: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 47.

William Crimes, of Sandiway, 1618:
ibid.

Edward Crimes, of Kingsley, co. Ches.,
1648: ibid. (1621-50), p. 55.

Towards the close of the 17th century the spelling became Chrimcs:

Robert Chrimcs, of Gorstick: Wills
at Chester (1681-1700), p. 53.

London, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 4;
Manchester, 2; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Christian.—Bapt. 'the son of Christian,' a familiar North-English font-name, though not wholly confined to the North; generally feminine; v. Christie and Christison. The h throughout all these names is intrusive.

Jordan fil. Cristine, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Agnes fil. Cristine, co. Camb., ibid.

Brice Cristian, co. Soms., ibid.

Cristina Alayne, co. Bucks, ibid.

Cristiane Lyttester, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 249.

Cristiana atte Tounend, 1379: ibid.
p. 248.

1591. Hamlett Christian and Margaret
Rapior: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 191.

1656. Married—Edward Christean and Eliz. Huggins: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 261.

London, 11; Philadelphia, 42.

Christiandom.—Nick. William
Cristendome, clerk (Close Roll, 13 Ric. II. pt. ii). A.S. Crist, not Latin Christ.

Thomas Kyrystendome, cissor, 1379:
P. T. Yorks. p. 270.

Christie, Christy, Chrystie.

—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Christian,' from nick. Christie. Christie and Christy are all but invariably North English or Border surnames, Christian being a former favourite font-name in those districts. It is still a popular girl's name in the Scottish Lowlands. Formerly it was common to both sexes.

Christie Grame, 1582: Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westm. and Cumb., vol. i. p. xxxv.

Christie Halliday, 1602: ibid. p. cxii.

Christie Wilkin, 1602: ibid.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Christopher,' from nick. Christie. Occasionally used in the Border district, but (1) more generally.

'Christopher Armstrong, alias Johnis Criste,' 1557 (i.e. Johnny's Christie—the son of John): TTT. p. ci.

Christe Irwen, 2 Edw. VI: ibid. p. lxxvi.

London, 27, 6, o; Philadelphia, 28,
76, 2.

Christison.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Christian,' from nick. Christie, q.v.; sometimes an abbreviation of the fuller Christianson.

John fil. Cristian, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Robert fil. Cristine, c. 1300. M.

Robertus Cristianson, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 110.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Christopher,' from the nick. Christie, q.v.

Margaret Crysterson, of Hindley, widow, 1591: Wills at Chester (1545-
1620), p. 49.

London, 1; New York, 11.

Christman, Christmann,

Chrisman.—Bapt. 'the son of Christman,' seemingly equivalent to Christian, once a popular personal name. I do not think Christ-man was ever in use at the font in England. It is a German importation. In America the surname has obtained a firm footing. With Chrisman, cf. Christmas for Christmas.

William Crystman, C. R., 17 Hen. VI.
Philadelphia, 20, 2, 10.

Christmas, Chrismas.—

Bapt. 'the son of Christmas,' so called because born at that season;
cf. Candlemass, Nowell, Noel,
Pentecost, Park, &c.

Cristemasse le Weydur, Fines Roll, 11
Edw. I.

Felicia Cristemasse, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Geoffrey Cristemasse, co. Essex, ibid.

Hugh Cristemasse, co. Camb., ibid.

Richard Cristemasse, 1313. M.

John Cristemesse, Close Roll, 9 Ric. II.

1626-7. Thomas Christmas and Doro-thie Leesie: Marriage Lic. (London),
ii. 184.

1626. Married—William Harborte and Eliz. Chrismas: St. Mary Aldermay
(London), p. 15.

London, 17, o; Philadelphia, 1, o.

Christopher, Christopherson,

Christoffer, Christofferson.—

Bapt. 'the son of Christopher.' I have been told that all who bear the somewhat rare name of Christopherson hail from Furness, in North Lanc. Anyway it is a native, and owes its origin to the treacherous sands of Morecombe and Duddon. The legend of St.
Christopher is that he found an occupation in guiding passengers across a wide stream. One night he bare unawares the child Christ, and was about to sink under an ever-increasing weight, when the Saviour said, 'Thou bearest Him who beareth the sins of the world.' No doubt there would be a shrine to the Saint for belated travellers on Chapel Isle, opposite Conishead Priory. Many a babe would be dedicated to him in gratitude for some hairbreadth escape his father had experienced.
As a font-name Christopher is still extremely popular throughout Furness. Christopherson also remains:

'John Christopherson (d. 1558), bishop of Chichester, was born at Ulverston, in Furness': Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 293.

Christopher, whether as font-name or surname, is not found in the Hundred Rolls, 1273.

John Cristovirson, 1513, co. York. W. 11. Cristoforus, et uxor ejus, smyth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 220.

Rogerus Cristoforo, 1379: ibid.
1545. Married—Christopher Fell and Jenet Casson: St. Mary, Ulverston, p. 1.

— Lawrence Parke and Agnes Christoferson: ibid.

1546. Buried—John Christopherson: ibid. p. 2.

— Christopher Scales: ibid.

Nicholas Christoferson, of Dunderdall, 1598: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 65.

Francis Christoferson, of Coulton, 1664: ibid.

MDb. (co. Lancaster), o, 6, o, o; London, 6, 2, 1, o; Boston (U.S.), 13, o, o, 2; New York, 10, 1, o, o.

Christpenny.—Nick.; cf. Godspenny.

Roger Cristrepeny, Close Roll, 57 Hen. III.

Christushelp.—? Nick.

William Cristushelpe, Close Roll, 39 Hen. III. pt. i.

Chrystall, Chrystall.—Local, 'of Cristall.' I cannot find the spot, but Yorkshire seems to have been the home of the surname, and probably the spot itself is to be found in that county.

Robertus de Cristall, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 240.

1790. Married—John Debenger and Mary Crystal: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 38.
MDb. (co. Surrey), o, 1; Philadelphia, 2, o.

Chubb.—Bapt. 'the son of Jubb' (i.e. Job). The old form of Job was Jubb, q.v. It was especially popular in Yorkshire, as a reference to Poll Tax of 1379 fully proves. There are twelve Jubbs in the W. Rid. Court Directory (1867). This Jubb was sharpened into Chubb.

'William Chubbes (d. 1505), Master of Jesus College, Cambridge (whose name is given in the History of Framlingham as Chubbis, Jubbis, Chubbs, or Jubbs), was born at Whitby, and was educated at Pembroke College, Cambridge, where he took his first degree in 1465': Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 298.

This is one more instance of supposed fish-names not being what they seem; cf. Salmon, Turbott, Spratt, &c.

Adam Chubbe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 177.

Alicia Chubbe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 196.

A nearer approach to modern Job is found in the same record:

Robert Chobbe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 242.

Alicia Chobbe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

John Chubb, temp. Eliz. Z.

Isabell Chubb, ibid.

Osmund Chubbe, sup. for B.A., 1522: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 126.

John Chub, sup. for B.A., 1524-5: ibid. p. 137.

London, 13; Philadelphia, 7.

Chuffer.—Nick. 'a miser,' Towneley Mysteries, p. 216; cf. Pennyfather (v. Halliwell).

Simon le Chuffere, 1276. A.
Rogerus Chuffer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 101.

Chumley.—Local; v. Cholmely.

Church.—Local, 'at the church' (cf. Kirk), from residence beside the church porch or gate; v. Kirkus.

John atte Church, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 82.

Robert atte Chyrche, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Stephen Church, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.

John Atte-church, rector of Metton, co. Norf., 1338: FF. viii. 140.

William Attechirche, co. Norf., 29 Edw. I: ibid. vii. 114.

1505. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Richard Church: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 30.

1011. William Bundoche and Katherine Church: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 2. London, 42; Philadelphia, 16.

Churchclerk.—Official, 'the church clerk.'

Walter le Churchclerk, temp. 1300. M.

Churchdoor.—Local, 'at the church door,' from residence thereby.

Reginald atte Churchdoor, temp. 1300. M.

Churcher.—(1) Local, 'at the churchyard,' from residence thereby. A corruption of Churchyard, q.v. (2) Local, 'at the church-hay,' from residence thereby (v. Churchey), a corruption. There is not the slightest evidence that I can find in favour of Lower's view that Churcher is the same as Churchman, one who had care of a church.

1514. John Churchearde (i.e. Churchyard), or Churcherd, or Chyrchar, sup. for B.A.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 92.

1750. Married—Everard Churcher and Mary Rankin: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 176.

1765. Married—James Charman and Jane Churcher: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 140. London, 3; MDb. (co. Hants), 4.

Churches, churchis, Churchus.—Local, 'at the church-house,' i.e. the parsonage; cf. Kirkus for Kirk-house. See also Churchouse.

1626. Laurence Churches and Ellenor Alexander: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 181.

MDb. (co. Somerset), 13, 3, 1.

Churchey.—Local, 'at the church-hay' (v. Hay), i.e. resident within the church enclosure.

William ate Churchehaye, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Robert atte Churchey, co. York. W. 11. Peter atte Churchey, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 106.

Richard in the Churchey, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 119.

1642-3. Robert Anstye and Ann Churchey: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 269.

Churchgate.—Local, 'at the church-gate,' from residence thereby—yate for gate; cf. Yates.

Christiania atte-Churcheyate. J.
Robert atte Churchyate, temp. 1300. M. 1338. John de Cherchegate, rector of Shimpling, co. Norf.: FF. i. 154.

Churchill.—Loc. 'of Churchill,' parishes in dioc. of Bath and Wells, Glouc. and Bristol, Oxford, and Worcester.

Richard de Churchulle, co. Soms., 1273. A.

Nicholas de Churchull, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 136.

1599. Edward Goodyer and Alice Churchill (co. Dorset): Marriage Lic. (London), i. 262.

1751. Married—Cornelius Allen and Ann Churchill: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 45. London, 16; Boston (U.S.), 70.

Churchman.—Official, 'the churchman,' the custodian or keeper of a church; v. Kirkman for several instances. It is interesting to notice that Churchman first appears in Cambridgeshire. In the neighbouring counties it still exists.

John Churchman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 83.

Walter le Chercheman, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Osse le Chercheman, co. Camb., ibid.

William le Chercheman, co. Camb., ibid.

Simon le Cherchman, temp. 1300. M.
John Chirchman, C. R., 15 Edw. III.
pt. i.

William Churchman, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 270.

1373. Ralph Cherchman, rector of Bicham-Well, co. Norf.: FF. vii. 295.
1569. John Kyng and Jane Churchman, spinster: Marriage Lic. (London),
i. 42.

— Robert Griffith and Dionys Churchman, widow: ibid. i. 43.

1790. Married — Robert Churchman and Mary Leavens: St. Geo. Han. Sq.
ii. 42.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Berks), 2; co.
Suffolk, 2; Philadelphia, 8.

Churchouse.—Local, 'at the church-house'; v. Kirkus.

Manchester, 1.

Churchstile.—Local, 'at the church stile,' from residence thereby; v. Styles.

John atte Churchestighele, temp.
1300. M.

Churchward.—Official, 'the churchward,' a churchwarden.

Adam Kirkeward, co. York. W. 15.
London, 2; Devon Court Dir., 6;
Boston (U.S.), 1; New York, 1.

Churchyard.—Local, 'at the churchyard,' one who lived in or by the precincts of the church.

John atte Chircheyerde, Close Roll,
20 Edw. III. pt. i.

Laurence de Kirkegarth, C. R., 20
Edw. I.

Richard Chircheyerde, Patent Roll,
7 Hen. VII.

Johannes atte Cyrkarth, 1379: P. T.
Howdenshire, p. 7.

Adam Kirkeyerde, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 190.

1603. Buried—Geo. Churchyard, slaine:
St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 73.

1631. — Humphrey Churchyard, ha-berdasher: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 231.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 2.

Churley, Churly.—Local, 'of Churley,' another form of Chorley,
q.v.

Adam Churleye, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 107.

London, 3, 2.

Churton.—Local, 'of Churton,'
(1) a township in the parish of Aldford, co. Chester; (2) a township in the parish of Farndon, co.

Chester; (3) a parish in co.
Wilts, four miles from East Lavington.

Maria Churton, of Cholmondeley, widow, 1628: Wills at Chester (1621-
50), p. 48.

Thomas Churton, of Manchester, innkeeper, 1636: ibid.

1744. Married — John Churton and Ann Winslow: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair,
p. 37.

London, 4; Liverpool, 3.

Chute.—Local, 'of Chute,' a village in co. Wilts, near Ludgershall.

London (Court) Dir., 1; Philadelphia, 4.

Circuit.—? —. Probably an imitative corruption. I cannot even suggest a derivation.

1803. Married — Joseph Circuitt and Mary Williams: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 289.

MDB. (co. Essex), 2.

Citerer.—Offic. 'a summoner'
(v. Sumner).

Richard Citerer, Close Roll, 15 Edw.
III. pt. i.

Citoler.—Occup. 'the citoler,' a player on the dulcimer, a cithern (gyterne, Chaucer). 'Sytylyng, and ek harpyng,' c. 1300. K. Alis.
1043; v. Citole and Citoler in the
H.E.D.

Thomas Citoler, C. R., 15 Edw. III.
pt. i.

Johannes Soutolyer, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 268.

Clabon, Clabbon, Clabburn,
Clibbon, Cliburn, Claborn,
Clibborn.—Local, 'of Clayburn.'
I have not identified the spot.

Cliburn, a small parish six miles from Penrith, co. Westmoreland, may be the parent of Clibbon and Cliburn, but as regards the others, a South-English origin seems more likely.

1412. Thomas Clabeyn, bailiff of Yarmouth: FF. xi. 224.

William Clabborne, co. Norf., 2 Edw.
VI.: ibid. viii. 508.

Thomas Clayborne, mayor of Lynn
Regis, 1573: ibid. 533.

1604. Humphrey Clayborne and Margaret Morgan: Marriage Lic. (London),
i. 292.

London, 1, 1, 1, 1, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co.
Suffolk), 2, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0; New York,
Claborn, 1, Clibborn, 1.

Clackson, Clack.—(1) Variants of Clarkson and Clerk, q.v.; (2) Clackson is sometimes a variant of Clackston or Claxton,
q.v.

Richard Clarkson, or Clacson, 1510:
Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 72.

Nevertheless the following entries prove Clackson to be occasionally
a variant of Claxton:

1669. Bapt.—John, s. John and Elizabeth
Claxson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 241.

1675. — William, s. John and Elizabeth
Clackson: ibid. i. 267.

1774. Married—John Clack and Ann
Jeffries: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 237.

1778. — John Eden and Dorothy
Clackson: ibid. 286.

London, 2, 7.

Cladish.—A variant of Glad-dish, q.v.; cf. Crane, Cooch, Candlin, and Cammel, all with initial G originally. The surname is found in co. Kent, which is also the home of Gladdish.

MDB. (co. Kent), 4.

Clagett, Claggitt.—? —.
Lower says, 'Cleggett, or Claggett, perhaps for Cleygate, a manor in Surrey' (Patr. Brit. p. 6r). This would be quite satisfactory if it was known that this Cleygate had given birth to a surname.
But I cannot find it now or at any time in that county. There is no doubt that Clagett, or Claggitt, would be the natural corruption of such a name as Cleygate.

1716. Nicholas Claggett, rector of Bridgham St. Mary, co. Norf.: FF. i. 440.

1721. Michael Clagett, rector of Pullam,
co. Norf.: ibid. v. 392.

1756. William Claggott, rector of Mundesley, co. Norf.: ibid. viii. 143.

1809. Married — Maximilian Richard
Kymer and Mary Clagett: St. Geo. Han.
Sq. ii. 401.

London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Essex), 0, 1;
(co. Leicester), 1, 0; New York, 2, 0;
Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Clapham.—Local, 'of Clapham,' parishes in the diocs. of Ely, Rochester, Chichester, and Ripon. The Yorkshire Claphams have been the most prolific. The name is manifestly the ham of Clap, or Clop; v.
Clapp.

Alexander de Clopham, co. Kent,
1273. A.

Peter de Clapham, co. Bedf., ibid.

Reginald de Clopham, co. Bedf., ibid.

Thomas de Clapham, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 289.

1618. Married—Thomas Clapham and
Ann Price: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 13.

London, 8; West Rid. Court Dir., 21;
Philadelphia, 3.

Claphamson, Claphanson.
—This is an extremely curious name, the genitive son being made a suffix to a local surname, not to a personal name as in the case of Williamson, &c. I can only recall one other instance, viz. Couplandson, which occurs in the Ulverston Church registers for two centuries, as, for instance :

1549. Bapt. — Agnes Cawplandson : Ulverston Ch. p. 8.

Claphamson has crossed the Atlantic and has become Claphanson. No doubt Norfolk was the original habitat of the family.

1507. Robert Claphamson, vicar of Hannworth, co. Norf. : FF. viii. 131.

1637. John Claphamson, rector of Castor, co. Norf. : ibid. xi. 213.

1690. Samuel Claphamson, Norwich : ibid. iv. 333.

Philadelphia, o, 4.

Clapp, Clapson, Clapison. — Bapt. 'the son of Clap' or 'Clop.' 'An early Danish surname. Osgod Clapa was a Danish noble at the court of Canute. From him it is supposed that Clapham, co. Surrey, where he had a country house, derives its name' (Lower, quoting Ferguson). As Mr. Lower adds, no doubt such surnames as Clapp and Clapson, and such local names as Clapton, Clapham, Clapcote, Clapperton, and Clapshaw, get their parentage from some early Clap.

Agnes Clappe, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Henry Clappe, co. Oxf., ibid.
Thomas Clappe, co. Camb., ibid.
John Clappe, 1514 : Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 92.

1805. Married — William Danes and Ruth Clapp : St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 335.
London, 5, 1, o ; MDB. (East Rid. Yorks.), o, o, 2 ; (co. Linc.), o, 1, o ; Boston (U.S.), 100, o, o.

Clapton, Clapperton. — Loc. (1) 'of Clapton,' parishes in cos. Cambridge, Gloucester, Middlesex, Northampton, and Somerset ; (2) 'of Clopton,' in co. Suffolk, four miles from Woodbridge. Clapperton is an amplification ; cf. Greenaway and Ottoway for Greenway and Otway. The origin is plainly the town of Clap or Clop ; v. Clapham and Clapp.

Thomas de Clapton, co. Norf., 1358 : FF. viii. 123.

Geoffrey de Cloptone, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III. Kirby's Quest, p. 141.
Juliana de Clopton, co. Camb., 1273. A.
William de Cloptone, co. Hunts, ibid.
John de Clopton, London, ibid.

Both Clapton and Clopton are found applied to the same person :

1638. Rowse Clapton, rector of Garveston, co. Norf. : FF. x. 221.

— Rouse Clapton, rector of Whinburg, co. Norf. : ibid. 273.

1682. Bapt. — William, s. William Clopton : St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 125.
1789. Married — George Clapperton and Eliz. Plant : St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 32.
London, 4, 3 ; Philadelphia, 1, o.

Clarabut. — Bapt. ; v. Claringbold.

Clare. — (1) Bapt. 'the son of Clare' ; cf. Sinclair.

'No, quod he, by saint Clare.'

Chaucer, H. of F. 557.

Alan fil. Clare, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Isabella Clare, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 34.

Clara Dey, 1379 : ibid. p. 90.
Clare Schepard, 1379 : ibid. p. 44.

1603. Married — John Standen and Clare Auriance : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 27.

1775. — George Finch and Clare Frame : St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 258.

(2) Local, 'of Clare,' i.e. Clare Castle, in co. Suffolk. Richard de Clare (d. 1090?) held no less than ninety-five lordships in Suffolk, all attached to his chief lordship of Clare in the same county (Dict. Nat. Biog. x. 389). Lower, quoting Dr. Donaldson (Cambridge Essays, p. 60), says that to this family we owe the name of an English town, an Irish county, royal dukedom (Clarence), and a Cambridge college (Patr. Brit. p. 61). If by the town Clare Castle is referred to, surely this is a mistake. The family took their name from the place, not the place its name from the family.

Bogo de Clare, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Gilbert de Clare, co. Bedf., ibid.
Richard de Clara, co. Soms., ibid.
Thomas de Clare, co. Linc., ibid.
William de Clare, co. Norf., ibid.
London, 24 ; Philadelphia, 30.

Claret. — Bapt. 'the son of Clare,' from dim. Claret and Claret. Fr. Claire ; v. Clare.

Magota Claret, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 81.

Willelmus Clarot, 1379 : ibid. p. 83.
London, 3 ; New York, 1.

Clarice, Claris, Clares. — Bapt. 'the son of Clarice.' Once popular in England as a girl-name, a French form of Clara ; v. Claridge.

'Clarice of Cokkeslane,
And the clerk of the chirche.'

Vision of Piers Plowman, 2113.

'Tho spak Clarice to Blancheflour.'
Floriz and Blancheflour, E. E. T. Soc.

Claricia la Braceresse, co. Suffolk, 1273. A.

Alan fil. Clarice, co. Camb., ibid.

John Clarice, co. Bedf., ibid.

Richard Clarisse, co. Oxf., ibid.

Claricia Crowe, co. Suffolk, ibid.

Henry Clarisse, C. R., 15 Edw. III. pt. iii.

William Claricesone, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III. Kirby's Quest, p. 90.

Clariscia de Keltmerthorpe, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 88.

1566-7. Arthur Browghe and Allice Clarrys : Marriage Lic. (London), i. 35.
London, o, 1, o ; MDB. (co. Kent), o, 2, o ; Philadelphia, o, o, 2.

Claridge, Clardge, Claringbold. — Bapt. 'the son of Clarice.'

This derivation may be looked upon as satisfactory. Clarice was an extremely popular girl's name, and Aldridge, Surridge, &c., are formed on similar lines (v. Clarice). Since writing the above, my supposition is proved correct by two entries in the Hundred Rolls, obviously referring to the same individual :

Henry serviens Claricie, co. Camb., 1273 : A. vol. ii. p. 444.

Henry serviens Clarugge, co. Camb. : ibid. p. 438.

1788. Married — William Claridge and Louisa Careless : St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 14.

1793. — Robert Lees and Ann Claringe : ibid. ii. 94.

1800. — John Inwood and Mary Ann Claringe : ibid. 214.

London, 7, o, o ; MDB. (co. Oxford), 3, 1, o ; Boston (U.S.), 1, o, 2 ; Philadelphia, 3, o, o.

Claringbold, Clarabut. — Bapt. 'the son of Clerebold' (Domesday, Clerebold, co. Suff.). This, like all other names with suffix -bold or -bald, became Clerebaud, then Clerebut or Clarabut.

Roger Clerebaud, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Clerebald le Burdel, ibid.

Willelmus fil. Clerebald, 6 Hen. II : Whitaker's Craven, p. 296.

'Subscription to Restoration of Peterborough Cathedral, Miss Gibson, per

Mr. Clarabut: Standard, Aug. 27, 1888, p. 7.

This surname seems to have troubled the registrar:

1711. Thomas Claringbold, married: Reg. Canterbury Cath. p. 70.

1735. Elizabeth Clarabutt, married: ibid. p. 80.

1736. Elizabeth Claringbull, married: ibid. p. 81.

Probably this family are descended from William Cleribaud, co. Kent, 1273. A. Cf.—

'The following twenty-four persons were admitted masters for the Dutch—John Powells, . . . John Mynchelles, . . . Pascall Clarebote.' Norwich, 1505: FF. iii. 283.

'Mr. H. N. Claringbold was third mate of the emigrant vessel Kapunda, lost in a collision off the coast of Brazil': Manchester Guardian, Feb. 1, 1887.

'The Rev. E. B. Clarabut, B.A., licensed to St. Michael and All Angels, Walthamstow': Manchester Courier, May 17, 1888. London, 2, o.

Claris; v. Clarice.

Clark, Clarke; v. Clerk.

Clarkson.—Nick. 'the clerk's son,' i.e. the clergyman's son. A well-known Yorkshire surname, which has spread over the North of England; cf. Wrightson, Smithson, Taylorson, Herdson, &c. Of course it was common to all the country.

Helias fil. Clerici, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Henry fil. Clerici, co. Suff., ibid.

Johannes Clerke and Thomas Clerkson, father and son, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 273. Ricardus Clerkson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 165.

Willelmus Klercson, 1379: ibid.

Alicia Clerkson, 1379: ibid. p. 22.

1592. John Clarkson, vicar of Burnham Overey, co. Norf.; FF. vii. 28.

1672. Bapt.—Anne, d. John Clarkson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 254.

1793. Married—David Clarkson and Eleanor Cadday; St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 100.

West Rid. Court Dir., 14; London, 16; Manchester, 13; Boston (U.S.), 9.

Clatworthy.—Local, 'of Clatworthy'; v. Worth and Worthy, and cf. Langworthy, Kenworthy, &c.

John Clotworthy, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 278.

1680. Symon Clatworthy and Ellenor Thomas; Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 129.

1683. John Brooking and Eliz. Clotworthy: ibid. p. 42.

MDb. (co. Soms.), 5; New York, 3.

Cloughton.—Local, 'of Cloughton,' parishes in Cheshire and North Lanc. Also Cloughton, a spot that gave rise to a local family in the parish of Garstang, co. Lanc. The 'village by the clough' is, no doubt, the meaning of the word, so far as relates to Cloughton in North Lancashire (Baines' Lanc. ii. 610). The others will be similarly derived.

Radulphus de Claghton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 274.

Henry de Claghton, 1397: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 5.

1804. Married—Shem Hearnden and Peggy Cloughton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 100.

Crockford, 3; London, o.

Claver; v. Cleaver.

Clavinger, Clemenger.—

Official, 'the clavinger,' i.e. the mace-bearer; Latin, claviger, a club-bearer. Clavinger for Clavinger follows the rule; cf. messenger for messenger, and passenger for passenger; v. Cleaver for history of the word. I cannot help thinking Clemenger is a corruption.

Robert Clavinger. H.

Crockford, o, 1.

Claxton.—Local, (1) 'of Claxton,' a parish in co. Norfolk; (2) 'of Claxton,' an ancient manor adjoining Greatham, co. Durham.

Roger de Claxton, co. Durham, 1272: DDD. iii. 142.

Leo de Claxton, co. Durham, 1335: ibid.

Keyse de Claxtune, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Robert de Clakston, co. Durham, 1380: QQQ. p. 109.

1574. John Stubbes and Eliz. Claxton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 59.

1688. Bapt.—Mary, d. Walter Clackston: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 329.

London, 9; Boston (U.S.), 5.

Clay.—Local, 'at the clay,' from residence by a clayey spot. The instances below are decisive in respect of this derivation.

Alicia in le Clay, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

William del Cley, co. Linc., ibid.

Robert del Clay, co. Linc., ibid.

Henry atte Cleygh, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 86.

Agnes del Clay, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 25.

Johannes del Clay, 1379: ibid. p. 3.

Adam del Clay, 1379: P. T. Howden-shire, p. 20.

1577. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Edward Claye:

St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 10.

1583. William Mitchell and Eliz. Claye, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 121.

1592. Married—William Jones and Anne Claye, widow: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 238.

London, 21; West Rid. Court Dir., 21; MDb. (co. Lincoln), 8; New York, 13.

Clayer.—Occup. 'the clayer,' a dauber or plasterer. Cf. 'claymanne, a dauber': Prompt. Parv. (Halliwell).

Simon le Clayere, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Claypole, Claypool, Claypoole.—Local, 'of Claypole,' a parish in co. Lincoln, five miles from Newark.

William de Claypol, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Geoffrey de Cleipol, co. Linc., Hen.

III—Edw. I. K.

William Claypole, vicar of Wyken, co. Norf., 1388: FF. viii. 339.

1615. Married—William Cleypole and Anne Powell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 42.

1764. —James Beer and Ann Claypole: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 132.

MDb. (co. Lincoln), 2, o, o; Philadelphia, 2, 6, 4.

Clayson, Clauson, Claussion, Claussen, Clawson.—Bapt. 'the son of Klaus,' i.e. Nicholas; German Klaus, Dutch Klasse. The name was very rare in England, where Cole and Colin ruled supreme as the nicknames of Nicholas. Doubtless the name occasionally stole over from the Low Countries.

Clays le Taburer (minstrel to the king): Wardrobe Accounts, 3 Edw. III. 33/10.

Henry Clayson, C. R., Hen. IV.

1797. Married—Samuel Clayson and Jane Parker: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 168.

London, 2, 1, 1, 1, o; New York, o, 3, o, 6, 9.

Clayton.—Local, 'of Clayton.'

This would naturally be a very common place-name, and apart from small spots, farms, manors, &c., so entitled, we have parishes, hamlets, liberties, and townships in cos. Stafford (2), Sussex, York (West Riding) (4), Lancaster (3). The surname is very strongly represented in the United States.

Sewal de Claton, co. Herts, 1273. A.

Hamo de Cleyton, co. Bucks, ibid.

William de Clatone, co. Salop, ibid.

Henry de Clayton, co. Lanc., 20

Edw. I. R.

Robert de Cleyton, co. Lanc., Hen.

III—Edw. I. K.

Willelmus de Clayton, of Clayton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 12.

Sara de Clayton, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 12.
Johannes de Clayton, 1379: ibid.
p. 149.

1570. Arthur Bourchyer and Katherine Clayton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 45.
1641. Buried—Ann, d. Richard Cleaton: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 198.

London, 49; West Rid. Court Dir., 23; Manchester, 32; Philadelphia, 101.

Clayvill, Clayville.—Local, 'de Clayville,' of French extraction. In the London Directory are found both Clavel and Clavelle, the personal names and general entry showing that they are an importation. But the surname is found at an early period in England. Mr. Lowers says, 'Walter de Clavile was a tenant-in-chief in Dorset and Devon at Domesday' (Patr. Brit. p. 61).

John de Clavile or Claville, co. Devon, 20 Edw. I. R.

William de Clavyle, co. Dorset, ibid.
Philadelphia, 2, 4.

Cleangrice, Cleanhog.—Nick, 'clean hog,' evidently but a half compliment; v. Grice.

Roger Clenegris, co. Notts, 1273. A.
William Clenehog, co. Bedf., ibid.

Cleasby, Clisby, Clisbee.—Local, 'of Cleasby,' a parish near Darlington, N. Rid. Yorks. Clisby is a variant, but like such variants is found far away from home. In its own district it is correctly Cleasby.

William de Clesby, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Johannes de Clesbe, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 79.

1587. Philip Cleysbye and Anne Wood: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 164.

1784. Married—William Clisby and Jane Clements: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 366.
London, 3, 9, 0; MDB. (North Rid. Yorks), 11, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 2, 1.

Cleather.—Local, 'of Clether,' a parish seven miles from Camelford, co. Cornwall.

1604. Married—John Marriot and Katharine Cletar: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 17.

1684-5. George Cleeter and Ann Rogers: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 174.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Wilts), 2.

Cleave; v. Clive.

Cleaver, Claver.—Offic. 'the cleaver,' i.e. mace-bearer. 'Clavia, a mace or club, as Serjeantia Claviae is the Serjeancy of the Mace' (Bailey). In a treaty agreed upon between the Mayor, Sheriffs, and Commonalty of Norwich in 1414, it was declared that 'the Mayor and twenty-four shall choose a common clerk, a coroner, two clavers, and eight constables; and the sixty common council shall choose a common speaker, one coroner, two clavers, and eight constables'; v. Bromesfield's Norfolk. Without doubt Cleaver is a corruption of Claver.

Simon le Claver, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Agnes le Claver, co. Norf., 1332: FF. iv. 405.

John le Claver, co. Norf., 1332: ibid.
Walter le Claver, rector of All Saints, Norwich: ibid. 130.

Henry le Claver. E.
John le Claver. BB.

John Cleaver, rector of South Creak, co. Norf., 1669: FF. vii. 83.

William Cleaver. V. 6.
1652. Bapt.—John, s. Samuel Cleaver: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 181.

1790. Married—Edward Cleaver and Sarah Dow: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 40.

Crockford, 2, 0; London, 11, 0; MDB. (East Rid. Yorks), 0, 1; Philadelphia, 15, 2.

Clegg.—Local, 'of Clegg,' a North-English surname. No doubt a form of Clough, a break in the hillside. Almost all our Cleggs hail from Clegg, or Clegg Hall, in the parish of Rochdale.

Barnulf de Clegg (without date).
Nicholas de Clegg, 1260: Baines' Lanc. i. 506.

Mathew de Clegg, 1260: ibid.
Ricardus de Cleghe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 283.

Henricus de Cloghe, 1379: ibid.
Thomas Clegg, tanner, of Middleton, co. Lanc., 1581: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 41.

Arthur Clegg, of Fieldhouse, parish of Rochdale, 1668: ibid.

1788. Married—William Robert Clegg and Ann Thomas: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 1.

London, 6; Manchester, 40; West Rid. Court Dir., 10; Philadelphia, 52.

Cleghorn.—Local, 'of Cleghorn,' a place in co. Lanark' (Lower).

1738. Married—David Cleghorn and Margaret Bentley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 20.

1749. —James Cleghorn and Eliz. Pearson: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 143.

London, 6; New York, 1.

Cleland, Clelland.—Personal, 'the son of Cleland,' a Scotch surname. Mr. Lower says the family were 'of that ilk' in co. Lanark in the time of Alexander III (Patr. Brit. p. 61). The London Directory has such forms as M'Leland, M'Lellan, MacLellan, McLellan, Maclellan, and McLelland. I have inserted Cleland and Clelland here as they have an English local appearance.

1748-9. John Cleland and Jane Strudwick: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 255.

1800. Married—More Cleland and Lydia Capper: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 225.
London, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 1; New York, 3, 0.

Clem, Clemie.—Bapt. 'the son of Clement,' from nick. 'Clem,' popularly Clemie. The old song of the 'Green-gown' mentions

'Clem, Joan, and Isabel,
Sue, Alice, and bonny Nell,' where it is obvious that Clem is feminine, representing the early Clemence.

'William Buckton, Clem Muschaunce, and others of the garrison of Berwick' (on Tweed), 1544: T.T. p. ix.

1608. Married—Henrie Clem and Catherine Hackerley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 133.

London, 0, 1; New York, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0.

Clement, Clementson, Clements, Clemens, Clemence, Clements, Clemie, Clemiton, Clemmans, Clemments, Clemmison, Clemmits, Clemson, Clemenson.—Bapt. 'the son of Clement' or 'Clemence,' nick. Clem, dim. Clem-et, now Clemmit. Common to both sexes (cf. Constant and Constance). Clement is a rare font-name in the 19th century. It was enormously popular in the 13th. Hence as a surname itself and its variants will be immortalized in our directories.

Eustace fil. Clement, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Hugh Clement, co. Camb., ibid.

Richard Clemence, co. Hunts, ibid.
Matthew Clemens, co. Oxf., ibid.

Peter fil. Clem', co. Salop, ibid.
Clemens Janitor, co. Norf., ibid.

Clemens filius Elenoe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 21.

Johannes Clement, 1379: ibid. p. 76.
Petrus Clementson, 1379: ibid. p. 296.

Robert Clement, 1468. W. 11.
Roger Clempson, temp. Eliz. Z. 1

Clemie Croser, 1581: Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westm. and Cumb. i. p. xxx. Johannes de Wode, et Clemens uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 80.

Clemence Darbshire, parish of Winwick, co. Lanc., 1596: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 50.

London, 14, 2, 1, 1, 4, 40, 1, 1, 1, 1, 1, 0, 0; March Dir., Clemson, 1, Clemenson, 2; Philadelphia, 44, 2, 0, 12, 1, 44, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 3, 1.

Clemmow, Clemow, Clyma, Clymo, Clemo, Clamo.—Bapt. 'the son of Clement.' In Cornwall once popularly Clemow; cf. Cornish Pascho for Paschal.

Remfrey, son of John Clemmowe, 1544: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 3.

Elizabeth, d. of John Clemowe, 1550: ibid. p. 5.

In other entries members of the same family are entered Clemens.

London, 0, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0; Cornwall Court Dir., 0, 0, 5, 3, 0, 0; Cornwall Dir. (Farmers' List, 1, 4, 2, 0, 1, 1.

Clench, Clinch, Clynoch.—Local, 'at the clench,' a local term of which I have not discovered the origin.

John de la Clenche, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Seman Clenche, co. Suff., ibid.

Richard Clenche, co. Suff., ibid. 1582. William Stickney and Dorothy Clenche: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 108. 1584. John Clenche, co. Norf.: FF. v. 24.

—Ambrose Clench, co. Norf.: ibid. ii. 207.

1593. Edward Hill and Margaret Clinche: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 207. London, 2, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 3, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 4, 1.

Clendingen, Clendenning, Clendenon, Clendaniel (?)—Local. American variants of Glendinning, q.v. The change from initial G to C has ever been common in nomenclature (v. Cammell). Clendaniel seems to be a further corruption.

Philadelphia, 2, 9, 4, 2.

Clerk, Clerke, Clark, Clarke.—Offic. 'the clerk,' i.e. the clergyman, a clerk in holy orders. M.E. clerk, a priest. The surname is now almost universally Clark and Clarke, the professional form adhering to clerk; cf. the silent agreement between tailor and Taylor. If Clark and Clarke be considered as one name, they stand ninth among the commonest surnames to be found in England.

Boniface Clericus, co. Linc., 1273. A. Thomas le Clerck, co. Linc., ibid. Batekyn Clericus, co. Essex, ibid.

Gilbert le Clerck, co. Oxf., ibid.

Thomas le Clerck, co. Bucks, ibid.

John le Clerck, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.

Robertus Clarke, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 95.

Beatrix Clerc, wyf, 1379: ibid. p. 58.

Henricus Clerck, 1379: ibid. p. 81.

Robertus Clerck' et Johanna uxor ejus,

1379: ibid. p. 82.

Agnes Clerck, daughter, 1379: ibid. p. 158.

1557. Married—Robert Clarke and Margaret Mayson: St. Dionis Back-church, p. 3.

1583. Bapt.—Richard, s. Rumboll Clerke: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 14.

London, 3, 1, 323, 239; Boston (U.S.),

1, 1, 684, 118.

Cleve; v. Clive.

Cleveland, Cleaveland.—

Local, 'of Cleveland,' a hamlet in the parish of Ormesby, co. York.

Johannes de Clyveland, 1379: P. T.

Yorks. p. 51.

Robertus de Clyveland, 1379: ibid. p. 46.

1575. Richard Cleaveland and Alice

Lane: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 66.

1802. Married—Thomas Vickery and Jane Cleaveland: St. Geo. Han. Sq.

ii. 256.

London, 4, 0; Boston (U.S.), 20, 6.

Cleveley, Clevely, Cleverly.

—Local, 'of Cleveley,' a hamlet in the parish of Church Enstone, co.

Oxf. Cleverly is a manifest variant.

John de Clyveley, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

1611. Married—Richard Cleveley and Eliz. Adkins: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 38.

1786. —John Gutteridge and Eliz.

Cleveley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 390.

1787. —Charles Cleverly and Jenny

Hutchins: ibid. i. 406.

London, 1, 1, 3; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 3.

Clewes.—Local; v. Clow.

Clewley, Clewlow, Clulee,

Clulow, Cluley, Cluelow.—

Local, 'of Clulow,' a locality in the township of Wincle, parish of Prestbury, co. Cheshire. From

Clulow Cross there is said to be a fine view over parts of Staffordshire and Cheshire. The surname has crossed the border and is well known in the former county.

1615. Married—Ralph Horderne and Anne Cluley: Reg. Prestbury Ch., co.

Chester, p. 206.

1617. —Robert Millington and Ellen

Cluley: ibid. p. 214.

1625. Married—John Clulo and Ann Hult: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 15.

1633. —George Davis and Bridgett

Cluloy: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 64.

1648. —John Paine and Eliz. Clewly:

ibid. p. 82.

1727. —Thomas Cluley and Eliz. Wilks:

St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 4.

1804. John Clulow, town clerk of Macclesfield: Earwaker's East Cheshire,

ii. 458.

'William Benton Clulow (1802-82),

dissenting minister, was a native of Leek,

Staffordshire': Dict. Nat. Biog. xi. 136.

MDb. (co. Stafford), 2, 1, 1, 4, 0, 0;

London, 3, 1, 0, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia,

1, 0, 0, 0, 5, 1.

Cleworth, Clewarth.—Local,

'of Cleworth,' some spot in South

Lancashire. For the suffix, v.

Worth.

Richard de Cleworthe, of Hulton, co.

Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands),

p. 39.

Robert Cleworth, of Astley, 1671:

Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 59.

Richard Cleworth, of Bedford, co.

Lanc., 1672: ibid.

Ralph Cleworth, of Risley, co. Lanc., husbandman, 1730: ibid. (1721-40), p. 56.

Liverpool, 2, 0; Bolton, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 3, 0.

Clibbon, Cliburn; v. Clabon.

Clicoter.—? Nick. 'a chattering woman,' one who clicks. 'Her that will clicket' (Tusser, p. 251).

'A tatling huswife, whose clicket is ever wagging' (Cotgrave); v.

Halliwell.

Magota Clicoter, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 45.

Cliff, Cliffe, Cleff.—Local, 'at the cliff,' a precipitous rock, a head-land. M.E. clif, cléf; v. Clive.

Robert de la Clif, co. York, 1273. A.

Thomas del Clif, co. Suff., ibid.

Johannes del Clife, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 16.

Thomas del Clif', 1379: ibid. p. 29.

1566. Bapt.—Richard, s. Robert Cliffe:

St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 10.

1639. John Cary and Judith Cliffe:

Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 245.

London, 1, 3, 1; West Rid. Court Dir.,

7, 9, 0; Boston (U.S.), 4, 3, 0.

Clifford.—Local, 'of Clifford,' parishes in diocs. of Hereford, and Glouc. and Bristol; also a township in the parish of Bramham, near Leeds, co. York.

Margaret de Clifford, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Roger de Clifford, co. Wilts, ibid.

John de Clyfford, co. Glouc., ibid.

Johannes de Clyfford, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 153.
 Isabella de Clyforth, 1379: ibid. p. 199.
 1566. Bapt.—Edward, s. John Clifford: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 4.
 1616. Matthias Clifford and Jane Tibbals: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 41.
 London, 36; Sheffield, 1; Boston (U.S.), 94.

Clifton.—Local, 'of Clifton,' parishes in diocs. of Carlisle, Ely, Glouc. and Bristol, Manchester, Oxford, Ripon, Southwell, York, &c.

Gilbert de Clifton, co. York, 1273. A.
 Peter de Clifton, co. York, ibid.
 Robert de Clifton, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Richard de Clifton, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Johannes de Clynton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 50.
 Willelmus de Clifton, 1379: ibid. p. 219.
 1586. Buried—Eliz. Clifton: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 134.
 1624. —Henry, s. Henry Clifton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 165.
 London, 11; Philadelphia, 41.

Climpson.—Bapt. 'the son of Clement,' a corruption of Clemson (s.v. Clement). The p is intrusive as in Simpson or Thompson. Clim was an early variant of Clem, the nick. of Clement. 'Clim, for Clement. Forby gives the name to a kind of nursery goblin' (Halliwell).

'Then spake the good yeman Clym of the Clough,
 And swore by Mary fre.'
 A Lytell Geste of Robin Hode, ii. 328.
 1576-7. John Climpson and Bridget Coxwood: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 74.
 1776. Married—William East and Martha Climson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 260.
 1787. —Thomas Climson and Molly Jones: ibid. p. 409.
 London, 3.

Clinkscales, Clinkscale, Clinkskel, Clinkskill.—Local. The last two only are in the London Directory, but the others exist. Mr. Lower, I see, has them in his list.

Clint.—Local, 'of Clint,' a township in the parish of Ripley, W. Rid. Yorks. The surname has never been common, but it has managed to survive at least five centuries.

Cecilia de Clynt, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 219.
 Alicia de Clynt, 1379: ibid.
 Johannes Clynt, 1379: ibid. p. 227.
 1632. William Clente and Joane Prince: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 208.

1783. Married—Timothy Clint and Mary Davies: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 342.
 London, 1; MDB. (E. R. Yorks.), 1.

Clinton.—Local, 'of Glinton,' a parish in co. Northampton, three miles from Market Deeping. The change from initial G to C is common in nomenclature; v. Crane, Caunter, Candlin, Clendinning. Mr. Lower says the Duke of Newcastle's surname is derived from Glimpton, an estate in co. Oxford, in early times styled and written Clinton (v. Patr. Brit. p. 62). If this be so, Glimpton will probably be the parent of all.

Ivo de Clynton, co. Salop, 20 Edw. I. R.
 William de Clynton, co. Derby, ibid.
 Geoffrey de Clinton, co. Glouc., 1273. A.
 Henry de Clinton, co. York, ibid.
 Thomas de Clinton, co. Bucks, ibid.
 1674. John Green and Anne Clinton: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 228.
 1683. Married—Richard Clinton and Mary Gray: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 199.
 London, 4; Boston (U.S.), 27.

Clipsby.—Local, 'of Clipsby,' a parish in co. Norfolk, three miles from Acle.

1380. Henry Waggstaff, rector of Clipsby, presented by Edmund de Clipsby: FF. xi. 163.
 1507. John Owdolf, rector of Clipsby, presented by John Clipsby: ibid.
 1598. Ranulph Crewe and Julian Clipsbie (co. Norfolk): Marriage Lic. (London), i. 252.
 London, 0.

Clisbee, Clisby; v. Cleasby.

Clithero, Clitherow, Cluderay.—Local, 'of Clitheroe,' a market-town in co. Lanc. on the Ribble. In old English documents Clithero is written Clyderow. A curious relic of this is the surname of Cluderay in the Bradford and Leeds district.

Adam de Cliderhou, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 79.
 Robert de Clyderhou, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 73.
 Robert de Cliderhow, 1316, rector of Gargrave in Craven: Whitaker, p. 231.
 Johannes de Clyderowe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 112.
 Johannes Cledrow, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 13.
 1545. George Colcell and Sens Clithero: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 5.
 1661. James Clitherow and Mary Gregory, ibid. p. 55.
 London, 1, i, 0; Bradford, 0, 0, 2; Leeds, 0, 0, 5.

Clive, Cleeve, Cleave, Cleve.—Local, 'at the clive.' The same as Cliff (q.v.); M.E. cleve = cliff.

John atte Clive (u for v), co. Soms., i. Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 81.
 Gilbert de la Clive, co. Devon, 1273. A.
 Humfrey de la Clive, co. Wilts, ibid.
 Henry de la Clive, co. Somerset, ibid.
 William atte Clive, 1301. M.
 Agnes del Clife, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 3.
 John Clyffe, or Clyfe, 1510: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 68.

Richard Clive, abbot of Cirencester, co. Glouc., 1482: Atkyns' Hist. Glouc. p. 178.
 1639. Richard Clive and Mary Alleyne: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 243.
 1690. Alexander Cleeve and Mary Duffield: ibid. p. 312.

London, 1, 0, 3, 1; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 0, 0, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 0, 2.

Clisby.—Local, 'of Clisby,' a chapelry in the parish of Caistor, co. Lincoln. Probably Clisby also represents the name; v. Cleasby.

1688. James Hastings and Isabella Clisbey: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 190.
 MDB. (co. Lincoln), 5.

Close, Closs, Clos.—Local, 'at the close'—O.F. dos, an enclosed space (whence dim. closet)—from residence therein. Not to be confounded with Clowes, which has a different origin.

Johannes del Clos, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 254.
 Willelmus del Clos, 1379: ibid.
 1545. Bapt.—John Close: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 181.

The following entry is curious:

1697. Bapt.—Picken Close, a founding att Picken's Coffee house dore: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 373.
 London, 2, 1, 0; Sheffield, 3, 0, 0;
 West Rid. Court Dir., 2, 0, 0; New York, 18, 1, 2.

Clothier.—Occup. 'the clothier,' a cloth-weaver or a dealer in cloth, a draper.

'As clotheres kemben hir wolle.'

Piers P. 563r.

Cf. Robert Clothman, C. R., 2 Edw. IV.
 1626. Nicholas Clothier and Anne Nelson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 171.
 1582. Buried—Mary Clothier: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 197.
 London, 6; MDB. (co. Somerset), 9; Philadelphia, 39.

Cloud.—Local, 'at the cloud,' from residence thereby; 'cloude, a clod' (Ritson, quoted by Halliwell).

Probably my instance infra refers to some prominent mound of earth.

Robert atte Cloude, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 137.

Richard Clode, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 191.

1751. Married—Thomas Granbum and Rachael Cloud: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 204.

1770. — George Boxall and Elinor Cloud: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 196.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 23.

Clough, Cluff.—Local, 'at the clough,' from residence thereby. A clough is a breach in the hillside, a ravine between hills. 'Boggart Hole Clough' is well known to Manchester people; v. Clow.

'Had we the keys, said Clim of the Clough,

Ryght wel then shoulde we spede.'

A Lytell Geste of Robin Hode, ii. 329.

Alicia del Clogh, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 86.

Robert del Clogh, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 50.

Thomas del Clogh, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 68.

Henricus de Cloghe, 1376: ibid. p. 42.

1688. Buried—Mary Clough, grandniece to Dr. Meriton: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 271.

1690. Bapt.—William, s. Thomas Clugh: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 339.

London, 2; West Rid. Court Dir., 34, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 14.

Clow, Clowe, Clowes, Clowes, Clews.—Local, 'at the clough,' q.v. North Eng. dow; cf. enough and enow. With the patronymic Clowes, cf. Brooks for Brook, Sykes for Syke, Holmes for Holme, Styles for Style, &c. No doubt it is the genitive form, as in Williams, Jones, Jennings, &c. M.E. clow, or dough. 'Sende him to seche in clif and clow': Cursor Mundi, Trin. MS., i. 17590 (v. Clough, Skeat's Dict.).

Willelmus de Clowe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 181.

Edward Clowes, of Northwich, husbandman, 1649: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 50.

Richard Clowes, of Whiteley, yeoman, 1645: ibid.

1595. William Gregory and Joan Clowes: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 222.

1725. Married—James Finch and Diana Clews: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 1.

London, 2, 0, 7, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Chester), 0, 0, 3, 1, 0; (co. Derbyshire), 0, 0, 2, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 0, 1, 3.

Clubb.—? Local. A curious name, seemingly of Cheshire origin.

Farndon, near Chester, seems to have been the habitat of the family.

Hugh Clubb, of Farndon, 1588: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 42.

John Clubb, of Holt, 1607: ibid.

Francis Clubbe, of Farndon, 1695: ibid. (1681-1700), p. 55.

John Clubbe, of Worthenbury, 1689: ibid. p. 56.

1803. Married—Thomas Club and Mary Sophia Merle: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 273.

London, 1; Manchester, 2; Liverpool, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Cluelow, Clulee, Cluley, Clulow; v. Clewley.

Clutterbuck.—This family settled in England from the Low Countries at the time of the Duke of Alva's persecution of the Protestants. In 1586 Thomas Cloer-terbooke was sheriff of Gloucester, and from that county the existing gentry families of Clutterbuckspring (Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 63).

1585. Thomas Clutterbooke and Joanna Allen: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 141.

Jasper Clutterbuck, alderman of Gloucester, 1659: Atkyns' Hist. Glouc. p. 99.

1654. Married—Joseph Clutterbuck and Ann Gulliford: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 24.

London, 7; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 20; New York, 1.

Clutton, Clutten.—Local, 'of Clutton,' a township in the parish of Farndon, co. Chester; also a parish in co. Somerset. The Cheshire township is the chief parent. The variant Clutten is three centuries old.

Thomas Clutton, of Nantwich, 1575: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 42.

John Clutten, of Carden, 1595: ibid.

Thomas Clutton, of Eaton Green, 1686: ibid. (1681-1700), p. 50.

Urian Clutton, co. Chester, 25 Hen. VIII (1533): Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 86 zz.

Owen Clutton, co. Chester: ibid.

1793. Married—Joseph Francis Fearon and Jane Clutton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 96.

London, 6, 1; Manchester, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Lancaster), 1, 0.

Coachman; v. Couchman. Philadelphia, 2.

Coad, Coode.—? Local. A Cornish surname. Both forms are found in records of the same family.

1658. Bapt.—Richard, son of Robert Coode: Reg. St. Columb Major (Cornwall), p. 54.

1660. — Mary, d. of Robert Coode: ibid. p. 55.

1662. — William, son of Robert Coode: ibid. p. 56.

1672-3. Thomas Coode and Eliz. Wicks: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 87.

London, 2, 5; Cornwall Court Dir., 1, 6.

Coate, Coates, Coats.—Local, (1) 'at the cote' or 'cotes,' i.e. cottages; (2) 'of Cotes,' a township in the parish of Eccleshall, co. Stafford; also a hamlet in the parish of Prestwold, co. Leicester.

Egidius de Cotes, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Robert de Cotes, co. Bucks, ibid.

Geoffrey de Cotes, co. Linc., ibid.

Ralph atte Cote, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 108.

Thomas del Cotes, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 47.

Johannes del Cotes, 1379: ibid. p. 14.

Henricus del Cote, 1379: ibid. p. 214.

Willelmus atte Cotes, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 17.

1561. Buried—Joane Coates: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 114.

1563. — John Cotes: ibid. p. 117.

1625. William Turner and Susanna Coates: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 158.

London, 1, 26, 3; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 20, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 83, 7.

Cobb, Cobbe, Cobson, Cop-son.—Bapt. 'the son of Jacob,' from nick. Cob or Cop; v. Coppin.

Cobbus Faber, 10 Hen. II, Pipe Roll, p. 25.

Richard Cobbe, co. Camb., 1279. A.

Robert Cobbe, co. Oxf., ibid.

Thomas Cobson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 191.

1675. Married—William Cobson and Jane Pritchett: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, p. 181.

With Copson for Cobson, cf. Hopkins for Hobkins.

1651. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Emanuell Cobson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 177.

1665-6. Buried—Amey Cobb, widow: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 237.

1788. Married—George Cobb and Frances Letchford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 8.

London, 20, 0, 0, 1; Atherstone (co. Warwick), Copson, 1; MDB. (co. Warwick), Copson, 3; New York, 28, 1, 0, 0.

Cobbett.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Jacob,' from the nick. Cob, dim. Cobb-et; v. Cubitt and Coppin. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Cuthbert,' pronounced Cowbet in cos. York and Durham. Probably the North-English Cobbetts are thus derived.

Cf. Nicholas Cowbeytson, co. York. W. 9.

But (1) must be looked upon as the true general derivation.

1745. Married—Anthony Montel and Sarah Cobbett: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 50.

1779. —Thomas Warr and Jane Cobbett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 303.

London, 10; New York, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Cobbin, Cobbing.—Bapt. 'the son of Jacob,' from the nick. Cob, dim. Cobb-in or Cobb-on; cf. Col-in from Nicholas, Rob-in from Robert, or Gibb-on from Gilbert. But Coppin (q.v.) was the sharpened form.

Ralph Cobin, co. Essex, 1273. A. William Cobon, co. Camb., ibid.

1773. Married—John Cobbin and Ann Brass: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 227. London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 3, 0.

Cobbledick, Cuppleditch.—Local, 'of Cobbledyke.' This has no reference to a dike made of cobble-stones, but to the name of the proprietor; v. Cobbold and Kibble, where Kibel is shown to be a familiar Lincolnshire personal name.

Roger de Cubbeldik, 1313, co. Linc. M. Alan de Cubbeldyk, 1323, ibid. John Cobeldyke, C. R., 1 Hen. IV. pt. i. Johannes de Cupeldik, co. Linc., 1273. A.

John de Culbeldyke, co. Linc., Edw. I. R.

1593. 'George Coppledicke, or Coppuldike, elected principal of Bernard's Inn': N. and Q., March 12, 1887, p. 203.

The name still exists as Cobbledick, but I have no instance at hand.

'Warrant to acquit Edward Copledick,' April 26, 1594: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), iii. 489. Derby, 0, 3.

Cobbler.—Occup. 'the cobbler,' an early occupational term, as is proved by my instances. Cobclere occurs in Piers Plowman. The surname has been extinct for some generations back, I imagine.

Robert le Cobeler, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Ricardus Cobler, 1379: P. T. Howden-shire, p. 7.

Willelmus Cobbeler, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 46. London, 0.

Cobbold, Corbold, Corbould, Cubill, Cobell, Cobel, Cubel.—Bapt. 'the son of Cobbold,' found in Domesday as Cubold. With an initial K (v. Kibble) the surname assumed many guises. The instances both under Kibble and below are confined (saving co. Oxf.) to the South-Eastern counties. These settled into the forms with C as initial. Towards the West from co. Oxford K became the initial. I am speaking, of course, generally.

Simon Cubaud, co. Suff., 1273. A. Hamo Cubald, co. Norf., ibid. William Cubbel, co. Camb., ibid. Robert Cubbel, co. Oxf., ibid. Thomas Cobald, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1353: FF. xi. 323.

1649. Bapt.—Frideswide, d. William Corbould: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 174. 1800. Married—John Cobble and Maria Green: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 224.

London, 2, 1, 3, 0, 2, 0, 0; MDB. (Suffolk), 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0; (Norfolk) Cubill, 1; New York (Cobel), 2; Philadelphia (Cubel), 1.

Cobcroft.—Local, 'at the cob-croft,' i.e. the field or enclosure on the cob (v. Cobden). A Yorkshire surname.

Thurstan Cobcroft, co. York. W. 11. 'George Cobcraite embarked in the Thomas for Virginia, 1635': Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 85.

Cobden.—Local, 'of Copedene.' I cannot find the spot, but it must have been in co. York. The derivation is simple; v. Cope and Dean, and also Cobcroft and Copestake.

Alan Copdane, co. York. W. 11. Geoffrey le Coppden, c. 1307. M. John Copdenne. A. John Copdenne, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Ralph Copdaine, 1690: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 102.

1687. John Naishe and Ann Cobden: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 288. Philadelphia, 1.

Cobelot.—Bapt. 'the son of Jacob,' from the nick. Cob, dim. Cob-elot; cf. Hewlett.

John Cobelot, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Cobham, Cobham.—Local, 'of Cobham,' parishes in cos. Kent and Surrey. The surname seems to claim the Kent parish for its parent.

John de Cobeham, co. Kent, 1273. A. Reginald de Cobeham, co. Kent, ibid. William de Cobeham, co. Hants, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1577. Edward Cobham and Mary Hornebie: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 78. 1609. Married—William Tyre and Mary Cobham: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 35.

1745. —Luke Cobham and Mary Rogers: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 35.

'John de Cobham, third Lord Cobham (d. 1408), was son of John de Cobham, Constable of Rochester Castle': Dict. Nat. Biog. xi. 155.

'Thomas de Cobham, bishop of Worcester (d. 1327), was a member of the well-known Kentish family of Cobham': ibid. xi. 157.

London, 2, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Cock.—(1) Nick. 'the cock,' from the pertness or swagger of the bearer; cf. Henn, Fowl, &c.

John le Cok, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 171.

Henry le Cok, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 180.

William le Kok, C. R., 3 Edw. I. Thomas Cokk, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 125.

(2) Local, 'at the Cock,' a sign-name.

John a Kok, C. R., 9 Edw. I.

Cf. Attwood, A'Becket, &c. 'As I have shown in my Preface, there are many sign-names.'

1606. Married—Joseph Cock and Hannah Sprott: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 11.

London, 16; Philadelphia, 2; New York, 3.

Cockayne.—Local, 'of Cokayne,' the Utopia of early English fable:

'Fur in sea, bi west Spaygne,
Is a lond ihothe Cockayne.'

Whether or not the name of this legendary region was afterwards transferred to London as the centre of luxury and ease, resulting in the London cockney, seems not to be decided; v. Cocking, in explanation of the large number of Cockaynes in co. York.

Nicholas de Cokayne, co. Sussex, 1273. A.

Alan de Cokayne, co. Sussex, ibid. Richard de Cokayne, co. Essex, ibid.

1660—1. Scipio Cokayn and Eliz. Hope: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 50.

1671. Daniel Thorne and Eliz. Cockayne: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 120. London, 1; Sheffield, 14.

Cockcroft, Cockroft, Crowcroft.—Local, 'of Carcroft,' a hamlet in the parish of Owston, W. Rid. Yorks. The corruptions were inevitable; Crowcroft is found in the Doncaster Directory, and Carcroft is in the Doncaster rural deanery.

Thomas de Carcroft, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 47.

1764. Married—John Normanton and Ann Cockcroft: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 136. West Rid. Court Dir., 3, 11, 1; London, 0, 2, 0; Doncaster, 0, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 2, 4, 0.

Cocker.—Occup. 'the cocker,' i.e. cockfighter (?). 'Cokker' in this sense occurs in the Towneley Mysteries:

'These dysars, and these hullars,
These cockers, and these bullars.'

Simon le Cockere, co. Oxf., 1273. A. John le Cochere, co. Sussex, ibid.. Adam Coker, co. Essex, ibid.. William le Kokere, co. Soms., ibid.. John le Coker, c. 1300. M. Willelmus Coker, Ebota uxor ejus, smth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 44. London, 4; Philadelphia, 11.

Cockerell, Cockerill, Cockrill, Cockrell, Cockrille.—Nick. 'the cockerel'; M.E. cokerel, a little cock. 'Cokerelle: gallus' (Prompt. Parv.).

Geoffrey Cokerell, co. Norf., 1273. A. John Cokerel, co. York, ibid.. Reginald Kokerel, co. Camb., ibid.. Matilda Cokrell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 145.

Elias Cokrell, 1379: ibid. p. 209. Alicia Cokerell, 1379: ibid. p. 248. 1530. Clement Cokerell and Margaret Edmonds: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 7. London, 11, 2, 3, 3, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 0, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 1, 0, 1, 3, 0; New York, 0, 2, 1, 1, 1.

Cockerham, Cockram, Cockerem, Cockeram.—? Local, 'of Cockerham' (?), a parish between Lancaster and Garstang; in Domesday spelt Cocreham. It lies on the little river Cocker. Nevertheless, I cannot find the existence of this surname in Lancashire. Thus the probability is that all the above are mere variants of the Irish Corkeran or Corkran; cf. Ransom and Ranson, Sansum and Samson, &c. The interchange of civilities between n and m is as common in nomenclature as in the dictionary. A comparison between the following entries from one London register will have its weight on the thoughtful reader:

1789. Married—Samuel Cockram and Rebekah Smith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 23. 1799. — Michael Corkran and Sophia Abell: ibid. p. 204. 1807. — Francis Lonsdale and Eliz. Cockran: ibid. p. 363.

Such a sequence of entries is not easily got over.

Cockroft, 1, 1, 1, 0; London, 0, 1, 1, 0; MDB. (Dorset), 1, 0, 0, 3.

Cocket.—Nick. 'little cock,' from Cock, and dim. Cock-et, a little strutting fellow; cf. coquette, and v. Cock. My first extract is probably one of the earliest instances yet found of coquette.

Agatha le Couket, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 189.

Nicholas Coket, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 206.

Hugh Coket, co. Bucks, 1273. A. John Coket, co. Bucks, ibid.

1668. John Cockett and Ann Flexmer: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 104.

1765. Married—Thomas Cockett and Sarah Silverthorne: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 150.

Cockey.—Local, 'of Cochagh,' a West-country name (v. Haigh). There is Cockey, a hamlet near Bury, co. Lanc., but it seems to bear no relation to the existing surname.

Alice de Cochagh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 149.

John de Cocheye, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 191.

1747. Married—Peter Cockey and Jane Porter: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 88.

MDb. (co. Soms.), 2; New York, 4.

Cockhead.—Nick. 'Cockhead,' one who strutted with head up, consequentially. Nevertheless, it is possible it is local, one of the terminatives in head; v. Head, Akenhead, Birkett, Blackett, &c.

Simon Cocheved, C. R., 17 Edw. III, pt. ii.

Willelmus Kokheved, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 272.

1784. Married—Joseph Cockhead and Mary Okell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 306. London, 3.

Cocking, Cockin.—Local, 'of Coken,' a hamlet on the Wear, co. Durham, which early gave rise to a surname. The large number of Cockaynes in co. York would seem to prove that there has been some confusion between the two names; v. Cockayne and Cogan.

Gilbert de Cokun, co. Northumberland, 20 Edw. I. R.

John de Coken, vicar of Billingham, 1391: DDD. iii. 146.

Alice de Coken, 1319: ibid. i. 206.

Petronilla de Cokyn, temp. 1350: ibid. 205.

John Cokin, co. Notts, 1273. A. John Cokyn, co. Derby, 20 Edw. I. R.

1669. Married—William Cockin and Eliz. Barnerd: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 156.

1806. — Joseph Cocking and Catherine Eliz. Jordan: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 348. London, 6, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 6, 4; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Cockle, Coghill, Cockhill, Cogill, Coggill.—Local, 'of Cockhill,' Some spot in the West Rid. Yorkshire. The West Riding directories seem alone to have preserved the correct form. Several of these forms may be corruptions of the Yorkshire Cowgill, q.v. There seems to be a spot in co. Somerset bearing this name.

Elizabetha de Cokhill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 182.

Johannes de Cokhill, 1379: ibid.

Mathew de Cokhull, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 133.

John Cokhull, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

1692. Bapt. — Joseph, s. Edward Coggill: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 347.

1802. Married—Charles William Doyle and Sophia Cramer; witness, John Coghill: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 257.

London, 10, 2, 0, 0, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 0, 1, 1, 0; Sheffield (Cockhill), 1; Leeds (Coggill), 1; New York (Coggill), 4.

Cockler.—Occup. 'a cockler, a gatherer of cockles; M.E. cokeles. Roger le Cokhelere (Close Roll, 4 Edw. I). The word is still in use on the English north-west coast.

Cockman, Cookman.—Occup. (1) 'the cookman,' i.e. either the cook himself, with augmentative man, as in husbandman, merchantman, &c., or the cook's assistant; cf. Kitchener and Kitchenman. Lower permits himself to write 'Cockman, a cockfighter'; v. Cook, and cf. Matthewman, Addyman, Ladyman, &c.

William Cokeman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 260.
John Cukeman, C. R., 45 Hen. III.
William Cokeman. J.
John Cookman, co. York. W. g.
1796. Married—Joseph Cockman and Eliz. Skinner: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 150.
1800. — Joseph Roberts and Harriot Cookman: ibid. p. 220.
London, 6, 2; MDB. (E. Rid. Yorks), 0, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 6.

Cockrill; see Cockerell.

Cocks, Cockson, Cox, Coxe, Coxen, Coxon, Coxson.—Personal. 'Cock,' a term of familiarity. There are over two columns of Coxes in London Dir. The history of the name is interesting, and every stage can be proved conclusively. The natural pertness of boys, so like the habits of the strutting barn-door fowl, caused cock to be used much in the sense of our 'Well, old Cock, how are you?' There was an affinity between the boy in the scullery and the cock in the yard: both swaggered, and both could crow. In the Nun's Priest's Tale of Chaucer it is said of Chanticleer,

'Nothing ne list him thanne for to crow,
But cried anon cok, cok, and up he sterte.'

Thus 'cock' became the general sobriquet of a sharp and forward lad. The farm-lad, the scullion, or the apprentice was ever 'Cock' by itself, or if attached to his Christian name, Jeff-cock, or Will-cock, or Bat-cock, or Han-cock. Thus we have the story of Cocke Lorelle, and the old nursery rhyme begins:

'Who killed Cock Robin?'

Again, in Gammer Gurton's Needle (1566) the boy is simply 'Cock':

'My gammer is so out of course,
And frantic all at once,
That Cock, our boy, and I, poor wench,
Have felt it on our bones.'

Sometimes the font-name was forgotten in the term, hence such entries as 'Item, to Cok, my servant, xxs' (Will of Roger Thornton, 1429: PPP. i. 283); 'Cok fenwyk' and 'Cok Crissop (Patent Roll, 13 and 14 Hen. VII). 'Coc le Afeyte' was forbidden to live in London, 1269 (WWW. p. 125). The patronymic of this was Cocks or Cockson.

Coc de Slepe, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Edward Cockson. Z.
John Cockson. EE.
Cok! Carnifer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 98.

These have become modernly Cox, Coxe, Coxon, and Coxen (cf. Wilcoxon for Wilcockson, Dix and Dixon for Dicks and Dickson, Rix and Rixon for Ricks and Rickson, also cox-comb). One or two instances will suffice:

Thomas Kokson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 272.

Cok Wigham, co. Northumberland, 1404: TTT. p. 187.

Robert Cockson, or Cokson, or Coxson, or Coxon, sup. for B.A., Jan. 1555-6: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 231.

Walter Cocks or Cox, chaplain, sup. for B.C.L., 20 April, 1515: ibid. p. 95.

John Cockis, or Coxe, allowed to determine Mich. term, 1546: ibid. p. 213.

How popular Cock was, Cox and Coxe are sufficient proof. There are over 1000 Coxes in London commercial centres alone, counting five to a family. For compounds of Cock (v. above), such as Simcock and Simcox, Laycock, Pidcock, Mycock, Jeffcock, &c., see these names in their proper places. It is clear that cock became, like kin, a pet desinence; and in the class of names I have just mentioned, must to all intents and purposes be considered as such. Certain sobriquets of a more or less depreciative character were similarly formed. Dawcock (i.e. Jack-daw) was an empty-headed noodle. In Appius and Virginia (1563) Mansipula says (Act i. sc. 1):

'My lady's great business belike is at an end:
When you, goodman dawcock, lust for to wend.'

An earlier form of

'Pillcock, Pillcock sate on a hill,
If he's not gone he sits there still,' will be found in King Lear. A lobcock was a lubberly fellow. 'Baligant, an unweldie lubber, great lobcock' (Cotgrave). In 'Wily Beguiled' Will Cricket says to Churms, 'Why, since you were bombasted that your lubberly legs would not carry your lobcock body.' Meacock and nescock were effeminate fellows. In 'Wit without Money,' Valentine says, 'For then you are meacocks, fools, and miserable.' 'And shall I then, being fed with this hope, prove such a mecock, or a milkesop?' Greene's Gwydonius, 1593; cf. Sweetcock (q.v.).

Swetecoka de Hornden, C.R., 16 Edw. I. London, 24, 0, 227, 2, 3, 3, 0; Philadelphia (Coxson), 2; New York, 8, 0, 150, 3, 0, 1, 0.

Cockshall, Cockshaw.—Local, 'at the Cockshaw,' from residence thereby; cf. Shallcross and Shawcross; v. Shaw.

Symon de Cokschaghe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 127.

1793. Married—Jonathan Cockshaw and Jane Mary Norgrove: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 97.

London, 1, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Cockshott, Cockshot, Cockshoot, Cockshutt, Cotshott.—Local, 'of Cockshut,' a chapelry in the parish of Ellesmere, co. Salop. But there is strong evidence of the existence of another place of the same name in co. Lancashire or the W. Rid. of Yorks. Cotshott is an American variant.

Edmund Cockshott, 1662: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 127.

Alice Cockshutt, of Padiham, widow, 1630: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 51.

Edward Cockshutt, of Walton-le-dale, 1628: ibid.

1704. Married—Thomas Cockshott and Eliz. Mason: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 122.

West Rid. Court Dir., 9, 0, 0, 0, 0; London, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0; Manchester, 1, 1, 4, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Lancaster), 0, 0, 1, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0, 0, 2.

Cockspur.—Nick. 'cock-spur,' a sobriquet as old as the days of cock-fighting (v. Cocker). Nevertheless, it is curious that this surname should have lingered on into the 18th century. The sobriquet would be readily affixed upon a man of a combative and belligerent mood, especially a fire-eater or swashbuckler.

Alice Cokespore, Fines Roll, 11 Edw. I. Robertus Cockspour, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 162.

1741. Bapt.—Lambert, s. Henry Cockspur: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 254.

Codd, Code.—Bapt. 'the son of Cuthbert,' from nick. Cudde (v. Codling). If this be true, as I suspect it is, it will be yet one more instance of a fish-name not being what it seems to be; cf. Chubb, Salmon, Spratt, Turbott. All the same, this may be an exception.

Henry Cod, co. Oxf., 1272. A.
Ricardus Code, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 6.
Thomas Codde, Norwich, 1558: FF.
iv. 97.

1586. David Codd and Margaret Asheley: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 156.
1765. Married—James Benson and Eleanor Cod: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 147.
1777. —Emery Codd and Mary Carley: ibid. p. 274.

London, 5, 0; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 1, 0;
Boston (U.S.), 0, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Coddington, Codington.—Local, 'of Coddington,' (1) a parish in county Notts, two miles from Newark; (2) a parish in co. Hereford, three miles from Ledbury; (3) a parish in co. Chester, two miles from Handley.

William de Codynton, London, 20 Edw. I. R.
John de Codyngton, London, 20 Edw. I.: ibid.

Harvey de Codinton, co. Essex, 1273. A.
'William Coddington (1601-78), governor of Rhode Island, New England, a native of Lincolnshire': Dict. Nat. Biog. xi. 203.

The last-named would probably spring from the Nottinghamshire Coddington.

Jane Coddington, of Frodsham, widow, 1640: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 51.
Robert Coddington, of Chester, tanner, 1635: ibid.

These, no doubt, represent the Cheshire parish. It is this family that has crossed the borders into Lancashire.

1614. Bapt.—Agnes, d. William Codington: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 71.

Manchester, 1, 0; London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Chester), 1, 0; (co. Lincoln), 1, 0; New York, 19, 2.

Codling, Cudling, Codlin.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Cuthbert' (?), from Cudbert; nick. Cud, dim. Cudling or Codling; cf. Hewling, from Hew (Hugh).

Adam Cudelyne, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 252.

Robert Codelyng, 1379: P. T. Yorks. ibid.

Robert Codling, co. Linc., 1273. A.

William Codling, co. Linc., ibid.
Adam Codelyng, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 5.

(2) Nick.; v. Quodling.

1772. Married—John Codling and Eliz. Keates: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 222.
London, 2, 0, 0; York, 0, 0, 1.

Codner, Codnor.—Occup. 'the cordwainer,' of which Cordiner and Codner are variants; v. Cordiner.

Robert Codner, bailiff of Bristol, 1346: Barrett's Hist. of Bristol.

1642. Bapt.—Allyce, d. James Codner: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 151.

Kingskerswell (Devon), 3, 0; London, 4, 0; MDB. (Devon), 6, 1.

Codrington.—Local, 'of Codrington,' a tithing in the parish of Wapley, three miles from Chipping Sodbury, co. Glouc.

'Sir Edward Codrington (1770-1851), admiral, came of the old family of Codrington, of Dodington, co. Glouc.': Dict. Nat. Biog. xi. 204.

'Robert Codrington (d. 1665), author, born "of an ancient and genteel family in Gloucestershire"': ibid. xi. 209.

1686. John Courthope and Rachael Codrington: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 180.

1797. Married—Joseph Lyons Walrond and Caroline Codrington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 175.

London, 1.

Coe.—Nick. 'the coe,' i.e. the jackdaw; A.S. ceo, cornix. 'Coo, byrde or schowhe; Koo, byrde or schowhe; monedula, nodula' (Prompt. Parv.). 'Koo, a byrde' (Palsg.). Mr. Way quotes in a note:

— 'the churlysshe chowgh,
The route, and the kowgh:—

At this placebo.

We may not well forego

The countrynge of the coe.'

Skelton's Philip Sparrow.

Hence no doubt 'Coe, an odd old fellow. Norf.' (Halliwell); an old jackdaw, as we might say.

Beatrix le Coe, co. Norf., 1273. A.

William le Koo, co. Camb., ibid.

Ricardus Koo, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 38.

It is interesting to note that the Prompt. Parv. references, the quotation from Halliwell, and one of my Hundred Roll instances, are all from co. Norfolk. Again we find:

Jefry Coe, of Ashill, co. Norf., 1458: FF. ii. 349.

William Coe, of Ashill, co. Norf., 1526: ibid. p. 354.

Thus Coe and Coe were identical. Coe is still a familiar Norfolk surname.

London, 21; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 4; Boston (U.S.), 23.

Coffee, Coffey, Caughey.—Bapt. 'O'Coffey,' an Irish patronymic. Coffee, of course, is imitative. Biddy in the instance below speaks for her own nationality. It is said that the original form of O'Coffey was O'Cobhthaidh. Dr. Charnock says that Murragh O'Cobhthaidh was bishop of Derry and Raphoe, temp. 1173 (v. Ludus Patronymicus, p. 18). Both of the modern forms are naturally found at Liverpool, which numbers so many Irish among its population.

1704. Married—Thomas Coffee and Winifred Hillman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 227.

1803. — William Jakins and Bidey (Biddy) Coffee: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 279.

London, 3, 3, 1; Liverpool, 2, 2, 1; New York, 21, 48, 2.

Coffer, Cofferer.—(1) Official, 'the cofferer,' one who had charge of a coffer, a treasurer. (2) Occup. 'the cofferer,' a maker of coffers. In the Trevelyan Papers (Camden Soc.) we find 'Item, to Edmund Peckham, coferer of the King's House, for the expenses, and charges,' &c. This concerns (1). Again we read of:

'Type-makers, wodemongers, and orgyn-makers,
Cofferers, carde-makers, and carvers.'
Cocke Lorelle's Bote.

This concerns (2).

William le Coffiare, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 112.

Saloman le Coffrer, Fines Roll, 14 Edw. II.

John le Coffrir, London, 1273. A.

Godfrey le Coffrer, London, ibid.

Richard le Coffrer, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

1278. Godfrey le Coffrer: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting.

I find no modern instance of the surname.

Coffin, Caffin, Caffyn, Chafen, Chaffine.—Nick. 'the bald.' A mere variation of Caffin, the earliest form being Chaufin, which would readily become Coffin and Caffin. This form seems to have taken root in the south-western counties of England. Edward Coffin, the Jesuit, was born at Exeter, 1571 (Dict. Nat. Biog. xi. 215). Several Devonshire families bear the name; cf. Fr. chauve, bald (v. Chaffe), and Calvin, from Latin calvus. Probably Chaufin was a dim.

'Calvus protests for foes he doth not care:

For why? They cannot take from him one hair.'

Satyrical Epigrams, 1619.

Henry Coffyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 99.

Richard Chaufin, co. Notts, 1273. A.

Robert Coffyn, co. Linc., ibid.

William Coffyn, co. Devon, ibid.

Thomas Chafyn, 1505: Reg. Univ.

Oxf. i. 40.

1788. Married—Robert Gilbert and Mary Coffin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 10.

— Thomas Coffin and Agatha

Waterman: ibid. p. 16.

1794. — John Chaffin and Isabella

Blاندell: ibid. p. 117.

In France the enthusiastic devotion of Nicholas Chauvin to the emperor Napoleon I gave rise to the term Chauvinism. Chaufin was the Hundred Roll form; v. supra.

London, 5, 2, 1, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Devon), 1, 0, 0, 0, 0; New York, 45, 0, 0, 0, 1.

Cogan, Coggan, Coggen, Cogin, Coggin, Coggon.—Local, 'of Cogan,' a parish in dioc. of Llandaff, which gave birth to an early surname. As regards the forms found in cos. York and Lincoln, it is probable they are but variants of Coken (v. Cocking).

Richard Cogan, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 87.

John de Cogan, co. Somerset, 1273. A.

John de Cogan, co. Devon, ibid.

From this it is clear that the south-west forms of the surname are derived from the Llandaff parish. To Somerset and Devon was not a long journey.

1605. Richard Browne and Hellen Coggen: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 30.

1716. John Coggan and Sarah Fetcher: ibid. p. 239.

1723. Joseph Cogin and Jone Sellway: ibid. p. 248.

1789. Married—Thomas Coggin and Eliz. Tillcock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 24.

1809. — William Shickle and Eliz. Cogan: ibid. p. 410.

MDb. (co. Somerset), 1, 5, 1, 1, 0, 0; (co. Lincoln), 0, 3, 0, 0, 1, 2; London, 3, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 25, 2, 0, 0, 5, 0.

Cogger, Cogman, Coger.—Occur. 'the cogger' or 'cogman,' the master of a cog-boat (cf. cock-boat and cockswain). 'Cogboote: scafer' (Prompt. Parv.); 'hevy hulki, grete coggis'; v. Way's Prompt. Parv. p. 252, n. 5.

'And found Jason and Hercules also, That in a cogge to lond were ygo.'

Chaucer, Legend of Good Women.

Henry Coger. P.

1621. George Coger and Alice Nash:

Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 27.

1628. William Gurnett and Freezwyth

Coger: ibid. p. 33.

'William Middleton, of this town (Castor, co. Norfolk), blacksmith, by will dated Jan. 20, 1647... gave to the poor 3s. 4d. a year... and tied all his house and ground... for payment thereof, which are now in the possession of Benjamin Cogman': FF. v. 430.

Norfolk has given us several of these names; v. Bargeman, Boatman, &c. Probably Cockman has absorbed this name, of which I see six in the London Directory. As shown above, cockboat and cockswain have undergone the same change.

New York, 2, 0, 2.

Coghill.—Local; v. Cockle.

Coglin.—Bapt. 'the son of Cockelin,' from Cock (q.v.), used personally; dim. Cockelin. The customary laziness brought this down to Coglin.

Agnes Cokelin, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Imania Cokelin, co. Camb., ibid.

London, 1.

Cogswell, Coxwell.—Local, 'of Coggeshall,' a parish in the dioc. of St. Albans. Wherever a monastery was founded it drew together a community, and this in the surname period was likely to foster a local nomenclature. The early Coggeshalls by corruption became Cogswell and Coxwell. There need be no hesitation in accepting this origin. It is absolutely certain. The surname is still confined to a limited radius of the place, which was of considerable importance.

(Abbas) de Cogeshalle, co. Essex, 1273. A.

Roger de Cogeshall, co. Essex, ibid.

Reginald Cokeshale, co. Kent, ibid.

Ralph de Coggeshal, co. Essex, Hen.

III—Edw. I. K.

Maria de Coggeshale, co. Norf., 20

Edw. I. R.

1681. Married—John Cogeswell and Ann Pare: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 227.

London, 6, 1; New York, 8, 0.

Coifer, Coifster.—Occur. 'the coifer' or 'coifster,' a maker of caps or cowls, probably knitted. Coifster has the fem. suffix.

Nicholas le Coifstere, Close Roll, 16

Edw. III, pt. i.

Emma la Coifere, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Dionysia la Coifere, co. Oxf., ibid.

Ralph le Coifer. E.

Peter Coifer, C. R., 32 Hen. III.

As a surname Coifer would soon be lost in Coifer, q.v. The French Coiffier is in the London Directory (1870).

Coiner.—Occur. 'the coiner'; cf. Minter. v. Cuner.

William le Coiner, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 197.

Coish, Coysh.—Bapt. 'the son of Coise.'

Agnes fil. Coise, co. Camb., 1273. A.

The spelling, as will be seen below, was retained till the close of the 16th century:

Rafe, son of Nicholas Quoise, 1564: Reg. St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 55.

William, son of Nicholas Quoise, 1565:

ibid. p. 55.

Anthony, son of Nicholas Coise, 1577:

ibid. p. 59.

Alice, d. of Margret Coys, 1563: ibid.

p. 135.

Mary, wife of Richard Coysh, 1672:

ibid. p. 188.

London, 3, 2.

Coke.—Occur. 'the cook' (v. Cook).

Roger le Coke, c. 1300. M.

Alexander Coke, co. Camb., 1273. A.

William Coke, co. Norf., ibid.

Magota Coke, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 4.

Alicia Cok', 1379: ibid.

1807. Married—Richard Smith and Eliz. Coke: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 361.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Coker.—Local, 'of Coker,' two parishes in co. Somerset.

John de Coker, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 192.

William de Coker, co. Soms, 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 243.

Thomas Coker, co. Somerset, 1273. A. Adam Coker, co. Essex, ibid.

1650. Bapt.—Sarah, d. Walter Coker: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 110.

1791. Married.—Thomas Coker and Eliz Long: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 62. London, 7; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Colbeck, Coulbeck, Colebeck.—Local, 'of Caldbeck,' a parish in co. Cumb. With Coulbeck, cf. Colson and Coulson, Colt and Coult, &c.; v. Callbeck.

1787. Married.—Thomas Walford and Mary Coleback: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 408.

1790. — John Colbeck and Sarah Richardson: ibid. ii. 44.

1798. Buried.—Thomas Colbeck, shoemaker: Reg. St. Mary, Ulverston, p. 622.

1806. Married.—James Webster and Tabitha Colback: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 347.

London, 2, 0, 1; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 0, 5, 0.

Colbert, Colbertson.—Bapt. 'the son of Colbert,' found as a personal name in Domesday, co. Devon; cf. Coleswain, Colegrim, Colbran.

Leeds, 1, 0; London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 15, 1.

Colbran, Colborn, Colborne, Colbourn, Colbourne, Colbrain, Colbron, Colebourne, Colburn.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Colbrand,' found as a personal name in Domesday, co. Devon; cf. Coleswain and Colegrim. The variants Colborn, Colbourn, &c., were inevitable.

Malger Colebrond, co. Sussex, 1273. A.

As Colbran the surname is still to be found in that county.

Robert Colbern, co. Soms, 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 84.

William Colebrond, co. Soms, 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 230.

Ricardus Colebrond, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 67.

Margareta Colbrand, 1379: ibid. p. 140.

1631. Bapt.—William, s. Thomas Colborne; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 119.

1642. — James Colbran: St. Antholin (London), p. 75.

1677. — Laud, s. John Colebron: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 277.

(2) Local, 'of Colbourne,' a township in the parish of Catterick, N. Rid. Yorks. But I find no representatives in Yorkshire of any family of that name. The true origin of all the forms is (1). Since writing the above I find this view corroborated by Mr. Earwaker in his East Cheshire, ii. 131. He records that William Coulborn was vicar of Mottram-in-Longendale in 1695. He adds in a note, 'he may perhaps be identified with a "William Colbron" who matriculated at Oxford from Wadham College, 26th March, 1686.'

London, 1, 1, 2, 1, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Kent), Colbrain, 1; (co. Sussex), Colbran, 1; New York, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 1, 1, 1.

Colby, Coleby.—Local, 'of Colby' or 'Coleby.' Colby is a parish in dioc. Norwich, and Coleby a parish in dioc. Lincoln. No doubt from Cole (q.v.), the first resident.

William de Colebi, co. Westm., 1176: RRR. p. 161.

William de Colleby, co. Linc., 1273. A. (Dominus) de Coleby, co. Linc., ibid.

William de Coleby, co. Oxf., ibid.

John de Coleby, co. Norf., 20 Edw. I. R. Willelmus de Colby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 126.

William de Colby, rector of Wilby, co. Suff., 1331: FF. v. 389.

John de Colby, rector of Pulham, co. Norf., 1331: ibid.

1695. Married.—Joseph Colebey and Eliz. Luckock: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 216.

London, 2, 2; Philadelphia, 5, 0.

Colchester, Colchesters.—Local, 'of Colchester.' It seems to be a very scarce surname.

1652. Married.—Richard Colchester and Eliz. Kensey: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 31.

1894. Henry Sparrowe Colchester: Daily Telegraph, Aug. 4, 1894.

London, 1, 1; New York, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Colchin.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from the nick. Cole or Col, and with pet suffix Col-kin; cf. Wilkin, Dickin, Watkin, Simpkin, &c. This is easily proved by the first two entries following:

John Colkyn, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R. Hamo Colekyn, co. Kent, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1768. Married.—Thomas Colchin and Ann Jacobs: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 184.

1796. Joseph Colchin and Mary Marshall: ibid. ii. 148.

Colclough, Colecrough.—Local, 'of Colclough,' 'an estate in Staffordshire, in which county the family resided, temp. Edw. III': Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 65. Colecrough, found in the same county, is a manifest variant.

1678. Adam Colclough and Mary Blagge: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 280.

1758. Married.—John Colclough and Abigail Shelley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 74.

London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Stafford), 5, 1.

Coldwell, Couldwell, Coaldwell.—Local, 'of Coldwell' (v. Caldwell), a township in the union of Bellingham, co. Northumberland. Also of Colwell, a township in the union of Hexham, same county.

Johannes de Coldwell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 174.

Thomas de Coldwele, 1379: ibid.

1561-2. Giles Hodgkinson and Eliz. Coldwell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 23.

1572. John Colwell and Margaret Boseley: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 4.

1661. John Inians and Mary Coldwell: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 12.

London, 3, 0, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 4, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 5, 0, 2.

Cole, Coles.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Cole, whence the dim. Col-in. Coles is the patronymic or genitive form; cf. Williams, Jenkins, Jones, &c.

'Havell, and Harvy Hafter, Jack Travell, and Cole Crafter.' Skelton, Why come ye nat to Courte.

This nick. of Nicholas has made an extraordinary impression upon English nomenclature (v. Colly, Collins, &c.).

Rand' fil. Cole, co. York, temp. 13th century: FFF. p. 47.

Johannes Cole, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 92.

Elias Cole, 1379: ibid.

1588. Married.—Bazill Beconn and Anne Coale: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 14.

1665. — Thomas Coles and Honour Birde: ibid. p. 39.

London, 176, 47; Philadelphia, 108, 32.

Colebrook.—Local, 'of Colebrook.' (1) Colebrook, a parish in dioc. Oxf.; (2) a manor in co. Devon. The latter spot is spelt Colbroke, Colbroke, and Colebrooke, in the Hundred Rolls (i. 67-71).

Henry de Colbrook, co. Devon, 1273. A. 1575. Buried—Eliz. Colbrooke: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 17.
1638. Bapt.—Mary, d. Thomas Colbrooke: ibid. i. 140.
1773. Married—Thomas Colebrook and Eliz. Harris: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 234. London, 3.

Colegrim.—Bapt. 'the son of Colegrim.' In Domesday found as Colegrim, co. York; cf. Coleswain and Colbran, q.v.

Reginald Colegrim, co. Notts, 1273. A. Hugh Colegrim, co. Oxf., ibid.

Coleman, Colman.—Bapt. 'the son of Coleman,' the German form of Columba (Yonge, i. 388). Nov. 1 with Germans is St. Colman's Day. But it is not a later immigration, for Coleman or Colemannus is a Domesday personal name. It is purely English (v. Coulman, a variant).

Robert fil. Colman, 22 Hen. II: Westm. and Cumb. i. 27.

Robert fil. Coleman, 1176: RRR. p. 160. Coleman le Hen, co. Suff., 1273. A. Editha Coleman, co. Oxf., ibid. Martin Coleman, London, ibid. Matilda Colman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 203.

1551. Married—Thomas Tanfelde and Margaret Colman: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 6.

1595. Bapt.—Johane, d. George Coleman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 29. London, 69, 10; Philadelphia, 161, 8.

Coleridge, Coldridge, Coulridge, Colridge.—Local, 'of Coleridge,' a parish in dioc. of Exeter.

Crispianus de Colrigge, co. Devon, 1273. A.

Richard de Colrugge, co. Berks, ibid. London, 3, 0, 0, 0; Teignmouth, 2, 0, 0, 0; Devon Dir. (Farmers' List), 0, 2, 0, 0; Exeter (Coldridge), 1; Newton Abbot, 0, 1, 0, 0; North Bovey (Colridge), 4; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 0, 0.

Colesweyn.—Bapt. 'the son of Colswegen.' In Domesday found as Colsuan, co. Camb. 'Coleswegen and Ivo—that is doubtless Ivo Taillebois—are spoken of as uncles of a nephew of the Countess Lucy' (Freeman, N. C. iii. 779); v. Swain.

Stephen Colesweyn, co. Hunts, 1273. A. William Colsweyn, co. Wilts, ibid. John Colswayn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 212.

Colfox, Colfax, Colefax, Colyfox.—Nick. 'the colfox,' a crafty fellow; lit. 'coal-fox, a fox with black marks'; cf. Stelfox.

'A col-fox, ful of sleigh iniquitee.'

Chaucer, C. T. 1521.

Ricardus Colvox, co. Salop, 1273. A. Thomas Colfox, 1511: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 76.

1550. Buried—Annes Coolefox: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 110.

'Mr. Colefax met Lord Randolph Churchill on the Bradford railway platform': Yorkshire Post, Oct. 27, 1886.

MDb. (co. Dorset), 2, 0, 0, 1; Pudsey (Colefax), 1; New York (Colfax), 3.

Colkin.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Col, and dim. Col-kin; cf. Watkin, Simpkin, &c.

John Colkyn, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R. Hamo Colekyn, co. Kent, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Collard.—Bapt. 'the son of Collard,' an early personal name with Col for prefix (cf. Colbert, Colegrim, Coleman). Found in co. Gloucester as a personal name, it still remains there as a surname.

Colard Hariel, co. Glouc., 1273. A. 1595-6. Nicholas Collard and Margaret Listney: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 229. 1769. Married—Henry Collard and Eliz. Raynard: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 189. London, 7; MDb. (co. Glouc.), 2; New York, 4.

Collarmaker.—Occup. Perhaps a maker of horse-collars.

Willelmus Colermaker, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 74.

Collect.—? Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from the nick. Col, and dim. Col-et or Colette. Found as Colecta in the 14th century. For quotation from Prompt. Parv., v. Colett. I believe the surname is extinct, but it lasted till the close of the 16th century, and is imitative.

Osbert Collecte, co. Norf., 1273. A. Colecta de Rugshawe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 125.

1596. Buried—Richard Collect, Mr. Raymentes man: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 145.

Colledge, College.—Local, 'at the college' (?), from residence in or near some collegiate foundation. I have no actual proof.

John Colledge, of Colne, clothworker, 1639: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 51. 1578. Buried—Gregory Collage, servant to Antony Kellynham: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 195.

1670. Married—Henry Collidge and Alice Wright: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 171. London, 1, 0; MDb. (co. Derby), 1, 0; Manchester, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Collar, Collar.—Occup. 'the collar,' i.e. collier. This was an early form. The following first two instances occur on the same page of the Yorkshire Poll Tax; cf. Lawyer for Lawer, Sawyer for Sawer, &c.

Magota Colyer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 6. Johannes Collar, 1379: ibid.

1803. Married—John Collar and Esther Peas: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 295.

1806. —George Collar and Sarah Eagling: ibid. ii. 348.

London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 3, 17.

Collett, Collette.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Col or Cole, dim. Col-et, often used for a girl's name, and Latinized into Colecta or Coleta. This form lingered on till the 16th century, as the following entry will show:

1523. Robert Sweten and Coleta Gotfery: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 3.

'Colette, propyr name (Collet, P). Colecta': Prompt. Parv. p. 87. See Collect.

'Kytt Cakeler, and Colett Crane, Gylle Fetyse, and Fayr Jane.' Coventry Mysteries.

Colett de Sautre, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Walter Colet, co. Salop, ibid.

Dyonisia Colet, co. Oxf., ibid.

Coleta Elot, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 154. Henricus Tayllour, et Colette uxur ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 127.

Johannes Colet, 1379: ibid. p. 135.

John Colet (1467-1510), dean of St. Paul's, and founder of St. Paul's Schools, was probably born in the parish of St. Antholin, London, where his family resided: Dict. Nat. Biog. i. 321.

This preserves the earlier form.

1495. 'Collet Smyth, wife of Henry Smyth, was buried before St. Catherine's image.' Norwich: FF. iv. 404.

London, 17, 1; Boston (U.S.), 5, 0.

Colley, Collie.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Coll, and dim. Colley; v. Colly and Colls.

'Ran Colle our dogge, and Talbot, and Gerlond': Chaucer, C. T. 15389.

All these are font-names (v. Talbot and Garland). One can scarce help asking the question, that since talbot has come to denominate a particular species of dog, and is taken from the personal name Talbot, why should not colley, another name for a particular species, be taken from Colley, the once familiar substitute for Nicholas? At any rate Chaucer places them together.

Johannes Colly, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 88.
Willelmus Colley, 1379: ibid. p. 17.
1561. Roger Colley and Ellen Anderson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 22.
1778. Married.—John Collie and Mary Hodgson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 291.
London, 8, 2; Boston (U.S.), 8, 1.

Collier, Collyer, Collyear.—Occup. 'the collier,' i.e. a charcoal-burner. '1598, Jan. 8. Buried, a daughter of a collier at Blawith' (Registers, Ulverston). An Act of Parliament (Elizabeth) is entitled, 'An Act that timber shall not be felled to make coals for the burning of iron.' The Psalmist speaks of 'coals of juniper.' Collier is the term still used throughout Furness and along the Duddon for a charcoal burner. The fuel was used in the bloom-smithies. See Ashburner and Bloomer.

Adam Colier, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 233.
Benedictus Colier, 1379: ibid.
John le Collier, C.
Henry le Colyer, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
Robert le Colier, co. Bedf., ibid.
Thomas le Colier, co. Hunts, ibid.
1570. Zachary Collyer and Alice Hawkins: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 47.
London, 42, 23, 1; New York, 25, 7, 0.

Collin, Collins, Collinson, Colling, Collings, Collinge.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Coll or Cole, dim. Col-in (cf. Rob-in, Jen-in, &c.). The g in Colling and Collings is excrement (cf. Jennings). Through careless pronunciation, Collings has become Collinge. v. Cole.

Colinus de Newill, co. Linc., 1273. A.
William fil. Colini, co. York, ibid.
Alan Colin, co. Norf., ibid.
John fil. Colini, co. Suff., ibid.
John Colyns, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 169.
Johannes Colinson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 74.
Johannes Colynson, 1379: ibid. p. 239.
Colin serviens Johann' Vest, 1379: ibid. p. 88.
Colina Charles, co. Norf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
1585. William Inman and Katherine Collyn: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 141.
1682. Married.—Jacob Marsh and Mabella Collins: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 43.
London, 4, 178, 12, 4, 18, 1; New York, 13, 425, 0, 1, 1, 1.

Collingham.—Local, 'of Collingham,' a parish in the W. Rid. Yorks, near Wetherby.

Johannes de Colyngham, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 22.
Thomas de Colyngham, 1379: ibid. p. 223.
1613. Married.—Thomas Smith and Marie Collingham: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 20.
Sheffield, 1; Keighley, 1.

Collingwood.—Local, 'of Collingwood.' This is a Northumberland surname, and it has flourished there for centuries. No doubt the spot so called is in that county, but I have not discovered it.

'Lord Collingwood (1750-1810) was born in Newcastle-on-Tyne, Sept. 26, 1750': Dict. Nat. Biog. xi. 357.

Roger Collingwood (fl. 1513), mathematician, wrote under the name of Carbo-in-ligno! ibid. p. 362.

Robert Collingwoode, co. Durham, 1542: QQQ, p. xx.

Edward Collingwood, co. Linc., 1589: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 175.

1690. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Thomas Collinwood: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 337.
1764. Married.—Edward Collingwood and Mary Hurnby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 129.

London, 14; MDB. (co. Northumberland), 5; Boston (U.S.), 4.

Collis, Collison, Colliss, Collisson.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Col, dim. Colly, patronymic Collys, now Collis, Collison of course being the fuller form (v. Colly). Nevertheless as Pattinson becomes Pattison, so Collinson might become Collison (v. Collin). The origin remains the same.

1574. Thomas Collys and Johanna Chapman: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 60.

1640. Married.—Rafe Colleson and Margere Knight: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 28.

London, 14, 9, 2, 2; Sheffield, 2, 0, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 10, 1, 0, 5; New York, 2, 2, 0, 0.

Collishaw; v. Cowlishaw.

Colls, Colles.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Coll, Col, or Cole (v. Cole), patronymic Colls.

Alan Colle, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Adam Colle, co. Hunts, ibid.
Sweyn Colle, co. Wilts, 20 Edw. I. R.
Cf. Johannes Colson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 168.

Anabilla Coll, 1379: ibid. p. 174.
Colle Badyer, 1379: ibid. p. 282.

1777. Married.—Joseph Colles and Esther Copithorn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 274.
1796. — Joseph Clark and Ann Colles: ibid. p. 60.

'Yesterday, a defence was entered by Mr. P. Coll, Crown Solicitor (Ireland),' &c.: Daily Telegraph, Dec. 8, 1887, p. 5.
London, 8, 0; Crockford, 0, 2; New York, 0, 3.

Collumbell, Collambell.—Bapt. 'the son of Columbelle'; v. Columbine, of which it seems to be a kind of diminutive.

John Columbell, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Thomas Columbell, of Manchester, 1623: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 51.

1763. Married.—David Collumbell and Eliz. Clarke: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 124.

1801. — Nathaniel Collumbell and Amelia Bentley: ibid. p. 238.
Derby, 6, 0; London, 0, 1.

Colly, Collie, Colley.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Col and Cole, dim. Colley, q.v. This form of Nicholas was extremely popular in Yorkshire, judging by the Poll Tax. I furnish but a few instances.

Adam Coly, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 12.
Agnes Coly, 1379: ibid.

Rogerus Coly, 1379: ibid.
Willelmus Colley, 1379: ibid. p. 17.

1561. Roger Colley and Ellen Anderson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 22.
London, 8, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1, 9.

Colnett, Colenutt, Collinette.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Col, and double dim. Col-in-et. Double diminutives are rare in England, common in France; cf. Dobinet and Robinet.

'Hearken awhile from thy green cabinet,
The laurel song of careful Colinet.'
Spenser's Shepherd's Calendar.

Elsewhere in the poem it is Colin.

Colinet de la Mare: Wars of England in France (Henry VI), v. index.
Colinet de Grandchamp: ibid.

Colinette, a French importation, occurs in the London Directory (1884).

1696. Married.—Hussey Collnett and Eliz. Swan: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 49.
London, 1, 0, 0; Leeds, 0, 1, 0.

Colpitts.—Local, 'of the coal-pits,' found, as would naturally be expected, in Newcastle and neighbourhood.

1576-7. Nicholas Colpotts and Katherine Tatham: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 74.

John Colepitts, hoastman, 1729 (epitaph, St. Nicholas, Newcastle-on-Tyne): Braund's Newcastle, i. 385.

George Colpitts, of Killingworth, 1763: ibid. i. 509.

Newcastle, i.

Colson.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Col or Cole, popularly Colley.

Johannes Colleson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 21.

Johannes Colleson, 1379: ibid. p. 57.

Isabel Colson, 1495, co. York. W. 11, p. 161.

John Cowlson, 1512: ibid. p. 179.

1563. Buried—Goodwife Colson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 5.

1579. Richard Richardson and Eliz. Colson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 88.

London, 7; New York, 3.

Colston, Coulston, Coulstone.—Local, (1) 'of Colston,' a parish in co. Notts. The surname early crept into co. York. (2) 'of Coulston,' a parish in co. Wilts, eight miles from Devizes. Edward Colston, merchant and philanthropist, was born at Bristol, 1636 (Dict. Nat. Biog., xi. 406). The surname, with variants, still exists in cos. Wilts, Gloucester, and Somerset.

John de Colston, co. Notts, 20 Edw. I. R. William Colstan, co. York, 1273. A.

Johannes Colstane, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 151.

1575. William Starte and Judith Coldestone: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 65.

1797. Married—Thomas Colston and Susannah Bowra: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 173.

London, 2, o, o; MDB. (co. Somerset), 5, o, o; (Wilts), 1, o, o; (co. Glouc.), 2, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 5, 1, o.

Colt.—Nick. 'the colt'; cf. Bull, Cow, Stag, Buck, &c. For a variant, v. Coult. The sobriquet would readily be affixed on one of frisky, springy action.

'He was all coltish, ful of ragerie.'

Chaucer, C. T. 9721.

Reginald le Colt, co. Salop, 1273. A.

William le Colt, co. Wilts, ibid.

Ranulph Colt, co. Norf., ibid.

Ricardus Colte, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 81.

Thomas Colt, 1379: ibid. p. 83.

Henry le Colt, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay

Subsidy (Kylands), p. 23.

1572-3. Richard Colte and Frances

Dennys: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 55.

1609. Nicholas Colte, rector of Shimpling, co. Norf.: FF. i. 155.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 2.

Coltart.—Occup. 'the colt-herd'; v. Coulthard.

Coltman, Coultman.—Occup. 'the coltman,' a colt-herd (v. Coult-herd); cf. Cowman, Bulman, Hef-ferman.

Geoffrey Coltman, 1313. M. Richard Coltman, 1494, co. York. W. 11.

1703. Married—Thomas Coultman and Margaret Davis: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 52.

1759. — Nathaniel Coltman and Eliz. Taylor: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 90.

London, 6, 1; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 5, 2; Boston (U.S.), 4, o.

Colton.—Local, 'of Colton,' parishes in cos. Norfolk and Stafford; also a township in the parish of Bolton Percy, West Rid. Yorks. Often confounded with Coulton, q.v.

John de Coleton, co. Devon, 1273. A. Henry de Colton, co. Stafford, 20 Edw. I. R.

Willelme de Colton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 215.

Johannes de Colton, 1379: ibid.

Nicholas de Coltone, co. Soms., 1

Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 167.

Thomas de Coltone, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: ibid.

1656. Married—Firman Holton and

Anne Colton: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 32.

London, 2; Sheffield, 5; Boston (U.S.),

24.

Coltson.—(1) Bapt. a variant of Colson, q.v. (2) Local, a variant of Colson, q.v.

1564. Buried—Thomas Coltson: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 189.

London, 2.

Columbine, Cullumbine,

Cullabine.—Bapt. 'the son of Columbine,' 'dove-like' (Yonge, i.

387). Columbina le Noreis (Rot.

Claus., 14 Hen. III). The surname is found at Barnsley, Yorks, as Columbine, and at Sheffield as Cullabine.

1625. William Collenbine and Parnell

Webb: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 158.

1739. Peter Colombine, Norwich: FF.

iii. 452.

1740. Married—Adam Colonbine and Mary Nicholson: St. Mary, Ulverston, ii.

379.

1757. Paul Columbine, rector of Thurl-ton, co. Norf.: FF. viii. 61.

London, 1, o, o; Barnsley, o, 1, o;

Sheffield, o, o, 1.

Colville, Colville, Colvill,

Colwell, Colwill.—Local, 'of Colville.' Lower says, 'There are three places in Normandy called

Colleville. . . . From which of these came William de Colville of Yorkshire, and Gilbert de Collavilla of Suffolk, mentioned in Domesday, is not yet ascertained' (Patr. Brit. p. 66). With Colwell and Colwill, cf. Boswell for Bosville. There is a township named Colwell in the parish of Chollerton, co. Northumberland. But the above is the more probable origin.

Roger de Colevil, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Walter de Coleville, co. Linc., ibid.

Philip de Coleville, co. Linc., ibid.

Roger de Colewell, co. Glouc., ibid.

John de Coleve, co. Camb., ibid.

Philip de Colwil, co. Camb., ibid.

Johannes Colvill, et Magota uxor ejus, tailleur, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 67.

Peter Coleville, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 144.

John Colwelle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

ibid. p. 182.

1642. John Colwell and Mary Chancy:

Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 265.

1739. Married—John Edwards and Hannah Colvill: St. Michael, Cornhill,

p. 68.

London, 1, 1, 2, 2, 2; New York, 4, o,

2, 33, o; Boston (U.S.), 5, o, o, 7, 1.

Colvin, Colven.—Bapt. 'the son of Colvin.' 'Colvin or Colvisus was a Devonshire tenant-in-chief, and held his lands in the reign of Edward the Confessor, and at the making of Domesday' (Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 66). Coffin, which is still found in co. Devon as a surname (v. Coffin), is in many cases but a variant.

1733. Married—Thomas Brewer and Jane Colvin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 261.

London, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 5, o.

Colwell, Colwill; v. Colville.

Combe, Combes, Combs.—Local, 'at the comb,' i.e. the cell or hollow in the hillside. An enormous number of local compounds are based on this word, probably because, being sheltered, habitations were made there. Celtic, cwm, a hollow. Probably, however, the instances below refer to the A.S. camb, the crest of a hill. Combs and Combes have taken s as a suffix, as with many other one-syllabled local surnames; cf. Styles, Brooks, Briggs, Holmes, &c.

John in le Coumbe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 79.
 Gilbert ate Cumbe, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
 John ate Cumbe, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Roger de la Cumbe, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Henry de la Cumbe, co. Soms., ibid.
 John de la Coumbe, co. Glouc., 1280:
 Household Exp., Ric. de Swinfield, Camd. Soc., p. lxxv.
 Robertus Combe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 5.
 Radulphus de Combe, 1379: ibid. p. 6.
 Edmund de la Comb, co. Norf., 16 Edw. I: FF. vii. 347.
 1522. William Combes and Eliz. Walsyngham: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 2.
 1573. John Combe and Sicily Palfreman: ibid. p. 56.
 London, 3, 2, 5; Philadelphia, 1, 4, 16.

Comber, Comer, Cumber.—Occur, 'the comber,' i.e. the wool-comber; cf. Kempster. The early importance of this occupation was bound to create and preserve this surname. Comer drops the b: usually after m the same letter is intrusive; but there is no accounting for these freaks of popular nomenclature.

Richard le Cumber, co. Camb., 1273. A.
 John le Cumber, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Walter le Comber. E.
 1662. Married—Toby Comer and Sarah Parker: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 263.
 1792. — Thomas Comber, clerk, and Eliz. Coote: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 78.
 London, 4, 4, 5; Philadelphia, 13, 3, 0.

Comberbach, Comberbirch.—Local; v. Cumberbatch.

Comfort, Comford, Comport, Comeford.—Local, 'of Comport.' Mr. F. A. Crisp, in one of his collections of pedigrees, clearly shows that the family of Comport was frequently known as Comfort. Nevertheless, Comfort is found so early as the Hundred Rolls of 1273. Therefore in some cases it may be a nickname. But the local derivation is preferable.

Richard Cumfort, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
 William Cumfort, grocer, C. R., 14 Hen. VI.

Mr. Crisp (Fragmenta Genealogica, v. 1) has 'Edward Comport, alias Comfort, of Chiselhurst, co. Kent.' His son was 'Richard Comport, alias Comfort, of Chiselhurst.' It is curious to observe that in the Modern Domesday Book (1875) the county of Kent is represented by one Comfort and four Comports. Hence it is certain that Comfort is in many cases an imitative variant of Comport, or Comford, a local surname.

1665. Married—Abraham Comefort and Katherin Mitchell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 122.

1794. — Edward Edwards and Jane Comport: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 121.
 London, 8, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Kent), 1, 0, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 24, 2, 0, 4.

Commander.—Offic. 'the commander'; cf. commodore. I was surprised, on referring to the London Directory, to find the surname still in existence.

William le Commandur, or Comandur, co. Soms., 1273. A.
 Randolph Comander, of Preston, 1701: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 64.
 Ralph Commander, of Preston, 1744: ibid.

1603. Buried—James Comaunder: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 82.
 1663. Charles Fleetwood, of Feltwell, co. Norf., and Dame Mary Hartoppe, of Newington, co. Middlesex; alleged by Hercules Comander, of St. Faith's, London, gent.: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 76.
 London, 2.

Complin.—Nick. (?). I cannot explain this surname, saving from compline, the last service of the day:
 'Lo whilke a complin is ymell hem alle.'
 Chaucer, C. T. 4169.

The chaplain might get the sobriquet through some forgotten incident.

Katherin Complin, 1690: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 103.

1640. Henry Complyn, vicar of Wittingham, co. Norf.: FF. viii. 307.

1668. Philip Complin and Alice Pardue: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 1.
 London, 1; co. Hants, 3.

Comport; v. Comfort.

Compson.—Local, 'of Compston.' I do not for a moment suppose this is of baptismal origin, or that the final son is the patronymic as in Wilson, Thomson, &c. There is no personal name Com or Comp, nor any pet form of any personal name so formed. No doubt it is a local surname which has dropped the f. I cannot discover the locality, however; cf. Kelson for Kelston. This class is a fairly large one.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Stafford), 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Compton.—Local, 'of Compton,' parishes in cos. Berks, Hants, Surrey, Sussex, Wilts, Dorset, Gloucester, Somerset, &c. Many smaller spots bear the name in various counties.

Edith de Compton, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 128.

Nicholas de Compton, co. Linc., 1273. A.
 Richard de Comton, co. Camb., ibid.

Bartholomew de Compton, co. Wilts, 20 Edw. I. R.

Robert de Compton, co. Linc., ibid.
 Odo de Compton, co. Southampton, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1610. Bapt.—Mary, d. John Compton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 60.

1698. Married—William Compton and Eliz. Hutton: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 47.
 London, 16; Philadelphia, 14.

Comyn, Comyns, Commin, Comins, Cumin, Cumings, Cummin, Cumming, Cummings, Cummins.—? Local, 'de Comines' (?). This is the customary Norman derivation. I find no positive evidence in favour of the view. William Cumine, Lord Chancellor of Scotland, temp. David I, is said to have laid the foundation of what became one of the most influential houses in Scotland (Lower's Patr. Brit.). Whatever be the origin, all the forms here given are variants of the surname Comyn.

Admund le Comyn, co. Norf., 14 Edw. II: FF. ix. 435.

Florentina Comin, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Peter Comyn, co. Wilts, ibid.

Stephen Comyng, co. Essex, ibid.

Thomas Comyn, co. Glouc., ibid.

Alexander Comyn, co. Oxf., 20 Edw. I. R.

David Comyn, co. Northumb., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

William Cumyn, co. Wilts, ibid.

1642. Bapt.—Sarah, d. Christopher Cummins: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 153.

1698. Robert Comins and Mary Henley: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 323.

1708. John Comyns and Eliz. Court-hope: ibid. p. 337.

1764. Married—Thomas Hendy and Mary Cumming: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 131.

London, 3, 1, 1, 1, 4, 2, 20, 8, 16; New York, 1, 0, 0, 3, 0, 2, 0, 25, 124, 20.

Conan, Conant, Connant, Connand, Conning, Connon.—Bapt. 'the son of Conan,' an early legendary name (v. Yonge, ii. 82). No doubt more modern representatives of this name would be found in our directories had not Conan as a surname got confused with the more ecclesiastical Cannon or Canon. The final t and d in Conant and Conand are, of course, excrescences.

Conon Bardoul was ninth Abbot of Furness (circa 1185): West's Antiquities of Furness, p. 84.

Conan de Kirketun, co. Linc., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Conan le Mire, Hen. III. T.

Conan Piscator, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Petronilla fil. Conayn, co. Linc., ibid.

William Conayn, co. Linc., ibid.

Henry fil. Conani, co. York, ibid.

Robert Connand et uxor ejus, 1379:

P. T. Yorks. p. 233.

Adam Conand, 1379: P. T. Howden-

shire, p. 22.

Conon d'Ask, co. York, 1391: DDD.

i. 51.

Robert Beste, chaplain to chantry, St.

John Gateshead, on the presentation of the patron, Conane Barton, Esq., 1496:

Brand's Hist. Newcastle-on-Tyne, i. 492.

As a personal name Conan lingered on till the close of the 15th century. It is also interesting to notice that in the two counties (York and Lincoln) where we find the personal name was once in use we see the surname flourishing to-day.

Cunan Metcalf, 1501: PPP. p. 3.

1788. Married—Michael Conon and

Mary Ann Budd: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 15.

Conning was an inevitable variation:

1775. Married—John Coning and Mary

Freer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 251.

1806. — Thomas Conning and Maria

Adey: ibid. ii. 357.

MDb. (co. Lincoln), o, 3, 1, o, o, o;

New York, 1, 14, o, o, o, o; MDb.

(North Rid. Yorks.), Conning, 2; Dewsbury (co. York), Connon, 1.

Conder.—Occur, 'the conder,' one who signals to boats from a height the direction taken by shoals of herring or pilchards; from con, to con, to observe closely. For intrusive d, cf. Pinner and Pinder, ribbon and riband, Simmons and Simmonds. 'Conders (of a ship), those who cond or give direction to the steersman for guiding or governing of a ship' (Bailey, 1737). An Act, 1 James I, c. xxiii, says, 'persons called Balcors, Huors,

Condors, Directors, or Guidors, at the fishing tymes . . . have used to watch and attend upon the high hilles and groundes near adjoining to the sea coast . . . for the givinge notice to the fishermen.'

1658. Bapt.—Francis, sonne of Francis Conder: Canterbury Cathedral, p. 11.

1714. Married—Samuel Conder and Esther Carpenter: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 42.

London, 2; MDb. (West Rid. Yorks), 4.

Conelly.—Local, 'of Conely,' not Irish, but English, with termination in ley; cf. Coneybeare in the same district. Conelly probably means the meadow frequented by coneys, i.e. rabbits.

Henry Conely, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 237.

John Conely, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

ibid.

London, 7; New York, 2.

Coney.—Nick, 'the coney,' i.e. rabbit; cf. Hare. 'Cony, cuniculus' (Prompt. Parv.).

Griffin Cony, co. Hereford, Hen. III—

Edw. I. K.

Richard Conni, co. Salop, 1273. A.

John Conay, co. Hunts, ibid.

Henry Coney, of Ditton, 1592: Wills

at Chester (1545–1620), p. 43.

Grace Coney, of Halsall, widow, 1595:

ibid.

1855. Bapt.—Sara, d. Thomas Conny:

St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 17.

1794. Married—Samuel Coney and Eliz. Mills: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 109.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 2.

Coneybeare, Coneybeer,

Conibear, Connabear, Conni-

bear, Connibeer, Conybear,

Conibear.—Local, 'of Collibear,' a hamlet in the parish of Tawstock, co. Devon. The change from l to n is common; cf. bannister and balus-

ter. This is a familiar Devonshire name. The suffix is very common in local names in that district; cf.

Phillimore and Finamore.

1690. John Conybeare and Grace Wil-cock: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office),

p. 197.

1757. Married—Richard Colliher and

Ann Vitty: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 69.

Devon County Dir. (Farmers' List),

1, 1, 1, 1, 1, 2, 1, 0; London (Conibear), 1.

Congreve, Congreave.—Local, 'of Congreave.' I cannot find the spot; cf. M.E. coni, a rabbit;

M.E. grave, probably a woodland avenue, graved, or cut out of the forest (v. Greaves).

'William Congreve (1670–1729), the dramatist, was born at Bardsey, near Leeds. The family had long been settled at Stretton, co. Stafford': Dict. Nat. Biog. xii. 6.

Mark Conigrave, or Cunygrave, 1556: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 233.

1667. John Congrave and Eliz. Orton: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 216.

1789. Married—Thomas Congreve and

Mary Oades: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 17.

London, 2, 0; MDb. (co. Stafford),

0, 1; New York, 3, 0.

Coning.—Bapt. 'the son of Conan,' sometimes Conayn and Coning; v. Conan.

Nicholas fil. Coning, 1273. A.

Michael Conning, W. 20.

Peter Conyng, P.

Nicholas Conyng, H.

Coningham.—(1) Local, 'of Coningham,' a parish in the dioc. of St. Albans. To be carefully distinguished from Cunningham, q.v.

Robert de Coningham, London, 1273. A.

(2) Local, 'of Conisholme,' a parish in dioc. of Lincoln, formerly Coningholm as well as Conisholm.

Alan de Coningholm, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Alan de Coningesholm, co. Linc., 20

Edw. I. R.

Coningholm is several times the surname of this same Alan in the Hundred Rolls. In a general way (1) must be looked upon as the home of the Coninghams of to-day.

1781. Married—Thomas Coningham and Ann Seager: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 326.

London, 5.

Coningsby, Conisbee, Collisbe, Conigsby.—Local, 'of Coningsby,' a parish in co. Lincoln, eight miles from Horncastle.

Conisbee is a manifest variant. In the neighbouring county of Notts,

Conisbee has become Collisbe; cf.

bannister and baluster, n for l or l for n being common in nomenclature.

Christopher Conynsby, co. Norf.: FF.

ix. 156.

Amphelicia Conynsby, co. Norf., temp.

Hen. VII: ibid. ii. 180.

John Conysby, co. Norf., 36 Hen. VIII:

ibid. viii. 329.

1563. Buried—Humphrey Conysbye:

St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 187.

1586. Married—William Tynmarke and Bennet Conesby; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 12.

Thus it is clear that Conisbee is a variant at least 350 years old; cf. Applebee for Appleby.

London, 2, 2, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Notts), 0, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 0, 1.

Conner; v. Cuner.

Connington.—Local, 'of Connington,' parishes in cos. Camb. and Hunts. My first instance shows that there is or was a Connington in co. York.

William de Conyngton in Cravene, 12 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 33.

Robert de Conynton, co. Camb., 1273. A. Robert de Conintone, co. Bedf., ibid. William de Coniton, co. Camb., ibid. John de Conitone, co. Hunts, ibid.

Connop.—Local, 'of Conhope,' a township in the parish of Aymestrey, co. Hereford, four miles from Pembridge. The surname is still distinctly a Herefordshire one.

1776. Married—Joseph Eeles and Sarah Connop; St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 268. London, 1; MDB. (co. Hereford), 7.

Conquerant, Conqueror, Conquest.—Nick, 'the conqueror,' one who was champion in wrestling, &c.; cf. Campion or Champion.

Robert Conqueraunt, co. Oxf., 1273. A. William Conqueror, London, ibid. William Conquestor, co. Wilts, ibid.

Conquest.—? Local, 'de la Conquest' (?), from residence on some estate won by fighting. I can suggest no other derivation (v. Conquerant). Lower says, 'Houghton-Conquest, co. Bedford, derives its suffix from the family who were possessors of it before 1298' (Patr. Brit. p. 67). Conquest is still a Bedfordshire surname.

John Conquest, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R. Alicia Conquest, co. Bedf., ibid. 1630. Robert Remington and Catherine Conquest; Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 200.

1724. Married—John Conquest and Mary Rivington; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 250.

London, 5; MDB. (co. Bedford), 1; Philadelphia, 4.

Considine, Cossentine.—Bapt, 'the son of Constantine,' corrupted through Cossentine; cf. Consterdine. In Cornwall and Devon, where both forms are known, Constantine was a favourite font-name in the past, as the registers of St. Columb Major fully prove.

Cornwall Dir. (Farmers' List), 0, 3; New York, 8, 0.

Constable.—Offic. 'the constable,' a peace-officer. O.F. constable.

'And comaunded a constable.'

Piers P. 1278.

Margareta Constabile, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 105.

Ricardus Constabularius, 1379: ibid. P. 79.

John le Conestable. B. Robert le Conestable. G.

Jordan Constabul', co. Northumb., 1273. A.

Clemens le Conestable, co. Norf., ibid.

William Constable, co. Kent, ibid.

1617. Married—Robert Constable and Jane Record; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 44.

1639-40. Marmaduke Constable and Anne Davies; Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 247.

London, 12; Philadelphia, 8.

Constance.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Constantine,' popularly Constan. With the patronymic s this became Constans, and then Constance; v. Costain. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Constance,' popularly Custance, q.v. Constance was often a boy's name.

1568. Bapt.—Constance, s. William Frenshe; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 4.

1629. 'Petition of Captain Constance Ferrar for losses at Cape Bretun': Cal. State Papers (Colonial).

1665. 'Communication from Constance Pley to the Commissioners in relation to the arrival of a convoy': ibid. (Home).

1792. Married—George Medley and Eliz. Constance; St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 84. London, 3.

Constantine.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Constantine'; M.E. Constantyn. The name was decidedly popular, and as a surname is found also in the forms of Consterdine, Cossentine, and Considine, q.v. Costain (q.v.) was the nick. form.

'Shal fynden a Keye of Costantyns cofres': Piers P. 6254-5.

Johanna Constantine, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Nicholas Costentin, co. Hunts, ibid.

Geoffrey Costentin, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.

Constantinus Walker, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 147.

Johannes Costantyn, 1379: ibid. p. 240.

(2) Local, 'of Constantine,' a village and parish near Falmouth, co. Cornwall.

Thomas de Costantin, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Roger de Costantyn, co. Salop, ibid.

1702. Bapt.—'John Constantine, whose mother fell in labour in the street': St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 160.

London, 3; Sheffield, 5; West Rid. Court Dir., 5; New York, 6.

Consterdine.—Bapt. 'the son of Constantine.' Consterdine is found in cos. Lancashire and Yorkshire, where Constantine or Costantine was chiefly popularized. I do not think there can be any question on the subject. Consterdine must be regarded as a variant of Constantine.

Manchester, 2; Philadelphia, 3.

Converse.—Nick, 'the convert,' one who had become an adherent of the Church, one who had submitted to Church ordinances.

Roger le Convers, co. Glouc., 1273. A.

Richard Conversus, co. York, ibid.

John le Convers, co. Norf., ibid.

Dionise le Convers, co. Camb., ibid.

1638-6. Joseph Mann, gent., of Sudbury, Suffolk, and Mary Essex, of East Merse, co. Essex... John Convers, of Pelden, attests consent of Richard Essex, his brother-in-law: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 225.

1691. Robert Brissenden and Livewell Convers; Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 192.

Boston (U.S.), 27.

Conway.—Local, 'of Conway,' one of the few Welsh towns that have originated a surname. In the United States this name has ramified in a most extraordinary manner. Aron Conway was settled in Virginia in 1623 (Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 179). The forms of the name in Hotten's Lists are Conaway, Conoway, and Conway (v. index); cf. Greenaway and Ottaway for Greenway and Otway.

1561. Bapt.—John, s. Rowland Connyway; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 1.

1584. Married—John Conaway and Catherine Bramgan; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 11.

1612. Thomas Conway and Barbara Burt; Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 13.

1625. John Conaway and Grace Temperance (sic); ibid. p. 156.

1629. Bapt.—Eliz., d. John Conoway; St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 120.

London, 21; Philadelphia, 210.

Conyers.—Local, 'de Coigniers.' Lower says that 'Roger de Coigniers came into England about the end of the reign of William the Conqueror, to whom the Bishop of Durham gave the constableness of Durham. The family gave the suffix to Howton Coigniers, co. York' (Patr. Brit. p. 68).

Adam le (sic) Conyers, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Robert le (sic) Conyers, co. Suff., 20
Edw. I. R.

1693. Married—John Barrett and Sarah
Coniers: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 213.

1799. — John Barker and Caroline
Conyers: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 197.
London, 3; Philadelphia, 8.

Cooch.—A manifest variant of Gooch, q.v.; cf. Candlin, Cammel, and Crane (2).

London, 1; MDB. (co. Hunts), 2;
Boston (U.S.), 1.

Coode; v. Coad.

Cook, Cooke.—Occup. 'the cook,' one who baked pies, &c., for sale.

'Brewsters, Bakers, Bochers, and Cooks,' Piers Plowman.
'Drovers, cokes, and pulthers,
Yermongers, pybakers, and wafers.'
Cocke Lorelle's Bote.

The Corpus Christi Play (York) styles them 'Cukes'; the Norwich
Play includes them among the 'Vintners, Brewers, Hostlers, and Inkeapers.' An ordinance passed
2 Ric. II styles them Cooks and Pastelers (v. my English Surnames, 3rd edit. p. 365). Coke (q.v.) is an early form. Every early register teems with the name.

John Cocus, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Alexander Cocus, co. York, ibid.
Emma Coca, co. Camb., ibid.
Matthew Cocus, co. Oxf., ibid.
Roger le Cook, temp. 1300. M.
1611. Bapt.—Rachael, d. John Cooke:
St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 94.
1631-2. Married—Edmund Shoard and Dorothee Cooke: ibid. p. 23.
London, 193, 89; Boston (U.S.), 273, 29.

Cooker.—(1) Local; v. Coker.
(2) Occup.; v. Cocker. This variant is now only found in the States, but it is preserved in English registers. The more likely origin is (1).

1797. Married—Samuel Cooker and Eliz. Lipscombe: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 174.
Philadelphia, 10.

Cookman.—Occup.; v. Cock-man.

Cooks.—Occup. 'the son of the cook'; v. Cook and Cookson; cf.
Wills and Wilson, Sims and Simson, Watts and Watson, &c. It is not often an occupative name takes the patronymic as if it were a personal name, but sometimes such is the case; cf. Taylorson, Clarkson, Widdowson; v. next article.

1589. William Cookes and Ann Jennets: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 183.

1800. Married—William Cookes and Mary Cheetham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 420.
London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Cookson, Cuckson.—Nick.
'the cook's son'; cf. Taylorson,
Wrightson, Smithson, Clarkson. It seems absolutely impossible to distinguish between Cookson and Cockson (or Coxon), they have been so inextricably mixed for centuries (v. Cocks). Cuckson is a Yorkshire variant of Cookson. It is interesting to note that 'Cukes' is the style given to the Cooks'
Company in the York Pageant
(1415); v. my English Surnames,
3rd edit. p. 416.

William fil. Coci, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Robert fil. Coci, co. Suff., ibid.
Thomas Cokson, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 275.

Henry Cukeson, 1457, co. York. W. II.
1577. Bapt.—Anne Cukeson: St. Jas.
Clerkenwell, i. 10.

1735. Married—Thomas Cookson and Margaret Robinson: St. Geo. Han. Sq.
i. 16.

London, 9, 0; New York, 1, 1;
Sheffield, 0, 2.

Coombe, Coombes, Coombs,
Coomes.—Local; v. Combe and Combes, of which they are variants.

1789. Married—Benjamin Coomes and Eliz. Hayward: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 27.

1794. — Samuel Coombs and Jane
Ann Vanderkeer: ibid. p. 112.

1798. — Thomas Coombe and Ann
Lowe: ibid. p. 191.

1800. John Coombes and Mary Curtis:
ibid. p. 216.

London, 4, 19, 17, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0,
3, 35, 1.

Coomber, Comber.—Occup.
'the comber'; v. Comber, a variant;
cf. Coombe for Combe.

1765. Married—Caleb Coomber and
Isabella Swafford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 150.

1792. Married—John Ball and Mary
Coomer: ibid. ii. 75.
London, 6, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Coope, Coop.—Local, 'at the cope'; v. Cope.

1569-70. Buried—Eliz. Coupe: St. Jas.
Clerkenwell, iv. 10.

1888. Bapt.—John, s. Edward Coope:
ibid. i. 20.

1657. Married—Mathew Coope and Rachael Tall: Reg. Canterbury Cath.,
p. 58.

1765. — John Chadwick and Susanna
Coope: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 143.
London, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 2.

Cooper, Couper.—Occup. 'the cooper,' a maker of tubs, casks, &c.; v. Cowper. A common and early trade-name leaving many descendants.

Alan le Cupere, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Henry le Cupper, co. Notts, ibid.
Richard le Cupare, co. Oxf., ibid.
Jordan le Cupere, co. Oxf., ibid.
Willelmus Couper, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 5.

Willelmus Milner, couper, 1379: ibid.
p. 14.

Robert Cupper, bailiff of Yarmouth,
1425: FF. xi. 324.

1607. Married—William Cooper and Winifred Cope: St. Michael, Cornhill,
p. 18.

London, 275, 4; New York, 213, 0.

Cooperson.—Occup. 'the son of the cooper'; cf. Taylorson, Wrightson, Smithson.

The Rev. Timothy Cooperson was vicar of Broughton-in-Furness, 1749-77:
Register of Broughton Church.

Cope.—Local, 'at the cope,' from residence at the summit, or cope of the hill, or eminence; cf.
Copestake and Copeland, and v.
Copp.

1574. Buried—Joane Cope: St. Antholin
(London), p. 23.

1612. Bapt.—Mary, d. John Cope: St.
Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 64.

London, 27; Philadelphia, 86.

Copeland, Copland, Coup-land.—Local, 'of Coupland,' a township in the parish of Kirk
Newton, co. Northumberland. With Copland, cf. Copp. I believe a large tract of country in Cumberland also bore this name. The forms of the surname in the Ulverston registers are Copeland, Coupland, Cowpland, Cawpland, and Cape-land. I suspect they represent the Cumberland locality. John de

Coupland was the hero of the battle of Neville's Cross in 1346. He took David Bruce prisoner. No doubt he represented the Northumberland township.

David de Couplond, co. Northumb., 20 Edw. I. R.

Johannes de Coupeland', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 47.

1611. Married—William Cawland and Jeneta Colton: St. Mary, Ulverston, p. 111.

1617. Henry Cowpland or Copeland, of Hornby: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 78.

1619. Bapt.—James, s. James Copland: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 84.

London, 15, 6, 5; Boston (U.S.), 49, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 30, 0, 3.

Copestake, Copestick, Copstick, Capstick, Capstack.—Local, 'at the copstake,' the post on the top of the round hill or mound; cob or cop, a summit. 'Cop, a mound, a bank, a heap. North' (Halliwell); cf. copingstone. The name is North English, and has undergone several corruptions, of which Capstick is the commonest; cf. Cape and Cope, Roper and Raper.

Johannes Copstake, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 288.

Robertus Cowpstone, 1379: ibid.

Ingrene Caupstake, 1379: ibid.

John Cobstake, circa 1440, co. York. W. 2.

Thomas Capstack, vicar of Ash, 1783: DDD. ii. 337.

Edward Capstack, 1791, vicar of Gill, Barnoldswick.

1729. Married—John Capstack and Eliz. Haynes: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 297.

1749. — William Copestick and Dorothy Hewit: ibid. p. 149.

1800. — George Copestick and Sophia Findlow: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 219.

London, 1, 2, 0, 0, 0; Manchester, 1, 0, 0, 1, 0; Preston, 0, 1, 2, 2, 0; Halifax (Capstack), 1; Sedburgh, 0, 0, 7, 0, 0; New York (Copstick), 1; Philadelphia, 0, 5, 0, 1, 0.

Copinger, Coppinger.—? I cannot get at the derivation of this surname. Mr. Lower's suggestion is ridiculous: 'The more probable derivation is from coppin, which Halliwell defines as "a piece of yarn taken from the spindle." A Coppinger was then, perhaps, in mediaeval times, one who had the care of yarn, or who produced it' (!!!): Patr. Brit. p. 68.

Adam Copinger, 1643: Reg. St. Dionis Backchurch, London, p. 107.

Henry Copinger, co. Norf., 1573: FF. i. 460.

1580. Edward Becher and Frances Coppinger, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 97.

1661. Buried—Frances, d. Gideon Coppinger: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 339. London, 1, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 3.

Copleston, Copelstone, Copplestone.—Local, 'of Copelstone,' a hamlet in the parish of Colebrook, co. Devon.

Hugo de Copelaston, co. Devon, 1273. A. 1577. John Copelstone and Alice Wood: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 75.

Lewis Copelstone, co. Devon, 1607: Oriel Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 294.

1662. Buried—Winifride, d. Sir John Copplestone: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 346.

London, 0, 1, 0; Crookford, 6, 0, 0; Devon Dir. (Farmers' List), 0, 1, 3.

Copley.—Local, 'of Copley,' a hamlet in the township of Skircoat, in the parish of Halifax. Sir Godfrey Copley (d. 1709), founder of the Copley medal, was a Yorkshireman. The portrait-painter, John Singleton Copley, father of Lord Lyndhurst, came of a Yorkshire family who had settled in Ireland in 1661 (v. Dict. Nat. Biog. xii. 177).

Robertus de Coplay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 282.

Johannes de Copelay, 1379: ibid. p. 6.

Willelmus de Copelay, 1379: ibid. p. 54.

Lionel Coppeley, C. R., 21 Hen. VI.

1792. Married—Robert Montagu and Mary Eliz. Copley (of Bath): St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 76.

London, 9; West Rid. Court Dir., 8; Sheffield, 13; New York, 5.

Copner.—Nick, 'the copener,' i.e. a lover, a sweetheart; cf. Drury or Drewry. 'Copiner, a lover, A.S.' (Halliwell). The surname still exists in co. Devon, where it can be traced back for six centuries.

Richard le Copenere, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Richard le Copener, co. Devon, 1273. A. William Capenor, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 238.

1613. Married—John Cobnor and Catherine Jenkins: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 39.

1726. — Andrew Downes and Mary Copner: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 3.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Devon), 1; Barnstaple, 1; Ilfracombe, 1.

Copp.—Local, 'at the copp,' from residence at the top or copp of the hill, or eminence. 'Coppe:

top of an hey thyng; cacumen' (Prompt. Parv.). Way adds an important note (q.v.), and quotes the Wickliffite version of Luke iv. 29, 'And they led him to the coppe of the hil . . . to cast him down'; cf. Mow Copp, a parish in East Cheshire.

1331. John de la Coppe, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 471.

Richard de la Coppe, rector of Oxburgh, 4 Edw. III: ibid. vi. 190.

Roger Coppe, co. Dorset, 1273. A.

Richard Coppe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 175.

1753. Married—John Rider and Eliz. Copp: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 241.

London, 4; New York, 3.

Copped, Coppard.—Nick, 'the copped,' i.e. with the high-peaked hat. 'Long coats and copped caps' (Sandys' Travels, p. 47). 'High copt hats, and feathers flaunt a flaunt' (Gascoigne, p. 216). 'A little copped hill' (Fabyan, i. 123). 'Copt Hall, more properly Copped Hall, was a name popularly given to houses conspicuous for a high-pitched peaked roof'; cf. Cophall Court, Throgmorton St., London; Cophall, Epping, &c. I gather the above from Mr. Venable's letter to N. and Q., Oct. 23, 1886, pp. 334-5; v. Copestake.

Henry Coppehude, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 206.

Robert Coppehude, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 207.

Hugo le Coppede, co. Leicester, 1273. A.

John le Copede, 1307. M.

London, 0, 3; MDB. (co. Sussex), 0, 7.

Coppendale.—Local; seemingly a variant of Chippendale, q.v.

1786. Married—John Dalby and Mary Coppendale: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 392.

London, 2.

Copper.—Occur. 'the cooper.'

Other forms are Cowper and Couper, q.v. The first two following names are entered together:

William le Coupper, 24 Edw. I: Freeman of York (Surtees Soc.), i. 6.

John de Kendale, copper, 24 Edw. I: ibid.

John le Coppar, of Bradleghe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 231.

John le Coppare, of Lottesham, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Robert le Copper, C. R., 45 Edw. III. 1747. Married—William Copper and Hannah Maples: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 86.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Copperbeard.—Nick. 'with the copper-coloured beard'; v. Brownbeard, Blackbeard, &c.

Robert Coperberd. N. (v. index).

Copperwheat.—Local, 'of Cowperthwaite'; v. Cowperthwait, a variant. Almost all the surnames ending in thwaite hail from North England, especially from cos. Cumberland and Westmoreland, and the Furness portion of Lancashire. This suffix has ever been too big a mouthful in the south; cf. Applewhite for Applethwaite, or Hebblewhite for Hebblethwaite.

1591. Married—William Copperthert and Magdalen Furnes: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 16.

1597-8. Beve Cooperthwaite and Margaret Croke: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 246.

1667. Married—Walter Cowperthwaite and Isabell Townson: St. Mary, Ulverston, i. 150.

Edward Cowperthwaite, of Cartmell, 1647: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 78.

Henry Cowperthwaite, of Cartmell, 1673: ibid.

1762. Married—James Denney and Sarah Cowperthwaite: St. Mary, Ulverston, ii. 405.

1767. — John Stanley and Martha Copperthite: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 181.

1770. — Edward Elliott and Sarah Copperthite: ibid. p. 200.

London, 1.

Coppin, Coppen, Copping, Coppins, Coppens.—Bapt. 'the son of Copin,' i.e. Jacob. An early French equivalent of Italian Coppo, the nick. of Jacob, dim. Coppin; cf. Rob-in, Col-in, &c. The g in Copping is, of course, an excrescence; cf. Jenning for Jenin.

Copin, or Copyn, or Jacob de Troye, London, 1273. A.

Hervens Copin, co. Camb., ibid.

Ivo Copin, co. Camb., ibid.

Alexander Copping, co. Norf., ibid.

Richard Copping, co. Hunts, ibid.

Cf. Jacop de Painton, co. Linc., ibid.

Richard Copyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 228.

Johannes Copyn, flecher, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 155.

Robert Coppin, rector of Hethel, co. Norf., 1468: FF. v. 109.

'John Coppin, or Copping (died 1582), Brownist, was an inhabitant of Bury St. Edmunds': Dict. Nat. Biog. xii. 191.

This is the district where the name was popular; v. instances above.

London, 8, 6, 12, 2, 0; New York, 1, 0, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 1, 2, 1.

Coppinger; v. Copinger.

Copple, Coppell, Coppel.—Local, 'of Coppull,' a township and parish near Chorley, co. Lanc.

Henry de Cophull, of Ormskirk, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 109.

John de Cophull, of Coppehull, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 49.

Elizabeth Taylor, of Coppul, widow, 1593: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 188.

Richard Copple, of Aintree, parish of Septon, 1606: ibid. p. 44.

Paul Copple, of Kirkdale, 1607: ibid.

Edward Standanought, of Copple, 1619: ibid. p. 181.

Liverpool, 1, 1, 1; Manchester, 0, 1, 0; New York, 0, 1, 2.

Coppock, Coppack, Coppak, Coppick, Coppuck.—? Local, 'of Coppock' (?), probably some small estate in East Cheshire. The surname with its variants is confined to that district and South Lancashire. Thomas Coppock, the Jacobite and pretended Bishop of Carlisle, who was drawn, hanged, and quartered in that city in 1746, was a native of Manchester; while James Coppock (1798-1857), the famous electioneering agent, and one of the founders of the London Reform Club, was born at Stockport (v. Dict. Nat. Biog. xii. 193).

Thomas Coboke, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 177.

William Coppock, of Mollington, tailor, 1597: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 44.

Jane Coppock, of Nether Peover, 1603: ibid.

In a deed concerning some rights and privileges belonging to a ferry in the township of Northenden, dated 1539, one of the witnesses is Geoffrey Coppock (East Cheshire, i. 268).

1759. Married—William Coppack and Margaret Dewick: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 85.

This surname has crossed the Atlantic.

Manchester, 5, 1, 1, 0, 0; London, 1, 0, 1, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0, 4.

Copson.—Bapt.; v. Cobb.

Corbett, Corbitt, Corbet.—

? Local. Said to be of Norman extraction. Lower says (quoting Courthope's Debreit), 'Corbet, a noble Norman, came into England with the Conqueror, and from his son Roger Corbet descended the baronial house, as well as the families of the name now existing' (Patr. Brit. p. 68).

Peter Corbet, co. Devon, 1273. A.

Alianor Corbet, co. Bucks, ibid.

Felicia Corbet, co. Hunts, ibid.

There are many other entries relating to the family in the above register.

Nicholas Corbet, co. Northampton, 20 Edw. I. R.

Richard Corbit, co. Warwick, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1581. Married—Francis Quicke and Marie Corbite: St. Dionis Backchurch, P. 9.

1599. — Richard Lee and Anne Corbett: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 16.

London, 27, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 71, 0, 1.

Corbin, Corbyn.—Local, 'of Corbin.' I cannot identify the place. Evidently a West-country surname.

Petrus de Corbyn, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Philip Corbin, co. Devon, ibid.

Walter Corbin, co. Soms., 1273. A.

Ralph Corbin, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Corbyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 111.

1700. Married—Simon Corbin and Jane Bendall: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 49.

1717. — Christopher Bond and Rachell Corbin: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 59.

1808. — Garrard Corbyn and Harriet Dowding: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 394.

London, 0, 2; MDB. (co. Dorset), 1, 0; Philadelphia, 13, 2.

Corbishley.—Local. A place in the parish of Wilmshole, co. Cheshire, mentioned circa 1200 (v. infra), 'together with the hamlets of Styhale, Curbicheleg, and Northcliffe' (Earwaker's East Cheshire, i. 42). 'From this place a family named Curbishley, resident in this township for many generations, derived their name' (ibid. p. 138).

Adam de Curbicheley, c. 1300: Earwaker's East Chesh. i. 138.

Hugh Curbychley, of Stiall, 1527: ibid.

Arthur Curbishley, of Stiall, yeoman, 1598: ibid.

1751. Married—James Corbishley and Jane Bradshaw: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 283.

London, 1; Manchester, 1.

Corbold, -bould; v. Cobbold.

Corbridge, Corbridge.—Local, 'of Corbridge,' a parish in the union of Hexham, co. Northumberland.

Henry de Corbrig, mercator, 4 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 14. Sheffield, 1, 1; Doncaster, 1, 0.

Corby.—Local, 'of Corby,' parishes in cos. Lincoln and Northampton.

Alan de Corby, co. Linc., 1273. A. Henry de Corby, co. Leic., ibid. Osbert de Coreby, co. Linc., ibid. 1591. Married—Thomas Corby and Friswede Rich: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 15.

1757. — Thomas Corby and Ann Sparrow: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 68. London, 10; New York, 4.

Corbyn, Carbine, Corbin.—(1) Local, 'of Corbyn,' probably a Norman locality. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Corbin.' Unquestionably there are two origins.

Milo de Corbyn, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Petrus Corbyn, co. Devon, ibid. Walter Corbyn, co. Soms., 1273. A. Margery Corbin, co. Camb., ibid. Ralph Corbin, co. Oxf., ibid. 'Robert, son of Corbin, had a grant of a lordship.' 'Corbin also had the grant of 10 acres of land': FF. x. 168.

'Robert, son of Corbutio, or Fitz-Corbin, held it': ibid. v. 189. (Corbutio, or Corbon, occurs: ibid. viii. 65.)

1616. Married—John Baker and Margaret Corbin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 43. London, 2, 2, 0; Crockford, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 13.

Cordeaux, Cordukes, Cordeux, Corduke.—? Local.

1779. Married—Matthew Cordeux and Susanna Dodd: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 306. York, 1, 2, 0; London, 1, 0, 2, 0; New York, 0, 0, 0, 1.

Corderoy, Cordery, Cordrey, Cordaroy, Corderey.—Local, 'of the Ropery.' While there is every temptation to fall in with Mr. Lower's statement that Corderoy is 'Cœur-du-roi, king-hearted,' there is no evidence to support it. In fact the name is local, being, I presume, the French corderie, a rope-walk; cf. Pommery and Pomeroy, or Cowdroy and Cowdrey.

John de la Corderie, 21 Edw. I: BBB. p. 465.

Peter de Corderoy, 1297. M. Emma Querderay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 128.

John Corderoy, 1440. W. 11. John Cordrey, 1531: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 165.

William Corderoy, married, 1719-20: St. Dionis Backchurch, London.

1577. Married—William Wytlye and Anne Cordrye: St. Michael Cornhill, p. 11. 1692. Buried—Philip, s. Philip Corderoy: ibid. p. 273.

London, 5, 2, 5, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 5, 1, 0, 1.

Cordiner, Cordner, Codner.—Occup. 'the cordwainer,' i.e. shoemaker, one who made shoes of Cordovan leather. 'Sowtare, or cordewaner (cordynare), sutor, alutarius': Prompt. Parv.

Alan le Cordewaner, London, 1273. A. Stephen le Corduwaner, co. Norf., ibid. Hugh le Cordewener, co. Camb., p. 194. Durant le Cordwaner, 1295. M.

1503. 'Item, to Rutte, the Quene's cordener, for shoys and buskins, &c.': Privy P. Exp., Elizabeth of York, p. 85.

'Item, received of John Bent, and John Davies, cordiner, for one pew, 2 shillings': Churchwardens' Expenses, Ludlow, p. 184 (Camden Soc.).

Robert Browne, cordoner, 1539: PPP. ii. 174.

Richard Cordoner, 1539: ibid. Richard Kyrkus, sordoner, 1539: ibid. p. 194.

As an occupative term 'cordwainer' is only just dying out. Both 'souter' and 'cordwainer' occur in the following entry:

Robertus Souter, cordewenar, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 41.

Robert Hornecluf, cordynar, 1543: Freeman of York, i. 264.

London, 0, 0, 4; Philadelphia, 0, 2, 0.

Cordingley, Cordingly.—Local, 'of Cordonley.' I have not discovered the precise spot, but we may fairly assume that it was some small estate situated in the West Riding of Yorkshire. The instance below from the Poll Tax (1379) occurs at Bowling, near Bradford.

Ricardus de Cordonlay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 185.

1795. Married—Jacob Bateman and Mary Cordingley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 133.

1803. — Hubert Bushby and Ann Cordingley: ibid. p. 290.

West Rid. Court Dir., 4, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 2.

Cordwin, Corden, Cording, Cordin.—Local, 'the Cordovan,' an emigrant from Cordova, in Spain; v. Cordiner. It is very probable that Corden and Cording (with excrement g) are variants. 'His shoon of Cordewane,' Chaucer, Sire Thopas.

Lambert Cordewan, co. Oxf., 1273. A. 1588. Married—William Corden and Jone Malyn: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 237.

1612. Henry Cordywen and Alice Tuckwell: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 13.

1796. Married—John Hammond and Martha Cordwin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 145.

London, 0, 2, 2, 0; New York, 0, 0, 0, 1.

Corker.—Occup. 'the calker,' one who calked tubs. 'The ancients of Gebal, and the wise men thereof, were in thee thy calkers,' Ezekiel xxvii. 9 (marginal note, 'stoppers of chinks'). Corker is a North-English surname, and found for centuries in Furness and Yorkshire alongside Cooper and Tubman. The only Corker in the Dict. Nat. Biog. (xii. 217), viz. James Corker (1636-1715), Benedictine monk, was a native of Yorkshire.

1540. Buried—John Corker: Reg. St. Mary, Ulverston, p. 9.

1584. Sibel Corker, of Ulverstone: Wills at Richmond, p. 73.

1629. Married—John Watkins and Margery Corker: St. Antholin (London), p. 63.

1705. Bapt.—Anne, d. of John Corker: Reg. St. Mary, Ulverston, p. 291.

1722. Margaret Corker, Bark-house Bank, Colton: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 66.

1808. John Burt and Martha Corker: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 397.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1; Sheffield, 4; Boston (U.S.), 2; New York, 1.

Cornall, Corney, Cornell.—Local, 'of Cornall.' Some small estate in the Fylde district, co. Lanc., to be distinguished from the South-English Cornell, q.v. That the Lancashire surname Corney is a variant of Cornall is beyond dispute; cf. Presoe for Presall. The Carter family are described as 'of Stainall' (1723), 'of Stana' (1719), and Stanoe (1690); v. Lancashire Wills at Richmond, ii. 51.

John Cornall, of Cornall, 1672: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 73.

Henry Carter, of Cornoe, 1661: ibid. p. 56.

Adam Corney, of Rosaker, 1666: ibid. p. 73.

Richard Corney, of Greenall, 1571: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 73.

Richard Cornah, of Greenall, 1737: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, ii. 66.

John Cornall, of Greenall, 1692: ibid.

Laurence Cornoe, of Greenalgh, 1668: ibid.

Henry Cornall, of Rossiker, parish of Kirkham, 1721: ibid.

Rowland Cornah, of Rosaker, 1736: ibid.

Thus Cornall, Cornah, Cornoe, and Corney are all variants of one name, the locality seeming to lie in or adjacent to the parish of Kirkham. Even Greenall mentioned above is found as Greenoe.

Ellen Cornall, of Greenoe, 1681: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, ii. 66.

Liverpool, 2, 3, 0; Preston, 1, 0, 0; Kirkham, 0, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 8, 45.

Cornelius.—Bapt. 'the son of Cornelius.' This is not an English surname. At least I find no trace of the font-name on English soil in the 12th, 13th, and 14th centuries, the period when font-names were being turned into permanent surnames. Cornelius and Cornelia became very popular in the Low Countries through the fact that relics of the martyred Pope Cornelius were placed in the Chapter of Rosnay, in Flanders (v. Yonge, i. 314). The actress, Theresa Cornelys (1723-97) took the name from Cornelis de Rigerboos, a gentleman at Amsterdam (Dict. Nat. Biog. xii. 223). Lucas Cornelisz (1495-1552?), historical painter, was son of Cornelis Engelbrechtsen, of Leyden (ibid. p. 222). It is true John Cornelius (1557-94), the Jesuit, was born at Bodmin, co. Cornwall, but his parents were Irish (ibid. p. 222), and Cornelius (pet Corney) has been a popular font-name in the Emerald Isle for many centuries.

1571. Bapt.—James Corneye, son of Cornelius, a stranger: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 85.

1575. Married—Peter Boney and Christian Cornelis: ibid. p. 11.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 16.

Cornell.—(1) Local, 'of Cornhill,' a part of London. As regards the derivation of the Lancashire Cornells, v. Cornwall.

Stephen de Cornhill, or Cornhille, or Cornhill, or Cornill (London), 1273. A.

Reginald de Cornhill, co. Kent, ibid.

Robert de Cornhill, sheriff of London, 1245: WWW, pp. 187, 190.

1582. Buried—Margaret Cornhill: Reg. St. Antholin (London), p. 28.

(2) Local, 'of Cornwall.'

Roya de Cornewell, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

(3) ? Bapt. 'the son of Cornwel' (?).

Matilda Cornel, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Robert Cornel, co. Camb., ibid.

1707. Married—John Palmer and Sarah Cornell: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 54.

London, 14; Philadelphia, 48.

Corner.—There are three distinct origins of this surname: (1) a local, (2) an official, (3) an occupational origin.

(1) Local, 'of the corner,' cf. Hearne and Wray.

John de la Cornere, co. Suff., 1273. A.

William de la Cornere, co. Bucks, ibid.

John atte Cornere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 85.

Robert atte Cornere, 1307. M.

Rand Corner, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 163.

(2) Official, 'the coroner,' corrupted to 'corner.'

Geoffrey Coronator, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Henry le Couroner, co. Suff., ibid.

John le Coroner, 1303. M.

Richard Crouner, C. R., 25 Hen. VI.

(3) Occup. 'the corner,' i.e. a player on the horn, Fr. corne.

Cornet, the dim., is still a familiar instrument.

Johanna la Cornore, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

John le Corner, co. Derby, ibid.

William le Corner, London, ibid.

'Wiard le Corner, John le Harper, Roger le Trumper, and Thomas le Vielour were the King's Minstrels': Wardrobe Account, 3 Edw. III, 33/10.

London, 9; New York, 11; Philadelphia, 5.

Corney.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Cornelius,' q.v., popularly Corney.

(2) Local, 'of Corney,' a parish near Bootle, co. Cumberland. The suffix seems to be -hey or -hay, q.v.

Robert de Cornay, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 95.

Roger de Cornay, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 91.

1546. William Holland and Florence Corney: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 9.

1745. Married—John Corney and Eliz. Geary: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 36.

London, 5; Liverpool, 3; Philadelphia, 8.

Cornforth, Cornford.—Local, 'of Cornforth,' a township in the parish of Bishop's Middleham, co. Durham. Bradford is found entered as Bradforth in the Yorkshire Poll Tax (1379); v. Ford and Forth.

1798. Married—Isaac Titlow and Eleanor Cornforth: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 181.

1809. — David Cornford and Sarah Howes: ibid. p. 418.

London, 2, 3.

Cornish.—Local, 'the Cornish,' a Cornish man. A corruption or abbreviation of Cornwallis, q.v. Also cf. Kentish and Devonish. We do not expect to find Cornish in Cornwall, but in Devonshire. Coming over the border the stranger would be called Cornish from the county he had left. Hence Cornish is rare in Cornwall and common in Devonshire. 'We may safely conclude that when we find Cornish in Cornwall the bearer has returned to the county whence his ancestors sprang.

William Cornish. D.

Margery Cornish. H.

Walter Corneys, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 153.

1554. Thomas Corneyshe and Eliz. Byshop: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 15.

1584. Bapt.—Elizabeth, d. of James Cornish: St. Columb Major (Cornwall), p. 12.

London, 27; MDB. (co. Devon), 31; (Cornwall), 2; Boston (U.S.), 14.

Cormonger.—Occup. 'the cormonger.' This surname, I fear, is obsolete; cf. Mealmonger, Haymonger, and Oatmonger.

Walter le Cormonger, C.R., 10 Edw. I.

Hugh le Cormonger, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Ralph le Cormonger. T.

Henry le Cormongere, temp. 1300. M.

Geoffrey Cormonger, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 100.

Cornthwaite.—Local, 'of Cornthwaite,' one of the many North-English local surnames with suffix -thwaite (v. Thwaites). It is found in the North Lonsdale and Furness district of Lancashire.

Richard Cornethwet, of Silverdale, 1610: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 73.

Robert Cornethwaitt, of Caton, 1636: ibid.

John Cornethwait, of Burton, 1664: ibid.

1692. Married—Thomas Fell and Julia Cornthwait: St. Mary, Ulverston, i. 195.

1786. Bapt.—John. s. Thomas Cornthwaite: St. Mary, Ulverston, ii. 508. Liverpool, i.

Cornwall, Cornwell.—Local, from co. Cornwall; cf. Kent, Lancashire, Derbyshire, &c. v. Cornish.

Hugo de Cornub', co. Devon, 1273. A.
Roger de Cornub', co. Berks, ibid.
Hugh Cornwell, co. Oxf., ibid.
Geoffrey de Cornwayle. B.
Wauter de Cornwaille, 1313. M.
Robert Cornwal, co. Soms., i. Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 170.
1565. Edward Herne and Joanna Cornwell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 31.
1571. John Cornwell and Katherine Leake: ibid. 50.
1587. Married.—Richard Davis and Mari Cornwell: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 11.
London, i, 22; Philadelphia, 3, 14.

Cornwallis.—Local, 'the Cornwaleys,' i.e. the Cornishman; cf. 'Wallace' (Ingleram le Waleys: B.), a Welshman.

Thomas le Cornwaleys, co. Norf, 1273. A.
Beatrice Cornwaleys, co. Norf, ibid.
Philip le Cornwaleys. L.
Walter le Cornwaleys. X.
Hugh le Cornwalche, co. Soms., i. Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 210.
Thomas Cornwalleis, co. Norf, 1564: FF. ii. 276.
1596. William Sandes and Eliz. Cornwallis: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 235.
1753. Married.—Hon. Edward Cornwallis and Hon. Mary Townshend: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 49.
London (Court Dir.), i.

Corpe, Corp.—Local, 'of Corp.' I have not discovered the spot.

Stephen de Corp, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Simon Corp, London, 20 Edw. I. R.
John Corp, co. Soms., i. Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 231.
1744. Married.—Harry Corp and Ann —: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 42.
1801. — Richard Corpe and Frances Cottrell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 239.
London, 5, 1; MDB. (co. Soms.), i, 2.

Corry, Corrie, Cory, Curry, Currie, Currey.—Local, 'at the corrie.' Such at least seems to be the origin of this well-known Scotch surname. It is introduced here simply because it looks English, and is found in one variant or another in every considerable English town. Sir Walter Scott, in his Lady of the Lake, has 'Fleet foot in the corrie,' and a footnote explains thus: 'Corrie or Cori, the hollow side of the hill where game usually lies.'

1742. Married.—John Goddard and Margaret Curry: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 26.

1749. Thomas Thompson and Ann Corrie: ibid. p. 134.
London, 9, 8, 7, 14, 18, 7; Philadelphia, 18, 3, 2, 140, 21, 10.

Corsellis.—? Local. A Dutch importation.

'Lucas Corsellis, son of Lucas Corsellis, christ^d at the Dutch Church, 1611': Reg. St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 95.
1606. Buried—Eliz., d. Michael Cur-sellis: ibid. p. 94.
1611-2. Bapt.—Lucas Corsellis: ibid. p. 209.
London, i.

Corser, Corsar; v. Cosser.

Cort.—Local, 'at the court,' an enclosure, a mansion (v. Court); M.E. cort.

Richard le Cort, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
This, no doubt, ought to be 'de la Cort.' The error is common in early registers.

1583. Stephen Swan and Eliz. Corte: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 117.
1722. Married.—John Cort and Margaret King: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 247.
London, i; Crockford, i; New York, 5.

Corthorn; v. Cawthorn.

Cortis.—Nick.; v. Curtis.

1551-2. Bapt.—Susanna Corteys, d. William Corteys: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 75.
London, i; New York, 2.

Cosgrove, Cosgrave, Cosgriff.—Local, 'of Cosgrove,' a parish in co. Northampton.

Crockford, 0, 2, 0; London, 1, 0, 0; Manchester, 4, 0, 0; Liverpool, 4, 1, 2; New York, 67, 0, 3.

Cosser, Corser, Corsar.—

(1) Occup. 'the corviser,' i.e. the shoemaker. These are modifications. 'William Smyth, corviser, 1397' (Preston Guild Rolls, p. 10). A curious feminine form is to be met with in the directory for the Chester Pageant, wherein it is ordered that the 'Corvesters and Shoemakers' do march together (Ormerod's Cheshire, p. 301). 'And that the corvesers bye ther lether in the seid yeld halle' (Ordinances of Worcester, English Gilds, p. 371). 'Porters, fesy-cyens, and corsers' (Cocke Lorelle's Bote).

Ralph le Coreviser, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Henry le Coreveser, co. Hunts, ibid.
William le Coreviser, co. Salop, ibid.
Cristina Corveiser, co. Hunts, ibid.

(2) Occup. 'the corser,' a dealer in horses. The king's corser was an officer who acted as king's agent in purchasing horses. 'Johannes Martyr, corsere,' occurs in an old Oxford record, dated 1451 (Mun. Acad. Oxon. p. 616). 'Courseur of horse, mango': Prompt. Parv. p. 94. Horman says, 'Corsers of horses (mangones) by false menyys make them loke fresshe'; v. Way's note as above. The Hundred Rolls (1273) have no instance of the surname, while of (1) the instances are many.

William de Morpath, cosour, 9 & 10 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 29.
Jakemin de Gracia, cosour, 9 & 10 Edw. III: ibid. p. 30.

Durand le Corveser, 1300. M.
1578. Bapt.—John, s. John Corser, clothworker: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 19.
1580. — Katharine, d. John Corzer, clothworker: ibid. p. 22.
London, 4, 0, 1; Crockford, 0, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1, 0.

Cost, Coste.—Bapt. 'the son of Constantine,' from nick. Cost; cf. Cust, the nick. of Custance. Constantine was a popular font-name in Cornwall; v. Considine.

Richard fil. Coste, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.
William, son of Cost Cardew, 1531: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 6.
Cost Batte, and Emblem his wife, 1582: ibid. p. 141.

London, 2, 4; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Costabadie; v. Custobadie.

Costain, Costin, Costen, Coston.—Bapt. 'the son of Constantine' (familiarily Costantine), from nick. Costain or Costin. This nick. lasted till the 17th century.

1586. Married.—Constantine Maude and Isabella Hartley: Reg. Keighley, Yorks (N. and Q.), July 3, 1886.

1617. Buried—The wife of Costaine Maude: ibid.

1583. Bapt.—Judith, d. of Costane Mawd: Reg. Halifax, Yorks.

1597. Buried—Antony, son of Costan Robinson: ibid.

1600. — Costanus Maud: ibid.

Costin Radger, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Isabella Costin, co. Suff., ibid.
Costin de Beça, co. Suff., ibid.
John Costyn, mayor of Lynn, co. Norf.,
temp. Hen. III: FF. viii. 492.

Richard Costyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:
Kirby's Quest, p. 119.

Willelmus Costyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 206.

Robertus Costyn, 1379: ibid.
Johannes Costyneson, 1379: ibid. p. 207.
William Costantyn (1314), or Costyn (1311), or Constantyn (1322), returned as burgess for Bedford in 1305. M.

'Patricius Constynne (1537-92), afterwards known as Patrick Adamson, a distinguished Scotch prelate, wrote his name variously Consteane, Conston, Constant, and Constantine. About the year 1576 he adopted the name of Adamson, and his adversaries did not fail to twit him on the change.

"Twyse his surnaine hes mensuorne:
To be called Costeine he tho' (thought) schame:

He tuke up Costantine to name

Now Doctor Adamsons at last."

Dict. Nat. Biog. i. 112.

'The West Derby Board of Guardians met yesterday. . . present, among others,
Dr. Costine': Liverpool Mercury, July 28, 1887.

1637. Buried—Frances Coston, widow:
St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 107.
London, 1, 2, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, ,
4, 1.

Costello, Costelloe, Costellow.—Local, 'of Costello,' i. e. the barony of Costello, co. Mayo, Ireland. Dudley Costello, the journalist, although born in Sussex, was son of James Francis Costello, born in the barony of Costello (v. Dict.
Nat. Biog. xii. 276). It seems strange that Philadelphia should possess (if we average five to a family) over 500 Costellos, and London be so poorly represented in its directory.

London, 3, 1, 1; Crockford, 3, 0, 0 (all in Irish benefices); Philadelphia, 117, 0, 0.

Coster, Costar. — ? Nick; 'round-headed,' like a costard or apple. Undoubtedly Costard with the final d elided. The name without prefix is found in all early registers. Costermonger is similarly for costerd-monger. The name is found in widely separated districts, as the following instances will show.

'George Costard, astronomical writer
(1770-82), was born at Shrewsbury': Dict.
Nat. Biog. xii. 274.

Reginald Costard, co. Glouc., 1273. A.
Emma Costard, co. Oxf., ibid.

Richard Costard, co. Camb., ibid.

John Costard, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Margery Costard, co. Linc., ibid.

Thomas Costard, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 115.

1790. Married—James Costar and Eliz.
Spreckleson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 51.

1792. — James Coster and Eliz. Keep:
ibid. p. 88.

London, 13, 1; Philadelphia, 9, 0.

Cosway, Cossey, Causey, Cawsey.—Local, 'at the causeway,' more correctly, causey, a paved way. In Prompt. Parv. spelt cawcewey from the Fr. chaussée. A 'causey' runs over a moss in my old parish at Ulverston. It is as old as the register (1542). The surname, however, seems peculiar to co. Devon.

'Richard Cosway, painter (1740-1821), was born at Tiverton, co. Devon': Dict. Nat. Biog. xii. 279.

Nathaniel Causey and Thomas Causey, settlers in Virginia, 1623: Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, pp. 171, 181.

Robert de Chauci, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

John de Chaussy, co. Glouc., ibid.

Geoffrey de Chauseya, or Chausi, or

Chausie, co. Oxf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1715. Bapt.—Catesby, s. James Causey:
St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 165.

1795. Married—John Palmer and Susannah Cawsey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 140.

1809. — James Cosway and Sarah
Willson: ibid. p. 407.

London, 1, 2, 0, 0; Devon Dir. (Farmers' List), 2, 0, 1, 8; MDB. (co. Devon), 5, 0, 0, 4.

Cotgrave. — Local, 'of Cotgrave,' a parish in co. Notts. The Cheshire Cotgraves seem to be derived from an estate in that county. Lower says, 'Thomas, one of the grandsons of the great William Belward, Lord of Malpas, held the lands of Cotgrave, and from them assumed the surname of Cotgrave' (Patr. Brit. p. 71); v. Greaves.

Robert de Cotegrave, co. Notts, 1273. A.

Ralph Cotgreave, of Christleton, 1588:

Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 44.

George Cotgreave, 1612: ibid.

William Cotgreave, of Chester, 1620:
ibid.

Jane Cotgreave, of Warrington, 1684:
ibid. (1681-1700), p. 60.

I do not find any modern instances, but it would be dangerous to say the surname is extinct.

Cotsford.—Local, 'of Cottisford,' a parish in dioc. of Oxford.

Richard de Cotesford, 22 Hen. II:
Westm. and Cumb. i. 27.

Robert de Cotesford, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Richard de Cotesford, co. Norf., ibid.

1567-8. John Cosforde and—Harpar:

Marriage Lic. (London), i. 38.

1593. James Wingfeilde and Margery

Cotesforde: ibid. p. 208.

London, 2.

Cotshott.—An Americanism for Cockshott, q.v.

Cottam, Cottom.—Local, 'of Cottam,' lit. Cote-ham. Parishes in dioc. of York and Southwell; also a hamlet near Preston, whence the Lancashire Cottams, 'John Haydok de Cotom' (Preston Guild Rolls, p. 8); 'Cuthbert Cottam' (ibid. p. 160). There are also parishes styled Cotham in dioc. of Southwell, and Glouc. and Bristol. This latter is nearer the original form.

John de Cotum, co. Northumb., 1273. A.

Richard de Cotum, co. Notts, ibid.

Gilbert de Coteham, co. Camb., ibid.

Henry de Coteham, co. Camb., ibid.

Richard Cottam, of Overstanden, co.

Lanc., 1621: Wills at Chester (1621-30),

p. 53.

1667. Married—Edward Wallgrave and Eliz. Cottum: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 148.

London, 7, 0; Manchester, 4, 0;

Preston, 3, 1; Boston (U.S.), 5, 0.

Cotter, Cotman, Cottman, Cottwife.—Occup. 'the cotter,' one who held in absolute villenage; servile tenants, who were mere chattels of their lord, being alike in person and goods at the disposal of their superior. They are Latinized as Cotmanni and Cottariini Domesday, and elsewhere as Cotterelli (v. Pipe Rolls, P. R. Soc. iii. 78). Beatrix Cotewife may have been a widow, holding as tenant after the husband's decease.

William le Cotiere, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

John fil Cotman, co. Northumb., ibid.

Thomas fil. Cotman, co. Northumb.,

ibid.

Richard Coteman, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Coteman, co. Camb., ibid.

Beatrix Cotewif, co. Hunts, ibid.

Simon le Cotere. FF.

1663. Samuel Cottman and Eliz.

Osborne: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury),

p. 113.

London, 7, 0, 1, 0; Preston (Cotman) 1;

Philadelphia, 35, 1, 14, 0;

104, 0, 1, 0; New York, 30, 0, 4, 0.

Cotterell, Cotterill, Cottrell, Cottrill.—Occup. 'the cotterel,' 'Coterelle, tugurinus': Prompt. Parv. The cotterel was an inferior tenant, probably holding in absolute villenage; cf. Cotman, Boardman, &c.; v. Cotter.

Stephan Cotterell, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 234.

Walter Cotterel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 235.

Richard Cotterell, co. Devon, 1273. A. Alice Cotterel, co. Camb., ibid.

Henry Cotterel, co. Bedf., ibid.

William Cotterel, 1303. M.

1662. Richard Cotterell and Mary Fennihowe: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 61.

1662-3. Henry Cottrill and Eliz. Minne: ibid. p. 73.

London, 7, 2, 24, 1; New York, 4, 3, 14, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 0, 4, 5.

Cottingham.—Local, 'of Cottingham.' (1) A parish near Hull, E. Rid. Yorks; (2) a parish in co. Northampton, two miles from Rockingham. 'George Cottingham, aged twenty years, sailed for Virginia in 1635' (v. Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 114). The surname has become well established in the States.

Robertus de Cotyngham, 1379: P. T. Howdeshire, p. 23.

1547. Edmund Bragge and Eliz. Cottingham: Marriage Lic. (London), 1. 10.

— Roger Wollowes and Christian Cottingham: ibid. p. 11.

1791. Married—Thomas Cottingham and Catherine Cox: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 58.

London, 2; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 2; Philadelphia, 6.

Cottle.—Local, 'of Cottle,' an extra-parochial liberty in the hundred of Bradford, co. Wilts, originally Cothull; v. Hull. Poor Cottle, the bookseller, and would-be writer, was thus pilloried by Byron in his English Bards and Scotch Reviewers:

'O Amos Cottle! Phoebus! What a name

To fill the speaking trump of future fame!

O Amos Cottle! for a moment think
What meagre profits spring from pen and ink.'

Elyas Cotel, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

Roger Cotel, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert Cothulle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 206.

John de Cothulle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 207.

1605. Married—George Cottle and Eliz. Goodall: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 30.

1803. — William Cottle and Mary

Drake: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 285.

MDB. (co. Wilts), 3; (co. Somerset) 4; London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 20.

Cotton, Cottone.—Local, 'of Cotton.' There are parishes in diocs. of Norwich and Lichfield of this name, but several places not arrived at parochial honours are so called. The diocs. of Ely and Peterborough also have each a parish styled Cotton, of which instances are given below.

Robert de Cottone, co. Camb., 1273. A. Richard de Cottoune, co. Camb., ibid.

William de Coton, Pardous Roll, 15 Ric. II.

Ralph de Cotun, co. Northumb., 1273. A. Richard de Cotton, co. Norf., ibid.

1573-4. Married—John Cotton and Eliza Bradborne: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 16.

London, 40, 0; Boston (U.S.), 42, 1.

Coucher.—Occup. 'a coucher,' a tapisier, one who made cushions, carpets, hangings, &c. The Tapisers and Couchers went together in the York Play, 1415 (York Mystery Plays, p. xxiii). Possibly allied to cushion, the latter being a diminutive. But see 'Couch' (Skeat), to lay down, to set, to arrange, O.F. coucher; and cf. 'Couche, to lay, to place, frequently applied technically to artists' work:

"Alle of palle werke fyne Cowchide with newyne." (Halliwell.)

1526. 'Item, one coucher, or carpett for a longe table, 56s. 8d.' (Inventory, Skipton Castle) Whitaker's Craven, p. 400.

John le Cochere, co. Sussex, 1273. A. William Coucher, co. York. W. 2.

William Cawood, coucher, co. York, 1431. W. 11.

Robert Bell, coucher, co. York, 1442: ibid.

1544. Buried—Mary Cocher: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 107.

1758. Married—John Cowcher and Ann Nicholes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 79.

1760. — Charles Cowcher and Mary Horn: ibid. p. 92.

Couchman.—Occup. 'the couchman.' This would seem to be our modern coachman. 'Aug. 4, 1640. Dorothy Coachman, d. Tilney Coachman, buried' (Smith's Obituary, p. 17). This Tilney is recorded elsewhere as 'Tilney Couchman.'

John Coacheman, temp. Eliz. E.

Richard Couchman, ibid.

William Cowchman. EE.

1669. Married—William Ryman and Allise Couchman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 159.

1764. — Henry Couchman and Susanna Barnes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 139.

London, 8; New York, 1.

Coulbeck.—Local; v. Colbeck.

Couldwell.—Local; v. Coldwell.

Leeds, 1.

Coull, Coules, Cowell, Cowle,

Cowles.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Cole, provincially Coul (v. Coulson and Coulling). Cole and Coles (q.v.) are the general forms. (2) Local, 'of Couhill' or 'Cowhill,' some small spot in or near Blackburn, co. Lanc.

John de Couhill, of Rishton, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 82.

John de Coule, of Blackburn, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 83.

1582. Married—Thomas Woodcrafe and Margaret Cowell: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 13.

1636. Benjamin Brighouse and Anne Cowles, widow of Richard Cole (sic): Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 228.

1809. Married—Joseph Coules and Lucy Bedford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 405.

London, 2, 2, 12, 1, 5; Philadelphia, 0, 14, 0, 2.

Coulling, Couling, Cowling,

Cowlin.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Coll or Cole, and dim. Coll-in or Colin (v. Collins). An early provincialism has turned all the surnames from Coll or Cole into Coul or Cowl; v. Coulson and Coull, and cf. Coulton for Colton, Coupe for Cope, Coulthard for Colthird, &c. The final g is an excrescence, as in Jennings, &c. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Couling,' one of many personal names terminating in ing; cf. Browning or Harding. This must be considered the chief parent of the South-English Coullings, &c.; v. Culling for other instances.

Richard Coulling, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 149.

William Coulyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 209.

London, 1, 3, 3, 3; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 0, 2, 0; Swinefleet, W. Rid.

Yorks, o, o, 3, o; Boston (U.S.) (Cowling), 3.

Coulman.—Bapt. 'the son of Coleman,' q.v., a variant; cf. Coull, Couling, Coulson, &c.

1809. Married—William Coulman and Susannah Glover: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 407.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 2; London, 1.

Coulson.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas,' from nick. Cole, pronounced Coul (v. Coulling). Colson (q.v.) is the usual form. In some cases possibly a corruption of Colston, a local surname, q.v.

1666. John Hampstead and Isabelle Coulson: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 181.

1805. Married—John Coulson and Bethiah Treacher: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 336.

London, 15; West Rid. Court Dir., 6; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 7; Philadelphia, 4.

Coulston, Coulstone.—Local; v. Colston.

Coult.—Nick. 'the colt,' q.v.; cf. Coulthard.

1589. John Colte, or Coult, co. Hereford: Reg. Univ. Ox. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 174.

1796. Married—Richard Coult and Hester Morgan: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 149.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 3.

Coulthard, Coulthart, Coultate, Coltart, Cottell.—Occup. 'the colt-herd,' a keeper of colts; cf. Coulthart for Colthart, Coult for Colt. Also cf. Calvert, Oxnard, Stothard, Coward, &c., all with suffix -hard, a herdsman; v. Herd.

Johannes Coltehir, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 107.

John Colthirde, co. York. W. 9. Davy Cowthir, co. York. W. 18. Bartholomew Colthyrd, 2 Hen. IV: E. and F., co. Cumb., p. 176.

1759. Married—Richard Coultart and Eliz. Hammond: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 91.

1780. — Thomas Watson and Dorothea Coulthard: ibid. p. 313.

London, 3, 1, o, o, o; West Rid. Court Dir., o, o, 1, o, o; MDB. (co. Lancashire), o, o, 2, o; Philadelphia, 1, o, o, 1.

Coulton.—Local, 'of Coulton,' a parish in High Furness, North Lancashire, which early originated a surname. Often confounded with Colton, q.v.

Richard Coulton, of Kirkby Ireleth, Furness, 1595: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 75.

Isabel Coulton, of Soutergate, Ulverston, 1615: ibid.

1746. Married—William Coulton and Mary Alcock: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 61.

London, 2; MDB. (Furness, North Lancashire), 5; Philadelphia, 3.

Combe.—Local; v. Combe, of which it is a variant.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Councillor, Councillor, Counsellor, Counsellor.—Official, 'the councillor.' M.E. counseller, a legal or official adviser. Oddly enough, this surname is now scarcely known in England. It has found a home, however, across the seas.

Roger Kynciller, C. R., 9 Edw. I. Philadelphia, 1, 1, 1, 3; Whalley (co. Lanc.), o, o, o, 1.

Counsell, Counsel.—(?) It would be easy to hazard guesses over this name, but I forbear.

William Counsayl, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 169.

Roger Consayl, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 218.

1609. Married—Henrie Councill and Wynifritt Clarke: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 35.

1742. — William Counsell and Mary Parsons: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 24.

London, 2, o; Philadelphia, o, 1.

Count, Countess.—Official or nick. 'the count,' 'the countess.' O.F. conte, or comte, a count, an earl. 'Comte, a count, an earle' (Cotg.). Countess is naturally found more frequently in early rolls because Earl was the English equivalent of Count; v. Earl.

John le Cunte. E. William le Comte, Close Roll, 51 Hen. III.

Alicia Contesse, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Judetha Comitissa, co. Hunts, ibid. Livina Comitissa, co. Camb., ibid. Henry fil. Comitiss, co. Devon, ibid. Reiner de (sic) Counte, co. Norf., 35 Hen. III: FF. x. 66.

In 1293, Henry, son of Henry le Counte of Norwich, formerly one of the butlers to Henry I, gave them a house in Pottergate: ibid. iv. 247.

Simon le Counte, co. Norf., 34 Hen. III: ibid. viii. 441.

1769. Married—John Count and Anne Cossens: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 187.

1802. — John Comtess and Mary Rogers: ibid. p. 258.

London, 1, o; MDB. (co. Essex), 1, o; New York, 2, o.

Counterpatch.—Local, 'of Comberbach' (v. Cumberbatch).

This curious variant is given on the authority of Mr. Bowditch. 'In the London Morning Herald of June 24, 1859, are mentioned suits of Messrs. Hemsworth, Counterpatch, and Bedborough': Suffolk Surnames, p. 316.

Countinghouse.—Local, 'of the counting-house,' a chamberlain or treasurer, 'Cowntinge hows, computoria': Prompt. Parv. The name suggests the early origin of the nursery rhyme:

'The king was in his counting-house.'

Nicholas del Countynghouse: Issue Rolls, 4 Ric. II.

Countryman.—Nick. 'the countryman,' out of the country, a peasant, a boor.

John Contreman, co. Camb., 1273. A. Cf. 1586. Buried—Eliz. Clifton, d. of William Clifton, countryman: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 134.

There are three entries of a similar character on the same page.

Philadelphia, 1.

Coup, Coupe.—Local, 'at the cope,' a North-English variant (v. Cope); cf. Coupland and Cope-land.

1569. Buried—Eliz. Coupe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 10.

Isabella Cowpe, of Manchester, widow, 1620: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 45.

John Cowpe, of Walton-le-dale, 1602: ibid.

Manchester, 1, 6; New York, 5, 2; Philadelphia, 1, o.

Courage, Courridge.—Local. No doubt in general an imitative form of Kerridge, q.v. In any case the suffix may be set down as -ridge. Mr. Lower suggests a more modern origin for one branch, 'A family of this name (Courage) settled here after the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes': Patr. Brit. p. 72.

Augustin de Courig', co. Devon, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

London, 6, 1.

Court, Courtman.—Local, 'at the court,' an enclosed space, a large mansion, a tribunal. O.F. cort, court.

John de la Curte, co. Essex, 1273. A. Adam Curtman, co. Camb., ibid.

Augustin de la Curt, Guernsey, 20 Edw. I. R.
 Mathew de la Curt, Guernsey, ibid.
 John atte Court, C. R., 18 Ric. II.
 1653. Married—William Court and Mary Court: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 29.
 1678. Bapt.—Ane, d. Thomas Court: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 280.
 1701. Married—Thomas Courtman and Sara Lloyd: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 50.
 London, 18, 0; New York, 3, 0.

Courthope, Coathupe.—Local, 'of Courthope.' Mr. Lower says Courthope 'first occurs in a Subsidy Roll at Wadhurst, co. Sussex, in exactly its present form, temp. Edw. I. The real source of the name appears to be the estate of Curthope, in Lamberhurst, in that county, which Theobald, archbishop of Canterbury in the 12th century, gave to the Abbey of Leeds' (v. Hasted, v. 308).

1592. John Courtopp, yeoman, and Anne Tyler: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 201.

1628 g. Francis Courthop and Anne Hastlin: ibid. ii. 105.

1632. John Courthopp and Anne Speed: ibid. ii. 207.

1681. Married—Brian Courthope and Eliz. Hamond: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ibid. 190.

London, 1, 0; Manchester, 0, 1; MDB. (co. Sussex), 1, 0.

Courtney, Courtenay.—Local, 'de Courtenay,' in the Isle of France; a great Devonshire family.

Hugo de Courteney, co. Devon, 1273. A.
 John de Curtenay, co. Soms., ibid.
 Henry de Curteneye, co. Soms., ibid.
 Hugh de Courteneye, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.

Egelina de Curtenay, co. Oxf., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Robert de Courteneya, co. Devon, ibid.
 Alienora de Courtenaye, co. Soms., i. Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 245.

Johannes Courtenay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 117.

Ricardus Courteney, 1379: ibid.
 1503. Married—George Fynche and Anne Courtney: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 8.

1586. — William Cortney and Dorothe Maddoxe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ibid. 12.

1792. — George Courtenay and Catherine Stapelton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ibid. 80.

London, 11, 0; Philadelphia, 45, 5.

Cousen, Cousens, Cousins, Couzens, Cousin, Cussons, Cussen, Cossins, Cossin.—

Nick. 'thé cousin,' a kinsman or near relative; M.E. cosin. The final s is patronymic, as in Jenkins, Williams, Jones, &c. The Yorkshire directories are still well supplied with instances, but so are many other county directories. Such entries as the following are common:

Henricus Parsoncosyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 91.

Johannes Vikercosyn, 1379: ibid. p. 226.

Robert Frere-cosyn, 1379: ibid. p. 155.

Johannes Cosyn, drapour, 1379: ibid. p. 57.

Ricardus Cosyn, 1379: ibid. p. 58.

Alicia Cosyn, 1379: ibid.

Richard le Cusyn, co. Bedf., 1273. A.

William le Cusyn, co. Bedf., ibid.

John le Cosyn. G.

Thomas le Cozun. E.

Of the three Cosins in the Dict. Nat. Biog., Edmund Cosin, or Cosyn, Vice-chancellor of Cambridge University (fl. 1558), was a native of co. Bedford; the great John Cosin, bishop of Durham, (born 1594), was a native of Norwich; and the civil lawyer, Richard Cosin (1549?—1597), was born at Hartlepool.

London, 0, 7, 16, 3, 1, 0, 1, 3, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 5, 1, 2, 1, 1, 1, 0, 0, 0; New York, 1, 0, 6, 1, 1, 0, 3, 1, 1.

Coutts, Coots, Coutts.—?

1588. Buried—William Cootes: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 132.

1693. Bapt.—James, s. Thomas Coutts: ibid. p. 200.

Jennett Coutts, 1774: St. Peter, Cornhill, ibid. ii. 54.

London, 5, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 2, 0; New York, 1, 0, 1.

Cove.—Local, 'of Cove.' North Cove and South Cove are two parishes in co. Suffolk. The surname arose in that district.

Sir Thomas de Cove, co. Norf., 1330: FF. x. 189.

Sir John de Cove, co. Norf., 9 Edw. II: ibid. p. 185.

Ralph de Cove, co. Stafford, 1273. A.

Robert de Cove, co. Norf., 20 Edw. I. R.

1793. Married—Jeremiah Biggs and Eliz. Cove: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ibid. 94.

London, 3.

Covell, Covellev, Covill.—Local, 'of Colville,' q.v.; a corruption.

'John Covel, Covell, or Colvill (1638–1722), Master of Christ's College, Cambridge, was born at Horningsheath, Suffolk, &c.: Dict. Nat. Biog. xii. 355.

1610. Thomas Covell and Martha Pecocke: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 320.
 1664. Thomas Covell and Judith Blagge: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 81.

London, 2, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 18, 3, 4.

Coveney, Coveny.—Local, 'of Coveney,' a parish six miles from Ely, in co. Cambridge.

Thomas Coveney, or Covenney, 1548: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 213.

John Coveney, co. Kent, Magd. Hall, 1586: ibid. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 151.

1624–5. Edward Crowe and Eliz. Coveney: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 149.

London, 3, 1; Boston (U.S.), 12, 16.

Coventry.—Local, 'of Coventry,' in the county of Warwick.

Thomas de Coventre, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
 William de Covington, co. Oxf., ibid.

Walter de Coventre, co. Linc., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Alexander de Coventre, co. Warwick, 20 Edw. I. R.

Johannes de Coventre, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 105.

1575. Married—William Bright and Hellen Coventrie: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ibid. 6.

John Coventrie, of West Kirby, co. Lanc., 1604: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 45.

1801. Married—George Coventry and Mary Allen: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ibid. 239.

London, 14; Philadelphia, 1.

Cover, Cuvrer.—Occup. 'le cuver,' the cooper, a maker of coops; Fr. cuve. The suffix in Cuvrer is reduplicated; cf. Poulter-er.

Adam le Cuvrer, co. Camb., 1273. A.
 Michael le Cuvrer, co. Camb., ibid.

Walter le Cuvrer. O.

Richard le Cuvrer, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Adam le Covreur, c. 1300. M.

1787. Married—Charles Cover and Eliz. Snow: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ibid. 402.

London, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Coverdale, Coverdill.—Local, 'of Coverdale,' in Richmondshire, co. York. 'Miles Coverdale, translator of the Bible, was born in 1488, "patria Eboracensis," says his friend and contemporary Bale (Scriptores, 1557–9, p. 721), and Whitaker assumes the surname to have been taken from the district of his birth, Cover-dale, in what is called Richmondshire, in the North Riding (Hist. Richmondshire, i. 16, 107)'; v. Dict. Nat. Biog. xii. 364. There need be no hesitation in accepting this view.

Johannes Coverdale, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 239.
 1625. Married—Francis Coverdall and Debbara —: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 54.

1809. — Thomas Coverdale and Sarah Milles: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 408.
 Ripon, 1, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 0; London, 7, 0; Philadelphia, 6, 1.

Coverley, Coverly.—Local, 'of Cowley'; cf. Cleverly for Cleveley, q.v.

Malger de Covele, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Bartholomew de Covele, co. Bucks, ibid.

1669. Married—Francis Coverley and Jane Luxell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 158.
 London, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 6.

Covert.—Local, 'at the covert,' a wood full of thickets, a hiding-place for deer, &c. A surname taken from residence thereby.

Roger de Covert, co. Sussex, 20 Edw. I. R.

William le (sic) Covert, co. Sussex, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1527-8. John Coverd and Margaret Bayly: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 6.

1627. William Brokett and Emme Covert, co. Surrey: ibid. ii. 180.

1665. Married—Launcelott Peckworth and Francis Covert: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 118.

London, 0; Philadelphia, 7.

Cow, Cowe.—Nick, 'the cow'; cf. Bull, Bullock, &c.

William le Cue, 3 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 12.

Ralph le Cue, 15 Edw. II: ibid. p. 20.

Maurice le Cu, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 115.

Thomas le Cu, 1273. A.

Ralph le Cou, c. 1300. M.

Robert le Ku, C. R., 37 Hen. III.

Willelmus Cou, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 233.

1806. Married—Richard Jennings and Ann Cowe: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 347.

Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Coward, Cowart.—Occup.

'the cow-herd,' a great North-English surname. In the Furness district of Lancashire it contends with the Tysons, Atkinsons, and Ashburners for the front place. v. Herd.

1618. Buried—Archie, the cowhird of Goswick: Reg. Holy Island. QQQ. p. 151.

William le Kuerde, co. Camb., 1273. A.

John Kuhirde, co. Hunts, ibid.

John le Kuhyrde, co. Cumb., 20 Edw. I. R.

Richard le Kuhyrde, co. Cumb., ibid.

Cecilia Cowehird, laborer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 219.

Robertus Cowehyrde, 1379: ibid. p. 167.
 Henry le Couhirde, Rot. Fines, 3 Edw. II.
 John Coward, or Cowhird, of Ulverston, 1622: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 75.

Rowlend Cowherd, or Cowhert, or Coward, of Kirkby Ireleth, 1637: ibid. p. 77.

Hellen Cowart, of Out Rawcliffe, 1663: ibid. p. 76.

Cowherd, the original form, still exists (v. Cowherd). This surname is well represented across the Atlantic. 'Samuel Coward owned land in Barbadoes in 1679' (v. Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 461).

London, 7, 1; MDB. (co. Lancaster), 17, 0; Philadelphia, 29, 0.

Cowderoy, Cowdery, Coul-dery.—Local, 'of the hazel copse'; F. coudraie, a filbert orchard. There can be no doubt that in some particular instances some of the names set under Corderoy should be also set under Cowderoy, the surnames founded on the two having become inextricably united; v. Corderoy.

John de Coudray, 1273. A.

William de Coudraye, 1307. M.

Peter de Coudray. R.

1618. Buried—Francis, s. Andrew Cowdrye: St. Thomas the Apostle, p. 110.

1619. — Andrew Cowdrie: ibid. p. 111.

London, 6, 1, 1; New York, 0, 1, 6.

Cowgill.—Local, 'of Cowgill,' a hamlet in the parish of Sedbergh, W. Rid. Yorks. Probably Colgill is the original form. The instances below are found in the neighbourhood of Settle.

Johannes de Colgyll, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 269.

Alicia de Colgyll, 1379: ibid.

Manchester, 3; West Rid. Court Dir., 7; Philadelphia, 5.

Cowherd.—Occup. 'the cow-herd'; v. Coward for instances.

Cowherd is almost extinct, but Coward is very strongly represented in North-English directories. The form Cowherd, unmutilated, is preserved in William Cowherd, the founder of the sect of Cowherdites, as they were familiarly styled. He was born at Carnforth, Lancashire, in 1763, the district where Coward is one of the best-known surnames.

John Cowherd, rector of Heringby, co. Norf., 1435: FF. xi. 225.
 MDB. (co. Lancaster), 1.

Cowley.—Local, 'of Cowley,' parishes in cos. Gloucester, Middlesex, and Oxford.

Roger de Couele, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Alex. de Coueyle, co. Oxf., ibid.

1622. Buried—Saray, d. Walter Cowley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 156.

1656. — John, s. James Cowly: ibid. p. 309.

London, 14; Oxford, 7; Boston (U.S. 3; Philadelphia, 6.

Cowlishaw, Coulshaw, Col-lishaw, Cowlinshaw.—Local, 'of Cowlishaw,' a hamlet in the township of Crompton, in the parish of Prestwich, co. Lanc.

This surname has crossed over the border into Yorkshire, and is strong there. It is Americanized into Cowlinshaw.

Manchester, 2, 0, 0, 0; London, 0, 2, 0, 0; Sheffield, 6, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Notts), 1, 0, 4, 0; Boston (U.S.) (Cowlinshaw), 1.

Cowman.—Occup. 'the cowman,' one who looked after the cows; v. Coward and Cowherd.

John Cowman, C. R., 7 Edw. IV.

1760. Married—William Cowman and Rachael Taylor: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 93.

Manchester, 1; New York, 2.

Cowmedon.—Local.

1754. Married—Thomas Canningham and Ann Cowmedon: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 276.

Cowper.—Occup. 'the cooper'; v. Cooper. 'Cowpare, cuparius':

Elmpt. Parv. p. 99. A statute of Elizabeth's reign includes such artisans as 'lynnen-weavers, turners, cowpers, millers, earthen-potters' (5 Eliz. c. iv. 23).

Ricardus Turner, cowper, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 41.

Johannes Turnour, cowper, 1379: ibid.

Johannes Cowper, glover, 1379: ibid.

Johannes Cowper, cowpar, 1379: ibid. p. 97.

The poet 'Cowper pronounced his name as Cooper' (Dict. Nat. Biog. xii. 401). It seems odd that this information should be necessary, but to this day people almost invariably speak of Cow-per.

1502. Buried—Eliz., d. William Cowper: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 46.

London, 7; Philadelphia, 2.

Cowperthwait, Cowperthwaite.—Local, 'of Cowperthwaite,' one of the many local names ending in -thwaite common to cos. Cumb. and Westm. and the Furness district of North Lanc. Cowperthwaite, no doubt, means the cooper's enclosure (v. Thwaites and Cowper). For instances, v. Copperwheat.

Manchester, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 7, 3.

Cox, Coxon.—Bapt.; v. Cocks.

Coxhead.—Probably local, head being a common suffix to place-names; cf. Birkenhead and Akenhead, q.v. Nevertheless it may be a nickname, cockshead, on account of some fancied resemblance.

1635. John Winter and Martha Cockshead: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 213.

1607. Bapt.—John, s. Thomas Cockshead: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 370.

1708. Married—Thomas Coxhead and Isabel Atkinson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 177.

— George Coxhead and Mary Williams: ibid. ii. 185.

This surname went to America at an early period:

'John Coxshedd, aged 14, sailed for Virginia in the Paul, July 6, 1635': Hotten's Lists of Emigrants. Philadelphia, 2.

Coy.—Local, 'of Quoy,' a chapelry in the parish of Stow, co. Cambridge. Formerly Quoy.

Felice de Quoye, co. Camb., 1273. A. Walkelin de Queye, co. Camb., ibid.

Ralph de Quoye, co. Camb., ibid.

1636. Bapt.—Mabell, d. John Coy: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 134.

1747. Married—William Gardiner and Mary Coy: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 51. MDB. (co. Camb.), 2; Philadelphia, 3.

Crabb, Crabbe.—? Local, 'at the crab-tree.' The objection to a local origin is that no prefix 'de la' or 'atte' is to be found in the early instances. Still, it is not easy to suggest any other interpretation; cf. Birch, Ash, Lynde, Oake, Crabtree, Plumtree, and Rowntree. 'Crabbetree, acerbus, macianus': Prompt. Parv.

Henry Crabbe, co. Camb., 1273. A. Robert Crabbe, co. Soms., ibid.
Richard Crabbe, co. Norf., ibid.
Matilda Crab, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 95.
Johannes Crabbe, 1379: ibid. p. 85.

Henry Crabbe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 196.

London, 18, 4; Philadelphia, 1, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Crabtree.—Local, 'at the crab-tree' (v. Crabb), from residence thereby. This is a great Yorkshire surname; cf. Rowntree, Plumtree, Oake, Chestnut, Ash, Nash, &c. It is odd to think that by dwelling beside a particular crab-tree, the descendants of a particular pair should so increase that a perceptibly large number of people in the county of York should now be familiarly known by the name. The name, too, has crossed the ocean. Where was that particular crab-tree in the county of York?

John Crabtree, co. York. W. 16.
William Crabtree, co. York. ibid.

'Edward Crabtree emigrated to Virginia in 1635': Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 120.

1503. Bapt.—Agnes Crabtree: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 2.

1661. — Sarah, d. Samuel Crabtree: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 143.
London, 3; West Riding Court Dir., 17; Leeds, 6; Sheffield, 3; Halifax, 8; Philadelphia, 12.

Crace.—Crace is entered as a single personal name in the Hundred Rolls (ii. 28). Probably, however, it was a nickname; v. Crass.

London, 3.

Crackenethorpe, Craken-thorpe.—Local, 'of Crackenethorpe,' a manor, co. Westmoreland.

William de Crickenethorp', co. Westm., 20 Edw. I. R.

William de Crakenethorp, co. Westm., ibid.

Deborah Crackenthorp', of Lancaster, 1746: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 72.

The following is a curious corruption:

1605. Buried—William Crackinthought: St. Mary Aldermary (London), p. 203.

Still earlier we find in the same register:

1559. Buried—Thomas Cockingthorp, merchant-taylor: St. Mary Aldermary (London), p. 133.

MDb. (co. Lincoln), 0, 1; (co. Westmoreland), 0, 1.

Cracknell, Cracknell.—? Local or nickname. A curious feature about English nomenclature is the number of surnames which seem inseparably connected with bread-baking. I do not refer to occupational names like Baxter, Baker, Waferer, &c., or local names like Backhouse or Bacchus (q.v.). I speak of what seem to be nicknames taken from the loaf itself; cf. Simmel, Blanchpain, and Whitebread. Yet Blanchpain is local, and Whitebread, or Whitbread, may be a mere translation (v. Blanchpain). A cracknel is a kind of crisp biscuit. 'Crakenelle, brede, crepetullus, fraginellus': Prompt. Parv. Nevertheless the surname may be local, with suffix -hall or -hill.

1579. Married—Lyonell Craknell and Johane Downe: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 12.

1756. — Samuel Cracknell and Eliz. Wright: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 61.

London, 1, 13; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Crackshield.—Nick. (v. Break-spear). Thomas Crackshield was rector of North Creak, co. Norf., in 1412 (FF. vii. 77).

Crackstring.—Nick. One who drew his bowstring too tense; one of a large list of sobriquets from archery.

Ricardus Crakestryng, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 91.

Cracroft, Crayeroft.—Local, 'of Cracroft.' The family were lords of the manor of Cracroft, co. Lincoln, in 1284: Lower (quoting Burke's Landed Gentry). With the form Cracraft infra, cf. Craft for Croft, and Meadowcraft for Meadowcroft. This surname has crossed the Atlantic as Craycroft.

1638-9. John Cracroft and Magdalen Hambleton: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 240.

1725. John Radley and Ann Cracraft: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 251.

1751. Bapt.—Mary, d. William Cracraft: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 175.
London, 1, 0; MDb. (co. Lincoln), 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 4.

Craddock, Cradock, Cradick, Craddick.—Bapt. 'the son of Caradoc,' a Welsh personal name.

David Craddock, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 90.

Robert Craddoc, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 93.

Cradock ap Howell ap Grono : Visit. Glouc. (Harl. Soc.), p. 114.

'Philip Cradock, Chancellor of St. David's, 1417': Hist. and Ant. St. David's, p. 365.

'Sir John Francis Caradoc, Lord Howden (1762-1839), general, changed his name from Cradock to Caradoc in 1820. He was the only son of John Cradock, archbishop of Dublin': Dict. Nat. Biog. ix. 27.

London, 9, 2, 1, 0; Manchester, 4, 0, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 3, 2, 0, 0; New York, 3, 1, 0, 1.

Crafford.—Local, 'of Crawford,' a variant; v. Crawford, Crofford, and Crowfoot.

1582. Nicholas Crafforde and Dorothy Mustchampe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 109.

1620. Bapt.—Susan, d. John Craforth: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 86.

1689. — Eliz., d. William Craford: ibid. p. 330. London, 4.

Craft.—Local, 'at the croft,' a northern form of Croft, q.v.; cf. Crapper for Cropper, Cracraft and Meadowcraft for Cracroft and Meadowcroft.

Roger de Crafte, co. Bedford, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1620. Bapt.—Robert, s. Christopher Craft: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 86.

1786. Married—Edward Craft and Betty Hunt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 386. London, 4; New York, 27.

Crafter.—Occup. 'the crafter,' one who occupied a small farm; a northern form of Crofter; v. Craft. London, 8.

Cragg, Craggs.—Local, 'at the crag' or 'craggs,' from residence thereby.

Adam del Crag, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 88.

Robert del Crag, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 61.

1582. Francis Puckeringe and Blanche Cragge: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 111.

1592-3. John Cragges and Eliz. Connylowe: ibid. i. 205.

London, 3, 1; Boston (U.S.), 3, 0; Philadelphia (Cragge), 1.

Craig, Craige, Craige.—Loc. (1) 'at the craig,' i.e. crag, from residence thereby. More specifically (2) 'of Craig,' a name given to several parishes and villages in Scotland. Both (1) and (2) are Scotch.

1748. Married—Alex. Craigg and Eliz. Johnson: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 121. London, 20, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 54, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 245, 1, 13.

Craigh.—Local; a variant of Craig, q.v.

Liverpool, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Craighead.—Local, 'of Craighead,' a place in the parish of Dailly, co. Ayr (Lower); several other places in N.B. also bear the same name; lit. the head of the craig (v. Craig). Head is a common suffix to place-names; cf. Akenhead and Birkenhead.

Boston (U.S.), 1; Philadelphia, 5.

Craighill, Craghill.—Local, 'of Craighill.' Several places in Scotland bear this name; lit. the rocky mound; v. Craig and Carrick. Baltimore, 1, 0; Liverpool, 0, 1.

Craigie, Craggy.—Local, 'of Craigie,' parishes in cos. Ayr, Perth, and Linlithgow.

1767. Married—John Harding and Ann Craggy: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 171.

London, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 5, 0.

Craigmyle, Cressgmile.—Local, 'of Craigmill,' a village in the Clackmannan division of the parish of Logie (Lower); lit. the mill by the craig (v. Craig and Carrick).

1640. John Craigmyle and Ann Price: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 251.

London, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 8.

Crake, Crake, Creek, Creak.—Local, (1) 'of the creek'; M.E. creke, North-Eng. crake and crake, a bend, an inlet, a cove; cf. Crakevalley, near Ulverston; (2) 'of Craike,' a parish in co. Durham, three miles from Easingwold. Probably the origin is the same.

Ralph Crake, co. York, 1273. A. Philippus de Crayk', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 101.

Elena Crayke, 1379: ibid. p. 53.

1653. Married—Thomas Craek, co. Harford (sic) and Eliz. Warren: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 29.

1788. Married—William Appleby and Eliz. Creek: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 16.

1791. — William Staines and Mary Crake: ibid. p. 61.

London, 2, 3, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 0, 0.

Cramer.—Occup.; v. Creamer.

Cranbrook.—Local, 'of Cranbrook,' a market-town and parish in Kent.

1793. Married—William Cranbrook and Eliz. Glover: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 98. London Court Dir., 1.

Crandidge.—Nick.; a corruption of 'Grandage,' q.v.

Pontefract Dir., 1.

Crane.—(1) Nick. 'the crane'; cf. Stork, Gull, &c. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Grane.' The initial was early changed from G to C; cf. Candlin and Cammel for Gandelyn and Gamell. Grane was a common personal name in eo. York in the 13th and 14th centuries; v. Grain.

John le Cran, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 98.

Thomas le Cran, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 252.

Johannes Crane, Alicia uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 27.

Elisot Crane, 1379: ibid.

John Crane de Cranebrok, C. R., 16 Ric. II.

Stephanus Crane, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 34.

Dionisia Cranne, vidua, 1379: ibid. p. 41.

John Crane, 1536: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 185.

1789. Married—William Durrant and Mary Crane: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 27.

London, 31; Philadelphia, 32.

Cranefeld, Cranfield.—Local, 'of Cranfield,' a parish in co. Bedford, seven miles from Ampt-hill.

Philippa de Cranefeld, co. Oxf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Alexander de Cranefeld, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

1606. Bapt.—Eliz., d. John Cranfeild: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 47.

1611. Married—Thomas Cranfeild and Eliz. Bathe: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 17.

1624. — William Grave and Grace Cranfeilde: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 24.

London, 2, 2.

Cranford.—Local, 'of Cranford,' a parish in co. Northampton, four miles from Kettering.

John de Cranniford, co. Northampton, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Ralph de Craneford, co. Northampton, ibid.

Geoffrey de Cranford, co. Devon, 1273. A.

John de Cranford, co. Leicester, ibid.

Richard de Cranford, co. Bucks, ibid.

1607. Bapt.—Jane, d. Cuthbert Crane-ford: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 47.

1654. Married—Henry Smith and Eliz. Cranford: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 34.

New York, 1.

Cranitch.—An American form of Crandidge, q.v. The modern variants of this great early surname are a curious study.

1578. Married—Thomas Cranedge and Eliz. Hudson: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 6.

1707. John Cranidge and Eliz. Tibbis: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 336.
Boston (U.S.), 3; New York, 3.

Crank.—Local, 'of Crank.' I cannot find the spot in North Lancashire. But there is a place in Rainford, co. Lanc., called Crank, which has given name to Crank Station. Crank Hall and Crank Farm are still properties there.

'James Cranke (1746?-1826), artist, was born at Urswick-in-Furness about 1746. It is supposed that he studied in London, in the studio of his uncle, James Cranke (1717-80), and afterwards settled at Warrington as a portrait-painter': Dict. Nat. Biog. xiii. 17.

Henry Cranke, of Little Urswicke, 1662: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 79.

Nicholas Cranke, of Urswicke, 1692: ibid. ii. 73.

William Crank, of Ulverston, 1734: ibid.

There are numerous entries of this name in the Ulverston registers:

1748. Bapt.—Frances, d. John Crank, of Ulverston: St. Mary, Ulverston, ii. 340.
1751. Buried—Mary, d. John Crank, of Ulverston: ibid. i. 272.

Ulverston, 1; Urswick, 2; London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Crankshaw, Cronshaw, Crownshaw, Cranshaw.—Local, 'of Cronkshaw,' the twisting or winding shaw, i.e. wood. Cronkshaw seems to have lain in the parish of Rochdale or Bury, co. Lanc. Cronshaw and Cranshaw are variants of the surname, and Crankshaw is the more correct modern representative. This form is well represented across the Atlantic.

Ellen Cronkshaw, of Musbury, 1618: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 48.

John Cronkshaw, of Hunterholme in Pendle, 1617: ibid.

William Cronkshaw, of Musbury, 1624: ibid. (1621-50), p. 57.

Thomas Holt, of Cronkshaw, 1642: ibid. p. 113.

That Cronshaw is a variant is easily proved.

Cf. Francis Bould, of Cronshawe, 1613: Lancashire Inquisitions, p. 254.

Francis Bold, of Graynshey [G for C], 1588: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 23.
James Cronshaw, farmer, Cronshaw Fold, Musbury: Kelly's Lancashire Dir., 1873, p. 1584.

Manchester, 4, 3, 0, 0; Sheffield, 0, 0, 1, 0; Bolton (Lanc.), 1, 0, 0, 3; Philadelphia, 15, 2, 0, 0.

Cranley.—Local, 'of Cranley,' a parish in co. Surrey, eight miles from Guildford.

Avice de Cranele, co. Bedf., 1273. A. 1667. Bapt.—John, s. John Cranley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 232.

1790. Married—John Reddy and Sarah Cranley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 50.
London, 1; New York, 1.

Cranmer, Cranmore.—Local, 'of Cranmere.' I see no reason to doubt Lower's statement, 'anciently Cranmere, the hillside of a low swampy country at Long Melford, co. Suffolk' (Patr. Brit. p. 74). Although Archbishop Cranmer was born in co. Notts, there is no reason to suppose his surname belongs to the soil of that country. Besides, Cranmere mentioned above gave rise to a surname:

Hugh de Cranmere, co. Linc., 1273. A. Roger de Cranmere, co. Herts, ibid. William Cranmere, rector of Bawsey, co. Norf., 1414: FF. viii. 346.

The last-named is again referred to as follows:

William Cranmere, rector of Hillington, co. Norf., 1412: FF. viii. 467.

This may be looked upon as absolutely conclusive.

1679. Married—John Cranmer, co. Surrey, and Dorothy Gilbert: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 39.

1734.—Isaac Cranmer and Margaret White: ibid. p. 64.

I fear the surname is almost obsolete in England. It is found, however, in the United States directories.

Philadelphia, 6, 1; Liverpool, 1, 0.

Cranswick.—Local, 'of Cranswick.' I have not identified the hamlet, but doubtless it is in Yorkshire.

William de Crauncewyk, mercator, 12 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 18.

John de Crauncewyk, co. York, 1273. A. Isabella de Crauncewyk, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 301.

London, 1; Sheffield, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 4.

Cranwell.—Local, 'of Cranwell,' a parish in co. Lincoln, four miles from Sleaford.

Adam de Cranewell, co. Linc., 1273. A. Robert de Cranewell, co. Linc., ibid.

Richard de Cranewell, co. Kent, ibid. 1545. Bapt.—Mark, s. Jasper Cranwell: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 73.

1646. Married—Fitzhugh Cranwell and Sindonye Fowles: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 79.

1801.—Robert Cranwell and Eliz. Dina Horniman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 249.
London, 3; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Crapper.—Occur; v. Cropper.

Craske.—Nick, 'the crask,' i.e. the fat, the lusty. 'Craske, fryke of fatte' (Prompt. Parv.). 'Crask, fat, lusty, in good health and spirits, hearty' (Halliwell). A Norfolk surname.

Walter le Crask, vicar of Netesherd, co. Norf., 1314: FF. xi. 50.

William Craske, co. Suff., 1273. A. Adam Crask, vicar of Lesyate, co. Norf., 1380: FF. viii. 340.

Hamond Crask, of Norwich, 1642: ibid. iii. 383.

Thomas Craske, common councilman, of Norwich, 1742: ibid. iii. 452.

1789. Married—Simon Craske and Rose Rickwood: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 27.
MDB. (co. Norfolk), 3; New York, 2.

Crass.—Nick, 'the crass,' i.e. fat or lusty; v. Craske.

William Crassus, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Richard le Cras, co. Oxf., ibid.

William le Cras, co. Camb., ibid.

Thomas le Cras, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 131.

(Theobald le Cras, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Stephen Crassus. J. William Crass, 1379: P. T. Howden-shire, p. 22.

1698. Bapt.—John, s. Samuall Crass: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 377.

Crassweller; v. Crossweller.

Crast; v. Crust.

Craswell.—Local; v. Crosswell and Crossweller.

Craven.—Local, 'of Craven,' i.e. the district of Craven in W. Rid. Yorks. The surname has for centuries been very strongly represented in Yorkshire, especially in the West Riding.

Paulinus de Cravene, 12 Edw. I: Freeman of York, i. 3.

Agnes de Craven, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 175.

Johannes de Craven, 1379: ibid. p. 140.

Roger de Crauen, 1379: ibid. p. 229.

Robert de Craven, rector of Bolton-juxta-Bowland, 1304 : Whitaker's Craven, p. 131.

1619. Bapt.—John, s. Richard Cravon : St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 114.

1669. Married.—Ezekyell Craven and Mary Browne : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 169.

This surname early crossed the Atlantic, and has ramified strongly in the States.

Thomas Craven, aged 17 years, 'imbarqued' for Virginia in 1635. Still earlier in 1626, Richard Craven received 150 acres by patent: Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, pp. 112, 272.

London, 17; West Rid. Court Dir., 42; Philadelphia, 64.

Crawcour.—Local, 'de Creve-cœur.' This ancient baronial surname still survives in the London Directory. The modern form closely resembles some of the mediaeval variants.

Alexander de Crevequer, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Hamo de Crevequer, co. Bedf., ibid.

Robert de Creweker, co. Bucks, ibid.

Cecilia le (sic) Creuker, co. Linc., ibid. Lewin Crawford & Co., upholsterers: London Directory.

Morris Crawford, inkstand and ruler maker: ibid. London, 2.

Crawford, Crauford, Craufurd, Crawford.—Local, 'of Crawford,' a parish in Lanarkshire, also several smaller places in North Britain. 'Sir Reginald de Crauford, sheriff of Ayrshire in 1296, seems to have been the common ancestor of many branches of the family' (Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 74). The variants of this surname are extremely numerous, among which are Crowthfoot, Crafrod, Croffit; v. Crofford.

Nicholas de Crauford, co. Soms., 1273. A.

Robert de Crauford, co. Oxf., ibid.

1685. Bapt.—Anne, d. John Crawford: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 314.

1744. Buried.—A. Crawford: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 156.

London, 31, 1, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 253, 9, 9, 0.

Crawley.—Local, 'of Crawley,' townships and parishes in cos. Northumb., Oxford, Hants, Sussex, &c.

Dñs. Alan de Craule, co. Oxf., 1273. A. London, 24; Boston (U.S.), 11.

Crawshaw, Crawshay.—Local, 'of Crawshaw,' now called Crawshaw-booth, a hamlet in the parish of Whalley, co. Lanc.

Adam de Crawshawe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 287.

Juliana de Crawshaw, 1379: ibid. p. 85.

Thomas Crawshaw, of New Hall Hey, 1602: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 46.

1758. Married.—William Crawshaw and Emma Brummell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 82.

1760.—Thomas Hill and Susanna Crawshaw: ibid. i. 97.

London, 1, 3; West Rid. Court Dir., 12, 0; Manchester, 8, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0.

Crayercroft.—An American variant of Cracroft, q.v.

Crayford.—Local, 'of Crawford,' q.v., one of many variants; v. Crawford and Crofford.

Liverpool, 1.

Creamer, Cramer.—Occup. 'the creamer,' i.e. huckster, or pedlar. 'Of the above there are —2 cadgers (fish carriers), 2 creamers, persons who go through the parish . . . and buy butter, hens, eggs, &c., mostly for the Dundee market': P. Kirkden, Forlars.

Statist. Acc. ii. 508 (Jamieson). Hence creamerie, cramery, merchandise, goods usually sold by a pedlar.

'With my cramery gif ye list mell.'

Lyndsay, S. P. R. ii. 94.

A crame was a pedlar's pack, 'Ane pedder is called an marchand, or creamer, quha bearis ane pack or creamie vpon his back' (Skene, Verb. Sign.). All my quotations are from Jamieson, who shows that cream, craim, and crame also denoted a market booth or stall, and a cramer or creamier was the occupant.

1675. Married.—William Rolfe and Eliz. Creamer: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 40.

1707.—Edward Sankey and Fanny Cramer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 371.

London, 3, 4; Philadelphia, 49, 25.

Crease, Crees, Creese.—Nick, 'the creeze,' a West-country surname. 'Creeze, squeamish. West' (Halliwell); a fastidious man, particular, nice.

William Crees, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, pp. 116, 118.

Clement Crees, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Robert Crees, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

1793. Married.—Thomas Crees and Sarah Stephens: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 90.

— John Payne and Ann Crece: ibid. ii. 105.

MDB. (co. Soms.), 9, 6, 1; London, 2, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 6, 8, 0.

Creasey, Creasy, Creassey, Cressey, Cressy.—Local, 'de Cressy.' No doubt Crecy in Picardy, the scene of the famous battle. The surname in several forms is strongly represented now in Lincoln, Norfolk, and Suffolk.

Alexander de Cressi, co. Linc., 1273. A. Hugh de Cressy, co. Kent, ibid.

William de Cressy, co. York, ibid. Johannes de Cressy, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 271.

Willelmus Cressy, 1379: ibid. p. 3. Isabella Cressy, 1379: ibid. p. 154.

Roger de Cressi, co. Norf., 24 Hen. III: FF. xi. 217.

Stephen de Cressi, co. Norf., 50 Hen. III: ibid. xi. 219.

Peter Cressy, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1341: ibid. xi. 323.

MDB. (Lincoln), 13, 0, 0, 3, 0; (Norfolk), 2, 0, 0, 2, 0; London, 4, 2, 0, 1, 1; Barnsley (Creasey), 1; West Rid. Court Dir. (Creasey), 1; Bradford (Creasey), 1; New York (Creasy), 3; Philadelphia (Creasey), 4.

Crech.—Local; v. Cridge.

Creed.—(1) Local, 'of Creed,' a parish in co. Cornwall. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Creed.' Crede is manifestly a personal name in the Hundred Rolls in districts far removed from Cornwall. It occurs in every case without a prefix, in itself an argument in favour of a fontal origin. No doubt it means creed, i.e. belief, answering to faith, so familiar as a girl's name later on.

Henry Crede, vicar of Horning, co. Norf., 1381: FF. xi. 56.

John Creyde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 80.

Alan Crede, co. Suff., 1273. A. Mabilia Crede, co. Camb., ibid.

Roger Crede, co. Hunts, ibid.

1757. Anthony Creede, co. Herts, and Johanna King, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 70.

1665. Married.—William Creed and Margery Nein: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 121.

1731.—Charles Creed and Mary Gilbert: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 9.

London, 7; MDB. (co. Norfolk), 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Creek.—Local; v. Craik.

Crees, Creese.—Nick; v. Crease.

Creighton; v. Crichton.

Crespin.—Bapt. 'the son of Crispin,' q.v. This variant is found very early in co. Devon, where Crispin is still a familiar surname.

Richard Crespin, co. Devon, 1273. A.
Robert Crespin, co. Devon, ibid.
Nicholas Crespyn, co. Devon, ibid.
Margery Cresscbyn, co. Dorset, ibid.
M. Crespin is witness to a marriage,
July 8, 1794: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 115.
London, 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Cressey, Cressy.—Local; v. Creasey.

Cresson.—Bapt. for Gresson; v. Grayson. An American variant. The change from initial G to C is very common in English nomenclature; v. Candlin, Crane, Clendening, &c.
Philadelphia, 22.

Cresswell, Creswell.—Local, 'of Cresswell.' Two parishes bear this name, one in co. Northumberland, the other in co. Stafford.

Thomas de Cressewell, co. Staff., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.
Henry de Creswell, co. Staff., 20 Edw. I. R.
Robert Cressewyle, co. Derby, 1273. A.
Ricardus Cresuill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 27.
Emmot Creswyll, 1379: ibid. p. 45.
John Cresswell, co. York, 1591-2: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 188.
1615. Bapt.—Parnell, d. John Cresswell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 72.
London, 12, 2; Sheffield, 1, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 3, 0; Philadelphia, 10, 8.

Crest.—Local, 'at the crest,' the summit of the hill.

Rogerus del Crest, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 106.
Johannes del Crest, 1379: ibid.

Creswick.—Local, 'of Creswick,' a hamlet in the parish of Ecclesfield, near Sheffield.

Johannes de Cressewik', 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 40.
Johannes de Crowsik', 1370: ibid. p. 41.
1679. Francis Creswicke and Mary Ridges: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 146.
1800. Married—Abram Tyzack Rawlinson and Eliza Eudocia Albenia Creswicke: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 225.
London, 3; Sheffield, 4; West Rid. Court Dir., 3.

Crew, Crewe.—Local, 'of Crew,' a township in the parish of Farndon, co. Chester, now a large and thriving town since it became the centre of so much railway activity.

Robert Crewe, of Wallasey, 1608: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 47.
Thomas Crewe, of Holt, 1613: ibid.
Elizabeth Crew, of Houghton, 1690: ibid. (1681-1700), p. 63.
Urian Crewe, of Tushingham, yeoman, 1697: ibid.
1611. Bapt.—Roger, s. Helen Crewe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 62.
1654. — Ann, d. Isaac Crewe: ibid. p. 188.
London, 9, 2; MDB. (co. Chester), 0, 2; (co. Stafford), 0, 4; Philadelphia, 7, 1.

Crowdson, Crowdsen, Croudson.—Bapt. 'the son of Cudbert,' i.e. Cuthbert, from the nick, Cruddy. Doubtless the original nick was Cuddy. But when the donkey became familiarly so called, Cruddy took its place. Crowdson and its variants are chiefly found in Furness and the neighbouring districts.

Thomas Crudd', 1379: P. T. Yorks. pp. 123, 129.
Ricardus Crudde, 1379: ibid.
Johannes Crudde, 1379: ibid.
1545. Married—Leonard Ormundie and Agnes Crowdsen: St. Mary, Ulverston, i. 1.
1546. Buried—Jenet Crowdsen: ibid. p. 3.
1589. Agnes Crowdsen, of Dalton: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 79.
1592. John Croudson, of Kirkby Ireth: ibid. p. 84.
1676. Roland Crowdsen, of Torver: ibid.

Two of the oldest churches in Furness (Aldingham and Kirkby Ireth) are dedicated to St. Cuthbert. This would make the fontal name very popular. As regards the great saint's connexion with the district, v. Miracles of St. Cuthbert (Surtees Soc.).

MDB. (Lancashire), 2, 4, 0; Ulverston, 7, 0, 0.

Crichton, Creighton, Craighton, Crighton.—Local, 'of Crichton,' an old estate and castle in co. Edinburgh.

'Crichton! though now thy miry court But pens the lazy steer and sheep,' Marmion.

'Sir Alexander Crichton (1763-1856), physician, was born at Edinburgh': Dict. Nat. Biog. xiii. 58.

'James Crichton, surnamed the Admirable (1560-85?), was born probably at Elioock, Dumfriesshire. He signed himself 'Crichton': ibid. p. 63.

'William Crichton, or Crichton (fl. 1615), Jesuit, was a native of Scotland': ibid. p. 93.

'Robert Crichton, or Crichton (1593-1672), bishop of Bath and Wells, was born at Dunkeld, Perthshire': ibid. p. 69.

It is thus clear that although there is Creighton, a township in the parish of Utttoxeter, co. Stafford, the various forms all represent one surname, and that is the Scotch Crichton.

London, 4, 3, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 15, 0, 0; New York (Crighton), 1; Philadelphia, 0, 44, 2, 0.

Crick.—Local, 'of Crick,' a parish in dioc. of Peterborough. Probably from A.S. crecca, a creek, i.e. a bend, nook, corner. Skeat quotes (v. Creek) Cricklade (Creccagelád) in Wiltshire, and Creccanford, now Crayford, in Kent.

Bartholomew de Crekke, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Jacobus de Crakke, co. Suff., ibid.
Matilda de Crec, co. Camb., ibid.
Bartholomew de Crec, co. Norf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.
James de Creke, co. Norf., temp. Hen. III: FF. xi. 252.
London, 9; MDB. (Norfolk), 1; Suffolk, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Crickmer.—Local, 'of Crake-mere' (a combination of 'Crake' and 'Moor'); v. Craik. I do not know the spot.

Cecilia Crakemore, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 133.
1793. Married—James Crickmer and Sarah Janaway: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 95.
1803. — Thomas Raynham and Sarah Crickmore: ibid. p. 293.
London, 3.

Cridge, Creech.—(1) Local. Probably 'of Crick,' a hamlet in the parish of Caerwent, in co. Monmouth. These surnames are undoubtedly of West-country parentage; cf. Kirk and Church, or Brigg and Bridge. (2) Local, 'of Crich,' a parish in co. Derby, near Alfreton.

Peter de Cryche, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 274.

Robert de Criche, co. Notts, 1273. A.
1665. Buried—Jane Creech: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv, 367.

MDB. (co. Soms.), 2, 1; Boston (U.S.), 4, 0; New York, 1, 0.

Cripps, Crips.—(1) Nick. 'the crisp,' i.e. the curly; v. Crips; cf. the provincial waps for wasp.

'As writeth John in the Apocalips,
Her heer that oundie was and crips.'
Chaucer, House of Fame, iii. 296.

Henry le Cripse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 97.

Adam le Cripse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 204.

Adam le Crips, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Crispin,' from the nick. Crisp or Crips.

Reginald Crips, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Walter Crips, co. Hunts, ibid.

Morice Crips, co. Oxf., ibid.

For an incidental proof that Crisp and Crips were nicks, of the same name, v. Scripps.

1744. Married—Joseph Lakin and Mary Cripps: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 31.

1759.—John Crips and Frances Faulkner: ibid. i. 90.

London, 18, 2; MDB. (co. Oxford), 2, 0; Philadelphia, 23, 0.

Crisp, Crispe.—(1) Nick. 'the crisp,' i.e. with the curly hair; v. Cripps (1). 'Crisping-pins,' Isa. iii. 22. 'Cryspynge eyrene,' Cath. Ang. 'Cryspe, as here (hair), or other lyke.' Prompt. Parv.

'And yet also of our prentis Jankin,
For his criske here, shining as gold so fin.' Chaucer, C. T. 5886.

Robert le Crespe, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Thomas le Crespe, co. Soms., ibid.

Gilbert le Crespe, co. Oxf., ibid.

Reginald le Crespe. J.

Richard Cryspe, C. R., 8 Ric. II.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Crispin,' from the nick. Crisp; v. Cripps (2).

1523. Thomas Cryspe and Anne Staleham: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 3.

1603. Married—Hatton Crisp and Joane Fenton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 28.

1788.—John Robson and Mary Crisp: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 12.

London, 27, 2; Boston (U.S.), 5, 0.

Crispin, Crispen, Crispenn, Crispinn.—Bapt. 'the son of Crispian,' more generally Crispin; v. Crisp (2) and Cripps (2); cf. Crespin, a common Devonshire variant.

Milo fil. Crispini, co. Oxf., 20 Edw. I. R.

William Crispin, co. Wilts, ibid.

Peter Crispin, co. Norf., 34 Hen. III: FF. ii. 155.

Richer Crispyng, of Norwich, 1392: ibid. iv. 387.

John Crispyng, of Norwich, 1423: ibid. iv. 31.

William fil. Crispian, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Robert Crispin, co. Camb., ibid.

Crispianus de Colrigge, co. Devon, ibid.

Crispian de Colubmers, co. Linc., ibid.

Richard Crispine, co. Oxf., ibid.

Robert Crispin, co. Linc., ibid.

1623-3. Ephraim Crispin and Martha Bond, widow: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), 34.

1721. Married—John Bedwell and Jane Crispin: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 60.

London, 2, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 1, 0, 0, 0; (co. Devon), 5, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 10, 2, 2, 1.

Critchlow, Critchley.—Loc. 'of Critchlow,' or 'Chritchlow,' some small spot in co. Lancashire, probably in the neighbourhood of Chorley. I have failed to discover it. The surname has ramified in a remarkable manner.

Richard Critchlow, of Leyland, 1587: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 47.

John Critchlowe, of Croxton, 1593: ibid.

Thomas Chrichlowe, of Leyland, 1606: ibid. p. 40.

The same individual is thus referred to in the first two entries:

Edmund Critchlow, 1662: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 143.

Edmund Critchley, 1682: ibid. p. 183.

Anne Chrichlaw, of Ashtonbank, 1672: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 65.

William Critchley, of Lea, 1673: ibid. p. 79.

1804. Married—Joseph Critchley and Eliz. Parker: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 307.

London, 0, 2; Manchester, 4, 9; Philadelphia, 1, 2.

Croasdale, -dell, -dill; v.

Crossdale.

Crocker, Croker, Croaker.—Occup. 'the crocker,' a potter, a maker of crocks, a once familiar name for the occupation, used by Wyclif in place of our 'potter's vessel' (Ps. ii. 9). From M.E. crokke, an earthen pitcher: 'There is also white clay, and red for to make of crockes, and steenes (stone-jars), and other vessels' (John de Trevisa, 1387). A well-known Devonshire surname.

Adam le Crocar, C. R., 31 Edw. I.

John le Crochere, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Simon le Crockere, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

William Crockare, co. Oxf., ibid.

John le Crokere, 1301. M.

Roger le Crocker, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 174.

John le Crokker, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 135.

1580. William Croker and Margaret Horsey: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 98.

1746. Married—Pasco Croker and Sarah Russell: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 57.

1779.—John Crocker and Ann Clare: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 392.

This surname has ramified in a truly marvellous manner in the United States. But it went out with the early settlers.

'Richard Crocker, a child, living in Virginia, 1623': Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 81.

'Henry Crocker came to Virginia in the Abigail, 1620': ibid. p. 221.

About the same time came another Henry Croker, in the Marigold. Jone, his wife, joined him later on, sailing in the Swan; v. Hotten, p. 237. If these were fruitful and multiplied in the first generation, the present large number is readily accounted for.

London, 32, 6, 0; MDB. (co. Devon), 13, 4, 0; New York, 29, 10, 0; Boston (U.S.), 102, 0, 0.

Crockett, Crockett, Crocket.—Local. The origin is undoubtedly local, but I cannot discover the precise spot.

William de Cruket, co. Southampton, 20 Edw. I. R.

Avicia de Cruket, co. Dorset, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Thomas de Cruket, co. Dorset, ibid.

1647. Married—James Hatter and Jone Crockett: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 82.

London, 6, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 36, 0, 0.

Crockford.—Local, 'of Crockford,' seemingly some small locality in co. Oxford.

Walter de Crukeford, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

1687. William Welles and Joane Crockford: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 298.

1690. Married—Joseph Crockford and Dorcas Dring: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 207.

London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Crocombe.—Local, 'of Crowcombe,' a parish in co. Somerset, ten miles from Taunton.

Gilbert de Crokum, co. Northumberland, 20 Edw. I. R.

Geoffrey de Crocombe, co. Warwick, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Geoffrey de Crewcumb, co. Devon, Hen. III—Edw. I. K. MDB. (co. Devon), 5.

Crofford, Croford, Crofoot, Crofut, Crofut, Crofoot, Croffit.—Local, 'of Crawford,' q.v. The usual English variant is Crowfoot, q.v. The forms here given are all peculiar to the United States.

New York, 1, 1, 1, 1, 8, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 0, 0, 1, 1, 1.

Croft.—Local, (1) 'at the croft,' a small farm, a field, an enclosure. Hence such local names as Meadowcroft, Littlecroft, &c.; v. Craft.

'Thanne shaltow come by a croft.'
Piers P. 3650.

(2) Local, 'of Croft,' parishes in cos. Hereford, Leicester, Lincoln, and York.

Johannes del Croft, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 222.

Willelmus del Croft, 1379: ibid. p. 111.

Ricardus de Crofte, 1379: ibid. p. 20.

Walter in the Crofte, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 263.

Thomas in le Croft, Fines Roll, 14 Edw. II.

Roger de Crofte, co. Salop, 1273. A. William de Croft, co. York, ibid.

1669. Bapt.—Hanna, d. George Croft: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 243.

London, 18; Philadelphia, 15.

Crofton.—Local, 'of Crofton,' (1) a township in parish of Thursby, co. Camb.; (2) a hamlet in parish of Orpington, co. Kent; (3) a township in parish of Diddlebury, co. Salop; (4) a chapelry in parish of Titchfield, co. Hants; (5) a parish in W. Rid. Yorks, four miles from Wakefield. Naturally many places would be called Crofton; v. Croft.

Richard de Crofton, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Robert de Crofton, co. Bucks, ibid.

Henry de Crofton, co. Northumberland, 20 Edw. I. R.

Jordan de Crofton, co. Northumberland, ibid.

Hugo de Crofton, co. Wilts, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Robertus de Croftone, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 66.

Agnes de Crofton, 1379: ibid. p. 17.

Thomas de Crofton, 1379: ibid. p. 24.

1541. Bapt.—Richard Crofton: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 2.

1548.—John Crofton: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 75.

London, 3; Manchester, 1; Philadelphia, 6.

Crompton, Crumpton.—Loc. 'of Crompton,' a township in the parish of Oldham, co. Lanc. This surname has ramified strongly throughout Lancashire, and is well known in the States.

Hugh de Crompton, co. Lanc., 30 Hen. I: Baines' Lanc. i. 467.

Edward Crompton, of Crompton, 1587: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 47.

John Crompton, of Dean, 1554: ibid.

Richard Crompton, of Radcliffe, 1612: ibid.

1781. Married.—John Crompton and Ruth Baxter: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 327.

London, 4, 2; Manchester, 29, 0; Philadelphia, 18, 1.

Cromwell.—Local, 'of Cromwell,' a parish in co. Notts, dioc. of Lincoln. One of my instances below reminds one forcibly of the Cavaliers' toast, 'Wash this crumb well down.' No doubt Cromwell was more generally pronounced Crumwell than now. Spellings mislead, as is so remarkably proved in the case of Cowper, even now popularly called Cow-per instead of Coop-er; cf. again Raleigh, which was evidently pronounced Rawley (v. Cowper and Raleigh). Cromwell is now a commoner surname in the United States than in England.

Ralph de Crumwell, co. Glouc., 1273. A. Henry de Crommeville, co. Kent, ibid.

Johannes de Crumbwelle, 32 Edw. I: BBB. p. 670.

Idonia de Croumbwelle, co. Derby, 20 Edw. I. R.

Ralph de Cromwell, co. Norf., 1385: FF. viii. 389.

1770. Married.—Robert Lowe and Mary Cromwell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 298.

Crookford, 1; Boston (U.S.), 3; Philadelphia, 17.

Cronshaw, Crownshaw.—Local, 'of Cronshaw'; v. Cranshaw.

Crook, Crooke, Crookes, Crooks.—Local, 'of Crook,' (1) a hamlet in the parish of Shevington, co. Lanc.

William del Crok, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 48.

George Crooke, of Newborough, 1590: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 48.

John Crooke, of Fence-in-Pendle, 1590: ibid.

(2) A hamlet near Kendal, co. Westm. The surname is still found in the neighbourhood. The Yorkshire instances below seem to point to some place or places in the West Riding. Probably both Crook and Crookes are related to crook, a bend in a valley, or a cove in a bay.

John de Cruk, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 214.

Johannes de Cruke, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 143.

Thomas de Crokes, 1379: ibid. p. 42.

Johanna de Crekes (sic), 1379: ibid.

1615. Bapt.—Helen, d. Arthur Crooks: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 73.

1620.—Thomas, s. Thomas Crooke: ibid. p. 89.

West Rid. Court Dir., 5, 0, 12, 0; Boston (U.S.), 8, 3, 0, 10; Manchester, 9, 0, 2, 1.

Crookbone.—Nick. 'crook-bone,' i.e. deformed; cf. Crookshank.

Thomas Crokebayn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 216.

Willelmus Crukebayn, 1379: ibid. p. 153.

Johannes Crukeban, 1379: ibid.

Crooked.—Nick. 'crook-backed.'

Cicely Crokede, Close Roll, 1 Edw. II.

Crookshank, Cruikshank, Cruickshank, Crookshanks.—Nick. 'with the crooked shanks,' a bow-legged man. A Scotch surname; cf. Sheepshanks.

'John Crookshanks (1708-95), captain in the navy': Dict. Nat. Biog. xiii. 206.

'William Cumberland Cruikshank (1745-1800), anatomist, was born in Edinburgh': ibid. 260.

'Isaac Cruikshank (1756?-1811?), caricaturist, was son of a lowlander, living at one time in Leith. He was father of the famous George Cruikshank': ibid. 258.

This evidence and the prevailing form Cruikshank clearly testify that the surname is of Scotch extraction.

1745. Married.—Gavin Crookshanks and Isabella Cassie: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 57.

1748.—John Bonney and Mary Cruickshanks: ibid. p. 125.

London, 0, 1, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 3, 0, 0.

Cropper, Crapper.—Occur. 'the cropper,' a mower, a sickler, a field-labourer. With Crapper, cf. Crafter for Crofter, Meadowcraft for Meadowcroft, &c.

Roger the Cropper for his tenement and whole service, the present 8d, the farm 15s: Custom Roll, Manor of Ashton-under-Lyne, Cheth. Soc.

Willelmus Crapper, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 107.

Hawen Cropure, 1379: ibid. p. 162.

Matilda Crapper, 1379: ibid. p. 9.

Gilbert Cropper, of Whiston, husbandman, 1591: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 48.

1655. Married—Edward Cropper and Joan Pearce: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 93. London, 3, 3; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 2; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0.

Crosbie, Crosby, Crossby.—Local, 'of Crosby,' townships in cos. Cumberland, Lincoln, N. Rid. Yorks, Lancaster, and Cumberland.

Geoffrey de Crosseby, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Thomas de Crosby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 34.

Robertus de Crosseby, 1379: ibid. p. 294.

Walterus de Crosseby, 1379: ibid. p. 223.

1603. Hugh Russitor and Anne Crosby: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 278.

With the following, cf. Applebee for Appleby, q.v.

1660. Bapt.—William, s. Thomas Crossbee: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 242.

1806. Married—Henry Otway Brand and Pyne Crossley (co. Bedf.): St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 351.

1807. — Samuel Crossley and Susanna Postens: ibid. ii. 367.

London, i, 3, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 3, 1; Manchester, i, 7, 1; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 0, 13, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 31, 0; Boston (U.S.), 4, 180, 0.

Crosier, Crozier.—Office, 'the crosier,' one who carried the bishop's cross or pastoral staff. 'Crocere, crociarius, crucifer': Prompt. Parv. 'A crosier, cruciferarius, crucifer': Cath. Ang. Way, commenting on this word, quotes concerning the martyrdom of St. Thomas of Canterbury, 'one Syr Edward Gryme, that was his crosier, put forthe his arme with the crosse to bere of the stroke': Legenda Aur. (v. the full note, Prompt. Parv. p. 104).

Simon le Croyser, temp. 1300. M.

Mabel le Croyser. G.

William Croyser. G.

Cristiana Croiser, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 191.

Johannes Croser, 1379: ibid. p. 202.

John Crozier, co. Norf., 6 Hen. V: FF. ix. 310.

William Crozier, co. Norf., 46 Edw. III: ibid. vi. 191.

1775. Married—Laurence Neilson and Esther Crozier: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 255.

1787. — Samuel Burrows and Alice Crozier: ibid. p. 409.

London, 3, 5; Philadelphia, 2, 25.

Crosland, Crossland.—Local, 'of Crosland,' now South Crossland, near Meltham, W. Rid. Yorks.

Ricardus de Crossland, living in North Crossland, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 176.

Thomas de Coseland (for Crossland), living in Crosslandfosse, 1397: ibid. p. 177.

Willelmus de Crossland, 1379: ibid. p. 183.

1720. Buried—William Crossland, victualler: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 290.

London, 3, 2; West Rid. Court Dir., 3, 9; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1; Philadelphia, 5, 4.

Crosley; v. Crossley.

Cross, Crosse.—Local, 'at the cross,' one who dwelt by or near the roadside or market-cross; v. Crouch.

Jordan ad Crucem, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Humfrey de Cruce, co. Oxf., ibid.

Conan ad Crucem, co. Linc., ibid.

John atte Cross, 1302. M.

Johannes del Crosse, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 105.

Johanna del Crosse, 1379: ibid. p. 169.

Roger del Cros, co. Northumberland, 20 Edw. I. R.

John de la Croix, co. Berks, ibid.

Sampson atte Croice, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 109.

Andreas de la Croys, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 224.

Thomas atte-cross, rector of Bexwell, co. Norf.: FF. vii. 309.

1585. Bapt.—John, s. Richard Crosse: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 16.

London, 71, 8; Philadelphia, 52, 0; Boston (U.S.), 76, 4.

Crossbowmaker.—Occup. 'a maker of crossbows'; cf. Bowmaker.

Laurence Crossebowmaker, C. R., 28 Hen. VI.

Crossdale, Croasdel, Croas-dill, Crosdale, Croasdale.—Local, 'of Crosdale.' I have not identified the spot. Crossing over the border from Yorkshire the name found a home in Furness, North Lanc., where it still exists in several forms. In the United States it has occasionally become Croasdill. As Croasdale it is strongly represented in the Philadelphia Directory. That Yorkshire is the home of the surname there can be no doubt.

Johannes de Crosdale, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 282.

Robert Croasdale, of Elmeredge, in Chipping, 1737: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 73.

1762. Married—Henry Croasdel, of Coulton, barber, and Isabel Hurst: St. Mary, Ulverston, ii. 405.

Manchester, 1, 0, 0, 0; London, 0, 2, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 3, 1, 21.

Crosser, Croser.—Office, 'the crosier,' q.v. This is the most natural and obvious origin, although it may mean one who dwelt by the village or roadside cross; cf. Bridger, Churcher, &c.

1769. Married—Daniel Green and Mary Croser: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 190.

New York, 0, 1.

Crossfield.—Local, 'at the cross-field,' i.e. the field that lay crosswise. Possibly because a cross was in it; v. Cross and Crouch. A North Lancashire surname.

John Crowthefylde, C. R., 8 Edw. IV.

William Crossfeld, of Poulton, husbandman, 1618: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 82.

John Crossfeld, of Cartmel, 1635: ibid.

Richard Crossfield, of Poulton, 1669: ibid.

1597. Bapt.—Edward, s. Edward Crossfield: St. Mary, Ulverston, i. 87.

1655. Married—Thomas Lawe and Mary Crossfeld: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 94.

Manchester, 1.

Crosskell, Croskill.—Local, 'of Crossgill.' I cannot find the spot. The surname is rare and confined to North Lancashire. Nevertheless it has crossed the Atlantic.

Robert Crosskyl (buried at Lancaster), 1541: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 82.

Richard Crosskell, of Ellel, 1661: ibid.

James Crossgill, of Ellel, 1680: ibid.

Anne Crossgill, of Ellel, 1664: ibid. p. 83.

William Crosskell, of Ellel, 1619: ibid.

Lancaster, 1, 0; Ellel (co. Lanc.), 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Crosskeys.—Local, 'at the Cross Keys,' a sign-name; cf. Roebuck, Whitehorse, &c. This was a well-known ecclesiastical symbol at a time when the power of the keys was a familiar dogma. Probably it would swing on some roadside inn hard by a bishop's palace or other ecclesiastical foundation; v. Hist. of Signboards. The surname still exists.

1610. Married.—Thomas Croskeves and Dorathe Smith: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 19.

Crossley, Crosley.—Local, 'of Crossley.' This is a great West Riding surname, and is found there five centuries ago, but I have not discovered the precise spot that gave birth to it.

Johannes de Crosselay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 9.

Willelmus de Crosselay, 1379: ibid.

The same record (p. 189) registers the following inhabitants of Stansfield (Halifax), where the surname is now so strong—Isabella Groslee, Elena Crossle, Thomas Grosseleys, Johannes Grosles. The change of initial from C to G and vice versa is common; cf. Cranidge for Grandage, also a Yorkshire instance.

West Rid. Court Dir., 45, 0; London Dir., 20, 4; Philadelphia, 20, 4.

Crossman.—Local, 'the crossman,' one who dwelt by the cross. For early instances, v. Crotchman.

Nicholas Crossman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 90.

Philip Crossman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 236.

Thomas Crossman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 246.

1578. Buried.—Stephen Crosseman: Kensington Reg. p. 89.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Crosswell, Craswell, Crosswell.—Local, 'at the cross-well,' from residence thereby; v. Crowseller.

1669. Married.—John Crosswell and Lydia Gregory: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ibid. 169.

London, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1, 5.

Crosthwaite, Crosthwaite, Crosswhite.—Local, 'of Crosthwaite,' a parish in co. Cumb., also a chapelry in co. Westm.; v. Thwaites. As usual, the suffix -thwaite has become -white; cf. Applewhite, Hebblewhite, &c.

John de Crostweyt, co. Norf., 1273. A. Gawin Crostwat, cistercian, 1534: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 181.

Richard Crosthwaite, of Kirkby Kendall, 1729: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, P. 75.

1721. Bapt.—James, s. of Mr. Crosthwaite: St. Mary, Ulverston, ii. 309.

London, 2, 0, 0; Liverpool, 4, 1, 0; Preston, 0, 2, 2; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 12, 0, 0.

Croston, Croxton, Croxon, Croxson.—Local, 'of Croston,' formerly Croxton, a parish near Chorley, co. Lanc.; spelt Croxton (1201), Crokeston (1204); v. Baines' Loc. ii. 114-5.

'Thomas Croxton, or Croston (co. Ches. 1603-63?), a colonel in the Parliamentary army': Dict. Nat. Biog. xiii. 248.

1621. Geoffry Croxton, of Manchester, gentleman: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 58.

1636. George Croston, of Bury, gentleman: ibid.

Manchester, 2, 2, 0, 0; Liverpool, 2, 2, 0, 0; London, 1, 0, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 2, 0, 0.

Crosweiler, Crassweiler.—Local, 'the cross-weller,' one who resided by the cross-well. Mr. Lower writes, 'In the middle ages, when many wells were deemed sacred, crosses were often erected near them, to denote their sanctity. A resident near such a spot would readily acquire the surname of "atte Cross-well," which would afterwards modify itself to Cross-weller' (Patr. Brit. p. 76). There can be no doubt that Crossweiler means one who dwelt beside the cross-well; cf. Bridger, Crosser, Bridgman, Crossman, &c. With the variant Crassweiler, cf. Craswell for Crosswell.

1554. William Carewe and Joanna Cresweller: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 15.

1700. Married.—James Hales and Catherine Craswell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 222.

1805.—James Crassweiler and Eliz. Bleach: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 324.

London, 2, 2.

Crotch.—Local, 'at the cross'; v. Crouch. This variant seems to have belonged to the south-eastern counties.

'William Crotch (1775-1847), composer, born in Green's Lane, St. George Colgate, Norwich, was youngest son of Michael Crotch, a carpenter': Dict. Nat. Biog. xiii. 230.

William atte-croch, co. Camb., 1273. A. John Crotch, of Cornbury, co. Herts, 10 James I: FF. ix. 133.

1581. Christopher Crotch, vicar of Hunstanton, co. Norf.: ibid. x. 327.

London, 1.

Crotchman.—Local, 'the crotchman,' one who lived by the crouch or cross, formed like Kirkman and Bridgman; v. Crossman, and cf. Crotch with Cross.

Richard Crocheman, co. Camb., 1273. A. Cassandra Crocheman, ibid.
William Crocheman, C. R., 16 Ric. II. New York, 1.

Crothers.—Local, 'of Carruthers,' one of the endless variants of Carruthers, q.v. An Americanized form.

Philadelphia, 27.

Crouch.—Local, 'at the cross,' i.e. the roadside or market-cross, once so familiar a sight at the intersection of the great country thoroughfares, or in the chartered market-steads. Crouch still lingers in our 'crutched' or 'crouched' friars.' Langland describes a pilgrim as having 'many a crouch' embroidered 'on his cloke.' Blomefield says of an old Norwich church, 'St. Crowche's was dedicated in honour of the Invention of the Holy Cross, but is now totally demolished; the churchyard is still surrounded with common lanes or passages': FF. iv. 299.

John atte Crouche, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 213.

John atte Cruche, 1273. A.

Matilda atte Crouche, B.

Millesenta Cruche, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Robert Cruche, co. Norf., ibid.

Nicholas atte Crouche, C. R., 2 Ric. II. Stephen atte Crouche, vicar of Wigehale, St. Mary's, co. Norf., 1358: FF. ix. 182.

London, 21; Philadelphia, 12.

Croucher, Crutcher.—Local, 'the croucher,' one who lived by the crouch (q.v.) or cross. This name may be set beside Kirker and Bridger, and names of that class; cf. Crotchman, q.v. Croucher, of course, is to Crosser or Crotcher what Crotchman is to Crossman.

William Croucher, C. R., 30 Hen. VI.

John le Crocher, K.

John Croucher, rector of Feltwell, co. Norf., 1430: FF. ii. 198.

1754. Married.—Joseph Henley and Mary Croucher: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 51.

1786.—Stephen Leighton and Sarah Crotcher: ibid. ii. 385.

London, 5, 3; Boston (U.S.), 4, 0.

Crouchhouse.—Local, 'at the crouch-house,' i.e. the house by the cross; v. Crouch.

William atte Crouchhouse, C. R., 27 Edw. III.

Crouchley.—Local, a variant of Critchlow, q.v. The number of the variations of this Lancashire surname is very large; v. Crutchley.

Margaret Crouchley, of Burtonwood, 1591; Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 48.

Ralph Crouchley, of Cronton, 1623; ibid. (1621-50), p. 58.

1604. Married.—Cuthbert Crouchley and Marie Martin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 28.

Manchester, 1.

Crow, Crowe.—Nick. 'the crow,' from some fancied resemblance; cf. Rook, Nightingale, Sparrow, Raven, &c.

Ralph Crowe, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Geoffrey Crowe, co. Norf., ibid.

John Crowe, co. Suff., ibid.

Walrann Crowe, co. Suff., ibid.

William Croe, co. Suff., ibid.

Hugh Crowe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 130.

Adam Croe, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 88.

1431. William Crowe, vicar of Wigenhale, St. Peter's, co. Norf.; FF. ix. 185.

Philip Crowe, co. Norf., 1307; ibid. ii. 366.

1717. Buried.—Richard Crowe, co. Norf.; ibid. i. 404.

1794. Married.—John Crowe and Christian Doddo: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 112.

London, 15, 8; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 3, 4; (Norfolk), 2, 14; Philadelphia, 15, 17.

Crowder, Crowther.—Occup. 'the crowder' or 'crowther,' a professional player on the crowd at fair or wedding feast. 'Giga, a fiddle, a croud, a kit, a violin' (Florio); cf. Fiddler, Piper.

'The pipe, the tabor, and the trembling crowd.' Spenser, Fairy Queen.

'But his eldre sone was in the feed, and whanne he cam and neighede to the hous he herde a symfonye and a crowde': (Wycliffe) Luke xv. 25.

Richard le Cruder, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Katerina Crowder, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 144.

Johanna Crouder, 1379; ibid. p. 237.

Thomas le Crouder, co. York. W. 2.

'The Inquisition post mortem of Robert de Davenport (1436) was taken before John de Legh, Escheator (1437), by the oaths of John Fygot, Robert del Douanes, . . . William le Crouther'; &c.: Hist. East Cheshire, i. 424.

1625. Bapt.—Nathaniell, s. Danyell Crowder: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 101.

London, 3, 7; Philadelphia, 8, 30.

Crowdson; v. Crewdson.

Crowell.—Local, 'of Crowell,' a parish in co. Oxford, five miles from Tetsworth. It is an extraordinary fact, that while my London Directory is without a representative, the Boston Directory has nearly a hundred.

Geoffrey de Crowelle, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Gilbert de Crowele, co. Oxf., ibid.

Thomas de Crowelle, co. Oxf., ibid.

Deonisia de Crawl, co. Bedf., ibid.

London, 0; Boston (U.S.), 97; Philadelphia, 10.

Crower.—Nick. 'the crower'; for a fanciful origin v. Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 77. No doubt it was a sobriquet affixed on one of boastful tendencies, one who could sound his own trumpet.

Henry le Crower, co. Kent, 1273. A.

John le Crowere, co. Norf., ibid.

Crowfoot, Crowfort, Crofoot, Crofut.—Local, 'of Crawford,' an imitative corruption. Crowfort marks the intermediate stage. Mr. Lower is unfortunate when he writes: 'Crowfoot. This name may be local, . . . but it is more probably derived from some peculiarity of gait on the part of the original bearer. "To strut like a crow in a gutter" is a proverbial phrase': Patr. Brit. p. 77. For many American variants, v. Crofford.

1736. Henry Crowefoot, co. Norf.; FF. i. 98.

1796. Married.—William Crowfoot, or Crawford, and Eleanor Wallace: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 142.

London, 1, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 1, 2, 0, 0; (Norfolk), 2, 0, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 2, 1.

Crowhurst.—Local, 'of Crowhurst,' (1) a parish in co. Surrey, four miles from Godstone; (2) a parish in co. Sussex, three miles from Battle.

Walter de Croherst, co. Sussex, 1273. A.

1777. Married.—William Ansell and Mary Crowhurst: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 282.

London, 11; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Crowle, Curle, Crowl, Curl.

—Local, 'of Crowle,' a parish in co. Lincoln. Curle seems to have been an early corruption.

Robert de Croule, co. Worc., 1273. A.

Walter de Cryl, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 214.

Thomas de Curle, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 279.

Johannes de Crull, 1379; ibid. p. 153.

Thomas de Crull, 1379; ibid. p. 154.

Henricus Curle, 1379; ibid. p. 29.

Richard de Crowell, or Richard de Crol, co. Linc., 1273. A.

London, 1, 1, 0, 0; Leeds, 1, 0, 0, 0;

Philadelphia, 0, 0, 3, 5.

Crowley.—Local, 'of Crowley,' a township in the parish of Great Budworth, co. Chester. But this cannot be the parent of the extraordinary number of Crowleys in the States. In the Boston list are 22 Michaels, 19 Patricks, 39 Timothys, 17 Dennises, 17 Corneliuses, and 33 Daniels. Thus it is clear that the vast majority of the American Crowleys are of Irish descent; cf. Crawley.

John Crowley, of Northwich, 1680: Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 69.

1615. Bapt.—Winifred, d. Richard Crowley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 74.

1796. Married.—John Grubb Crowley and Rebecca Ragless: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 154.

London, 7; Boston (U.S.), 249.

Crowther; v. Crowder.

Crowthers.—Local; a variant of Carruthers, q.v. No connexion with Crowther.

1796. Married.—George Crowders and Eliz. Winter: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 150.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 4.

Croxton, Croxon, Croxson.

—Local, 'of Croxton,' parishes and hamlets in cos. Cambridge, Lincoln, Chester, Norfolk, Leicester, and Stafford. The corrupted forms are of an ordinary character, and there is no baptismal name to suggest a different origin; cf. Johnson and Johnstone.

Elena de Croxstone, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Sarra de Croxstone, co. Camb., ibid.

Richard de Croxstone, co. Northumb., ibid.

Abbas de Crokeston, or Croxton, co. Leic., ibid.

1605. Married.—William Johnson and Frances Crockson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 129.

1667. — Robert Harwood and Ellin Croxson: ibid. p. 134.

1669. — John Croxton and Jane Garnum: ibid. p. 156.

London, 0, 2, 1; Crockford, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 0, 0; New York, 0, 1, 0.

Cruddas, Cruddis, Crudace.—Local, 'of Carruthers,' cor-ruptions of Carrodus, which is again a corruption of Carruthers, q.v. All the forms are North English.

1888. Married—T. T. M. Austin to Bertha M. Cruddas, of Warden, co. Northumb.: Standard, Jan. 14, 1888.

Cruikshank.—Nick.; v. Crookshank.

Crummack, Crummock, Cromack.—Local, 'of Crumbok', some spot in the W. Riding of Yorks that I cannot identify. It is manifest that Crumbok would become Crummock in the course of a few generations.

'Robert Hartley Cromek (1770-1812), engraver, was born at Hull': Dict. Nat. Biog. xiii. 144.

Undoubtedly this is a variant of Crumbok, only diversified slightly from Cromack, one of the present existing forms.

Johannes de Crumbok, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 266.

Robert Crumbok, 1379: ibid.

Willelmus Pece de Crombak, 1379: ibid. p. 286.

This latter was so registered to distinguish him from another William Pece in the same village (Austwick). We may reasonably presume the locality was in the immediate neighbourhood.

William Crumbocke, de Clarkehill, freeholder, 1600: (A List of Freeholders in Lancashire) Lanc. and Ches. Record Soc. xii. 235.

Ellen Crumbok, de Clarkehill, in Whalley, widow, 1649: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 56.

Manchester, 1, 0, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 0, 1; York, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 2.

Crump.—Nick. 'the crump,' i.e. the crooked. 'Crumpt, or crookt: Nomenclator, p. 44' (Halliwell). The surname is well known in the United States. Bridget Crompe emigrated to Virginia in 1635, and Thomas Crompe was already settled there in 1624 (v. Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, pp. 117, 227).

Richard le Crumpe, co. Salop, 1273. A. Constancia Crompe, co. Oxf., ibid. Hugh le Crumpe, T.

1564. Thomas Crompe and Eliz. Bover: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 29.

1674. Bapt.—Mary, d. George Crumpe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 264.

1789. Married—Joseph Crump and Jane Mason: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 19.

London, 18; Philadelphia, 8; Boston (U.S.), 5.

Cruse, Crews, Crewes.—(1) Nick. 'the cruse,' i.e. the merry; cf. Merry, Jolly, Joyce, Merryweather, &c. 'Crous, merry, brisk, lively; cruse or crous, saucy, malapert': Kennett, MS. Lansd. 1033.

'Ageyn hem was he kene and crous.' Cursor Mundi. (Halliwell.) Nicholas le Cruse, co. Bedf., 1273. A. Henry Cruse, co. Bedf., ibid.

(2) Local. A Cornish surname. All the forms are found in the same register.

1637. Bapt.—Edward, son of William Cruse: St. Columb Major, Cornwall, p. 41.

1652. — Arthur, son of William Crews: ibid. p. 51.

1656. — Eliz., d. of William Crewse: ibid. p. 53.

1668. — William, son of Edward Crewes: ibid. p. 62. London, 9, 3, 0; Truro, 0, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 3, 0, 0.

Cruso.—Local. Evidently a Flemish name. In the Dict. Nat. Biog. we are informed how it came to pass that 'Robinson Crusoe' got its title. Timothy Cruso (probably related to Timothy Cruso infra) was a Presbyterian minister, born about 1656. His family resided at Newton Green, Middlesex. Studying at Newington Green Academy, he had for a fellow-student Daniel Defoe, 'who immortalized his surname by the Adventures, published in 1719' (xiii. p. 264).

'Antony Cruso, of Howne Coat in Flanders, father of John Cruso of Norwich, father of Timothy Cruso of London, living 1634': Visitation of London, 1634, i. 209.

Aquila Crusoe, common councillor, Norwich, 1687: FF. iii. 423.

1692. Francis Cruso, clerke, and Mrs. Anne Moberley, both of the parish of St. James, Westminster: St. Mary Aldermary (London), p. 34.

John Cruso, prebendary of St. David's, 1667: Hist. and Ant. St. David's, p. 367. Crockford, 1.

Crust, Crast.—? Local, 'of Crust' (?). I suggest a local origin because of two instances infra. But the surname is found so widely scattered in the 13th century that I feel sure in many cases it is a personal name, probably a nick. of Christian or Christopher. Both were favourites at the time.

Geoffrey de Crusta, co. Hereford, 1273. A.

Stephen Cruste, co. York, ibid.

John Crust, co. Essex, ibid.

Amicia Cruste, co. Oxf., ibid.

Roger Crust, co. Suff., ibid.

Lincolnshire seems to be the chief habitat of the surname in the 19th century. Since writing the above I am led to ask the question, Is it not local, and a form of Cross?

Philip de Crast, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 157.

Thomas atte Crost, co. Soms.: ibid. p. 179.

Roger atte Crost, co. Soms.: ibid. p. 181.

1668. Married—Robert Crust (or Crast) and Eliz. Smith: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 153.

MDb. (co. Lincoln), 8, 0; London, 0, 1.

Crutcher.—Local; v. Croucher.

Crutchley, Crutchloe.—Local; v. Critchlow, of which these are variants.

1763. Married—Oliver Ball and Ann Crutchley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 125. London, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 3, 0.

Cruthers.—Local, 'of Carruthers,' q.v. An American variant; v. Crothers.

Philadelphia, 4.

Cryer.—Official, 'the crier,' one who announced the mandate of bench and council; one who raised the 'hue and cry'; the common crier.

Philip le Criour. E.

Wat le Crever. G.

Edward le Creiour. N.

Johanna Cryour, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 46.

Alicia Crioure, 1379: ibid. p. 47.

1590. Bapt.—Ferdinando, s. John Cryer: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 23.

1788. Married—Clement Cryer and Frances Cryer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 14.

London, 1; Sheffield, 4; Ashton-under-Lyne, 1; Philadelphia, 3.

Cubill; v. Cobbold.

Cubit, Cubitt, Cupit, Cupitt.—Bapt. 'the son of Jacob,' from nick. Cob and dim. Cob-et; v. Cobb and Coppin. This derivation is all but settled by the earliest form found in Norfolk of this essentially Norfolk surname; v. Cobbett.

Geoffrey Cobet, co. Norf., 1273. A. Roger Cobet, co. Norf., ibid.

The nick, Cobb and the dim. Copping are found among the bailiffs of Norwich (1378-95): FF. iii. 116. The change from o to u is eccentric, but so are an endless number of corruptions in this dictionary. The above is strongly confirmed by the fact that Collier is Cullyer, and Colley or Colly is Culley, in co. Norfolk (q.v.). Probably the dialectic sound of o was u in this district.

Benedict Cubitt, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1566: FF. xi. 328.

1739. Married—Benjamin Barber and Barbara Cubit: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 22. 1756. — Thomas Cubitt and Mary Gray: ibid. p. 61.

MDb. (Norfolk), 1, 18, 0, 0; London, 1, 15, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0, 5.

Cubley.—Local, 'of Cubley,' a parish in co. Derby, six miles from Ashbourne.

Johannes de Coubelay, souter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 83.

London, 2; Sheffield, 2; West Rid. Court Dir., 1.

Cuckold.—Nick, 'the cuckold,' i.e. a man with a false and untrue wife. The surname did not last long; Cuckoo fared better.

Cecilia Cokwald, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 172.

Cuckoo.—Nick, 'the cuckoo'; M.E. coccou, cukhow; v. Cuckold. This surname still exists.

John Cucku, co. Kent, 1273. A. John Coccowe, C. R., 51 Edw. III.

William Cuckow, rector of Thurning, co. Norf., 1434: FF. viii. 282.

Thomas Cuckowe. V. 13. Stephen Cuckoo. FF.

1650. Buried—John, s. Daniel Cucko: Reg. Canterbury Cathedral, p. 120.

1659. Bapt.—Thomas, ye sonn of Thomas Cucko: ibid. p. 121.

MDb. (co. Kent), 1.

Cuckson.—Nick.; v. Cookson. New York, 1.

Cudd, Cuddy.—Bapt. 'the son of Cuthbert'; nick. from Cud and Cuddy. Hence in the North 'cuddy,' a donkey; v. Crewdson.

John Cudson, co. York. W. 15. Cuddie Taylor, 1587: Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westmoreland and Camb., vol. i. p. xxxiii.

Cuddy, servant of Paite, 1587: ibid.

Cudde Grahame, co. Northumb., 1541: TTT. p. xlix.

Cudde Robson, co. Northumb., 1541: ibid.

1548. Bapt.—John, s. William Cud: Reg. Kensington, p. 2.

1725. Married—Peter Nichols and Clementia Cudde: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 47.

London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 5.

Cuerden.—Local, 'of Cuerden,' a township in the parish of Leyland, co. Lancs.

'Richard Kuerden, M.D., physician and antiquary, was the son of Gilbert Kuerden, of Kuerden, near Preston, and born about 1620': Baines' Lanc. ii. 143.

Eliz. Cuerden, of Cuerden, 1601: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 49.

John Cuerden, of Cuerden, 1604: ibid.

Thomas Cuerden, of Walton-en-le-Dale, 1608: ibid.

Preston, 4; Philadelphia (Cuerten?), 3.

Cullen, Cullin.—Local, 'of Cologne'; cf. Bullen for Boulogne.

John de Coloigne, co. Norf., 1344: FF. v. 368.

1660-1. Peter Cullen and Jane Croke: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 282.

1795. Married—John Cullen and Mary O'Neill: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 133.

London, 11, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 10.

Culley, Cully.—Bapt. 'the son of Nicholas'; v. Colley. This is a Norfolk form, where o seems commonly to have become u; cf. Cubitt for Cobbett, and Cullyer for Collier.

Thomas Culley, sheriff of Norwich, 1559: FF. iii. 358.

Joshua Culley, or Cully, mayor of Norwich, 1606: ibid. p. 370.

MDb. (Norfolk), 3, 0; London, 6, 2; Boston (U.S.), 3, 4.

Culling.—Bapt. 'the son of Culling,' one of many personal names ending in -ing; cf. Browning or Harding, and v. Coulling. The place-name Cullingford evidently means Culling's ford, just as Cullingworth means the worth or farm of Culling; v. Coulling (2) for other instances.

William Culling, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 154.

Adam Culling, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Alan Culling, co. Camb., 1273. A. 1661. Giles Lytcott and Sarah Culling: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 55.

London, 1; New York, 1.

Cullingford, Culliford.—(1) Local, 'of Cullingford' or 'Gulliford.' Gulliford is a hundred in co. Dorset, probably at first Cullingford; v. Culling. (2) Local, 'of Colyford,' a hamlet in the parish of Colyton, co. Devon.

London, 3, 2.

Cullum, Culham.—Local, 'of Culham,' a parish in co. Oxford. A purely English name; it has nothing to do with Mac-cullum.

Ranulf de Colham, co. Salop, 1273. A. William Culhame, or Colham, or Culme, 1570: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 278.

1595-6. John Cullum and Jane Price: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 229.

1669. Married—Becaman Turner and Abygall Cullum: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 167.

1779. — Philip Culham and Mary Bailey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 305.

London, 10, 1; New York, 2, 0.

Cully.—Local; v. Kewley.

Cullyer, Culyer.—Occup. 'the collier,' a Norfolk form; cf. Cubitt for Cobbett in the same county; v. Collier.

John, son of John Cullyer, Marlingford, co. Norf., 1640: FF. ii. 458.

1610. Joseph Eliot and Eliz. Cullier: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 327.

London, 0, 2; MDb. (Norfolk), 1, 1; New York, 0, 4.

Culpeck.—Local, 'of Killpeck,' a parish in co. Hereford, eight miles from Hereford.

Hugh de Kylpek, co. Glouc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

John de Kylpec, co. Hereford, ibid.

London, 3.

Culshaw, Kilshaw.—Local, 'of Culcheth,' a township in the parish of Winwick, co. Lanc. The Culcheths of Burscough spelt their name variously as Culcheth, Culshaw, and Kilshaw. 'The place is called Kilsha by the common people': Baines' Lanc. ii. 218.

Henry de Culchet, co. Lanc., 1201: Baines' Lanc. ii. 197.

Gilbert de Culchet: ibid. ii. 210.

William Kilshaw, of Burscough, 1617: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 115.

Geoffrey Culcheth, of Hindley, 1585: ibid. p. 49.

Thomas Culcheth, of Leigh, 1611: ibid.

John Kilshaw, of Burscough, 1619: ibid. p. 115.

Edward Culshaw (Culcheth), of Burscough, 1641: ibid. (1621-50), p. 58.

John Culcheth, of Culcheth, parish of Winwick, 1640: ibid.

William Culcheth, or Culshaw, of Burscough, 1665: ibid. (1660-80), p. 70.

MDb. (co. Lanc.), 11, 2; Burscough (Lanc.), 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Culver.—Nick. 'the culver,' i.e. culver, a dove. The final d and t in the instances below seem excrement; cf. Pidgeon, Dove, and the local Culverhouse, i.e. dove-cote.

William Culvere, or Culvert, co. Heref., 1273. A.

John Culvard, or Culverd, or Culvert, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Culverd, co. Oxf., ibid.

1690-1. Percivall Hartt and Elisha (? Eliza) Culver: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 199.

London, 7; Philadelphia, 4.

Culverhouse.—Local, 'at the culver-house,' i.e. the dove-cote; v. Culver. Pigeon-houses were attached to all large establishments; many of them still exist. An interesting article by Chancellor Ferguson on the importance of pigeons in the early cuisine may be seen in the Transactions Cumb. and West. Ant. and Arch. Soc. (vol. ix. pt. ii. pp. 412-434), where are several sketches of old culver-houses. It is very probable that the Scotch Claverhouse is a corruption.

Henry atte Colverhouse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 95.

Roger atte Colverhous, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 124.

Matthew de Columbariis, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

(?) Avicia de Columbariis, co. Wilts, ibid.

1582. John Culverhouse (co. Essex) and Joan Kalladaye: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 111.

1653. Bapt.—Thomas, son of John Culverous: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 183.

Elsewhere Culverous, Culverus (ibid. pp. 179, 206).

London, 3; MDb. (co. Wilts), 1.

Culverwell.—Local, 'of the culver-well,' probably the well which was frequented by doves; v. Culver and Culverhouse.

1610. Married—Daniell Ball and Prozeza Culverwell: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 250.

1646. Buried—Thomas Culverwell: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 174.

London, 7; Boston (U.S.), 1; New York, 1.

Cumber.—Occup.; v. Comber.

Cumberbatch, Comberbireh, Comberbach, Cumberbatch, Camberbireh, Cumberbatch, Cumberbireh.—Local, 'of Comberbach,' a township in the parish of Great Budworth, co. Chester. The modern variants of the surname are many and curious; v. Counterpatch.

Roger Comberbach, of Wych Malbank, 1603: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 43.

Richard Comberbach, of Congleton, 1633: ibid. (1621-50), p. 58.

1739. Married—Francis Durham and Mary Cumberbach: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 23.

1795. — John Cumberbatch and Eliz. Sonnes: ibid. ii. 140.

London (Cumberbatch), 1; Manchester, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 1; MDb. (co. Chester), 0, 1, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0; (co. Northampton), 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0; (co. Stafford), 0, 0, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0.

Cumberland.—Local, 'of Cumberland,' the well-known county; cf. Derbyshire, Lancashire, &c.

1670. Richard Cumberland and Ann Quinsey: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 297.

1703. Married—John Cumberland and Hannah Bennett: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 51.

London, 3; New York, 2.

Cummin, Cumming, Cummings, Cummins, &c.; v. Comyn.

Cundall, Cundell.—Local, 'of Cundall,' a parish in the dioc. of Ripon.

Willelmus de Cundall', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 208.

1623. Nicholas Cundill and Frances Evans: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 125.

— Cecil Parrie and Eliz. Cundall, d. Clement Cundall: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 30.

London, 6; Leeds, 3, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Cunditt, Cundy, Cundey.—Local, 'of the conduit,' by the aqueduct, or drain, or sewer. Cundy is the familiar Yorkshire form; v. Cundy, in Brockett's Glossary. 'Cundy, a sewer, a conduit: North' (Halliwell). 'Cundyte, of watyr, aqueductus': Prompt. Parv.

Reginald del Conduyt, C. R., 16 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Thomas Cundy, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 14.

Peter Cundi, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Felice Cundit, co. Camb., ibid.

William de Kundy, co. Hants, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1792. Married—William Cunditt and Mary Rock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 74.

London, 1, 7, 0; West Riding Court

Dir., 0, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 3, 0.

Cuner, Conner.—Occup. 'the cuner,' i.e. the coiner of money; cf. Monier. Skeat says, 'O.F. coin, a wedge, stamp on a coin. . . . Latin cuneus, a wedge.' Probably some of our Conners, as distinct from Connor, are thus descended.

Norman le Cuner, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Nicholas le Cuner, co. Oxf., ibid.

Sampson le Cuner, co. Bedf., ibid.

Henry Cunator, co. Hunts, ibid.

London, 0, 4; Philadelphia, 0, 14.

Cunliffe, Cunccliffe, Condlyffe, Cundiff.—Local, 'of Cundcliff,' now Cunliffe Hill, in the township of Billington, near Blackburn, Lanc.

Cliff is undoubtedly the suffix; cf. Topliff for Topcliff.

Robert de Cuncleclif, or Cunteclif, co. York, 1273. A.

Adam de Cunliffe, 1317-8: Baines' Lanc. ii. 31.

Christabel Cunliffe, of Altham, widow, 1595: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 49.

Thomas Dewhirst, of Cunliffe in Rish-ton, husbandman, 1648: ibid. (1621-50), p. 65.

William Clayton de Cunliffe, 1642: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 109.

Ellis Cunliffe, 1642: ibid.

Nicholas Cundliffe, 1662: ibid. p. 156.

Nicholas Cunliffe, co. Lanc., 1606: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 291.

1809. Married—Foster Cunliffe, of Wrexham, and Hon. Emma Crew: St. Geo. Han. Sq. iii. 406.

London, 7, 0, 0; Manchester, 13, 1, 0, 1; MDb. (co. Chcs.), 2, 0, 1, 2; Philadelphia, 7, 1, 0, 0.

Cunningham, Cunningham, Cunnynghame.—Local, 'of Cunnynghame,' a district in North Ayrshire, containing a large number of parishes.

1592. Buried—Thomas Conningham: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 204.

1711. Married—Robert Hammond and Eliz. Cunnyngham: ibid. p. 56.

London, 26, 1, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 316, 0, 0.

Cuppage.—Offic. 'the cuppage,' a cup-bearer, one of the many household officers who waited at the feast; akin to Sewer, Ewer, Napier (q.v.). Cuppage, though rare, still exists; cf. Smallpage and Littlepage.

John Cupage. AA. 3.

Cuppleditch.—Local; v. Cobbledick.

Curle.—Local; v. Crowle.

Curr.—Nick. 'the cur'; M.E. curre, a dog. Possibly, however, the Curr of the London Directory is a misspelling for Kerr, q.v.

John le Curre, co. Linc., 1273. A.
1676. John Curre and Ann Nicholas: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), i. 256.
1752. Married—Joseph Bird and Eliz. Curr: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 212.
London, 1; New York, 2.

Currier, Currier, Curryer.—Occup. 'the currier,' a leather-dresser.

Adam le Corur, C. R., 9 Edw. I.
Maurice le Couraour, 21-2 Edw. I.: Freeman of York (Surt. Soc.), i. 5.
Simon Currou, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 224.

Johanna Corour, 1379: ibid. p. 37.
1656. Richard Summerell and Alice Currier: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 36.
1661. Richard Currier and Catherine Shreeve: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 285.
John Bonar (1722-61) married (1746) Christian Currier, of Edinburgh: Dict. Nat. Biog. v. 336.
Philadelphia, 0, 7, 0; London, 0, 0, 7.

Currey, Currie, Curry; v. Corry.

Curson.—Local; v. Curzon.

Curteis, Curtice, Curties, Curtis, Curtiss, Curtius.—Nick. 'the courteous,' one of courtly manners; M.E. curteys and cor-teys; O.F. curteis. A popular surname from the 13th century downwards. It was perfectly natural that a sobriquet of this complimentary character should be retained where possible, 'Curteyse, urbanus': Prompt. Parv.

Richard Curtayse, co. Northumberland, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Robert Courteys, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 105.

William le Curteis, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Walter Curteys, co. Oxf., ibid.

Osbert le Curteys, co. Essex, ibid.

Henry Cortheys, co. Devon, ibid.

Richard le Cortheys, co. Oxf., ibid.

Adam Cartase, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 202.

Johannes Curtas, 1379: ibid. p. 204.

1550. William Curteys and Margery Baynerd: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 12.

1569. Bapt.—Eliz. d. Thomas Curty: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 5.

1718. Married—James Curtis and Priscilla Brathwaite: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 60.

London, 1, 1, 1, 88, 2, 1; Boston (U.S.), Curtrice, 4; New York, 0, 0, 0, 110, 14, 0.

Curtepy.—Nick. for one remarkable for the cut of his cloak or gaberdine; M.E. courtepy, a short cloak.

'Ful thredbare was his overest courtepy.' Chaucer, C. T. 292.

Richard Curtepie, 1273. A.

William Cortepy, ibid.

Curthorse.—Nick. (?) v. Short-horse.

Robert Curthorse, 1273. A.

Curtmantle.—Nick. for one remarkable for the cut, &c., of his courtepy, or cloak; v. Curtepy.

Henry Curtmantel. PP.

Curtvalour.—Nick. for one whose courage was short-lived, a pot boaster.

Richard Curtevalur, co. Bedf., 1273. A.

Curtwallet.—Nick. for one who carried a small bag; or, metaphorically, one who was needy.

Martin Curtwallet, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Curwen, Curwin.—Local, 'of Culwen,' a lordship in Galloway, Scotland. It is said that the alteration to Curwen took place about the reign of Henry VI. The family early settled in the neighbourhood of Workington, co. Cumb.

Patric de Culwen, 35 Edw. I.: Westm. and Cumb. i. 90-91.

Gilbert de Culwen, 17 Edw. I.: ibid.

Gilbert de Culwen, 3 Edw. II.: E. and F., co. Cumb., p. 171.

William de Culwen, 19 Ric. II.: ibid. p. 172.

Robertus Curwen, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 223.

London, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 1.

Curzon, Curson.—Local, 'Geraldine de Curzon came into England with the Conqueror. His descendants were in Derbyshire, temp. Henry I, and Curzon, Lord Scarsdale, is "of Scarsdale" in that county' (Lower).

Richard de Carzoun, co. Derby, 20 Edw. I. R.

Henry de Carzoun, co. Derby, ibid.

Thomas de Curzon, co. Northampton, ibid.

Agnes Curson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 18.

Sibilla Curson, 1379: ibid. p. 22.

London, 2, 2; New York, 1, 1.

Cushen, Cushing, Cushion, Cushin.—Bapt. 'the son of Custance,' from nick. Cuss, dim.

Cussin; cf. viol, dim. violin; also Jean, dim. Jennin, and, with ex-crescent g, Jennings; also Pierre, dim. Perrin, now Perring; also Nicholas, nick. Col, dim. Colin, now Collins and Colling.

Johannes Cussyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 161.

London, 3, 2, 2, 0; New York (Cushin), 2; Boston (U.S.), 0, 152, 0, 0.

Cussions, Cussans, Cousins, Couzens, Cousens, Cosens.—Bapt. In many cases a natural corruption of Custance, one of the most popular of girl-names. But see Cousen and Cousin, which in the singular number generally have a different origin, though here again, perhaps, it is sometimes Cuss-in (v. Cushen). This is a case where, two distinct sources being proved, absolute certainty as to which was the actual origin is impossible.

Ricardus Cusson (=the son of Cus, i.e. Custance), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 7.

Johannes Cusson, 1379: ibid. p. 20.

1571. Married—Thomas Coossyne and Dorothy Holforde: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 10.

1577. Buried—Pawle Standyshe, servant to Thomas Cozin: ibid. p. 195.

Askham Bryan, Yorks (Cussions), 1; West Rid. Court Dir., i. 0, 2, 1, 1, 0; Manchester (Cousins), 1; London, 0, 0, 16, 3, 5, 0; London Court Dir. (Cozens), 1; New York, 0, 0, 6, 1, 0, 0.

Cust, Cuss.—Bapt. 'the son of Coustance,' usually Custance (q.v.), from nick. Cust or Cuss; cf. 'Cuskin, a drinking-cup, "a cup, a cuskin"; Nomenclator, p. 232' (Halliwell).

Cup-names were commonly taken from the girls who handed them; v. Jug in Skeat's Etym. Dict.

Freest de Clementhorp, 10 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 30.

Custe Newman, 1273. A.

Robert fil. Cust, ibid.

Custe Alver, ibid.

Cus nepta Johannis Frost, co. Camb., ibid.

Cuss Balla, co. Hunts, ibid.

Matilda Custe, daughter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 102.

1701. Bapt.—John, s. Thomas Cust, culter: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 140.

London, 2, 2; Crockford, 3, 0.

Custance, Custerson.—Bapt. 'the son of Coustance.' The popular form was Custance.

* But Hermegild loved Custance as hire lif,
And Custance hath so long sojourned ther.'
Chaucer, C. T. 4956-7.

To-day as surnames both Custance and Custerson (i. e. Custance-son) are familiar to Cambridgeshire. Custance as a personal name was a favourite in that county in the 13th century. For Custerson, cf. Matterson, Paterson, and Catterson, from Mattinson, Pattinson, and Cattinson.

Constance, or Custance de Byerne, co. Notts, 1273. A.
John Custaunce, co. Camb., ibid.
Henry fil. Custance, co. Camb., ibid.
Custance Burnard, co. Camb., ibid.
Custance de Bergh, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 60.

Adam Custanson, 1379: ibid.

The last two instances entered together are probably mother and son.

Willelmus Custeson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 102.

Custans serviens Petri atte Milne, 1379: ibid. p. 41.

Petronilla Custaunce, 1379: ibid. p. 103.
1629. Married—Henry Custance and Maria Godbeare: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 26.

1801.—Robert Custance and Eliz. Smith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 238.
London, 4, 2; MDB. (co. Cambridge), 3, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Custlot.—Bapt. 'the son of Custance,' i. e. Coustance, from nick. Cutt (q.v.), and dim. Cust-elot; cf. Hewlett = Hugh-elot.

Elena Custlot, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 222.
Alicia Custlot, 1379: ibid.

Custobodie, Curtobodie, Costabadie, Costobadie.—I can make nothing out of this curious surname. I find it in the form of Crestobody in the last century; in co. Northampton it is found as Curtobodie. I suspect it is a Scotch local name.

1776. Married—Samuel Chapman and Arabella Crestobody: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 272.

London Court Dir., 0, 0, 0, 1; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1, 0, 0, 0; (co. Northampton), 0, 1, 0, 0; (North Rid. Yorks.), 0, 0, 2, 0.

Cutbill.—Bapt. 'the son of Cutbold.' This is the only satisfactory solution I can offer.

Nicholas Cotebold, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 147.

Walter Cotebold, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid. p. 151.
London, 1.

Cutbush.—Local. Like so many other old French names, a translation into English. It is simply Talboys anglicized; O.F. taillebois, i. e. cut wood, probably a ridding; cf. Fairbrother for Beaufrere, or Handsomebody for Gentilcorps. Many similar instances will be found in this dictionary.

1752. Married—Thomas Cutbush and Mary Gibbs: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 214.
London, 5.

Cuthbert, Cuthbertson.—Bapt. 'the son of Cuthbert.' As might be expected, these surnames are found chiefly in the north of England, as are other forms, such as Crewdson and Crowdson.

William Cudbriht, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Johannes Cuthbrid, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 140.

1771. Married—Ridley Cuthbertson and Ann Maria Dickson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 210.

West Rid. Court Dir., 2, 1; London, 10, 11; Philadelphia, 21, 2.

Cutlack.—Bapt. 'the son of Guthlac,' sharpened into Cuthlack; v. Goodlake. It is interesting to notice that the surname still clings to the county where it is found six centuries ago. The change from initial G to C is common in nomenclature; v. Caunter.

John Gudloc, co. Camb., 1273. A.
1556. Guthlac Cordall, rector of Colteshall, co. Norf.: FF. vii. 310.
London, 1; MDB. (co. Cambridge), 4; (Suffolk), 1; (Hunts), 1.

Cutler.—Occur. 'the cutler,' a maker of knives, &c. A curiously common entry, whether as surname or trade-name, in Yorkshire Poll Tax, 1379. From its frequency I should have expected a larger number of Cutlers in the present directories of that county.

Salaman le Cotiler, London, 1273. A.
Matilda la Cutiller, co. Linc., ibid.
Ricardus Hyngham, cotteler, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 10.

Willelmus Cottelar, 1379: ibid. p. 39.
Thomas Hank, of Handsworth, coteler, 1310: ibid. p. 45.

Johannes Cotelar, of Handsworth, bakester: ibid.

The last two names are placed together. The modern form was arrived at in good time:

1637. Married—William Cutler unto Marye Nortone: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 18.
London, 21; Sheffield, 2; New York, 16.

Cutt, Cutts, Cutson.—Bapt. 'the son of Cuthbert,' from the nick. Cutt. These surnames are found chiefly in the district where St. Cuthbert had made his great name a household word.

'Now Cut and Bause!
Brenge forth the clubbes and staves.'
A Lytell Geste of Robin Hode, ii. 56.

The first instance is in Latin form:

Cutus de Lincoln, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Radulphus Cutte, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 0.

Willelmus Cutte, 1319: ibid. p. 1.
Johannes Cutesone, 1379: ibid. p. 15.
William Cutt, alias Cuttes, son of Robert Cuttes, of Sheffield, 1610: Visitation of London, 1633, i. 213.

1546. John Strangways and Gertrude Cutson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 9.
London, 1, 3, 0; Sheffield, 0, 8, 0; New York, 0, 2, 0.

Cuttance.—Bapt. 'the son of Custance,' q.v.; a corruption.

'Mr. Povey, myself, and Captain Cuttance': Pepys' Diary, 1662, p. 122, Chandos edition.
London, 1.

Cutter.—Occur. 'the cutter,' i. e. cloth-cutter. This was Latinized as Cissor:

Walter Cyssor, 1273. A.
Hugh Cissor, c. 1300. M.
Thomas Tylour, cissour, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 100.

In this last instance probably the surname and trade-name are closely connected; v. Chaloner for two similar instances.

Adam Cutter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 92.
Robert Foster, cutter, 1643: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 89.

1610. Buried—Christopher Cutter: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 114.
London, 2; Philadelphia, 10; Boston (U.S.), 90.

Cutwolf.—Bapt. 'the son of Cuthwolf'; cf. Cuthbert and Cuthwolf with Ethelbert and Ethelwolf.

Robertus Cutwolf, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 233.

Thomas Cutwolf, 1379: ibid.
Emma Cutwolf, 1379: ibid. p. 230.
Robert Cutwolf, C. R., 19 Hen. VI.

D

Dabbs, Dabb.—Bapt. 'the son of Robert,' from the nick. Dob, pronounced Dab in the North; cf. Rab for Rob (v. Dobb). Similarly the double diminutive Dob-in-et is found as Dabinet (v. Dobinet). In my old parish registers (Ulverston) Johnson is frequently spelt Janson, especially during the 17th and 18th centuries.

1520-1. Henry Dabbe and Eliz. Hopper: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 1.

1571. Buried—Elizabeth Dabbes, servant to Mr. Harveye: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 192.

1672. Married—Steven Miles and Saray Dab: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 176.

London, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 0, 1.

Dabney.—Local; v. Daubeney.

Dace.—Local, 'of Dayce.' I do not know where the place is situated.

Avery de Dayce, co. Camb., 1273. A. 1803. Married—George Dace and Sarah Harrington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 286. MDB. (co. Essex), 3; Philadelphia, 2.

Dack.—? —. A curious Norfolk surname. It is found in that county in the 13th century, and still remains there.

Alexander Dacke, co. Norfolk, 1273. A. Simon Dack, rector of Brampton, co. Norfolk, 1404: FF. vi. 439.

Roger Dack, of Heydon, co. Norfolk, 1404: ibid.

1653. Married—Edward Dack and Rebecca Holden: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 29.

MDb. (co. Norfolk), 2; New York, 2.

Dacre.—Local, 'of Dacre,' a hamlet eleven miles south-east from Ripon, co. York; also Dacre, a village near Penrith.

Ranulph de Dacre, co. Cumb., 20 Edw. I. R.

Cecilia de Dacre, 1479: P. T. Yorks. p. 253.

1602-2. Married—John Bryan and Honor Dacre: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 84.

1668. Married—Franses Stene and Martha Dacre: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 146.

Manchester, 1.

Dadd, Dadds, Dadson.—Bapt. 'the son of Dod,' a variant of Dodd, Dodds, and Dodson, q.v. For further information, v. Dabbs and Dadswell.

1705. Married—Richard Dade and Hanah Wilkinson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 227.

The Daily Telegraph (Jan. 27, 1893) records the death of Mary Campbell Dadson.

London, 3, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 3, 0, 0.

Dadswell.—Local, 'of Dowdeswell,' q.v., a variant; cf. Dabbs for Dobbs, or Dadds for Dodds.

London, 1.

Daft, Daff.—Nick. 'daft' and 'daff,' probably allied to 'deaf,' dull of hearing. Also a foolish sort of fellow, 'daffe, or he that spekythe not yn tyme': Prompt. Parv. p. 111. 'I shal be halden a daffe, or a cocknay.' Chaucer, C. T. 4026.

'Beth not bedaffed for your innocence.' Ibid. 9067.

A Daft might have played in the Notts County Eleven in 1273 as well as 1886. The only instance occurring in the Hundred Rolls is there, probably the progenitor.

William Daft, co. Notts, 1273. A. Lefeke Daffe, co. Notts, ibid.

Robert Daft, Fines Roll, 11 Edw. I. Roger Daffe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 196.

1664. Bapt.—Sarah, d. Richard Daft:

St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 221.

London, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Notts), 5, 0;

(co. Kent), 0, 1.

Dagg, Daggett.—Bapt. 'the son of Dag'; Icel. dagr = day. The dim. seems to have been Daggett in England, but Daggett is a Yorkshire surname, and as such may be but a corruption of Tagg, q.v.; cf. Tennyson for Dennison.

Georgius Dag, tapytour, 32 Hen. III: Freeman of York, i. 260.

1605. Thomas Robbins and Eliz. Dagge: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 207.

1667. Married—John Daggot and Ane Farrabee: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 135.

London, 3, 0; Leeds, 0, 1; Hartington, Yorks, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 26.

Dagnall, Dagnell.—Local, 'of Dagnall,' a parish in the dioc. of Oxford.

Ivo de Dagenhale, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Henry de Dagenhale, co. Camb., ibid.

William de Dagenhale, co. Camb., ibid.

1783. Married—Samuell Dagnall and Martha Weatherley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 347.

London, 3, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Dagworthy.—Local, 'of Dagworthy,' a hamlet in the parish of Old Newton, co. Suffolk; cf. Langworthy and Kenworth for Langworth and Kenworth.

John de Dagworth, co. Norfolk, 1257: FF. ii. 466.

Nicholas de Dagworth, co. Norfolk, 1400: ibid. vi. 385.

Osbert de Dageworth, co. Norfolk, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

John de Dagworth, co. Suff., 1273. A. John de Daggeworth, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

London, 1.

Daily, Dailey.—Variants of the great Irish surname Daly. Of course Daily is imitative.

1805. Married—John Tunnadcliff and Harriot Daily: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 322.

London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 34, 43.

Dain, Daines, Dains.—Local, 'at the Dene' (v. Dean and Dane), from residence therein.

Richard de la Dane, co. Kent, 1273. A. Walter atte Dane, co. Kent, ibid.

Robert de la Dane, co. Kent, ibid.

Agnes del Daine, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 110.

1799. Married—John Daines and Jane Ellis: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 208.

London, 5, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 1.

Daingerfield.—Local; v. Daingerfield.

Daintree.—Local, 'of Davenport' (?), a parish in co. Northampton. The suffix in the modern variant Daintree is imitative of tree, as in Plumtree, Crabtree, Rowntree, or Peartree.

Robert de Davintre, rector of Stratton, Norfolk, 1317: FF. v. 197.

Richard Dawntre, rector of Intwood, co. Norfolk, 1482: ibid. 42.

Simon de Daventre, co. Northampton, 20 Edw. I. R.

John de Davyntre, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Johannes Daintrey, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 105.

1640. Bapt.—Elizabeth, d. John Daintrey: St. Thomas the Apostle (London),
p. 54.

1771. Married—William Daintree and
Eliz. Cook: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 216.
London, 3.

Dainty.—? Local, 'of Davenport (?)', an imitative variant of Daintree, q.v. I see no other solution, as there is no trace of a nickname Dainty, i.e. nice, particular, delicate.

1584. Robert Davntyte and Margery Trever: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 134.
1593-4. Roger Dayntie, tailor, and Joane Barton: ibid. p. 212.
London, 2; Philadelphia, 6.

Daisy, Daisey.—Nick. 'the daisy'; M.E. dayesye, i.e. the eye of the day. Mr. Lower suggests a local origin. He writes, 'Possibly from the ancient barony of Aisié (D'Aisié), in the arrondissement of Pont Audemer, in Normandy' (Patr. Brit. p. 80). He furnishes no evidence. My first instance practically settles the matter.

Robert Dayeseye, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Roger Daisey. V. 9.
New York, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 5.

Dakin, Dakins, Daykin, Deykin.—Bapt. 'the son of David,' from nick. Daw, and dim. Daw-kin; cf. Wilkin, Watkin, &c. The original nick. seems to have been pronounced Day rather than Daw; v. Dawkins. Daykenus (without surname), co. Rutland, 1273. A.

The three names following occur on the same page:

Dakyn de Idsford, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 283.

Johannes Dawkyn, 1379: ibid.
Henricus Daykin, 1379: ibid.
1547-8. Thomas Hide and Agnes Dakyn: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 1.

1793. Married—Robert Minson and Ann Dakins: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 98.
1804.—Paul Daykin and Eliz. Shabiey: ibid. p. 308.

London (1884), 7, 1, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 13, 0, 0.

Dalby, Dalbey.—Local, 'of Dalby,' (1) a parish in N. Rid. Yorks; (2) a parish in co. Lincoln, near to Spilsby; also three parishes in co. Leicester. Dalbey is an American variant of the surname, but it existed in the mother-country in the 17th century.

Willelmus de Dalby, osteler, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 47.

Matilda Dalby, 1379: ibid. p. 207.
1569. Robert Whaley and Anne Dalbye: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 44.

1604. Married—Edward Dalbey and Saint Yonge: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 28.
West Rid. Court Dir., 5, 0; London, 11, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 7.

Dale.—Local, 'at the dale,' from residence therein. Dale is a common suffix in place-names; cf. Dunderdale, Tyndale, Martindale, Tweedall, &c.

Ralph de la Dale, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Thomas de la Dale, co. Suff., ibid.
Richard del Dale, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 17.

Thomas del Dale, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 9.
Robertus del Dale, 1379: ibid.

Willelmus at Dale, 1379: ibid. p. 45.
Johannes at Dale, 1379: ibid.

1545. Married—Water (Walter) Marlur and Mary Dale: St. Antholin (London), p. 5.

1567. — Thomas Dale and Christyan Hobkyns: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 6.
London, 46; New York, 26.

Dallah.—Local, 'of Dalla,' now Dalla Gill, a parish ten miles from Ripon. The place is thus included: 'Misee, Lungle, Skeldon, Dala, Sweton, Dalehouses, et Nidderdale' (Poll Tax, 1379, p. 237).

Ricardus de Dala, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 238.
Manchester, 2.

Dallaway, Dalloway.—Local, 'of the dale-way'; a comes in intrusively, as in Hathaway, Ottaway, Greenaway. M.E. wey, a way.

John Dalwey, co. Linc., 1273. A.
1666. Married—Richard Dallaway and Mary Mandering: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 124.

1708. — Isaac Wiltshere and Sarah Dalloway: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 184.
London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Worcester), 1, 3.

Dalling, Dallin, Dallyng.—Local, 'of Dalling,' a parish in co. Norfolk, sometimes called Field Dalling.

Phillip de Dalling, co. Norf., 10 John: FF. ix. 219.

Eustace de Dalling, co. Norf., 6 Edw. II: ibid.

Peter de Dallyng, co. Norf., 1291: ibid. iv. 440.

Roger Dallyng, vicar of Brooke, co. Norf., 1409: ibid. x. 108.

Symon de Dallinge, or Dallinghe, co. Norf., 1273. A.

1744. Married—John Dalling and Eliz. Richardson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 34.

London, 1, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1, 0.

Dallman, Dalman.—Local, 'the daleman,' one who resided in a dale; v. Dollman. Not to be confused with D'Almaine.

Robertus Dalman, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 58.

Cf. Johannes de Dall, 1379: ibid. p. 254.
London, 2, 1; New York, 0, 1.

Dalphin.—Bapt.; v. Dolphin.

Dalrymple.—Local, 'of Dalrymple,' lands situated in Ayrshire, spelt in early records Dalrumpill or Dalrumpyl. The ancestors of the earls of Stair took their surname therefrom.

1707. Married—John Dalriddle and Elenor Campbell: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 67.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 6.

Dalston.—Local, 'of Dalston,' a parish in co. Cumberland, four miles and a half from Carlisle.

(Homines) de Daleston, co. Cumb., 20 Edw. I. R.

1725. Married—Isaac Dalston and Ann Berwick: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 1.
London, 1.

Dalton.—Local, 'of Dalton,' parishes in cos. Lancs., Durham, and Yorks (E. Rid.); townships in cos. Lancs., Northumberland, Yorks (N. Rid. and W. Rid.), and Durham. Meaning 'the town in the dale.' This place-name is chiefly found in the hilly districts of North England.

Henry de Dalton, co. Northumb., 1273. A.

William de Dalton, co. Northumb., ibid.
Richard de Dalton, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

Johannes de Dalton, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 26.

Willelmus de Dalton, 1379: ibid. p. 51.
1554. Bapt.—Elizabeth Daltonne: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 6.

1557. — Ellen Dalton: ibid. p. 7.

1639. Married—Jeremy Daunaye and Katherine Daulton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 71.

London, 35; Philadelphia, 46.

Daltree, Daltry.—Local; v. Dawtree.

Damant, Dammant, Damont.—? Local. I do not know the origin of this name.

Thomas Damant, co. Norf., 1731: FF. vi. 292.

1803. Married.—Thomas Whight and Ann Damant: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 283. London, 2, o; MDB. (co. Norfolk), 1, 1, o; (co. Suffolk), o, o, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1, o, o.

Damm, Dam.—Local, 'at the dam,' from residence beside the mill-dam, &c.

Petrus dil Dam, co. Norf., 1273. A. Robertus de Dam', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 174.

Johannes de Dam', 1379: ibid.
John atte Dam, vicar of Necton, co. Norf., 1409: FF. vi. 54.
Robert Atte-dam de Wrotham, vicar of Griston, co. Norf., 1361: ibid. ii. 291.

1679. Bapt.—George, s. Thomas Dam and Phillis, his wife: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 69.

Anne Damme, of Chipping, 1663: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457–1680), p. 86.

London, 3, o; New York, 20, 1; Boston (U.S.), 5, 4.

Dampier, Damper.—Local, 'de Dampiere,' (1) a place near Dieppe; (2) a place in the department of Orne; both in Normandy (Lower).

Richard de Damper, co. Linc., 1273. A. London Court Dir., 1, o; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks.), 1, o; (co. Kent), o, 2; (co. Southampton), 3, o.

Damry, Dammery.—Local, 'de Amory,' a Norman local surname.

Roger de Amory, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Richard Ammary, co. Bedf., ibid.
Robert Dammori, co. Oxf., ibid.
Roger Damori, co. Oxf., ibid.
Roger Damary, co. Norf., 1322: FF. x. 204.

1669. Married.—Edward Yorke and Ellin Damery: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 162.

London, 1, o; Philadelphia, o, 1.

Damsell.—Nick, 'the damsel'; O.F. damoiseil, a young squire or page. The later damoiseau is found in Lond. Dir. as a French surname.

Simon Damsell, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Johannes Damsell', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 13.

Robertus Damsell', 1379: ibid. p. 116. Lawrence Damsell, co. York. W. 2. 1567. Philip Watkins and Anne Damsell: Marriage Lic. (London), 1. 36.

1700. Thomas Tidde and Mary Elliott; consent attested by Joseph Damsell, uncle of said Mary Elliott: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 237.

1709. Buried—William Damsell: St. John Baptist on Wallbrook, p. 197. Liverpool Court Dir., 1.

Danby.—Local, 'of Danby,' two parishes in co. York.

Simon de Danby, co. Linc., Hen. III. Edw. I. K.

1565. John Danbye and Johanna Farr, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), 1. 31.

1765. Married—Francis Danby and Mary Kendall: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 147. London, 4; Leeds, 4; Philadelphia, 9.

Dancaster.—Local, 'of Dancaster,' an early form.

John de Dancastre, London, 1273. A. 1450. William Dancastre, rector of Walcot, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 351.

1577. Buried—Margaret, wife of Thomas Dancaster: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 194.

1593. —Robert Fox, servant with Mr. Dancaster: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 142. London, 1.

Dance.—Bapt. 'the son of Daniel,' from the nick. Dan, whence the patronymic Dans, sharpened to Dance; cf. Evance for Evans.

Amicia Daunce, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 127.

Thomas Danse, 1379: ibid. p. 14. Willelmus Daunce, 1379: ibid. p. 84.

1722. Married—Giles Dance and Sarah Brett: St. Antholin (London), p. 136. London, 7; Philadelphia, 2.

Dancer, Danser.—Occup. 'the dancer,' a professional dancer at fair, festival, and wedding; cf. Hopper, Crowder, &c.

Hervey le Dansur, co. Norf., 1273. A. Ralph Danser, co. Glouc., ibid.

William le Dauncer, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 180.

Johannes Daunser, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 156.

1709. Married—John Jackson and Eleanor Dancer: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 231.

London, 4, o; Philadelphia, 2, 2; MDB. (co. Salop), o, 1.

Dancey, Dancy, Dansie, Dauncey.—Local, 'of Dauntsey,' a parish in dioc. of Gloucester and Bristol—natural and inevitable corruptions.

Peter de Dautesy, co. Berks, 1273. A. Richard de Dautesye, co. Wilts, ibid.

1539. Married—William Bower and Johane Dauncy: St. Antholin (London), p. 1.

1542. Buried—Missriss Dancy, wife of Alderman Dancy: ibid. p. 3.

1606. Married—Thomas Dansie to Sarah Dansie: ibid. p. 110. London, 1, 2, 1, o; New York, o, 3, o, o; MDB. (co. Gloucester), 3, o, o, 1.

Dancocks.—Bapt. 'the son of Daniel,' from nick. Dan, and suffix -cock. The patronymic would be Dancocks = Dancocks' son; cf. Wilcocks or Wilcox, and v. Cocks.

John Dancock. G. 1668. Married—Philip Dancocks and Anne Spicer: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 151. London, 2.

Dandelion.—Nick. 'tooth of lion'; F. dent-de-lion; cf. Quodling.

Hugh Daundalyn, Close Roll, 32 Edw. I.

William Daundelynn. B. Robert Daundelin, co. Southampton, 20 Edw. I. R.

A family named Dandelion long existed in the Isle of Thanet (v. Lower's Patr. Brit.).

1410. John Daundelyon: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting (2). New York, 2.

Dando, Dandoe.—?—. Mr. Lower writes, 'A corruption of D'Anlo. Ashton Dando, a tithing in the parish of Ashton, was formerly called Ashton D'Anlo' (Patr. Brit. p. 81). This statement scarcely tallies with the instances furnished below, belonging as they do to the 13th century and to the same district. I am strongly inclined to believe that Dando was a Scandinavian personal name. Toke, in the third instance, strengthens this view.

Alexander Dando, co. Somerset, 1273. A.

Fulco Dando, co. Somerset, ibid.
Toke Dando, co. Somerset, ibid.

1803. Married—Gabriel Dando and Mary Wiles: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 281. London, 9, o; New York, 1, 1.

Dandridge.—Local, 'of Tandridge,' a parish in dioc. of Winchester. For change of T to D, v. Tennyson and Dandy.

1687–8. Henry Price and Ann Dandridge: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 52.

1779. Married—William Laws and Susanna Dandridge: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 305. London, 3; New York, 2.

Dandy, Dandison.—Bapt. 'the son of Andrew,' from nick. (Scotch) Dandy; v. Tandy. This nick. was an early one, and once as much English as Scotch.

Dandi (without surname), co. Linc., 1273. A.
Richard Dande, co. Hunts, ibid.
Dandy (without surname), co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Willelmus Dandy, et uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 251.

Thomas Dandison, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 25.

'Andro Elwand, callit Dand of Baghed', 1541: TTT. p. xlviii.

Dande Elwald, 1515: ibid. p. 205.

Dand Pringill, 1516: QQQ. p. ix.

Dand Elliot, 1586: ibid. p. xxxviii.

Dande Eleot, 1586: ibid.

1742-3. Bapt.—Ann, d. John Dandy:

St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 170.

MDB. (West Rid. Yorks), o, 1.

Dane, Danes.—Local, 'at the dane' or 'dean' (v. Dain and Dean), from residence therein. Nothing to do with Denmark and the Danes. Danes is probably the patronymic, as in Holmes, Styles, Williams, Jones, &c.

John de la Dane, C. R., 32 Edw. I.
William de la Dane, co. Kent, 1273. A.
Willelmus Danes, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 215.

1804. Married—Samuel Dane and Eliz. Wallis: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 300.

1805.—William Danes and Ruth Clapp: ibid. p. 335.

London, 5, 3; Boston (U.S.), 23, o.

Dangerfield, Daingerfield.—Local, 'D'Angerville.' Five places in Normandy still bear the name of Angerville (Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 82). I see no reason to doubt this derivation. The French terminative -ville occasionally becomes -field in English nomenclature; cf. Turbyfield for Turberville. 'William de Angerville, anno 1200, had a writ of right against Robert de Angerville, for Angerville adwoson: Rot. Normannie in Turri Lond. 2 John; Madox, Hist. Excheq. p. 360' (quoted in FF. i. 297).

Benedict de Angerville, temp. Hen. II: FF. i. 296.

1659. Married—Foulke Dangerfield and Ruth Couthmund: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 35.

1784.—Thomas Dangerfield and Mary Anne Lapidge: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 358.

London, 9, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 1.

Dangerous.—Nick, 'the dangerous,' one who has power to harm.

William Daungcrous, Close Roll, 13 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Gerard Daungrus, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Daniel, Daniell, Daniels, Dannell.—Bapt. 'the son of Daniel.' A popular personal name in the 13th century; v. Dann, Danks, and Dannett.

Alicia Daniel, co. Glouc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Simon Danyel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 90.

Beatrice Danyell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 69.

Robertus Danyell, 1379: ibid. p. 19.

Thomas Daniell, 1379: ibid. p. 40.

Oliva Danyl, 1379: ibid. p. 148.

Teffan Danyll, 1379: ibid.

1689-90. Buried—Sarah Daniel: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 257.

London, 27, 14, 27, 3; Philadelphia, 21, o, 56, o.

Danish.—Local, 'the Dane'; cf. English, Irish, Welsh, Norris, Cornwallis, Kentish, and Londonish, q.v. This national surname is now completely lost in Dennis, q.v.

Roger le Daneis, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Henry le Daneys, co. Devon, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

John le Daneys, co. Camb., ibid.

Roger le Deneys, co. Camb., 20 Edw. I. R.

Symon le Deneys, co. Suff., ibid.

Joel de Deneys, co. Devon, 1273. A.

Robert le Deneys, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 102.

Danks.—Bapt. 'the son of Daniel,' from nick. Dan, and dim. Dankin, whence patronymic Danks. Danks has fared like every other surname with suffix -kins—in process of time it has got reduced to -kys and -ks; cf. Perks from Perkins, Dawks from Dawkins, Wilks from Wilkins, Tonks from Tonkins, &c.

Gunnild' Danekin, co. Glouc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Adam Dankyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 120.

Richard Dankyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

1572. Thomas Danks, rector of Hedenham, co. Norf.: FF. x. 145.

1800. Married—Charles Hasketh and Mary Danks: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 213.

1805.—Daniel Ayres and Sarah Danks: ibid. p. 323.

London, 6; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Dann, Danson.—Bapt. 'the son of Daniel,' from nick. Dan. For several centuries Danson has been a familiar South Cumberland and Furness surname. It is found in the neighbourhood of Millom.

The London Directory is not represented

1552. Married—William Danson and Janet Myers: St. Mary, Ulverston, p. 18.

1553. Bapt.—Agnes Danson: ibid. p. 20.

Christopher Danson, of Ulverston, 1636: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 86.

1624. Married—Walter White and Mary Dansson: St. Antholin (London), p. 58.

1693. Francis Dann and Jane Newman: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 210.

London, 6, o; Manchester, 1, 2; Liverpool, o, 6; Boston (U.S.), 4, o.

Dannett, Dannatt, Dannot.

—Bapt. 'the son of Daniel,' from nick. Dan, dim. Dann-et; cf. Hewet for Hugh, or Willett for William, i.e. Will-et. These diminutives are simply inexpressible.

Cristiana Danet, co. Norf., 1273. A.

William Danet, co. Northampton, 20 Edw. I. R.

John Dannot, of Chester, baker, 1593: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 50.

Thomas Dannot, of Chester, 1612: ibid.

1666. James Stephens and Elizabeth Dannot, of Stowell, co. Glouc.: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 95.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1, 10, o; Philadelphia, 1, 2, o; Boston (U.S.), o, o, 1.

Danvers.—Local, 'D'Anvers,' of Antwerp.

Ralph de Anvers, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Robert de Anvers, co. Berks, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Thomas de Anvers, co. Berks, 20 Edw. I. R.

1660. Samuel Danvers and Abigail Arnold: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 53.

1662. Charles D'Anvers and Hannah Brayne: ibid. p. 78.

1710-11. Richard Sheppard and Anne Danvers: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 55.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 2.

Dapifer.—Offic. 'a sewer'; v. Sewer.

Henry Dapifer, 1273. A.

Sewall Dapifer. J.

Darby, Derby.—Local, 'of Derby,' the capital of the county of that name. With the two spellings, cf. Clerk and Clark, Parkins and Perkins, &c. The 'race for the Darby' is now almost universal, but in my part of the world (North Lancashire) it is as often as not the 'Derby.' Cf.

'Mirabile Pecci; or the none-such wonder of the Peak in Darby shire.' Lond. 1669.

Robert de Derby, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 9.

William de Dereby, co. Derby, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Robertus de Derby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 137.

Johannes Derby, 1370: ibid. p. 28.

Nicholaus de Derby, 1370: ibid. p. 48.

1733. Married—Thomas Walthall and Sarah Darby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 11.

London, 10, 4; Philadelphia, 11, 5.

Darbyshire, Darbeshire, Derbyshire, Derbyzier.—Local, 'of Derbyshire'; cf. Willsher, Cheshire, Kentish, Cornish, &c. As might be expected, we find a good number of instances in such a large neighbouring centre as Manchester. The American variant Derbyzier is a curious one.

Adam de Derbyshire, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 49.

Robert de Derbyshire, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 50.

Idonia Darbyschyre, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 282.

John Darbeshire, of Bold, 1591: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 50.

John Derbyshire, of Worsley, 1592: ibid. p. 53.

Manchester, 10, 1, 12, 0; London, 3, 2, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 17, 1.

Darcy, D'Arcy, Darcey.—Local, 'de Arcy.' Norman de Arcy was a tenant-in-chief in co. Lincoln, temp. William I. The surname is Norman.

Osbert de Arcy, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Roger de Arcy, co. Linc., ibid.

Thomas Darcy, co. Linc., ibid.

Norman Darcy, co. Linc., ibid.

Norman Darci, co. Linc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Henry Darci, co. Linc., ibid.

1525. Robert Darsey and Johanna Bassett: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 4.

1610. Married—Sir George Trencher, Knt., and Mrs. Penelope Darsey: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 36.

1795. — John Darcy and Eliz. Minifie: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 131.

London, 2, 3, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 7, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 2, 1.

Dare.—?—. I have no solution of this name to offer.

Roger Dare, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 130.

William Dare, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Richard le Dare, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 109.

Robert le Dare, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 200.

Gilbert Dare, co. Bedf., 1273. A.

1771. Buried—Hannah Dare: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 148.

London, 8; Philadelphia, 14.

Dark, Darke.—? Local, D'Arques, from Arques, now a bourg and castle four miles from Dieppe. Probably the De Arcis of Domesday (v. Lower). Nevertheless it is far more natural to consider it a nickname from the dark complexion of the bearer, and add it to the already formidable list of colour-names; cf. Brown, White, &c. M.E. derk, dark.

John Derke, co. Norf., 1273. A.

John Derk, co. Camb., ibid.

Thomas Derk, rector of Burnham Westgate, co. Norf., 1344: FF. vii. 39.

Nicholas Darke, 1534: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 181.

1579. John Darke and Margaret Eppe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 90.

1789. Married—John Obee and Charlotte Dark: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 29.

Looking at the above references it must be clear that mine is the only satisfactory derivation.

London, 8, 6; New York, 1, 3.

Darkin, Dearkeen.—Bapt. 'the son of Darkin,' i.e. Dearkin, 'dear little one'; cf. Dearman and Darling. Derkin is found as a single personal name in the Hundred Rolls. In the same register Darling is found as Derling; cf. Lovekin.

Derkin (without surname), co. Camb., 1273. A.

Ralph Derkin, co. Camb., ibid.

Derkin fil. Derkini de Lacre, 38 Hen. III: BBB. p. 58.

Dorkin le Bercher, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Willelmus Derkyn, et Alicia uxor ejus: P. T. Yorks. p. 65.

Robertus Dorkyn, 1379: ibid. p. 89.

Henricus Derkyn, 1379: ibid. p. 122.

1750. Bapt.—John, s. Joseph Dorkin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 296.

London, 3, 1; New York, 1, 0.

Darley.—Local, 'of Darley,' (1) a parish in co. Derby, three miles from Matlock; (2) a township in the parish of Hampsthwaite, W. Rid. Yorks.

John de Derleye, co. Yorks, 1273. A.

Richard de Derleye, co. Derby, ibid.

Robert de Derleg, co. Derby, ibid.

Agnes de Derlay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 245.

Nicholaus de Derlegh', 1379: ibid. p. 177.

Beatrice de Derlay, 1370: ibid. p. 2.

1587-8. Henry Blather and Clasia Darley: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 166.

1689. Married—John Rhodes and Mary Darley: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 45.

1774. Married—George Darley and Mary Harber: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 239. London, 6; Sheffield, 6; Philadelphia, 2.

Darling, Dorling.—Nick, 'the darling,' a term of endearment; cf. Sweetlove, Douceamour, &c.

Ralph Darlyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 123.

Ricardus Derlyng, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 24.

Adam Derlyng, 1379: ibid. p. 146.

Johannes Derlyng, 1379: ibid. p. 11.

Adam Darlyng, 1379: ibid. p. 215.

Henry Derlyng, Rct. Clause, 22 Ric. II. pt. ii.

1583-4. Married—Antony Facet and Jane Darline: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 10.

1657. — John Layton and Eliz. Darling: ibid. p. 33.

1793. — James Darling and Mary Brown: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 88.

London, 11, 4; Sheffield, 5, 0; Boston (U.S.), 70, 0.

Darlington.—Local, 'of Darlington,' a well-known town in co. Durham.

1694. Married—Thomas Darlington and Barbara Taylor: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 215.

1790. — Jonathan Birkinshaw and Catherine Darlington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 52.

London, 3; New York, 4.

Darnell.—Local, 'of Darnall,' a chapelry in the parish of Sheffield, W. Rid. Yorks.

Robert Darnel, co. Norf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Agnes Darnel, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Henry Darnel, co. Camb., ibid.

William Darnel, co. Hunts, ibid.

Thomas Darnal, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 45.

Roger Dernele, 1379: ibid. p. 205.

1740. Married—William Carr and Jane Darnall: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 26.

1744. — Robert Bryan and Hannah Darnel: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 275.

1785. — James Thornton and Mary Darnall: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 374.

London, 6; Crockford, 7; Philadelphia, 12.

Darrell, Darell, Dayrell, Dayrell.—?—.

Ralph Dayrel, co. Oxf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Henry Dayrel, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Ralph Dayrel, co. Bucks, ibid.

Isabella Darel, co. York, ibid.

Gilbert Darel, co. Linc., ibid.

1603. Henry Darell and Mary Legg: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 98.

Crockford, 1, 0, 0; London Court Dir., 1, 1, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1 0 0, 0; New York, 5, 0, 0, 0.

Darrington.—Local, 'of Darrington,' a parish in W. Rid. Yorks, three miles from Pontefract. The surname would easily cross the border into co. Lincoln.

Robert de Derington, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Walter de Derington, co. Linc., ibid.
John de Derington, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Robertus de Daryngton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 95.
John de Deryngton, horrner, 6 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 14.
1778. Married—Richard Lewry and Ann Darrington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 284.
London, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Darwen, Darwin, Darwent.—(1) Local, 'of Darwen.' Over and Lower Darwen are towns in the ancient parish of Blackburn, co. Lanc., so called because located on the small stream the Darwen, a variation of the common river-name Derwent. Both towns and rivulet are so spelt in early documents; for instances, v. Baines' Lanc. ii. 81-3. The Sheffield Darwins and Darwents are doubtless of Derwent, q.v.

Robertus Darwent, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 164.
Henricus Darwent, walker, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 274.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Derewin,' found in Domesday as Derewen.

Derewin (without surname), co. Oxf., 1273. A.
1678. Thomas Hird and Anne Darrwin: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 288.
Manchester, 1, 0, 1; London, 0, 2, 0; Sheffield, 0, 4, 5; New York, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0.

Daubeney, Daubeny, Daubney, D'Aubney.—Local, 'de Aubigny,' a spot in Normandy (v. Taylor's Rom. de Rou, p. 220). 'William de Albini attended William the Conqueror at the Conquest. Wace mentions him as the "butler D'Aubignie"' (ibid. p. 221). Lower has a good article on the name (Patr. Brit. p. 5). In some of the instances infra the de is practically duplicated.

William de Aubeni, co. Notts, 1273. A.
William de Daubeney, co. Bucks, ibid.
John Daubini, co. Linc., ibid.
Hugh de Aubeny, co. Norf., ibid.
Ordnell de Daubeny, co. Warw. and Leic., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

William de Aubeny, co. Linc., ibid.
Ascelina Daubeny, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.
1540. Married—Olyver Dawbney and Anne Forde: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 1.
MDB. (co. Glouc.), 3, 0, 3, 0; Boston (Daubeny), 13; London, 0, 1, 3, 1; Crockford, 1, 5, 1, 0.

Dauber, Dawber, Dorber.—Occup. 'the dauber,' a plasterer. 'And one built up a wall, and, lo, others daubed it with untempered mortar': Ezek. xiii. 10.

'The Mayor of Attringham, and the Mayor of Dover,
The one's a thatcher, the other a dauber.'
Grose's P. Dict. (v. Craven Dialect).

The surname is by no means extinct.

Willelmus Dauber, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 44.
Johannes Doweber, 1379: ibid. p. 49.
Johannes Douber, 1379: ibid. p. 56.
Ralph Dowber, of Little Crosby, 1617: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 55.
William Dowber, of West Derby, 1614: ibid.
New York, 1, 0, 0; Liverpool, 0, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 0, 8, 0; Manchester, 0, 0, 1.

Daughtrey.—Local; v. Daw-trey.

Dauncey.—Local; v. Dancey.

Daunt.—Probably for Davenant. Matilda Daunt, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 33.
William Davenant, alias Dannent, and Elizabeth Holmes, 1632: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 29.
1612. Buried—Ann Daunt: Reg. Stourton (co. Wilts), p. 65.
London, 1; Crockford, 5; New York, 2.

Davenport, Devenport, Devonport.—Local, 'of Davenport,' a township in the parish of Astbury, East Cheshire. The surname has ramified in a remarkable manner. The variants recorded above seem to be confined to the immediate district within which the township is situated.

Orm de Davenport, co. Ches., 1166: Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 379.
Ralph de Davenport, co. Ches., 1415: ibid. ii. 381.
John Davenport, of Henbury, 1555: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 51.
Ralph Davenport, of Prestbury, 1574: ibid.
1593. Buried—Richarde Davenport: Reg. Prestbury Church (co. Chester), p. 120.
1594. Bapt.—Thomas Davenport: ibid. p. 121.

Manchester, 23, 4, 1; London, 18, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 61, 0, 0.

David, Davidson.—Bapt. 'the son of David.' The more popular patronymic was Davis or Davies from the nick. Davy.

David (u for v) Walschman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 26.
David, et Alicia uxor ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 41.
Dauyd Bene, 1379: ibid. p. 276.
1578. Maurice David and Sarah Ivatt: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 52.
London, 7, 36; Boston (U.S.), 9, 60.

Davidge, Davage.—Bapt. 'the son of David,' a corruption of Davids.

Richard Davyde, 1591: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), iii. 6.
George Davidge, Norwich, 1704: FF. iv. 282.
1717. Married—Thomas Davidge and Frances Bedford: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 59.
London, 4, 2; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0.

David, Davies, Davis, Davison, Davy.—Bapt. 'the son of David,' nick. Davy.

Henry Davy, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 114.
Richard Davi, co. Suff., 1273. A.
William Davy, co. Oxf., ibid.
Johannes Dauyson (u for v), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 20.
Alicia Davy, 1379: ibid. p. 103.
Johannes Dayman (i.e. the servant of Davy), 1379: ibid. p. 173.
Matilda Davy, doghier, 1379: ibid. p. 261.
Davie Grame, 1602: Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westm. and Cumb., vol. i. p. cxiv.
Davie, his son, 1602: ibid.
Davie Bankhead, 1602: ibid.
1526. John Davyson and Eliz. Bella: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 5.
1579. Buried—Davy u^r Bevan, sonne of Bevan u^r Davy, Mr. Smithes man, 30 years: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 127.
London, 7, 230, 361, 31, 24; Philadelphia, 2, 40, 932, 32, 3.

Davitt.—Bapt. 'the son of David.' This variant is now generally found in Ireland and among the Irish in the United States, but it was a familiar English form in the 13th century.

Davit de Wudebregg, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Isabel uxor Davit, co. Camb., ibid.
Godfrey Davit, co. Oxf., ibid.
Davit Burre, co. Camb., ibid.
Philadelphia, 3.

Daw, Dawe, Dawes, Daws.—Bapt. 'the son of David,' from the nick, Daw; v. Dawson and Dawkips.

'And Daw the dykere deye for hunger.'
Piers P. 4461-2.

Ralph Dawe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:
Kirby's Quest, p. 87.

Daw le Pestour. H.

Dawe le Falconer. DD.

Johannes Dawe, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 155.

Dawe Codelyng, faber, 1379: ibid.
p. 263.

Lovelkin Dawes, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Richard fil. Dawe, co. Bucks, ibid.

Dawe Robson, co. York, 1473. W. 11.

1503. Married—Thomas Dawes and

Bennett Jeffreys: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,
iii. 17.

1711. — John Daw and Mary Annable:
St. Antholin (London), p. 124.

1788. — George Dawe and Mary Hart:
St. Geo. Han. Sq. il. 6.

London, 15, 7, 26, 8; New York, 8, 0,
6, 0.

Dawbarn, Dawbin, Dawborn.—Bapt. 'the bairn of Daw,' exactly equivalent to Dawson.
Such entries are common in old
Yorkshire records; v. Barnfather.

Cf. Robertus Thombarne, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 155.

Johannes Wilbarne, 1379: ibid.

Adam Gibbarne (i.e. Adam, the barn of Gib [Gilbert]), 1379: ibid. p. 215.

1578. Robert Dawborne and Susanna

Treves: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 83.

1644. Married—Thomas Dawborne and Deborah Thomson: St. Dionis Back-church, p. 24.

London (1884), 4, 1, 1.

Dawber.—Occup.; v. Dauber.

Dawkins, Dawkens, Dawkes, Dawks.—Bapt. 'the son of David,' from nick. Daw, dim. Daw-kin.
With the abbreviated forms, cf.
Perkins, Perkes, and Perks; also Wilkins, Wilkes, and Wilks.

Dorken le Bercher, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Johannes Dawkyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 89.

Robertus Dorkyn, 1379: ibid. p. 283.

John Dawkyns. F.

1677. Married—William Daukines and

Ledia Smith: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 184.

1721. — John Dawkins and Ann Ellis:
St. Antholin (London), p. 136.

London, 11, 1, 3, 0; Boston (U.S.), 2,
0, 0, 0.

Dawson, Dowson.—Bapt. 'the son of David,' from nick. Daw or Dow; v. Daw. The earlier nick. would seem to have been Daud, then Daw or Dow. The following are entered together, and are evidently members of one family:

Magota Daudwyfe, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 272.

Matilda Daudoghter, 1379: ibid.

Again, we find four entries in close conjunction:

Beatrix Daudewyf, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 218.

Johannes Dauson, 1379: ibid.

Robertus Dauson, 1379: ibid.

Johanna Dowedoghter, 1379: ibid.

Osborn Daweson, 1379: ibid. p. 23.

Walterus Daweson, 1379: ibid. p. 59.

In the same village occur, among a few inhabitants:

Robertus Doweson, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 116.

Willelmus Daweson, 1379: ibid.

London, 73, 4; New York, 40, 0.

Dawtre, Daughtry, Daltree, Daltrey.—Local,

'of Dawtre.' Mr. Lower writes

as follows: 'Hawtre, Haultrey.

The family were in Sussex in Norman times. . . The name was derived from their residence on a high bank or shore. Norman-Fr.

haulte-rive, and hence the latiniza-tion De Alta Ripa, often modified to Dealtrey and Dawtre, while

Hawtre and Haultrey are closer adhesions to the primitive form'

(Patr. Brit. p. 151). He further adds that Hauteville is in the arrondissement of Alençon in Normandy.

Robert de Alta Ripa, co. York, 1273. A.

Thomas de Alta Ripa, co. York, ibid.

Elena de Dautry, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 29.

Nicholaus Dautry, 1379: ibid.

Thomas Dawtre, 1379: ibid. p. 151.

Johanna Dautre, 1379: ibid. p. 195.

1617. Married—Anthony Cobbe and Christyan Dawtrye: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 44.

MDb. (North Rid. Yorks), 0, 0, 1, 0, 0;

Halifax, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0; Crookford (Daltrey),

2; Leeds, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0; West Rid. Yorks

Court Dir., 0, 1, 0, 0, 0; London, 0, 1, 0, 0, 3; Philadelphia (Daltrey), 1.

Day, Dey.—Occup. 'the deye' or 'day,' a maid, a dairy-maid, whence 'dairy' (v. Dairy, Skeat's Etym. Dict.).

'She was as it were a maner deye.'

Chaucer, C. T. 14852.

The word is still in use in some of the midland and southern counties, as well as in Scotland. Early entries of the name are common:

Cecilia le Day. J.

Richilda la Deye, Close Roll, 4 Edw. I.

A feminine suffix is met with in—

Emma le Deyster, Close Roll, 5 Edw. I.

That the male sex in course of time were called 'deys' seems clear.
In a Statute, 37 Edw. III (1363), we find enumerated 'cow-herds, shepherds, swine-herds, deyes, and all other keepers of live stock' (vachers, berchers, porchers, deyes, et tous autres gardeinz des bestes);
v. Way's Prompt. Parv. p. 116 for an interesting note.

1492. 'William Bayly, my dey':
Will of Hadley, in Somerset House
(H.E.D.).

Willelmus Dey, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 12.

Ricardus Dey, 1379: ibid. p. 3.

Thomas le Dey, 1379: ibid. p. 27.

Stephen le Dagh. T.

Thomas le Day. M.

There are two columns of Day in the London Directory, but as Day and Daw, and Daycock and Dawcock, are forms from David (q.v.), these are not all descended from the occupative term.

London, 150, 2; New York, 125, 11.

Daycock, Deacock.—Bapt.
'the son of David,' from nick. Day or Daw and suffix -cock (v. Cock);
cf. Wilcock, Jeffcock, Simcock.
With the variant Deacock, cf. Deakin for Dakin or Daykin, and Mea-cock for Maycock.

1684. Buried—Peter Decock, a stranger: St. Dionis Backchurch (London),
p. 251.

London, 1, 2.

Daykin.—Bapt.; v. Dakin.

Dayman (1), Daymon.—
Occup. 'the dayman,' a dairyman
(v. Day); probably the suffix -man is a mere augmentative as in Husbandman. Otherwise it means the day's man, i.e. the servant of the keeper of a dairy; cf. Priestman, Matthewman, Addyman, Dentshman, &c. Mr. Lower, quoting Burke's Landed Gentry, says, 'A known corruption of Dinan.' This is quite inadmissible.

Johannes Dayman, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 301.

1767. Married—David Powell and

Sarah Dayman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 171.

London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 4.

Dayman (2), Dayment, Daymond, Daymont, Damon.—Bapt. 'the son of Dymond'; v. Diamond. The name is undoubtedly sometimes baptismal. Raymond has passed through all the same forms save the last, which is a mere poetical imitation. For instances, v. Diamond.

London, 2, 1, 1, 1, 1.

Dayrell; v. Darrell.

Daystar.—Nick. 'the day-star.'

Robert Daysterre, 1273. A.

Deacock.—Bapt. 'the son of David'; v. Daycock.

Deacon.—Offic. 'the deacon,' one of the lower order of the clergy; cf. Archdeacon, Priest, &c. v. also Deakin (2).

William le Dekne, C. R., 39 Hen. III. John le Dekne, C. R., 25 Edw. I. Gile Deacon, co. Norf., 1273. A. Richard le Dekene, co. Norf., ibid. Adam le Dekene, co. Suff., ibid. Peter le Dekne, co. Camb., ibid. Simon Dekene, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III. Kirby's Quest, p. 98.

1628. Married—Richard Deacon and Jane Stokes: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 59. London, 34; Philadelphia, 54.

Deadman.—Local; v. Debenham.

Deaf.—Nick. 'the deaf'; M.E. deef, def, defe (Skeat).

Adam Def, C. R., 18 Edw. I.

1738. Married—Lewis Mackfarson and Jane Deafe: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 20.

Deakin, Deaken.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of David,' a variant of Dakin (q.v.); cf. Deacock for Daycock, or Meacock for Maycock. (2) Offic. 'the deacon' (q.v.). Probably sometimes confused with this surname.

Peter Deakin, of Barrow, yeoman, 1638: Wills at Chester (1621–50), p. 63. Thomas Deakin, of Wimbolds Trafford, husbandman, 1640: ibid.

1802. Married—Samuel Deakin and Ann Smith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 262. London, 6, 0; Manchester, 12, 1; New York, 2, 0.

Deal.—Local; v. Dole.

Dean, Deane, Deen.—(1) Local, 'at the dean,' from residence therein; M.E. dene, a valley. Often found as a suffix in local names, as in Todmorden, Rottingdean.

Thomas de la Dene, co. Herts, 1273. A. Jacob de la Dene, co. Kent, ibid. Johanna del Dene, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 89.

Willelmus del Dene, 1370: ibid. p. 83. Johannes de Denne, 1379: ibid. p. 234.

(2) Offic. 'the dean.'

Robert le Deen, co. Camb., 1273. A. John le Dean, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 81.

London, 91, 23, 0; New York, 93, 21, 2.

Dear, Deare, Deer, Deere.—Nick. (1) 'the dear,' precious, beloved; cf. Darling. (2) 'the deer'; cf. Stagg, Buck, Roe, Doe, Roe-buck.

Robert le Dere, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Ralph le Dere, co. Oxf., ibid. Lawrence le Dere, c. 1300. M.

William le Deer, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 204.

Thurstan Dere, 1459: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 15.

1776. Married—John Dear and Carus (sic) Rochford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 261. London, 14, 1, 4, 3; Philadelphia, 5, 0, 1, 1.

Dearden, Durden.—Local, 'of Dearden,' or 'Duerden,' or 'Durden.' The precise spot seems to be Dearden, near Edenfield, Bury, co. Lanc. The surname clung for a long time to the immediate district, as will be seen from the subjoined references:

George Durden, of Loveclough, 1640: Wills at Chester, p. 69.

Robert Durden, of Whitefield, 1646: ibid.

Edward Duerden, of Castleton, 1631: ibid.

Elizabeth Dearden, of Middleton, 1630: ibid. p. 63.

Thomas Dearden was rector of Bury, 1599: Baines' Lanc. i. 517.

Manchester, 10, 1; Philadelphia, 9, 0.

Dearing.—Bapt.; v. Dering.

Dearlove.—Nick. An expression of affection; cf. Sweetlove, True-love, Douceamour, &c. Found as a surname in Yorkshire five centuries ago, it has always been represented there from that time downwards.

Johannes Derlof, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 247.

1633. Henry Benson and Elizabeth Dearlove, of Knaresboro', co. York: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 30.

1779. Married—Robert Lily and Anne Dearlove: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 303.

1798. — Richard Darlove and Margaret Harkus: ibid. ii. 183.

London, 1; Scotton (co. York), 1; Leeds, 1; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks), 2; (co. Berks), 4.

Dearman.—Bapt. 'the son of Dereman.' In Domesday Dereman and Derman; an expression of affection, beloved, precious; cf. Sweetman, Darling, Dearlove, &c.

Dereman de Bure, 1185: RRR. p. 39.

William fil. Derman, 1196: ibid. p. 79.

William Dereman, co. Essex, 1273. A. Johannes Derman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 119.

1773. Married—Edward Dearman and Ann Deacon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 229.

London, 3; West Rid. Court Dir., 2; New York, 1.

Dearnale, Dearnaly, Dearnley, Dearnly, Dennery, Dennery.—Local, 'of Dearnley,' in the parish of Rochdale, now a separate ecclesiastical district. The variants of the surname are many, but marked by easy and natural gradations.

1677. Richard Dearnale, of Manchester: Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 138.

Manchester, 1, 1, 1, 1, 2, 1; London (Dennery), 1; Philadelphia (Dearnley), 7.

Dearsley.—Local. I cannot find the place; probably some small spot in co. Cambridge or Norfolk.

Alan de Dersle, co. Camb., 1273. A.

John de Dersle, co. Camb., ibid.

1596. Thomas Deerslye, clerk, and Eliz. Nichollson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 234.

1673. John Dersley, sheriff of Norwich: FF. iii. 420.

London, 3; MDB. (co. Suffolk), 1; (co. Norfolk), 1.

Death, Dæth.—Local, 'of Deth,' a spot I have failed to discover. 'Aeth is a place in Flanders, and the family of Death, or D'Aeth, of Knowlton, baronets, are asserted to have come from that locality. See Burke's Ext. Baronetage': Lower, p. 85. The day of judgement will revise Burke, or, at least, ask for proof. On the strength of that statement Death is now occasionally found as Dæth. Old Cambridge men will remember the firm of Death and Dyson, which latter name they unkindly pronounced Dy-soon. It is interesting to note that the earliest instance I can find of the name is registered in that county.

Hugo de Dethe, co. Camb., 1273. A. Alicia de Dethe, co. Camb., ibid.
1598. Married—John Death and Hellen Hikes: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, p. 21.
Anthonie Death, 1591: St. Mary Aldermary (London), p. 8.
'The body of Serjeant-Major Death was found in the Ribble, at Preston, Jan. 7': Standard, Jan. 8, 1887.
London, 9, 1; MDB. (co. Cambridge), 1, o.

Debell.—Bapt.; v. Dibble.

Debenham, Debnam, Deadman, Dedman, Debman.—Local, 'of Debenham,' a parish in dioc. of Norwich. It is absolutely certain that Deadman is a variant. The steps of corruption were as follows: Debenham, Debnam, Deadnam, and Deadman. It is one more case of imitation, for which there is such a strange tendency in nomenclature. Hundreds of examples may be found in this dictionary. Lower has, 'Deadman, a known corruption of Debenham.' I did not see this till the above was written; cf. Putman for Puttenham, Twyman for Twineham, Buckman for Buckenham, Totman for Tottenham.

John de Debenham, co. Hunts, 1273. A. 1688-9. Buried—Martha Harris, sister to Samuel Deadman: St. Dionis Church, p. 256.

1706. — Samuel Debnam: ibid. p. 275.

No doubt the same individual is here referred to.

1669. Buried—Edward, s. Richard Debnam: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 257.
1783. Married—Rice Deadnam and Mary Shawbridge: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 342.

1799. Bapt.—James, son of James Dedman, a soldier: Canterbury Cath. p. 40.
London, 10, 6, 1, 2, o; Philadelphia, o, o, o, o, 2.

Debonnaire.—Nick. 'the debonair'; Fr. débonnaire; v. Bonner.

Philip le Debeneyre, co. Linc., 1273. A. 1754. Married—John Debonnaire, co. Middlesex, to Ann Tennant: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 70.
1762. — Nicholas F. T. Winch and Susannah Debonnaire: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 113.
London, 1.

Dedman.—Local; v. Debenham.

Dee.—Local, 'by the Dee,' from residence on the banks of the river Dee. A Cheshire surname; cf. Yeo.

1572. David Dee: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. iii. p. 22.

1577. David Dee, A.M., and Marcia Roper: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 79.
William Dee, of Worthenbury, 1608: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 52.

Richard Dee, of Worthenbury, 1608: ibid.

Randle Dee, of Bronnington, 1614: ibid.
1792. Married—Richard Dee and Mary Newman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 78.
London, 7; Manchester, 2; Boston (U.S.), 17.

Deeble.—Bapt.; v. Dibble.

Deed, Deedes, Deede.—? Bapt. 'the son of Dede' (?). Of this the patronymic would be Dedes, as in the case of Williams, Jones, Dickens, &c. Such place-names as Dedmore, Dedham, Dedworth, and Deddington point to an early personal name Ded or Dede; cf. Didsbury, now practically a suburb of Manchester.

Johannes Dede, talour, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 156.

Johannes Dede, et uxor, 1379: ibid. p. 157.

Johannes Dede, 1379: ibid. p. 207.
1604. Abraham Deede, weaver, and Sarah Edwards: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 287.

London (1884), 5, 2, o; Boston (U.S.), 2, 1, 1.

Deeker.—Occur. 'the dicker' (q.v.), a variant; cf. Deeks.

London, 1.

Deeks.—Bapt. 'the son of Richard,' a variant of Dicks (v. Dick). So we find Deeke for Dick:

1741. Married—Robert Deeke and Ann Hooper: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 27.

So also Deekins for Dickens:—

1728. Married—William Sartorius and Eliz. Deekins: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 5.

1767. — Thomas Deeks and Judah Terrell: ibid. p. 161.

London, 9; New York, 2.

Deemer, Demer.—Offic. 'the deemer,' a judge, one who pronounced the verdict or doom; v. Dempster. When we say, 'I deem so,' we mean 'I judge so.' 'Demar (or domesman, P.), Indicator (Index, P.): Prompt. Parv. p. 118.

Simon le Demer: Calendarium Inquisitionum Post Mortem (v. index).

1807. Married—William Demer and Eliz. Moore: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 369.
London, 1, o; Philadelphia, 10, 4.

Deer, Deere.—Nick.; v. Dear.

Deering.—Bapt.; v. Dering.

Defoe.—'Daniel De Foe was born in London, 1661, and was the son of James Foe, a butcher. The prefix De was not added to the family name of Foe by our author until he had reached manhood': Chambers' Encyc. iii. 467. This is proved by the accompanying entries. Foe is not English, and no doubt Daniel added the De through pride and family tradition of a continental origin.

1685. Buried—Jane Fenn, servant to Mr. Foe: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 269.

1688. — Mary Foe, d. Daniell Foe: ibid. p. 270.

— John Foe, son of John Foe: ibid. p. 271.

1720. — Tufley, son of Nathaniel Defoe and Mary his wife: ibid. p. 285.

Deighton, Dighton.—Local, 'of Deighton,' (1) a chapelry in the parish of Northallerton, N. Rid. Yorks; (2) a township in the parish of Escrick, E. Rid. Yorks; (3) Kirk Deighton, a parish in W. Rid. Yorks.

Robert de Dighton, pistor, 3 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 25.

Petrus de Dighton, faber, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 224.

Margaret de Dighton, vidua, 1379: ibid.

Johannes de Dyghton, 1379: ibid. p. 169.

1717. Married—Gabriel Cooper and Eliz. Dighton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 240.

1803. — James Cadenhead and Joanna Deighton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 294.

MDb. (West Rid. Yorks), 4, o; London, 6, 2; Philadelphia, 6, 2.

Delamare, Delamere, Delmar.—Local, 'de la mere,' at the mere, from residence beside a lake; M.E. mere, a pool; cf. Ellesmere. Thus similarly rose the great name of 'de la Pole.'

John de la Mere, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Pagan de la Mere, co. Oxf., ibid.

Henricus del Mere, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 210.

Robertus del Mere, 1379: ibid.

1675. Married—John Delamare and Susanna Reffrey: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 182.

1717. Married—John Dennis and Mary de la Mare: St. Antholin (London), p. 130. London, 2, 1, 3; New York, 2, 0, 3.

Delf, Delve, Delves, Delph.—Local, 'of the delf,' a deep place dug out, or one so naturally formed as to seem artificially made. 'Delf, a quarry of stone or coal; a deep ditch or drain. A.S.' 'Delve, a ditch or dell (Spenser). Also a quarry' (Halliwell). Cf. Delph, a village in the parish of Saddleworth, co. Yorks. 'Delph is a large and important village situated in a deep and narrow valley': W. Rid. Dir. (1867), p. 710.

Peter de Delve, co. Bedf., 1273. A. John de Delves, co. Ches., 1390: East Cheshire, i. 172.

Thomas Delves, of Nantwich, co. Ches., 1649: Wills at Chester, p. 64.

John Ridealgh, of the Delves, co. Lanc., yeoman, 1566: ibid. p. 160.

London, 1, 1, 2, 0; Liverpool, 1, 1, 0, 0; New York (Delph), 1.

Delicate, Delliciate.—?—.

Thomas Delicate, bedale: MDB. (North Rid. Yorks, 1875). London, 0, 1.

Dell.—Local, 'at the dell' (a variant of Dale, q.v.), from residence therein.

1651. Married—Israel Dell and Eliz. Wildblood: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 87.

1777. — Harden Dell and Eliz. Chamberlain: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 279. London, 19; New York, 7.

Dellow.—Local. Mr. Lower says, 'Fr. De l'Eau; the same as Waters' (Patr. Brit. p. 86). This is an unfortunate statement. Waters is almost invariably baptismal, meaning 'the son of Walter' (v. Waters), and there is no evidence in favour of the French origin. But it is clearly local.

William Dellowe, co. Wilts, 1273. A. William Delhou, co. Oxf., ibid. Walter Delho, co. Herts, ibid.

1600. Married—John Delloe and Eliz. Raynolds: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 24.

1757. — George Dellow and Mary Brown: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 74. London, 3; Philadelphia, 2.

Delver.—Occur. 'the delver,' one who digs or delves. 'Delvere, a digger. A.S.' (Halliwell).

John le Delver, Close Roll, 29 Edw. I.

Demer.—Offic.; v. Deemer.

Dempsey, Dimpsey, Dinsey, Dempsy, Demsey.—An Irish surname, of the origin of which I know nothing. I have placed it here because it looks so like an English local surname.

1745. Buried—Jane Dempsey: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 226.

1797. Married—John Morris and Ann Dimpsey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 165.

1800. — William Day and Catherine Dimsey: ibid. p. 218.

London, 6, 0, 1, 0, 0; New York, 76, 0, 0, 2, 3.

Dempster.—Offic. 'the deemster,' one who pronounced the doom, a judge; still an official title in the Isle of Man. Strictly speaking, the suffix is feminine, as in Brewster, Baxter, or Webster. The masculine form existed; v. Deemer.

Christopher Dempster. Q. Liverpool, 3; Philadelphia, 12.

Denby, Denbigh, Denbeigh.

—Local, 'of Denby,' a village near Penistone, co. Yorks.

John de Denby, rector of Hempstead, co. Norf., 1347: FF. ix. 311.

Johannes de Denby, smyth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 90.

Ricardus de Denby: ibid. Robertus de Denby: ibid. p. 56.

Eva de Denby: ibid. p. 194.

Michael Denbigh, or Denby, 1596: FF. x. 44 and i. 209.

1609. Bapt.—John, s. Robert Denbeigh: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 57.

1797. Married—William Denby and Sarah Abel: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 165.

West Rid. Court Dir., 12, 5, 0; London, 2, 1, 1; New York, 4, 0, 0.

Denford.—Local, 'of Denford,' parishes in the diocs. of Peterborough and Oxford.

Roger de Deneford, co. Northampt., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Walter de Deneford, co. Northampt., ibid.

Sarra de Denford, co. Northampt., 20 Edw. I. R.

London, 2.

Denham.—Local, 'of Denham,' parishes in diocs. of Ely, Oxford, London, and Norwich.

Jeffrey de Denham, rector of Titlesale, co. Norf., 1360: FF. x. 68.

William de Denham, co. Norf., 1292: ibid. iv. 386.

John de Denham, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 160.

Oliver de Denham, co. Cornwall, 1273. A.

Possibly the last two instances refer to Dinham, q.v.

1586-7. Anthony Denham and Eliz. Blanke, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 157.

1640. Buried—Richard Denham, innholder: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 198. London, 11; Philadelphia, 3.

Denis, Denison.—Bapt.; v. Dennis.

Denley.—Local, 'of Denley.' I cannot find the spot.

Robert de Denlegh, co. Devon, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1808. Married—William Denley and Mary Otley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 382.

London, 2.

Denman.—Local, 'the denman,' one who lived in a dean; a swineherd (?); v. Denyer. In the same village dwelt—

Thomas de Denne, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 235.

Richard de Denne, 1379: ibid. Adam Denman, 1379: ibid.

1618. Bapt.—John, s. Richard Denman: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 67.

1807. Married—James Denman and Jane Mills: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 367.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1; London, 9; New York, 6.

Denmark.—Local, 'of Denmark,' no doubt from the country of that name; a recent immigrant.

1808. Married—Robert Denmark and Mary Bosworth: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 388.

London, 1; New York, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Denn, Denne.—Local, 'at the den,' i.e. dean, from residence therein; v. Dean, Dain, and Dane.

Matilda de la Denn, co. Devon, 1273. A.

Baldwin de la Denne, co. Kent, ibid. Walterus Denne, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 153.

Cecilia de Deñ, 1379: ibid. p. 189.

Anota del Deñ, 1379: ibid. p. 190.

Ricardus Denne, 1379: ibid. p. 202.

1771. Married—Thomas Messer and Eliz. Denn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 215.

London, 1, 7; Philadelphia, 9, 0.

Dennerley.—Local; v. Dearnale.

Dennett, Dennit.—Bapt. 'the son of Dennis,' dim. Dennet; v. Dennis. It is feminine in Piers Plowman:

'Save Jagge the jogelour,
And Jonette of the stuwes,
And Danyel the dees pleyere,
And Denote the baude.' 3936-40.

Alicia Denet, co. Bedf., 1273. A. Robert Dynot, co. Oxf., ibid.

1675. Married—Christopher Dynett and Mary Vandermerch: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 38.

1731. — Samuel Dennitt and Lueza Sheakle: St. Antholin (London), p. 144.

1773. — Thomas Moss and Eleanor Dennett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 220.

— Thomas Matches and Mary Dennett: ibid. p. 235.

London, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Dennington, Denington.—Local, 'of Dinnington.' (1) Dennington, a parish in co. Suffolk; (2) Dinnington, a parish in W. Rid. Yorks, seven miles from Worksop.

Johanna de Denyngton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 9.

Under the heading 'Villata de Dynnyngton' (i. e. Dinnington) occurs:

Robertus de Denyngton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 68.

1771. Married—Sampson Marks and Hannah Dennington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 216.

London (1884), 4, 4; Philadelphia, 3, 0.

Dennis, Dennison, Denniss, Denis, Denison, Dennisson.—

(1) Bapt. 'the son of Dennis.' Both Denis and Denise, masculine and feminine forms, were in common use. Crossing over from France, this font-name was for a while exceedingly popular, especially in Yorkshire and the North, and has left its mark in such familiar surnames as Dyson, Denny, Dennett, Dyatt, Dyett, and Dye, apart from the list here given. Tenison or Tennyson is also a variant, q.v. The feminine Dennisse lingered on in South-West England till the close of last century.

Richard fil. Dionise, co. Norf., 1273. A. Michael fil. Dionisie, co. Camb., ibid.

Robert Denyson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 273.

Adam Denyson, 1379: ibid. p. 268.

Denes Lister, co. York. W. 9.

Richard Dionys, 1307. M.

John Denyson, co. York. W. 13.

1472. Simon Denyse, Norwich: FF. iv. 261.

Dennseye Fowler, temp. Eliz. Z.

1713. Buried—Dennis Powell, widow:

Reg. Broad Chalke, co. Wilts. p. 54.

— Dennis, wife of Alex. King: ibid.

1785. Married—Joseph Lovering and Eliz. Denneys: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 369.

(2) Local, 'le Deneys,' i. e. the Danish; v. Danish.

London, 35, 7, 2, 2, 3, 0; New York, 42, 24, 0, 7, 10, 1.

Denny, Dennys.—Bapt. 'the son of Dennis,' from the pet form Denny; v. Dennis. One family of Denny is found in co. Cumberland and the Furness district of North Lancashire. Their origin is easily made out by putting together a few entries from Lord William Howard's Household Books (Naworth Castle).

Dennis Bell, 1612: VVV. p. 490.

Dennis Livock, 1612: ibid. p. 491.

Dennis Potter, 1612: ibid.

Dennie Underwoode, 1640: ibid. p. 503.

Margaret Dennie, 1633: ibid. p. 500.

The above will give some idea of the once great popularity of the font-name.

Johannes Denny, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 209.

Johannes Denny, 1379: ibid. p. 65.

Agnes Denisse, 1379: ibid. p. 73.

1572. John Denny and Joanna Hylton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 54.

1774. Married—Henry Denny and Sarah Aldridge: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 247.

London, 18, 1; Philadelphia, 27, 0.

Densham, Densem, Densumbe.—Local, 'of Denscombe.'

I cannot find the spot, but it is one of the many place-names in co. Devon and the district of South-West England, with the suffix -combe. The name is known at Exeter as Densumbe, which is the halfway house between Denscombe and Densham.

1769. Married—Samuel Broad and Sarah Denscombe: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 191.

Exeter, 5, 0, 1; London, 4, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Devon), 6, 2, 0.

Denston, Densten.—Local, 'of Denston,' (1) a township in the parish of Alveton, co. Stafford; (2) a parish in co. Suffolk.

William de Denston, rector of Strumpshaw, co. Norf., 1349: FF. vii. 257.

Clement Denston, Norwich, 1429: ibid. iii. 360.

London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Dent.—Local, 'of Dent,' a township in the parish of Sedbergh, W. Rid. Yorks. This surname has ramified in a remarkable manner. As Dent lies on the immediate borders of Westmoreland, we need not be surprised to find the surname so familiarly known in that county.

Johannes de Dente, textor, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 188.

Thomas de Dent, 1379: ibid.

Emma de Dent, 1379: ibid. p. 265.

John Dent, of Warton, 1678: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 89.

1576-7. Edmund Dente and Margaret

Woorrall: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 73.

1682. Married—Tobias Dent and Edeth

Parsones: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 196.

London, 28; West Rid. Court Dir., 6;

MDb. (North Rid. Yorks), 23; (co.

Westmoreland), 19; Philadelphia, 11.

Dent-de-fer.—Nick. O.F. 'iron-tooth'; cf. Bras-de-fer and Pedefor. Robert Dent-de-fer. E.

Denton.—Local, 'of Denton.' The Yorkshire Dentons (a large colony) hail from Denton, a township in the parish of Otley. Other Dentons spring from parishes so named in the diocs. of Canterbury, Ely, Durham, Chichester, Lincoln, Manchester, Norwich, Peterborough, and Carlisle. Of course it means the 'town in the dean or forest.'

Hamo de Denton, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Warin de Dentone, co. Hunts, ibid.

Johannes de Denton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 105.

Matilda de Denton, 1379: ibid. p. 214.

Alan de Denton, co. Linc., Hen. III. Edw. I. K.

Nigel de Denton, co. Linc., ibid.

1547. Denton and Elizabeth Griffith:

Marriage Lic. (London), i. 10.

1626. Married—William Baw and Eliz.

Denton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 56.

London, 16; West Rid. Court Dir., 21;

New York, 8.

Dentsman.—Occur, 'Dennis' man,' i. e. the servant of Dennis. One more of the many Yorkshire names of this class that have survived the wear of time; v. Matthewman, Jackman, &c. My last instance absolutely settles the derivation of this strange-looking name.

Robertus Dyonsman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 139.

Willelmus Dynysman, 1379: ibid. p. 155.

Ricardus Dynysman, 1379: ibid.

Alicia Densman, 1379: ibid. p. 61.

Leeds, 1.

Denver, Denvir.—Local, 'of Denver,' a parish in co. Norfolk, one mile from Downham Market.

Egelina de Denver, co. Norf., 41 Hen.

III: FF. ix. 110.

Walter de Denver, co. Norf., 41 Hen.

III: ibid.

William de Denver, lord of Denver, co.

Norf.: ibid. vii. 130.

Ebrad de la Denver, temp. Ric. I, co. Norf.: FF. ii. 325.

Walter de Denever, co. Norf., 1273. A.
William de Denevere, co. Norf., ibid.
Liverpool, o, 2; Philadelphia, 5, 1.

Denyer.—Local, 'the denyer,' one who lived in the dean or den; v. Dean and Dain; cf. Bridger, Crosser, &c. The y is intrusive (for euphony), as in lawyer, sawyer, and bowyer.

Matilda Denyer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 126.

Willelmus Dayner, 1379: ibid. p. 136.
Alicia Deynour, 1379: ibid.

1610. Thomas Denne and Dorothy Tanfield: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 323.

1766. Married—James Denyer and Martha Robinson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 151.

London, 9.

Depledge, Dapledge.—Local, 'at the deep lake.' An East-Cheshire name, found in the registers of Mottram-in-Longendale parish church as Deplache. This reminds us of Blackleach (v. Blackledge) in the same district. The origin is deep lake. Halliwell has 'Lache, a bog (Yorkshire); leach, a lake or large pool (Lancashire).' In the will of Thomas del Booth, 1368, the testator leaves 30s. to make a causeway near 'le Poll' (the pool), and 'Urb-lache' and 'le Bar-lache,' two boggy places so named; v. Baines' Lanc. (Croston's edit.), ii. 45.

Thomas Deplach, of Newton, co. Ches., 1647: Wills at Chester (1620-50), p. 64.

Ralph Deplich, of Newton, 1681: ibid. (1681-1700), p. 72.

West Rid. Court Dir., 3, o; Liverpool, 2, o; Manchester, o, 1.

Derby.—Local; v. Darby.

Derbyshire.—Local; v. Derbyshire.

Derham.—Local, 'of Dereham,' two parishes (East and West Dereham) in co. Norfolk.

Robert de Derham, co. Norf., 1273. A.
John de Dereham, co. Norf., 3 Hen. III: FF. vii. 85.

Hauiwe de Dereham, co. Norf., ibid.
Geoffrey de Derham, co. Suffolk, 11 Edw. III: ibid. ix. 106.

1556. Baldwin Derham, rector of Mundford, co. Norf., ibid. ii. 247.

1589. Robert Dereham and Sarah Fringe, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 182.

1778. Married—William Derham and Margaret Martin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 293.

London, 4; New York, 5.

Dering, Deering, Dearing.—Bapt. 'the son of Dering,' Lower, quoting Hasted's Kent, mentions a Deringus de Morinis whose baptismal name descended to his children as their surname in the 12th century. There is a Kentish tenant in Domesday named Derinc fil. Sired. I suspect it is the early Derewin (v. Darwen); cf. Goulding for Goldwin.

Ricardus Deryng, souter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 95.

1651. Bapt.—Ann, d. John Deering: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 178.

1661. — Anthony, s. of Mr. Henry Deearinge: Canterbury Cath. p. 12.

1755. Married—Edward Dering and Selina Furness: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 57.

1796. — William Henry Jones and Mary Dearing: ibid. ii. 143.

London, 1, 4, 3; Philadelphia, 2, o, 2.

Derriek, Dirriek.—Bapt. 'the son of Theodoric,' nick. Derrick; v. Terry. The German form is Dietrich, the Dutch Dirk (Yonge, ii. 337.) Most of our Derrieks and Dirrieks have come from the Low Countries. This form never became strictly indigenous. Dederic was the first Anglicized form.

Dedericus Campe, C. R., 3 Edw. IV.
Dederic Johnson, C. R., 4 Edw. IV.

1545-6. Richard Baker and Mary Deryke, of Petney, co. Norf.: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 6.

1560. Buried—Barnicke Dericke, servant with John Draper: St. Antholin (London), p. 13.

London, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 6, o.

Derwent.—Local, 'of Derwent,' a chapelry in the parish of Hathersage, co. Derby. This will explain the Sheffield Darwins, but the instance below will represent Darwen (q.v.) in co. Lanc.

William de Derwent, co. Lanc., 1332: Lav Subsidy (Rylands), p. 76.

Manchester, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Derwentwater.—Local, 'of Derwentwater.'

John de Derewentwatre, co. Cumb., 31 Edw. I: BBB. p. 639.

Henry de Derewentwater, 1302. M.
Thomas de Derwentwater. L.

1753. Married—Ashby Mickleborough and Hannah Derwentwater: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 263.

Desborough, Disbrow.—Local, 'of Desborough,' a parish in co. Northampton, six miles from Kettering. The American variant Disbrow is somewhat strongly represented in New York. The intermediate form Desbrow is found in English registers.

1703. Married—Robert Desbrow and Ellinor Sharrard: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 51.

1722. — Richard Desborough and Bridgett Woodland: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 247.

1770. — Thomas Stirrup and Frances Desbrough: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 197.

1789. — Edward Disbrowe and Charlotte Hobart: ibid. ii. 24.

London, 2, o; New York, o, 20.

Desert.—(1) Nick, 'the deserted, the abandoned one,' probably an adjective rather than a substantive.

Roger le Desert, Close Roll, 28 Hen. III.

(2) Local, 'of the waste,' the wild, the desert place.

William del Desert, Close Roll, 20 Edw. I.

1747. Married—Andrew Desert and Hannah Taylor: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 101.

Dethick.—Local, 'of Dethewick,' a parish in the dioc. of Southwell, co. Derby.

Robert Dethec, co. Notts, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Geoffrey de Dethেকে, co. Derby, 1273. A.

1632-3. Thomas Bassett and Mary Dethicke: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 28.

Manchester, 1.

Deuce.—Bapt. 'the son of Douce'; v. Dowse. This curious corruption is found at Stanley-cum-Wrenthorpe, near Wakefield (v. W. Rid. Directory).

Devenish.—Local, 'the Devonish,' i.e. a Devon man; cf. Kentish and Cornish, Cornwallis, Londonish, &c.

Walter le Devenys, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Johanna le Devenisshe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 86.

Nichol le Devenys, 1313. M.
Reginald le Devenys, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Sabina le Devenys, co. Oxf., ibid.
Henry Devoniens, co. Dorset, ibid.

Robert Devenysh, rector of Little Moulton, co. Norf., 1408: FF. v. 208.

1663. Married—John Devenish and Dorothy Bowles: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 112.

1806. — Benjamin Devonish and Eliz. Court: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 358. London, 3.

Devenport.—Local; v. Davenport.

Deverell, Deverall.—Local, 'of Deverill,' a parish in co. Wilts.

Geoffrey Deverel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 91. Flyas de Deverel, co. Wilts, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Alice de Diveryll, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Eustace de Deverel, co. Wilts, 1273. A. (Persona) de Deverel, co. Wilts, ibid. Johannes Deverell, bawer (i.e. bowyer), 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 99.

1590-1. Robert Deverell, husbandman, and Alice Richardson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 190.

1782. Married—Henry Deverill and Mary Stevenson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 340. — Thomas Griswood and Dorothy Deverill: ibid.

London, 7, 2; New York 2, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 0.

Devil, Deville.—(1) Local, 'de Eyville.'

Nicholas de Eyvil, co. Notts, 1273. A. John de Eyville, co. Notts, ibid. Robert de Eyvill, co. Oxf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Goscelin de Eyville, c. 1300. M. Thomas Deyville, co. Notts, 20 Edw. I. R.

(2) Nick. 'the Devil.'

Roger le Diable. J. Osbert Diabolus. C.

Possibly a pleasantry on the local form. The following curious entry occurs in the registers of St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 121:

1571. Burying of Jeames the Devil Ducheman.

London, 0, 1; New York, 0, 2.

Devonshire.—Local, 'of Devonshire'; cf. Kent, Wiltshire, Darbyshire, Cheshire, &c.

1582. William Gryffin and Agnes Devonshier: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 111.

1805. Married—Abraham Devonshire and Margaret Godlee Wilson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 337.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 5.

Dewdney, Doudney, Dowdney.—Local, 'of Dowdney.' I cannot find the spot.

1797. Married—Samuel Dowdney and Ann North: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 166.

London, 4, 3, 0; MDB. (co. Somerset), 0, 0, 2; New York, 1, 1, 1.

Dewey, Dewy, Dewing.—Bapt. 'the son of Dewin,' popularly Dewy. The Domesday form of this personal name was Derewin, one of the endless compounds of -win; cf. Unwin, Goldwin, Baldwin, &c. The g in Dewing is excrement, as in Golding, Jennings, &c.

Willelmus Dewyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 12.

Beatrix Dewyn, 1370: ibid. p. 28.

Ricardus Dewy, 1379: ibid. p. 49.

Thomas Dewy, 1379: ibid. p. 76.

Johannes Dewy, 1379: ibid. p. 107.

1640. William Couley and Sarah Clarke (consent of her uncle, Richard Dewyn):

Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 253.

1776. Married—Robert Dewey and Ann

Sutton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 266.

London, 3, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 7, 0, 1.

Dewhurst, Dewhirst, Dewherst.—Local, 'of Dewhurst.' A Lancashire surname, but I have not found the exact spot, although the first two instances bring us near to it. For the terminative, v. Hurst or Hirst.

Adam del Dewyhirst, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 84.

Roger de Dewyhirst, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 78.

The former of these lived within the bounds of Wilpshire-cum-Dinkley, the latter in Livesey.

Ellen Dewhurst, of Spotland, co. Lanc., 1592: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 53.

Robert Dewhurst, of Rivington, co. Lanc., 1588: ibid.

1788. Married—John Boyle and Agnes Dewhurst: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 4.

London, 2, 2, 0; Manchester, 11, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 1, 0; New York, 2, 1, 1.

Dewsbury, Duesberry, Duesbury.—Local, 'of Dewsbury,' a town in W. Rid. Yorks.

Willelmus de Deusbiry, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 191.

Alicia Dewesbiry, 1379: ibid. p. 60.

Robertus de Dewesbiry, 1379: ibid.

p. 29.

Thomas Dewsbury, of Chester, 1614:

Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 53.

Ann Dewsbury, of Aston, 1590: ibid.

1793. Married—Clement Dewsbury and

Sarah Foley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 105.

London, 2, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0;

Manchester, 0, 1, 1.

Dewsnap.—Local, 'of Dewsnap.' Probably the terminative is the local knapp, a hill; v. Knapp. The spot itself was somewhere in East Cheshire, either in or near the parish of Cheadle. The Inquisition post mortem of Geoffrey de Chedle says, 'Inq. p. m. taken the Wednesday after the feast of St. Barnabas, 22 Edw. I (1294) . . . by the oaths of William Danyers, John de Boudon (Bowdon), Richard de Deusnape, Thomas de Carinton, Robert de Aston,' &c. All the names belong to the district; v. East Cheshire, i. 171.

Richard de Dewsnap, 1369 (Motttram): East Ches. ii. 157.

Thomas Dewsnap, 1637 (Motttram): ibid. 128.

1796. Married—Robert Dewsnap and Sarah Williams: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 153. West Rid. Court Dir., 5; London, 3; Manchester, 3; New York, 2.

Dexter.—Occur. 'the digh-ster,' i.e. a dyster or dyer. There are six Dexters to one Dyster in the London Directory, yet we should expect a larger number of the latter if it alone represented the old and familiar digh-ster. For further instances, v. Dyster. There can be little doubt about the accuracy of this derivation.

Robert le Dighester. B.

1604. Married—Edward Dexter and Eliz. Benbo: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 17.

1609-10. George Dexter and Ann Abell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 317.

London, 6; West Rid. Court Dir., 2; Philadelphia, 9.

Dey.—Occur; v. Day.

D'Eyncourt.—Local. 'Walter de Aincurth, or D'Eyncourt, came over with William the Conqueror, and received from him several lordships in the shires of Northampton, Derby, Nottingham, York, and Lincoln' (Lower, quoting Kelham's Domesday).

John de Deyncourt, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Eadmund Deyncourt, co. Linc., ibid.

Eadmund de Eynecurt, co. Northampton, ibid.

Oliver de Eynecurt, co. Northampton, ibid.

Ralph de Eynecurt, co. Notts, ibid.

1546. Richard Dune and Anne Dencorte: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 7.

London, 1.

Diable, Dible.—(1) Bapt.; v. Dibble. (2) Nick. 'the Devil.'

Osbert Diabolus. C.

Roger le Diable. J.

1616. Married—John Jaimes and Ann Dible: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 21.
1628. — Rafe Rothwell and Sara Diball: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 16.
London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Dialogue.—? Local. A curious imitation of some local (?) surname.

Philadelphia, 4.

Diamond, Dymond, Dimond, Diment, Diamont, Dimon.—Bapt. 'the son of Dymond.' In America this surname with its variants is strongly represented. The variation -ment for the suffix -mond is common; cf. Garment for Garmond, or Rayment for Raymond, or Osmont for Osmond. Diamond is an imitative corruption. For another derivation of Diment, Dimon, and Dimond, v. Diment.

Deamande de Pisingge, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Willelmus Dymond', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 91.

Robertus Dymond', 1379: ibid.
1614. William Awstripp and Lucy Diamond: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 29.
1758. Married—Edward Spice and Mary Diman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 82.
London, 3, 2, 8, 2, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 65, 0, 8, 0, 2, 5.

Dibb, Dibbs, Dibson.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Theobald,' from the nick. Tebb or Tibb, changed to Dibb, of which the patronymic is Dibbs; v. Dibble. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Isabella,' from the nick. Tibb (v. Tebb) with a similar change of initial. Dibb is a common surname in Yorkshire, where Isabella and its nick. Tibb were especially familiar five centuries ago.

1621. Thomas Dibb and Ursula Wyld: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 102.
1796. Married—Richard Dibson and Jane Tomling: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 142.
London, 2, 2, 0; W. Rid. (Yorks) Court Dir., 5, 0, 0; New York, 0, 2, 0.

Dibben.—Local, 'of Deepden'; cf. Dibble and Diben.

1750. Married—James Dibon and Frances Crebessac: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 174.

1809. — James Dibben and Eliz. Milton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 420.
London, 7; New York, 1.

Dibble, Dipple, Deeble, Daybell, Debald, Debell, Dible,

Diable.—Bapt. 'the son of Theobald,' from the nick. Tibble, which became also Tipple, q.v. A lazy pronunciation changed these to Dibble and Dipple. Interchanges between D and T were very common. For several instances v. Tennyson (originally Dennyson). There can be no doubt about this derivation. So early as the Hundred Rolls we find:

Ralph Dibald, co. York, 1273. A.

An unmistakeable variant of Tibald, the popular form of Theobald. Miss Yonge has the order thus: Theobald, Tybalt, Tibble, Dibble (Hist. Christian Names, ii. 338). The Netherlands form is Dippolt.

William Dibel, London, 1273. A.
1611. Margaret Dybald, killed at Norwich: FF. iii. 364.

1720. Buried—Sarah Deble, servant to Mr. Edowes: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 290.

1761. Married—John Dipple and Sarah Wincote: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 102.

1788. — George Schleicher and Hannah Dibble: ibid. ii. 2.

1792. John Dible and Sarah Cross: ibid. p. 77.

London, 3, 5, 1, 0, 0, 0, 1, 1; Sheffield (Debell), 2; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0; New York, 3, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0.

Dibdale.—Local, 'of the deep dale.' I cannot identify the spot. The derivation is manifest.

Rogerus de Depedale, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 247.

Johannes Depdale, 1370: ibid. p. 210.

1588. Married—James Stanborough and Joane Dibball: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 13.

1632. — John Wood and Isabell Dibdale: ibid. p. 63.

Dibden, Dibdin.—Local. (1) 'of Depden,' a parish in co. Suffolk, eight miles from Bury St. Edmunds; (2) 'of Dibden,' a parish in co. Hants, three miles from Southampton, anciently Depedene, literally 'the deep valley.'

Randolph de Depeden, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Richard Depeden, C. R., 20 Ric. II.

pt. i.
Ricardus Depeden, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 292.

Geoffrey de Depeden, co. Norf., c. 1150: FF. ix. 7.

John Debden. XX. 1.
London, 0, 2.

Dicas.—Local; v. Dykehouse.

Diconet.—Bapt. 'the son of Diconet,' from Richard, a double French diminutive; cf. Rob-in-et and Col-in-et.

Willelmus Diconet, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 181.

Dicey.—Local; v. Dixey.

Dick, Dickson, Dixon, Dicks, Dix.—Bapt. 'the son of Richard,' from the nick. Dick, which ran a severe race for popularity with Hick (q.v.), and finally monopolized the public favour. With Dixon and Dix, cf. Rixon and Rix of the same parentage. Nix and Nixon are also parallel cases.

William Dycks: Visit. of Yorks (1563), p. 105.

William Dix, it id.
Thomas Dykkes, rector of Bodney, co. Norf., 1421: FF. vi. 18.

William Dykk, rector of Godwick, 1420: ibid. ix. 510.

Willelmus Dycson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 194.

Rogerus Dikson, 1379: ibid. p. 84.
1557. Bapt.—John Dyxon, St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 7.

1569–70. William Dixsonne and Judith Madewell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 45.

1668. Married—Robert Dickses and Eliz. Sanders: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 140.

1660. — Edward Biges and Mary Dicke: ibid. p. 157.

London, 13, 25, 94, 6, 11; Philadelphia, 57, 91, 82, 3, 23.

Dickason, Dickeson.—Bapt. A corruption of Dickinson; v. Dickens. Cf. Pattison or Patteson for Pattinson.

1686. Bapt.—Susanna, d. Eliz. Dickason: St. John the Baptist, Walbrook, p. 169.

1692. — Danniell, s. Eliz. Dickeson: ibid. p. 171.

Evidently the same mother.

1801. Married—Abraham Dickeson and Esther Hawkins: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 238.

London, 2, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Dickens, Dickenson, Dickins, Dickinson, Diconson, Dicks.—Bapt. 'the son of Diccon'—not Dickin, for which there is no evidence. The parent, of course, is Richard. The nicks, of names beginning with R seem to have taken the initial D; cf. Dodge for Roger, Dob for Robert, and Humphrey for Humphrey. But our Dickins really represents the French form Diquon or Digon; and Diggon or Diccon as a popular name for Richard lasted till recent times. All early instances are French in form. There is no Dickin in the Hundred Rolls. Even Dick is rare; Hick, or Higg, or Hitch being the first popular English nicks. of Richard; v. Hick, Higgan, and Hitchcock.

"One of the messengers of Eleanor, countess of Montfort, in 1265, was called Diquon": Blaauw's Barons' Wars.

"Jockey of Norfolk, be not too bold,
For Dickon thy master is bought and sold."

(King Richard III, Act v. Scene 3.):
Lower, p. 80.

'Gog's souls, Diccon, Gib our cat had eat the bacon, too.'

Gammer Gurton's Needle.

It is certain that nearly all our Dickines and Dickinsons, Dickenses and Dickensons, &c., are mere assimilations to the English suffix in -kin, as there is no single trace that an English form existed. The French form got naturalized. In North Lancashire the French form lingered on till the close of the 16th century.

Cicely Diconson, of Broughton, 1572: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 93.

Margery Dickonson, of Burton, 1599: ibid. p. 92.

Thomas Dicconson, of Dalton, 1596: ibid. p. 90.

Richard Digon, London, 1273. A.

Roger Digun, co. Wilts, ibid.

Alice Dikon, co. Oxf., ibid.

Alicia Dycon maydeñ, 1379: P. T.

Yorks. p. 200.

Ricardus Dicon, 1379: ibid. p. 14.

Willelmus Diconson, 1379: ibid. p. 32.

Matilda Dicon-wyf, webster, 1379: ibid.

p. 58.

Robertus Dikkonson, 1379: ibid. p. 81.

Johannes Decunson, 1379: ibid. p. 86.

1600. Buried—An infant son of Daniell

Diconsonne: St. Antholin (London), p. 40.

London, 5, 6, 12, 47, 0, 0: MDB. (co.

Notts), Dickons, 3; Philadelphia, 6, 1, 0,

89, 0, 0.

Dicker.—Occur. 'the diker,' a hedger or ditcher. Ditcher is but a weakened pronunciation of Dicker; cf. ditch and dike (v. Ditch, Skeat's Dict.).

Richard le Diker, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 257.

Ricardus Diker, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 4.

Robertus Tomson, diker, 1379: ibid.

p. 86.

Johannes Dyker, 1379: ibid. p. 10.

Adam Wynk, diker, 1379: ibid. p. 30.

Willelmus de Thomholm, dyker, 1379:

ibid. p. 121.

1647. Married—James Maley and

Abitha Dicher: St. Dionis Backchurch,

p. 25.

1780. — John Dicker and Charlotte

Farmer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. iii. 307.

London, 14; Philadelphia, 2; New York, 3.

Dickerson.—Bapt. 'the son of Richard,' a corruption of Dickenson, q.v.; and cf. Patterson, Catterson, Matterson, from Pattinson,

Cattinson, and Mattinson. Dickerson has crossed the Atlantic, and is in a flourishing state in the city of New York.

1748. Married—Samuel Jones and Lucy

Dickerson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 279.

1785. Francis Noble and Sarah Dickerson:

St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 377.

London, 3; New York, 23.

Dickery.—Bapt. 'the son of Digory,' a sharpened form. Evidently an old-established Cornish personal name. Miss Yonge says it is a romantic name found in an old metrical tale of a knight called

D'egaré (Christian Names, ii. 482).

1617. Michael Oldisworth and Susan

Poyntz, with consent of her mother, Jane

Dickerie, alias Pointz, wife of Mr. Dick-erie: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 50.

Degory, son of Degory and Pentecost

Keast, 1712: Reg. St. Columb Major,

p. 253.

1753. Married—Peter Dickery and Eliz.

McCaughan: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair,

p. 255.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 22.

Dickman, Digman.—Occur.

'Dick's man, the servant of Dick,'

not the same as Dyker, or Dicker, a maker of dikes, a ditcher, but of the same class as Vicarman,

Addiman, Bartleman, or Matthew-man, q.v. Ricardus and Thomas

Dykman below are found in a list of the householders of Staveley,

amongst whom are also Willelmus

Mathewman and Magota Mathe-

woman. Nevertheless, v. Dykeman.

Alicia Dikman, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 160.

Willelmus Dykman, 1379: ibid. p. 143.

Ricardus Dykman, 1379: ibid. p. 241.

Thomas Dikman, 1379: ibid.

Johannes Dykman, 1379: ibid. p. 214.

Robertus serviens Ricardi, 1379: ibid.

p. 200.

Amicia serviens Ricardi, 1379: ibid.

Adam Richardman, 1379: ibid. p. 216.

Thomas Richardman, 1379: ibid. p. 223.

Ricardus Richardman, 1379: ibid.

These men would unquestion-ably be called Dickman in common parlance among their fellows.

1596. Married—John Lufton and Joane

Dickman: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 12.

1798. — Jonathan Dodd and Mary

Dickman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 183.

London (1884), 2, 1; New York, 2, 0.

Dicks.—Bapt.; v. Dick.

Dicksee.—Local; v. Dixey.

Digance, Diggins, Diggins,

Digginson, Diggons.—Bapt.

All forms of Dickins and Dickinson. As early as 1273 Dignon or Digon was in common use. For early instances, v. Dickens.

1574. Thomas Digos, or Diggons, or

Dyggons: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. iii.

p. 47.

John Digginson, temp. Eliz. Z.

Agnes Digeson, ibid.

1722. Married—Robert Anderson and

Lidia Diggins: St. Michael, Cornhill,

p. 62.

1795. — William Diggins and Eleanor

W. Livingston: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 123.

London (1884), 1, 2, 1, 0, 0; New York,

0, 0, 2, 0, 1.

Digby.—Local, 'of Digby.' A parish in co. Lincoln.

Alice de Diggeby, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Robert de Diggeby, cos. Warw. and Leic., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Anna de Diggeby, cos. Warw. and Leic.,

ibid.

Henry de Diggeby, co. Linc., 20 Edw.

I. R.

1660. Married—John Digby and Susan

Almond: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 106.

London, 13; New York, 1.

Diggles, Diggle.—Local, 'of Diggle,' once a farmstead, scarcely a hamlet, in the parish of Saddle-worth, on the Yorkshire border of South Lancashire. Whilst this seems to be the undoubted parent of the name in co. Lanc., there is a trace of another family of Diggles in the West country, possibly of baptismal origin.

Richard Diggle, of Manchester, linen- webster, 1637: Wills at Chester, p. 66.

William Diggle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 170.

1696. Samuel Diggle and Elizabeth

Cley: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office),

p. 221.

London, 1, 0; Manchester, 3, 4; Philadelphia, 2, 2.

Diggs, Digges.—Bapt. 'the son of Richard,' from nick. Dick, whence patronymic Dicks and Dix. This, influenced by the French Digon or Digu (English Diccon, whence Dicconson), became Diggs or Digges; cf. Digging (v. Digance) and Diglin (q.v.), which can scarcely be styled corruptions. They are Anglicized French forms. The English equivalents are Dickins and Dicklin.

Henry Dygge, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 208.

1666. John Castillon and Margaret Diggs: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 128.

1669. Edmund Lawrence and Mary Diggs: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 107.

London, 1, 0; Crockford, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 5, 0.

Dight.—? Bapt. 'the son of Dight' (?). Probably a personal name. It is still familiar to co. Somerset.

Thomas Dighte, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 107.

1588. Bapt.—Isabel, d. John Dight: St. Mary Aldernary, p. 62.

1806. Married—John Dight and Margaret Colquhoun: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 354.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Soms.), 3; Philadelphia, 2.

Dighton.—Local; v. Deighton.

Diglin.—Bapt. 'the son of Richard,' from nick. Dick, and dim. Dicklin, which occurs as early as the Hundred Rolls; cf. Jacklin, Nickling, Hewling, &c., from John, Nicholas, and Hugh. Diglin is a lazified form; cf. Jagge in Piers Plowman for Jack.

Dikelin (without surname), co. Norf., 1273. A.

1615. William Jefferey and Lomley Diglin: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 32.

Dignum, Dignam.—Occup. The same as Digman by change in order of letters (v. Dickman); cf. Deadman for Debnam, Putman for Putnam, Swetman for Swetnam, &c.

1766. Married—Thomas Shaw and Bridget Dignam: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 158.

1786. — Peter Carroll and Margaret Dignum: ibid. p. 386.

London (1884), 1, 0; Lanc. Court Dir. (1887), 1, 1.

Dilcock.—Bapt. No doubt Dilcock, like Wilcock, Simcock, &c., belongs to the personal class. It represents some early name with the suffix -cock appended (v. Cocks). It is found in Yorkshire in the 14th century, and remains there to-day. Probably it is Dilcock (v. Dilke and Dilks), but I dare not do more than suggest it.

Adam Dilcoc, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 109.

Thomas Dylkok, 1379: ibid. p. 110.

Emot Dylkok, 1379: ibid.
London, 1; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks.), 1.

Dilke, Dilks, Dilkes.—Bapt. 'the son of Dilk,' probably a name of Dutch origin; v. Dilcock.

Nicholas Dilkes, co. Camb., 1273. A. 1624. Married—Thomas Dilkes and Eliz. Bonham: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 53.
1600. William Dilke, rector of Bixley, co. Norfolk: FF. v. 450.

1801. — William Dilke and Sophia Smith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 245.
London, 0, 1, 2; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1, 0.

Dill.—? Bapt. 'the son of Dill' (?). This solution seems highly probable; cf. Dillwyn, Dillworth, &c. The name still flourishes in co. Somerset.

Geoffrey Dylle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 116.

Alan Dille, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Robert Dille, co. Bucks, ibid.
1637. Married—Joseph Dill and Faith Staples: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 68.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Soms.), 2; Philadelphia, 26.

Dillwyn, Dilling.—? Bapt. 'the son of Dylewin' (?). But it may be local. There is a Dillwyn, a parish in the dioc. of Hereford. If baptismal, then it is natural to find the variant Dilling. Almost all the personal names ending in -win become -ing by correlative influences. Thus, for instance, Golding or Goulding represents the personal name Goldwin.

Philip Dylewyne, co. Norf., 1273. A. Mariot Dylewyne, co. Norf., ibid.

Henricus Dyllyng, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 92.

1615. Married—John Spender and Anne Dylwyne: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 41.

London, 1, 1; New York, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Dilworth, Dillworth.—Local, 'of Dilworth,' a township on the brow of Longridge Fell, in the parish of Ribchester, co. Lanc.; spelt Dylleword in a record of 1292 (v. Baines' Lanc. ii. 110).

William de Dilleworth, of Ribchester, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 87.

Robertus de Dilworth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 32.

Ellen Dilworth, of Broughton, 1586: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 93.

William Dilworth, of Ribchester, 1672: ibid.

Ewan Dilworth, 1562: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 20.

1790. Married—John Dilworth and Catherine Harrison: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 44.

Manchester, 1, 0; London, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 1.

Dimbleby, Dimplebee.—Local, 'of Dembleby,' a parish in co. Lincoln, six miles from Folkingham. With Dimplebee, cf. Applebee for Appleby, q.v.

William de Dembeby (sic), co. Lincoln, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1667. Thomas Lownes and Mary Dimplebee: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 143.

1691. Solomon Dimpleby and Eliz. Stebbing: ibid. p. 200.

1805. Married—Peter Boddy and Eliz. Dimpleby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 320.

London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Leicester), 0, 5.

Dimcock.—? Bapt. 'the son of Diamond' (?), q.v., from nick. Dime, and suffix -cock (v. Cocks); cf. Wilcock, Simcock, &c.

Robert Dymecock, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

Diment, Dimond, Dimman, Dimont.—Local, 'of Dinant' (q.v.). That these are variants of Dinant scarcely admits of a doubt. Found in Devonshire and the south-west of England, they have come directly across from Brittany. Mr. Lower includes Dymond among these variants. No doubt a certain amount of confusion exists between the variants of the personal name Dymond and the variants of the local name Dinant; v. Diamond.

1660. Married—John Dimond and Eliz. Weuer: St. Mary Aldernary, p. 29.

1685. John Tylley and Dorothy Dimont, alias Diamond: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 218.

1758. Married—Edward Spice and Mary Diman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 82.
MDB. (co. Devon), 2, 3, 0, 0; (co. Somerset), 1, 0, 1, 1; London, 2, 8, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 8, 0, 0.

Dimes.—Bapt. 'the son of Diamond,' q.v., from nick. Dime; cf. Dimcock. Corroborative evidence in favour of this view is found in the fact that in the county of York, where Diamond or Dymond was a favourite name, we find the patronymic Dimeson.

Ricardus Dimeson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 142.

1700. Married—Charles Vale and Sarah Dymes: St. Antholin (London), p. 114.
London (1884), 4; New York, 1.

Dimmock, Dymock, Dymoek, Dimmick, Dimick, Dimock.—Local, 'of Dymock,' a parish in co. Gloucester. Mr. Lower quotes with deserved ridicule an absurd statement from Burke's Landed Gentry, that this family (Dymock) claims descent from Tudor Trevor, lord of Whittington, in Shropshire, from whom sprang David ap Madoc, commonly called Dai, whence the gradual corruptions Dai-madoc, Damoc, Dymock, Dymock.

1557. Buried—Anne, wife of John Dymocke: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 184.

1594. Giles Dimmock, vicar of Duntsbourn Abbots: Atkyns' Hist. Gloucestershire, p. 213.

1746-7. Bapt.—Jane, d. Lewis Dymoek: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 173.
London, 4, 0, 1, 2, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Glouc.), Dimmock, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0, 0, 2, 8.

Dimond; v. Diamond.

Dimsdale, Dinsdale, Dingsdale.—Local, 'of Dinsdale,' a parish in co. Durham; also a township in co. York.

John de Dimedale, co. Norf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1589. John Dimesdale and Eliz. Price: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 177.

1630. Bapt.—Katherine, d. George Dymdsall: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 116.

1801. Married—John Doyle and Sarah Margaret Dinsdale: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 236.

London, 4, 3, 0; Bolton, 0, 0, 1; Liverpool, 3, 1, 0.

Dinant.—Local, 'of Dinant,' a town in Brittany.

Geoffrey de Dinant, co. Somerset, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Hawise de Dinant, co. Berks, ibid.
Oliver Dinaunt, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Roland Dinaunt, co. Dorset, ibid.
London, 1; New York, 2.

Dineley.—Local, 'of Dyneley,' seemingly some spot in the W. Rid. of Yorks.

Margareta de Dynlay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 186.

Ustas' Dynelay, 1379: ibid. p. 211.

'John de Dineley holds the fourth part of one Knight's fee in Dounham (Downham) of the said Duke,' Knights' Fees, 23 Edw. III: Baines' Lanc. ii. 694.

1803. Married—Thomas Lilley and Charlotte Dineley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 274.

Manchester, 1; London, 1.

Dingle.—? Local. It is difficult to arrive at a derivation. There is no local prefix to the Hundred Roll instances. Under ordinary circumstances it would be natural to suggest 'at the dingle,' the little dell, from residence therein.

William Dyngdale, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 190.

William Dingel, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Henry Dinggel, co. Camb., ibid.

Helwise Dinggel, co. Camb., ibid.
1807. Married—John Dingle and Sarah Drake: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 361.

London, 6; Oxford, 7; Philadelphia, 5.

Dingley.—Local, 'of Dingley,' a parish in co. Northampton, about three miles from Market Harborough.

Roger de Dingley, co. Norf., 1330: FF. ii. 376.

1586. Miles Okeley and Dorothy Dyngley (co. Bucks): Marriage Lic. (London), i. 158.

1508-9. Rufus Rogers and Eliz. Dingley (co. Southampton): ibid. p. 260.

1754. Married—Abel Beck and Sarah Dingley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 285.

London, 6; Boston (U.S.), 6.

Dingwall, Dingwell.—Local, 'of Dingwall,' a parish in co. Ross, N.B.

1789. Married—James Ramsey and Catherine Dingwall: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 24.

London, 5, 1; New York, 2, 0.

Dinham.—Local, 'of Dinham,' a hamlet in co. Monmouth, five miles from Chepstow.

William Dymham, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 156.

Oliver de Dymham, co. Devon, 1273. A.
Robert de Dyneham, co. Devon, ibid.

1602. John Dinham (co. Oxford) and Eliz. Dormer: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 269.

London, 2.

Dinnis.—Bapt.; v. Dennis. A variant.

MDB. (co. Devon), 3.

Dipple.—Bapt.; v. Dibble.

Diprose.—Local, 'de Préaux.' Lower says, 'A corruption of De Préaux. There are in Normandy seven places called Préaux, two of which are St. Michel de Préaux and Notre Dame de Préaux': Patr. Brit. p. 90.

1769. Married—John Diprose and Eliz. Henning: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 188.
London, 4.

Disbrow.—Local, 'of Desborough' (q.v.); an American variant.

Disher.—Occup. 'the disher,' one who made dishes, &c., in pewter. This name evidently passed over to America with the Puritans.

John le Discher. O.
Robert le Dishere, London. X.

Margaret le Dishersse, 1273. A.
Walter le Dishser, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 126.

1608. Richard Disher and Lucy Kemis: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 309.

1693-4. Hector Moore and Eliz. Disher: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 283.

Philadelphia, 2.

Dishman.—Occup. 'the ditchman,' the same as Dykeman, q.v. In the same way we have both Dicker and Ditcher; cf. Kirk and Church.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 2.

Disley.—Local, 'of Disley,' a township in the parish of Stockport.

Jordan de Disteleg, 1273: East Ches. ii. 85.

John de Disteleg, 1308: ibid.

1782. Married—Elias Disley and Mary Caton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 337.

Liverpool, 4; London, 1.

Dismore.—Local, 'of Dismore.'

I cannot find the spot.

1691. Married—Thomas Nickins and Ann Dismore: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 209.

1720. — Richard Dismore and Mary Bembridge: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 44.
London, 2.

Disney.—Local, for 'de Isney.' The family gave name to Norton Disney, co. Lincoln; they are said to have come from Isigné, near Bayeux, famous now for its butter.

Johannes de Iseny, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Nigel de Iseny, co. Linc., ibid.
Adam de Isny, co. Linc., ibid.
William Disney, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Adam de Dysny, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.
1713. Married—Nicolas Calton and Elizabeth Disney, of Bleshy, co. Bucks: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 57.
London, 1; Crockford, 3; Philadelphia, 5.

Diss, Dyce.—Local, 'of Diss,' a parish in co. Norfolk, originally Dice. Blomefield heads his history of the Hundred of Diss, 'Dice, now Diss': FF. i. 2. v. also Dixey.

William de Disse, co. Essex, 1273. A.
William de Diss, rector of Denton, co. Norf., 1317: FF. v. 411.
Richard de Dyse, rector of Chatgrave, co. Norf., 1350: ibid. x. 126.
Thomas Dyse, vicar of Necton, co. Norf., 1546: ibid. vi. 55.
1664. Bapt.—Diana, d. Aaron Dyes: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 222.
London, 1, 0; MDB. (Suffolk), 1, 0; Crockford, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 2; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Ditch.—Local, 'at the ditch,' from residence thereby; v. Dyke and Dykes.

Absolon in le Dyche, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Alicia in the Diche, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 104.
Richard atte Diche, C. R., 35 Edw. I.
Richard atte Dich, C. R., 23 Edw. III. pt. i.
1723. Married—Daniel Dyche and Mary Ramsden: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 75.

The name Ditch belongs to the same class as Towns-end, Wood-end, Street-end, West-end.

Cf. John de Dichende, 20 Edw. I. R. New York, 1.

Ditchburn.—(1) Local, a variant of Tichborne, q.v.; cf. Tennyson for Dennison, &c. (2) Local, 'of Ditchburn,' a small township in the parish of Ellingham, co. Northumberland.

1546. Buried—John Decheborn: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 108.
1776. Married—Jean Riboy and Susannah Ditchborn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 270.
London, 1.

Ditchfield.—Local, 'at the ditch-field,' i.e. the field by the dike or ditch. A Lancashire surname, evidently derived from some small spot in or near the parish of Prescot.

John de Dychefield (of Ditton), co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 13.
William Ditchfield, of Ditton, 1567: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 54.
John Ditchfield, of Ditton, 1582: ibid.
Margaret Ditchfield, of Satton, widow, 1504: ibid.
John Ditchfield, of Prescot, 1603: ibid.
1669. John Ditchfield and Mary Griffith: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 44.
London, 0; Manchester, 6; Liverpool, 2.

Ditchman.—Occup.; v. Dyke-man.

Ditton.—Local, 'of Ditton,' parishes in the dioc. of Canterbury, Liverpool, Rochester, and Hereford.

John de Ditton, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 13.
William de Dytone, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 188.
Nicholas de Dyton, co. Sussex, 1273. A.
John de Ditton, co. Camb., ibid.
1786. Married—John Diton and Mary Bequois: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 369.
London, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Dive, Dives.—Local, 'de Dive,' probably some spot in Normandy. That both forms of the name are local is manifest; thus while Lazarus in the directories is what it seems to be, it is not so with Dives. Lower says there is a village called Dives in the department of Calvados, in Normandy.

Guido de Dive, co. Oxf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
William de Dive, co. Northampton, ibid.
Hugo de Diva, co. Northampton, ibid.

That Dives represents the same name is conclusively shown by the following two entries, which relate to the same individual:

William de Dyve, co. Oxf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
William de Dyves, co. Oxf., ibid.
1641. Bapt.—Thomas, son of Simon Dives: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 106.
1642. Buried—Joane, d. Richard Dive: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 123.
London, 2, 2.

Diver.—? Occupative, 'the diver' (?). I cannot suggest any other derivation. It is interesting to notice that Diver is still a familiar surname in co. Cambridge; it is found there six centuries ago.

Gunnilda Divere, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Alanus Diverus, co. Oxf., ibid.
1742. William Diver, for a year's rent of part of the Great Garden, Norwich: FF. iv. 452.
London, 2; Philadelphia, 11; MDB. (co. Camb.), 4.

Dix, Dixon.—Bapt. 'the son of Richard,' from nick. Dick, whence patronymic Dicks, spelt Dix; v. Dick.

Dixey, Dixie, Dicey, Dicksee.—Local, 'of Disce'; no connexion with Dick or Richard. Most certainly a form of Dyce (v. Diss), and local. The instances below point to a close relationship with Dyce. Disce is a hundred in co. Norfolk according to the same record (FF.); v. also A. i. 472.

Miles de Disce, rector of Haylesdon, co. Norf., 1320: FF. x. 431.
John Dixy, vicar of Kateringham, co. Norf., 1562: ibid. v. 90.
Lawrence Dixi, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Sabina Dixi, co. Camb., ibid.
Adam Disce, co. Camb., ibid.
Hugo Discy, co. Hunts, ibid.
Robert Dixey, co. Hunts, ibid.
Alicia Dixi, 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 204.
1694. Bapt.—George, s. Benjamin Dixey: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 359.
1700. — Eliz., d. John Dixey: ibid. p. 386.

These references are quite conclusive, and more could be furnished.

London, 7, 2, 3, 2; Philadelphia, 19, 1, 0, 0.

Doane.—Local. An American variant of Done (q.v.), but found in England in the sixteenth century.

1591. Buried—Elizabeth Doane, d. Richard Doane: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 203.

Probably this form went over with the Puritans.

Dobb, Dobbs, Dobby, Dobson.—Bapt. 'the son of Robert,' from nick. Dob. As will be seen (v. Hobb), Robert gave title to ghosts and haunting spirits. Hence the familiar hobs and dobbies. A ghost is a dobby in Furness. 'Dobby, a fool, a silly old man; also, a kind of spirit' (Halliwell).

Dobbe de Laungel', co. Oxf., 1273. A. William Dobbe, co. Norf., ibid.
Robert Dobes, co. Oxf., ibid.

Johanna Dobbewyf (i.e. the wife of Dob), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 221.

Isabella Dobson, 1379: ibid. p. 22.

Robertus Dobson, 1379: ibid. p. 67.

Ricardus Dobman (i.e. the servant of Dob), 1379: ibid. p. 103.

Agnes Dob, daughter, 1379: ibid. p. 131.
'Abraham Dobby, miller,' appears in the W. Rid. Yorks Directory as resident in Bishop Thornton.

London, 2, 7, 3, 22; New York, 0, 10, 0, 15.

Dobbin, Dobbing, Dobbings, Dobbyn, Dobbys, Dobbson, Dobbins.—Bapt. 'the son of Robert,' from nick. Dob, dim. Dob-in; cf. Rob and Rob-in. Dobbin, from being a pet name for a horse, became a specific term for an old and jaded horse. Of course the g in Dobbing and Dobbings is an excrescence, as in Jennings, Hewlings, &c.

Matilda Dobin, co. Oxf., 1273. A. John Doby, co. Camb., ibid.

Robert Doby, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 118.

Willelmus Doby, 1379: P. T. Howden-shire, p. 18.

Johannes Dobyson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 299.

1503. Thomas Dobbison and Eliz. Smithe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 207.

1602. John Dobbyn and Joane Diglett: ibid. p. 271.

1610. Samuel Loveday and Agnes Dobins: ibid. p. 324.

1725. Married—Thomas Dobbison and Mary Chandler: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 1.

London, 5, 1, 2, 1, 1, 0, 0; York (Dobinson), 1; Carlisle (Dobinson), 1; New York (Dobbin), 7; (Dobbins), 13.

Dobell, Doble; v. Double.

Dobie, Dobbie.—Bapt. 'the son of Robert,' from nick. Dob. North Eng. dobbie or dobby; Scotch, dobie; v. Dobb.

John Doby, co. Linc., 1273. A. 1630. Married—Edmund Doby and Ann Parsley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 61.

1682.—Thomas Woodard and Alice Dobby: ibid. p. 197.

1765.—John Bayley and Mary Doby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 144.

London, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 2.

Dobinet.—Bapt. 'the son of Robert,' from nick. Dob, and double dim. Dob-in-et; cf. Colinet and Robinet.

John Dobynette, 1463: Mun. Acad. Oxon.

1809. Married—Enos Stower and Ann Dabinett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 419.

The Rev. T. Burn, of Wiscanton, informs me that the surname now exists in the neighbourhood of Wiscanton, co. Somerset.

Doblin.—Bapt. 'the son of Robert,' from the nick. Dob (v. Dobb), and the dim. Dob-elin. In the same way we find Hob-elin formed from Hob, the other nick. of Robert; v. Hoblyn. For a familiar instance of this dim. v. Hewling.

Emma Doblyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 290. Boston (U.S.), 3.

Dobson.—Bapt.; v. Dobb.

Docker.—Local, 'of Docker,' a township in co. Westmoreland, four miles from Kendal.

Elizabeth Dockar, 1579: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 95.

William Docker, 1587: ibid.

1564. Bapt.—Robert, s. Thomas Docker: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 3.

1565. Buried—Robert, s. William Docker: ibid. iv. 6.

MDb. (co. Westmoreland), 5; London,

3; Philadelphia, 4.

Docking.—Local, 'of Docking,' a parish in co. Norfolk, eleven miles from Rougham.

John de Docking, London, 1273. A. Hervey de Docking, co. Norf., 6 Hen.

III: FF. viii. 333.

Ralph de Docking, co. Norf., 2 Edw. II: ibid. vii. 115.

William Docking, co. Norf., 1415: ibid. vi. 42.

1803. Married—John Docking and Eliz. Hinson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 287.

London, 1; MDb. (co. Norfolk), 1.

Dockreay, Dockree, Docwra, Dockray, Dockrey, Dockrey.

—Local, 'of Dockwray,' a hamlet in Matterdale, co. Cumb. As regards the suffix -wray, v. Wray, and cf. Thackeray.

Robert Dokera, C. R., 6 Edw. IV.

Isabel Dockraye, or Dockera, 1560: Lanc. Wills at Richmond, i. 95.

1697. Buried—Dorothy Dockera: Reg. Ulverston, i. 187.

Robert Dokeraa: Visit. of Yorks, 1563, p. 181.

Another curious spelling is found in the following entry:

1764. Married—Edward Harrison and Mary Dockera: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 129.

MDb. (co. Cumberland), Dockray, 1; London, 1, 2, 3, 0, 0, 0; Manchester, 0, 0, 0, 3, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 0, 3, 1, 0; New York (Dorkrey), 1.

Docksey.—Local; v. Doxey.

Dod, Dodd, Dodds, Dods, Dodson, Dodshon, Dodshun.—

(1) Bapt. 'the son of Dod.' In Domesday, Dodo, co. Wilts; also Alwinus Dodesone, co. Herts.

Brihtric, son of Doda: Freeman's Norman Conquest, v. 760.

Doda Tatte: Close Roll, 42 Hen. III.

Walter Dodde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 99.

Benedict Dod, co. Northampton, 1273. A. Peter Dod, co. Oxf., ibid.

Richard Dod, co. Camb., ibid.

William Dod, co. Salop, ibid.

Magota Dodson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 10.

Johannes Dod, 1379: ibid. p. 19.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of David,' popularly Daud (?).

Daud Jonson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 224.

William Daudson, 1379: ibid. p. 235.

Elias Daudson, 1379: ibid. p. 276.

Willelmus Daud, 1379: ibid. p. 63.

Johannes Daudson, 1379: ibid.

Willelmus Daud, 1379: P. T. Howden-shire, p. 1.

Daud de Setel, hosier, 5 Edw. I: Free-men of York, i. 82.

It is quite possible these belong to (1), but I have a strong impression that David was so styled.

London, 1, 31, 7, 1, 7, 1 (1884), 1; New York, 1, 37, 4, 0, 2, 0, 0.

Doddemeade, Doddimead, Dodamead.—Local, 'of Dod-meade,' seemingly some small spot called Dod-meade, i.e. the meadow belonging to Dod, q.v.

1781. Married—Robert Dodimead and Eliz. Harmon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 318.

1805.—Samson Strike and Eliz. Dode-meade: ibid. ii. 333.

1807. William Dodimead and Margaret Wagstaffe: ibid. ii. 372.

London, 1, 0, 0; MDb. (co. Somerset), 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 2.

Dodding.—Bapt. 'the son of Doding.' In Domesday found as Dodingus, co. Middlesex, and Doding, co. Bucks. This surname lasted in the neighbourhood of Kendal till the last century. The Doddings lived at Conishead Priory, near Ulverston, till the heiress-general married John Braddyll; cf. Browning and Harding. Personal names ending in -ing were common.

Thomas Dodyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 183.

John Doding, co. Soms., 1273. A. Edmond Dodding, 1596: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 95.

James Doddinge, of Burton-in-Kendal, 1597: ibid.

Sarah Dodding, of Connyshead, 1679: ibid.

1693. Bapt.—Betteris, d. Miles Dodding, of Cunishhead: Reg. St. Mary, Ulverston, p. 93.

Liverpool, 1.

Doddington, Dodington.—Local, 'of Doddington,' parishes in cos. Cambridge, Kent, Lincoln, Northumberland, and Northampton; also a township in co. Chester.

William de Dodington, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Robert de Dodinton, cos. Salop and Staff., ibid.

Erneus de Dodington, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Symon de Dodington, co. Kent, ibid.

Osbert de Dodinton, co. Linc., ibid.

1605. Bapt.—William, s. Christopher Doddington: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 45.

MDb. (co. Somerset), o, 2; (Dorset), 1, o.

Doddridge, Dudderidge, Dodridge, Dottridge, Duttridge.—Local, 'of Dodridge,' some spot in co. Devon or the south-west country.

Richard de Doderige, co. Devon, 1273. A.

William de Dodergege, co. Devon, 20 Edw. I. R.

1577. John Dodridge: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. iii. p. 66.

1598. John Dawdridge and Katherine Riddlesden: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 255.

John Dodridge, Knt., co. Norf., 1620: FF. iii. 367.

1779. Married—John Dodridge and Hannah Farmer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 299.

Devon Court Dir., o, o, 2, o, o; Plymouth, 1, o, o, o, o; London, o, o, 1, o; MDb. (co. Soms.), o, 2, o, o, o; (co. Devon), 1, o, o, o, o; (co. Salop), o, o, o, o, 1.

Dodge, Dodgson, Dodgin, Dodging, Dodgon, Dodgshon, Dodgshun.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Dod' (q.v.), whence the patronymic Dodds and Dodson, pronounced Dodge and Dodgson; cf. Davidge for Davids. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Roger,' from nick. Dodge; v. Hodge. Dodgson and Hodgson are still pronounced Dodgin and Hodgkin in North Lancashire.

Henry Doggesone, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 38.

Willemus Dogeson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 300.

Helena Dogeson, 1379: ibid. p. 74.

Ricardus Dogman, i.e. the servant of Dodge: ibid. p. 70.

Willemus Dogeman: ibid. p. 291.

Robertus Doggeman: ibid.

John Doggeson, 1397: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 3.

1740. Married—Thomas Dodshon and Hannah Hinton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 269.

London, 6, 2, o, 1, o, o, o; Wigan (Dodgin), 1; Burnley, o, o, o, 1, 1, o; Leeds (Dodgshun), 2; Philadelphia, 12, 4, o, o, o, o, o.

Dodging.—Bapt. 'the son of Dodge,' from the dim. Dodgin; cf. Colin for Nicholas. The final g is excremental as in Jennings. Thus the surname is explained; v. Dodge.

Dodgyn de Sourhulle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 181.

London, 1.

Dodman.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Dodeman,' probably Dode or Dodde, with augmentative -man; cf. Bateman, Coleman, Tiddyman, and v. Dod.

Henry Dodeman, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

William Dodeman, co. Hunts, ibid.

Peter Dodeman, co. Kent, ibid.

John Dodman, co. Norf. FF.

(2) Occup. 'the servant of Dod' (v. Dod); cf. Matthewman.

Robertus Daudman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 243.

London, 2.

Dodwell.—Local, 'of Dodwell.' I cannot find the spot.

1695. Francis Broderwick and Henrietta Dodwell: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 217.

1767. Married—George Sture and Jane Dodwell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 179.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 2.

Dodworth, Dodsworth.—Local, 'of Dodworth,' a township in the parish of Silkstone, near Barnsley, co. York. As a surname the more usual form is Dodsworth, i.e. Dods' farmstead.

Walterus de Dodworth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 70.

Willemus de Dodword, 1379: ibid. p. 87.

1772. Married—Robert Dodsworth and Mary Naylor: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 221.

York, o, 5; London, o, 1; West Riding Court Dir., 1, 4; New York, 4, 1.

Doe.—Nick, 'the doe,' the female of the buck; cf. Buck, Stag, Roe, Roebuck, &c.

John le Do, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 195.

Matilda la Do, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 221.

William le Do, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

John le Doe, co. Camb., ibid.

Walter Do, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1729. Married—Benjamin Doe and Jane Shackledge: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 6.

London, 5; Oxford, 2; New York, 3.

Doggett, Dugget, Dugood, Duguid, Doogood, Docket, Doget.—Bapt. 'the son of Doget.'

By its universal distribution (without prefix) this is manifestly a personal name. It is equally manifest that it is not one of the common diminutives in -et, as it would not be invariably so entered in the formal records below. I have no doubt it is the Domesday Thurgod, found early as Toged, now Too-good. In the same way Doget became Dogood.

Cf. Hugo Toged, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 74.

Johannes Doget, 1379: ibid. p. 41.

John Doget, co. York, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Alicia Doget, co. Camb., 1273. A.

John Doget, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Doget, London, ibid.

John Doget, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 108.

William Doget, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 141.

1557. Married—John Burchall and Katherine Doogood: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 223.

1657. —Benjamin Spooner and Agnes Doged: ibid. p. 261.

Thus Dogood and Toogood are from the same parent; v. Thurgood. Since writing the above I have come across the following entries:

1651. Bapt.—Ruth, d. Robert and Elizabeth Toogood: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 59.

1653. —Ralph, s. Robert and Elizabeth Toogood: ibid.

1577. Buryed—Nicholas, sonne of John Docket: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 125.

London, 10, 2, 1, 1, o, o, o; Philadelphia (Doggett), 5; New York (Doget), 1.

Doig, Doidge.—Bapt. 'the son of Doig' or 'Doidge.' These surnames, familiar to cos. Lancashire and Yorkshire, are not to be confounded with Dodge and Doddgson. I saw Doidge over a shop window in Blackpool on November 17, 1887.

Ricardus Doegeson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 253.

Elenora Doegeson, 1379: ibid.

Alicia Doege-wyf, 1379: ibid. p. 219.

Willelmus Doegeson, 1379: ibid. p. 247.

Johannes Doegeman (i.e. the servant of Doege), 1379: ibid. p. 253.

Ricardus Doegsson, 1379: ibid. p. 266.

1755. Married—John Macfarquhar and Maria Doig: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 56.

1771. — John Doidge and Elizabeth Parent: ibid. i. 217.

London, 2, 3; New York, 2, o.

Dolby, Dolbey.—Bapt. 'the son of Dolbe.' It would seem as if Dolby was but a variant of the local Dalby (q.v.), but that is entered as Daleby, whereas Dolbe is found both as font-name and surname side by side with Dolby.

Dolbe del Halwerk, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Thomas Dolbe, co. Oxf., ibid.

Walter Dolbe, co. Bucks, ibid.

1716. Married—John Whendam and Mary Dolby: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 239.

1744. — John Dolby and Mary Francis: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 38.

London, 6, o; New York, o, 2; Philadelphia, 6, 9.

Dole, Deal, Deale.—Local, 'of the dole,' i.e. the dole, deal, or portion, a division of land. 'Dole, a share or portion. Also to set out or allot . . . a boundary mark, either a post or a mound of earth (East). . . . A piece of heath or common off which only one person has a right to cut fuel (Norf.): Halliwell; v. Dowle and Dowler; cf. Dole Bank, a hamlet in the parish of Bishop Thornton, W. Rid. Yorks.

William de la Dole, co. Camb., 1273. A. Thomas atte Dela, de Fodeston, rector of Foston, co. Norf., 1361: FF. vii. 365.

John atte Dele, vicar of Wigenhale, co. Norf., 1374: ibid. ix. 172.

1602. Bapt.—William, s. Thomas Dole: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 41.

1671. — Frances, d. John Deale: ibid. p. 253.

London, 3, 3, o; New York, 2, 5, 2.

Dollar, Doller.—Local, 'of Doller.' I have not discovered the spot. Of course the modern form Dollar is imitative of the familiar coin.

Laurence de Doller, co. Devon, 1273. A. Ralph Doller, co. Norf., ibid.

1671. Bapt.—Margaret, d. William Dolor: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 248.

1684. — Eliz., d. Joseph Doller: ibid. i. 306.

1808. Married—John Talbot and Ann Dolar: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 392.

London, 2, o; New York, o, i.

Dolley.—Local; v. Doyle. A variant.

John Doly, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 166.

1729. Buried—John Dolly: Canterbury Cathedral, p. 138.

1744. Married—Peter Harris and Ann Dolly: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 44.

Oxford, 5.

Dolling, Dollen.—Bapt. 'the son of Dolling'; v. Browning or Harding. Dolling is one of many personal names ending in -ing; cf. Downings. Dollen is a variant for which co. Somerset is responsible.

Thomas Dollyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 96.

John Dolling, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 130.

Richard Dollyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: p. 213.

1597-8. Daniel Dolling and Ellen Harrison: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 247.

1617. Gilbert Knapp and Joan Dollin: ibid. ii. 55.

1639. Daniel Gookin and Mary Dolling: ibid. ii. 246.

London, 4, o; Philadelphia, 3, o; MDB. (co. Soms.), 1, 2.

Dollman, Dolman.—(1) Local, 'the dolman.' I suspect equivalent to Dale and Dallman, q.v. In the Yorkshire Poll Tax we find on p. 234, 'Adam Denman and Johannes de Den' (one who resided in the den or dean); also 'Johannes Dolman and Johanna de Dale' (one who resided in the dale). (2) Local, 'the doleman,' one who resided at the dole or landmark; v. Dole, Dowle, and Dowler.

Nicholas Doleman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 188.

Richard Doleman, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Alice Dolman, temp. Eliz. Z.

1760. Married—James Moorhouse and Hannah Doleman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 92.

London, 5, 4; Philadelphia, o, 5; Boston (U.S.), 2, o.

Dolphin, Dalphin.—Bapt. 'the son of Dolphin' (Domesday, Dolphin): Yonge, i. 156-7. Popular in France; cf. Dauphin. For corrupted forms, v. Duffin; cf. Dovenby, co. Cumb., a corruption of Dolphinby, and Dolphinholme, near Lancaster, both beyond doubt styled from the personal name of the early resident.

Dolfinus de Kirkeby, 21 Ric. II: Furness Coucher Book, i. 188.

Eva fil. Dolphine. J.

Johannes Dolfyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 27.

Adam Dolfynson, 1379: ibid. p. 284.

Annes Dolfyn, 1541: Reg. St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 72.

John Dolfyn, co. York. W. 2.

William Dolfyn, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Cf. Adam de Dolfynby, co. Cumb., 20 Edw. I. R.

1579. Buried—William Dowlphin, 90 yeares old: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 127.

1606-7. Rowland Dolphenne, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 293.

London, 1, 1; Crockford, 3, o; Liverpool, 2, o; Ribchester, 3, o; Philadelphia, o, o.

Dombell.—Local; v. Dumbell.

Domesday.—? Local. Probably Lower is right in explaining this as local, 'from one of the many religious establishments to which the name of Maison-Dieu, Domus Dei, or God's House, was given.'

Richard Domsyday, rector of Fincham co. Norf., 1434: FF. vii. 362.

Richard Domesdaye, rector of Caldecote, co. Norf., 1435: ibid. vi. 60.

Thomas Dumpysday, vicar of Wiggenhall (St. Mary Magdalen), 1399: ibid. ix. 172.

Dominey, Dominy, Dominick.—Bapt. 'the son of Dominic'; both masculine and feminine, Dominicus and Dominica; in Spain, Domingo. For history of the name and saints so called, v. Yonge, i. 445. Dominey was the pet form. It has always been rare in England.

Dominicus de Baketon, Fines Roll, 19 Edw. II.

Domenyk Euan, C. R., 34 Hen. VI.

1576. Buried—Dennys Dominicus: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 18.

1615. Dominicke, wife Joannis Street, co. Wilts: Reg. Broad Chalke, p. 43.

1550. Buried—Mr. Domynyke, pres.: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 183.

1702. Married—Benjamin Domine to Mary Johnson: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 51.

1796. Married—William Alcock and Fanny Dominy: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 153. London, 1, 1, 0; New York, 0, 0, 15.

Domville, Donville.—Local; v. Dumville.

Donald, Donalds, Donaldson.—Bapt. 'the son of Donald.' The Scotch patronymic is Macdonald, but in the Lowlands and on the Border the more English form was Donalds and Donaldson.

Donaldus de Heselrigg, 35 Edw. III: Hodgson's Northumberland, iv. 80.

Donaldus Palfreman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 76.

Johannes Danald, 1379: ibid. p. 267. London, 8, 1, 19; New York, 15, 2, 53.

Doncaster.—Local, 'of Doncaster,' a well-known town in co. York. For a variant of the surname, v. Dancaster.

Ralph de Doncastre, co. York, 1273. A. Andrew de Doncaster, tewer, 4 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 13.

For the occupation 'tewer,' v. Tuer.

Adam de Donecastre, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 65.

Ricardus de Donecastre, 1379: ibid. p. 24.

Johannes Doncastre, 1379: ibid. p. 45. 1407. William Doncastre, chaplain of Carrow, co. Norf.: FF. iv. 526.

1765. Married—John Hinge and Eliz. Doncaster: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 148. London, 3; West Rid. (Yorks) Court Dir., 5.

Done, Doane, Doan.—Local, 'at the down,' from residence on the slope of the hill; v. Donne, Downe, or Downes. A variant peculiar to co. Chester, and found in the district. Doane has become the established American form.

Richard Done, of Chester, ironmonger, 1579: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 55. Catherine Done, of Manchester, 1608: ibid.

John Done, of Utkinton, co. Chester, husbandman, 1638: ibid. (1621-50), p. 67.

Thomas Done, of Warrington, gentleman, 1648: ibid.

1634. Married—Hugh Done and Ellen Fryer: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 65.

MDb. (co. Chester), 11, 0, 0; Manchester, 2, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 29, 0; New York, 3, 18, 1.

Donkin, Dunkin.—Bapt. 'the son of Duncan,' a modification (imitative) towards such diminutive as Wilkin, Tomkin, Watkin, &c.

'Sir Rufane Shaw Donkin (1773-1841), surveyor general of the Ordnance, belonged to a respectable Northumbrian family, said to be of Scotch descent, and originally named Duncan': Dict. Nat. Biog. xv. 218.

William fil. Donkani, co. Cumb., 20 Edw. I. R.

Alnon Donykyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 96.

Richard Donykyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

1633. Thomas Cater to Elizabeth Dunkin: Canterbury Cathedral, p. 56.

1660. George Dunkin to Eliz. Lewis: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 36.

London, 5, 6; New York, 0, 8; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Donne, Donn, Don.—Local, 'at the down,' from residence on the slope of the hill; v. Downe.

Gilbert de la Donne, co. Essex, 1273. A. Robert de la Donne, co. Kent, ibid.

Nicholas Donn, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Donn, rector of Matlask, co. Norf., 1386: FF. viii. 137.

Thomas Donne, of Holt-Market, co. Norf., 1685: ibid. iv. 333.

1645. Married—Edward Francis and Japheth Donn: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 78.

London, 5, 0, 0; New York, 1, 4, 0; Manchester, 0, 0, 2.

Donnett.—Bapt. 'the son of Donatus' or 'Donata' (Latin, given).

The English form seems to have been Donnet; cf. donet, a primer, or grammar, by Donatus, 1466.

'Fore a donet for master George, 12d': Sir John Howard's Household Book. 'Donet, Donatus': Prompt. Parv. p. 126.

'Donatus, prior of Windham, granted to Allan . . . 5 acres of the demans of Windham Convent': FF. ii. 516.

1594. Christopher Hamden and Elizabeth Donatt: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 215.

1637. Baried—Donnett Maddocke: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 214.

1638. — Donot Duncomb: ibid. p. 215. London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Doodson, . . . Dootson.—Bapt.

'the son of Dod,' corruptions of Dodson (v. Dod).

Isabella Doodson, of Farnworth, 1634: Wills at Chester, p. 67.

John Doodson, of Kearsley, 1627: ibid.

Manchester, 1, 1; Bolton, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Dopson.—Bapt. 'the son of Robert,' from nick. Dob; a corruption of Dobson; cf. Hopps and Hopson for Hobbs and Hobson.

1770. Married—John Smith and Mary Dopson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 196.

1797. — John Dopson, or Dobson, and Eliz. James: ibid. ii. 165.

London, 1.

Dorber.—Occur.; v. Dauber.

Dorchestre.—Local, 'of Dorchester, (1) a borough and market-town in co. Dorset; (2) a parish in co. Oxford, four miles from Wallingford.

Agatha de Dorkcestre, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Richard de Dorkcestre, co. Oxf., ibid.

Thomas de Dorchestre, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 272.

John Dorchestre, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 277.

1622. Married—William Sherman and Alice Dorchester: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 15.

1777. — Andrew Symington and Mary Dorchester: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 276.

Boston (U.S.), 4.

Dore.—Local, 'of Dore,' a chapelry, co. Derby, and a parish, co. Hereford.

Thomas Dore, co. Bedf., 1273. A. (Abbas) de Dore, co. Hereford, ibid.

Thomas de Dore, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 67.

1747. Married—Moses Dore and Rebecca Rideant: St. Antholin (London), p. 154.

London, 11; New York, 12.

Dorey, Doree.—Local, 'of Dory.' I cannot identify the place.

Geoffrey de Dory, co. Linc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

John Dory, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Fulco Dory, co. Linc., ibid.

London, 3, 2; Philadelphia, 7, 0.

Dorling.—Nick.; v. Darling.

Dorman, Durman.—Offic. 'the doorman'; v. Dorward.

Nicholas Doreman. O.

1637. Married—John Dorman and Eliz. Hatton: St. Antholin (London), p. 71.

London, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Soms.), 0, 3; New York, 11, 0.

Dormer, Dormar.—? Local.

I cannot find any earlier record of this surname than the references in the Yorkshire Poll Tax. These point to a local origin, -mire being a common suffix to North English local names; cf. Blamire, and v. Myers.

Willhelmus Dormire, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 68.

Agnes Dormire, 1379: ibid.

1573-4. William Hawtrye and Joan Dormer: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 59.
1620. Married—John Wise and Thomasine Dormer: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 20.
1809. —William Hodgson and Sarah Dormer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 409.
London, 9, 1; Philadelphia, 11, 0.

Dorrance.—An American variant of Durrans, q.v.

Dorset, Dorsett.—Local, 'of Dorset'; cf. Devon, Derbyshire, Cheshire, &c. Probably sometimes confounded with Dowsett, q.v.

Geoffrey de Dorsete, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 87.
1545. Francis Dorcett and Anne Hopper: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 1572. Robert Dorset: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii, pt. ii, p. 23.

1748. Married—Robert Day and Sussanna Dorset: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 41.
London, 2, 3; New York, 0, 6.

Dorturer, Dotterer.—Offic. 'the dorturer,' i.e. an attendant of the dortour, dorter, or dorture, a dormitory; Fr. dortoir, a sleeping chamber. 'Dortowre, dortorium': Prompt. Parv. 'Dorter, dortoir, dorture, the common room where all the Friars of one Convent sleep a' nights': Bailey's Dict., 1742. In the Monastical Church of Durham (1593), 'the chambre where he (the cellarer) dyd lye was in the dorter': p. 83. Heywood says: 'The tongue is assigned of wordes to be sorder';
The mouth is assigned to be the tongue's dorter.'

I suspect the 'Dorturer' of our rolls was an official in the household of the king or noble; one who looked to the sleeping accommodation.

William le Dortorer, Close Roll, 3 Edw. II.

Robert le Dorturer. B.
William le Dorturer. DD.
Cf. Robert de Wederhale, del dortur, 7 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 27.
Philadelphia, 0, 5.

Dorward, Durward, Dorward.—Offic. 'the door-ward'; M.E. dore. This surname in the form of Durward has been immortalized by Walter Scott's Quentin Durward. v. Durknav.

'Alan Durward (or Alanus Ostiarius, Hostiarius, le Usher), justiciar of Scotland (d. 1268), was the son of Thomas Ostiarius. . . Durward makes his first appearance as Alan "Ostarius domini Regis Scocie":' Dict. Nat. Biog. xvi. 266.

Geoffrey le Doreward, co. Essex, 1273. A.
Richard Doreward, co. Essex, ibid.
Elias Dorewarde. B.
Isabel Dorewarde. B.
John Durward. B.
London, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 5.

Dosier, Dossor.—Occup. 'the dosier.' Perhaps a manufacturer of dosers, i.e. tapestry hangings (v. Doser, Halliwell).

Richard le Dosyere, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Robert le Dossier, co. Oxf., ibid.
Wilbert le Dossier, co. Oxf., ibid.
Gilbert le Dossor, co. Essex, ibid.
John Dawson. EE.
East Rid. Yorks (Hutton Cranswick), 0, 1.

Dosset.—? Local. A corruption of Dorset, q.v. If not this, it must be baptismal, and be a corruption of Dowsett (q.v.), which seems the more natural interpretation.

1575. Thomas Dossett and Alice Abraham: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 65.

1769. Married—Thomas Dossett and Mary Brackney: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 187.
London, 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Dottridge.—Local; v. Doddridge, of which it is a manifest corruption.

Double, Doubell, Double, Dobell, Doble.—? Bapt. 'the son of Dobel,' one of the many personal names ending in el. The genitive Dobel's is strongly confirmatory of this view; cf. Williams, Jones, Tompkins, &c.

Hamo Dubel, co. Norf., 1273. A.
William Dubel, or Dobel, or de Dobil, co. Norf., ibid.

James Dobell, of Bungeye, rector of Markshall, co. Norf., 1300: FF. v. 48.
Edmund Double, co. Norf., 41 Elizabeth. viii. 272.

David Dobel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 170.
Alicia Dobiles, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

1809. Married—William Double and Sarah Dainton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 410.
London, 6, 2, 5, 9, 6; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 2, 0, 2.

Doubleday.—? Nick. 'Duble-dent,' i.e. double-tooth. This surname, which troubled Mr. Lower sorely, and over which I myself have spent many a miserable ten minutes, is probably as explained above; cf. Dent-de-fer, Dandelion, and Duredent, i.e. hard-tooth.

Johannes Dubledent, co. Essex: Pipe Roll, 10 Hen. II, p. 36.

1625. Married—Edward Foxley and Judith Doubleday: St. Antholin (London), p. 59.

London, 3; New York, 9.

Doublet.—Nick. 'doublet,' from the wearer's custom of using that garment; cf. Curthose, &c.

John Doublet, Close Roll, 7 Ric. II.
London, 1.

Douce.—Bapt. 'the son of Douce'; v. Dowse.

1758. Married—John Douse and Ann Smith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 82.

1761. —Simon Peirce and Sarah Douse: ibid. p. 100.
London, 2.

Douceamour.—Nick. of endearment; v. Sweetlove. Cf. Faramor, Finnemore, Phillimore.

Robert Douceamour, Close Roll, 8 Edw. IV.
Felicia Duzamour: Domesday, St. Paul's, Camden Soc.

Ducedame.—Nick. 'sweet lady.' Cf. Douceamour.

Roger Ducedame, London, 1273. A.

Doughty.—Nick. 'the doughty,' i.e. the strong, the valiant; M.E. duhti and dohti.

John Dughti, de Strensall, caruifex, 8 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 16.

Johanna Doughti, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 133.
Johannes Doughty, taylour, 1379: ibid.

p. 165.
Adam Doughty, 1379: ibid. p. 103.
Robertus Dughty, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 12.

Johannes Dughti, 1379: ibid.
1632. Bapt.—John, s. Richard Dowtye: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 121.

Edward Doughtie, of Stockport, clerk, 1616: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 55.
1806. Married—Daniel Doughty and Ann Gray: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 348.
London, 22; Boston (U.S.), 5.

Doulman, Dowlman.—Variants of Dollman, q.v.; cf. Coulson for Colson, Coules for Coles, &c.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1, 2.

Douthart, Douthwaite.—Local; v. Douthwaite.

Dove.—Nick. 'the dove,' a sobriquet affixed on account of the gentle character of the original bearer; cf. Pidgeon, Woodcock, Nightingale, &c. Hawk would be a nickname representing the opposite characteristic.

Doubleday - P.

Richard le Duv, c. 1300. M.
Nicholas le Duv, ibid.
Richard Dove, co. Norf., 20 Edw. I. R. 1759. Married—Joseph Drew and Mary Dove: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 84.
London, 14; Philadelphia, 7.

Dover.—Local, 'of Dover,' one of the cinque ports, situated in co. Kent.

Richard de Dove, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.
Godwinus de Dove. C.
Fuker de Dove, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Hugo de Dove, co. Wilts, ibid.
John de Dove, co. Hunts, 1273. A. 1668. Bapt.—Saray, d. Frances Dover: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 236.
1703. Married—James Dover and Mill-cent Frost: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 89.
London, 5; Philadelphia, 9.

Dow, Dowe.—Bapt. 'the son of David,' from nick. Daw or Dow; v. Dawson for many instances.

Agnes Dowe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 58.
Hugo Dowe, 1379: ibid. p. 191.
Alicia Dowe, 1379: ibid.
Adam Dowe-man, i.e. the servant of Dow, 1379: ibid. p. 202.
1573-4. William Dowe and Ellenor Ellyott: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 59.
London, 8, 0; New York, 18, 1.

Dowbiggin, Dowbekin.—Local, 'of Dowbiggin,' a hamlet in the parish of Sedbergh, W. Rid. Yorks.

Johannes de Dowfbygyng, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 289.
Robertus de Dowfbygyng, 1379: ibid.
Christopher Dowbikine, of Tatham, 1613: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 97.
John Dowbiggin, of Tatham, 1678: ibid.

For the probable origin of this name, v. Duff.

Liverpool, 1, 0; Bolton, 0, 1.

Dowdall, Dowdle, Dowdell.—Local, 'of Dowdale,' seemingly a Yorkshire place-name.

Nicholaus de Dodale, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 117.
Johannes de Dowdale, 1379: ibid.
Willelmus de Dowdale, 1379: ibid.
Willelmus Dowdale, 1379: ibid. p. 84.
1773. Married—James Dowdell and Mary Morris: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 235.
1775. —James Vicary and Grace Dowdle: ibid. p. 252.
1801. Henry Kusder and Jane Dowdall: ibid. ii. 242.
London, 1, 1, 0; Liverpool, 3, 0, 0; New York, 2, 0, 7.

Dowdeswell, Dowderswell.

—Local, 'of Dowdeswell,' a parish in co. Gloucester, four miles from Cheltenham.

William de Doudeswell, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Robert de Doudeswell, co. Glouc., ibid. 1682. William Dowdeswell, of Aston, co. Glouc., and Eliz. Gibbard: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 160.
1778. Married—William Weller Pepys and Eliz. Dowdeswell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 278.
London, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 10, 1; New York, 1, 0.

Dowell.—Local, 'at the dowl'; v. Dowe. A variant. 'John Dowe' was High Sheriff of Gloucestershire in 1624. His father was 'James Dowe,' a wealthy Bristol merchant; v. Atkyns, Hist. Gloucestershire, pp. 40, 110. The variation is a very natural one.

London, 6; MDB. (Gloucestershire), 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Dowland, Douland, Dowlind.—Local, 'of Dowland,' a parish in co. Devon. The Yorkshire instance seems to imply another Dowland in that county, especially as the surname is fairly familiar in the North.

Willelmus de Dowland, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 268.
1626. Robert Dowland and Jane Smalley: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 177.
1794. Married—Thomas Feeny and Mary Dowland: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 120.
MDB. (co. Wilts), 1, 0, 0; (co. Somerset), 0, 1, 1; Manchester, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (Lincoln), 1, 0, 0.

Dowle, Dowler.—Local, 'at the dowl,' or 'the dowler,' one who lived at the dowl; v. Dole. 'Dole, merke, meta, tramariacia': Prompt. Parv. Way has an important note on this. 'Forby gives this word as still used in Norfolk, the mark being often a low post, called a dool-post. . . . Bishop Kennet states that landmarks, or boundary stones, are in some parts of Kent called "dowle-stones," and explains dole, or dowl, as signifying "a bulk, or green narrow slip of ground left unplowed in arable land." . . . Queen Elizabeth in her Injunctions, 1559, directs that at the customary perambulations on the Rogation Days, the admonition shall be given, "cursed be he which translateth the boundes and dolles of his neighbor." It is thus made clear that dowle was a form of dole, or doll (a partition). Thomas at the dowe, or William Dowler, meant one who resided on such a strip of ground, or by such a landmark. An instance in co. Cambridge is given under Dole, q.v.

Hugo de Doole, co. Surrey, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

With Dowler, cf. Downer, Bridger, Churcher, &c.

1762. Married—John Stevens and Sarah Dowle: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 115.
1769. —George Dowler and Margery Lee: ibid. p. 187.
London, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 5; New York, 1, 1.

Dowlman; v. Doulman.

Dowman.—(1) Local, 'of Downham,' abbreviated from Downman; v. Downman and Downham. (2) Occup. 'Dow's man,' i.e. the servant of Dow, or Daw (David); v. Dow and Dowson (2), and cf. Matthewman, Priestman, &c. This class of surnames is chiefly found in Yorkshire.

Adam Doweman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 202.
William Dawman, 1379: ibid. p. 249.
1570. Robert Dowman and Ellen Towres: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 45.
1774. Married—Charles Dowman and Sarah Thompson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 242.
Crockford, 1.

Downe, Downes, Down, Downs.—Local, 'of the Downs,' i.e. the sloping declivity, from residence thereby.

Gilbert de la Donne, co. Essex, 1273. A.
Matilda de la Don, co. Devon, ibid.
Henry de la Dune, co. Sussex, ibid.
Sibil atte Dune, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 128.
John atte Doune, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.
May Downe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 130.
Johannes Downe, 1379: ibid.
Willelmus de Doynes, 1379: ibid. 213.

The following occur in the list of Mayors of Macclesfield:

Reginald del Downes, 1407: East Cheshire, ii. 464.
Reginald del Downes, 1445: ibid.

Peter Downes, Esq., 1779: ibid. p. 467.
Edward Downes, Esq., 1810: ibid.
1703. Married—Thomas Pollet and Misericordia Down: St. Antholin (London), p. 116.
London, 1, 22, 14, 11; Philadelphia,
o, 17, 5, 58.

Downer.—Local, 'the downer,' one who resided on the down
(v. Downe); cf. Bridger, &c.

1683. William Downer and Barbara
Greene: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury),
p. 150.

1727. Married—Simon Hinton and Eliz. Downer, Great Marlow, Bucks:
St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 4.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 4.

Downham.—Local, 'of Down-ham,' parishes in cos. Cambridge,
Essex, Lancaster, Norfolk, and Suffolk.

Clemence de Dunham, co. Camb.,
1273. A.

Robert de Dunham, co. Norf., ibid.

John de Dunham, co. Linc., ibid.

Stephen de Dunham, co. Suff., ibid.

Roger Dounham, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 199.

Willelmus de Downom, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 264.

Johannes Downom, 1379: ibid. p. 215.

Johannes de Donnomo, 1379: ibid.

p. 218.

1802. Married—Robert Downham and Margaret Renton: St. Geo. Han. Sq.
ii. 257.

London, 4.

Downing.—Bapt.; v. Dunning.

Downman, Dunman.—(1)
Local, 'the Down-man,' one who resided on the down (v. Downe);
cf. Bridgman, Dallman, &c.

John Dunman, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

William Dunman, co. Oxf., ibid.

(2) Local, 'of Downham' (q.v.), corrupted to Downman; cf. Putman, Deadman, Sweetman, &c.

Robert Downman, or Doneman, or Downeman, B.A., 1579: Reg. Univ. Oxf.
vol. ii. pt. iii. p. 87.

William Downham, whose name is sometimes spelt Downame and Downman
(1505-77), bishop of Chester, was born in Norfolk in 1505: Dict. Nat. Biog. xv. 397.

1796. Married—Thomas Dunman and Ann Melsom: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 143.

London, 1, 1; Crookford, 3, o.

Downton.—Local, 'of Downton,' (1) a parish in co. Wilts, 3 miles from Salisbury; (2) a parish in co. Hereford, three miles from Leintwardine.

Isabella de Dunton, co. Salop, 1233. A.
Jordan de Dontone, co. Oxf., ibid.

1632. Bapt.—Bridgett, d. Thomas
Downton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 120.

1730. Married—William Cartwright and Jane Downton: St. Geo. Chap.
Mayfair, p. 315.

London, 5; Crookford, 4.

Dowsabell.—Bapt. 'the son of Dowsabell,' the same as Dulcibella.

William Dassabele, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 266.

Dowsabell Cobbe, co. Norf. FF.

Dowzable Mill, temp. Eliz. Z.

Dussabell Caplyn, ibid.

Thomas Duszabell, c. 1300. M.

Dowse, Dows, Dowson.—
Bapt. 'the son of Douce' (sweet).
A French introduction, a girl's name. v. Dowson.

Duce Mercatrix, 1273. A.

Douce de Moster, ibid.

William Douce, 1313. M.

Matilda Douce-douther (the daughter of Douce), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 83.

Ricardus Schepherd: Douce, mater
ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 81.

John fil. Douce, co. York. W. 5.

John Dowsson, temp. Eliz. Z.

1807. Married—Thomas Townsend and Sarah Jemima Dowse: St. Geo.
Han. Sq. ii. 370.

1808. — James Dows and Ann Wickenden: ibid. p. 381.

— William Dowson and Eliz. Morgan: ibid. p. 386.

London, 7, 1, 4; New York, o, 4, o;
Philadelphia (Dowson), 1; Boston (U.S.)
(Dowse), 7.

Dowsett.—Bapt. 'the son of Douce,' dim. Douset or Dousot.

Walter fil. Dussote, 1273. A.

John Doucett, PP.

1675-6. John Dowsett and Amy Clerk:

Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 136.

1789. Married—Thomas Stinton and

Mary Dowset: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 30.

London, 7; Boston (U.S.), 1; New York, 1.

Dowsing.—Bapt. 'the son of Douce,' dim. Dousin, now Dows-ing, with excrescent g as in Jennings, i. e. Jenin-s; v. Dowse.

Jordan Dousing, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Richard Dusing, co. Norf., ibid.

Johannes Dousyng, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 166.

1669. Married—Nicholas Doussin and Eliz. Coleman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,

iii. 159.

1796. — Thomas Dowsing and Ann
Dakin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 148.

London, 2.

Dowson.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Douce,' q.v. The evidence is in favour of this being the chief parent,

Richard Doucesone, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
III: Kirby's Quest, p. 125.

Johannes Douceson, 1379: P. T. Howdeshire, p. 20.

Emmota Douceson, 1379: ibid.

John fil. Douce. W. 5.

John Dowsson. Z.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of David,' nick. Daw and Dow; v. Dow.

Beatrix Daude-wyf, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 218.

Johannes Dauson, 1379: ibid.

Johanna Dowe-doghter, 1379: ibid.

Ricardus Dauson, 1379: ibid.

Adam Dowe-man, 1379: ibid. p. 202.

Agnes Dyconwydwowson, i. e. the wife of Dycon, son of Dow, 1379: ibid. p. 220.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 1.

Dowthwaite, Douthwaite,
Douthwait, Douthart, Douth-ert, Douthirt.—Local, 'of Dow-thwaite,' some small spot on the borders of North Lancashire and the West Riding, but I cannot identify it. This surname has crossed the Atlantic and has undergone several natural corruptive changes. The suffix -thwaite (v.
Thwaites) seems curiously susceptible to corruption (v. Hebblewhite).
In my old church register (Ulverston)
Postlethwaite is occasionally found as Poslett.

Robertus de Dowthwayt, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 248.

1572. Richard Ayleward and Joanna Duthwate: Marriage Lic. (London),
i. 52.

John Dowthwayte, of Cappen, Capen-burrow, 1667: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 97.

Thomas Dowthwayte, of Newton, 1662:
ibid.

1714. Married—Barnard Dowthwaite and Mary Chandler: St. Dionis Back-church, p. 57.

1733. Bapt.—Robert, s. John Dow-thwait, of Kendal: St. Mary, Ulverston,
ii. 321.

Sheffield, o, 2, o, o, o; Liverpool, 1,
o, 1, o, o, o; London, 1, o, o, o, o, o;
Philadelphia, o, o, o, 2, 3, 2.

Doxey, Doxsey, Docksey.—
Local, 'of Docksey.' I have not discovered the spot. It seems to mean the islet in the stream where the docks grew plentifully. The surname has always been a rare one, but it is found at an early period.

Hugh de Dokesey, cos. Salop and Staff., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Robert de Dokesey, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

1582. Married — John Sandes and Wynnifrid Dockeyseye: Ulverston Church, i. 79.

1592. Bapt. — Marie Dockesye, alias Turner: Prestbury Church, E. Cheshire.
1739. Married — Thomas Doxey and Mary Fell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 23.
London, o, 1, o; Manchester, 3, o, o; Lanc. Court Dir., 1, o, 1; Philadelphia, 2, o, o.

Doyle, D'Oyle, Doyley. — Local, 'de Oilgi,' or 'de Ouilli,' in Normandy. Lower says, 'Doyle, one of the commonest of Irish surnames, and presumed to be of Anglo-Norman origin.' This is confirmed by a large number of English instances. A fair proportion of the Doyles of our directories have never had any connexion with Ireland. Probably it is the same as D'Oyley. Lower adds, 'Robert de Oilgi was a tenant-in-chief in many counties, and Wido de Oilgi in co. Oxf. (Domesday).' 'It was probably from Ouilli-le-Bassett, in the canton of Falaise, written in the 11th century Oillel, the family originated': Patr. Brit. p. 94. v. Dolley.

Robert Doilli, co. Oxf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.
Richard de Oyly, co. Oxf., ibid.
Henry Doilly, co. Oxf., ibid.
Matilda de Oyly, co. Dorset, 1273. A.
Dominus de Doily, co. Oxf., ibid.
Henry de Oyly, or de Oyly, or Oyly, or Doily, or Doilly, or Doily, co. Oxf., ibid.
John de Oyly, co. Stafford, 20 Edw. I. R.
Juliana Doyle, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 20.
Johannes Doyle, et Alicia uxor ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 28.
Katerina Doyle, 1379: ibid. p. 56.
1643. Buried—Francis Doyley: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 200.
London, 9, 2, 1; New York, 258, o, o.

Drabble, Drable. — Bapt. 'the son of Drabel' (?). Probably a baptismal name, but another origin must obviously be suggested, that of drabble, a slattern; cf. Drabble-tail. 'Draplyd (drablyd, K.), paludus': Prompt. Parv. p. 129.

Willelmus Drabil', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 109.
Ricardus Dobrell', 1379: ibid.
Robertus Drabil', 1379: ibid. p. 85.
Harvey Drabil, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Geoffrey Drabel, or Drapol, co. Camb., ibid.

Matthew Drabel, co. Warw., ibid.
1782. Married—William North and Martha Drabble: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 333.
1797. — Thomas Hotchkiss and Mary Drabble: ibid. ii. 166.
West Rid. Court Dir., 6, o; London, 2, o; Philadelphia, o, 1.

Drage. — ? —

John Dragge, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 101.
1667. Married—Thomas Dradge and Eliz. Ginces: St. Jas. Clerkenwell: iii. 131.
1740. — Thomas Pacey and Alice Drage: ibid. p. 269.
London, 6.

Dragon. — Nick, 'the dragon,' a winged serpent; M.E. dragan; Fr. dragon.

Walter le Dragon, or Dragan, co. Linc., 1273. A.
William le Dragon, co. Linc., ibid.
Thomas Dragon: Fines Roll, 8 Ric. II.
Robert Dragon, C. R., 24 Edw. III. pt. ii.
William Dragoun, 1281: Royal Letters, No. 1854.

This surname seems to have become extinct. I cannot find any modern instances.

Drain. — Local, 'at the drain,' from residence thereby. In several cases the Philadelphia directory spells the name Drahn, implying in those instances a continental origin.

John atte Drene, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 116.
London, 2; Philadelphia, 9.

Drake. — Nick, 'the drake'; cf. Duck, Goose (but not Gosling, q.v.), Wildgoose, &c.

Richard le Drake, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 39.
Adam le Drake. B.
Martin le Drake. E.
Seman Drake, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Stephen Drake, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 117.
Ricardus Drake, et Magota uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 57.
Johannes Drac, 1379: ibid. p. 193.
1645. Married—Thomas Martin and Sarah Drake: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 24.
London, 33; Philadelphia, 43.

Drakeford. — Local, 'of Drakeford.' I have not found the spot.

1602. William Drakeford, of Congleton, co. Ches.: Earwaker's Hist. East Cheshire, ii. 241, n.
1617. John Drakeford, of Withington, co. Lanc. 1617: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 56.

1753. Married—Joseph Drakford and Sina Hughs: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 50.
1790. — Thomas Drakeford and Eliz. Evans: ibid. ii. 42.
London, 3; Liverpool, 1.

Drakes. — Local; v. Drax.

Dranfield, Dransfield; v. Dronsfield.

Draper, Drapper, Dreaper.

—Occup. 'the draper,' a dealer in cloth.

Henry le Draper, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 51.
Roger le Draper, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
Auwred le Draper, co. Camb., ibid.
Roger le Drapere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 225.
Rogerus de Crophawe, drapour, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 4.
Johannes Drapour, drapour, 1379: ibid. p. 117.
1642. Buried—Mr. William Claxston, a drapper: St. Mary Aldernary (London), p. 172.
London, 33, 2, 1; Crockford, 6, o, 3; Philadelphia, 21, o, o.

Drawbridge. — Local, 'at the draw-bridge,' from residence thereby.

1748. Married—John Drawbridge and Mary Watts: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 41.
London, 2; Liverpool, 1.

Drawespe. — Nick. A mongrel form of English Drawsword, q.v.; Fr. épée, sword.

Thomas Drawespe, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
William Drauespe, co. Hunts, ibid.

Drawsword. — Nick. A cant term for an over-zealous official; cf. Catchpoll, Shakespear, Wagstaff, &c. One of a large class. M.E. swerd.

Henry Draweswerd, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Maurice Draughswerd, 1313. M.
Thomas Drawsweryd, 1487, co. York. W. 11.

Thomas Drawswerd, vicar of Thrickby, co. Nort., 1492: FF. xi. 254.

I fear the surname is extinct.

Drax, Drakes. — Local, 'of Drax,' a valley near Selby, co. York.

Prior de Drax, co. York, 1273. A.
Alanus de Drax, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 39.
Robertus de Drax, 1379: ibid. p. 83.
1662. Hugh Frankland and Mary Drax: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 63.

— Married — Hugh Fraunclyn and Mary Draxe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 109.

1665-6. Henry Drakes and Catherine Marshall: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 90.

MDb. (co. Lincoln), 1, 2.

Draycott.—Local, 'of Draycot,' parishes in dioc. Glouc. and Bristol, Salisbury, Lichfield, and Bath and Wells.

John de Draycote, co. Somerset, 1273. A.

Richard de Draycote, co. Oxf., ibid.

Adam de Dracote, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 104.

Richard de Draycot, cos. Salop and Staff., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Alan de Dreycote, co. Wilts, ibid.

William de Draicote, rector of Sutton, co. Norf., 1346: FF. ix. 347.

1594. Married—Thomas Dracot and Susan Buggins: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 19.

1780. — Robert Moggridge and Ann Draycott: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 17. London, 1.

Drayson.—Bapt. 'the son of Drew,' q.v. This is found sometimes as Dreye in the Hundred Rolls in. co. Camb.

Hugh Dreye, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Stephen Dreye, co. Camb., ibid.

MDb. (co. Northampton), 2; London, 3.

Drayton.—Local, 'of Drayton.'

There are no less than sixteen parishes of this name set down in Crockford: in dioceses of Bath and Wells, Norwich, Oxford, Peterborough, Lichfield, Southwell, London, and Ely.

Matilda de Drayton, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Beatrice de Draytone, co. Hunts, ibid.

Simon de Drayton, co. Warw., Hen.

III—Edw. I. K.

Johannes de Drayton, 1379: P. T.

Yorks. p. 126.

Willhelmus de Draghton, 1379: ibid. p. 270.

Robertus de Draghton, 1379: ibid.

Richard de Drayton, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1284: FF. xi. 322.

1576. Married—William Drayton and Margaret Topley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 7.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 9.

Drawwater.—Nick. 'Draw-water,' the sobriquet of a waterman, a drawer of water; v. Waterman, Waterleader.

Richard Drawwater, co. Bucks, 1273. A. 1623. Married—Richard Lussell and Anne Drawwater: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 52.

1624. Buried—Ann Drawwater, sister to John Piggot's wife: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 182.

1656. — Mathew Drawwater, stacioner: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 131. London, 1.

Draywoman.—Occur. 'the dray-woman,' the feminine of drayman.

Joan Dreywooman: Privy Seal Bills, Nov. 16, 1565 (7 Eliz.).

Dreaper.—Occur.; v. Draper.

Dresser.—Occur. 'the dresser.' Probably a gardener, a dresser of plants.

Raphe Dresser, temp. Eliz. Z.

John Dresser, co. York. W. 16.

London, 4.

Drew, Drewe, Dreads, Druce, Drewes.—Bapt. 'the son of Drew,' or 'Dru' (Drogo in Domesday). Dru de Baladon introduced it, a follower of the Conqueror (Yonge, ii. 465). Sir Drew Drury was keeper of Mary of Scotland. An illegitimate son of Charlemagne bore it, so probably it is Frankish. Drew enjoyed a fair share of public favour, but only took one diminutive, Druett or Drewett, q.v. Drew has nothing to do with Andrew. In the year 1400 Drew Barentyn, twice Lord Mayor of London, came before the Council, asking to have his name Drew set down in the list of those who possessed the freedom of the city, the scribe having entered it as Andrew (Riley's Memorials of London, p. 554). Drew, as a fontal name, survived the Reformation.

1583. Buried—Drew, sonne of Nicholas Hewet: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 23.

1620. Married—Druce Simonds and Eliz.

Willington: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 20.

William fil. Dragonis, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Eborard Dru, co. Camb., ibid.

Isouda Drewe, co. Hunts, ibid.

Gilbert Dreu, co. Oxf., ibid.

Johannes Drewe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 62.

Robertus Druce, 1379: ibid. p. 73.

Richard Druce, or Drew, bailiff of Norwich, 1392: FF. iii. 116.

1527. John Drewes and Dame Eliz.

Verney: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 6.

Druce is a modern but inevitable variant of Drews; cf. Ellice for Ellis, or Evance for Evans, but v. Druce (2).

1803. Married—James Druce and Sarah Dutton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 276.

London, 57, 1, 0, 23, 0; New York, 47, 0, 1, 0, 1.

Brewery, Drewry; v. Drury.

Drewett, Drewet, Druitt.—Bapt. 'the son of Drew,' or 'Dru,' of which personal name the dim. was Drewett, or Druett; v. Drew.

Druettus Malerbe, co. Northampton, 1273. A.

This landowner is elsewhere entered as Drogo Malerbe, which settles any doubts, if such existed, as to the relationship between Druett and Dru.

Druett de Pratello, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Hugh Druet, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 207.

1583. Thomas Ryckner and Dorothy

Drewett: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 121.

1788. Married—Josiah Ebborn and

Mary Drewett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 2.

— John Druett and Ann Lancaster:

ibid. p. 8.

1792. — Thomas Druitt and Ann

Lemon: ibid. p. 71.

London, 7, 1, 8; New York, 1, 0, 0.

Driffield, Driffill.—Local, 'of Driffield,' (1) two parishes in E. Rid. Yorks; (2) a parish in co. Glouc., four miles from Cirencester. The variant Driffield represents a common corruption of -field as a suffix in place-words; cf. Duffill for Duffield.

Thomas de Driffeld, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Hugh de Driffeud (sic), co. York, ibid.

Johannes de Dryffeld, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 22.

1669. Married—Rauley Rattford and Hester Driffield: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 165.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 0; MDb. (co. Lincoln), 2, 6; New York, 0, 1.

Dring, Thring.—Occur. 'the dreng.' Halliwell says, 'Drenges, a class of men who held a rank between a baron and a thayn.' Sir Henry Ellis in his Introduction to Domesday says, 'The drenchs or drenghs were of the description of allodial tenants, and from the few entries in which they occur, it certainly appears that the allotments of territory which they possessed were held as manors.' Whatever the title implied, one thing is certain, it became a surname, and flourishes in the 19th century.

William Dreng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 95.

'Dreng de Trocchelai,' 1161: KKK. vi. 6.
William fil. Patrick Dring, 1219: ibid.

p. 121.
Robertus Dring, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 12.
John Dreng, co. York, 1273. A.
1690. Married—Joseph Crockford and Dorcas Dring: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 207.
1779. — Robert Dring and Sarah
Gardiner: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 302.
London, 6, 3; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0;
MDB. (co. Lincoln), 12, 1.

Drinkale. Drinkhall, Drink-hill, Drinkall.—Nick. for one who loved the ale-cup. It is as natural a sobriquet as Drinkwater.
But it may be local, of course, with suffix -hale or -hall; v. Hale.

Elewan Drynkale, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Thomas Drinkale, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 153.
Willelmus Drinkale, 1379: ibid. p. 103.
George Drinckhall, of Mannor, parish of Dalton, 1690: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1681-1748), p. 90.
Ralph Drinckhall, of Russeland in Furness Fells, 1690: ibid.
Liverpool, 0, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Notts),
0, 0, 1, 1.

Drinkdregs.—Nick. for an old topper, one who drained his cup to the last drop.

Geoffrey Dringkedregges. V. 8.

Drinker.—Nick. 'the drinker,'
a tippler, a toper.

Walter le Drinkere, Close Roll, 25
Edw. I.

William Drynker, Patent Roll, 19 Eliz.
pt. vi.

1684. Married—Richard Drinker and Eleanor Brythll: Reg. Canterbury Cath.
p. 62.

Philadelphia, 1; New York, 4.

Drinkwater.—? Nick. There is no evidence, so far as I am aware, to support Camden's statement that Drinkwater is a corruption of Der-wentwater, q.v. The name is found in the 13th century in its simple form, and no doubt was the sobriquet of some early teetotalers;
cf. Drunkard, Sober.

John Drinkwater, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Richard Drynkwater, 1309. M.
1586. Married—Hamlett Drinkwater and Anne Tyndall: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,
iii. 12.

1652. Bapt.—Francis, s. Francis Drinkwater: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 111.
London, 7; Manchester, 16; Philadelphia, 6.

Driver.—Occup. 'the driver.'
A surname that would naturally be perpetuated; cf. Carter, Wagner,

Cartman, Charter, Carrier, Packer,
&c.

William le Dryver, co. Lanc., 1332:
Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 85.

John le Drivere, c. 1300. M.

Richard le Drivere, ibid.

Johannes Dryver, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 267.
Cf. fem. Alicia le Driveres, co. Camb.,
1273. A.

Cf. Hunter and Huntress.

1563. Married—John Dryver and Alice
Edwardes: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 2.

1667. — Richard Driver and Judey
Hinsman: ibid. p. 131.

London, 18; Sheffield, 5; Manchester,
11; Philadelphia, 22.

Drionfield, Dransfield,
Dranfield, Drowsfield.—

Local, 'of Dronfield,' a parish six miles from Sheffield. Dronfield is probably the more correct form, while Drowsfield is a palpable variant.

Edmundus de Drounesfeld, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 101.

Oldham, 9, 1, 0, 0; Manchester, 0, 1, 1, 1.

Druce.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Drew,' q.v. The same as Drews;
cf. Ellis and Ellice, Avis and Avise,
Danns and Dance (from Daniel).

(2) Local, 'of Dreux.'

John le Droys, co. Wilts, Hen. III-
Edw. I. K.

William le Droys, or de Droys, co.
Wilts, ibid.

Elyas le Druceys, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Geoffrey le Druceys, co. Wilts, ibid.

Stephen Druceys, co. Wilts, ibid.

Robert Druyes, or Druys, or Droys, or Dreys, or de Druyes, co. Wilts, 20 Edw.
I. R.

No doubt all these are local and hail from Dreux, in Brittany. This is confirmed by the fact that Herman de Dreueus was a tenant-in-chief in co. Hereford, in Domesday; cf. the common entry le Bruce for de Bruce.

London, 23; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Druitt.—Bapt.; v. Drewett.

Drummer.—Local, 'of Dummer,' q.v.; an imitative corruption.
The suggestion, 'one who, in military exercises, beats the drum,' is very doubtful (v. Lower's Patr.
Brit. p. 95).

1752. Married—James Drummer and Mary Stiles: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair,
p. 215.

1804. — John Drummer and Lucy
Scotlock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 303.
New York, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Drummond.—Local, 'of Dry-men,' co. Stirling, N.B. This surname, although Scotch, is so familiar in England that I append
Mr. Lower's statement, 'Drummond: "the noble house of Drummond" says Collins, "derived from Malcolm Beg (i.e. 'low', or short'), who flourished under Alexander
II, and being possessed of the lands of Drymen, co. Stirling, took that surname, which in after times varied to Drummond" (Peerage, ed. 1768,
v. 77). The name is found spelt in eighteen different ways (Ulster Journal Arch. No. 20). Of these,
Drumyn, Drummane, and Dromond are the principal.' Patr. Brit. p. 95.
Hence it is clear that the final d is excrement, as in Simmonds, &c.

London, 11; New York, 29.

Drunkard.—Nick. 'the drunkard'; cf. Sober, Drinkwater, &c.
Naturally this surname has not been perpetuated.

Maurice Druncard, co. Devon, 1273. A.

Drury, Drewry, Drewry.
—Nick. 'a lover, a sweetheart,
a darling'; O.F. druerie.

'Or beare the name of Druerie.'

Chaucer, R. of R. 5064.

The virgin is described as 'Cristes drurie' in Arthour and Merlin
(Halliwell).

'It is as dereworthe (precious) a drury
As deere God hymself.'

Vision of Piers Plowman, 633.

Cf. Paramor, Lover, Douce-amour, Finnemore, &c.

Alice Druerie, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Nigel Drury, co. York, ibid.

Thomas Drory, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 21.

Willelmus Drory, 1379: ibid.

Johannes Drury, 1379: ibid. p. 240.

1629. Married—Thomas Errington and Jone Drewrye: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,
iii. 61.

1662. — Francis Drury and Eliz.

Terry: ibid. p. 109.

London, 15, 1, 1; West Rid. Court
Dir., 6, 0, 0; Sheffield, 6, 0, 0; Leeds,
1, 1, 0; New York, 5, 0, 1.

Drysdale, Drysdall, Drysdell.—Local, 'of Dryfesdale,' a parish in co. Dumfries.

1801. Married—William Drysdale and Harriet Mills: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 243.
London, 8, 1, 0; New York, 3, 0, 1.

Dubber.—Occur. 'the dubber,' a flipperer, a furberish of old garments. Probably, when in earlier use, a decorator of dress, one who embellished with gold lace, &c. The company of the Dubbers joined the procession of the York Pageant (v. York Mystery Plays, p. xxvi). Halliwell suggests they were trimmers or binders of books. Bishop Latimer, speaking of another bishop, says, 'There stood by him a dubber, one Doctor Dubber, he dubbed him by-and-by, and said,' &c. (Second Sermon before Edward VI.)

Hugh de Croft, dubber, 13 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 18.

Hugo Wystow, douber, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 156.

Robert le Dubber, C. R., 28 Edw. I.

Jordan le Dubbere. B.

Stephen le Dubbere, c. 1300. M.

Payn le Dubbour. N.

Adam Dubbere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 81.

'One messuage, 1 garden, . . . 2 acres of pasture in Dalton (Wigan parish, co. Lanc.), now in the tenures of Richard Dowber and John Crosse,' &c. (1605): Lancashire Inquisitions, pt. i. p. 31.

1610. Bapt.—Avis, d. Henry Dubber: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 60.

Dubbs.—Local, 'at the dub.' 'Dub, a small pool of water, a piece of deep and smooth water in a rapid river. North Eng.' (Halliwell).

'Spared neither dub nor mire.'

Robin Hood, i. 106.

Adam del Dobbes, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 284.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Duck.—There are three distinct origins of Duck—(1) Nick, 'the duck'; cf. Drake. (2) Nick 'the Duke,' q.v.; O.F. duc; M.E. duk. (3) Bapt. 'the son of Marmaduke,' from nick. Duke; v. Duke, Dukes, and Duckett. For several important instances, v. Duke.

John le Duk, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 135.

Adam Doke, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 282.

1577-8. Richard Fearnie and Margery

Duke: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 78.

1731. Bapt.—Anne, d. Henry Duck:

St. Mary Aldermay, p. 125.

London, 10; New York, 3.

Duckett, Duckitt, Ducket, Duckit.—Bapt. 'the son of Marmaduke,' from nick. Duke, diminutive Ducket. Camden says, 'Mar-maduc, a name usual in the North' (Remains, p. 71); v. Duke and Dukes.

Richard Duket, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Dulcia Duket, 1273. A.

Doket Plasby, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 274.

Adam Doket, 1379: ibid. p. 20.

Johannes Doket, 1379: ibid. p. 274.

Willimus Dokette, 1379: ibid. p. 47.

The full name is spelt Marmadoke in the same record; v. p. 265. This decides the question, if any doubt could exist.

Alan Doke-son, 1379: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 3.

We find a horse called by this name in the Household Books of Lord William Howard of Naworth Castle (Surt. Soc.):

1621. 'Shoing (shoeing) Gray Ducket, 4d,' ibid. p. 196.

London, 2, 2, 0, 0; Crockford (Duckett), 2; Preston (Duckett), 5; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 2, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 18, 0, 0, 0.

Duckinfield.—Local, 'of Duckinfield,' a township and chapelry in the parish of Stockport.

Hamo de Dokenfeld, 1294: East Cheshire, ii. 156.

Richard de Dokenfeld, 1290: ibid.

John de Dokenfeld, 1359: ibid. p. 9.

Edmund Duckinfield, of Taunton, 1599: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 56.

Alice Duckinfield, of Taunton, parish of Ashton-under-Lyne, 1616: ibid.

MDB. (West Rid. Yorks), 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Duckmanton.—Local, 'of Duckmanton,' a parish in co. Derby, four miles from Chesterfield. The surname has crossed over the borders into co. Notts, and is well known there.

MDB. (co. Notts), 7.

Duckworth.—Local, 'of Duckworth,' an estate in Oswaldtwistle, a township in the parish of Whalley, co. Lanc.

'In the reign of Edward III (1327-77) Richard de Radcliffe held two carucates of land in Oswaldtwistle and Duckworth, at that time called Dokedward': Baines' Lanc. ii. 53.

Henricus de Dukeworth, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 64.

Johannes Dukeworth, 1379: ibid.

Manchester, 16; London, 8; New York, 6.

Dudderidge.—Local; v. Dodridge.

Dudgeon, Dudson.—Bapt. Merely variants of Dodgson or Dodson (v. Dodge). That Dodson had become Dudson fairly early we have proof:

1656. Married—Simon Dudson and Sarah Chalener: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 20.

There need not be the slightest hesitation in accepting this origin; cf. Gudgeon for Goodson.

James Doodeson, of Kersley, parish of Dean, 1609: Wills of Chester (1545-1620), p. 55.

1806. Married—James Dudgeon and Margaret Donald: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 343.

London (1884), 4, 0; Ripon, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 0.

Dudleston.—Local, 'of Dudleston,' a chapelry in the parish of Ellesmere, co. Salop.

MDB. (co. Salop), 2.

Dudley.—Local, 'of Dudley,' an important town in co. Worcester.

Perceval de Duddelegh, Hen. III-Edw. I: K. p. 93.

Willelmus Dudely, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 5.

Isolda Doudely, 1379: ibid.

Johannes Dudly, 1379: ibid.

Magota Duddely, 1379: ibid. p. 33.

1549. Buried—John Dudley: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 179.

1789. Married—William Dudley and Mary Foster: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 29.

London, 18; Philadelphia, 20.

Dudman.—Bapt. 'the son of Dodeman'; v. Dodman (1); cf. Bateman, Tiddyman, &c.

Simon Dudeman. D.

Ralph Deudeman, 1307. M.

Obbe Dudeman. E.

Johannes Dudeman, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 143.

Thomas Dudeman, 1379: ibid.

1563. Buried—John Doodman: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 116.

1795. Married—Henry Solomon and Susannah Dudman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 136.

London, 4.

Duesberry, Duesbury.—Local, 'of Dewsbury,' q.v.

Duff.—? Bapt. 'the son of Douf' (?); cf. Scotch Macduff.

Robertus Douff, et uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 246.

Johannes Douf, et Johanna uxor ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 121.

Robertus Dowfe, et Alicia uxor ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 112.

Willelmus Douf, et Magota uxor ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 113.

Cf. Cristiana Dewfebygyng, 1379: ibid. p. 286.

Robertus de Doufebygyng, 1379: ibid. p. 289.

Johannes de Dowfbygyng, 1379: ibid. i.e. the bigging or building of Douf, now Dowbiggin, q.v.; cf. Newbiggin. All this seems to point to the existence of a personal name Douf or Duff. I doubt not it is the Macduff of North Britain.

London, 15; Philadelphia, 56.

Duffield, Duffell, Duffill, Duffit, Duffitt.—Local, 'of Duffield,' a parish in co. Derby; also two townships in co. York. The usual corruptions of the suffix -field have taken place in this surname; cf. Brumfit for Broomfield, or Hatfull for Hatfield.

Richard de Duffeld, co. Linc., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

John de Duffeld, co. Derby, 1273. A.

Johannes de Dulfeld', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 158.

Johannes de Duffeld, 1379: ibid. p. 117.

1556-7. Married—John Duffell and Jone Ynglyshe: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 3.

1586. — Henry Sukar and Sarah Duffild: St. Antholin (London), p. 32.

1722. — John Duffell and Elizabeth Barker: ibid. p. 137.

1791. — John Duffill and Mary Pertes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 66.

London, 14, 3, 1, 0, 0; York, 1, 0, 1, 1, 1; Philadelphia (Duffield), 28.

Duffin, Duffyn, Duffan.—Bapt. 'the son of Dolphin,' popularly Doven and Duffen. There need be no hesitation in accepting this origin. The personal name was common, and a corrupted form was inevitable; v. Dolphin.

Willelmus Duffane, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 133.

Nicholaus Duffane, 1379: ibid.

Since writing the above I find the point practically settled by the Lancashire Inquisitions (Lancashire and Cheshire Record Soc.). A comparison of Ribchester names (1606) on p. 60, and Ribchester names (1609) on p. 148, will serve to show that Robert Dolphin in the one case, and Robert Dewfine in the other, were one and the same person. There are several Dolphins in the present directory for Ribchester.

1759. Married—William Bruce and Margaret Duffin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 4. London (1884), 5, 1, 0; Manchester, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 8, 0, 0.

Duffus.—(1) Local, 'of Duffus,' a parish in Morayshire, Scotland. (2) Local, 'at the duff-hus,' i.e. dove-house, where pigeons were bred. The same individual is thus referred to:

Robert del Dyffehus, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Robert del Duffhus, co. Suff., ibid.

Robert Dufhus, co. Suff., ibid.

1742. Married—Hugh Corner and Mary Duffis: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 23.

Dugdale, Dugdill, Dugdall.

—Local, 'of Dugdale,' some small dale on the borders of Lancashire and Yorkshire. Sir William Dugdale, the celebrated antiquary, sprang from the borough of Clitheroe (Baines' Lancashire, ii. 16).

Agnes Doghdale, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 283.

John Dugdale, of Chathburn, 1596: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 57.

Nicholas Dugdale, of Clitheroe, 1612: ibid.

1741. Married—William Dugdale and Deborah Martin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 26.

London, 2, 0, 0; Manchester, 2, 0, 0;

Liverpool, 3, 0, 0; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks.), 1, 1, 0; (co. Devon), 0, 0, 2;

Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0.

Duggan, Duggin.—Bapt. 'the son of Richard,' from French Digon. In England this became Diggon and Diccon (v. Dickens); in Wales tricks were played with the vowels. Hence such entries as:

1577. Buryed—Doggon Jones, sonne of Evan Jones: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 125.

Thus Spenser begins one of his pastorals:

'Diggon Davie, I bid her "good day," Or Diggon her is, or I missay.'

Certainly, however, tricks were played with the vowels in England also, and it is not necessary to suppose that all our Duggins and Duggans are Welsh.

London, 3, 2; Boston (U.S.), 40, 0.

Dugget, Dugood, Duguid.—Bapt.; v. Doggett.

Duke.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Marmaduke,' from nick. Duke; v. Dukes. (2) Offic. or nick. 'the Duke,' i.e. the leader.

John le Duc, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 83.

Robert le Duc, co. Oxf., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Roger le Duc, co. Oxf., ibid.

William le Duc, C. R., 3 Edw. I.

Johannes Duke, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 176.

1507. William Joyse and Mary Duke: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 36.

1643. Married—Thomas Duke and Marye Picke: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 19.

London, 15; New York, 21.

Dukes, Dukeson.—Bapt. 'the son of Marmaduke,' from the nick. Duke; v. Duckett.

1634. 'To Duke Shillito, owing him for trimming my Lord, £1 2s.' Household Books at Bolton Abbey (Hist. of Skipton, p. 97).

Still a Yorkshire font-name; cf. Duke Redmayne, Stirton, Skipton, in W. Rid. Dir. Probably in modern Yorkshire fondness for 'Earl,'

'Marquis,' &c., as Christian names was started by the idea that Duke belonged to the same category.

Johannes Dokeson, 1397: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 8.

Robert Dukeson, co. Lanc. Z.

Richard Duck, or Dooke, or Doke, 1510: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 72.

'This first edition of the Scintillula contained twelve sets of commendatory poems, noticeably, one by Isaac Walton, and another by Dr. R. Dukeson in Latin': Life of Dr. Fuller, by J. E. Bailey, p. 503.

A note, ibid. p. 246, speaks of him as Dr. Duckson, rector of St. Clement Danes, in 1634. This is the form of his name generally used by Church historians.

Thomas Duckesson, of Houghton, James Duckeson, Harry Duckeson: (List of Recusants in 1586) Croston's edit. of Baines' Lancashire, i. 240.

'One Duckson, an old priest, continueth in Samlesburye by common report': ibid.

1656. Married—Thomas Mason and Ann Duxson: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 25.

Evan Duckeson, of Brindle, co. Lanc., 1693: Wills at Chester (1681-1700), p. 76.

London, 8, 0; Philadelphia, 12, 0.

Dumbell, Dumbill, Dumble, Dombell.—Local. A variant of Domville (q.v.), a great Cheshire surname. There is not the shadow of a doubt about this derivation.

Cf. James Domville, 1521: Earwarke's Hist. of East Cheshire, i. 295.

James Dombill, 1522: ibid. p. 296.

Peter Dombell, of Newton in Maker-field, milner, 1639: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 67.

Elizabeth Dombell, 1568: ibid. (1545-1620), p. 55.

Hannah Dumbell, of Newton-in-Makerfield, 1669: ibid. (1660-80), p. 82.

Richard Dumbell, of Newton, 1674: ibid.

Liverpool, 3, 1, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0, 0; New York, 0, 0, 1, 0.

Dumbleton, Dumbleton.—Local, 'of Dumbleton,' a parish in co. Gloucester, six miles from Evesham. Probably 'the town of Dumbold,' from the name of the first settler.

Thomas de Dumbilton, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Odo de Dumbleton, co. Glouc., ibid.

1795. Married—John Dumbleton and Sarah Buckler: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 133.

1796. — James Dumbulton and Eliz. Wells: ibid. p. 157.

London, 1, 5; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Dummer, Dumper.—Local, 'of Dummer,' a parish in co. Hants, four miles from Basingstoke. No doubt the Hampshire Dumper is a variant. First it would be Dummer, then Dumper.

John de Dummer, co. Soms., 1273. A.

Henry de Dummere, co. Soms., ibid.

1802. Married—William Burns and Ann Dummer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 267.

London, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Southampton), 1, 4; Philadelphia, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Dumphrey, Dumphries, Dumphy.—Bapt. 'the son of Humphrey,' a nick. form, probably as old as—

'Humpty-Dumpty sat on a wall,
Humpty-Dumpty had a great fall.'

which unmistakably refers to Humphrey; cf. Hodgson and Dodgson, both from Roger; also Hobson and Dobson, both from Robert.

'Mr. Dumphrey, a working man, will second the resolution': Standard, May 14, 1886.

'Mr. Dumphries, the churchwarden (St. Mary Magdalen, Bermondsey), said the hissing occurred at the mention of the Queen and Royal Family, and also at the Eighth Commandment': Standard, Feb. 9, 1887.

The following entry reminds us of Dumfriesshire, but it need not trouble us, I imagine. It is probably imitative.

1721. Bapt.—James Dumfrise, a native of East India, a servant to Sir John Brown: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 167.

Possibly a Scotchman gave him the name of his native country.

New York (Dumphry), 1.

Dumphy.—A variant of Dumphrey; v. Dumphy.

Dumville, Dunville, Donville.—Local, 'de Donville,' 'in the arrondissement of Lisieux, in Normandy, anciently written Dumoville, as in a papal bull of 1210' (Lower, quoting from the Itin. de la Normandie). A family settled very early in co. Chester. v. Dumbell.

Hugo de Donville, or Donvil, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Gilbert Domville, of Lymm, esquire, 1607: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 55.

William Domville, of Lymm, 1625: ibid. (1621-50), p. 67.

William Domville, of Middleton, gentleman, 1647: ibid.

London, 2, 1, 1, 1; Manchester, 2, 0, 0, 0.

Dunbabin, Dunbobbin, Dunbobin.—? —. A curious East Cheshire surname. I cannot suggest any satisfactory derivation.

Ralph Dunbabin, of Warrington, 1598: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 57.

Anthony Dunbabin, of Warrington, woollen-draper, 1597: ibid.

Robert Dunbabin, of Runcorn, 1639: ibid. (1621-50), p. 69.

William Dunbabin, of Frodsham, 1630: ibid.

Warrington, 0, 2, 1; Manchester, 3, 0, 0.

Dunbar.—Local, 'of Dunbar.' A Scotch surname.

Philippus Donbar, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 100.

London, 8; Philadelphia, 36.

Duncalf, Duncalfe, Duncuft.—Local, 'at the dun-croft'; cf. Metcalfe. I only suggest this as a guess, as a proved solution of the surname is beyond my reading. The Duncalfts of Foxwist, co. Cheshire, are found with that name so early as 1306. The name constantly occurs in Cheshire records.

Thomas Duncalf, of Foxwist, 1396: Earwaker's Hist. of East Ches. ii. 258.

Thomas Duncalf, of Foxwist, 1566: ibid.

Richard Duncalf, of the Meyre, 1584: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 57.

Ralph Duncalf, of Rostherne, 1604: ibid.

John Duncalf, 1622: Salford, vol. xii. p. 148, Lanc. and Ches. Rec. Soc.

1696. Married—Simon Duncalfe and Ann Rogerson: St. Antholin (London), p. 110.

Manchester, 2, 1, 2; London, 0, 2, 0; New York, 1, 0, 0.

Duncan, Duncanson.—Bapt. 'the son of Duncan.' A Scotch surname.

Duncann' de Lascell', co. Bedf., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Willelmus Duncan, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 234.

London, 30, 1; New York, 80, 2.

Dunch.—Nick. 'the dunch,' i.e. deaf. 'Dunch, deaf, dull, "deafe, or hard of hearing" (1582). . . . A dunch passage, a blind, dark passage'; Halliwell. Cf. Daff and Daft.

Stephen Dunch, co. Camb., 1273. A.

William Dunch, vicar of Santon, co. Norf., 1490: FF. ii. 158.

Robert Dunch, rector of East Bilney, co. Norf., 1499: ibid. ix. 462.

1598. William Dunch, of Wyttenham, Berks, and Mary Cromwell, of Hichinbrooke, co. Hunts: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 12.

1785. Married—James Dunch and Judith Sykes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 375.

London, 2.

Duncombe, Duncum, Duncomb.—Local, 'of Duncombe.' I have not identified the spot.

1598. Francis Duncombe and Temperance Rudd: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 248.

1752. Married—Christopher Crowe and Barbara Duncombe: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 47.

1803. — Edward Duncumb and Hester Cade: ibid. ii. 281.

London, 10, 2, 0; New York, 0, 0, 2.

Dunderdale, Dunderdale.—Local, 'of Dunderdale,' a township in the parish of Kirkby Ireleth, Furness, embracing the valley of the Duddon as far as Seathwaite; cf. Tyndale, Tweedale, Teasdale, &c.

Robert Dunderdale, of Hathornthwaite, 1677: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 98.

John Dunderdall, of Chipping, 1666: ibid.

Nicholas Dawson, of Bow Hall, in Dunderdale, 1726: ibid. ii. 81.

1809. Married—James Murr and Isabella Dunderdell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 415.

London, 2, 0; Manchester, 2, 1; Preston, 6, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0.

Dunham.—Local, 'of Dunham,' two parishes, Great and Little Dunham, in co. Norfolk; also Dunham-on-Trent in the dioc. of Southwell.

Joel de Dunham, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Reginald de Dunham, co. Norf., ibid. London, 8; New York, 74.

Dunkerley, Dunkerly, Dunkley, Dunclekey, Dunclee, Dunklee.—Local, 'of Dunkerley.' I cannot find the spot, but it is a surname belonging to co. Lancs. The variants are many. It is possible that Dinkley, a township in the parish of Blackburn, is the parent; indeed I may say that it is all but certain.

Roger de Dynkedlegh, of Wilpshire cum Dinkley, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 84.

This entry practically proves the parentage suggested above.

Robert Dunkerley, of Cromptall, husbandman, 1588: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 57.

Manchester (Dunkerley), 7; Oldham (Dunklerley), 13; London, 0, 1, 14, 3, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 6, 0, 1, 6, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.) (Dunklee), 10.

Dunkerton.—Local, 'of Dunkerton,' a parish in co. Somerset, five miles from Bath.

Nicholas de Donkerton, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 87.

1615. Married—Willyam Dunkerton and Sara Goebye: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 41.

MDb. (co. Somerset), 5.

Dunkin, Dunkinson.—Bapt. 'the son of Duncan,' q.v. No doubt imitative of the common English suffix -kin, as in Wilkin, Wilkinson, Tompkin, Tompkinson, &c.; cf. Donkin.

1598. Richard Bromlye and Mary Dunkyn: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 253. 1660. Married—George Dunkin and Eliz. Lewis: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 36. 1772. —John Dunkin and Eliz. Hooper: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 221.

London, 6, 3; New York, 8, 2.

Dunlop, Dunlap.—Local, 'of Dunlop,' 'Traced to the year 1260, when Dom. Gulielmus de Dunlop was lord of Dunlop, in Ayrshire, an estate still in the possession of the family' (Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 97). This Scotch surname in the form of Dunlap swarms in the United States. A Mr. Dunlop at a dinner party, where puns on names were the subject of conversation, said, 'No pun could be made on his name.' 'Oh, yes, sir,' said a guest; 'lop off the last syllable, and it is done.' Although not an English surname, I have entered it in this dictionary as many Scotch names have become so familiarized on English soil that the fact that they are immigrants is well-nigh forgotten by many.

Robert Denlopp, of Edinburgh, in Scotland, 1619: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 52.

London, 6, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 112.

Dunn, Dun, Dunne.—(1) Local, 'at the dun'; M.E. dun, a hill; v. Downe.

Thomas de la Dune, Close Roll, 2 Edw. I.

Gilbert atte Dune, co. Essex, 1273. A. Gilbert de la Dune, or Dunne, co. Essex, ibid.

Henry de la Dun, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

(2) Nick, 'the dun,' a dull brown, a name given from the complexion of the bearer. 'Dunne of hewe': Rom. of Rose, 1213.

Simon le Dun, co. Derby, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

William le Dunne, co. Devon, 1273. A. Robert le Dun, co. Norf., ibid.

William le Dun. B.

1597. Married—Richard Whitbey and Janne Dunne: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 20. London, 83, 1, 0; New York, 316, 2, 52.

Dunnage.—Local, 'of Dunwich,' a parish in the dioc. of Norwich; cf. Aldridge for Aldrich.

Nicholaus de Duneswich, co. Norf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Roger de Dunwich, rector of Sidestrang, co. Norf., 1333: FF. viii. 170.

Walter de Dunwich, rector of Brinton, co. Norf., 1354: ibid. ix. 370.

1809. Married—Thomas Dunage and Eliz. Rowland: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 420. London, 4.

Dunnieliff, Dunningliffe.—Local. A variant of Tunncliffe, q.v.; cf. Tennyson or Tennison for Dennison.

1800. Married—William Coutts and Mary Dunieliff: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 221. Oldham, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Dunning, Downing.—Bapt. 'the son of Dunning.' Dunnig and Dunnigs (i.e. Dunning) occur as personal names in the Hundred Rolls, 1273; cf. Browning and Harding. Bruning is frequently found for Browning.

John Dounynne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 90.

John Dunning, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 245.

Johannes Dunning, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 37.

Alicia Downyng, 1379: ibid.

Johannes Downyng, 1379: ibid. p. 39.

Hervey Dunning, co. Camb., 1273. A. Richard Duning, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Dunning, or Downing, sheriff of Norwich, 1432: FF. iii. 163.

1768. Married—John Dunning and Martha Cole: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 180.

London, 22, 20; New York, 31, 42.

Dunnington.—Local, 'of Dunnington,' (1) a township in E. Rid. Yorks; (2) a parish four miles from York; (3) 'of Donington,' a parish in Lincolnshire; (4) 'of Donnington,' a hamlet near Newbury, Berks.

John de Dunnington, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Johannes de Donington, ibid.

Thomas de Dunnington, co. Oxf., ibid.

Walter de Donington, co. Linc., ibid.

Gilbert de Dunnington, co. Linc., ibid.

Oliver de Dunnington, co. Linc., ibid.

1530. John Parmynter and Margaret Dunnington: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 7.

MDb. (West Rid. Yorks), 2.

Dunphy, Dumphy, Dunphie.—Bapt. 'the son of Dunphy,' i.e. Humphrey; v. Dumphrey. The change from m to n is common, and vice versa; cf. Sinkinson for Simkinson, and Ransom for Ranson.

London, 2, 0, 0; London Court Dir., 1, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 5, 7, 0.

Dunsford.—Local, 'of Dunsforth,' a township in the parish of Aldborough, W. Rid. Yorks; v. Ford and Forth.

John de Dunsyford, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Johanna de Dunsyford, webster, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 125.

Willelmus de Dunforth, webster, 1379: ibid. p. 97.

1805. Married—John Warren and Ann Dunsford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 333.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Dunstan, Dunston, Dunstone.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Dunstan.' One of this name was Abbot of Glastonbury and Archbishop of Canterbury.

Thomas Dunstan, co. Kent, 1273. A. Dunstan de Berstede, co. Kent, ibid.

Mabil fil. Dunstani, co. Suff., ibid.

Han Dunestan, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 299.

(2) Local, 'of Dunston,' parishes in the diocs. of Lincoln, Southwell, Norwich, Oxford, and Durham. The first two are represented in the first two instances below :

Hugh de Dunston, co. Linc., Hen. III. Edw. I. K.

William de Dunston, co. Notts, ibid.

William de Donstone, co. Derby, 1273. A.

1578. John Dunstane and Eliz. Bagley :

Marriage Lic. (London), i. 82.

1593. Richard Rymes and Anne Dunston, co. Staff. : ibid. p. 208.

1601. Richard Dunstone and Sarah

Wall : ibid. p. 205.

London, 2, i, 1; Crockford, 2, o, o;

Boston (U.S.), 1, o, o; New York, 1, 2, o.

Dunster.—Local, 'of Dunster,' a parish in co. Somerset.

Richard de Dunsterre, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III. : Kirby's Quest, p. 278.

1603. Buried—Margaret Dunster : St.

Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 82.

1748. Married—William Dunster and Mary Bell : St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair,

p. 126.

London, 7; Crockford, 1; New York, 2.

Dunsterville.—Local, 'de Dun-stanville.'

Rosia de Dunstanewyll, co. Camb,

1273. A.

Walter de Dunstaneville, co. Camb,

ibid.

Walter de Dunstavile, co. Wilts, ibid.

1583. Married—Thomas Lucas and Eliz.

Dunstarville : St. Dionis Backchurch,

p. 10.

William Dunsterfield, of Raby, 1617 :

Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 57.

John Dunsterville, of Raby, parish of Neston, 1634 : ibid. (1621-50), p. 69.

Lucy Dunsterville, of Denwall, widow,

1650 : ibid.

Boston (U.S.), 1.

Dunton.—Local, 'of Dunton,' parishes in the diocs. of Ely, Norwich, Oxford, Peterborough, and

St. Albans.

Gilbert de Dunton, co. Norf., Hen. III-

Edw. I. K.

John de Dunton, co. Linc., ibid.

Isabella de Dunton, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Jordan de Duntoae, co. Oxf., ibid.

1593. Thomas Dunton (co. Essex) and Letitia Trott : Marriage Lic. (London),

i. 207.

1807. Married—John Weller and Mary

Dunton : St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 373.

London, 2; New York, 5.

Durand, Durant, Durrant,

Durran.—Bapt. 'the son of Durand,' or 'Durant.' 'Durand, co.

Hants.' : Domesday. v. Durrans.

John fil. Doraunt de Moreby, 5 Edw. II. :

Freemen of York, i. 14.

Roger fil. Durandi, temp. 1230 : G.G.

p. 199.

Durand le Bonjohan, 1273. A.

Henry fil. Durant, ibid.

Durant le Cordwaner, 1295. M.

Ivo Duraunt, 1273. A.

Willelmus Durant, matras maker,

1379 : P. T. Howdenshire, p. 28.

Johannes Dorand, 1379 : P. T. Yorks.

p. 118.

Hugo Doraunt, 1379 : ibid. p. 214.

1589. Married—Philip Durrant and Eliz.

Goodwyn : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 14.

London, 3, 7, 1, 21; Philadelphia, 9, 3,

o, o.

Durendent, Durden (?).—Nick.

'Durendent,' i.e. hard tooth; cf.

Doubleday, Dent-de-fer, and Dandelion. Durden may be local, as a corruption of Dearden, but it is far more natural to consider it a corrupted form of the nickname;

the evidence is all in favour of this view.

Philip Durendent, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Roger Durendent, or Durdent, co. Derby,

ibid.

1577. Thomas Durden, or Dardant, or

Durdent : Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii.

p. 68.

1637. Married—Nicholas Durendent and Eliz. Wyett : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 68.

1719. — Robert Durdant and Sara Lee :

ibid. p. 243.

1792. William Metyard and Sarah

Durden : St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 75.

London, o, 2.

Durham.—Local, 'of Durham,' the capital of the county of that name.

Walter de Durham, London, 1273. A.

William de Dureham, London, ibid.

John de Durame, co. Essex, ibid.

1695-6. Married—George White and Jane Durham : St. Dionis Backchurch,

p. 44.

London, 14; Philadelphia, 26.

Durknav.—Offic. 'the doorknave,' i.e. the porter, from dur, door, and knave, a servant; v.

Dorward.

'Robertus de Leburne attornat Ro-bertym Normand et Johannem Durknav ad deliberandum Willelmo Scharp de

Furnes seisinam de manerio suo,' &c.,

13th cent. (?) : Furness Coucher Book, i. 40.

Durman.—Offic. 'the doorman';

v. Dorman, Dorward, and Dur-knave.

Durnford.—Local, 'of Durn-ford,' a parish in co. Wilts, two miles from Amesbury.

Richard de Durneford, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

Richard de Durneford, co. Wilts, Hen.

III.—Edw. I. K.

William de Durneford, co. Wilts, ibid.

James de Durnford, rector of Berning-ham, Northwood, co. Norf., 1340 : FF.

viii. 96.

1808. Married—William Durnford and Melissent Abbott : St. Geo. Han. Sq.

ii. 395.

London, 5.

Durrans, Dorrance.—Bapt.

'the son of Durand' (q.v.), a corruption of the patronymic Durands by omission of the d.

1676. Married—Gabriel Durance and Isabel Tecis : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 183.

1788. — William Durance and Eliz.

Fowles : St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 14.

London (1884), 2, o; Philadelphia, o, 4.

Durrant; v. Durand.

Durward.—Offic.; v. Dorward.

Dury, Durie.—Local. Mr.

Lower says, 'Durie, an estate in the parish of Scoonie, co. Fife.'

'The laird of Durie' (Cal. State

Papers relating to Scotland, edited by M. J. Thorpe. London : Longmans, p. 309) complains in 1570 of the capture of one of his servants.

Andrew Dury, abbot of Melrose, 1524 :

Cal. State Papers relating to Scotland,

p. 20.

Henry Durye, 1571 : ibid. p. 327.

Peter Durye, 1571 : ibid.

Lower separates Dury from Durie.

'Dury. The "braes of Dury" are in the parish of Fowlis-Wester, in the centre of Perthshire.' The name in any case is Scotch, and local.

1780. Married—John Dury and Jean

Telfer : St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 311.

London, 2, 1.

Dutch.—Local, 'the Dutch,'

a Dutchman; cf. English.

Walter de Deushe, C. R., 30 Edw. I.

1789. Married—Edward Dutch, and Sarah Prisman : St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 21.

1799. — William Dutch and Eliz. Hunt :

ibid. p. 209.

MDb. (co. Lancaster), 2; New York, 4.

Dutchman.—Local, 'the Dutchman'; cf. Welshman.

Michael Ducheman, C. R., 16 Ric. II.

Flour Ducheman, alias Flour Chanell, of London, jeweller, C. R., 16 Hen. VI.

Rotherham, Yorks, 1; MDb. (co.

Norfolk), 1.

Dutson, Dutt.—Bapt. 'the son of Dionisia,' from nick. Dye, dim. Dyot, and patronymic Dyotson; v. Dyet and Dyerson.

London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 4.

Dutton.—Local, 'of Dutton,' a township in the parish of Ribchester, co. Lancs. A family of Duttons arose here very early, and their ramifications have spread over the whole of Lancashire and the W. Rid. of Yorkshire.

Henry de Dutton, of Bispham, co. Lanc., 1332; Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 72.

Richard, son of Ughtred de Dutton, and William de Dutton, grant lands in Dutton to Henry de Clayton: Baines' Lanc. ii. 110.

William Dutton, 1415; Preston Guild Rolls, p. 8.

1579. Thomas Dutton and Judith Jennings: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 89.

Manchester, 18; London, 13; New York, 13.

Duxbury, Duxbarry, Dukesbury.—Local, 'of Duxbury,' a township in the parish of Standish, co. Lancs.

1632. Bapt.—Raph, s. James Duxbury: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 121.

Ann Duxbury, of Woodhouse, 1639: Wills at Chester (1621–50), p. 70.

Henry Duxbury, of Tottleworth, 1629: ibid.

Henry Duxbury, 1642: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 110.

Manchester, 5, 1, 0; New York, 2, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 1.

Dwarber.—Occup. 'the daughter,' q.v. This corruption is analogous to those of Dwight, Dwyer, and Dwerrihouse, q.v.

London (1884), 1.

Dwerrihouse, Dwerryhouse.—Local, 'at the dwyer-house' (v. Dwyer), from residence thereby. The name Dwerrihouse is found, like Dwyer, chiefly in cos. Lancs. and Yorks, where we should expect it.

William de Dwerihouse, of Wrightington, co. Lanc., 1332; Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 51.

Henry Dwerrihouse, of Halewood, 1623: Wills at Chester, p. 70.

William Dwarrihouse, of West Derby, 1647: ibid.

1782. Married—John Dwerrihouse and Susanna Oldfield: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 337.

London, 1, 0; Liverpool, 0, 1.

Dwight.—? Bapt. 'the son of Dionisia' (?). This name has caused much trouble. Mr. Lower suggests a corruption of Thwaite. A much simpler origin would be that it is a corruption of the once common Dyot (v. Dyet and Dyson), the pet name of Dionisia; cf. Dwarber for Dauber, Dwyer for Dyer, and note the following entry:

Magota Duyott', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 271.

The usual form in this register of names is Dyot and Diot; v. Dight.

The following are contained in the register of St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 86:

1634. Bapt.—Elizabeth, d. William Dwoit, tallow-chandler.

1635.—Marye, d. William Dweyght, tallow-chandler.

The above is strong evidence in favour of my view.

William Dwyte, Mayor of Thetford, 1511: FF. ii. 50.

1767. Married—James Clough and Jane Dwight: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 168.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 6.

Dwyer.—(1) Occup. 'the dyer'; v. Dyer. Evidently an early provincialism; cf. Dwerrihouse for Dwyerhouse, and Dwight for Dyot (?). (2) Bapt. for O'Dwyer, an Irish surname. This is the true origin of nine-tenths of the instances in all our English directories; cf. Connor and O'Connor, Connell and O'Connell, &c.

1764. Married—Thomas Young and Susanna Dwyer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 135.

1888. Died—Kate O'Dwyer: New York Tribune, June 11, 1888.

London, 2; West Rid. Court Dir., 1; York, 2; Liverpool, 4; New York, 150.

Dyce.—Local; v. Diss.

Dye.—Bapt. 'the son of Dionisia,' from the nick. Dye, whence dim. Dyet (q.v.) and patronymic Dyson (q.v.).

Robertus Dy, 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 143.

Willelmus Dei (sic), 1379: ibid. p. 103.

1803. Married—Robert Dye and Eliz. Treby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 276.

1806.—Richard Dye and Ann Read: ibid. p. 340.

London, 6; Philadelphia, 9.

Dyer.—Occup. 'the dyer'; M.E.

deyen, to dye.

'An haberdasher, and a carpenter, A webbe, a deyer, and a tapisser.'

Chaucer, C. T. 363–4.

v. Dyster, Lister, Tucker, Walker, Fuller, &c.

John Dyar, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 235.

John le Deyere, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Geoffrey le Deghere. G.

Nicholas le Deighere. M.

Richard le Dyghar, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 104.

John le Dyghar, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Ricardus Dier, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 185.

Richard le Dyer, of Kiderminster, rector of Fincham, co. Norf., 1333: FF. vii. 357.

1625. Buried—Phillip Dier, cordwainer: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 217.

London, 58; New York, 32.

Dyerson, Dyason.—Bapt. 'the son of Dionisia,' a modification of Dyotson (v. Dyet); cf. Ibberson and Ibeson, modified forms of Ibbotson, an exact parallel, as both surnames are of Yorkshire origin; v. Dyson.

Adam Diotson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 179.

1623. Henry Dyason and Priscilla Carter: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 129.

London (1884), 1, 0; London Court Dir., 0, 1; New York, 1, 0.

Dyet, Dyett, Dyot, Dyott, Dyte, Dight.—Bapt. 'the son of Dionisia,' from nick. Dy and dim. Dyot. A tremendous favourite in Yorkshire in the surname epoch. Every Yorkshire record contains instances; v. Dye and Dyson. Dyte and Dight are more recent corruptions.

Diot Mason, 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 124.

Diot de Wodehouse, 1379: ibid. p. 110.

Willelmus Wege, et Diot uxor ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 75.

Johannes Chetel, et Diot uxor ejus, 1379: ibid.

Robertus Diot, et Mariona uxor ejus, 1379: ibid.

1622. William Mullett and Alice Dyatt: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 111.

1784. Married—Joseph Dyett and Mary Mack: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 263.

London, 1, 1, 0, 0, 2, 3; Manchester, 1887 (Dyott), 1; Philadelphia (Dyott), 7; New York (Dight), 1.

Dyke, Dykes, Dike.—Local, 'of the dike or dikes,' i.e. banks, trenches.

Robert del Dykes, co. Cumb., 31 Edw. I. BBB. p. 639.

Adam del Dike, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 75.

Nicholaus del Dyk, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 101.

William del Diks, 2 Hen. IV: E. and F., co. Cumb., p. 176.

William del Dykes, 16 Ric. II: ibid. p. 174.

London, 14, 4, 4; New York, 1, 3, 4.

Dykehouse, Dicas.—Local, 'at the dike-house,' i.e. the house by the dike.

Johannes Dykehouse, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 211.

Johannes Dicas, barkar, 1379: ibid. p. 126.

John Dicas, or Dicus, of Handbridge, Chester, 1631: Wills at Chester, ii. 65.

1688–9. Buried—Mr. Humphrey Dicas: Canterbury Cath. p. 128.

London (1884), 1, 0.

Dykeman, Ditchman.—Occup. 'the dikeman,' a hedger or ditcher.

William Dikemon, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 64.

Thomas Dikeman, co. Norf., 3 Hen. IV: FF. ix. 234.

Richard Dikeman, co. Norf., 24 Hen. III: ibid. vi. 29.

John Dikeman, co. Norf., 20 Edw. III: ibid.

Manchester, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Dymoke.—Local; v. Dimmock.

Dyson.—Bapt. 'the son of Dionisia,' from the nick. Dy or Dye, whence the patronymic Dyson. Almost all our Dysons hail from Yorkshire, where the font-name had a popularity second only to those of Matilda and Isabel. Of course Dionisius, the masculine form, was not unknown, and for a time Denny and Dennis were the common property of both sexes; v. Dye, Dyet, and Dennis, for other forms. I only furnish two or three instances from the Poll Tax (1379); but they abound.

Johannes Dison, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 18.

Johannes Dison, 1379: ibid. p. 124.

Dionisia uxor Thome Dison, 1379: ibid. p. 19.

1688. Married—Thomas Dyeson and Elizabeth Cox: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 68.

London, 9; West Rid. Court Dir., 45; Manchester, 16; New York, 4.

Dyster.—Occup. 'the dyster,' a dyer; cf. Lister. In the Corpus Christi Procession (Coventry, 1444), there walked among other crafts, the 'Gurdilers, Taylours, Walkers, Shermen, Deysters, Drapers, and Mercers' (Sharp's Coventry Mysteries, p. 160).

Robert le Dighestere. G.

Walter le Dighestere, ibid.

Thomas Dyster. B.

1767. Bapt.—John, s. John and Jane Dyster: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 51.

London (1884), 2.

Dyte.—Bapt.; v. Dyet. For a different solution, v. Dight.

London, 3.

E

Eaddy, Eady, Eadie.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede,' from the pet Edie or Eddie. For fuller statement and many instances, v. Eddie.

1779. Married—James Eady and Charlotte Agar: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 298.

London, 1, 2, 2; New York, 0, 0, 11.

Eade, Eades.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede'; v. Eddie. Eades and Eade are modern variants of Edes and Ede, q.v.

1670. Bapt.—Robert, s. Robert Eades: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 243.

1687.—Mary, d. John Edes: ibid. p. 323.

1773. Married—James Eade and Abigail Chamberlain: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 234.

1775.—Thomas Eades and Barbara Jane Morey: ibid. p. 255.

London, 11, 5; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Eaden.—Bapt.; v. Eden.

Eadie.—Bapt.; v. Eddie.

Eadon.—Bapt.; v. Eden.

Eagle, Eagles.—(1) Nick. 'the eagle'; cf. Hawk, Sparrowhawk, Heron, &c. (2) ? Local, 'at the Eagle,' a sign-name; cf. Roebuck.

William Egle, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Custance Egle, co. Camb., ibid.

Gilbert de la Hagle, co. Sussex, 1273. A. 1594. Thomas Leese and Katherine Eagles: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 216.

1612. Bapt.—Anne, d. William Eagle: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 71.

1777. Married—Joseph Eagle and Eliz. Johnson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 281.

1780.—Daniel Miller and Anna Maria Eagles: ibid. p. 314.

London, 8, 8; New York, 11, 2.

Eagleston.—variant of Eggleston.

Oxford, 9.

Eagleton.—Local; v. Eggleton.

Eagling.—Bapt.; v. Eglon.

Eakin, Eakins.—Bapt.; v. Ekin.

Ealand.—Local; v. Eland, of which it is a variant.

Eales, Elles, Eells, Eeles.—Bapt. 'the son of Elye'; O.F. for English Ellis. The genitive or patronymic form would be Eyles, thus differing slightly from the English Ellis. But v. Ellis, where instances of the French form will be found. I only suggest this; I have no actual proof.

Elye de Bleynnaker, C. R., 36 Hen. III.

1680. Married—John Kingham and Saray Eeles: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 187.

1780. Married—John Eales and Mary Morton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 26.

1807.—William Bells and Sarah Grahman: ibid. p. 376.

London, 4, 2, 0, 3; Boston (U.S.), 0, 5, 4, 4.

Eames, Emes.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Emma,' from the nick. Em or Emm; v. Emms. This seems to be the most satisfactory solution. The Norfolk Emms is also found in the form of Emes.

Mary Emes, wife of Edmund Hudson, draper, died August 18, 1608: FF. viii. 362.

(2) Local, 'at the elms,' from residence thereby; v. Elms(1). By some provincialism this became Ealmes. After that Eames was unavoidable.

1567–8. Thomas Ealmes and Catharine Lambarte: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 38.

1606. Married—Danyell Emes, and Eliz. Lakins: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 31.

1732.—Rev. Charles Wragg and Catharine Emes: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 49.

London, 7, 2; New York, 10, 2.

Eardley.—Local, 'of Eardley,' probably one of the parishes now known as Ardley (dioc. Oxford), Ardeley (dioc. St. Albans), and Ardleigh (ibid.). Lower says, 'Eardley, a township in Staffordshire.'

Ralph de Erdeleye, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Walter de Erdele, co. Hunts, ibid.
London, 5; New York, 1.

Earl, Earle, Earll.—Offic. or nick, 'the earl'; cf. Count, Baron, &c.

Thomas le Yurl, Pat. Roll, 4 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Geoffrey le Erle, Fines Roll, 10 Edw. I.
Roger le Erle, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Walter le Erle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 113.

Henry le Erl, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid. p. 201.

Robertus Erle, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 160.

Thomas Erle, 1379: ibid. p. 89.

1650. Bapt.—Mary, d. Everard Earle: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 174.

1705.—Sarah, d. William Earle: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 117.

London, 16, 19, 1; New York, 20, 40, 2.

Earlam, Earlem.—Local; v. Erlam.

Earley, Early.—Local, 'of Earley,' a parish in dioc. Oxford. Lower says, 'A liberty in the parish of Sonning, co. Berks.' The form Early without the e in the second syllable is, of course, imitative, and indeed the entry:

Nicholas le Urry, co. Norf., 1273. A. suggests in some instances a nickname for one who 'caught the worm' in good time. But viewed generally the name must, without hesitation, be placed in the local class of surnames.

Clemens de Erleghe, co. Soms., 1273. A.
Philip de Erlee, co. Soms., ibid.
Warin de Erleghe, co. Soms., ibid.
1580. Married.—Thomas Early and Agnes Odium: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 8.
London, 1, 14; New York, 10, 37.

Earnshaw, Ernshaw.—Local; v. Earnshaw.

Earp.—? — I cannot suggest any derivation of this name.

1561. William Erpe and Eliz. Brett: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 22.

1809. Married.—William Kendrick and Mary Erpe: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 405.
London, 2; Manchester, 6; New York, 2.

Earwaker, Earwicker.—Local, 'of Erewaker.' I cannot find the place.

Simon de Erewaker, C. R., 39 Hen. III. pt. 1.

Adam Edwaker, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Thomas Edwaker, co. Oxf., ibid.

1662. Married.—Thomas Aylett and Jane Arwaker: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 21.

Manchester, 1, 0; London, 1, 1; New York, 0, 2.

Eason, Esson.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede' or 'Eade'; v. Eddie. A corruption of Eadison.

1627. Married.—Thomas Eason and Hester Grove: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 57.

1669.—John Hadon and Eliz. Eson: ibid. p. 166.

London, 6, 1; New York, 6, 0.

East, Easte.—Local, 'at the east'; from residence at the east end of the town or village. Cf. West, North, and South.

Robert del Est, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Richard Est, co. Linc., ibid.

Geoffrey Est, co. Oxf., ibid.

Cf. Emma ate Estend, co. Oxf., ibid.

Hugh ate Estend, co. Oxf., ibid.

This of course implies residence at the east end. The 'West End' has long been familiar to us.

London, 20, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Eastburn.—Local, 'of Eastburn': (1) in the township of Kirkburn, E. Rid. Yorks; (2) 'of Eastburn,' in the parish of Kildwick, W. Rid. Yorks.

Bradford, 2; York, 1; Hull, 1; Philadelphia, 30.

Eastcott.—Local, 'of Eastcott,' a tithing in the parish of Urchfont, co. Wilts.

Richard de Estcott, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
Hugh de Estcote, co. Camb., ibid.

London, 1.

Eastend.—Local, 'at the east end'; v. East.

Emma ate Estend, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Hugh ate Estend, co. Oxf., ibid.

Adam in Estend, co. Oxf., ibid.

Easter.—Local, 'of Easter,' two parishes (Good Easter and High Easter) in co. Essex.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Essex), 3; co. Norfolk, 3; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Easterbrook, Esterbrooke, Esterbrook, Estabrook, Estabrook.—Local, 'of Eastbrook.' I have not found the spot. The intrusive a in Estabrooks or Estabrook is euphonic, as in Ottaway, Greenaway, &c. The next stage was Easterbrook. Cf. John atte Esterford (Kirby's Quest, p. 260).

John le (? de) Eastbrook, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 224.

1658. Married.—Richard Dalton and Frances Easterbrooke: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 34.

1772.—William Phillips and Jane Eastabrook: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 226.

London, 2, 1, 0, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 6, 0, 1, 33, 4.

Easterby.—Local, 'of Eastby,' a township in the parish of Skipton, W. Rid. Yorks. At first for euphony the surname would be pronounced Eastaby, then Easterby; cf. Ottaway and Greenaway for Ottway and Greenway; also cf. Patterson for Pattison.

MDb. (North Rid. Yorks), 2; (West Rid. Yorks), 1.

Easterday.—Bapt. 'son of Easterday'; v. Christmas, Pentecost, Nowell, Whitsuntide, &c.

Philadelphia, 4.

Easterling, Isterling.—(1) Local, 'the Easterling'; (2) 'of Estherlinge,' some spot in co. Norf. that I cannot identify.

(Homines) de Estherlinge, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Walter de Easterling, co. Norf., c. 1300: FF. i. 319.

Ralph de Easterling, co. Norf., c. 1300: ibid.

London, 1, 0; Liverpool, 0, 1.

Eastgate.—Local, 'of Eastgate,' a hamlet in the parish of Stanhope, co. Durham. But no doubt many small spots would be so termed.

Andreas de Estgate, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Geoffrey de Estgate, co. Linc., ibid.

Martin de Estgate, co. Norf., ibid.
London, 2.

Eastham.—Local, 'of Eastham,' a parish in co. Chester, nine miles from Chester: the Lancashire Easthams are sprung from this parish. Also a parish in co. Worcester.

Alice Eastham, of Walton (co. Lanc.), 1602: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 58.

Adam Eastham, of Walton-le-dale, 1611: ibid.

Humphrey de Eastham, 1265, co. Norf.: FF. vii. 190.
Manchester, 4; Liverpool, 5; Preston, 5; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Eastman, Eastmond.—Bapt. 'the son of Estmund'; -mund becomes by corruption -man; cf. Osman, Wyman, &c. It would seem as if Eastman should be of the same class as Westernman, q.v.; but there is no evidence of this. All the proofs are in favour of Estmund.

John Estmond, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 108.

Geoffrey Estmund, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Cecil Estmond, co. Camb., ibid.

Hugh Estmund, co. Camb., ibid.

John Estmond, co. Camb., ibid.

John Estmond, of Gressenhall, co. Norf., 1604: FF. ix. 517.

1692. Married—Rowland Porter and Sarah Easeman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 210.

1748. — Daniel Eastmond and Hannah Overton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 40.

1754. — John Tinson and Eliz. Eastman: ibid. p. 51.

London, 8, 0; New York, 14, 1.

Easton.—Local, 'of Easton,' parishes in cos. Hunts, Norfolk, Northampton, Hants, Suffolk, Wilts, Essex, Somerset, and Leicester. Also hamlets in various counties; cf. Weston, Norton, Sutton, and many others.

Philip atte Estone, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 230.

Alan de Eston, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Ranulph de Eston, co. Hunts, ibid.

Geoffrey de Eston, co. Norf., ibid.

John de Eston, co. York, 20 Edw. I. R.

Walter de Eston, vicar of Tyington, co. Norf., c. 1460: FF. ix. 97.

1572. Married—John Steedman and Alice Easton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 5.

1738. — John Easton and Mary Head: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 68.

London, 13; New York, 14.

Easttey, Eastty, Easty.—Local. These are manifestly variants of some local surname. Probably for Eastry, a parish in co. Kent, three miles from Sandwich.

London, 1, 2, 1.

Eastwell.—Local, 'of Eastwell,' a parish in co. Kent, three miles from Ashford.

? Richard de Estvelde, co. Kent, 1273. A.
London, 1.

Eastwood.—Local, 'of Eastwood,' a hamlet in the parish of Keighley, co. York. This surname has increased almost into a clan or colony. Doubtless, however, many other spots would be so termed. But Eastwood must be considered a Yorkshire surname for all that.

Jacob de Estwode, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Walter de Estwode, co. Bedf., ibid.

John de Estwode, co. Kent, ibid.

Rogerus de Estwode, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 189.

Johannes de Estwode, 1379: ibid.

Johannes de Estwode, et Sibota uxor ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 19.

London, 3; West Rid. Court Dir., 37;

Philadelpia, 29.

Eatock.—Local; v. Eatough.

Eaton.—Local, 'of Eaton.' There are townships so termed in cos. Berks, Cheshire, Derby (4), and Salop; parishes in cos. Derby, Notts, Salop, Hereford, Bedford, Stafford, Berks, &c. The place-name and surname are now all but invariably spelt Eaton.

Peter de Eton, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Brian de Eton, co. Wilts, ibid.

Robert de Etone, co. Berks, 20 Edw. I. R.

Walter de Eton, co. Heref., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

1563. Married—Thomas Eaton and Katherine Brown: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 2.

1588. — Harry Eton and Judithe Wylkynson: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 14.

1669. — Thomas Bennitt and Margaret Eton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 166.

1710. — John Eaton and Anne Eaton: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 55.

London, 30; Manchester, 15; New York, 37.

Eatough, Eatock, Eattock.—Local, 'of Etough,' evidently some small spot with ough as the suffix.

Oliver Ethoughe, of Altham, 1585: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 61.

Richard Etough, of Huncote, 1624: ibid. (1621–50), p. 74.

Henry Etough, vicar of Lakenham, co. Norf., 1728: FF. iv. 518.

Preston, 1, 0, 0; Manchester, 0, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 1.

Eatwell.—Local, 'of Etwall' (q.v.), a parish in co. Derby. An imitative variant.

London, 4.

Eavenson.—Bapt. 'the son of Eve.' One English form of the patronymic was Eaveson, q.v. This across the Atlantic seems to have become first Eavison, then Eavenson; cf. Pattison and Pattinson. Of course it may be but a variant of Evanson.

Philadelphia, 10.

Eaves.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Eve,' q.v. (2) Local, 'of Eaves,' a hamlet in the parish of St. Michael-on-Wyre, co. Lancaster. All the Lancashire Eaves must be looked upon as sprung from this spot.

Thomas Eaves, of Fullwood, hushandman, 1641: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457–1680), p. 99.

Richard Eives, of Fishwicke, glover, 1590: ibid. p. 102.

Robert Eaves, of Houghwick, Penwortham, 1612: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 58.

Richard Eyres, 1542: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 17.

Thomas Eyres, de Fyshwyk, 1542: ibid. p. 19.

London, 1; Manchester, 8; Preston, 4; New York, 2.

Eaveson.—Bapt. 'the son of Eve,' q.v.

Ebbetts, Ebbutt, Ebbets, Ebbett, Ebbitt.—Bapt. 'the son of Isabelle,' from nick. Ibb, dim. Ibbot, sometimes Ebbot. This would readily occur, as Elizabeth and Isabella are in reality the same name, and ran side by side in a race for popularity.

Thomas Gaylyour, et Ebbot sa femme, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 43.

Johan Tynete, et Ibbot sa femme, 1379: ibid. p. 4.

Ibbot Bolkok, 1379: ibid.

Ebota Stry, 1379: ibid.

Ebbett, d. of Sampson Morcambe, 1601: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 20.

Ibbett, d. of Richard Sprey, 1579: ibid. p. 10.

Ebbot, d. of Walter Coryton, 1633: ibid. p. 213.

Alice Ebotson (cf. Ibbotson), co. York. W. 2.

London, 1, 2, 0, 0, 0; New York, 0, 0, 6, 0, 2; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 0, 2, 0.

Ebbs, Epps, Eppson, Epperson, Epp.—Bapt. 'the son of Ebb.' The name has no connexion with Ebba, sister of St. Oswald and founder of Coldingham Priory.

Ebb, the parent of our Ebbs and Epps, was the nick. of Isabella, so popular in its day. Isabella took two nicks. Ibb and Ebb, and two dims. Ibbot and Ebbot (v. Ebbetts). There is no difficulty, of course, about Epps; cf. Mapps and Mapson for Mabb and Mabson, Hoppes for Hobbs, and Hopkins for Hobkins. Eppison below is manifestly Ebbe-son. With the variant Epperson, cf. Patterson for Pattison.

Henry Ebison, alias Ibbotson, co. York. TT.

Thomas Ebson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. P. 154.

John Ebbes, 1505, Norwich: FF. iv. 497. 1547-8. Richard Longman and Agnes Ebbes: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 11.

Thomas Eppes, mayor of New Romney, 1584: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), iii. 167.

1607. Married—Edward Powell and Eliza Ebbes: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 32. 1660. — George Granger and Eliza Eppison: ibid. p. 103.

1667. — William Badham and Elizabeth Ebbe: ibid. p. 131.

1681. — Thomas Goodwin and Mary Ebison: ibid. p. 193.

London, 3, 2, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. North), 0, 0, 0, 1, 0; New York, 1, 0, 0, 0, 4.

Ebison.—Bapt. 'the son of Isabella,' from nick. Ibbie or Ebbie; cf. Ebbs and Ebbetts, and v. Ibbinson and Ebbs.

1681. Married—William Hore and Issabel Ebbison: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 193.

London (1884), 1.

Ebsworth.—Local, 'of Ebsworth.' For suffix, v. Worth; for prefix we must not go to Ebbs (q.v.), but to a more ancient personal name, Ebba. One Ebba was sister of St. Oswald; cf. the place-names, Ebbs-Fleet, Ebchester, Ebbsborne-Wake, Ebbsmore, Epworth, &c. These have no connexion with Isabel.

1683. Married—Robert Plaskett and Mary Ebsworth: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 201.

1770. — Thomas Ebsworth and Eliz. Robotham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 201.

London, 6; New York, 1.

Eccles, Eckles.—Local, 'of Eccles' (1) an ancient parish near Manchester, now a suburb of the city; (2) a parish in co. Norfolk, near Stalham. Both places became parents of the surname.

Adam de Eccles, of Heaton with Halliwell, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 36.

Robert de Eccles, of Pilkington, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid.

Richard Eccles, co. Camb., 1274. A. Robert de Eccles, co. Norf.: FF. viii.

342. John de Eccles, co. Norf., 59 (sic) Edw. III.: ibid. vi. 172.

Johannes Eclis, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 83.

Humphrey Eccles, of Dean, 1603: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 58.

Thomas Eccles, of the Hough, husbandman, 1641: ibid. (1621-50), p. 71.

London, 6, 0; Manchester, 10, 0; Philadelphia, 17, 3.

Eccleshall, Eckersall, Ecker-shall, Eckershell.—Local, 'of Eccleshill': (1) a township in the parish of Bradford, W. Rid. Yorks; (2) a township in the parish of Blackburn, co. Lancaster; (3) 'of Eccleshall,' a parish in co. Stafford, seven miles from Stafford.

Robert de Eccleshale, co. Warwick, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Agnes Egleshill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 208.

Richard de Eccleshull, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 58.

1601. Married—John Shorre and Joane Ecclesole: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 25.

1792. — Joseph Eccleshall and Ann Selway: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 78.

Manchester, 1, 1, 1, 1.

Eccleston, Ecclestone.—Local, 'of Eccleston': (1) a parish in co. Chester, three miles from Chester; (2) a parish in co. Lancaster, five miles from Chorley; also three townships in co. Lancaster.

Robert de Eccleston, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Henry de Eccleston, of Newton-le-Wil-lows, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 11.

Richard Eccleston, of Eccleston, parish of Croston, co. Lanc., 1618: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 38.

Henry Eccleston, of Wrightington, 1593: ibid.

Edward Eccleston, of Eccleston, 1623: ibid. (1621-50), p. 71.

John Eccleston, of Chester, yeoman, 1640: ibid.

1508. Bapt.—Margaret, d. Richard Eccleston: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 101. 1650-1.—Theodore, s. Richard Eccleston, merchant: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 111.

New York, 2, 0; Liverpool, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Stafford), 0, 1.

Eckersley.—Local, 'of Ecclesley' (?), corrupted to Eckersley (?). Hence it may be compared with such other place-names as Ecclesall, Ecclesfield, Eccleshall, Eccles-hill, Eccleston, and Eccleswell. The surname is common to Lanca-shire and Yorkshire.

Henry de Ecclesleye, co. York, 20 Edw. I. R.

Johanna de Ecclesleye, co. York, ibid. Jane Eckersley, of Bedford, spinster, co. Lanc., 1603: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 58.

Thomas Eckersley, of Middle Hulton, 1603: ibid.

Roger Eckersley, of Bedford, parish of Leigh, 1648: ibid. (1621-50), p. 71.

London, 1; Manchester, 8; W. Rid. Yorks Court Dir., 2; Philadelphia, 4.

Eckhard, Eckert, Eckett.—Bapt. 'the son of Echar.' The surname lasted for many centuries in co. Norfolk, and probably still exists there. With the corrupted Eckett, cf. Richard, Rickard, and Rickett.

Adam Ecard, co. Norf., 1273. A. 1515. William Echar, rector of Cley, co. Norf.: FF. vi. 42.

1537. Thomas Echar, bailiff of Yar-mouth, co. Norf.: ibid. vi. 327.

1544. Married—Thomas Echarde and Eliz. Toad: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 2.

1695. John Echarde, rector of Wren-ingham, co. Norf.: FF. v. 121.

London, 0, 3, 0; Manchester, 1, 0, 0; Crockford, 0, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 76, 0.

Ecroyd.—Local; v. Ackroyd, of which it is a variant; a well-known Yorkshire surname.

London, 2; Manchester, 2; West Rid. Court Dir., 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Eddie, Eddis, Eds, Eddison, Eddy, Ede, Edes, Edgson, Edie, Edis, Eade, Eades, Eadie, Eady, Eaddy, Edison, Edeson.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede' or 'Edde,' pet form Eddy or Eady. Although this feminine font-name is now obsolete, it has made a most remarkable impression on our English directories. It lingered into the 17th century as a personal name. Every imaginable variant of the surname is found. No doubt the name was occasionally a nick. of Edward or Edmund, but the above derivation must be looked upon as absolutely decisive in the case of the great majority. I have furnished a large number of instances in order that the reader may note how familiar this girl's name was. Edgson (q.v.) is a variant of Eddison.

Eda, uxor Ricardi Gretword, C. R., 39 Hen. III. pt. i.
Edde (without surname), co. Norf., 1273. A.

Edde fil. Hugh, co. Hunts, ibid.
William fil. Ede, co. Suff., ibid.
Robert fil. Ede, co. Hunts, ibid.
William Ede, co. Norf., ibid.
Johannes Edeson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 134.

Adam Edson, 1379: ibid. p. 55.
Edda mater Johannis, 1379: ibid. p. 84.

1533. Richard Eyddes and Johanna Edley: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 8.
Eddie Waugh, 1602: Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westm. and Cumb., vol. i. p. cxlii.
Thomas Andrew and Edeye Cowdall, married, temp. 1545: Visitation of London, 1634, p. 17.

Herbert Eedes, or Edes, 1606: Reg. Univ. Oxf., vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 291.

1541. Bapt.—Eede, d. William Lymbott: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 72.

1606. George Eades, co. Norf.: FF. ii. 240.

1610. Married—Ede Bunham (femine): Reg. Elmham, co. Norf.

1616.—Richard Taggard and Eedy Arnall: St. Antholin (London), p. 52.

1621.—Andrew Stucke and Edey Kege: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 14.

1632. Edmund Eade, rector of Ovington, co. Norf.: FF. ii. 297.

London, i, 2, 2, 1, 1, 10, 3, 4, 7, 1, 11, 5, 7, 2, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Notts) (Edaddon), 2; New York (Edeson), 1; Philadelphia, 2, 4, 0, 0, 16, 0, 1, 0, 0, 3, 0, 0, 2, 0, 0, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.) (Eds), 1.

Eddiman.—Occup. 'Eddy-man', i.e. the servant of Eddy (v. Eddie); cf. Matthewman, Perryman, Addyman, Jackman, &c.

1390. Robert Edyman, prebend of Norwich Cathedral: FF. iv. 173.

1507. Thomas Edeman, prebend of Norwich Cathedral: ibid.

Eddington; v. Edington.

Eddis, Eddison.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede.' For fuller statement and many instances, v. Eddie and Edis.

1758. Married—Edward Eddes and Eleanor Pocket: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 70.

London, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 4, 0.

Eddowes, Eddowis.—Bapt. 'the son of Eddow' (Welsh); v. Beddoe, where the evidence is very strong. Beddoes is also found answering to Eddowes.

Elizabeth Eddowe, of Chester, widow, 1632: Wills at Chester (1621–50), p. 71.

Sarah Eddowe, of Edge, co. Chester, spinster, 1640: ibid.

Randle Eddowes, of Stockton, co. Chester, gent., 1625: ibid.

Ann Eddowes, of Plumbley, widow, 1641: ibid.

1733. Married—Francis Eddowes and Eliz. Lewis: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 12.

London, 1, 0; Manchester, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Chester), 1, 1; Philadelphia, 4, 0.

Ede, Edes.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede'; v. Eddie for fuller statement and many instances.

Symon fil. Ede, co. Hunts, 1273. A. 1565–6. Audrian Awdryan and Christiane Ede: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 32.

1603. Thomas Edes and Margery Bishop: ibid. p. 280.

1803. Married—William Ede and Eliz. Holdaway: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 280.

London, 10, 3; Boston (U.S.), 0, 14.

Edelot.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede' (q.v.), from double dim.

Ed-el-ot; cf. Hewlett, Custlot, &c.

Edelota la Daye, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 96.

Eden, Eaden, Eddon, Eaddon.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede,' from dim. Edon; v. Eade. If this be not satisfactory there is only one other solution, viz. Idonia. If this were sometimes Edonia we might expect the form Edon as well as Iddon, which we know to represent Idonia.—Since writing the above I have found an instance:

Edonia Turnour, Agnes uxor, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 130.

Unfortunately this appears to be a masculine name.

Nicholas fil. Edon, co. Norf., 1273. A. Roger fil. Edon, co. Norf., ibid.

Nel fil. Edine, co. Oxf., ibid.

Henry Edon, co. Oxf., ibid.

Johan Mountenay, et Edden sa femme, flesheuer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 43.

Robertus Busby, et Eden uxor ejus, smyleth, 1379: ibid. p. 101.

Johannes Slipar, et Edan uxor ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 109.

Looking at all these instances carefully, I suspect that they are all diminutives of the then popular girl's name Ede.

1660. Married—Henrie Sadde and Parnell Eaden: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 24.

London, 8, 1, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 0, 0.

Edensor.—Local, 'of Edensor'; v. Ensor.

Edes; v. Ede and Eddie.

Edgar.—Bapt. 'the son of Edgar.'

William Edger (sic), co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 136.

London, 11; Philadelphia, 42.

Edge.—(1) Local, 'at the edge,' from residence thereby; M.E. egge. 'Slaw, or dul of egge (dul of wyt), obtusus': Prompt. Parv.

(2) Local. More specifically 'of Edge,' a township in the parish of Pontesbury, co. Salop.

Robert atte Egge, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 91.

Is (2 Isabel) atte Egge, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 137.

John de Egge, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Agnes del Egge, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 171.

Henry del Egge, of Withington, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 34.

John del Egge, of Reddish, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 32.

Therefore the Lancashire Edges probably hailed from Alderley Edge.

1617. Married—Henry Rappitt and Isabel Edge: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 44.

London, 4; Manchester, 14; Philadelphia, 10.

Edgecombe, Edgecomb, Edgcombe.—Local, 'of Edgecombe,' an estate in the parish of Milton Abbot, co. Devon. The earldom springs from the same property.

William de Egghacombe, co. Devon, 1273. A.

London, 5, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Devon), 2, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 8, 0, 0.

Edgerley, Edgerly.—Local, 'of Edgerley,' a township in the parish of Aldford, co. Chester; cf. Adgarley, a township in the parish of Uxswick, North Lancashire.

Manchester, 1, 0; Liverpool, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 20.

Edgerton.—Local; v. Egerton.

Edgeworth.—Local, 'of Edgeworth'; (1) a parish in co. Glouc., six miles from Cirencester; (2) a township in co. Lancaster, five miles from Bolton. For meaning, v. Edge and Worth.

Peter de Eggeworth, co. Glouc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Hugh de Eggeworthe, of Turton, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Rylands), p. 40.

Roger de Eggeworthe, of Edgeworth, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid.

John Egewurthe, 1519: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 117.

Richard Edgworth, of Orford, 1603: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 59.

1615. Married—Thomas Mostrope and Katherine Edgworth: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 41.

1689. — Richard Merick and Mary Edsworth: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 42.

1702. — Thomas Lee and Sarah Edgworth: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 51.

This surname seems to have become somewhat rare in England, but lives in America.

Boston (U.S.), 4; Crockford, 2.

Edghill, Edgell.—Local, 'of Edghill,' (1) a chapelry in the parish of Walton-on-the-Hill, Liverpool; (2) a township in co. Stafford, three miles from Lichfield.

London, 4, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 3.

Edgington, Edginton.—Local, 'of Edgington,' probably a form of Eggington (q.v.); cf. Egg and Edge, Brigg and Bridge.

London, 6, 1; Oxford, 3, 5.

Edgley.—Local, 'of Edgley,' a hamlet in the parish of Stockport, co. Chester. No doubt many other small spots are so called.

Richard Edgley, of Marbury, 1593: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 59.

Humphrey Edgley, of Nantwich, 1617: ibid.

London, 9; Manchester, 1.

Edgson.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede'; patronymic Eddison or Eadson, whence variant Edgson; cf. Gudgeon for Goodison, Dodgson for Dodson. For fuller statement and more instances, v. Eddie.

1640. Married—John Edgson and Mary Beedler (Needler?): St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 24.

1789. — Christopher Eadson and Martha Smith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 27.

1790. — John Banks and Mary Eadson: ibid. 47.

1808. — Thomas Brand and Hannah Edgson: ibid. 396.

London, 4.

Edington, Eddington.—Local, 'of Edington,' (1) a township in the parish of Mitford, co. Northumberland; (2) a township in the parish of Moorlinch, co. Somerset; (3) a parish in co. Wilts, near Westbury.

Gilbert de Edyngton, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 142.

London, 4, 4; MDB. (co. Soms.), 0, 2; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Edis, Edison.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede.' For fuller statement and instances of Edison, v. Eddie.

1744. Married—Thomas Eddis and Cherry Odell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 274.

1791. — Ambrose Clerk and Eliz. Edson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 53.

London, 6, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 2.

Edkins.—Bapt. 'the son of Edward,' from the nick. Eddie and dim. Ede-kin; cf. Wilkin, Tompinkin, Jenkin, &c. From the instances given below it will be seen that for five centuries at least the surname has lingered on in Oxfordshire and Berkshire. The final s in Edkins is genitival, as in Wilkins and Simpkins.

Edekin Gomey, co. Oxf., 1273. A. John Edekin, co. Oxf., ibid.

Elena Edkynes, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 210.

1800. Married—Charles F. de Coetlogon and Emily Edkins, co. Berks: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 215.

1804. — Thomas Edkins and Susanna Bourne: ibid. p. 305.

London Court Dir., 3; Philadelphia, 2.

Edlestone.—Local, 'of Edlest-on.' Manchester, 1.

Edlett.—Bapt. 'the son of Eade,' from dim. Edelot.

Edelota Darby, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Ydelot Binytheton, co. Devon: Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1584. Daniel Edlett and Anne Blackwell: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 9.

Edlin, Edling.—Bapt. 'the son of Edeline' or 'Adeline'; v. Adlin.

Edilena Aylefe, co. Camb., 1273. A. Robert fil. Edeline, co. Hunts, ibid.

John Edelyne, co. Camb., ibid.

Reginald Edelyne, co. Camb., ibid.

Edelina del Brok. K.

Ediline fil. Nicholai Coci: Cal. and Inventories of the Treasury.

Henricus Edlyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 129.

Henricus Edelyn, 1379: ibid. p. 63.

1607. Michael Edlin, co. Hants, Lincoln Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 299.

1669. Married—Henry Edlin and Mary Edlin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 162.

1714. Buried—Anna, wife of Col. Edmond Edlyne: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 283.

1796. Married—John Edlin and Sarah Seabrook: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 151.

London, 5, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Edlington.—Local, 'of Edlington,' (1) a parish in co. Lincoln, near Horncastle; (2) a parish in co. York, five miles from Doncaster.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 3.

Edmund, Edmunds, Ed-

mundson, Edmand, Edmands,

Edmans, Edmonds, Edmond-

son, Edmonson.—Bapt. 'the son of Edmund.' In North Lancashire Edmondson or Edmondson has been a familiar surname for centuries.

Simon fil. Edmundi, co. Norf., 1273.

A. Thomas fil. Edmundi, co. Kent, ibid.

Thomas Edmund, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

William Edmund, co. Bedf., ibid.

Edmund fil. Osmund, co. Berks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Johannes Edmund, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 125.

Edmundus del Grange, 1379: ibid. p. 30.

Robertus Edmondson, taylour, 1379: p. 130.

Johannes Edmondson, 1379: ibid. p. 173.

Margaret Edmondson, of Catton, 1577: Lanc. Wills at Richmond, i. 101.

Leonard Edmondson, of Melling, 1582: ibid.

1809. Married—Thomas Edmands and Mary Brown: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 419.

London, 0, 10, 1, 1, 2, 2, 51, 1, 0; Manchester (Edmondson), 5; (Edmondson), 13; (Edmonson), 2; New York, 2, 4, 1, 1, 3, 0, 13, 3, 0.

Edney.—Bapt. 'the son of Idonia,' popularly Edonia and Edeney, a favourite girl's name in the 13th and 14th centuries; v. Iddison and Iddon.

Edonia Roy, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 31.

Ideny, wife of Edw. Stannowe, 1644: Reg. Beetley, Norf.

1577. William Edney and Eliz. Bur-lace: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 75.

1784. Married—Edward Edney and Sarah Hill: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 365.

London, 9; Oxford, 2; New York, 1.

Edolph.—Bapt. 'the son of Edolph.' Mr. Lower writes, 'an ancient personal name, written in the Saxon Chronicle Eadulph. The same as Adolphus' (Patr. Brit. p. 101). No doubt this is true.

Henry Edolf, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 144.

William Edolf, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Edred.—Bapt. 'the son of Edred.'

Hugh Edred, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
John Edred, co. Oxf., ibid.

Edridge, Edrich.—Bapt. 'the son of Edrich' or 'Edric'; cf. Richard and Rickard, and v. Aldridge for Aldrich. The name seems to have been popular between Lincoln and Norfolk.

John Edrich, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 134.

Roger Edrich, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 241.

Edericke le Blacke, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Ederich le Blacke, co. Linc., ibid.

No doubt the last two entries refer to the same individual.

Edrich (without surname), co. Norf., 1273. A.

Nicholas Edrych, co. Oxf., ibid.

Andrew fil. Edrich, co. Camb., ibid.

Roger Edryk, rector of St. Matthew the Apostle (Norwich), 1328: FF. iv. 375.
John Ederych, vicar of Halvergate, co. Norf., 1426: ibid. xi. 105.

1608. Married—William Edridge and Anne Prince: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, lii. 141.
London, 6, 0; MDB. (Norfolk), 1, 2.

Edson.—Bapt. 'son of Ede'; v. Eddie.

New York, 8; Philadelphia, 9.

Edward, Edwards, Edwardson, Edwardes.—Bapt. 'the son of Edward.' It is a curious thing to note that while our Richardsons, Williamsons, and Harrisons can be numbered by thousands, Edwardson has always been a very rare surname. The shorter Edwards has monopolized everything. Yet Williams, Richards, and Harris have not been put down by their longer brethren.

William Edward, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 102.

Adam Edward, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 103.

Willelmus Edward, taylour, 1379: ibid. p. 15.

Ricardus Edward, 1379: ibid. p. 24.

John Edwardson, of Bold, 1594: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 59.

Roger Edwardson, of Kenyon, 1624: ibid. (1621-50), p. 73.

1415. Robert Edward: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting (2).

1600. Married—Richard Edwardson and Eliz. Harford: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, lii. 41.

London, 2, 321, 0, 0; Liverpool (Edwardson), 5; Philadelphia, 6, 197, 0, 1.

Edwin, Edwins.—Bapt. 'the son of Edwin,' a much rarer font-name in the surname epoch than might have been expected. For obvious reasons Edward was the favourite.

Robert Edwine, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Agnes Edwine, co. Oxf., ibid.

Simon Edwyne, co. Camb., ibid.

Christina Edwyne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 98.

William Edwyne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

1540. Bapt.—Luce Edwinne: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 2.

1546. Buried—Leonard Edwyn: ibid. p. 108.

1578. — John, s. John Edwyn, plague: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 195.

London, 1, 1; New York, 2, 0.

Edzard.—Evidently a foreign importation, unless it be a variant of Ezard, q.v.

1720. Bapt.—Anna Maria, d. Gustavus Jacob and Astrea Edzard: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 125.
London, 1.

Ede, Edes.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede'; v. Eddie.

1541. Bapt.—Eede, d. of William Lymbott: Reg. St. Dionis Backchurch, London, p. 72.

London, 2, 1.

Egerton, Edgerton.—Local, of Egerton, (1) a township in the parish of Malpas, co. Cheshire; (2) a parish in co. Kent, thirteen miles from Maidstone.

1554. Ralph Egerton, of Christleton: Wills at Chester, i. 60.

1614. John Egerton of Tatton: ibid.

London, 3, 0; New York, 3, 3.

Egg.—? Local. Probably 'at the egg,' from residence thereby. Egg seems to be a hard form of Edge, q.v.; cf. Bridge and Brigg.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 1.

Eggett.—? —

London, 4.

Eggington, Egginton.—Local, (1) 'of Eggington,' a cha-pelry in the parish of Leighton Buzzard, co. Bedf.; (2) 'of Egginton,' a parish in co. Derby, near Burton.

Liverpool, 1, 0; New York, 0, 2.

Eggin.—Bapt. A variant of Eakins or Ekins, v. Ekin; cf. Higgins for Hickins.

London, 2.

Eggleston, Egleston.—Local. (1) 'of Egglestone,' a chapelry in the parish of Middleton-in-Teesdale, co. Durham; (2) 'of Eggleston Abbey,' in the parish of Rokeby, union of Teesdale, N. Rid. Yorks. Probably in some cases a lazified form of Eccleston, q.v.; cf. Slagg for Slack, &c.

1581. Christopher Day and Margery Eggleston: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 104.

1603. Buried—John Eggleston: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iv. 85.

1623. — Edward Egglestone: ibid. 161.

The large number of Egglestons or Eglestons in America is probably explained by the following item:

'1635. Richard Eggleston sailed for Virginia from the Port of London': Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 102.

Doubtless all were related to one another.

East Rid. Yorkshire, 1, 0; New York, 3, 11; Boston (U.S.), 17, 0; Philadelphia, 7, 0.

Eggleton, Egletton, Egalton, Eagleton.—Local, 'of Egletton,' (1) a chapelry in the parish of Oakham, co. Rutland; (2) a township in the parish of Bishops Frome, co. Hereford.

Simon de Egilton, co. Rutland, 1273. A.

1758. Married—John Egletton and Esther Atlee: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 82.

1779. — John Egletton and Hannah Dean: ibid. p. 306.

London, 3, 3, 1, 4; Philadelphia, 8, 0, 0, 3.

Eglington, Eglinton.—Local, 'of Eglinton,' a village near Greenock, in Scotland.

New York, 2, 1; London, 1, 1.

Eglon, Eglin, Eagling, Eggling.—Bapt. 'the son of Egelin.' It is interesting to notice that the surname still flourishes in the district where the fontal name was familiar. The final g is excrement, as in Jennings, q.v.

Egelina de Denver: co. Norf., 41 Hen. III: FF. ix. 110.

1274. Dionisia Egeline: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting.

Hegolina Burdan, co. Bedf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Engelina Burdan, co. Bedf., ibid.

Egelina de Curtenay, co. Berks., ibid.

William Egelin, co. Suff., 1273. A. Roger Egolyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 156.

1787. Married—John Eagling and Mary Palmer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 402.

London, 1, 0, 2, 0; Haverthwaite, near Ulverston, 0, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (Norfolk), 0, 0, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 0, 3.

Eightshillings.—Nick.; cf. Ninepence, Fourpence, Centlivre, Thousandpounds.

1666. Jeremiah Eightshillings, of St. Leonard, Shoreditch, tallow chandler, bachelor, and Susanna Angier, alias Angell, of Stepney, Middlesex: Marriage Lic. (Hart. Soc.) v. p. xxiii.

1691. Buried—Jeremiah Eightshillings: Reg. St. Leonard's, Shoreditch.

Ekin, Ekins, Eakin, Eakins, Ekyns.—Bapt. 'the son of Ekin,' but what this is the pet name for I have not discovered. It evidently belongs to the same class as Watkin, Wilkin, Tompkin, &c., which gave us the genitive forms of Watkins, Wilkins, Tompkins, &c. The only explanation I can suggest is that Ekin is a modification of Edkin (v. Edkins).

1598. Thomas Marrott and Mary Eakyn: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 255.

1603. Bapt.—Gyles, s. Gyles Ekyns: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 351.

1721. Married—Samuel Ekin and Eliz. Brown: ibid. p. 245.

1730. Samuel Eakins, sheriff of Norwich: FF. iii. 449.

1702.—Jeremiah Ekins and Ann Rea: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 80.

London, 0, 4, 0, 0, 1; New York, 0, 0, 5, 4, 0.

Elam.—Local, 'of Elham,' a parish in co. Kent, eleven miles from Canterbury. Probably originally Elmham.

Helewis de Eleam, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Henry de Ellham, London, 1273. A.

Walter de Elmham, co. Suff., ibid.

London, 9; West Rid. Court Dir., 2; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Eland, Ealand.—Local, 'of Eland,' an ancient village near Halifax, co. York. This surname has made little impression upon the directories.

Willelmus de Elland, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 48.

Thomas de Eland, tailour, 1379: ibid. p. 166.

Johannes de Eland, 1379: ibid. p. 193.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 0; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1, 4; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0.

Elcock, Elcox.—Bapt. 'the son of Ellis,' from nick. Ell, with popular suffix -cock (v. Cocks), as in Wilcock, Simcock, &c.; v. Ellis. The earliest instance below has the aspirate before it. All the forms of Ellis are occasionally thus entered in the Hundred Rolls, Helie being about as common as Elie. With Elcox, cf. Cox for Cocks, or Wilcox for Wilcocks.

Roger Hellecock, co. Glouc., 1273. A. Hellecock, —, co. Bucks., ibid.

This last entry is misprinted Hellebok.

Johannes Elkoc, et Emmot uxor ejus, tailour, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 89.

Willelmus Elkoc: ibid. p. 90.

Ricardus Elkoc: ibid. p. 173.

1620. Married—Thomas Owenton and Eliz. Elcock: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 48.

William Elcock, of Leighton, 1595: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 60.

London, 3, 0; Manchester, 3, 0; New York, 1, 2; Philadelphia, 3, 0.

Elcombe, Elcum.—Local; v. Ellacombe.

Eldborough.—Local, 'of Aldborough'; v. Albury. With Elbro in the instances below, cf. the New York variant of Alburo.

1768. Married—Jacob Elborough and Mary Smith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 172.

1776.—Robert Elbrow and Ann Smith: ibid. p. 270.

1805.—John Gibbs and Hannah Elbro: ibid. ii. 321.

1809.—Joseph Monk and Ann Elbora: ibid. p. 400.

London, 1.

Elder.—Nick. 'the elder.' The usual form in the Yorkshire Poll Tax is Senior, and this has become one of the strongly established surnames of that county.

Ricardus ye Elder, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 214.

1618. Married—Thomas Elder and Jone Gibbs: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 82.
London, 9; Philadelphia, 44.

Elderkin, Elderking.—Bapt. 'the son of Elder,' from personal name Elder, with suffix -kin, as in Wilkin, Tompkin, &c. Probably of Flemish extraction.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 0, 1; New York, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Eldershaw.—Local, 'at the elder-shaw,' from residence beside a small shaw or wood of elders; v. Ellershaw.

1618. Buried—William Eldershaw: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 221.

1791. Married—Thomas Eldershire and Martha Hawgood: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 55.

1796.—John Eldershaw and Jane Campbell: p. 148.
Liverpool, 1.

Eldred.—Bapt. 'the son of Eldred,' the same as Aldred, q.v.

1569-70. William Fynche and Anne Eldread, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 44.

1669. Married—Mathew Stevens and Ann Eldrid: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 161.

1793.—Newlyn Peter Shawyer and Sarah Eldred: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 105.

MDB. (Suffolk), 2; (co. Hunts.), 3; New York, 7.

Eldridge, Eldredge.—Bapt. 'the son of Alderich'; v. Aldrich.

1597-8. Ottwell Eldridge and Anne Itree: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 245.

1602. Married—John Eldridge and Sarah Clay: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 211.
London, 17, 0; New York, 32, 10.

Elenor, Elnor.—Bapt. 'the son of Eleanor,' found as Alianora, Heleanora, &c., in mediaeval registers.

Hugh fil. Elyenor, co. Bedf., 1273. A. Robert Elyenore, co. Linc., ibid.

Alicia Alianor, Guernsey, 20 Edw. I. R.

Alaniore Bushe. EE. Joseph Alianore, M.P. for Colchester, C. R., 13 Edw. III. pt. i.

Johannes Elinor, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 126.

John Elynor, rector of Ingworth, co. Norf., 1447: FF. vi. 368.

Bartholomew Elnor, 1633: Visitation of London, i. 254.

1801. Married—George Frederic Hipp and Ann Elnor: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 232.

Sheffield, 1, 0; London, 0, 2.

Eley; v. Ely.

Elfick; v. Elphick.

Elgar.—Bapt. 'the son of Algar,' q.v. (for a variant v. Ilgar, under which are some early instances).

1627. Married—George Harrison and Jone Elger; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 57.

1648. — Thomas Elgar and Eliz. George: ibid. p. 82.
London, 4; New York, 2.

Elgee, Elgie, Elgey, Elgy.—Bapt. 'the son of Elgar' (?), seemingly a pet form of this early personal name; v. Algar. The pet name for Algernon has long been Elgie.

1783. Married—William Elgie and Eliz. Doratt; St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 349.
London, 1, 2, 0, 0; MDB. (North Rid., Yorks), 0, 1, 1, 1.

Elgood.—Bapt.; v. Allgood.

Eling.—Local, 'of Eling,' a parish in the New Forest, five miles from Southampton.

Ichenard Eling, co. Worc., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

1793. Married—Thomas Keell and Frances Eling; St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 100.
London, 1; New York, 2.

Eliot, Eliott.—Bapt. 'the son of Elliott,' q.v.

London, 1, 1; New York, 4, 4.

Elkin, Elkins.—Bapt. 'the son of Elkin,' from Elie (Elias), dim. Elekin (three syllables), abbreviated to Elkin; v. Ellis. Elekin is found as a single personal name without surname in the Hundred Rolls as given below. Also as Elekyn in the Munimenta Gildhallae Londoniensis.

Elekin (without surname), co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Robert Elkyn. X.
1520. Richard Elkyn and Johanna Carter; Marriage Lic. (London), i. 7.

1605. Married—William Macham and Marie Elkin; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 30.

London, 3, 7; New York, 10, 2.

Elkington, Elkinton.—Local, 'of Elkington,' (1) a parish in co. Northampton, three miles from Welford; (2) two parishes, North and South Elkington, in co. Lincoln, near Louth.

John de Elkington, co. Lincoln, 1273. A. 1700. Married—John Crick and Joyce Elkington; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 223.

1807. — Coleman Gill and Mary Elkington; St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 369.
London, 8, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 20.

Ell, Elson.—Bapt. 'the son of Elen,' from the nick. Ell, the foundation of the dim. Elot or Elliot.

Cf. Ricardus Elson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 156.

Here, as in other cases, Elson must be distinguished from Ellison, although both forms are now confounded together.

1579. Lewis Frewellyn and Jane Elson; Marriage Lic. (London), i. 00.

1594. Married—William Elson and Alice Douglas; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 18.

1793. — James Ell and Ann Hughes; St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 97.
London, 6, 3; New York, 2, 2.

Ellaby; v. Ellerby.

Ellacombe, Elcombe, Elcum, Ellicombe.—Local, 'of Ellacombe,' a place under the Haldon hills, co. Devon, where the 'de Ellacombes' were resident in 1306 (Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 103).

London, 0, 1, 1, 2; Crockford, 1, 0, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 3, 0, 0, 1.

Ellard.—Bapt. 'the son of Eylard,' doubtless a form of Aylward, q.v.; frequently found as Allard.

Eylard, fil. Nicholas, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Robert Edward, co. Suff., ibid.

Roger Ellward, rector of Swanton Novers, co. Norf., 1332: FF. ix. 444.
London, 2; New York, 5.

Ellary.—Local; v. Elleray.

Ellaway; v. Allaway, a variant.

Ellen, Elen, Elin, Eline, Ellin.—Bapt. 'the son of Ellen,' i.e. Ellen or Eleanora, a favourite girl's name in the surname period, sometimes found as Alianora.

Agnes Eleyne, Fines Roll, 11 Edw. I: Kirby's Quest, p. 133.

William Elyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

William fil. Elinne, co. Norf., 1273. A. Henry fil. Elene, co. Linc., ibid.

Hugh fil. Elyenor, co. Bedf., ibid.
David fil. Elene, co. Camb., ibid.
Margaret fil. Eline, co. Suff., ibid.

Willelmus Elyne, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 135.

Margareta Helyn, 1379: ibid. p. 124.
Johannes Helyn, 1379: ibid.

1609. Married—John Payne and Hanna Elin; St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 161.

1791. — Thomas Ellen and Ann Cadby; St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 65.
London, 8, 2, 1, 0, 0; New York, 0, 0, 0, 1, 2.

Elleray, Ellery, Ellary.—Local, 'at the eller-ey,' i.e. the islet in the stream on which the ellers or alders grew; or 'at the eller-hay,' i.e. the eller enclosure (v. Hay). A North Lancashire surname. I have no distinct proof of either derivation. One more derivation may be suggested, that of eller-how (v. How). One spot in Furness is so called, and the surname is clearly of Furnessian parentage. Ellerhow would readily vary into Ellery.

1664. Agnes Ellerie, of Elleil: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 102.

1737. William Ellerey, of Hawkshead: ibid. (1681-1748), p. 93.

1772. Married—William Smith and Martha Ellery; St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 220.

1758. Bapt.—Margaret, d. James Ellerey: Ulverston Church, p. 353.

The variants in the last-named register are Elleray, Ellery, and Ellerah.

London, 0, 1, 0; Manchester, 1, 0, 0; Lancaster, 1, 0, 0; Liverpool, 0, 0, 1; New York, 0, 9, 0.

Ellerbeck.—Local, 'of Ellerbeck,' a township in the parish of Osmotherley, N. Rid. Yorks. The surname passed over the border and was found in North Lancashire comparatively early. The meaning is 'the streamlet by the ellers,' i.e. alder-trees; v. Beck. Of course the name is North English.

Alan de Ellerbek, co. York, 1273. A. Henricus de Ellerbek, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 257.

Matilda de Ellerbek, 1379: ibid.
Elena de Ellerbek, 1379: ibid. p. 229.

John de Ellerbec, co. Lanc., 1332; Lay Subsidi (Rylands), p. 118.

Richard de Ellerbek, co. Lanc., 1332: ibid. p. 109.

1669. Married—Robert Hudson and Eliz. Ellerbec: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 166.

1785. — Archibald Little and Jane Ellerbeck: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 369.

The following instance is interesting:

1551. Buried—Rychard Elderbeke: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 183.
Liverpool, 2; Ulverston, 1; Manchester, 2; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks.), 2.

Ellerby, Ellaby.—Local, 'of Ellerby,' (1) a township in the parish of Swine, E. Rid. Yorks.; (2) a township in the parish of Lythe, N. Rid. Yorks. The variant Ellaby seems to be a fairly old one. The meaning is 'the dwelling by the alder-trees.'

1620. Married—Richard Ellabye and Katherine Pellam: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 48.

1719. — Robert Cox and Mary Ellaby: St. Antholin (London), p. 132.

MDB. (North Rid. Yorks.), 5, 0; Sheffield, 0, 1.

Ellerker.—Local, 'of Ellerker,' i.e. the low-lying ground on which the ellers grew; more specifically, a township in the parish of Brantingham, E. Rid. Yorks.

John de Ellerker, tailleur: 8 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 16.

1593. Buried—William Ellerker, out of Mr. Woodroffe's howse: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 146.

1678. Bapt.—Frances, d. Francis Ellerker: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 282.
1679–80. Richard Furnis and Mary Ellerker, d. of John Ellerker, of Doncaster, co. York: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 149.

1752. Married—Richard Townsend and Mary Elleker: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 213.

MDB. (North Rid. Yorks.), 2; Ulverston, 1; MDB. (East Rid. Yorks.), 3.

Ellershaw.—Local, 'at the eller-shaw,' from residence beside a coppice of ellers, i.e. alder-trees; cf. Eldershaw, and v. Shaw. Many local names have this prefix, as Ellerbeck, Ellerton, Ellerby. Ellershaw is a Yorkshire surname. That county is still its chief habitat.

Thomas de Ellerschawe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 289.

Thomas Ellerschawe, of Tatham, 1631: Lanc. Wills at Richmond (1457–1680), p. 102.

Ellen Ellershaw, of Green, parish of Tatham, 1666: ibid.

From other sources I gather that Ellershaw hails from the neighbourhood of Tatham.

Liverpool, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 5; Philadelphia, 1.

Ellerton.—Local, 'of Ellerton,' (1) a parish in E. Rid. Yorks.; (2) two townships in N. Rid. Yorks. The lit. meaning is 'the dwelling by the alder-trees'; cf. Ashton.

(Prior) de Ellerton, co. York, 1273. A. John de Ellerton, lannour, 28 Edw. I: Freeman of York, i. 7.

Agnes de Ellerton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 32.

Johannes de Ellyrton, 1379: ibid. p. 148.

1749. Married—Thomas Whitehead and Mary Ellerton: St. Geo. Chapel, Mayfair, p. 139.

London, 2; West Rid. Court Dir., 6.

Ellesmere, Elsmere, Elsmore, Elsmoor.—Local, 'of Ellesmere,' a parish in co. Salop.

1616. Married—David Elsmore and Phillip Gowen: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 43.

1779. — Joseph Jerome and Eliz. Elsmore: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 303.

London, 0, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Salop), 1, 0, 0, 0; (co. Stafford), 0, 0, 4, 1.

Ellett, Elletson.—Bapt.; v. Ellet for full statement and many instances.

1770. Married—Richard Ellet and Mary Hayman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 196.

— Roger Hope Elletson and Anna Eliza Gamon: ibid.

London, 2, 0; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks.), 0, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Ellice.—Bapt. 'the son of Ellis' (q.v.); cf. whence, hence, thence, from whennes, hennes, thennes, and thens; also Pierce for Piers: 'Sir Pierce or Piers Butler, eighth earl of Ormonde and first earl of Ossory, died 1539' (Dict. Nat. Biog. viii. 72).

Cecilia Ellice, co. Camb., 1273. A. Duce Ellice, co. Oxf., ibid.

Ellice Cowper, temp. Eliz. Z. Ellice Apprice, ibid.

Ellice Price, co. Merioneth, 1607: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii, pt. ii. p. 299.

1805. Married—Edward Ellice and Lady Hannah Althea Bettesworth: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 417.

London, 1.

Ellicombe.—Local; v. Ellacombe.

Ellicot, Ellicott.—Local, 'of Elcote.' Not to be confounded with Ellisot, q.v. I made this mistake in my English Surnames. I cannot find the place. It is told of Dean Elliot, whose superior was Bishop Ellicott, that he was wont to say humorously that he was the bishop without the c, as good a pun as nomenclature ever boasted. The i in Ellicot is intrusive for euphony's sake; cf. Greenaway for Greenway, or Hathaway for Hathway.

Robert de Elcote, co. Wilts, 1273. A. 1628. Married—Silvester Price and Eliz. Elcott: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 252.

1799. — James Powell and Ann Elcott: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 199.

1800. — Edmund Ellecot and Sarah Tant: ibid. p. 221.

London, 0, 1; Crockford, 0, 1; New York, 0, 3.

Eliff, Ealiff.—Bapt. 'the son of Aylot'; v. Iliffe and Ayliffe.

London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Surrey), 2, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Ellingham.—Local, 'of Ellingham,' parishes in diocs. Durham, Norwich (2), and Winchester.

Ralph de Elingham, cellarer of Hoxne Priory, Norwich, 1272: FF. iii. 612.

William de Elingham, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Ralph de Elyngham, rector of Great Ellingham, co. Norf., 1362: FF. i. 485.

Walter de Elyngham, rector of West Lynn, co. Norf., 1429: ibid. viii. 535.

1690. Married—William Ellingham and Christian Doe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 208.

London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Ellingthorpe, Ellinthorp, Ellinthorpe.—Local, 'of Ellinthorpe,' a hamlet in the parish of Aldborough, N. Rid. Yorks.

MDB. (co. Lancaster), 1, 0, 0; Bradford, 0, 1, 0; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks.), 0, 0, 1.

Ellington.—Local, 'of Ellington,' (1) a parish in co. Huntingdon; (2) a township in the parish of Woodhorn, co. Northumberland; (3) a township in the parish of Masham, N. Rid. Yorks.

John de Ellington, co. Linc., 1273. A. Geoffrey de Ellinton, co. Glouc., ibid.

Henry de Ellington, co. Oxf., ibid.

John de Ellington, co. Northumb., ibid.

Ricardus de Elyngton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 234.

1640. Married—Paull Wright and Ann Ellington: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 257.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Elliot, Elliott, Eliot, Eliott.—Bapt. 'the son of Elias'; O.F.

Elye (Eng. Elias), dim. Elyot. One reason why Elliott is so largely represented in our directories is that it has absorbed nearly all our Elletts or Ellots, who are descended from Ellen; v. Ellet.

Elyot ad Cap' Ville, co. Camb., 1273.

- A.
Henry Elyot, co. Bucks, ibid.
Thomas Elyot, co. Camb., ibid.
Eliottus de Balliol. E.
Richard Eliot, 1307. M.
Adam Elyotson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 241.
Thomas Elyott, rector of Dickleburgh, co. Norf., 1303: FF. i. 194.
1607. Married—Thomas Eliot and Margaret Waite: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 18.
London, 13, 116, 1, 1; New York, 22, 104, 2, 4.

Ellis, Ellison.—Bapt. 'the son of Ellis'; O.E. Elis or Elys (Elias). Ellison may originate from the English form—thus Elis, Elis-son; or from the O.F. form, thus Elie, Elie-son. Instances of both are given below, but the Hundred Rolls abound with the name in all counties. This name was wonderfully popularized throughout Western Europe by the Crusaders. 'Elyce, propyr name (Ely, K., P.), Helias' : Prompt. Parv.

- Elis Kneyt, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
Henry fil. Elis, co. Camb., ibid.
Agnes uxor Elys, co. Camb., ibid.
Simon fil. Elys, co. Bedf., ibid.
Nicholas fil. Elye, co. Camb., ibid.
Roger fil. Elye, co. Salop, ibid.
Robert Elleson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 156.
Adam Elisson, 1379: ibid. p. 195.
Stephanus Elisson, smith, 1379: ibid. p. 3.
Alicia Elys, wyf, 1379: ibid. p. 33.
Elys Burton, 1379: ibid. p. 121.

In some cases, no doubt, Ellison is Elen-son.

- Cf. Johannes Elynson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 207.
Johannes Elynson, 1379: ibid. p. 208.
Alicia serviens Elene, 1379: ibid. p. 200.
Elena Mott, 1379: ibid.

Elene was wonderfully popular at the period. Elynson, of necessity, would become Ellison. The diminutives of the two names underwent the same confusion (v. Elliot and Ellet). I may add that Ellis was still a familiar font-name in the 16th century:

- Ellis Pigot, Didsbury, Manchester, 1597: Wills at Chester, i. 152.
Ellis Pollard, Great Harwood, 1587: ibid. p. 153.
1548. Ellis Pollard and Johanna Chapman: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 11.
London, 161, 22; Philadelphia, 188, 27.

Ellisot.—Bapt. 'the son of Ellisot,' from Ellis (q.v.), dim. Ellisot. A once very common pet name, which, strangely enough, has left no such mark on the directory as might have been expected. It was generally a girl's name, and a great favourite in Yorkshire in the 14th century.

- Elisote, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Ellisote Dispenser (fem.), co. Camb., ibid.
Thomas Tylour et Elisot' uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 111.
Elissota Scote, 1379: ibid. p. 109.
Adam Sturure et Elissot' uxor ejus, 1379: ibid.
Elisota Domicella. W. 2.
Elisot Bustard. ibid.

Elliston; v. Elston.

Ellithorne.—Local, 'at the eller-thorn,' i.e. the thorn-bushes by the ellers, or alder-trees. A North-English name. Probably the surname arose in the near neighbourhood of Ulverston. A portion of that town is called the Ellers, but the alder-trees have disappeared and the stream has become a drain, and is covered. The name in the Ulverston Ch. Register is found as Elithorn, Ellithorne, Elinthorne, Ellithorn, &c.

1599. Bapt.—Edward, s. John Ellithorn: Reg. St. Mary, Ulverston, i. 89.
— Jane, d. John Ellithorn: ibid. p. 90.

This register has very many entries of this surname.

1563. Buried—William Ellithorne: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 186.
1679. Edward Ellethorne, Lancaster: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 102.
Manchester, 1; Ulverston (1893), 2.

Ellot, Ellett, Elletson.—Bapt. 'the son of Elliot,' a female name, probably a dim. of Ellen, commonly found as Elene. Helot reminds us of Helen. Many of our Elliots no doubt owe their parentage to this name rather than Elias. The change from Elliot to Ellet would readily occur; v. Ellett.

- Elota Bryan, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 144.
Elloita de Ingleton, 1379: ibid. p. 289.
Johannes fil. Elloite, 1379: ibid. p. 290.
Johannes Helot, barker, 1379: ibid. p. 28.
Thomas Ellet and Richard Ellet, 1379: ibid. p. 36 (in close juxtaposition).
Peter de Balefeld, et Elot, sa femme, 1379: ibid. p. 43-45.
Johannes Ellotson, 1379: ibid.
Ebot Elot, 1379: ibid.
Henricus Helot, 1379: ibid.
Cf. Willelmus Helyn (for Elena), 1379: ibid. p. 62.
1617. Married—Richard Aill and Ann Ellett: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 44.
London, 0, 2, 0; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks), 0, 0, 1.

Ellsworth.—Local; v. Elsworth.

Ellwood, Elwood.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Aylward,' q.v. The variant Elward occurs in the 13th century.

- Robert Elward, co. Suff., 1273. A.
1603-4. William Elward and Alice Godfrey: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 284.

(2) Local, 'of Ellwood' (?). I cannot find the spot.

1609. George Ellwood and Thomasine Orgall: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 315.
1668. Married—James Ellwood and Eliza Wall: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 143.

Should no place-name Elwood exist, then our Elwoods and Ellwoods are mere local imitations, and really represent Elward, that is, they are of baptismal origin.

- London, 7, 2; New York, 2, 5.

Elmer, Elmar.—Bapt. 'the son of Elmer,' i.e. Aylmer, q.v. To be carefully distinguished from Elmore, q.v.

- Eylmer, fil. Sirich, co. Suff., 1273. A.
John Eylmer, co. Oxfr., ibid.
Elmericus de Besye, co. Suff., ibid.
Walter Elmer, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 166.
'Item, gevin to maistres Elmer, &c., xs,' 1537: Privy Purse Exp., Princess Mary, p. 28.
'Item, geven to Maistres Aelmer, &c., vs.,' 1537-8: ibid. p. 53.
1574. Married—Richarde Carter and Cecily Elmar: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 6.

1804. — John Elmer and Ann Gillam: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 303.
London, 7, 0; Philadelphia, 7, 1.

Elmhurst.—Local, 'of the elm-wood'; M.E. elm, Icel. almr, Dan. alm; for suffix, v. Hurst.

Alicia de Elmerst, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 80.
Robertus de Aylmeherst, 1379: ibid. p. 82.
Philadelphia, 1.

Elmore.—Local, 'of Elmore,' (1) a hamlet in co. Dorset, half a mile from Shaftesbury; (2) a parish in co. Gloucester, six miles from Gloucester. This surname must be distinguished from Elmer, although no doubt they have been confused. The index to the registers of St. James, Clerkenwell, puts Elmar and Elmer under the heading of Elmore. This is a great mistake.

1733. Married—Thomas Pitman and Mary Elmore: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 261.

London, 1; New York, 7.

Elms, Elmes.—(1) Local, 'at the elms,' from residence beside a clump of elm-trees, or some single elm in a prominent position; cf. Birch, Ash, Oak, &c.

John atte Elme, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 90.

William atte Elme, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 167.

Osbert atte Elme, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

(2) Local, 'of Elm,' (a) a parish in co. Somerset; (b) a parish in co. Cambridge.

Benedict de Elme, co. Soms., 1273. A.
Nicholas de Elme, prior of Wormegay, co. Norf., 1302: FF. vii. 500.

London, 7, 7; New York, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 6.

Elmslie, Emsley, Hemsley.—Local, 'of Helmsley,' a market-town in N. Rid. Yorks.

1796. Married—John Elmsley and Mary Hallowell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 151.

1804. — William Harris and Esbell Elmsley: ibid. p. 308.

MDb. (West Rid. Yorks.), 0, 10, 1; London, 6, 0, 6; Manchester, 0, 2, 0; New York, 1, 0, 0.

Elnor.—Bapt.; v. Elener.

Elouis.—Bapt., i.e. Heloise; v. Elwes.

Crockford, 1.

Elphick, Elphie, Elphicke, Elfick.—Bapt. 'the son of Ælfecch.' Mr. Lower says, 'Ælfecch occurs in Domesday as having been a sub-tenant in Sussex, temp. Edward the Confessor, and not long previously (1006) St. Elphegus or Alphegus was archbishop of Canterbury' (Patr. Brit. p. 103). This derivation seems natural.

1580-1. John Aynscombe and Susanna Elfecke, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 99.

Margaret Elphick, of Prescott, 1649: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 73.

Robert Elphicke, 1656: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 113.

1667. Married—John Ellthicke and Mary Atkins: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 136.

London, 2, 0, 0, 2; MDB. (co. Essex), 0, 1, 1, 0.

Elsam, Elsom.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Elselm,' probably a variant of Anselm.

Robert Elselm, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Ralph Elselm, co. Kent, ibid.

Richard Elsem, co. Kent, ibid.

(2) Local, 'of Elsham,' a parish in co. Lincoln, five miles from Glandford Bridge.

Hugh de Elsam, co. Linc., 1273. A.

1665. Married—Alexander Cooper and Eliz. Elsam: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 119.

1787. — George Jones and Priscilla Elsom: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 409.

London, 2, 2; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 0, 1; Manchester, 1, 1.

Else.—Bapt. 'the son of Ellis' (?), a variant of Ellis, q.v.

David Elyse, co. Flint, 1635: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 73.

1762. Married—Nathaniel Elkins and Isabella Els: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 115.

1785. — William Else and Margaret Saul: ibid. p. 368.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 3.

Elsmere, Elsmore, Elsmoor.—Local; v. Ellesmere.

Elson.—Bapt.; v. Ell.

Elstob.—Local, 'of Elstob,' a township in the parish of Stainton, co. Durham.

London, 2.

Elston, Ellston, Elliston.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Elstan,' an early personal name; cf. Dunstan.

Elstan de Bac, temp. Hen. II, co. Norf.: FF. xi. 66.

Henry Elstan, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

(2) Local, 'of Elston,' (a) a township in the parish of Preston, co. Lanc.; (b) a parish in co. Notts.

Ellen Elston, of Ribbleton, widow, 1587: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 102.

Anne Elston, of Preston, 1673: ibid.

George Elston, of Lytham, 1662: ibid.

A family of Elstons sprung from Elston in Preston parish has been resident in Heyhouses, Lytham, for several centuries.

Richard Elston, of Heyhouses, Litham, 1633: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 102.

1765. Married—William Elston and Christian Harcourt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 147.

London, 0, 1, 5; Lytham (Heyhouses), Elston, 1; New York, 4, 0, 0.

Elsworth, Ellsworth.—Local, 'of Elsworth,' a parish in co. Cambridge, near Caxton.

Thomas de Ellesworth, co. Camb., 20 Edw. I. R.

Albin de Ellesworthe, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Sanson de Ellesworth, co. Camb., ibid.

Robert de Elesworde, co. Camb., ibid.

1668. Married—Robert Elesworth and Anne Singelton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 147.

London, 2, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 16.

Eltaft, Eltoft.—Local, 'of the elm-toft'; v. Toft.

Johannes de Eltoft, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 205.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 0; Manchester, 0, 1.

Elvey, Elvy.—Bapt.; v. Alley.

1668. Married—Richard Valance and Margaret Elvey: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 155.

London, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Elvin, Elvins.—Bapt. 'the son of Aylwin'; v. Elwin, and cf. Elves for Elwes.

1755. Married—Emery Puttick and Elvin (or Elwin): St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 59.

London, 5, 1; New York, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Elwes, Elves.—Bapt. 'the son of Heloise' (Yonge, ii. 390), a popular English name in its day, generally found as Helwise or Helwys. Elwes in the London Visitation (1634) traces from Helwis, vel Helwish (i. 256).

William de Lancaster, Baron of Kendal (temp. Hen. II), 'married Helwise de Studevil, and by her had issue Helwise, his daughter, and heir': West's Ant. of Furness, p. 29.

That Elwes and Elwes now represent the name there can be no doubt.

Helevisa Swalwe, 1273. A.
Elwisia de Cream, ibid.
Helewys de Cream, ibid.
Elewis Hervi, co. Camb., ibid.
Johannes Helwys, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 295.
Nicholaus Helwys, firmarius, 1379: ibid.

Robertus Helwys, 1379: ibid. p. 15.
London, 2, 5; Crockford, 4, o.

Elwin, Elwyn.—Bapt. 'the son of Aylwin' (q.v.); cf. Elvin, a variant. The instances are all from East Anglia, where this personal name seems to have been exceedingly popular.

Bartholomew fil. Elewan, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Elewan Drynkale, co. Norf., ibid.
Elwyn le Heyward, co. Norf., ibid.
William Elwin, co. Suff., ibid.
Geoffrey Elwyne, co. Norf., ibid.
Elwinus de Parrok, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.

1532-3. Stephen Jonson and Agnes Elwyn: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 8.
London, 4, 1; Crockford, 6, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1, o.

Elwood; v. Ellwood.

Elworthy, Ellworthy.—Local, 'of Elworthy,' a parish in co. Somerset, six miles from Wiveliscombe.

London, 7, 1; MDB. (co. Somerset), 5, o.

Ely, Eley.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Elie' or 'Ely.' For many instances v. Ellis.

John fil. Elie, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.
Reginald fil. Elye, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Gilbert Elye, co. Kent, ibid.

(2) Local, 'of Ely,' the capital of the Fen district.

Nicholas de Ely, bailiff of Norwich, 1227: FF. iii. 58.

Michael de Ely, co. Norf., 1273. A.
John de Ely, co. Norf., ibid.
Alan de Ely, rector of Blickling, co. Norf.: FF. xi. 145.

1560. Married—Robarte Barrington and Jone Elye: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 4.

1619. — Daniel Bennett and Mary Eley: ibid. p. 19.
London, 4, 7; MDB. (Suffolk), 1, o; (Cambridge), 1, o; New York, 61, 3.

Embelin, Emblen, Emblin, Embling, Emblem.—Bapt. 'the son of Emelin,' popularly Emlin and (with intrusive b) Emblin. Emblem is an imitative corruption.

John fil. Emelyne, co. Soms., 20 Edw. I. R.
Willelmus Emelyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 109.

Emelina la Petyte, C. R., 12 Edw. II. 1439. John Emelyn, rector of Witchingham, co. Norf.: FF. viii. 310.

1602. Bapt.—Edward, s. William Emblin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 40.

The baptismal name with the intrusive b is found in several registers:

Emblen, d. of Thomas Horkie, 1585: Reg. St. Columb Major, Cornwall, p. 13.
Emblen, d. of John Jerman, 1586: ibid. 1639-40. John Hobson and Emblen Hornett: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 38.

The following represents a further corruption:

1665. Bapt.—John, s. Isaac and Imblin Miller: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 226.
London, 1, 2, 2, 1, 1; Manchester (Emblem), 2; Oxford (Embling), 2; New York (Emblin), 1.

Emberley.—Local, 'of Embley,' a tithing in the parish of East Wellow, co. Hants.

1691. Married—Edward Watts and Mary Embley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 209.

MDB. (co. Hants), 1.

Emberson.—Bapt. 'the son of Emery'; v. Emerson. The b in Emberson is, of course, intrusive.

London, 3; New York, 2.

Embery, Embrey, Embree, Embury.—Bapt. 'the son of Emery,' q.v. The b is intrusive; cf. Embelin.

1667. Married—John Embree and Mary Odaway: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 139.

1789. — Benjamin Embry and Sarah Butcher: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 31.

London, 1, o, o, o; MDB. (co. Salop), o, 1, o, o; New York, o, o, 6, 4.

Embleton.—Local, 'of Embleton,' (1) a parish in co. Northumberland; (2) a chapelry in co.

Durham, parish of Sedgefield; (3) a chapelry in co. Cumberland, parish of Brigham.

London, 8.

Emelot.—Bapt. 'the son of Emma,' from the nick. Em, and double dim. Em-el-ot; cf. Hewlett for Hew-el-ot; v. Hewlett.

Emelot (without surname). J.
Elena Emelot, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Robert Emelot, co. Hunts, ibid. 1619. Bapt.—Mary, d. — Emilt: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 84.

Emeny, Emney, Emmoney, Emmens, Emanson, Eminson, Emons.—Bapt. 'the son of Imayne' (not in Miss Yonge's Glossary). Once a popular girl's name, now passed into oblivion.

Imania de Monte Alto, 20 Edw. I. R.
Emoni Turbend, co. York, 1273. A.
Ymánya de Thuyt, co. Norf., ibid.
Johannes Ymanie, co. Kent, ibid.
Golda Ymaie, co. Camb., ibid.
Imanie Spurgold, co. Camb., ibid.
Emayn de Ireby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 225.
Imayne de Nesfeld, 1379: ibid. p. 239.
Johannes Nemyny, 1379: ibid. p. 32.

This last is manifestly a nick. form; cf. Nibbs, Nopps, Nabbs, &c.

Imyne Chatterton, of Heaton Norris, widow, 1594: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 39.

Pardon to Robert Emanson, yeoman, of Berwick, for piracy, June 8, 1594: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), iii. 515.

1610. Married—Emonie Thurston (masculine): Elmham Ch., co. Norfolk.

1675. Buried—Emmynie Burgess: Great Fransham Ch., co. Norfolk.

1707. Married—William Best and Frances Immynes: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 54.

1717. — William Emmins and Eliz. House: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 240.

1782. — Samuel Love and Jane Imons: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 339.

1783. — Joseph Grey and Ann Emens: ibid. p. 353.

1792. — Thomas Emans and Mary Ann Blandford: ibid. ii. 73.

The latest instance I have noticed of Emeny as a baptismal name is the following:

1777. Married—Emeny Codd and Mary Carley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 274.

London, 4, o, o, 3, o, 1, 1; MDB. (co. Berks), Emeny, 1; (co. Notts), Emmens, 1.

Emerick, Emerich.—Bapt. 'the son of Emeric'; v. Emery and Amery.

Emerie de Bezill, co. Norf., 1273. A.
 Emericus de Sacy. B.
 Emericus de Bosco. C.
 1807. Married—John Emmerich and
 Mary Green: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 375.
 London, 1, 0; New York, 2, 4.

Emerson.—Bapt. 'the son of Emery,' q.v.; more generally
 Amery; v. Empson.

Richard Emryson, co. York. W. 12.
 John fil. Emerici, c. 1300. M.
 William Emeryson, co. York. W. 8.
 Richard Emerson, co. York. W. 2.
 1529. William Emerson and Mary
 Newce: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 7.
 London, 16; Philadelphia, 26.

Emerton.—Local, 'of Ember-ton,' a parish in co. Bucks.

Nicholas de Emberton, co. Bucks.
 Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.
 1560. Henry Edmente and Joan Emerton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 42.
 1688. Bapt.—William, s. Richard Emerton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 328.
 London, 4; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Emery.—Bapt. 'the son of Emery' or 'Amery,' q.v. Emery lingered on to the close of the 18th century as a girl's or boy's name.

1602. Married—Emerye Tilney and
 Eliz. Hart: St. Mary Aldernary, p. 10.
 1669. — Edmund Baker and Easter
 Emerye: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 162.
 1785. — George Bye and Emery Lane:
 St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 381.
 London, 17; Philadelphia, 66.

Emes; v. Eames.

Emley, Embley, Emely.—
 Local, 'of Emley' or 'Elmley,' a parish near Wakefield. There are also two parishes in co. Worcester, viz. Elmley Lovett and Elmley Castle.

Alfred de Elmeleie, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
 Peter de Elmeleie, co. Oxf., ibid.
 John de Emelay, 1318. M.
 Magot de Emley, of Doncaster, 1379:
 P. T. Yorks. p. 46.
 Willelmus de Emley, of Doncaster,
 1370: ibid.

1691. Married—Edward Watts and Mary Embley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii.
 200.

MDb. (West Rid. Yorks), 0, 2, 0;
 Newcastle, 1, 0, 0; Sheffield, 0, 1, 0;
 Manchester, 1, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 0, 1.

Emmott, Emmotson, Em-
 met, Emmets, Emmett, Emott, Emmitt.—Bapt. 'the son of Emma,' from nick. Emm, dim. Emm-ot or Emm-et. A very favourite form of the name in Yorkshire, but popular all over the country. It is found in burial registers in Furness till the year 1790 as a Christian name.

1433. 'Dispensation from Selow for Richard de Akerode and Emmotte de Greenwood to marry, they being related in the fourth degree. Issued from Rome by Jordan, Bishop of Alba,' &c.: Test.
 Ebor. iii. 317.

Emmot de Kibar, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
 III: Kirby's Quest, p. 149.
 Emmote Kneyt, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
 Emmete de Fur, co. Camb., ibid.
 Emmot Rokelar, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
 p. 46.

Johannes Emmotson, 1379: ibid.

p. 133.
 Emmota serviens Johannis, 1379: ibid.

p. 269.
 Adam Emotson, 1379: ibid. p. 37.

Emmet Chapman, co. York. W. 9.
 Emmetta Catton, London. X.

Emmot Plummer, co. York. W. 2.
 1579. Edmund Ball and Emott Burton:
 Marriage Lic. (London), i. 91.

1613. Bapt.—Marie, d. Thomas Em-met: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 111.

1710. Married—George Emmott and Mary Harding: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii.
 232.

London, 2, 0, 1, 1, 9, 0, 0; New York,
 0, 0, 19, 0, 5, 3, 0; Philadelphia (Em-mott), 2; MDb. (West Rid. Yorks), Emmitt, 1.

Emms, Emps.—Bapt. 'the son of Emma,' from the nick. Emm, whence the dim. Emm-ot, q.v.
 Also cf. Emps with Empson for Em-son with intrusive p.

Robert Em, of Stody, co. Norf., 4 Edw.
 III: FF. ix. 439.

Richard Eme, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:
 Kirby's Quest, p. 175.

1554. Edmund Emmes, rector of Hasingham, co. Norf.: FF. vii. 234.

1502. Married—Henry Smyth and Emme Unquier: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,
 iii. 16.

1622. Nicholas Emms, sheriff of Norwich: ibid. iii. 371.

1641. Buried—Em White, an ancient mayd: St. Mary Aldernary, p. 166.

A Puritan Christian name appears in the following:

'Here lieth the body of Preserved, the daughter of Thomas Preserved Emms, who departed this life in the 18th year of her age, on the 17th of November, 1712.'
 Yarmouth Church: FF. xi. 393.

1807. Married—Thomas Emms and Martha Allen: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 370.

London, 8, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Emperor.—Nick. 'the emperor'; cf. King, Bishop, and the French Lempriere, now a settled resident in England.

Richard le Emperor. G.
 1685. Robert Emperor, common councilman, Norwich: FF. iii. 423.

1735. Buried—William Emperor, of Norwich: ibid. iv. 297.

1805. Married—John Emperor and Ann
 Berry: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 326.

Empsall; v. Hemshall.

Empson.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Emery,' whence Emerson, corrupted to Emson, and with intrusive p to Empson. This is proved by the following entries relating to one and the same man:

Richard Emryson, 1490: Scriba Regis-tri Domini Prioris Dunelm. (HHH. p. 16.)

Richard Emerson, 1491: ibid.

Richard Empson, 1495: ibid.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Emma,' from the nick. Em or Emm, whence Emson, and with intrusive p Emp-son. This, no doubt, is the more general origin.

Johannes Emson, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
 p. 185.

Johannes Emmeson, 1379: ibid. p. 127.

Rogerus Emson, 1379: ibid. p. 41.

Robertus Emmeson, 1379: ibid. p. 60.

John Emyson, vicar of Great Carbrook,
 co. Norf., 1522: FF. ii. 338.

William Empson, co. Norf., 1507: ibid.
 iv. 257.

1808. Married—Edward Empson and
 Helen Steel: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 394.

London, 6; West Rid. Court Dir., 3.

Endacott, Endecott, Endicott.—Local, 'of Endacott' (?), a spot in co. Devon which I cannot find.

London, 0, 1, 0; MDb. (co. Devon), 8,
 0, 0; Devon Dir. (Farmers' List), 9, 0, 1;
 Philadelphia, 0, 0, 5.

Enefer, Enever, Ennever.—

Bapt. Probably a g-less pronunciation of the once popular Gwenever, whence the Cornish Jenifer, q.v.

1631. Buried—Eliz. Ennever, a servant:
 St. Mary Aldernary, p. 167.

1741. — John Ennever: St. Michael,
 Cornhill, p. 295.

London, 3, 4, 1; MDb. (co. Suffolk), 2,
 0, 0; New York, 0, 0, 7.

Engall.—Bapt. 'the son of Engal' or 'Ingle'; v. Ingle; cf.
 German Engel, recently imported into the London directories.

London, 4.

Engeldew, Engeldow, Engledow; v. Ingledew.

1787. Married—Charles Park Engledow and Jane Bright: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 406.

London, o, 1, o; Crockford, o, o, 1.

Engilard.—Bapt. 'the son of Engilard.'

Engilardus fil. Ralph, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Richard fil. Engilar, co. Salop, ibid.

William Iggelard, co. Sussex, ibid.

Isabel Engilard, co. Bedf., ibid.

London, 2.

Engineer.—Occup. 'the engineer'; v. Jenner.

England.—Local, 'of the Ingland,' either Inge's land, i.e. the land of Inge, a personal name (v. Yonge, ii. 248), or, more probably, the ing-land, i.e. the meadow-land by the stream. 'Ing, a meadow, generally one lying near a river. North' (Hallewill); v. Ing. Nothing to do with England as national territory. But surnames, as shown in hundreds of instances in this dictionary, inevitably tend to imitation.

Alicia de Ingeland, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 225.

Isabella Ingeland', 1370: ibid. p. 186.

Willelmus Ingland', 1379: p. 193.

Robertus Ingland, 1379: ibid.

1668. Married—Joseph Ingland and Anne Smith: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 141.

London, 17; Philadelphia, 24.

Englebert.—Bapt. 'the son of Englebert'; v. Yonge, ii. 249. The American instances are a German importation.

Engelbert Blund. E. Philadelphia, 6.

Englefield.—Local, 'of Englefield,' a parish in co. Berks, six miles from Reading.

William de Engelfeld, co. Devon, 1273. A.

William de Englefeld, co. Kent, ibid.

John de Engelfeld, co. Oxf., ibid.

Thomas de Engelfeld, co. Oxf., ibid.

London Court Dir., 3.

English.—Local, 'the English,' no doubt the Scotch Inglis anglicized, as English in England would be an unlikely sobriquet; v. Inglis.

William le English, co. Soms., i. Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 230.

As le Frenssh is so common in this register it is quite possible that in some cases a feeling of opposition gave rise to a nickname; a game of French and English at an early date. But the Scotch Inglis is no doubt the chief parent.

1668. Married—Richard Inglish and Eliz. Macland: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 146.

London, 19; Philadelphia, 110.

Enion.—Bapt.; v. Eynon.

Ennever.—Bapt.; v. Enefer.

Enright.—? — An Irish surname found frequently in the United States. It is placed here as the second syllable looks like the English suffix -wright, as in Arkwright, Cartwright, Wainwright, &c., with which, however, it has no connexion.

1805. Married—Patrick Enright and Catherine Eagon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 334.

London, 1; Liverpool, 1; New York, 20; Philadelphia, 11.

Ensor, Edensor.—Local, 'of Edensor,' a parish in co. Derby, two miles from Bakewell. Always pronounced Ensor.

Richard de Edenesore, co. Camb., 1273. A.

1604. Daniel Ensor and Eliz. Wymple: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 286.

1796. Married—John Ensor and Amphilis Mapes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 152.

London, 2, o; MDB. (co. Somerset), 1, o; (co. Stafford), 1, 1; (co. Derby), 1, 2.

Ensworth.—Local, 'of Ainsworth,' most probably a variant of the well-established Lancashire surname Ainsworth, q.v. In any case Ensworth has become absorbed in the county by Ainsworth.

William Eansworth, corporal, co. Ches., 1651: East Cheshire, ii. 68.

John Ensworth, of Robie, co. Lanc., 1671: Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 89.

William Ensworth, of Hulme, co. Lanc., 1672: ibid.

Nicholas Ensworth, of Heswall, yeoman, 1664: ibid.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Entwistle, Entwistle, Entwistle.—Local, 'of Entwistle,' a township in the parish of Bolton, co. Lancaster.

Robert de Henneswisle, co. Lanc., temp. John: Baines' Lanc. i. 576.

Giles Entwistle, of Entwistle, 1582: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 61.

Robert Entwistle, of the Foxholes, 1574: ibid.

Thomas Entwistle, of Entwistle, 1620: ibid.

1622. Johannes Enwhisley: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 90.

London, 1, 8, o; Manchester, 6, 8, 1; Entwistle, o, 1, o; New York, 2, 5, o.

Envious.—Nick, 'the envious.'

I do not think this surname has survived. It seems to have sprung up in co. Norfolk.

Hamo le Enveyse, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Geoffrey le Envyse, co. Norf., ibid.

William le Enuyse (u for v), co. Herts, ibid.

Silvester le Enueyse (u for v), co. Hunts, ibid.

William l'Enveyse, temp. Hen. III, co. Norf.: FF. x. 163.

Epperson, Epps, Eppson.—

Bapt. 'the son of Ebb'; v. Ebbs.

Erlam, Earlem, Earlam.—

Local, 'of Irlam,' a hamlet in the township of Barton-on-Irwell, near Manchester; v. Irlam.

George Erlam, of Erlam, husbandman, 1637: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 74.

Thomas Erlam, of Eccles, innkeeper, 1636: ibid.

Thomas Erlam, of Erlam, husbandman, 1647: ibid.

MDb. (co. Chester), 2, o, 3; Manchester, o, 1, 1.

Ervin, Erwin.—Local; v. Irving.

Escombe, Escolme, Escome,

Eskholme.—Local, 'of Escombe,' a chapelry near Bishop Auckland, co. Durham. As regards the Lancashire forms, it would seem as if they were sprung from some spot called Eskholm, i.e. the little island in the Esk (v. Holmes). Eskdale in co. Cumberland would thus be the birthplace of this surname.

Roger de Esteumbe, London, 1273. A.

Thomas Escholme, of Ellet, 1608: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457

1680), p. 103.

John Escome, of Pilling, 1611: ibid.

Roger Escome, of Forton, 1661: ibid.

London, 3, o, o, o; Preston, o, o, 1, o;

MDb. (co. Lancaster), o, 2, o, o; Rotherham, o, o, o, 3.

Escreet, Escritt.—Local, 'of Eskrigg.' I doubt not these are mere corruptions of Eskrigg, being found not far from the district in which that surname took its rise. The instances given under Eskrigge, q.v., strongly confirm this view.

MDB. (East Rid. Yorks), 1, 1.

Esh.—(1) Local, 'of Esh' or 'Ash,' a chapelry in the parish of Lanchester, five miles from Durham. (2) Local, 'at the esh,' from residence beside some particular and familiar ash-tree. 'Esche, tre, fractinus' (fraxinus, P.): Prompt. Parv. p. 143.

1337. John de Fraxino, alias Atte Eshe, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 476.

1345. Roger atte Eshe, co. Norf.: ibid. v. 145.

1453. Richard Esh, rector of Morley, co. Norf.: ibid. ii. 480.

MDB. (East Rid. Yorks), 3.

Eshelby, Exelby.—Local, 'of Exelby,' a township in the parish of Burneston, N. Rid. Yorks, near Bedale. I think there can be little doubt that Eshelby is a variant of Exelby. It runs side by side with Exelby in the very district in which the two surnames arose. My second instance below is confirmatory, supplying as it does an intermediate pronunciation.

William de Askelby, mercer, 15 Edw. III.: Freeman of York, i. 35.

1577. Edmond Bainham and Ellen Esclbee: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 77.

1594. Henry Hankin and Jane Excclbie: ibid. p. 215.

1790. Married—John Eshelby and Sarah Adcock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 197.

MDB. (West Rid. Yorks), 1, 4; (North Rid. Yorks), 2, 1; London, 2, 0.

Eskholme.—Local; v. Escombe, where it will be seen that two surnames of separate origin have become confused together.

Eskrigge.—Local, 'of Eskrige,' a chapelry in the parish of Lancaster, co. Lanc. For two curious variants, v. Escreet.

Thomas Eskrigge, of Over Kellet, 1569: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1600), p. 102.

Roger Aiskrigge, of Over Kellet, 1592: ibid.

Anne Esricke, of Esricke, 1624: ibid. Robert Eskrigg, of Eskrigg, 1670: ibid.

1562. Peter Estgrigge and Catherine Kellie: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 23.

1583. Bapt.—Mathewe Eskrigg: St. Mary, Ulverston, p. 80.

1596. Buried—Thomas Eskrige: ibid. p. 114.

Liverpool, 2; MDB. (co. Chester), 2.

Esmond.—Bapt. 'the son of Estmund'; v. Eastman.

London, 1; New York, 2.

Essex.—Local, 'of Essex'; cf. Derbyshire, Devonshire, Cheshire, &c.

Henry de Essex, co. Suff., Hen. III. Edw. I. K.

Roger de Essex, co. Essex, 1273. A.

Ralph de Essex, co. Glouc., ibid.

Wolmer de Essex, London, ibid.

Walter de Essex, co. Herts, 20 Edw. I. R.

Johannes de Essex, 1379: P. T. Howden-shire, p. 22.

1553-4. John Essex and — Barbor, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 14.

1710. Bapt.—Frances, d. John Essex, music master: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 149.

London, 6; Philadelphia, 8.

Estabrook, Esterbrook.—Local; v. Easterbrook.

Estcourt.—Local, 'of Eastcourt,' a tithing in the parish of Crudwell, co. Wilts.

London, 1; Crockford, 2; MDB. (East Rid. Yorks), 1; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Estridge.—Local, 'of Estridge.' William de Esteryge, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Crockford, 1.

Etchells, Etchell.—Local, 'of Etchells,' an old manor and township in the parish of Stockport, co. Ches. Many entries relating to this family will be found in the register of Marple Church, Cheshire. Amongst the owners of land in Marple in 1662 was George Etchells (v. East Cheshire, ii. 53, n.).

1561. Buried—Ellen Ecchuls: Reg. Prestbury Ch. (co. Ches.), p. 6.

1570. Married—Robert Proudlove and Emme Etchuls: ibid. p. 30.

William Etchells, of Lymm, co. Chester, 1613: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 61.

Richard Etchells, of Pott Shrigley, 1604: ibid.

Manchester, 6, 3; MDB. (co. Chester), 3, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 2.

Eteson, Ettson.—Bapt. 'the son of Ede'; v. Eddie, of which these are sharpened variants; cf. Tennyson for Dennison. Also v. Ety.

'Two youths named Eteson and Wignall were drowned yesterday afternoon on the river Ribble at Preston by the upsetting of a boat': Liverpool Mercury, April 23, 1889.

West Rid. Court Dir., 3, 0; New York, 0, 1.

Etheredge, Etheridge, Ethridge, Etridge.—Local, 'of Etheridge' or 'Etridge.' I cannot find the spot.

1773. Married—George Etheredge and Ann Lowder: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 230.

1786. — Thomas Etheridge and Ann Fairbrother: ibid. p. 383.

— Mark Walton and Catherine Ethridge: ibid. p. 386.

London, 1, 5, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 0, 0; New York (Etridge), 1.

Etherington, Ethrington, &c.—Local; v. Hetherington.

London, 5, 0; Preston, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0.

Etty.—Bapt. 'the son of Eddie,' a sharpened form of the surname Eddie, q.v.; cf. Eteson for Eddison.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Etwall, Ettwell.—Local, 'of Etwall,' a parish in co. Derby, six miles from the county town; v. Eatwell.

Robert de Etwalle, co. Derby, 1273. A.

Henry Etwell, C. R., 20 Edw. IV.

London, 0, 1; MDB. (co. Hants), 3, 0.

Eustace, Ewstace, Eustes, Eustis.—Bapt. 'the son of Eustace,' St. Eustachius (Yonge, i. 209-10).

Eustace le Chaloner, C. R., 32 Edw. I.

Adam fil. Eustace, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Henry fil. Ewstace, co. Hunts, ibid.

Richard Eustace, co. Camb., ibid.

William fil. Eustachii, co. Norf., 20 Edw. I. R.

Lucia Eustasy, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 131.

Robert Ewstace, 1513: Reg. Univ. Oxfr. i. 85.

There are some curious spellings of this name:

1747. Married—George Cook and Mary Eustiss: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 38.

1770. — John Ewstes and Mary Hobbs: ibid. p. 299.

London, 6, 1, 0, 0; New York, 12, 0, 1, 1.

Evance.—Bapt. 'the son of Evan'; v. Evans; cf. Ellice and Avice for Ellis and Avis. Latimer spells it Evance. 'Right Honourable, salutem. And, Sir, as I perceive, by this bearer, Mr. Evance, &c. (Letters to Lord Cromwell, Aug. 1538, Parker Soc., p. 399).

1630. Buried—John, son of William Evance: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 231.
1788. Married—James Yates and Jane Evance: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 3.

Evans, Evanson.—Bapt. 'the son of Evan,' a Welsh personal name.

Howell ap Yevan. H.
David ap Evan. Z.
Joane Howell ap Evan Sais: Visit. Glouc. (Harl. Soc.), p. 180.

The first form of the name seems to have been Jevon, then Yevan, lastly and permanently, Evan; v. Jevon.

Philadelphia, 472, 4; MDB. (co. Carmarthen), 183, o.

Eve, Eves, Evison, Eaves, Eaveson.—Bapt. 'the son of Eve,' Adam was the favourite boy's name throughout the north of England in the 13th century. Eve was not so popular, yet it took firm ground. The form Eaves is generally of local origin (v. Eaves), but not always, as Eaveson clearly shows.

Eva Texitrix, co. York, 1273. A.
John fil. Eve, co. Camb., ibid.
Reginald fil. Eve, co. Bedf., ibid.
Cecilia fil. Eve. T.
Eva le Warre. J.
Eva Chapman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 3.
1568. Married—Pawle Osterlynge and Agnes Eve: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 4.
1573-4. John Evison and Isabell Smithe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 59.
1575. Robert Mannoppe and Johanna Eve: ibid. p. 67.

London, 8, 5, 3, 1, o; Manchester (Eaveson), 2; Philadelphia, 2, 2, 2, 1, o.

Eveleigh.—Local, 'of Eveleigh.' I have not been able to find the spot.

London, 2.

Eveling, Evelyn, Eveline.—Bapt. 'the son of Aveline'; v. Aveling.

London, 1, o, o; Crockford, o, 2, o; Philadelphia, o, o, 1.

Evelot.—Bapt. 'the son of Eve' (q.v.), from the double dim. Ev-elot; cf. Hewlett.

John Evelot, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 158.

Evelot Wascel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 199.

John Evelote, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 226.

Evenden.—Local, 'of Evenden,' evidently a Kentish surname, although I have not identified the spot. The Hundred Roll instances manifestly refer to the place.

Gunnora de Ethinden, co. Kent, 1273. A.
Richard de Ethinden, co. Kent, ibid.
1755. Married—Edward Evenden and Mary Sparrow: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 57.
1782. — James Evenden and Sarah Collett: ibid. p. 329.
London, 2, o; MDB. (co. Kent), 4, 2.

Evenett—Bapt. 'the son of Eve,' from the double dim. Ev-in-et; cf. Rob-in-et, Col-in-et, Dob-in-et. Evenett exists at Church Coniston, North Lanc. (v. Ulverston Advertiser, July 1, 1886).

Everard, Evered, Everett, Everitt, Everit.—Bapt. 'the son of Everard' (Yonge, ii. 272-3). Everett and Everitt are natural modifications.

Fulco fil. Everardi, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.
Nicholas fil. Everardi, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Alan Everard, co. Oxf., ibid.
Everard de la Mer, C. R., 13 Edw. I.
Johannes Everard, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 301.

The step between Everard and Everett or Everitt was Evered. The final d was then sharpened into t.

1527. Thomas Jeffes and Margery Evered: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 6.
1619. Bapt.—Everitt, s. George Saunders: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 85.
1666. Married—Edward Everet and Ann Walcock: ibid. iii. 125.
London, 6, 3, 24, 8, o; New York, 2, o, 29, 5, 7.

Everingham.—Local, 'of Everingham,' a parish in the E. Rid. Yorks, five miles from Market Weighton.

Adam de Everingham, co. Notts, 1273. A.
1672. Bapt.—Mary, d. Robert Everingham: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 253.
London, 2.

Eversden.—Local, 'of Eversden,' two parishes (Great and Little Eversden) near Caxton, co. Cambridge.

Lucia de Eversiden, co. Camb., 1273. A.
John de Eversdone, ibid.

William de Eversdone, ibid.
London, 1.

Eversley.—Local, 'of Eversley,' a parish in Hants, three miles from Hartford Bridge.

John de Eversley, co. Kent, 1273. A.
Walter de Eversley, co. Kent, ibid.
London Court Dir., 1.

Everson, Every.—Bapt. 'the son of Everard,' q.v.

Nicholas Everardsonne. BB.
Peter Everardsonne, ibid.
Fulco fil. Everardi. R.

Perhaps some of our Eversons are from the abbreviated form of Everard, viz. Every.

1667. Married—Mathew Everson and Bridgett Lasey: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 130.

London, 8, 2; Philadelphia, 2, o; New York, 7, 3.

Evetts, Evitt, Evett.—Bapt. 'the son of Eve,' dim. Evot or Evet. This dim. was especially popular in cos. York and Durham. William de Kyrkby (A.D. 1391) bequeathed articles to 'Evoe uxori Johannis Parvyng.' Further on in his will he speaks of the aforementioned 'Evotam' (Test. Ebor. i. 145-6, Surtees Soc.).

Evota de Durham. X.
Evota de Bolthorp, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 21.
Evota Butty, 1379: ibid. p. 11.
Evota de Stanley, co. York. W. 2.
William Evote. X.
1691. Buried—Joseph Evatt: St. Mary Aldermar, p. 201.
1717. Married—Arnold Evetts and Sarah Antram: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 240.
1789. — James Evett and Mary Humphrys: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 24.
London, 1, 2, o; New York, o, o, 1; Philadelphia, o, 1, o.

Evilechild.—Nick.; cf. Goodchild.

Alan Evilechild, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Evington.—Local, 'of Evington,' a parish near Leicester, in the county of that name.

Manchester, 1.

Evinson.—Bapt.; v. Evans. An American variant of Evanson.
Boston (U.S.), 1.

Ewart, Youart, Ewert.—(1) Occup. 'the ewe-herd,' one who tended ewes; cf. Calvert, Coward, Oxnard, Shepherd, &c.

This is no mere guess, as may be easily seen from my instances. The name is found in the district where we should expect to see it.

Matilda Yowherd, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 266.

Thomas Yowhyrd, 1379: ibid. p. 264.
Johannes Ewehird, 1379: ibid. p. 22.

The next stage in spelling was Eward; cf. Coward:

John Eward, of Burton, 1646: Lanc. Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 103.
Jane Eward, of Burton-in-Kendal, 1678: ibid.

This became Ewart; cf. Calvert.

(2) Local, 'of Ewart,' a township in the parish of Doddington, co. Northumberland. The Scotch border Ewarts sprang from this place, and are well represented in English directories.

Miss Youart advertises her School in the Ulverston News, Jan. 23, 1886.
London, 6, 0, 0; New York, 3, 0, 3.

Ewbank, Ewebank, Eubank.—Local, 'of the yew-bank,' from residence on the bank where the yew-trees grew (v. Ewes); cf. Windibank, Gillbanks, Calderbank, Fairbank, &c.

George Ewbanke, or Ubancke, of Holmscales, in the parish of Burton, 1636: Lanc. Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 103.

1587. Thomas Ubancke and Rose Baker: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 160.
1805. Married—William Ubank and Sarah Bouch: St. Mary, Ulverston, ii. 453.
MDB. (W. Rid. Yorks), 2, 1, 0; London, 3, 0, 0; New York, 0, 0, 1.

Ewen, Ewing, Ewan, Ewings, Ewins.—Bapt. 'the son of Ewan.' Not always Scotch, as the font-name was popular in North England. Probably cognate with the Welsh Evan. The g in Ewing and Ewings is, of course, excrescent, as in Jennings.

Ewanus Byrches, 1562: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 28.

Ewanus Burye, 1562: ibid. p. 29.

Ewanus Barwick, 1562: ibid.

Ewanus Dilworth, 1562: ibid.

Ewanus Kellett, 1562: ibid.

Manchester, 4, 3, 1, 0, 0; London, 6, 3, 0, 1, 3; Philadelphia, 3, 79, 3, 0, 0.

Ewer.—Offic. 'the ewer,' an officer of the ewery (v. Ewery), one who ministered at the table of his lord, and carried water round for the guests; v. Napier.

Brian le Ewer. E.
Richard le Ewere. H.
William le Ewer. T.

1565. Married—Robert Ewer and Alyce Worrall: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 9.

1592. Francis Ewer, co. Herts, yeoman, and Johanna Siblee: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 190.

1665. Married—Jacob Ewer and Joane Banbury: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 31.

1710. — William Lovett and Sarah Ewer: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 232.
London, 6; Boston (U.S.), 7.

Ewery.—Local, 'of the ewery,' equivalent to 'le ewer' (v. preceding article), an officer of the ewery, one who superintended the scullery, either in a religious or a baronial house. He also looked after the basins in which guests washed their hands before, during, and after meals. The absence of forks would make such attendance welcome.

1503. 'Item, to Thewry, xxs': Privy Purse Exp. Eliz. of York, p. 90.

Ricardus del Ewry, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 204.

Johannes del Ewry, 1379: ibid. p. 214.

Ewes, Ewe.—Local, 'at the yew-trees,' or singly 'at the yew-tree'; M.E. ew.

'Maple, thorn, beche, hazel, ew, whipaltre.' Chaucer, C. T. 2925.

The surname is doubtless lost in Hughes.

Jordan del Ewe, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

John del Ewe, co. Salop, ibid.

Johannes del Ewes, et Agnes uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 61.

Johannes del Ewes, et Sara uxor ejus, walker, 1379: ibid.

1684. Bapt.—Richard, son of Richard and Mary Ewe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 309.

Philadelphia, 0, 4.

Exall, Excell.—Local, 'of Exhall,' two parishes in co. Warwick. The variant Excell is clearly imitative of the dictionary word excel, to surpass. Endless similar imitations are scattered throughout this book. v. Axtell.

1701. Married—Richard Exall and Eliz Bushbey: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 224.

1796. — Samuel Willington and Esther Excell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 156.

1808. — Aam (Adam?) Francis Laijmond and Ann Excell: ibid. p. 379.
London, 1, 2.

Excuser.—Offic. 'the excuser,' one who took up causes and freed from charges (?).

Peter le Escuzer. H.

Exton.—Local, 'of Exton,' (1) a parish in co. Rutland, five miles from Oakham; (2) a parish in co. Somerset, four miles from Dulverton; (3) a parish in Hants, fifteen miles from Alton. The last seems to be the parent of the surnames.

Alexander de Exton, co. Devon, 1273. A.
Nicholas de Extone, co. Wilts, 20 Edw. I. R.

Gervase de Exton, co. Devon, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

William de Exton, co. Devon, ibid.

Richard de Extone, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 178.

1770. Married—William Berry and Amya Exton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 96.
London, 1.

Ey, Eye.—Local, 'of Eye,' (1) a parish in co. Suffolk; (2) a parish in co. Northampton; (3) a parish in co. Hereford.

Stephen de Eye, co. York, 1273. A.

Ernald de Ey, co. Norf., ibid.

Agnes de Eye, co. Camb., ibid.

Peter atte Eye, co. Norf., 11 Edw. III: FF. viii. 286.

London, 1, 0; New York, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Eyles.—?

John Eyle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 102.

London, 5; Oxford, 3.

Eynon, Enion.—Bapt. 'the son of Eignion' or 'Enion,' a Welsh surname; v. Benyon for history and further instances.

William ap-Eynon, 1384: Hist. and Ant. St. David's, p. 369.

Morgan ap-Eynon, 1384: ibid. p. 369.

Morgan ap-Eineon, archdeacon of Brecon, 1380: ibid. p. 360.

Thomas Eynon, archdeacon of Brecon, 1758: ibid. p. 360.

Manchester, 0, 1; Liverpool, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Carmarthen), 3, 0; Philadelphia, 6, 0.

Eyre, Ayre.—Offic. or nick: 'the heir'; M.E. heyre, eyr, or eyre; O.F. heir, the h, of course, being silent.

Henry le Eyer, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Adam le Eyr, co. Camb., ibid.

William le Eyre, co. Camb., ibid.

London, 20, 2; Philadelphia, 32, 1.

Eyton.—Local, 'of Eyton,' (1) a parish in co. Hereford; (2) a township in the parish of Albury, co. Salop; (3) a chapelry in the parish of Wroxeter, co. Salop.

Roger de Eyton, co. Salop, 1273. A.
William de Eyton, co. Salop, Hen. III-
Edw. I. K.

Peter de Eyton, co. Salop, 20 Edw. I. R.

Thomas Eyton, rector of North Lynn, 1451: FF. viii. 540.

1660. Married—Kendricke Eyton and Jane Ellis: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 106.
Kendrick Eyton, of Eyton, 1602: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 62.

William Eyton, of Chester, tailor, 1584: ibid.

London, 4; MDB. (co. Salop), 4.

Ezard.—Bapt, 'the son of Izod,' i.e. Isolda. The number of variants of the famous old personal name Isolda is remarkably large; v. Isard for a fuller statement. Yorkshire is the chief habitat of all the variants.

1506. Henry Dunmore and Eliz. Ezarde, widow of Edward Esarde: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 236.

MDB. (E. Rid. Yorks), 1; Leeds, 1; Manchester, 2.

F

Faber.—Occup. A wright. The name has been assumed through being habitually set down by some clerly pen in Latin as 'Faber' instead of 'Wright.' The first three following occur on the same page:

Adam Marshall, faber, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 300.

Robertus fil. fabri, 1379: ibid.

Robertus Faber et uxore ejus, 1379: ibid.

Adam le Fabir, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Allan Faber, co. Linc., ibid.

Edward Faber, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 95.

London, 6; New York, 31.

Fabian.—Bapt, 'the son of Fabian.' The name was familiar, as is evidenced by 'Also Fabian Flatterer and Cicely Claterer,' in 'Cocke Lorelle's Bote.' It is found in the Reformation period:

1553. Married—Fabyan Wythers and Alyce Machyn: St. Michael, Cornhill.

In 1593 (Aug. 10) the same record registers the burial of Roberte Fabyan and Anne Fabian, brother and sister. They died in the plague (p. 204).

1582. Bapt.—Joyce, d. of Fabyan Banester: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 13.

William Fabyane, curate of Hilton Chapel, Monk-Wearmouth, 1506: DDD. ii. 30.

1526. Robert Fabyan and Marion Violet: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 5.
—Alexander Bell and Eliz. Fabene: ibid.

London, 1; New York, 8.

Fagg, Fagge.—Bapt, 'the son of Fag.'

Robert Fag, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 270.

Jahanna Fag, co. Soms., 1273. A.

Peter Fag, co. Oxf., ibid.

London, 4. 1.

Faggetter.—Occup. One who made up fagots into bundles. Fr. fagoteur, a fagot maker, Cotgr. A family of Faggetters have been settled for a considerable time at Lower Heyford, co. Oxf.

1806. Married—Robert Edwin Newell and Mary, d. Charles Faggetter, of Pirbright, Surrey: Oxford Times, April 18, 1896.

Fair.—Local.

John de Fayre, C. R., 29 Edw. I.

London, 6; Boston (U.S.), 4; Philadelphia, 16.

Fairbairn, Fairbairns.—Nick, 'fair child,' a native of co. York, where bairn is found in several surnames; cf. Barnfather.

Robertus Thom-barne (i.e. Tom's child), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 155.

Johannes Wil-barne (i.e. Will's child), 1379: ibid.

The instances prove the origin; cf. Fairchild. Not to be confounded with Fairburn, q.v.

Johannes Fayrebarne, 1379: ibid. p. 214.

Willelmus Fairbarn, 1379: ibid. p. 236.

Robertus Fayrebarne, 1379: ibid. p. 150.
London, 4, 4.

Fairbank, Fairbanks, Fairbank.—Local, (1) 'at the fairbank,' i.e. the yellow bank, from residence thereby; cf. Windybank, Ewbank, &c., and v. Bank; (2) 'of Firbank,' a township in the parish of Kirkby Lonsdale, co. Westm. The surname is still to be found in the district.

Robert Firebancke, of Wennington, parish of Mellinge, 1638: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, ii. 109.

1803. Married—William Fairbanks and Frances Freer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 288.
London, 2, 2, 0; New York, 2, 12, 0; MDB. (co. Monmouth), 0, 0, 1; (co. Westmoreland), 0, 0, 1.

Fairbeard.—Nick, 'with the fair beard'; cf. Fairfax, Brownbeard, Blackbeard, &c.

Thomas Fayrebeard, licence to sell ale in city of Oxford, 1590: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. i. p. 325.

Stephen Fairbeard, citizen of Oxford, 1620: ibid. p. 312.

The curate of St. James', Clerkenwell, in 1722 was Mr. Fairbeard. His name is appended to many weddings; v. Marriages at St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 246, 247.

1748. Married—Daniel Lovett and Sarah Fairbeard: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 280.

Fairbrass.—Nick; v. Firebrace.

Fairbrother, Farebrother, Farbrother.—Nick. A brother-in-law, a direct translation of the French Beaufrere or Bonfrere; cf. Fairchild with Beaufitz.

'There till Mr. Fairbrother come to call us out to my father's to supper.'

Pepys' Diary, 1660, p. 45.

Walter Beaufrere, c. 1300. M.

Roger Beaufrere, ibid.

Adam Bonfrere, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 179.

1624. Married—Saywell Wright and Margret Fayrebrother: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 53.

1733. Bapt.—Rebecca, d. John Fairbrother: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 171.

London, 1, 8, 2; Crockford, 2, 3, 2; New York, 4, 0, 0.

Fairburn.—Local, 'of Fairburn,' a village near Ledsham, Leeds. Not to be confounded with Fairbairn, q.v., although both must be considerably mixed, especially as the two surnames arose in the same county.

Margaret de Fareburn, co. Kent, 1273. A.
London, 3; West Rid. Court Dir., 6; Leeds, 2.

Fairchild.—Nick, 'fair child,' an exact equivalent, or translation of O.F. beau-fitz, an expression of endearment, or courtesy, 'fayre chylde, ephebus, epheba': Prompt. Parv. Way adds in a note, 'afterwards used only to signify a son-in-law.'

'Beau-fitz, quod his fader.'

Piers Plowman, l. 4819.

v. North-English Fairbairn, and cf. Fairbrother with Beaufre.

Margaret Fairchilde, C. R., 9 Ric. II.
Robert Fairchilde, ibid. 34 Hen. III.
Adam Fayrchild, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Ralph Fayrchild, co. Camb., ibid.
John Fairchild, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 85.
John Fairchild, bailiff of Norwich, 1354: FF. iii. 99.
London, 3; Philadelphia, 5.

Fairclough, Faircloth.—Local, 'of the fair clough.' Faircloth is a curious corruption. But this is a poor attempt at disguising the origin of a surname as compared with the name of the learned Calvinist, Dr. Featly, vicar of Lambeth, much lauded by Fuller and A. Wood, who died in 1645. He is only known to fame as Dr. Featly, but he was born Fairclough, as all biographical notices show, ad ex. 'Life of Thomas Fuller' (J. E. Bailey), p. 494. This alone will remind the reader of some of the difficulties we have to contend with. In the second entry below we see how still further the name was distorted.

1583. John Fairclough, of Upholland: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 62.
1655. Married—Mr. Samuel Fear Cloth, minister of Houghton Conquest, and Mrs. Frances Folter, of Ketton in Suffolk, by Justyce Bacon: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 260.

1660. Married—Allfabbell Farcloe and Anne Cabell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 165.
John Fayreclough, C. R., 8 Hen. IV.

1700. Bapt.—Sarah, d. of Joseph Faircloth: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, p. 4.
London (1884), 3, 4; New York, 3, 0.

Fairfax.—Nick, 'with the fair fax,' i.e. the fair hair; cf. Fairhair. 'A syde head and a fare fax.' Towneley Mysteries.

Thomas Fayrfax, c. 1300. M.
Ricardus Farefax, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 6.
Willelmus Fayrfax, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 202.

1587. Thomas Barbor and Johanna Fayerfaxe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 166.
1642. Married—Thomas Price and Katherine Fearfax: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 257.
1781. Married—John Fairfax and Phoebe Elborn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 327.
MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1; (East Rid. Yorks.), 1; (West Rid. Yorks.), 1; Crockford, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Fairfield.—Local, 'of Fairfield,' parishes and chapelries in cos. Lancaster, Derby, Somerset, &c.
London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 18.

Fairhair.—Nick, 'with the fair hair'; cf. Fairfax.

Richard Bryan, dicti fairhair, C.R., 11 Edw. III. pt. 1.
Peter Fairhair, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 281.
John Fairhere, C. R., 30 Edw. III.
Anota Fairhare, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 228.

1522. To Mr. William Farehaire, Doctor of Laws': Letters of Fraternity, Durham Priory, p. 119, Surtees Soc.
Edward Fayrehere, circa 1560. Z.

This surname has probably been absorbed by Farrar.

Fairhead.—Nick, 'with the fair head'; cf. Fairfax, Fairhair, Whitehead.

John Fayrhead, Pardon R., 6 Ric. II.
1469. Juliana Fairhead: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting (2).
1587. Peter Butcher and Agnes Fayerhead (co. Essex): Marriage Lic. (London), i. 162.
MDB. (co. Essex), 3.

Fairholme, Fairham.—Local, 'at the fair holm' (v. Holmes and Home). Probably Fairham is a variant; v. Ham (2).

Ricardus Fairhome, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 59.
Johannes Fayrhome, 1379: ibid. p. 91.
London (1884), 1, 0; Rochdale, 0, 1.

Fairleigh, Fairley, Fairlie, Farley.—Local, 'of Fairleigh' or 'Fairley,' (1) a parish in co. Soms., seven miles from Bath; (2) a parish in co. Hants, near Basingstoke;

(3) also 'of Farley,' parishes in cos. Kent and Surrey, and chapelries and townships in cos. Stafford and Wilts.

Adam Farleigh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 271.
Jacob de Farleigh, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
Hugh de Farleye, co. Suff., ibid.
London, 0, 1, 2, 11; Philadelphia, 1, 2, 0, 94.

Fairman.—Bapt.; v. Firmin.

Fairmaner, Faremaners, Fairminer.—? Local. Mr. Lower says, 'most likely a translation of the French Beau Manoir, the 'fair manor': Patr. Brit., p. 108.

London, 1, 0, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 1, 0; Sheffield Dir., 1, 0, 0.

Fairweather, Fayerweather.—Nick. A colloquial expression for a happy, sunshiny fellow; v. Merryweather.

John Fayrweder, co. Camb. 1273. A.
Hugh Fairweder, co. Linc., ibid.
Alexander Fairwedre, C. R., 16 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Juliana Fayerweder, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 17.
Valentine Fairwether, C. R., 1-2 Philip and Mary, pt. viii.
1683. Married—Peter Fawerether and Mercy Blunt: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 199.
1783. — John Fairweather and Sarah Axtel: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 344.
London, 9, 0; New York, 1, 2; Boston (U.S.), 5, 0.

Faithfull, Faithful.—Nick. 'the faithful.' Soon after the Reformation Faithful became a baptismal name, rivalling Thankful among the Puritans. It is still in use in cos. Devon and Cornwall.

'Faithful Teate, minister at Sudbury, Suffolk': Sibbes' Works, I. xxvi, ed. Nichol, 1862.

1640. Bapt.—Benjamin, son of Faithful Bishop: St. Columb Major, p. 170.
1713. Buried—Mary, d. Faithfull and Joan Cock: ibid. p. 253.

In the Cornwall Directory I find at Newquay, in the parish of St. Columb Major, the name of 'Faithful Veal, shoemaker.' Thus for 250 years this title has been fontal in that ancient parish. As seen above it was applied to both sexes. Bunyan gave the name to the martyr of Vanity Fair:

'Sing, Faithful, sing, and let thy name survive,
For though they killed thee, thou art yet alive.'

This is strictly true even from a directory point of view.

London, 5, 1; New York, 1, o.

Fakes, Feggs.—Bapt. 'the son of Fulk,' which has a great many variants; v. Folk and Fulke.

Fakes de Breaute. E.
Willelmus Feygs, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 44.

Falcon, Falken.—Nick. 'the falcon.' It would be a capital sobriquet for a pursuivant.

Faulcon Pursevaunt. XX. 1.
Richard Faucon, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 214.

It is possible the name may be baptismal; v. Fulchon.

New York, o, 1.

Falconer, Falkner, Faulkner.—Occup. and offic. 'the falconer,' the keeper of his lord's or lady's falcon.

Richard le Fauconer, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Walter le Fauconer, co. Hunts, ibid.
John le Fauconer, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 214.

John Fauconer, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: ibid. p. 269.

Geoffrey Fauconer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 53.
London, 5, 4, 42; Boston (U.S.), 3, o, 51; Philadelphia, o, 7, 47.

Falder, Faulder.—Occup. 'the falder,' a herd, a shepherd, one who tended cattle; A.S. fald, a fold. A well-known North-English surname, especially familiar to co. Cumberland; cf. Crofter or Crafter, q.v.

Rob of the Fald, 1581: Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westm. and Cumb., i. p. xxxvi.

Rob Grame of the Fald, 1581: ibid. Manchester, o, 2; MDB. (co. Cumberland), 7, 6.

Falk, Faulkes, Falke.—Bapt. 'the son of Fulk,' one of very many forms; v. Folk and Fulke.

Edmund Falkes. H.
Johannes Falke, et Albreda uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 42.

Ricardus Falke, Alice sa femme, 1379: ibid. p. 3.

New York, 57, o, 4.

Falkland.—Local, 'of Falkland.'

Walter de Folkelonde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 162.

Falkner; v. Falconer.

Fall.—Local, 'at the fall,' i.e. waterfall, or local declivity, from residence thereby.

Edmund del Fal, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Richard del Fal, co. Linc., ibid.
William de la Falle, co. Glouc., ibid.
London, 2; New York, 4.

Fallowfield.—Local, 'of Fallowfield,' a parish near Manchester. Of course some other Fallowfield may have given birth to the surname.

Thomas ffallowfeld, Close Roll, 7 Hen. IV.

Christopher Fallowfelde, Principal of Edmund Hall, 1505: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 293.

Richard Fallowfield, co. Camb., 1588: ibid. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 167.

1745. Bapt.—John, son of Mr. Fallowfield, of Ulverstone: St. Mary, Ulverston, ii. 337.

1779. Married—Bryan Marshall and Louisa Fallofield: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 299.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Fallows.—Local, 'of the fallows,' i.e. the fallow lands; v. Falwes (Halliwell).

William de la Faleys, co. Wilts, 20 Edw. I. R.

Elyas de la Faleise, co. Sussex, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Ralph de la Faleys, co. Hants, ibid.
Diot de Falus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 89.

Thomas de Falus, 1379: ibid.
Thomas de Falghes, co. Ches., 1376: East Ches. ii. 50 n.

Thomas ffaloghys, co. Ches., 1487: ibid. i. 243.

1563. Married—Rendull Fallowes and Anne Liversuche: Reg. Prestbury, East Ches. p. 11.

1602. Bapt.—Margery Fallowes: ibid. p. 153.

London, 3; Manchester, 8; Philadelphia, 5.

Falshaw, Fallshaw.—Local, 'of Fulshaw,' a manor in the parish of Wilmslow, East Cheshire.

Matthew de Fulscha, c. 1200: East Cheshire, i. 42.

Willelmus Faldschawe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 287.

Manchester, 2, 9; London, o, 2.

Falstaff, Falstoffs, Fastolfe.

—Bapt. 'the son of Fastolf,' one of the endless terminatives in -ulf (Yonge, ii. 414). 'A great Norfolk family, one of whose members Shakespeare is supposed to have caricatured in his immortal Sir John Falstaff. . . It appears from Domesday that a Fastolf held one church in the borough of Stamford, co. Linc., freely from the King': Lower, Patr. Brit. p. 108.

Hucens fil. Frostolf, 21 Ric. II: Furness Coucher Book, i. 188.

Nicholas Fastolf, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.

Alexander Fastolf, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1280: FF. xi. 322.

Thomas Fastolf, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1305: ibid.

Fanbrother.—Local, 'of Fanbrother,' a township in the parish of Hebburn, co. Northumberland. The surname got into co. Chester, and has there become Fanbrother.

1502-3. Robert Fenrother, Prestbury, co. Chester: Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 513.

MDB. (co. Ches.), 1.

Fancourt.—Local, 'of Fancourt.'

Gerard de Fancourt, co. Linc., 1273. A. London, 4; Philadelphia, 1.

Fanne.—Local, 'at the fan,' i.e. threshing-floor; v. Fanner and Vann.

William atte Fanne. R.
Margery Fanne, temp. Eliz. Z.

Fanner.—Occup. 'the fanner,' i.e. the winnower. 'Winnowed with the shovel and with the fan': Isa. xxx. 24 (Auth. Vers.); F. van. Hence also Vanner, q.v.

'Barbers, bokebynders, and lymners, Repers, faners, and horners.'

Cocke Lorelle's Bote.

Walter le Fannere. X.

Simon le Fannere. X.

John Fanner, co. Wilts, 1562: Reg.

Broad Chalke, p. 1.

London, 2; New York, 1.

Faraday, Farraday, Fere-day.—Occup. 'a travelling merchant' or 'chapman'; a translation of journey (which in Chaucer's time meant a day's journey); M.E. fare, to travel; cf. thoroughfare, welfare, and farewell; v. Sojourner.

Liverpool, 2, o, o; Manchester, o, 1, o; London, 3, o, 3; Philadelphia, o, 5, o.

Farewell, Farwell.—Local, 'of Farewell,' a parish in co. Stafford, two miles from Lichfield.

Richard Farewel, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Thomas Farwell, co. Suff., ibid.

1796. Married—Samuel New and Eliz. Farwell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 149.

1797. Married.—Isaac Snoxell and Mary Farewell: ibid. ii. 165.

London, o, 1; MDB. (co. Stafford), o, 1; New York, 2, 1; Boston (U.S.), o, 42.

Farley; v. Fairleigh.

Farman; v. Firmin.

Farmer.—Occup. 'the farmer,' one who cultivated a farm.

Johannes Spenser, firmarius j Manerii, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 10.

Ricardus de Wenteworth, firmarius unius Graunge, 1379: ibid.

Johannes del Grange, fermour del Grange: ibid. p. 30.

Thomas Fermour, husband, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 24.

Robertus Ryvyl, fermer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 142.

Robertus Friston, farmer de Parsonage, 1372: ibid. 160.

1575. John Farmer and Eliz. Randall: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 66.

1722. Married.—Francis Farmer and Mary Willson: St. Mary Aldermay, P. 45.

London, 42; New York, 34.

Farmery, Firmery.—Local, 'at the fermery,' i.e. infirmary, hospital. O.F. enfermerie. 'Fermerie, infirmeria, infirmitorium': Prompt. Parv. With the modern Farmery, cf. Clerk and Clark, Perkin and Parkin, &c.; v. Spittle.

John atte Fermery, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 225.

Raulyn de la Fermerie, 1306. M.

Idonia de la Fermerie. B.

John le (sic) Fermery. H. 1592-3. Edward Lister and Anne Farmarie: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 205.

1796. Married.—George Farmery and Sarah Wybrow: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 154.

Leeds, 1, o; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1, o; New York, 1, 1.

Farndon.—Local, 'of Farndon,' a parish in co. Ches.

London, 1.

Farnell, Farnhill, Farnill, Fernell.—(1) Local, 'of Fernhill,' probably the small estate so-called in Nether Alderley, East Cheshire.

(2) Local, 'of Farnhill,' a township in the parish of Kildwick, W. Rid. Yorks, spelt Farnhill in the Yorkshire Poll Tax, 1379, p. 267. The surnames of which these two places were the parents seem to have been inextricably mixed. How easily corruptions arise is proved by the first two following entries:

Edmund Greave, of Fernhill, in Spotland, 1608: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), P. 75.

John Greave, of Fernell, 1613: ibid.

John Fernall, of Chester, baker, 1606: ibid. (1545-1620), p. 63.

Francis Fearnall, of Chester, 1679: ibid. (1660-80), p. 92.

Ann Farnall, Prestbury, co. Ches., 1775: Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 204.

1777. Married.—James Farnell and Susanna Chapman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 280.

Many rising slopes would bear this name.

John de Farnhull, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

Nicholas de Farnhull, co. Wilts, ibid.

West Riding (Yorks) Court Dir., 1, 1, 1, 1; MDB. (West Riding Yorks), 1, 4, o, 1; Manchester, 2, o, o, o; London, 2, o, o, o; MDB. (co. Stafford), 1, o, o, o.

Farnham.—Local, 'of Farnham,' a parish and market-town in Surrey, ten miles from Guildford.

John de Farnam, carnifex, 17 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 22.

Here the h is elided, as in Barnum, &c.

1665. Edward Farnham and Katherine Higgins: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 89.

1666. Bapt.—Susanna, d. John Farnam: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 228.

London, 8; Boston (U.S.), 34.

Farningham.—Local, 'of Farningham,' a parish in co. Kent.

Ralph de Farningham, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Farnley.—Local, 'of Farnley'; v. Fearnley.

Johannes de Farnelay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 131.

London (1884), 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Farnum.—Local, 'of Farnham,' an American corruption; cf. Barnum for Barnham.

'John Singleton Copley, Lord Lyndhurst (1772-1863), was son of John Singleton Copley, and his wife Mary Farnum Clarke, born in Boston, U.S.:' Dict. Nat. Biog. xii. 182.

Philadelphia, 10.

Farran, Farrance, Farrand, Farrant, Farrants, Farran, Farrent, Farrin.—Bapt.; v. Farrimond.

Henry Ferant, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Walter Ferrant, co. Camb., ibid.

Benedict Feraunt, co. Norf., ibid.

Ferentus Balistarius, co. Hants, Hen.

III-Edw. I. K.

London, 1, 2, 13, 1, 5, 1, 3; Philadelphia, 6, o, 8, 1, o, 30, 1, o.

Farrar, Farrer.—Occup. 'a maker of horse-shoes'; O.F. ferrer, to shoe horses (v. Ferrer), now a farrier in an altered sense. Forform Farrer, in place of Ferrer, cf. Clark and Clerk, Darby and Derby, parson and person, also farrier, the occupative term. Once a great Yorkshire trade-name, now a great Yorkshire surname.

Thomas le Ferrur, C. R., 3 Edw. I. Willelmus Ferour, ferour, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 156.

Johannes Crayk, ferour, 1379: ibid.

Hugo Farrou, 1379: ibid. p. 40.

Thomas Farrou, 1379: ibid. p. 41.

William de Wistow, ferour, 3 Edw.

II: Freeman of York, i. 12.

London, 6, 8; West Riding Court Dir., 32, 10; Philadelphia, 5, 6.

Farrimond.—Bapt. 'the son of Faramond,' 'Faramond; Pharamond, an ancient Teutonic personal name' (Lower, Patr. Brit. p. 109). 'Travellers again had their name from fara, the modern German fahren, and the scarcely disused English to fare, meaning to journey. The most noted instance is Faramund, who, in the guise of Pharamond, is placed at the head of the long-haired Frankish dynasty' (Yonge, ii. 432); cf. Osman for Osmond, or Wyman for Wymond.

Faremanne (without surname), 1169: RRR. p. 13.

Fareman Alberd, 1325. M.

Johannes fil. Fareman, 1316. M.

Edward Farman, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 127.

Upholland, near Wigan, 1; Manchester, 1.

Farrington.—Local, 'of Farrington,' a township in the parish of Penwortham, co. Lancaster. No doubt in many cases a variant of Farrington, but the Lancashire Farringtons are derived as stated above.

Roger Faryndon, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 257.

Johannes de Feryngton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 56.

John Farrington, of Farrington, 1595: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 62.

Roger Farrington, of Farrington, 1608: ibid.

1793. Married.—William Dance and Mary Farrington: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 88.

London, 7; Manchester, 4; Liverpool,

5; Philadelphia, 22.

Farthing.—(1) Local or nickname.

Geoffrey Ferthing, 1273. A.
William Ferthing, 1306. M.
Richard Ferthing, C. R., 18 Edw. I.
Robertus Farthing, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 89.

(2) Local; 'of Faringdon,' a parish in co. Berks.

Thomas Fartheyn, 1311. M.
Thomas Fardeyn, 1320. M.
Thomas Farendyn, 1323. M.

The three entries above refer to one individual.

London, 6; Oxford, 1; Philadelphia, 4.

Farwell.—Local; v. Farewell.

Fassett.—Local, 'of Forcett'; v. Fawcett.

1627. Married—Samuell Fassett, preacher, and Eliz. Shaw: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 252.

1775. — Edward Fassett and Isabella Jackson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 254.
London, 2; Philadelphia, 12.

Fathers.—Nick. 'the father,' The s is patronymic as in Williams, Jones, Tompkins, &c. It is curious to notice that three counties close to one another supply my early instances; cf. the Yorkshire Barnfather.

Arnald le Fader, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
Richard le Fader, co. Oxf., ibid.
Robert Fader, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 265.
1786. Married—George Woods and Ann Fathers: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 390.
London, 1; Oxford, 5.

Fatt.—Nick. 'the fat,' a corpulent person. An early sobriquet; cf. Bigg, Little, Thick, &c.

Robert le Fatte, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 246.
Michel le Fatte, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid. p. 249.

Cf. John Fatman in the same record, p. 251.

William le Fatte, 1307. M.
1588. John Fatt, yeoman, and Anne Weaver: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 169.
London, 3; New York, 2.

Faulkner; v. Falconer.

Faux.—Bapt. 'the son of Fawke,' a variant of Fulke, q.v. The genitive was thus Fawkes, and this naturally became Faux; cf. Baxter, Cox, Wilcox, &c.; v. Fawkes.

Nel Fawkes, co. Camb., 1273. A.
William Fawkes, co. Norf., ibid.

Geoffrey Faukes, co. Hunts, ibid.
John Faux. H.

Fawcett, Fozard.—Local, 'of Forcett,' a chapelry in the parish of Gilling, N. Rid. Yorks. The surname has ramified in the most surprising manner. Fozard is a curious, but not unnatural corruption (cf. Gozzard for Gooseherd). It is found in the district where Fawcett arose.

Adam de Fawsyde, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 288.

Willelmus Fawsyde, 1379: ibid.

Adam de Fawsyde, 1379: ibid.

1607. Bapt.—Eliz., d. John Forcett, taylor: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 93.

John Faucet, of Over Kellet, 1537: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 105.

Richard Fawcet, of Over Kellet, 1602: ibid.

1723. Married—John Fawcett and Mary Chater: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 46.
London, 14, 0; Leeds, 10, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 29, 0; MDB. (West Rid. Yorks.), 36, 0; West Ardsley (near Wakefield), 0, 2; Philadelphia, 8, 0.

Fawkes.—Bapt. 'the son of Fawke' or 'Fawkes' (v. Fulke, Faux, and Fowke), one of very many variants. It was still in use as a font-name in the 17th century.

Faukesius de Brente, 1273. A.

Faukes le Buteller, ibid.

Willelmus Faukes, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 220.

Robertus Fawkes, 1379: ibid. p. 213.

Fauke de Glamorgan. E.

1612. Married—Fawke Marrow and Isabell Jackway: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 39.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 3.

Fawson, Faxon.—Bapt. 'the son of Fawke'; v. Fawkes.

1675. Buried—Thomas Fawson: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 189.

1734. Bapt.—Thomas, son of John Fawson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 217.

London, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 33; Philadelphia, 0, 3.

Fayerman.—Bapt.; v. Firmin.

Fayerweather.—Nick.; v. Fairweather.

Fazackerley, Fazakerley, Phizackerley.—Local, 'of Fazakerley,' a township in the parish of Walton-on-the-hill, near Liverpool. The variant Phizackerley is found only, I believe, in the Furness district of North Lancashire.

Roger Fazakerley of Fazakerley, 1394: Baines' Lanc. ii. 290.

Nicholas Fazakerley, of Walton, 1600: Lanc. and Cheshire Rec. Soc. xii. 239.

Robert Fazacreley, of West Derby, gent., 1631: ibid. xii. 213.

Robert Middleton, of Fazakerley, 1582: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 136.

Judith Fazakerley, of Walton, 1647: ibid. (1621-50), p. 76.

1792. Buried—Lawrence Phezakerley, mariner: St. Mary, Ulverston, ii. 615.

Liverpool, 9, 0, 0; Manchester, 3, 1, 0; Ulverston, 0, 0, 2.

Fear, Feare.—Nick. 'the fere,' the proud, the fierce, the bold (A.N.).

'And of Burgayne dewke Loyere,
He was a bolde man, and a fere.'

Halliwell.

'And of hys son, that good squyere,
Whyll he was 'hole and fere.' ibid.

William le Fer, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 134.

Robert le Fere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid.

London, 3, 1.

Fearman.—Bapt.; v. Firmin.

Fearnhough; v. Fernihough.

Fearnhead.—Local, 'of Fearnhead,' a township in the parish of Warrington, co. Lancs.

Grace Fearnhead, of Fearnhead, 1613: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 63.

Peter Fearnhead, of High Leigh, 1596: ibid.

Richard Fearnhead, of Fearnhead, co. Lancs., yeoman, 1604: ibid.

Manchester, 1; London, 1; New York, 1.

Fearnley, Fernley, Ferneley.—Local, 'of Farnley,' near Leeds, spelt Fernelay in the Poll Tax, 1379; v. Farnley.

Johannes de Fernelay, living at 'Ferneley,' 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 191.

Johannes de Fernelee, 1379: ibid. p. 181.

Margeria de Fernelee, 1379: ibid. p. 181.

Johanna de Ferenlowe, 1379: ibid. p. 4.

London, 3, 2, 0; Manchester, 1, 2, 2; West Rid. Court Dir., 8, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 7, 0.

Fearnside, Fearnside, Fearnside.—Local, 'of Fearnside,' probably some spot adjacent to Fearnhead, q.v. The suffixes -head and -side are common in local names; cf. Akenhead and Akenside, places close together, both the parents of surnames; also cf. Garthside, from residence at the side of the garth or orchard (s.v. Garside).

1595. Robert Farnside, of Worsley, parish of Eccles: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 62.

1615. Henry Farnside, of Thurston: ibid. p. 63.

Liverpool, 0, 0, 1; MDB. (co. Lancaster), 0, 0, 4; West Rid. (Yorks), 2, 2, 0.

Fearon.—Occup. 'the feron,' probably a smith. The feminine form, infra, presents no difficulty, as strongly represented in the Hundred Rolls, &c. The name is derived by M. de Greville (v. Lower's Patr. Brit.) from some kindred word to farrier, O.F. ferrier, to shoe a horse; v. Ferrer.

Alan de Feron, London, 1273. A.

Stephen le Feron, London, ibid.

Henry le Feron, London, ibid.

Margery le Feron. B.

London, 6; Philadelphia, 18.

Featherston, Featherstone, Fetherston.—Local, 'of Featherston,' a parish in co. York.

Petrus de Fetherstan, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 25.

Simon de Fetherston, 1379: ibid. p. 30. London, 1, 11, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 3, 2; New York, 5, 0, 1.

Featherstonhaugh.—Local, 'of Fetherstonhaugh,' a manor said to be in co. Northumberland. One of our longest surnames; v. Featherston.

1749. William Featherstonehalgh, master of St. Mary's Hospital, Newcastle-on-Tyne: Brand's Hist. of Newcastle, i. 85.

London, 1; Crockford, 1.

Feavearyear, Feaviour.—?—A curious surname peculiar to Norfolk and Suffolk.

'In 1622 it (i.e. Street Hall) was conveyed to Talbot Pepys, Esq., and Richard Feveryer, gent.': FF. vi. 99.

MDB. (Suffolk), 2, 0; (Norfolk), 1, 1.

Feggs.—Bapt.; v. Fakes.

Felbridge.—Local, 'of Felbrige,' a parish in co. Northumb.

Thomas de Felebrig, co. Northumb., 1273. A.

Matilda de Felbrige, co. Norf., ibid.

Philadelphia, 1.

Feld.—Local; v. Field.

Felgate, Folgate.—(1) Local, 'at the fold-gate,' from residence at the entrance of the fold or enclosure; probably the sheepfold.

(2) Local, 'at the fall-gate.' 'Fall-gate, a gate across a public road. Norfolk' (Halliwell). Probably this is the true derivation, as my instances seem to prove. No doubt a wooden bar that rose and fell across the road.

Peter de la Falgate, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Eliseus de Falgate, co. Norf., ibid.

Richard de Faldgate, co. Norf., ibid.

John de Faldgate, co. Norf., ibid.

Robert Atte-faldgate, rector of Repham, co. Norf., 1350: FF. viii. 245.

John Atte-faldgate, rector of Fishley, co. Norf., 1354: ibid. xi. 103.

Thomas Faldyate: Pardon's Roll, 5 Ric. II.

John atte Foldyate. J.

Thomas Atte Falgate, rector of Denver, co. Norf., 1395: FF. vii. 319.

1635. William Stephens and Blanche Felgate: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 222.

1770. Married—Robert Falgate and Eliz. White: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 196.

London, 6, 1; MDB. (Suffolk), 4, 0.

Felix.—Bapt. 'the son of Felix'; as often as not a female name; v. Phillis. The first two entries following refer to the same individual:

Felix de Kanoto, Hen. III-Edw. I: K. p. 58.

Felicia de Kaneto, ibid. p. 59.

Felice Holog, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 143.

Johannes Sorowles, et Felix uxor, 1379:

P. T. Yorks. p. 131.

London, 2; New York, 10.

Fell.—Local, 'at the fell,' from residence on or near the fell; 'by frith and fell,' a common phrase in early poetry; a fell was a hill or moor open and unenclosed. Sheep that graze on such scanty pastures are called fell-sheep in Furness. So ramified is the surname Fell in Furness that in the register in the parish church of Ulverston (1542-1813) there are not less than 2,500 entries concerning the family or families, the entries concerning John Fell alone numbering over 200.

'Moyses went up on that felle
Forty dayes there gon dwelle.'

Cursor Mundi (Halliwell).

1545. Married—Thomas Fell and Margaret Wright: St. Mary, Ulverston,

p. 1.

1563. Brian Fell, of Pennington, Furness: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 106.

1565. Christopher Fell, of Ulverston, ibid. London, 16; Ulverston, 8; Philadelphia, 67.

Fellows, Fellowes.—Nick. 'the fellow,' a comrade, a companion, or simply a body, a sociable man; cf. Goodfellow, Goodbody, Longfellow, &c. Fellows is the genitive.

John Felagh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 135.

London, 10, 2.

Felon, Fellon.—Nick. 'the felon,' a treacherous person; M.E. felun, O.F. felon.

Henry de Felun, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

This surname seems to have lasted till the close of the 17th century in England, and still exists in America.

1671. Bapt.—Joseph, son of Joseph and Tabytha Fellon: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 252.

New York, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Felstead.—Local, 'of Felstead,' a parish in the dioc. of St. Albans, co. Essex, four miles from Great Dunmow.

William de Feltested, co. Essex, 1273. A.

Thomas Felstead, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1649: FF. xi. 329.

1692. Married—Francis Cruso and Anne Moberley, by licence, by Mr. Thomas Felsted: St. Mary Aldermary,

p. 34.

1723. Married—Adam Felsted and Mary Pratt: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 62.

London, 5.

Felter.—Occup. 'a felt manufacturer,' a cloth of matted wool used in making hats, &c. 'Feelte or qwylyte: filtrum.' Prompt. Parv.

Henry le Felter, Close Rolls, 1 Edw. I. New York, 17; Philadelphia, 3.

Feltham.—Local, 'of Feltham,' a parish in co. Middlesex, four miles from Hounslow.

1798. Married—John Turner and Susannah Feltham: St. Geo. Han. S. i. ii. 182.

London, 1.

Felthorpe, Feltrup.—Local, 'of Felthorpe,' a parish in co. Norfolk, seven miles from Norwich. The variant Feltrup is of the ordinary character; cf. Calthrop for Calthorpe, and v. Thorp.

John de Felethorp, co. Norf., 1273. A. Thomas de Felethorp, co. Norf., 1358: FF. iii. 603.

Peter de Felthorp, rector of Congham, co. Norf., 1343: ibid. viii. 388.
MDB. (co. Norfolk), 1, o; Sheffield, o, 2.

Felton.—Local, 'of Felton,' parishes in cos. Hereford, Northumberland, and Salop.

John de Felstone, co. Notts, 20 Edw. I. R. William de Felstone, co. Northumb., ibid.

William de Felton, rector of St. Mary Magdalen, Warham, co. Norf., 1349: FF. ix. 266.

Johannes de Felton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 138.

1578-9. Edward Felton and Eliz. Crockett: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 86. 1669. Married—Thomas Felton and Jane Smith: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 165. London, 13; New York, 11; Philadelphia, 34.

Feltrup.—Local; v. Felthorpe.

Feltwell.—Local, 'of Feltwell,' a parish in co. Norfolk, six miles from Brandon.

Hugo de Feltwelle, co. Norf., 1273. A. Jeffrey de Feltwell, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 140.

John Feltwell, Norwich, 1460: ibid. iv. 485.

1528-9. Thomas Leghe and Eliz. Feltwell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 6. Philadelphia, 5.

Fender.—Offic. or nick. An abbreviation of 'defender.' One who defends or wards off, a likely name for a hayward; cf. 'fender,' a fireplace guard; also 'fence' and 'defence.'

Roger Fendour, Close Roll, 9 Edw. II. London, 1; New York, 1; Philadelphia, 5.

Fennemore; v. Finnemore.

Fenn, Fen.—Local, 'at the fen.' The instances are chiefly from the Fen country. For a West-English variant, v. Venn.

Isabella ate Fenne, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Robert de la Fenne, co. Soms., ibid. John atte Fen, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1377: FF. xi. 324.

Thomas Fenni, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1453: ibid. p. 235.

Roger atte Fenne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 107.

John atte Fene, Close Rolls, 14 Edw. III. pt. i.

Julian atte Fen: Household Book of Queen Isabelle, 1358, Cott. MS., Galba E. xiv.

Walter atte Fenne, C. R., 1 Edw. II. Thomas de Fenne, C. R., 2 Edw. I. 1617. Maurice Fenn and Lucy Beomont: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 52.

1725. Married—Samuel Fenn and Sarah Phipps: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 47. London, 22, o; MDB. (co. Camb.), 4, 1; (Norfolk), 6, o; Philadelphia, 8, o.

Fennell.—Local, 'at the vennel'; v. Vennell, and cf. Venn and Fenn, Vanner and Fanner.

Fennemore, Fennimore.—Local; variants of Finnemore.

Oxford, 1, 1.

Fenner.—Occur.; v. Venner.

Fenney, Fenny.—Local, 'of Fenay,' now Fenaybridge, in the township of Lepton and parish of Kirkheaton, near Huddersfield, W. Rid. Yorks. Not to be confounded with the Scotch Finney.

Thomas de Fenay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 119.

Adam de Fenay, 1379: ibid. p. 177.

Willelmus de Fenay, 1379: ibid. p. 176.

Sibilla de Fenay, 1379: ibid. p. 179.

1597-8. William Fennay and Catherine Forman: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 246.

1807. Married—William Fennay and Charlotte Gordon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 367.

W. R. Yorks Court Dir., 2, o; London, 1, o; Liverpool, o, 1; Boston (U.S.), o, 1.

Fenreve.—Offic. 'the fen-reve,' a guardian of the Fens.

Adam Fenreve, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Symon Fenreve, co. Hunts, ibid.

Fenton.—Local, 'of Fenton,' (1) a township near Carlisle, co. Cumb.; (2) a chapelry in the parish of Beckingham, co. Lincoln; (3) a hamlet in the parish of Kettlethorpe, co. Lincoln; (4) a hamlet in the parish of Wooler, co. Northumb.

Gilbert de Fenton, co. York, 1273. A. Robert de Fenton, co. Linc., ibid.

Thomas de Fenton, co. Devon, ibid.

Henry de Fenton, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

John de Fenton, co. Devon, ibid.

Ralph de Fenton, rector of Warham, co. Norf., 1358: FF. ix. 265.

Ricardus de Fenton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 130.

Johannes de Fenton, 1379: ibid. p. 54.

Robertus de Fenton, 1379: ibid. p. 94.

1741. Married—Perret Fenton and Mary Ashley: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 51.

1807. —William Fenton and Eliz. Beal: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 363.

London, 24; Boston (U.S.), 28.

Fenwick.—Local, 'of Fenwick,'

(1) a township in the parish of Stamfordham, co. Northumberland;

(2) a township in the parish of Campsall, W. Rid. Yorks.

Thomas a Fenyk, of Lytell Harle: Visit. Yorks., 1563, p. 284.

Johannes de Fenwyk¹, et Avicia uxor ejus, merchant debestes, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 113.

West Rid. Court Dir., 2; London, 8; MDB. (co. Northumberland), 14; Philadelphia, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Fereday.—Occur.; v. Faraday.

Ferguson, Fergusson, Farguson, Fergie.—Bapt. 'the son of Fergus' (Scotch); v. Yonge, ii. 55.

The name crept over the border into Cumberland and Northumberland; nick. Fergie or Fargie.

Gilbert fil. Fergusi, 1182: RRR. p. 30.

Fergie of Meadopp, 1586-7: Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westm. and Cumb., pp. xxxiv-vi.

Fargus Grame, 1602: ibid. p. cxiv.

William Fargy, 1654: Hist. of Alnwick, by G. Tate, p. 79.

Peter Fergesoun, 1547: TTT. p. lxxx.

London, 31, 9, 1, 1, o, o; Philadelphia, 226, 8, o, o, o, o; Boston (U.S.), 98, o, o, o, o, o.

Fermor.—Occur. 'the farmer'; v. Farmer.

Robertus del Halle, fermer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 206.

London, 1.

Fernell.—Local; v. Farnell.

Fernihough, Fernyhough, Fearnehough, Fernhough, Ferneyhough.—Local, 'of the fern-halgh,' i.e. the mound, or hill covered with ferns; v. Halgh and Hough, and cf. Greenhalgh and Greenhough. The spot must evidently be looked for in co. Stafford, on the Cheshire side.

Richard de la Fernyhalgh, co. Staff.: Pardon's Roll, 6 Ric. II.

William Fernihaugh, merchant, v. Daniel Danvers, sugar-baker, co. Lanc., 1693: Exchequer Depositions, p. 83.

Thomas Fernihaugh v. Henry Bradshaw, co. Ches., 1669: ibid. p. 136.

John Fearnihough, of Doddington, co. Ches., yeoman: Wills at Chester, 1621-50, p. 76.

John Fernyhough, co. Ches., 1672: Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 645.

MDB. (co. Stafford), 1, 3, o, o, 7; Manchester, 2, 1, o, o, o; London, o, 1, o, o, o; Liverpool, 1, 1, o, o, o; MDB. (co. Ches.), 1, 2, o, 1, o; Sheffield, o, 1, 4, o, o.

Ferrabee, Ferraby, Ferebee.—Local, 'of Ferriby.' North and South Ferriby are parishes in cos.

York and Lincoln. With Ferrabee cf. Applebee for Appleby.

William de Feriby, dean of Cranwich, co. Norf., 1388; FF. ii. 228.

John Feriby, alias Verby, founded a Grammar School at Campden, co. Glouc. in 1487; Rudder's Hist. Glouc. p. 324.

1675. Married—Nathaniell Feribee and Eliz. Sommers; St. Mary Aldermay, p. 32.

1787. — John Price and Harriot Ferraby; St. Geo. Han. Sq. iii. 401.

MDb. (co. Glouc.), 2, 0, 0; (co. Lincoln), 0, 2, 0; London, 0, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 1.

Ferrand, Farrand, Farrant.

—(1) Local. From some place of the name in Normandy. Ferrand is still found about Skipton, where for several centuries the Ferrand family were Wardens of the castle.

John Feraunt, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 83.

Hugo de Feraunt, 1344, vicar of Carlton-in-Craven; Whitaker, Hist. Craven, p. 226.

(2) Bapt.; v. Farran.

London, 0, 1, 13; West Rid. Court Dir., 3, 4, 0; New York, 0, 2, 2.

Ferrer, Ferrier.—Occup. 'the farrier,' a maker of horse-shoes; O.F. ferrer, to shoe horses; spelt 'ferrou' in Fabyan's Chronicle. Fr. fer, iron; Lat. ferrum, iron; cf. Pettifer, Brasdefer, Firebrace; v. Farrar.

Roger le Ferur, co. Dorset, 1273. A. Thomas le Ferour, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 101.

Johannes de Helistones, ferrou, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 183.

Johannes Ferour, ferour, ibid. p. 151. William Ferour, ferour, ibid. p. 156.

The halfway house to Farrar is seen in the following:

1617. Bapt.—Jeanne, d. William Ferrar; St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 113.

1735. Married—Ivory Ferrar and Eliz. Powell; St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 66.

London, 1, 5; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 1; MDb. (Lincoln), 1, 0; New York 3, 4.

Ferreter.—Occup. 'the ferreter.' Probably a dealer in, or manufacturer of, ferret, i.e. silk tape.

Walter le Furettour, Close Rolls, 12 Edw. II.

Ferriman, Farriman.—Occup. 'the ferryman,' one who conveys people over a river.

Johannes Wryght, faryman, 1379; P. T. Howdenshire, p. 7.

Thomas Feryman, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 153.

John Faryman, C. R., 12 Hen. IV. Nicholas Feryman, 1379; P. T. Howdenshire, p. 18.

Johannes Feryman, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 63.

Johannes de Walcote, feryman, 1379; ibid. p. 105.

Robertus Toure, feryman, 1379; ibid.

In the village of Armin occur Johannes Moram, feryman, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 121.

Adam Feriman, 1379; ibid. London, 3, 1.

Ferry, Ferrie, Ferrey.—Local, 'at the ferry.' Probably the bearer of the name resided at the ferry in order to carry on his business as a ferryman; v. Ferriman.

Roger de Ferye, co. Yorks, 1273. A. William de Ferie, co. Yorks, ibid.

Johannes de Fery, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 100.

Johannes del Fery, 1379; ibid. p. 22.

London, 0, 1, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 48, 0, 0.

Fettiplace, Fetiplace.—? Local. The present American form is Phetteplace, q.v.

Adam Feteplace, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Walter Feteplece, co. Oxf., ibid.

Edward Fetiplace, B.A., 1546; Reg. Univ. Oxf. p. 12.

1663, John Collins and Anne Fettiplace, co. Berks; Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 93.

1671-2. William Nutley and Catherine Fettiplace; Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 45.

Fewster.—Occup. 'the fewster,' a maker of saddle-trees.

Robertus de Cathale, fufster, 1277-8; Freemen of York (Surt. Soc.), i. 3.

Geoffrey le Fufster, 1283; ibid. p. 4.

Nicholas le Fuster, Close Roll, 21 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Ricardus Fuystour, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 241.

Ralph le Fuster. M. Robert Fuster. F.

Willelmus Fystour, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 254.

William Fewster, master of Endowed School, Braithwaite, Dacre; West Rid. Dir., 1867.

Christopher Fewster, curate of Stockton, 1599; DDD. iii. 187.

An interesting name, now found as Fewster. 'The Sellers (Saddlers), Verrouers, and Fuystours went together in the York Pageant' (York Mystery Plays, p. xxvi, ed. Toulmin Smith); in the Chester Play 'the Saddlers and Fusters' (Ormerod's Cheshire, i. 300); and in Cocke Lorelle's Bote the 'Bladesmythes, fosters, and saders.' Thus saddlers and fusters went always together. In his Memorials of London Mr. Riley mentions a 'Welsh Polyfuyster' (p. xxii). Strictly speaking, a fuster was a joiner, one who made the wooden framework of the saddle-tree. No doubt related to O.F. fust, a staff, stake, stock, stump, trunk, or log (v. Fust (1), Skeat). Lat. fustis. Our fusty and fustiness are of similar origin. The spelling 'foster' in Cocke Lorelle's Bote suggests that some of our Fosters are so derived; v. Foster.

London (1891), 4; Knottingley, Yorks, 2; Acomb, near York, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Fewterer, Fewter, Wewter.

—Occup. 'the fewterer,' a dogholder, the man who held the dogs in leash. 'Fewterer, in hunting or coursing, the man who held the dogs in slips, or couples, and loosed them' (Halliwell). 'Wewter, a keeper of hounds' (ibid.). I quoted two lines in my English Surnames (third edition, p. 236), but unfortunately did not give the reference:

'The wewtrr two cast of brede he tase,
Two lesshe of greyhounds if that he has.'

Walter le Feuterer co. Hants, 1273. A. Geoffrey le Wewterer, co. Norf., ibid.

John le Vautrer, co. Essex, ibid.

Godfrey le Futur, co. Oxf., ibid.

Simon le Futur, co. Suff., ibid.

Fulcher le Fewtrr, co. Norf. FF.

Richard Wewtre, C. R., 3 Hen. VI.

1667. Mark Barrington and Eliz. Fetter; Marriage Lic. (Canterbury), p. 141.

1731. Bapt.—Robert, son of Jonathan Vautier; St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 37.

London (Futter), 1; (Futcher), 1; Philadelphia (Futcher), 2.

Fickett, Ficket.—Nick. 'the fitchet,' i.e. polecat (v. Fitchett), of which this is merely a harder form.

Henry Fiket, co. Suff., 1273. A. Stephen Fiket, co. Suff., ibid.

1668. Philip Dayrell and Elizabeth Ficket; Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 160.

New York, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 5, 0.

Fickling.—Bapt. 'the son of Fulk,' dim. Fulkelin or Fuckling, whence Fickling; cf. Hewling for Hewelin, and v. Hicklin. Fulk was extremely popular, and was dressed in every possible form.

William Fukkelyn, co. Suff., 1273. A. London, 4.

Fickus.—Bapt. 'the son of Figg,' q.v. Fick and Fickins seem sharpened forms of Figg and Figgins.

William Fyke, co. Norf., 1273. A. London (1884), 3.

Fiddey, Fiddy; v. Friswid.

Fiddymund.—Bapt. 'the son of Frethemund' (?). There can be little question about this. The suffix -mond or -mund becomes commonly corrupted to -ment; cf. Rayment and Garment for Raymond and Garmond. The form Friddement would soon lend itself to Fiddymund.

Thomas Frethemund, co. Kent, 1273. A. 1470. Thomas Fydyan, or Fydyment, rector of Shelton, co. Norf.: FF. v. 271. London, 1.

Fidge.—Nick. 'the fitch,' i.e. polecat; v. Fitch (2). In the same way Fitchett became Fidgett, q.v.

Richard Fige, co. Oxf., 1273. A. 1653. Married—Phillipp Wheeler and Priscilla Fidge: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 29. London, 1.

Fidgeon, Fidgen.—Bapt. 'the son of Vivian.' Vivian was found in many forms; v. Phythian.

Roger Fidian, co. Camb., 1273. A. Alexander Fichion, co. Camb., ibid. Henry Fithion, co. Camb., ibid.

Fichion is clearly the ancestor of Fidgeon and Fidgen.

1747. Married—William Oldham and Lucy Fidgeon: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 38. London, 0, 1.

Fidgett.—Nick. 'the fitchet,' i.e. polecat; v. Fitchett (s.v. Fitch, 2); a manifest imitative corruption; cf. Fidge and Fitch.

1658. Married—Thomas Fidgitt and Mary Smith: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 34. Oxford, 1.

Fidler, Fitler, Fiddler.—Occup. 'the fiddler,' a player on the fiddle; v. Vidler. Fitler is a sharpened form of the surname, peculiar to the United States.

Johannes Fydeler, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 79. Stephanus Fythelar, 1379: ibid. p. 126. Alicia Fithyller, 1379: ibid. p. 96. London, 3, 0, 0; Oxford, 3, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 14, 14, 1.

Field.—Local, 'at the field,' from residence in or by a field.

Thomas atte Felde, 1301. M. William de la Felde, co. Glouc., 20 Edw. I. R.

John de la Felde, co. Heref., ibid. Linot ate Feld, co. Oxf., 1273. A. William a la Feld, co. Oxf., ibid.

John in the Feld, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 103.

Stephan atte Feld, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 164.

London, 122, 0; New York, 76, 3.

Fieldrake.—Nick. 'the little bustard'; cf. field-druck.

Ricardus Feldrak', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 123.

Fielden.—Local, 'of Fielden'; a well-known Lancashire surname.

1574. Roger Fielden, vicar of Leigh, co. Lanc.: Wills at Chester, i. 64.

1592. James Fielden, of the parish of Rochdale, co. Lanc.: ibid.

West Rid. Court Dir., 6; Manchester, 6.

Fielder.—Occup. 'the fielder,' a farm labourer.

London, 12; New York, 10.

Fieldhouse.—Local, 'at the field-house'; cf. Moorhouse, Loftus, &c. Many spots would naturally acquire this title. An instance below existed in the parish of Rochdale.

Randulphus Feldhouses, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 289.

Johannes de Feldhouse, 1379: ibid. p. 185.

John Feeldhouse emigrated to Virginia in 1634: Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 36.

1600. Married—Thomas Wood and Joane Feilduse: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 24.

Arthur Clegg, of Fieldhouse, parish of Rochdale, 1608: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 41.

London, 4; Leeds, 5; Boston (U.S.), 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Fieldsend.—Local, 'at the field-end,' i.e. at the end of the field; cf. Townsend, Overend, Woodend, &c.

Johannes de Feldehend, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 190.

With this, cf. Townshend. The h in both cases is intrusive. On the next page (191) occurs Thomas atte Townshend.

Sheffield Dir., 6.

Fife.—Local; v. Fyfe.

Figg, Figue, Figgess, Figgiss, Figgins, Figgs, Fig.—

Bapt. 'the son of Vig.' Vig, found also as Wig; v. Wigg. 'Wigg or Vig (War), is found in the genealogy of Odin' (Yonge, ii. 409).

Both forms lasted long enough to become incorporated into our hereditary nomenclature; but they must have lapsed at an early period. Compound forms, such as Vig-brand, Vig-fus, Vig-hard, Vig-laf, and Vig-leik, were all in use, one or two still existing in Scandinavia. With the change from initial V to F and vice versa, cf. Venn and Fenn, Vowler and Fowler, Venner and Fenner, &c.; v. Figg.

William Fig, co. Camb., 1273. A. Richard Fige, co. Oxf., ibid.

1 Henry VIII. 'To Figue, the taborer, 6d.': Churchwarden's Book, Kingston-on-Thames, Brand's Pop. Ant. i. 147.

London, 7, 1, 1, 1, 2, 0, 1; New York, 0, 6, 0, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia (Fig), 1; (Figgins), 3.

Figgin.—Bapt. 'the son of Figg,' with dim. Figg-in. With Figg and Figgins, cf. Wigg and Wiggin. For further information, v. Figg. Figgiss and Figgess are modifications of Figgins, just as Perkiss and Perkes are modified forms of Perkins.

Filbert, Philbert, Philibert.

—Bapt. 'the son of Philibert.' St. Philibert's day was Aug. 22 (old style). Professor Skeat shows the probability of the filbert being called after the saint, the nutting season then commencing, and quotes 'The Philibert that loves the vale' (Peacham's Emblems, ed. 1612). See Yonge's Christian Names, ii. 231. The American Philiberts are chiefly of French origin.

Fulbert Pedifer, London. X.

Oto Fulbryght, and Emmota, his mother, Close Rolls, 24 Hen. VI.

Robert Filberd, C. R., 6 Edw. IV.

Philadelphia, 11, 0, 6.

Filby, Filbee, Filbey.—Local, 'of Filby,' a parish in co. Norfolk. With Filbee, cf. Applebee for Appleby.

Ralph de Fileby, co. Norf., 1280: FF. xi. 217.

Robert de Fileby, co. Norf., 1315: ibid. Roger de Fileby, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Nicholas de Fyleby, rector of Burgh, co. Norf.; FF. xi. 155.
1325. Richard de Phileby, rector of Stokesby, co. Norf.; ibid. p. 250.
1768. Married—William Fillbey and Mary Morris; St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 178.
London, 7, 1, o; MDB. (Norfolk), 2, o, o; New York, 2, o, 1.

Filcock.—Bapt. 'the son of Philip,' from the nick. Phil, and pet Filcock; cf. Wilcock, Simcock, &c. In the same way Philkin became Filkin, q.v.

Richard Filcock, of Cholmeston, co. Ches., yeoman, 1663; Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 93.

Thomas Filcock, of Nantwich, 1677; ibid.

MDB. (co. Ches.), 1; (co. Stafford), 1.

Fildes, Files.—Local, 'of the Fylde,' a well-known surname in co. Lanc., doubtless arising from the Fylde district. The final s is probably genitive as in Sykes, Brooks, Milnes, Holmes, Knowles, &c.

1594. Alice Fyldes, parish of Eccles, widow; Wills at Chester, i. 69.

1604. Thomas Fyldes, of Pendlebury; ibid.

1610. Thomas Fyldes, of Manton; ibid. London, 2, o; Manchester, 17, 1; Philadelphia, 1, o.

Filiol.—Nick. 'filiol,' a godson; cf. F. filieul, a godson. Lower says, 'filiolus regis occurs in the laws of Ina and of Henry I, and the Confessor makes grants filiolo suo, to his godson, or adopted son'; v. Ellis, Introductio. Domesday.

Edmund Filiol, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

John Fillolle, co. Bucks, ibid.

Richard Filiol, co. Essex, ibid.

I think Filiol is obsolete as a surname; v. Godson (2).

Filkin, Filkins.—Bapt. 'the son of Philip,' from nick. Phil and suffix -kin; cf. Wilkin, Watkin, Tompkin, &c. With Filkin, cf. Filcock, q.v.

John Fylkyn, of Tatenhall, co. Ches., 1540; East Cheshire, ii. 10.

Philip Fylkyn, co. Ches., 1453; ibid. p. 89.

Jane Fylkin, of Stapleford, spinster, 1583; Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 69.

Thomas Filkin, of the Spittle, Boughton, yeoman; ibid. (1621-50), p. 76.

Liverpool, 2, o; New York, o, 4; MDB. (co. Cornwall), o, 1.

Filliter.—Occup. 'the fileter,' a maker of frontlets or fillets for ladies. 'Fylette, philacterium': Prompt. Parv. p. 160.

'Hire fillet brode of silk, and set full hye.' Chaucer, C. T. 3243.

Way says, 'Johanna domina de Roos bequeaths in 1394, "unam longam filetam de rosis de per", &c.'": Test. Ebor. i. 203. The surname has just managed to survive.

Ricardus le Feloter, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 282.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1; Crockford, 1.

Fillman, Fileman.—(1) Occup. 'the servant of Phill,' i.e. Philip; cf. Matthewman, Addyman, Jackman, Ladyman, &c.

Robertus Philipman, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 208.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Philomena.'

Philomena Sturdi, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

(1) is the most probable solution—in fact we may consider it demonstrated.

London, 1, 2; Philadelphia, 10, o.

Fillpot.—Bapt. 'the son of Philip,' from dim. Philipot, whence Philipot and the imitative Fillpot; v. Filkin and Philcox.

Roger Fylpot. FF.

John Fillpot. F.

Anne Fillpott, 1668; St. Jas. Clerkenwell (Harl. Soc.), i. 236.

Alicia Filyp, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 162.

Henricus Filip, 1379; ibid.

1585. Buried—A woman that died in Fillpot lane: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 199.

1661. — Anne Heward, a lodger in Fillpott lane: ibid. p. 233. London, 1.

Finch.—Nick. 'the finch.' M.E. finch (v. Spink); cf. Goldfinch and Goldspink.

Philip Fynch, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 271.

Thomas Finche, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Agnes Finche, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 58.

Thomas Fynche, 1379; ibid. p. 57.

Johannes Fynche, 1379; ibid. p. 182.

London, 42; Philadelphia, 14.

Fincham.—Local, 'of Fincham,' a parish in co. Norfolk.

Nigellus de Fincham, co. Norf., temp. William II; FF. vii. 349.

William de Fincham, co. Norf., 52 Hen. III.; ibid.

Thomas de Fincham, co. Norf., 22 Edw. III.; ibid.

Thomas Fincham, of Fincham, co. Norf., 1550; ibid.

John de Fincham, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Walter de Fincham, co. Norf., ibid.

MDB. (Suffolk), 8; (Norfolk), 1; London, 9; Philadelphia, 1.

Findlater.—Local, 'of Findlater,' a locality in the parish of Fordyce, Banffshire; cf. Linklater.

London, 3.

Findsilver.—Nick. Probably for 'fine-silver,' i.e. pure, unalloyed. M.E. and O.F. fin, perfect.

Hugh Finesilver, co. Camb., 1273. A.

John Finesilver, co. Camb., ibid.

Finegod.—Bapt. 'the son of Finegod.'

Fineket Freman, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Amary Finegod, co. Bedf., ibid.

Robert Finegod, co. Bedf., ibid.

Finian.—Bapt. 'the son of Finian.'

Phinian de Roghale, co. Salop, 1273. A.

John Finian, co. Oxf., ibid.

Finn, Finney, Finnie.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Phin.' In Domesday 'Phin,' cos. Essex and Suffolk. Finney seems to be simply the diminutive. (2) Nick. 'the fine,' the exquisite, the delicate, the refined.

Robert le Fyne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 270.

Katherine Fin, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Maggot Fin, co. Hunts, ibid.

Thomas Fin, co. Suff., ibid.

Thomas Fyn, chapman, 1379; P. T. Howdenshire, p. 130.

Roger Fyne, 1379; ibid.

Isabella Fynne, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 24.

Nycholas Fynn, 1604; DDD. iii. 413.

Robertus Fyn, 1307. M.

London, 1, 14, o; Manchester, 3, 3, o; Crockford, 1, 1, o; Philadelphia, 60, 19, 2.

Finnemore, Finnimore, Fenimore, Fenemore, Fynmore, Fenomore.—(1) Local, 'of Finnemore,' a parish in co. Oxford, eight miles from Bicester.

Gilbert de Fenamore, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Finamour,' i.e. pure love, perfect love; cf. Douceamour, Paramor, &c.

'Tho spak Clarice to Blancheflour
Wordes full of fin amour.'

Floriz and Blancheflour, E. E. Text Soc.

As in many other surnames "has become l, and thus Finnemore has turned itself into Phillimore, q.v.

John Finamur, C. R., 56 Hen. III.
Hugh Finamur, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Dulcia Fynamour, Wardrobe Accounts, Edw. I.

John Fynamour, C. R., 3 Hen. IV. pt. i.

John Fynamore, sup. for B.A., 1539: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. i. 104.

1597. Married—John Fynnemor and Anne Flynter: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 16. 1673-4. Buried—John, son of William Finnore: St. Paul's, Covent Garden.

1737-8. —Frances Eliz., d. Henry Fynmore: ibid.

London, 1, 1, 3, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 11, 3, 0, 6.

Firebrace, Fairbrass, Farbrace.—Nick. 'iron-arm'; cf. Armstrong, Strongitharm, Bradsfer; v. Pettifer. Perhaps a legendary name. Professor Skeat, in his Etym. Dict. (s.v. Biestings), alludes to the 'Romance of Ferumbras.'

Robert Ferebraz, C. R., 48 Hen. III.
Robert Ferbras, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Herv Ferebraz, co. Oxf., ibid.
John Ferbrax, co. Bucks, ibid.

1678. Bapt.—Sarah, d. Henry Fierbrasse: St. Mary, Aldermay (London), p. 104.

1680. —Mary, d. Henry Fyerbras: ibid. p. 105.

MDb. (co. Kent), 0, 1, 4.

Firmin, Farman, Fairman, Fearman, Fayerman, Firman, Fireman.—Bapt. 'the son of Firmin,' 'Farman,' or 'Ferman.' In Domesday Farman and Fermannus. The great home of this name and all its varied forms was Norfolk. From hence it extended as Firmin into Essex. In these districts the surname is still common. It is curious to note that the form Fayerman still exists.

Adam fil. Phareman, Fines Roll, 7 Ric. I. 16 John.

John Faverman, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Richard Fayrman, co. Norf., ibid.

Walter Fayrman, vicar of Lakenham, co. Norf., 1360: FF. iv. 518.

Farman Alberd, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1325: ibid. xi. 323.

This same individual is found as Fairman Alberd, 1306 (M.).

John fil. Fermin de Amyas, 9 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 16.

Firmin Capell, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Firman de Lavenham, co. Norf., 1324: FF. vi. 104.

Robertus Fermyn, skynnar, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 99.

Firmine Rookwood, 1552, co. Norf.: FF. xi. 113.

1545. Buried—Fyrmyrn Adams: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 181.

1576. —Francis Farman: ibid. p. 194.
1597. Bapt.—John, son of Mr. Fairman, mercer: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 66.

1619-20. William Firmyn and Ursula Baker: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 84.

MDb. (Suffolk), 0, 4, 1, 0, 0, 1, 0; (Norfolk), 0, 4, 0, 1, 1, 0, 0; (Essex), Firmin, 1; (co. Monmouth), Fireman, 1; London (Firmin), 9; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 17, 0, 0, 5, 0.

Firminger.—Occupative, 'the cheesewright'; O.F. fromageur; cf. Pottinger and Messinger for Potager and Messager.

William le Formager, London, 1273. A.
Robert Formagier, co. Linc., ibid.

Godfrey le Formager, London, ibid.
Ely le Formager, O.

Andrew Firminger, temp. Eliz. Z.
John Farnynger, ibid.

1802. Married—Mathew Takes and Sarah Firminger: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 264.

London, 3.

Firstling.—Nick. 'the firstling,' the first child; cf. Suckling.

Bartholomew Frestlyng, Close Roll, 25 Edw. III.

William Firstling. FF.

Firth.—Local, 'at the firth'; v. Frith.

Johannes del Firth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 189.

Johannes Firthe, 1370: ibid. p. 6.
Willelmus del Firthe, 1379: ibid. p. 56.

London, 7; Philadelphia, 50.

Firtree.—Local, 'at the fir-tree'; cf. Crabtree, Plumptre, Rowntree, &c.

William del Fertre, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Fish, Fische.—Nick. 'the fish.'

John le Fysche. Q.
Robert le Fissh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 125.

Philip le Fissh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 127.

Radulphus Fysche, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 6.

Ricardus Fisch, 1379: ibid. p. 97.
London, 15, 1; Philadelphia, 40, 0.

Fisher.—Occup. 'the fisher,' one who obtained his living by fishing.

Robert le Fyscer, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
Margery le Fischere, co. Hunts, ibid.

Ibota Fischher, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 81.

Alicia Fyssher, 1379: ibid. p. 9.
Willelmus Drory, fyscher, 1379: ibid. p. 21.

Hugo Fysseher, 1379: ibid. p. 158.
Walter Fisscher, piscator, 1379: ibid. p. 230.

London, 190; Philadelphia, 532.

Fishlock.—Local, 'at the fish-lake,' from residence thereby. This seems to be a Yorkshire surname.

Juliana Fysshelake, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 21.

Matilda de Fishelake, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 14.

Isabella de Fyshelek', 1379: ibid. p. 49.
London, 2.

Fishman.—Occup. 'the fishman,' a fisher.

1461. Andrew Fishman, rector of Beeston, co. Norf.: FF. x. 405.

New York, 1.

Fishmonger.—Occup. 'the fishmonger,' a rare term.

Johannes de Bollay, fyssemanger, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 50.

William Fysmonger. F.

Fishpool.—Local, 'at the fishpool'; cf. Fishlock.

Julian atte fispole, Close Roll, 29 Edw. I.

Fishwick.—Local, 'of Fishwick,' a township in the parish of Preston, co. Lanc.; v. Physick.

1415. Agnes de Fysshewyk: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 8.

1582. John Meate, de Fysshewicke: ibid. p. 43.

—John Fysshewick: ibid. p. 45.

1606. Anthony Fishwick, of Preston: Wills at Chester, i. 65.

1612. John Fishwick, of Withnell: ibid. Manchester, 4; Preston, 3.

Fisk, Fiske.—Nick. 'the fish.'

Icelandic, fiskr; Danish, fish (Skeat).

New York, 24, 10; London, 4, 0.

Fison.—Bapt.; v. Fyson.

Fitch (i), Ffitch. (i)—Nick. 'the son,' a corruption of Fitz, or Fiz. The old spelling is generally Fiz. The spelling with i was an attempt to preserve the old sound of N.F. z (v. Skeat). Fitz-Gerald or Fitz-William sounds well enough, but Fitz suggested the inevitable vulgarism of Fitts (v.

infra), so Fitch began to rule the directory. For a second origin, v. Fitch (2).

Gilbert Fiz, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Walter Fiz, co. Bedf., ibid.
William Fiz, co. Soms., ibid.
Cf. Robert Fiz-Payn, co. Northampton, 20 Edw. I. R.
1670-1. Married — Thomas Fitts and Mary Date: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 186.
1695. — Thomas Fitch and Mary Limpany: St. Antholin (London), p. 109. London, 35, 2; New York, 54, 0.

Fitch(2), Fitchett, Fitch(2).
—Nick, 'the fitch' or 'fitchet,' i.e. the polecat; v. Fitchew. O.F. fissau, 'a fitch or fulmart': Cotg. 'Fitchet, a polecat; also called fitch, fitcher, fitchew,' &c. (Halliwell). 'Fichet, a stoat: Salop' (ibid.). Both forms were in early use as a surname. For another meaning for Fitch, v. Fitch (1).

William Fitch, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Roger Fichet, co. Camb., ibid.
Crispiana Fichet, co. Suff., ibid.
Richard Fichet, co. Devon, 20 Edw. I. R.
Henry Fychet, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 118.
John Fichet, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid., p. 146.
Ricarda Fychet, C. R., 19 Ric. II.
1691. Married — Thomas Fitchett and Elisabeth Soundes: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii, 191.
London, 35, 3, 2; Oxford, 0, 4, 0; New York, 54, 1, 0.

Fitchew.—Nick, 'the fitchew,' i.e. polecat (Polecat was also a surname, q.v.); spelt fitchew in King Lear, iv. 6. 124 (Skeat); a corruption of O.F. fissau (ibid.); v. Fitch (2) and Fitchett.

1615. Bapt. — Elizabeth, d. Richarde Fitchoe: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 42.
1742. Married — Richard Milson and Ann Fitchaw: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii, 272.
London, 2.

Fithian.—Bapt. 'the son of Vivian,' an American variant; v. Pythian.

New York, 3; Philadelphia, 18.

Fitkin.—Bapt. 'the son of — (?)'. Probably of Dutch origin, although so early found in the form of Fidekyn on English soil. Fiddy would be the pet form of one of the many German personal names prefixed with Fred. Perhaps for Frederic; cf. Watkin, Wilkin, &c.

Thomas Fidekyn, Fines Roll, 8 Edw. I.
Thomas Fidekyn, co. Bucks, 20 Edw. I. R.

The second stage was Fidkin:

1595. Married — Ellis Martin and Hellen Fidkin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii, 19.
1772. — Edward Davis and Ann Fidkin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i, 226.

The third and last stage, Fitkin, was inevitable, and is the present form.

London, 4.

Fidler.—Occup. 'the fiddler,' a sharpened form of Fidler, q.v.

Fitter.—Occup. 'the fitter,' a joiner, a carpenter, one who joined or fitted separate parts together; a common occupational term in the 19th century for one who puts separate portions of machinery together. The early fitter probably worked in wood. Indeed, the name may be looked upon as a synonym of joiner.

Geoffrey le Fittere, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Robert le Fittere, co. Camb., ibid.
1548. Buried — Hellen Fytter: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 178.
1661. Married — William Fitter and Jane Trott: ibid., p. 38.
1748. Bapt. — Samuel, s. Jasper Fitter: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 131.
London, 6; New York, 5.

Fitzcharles.—Bapt. 'the son of Charles.'

William Fitzcharles, pedlar: New York Directory.
New York, 1.

Fitzgerald.—Bapt. 'the son of Gerald.'

London, 18; Philadelphia, 207.

Fitzgibbon, Fitzgibbons.—Bapt. 'the son of Gilbert'; v. Gibbon. With the genitive s in Fitzgibbons, cf. Williams, Gibbons, Jones, Watkins, &c.

London, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 6.

Fitzharris.—Bapt. 'the son of Henry'; v. Harries.

Philadelphia, 1; New York, 5.

Fitzhenry.—Bapt. 'the son of Henry.'

Philadelphia, 3; Liverpool, 3.

Fitzherbert.—Bapt. 'the son of Herbert.'

Fitzhugh.—Bapt. 'the son of Hugh,' exactly equivalent to Howson, Hewson, or Welsh Pugh-ap-Hugh.

Philadelphia, 3.

Fitzjames.—Bapt. 'the son of James.'

London Court Dir., 1.

Fitzjohn.—Bapt. 'the son of John,' the exact equivalent of Johnson, or 'Simon, son of Jonas,' or Welsh Upjohn.

William Fitz-John, co. Norf., 15 Edw. I.: FF. vii, 242.

Sir Robert Fitz-John, of Ashwellthorp, co. Norf., 1383; ibid., v, 118.
1766. Married — Thomas Lyon and Lucy Fitzjohn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i, 159.
1781. — George Hodson and Eliz. Fitzjohn: ibid., i, 319.

MDB. (co. Cambridge), 3; London, 1.

Fitzmaurice, Fitzmorris.—Bapt. 'the son of Maurice.'

London, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 8, 2.

Fitzpatrick.—Bapt. 'the son of Patrick.'

London, 4; Philadelphia, 207.

Fitzroy.—Nick, 'the king's son.'

London Court Dir., 6; Philadelphia, 2.

Fitzsimmons, Fitzsimons, Fitzsimon.—Bapt. 'the son of Simon.'

Richard Fitz-Symond, co. Norf., 1419: FF. iv, 87.

Philadelphia, 30, 4, 0; Manchester, 1, 0, 0; Liverpool, 0, 4, 1; MDB. (co. Cumberland), 0, 3, 0.

Fitzwater.—Bapt. 'the son of Walter'; v. Walter and Waters.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Fitzwilliam.—Bapt. 'the son of William.'

Johannes fitz William, chivaler, et Elizabetha uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 52.

Edmundus fitz William, armiger, 1379: ibid., p. 53.
Boston (U.S.), 2.

Fiveash.—Local, 'at the five ash trees'; cf. Twelvrees and F. quatrefages; v. Vivash.

London, 1.

Fivefeet.—Nick.

John flyvefeet, Close Roll, 12 Hen. IV.

Fivepenny.—Nick.; cf. Fourpence.

John Fivepeni, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Flack.—Local, 'at the flack,' i.e. flag, whence our flagstone, a term formerly employed to describe turf as well as stone; cf. Slack and Slagg.

Robert del Flac, co. Kent, 1273. A.
Dorothy Flack, co. Norf., 1715: FF. viii. 390.
London, 32; Boston (U.S.) 2; Philadelphia, 5.

Fladgate.—Local, 'at the flood-gate,' the door or gate of the mill-race; 'flood-gate of a mylle, sino gloctorium' (Prompt. Parv.).

Walter atte Flodgate, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 274.
William Fludgate, C. R., 6 Hen. IV.
'Margaret, d. John Durham, ... late wife of Alan Heynham, of ... in Norfolk, released to Ralph Somerton ... all her right in Begvilles manor, and in a marsh, called Flodgates ... in the 5th Henry IV': FF. xi. 195.
London, 3.

Flamank.—? —. A Cornish surname.

1595. Buried—Roger Flamacke, gent: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 195.

The editor adds, 'fourth son of John Flamank, second son of Richard Flamock.'

London, 1.

Flanders.—Local, 'of Flanders,' an immigrant from the Low Countries, a well-known Cambridgeshire surname. It is curious to note that a 'de Flanders' was settled there in the 13th century. Probably he was the progenitor of all the Flanders in the county. On the other hand, the 'de Flandres' of Yorkshire have left no descendants, unless the surname was changed to Fleming, q.v.

Jacobus de Flandres, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Thomas Flandres, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 256.

Robertus del Flaunders, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 110.

Johannes de Flaunders, 1379: ibid. p. 165.

Johannes de Flaundre, 1370: ibid. 1800. Married—William Bateman and Ann Flanders: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 407.

London, 4; MDB. (co. Cambridge), 11; New York, 10.

Flanner, Flawner, Flawn.—Occup. 'the flawner,' a custard-maker, a seller of flawns, a kind of pancake. O.F. flaon, a custard. 'Flawne, mete; flamicia' (Prompt. Parv.). 'A flawne, opacum' (Cath. Ang.). Caxton says, in the Boke for Travellers, 'of mylke and of egges, men make flawnes (flans).' Mr. Way adds (v. note, p. 164, Prompt. Parv.) 'recipes for making flawnes will be found in the Forme of Cury.'

Proverb, 'As flat as a flawn.' Kennett.

The surname was common, and ultimately settled down into Flanner.

William le Flaoner, London, 1273. A.
William le Flaoner. B.
Roger le Flaoner, London, 1307. X.
John Flawner, London. X.
Adam le Flaoner, cocus, 12 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 18.
John Flauner entered C.C.C. Camb., in 1649: Hist. C.C.C. Camb.
In 1641 John Flanner was rector of Kilverstone: FF. i. 546.

Flatman.—Occup. 'the flatman,' a Norfolk and Suffolk surname, where boat-names are common; cf. Bargeman, Cockman, &c. Fleet now means a collection of boats. A.S. fléot, a ship.

Henry Floteman, 1551, co. Norf.: FF. vii. 377.

1609. Married—Robert Flatman and Agrippina Bransley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 157.

MDB. (Suffolk), 6; London, 2.

Flatt.—Local, 'at the flat,' from residence thereon. This derivation is all the more probable because the habitat of the name is co. Norfolk.

MDB. (co. Norfolk), 9; Philadelphia, 1.

Flaxenhead.—Nick. 'with the flaxen hair,' fair-haired; cf. Fairfax.

Richard Flaxennehed, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Flaxman, Flexman.—Occup. 'the flaxman,' a dresser of flax. M.E. flax; A.S. fleax (Skeat).

William Flexman, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Ralph le Flexman, co. Glouc., 20 Edw. I. R.

John Flexmon, co. Glouc., ibid.

William Bancroft, flaxman, 1582: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 35.

William Bancroft, flax-seller, 1562: ibid. p. 28.

Ralph Lever, of Chorley, flaxman, 1663: Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 168.
1706. Bapt.—Jeremiah, son of Clousley Flaxman, and Annavick, his wife: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 162.
London, 4, 3.

Flaxwife.—Occup. 'the flax-wife,' a spinner of flax; v. Flaxman.

Cristina la Flexwyfe, London. X.

Fleck; v. Flick.

Fleeman.—? —. A variant of Freeman or Fleming, more probably the former.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1; New York, 1.

Fleet.—Local, 'at the fleet,' or 'of Fleet,' parishes in diocs. Lincoln, Salisbury, and Winchester; from 'fleet,' a creek, a bay. Hence Fleet Street, by the old Fleet Ditch; cf. Herringfleet, Fleetwood, Northfleet, &c.; v. Prompt. Parv. p. 166, and Way's note thereon, who quotes Fladbury, formerly Fleetbury, and Twining Fleet on the Avon, among other place-names.

John de Flete, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Richard de Flet, co. Linc., ibid.
Laurence de Flete, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Fulco de Flete, rector of West Lynn, co. Norf., 1349: FF. viii. 535.

1579-80. Married—Thomas Fleete and Elisabeth Emerton: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 9.

1580. Edward Clerke and Bridget Fleet: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 100.
London, 7; New York, 7.

Fleetwood.—Local, 'of Fleetwood,' a town and seaport in co. Lancaster. From an inconsiderable hamlet Fleetwood has become an important seaboard town. The surname arose in the days of its obscurity.

Elizabeth Fleetwood, of Rossall, widow, 1624: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 112.

Richard Fleetwood, of Preston, 1668: ibid.

William Fleetwood, of Kirby, 1607; Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 65.

John Fleetwood, of Knowsley, yeoman, 1635: ibid. (1621-50), p. 78.

1676. Buried—Eliz. Fleetwood, servant to Mr. Simonds: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 262.

1802. Married—Henry S. Craufurd and

Sophia Fletewood: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 265.

London, 3; MDB. (co. Lancaster), 7; Oxford, 4; Philadelphia, 2.

Flegg.—Local, 'of Flegg.' East and West Flegg are hundreds in the county of Norfolk.

Algar de Flegg, co. Norf., temp. Hen. II.; FF. xi. 104.

Henry de Flegg, co. Norf., temp. Ric. I.; ibid.

John de Flegg, co. Norf., temp. Hen. III.; ibid. viii. 84.

William de Flegg, co. Norf., 53 Hen. III.; ibid.

John Flegg, Bokenham Ferry, co. Norf., 7 Hen. VIII.; ibid. vii. 213. London, 3; MDB. (Norfolk), 2.

Fleming, Flemming.—Local, 'the Fleming,' one who came from Flanders.

John le Flemeng, co. Linc., 1273. A. Walter le Flemmeng, co. Linc., ibid. Richard le Fleming, co. Devon, ibid. William Flemmyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.; Kirby's Quest, p. 89. London, 35, 1.

Flesher.—Occup. 'the flesher,' a butcher. To be carefully distinguished from Fletcher, although the two names have got mixed. A butcher is still a flesher in Scotland, and the 'flesh-market' is not unknown in the North of England, where 'meat' and 'flesh' have still separate meanings.

Miles Flesher. V. 5.
Robert Flesher, co. York. W. 2.
Adam Flescher, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 29.
Johannes Flescher, 1379: ibid. p. 5.
Boston (U.S.), 1.

Fleshewer.—Occup. 'a car-nifex,' a slaughter-man, a man who cuts up the carcasses of cattle for the shambles; cf. stone-hewer, wood-hewer, block-hewer. The name was early lost in Flesher, i.e. butcher, and not in Fletcher; v. Flesher; cf. Fleshmonger.

Robert Fleshewer, Pardon Rolls, 6 Ric. II.

Peter le Flesschewer, C. R., 30 Edw. III. William Flesschewer, co. York. W. 2. John Fleschewer. H.

Willelmus de Rypon, flesschewer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 252.

Johannes de Staynlay, flesschewer, 1379: ibid.

Willelmus del Clay, fleschewer, 1379: ibid. p. 3.

Johannes Fleschewer, bocher, 1379: ibid. p. 14.

Agnes Flesschewer, 1379: ibid. p. 81.

An attempt to rescue this surname from absorption into Flesher is found so late as the 16th century.

William Fleshware, of Chester, weaver, 1577: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 65.

Fleshmonger.—Occup. 'the fleshmonger,' a seller of flesh-meat, a butcher. Cocke Lorelle's Bote comprises, among others—

'Woolemen, vynterers, and fleshemongers.'

The Pardoner in the same poem thus begins his role:

'Here is first Cocke Lorelles the knyght,
And Symkyn Emery, mayntenaunce
agaynz ryght,
With Slynghtryfte Fleshemonger.'

'Also, the usage of fleshemongeres ys swych, that everych fleshemongere.' &c. (Usages of Winchester, English Gilds, p. 354). William Fleshmonger, D.C.L., was Dean of Chichester in 1528 (Hist. Oxford, Ackermann, p. 154).

Richard le Flesmongere, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

William le Flesmongere, co. Bucks, ibid.

Eudo le Flesmongere, c. 1300. M. William Fleshemongere. F.

Fletcher.—Occup. 'the fletcher,' a maker of arrows. The pattern-makers petitioned the Commons in 1464 to have restored to them the use of the 'Tymber called aspe,' lately the monopoly of arrow manufacturers, 'So that the Flecchers thorough the Reame (realm) may sell their arrows at more esy price' (Rot. Parl., Edw. IV).

'Paied to Guilliam the kinge's fletcher for arowes for my lorde of Richemonde xxxs.' : Privy Purse Expenses, Henry VIII, p. 40.

1542. 'Payd to the fletcher for fetherynge of a shaffe of shayffe arroyes, &c., 20d.' : QQQ. p. 296.

In the old Guilds we find the Bowyers and Fletchers invariably walking together (v. Bowyer).

Ralph le Fleccher, co. Linc., 1273. A. Nicholas le Flecher, co. Linc., ibid.

Adam le Flecher, co. Northampt., ibid.

Henry le Fletcher, ibid.

Robert le Fletcher. E.

Adam le Fletcher. S.

Robertus Flegler, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 120.

Johannes Fleccher, 1379: ibid. p. 37.
Stephanus Fletcher, 1379: ibid. p. 42.
Johannes Copyn, fletcher, 1379: ibid. p. 155.

1619, George Duyre, fletcher, and Sibell Michaelwright: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 78.
London, 101; Philadelphia, 84.

Flewelling, Flewelling.—Bapt. 'son of Llewellyn'; cf. Floyd with Lloyd; v. Llewellyn.

Oxford, 0, 1; New York, 3, 0.

Flewitt, Flewett.—? —. I cannot suggest any derivation of this surname. I do not think it is English, and being found first in London may be an immigration from the Low Countries.

1558. Bapt.—Richard Flewett: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 8.

1561. — Jane, d. William Fluett: ibid. p. 80.

1571-2. Owen Evans and Margaret Flewett: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 51.

1762. Married—Thomas Sheppard and Catherine Fluitt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 112.

London, 1, 0; Crockford, 0, 1.

Flick, Fleck.—Nick. 'the spotted,' streaked, dappled (?).

'A flecked pie.' Chaucer, C. T. 9722.

William le Flik, C. R., 3 Edw. I.

Peter Fleke, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 186.

William Fleke, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid.

London, 1, 9; Philadelphia, 26, 28.

Flinders.—Local, 'of Flanders,' q.v. A corruption.

London (1884), 2.

Flint, Flindt.—Bapt. 'the son of Flint.' 'In Domesday we have in Suffolk an Alwin Flint' (Lower, Patr. Brit. p. 117). Mr. Lower further says, 'Our Anglo-Saxon ancestors had a subordinate deity whom they named Flint, and whose idol was an actual flint-stone of large size. The name of the god would readily become the appellation of a man' (ibid.). The compound Flinthard, manifestly an early personal name, is found in the Hundred Rolls.

Jacobus Flinthard, co. Warw., 1273. A. John Flinchard, co. Essex, ibid.

John Flint, or Fleynt, co. Bucks, ibid.

Sivardus Flynt, 21 Ric. II.: Furness Coucher Book, i. 188.

Willelmus Flynt, walker, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 101.

Flint is a common surname in the Poll Tax of 1379 (Yorks). I only furnish one instance. The name is scattered hither and thither without prefix. There can be no doubt it was a personal name. Steel (q.v.) enjoyed a similar popularity; cf. the German Flindt.

London (1884), 27, 2; Philadelphia, 16, 1.

Fliteroft, Fliteraft.—Local, 'of Flitcroft.' Some spot in South Lancashire. For the suffix, v. Craft or Croft.

1587. George Flitcroft, of Kenyon, parish of Winwick: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 66.

1602. Peter Flitcroft, of Kenyon: ibid. 1628. Bapt.—Richard, s. Richard Fleetcraft: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 107.

Manchester, 1, 0; Bolton, 9, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Flockton.—Local, 'of Flockton,' a township in the parish of Thornhill, near Wakefield, Yorks.

Johannes de Flogton: P. T. Yorks. p. 24.

Robertus de Flocketon: ibid. p. 53.

Johannes de Froketon: ibid. London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Flood.—(1) Bapt. Welsh Floyd or Flood=Lloyd; v. Floyd.

(2) Local, 'at the flood,' from residence at the point in the river where the water is apt to flood. The Norfolk Floods are manifestly so sprung.

John de la Flode, co. Hants, 1273. A. Nicholas de la Flod, or Flode, co. Wilts, 20 Edw. I. R.

Robert Flode, rector of Downham, co. Norf., 1412: FF. vii. 342.

John Flod, or Flud, vicar of Sporle, co. Norf., 1516: ibid. vi. 120.

George Flood, preacher, Norwich, 1595: ibid. iv. 188.

London, 10; MDB. (co. Norfolk), 7; New York, 86.

Florence, Florence.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Florence.' Not a modern girl's name; frequently found in the 13th and 14th centuries.

John Florence, co. Bedf., 1273. A. Florence de Cove, co. Camb., ibid.

Florence de Lisle, Rot. Fines, 3 Edw. II. Florence de Wygeton, C. R., 14 Edw. II.

Florence, wife of Richard Malyns: ibid. i Ric. II. pt. I.

Florence Gorges: ibid. 3 Hen. V.

(2) Local, 'of Florence,' in Italy. John de Florence, co. Norf., 20 Edw. I. R.

William Florence, Close Roll, 7 Edw. III. pt. i.

Gam'ia de Florence, co. York, 1273. A. Bartholomew de Florence, co. York, ibid.

There are allusions to the Mercatores de Florence, or Marchandz de Florence (cos. Lincoln and Northampton), in the same record.

1579. Garrett Florence and Catherine Pomfrett: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 91. 1651. Married—Thomas Bourn and Mary Florance: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 86.

London, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 7, 1.

Floris.—Bapt. 'the son of Florence,' q.v. An abbreviation.

Flory, Florey; v. Flurry.

Flower.—(1) Occup. 'the flower,' an archer, one who shot a flo, or arrow. The latter was a later word.

'His bowe he bent, and set therein a flo.' Chaucer, Manciple's Tale.

John le Floer, co. Devon, 1273. A. William Floere, co. Devon, ibid.

Nicholas le Flower. J. Reginald le Flower. B.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Flower,' a natural personal name; cf. Rose. The following instance is strongly corroborative:

William Floureson, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 141.

Johanna Floure, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 104.

Matilda Flowre, 1370: ibid. p. 215. 1567. Bapt.—Elizabeth, d. Edwarde Flower: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 137.

1573. Thomas Flowre and Jane Hardinge: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 57.

London, 20; Philadelphia, 2.

Flowerday.—Nick. or local. A Norfolk surname, probably introduced from the Low Countries.

John Floure-dieu, co. Norf., 1541: FF. v. 28.

Cf. Ingledew and Engeldew.

John Flowerdew, of Hetherset, co. Norf., 1549: FF. iii. 222-3.

'Commission of rebellion to John Flowerdew, Feb. 12, 1592': Cal. State Papers (Domestic), iii. 182.

William Flowerdew, rector of Ashby, co. Norf., 1606: FF. x. 95.

1555-6. Roger Mychell and Helen Flowerdewe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 17.

1577. Married—Richard Fryar and Thomassin Flowerdewe: Reg. Deopham, co. Norfolk.

1685. Married—John Roll and Anne Flowerdew: St. Dionis Backchurch (London).

London, 2; MDB. (Norfolk), 4.

Floyd, Flude, Flood.—Bapt. Welsh Lloyd. The English attempt at pronouncing this name could get no further than Floyd, Flood, &c.; cf. Blood and Bloyd.

'I am a gentylman and come of Brutus' blood;

My name is Ap-Ryce, Ap-Davy, Ap-Flood.'

Andrew Borde's Boke of Knowledge.

Cf. Flewellin and Llewellyn.

'Thomas Lloyd, or Floyd, sup. for B.C.L., 31 May, 1510': Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 69.

Thomas Lloide, or Floide, 1569: ibid.

i. 274.

David Lloyd, or Floyd, 1570: ibid.

i. 278.

This surname is not uncommon in cos. Chester and Lanc., and on the border of the Principality.

Richard Flood, co. Salop, temp. 1580: Visitation of London, 1634, ii. 279.

Roger Fowke and Katherine Floodd (in margin, 'Lloyd'), widow: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 18.

1675. Charles Hutchinson and the Lady Mary Lloyd, alias Floyd: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 243.

1771. Married—William Flude and Mary Doubtfire: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 205.

London, 13, 3, 10; New York, 27, 0, 89.

Flurry, Flory, Flury, Florey.

—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Florence,' from the nick. Flory; v. Florence.

(2) Local, 'de Flury,' seemingly a Norman surname. The local derivation is manifestly the true one in regard to the majority of these forms.

Flory Oliver (fem.), co. Salop, 1273. A. Agnes Flury, co. Linc., ibid.

John Flury, co. Linc., ibid.

Egidius de Flory, co. Soms., 20 Edw. I. R.

Peter Flury, co. Glouc., ibid.

Robert de Flury, co. Linc., Hen. III. Edw. I. K.

1402. Richard de Flory, rector of Little Wrenningham, co. Norf.: FF. v. 115.

1568-9. Philip Florye and Catherine Bexewell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 41.

1589-90. William Howson and Joane Florey, co. Hants: ibid. i. 184.

1729. Married—James Flory and Eliz. Marriott: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 62.

1809. — Daniel Willis and Mary Ann Flory: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 402.

London, 1, 0, 0, 0; Crookford, 0, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 3, 0; MDB. (co. Norfolk), 0, 0, 0, 2.

Flutter.—Occur. 'the fluter,' one who played the musical pipe or flute; O.F. flaute; cf. Harper, &c.

'There mightest thou see these floutours,
Minstrales, and eke jogleours.'

Chaucer, R. of R. 763-4.
Alanus Floyter, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 282.

Henricus Floyter, 1379: ibid. p. 274.

Nicholas le Floutere. B.
London, 1.

Flyor, Flier.—Nick. (?).

Alan le Flier, C. R., 17 Edw. I.

Richard Flyor, of Utoxeter, co. Stafford, temp. 1570: Visitation of London, 1633, i. 281.

New York, o, 1.

Foakes.—Bapt. 'the son of Fulk,' one of very many variants; v. Fulke and Fooks. Foakes is a corruption of the intermediate form Folkes; v. Folk. The final s is patronymic; cf. Jones, Williams, Jennings, &c.

Foke Odell. H.

Ralph Foke, co. Ox., 1273. A.

1796. Married—Thomas Foakes and Alice Falthorpe: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 158.
London, 1.

Foale, Foall.—Nick. 'the foal'; M.E. fole, a foal. Almost all animal names are to be found in our directories of to-day. 'Fole, yonge horse, pullus': Prompt. Parv.

Reginald Fole, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Henry Fole, rector of Hackford, co. Norf., 1352: FF. ii. 497.

MDb, (co. Devon), 3, o; London, 1, o;
Philadelphia, o, 1.

Foden, Fowden.—Local, 'of Foden,' now Foden Bank, in the township of Sutton, parish of Prestbury, co. Cheshire. This surname is well represented in Cheshire and Lancashire.

1563. Married—Phillip Fowden and Katherine Broke: Prestbury Church, co. Ches., p. 11.

1568. —Hugh Fowden, or Foden, and Margery Stubbs: ibid. p. 25.

1592. Robert Fowden, of Warford: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 67.

1613. John Foden, of Sutton, co. Ches.: ibid. p. 68.

London, 3, o; Manchester, 11, 2; MDb, (co. Chester), 8, 3.

Foe; v. Defoe.

Fogg.—? —. A well-known Lancashire surname. I can only suggest a local origin. Lower states that it is an ancient Kentish family (Patr. Brit. p. 117). Across the Atlantic this surname has ramified very strongly.

1509. Thomas Fogg, co. Norf.: FF. v. 409.

1592. Robert Fogg, of Radcliffe, yeoman: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), pp. 66-7.

1599. Married—William Norwood and Anne Fogg: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 23-1610. Annie Fogg, of Darcy Lever: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 66.

1615. Thurston Fogg, Blackburn: ibid. p. 67.

London, 4; Manchester, 2; MDb, (co. Lancaster), 7; Boston (U.S.), 59.

Fold, Folds.—Local, 'at the fold,' from residence thereby; v. Foulds.

John atte Fold, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 151.

Philadelphia, o, 1; New York, 2, o.

Foley, Fooley.—An Irish surname. The New York Directory contains 227 Foleys (which are prefixed among other Irish fontal names), 7 Cornelius's, 2 Dennis's, 1 Dominick, 19 Michaels, and 22 Patricks. Mr. Lower, quoting Collins, says that 'The family of Foley have been of ancient standing in co. Worcester and some adjoining counties.' This would suggest a local English origin, of which no proof is offered. Foley must be looked upon as an Irish surname, and hence has no place in this dictionary.

London, o, o; Manchester, 5, o; Liverpool, 6, o; New York, 227, 1.

Folgate.—Local, 'at the fold-gate,' from residence thereby; v. Felgate.

William atte Fulghyate, C. R., 20 Edw. I.

John atte Foldyate. J.
Thomas Faldyate, Pardons Roll, 5 Ric. II.

London, 1.

Folger.—Bapt. 'the son of Fulk,' q.v. An American variant. New York, 7.

Foljambe, Fuljambe, Full-james, Fuljames.—Nick. One of a few descriptive French names compounded with -jambe, i.e. leg; cf. Beljambe, 'handsome leg.' 'Edward Longshanks was Edward "avez les long jaumes"' (v. Lower on 'Foljambe'). Shanks was the English form; cf. Sheepshanks, Pyshank, &c. Foljambe seems to be 'fool-legged.' Almost all the names compounded with -shank and -jambe are of an unkindly or satirical character. Lower says, 'Sir Thomas Foljambe was bailiff of the High Peak, co. Derby, in 1272.'

Thomas Foljambe, co. Derby, 1273. A.
Robert Foljambe, co. Derby, ibid.

Geoffrey Fulgeam, Visitation of Yorks, 1563, p. 128.

1533. John Fulgeam, rector of Clery, co. Norf.: FF. vi. 43.

1596. Bapt.—Odella, d. Hercules Foljambe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 31.

1774. Married—Francis Farrand Foljambe and Mary Arabella Thornhagh: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 242.

MDb, (co. Glouc.), o, o, 3, 1; London, o, o, 1, o; West Rid. Court Dir., 1, o, o, o; Boston (U.S.), 1, o, o, o.

Folk, Folkes, Folks, Folke.—Bapt. 'the son of Fulk.' Every possible guise of this popular name is found; v. Falk, Fulke, and Foakes.

Folke de Monte Pinzini, co. Essex and Herts, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Folkes (without surname), co. Camb., 1273. A.

John Folke, co. Camb., ibid.

Matilda Folks, co. Bucks, ibid.

Folc, or Fulco, fil. Warin, co. Glouc., 20 Edw. I. R.

1574. Robert Folkes and Elizabeth Grave: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 61.

1782. Married—Robert Beverley and Eliz. Folks: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 337.

London, 1, 2, 2, o; New York, 4, 1, 1, 2.

Folkard.—Bapt.; v. Fulcher.

Follenfant.—Nick.; 'Fr. "foolish child," probably a term of endearment': Lower, Patr. Brit. p. 117.

Hugh Folenfaunt, co. Notts, 1273. A.
Ingram Folsensfaunt, co. York, ibid.
London, 1.

Follett, Follitt, Ffolliott.—Nick.; Fr. follet, frolicsome, wanton, gay. 'Folett, fatuellus, stolidus, folius': Prompt. Parv. Lower says, 'Folliot, &c. . . The surname has become historical from Gilbert Foliot, bishop of Hereford, the staunch defender of Henry II' (Patr. Brit. p. 118).

Nicholas Folet, co. Kent, 1273. A.
Sampson Folyot, co. Wilts, ibid.

Jordon Folyot, co. Suff., ibid.

Margery Folyet, 1301. M.

Robert Follitt, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III
Kirby's Quest, p. 275.

Ricardus Folyot, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 26.
London, 3, 5, 0; Crookford (Ffolliott), 1; Boston (U.S.), 11, 0, 0.

Followfast.—Nick. Probably the sobriquet of a pursuivant; cf. Golightly, Lightfoot, &c.

Gudytha Foloufast, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 246.
Willelmus Foloufast, 1379: ibid.

Folly, Folley.—Local, 'at the folly.' 'Any ridiculous building not answering its intended purpose' (Halliwell). Many counties have spots so called. But Lower notices a use of Folly different from this. It seems to have meant a fragile, temporary structure. He connects it with N.F. foillie. In the Rom. de Rou (l. 12136) we read

'mult veient loges e foillies'— which M. Pluquet explains as 'barques faites avec des branches d'arbre.' Mr. Lower refers to N. and Q., Nov. 1856 (p. 349). Looking at his reference I find C. W. Bingham drew attention to the above-quoted line.

Henry de la Folye, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
Roger de la Folye, co. Wilts, ibid.
Richard de la Folye, co. Wilts, ibid.
London, 0, 2; New York, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 3.

Folsom.—Local. An American variant of Foulsham, q.v.

Fon, Fone.—Offic. 'the fon,' a professional fool; cf. fond = foolish.

'Alein, by God thou is a fonne.'

Chaucer, C. T. 4087.

Petrus Fonne, co. Notts, 20 Edw. I. R.
Peter le ffoon, Close Roll, 4 Edw. III.
Willelmus Fones, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 41.

1548. Married — Henrye Fones and Alyce Gylpyn: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 5.
1761. — Joseph Middleton and Catherine Fones: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 104.

1781. — John Nicholas and Mary Fone: ibid. i. 319.

Derby, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 4.

Fooks.—Bapt. 'the son of Fulk.' One of almost interminable corruptions of Fulk, from the patronymic Fulkers or Foulkes, frequently found as Fowkes. The last stage of change was Fooks. The great popularity of Fulk amongst all classes must be realized in studying the mutations of fortune experienced by this baptismal name. So late as the 17th century Fulk is found as a fontal-name in the form of Fook.

1611. Fooke Edmonds and Anne Smith: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 6.
1618. Married — Thomas Fookes and Agnes Turner: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 22.

1682. Buried — Henry Fookes, in the churchyard: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 96.
London (1884), 8; Philadelphia, 2.

Fool, Foll.—Nick. or offic. 'a fool, a jester'; O.F. fol, M.E. fol. No surprise need be felt at its absence from modern directories; v. Follett.

Baldwin le Folle, co. Camb., 1273. A.
John le Folle, co. Sussex, ibid.
Peter le Folle, co. Wilts, ibid.
Alexander le Fol. C.
Johannes Stultus. DD.
Robertus Foll, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 31.
Magister Johannes Fool: Wardrobe Account, 44-5 Edw. III, 40/3.
Richard Foole, of Livesey, 1575: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 67.
Margaret Foole, 1597, ibid.
New York, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Foord.—Local. A variant of Ford, q.v.

London, 8; MDB. (co. Kent), 6; New York, 1.

Foot, Foote, Foott.—(1) Local, 'at the foot'—of the hill, slope, &c. Of the same class as Head (q.v.): -head, -side, and -foot, are common terminals of local surnames; cf. Hazlett (Hazlehead) and Hazlefoot, Akenhead and Akenside. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Fot.' This has more evidence in its favour than (1). Among the under-tenants of Domesday we find Ernui' Fot in co. Cheshire, and Godwin Fot in co. Kent. Out of very many instances in the Hundred Rolls (1273) not one has a local prefix. That Fot or Foot was a personal name before it became a surname I cannot doubt.

Matilda Fot, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Walter Fot, co. Norf., ibid.
Geoffrey Fot, co. Camb., ibid.
Johannes Fote, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 15.
1647. Bapt.—Mary, d. Thomas Foote: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 167.
London, 20, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 30, 0.

Footman.—Occup. 'the footman.' An early term for a foot-soldier, as distinguished from a horseman; v. Horsman. 'Fotmann, or he that goythe on foote, pedester': Prompt. Parv.

London, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Forbes.—Local, 'of Forbes,' a town and barony in co. Aberdeen. 'The family possessed that lordship as early as temp. William the Lion, and were seated at Pitscottie in the same shire in 1476' (Lower, quoting Debrett).

1550. James Forbesse and Ellen Vawser: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 13.

London, 35; New York, 50.

Ford, Forde.—Local, 'at the ford.' Probably the original bearer occupied an official or occupative position in maintaining a way; v. Forth. At any rate a ford would attract a settlement in its close neighbourhood. Hence the familiarity of the surname. Hence, too, so many place-names with suffix -ford or -forth.

Richard de la Forde, co. Norf., 1273. A.
William de la Forde, co. Kent, ibid.
Peter ate Ford, 1213. M.
David atte Forde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 89.
William atte ffourde, Close Roll, 23 Edw. III, pt. ii.

Stephen atte Forde, C. R., 45 Edw. III. 1620. Married — Henry Feekes and Alyce Foorde: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 48.

Hugh Ford, of Scholes in Wigan, coverlet-weaver, 1661: Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 96.

London, 119, 3; New York, 132, 4.

Fordham.—Local, 'of Fordham': (1) a parish in co. Cambridgeshire; (2) a parish in co. Essex, six miles from Colchester; (3) a parish in co. Norfolk, near Downham Market.

Richard de Fordham, co. Essex, 1273. A.
Andrew de Fordham, rector of Griston, co. Norf., 1213; FF. ii. 291.

Henry de Fordham, rector of Wood-Norton, co. Norf., 1344: ibid. viii. 316.

London, 17; MDB. (co. Norfolk), 3; (co. Essex), 8; (co. Camb.), 18; New York, 6.

Forge.—Local, 'at the forge,' from residence thereby. Probably the blacksmith himself.

John de la Forge, C. R., 2 Edw. I.
Agnes Forge, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 22.
Cecilia Forge, 1379: ibid. p. 68.
New York, 2.

Forlorn.—Nick. An outcast, a woebegone man.

Henry Forlone, Pardons Roll, 8 Ric. II.

Forman, Foreman, Formon.—Bapt. 'the son of Forman.' One of the many varieties of the once common Farman or Firmin, q.v. This surname has nothing to do with the occupative term 'foreman' or 'gaffer.'

Willelmus Forman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 8.
Ricardus Forman, 1379: ibid. p. 8.
Johannes Forman, 1379: ibid. p. 39.
Robertus Formain, 1379: ibid. p. 162.
Rogor Forman, rector of Boughton, co. Norf., 1544: FF. vii. 302.
London (1884), 7, 14, 1; New York, 18, 7, 0.

Forrest.—Local, 'at the forest,' from residence therein or thereby.
Johannes del Forest, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 301.

Thomas de Forest, 1379: ibid. p. 160.
Adinet del Forest, 1379: ibid. p. 200.
London, 16; New York, 16.

Forrester, Forster.—Offic. 'the forester,' a custodian of the extended woods, a keeper. Forster is a modification.

Petrus Forestarius, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
Jordan le Forester, co. Berks, ibid.
Nicholas le Forester, co. Linc., ibid.
Gilbertus Forester, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 145.

Radulphus Forester, 1379: ibid. p. 11.
Willelmus Forster, 1379: ibid. p. 75.
Roger Forster, 1379: ibid. p. 90.
London, 6, 51; New York, 20, 36.

Forsdick, Forsdike, Fossdick, Fossick, Fossdick.—Local, 'of Fosdyke,' a parish in co. Lincoln; v. also Fossdick for an apparently different parentage.

John de Focedik, co. Linc., 1273. A.
London, 2, 1, 2, 1, 0; New York, 0, 0, 0, 4.

Fort, Forte.—Nick. 'strong, powerful'; O.F. fort, strong. Fort occurs in this sense in Kyng Alisaunder (l. 7710). There would be many a laugh at the expense of Sampson le Fort in the village where he lived; v. infra.

William le Fort, or Forte, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Sampson le Fort, co. Bedf., ibid.
Adam le Fort, co. Camb., ibid.
Lucia Fort, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 38.
Richard Fort, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 101.

John le Fort, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 208.
1604. Bapt.—Anne, d. Robert Forte: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 43.
London, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 20, 2.

Forth.—Local, 'at the forth,' i.e. ford; v. Ford. Bradford in co. Yorks is 'Bradeforth' in the 1379 Poll Tax, p. 190; cf. Spofforth and Spofford, Clifford and Clifforth, in the same record.

Reginald de la Forthe, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Hugh del Forth, 1319: DDD. i. 206.
William Atte-forth, de Bergh, rector of North-Burlingham, co. Norf., 1337: FF. vii. 224.

John Atte-forth, co. Norf., 16 Edw. III: ibid. viii. 330.
Agnes Atte-forth, co. Norf., 48 Edw. III: ibid. xi. 19.

Willelmus Forthe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 14.
1633-4. Robert Vesey and Anne Forth: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 216.
1703. Married—Joseph Forth, of Newton, in Surrey, and Hannah Cox: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 37.
London, 2; New York, 1.

Fortnam, Fortnum.—? Local, 'of Frettenham' (?), a parish in co. Norfolk. The surname on the face of it is local with suffix -ham, just as Barnum stands for Barnham, or Swetnam for Swetenham. Nevertheless the surname belongs to co. Oxford, and its ancestor is manifestly Nicholas Fortanon, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Cf. Ransom for Ranson, or Hanson for Hanson. This suggests some different derivation.

1792. Married—John Fortnam and Eliz. Deykes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 72.
London, 2, 1; MDB. (co. Oxford), 0, 4; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Forty.—Local, 'at the forth-ey,' i.e. the islet in the ford- or forth-ey, an enclosure by the ford; v. Hey. It has nothing to do with numerals. The instances below are decisive. The original bearers of the name dwelt on some little island or holm in a river or stream, or in an enclosure by the riverside. Mr. Lower says, 'Forty is used by the Scotch poet Douglas in the sense of brave; Fr. fort. Hence Forty and Fortyman probably refer to the courage of their original owners.' This solution is quite beside the mark. The interpretation is as given above.

Adam de la Fortheye, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Roger de la Fortheye, co. Oxf., ibid.
William de la Fortheye, co. Oxf., ibid.
Richer atte Forty, co. Hunts, ibid.
'Sir Julius Benedict, the eminent musician (1804-85), married for his second wife Mary Comber Fortey': Dict. Nat. Biog. iv. 217.
London, 3; MDB. (co. Hereford), 3; Oxford, 4.

Forward, Forwood.—Bapt. 'the son of Forward.' The same individual is thus referred to:

Bartholomew Forreward, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Bartholomew Forward, co. Camb., ibid.
1600. Peter Forwardson, rector of All Saints, Warham, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 265.
London, 4, 3; New York, 1, 3.

Fosdick.—Local, 'at the fox-dike,' from residence thereby: a dike frequented by foxes; v. Dyke and Fox. But v. Fordsick.

Thomas Foxdich, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 280.
London, 2.

Foskett, Fosgate, Fosket.—Local, 'of Foxcote.' There can be little doubt about this interpretation. The surname is a familiar one, and the entries concerning Foxcote are plentiful. It was a likely corruption. Probably Foscot (originally Foxcote ?), a parish in co. Bucks, is the home of most of our Fosketts; see an instance from co. Bucks, below.

Robert de Foxkote, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
Ralph de Foxcot, co. Essex, ibid.
Rogyr de Foxcot, co. Salop, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Henry de Foxcote, co. Hants, 20 Edw. I. R.

1781. Married—Richard Foskett and Eliz. Wyatt: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 326.
London, 12, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 4, 0; New York (Fosket), 2.

Foss, Fosse.—Local, 'at the foss or force,' a waterfall; cf. Wilberforce, once Wilberfoss. A small spot in Rutland, near Ulverton, is called Foss Forge, where there is a fine waterfall. Airey Force is familiar to tourists in the Lake district.

Richard atte Fosse, C. R., 1 Edw. II.
Johannes Fosse, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 192.
Willelmus de Fosse, 1379: ibid. p. 196.
Richard de Fosse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 226.

Margery atte Fosse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 227.
Robert atte Fosse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 240.
London (1884), 3, 1; New York, 10, 0.

Foster.—Occur. 'the forester.' An early abbreviation; v. Forrester.

'Now priest, now clerke, now fostere.'
Chaucer, Rom. Rose, 6329.
Benedictus Foster, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 83.
Dionicia Foster, 1379: ibid. p. 86.

The same individual is thus referred to:

Robert Foster, cutler, 1643: Reg. St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 89.
Robert Forster, cutler, 1644: ibid. London, 108; New York, 200.

Fotherby.—Local, 'of Fotherby,' a parish in co. Lincoln, three miles from Louth; v. Fothergill.
London, 2.

Fothergill.—Local, 'of Fothergill.' Some small spot in North England in or near the parish of Ravenstonedale, co. Westmoreland, which I cannot identify; cf. Cowgill, Gillbanks, Gaskell, Wintersgill, and v. Gill (2). No doubt Fother is an old Scandinavian personal name; cf. the place-names Fotherby, Fotheringham, Fotherley, Fotheringay, &c. Thus Fothergill means the gill where Fother settled (v. Gill), Fotherby means the by or dwelling where Fother lived, Fotheringham means the ham or homestead of the family of Fother, Fotheringay means the hay or enclosure of the family of Fother, and Fotherley means the ley or meadow of the family of Fother. That Matterstang Forest and Ravenstonedale in co. Westmoreland are the homes of this name there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.

1541. Miles Fothergill: W. Nicholls, Hist. and Traditions of Ravenstonedale, pp. 112, 113.

Jenkyn Fothergill: ibid.

Martin Fothergill: ibid.

1553-4. John Fodergyll and Jane Feltya: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 14.

'The School' in the parish of Ravenstonedale was endowed in 1668 by Thomas Fothergill, B.D., Master of St. John's College, Camb., who was born at Brouner in the same parish: Burn and Nicolson's Hist. of Cumb. and Westm., i. 524.

1785. Married—John Martin and Mary Fothergill: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 370.
London, 4; Manchester, 4; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Fotheringham, Fothering-hame.—Local, 'of Fotheringham.' 'A place in the parish of Inverarity, co. Forfar' (Lower); v. Fothergill.

1761. Married—William Hooper and Mary Fotheringham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 105.
1781. — William Fotheringham and Mary Clark: ibid. p. 321.
London, 2, 0; New York, 0, 3.

Foulds, Fould.—Local, 'at the fold,' an enclosure for sheep or cattle. Foulds takes a patronymic s like such other one-syllabled local surnames as Holmes, Styles, or Brooks; cf. Williams, Jones, or Watkins, in baptismal surnames. Foulds is a Lancashire surname, so that we need not be surprised at the pronunciation.—Since writing the above I find Folds to be a hamlet in the ancient parish of Bolton, co. Lancashire. This probably is the habitat, and if so, then Folds must be looked upon as a plural form including several enclosures.

1584. James Foulds, of Trawdon: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 68.

1599. Robert Foulds, of Colne: ibid. 1675. John Foulds, of Clayton-in-le-Moors: ibid. (1660-80), p. 98.

1677. Richard Foulds of Habergham Eaves: ibid.

1779. Married—George Parsons and Mary Foulds: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 299.
Manchester, 3, 0; Liverpool, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 6, 0; MDB. (co. Lancaster), 2, 1.

Foulfish (?).—Nick; cf. Rottenherring.

Robert Fulgheffish, Close Roll, 13 Edw. I.

Foulger.—Bapt.; v. Fulcher, of which it is a corruption.

Foulkes, Foulke, Foulk.—Bapt. 'the son of Fulk'; v. Fowke, Folk, and Fulke.

Foulk Aldersey, of Chester, alderman, 1608: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 2.
Fowlke Grevill, c. Eliz. Z.

1683. Bapt.—Foulke, son of Cristofer Walton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 15.
London, 7, 0, 0; New York, 3, 8, 2.

Foulsham, Folsom, Folsom.—Local, 'of Foulsham,' a parish in co. Norfolk. With Foulshom or Folsom, cf. Newsom and Newsham. This surname in the form of Folsom has widely extended its ramifications in the United States.

Ernald de Folsam, co. Norf., 1273. A. Nicholas de Folsam, co. Suff., 20 Edw. I. R.

Elias de Folsam, rector of Bokenham-Ferry, co. Norf., 1349: FF. vii. 215.
Simon Folsam, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1446: ibid. xi. 325.

Thomas Foulsham, rector of Clippisby, co. Norf., 1490: ibid. xi. 163.
1568. Peter Smithe and Emma Folsam: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 40.

This last entry proves, if proof were needed, the parentage of the American Folsoms.

MDB. (Norfolk), 2, 0, 0; London, 2, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0, 87.

Foundling.—Nick. 'the foundling,' a deserted child; M.E. fundeling and fundling (v. Skeat).

Hugo Fundling, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Fountain, Fountaine, Fount-teen.—Local, 'at the fountain,' from residence thereby.

Adam de la Funteyne, co. Norf., 41 Hen. III: FF. viii. 271.

Richard a la Funteyne, Close Roll, 55 Hen. III.

Geoffrey de la Fontayne, London, 1273. A.

William Fonteyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 261.

1570. Buried—Anne Fowntane: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 192.

1587-8. Edward Foote and Susan Fownteyne, co. Herts: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 166.

1592. Married—John Geoffrey and Joane Fowntayne: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 16.

London, 11, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 2, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 11, 0, 1.

Fouracre, Fouracres.—Local, 'at the four-acre,' from residence in a field or enclosure styled the Fouracre; a Somersetshire surname.

William Fouracre, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 146.

John Foweraker, co. Soms., 1605: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 284.

1799. Married—John Fouracres and Martha Bower: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 210.

— John Foster and Ann Foreacker: ibid. ii. 205.

London, 0, 2; MDB. (co. Somerset), 3, 0; Philadelphia, 6, 0.

Fourniss.—Local; v. Furness. London (1884), 1.

Fourpence, Fourpenny.—Nick. It is hard to know how such sobriquets arose; cf. Ninepence, Hundredpound, Centlivre, Fivepenny, &c.

Robertus Forpens, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 301.

Thomas Fourpeni, co. York. W. 9.

Fowden.—Local; v. Foden.

Fowell.—Nick.; v. Fowl.

Fower.—Occup. 'the fower,' a sweeper, a cleaner, a scourer. 'Fowar or clensare, mundator, purgator': Prompt. Parv. Mr. Way adds, 'the appellation Fowar occurs as a surname in the Issue Rolls of the Exch. 44 Edw. III., "William Fowar, falconer." "Escureur, a scowrer, cleanser, feyer' (Cotgr.).

Roger le Fower, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Of the Middle-row in Norwich Blomefield writes:

'Four of the houses in this row were built by Robert Tannys, and settled in 1527, on the city "yeerly, and holly to be expended upon, abouts, and towardys the charges of a common cart, or carts for the carriage away of the filthy matter comyng of the makyng clene, fowing, and swepyng of the stretys"' : FF. iv. 234.

Fowke, Fowkes.—Bapt. 'the son of Fulk.' One more of the almost endless forms of Fulke (q.v.). Fowke became a surname in the 13th century, and lingered on as a baptismal name till the 17th century.

Fowke de Coudrey, co. Bucks, 1273. A. Mabil Fouke, co. Hunts, ibid. Thomas Fouke, co. Oxf., ibid. Richard Fouke, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 127.

Johannes Fowke, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 158.

Fulk, or Fowke Owen, 1567: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 268.

1603. Buried—Richard Fowke, servant to Nicholas Colquitt: St. Mary Aldermary (London), p. 151.

1606. — Mr. Fowke Drake, parson of Fyfeilde: Reg. Broad Chalke, co. Wilts, p. 42.

Fowke Dutton, of Chester, draper, 1558: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 57.

London, 3, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Fowl, Fowle, Fowell.—Nick. 'the fowl'; cf. Bird; v. Fuggle.

William le Foule, co. Essex, 1273. A.

John Fouell, co. Oxf., ibid.

Richard le Foel, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Foghel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 83.

Eustace Foghel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid. p. 242.

Johanna Foughle, 1376: P. T. Yorks. p. 25.

1578. Married—Edmonde Fawsett and Eliz. Fowle: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 12. London, 1, 6, 2; Boston (U.S.), 0, 44, 0; New York (Fowell), 1.

Fowler.—Occup. 'the fowler,' a hunter of birds. It is somewhat strange that Fox follows Fowler in our directories!

John the Foegler, co. Wilts, 1273. A. William le Foggheler, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 8.

Henry le Foggheler, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid. p. 2.

Ricardus Foghler, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 7. Rogerus Foghler, 1379: ibid. p. 59.

London (1884), 81; New York, 120.

Fowlerherd, Fullard.—Occup. 'the fowl-herd,' one who tended poultry (†); cf. Rookherd, Swanherd; v. Herd.

Johannes Foylhird, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 217.

London, 0, 1.

Fox.—Nick. 'the fox,' one of somewhat sly and cunning disposition: not intended to be actually uncomplimentary, or the name would not have been so frequently and willingly accepted. We still speak of a man as 'foxing,' or being 'foxy.' The Yorkshire Poll Tax has a very large number of instances.

John Fox, co. York, 1273. A.

Richard Fox, co. Norf., ibid.

Matilda Fox, doghier, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 6.

Robertus Fox, 1379: ibid. p. 10.

Johannes Fox, smith, 1379: ibid. p. 27.

1576. Married—Thomas Hyndy and Agnes Foxe: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 8.

London (1884), 139; New York, 258.

Foxcroft.—Local, 'of the foxcroft,' from residence in an enclosure so called; v. Croft. Judging by the entries furnished below there can be no doubt that the surname arose in the neighbourhood of Bentham, on the Yorkshire border of North Lancashire.

Johannes de Fowcroft, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 289.

Thomas Fowcroft, of parish of Caton, 1551: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 114.

George Fouxcrofte, of Littledale in Caton, 1599: ibid.

John Foxcrofte, of Littledale in Caton, 1642: ibid. p. 115.

1605. Miles Corney and Mary Foxcrofte, co. Camb.: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 295.

1616. Buried—John, s. Mr. Richard Foxcrofte, gent, born in Cambridge: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 220.

1668. Married—William Goodman and Anne Foxcraft: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 144.

London, 2; Manchester, 2: MDB. (West Rid. Yorks), 2; Boston (U.S.), 4.

Foxhall, Foxall, Foxell.—Local, 'of Foxhall,' a parish in co. Suffolk, four miles from Ipswich.

Adam de Foxhale, co. Norf., 1383: FF. i. 545.

1561. John Foxall and Sibell Whippe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 22.

1654. Buried—William Foxhall, weaver: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 246.

1757. Married—Thomas Foxhall and Eliz. Morton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 69.

1768. — Thomas Foxall and Eliz. Humphreys: ibid. p. 173.

London, 1, 4, 1.

Foxholes.—Local, 'of Foxholes,' a parish in E. Rid. Yorks, seven miles from Sledmere.

Robert de Foxoles, co. York, 1273. A. Richard de Foxoles, co. York, ibid.

John Foxholes, minorile, sup. for B.D., 1451: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 14.

Foxley, Foxlee.—Local, 'of Foxley,' (1) a parish in co. Norfolk, three miles from North Elmham; (2) a parish in co. Wilts, three miles from Malmesbury. The former place seems to be the parent.

1334. Richard de Foxele, vicar of Horning, co. Norf.: FF. xi. 56.

1392. John de Foxle, co. Norf.: ibid. ix. 387.

Thomas de Foxley, co. Norf., 9 Ric. II: ibid. viii. 283.

1595. Bapt.—Richarde, s. Alexander Foxley: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 99.

1622. — Anna, d. Alexander Foxley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 93.

1726. Married—Thomas Foxley and Eliz. Horne: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 63.

London, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Foxton, Foxon, Foxten.—Local, 'of Foxton,' a parish in co. Cambridge, six miles from Cambridge; (2) a parish in co. Leicester, three miles from Market-Harborough; (3) a township in the parish of Sedgfield, co. Durham. The variant Foxon arose through lazy pronunciation.

Richard de Foxstune, co. Suffolk, 1273. A.

John de Foxton, co. Camb., ibid.
Simon de Foxton, rector of Middle Harling, co. Norf., 1308: FF. i. 215.

Thomas Foxtone, rector of Hintlesham,
co. Norf., 1316: ibid. iii. 631.
1605. Married—William Foxson and Jane Lee: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 118.
1669.—James Foxon and Eliz. Overin:
ibid. iii. 160.

1690. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Thomas
Foxen: ibid. i. 336.
London, 0, 2, 0; MDB. (West Riding Yorks), 2, 0, 0; New York, 0, 0, 1.

Foxwell.—Local, 'of Foxwell.'
I cannot find the spot.

1580. Married—Ellis Foxwell and Jane Russell, widow: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 6.

1599.—Lewes Foxwell and Susan
Coleman: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 22.
London, 4; Philadelphia, 1.

Foy, Foye.—? Bapt. 'the son of Faith'; M.E. feý; O.F. foi (v.
Skeat).

Willelmus Foye, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 6.
Magota Foy, 1379: ibid. p. 80.
Johannes Faythe, 1379: ibid. p. 129.
London, 6, 0; Philadelphia, 45, 2.

Frampton.—Local, 'of Frampton', parishes in diocs. Lincoln,
Salisbury, and Glouc. and Bristol.

Thomas de Frampton, or Franton, co.
Linc., 1273. A.

William de Frampton, co. Linc., ibid.
1638. Married—John Framtone and Dorothy Crosse: St. Mary Aldermary,
p. 18.

1720. Bapt.—John, s. Cristofer Fram-ton: ibid. p. 122.

London, 14; Boston (U.S.), 3.

France.—(1) Local, 'from France'; cf. Kent, Somerset, &c.
Herman de Francia. C.

Jenyn de France, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 139.

Johannes de France, 1379: ibid. p. 209.
Janyyn de France, 1379: ibid. p. 192.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Francis',
from nick. France, or Fraunce.

Fraunce, son of Richard Hawke, 1589:
Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 15.

Helyn, d. of John Fraunce, 1543: ibid.
p. 2.

Fraunce, son of William Phillep, 1546:
ibid. p. 4.

Fraunce, son of Richard Fysher, 1550:
ibid. p. 6.

London, 13; Philadelphia, 24.

Francis, Frances, Francies.

—(1) Local, 'le Fraunceys', a Frenchman. The terminal Eys = ish, as in Kentish, Cornish, Welsh,
&c. There need be no astonishment at the large number of Francis's in our directories. Every 13th and 14th century record has instances.

Richard le Fraunceys. A.
Gilbert le Franceys. B.
Henry le Franceis. C.
Adam Fraunceys, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 5.

Johannes Frawnses, 1379: ibid. p. 82.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Francis.'

London (1884), 101, 3, 1; Philadelphia,
62, 0, 0.

Francom, Frankham, Fran-combe, Frankcomb, Frankum.

—Offic. 'le Franchomme,' a freeman (v. Freeman); b is exrescent in Francomb; cf. Hampson, Thompson.

Henry le Franchomme, co. Hunts,
1273. A.

Reginald le Fraunchomme, co. Hunts,
ibid.

Andrew Franchom, co. Northampton,
ibid.

Hugh le Fraunchomme, co. Linc., ibid.
Robert Frankhome. G.

William Francombe, c. Eliz. Z.

1572. Thomas Maryott and Agnes Frankham: Marriage Lic. (London), 152.
1733. Married—William Bartlett and Sarah Frankomb: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,
iii. 261.

1736.—William White and Eliz.
Frankham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 18.

London, 1, 3, 0, 1, 1; Oxford (Fran-combe), 5.

Franey.—? Bapt. 'the son of Frances' (?), from nick. Franny, later Fanny; cf. Charley, Teddie,
Willy, &c.

1597. Buried—Franny Brine, co. Wilts:
Reg. Broad Chalke, p. 41.

Crockford, 1; New York, 1.

Frank, Franke.—Offic. 'the frank', i. e. free; O.F. franc.

Walter le Franke, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

William le Frank, Close Roll, 8 Edw. I.

William le Frank, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
III: Kirby's Quest, p. 216.

Fulco le Frank. E.

Robertus Franke, franklan, 1379:
P. T. Yorks. p. 195.

London (1884), 20, 0; Philadelphia,
133, 8.

Frankish, Franks.—Local.
A form of Frances, i. e. French.

Robertus Frankys, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 22.

Willelmus Frankys, 1379: ibid. p. 61.
Ricardus Frankissheman, 1379: ibid.

p. 23.
Ric. Frankys, or Frankysse, 1522:
Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 129.

1681. Bapt.—John, s. John and Avis
Frankes: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 294.

1758. Married—Jervis Franks and
Margaret Barber: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 75.
London, 2, 28; Philadelphia, 3, 36.

Franklin, Frankling,
Franklyn, Franken,
Franklin.—Occup. 'the franklin,' a freeholder; M.E. frankeleyn.
The g in Frankling is, of course,
an exrescence; cf. Jennings.

Robert le Frankleyn, co. Bucks,
1273. A.

Simon le Fraunkeleyn, co. Berks, ibid.
William le Fraunkelayn, co. Dorset,

Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Richard le Frankleyn, co. Warw., ibid.
William Fronkeleyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 205.

Willelmus Sampson, fraunkeleyn,
1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 293.

1561. Married—Thomas Franclyn and Frideswide Watwood: St. Michael, Corn-
hill, p. 8.

1581. Bapt.—Hellen, d. James Franck-len: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 12.

1582.—Peter, s. James Francklyn:
ibid. p. 13.

London, 60, 1, 1, 1, 0; New York, 69,
0, 1, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Lincoln), Franck-lin, 2.

Fransham.—Local, 'of Fran-sham,' a parish in co. Norfolk; to be carefully distinguished from Francom (q.v.) and its many forms.

William de Fransham, co. Norf.,
1273. A.

John de Fransham, co. Norf., 52 Hen.
III: FF. viii. 383.

Gilbert de Fransham, co. Norf., 1334:
ibid. ix. 499.

MDb. (Norfolk), 1.

Fraward.—? Nick. 'perverse, froward.'

Magota Fraward, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 190.

Adam Fraward, 1379: ibid.

Fray, Fraye.—Bapt. 'the son of Fray.' This name is generally found in compounds, as in Godfrey, Frederick, Wilfred, &c.; v. Yonge,
ii. 190.

Fray Punsard, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

London, 1, 1; New York, 2, 0.

Frean, Frayne, Frame.—
Nick. 'the frem,' or 'fren,' i. e.
the stranger. 'Frem, strange,
foreign, unknown': Halliwell.
'Frenne, a stranger, an aliene,
a forraine, a frenne. Florio, p. 19' (Halliwell); cf. Strange.

Robert le Freyne, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

William le Freyne, co. Bucks, ibid.

Stephen le Fren, co. Somerset, ibid.
William le Freyner, co. Linc., ibid.

Robertus Frayn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 105.

London, 1, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 32.

Frear; v. Frere.

Frearson.—Nick. 'the son of the friar'; v. Frere. This Yorkshire surname crossed the borders into North Lancashire, and is found chiefly in Furness.

Cf. Robertus Frer, cosyn, 1379: P. T. p. 155.

Thomas Frereson, smyth, 1379: ibid. p. 10.

Willelmus Frerson, 1379: ibid. p. 211.

John Freerson, of Grysedail, 1588: Lancashire Wills at Richmond (1457-1680), p. 116.

William Frearson, of Hawkshead, 1596: ibid.

John Frearson, of Grisdall, 1646: ibid.

1682. Buried—David Frearson, of Flan: St. Mary, Ulverston, p. 170.

1690.—Agnes, d. Robert Frearson, of Flan: ibid. p. 180.

London, 1; Broughton-in-Furness, 3; MDB. (co. Lancaster), 2; Sheffield, 2.

Frederick, Fredericks.—Bapt. 'the son of Frederick.' An extremely rare font-name in England in the 13th and 14th centuries. Both instances are on the East coast, closely connected with the Low Countries, which is significant.

Fretheric Swym, co. Linc., 1273. A. Walter Fretheryk, co. Suff., ibid.

Crockford, 1, 0; London, 0, 1; New York, 27, 30.

Free.—Nick. 'the free'; v. Fry.

Walter le Free, co. Wilts, 1273. A. John le Free, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 86.

London, 4.

Freeborn, Freeborne, Freeburn.—Bapt. 'the son of Frebern.' In Domesday we find it thus: 'Friebernus,' cos. Essex and Suffolk. The present general form Freeborn is imitative of the dictionary word free-born. But there is no relationship. In the United States, however, Freeborn has become a familiar font-name:

Freeborn G. Luckey, lawyer: New York Directory (1878).

Freeborn G. Smith, pianos: ibid.

Robert Frebern, 1172: KKK. vi. 20.

Agnes Frebern, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Walter Frebern, co. Bedford, ibid.

William Frebern, co. Suffolk, ibid.

Thomas Frebern, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 252.

Richard Frebern, rector of Thorp-Abbots, co. Norf., 1324: FF. v. 325.

1574. Thomas Somerfelde and Eliz.

Frebarne: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 62.

1585. Thomas Nutt and Frances Freborne, co. Essex: ibid. p. 144.

1753. Married—David Munro and Henrietta Freebairn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 50.

1756.—John Freeborn and Mary Earle: ibid. p. 61.

London, 2, 0, 0; Manchester, 1, 0, 0; New York, 10, 1, 2.

Freeland.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Freeland'; cf. Rowland. Freland occurs in every early record without prefix. It was, I imagine, in many instances, a personal or font name. (2) Local, 'of Freeland,' a parish in the dioc. of Oxford.

Aymer, son of Walter Frelund, co. Norf., 1108: FF. ii. 463.

Matilda Freland, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Hugh Freland, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Freland, co. Norf., 20 Edw. I. R.

Richard Frylende, C. R., 28 Edw. III.

Robertus Freland, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 207.

Willelmus Freland, 1379: ibid. p. 203.

1590-1. Thomas Frelande and Lucy

Wilkins: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 190.

1595-6. Humphrey Freeland and Agnes Style: ibid. p. 227.

1705. Married—Peter Freeland and Elenor Levingstone: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 53.

London, 4; New York, 9; Philadelphia, 20.

Freeman.—(1) Occup. 'the freeman,' one who is not a serf, one with peculiar privileges.

John le Freman, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Geoffrey le Freman, co. Bucks, ibid.

Richard Freman, co. Lincoln, 20 Edw.

I. R.

Robertus Freman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 63.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Fremond.' Germ. Freimund, Fr. Fremont. Terminatives in -mund or -mond become -man by corruption; cf. Osman, Wyman, Tesseyman, &c. Of course (1) must be looked upon as the chief parent.

Fremund de Erdington, co. Salop,

1273. A.

Arnold Fromont, co. Camb., ibid.

Robert Fromund, co. Oxf., ibid.

Fremund Inge, co. Bedford, 20 Edw.

I. R.

Jordan fil. Fromund: DDD. i. 2.

1627. Married—John Morse and

Dorothy Freeman: St. Michael, Cornhill,

p. 25.

1630. Bapt.—Isabel, d. Symon Freeman, clothworker: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 82.

London, 110; New York, 104.

Freemantle, Fremantle.—Local, 'of Freemantle,' a parish in the dioc. of Winchester, near Southampton.

Nigel de Freymantell, Close Roll, 32 Hen. III.

Richard de Fremantell, c. 1300. M.

Hugh de Frigido-Mantello. E.

1737. Buried—John Freemantle, from Salisbury: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 293.

1784. Married—Thomas Wells and Sarah Bridget Freemantle: St. Geo. Han.

Sq. i. 367.

London Court Dir., 1, 2; Crockford, 1,

2; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Frembald.—Bapt. 'the son of Frembald,' a compound of Frith and Bald.

Frimbaldus (without surname), co. Suff., 1273. A.

Thomas Frembald, co. Bedf., 20 Edw.

I. R.

Nicholas Frembaud, co. Bedf., ibid.

Frethebaldus (without surname), 21

Ric. II: Furness Coucher Book, i. 188.

Fremont, Fremunt.—Bapt. 'the son of Fremund'; v. Freeman (2).

New York, 2, 1.

French.—Local, 'the French,' an income from France.

Symon le Frensch, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

William le frenssh, C. R., 33 Edw. I.

Eborard le Frenshe. G.

Walter le Frensshe, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 86.

1564. Thomas Frenche and Cicilie

Sysley, widow: Marriage Lic. (London),

i. 20.

London (1884), 91; New York, 99.

Frenchbaker.—Occup. 'the French baker'; perhaps a maker of French rolls!

Richard Frenshbaker. D.

Frenchman.—Local, 'the Frenchman'; cf. Dutchman.

Gyllame Freynsman. W. 3.

Robertus Franchman, 1379: P. T.

Yorks. p. 231.

Ricardus Frankishsheman, 1379: ibid.

p. 243.

John frensshman, Close Roll, 8 Hen. IV.

1583. John Frenchman and Johanna

Sexbye: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 123.

New York, 1.

Frend; v. Friend.

Frere, Frear, Freer.—Offic. 'the friar'; v. Fryer, one of a religious brotherhood.

Benedictus le Frere, co. Camb., 1273. A. John le Frere, co. Norf., ibid.
Walter le Frere, co. Essex, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Cecylia le Frere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 231.

Magota Frere, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 49. Isabella Frere, 1379: ibid. p. 22.

Philip Fryer or Frear, 1519: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 109.

1540. Married—Maynerd Frere and Margaret Tonsoune: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 221.

1558. Anthony Eton and Eliz. Freer: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 18.

1773. Married—James Jacob and Sarah Frear: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 232.

London, 6, 0, 0; Manchester, 0, 1, 0; Liverpool, 0, 1, 1; New York, 1, 1, 3.

Frereman.—? Occup. 'the friar's man-servant'; cf. Priestman, Monkman, Matthewman, Ladyman, &c. Probably it means the man, i.e. the servant, of the friar.

Richard Frereman, C. R., 45 Edw. III.

Freshfish.—Nick. A fish-hawker's sobriquet; cf. Fresh-herring.

John Freshfisch. H.
Robert Freshfisch. X.

Freshherring.—Nick. Probably, like Peascod and Good-herring, the sobriquet of the street hawker who cried his goods.

Margaret Fressheharyng. X.

Freshney.—Local, 'of Friskney,' a parish in co. Lincoln. I do not state this positively, but I presume it is so.

'Graland de Longo Campo ten' di feod'... in Freskenay et alibi': K. p. 308.

Hugh de Freskenaye, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Alice de Fresken', co. Linc., ibid.

Ralph de Friseneye, rector of North Lynn, co. Norf., 1376: FF. viii. 540.

Simon Friskney, vicar of Whitwell, co. Norf., 1441: ibid. p. 295.

1799. Married—John Freshney and Ann Heritage: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 209.

Crockford, 1; New York, 4.

Freshwater.—Local; possibly 'of Freshwater,' a parish in co. Hants, near Yarmouth (I. of W.). But more probably from some small spot so called in some other county, as I find no traces of the surname in Hampshire or Devonshire.

John Freshwater, rector of Little Thorp, co. Norf., 1371: FF. i. 137.

1759. Married—Thomas King and Mary Freshwater: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 86. London, 7.

Freston.—Local, 'of Freston,' a parish in co. Suffolk, four miles from Ipswich.

William de Freston, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Thomas de Freston, co. Suffolk, 20 Edw. I. R.

MDb. (co. Norfolk), 1.

Frewen, Frewin, Frewing.

—Bapt. 'the son of Frewen.' The Domesday forms are Frauinus (co. Devon), Freowinus (co. Suffolk), Freuinus (co. Essex), and Frauin (co. Sussex). The last instance reminds us that there have been Frewens in Sussex since Domesday.

William Frewyn, co. Sussex, 1273. A. Ralph Frewyne, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Frewyne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 207.

Frowynus de Ispringrode: Wardrobe Roll, 8-9 Edw. III. v. 36/3.

Johannes Frewyne, 1311. M. 1588. Bapt.—Accepted, sonne of John Frewen: Reg. Northiam, co. Sussex.

1591. —Thankful, sonne of John Frewen: ibid.

The above 'Accepted' lived to become Archbishop of York.

London, 1, 4, 1; MDb. (co. Sussex), 3, 1, 0; New York, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 0, 0.

Frick.—?

Walter Freke, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 132.

London, 1.

Friday.—Nick. or personal; cf. Saturday. Probably given in some such way as Robinson Crusoe's man Friday got his sobriquet. It is impossible now to know how this surname arose, whether or not because born on that day (cf. Nowell, Pentecost, Christmas, &c.). At any rate it does not seem to be a corruption of something else, as in the case of the local Munday. The old Friday superstition may have something to do with it.

Simon Friday, co. Linc., 1273. A. Adam Friday, co. Oxf., ibid.

Nicholas Friday, co. Bedf. ibid.

Ralph Friday, C. R., 21 Edw. III. pt. ii. Richard Friday, C. R., 13 Hen. IV.

1784. Married—Richard Wright and Hannah Friday: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 356.

MDb. (co. Kent), 7; London, 1; New York, 2; Philadelphia, 6.

Friend, Frend.—Nick. 'the friend.' M. E. frend.

John le Frend, Close Roll, 6 Edw. II. Geoffrey le Frend, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 82.

Robert le Frend, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 92.

Walter le Frend, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 251.

Alicia Frende, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 37.

Willelmus Frynd, 1379: ibid. p. 71. London, 2, 2; New York (Frend), 1; Philadelphia, 24, 0.

Fripp, Tripp, Trippe, Thripp.

—Local, 'at the thorp,' i.e. a village. Alone or in compounds thorp has run through many corruptions; cf. Westrop, Westrup, Thrupp, Throp, &c., but the following are the oddest:

Thomas Thripp, co. Wilts, 1580: Reg. Broad Chalke, p. 2.

Thomas, son of John Phripp, co. Wilts. 1607: ibid. p. 42.

Elizabeth Thripp, co. Wilts, 1607: ibid. p. 42.

1674. Buried—Ursula Frupp, co. Wilts: ibid. p. 49.

1739. Married—James Mort and Eliz. Tripp: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 268.

London, 4, 13, 0, 1; New York, 3, 9, 3, 0.

Frisby, Frisbee, Frisbie,

Frisbey.—Local, 'of Frisby,' a chapelry in co. Leicester; cf. Applebee and Filbee, for Appleby and Filby.

John de Friseby, co. Leicester, 1273. A. Simon de Friseby, co. Lincoln, ibid.

Robertus de Frisyb, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 75.

William de Friseby, rector of Filby, co. Norf., 1412: FF. xi. 218.

1605. Thomas Wells and Anne Frisby: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 208.

1725. Married—John Whikes Frisbey and Mary Mason: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 1.

London, 13, 3, 0, 0; MDb. (Leicester), 6, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 18, 0, 6, 1.

Frisdick, Frostick.—Local,

'of Frostdyke,' some spot apparently in co. Norfolk. The variant Frostick is curious.

Robert Froddit, or Frostdike, rector of Tacolneston, co. Norf., 1540: FF. v. 170.

James Frostdyke, co. Norfolk, 1574: ibid. ii. 523.

1801. Married—Thomas Clark and Hermion Frostick: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 231.

1803. —William Frostdick and Mary Eaton: ibid. p. 204.

London, 0, 2; MDb. (co. Norfolk), 3, 0.

Friswid, Fiddy, Fiddey,

Fiddes.—Bapt. 'the son of Frideswide.' For the story of this English saint, v. Yonge, ii. 196; see also Green, Hist. Eng. People, i. 339. Miss Yonge suggests Fiddy as the nick. form. The font-name was familiar up to the Reformation.

1553. Bapt. — Fridaysweede, d. of Mr. Southworth: St. Antholin, Bridge Row (London).

1561. Married.—Thomas Franclyn and Fryswyde Watwood: St. Michael, Cornhill.

Frith, Firth.—Local, 'at the frith' or 'firth,' q.v., a bay, an estuary, a wide valley, as in Chapel-le-Frith, co. Derbyshire.

Richard de la Fryth, co. Norf., 1273. A. John atte Frithe. FF. William atte Frith, Fines Roll, 9 Edw. I. Thomas atte Fryth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 45.

Both Firth and Frith are familiar patronyms, but the dictionary use is confined to the poets.

'Both in the tufty frith, and in the mossy fell.'

Drayton, Polyolbon, Song 17.

London, 19, 7; Philadelphia, 2, 53.

Frithesant.—Bapt. 'the son of Frethesantha' (Yonge, ii. 196). I do not know that this has become in any form a surname. I have set it here in case such should be the fact, because it seems well to unearth a forgotten font-name, and because it helps to explain the now historic name Inglesant, q.v.

Frethesence mater Reginaldi, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Frethesaunt Paynel, co. York, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Adam fil. Freyesent, co. York, 13th century: FFF. p. 18.

William fil. Freyesent, co. York: ibid. Thomas Frysund, co. Berks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Frobisher; v. Furger.

Frodsham.—Local, 'of Frodsham,' a market-town and parish in co. Ches., ten miles from Chester. The surname seems to have travelled early to London.

1548. Edward Frodesham, of Elton: East Cheshire, ii. 534.

1595. Robert Frodsome and Anne Smythe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 225.

Margaret Frodsham, of Eccleston, 1606: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 69.

John Frodsham, of Elton, 1620: ibid. 1763. Married.—Peter Fradsom and Mary Lambourne: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 118.

London, 4; MDB. (co. Chester), 1.

Froggatt, Froggitt, Frog-gett.—Local, 'of Froggatt,' a township in co. Derby, on the border of Yorkshire, near Sheffield. This surname has spread widely.

London, 2, 1, 0; MDB. (Derbys.), 8, 0, 0; Sheffield, 11, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0.

Froom.—Local, 'of Frome' or 'Frome,' parishes in cos. Soms. and Hereford.

Walter de Frome, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Reginald de Frome, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 208.

William de Frome, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 129.

John Frome, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 158.

London, 7.

Frost.—Personal or bapt. 'the son of Frost,' evidently a popular Scandinavian personal name, answering later on to the fontal names Christmas, Nowell, or Midwinter. Winter (q.v.) we know was a personal name. To the same class belongs Snow, a great favourite, of Scandinavian parentage.

Henry Frost, co. Norf., 1273. A. Robert Frost, co. Linc., ibid.

John Frost, C. R., 18 Edw. I. Johannes Froste, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 12.

Dionisius Frost, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 75. London, 80; Philadelphia, 40.

Frostick; v. Frisdict, a manifest corruption.

Froud, Froude, Frowde, Frude.—? Bapt. 'the son of Froud' (?). This name has troubled me much. There is not a trace of it in the Hundred Rolls and other contemporary records, so far as my researches have gone.

Mr. Lower, however, has an important note upon it. 'The epithet frode, wise, was applied to more than one eminent Northman' (v. Laing's Chronicle of the Sea Kings of Norway, i. 26, 29). In Domesday we find a Frodo, described as 'frater Abbat' (Bury St. Edmunds), and he had a son Gilbert, called filius Frodonis. This is a satisfactory statement as far as it goes. I wish I could light upon some intermediate links.

London, 7, 3, 1, 0; New York, 1, 1, 0, 1.

Fruin.—Bapt.; variant of Frewen.

Oxford, 2.

Fruiter.—Occup. 'the fruiterer,' a dealer in fruit. M.E. fruit, frut.

Gilbert le Fruter, London, 1273. A. Ralph le Fruter, London, ibid.

Philip le Fruter, of London, 11 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 32.

Fry, Frye.—Nick. 'the fry,' i.e. the free. 'The child that was so fry. Rembrun, p. 424' (Halliwell). The surname Fry, therefore, has no doubt a double origin, in some cases meaning 'free' in a civil sense (v. Freeman), in others free, that is, frank, in disposition. Elizabeth Fry, 'the female Howard,' as she was called, possessed the right name.

Thomas le Frye, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Geoffrey le Frye, co. Wilts, ibid.

Thomas le Frie, C. R., 14 Edw. I. Roger le Frye, co. Wilts, 20 Edw. I. R.

John le Frye, co. Southampton, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

William le Frye, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 95.

1595. Bapt.—Dorothe, d. of Robert Frye: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 29.

London, 52, 0; New York, 17, 7.

Fryer.—Offic. 'the friar'; v. Frenc.

Henricus Friere, souter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 164.

1549. Edward Fryer, brewer: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. pt. i. p. 330.

London, 25; New York, 11.

Fryman.—Occup. 'the freeman' (q.v.); cf. Fry for 'free.'

MDB. (co. Kent), 1.

Fuggle.—Nick. 'the fowl'; A.S. fugol, Icel. fugl. But I would suggest that this surname is the result of immigration from the Low Countries, and is the Dutch Vogel, easily enough corrupted into Fuggle. The etymology remains the same; v. Fowl and Vowell.

London, 1; MDB. (Kent), 4.

Fulbrook; v. Fullbrook.

Fulcher, Fullcher, Fulker, Folkard, Futecher, Foulger, Folger.—Bapt. 'the son of Folker' or 'Fulker.' This name is in Camden's small list. 'Fulcher (Sax.), "lord of people"' (Rem. p. 62).

For history of Folker, one of the champions of Burgundy, 'the mighty fiddler of Alsace,' v. Yonge, ii. 329-30. The English form was generally Fulke, q.v. Miss Yonge is wrong in saying Fulk 'never took root in England,' as the article 'Fulke' will show. Folkard was both a German and Danish form.

Fulchard, provost of Thetford, co. Norf., 1140: FF. ii. 141.

Fulcher de Carlton, 1150: Whitaker's Craven, p. 222.

Whitaker quotes also an old charter, 'Ego, Fulcerus filius Herberti de Carlton dedi, &c.'

Walter Fulcher, co. Linc., 1273. A.
William Fucher, co. Hunts, ibid.
John Folkard, co. Bucks, ibid.
Fuker de Dovre, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Warin Fucher, ibid.
Johannes Fowcher, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 193.

Margaret Fowcher. D.
1611. Married—Edward Fowcher and Ann Harris: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 38.
1654-5. —Giles Fulcher and Jane Lacey: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 30.
1789. —John Fitch and Eliz. Foulger: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 22.

1801. —John Futchter and Ann Weston: ibid. p. 245.

1806. —William Folkard and Mary Ann Duncombe: ibid. p. 338.

London, 8, 1, 2, 7, 1, 6, 0; New York, 1, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 7.

Fulchon.—Bapt. 'the son of Fulchon,' the dim. of Fulcher, Fulker, Fulke, q. v.

Ralph fil. Fulchon, 1273. A.
Faulcon Pursevaunt. XX. 1.

Fulford, Fulvord, Fulforth.—Local, 'of Fulford,' parishes in the diocs. of York and Lichfield, and a tithing in the union of Crediton, co. Devon. The North-English Fulfords probably hail from the parish of Fulford, E. Rid. Yorks.

William de Foleford, co. Devon, 1273. A.
There seems to have been also a Southfulford in co. Soms., in which dwelt the two individuals named below:

Thomas de Fuleford, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 150.
Walter de Fuleford, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

London, 7, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1, 1.

Fulham, Fullam.—Local, 'of Fulham,' a parish in Middlesex.

1651. Buried—John Fulham, St. Michael, Cornhill, ii. 244.

1750. Married—Nicholas Fulham and Mary Byrne: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair, p. 164.

1799. —William Pither and Eleanor Fullam: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 206.
Boston (U.S.), 1, 0; New York, 5, 5.

Fuljambe.—Nick. v. Foljambe. West Riding Court Dir., 1.

Fulke, Fulkes.—Bapt. 'the son of Fulk'; v. Folk. A personal name now almost forgotten, although it has left an impress on hereditary nomenclature that can never be effaced. Both as font-name and as patronymic it went through every variety of dress, and almost disguise. Enough to say that all our endless Fulkes, Foulkes, Fakes, Faux, Fawkes, Faulks, Fowkes, Folkes, Foakes, were thus originated; for instances see under these several names. Historically Fulke has given us two miscreants: the favourite of John outlawed by Henry III, and the sanguinary hero of November 5. For diminutives of Fulke, see Fulchon.

Fulke Paynel, co. Devon, 1273. A.
Walter fil. Fulc', co. Bedf., ibid.
Fulco fil. Fulconis, co. Camb., ibid.
Fulke le Taverner. B.
London, 0, 1.

Fulllove, Fullilove.—Nick. 'full-of-love,' a direct translation of Plainamour, translations of this kind being common; v. Smallwriter, Fairbrother, Fairchild, &c.

1433. Roger Full-of-Love, of Quydenham, resigned vicarage of Tottington, co. Norf.: FF. ii. 356.

1462. Ralph Full-of-Love, rector of West Lynn, co. Norf.: ibid. viii. 536.
London, 1, 3.

Fullbaron.—Offic. 'a full baron'; cf. Halfknight.

Roger Fulbaron, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 231.

Fulbrook, Fulbrook.—Local, 'of Fulbrook,' a parish in the dioc. of Oxford.

Gilbert de Fullebroke, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Robert de Fulebroke, co. Suff., ibid.
Walter de Folebroc, co. Bucks, ibid.
John Fulbrook, C. R., 9 Hen. IV.
London, 2, 2; Oxford, 0, 1.

Fuller.—Occup. 'the fuller,' the cloth-bleacher or felter; v. Skeat (Full); also the article on Fuller, Walker, and Tucker in my English Surnames (5th ed.), p. 324.

Gilbert le Fuller, co. Hertf., 1273. A.
Ambrose le Fullur, co. Salop, ibid.
London, 75; Philadelphia, 57.

Fulljames.—Nick. A curious corruption of Foljambe, q. v.
London, 1.

Fullwood, Fulwood.—Local, (1) 'of Fulwood,' a township in the parish of Lancaster, co. Lancs.; (2) 'of Fulwood,' an ecclesiastical district in the parish of Sheffield, W. Rid. Yorks. This seems to have been the habitat of the family.

Hugo de Folewode, tailour, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 22.

Ricardus de Folewod, 1379: ibid. p. 59.

Hugo de Fulewode, 1370: ibid. p. 66.
London, 3, 0; MDB. (W. R. Yorks), 0, 1.

Fulton.—Local, 'of Fulton,' 'an extinct border village in co. Roxburgh' (Lower).

John de Fultone, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Robert de Fultone, ibid.
London, 8; New York, 35.

Funk.—Nick. 'the funk,' cross, peevish. 'Funk, cross, ill-tempered, Oxon' (Halliwell). Oxfordshire is sufficiently near to Somersetshire to explain the following entry:

John le Funke, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 99.
London, 3.

Furber, Furbisher, Frobisher, Furburshaw.—Occup. 'the furber' or 'furbisher.' A furbisher or scourer of armour and metals generally, found also as 'furbearer.' Thomas Fetherston, furbearer, A.D. 1586: Memorials of Old Birmingham, Toulmin Smith, p. 88. Frobisher is the most prominent modern form of the surname. The 'Smiths, Forbers, and Pewterers went together in the Chester Play, inaugurated 1339' (Ormerod's Cheshire, i. 300). 'Foobryschowre, eruginator' (Prompt. Parv.). 'Frobischer, a furbisher: explained by urigenator in Nominale MS.' (Halliwell). The American Furburshaw seems to be a corruption of Furbisher.

John le Furber. E.
Alan le Fourbour. G.
Thomas le Furbisur, 1303. M.
Thomas Fourbour, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 161.

Matilda Forbuschour, 1379: ibid. p. 163.
Anabilla Fourbour, 1379: ibid. p. 251.
John Forbysher, or Frobuscher, or Frobysher, sup. for B.A., 1520: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 115.

1588. Bapt. —Martha, d. Erisia Furbuscher: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 20.

1791. Married—John Furber and Anne Mihill: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 53.
London, 5, 0, 0, 0; New York, 5, 0, 1; West Rid. Court Dir. (Frobisher), 4.

Furby.—Local, 'of Ferriby'; v. Ferrabee. A modern variant.

1763. Married — John Winstanley and Eliz. Furby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 126. London, 1; Oxford, 3; New York, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Furneaux.—Local, 'of Furneaux', a Norman name, possibly from Furneau-sur-Baise, near Falaise, or Furneaux-sur-Vire, near St. Lo (v. Lower).

Robert de Furneus, co. Notts, 1273. A. Isabella de Furnes, ibid.
Simon de Forneaux, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 242.
Willelmus de Furneux, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 49.
London, 2; Crockford, 4; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Furner.—Occup. 'the furner,' i.e. baker; Fr. fournier. 'Furnour, a baker (Latin). See Ord. and Reg. pp. 70, 232. Still in use in Kent' (Halliwell). 'Furner, a malkin for an oven. Lincoln' (ibid.).

William le Furneur, co. Camb., 1273. A. Henry le Furner, C. R., 17 Edw. I.
William le Fournier, 6 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 27.
London, 2; New York, 2.

Furness, Furnice, Furniss, Furnas.—Local, 'of Furness,' the portion separated by the Morecambe estuary from the rest of Lancashire. It underlies cos. Cumberland and Westmoreland.

Reyner de Furnes, co. Linc., 1273. A. Michael de Fournes, 21 Ric. II: Furness Coucher Book, i. 188.

Sibilla de Fournays, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 199.

Johannes de Fournays, 1379: ibid. p. 186.
Thomas Furnes, 1379: ibid. p. 13.
1586-7. Buried—Annes Furnes, widow: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 199.

1729. Married — John St. John and Eliz. Furnese: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 6.
1784.—Thomas Turbitt and Ann Furniss, ibid. p. 362.

London, 11, 1, 5, 0; MDB. (co. Westmoreland), 1, 0, 0, 4; Philadelphia, 17, 0, 2, 0.

Furnival, Furnivall.—Local, 'Fourneville,' in the neighbourhood of Honfleur, Normandy.

Gerard de Furnivall, co. Linc., 1273. A. Thomas de Furnivall, co. York, ibid.
Thomas Furnyual, chivaler, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 31.

Johanna Furnyual, 1379: ibid.
London, 1, 3; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Fursan.—Local, 'at the furze,' from residence thereby; cf. Gorst. 'Furzen, furze': Tusser, p. 189.

Matilda atte Fursan, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 177.

Furse, Furze.—Local, 'at the furze,' i.e. the gorse, from residence thereby; cf. Gorst.

John de la Furse, co. Devon, 1273. A. Robert de la Furse, ibid.
London (1884), 6, 4; Philadelphia, 0, 2; New York, 1, 0.

Fyfe, Fyffe, Fife.—Local, 'from Fife,' i.e. Fifeshire; cf. Devonshire, Kent, Somerset, &c.

London (1884), 4, 2, 4; New York, 3, 2, 2; Philadelphia, 1, 1, 7.

Fysh.—Nick.; v. Fish.

Fyson, Fison.—Bapt. 'the son of Fye.' It is difficult to explain the origin of this surname, so familiar to co. Cambridge, but probably Fye was the nick. of Felicia, a very popular girl's name in the surname period.

MDB. (co. Camb.), 15, 5; London, 2, 1.

G

Gaball, Gabell, Gable, Gabriel, Gableson, Gabrielson, Gabel.—Bapt. 'the son of Gabriel,' popularly Gabel. Rare in early registers.

Gabriel Attelond, co. Kent, 1273. A. Gabel Brenn, co. Norf., ibid.
Thomas Gabriell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 186.

A feminine Gabriela existed, also found as Gabella.

1539. Bapt. — Gabella, d. of Robert Tans: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 1.
London, 1, 1, 5, 11, 0, 0, 0; Liverpool, 0, 0, 1, 3, 1, 2, 0; New York, 0, 0, 4, 18, 0, 2, 7.

Gabb.—Bapt. 'the son of Gabriel,' from nick. Gab; v. Gabball.

William Gabbe, Close Roll, 20 Ric. II. pt. ii.

Cf. Thomas Gab-Nave (i.e. Thomas, the servant of Gab), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 13.
London, 5; New York, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Gabber, Gabler, Gaber.—Nick. 'the gabber,' a liar, a talkative, gossiping, untruthful man. We can readily understand why this surname has not come down to our modern directories. To gabble, and a gabbler, are frequentatives of this word; M.E. gabben, to talk idly.

Stephen le Gabbere, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Gerard le Gabur, co. Suff., ibid.

John Gaber, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 209.

William Gabbere, C. R., 3 Hen. IV. pt. ii.
Liverpool (1887), 0, 1, 0; New York, 0, 7, 1.

Gabbett, Gabbott, Gabbotts, Gabits, Gabbatt.—Bapt. 'the son of Gabriel,' from nick. Gab, and dim. Gabb-ot or Gabb-et.

John Gabbett, of Middleton, co. Lanc.: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 69.

John Gabbott, of Broomicroft, co. Lanc.: ibid.

London, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0; Crockford, 2, 1,

0, 0, 0; Manchester (1887), 0, 2, 1, 1, 0; New York (Gabbatt), 1.

Gadd.—? Bapt. 'the son of Gad' (?).

John Gad, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 198.

Mathew Gad, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 254.

Thomas Gedde, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 62.

1717. Bapt.—William, s. James Gad: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 97.

1734. Married—William Duncaffe and Margaret Gadson: ibid. iii. 262.

Gadson above is probably a corruption of Gadsden, otherwise it would settle the question.

London, 5; MDB. (co. Soms.), 4; Philadelphia, 4.

Gadsby.—Local, 'of Gaddesby,' a chapelry six miles from Melton Mowbray, co. Leicester.

1752. Married — William Gozna and Eliz. Gadsby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 47.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 9.

Gadsden, Gadsdon.—Local, 'of Gaddesden.' Great and Little Gaddesden are parishes in co. Herts, near to Hemel Hempstead.

Audufus de Gatesden, co. Bedf., 1273. A. Agace de Gatedson, co. Devon, ibid. Richard de Gatsdene, co. Bucks, ibid. John de Gattsdene, co. Norf., ibid. William de Gatesden. M. John de Gatedsen, co. Norf. FF. 1602. Bapt.—Johnson Holman, s. John Gadsdon: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 349. London, 7, 3; Philadelphia, 2, o.

Gaffer.—Nick. 'grandfather'; cf. 'gammer,' for grandmother. Gaffer became a familiar term of address, similar to our 'Well, old chap, how are you?' As time went on a gaffer was a foreman.

Jacobus Gafare, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, D. 4.

Willelmus Gafer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 234.

Gainer, Gainor.—Bapt.; v. Gaynar.

Gainsborough.—Local, 'of Gainsborough,' a parish in co. Lincoln.

1714. Bapt.—Robert, s. Matthias Gainsborough: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 29. MDB. (co. Lincoln), 2.

Gaitskell.—Local. A variant of Gaskell (q.v.), more correctly Gaigsill.

Elizabeth Gateskell, of Dalton, 1623: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 121.

Mary Gaitskell, of Dalton, 1646: ibid. p. 117.

Robert Gaitskell, of Little Urswick, 1645: ibid.

The descendants of this family still live in the neighbourhood, but in the name of Gaskell.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1; London, 2.

Gale.—Local, 'at the gaol,' from residence thereby. 'Gayles, gaols' (Halliwell).

Johanna del Gaylle, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 295.

Agnes del Gaylle, 1379: ibid. p. 142.

Johannes del Gayle, 1379: ibid.

Willelmus Gayle, 1379: ibid.

1606. Married—Edward Fewtrill and Martha Gale: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 35.

London, 45; Boston (U.S.), 36.

Galer, Gayler, Gaylor.—Office, 'the gaoler,' a turnkey.

Adam le Gaoler, co. Norf., 1273. A. Richard le Gayeler, co. Oxf., ibid. John le Gaylur, co. Bedf., ibid.

Thomas Gaylyour, Ebbot sa femme, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 43.

London, 4, 7, 1; New York, o, 7, o.

Galeas.—Local, 'the Welshman,' from Wales; v. Wallace.

Thomas le Galeis. E. Henry le Galeys. R.

A regulation concerning the sale of wool in the reign of Edward III speaks of 'Merchantz Engleis, Galeis, ou Irreis': Stat. of Realm, i. 334.

Ricardus Galeys, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 253. London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 3.

Galesmith.—?

Robert le Galesmith, 1251, bailiff of Newcastle: PFP. vol. ii.

Galilee, Galley.—Local, 'of the galilee,' a surname of exceptional interest which has barely survived. The galilee of our cathedrals is founded no doubt on the phrase, 'Galilee of the Gentiles' (Matt. iv. 15). It was a porch or chapel attached to a church and used as a penitentiary, and even as a mortuary. A galilee exists at Lincoln, Ely, and Durham cathedrals. At times they seem to have been set apart for women, who were restricted within certain limits. My first instance is general; all the others no doubt owe their origin to the galilee in Durham Cathedral. I was quite delighted, in a visit to Tynemouth, to find the name still existing in the neighbourhood of Newcastle. Galley, as will be seen below, is a corruption. Probably the founder was verger of the galilee, or dwelt under the shadow.

William de la Galilye, C. R., 11 Edw. III. pt. i.

'Cardinal Langley was buried in the Galilee at Durham,' 1437: Hist. Newcastle and Gateshead, i. 337.

Bishop Neville 'requested with his dying breath to be buried in the Galilee, near the tomb of the Venerable Bede,' 1457: ibid. i. 337.

John Galilee, 1408: Hist. Newcastle and Gateshead, i. 408.

Dominus John Galilee, 1502, Chantry-priest of St. Nicholas, Newcastle: ibid. ii. 10.

James Galilee, 1535: ibid. ii. 145.

Robert Galilee, cantaris in chantry at Gateshead Ch., 1535: ibid. ii. 145.

John Gallale, ianner, 1539: ibid. ii. 187.

Robert Galilee, of Lintz Green, wheelwright, 1539: ibid. ii. 165.

'I forgive John Galley, 40s.' 'I forgive Robert Galley, 30s,' 1551.

(This last item is from a will quoted by the editor, who identifies these two names as members of the Galilee family: ibid. ii. 280.) A friend of mine had an acquaintance with a Galilee in Newcastle, a retired sea-captain, who was living in 1886.

Sunderland Dir. (Galilee), 1, (Galley) 2; Liverpool, 1, o; New York, o, 2.

Gall, Galle.—Bapt. 'the son of Galle.' Lower says, 'An ancient personal name. Two saints Galle occur in the Roman Calendar, one of whom was a Scotch abbot' (Patr. Brit. p. 124). Miss Yonge says, 'Col or Gall was the name of a companion of St. Columbanus. . . . His name of St. Gall is still attached to the great monastery near the Lake of Constance' (Hist. Christian Names, ii. 76).

Peter Galle, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Hugh Galle, co. Salop, ibid.

Sibilla Galle, co. Suff., ibid.

Philip Galle, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

1550. Buried—Julyan Gawle: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 179.

1758. Married—David Gall and Ann Risbridger: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 82.

London, 3, o; MDB. (Lincoln), 1, o; Boston (U.S.), 1, 1; New York, 6, 1.

Galland.—(1) Bapt.; v. Golland and Jolland. (2) Nick.; v. Gallant. A possible modification, but (1) is the probable origin, being a Lincolnshire surname.

Gallant.—Nick, 'the gallant.'

Thomas Galaunt, co. Suff., 1273. A. London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 6; New York, 2.

Gallard, Gaylard, Gaylord, Gillard.—(1) Nick. 'the galliard,' the gay, the joyous, the bold. The spelling of the surname has gradually, yet naturally, settled down into Gillard, although other variants occur.

'Galliard he was, as goldfinch in the shawe.' Chaucer, The Cook's Tale.

John Gaylard, co. Camb., 1273. A.

William Gallard, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Galard, co. Oxf., ibid.

Margery Gaylard, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 209.

Sabina Gaylard, H.

Nicholas Gaylard, T.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Galliard,' a girl's name; cf. Joyce and Hilary.

Gaillarda Blome, Close Roll, 5 Edw. II. Gaylarde uxor Arnaldi de Puribus, Close Roll, 39 Hen. III. pt. iv.

1667. Bernard Galard and Joane March: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 138.

1673. William Archbould and Mary Gillart: ibid. p. 214.

1676-7. Joshua Gallard and Anne Wakefield: p. 263.

London, 1, 1, 0, 8; New York (Gaylord), 7.

Gallatly.—Nick; v. Golightly.

Galloway, Galloway, Gallwey, Galway.—Local, 'from Galloway,' the south-eastern portion of Scotland. Crossing the border the name is soon found in co. Northumberland, thence it came into Yorkshire. In Lancashire and the West Riding the name is now very familiar. The early forms seem to have included Gallowaie, Galaway, Galeway, Galewey, and Galway.

Alan de Galeweya, cos. York and Oxf., 1273. A.

Robert Galewey, co. Oxf., ibid.
Adam de Gallowaie, 1306, bailiff of Newcastle: Hist. Newcastle and Gateshead (List of Bailiffs), vol. ii.

Adam Galewey, 1326: ibid. i. 64.
Richard Galloway, 1343, mayor of Newcastle: ibid. i. 117.

Robertus de Galway, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 72.

Johannes de Galway, 1379: ibid.

John de Galeway, 1378, rector of Meldon: Hodgson's Northumberland, ii. 8.

Richard Galway, 1367: ibid. p. 5.

Thomas Galway, firmaryus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 223.

London, 5, 9, 1, 1; Galloway: Manchester, 10; West Riding, 4; New York, 5, 7, 0, 11.

Gallon, Gallyon, Gellion.—Bapt. 'the son of Juliana,' more popularly Gillian. A single glance at the Hundred Rolls, where all manner of forms, all over the kingdom, are found, practically sets the matter at rest. The font-name was enormously popular even before 'Jack and Jill' made the nick, so familiar; v. Gill. Galyena occurs without surname in co. Suffolk in 1273 (A. ii. 193).

Gillian Cook, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Gilian de la Mill, co. Soms., ibid.

Robert Galian, co. Oxf., ibid.

Fulco Galyon, co. Camb., ibid.

Roger Gulyan, co. Camb., ibid.
William Gilion, co. Hunts, ibid.
Richard Galon, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 250.

William Galoun, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 79.

1771. Married—Henry Gallon and Susanna Buss: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 213.

It is just possible, however, that as Walter (Gualter) took the dim. form Walon (v. Wallen), so Gualter would become Gualon; cf. Guarin and Wareing, Garner and Warner, Guillaume and William, with their corresponding dims. Gillott and Willott, Gallon and Gallyon, would readily be formed in this way.

London, 0, 1, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 0, 0.

Galpin, Galpen.—Bapt. 'the son of Galopin.' My first instance is found in the Hundred Rolls for co. Oxford, and the name is at the present day well known to the residents of the city as Galpin.

Nicholas Galopin, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Richard Galopyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 236.

Mr. Lower's statement that Galpin is a corruption of the Scotch MacAlpin is utterly out of the question.

London, 5, 0; Oxford, 5, 0; New York, 2, 2.

Galsworthy.—Local; v. Goldsworthy.

Galt, Gault.—Nick. 'the galt'; O.E. galt, a boar pig; cf. Pigg, Wildbore, Hogg, &c. 'Galt, a boar pig (North); a gallte, nefrendus: Nominale MS.' (Halliwell). 'Gresse growene as a galte': Morte Arthure MS. Lincoln. F. 65 (ibid.). 'Galte (or gylte) swyne, nefrendus': Prompt. Parv. And v. galt, Jamieson's Dict.

Gilbert Galt, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Liverpool, 1, 0; Manchester, 0, 2; New York, 2, 5.

Galway, Galloway; v. Gallaway.

Gamege, Gammage, Camidge.—Local, 'de Gamage,' or 'Gamage,' or 'Camages.' The variant Camidge need present no difficulty, as C and G were constantly interchangeable, as this dictionary incontestably proves;

cf. Grain and Crane, Grandage and Crandidge, &c. I cannot identify the spot; probably it is continental.

William de Gamages, co. Glouc., 1273. A.

Henry de Gamage, or Gamages, co. Oxf., ibid.

Alicia Gamage, co. Oxf., ibid.

Philip de Camiges, co. Wilts, ibid.

1541. Married—Roger Gammage and Eliz. Fisher: St. Antholin (London), p. 2.

1769. — John Gamage and Mary Cooper: ibid. i. 190.

1772. — Thomas Gammage and Eliz. Burgis: ibid. i. 223.

London, 3, 1, 3; New York, 1, 1, 0.

Gamble, Gambles, Gammell, Cammell, Gammel.—Bapt. 'the son of Gamel,' a once popular but now forgotten North-English personal name (v. Freeman, Norm. Conq. ii. 477). It is compounded with many local names. The modern accepted surname form is Gamble and Gambles, the b being intrusive after m, as in Gambling. q.v. Cammell is without question the same name.

Walter fil. Gamel, 6 Hen. II: Whitaker's Craven, p. 296.

Gamel de Sandford, 32 Hen. II: Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westm. and Cumb., i. 428.

Gamel de Clifton, 1197: RRR. p. 176.

Gamel de Penred, 1190: ibid. p. 56.

Hutred fil. Gamelli, co. Northumb., 1273. A.

Allan fil. Gamel, co. Salop, ibid.

Gamal Dele, C. R., 3 Edw. I.

Adam Gamal, C. R., ibid.

Adam fil. Gamel: West's Ant. of Furness, p. 190.

Gamele de Pennington: ibid. p. 2.

Elena Gamyll, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 107.

Henricus Gamyll, 1379: ibid. p. 8.

Johannes Gamyll, 1379: ibid. p. 2.

Johannes Gamolson, 1379: ibid. p. 42.

Cf. the local Gambswell (i.e. Gamel's well), in the parish of Ulverston; also Gamblesby in co. Cumb.

John Gamble and Anne Beck, 1673: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 217.

London, 12, 0, 2, 2, 0; MDB. (Lincoln), Gambles, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 9, 1, 2, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), Gammells, 6; Philadelphia, 92, 0, 1, 0, 1.

Gambling, Gamlin, Gamlen.—Bapt. 'the son of Gamel,' from the dim. Gamelin; with intrusive b, Gamblin, and with excrement g, Gambling; cf. Jennings for Jennins, or Gamble for Gamel (v. Gamble).

Odo fil. Gamelini, Domesday.
Robert Gamelyn, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Reginald Gamelyn, co. Hunts, ibid.
Ralph Gamelin, co. Oxf., ibid.
Thomas Gynelyn, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 61.
1625-6. John Browne and Margaret
Gamblin: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury),
p. 31.
p. 1666. John Gamlin and Frances Hoare:
ibid. p. 118.
1737-8. Buried—Samuel Gambling:
St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 306.

John Gambling appeared in a police case at Bradford, co. York, Jan. 3, 1889 (Manchester Courier,
Jan. 4, 1889).

London, 0, 1, 1; MDB. (Suffolk), 1,
0, 0; New York, 2, 0, 0.

Game.—Local, 'at the game.'
'Game, a rabbit warren' (Halliwell).
John de la Gayme, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Alicia del Gamme, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 124.
Agnes del Gamme, 1379: ibid.
1750. Married—John Game and Mary
Nunn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 43.
London, 9.

Gamman, Gammon, Gamon.
—Nick. Mr. Lower thinks these names are representative of an old personal name, but my first instance disproves this suggestion. It seems to suggest some one fond of sport.
At any rate, v. game (Skeat); cf.
backgammon (ibid.).

John le Gamone, or le Gamene, co.
Southampton, 1273. A.
William Gamon, co. Suff., ibid.
Geoffrey Gamon, co. Oxf., ibid.
Richard Gamon, co. Norf., ibid.
1588. Married—Robert Jones and Joane Gammon: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,
iii. 13.
1767. —Richard Gammon and Mary
Burch: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 164.
1772. —Richard Gamon and Grace
Jeffreys: ibid. p. 216.
London, 3, 6, 0; New York, 0, 3, 0;
Philadelphia (Gamon), 1.

Gammell, Gammel.—Bapt.
'the son of Gamel'; v. Gamble;
cf. Cammel.
Philadelphia, 1, 1.

Gander, Gandar.—Nick. 'the gander'; M.E. gandre; cf. Goose,
Goss, Wildgoose, Graygoose, &c.
Roger Gandre, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Abraham le Gendre, Close Roll, 2
Edw. I.
Thomas Gandre, London. X.
Reginald le Gandre, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
III: Kirby's Quest, p. 211.
1624. Reginald Gander and Mary
Sherman: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 149.

1781. Married—William Bartholomew and Rachel Gander: St. Geo. Han. Sq.
i. 327.
London, 4, 1; New York, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Gandy, Candy.—Local, 'of Gandow' (?). I cannot find the spot, and I cannot come to any nearer solution than this.

Johannes Gandawe, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 39.
Thomas Gandowe, 1379: ibid. p. 47.
London, 5, 2; Philadelphia, 9, 12.

Game.—? Bapt. 'the son of Gane' (?). There is a parish in co. Hereford, near Monmouth, named Ganerew. The surname evidently belongs to the West country; cf. game fish, a hornbeak
(Halliwell).

Nicholas Gain, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Robert Gane, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:
Kirby's Quest, p. 206.
John Gane, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:
ibid. p. 227.
London, 6; MDB. (co. Soms.), 9.

Gannaway.—Local, 'of Genoa', early varied into Janaway and Janeway, q.v.

1783. Married—George Gannaway and Eliz. Macan: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 343.
London, 5.

Gannock.—Local, 'at the ganock', seemingly from residence at an inn or hostel. As tavern gave us Taverner, the keeper of a tavern, so ganock gave us Ganocker, the keeper of a ganock. The Proclamation of the Mayor of Norwich on coming into office set forth
'that all Brewsters and Gannokers selle a gallon of ale, of the best,'
&c., A.D. 1424 (FF. ii. 100). 'Gan-neker (ganokyr), ganearia' (Prompt.
Parv.). 'Gannok, standard, ensign'
(Halliwell). 'Gannoker, an innkeeper' (ibid.). Hence the local surname, 'at the ganock.'

Thomas atte Ganock, co. Norf., '20
Edw. III: FF. vii. 195.

Gant.—(1) Nick. 'the gaunt';
v. Gaunt.

Warin le Gant, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Hugh le Gant, co. Oxf., ibid.

(2) Local, 'of Ghent'; v. Gaunt.
Gilbert de Gant. J.
Reginald de Gante. E.
Stephen de Gant, co. Northampton,
1273. A.
Robert de Gant, co. Linc., ibid.
Gilbert de Gant, co. Linc., ibid.

For modern instances, v. Gaunt.
(3) Nick. 'the gannet'; M.E.
(contraction) gante; the sea-fowl
so termed. 'Gante, byrde, bistarda':
Prompt. Parv.

Nicholas Ganet, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Robert Ganet, co. Oxf., ibid.
Lucas Ganet, co. Devon, ibid.
London, 4; New York, 2.

Ganter, Gaunter, Gunter.—
(1) Occup. 'the ganter,' a glover;
O.F. gant, a glove; v. Gantlett.

Geoffrey le Ganter, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Adam le Ganter, co. Oxf., ibid.
Adam de Quixlay, gauntier, 27 Edw. I:
Freemen of York (Surt. Soc.), i. 7.
John le Gaunter. N.
Stephen le Gaunter, temp. 1310. M.
Richard le Gaunter, 11 Edw. II: Freemen of York, i. 17.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Gunther,'
q.v.

London, 4, 0, 2; New York, 6, 0, 1.

Gantlett, Gauntlett.—Local,
'at the gauntlet.' Probably a sign-name—cf. Roebuck, Whitehorse, &c.—otherwise a nickname. The gantlet was an iron glove; O.F.
gantlet, 'a gantlet, or arming glove' (Skeat, gauntlet). A double dim.
of 'gant,' a glove, gant-el-et; cf.
Hew-el-et, now Hewlett; Rich-el-ot from Richard, Hob-el-et from Hob, Robert, &c.

Henry Gauntelett, temp. Eliz. Z.
Roger Gauntlett, temp. Eliz. Z.
1641. Philip Gantlett and Joanne
Avery: Marriage Lic. (Westminster),
p. 40.
1678. Hugh Gauntlett and Anne Chaytor: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 295.
London, 3, 2.

Gapp.—Local, 'at the gap,' i.e.
the breach in the hillside, &c.
'Gap of a walle, intervallum':
Prompt. Parv.

'Right as the hunter in the regne of Trace,
That stondeth at a gappe with a spere.'
Chaucer, C. T. 1639.

Savatus del Gap, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Robert ate Gappe, co. Hunts, ibid.
William atte Gapp, C. R., 16 Edw.
III. pt. i.

Alan Atte-gap, co. Burgh, rector of Haylesdon, co. Norf., 1335: FF. x. 431.
Simon atte Gappe, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1377: ibid. xi. 324.
Alexander atte Gappe, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1419: ibid.

As will be seen below, this surname is still familiar to co. Norfolk.

1716. Bapt.—Thomas, s. William Gape: St. Antholin (London), p. 129.
London, 4; MDB. (Norfolk), 2.

Garbett, Garbutt, Garbott.—Bapt. 'the son of Gerbold,' or Gerbaud; cf. Arnold and Arnaud (v. Yonge's Christian Names, ii. 327-8). There can be no doubt about this interpretation. Among the benefactors of Conishead Priory in the 12th century was one 'Roger de Cayres, (who) gave two acres and three roods of land . . . and all his land in Marle-riding, a toft and messuage, which Gerbot once held, in Haverbrec' (West's Ant. of Furness, p. 191).

Robert Gerbot, co. Salop, 1273. A.
William Garbode, or Garbolde, co. Norf., ibid.

Gilbert Gerebod, co. Oxf., ibid.
Gerbold le Escald, co. Linc., ibid.
Adam Gerebaud, co. Hunts, ibid.
Cf. John de Gerberdestone (i. e. Gerberd's farm), co. Somers, 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 260.

Milo Gerbold, co. Northampton, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Alicia Gerbot, co. Salop, 34 Edw. I: BBB, p. 707.

John Gerbed, or Gerbot, co. Cumb., 28 Edw. I: ibid. p. 581.

William Garbott, co. York. W. 11.
Gerbod de Escals: Pipe Roll, 10 Hen. II. p. 15.

1757. Roger Garbutt and Ann Elsley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 70.

1750. Philipp Garbett and Mary Pritchard: ibid. i. 80.
London, 2, 4, 0; New York, 1, 2, 1.

Gard, Garde.—Offic. 'the guard,' cognate with Ward; q.v.

Cf. Robert le Garder (co. Oxf., 1273. A.) with Warder.

John le Gard, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Symon Gard, co. Oxf., ibid.

Rogerus Garde, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 107.

1787. Married—John Gard and Eliz. Bray: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 410.

London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 5.

Garden, Gardyne.—Local, 'at the garden,' from residence thereby; cf. Orchard, Appleyard, &c.

William del Gardin, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Thomas del Gardyn, C. R., 20 Edw. I.

William del Gardyne, C. R., 3 Hen. V.
John Gardin, or Gardyn, 1545: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 211.

Thomas del Gardin, co. Kent, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

1606. Married—Robert Mathewsone and Margaret Garden: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 31.

London, 4, 1; New York, 4, 0.

Gardiner, Gardner, Gardener, Gairdner.—Occup. 'the gardener.' As might be expected, a familiar entry in every mediaeval record. The large number of representatives in the London Directory indirectly proves the popularity of the avocation.

Geoffrey le Gardiner, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Richard le Gardiner, co. Camb., ibid.

Ralph le Gardener, co. Hunts, ibid.

William le Gardiner, or Gardener, co. Linc., ibid.

William Gardinar, co. Lanc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Gilbert de Ilkeley, ga(r)thener, 9 Edw. III: Freeman of York, i. 29.

William le Gardener, C. R., 8 Edw. I.
Thomas Gardiner, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 208.

Thomas Garchiner, 1379: ibid. p. 107.
London, 43, 103, 6, 1; Philadelphia, 90, 115, 9, 0.

Gare, Gear, Geare.—Local, 'at the gare' (?), from residence thereby. Latterly the popular variants seem to have been Gear and Geare through a form Gayer.

Stephen de la Gare, co. Kent, 1273. A.
Lucas atte Gare, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.

Lucas de la Gare, co. Kent, ibid.

Allen Atte-gar, vicar of Elmham, co. Norf., 1356: FF. ix. 493.

1568. Married—Hercules Gooderyn and Eliz. Gayre: St. Mary Aldermayn (London), p. 4.

1715. Archibald Hutchinson and Mary Gayer: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 330.

1771. Married—John Gear and Ann Bamford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 215.

London, 3, 5, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 8, 0.

Garford, Garforth, Garfitt.

—Local, 'of Garforth,' a parish seven miles east of Leeds, co. York; v. Forth and Ford.

Robert de Gerford, co. York, 1273. A.
Johannes de Garforth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 105.

Johanna de Garforth, 1379: ibid.

Agnes de Gerforth, 1379: ibid. p. 198.
Johannes de Gerforth, of Gerforth, ibid. p. 216.

London, 1, 0, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 4, 2; Sheffield, 0, 0, 3; Philadelphia (Garforth), 5.

Gargory.—Bapt. 'the son of Gregory,' a corrupted form; cf. Garland for Graland. Dickens' Joe Gargery, in Great Expectations, was evidently taken, nominally speaking, from real life; cf. Pickwick, Snodgrass, &c.

Birmingham (1884), 1.

Gargrave.—Local, 'of Gargrave,' W. Rid. Yorks.

Johanna de Gayregrau (u for v), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 217.

Johannes de Gayregrau, ffrankeleyn: ibid.

Willelmus de Gayregrau, textor: ibid.

The two last-named persons lived at 'Gayregrau.'

Garland, Garland.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Graland,' probably the Breton Gradlon (v. Yonge, ii. 88). It is found as a dog's name:

'Ran Colle our dogge, and Talbot, and Gerlond.' Chaucer, C. T. 15389.

Graland soon became Garland.

Graland de Runchamp, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Graland de St. Leodegario: ibid.

Graland de Longo Campo: ibid.

John Garland, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 127.
Thomas Garland, 1379: ibid. p. 224.

(2) Local.

Gilbert de Garlande, C. R., 28 Edw. I.
William le (? de) Garlaunde, C. R., 3 Edw. I.

London, 20, 3; Boston (U.S.), 39, 0.

Garlick, Garlic.—Nick, 'a garlick-monger' (q.v.), or a peasant; one who smelt of garlick. But the first solution is probably the correct one; v. Peppercorn, where a spicer is so called in 1379. Nothing could be more natural than such a sobriquet. Lancashire and Yorkshire were strongly represented by this name; they are so still.

Robert Garlec, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Margareta Garlec, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 26.

Henry Garlycke, Patent Roll, 1 Eliz., pt. ix.

William Garleke, of Poulton, 1560: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 110.

Jane Garlic, of Thornton, 1601: ibid.

London, 7, 0; Manchester, 4, 0; Preston, 1, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 5, 0; New York, 6, 1; Philadelphia, 4, 2.

Garlicker.—Occup. 'the garlicker,' a dealer in garlick.

Willelmus Garleker, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 73.

Willelmus Garlekar, chapman, 1379: ibid. p. 94.

Garlickmonger.—Occup. 'the garlick-monger,' a dealer in garlick. This helps to the explanation of Garlick, q.v.

John Garlekemongere. B.

Henry le Garlekemongere, temp. 1310. M.
Thomas le Garlykmonger: ibid.

Garman, Garmeson.—Bapt. 'the son of Garmond'; v. Garment. Cf. Osman, Wyman, and Roseman, from Osmond, Wymond, and Rosamund.

Germundus de Hodehull, Hen. III.—Edw. I.: K. p. 89.

London, 4, 2; Philadelphia, 23, o.

Garment.—Bapt. 'the son of Garmond,' or 'Gardmund' (Yonge, ii. 241); v. Grimond. Cf. Raiment and Rayment, from Raymond; v. Rayment.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Garner, Garnar, Gerner.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Garnier'; O.E. Warner (Yonge, ii. 412); v. Warner (2), and cf. Gwilliam and William. Garnier was the once popular French form of the name. It has nothing to do with a granary, as suggested by Lower.

Stephen Gerner, co. Linc., 1273. A. Gerner de Lancaster, Fines Roll, 11 Edw. I.

Johannes Garner, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 161.

p. 1609. Buried—Marie Garner, St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 217.

1713. Buried—Ashton Garner, St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 213.

(2) Occup. 'the gardener,' firstly corrupted to Gardner, secondly to Garner. As regards most of the North-English Garners there can be no doubt about this solution. It can be proved beyond question.

Christopher Gardiner, or Garner, 1584: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 117.

John Gardiner, or Garner, of Aldingham, 1584: ibid.

Christopher Garner, of Much Urswicke, 1575: ibid. p. 120.

A further instance will sufficiently prove my point. It concerns the stock mentioned above.

1706. Bapt.—Eliz., d. of Mathew Gardner: Reg. Ulverston Ch., p. 291.

1709. Bapt.—Margrat, d. of Matthew Garner, ibid. p. 294.

London, 23, 3, 3; Manchester, 17, o, o; Philadelphia, 20, o, 9.

Garnet, Garnett.—Bapt. 'the son of Garnet,' if such a personal name existed, but more probably 'the son of Guarin' (?). Although I have no absolute proof to adduce, I cannot hesitate to assert that this is the O.F. Guarinot (a diminutive in ot of the very popular Guarin), just as Warnett is Warinot (a diminutive in ot of Warin), the English dress of the same name (v. Wareing and Warinot). Assuredly it is a font-name, or the pet form of a font-name. An inseximus of the charter of the manor of Ulverton, 10 Henry IV, is witnessed among others by 'Garnet our Forester' (West's Ant. of Furness, p. 34).

Vivianus Gernet, 30 Hen. III: BBB. p. 11.

Roger Gernet, co. Essex, 1273. A. William Gernet, co. Notts, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Willelmus Garnett, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 128.

Johanna Garnet, 1379: ibid. p. 125.

1591. Married—Nicholas Boughe and Agnes Garnet, St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 8.

London, o, 6; Philadelphia, 1, 6.

Garneys, Garnies, Garness, Garniss.—? Bapt. 'the son of Garneys' (?). I cannot find any prefix, and am forced to the conclusion that, like Harness, it is sprung from a personal name. This surname has been settled in Norfolk and Suffolk for six centuries. But the early scattered instances strongly presuppose a fontal origin.

Roger Garneys, co. Suff., 1273. A. John Gerneys, co. Southampton, ibid.

John Gerneys, co. Linc., ibid.

Thomas Garnys, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 167.

Robert Garnys, 1379: ibid.

Robert Garneys, 1384, co. Norf.: FF. v. 291.

Ralph Garneys, 1446, co. Norf.: ibid. v. 292.

Nicholas Garnish, 1599, co. Norf.: ibid. v. 293.

London, o, o, 1, o; MDB. (Suffolk), 3, 1, o, o; Manchester (Garniss), 1; New York (Garniss), 2.

Garnham.—(?) Bapt. Not local, as its appearance would so naturally suggest, but the modernly accepted form of the old surname Gernon. For a similar instance, cf. Baynham, an exact parallel. There is no discoverable spot called Garnham, and the fact that such a formerly familiar surname as Gernon has no present representatives, save in one or two rare instances, goes to prove that it still exists in another shape. I have no doubt about this solution. For early instances, v. Garnon. In the following instance there is no change saving m for n; cf. Ransom for Ranson, or Sansom for Sanson.

1660. Married—John Croxston and Jane Garnum: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 156.

Cf. 1782.—James Garnon and Eliz. Sherlock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. l. 340.

London, 11.

Garnon, Gernon.—(?) —. Lower, &c., says it is 'de Gernon,' from some undiscoverable spot in Normandy. There is no local prefix to the many entries in the Hundred Rolls or the Testa de Neville; v. Garnham.

Robert le Gernoun, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Hugh le Gernoun, co. Hunts, ibid.

John Gernun, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Gernon, co. Derby, ibid.

Gilbert Gernun, co. Wilts, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Roger Gernon, co. Wilts, ibid. Crockford, 1, o.

Garrard, Gerard, Garratt, Garrett, Garrad, Garritt, Garrod, Garrood, Garrud, Garratt, Garret.—Bapt. 'the son of Gerard'; O.E. Garret, Germ. Gerhard; v. Jarratt. Adding together all the forms under J and G, Gerard is truly remarkable for the number of its variants. In Ireland Gerard and Gerald have become confused, and Fitz-Garrett and Fitz-Gerald are said to be representatives of the same name and family (v. Yonge, ii. 326). It is possible the same confusion existed in England. In any case Gerard is distinct in origin from Gerald.

Johannes Gerard, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 50.

Thomas Gerard, 1379: ibid. p. 142.

Gyrrad Tolus, 1379: ibid. p. 242.

Adam Garret, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 204.

'To Garrett Jonson, for shoes, xs. xd.'

'To Garratt Jonson, for shoes, iiii.'; Hous. Exp., Princess Eliz. (Cam. Soc.), pp. 16, 18.

Garret Hawkinson. Z.

Thomas Garard, or Garrarde, or Garret, 1511: Reg. Univ. Oxf. l. 104.

1678. Buried—Garit Pender: Reg. Cheshire Ch., Cheshire.

'Here lyeth the body of Garrat Cocke, gentleman.' Epitaph, 1637: Brand's Hist. of Newcastle-on-Tyne, l. 384.

'Petition of Elizabeth Fitz-garrat,' 1583: Cal. State Papers (Domestic), ii. 125.

Garret Fitz-garret, 1586: ibid. ii. 344.

London, 17, 5, 13, 41, 8, 2, 18, 2, 0, 0, 0;
New York, 2, 14, 2, 15, 0, 1, 0, 0, 2, 2, 0;
Philadelphia, 0, 1, 1, 130, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0;
Boston (U.S.) (Garrood), 2.

Garraway.—Local, 'of Garway,' a parish in co. Hereford, seven miles from Monmouth; but v. Gore. With Garraway, cf. Greenaway for Greenway, and Ottaway for Otway.

John Garewy, co. Glouc., 20 Edw. I. R. 1082. Buried—William Garaway, St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 97.
1754. Married—James Costidell and Eliz. Garway, St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 52.
London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Garretson, Garrison, Garretson.—Bapt. 'theson of Gerard' (v. Garrard), popularly Garret. In some cases it may represent Garriston, from the place of that name, co. York, as suggested by Lower; but all evidence is in favour of my view, which is a simple and natural one.

John Garredsone. Z.
Andrew Garretson. TT.
1039. William Farrington and Ruth Garrison, Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 38.
Philadelphia, 12, 51, 3.

Garside, Gartside, Garthside.—Local, 'at the garth-side,' i.e. living at the side of the garth, the yard or orchard.

Cf. Richard atte Garthend, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 245.

This surname first dropped the h, secondly the t, and is now almost universally Garside. 'In the reign of Edward I lived Sir Baldwin Teutonicus, . . . who granted to Sir Robert de Holland, in free marriage with Joan, his daughter, all his lands in Butterworth, the Cleggs, Garthside, Akedene, Holynworth, and Halght in Rochdale' (Baines' Lancashire, i. 505). I believe Garthside lay in Crompton, between Rochdale and Oldham. The surname arose there, and still lives in the district. An article in an Oldham newspaper in 1879, which I have misplaced, entitled 'Old Homesteads,' quoted an entry relating to Robert de Garcesside, 6 Edw. III.

Alice Garside, of Oldham, widow, 1597: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 70.

John Gartside, of Saddleworth, 1597: ibid.

Thomas Gartside, of Deanshaw, husbandman, 1593: ibid.

'James Gartsyde, for xxli in goods, xs.' (Spotland) Subsidy Roll, 1541, Salford Hundred: Lanc. and Ches. Rec. Soc. xii. 146.

Oddly enough, the full form still exists in Liverpool. I had thought it long extinct. Probably it is a modern restoration.

London, 3, 0, 0; Manchester, 21, 4, 0; Liverpool (Garthside), 1; New York, 3, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 3, 0.

Garstang.—Local, 'of Garstang,' a market-town and parish in North Lancashire.

John de Gairestang, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 145.

Rogerus de Gerstan, 1379: ibid. p. 234.
Willelmus de Garston, 1379: ibid. p. 257.

William Garstange, 1582: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 44.

Thomas Garstange, 1642: ibid. p. 98.

Andrew Garstang, of Leyland, 1616: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 70.

William Garstang, of Lostock, 1610: ibid.

West Rid. Court Dir., 2; Manchester, 2; Blackburn, 3; Preston, 1.

Garth, Garthe.—Local, 'of the garth,' i.e. the yard, the enclosure. In Yorkshire Garth has occasionally become Gath, q.v. Cf. Garside.

Beatrice del Garthe, 1379: P. T. Howdeshire, p. 10.

Willelmus del Garth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 225.

London, 2, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 0; New York, 3, 1.

Garton.—Local, 'of Garton,' two parishes in E. Rid. Yorks, one in Holderness, the other near Great Driffield.

Willelmus de Garton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 295.

Thomas de Garton, drapour, et Magota uxor ejus: ibid. p. 97.

London, 7; New York, 1; Philadelphia, 30.

Gascoigne, Gascoine, Gascoyen, Gascoyne.—Local, 'from Gascony,' a Gascoyen; v. Gaskin.

'And reed wyn of Gascoigne.'

Piers P. 455.

William de Gasconia, co. Bucks, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Geoffrey Gascoyne, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Peter Gascoyng, co. Devon, ibid.

Philip le Gascoyne. T.

Jacob Gascoigne. B.

Johannes Gascoigne, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 295.

1624. Bapt. — Dorothy, d. George Gascoigne, St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 98.

1696. John Gascoyne and Sarah Johnson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 319.

London, 0, 3, 1, 5; New York, 2, 2, 0, 2.

Gaselee.—Local, 'of Gazeley,' a parish in co. Suffolk, five miles from Newmarket.

Alexander de Gasele, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Andrew de Gasele, co. Norf., ibid.

1630. Married — Thomas Gasleay and Marye Turnor: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 17.

1669. John Paynell (co. Norf.) and Catherine Gasleay, of Norwich: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 167.

London, 3.

Gasgarth, Gaskarth.—Local, 'of Gatesgarth,' a hamlet at the foot of Buttermere, co. Cumb.; cf. Gaskell and Gaitskell.

Thomas Gaskirth, of Ulverston, 1616: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 121.

Margaret Gatescarthe, of Ulverston, 1609: ibid.

John Gaskarth, of Carke, 1739: ibid. ii. 111.

So late as the present century it is found in Ulverston under the form of Gaskett.

1807. Married — Robert Dalzell, of Ulverston, shoemaker, and Ann Gaskett, of Kendal: Ulverston Ch., p. 457.
Liverpool, 1, 1.

Gaskell, Gaskill, Gaskall.—Local, 'of Gaisgill,' a hamlet two miles from Tebay, co. Westmoreland. A compound of gill, a narrow ravine (v. Gill); cf. Wintersgill, and v. Gaitskell. The hamlet of Gaisgill being on the Yorkshire border, it is easy to see why the surname is found in the Poll Tax (1379) for W. Rid. Yorks.

Alicia de Gasegill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 236.

Agnes de Gasegill, 1379: ibid. p. 241.

Johannes Gaysegill, 1379: ibid. p. 250.

Robertus Gaysegill, 1379: ibid. p. 256.

Katerina de Gasegyl, 1379: ibid. p. 269.

Cf. Jacobus de Gasegill, of 'Rymyngton,' 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 270.

Johannes de Holgill, of 'Rymynton,' 1379: ibid.

Johannes de Hawesgile, of 'Rymyngton,' 1379: ibid.

John Gaysgill, co. Lanc., C. R., 12 Hen. IV.

Edward Gaskell, 1560: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 121.

Richard Gaytscale, of Dalton, 1595: ibid.

Robert Gateskell, of Dalton, 1616: ibid.

London, 2, 0, 0; Manchester, 8, 2, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 2, 0, 2; New York, 2, 1, 0.

Gaskin, Gasking, Gaskoin, Gasquoine.—Local, 'of Gascony.' A native of Gascony, a Gascon; v. Gascoigne.

Philip de Gascon', co. Salop, 1273. A. William Gascon. B. Robert Gaskyn. F. Johannes Gascone, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 213. 1599. Married—Richard Gaskeyne and Jane Cooke: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 16.

1623.—Thomas Gaskin and Judith Clifford: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 129. London, 5, 1, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), (Gaskin), 6.

Gasson, Gashion.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Cass' (q.v.) for Casson. C and G were constantly taking one another's places; cf. Cammel for Gammel. (2) Occup. 'the Garçon,' i.e. lad, page, attendant; v. Carson.

'Then sone was a proude garson, Men hym clepyd Wyf Befown.' MS. Cantab. ff. ii. 38, f. 15 (Halliwell). Richard le Garzun, C. R., 2 Edw. I. John Garçon le Persone, C. R., 7 Edw. I. Probably (2) represents the true origin. Gashion is a curious but not unique corruption; cf. Gratton for Grayson.

1773. Married—William Richards and Sarah Gasson, St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 229. London, 3, 2; New York, 1, 1.

Gaston.—Local, 'of Gascony,' an early corrupted form of Gaskin or Gaskon. The same individual is thus referred to:

William de Gasconia, co. Bucks: Hen. III-Edw. I. K. William de Gaston, co. Bucks, ibid.

Probably again referred to as: William de Gaston, co. Kent, 1273. A. 1757. Married—William Gaston and Sarah Gibbs: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 72. London, 2; Philadelphia, 4.

Gatacre, Gateacre.—Local, 'of Gatacre,' an estate in co. Salop (v. Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 125). The surname still clings to that county.

John de Gatacre, co. Salop, 1273. A. Stephen de Gatacre, co. Salop, ibid. 1660. Charles Gataker and Sarah Wharton: Marriage Lic. (Canterbury), ii. 48. MDB. (Salop), 2, 0; London Court Dir., 0, 1.

Gatcliff, Gatliff, Gatecliff.—Local, 'of Catcliffe,' in the parish of Rotherham, co. Yorks. For Gatliff, cf. Topliff for Topcliff.

Adam de Cateclyf, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 63. 1763. Married—Charles Gatecliffe and Eliz. Crofard: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 128. London, 0, 1, 0; Manchester Dir., 3, 0, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 1, 1.

Gatcomb.—Local, 'of Gatecomb,' a parish three miles from Newport, Isle of Wight.

Matilda de Gatecumb, co. Sussex, 1273. A. William de Gatecumbe, co. Bucks, 20 Edw. I. R. 1585-6. Henry Gatecombe and Alice Sweettable: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 147. Boston (U.S.), 3.

Gate, Gates.—(1) Local, 'at the gate' (v. Yates), from residence thereby.

John atte Gate: Close Roll, 16 Edw. III. pt. ii. Silvester atte Gates, rector of Brinton, co. Norf., 1354: FF. ix. 370. Thomas de Gayte, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 107. Johannes atte Gate, 1379: ibid. p. 244. Robertus de Gate, 1379: ibid. p. 288. Custancia del Gates, 1379: ibid. p. 49.

(2) Offic.; O.F. waite, gaite, a guard, a watcher, a sentinel. Hence the Christmas waits. 'Wayte, a spye. Wayte, waker (i.e. watcher): Prompt. Parv. Cf. 'lying in wait.'

Hugh le Geyt, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Adam le Gayt. B. Robert le Gait. M. Johannes Gayte, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 21. London, 2, 11; Philadelphia, 0, 25.

Gatehouse, Gatus.—Local, 'at the gate-house,' of the monastery, church, &c. With Gatus, cf. Loftus or Bacchus, for Lofthouse and Backhouse.

Cf. John Fox, of Gatehouse, in Ellet, 1678: Lanc. Wills at Richmond, p. 115. 1774. Married—George Allen and Margaret Gatehouse: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 246. London, 3, 1.

Gater.—Occup.; cognate with M.E. waitere, a watchman; cf. Gate (2), and Wait and Wayte. Nothing to do with Gate-er, one who dwelt by a gate, as suggested by Mr. Lower (Patr. Brit. p. 126).

Michael le Geytere, co. Hunts, 1273. A. 1762. Married—John Gater and Mary Whalle: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 114. 1779.—Robert Barker and Mary Gater: ibid. 302. London, 2.

Gath.—Local, 'at the garth,' a modification peculiar to co. York; v. Garth.

Halifax, 3; Sheffield, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Gathergood.—?—. Probably a fontal name with god, gaud, or gold as suffix; cf. Garbett, Thoroughgood, &c. Gathergood looks as if it were the opposite of Scattergood, which was undoubtedly a baptismal name.

MDB. (Norfolk), 5.

Gatley, Gately.—Local, 'of Gateley,' a parish in Norfolk, near Fakenham.

Johannes de Gaythele, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 13. Philadelphia, 4, 4.

Gatlin, Gatling.—Bapt. 'the son of Gertrude' (?). Clearly, from the instances given, the diminutive of some fontal-name. As Gertrude has given us the pet Gatty, so Gatelin would be the double dim.; cf. Catelin for Kate, now Catlin and Catling (q.v.), an exactly analogous case. The surname crossed the Atlantic, and gave us there the Gatling-gun. It is quite possible that Gatlin or Gatling is Catlin or Catling; cf. Cammel and Gammel.

Geoffrey Gatelin, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Johanna Gatelyn, co. Wilts, ibid. New York, 1, 2.

Gatley, Gatty, Gattie.—Bapt. 'the son of Gertrude,' from nick. Gatty. It is curious to note that the registrars of the 16th and 17th centuries found as much difficulty in spelling Gertrude as Ursula. The latter bothered them completely. I have seen it written Oursley twice. At first I could not understand it as a girl's name.

1618. Married—Henry Parkehurst and Gartwite Wetherall, St. Antholin (London), p. 53.

Garthred Good, 1666: Reg. Broad Chalke, co. Wilts.

Gertrude, wife of Marke Lawrie, 1698: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 245.

Deborah Gatty, widow, 1730: ibid. p. 264.

William Gattay, 1728: Reg. St. Columb Major, p. 263.

1782. Married.—William Gattie and Ann Stead: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 339. London, 2, o, 1; Crockford, o, 3, o.

Gatton.—Local, 'of Gatton,' a parish in co. Surrey.

Hamo de Gattune, co. Kent, 1273. A. Robert de Gatton, co. Sussex: Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

John de Gatton, co. Notts: ibid. Alicia de Gatton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 142.

1591. Thomas Gill and Eliz. Gatton, co. Essex: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 195. 1669. Francis Gatton, co. Essex, and Susanna Smith: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 173.

Gatward.—Occup. 'the gateward,' a porter, a keeper of the gate; an official at a monastery, church, or hall. This surname still lives in the county in which it arose.

William le Gateward, co. Essex, 1273. A. 1778. Married.—James Gatward and Mary Rudling: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 284. MDB. (co. Essex), 4.

Gauger, Gager, Gaiger.—Offic. 'the gauger,' an inspector of casks, &c., from gauge or gage, to measure.

'Item, that all wines, red and white, which shall come unto the said realm shall be well and lawfully gauged by the King's gaugers, or their deputies' (bien et loialment gaugez par le gauejour le Roi, ou son député): Stat. of Realm, i. 331. William Gauger: Close Roll, 15 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Alexander le Gauger. N. Henry le Gaugeour. N. Alan Gauger, c. 1300. M. Ulverston, 1, o, o; London (1887), o, 1, 2; Philadelphia, 2, 1, o.

Gaunt, Gant.—(1) Nick, 'the gaunt,' thin, slender; cf. Bigg, Little, Thick, &c.

Hugh le Gant, co. Oxf., 1273. A. John le Gant, co. Oxf., ibid. Gilbert le Gaunt, co. Camb., ibid. Robert le Gaunt, co. Linc., ibid. Thomas le Gaunt, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 104.

(2) Local, 'of Ghent.' Shakespeare has several puns on 'gaunt,' in which both interpretations are involved; v. Gant.

Henry de Gaunt, co. Soms., 1273. A. Maurice de Gaunt, co. Soms., ibid. Simon le Gaunt, temp. 1300. M. Willelmus Gaunte, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 172.

Petrus de Gaunt, 1379: ibid. 1538. Richard Good and Alice Gaunt: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 9.

1646. Bapt.—George, s. George Gaunt: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 164.

1711. Married.—Edward Loder and Eliz. Gant: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 56. London, 3, 4; Philadelphia, 2, 4.

Gauntlett; v. Gantlett.

Gavelocker.—Occup. 'a maker of gaveloks,' i.e. spears or javelins. 'The term is still used in the North for an iron crow or lever' (Halliwell).

Richard Gavelakere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 112.

Gawen, Gavin.—Bapt. 'the son of Gawen.' Sir Gawaine was the hero of the battle with the giant Rhynence:

'That Gawain with his olde curtesie,' Chaucer, The Squire's Tale.

Miss Yonge says, 'His name, whether as Gawain or Gavin, was popular in England and Scotland in the Middle Ages' (v. Hist. Christian Names, ii. 138-9). In North Lancashire Gawen was still a familiar font-name in the 17th century.

Goselena fil. Gawyne, co. Camb., 1273. A. Peter Gowyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 28. Emma Gawyn, 1379: ibid. p. 48.

1530-1. Gawin Carew and Anne Shelston: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 8.

1609-10.—William Gawin: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 94.

Gaven Richardson, 1631: QQQ. p. 155. Appendix.

1653. Bapt.—Gawne Gilpin: Reg. Ulverston Ch. i. 127.

Gawen Lowther, of Harthwaite Bank, 1669: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 186.

1680-1. Buried.—An, wife of Gawen Stephenson: ibid. p. 169.

1687. Bapt.—Christopher, son of Gawen Stephenson: ibid. p. 35.

1706. Bapt.—Susanna Maria, d. John Gawin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 28.

1776. Married.—Thomas Colly and Catherine Gaven: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 261.

London, o, 2; Philadelphia, o, 22.

Gawkroger, Gawkrodger.—Nick. 'awkward Roger.' A Yorkshire name that has ramified strongly, and is found in every local directory. 'Gawk, a simpleton' (Skeat). The adjective was in use early in Yorks. But I cannot find the surname in question in the Poll Tax, 1379.

Adam Gawke, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 265. Robertus Goukeman, 1379: ibid. p. 246.

Thomas Goykeman, co. York, c. 1460. W. 11.

An April fool is an April gowk in Yorkshire:

'On the first of April
Hunt the gowk another mile.'
Dawson's Hist. of Skipton, p. 375.

If the origin be as stated it is a curious instance of a surname, largely represented, arising out of some single forgotten incident; cf. Prettjohn, Littlejohn.

Halifax Dir., 4, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 7, 1; London (1887), 1, 2.

Gay, Gaye.—Nick, 'the gay,' the light-spirited; cf. Jolly, Jolliff, Merry, &c.

Adam le Gay, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Robert le Gay, co. Oxf., ibid. William Gay, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 127. London, 27, 1.

Gaylard, Gaylord; v. Gallard.

Gayler, Gaylor.—Offic.; v. Galer.

Gayles; v. Gales.

Gaynar, Gaynor, Gainer, Gayner, Gainer.—Bapt. 'the son of Gwenivere.' 'Gaynore, Queen Gweniver' (Halliwell). This origin seems indisputable. Yet I lack any further evidence. At the same time it must be recollected that all, or nearly all, of the other names of the Arthurian story are well represented in our modern directories.

London, 1, 1, o, o, o; MDB. (co. Glouc.), o, o, 4, 4, o; Philadelphia, o, 10, o, 2, 2.

Gayton.—Local, 'of Gayton': (1) a township in co. Chester; (2) a parish in co. Norfolk; (3) a parish in co. Northampton; (4) a parish in co. Stafford; (5) two parishes in co. Lincoln; v. Gatton.

Ralph de Gayton, co. Linc., 1273. A. Richard de Gayton, ibid. London, 5; Philadelphia, 1.

Gaywood.—Local, 'of Gaywood,' a parish in co. Norfolk, near Lynn Regis.

Robert de Geywode, London, 1273. A. London, 1.

Gaze.—Bapt. 'the son of Gaze.' 'Mr. Ferguson refers it to an old German personal name Gaiso' (Lower). My first instance confirms this view.

Gazo de Calido Monte, co. York, 1273. A. Nigel Gase, co. Linc., ibid.

But cf.

Andrew le Gays, co. Bedf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K. London, 6; New York, 2.

Gear, Geare.—Local; v. Gare.

Geary, Gery, Garry, Gerry.—Bapt. 'the son of Geri.' A personal name as old as Domesday. Uxor Geri was a tenant-in-chief in co. Gloucester. Lower gives both Gery and Geri as Domesday forms. Both occur frequently in the Hundred Rolls.

Richard Jery, co. Hunts, 1273. A. John Gery, co. Bedf., ibid.
Nicholas Gery, co. Hunts, ibid.
Dionise Geri, co. Oxf., ibid.
Walter Geri, co. Camb., ibid.
1521. Thomas Jary, vicar of Binham, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 122.

1645. Married—John Barnes and Dorothy Geary: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 24.

1646. —John Gery and Eliz. Sabin: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 257.

1745. —John Corney and Eliz. Geary: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 36.

London, 14, 1, 0, 0; York, 0, 0, 2, 0; New York, 40, 1, 24, 7.

Geck, Gecke.—Nick.; an object of scorn, a simpleton. A.S. geac, a cuckoo, a silly fellow.

'The most notorious geck.'

Twelfth Night, v. 1.

'And to become the geck and scorn
O' th' other's villany.'

Cymbeline, v. 4.

Gilbert Gekke, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Henry le Gekke, ibid.

Henry le Geke, ibid.

London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 1.

Gedge, Giggs.—Local, 'of Geggess,' a spot seemingly in the parish of Filby, co. Norfolk. The surname is strictly a Norfolk one, and has existed there for many centuries.

'Matthew de Salle granted Geggess part in trust to William de Frisseby, rector of Filby, 1412, and Edmund Norman, son of John, died lord in 1444': FF. xi. 218.

Isabel Geggess, co. Norf., 1402: FF. xi. 218.

John Geggess, co. Norf., 10 Hen. VI: ibid. ix. 205.

Richard Gegg, co. Norf., 1448: ibid. ii. 234.

Richard Gedge, of Saham, co. Norf., 1367: ibid. 269.

Willelmus Gedge, 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 61.

'Here resteth expectinge the second cominge of our Saviour Jesus Christ, the Body of Margaret Gedge, wife of Robert Gedge . . . buried the 24th of July, 1619. . . . Also John Gedge, father of the said Robert, was buried 24 Nov. 1621, aged 87': FF. v. 415.

It is thus clear that Geggess or Giggs (it is also found in this latter form in the History of the county) became Gedge between 1450 and 1600. The form Gegg above (1448) seems to point to the departure.

London, 7, 1; MDB. (Norfolk), 9, 0.

Gedling.—Local, 'of Gedling,' a parish three miles and a half from Nottingham.

Hugh de Gedling, co. Notts, 1273. A. 1676. Married—Thomas Dove and Eliz. Gidling: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 41.

London, 1.

Gedney.—Local; v. Gidney.

Gee.—Local, 'of Gee,' now Gee Cross, a prosperous village in the parish of Stockport. That all our Gees hail from this spot admits of no doubt. The local registers team with them. A glance at the index to Earwaker's East Cheshire will show that they had early spread themselves out into the surrounding country. The surname has ramified strongly.

Dicon Gee, Stockport Parish, 1494: East Cheshire, ii. 10.

1562. Marriage—Thomas Gee and Anne Lowe: Reg. Prestbury, co. Ches., p. 8.

—Buried.—John Gee: ibid. p. 9.

The name frequently occurs in the last-named register.

1500. Buried—Uxor Jo'his Gee de Godley Hall: Reg. Mottram in Longendale, co. Ches.

Manchester, 17; London, 23; Philadelphia, 19.

Geeves.—Bapt. 'the son of Geve.' No doubt a form of Geff, the nick. of Geoffrey. In the instances below Gyveson is now found as Jephson and Jepson, q.v. The latter is the Lancashire form. The Manchester Directory has eight Jepsons. The final s in Geeves is genitive, as in Williams, Jones, Dickens, &c.; v. Jeffs.

William fil. Geve, co. York, 1273. A. Richard Geves, co. Oxf., ibid.

Thomas fil. Henry Gyveson: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 2.

Francis fil. Thome Gyveson, ibid. p. 6. London, 3.

Geffkins.—Bapt. 'the son of Geoffrey,' from the nick. Geff and dim. Geff-kin; cf. Wilkins, Watkins, &c.

Mr. J. T. Geffkins, playing for Hampshire v. Sussex, at Brighton, July 22, 1889, made 8 runs: v. London Papers, July 23, 1889.

Gelbart.—Bapt.; v. Gilbert.

Geldard, Geldart, Gelder, Gelderd, Geldert.—Occup. 'the geld-herd,' a herdsman (geld and herd). A great patronymic in South Cumberland and Furness. To this day cows and ewes are advertized as geld cows and geld ewes, i.e. not with young (v. Towneley Mysteries, p. 75). The geld-herd and cow-herd (v. Coward) have left two of the oldest and most strongly ramified names in the Lake District; v. Herd for list of derivatives.

'Item. pro geldherds, pro tripherds'; v. Tripper: Whitaker's Craven, 1317, p. 465.

The editor adds, 'Geldherds are elsewhere called "pastores sterilium animalium," hence the modern surname Geldert.'

Petrus Geldhird, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 238.

Ricardus Geldhird, ibid.

Ricardus Geldhyrd, ibid. p. 287.

Janet Geldert, of Gleaston, 1595: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 122.

Anne Geldard, of Ulverston, 1641: ibid.

George Geldart, of Ulverston, 1661: ibid.

West Riding Court Dir., 2, 2, 7, 1, 1; New York (Gelder), 1, Boston (Geldert), 5.

Gelding.—Bapt. Another form of Gilding or Goulding (v. Golden).

Geldanus de Twykeburgh, co. Devon. Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Geldanus de Uppehill, co. Devon, ibid. London, 1.

Gell.—Bapt. 'the son of Gell.' A form of Gill (q.v.), the nick. of Juliana, or Gillian, as it was more familiarly known.

Gelle Winter, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Emma Gele, co. Suff., ibid.

Thomas Gele, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 301. London, 2; New York, 2.

Gellatly.—Nick.; v. Golightly.
Gellion.—Bapt.; v. Gallon.

Gem, Gems, Gemson.—Bapt. 'the son of James,' popularly Jim and Jem, or Gem; cf. Jill and Gill. From the absence of pet forms of James it is probable that the 14th century only saw anything like a familiar use of this name. Indeed James was very rare—only a student of nomenclature knows how rare. James has bequeathed us few surnames. Its confusion with John through Jack has, no doubt, had much to do with this. The other leading Apostolic names have left rich legacies in our directories.

William fil. Gemme, co. York, 1318. M.
 Richard fil. Gimme, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. III. R.
 William fil. Gimme, ibid.
 Robertus Gemson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 160.

Hugo Gimme, 1379: ibid. p. 163.
 Ricardus Gemme, 1379: ibid. p. 152.
 Johannes Gemmys, 1379: ibid. p. 214.
 Agnes Jemme, 1379: ibid. p. 150.
 Thomas Gem, 1379: ibid. p. 15.

Cf. the dims. Gemmett and Jemmett:

1618. Andrew Weekes and Mary Gemmett: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 61.
 London, 1, 1, 1; Crockford, 3, 0, 0;
 Preston, 0, 0, 2; Boston (U.S.), 0, 2, 0.

Genet.—? Bapt. 'the son of Genet,' i.e. Janet or Jeannette; v. Jennett.

Janeta Barker, co. Camb., 1273. A.
 'Item, Genett Bowman, 10s.' 'Item, Genett Pepper, 8s.' 1579. Wages paid by 'Dame Thomasyne ladye Thornburgh': Hist. Cumb. and Westm. (Nicolson and Burn), i. 110.
 London, 2; New York, 6.

Genever.—Bapt. 'the son of Guinevere'; v. Jenifer.

Crockford, 1; Birmingham (1884), 1; New York, 1.

Genner.—Occup.; v. Jenner.
 1634. Buried.—Ellen Barnet, servant to Mr. Genner: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 233.

The editor identifies the above as Mr. Arthur Jenner.

London, 1.

Gentilcorps; v. Handsomebody.

Gentilhomme.—Nick. 'gentleman,' well-bred, polished; v. Gentleman.

Thomas Gentilhomme. H.

Gentle, Gentil, Jentle.—Nick. 'the gentle.' Originally one who was not a Christian; later, one of polished, well-bred manners, 'genteel.' Then, again, one of gentle, benign character.

William le Gentil, co. York, 1273. A.
 Robert le Gentill, or Gentyl, co. Wilts, ibid.

John le Gentyl, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 94.

William le Gentil: Patent Roll, 4 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Agnes Gentildoghter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 24.

Johannes Gentill, 1379: ibid. p. 61.
 Robertus Pedifer, gentil, 1379: ibid. p. 277.

1555. Christning of Mathew Jentyll: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 7.
 London, 4, 1, 1; New York, 4, 2, 1.

Gentleman.—Nick. 'the gentleman'; v. Gentle; cf. Fr. Gentilhomme, q.v.

Robert Gentilman, co. Bedf., 1273. A.
 Nicholas Gentilman, co. Bedf., ibid.

Johannes Gentilman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 243.

John Gentulman, C. R., 20 Ric. II. pt. i.

William Gentilman. V. 11.
 1663. Samuel Gentleman and Sarah Hudson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 42.
 1762. Married.—John Gentleman and Mary Allin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 108.
 New York, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Gentry.—? Local. I fail to discover any information about this name.

London, 11; Philadelphia, 12.

Geoffrey.—Bapt. 'the son of Geoffrey.' By a curious freak this name is scarcely ever found surnominally in this form; v. Jeffery and cf. Gerard and Jerard. The harder form of Godfrey, however, retains the earlier initial. The name occurs in Domesday, and gradually forged its way to the forefront of frequency. No doubt Godfrey or Geoffrey of Lorraine, of crusading renown, had much to do with its West-European popularity. The forms (always with G) are endless in the Hundred Rolls.

John fil. Geffrei, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
 Warin Gefrey, co. Camb., ibid.

Simon Gefray, co. Oxf., ibid.

Galfridus de la Grange, co. Bucks, ibid.

Galfridus fil. Galfridi, co. Oxf., ibid.

George, Georgeson.—Bapt.

'the son of George.' A somewhat rare name in early mediaeval records. Quite modern in popularity, in spite of the many Georges in the London Directory. The fuller patronymic Georgeson has always been excessively rare. St. George of England ought to have impressed his name more deeply upon our directories.

Georgius de Furnell, cos. Notts and Derby, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Robert Gorge, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

William Gorge, co. Camb., ibid.

Georgius Clericus, co. Linc., ibid.

Georgius Williamson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 243.

1503. Buried.—Georgeson (sic) servant to Mr. William Hall: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 188.

1604. James Georgeson, of Speke: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 71.

1623. Married.—Samuell Wilkinson and Anne George: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 251.

1624. William Mason and Dorothy Georgeson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 147.

London, 72, 0; Manchester (1887), 17; New York, 38, 0.

Gerald.—Bapt. 'the son of Gerald'; v. Garrard.

London, 1.

Gerard, Gerrard; v. Garrard.

London, 5, 4; Oxford, 1, 0.

Gerish, Gerrish, Gerras, Gerres.—Nick. 'garish,' i. e. showy, resplendent, staring.

'And pay no worship to the garish sun.'

Romeo and Juliet, iii. 2.

The earliest instances of the surname are connected with co. Oxford.

William le Geriss, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

John le Gerisse, co. Oxf., ibid.

Umfrey le Gerische, co. Oxf., ibid.

Cristina Gerygge, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 267.

1787. Married.—William Sharpe and Letitia Gerrish: St. Geo. Han. Sq. p. 402.

London, 1, 2, 1, 1; New York, 1, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), Gerrish, 32.

German, Germon, Germain.

—Bapt. 'the son of German.' No doubt a personal name taken or given from the country; cf. Norman. For one or two variants of the surname, v. Jarman.

Germanus de Hode, Hen. III.—Edw. I: K. p. 178.

Johannes Germaine, co. Southampton, 1273. A.

Simon Germeyn, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Germyn, co. Northampt., 20 Edw. I. R.

Germanus Hay, co. York, ibid.

Germanus Benson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 232.

Germanus Gardiner, 1379: ibid. p. 159.
1646. Bapt.—John, s. William and John
German: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 166.
1672.—John, s. William and Grace
Jermone: ibid. p. 257.
London, 5, 0, 3; Crockford, 0, 4, 0;
Philadelphia, 14, 0, 0.

Gerner.—Bapt.; v. Garner.

Gerring.—Bapt. 'the son of Guarin.' The usual English form of which was Warren or Warin;
v. Wareing. The final g is ex-crescent, as in Jennings.

Geryn Barnel, co. Salop, Hen. III.
Edw. I. K.

Richard Geryn, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Hubert Gerin, co. Bedf., ibid.
Thomas Garyn, co. Camb., ibid.
John Geryn, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.
Constance Geryn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.
Kirby's Quest, p. 115.

1745. Married.—John Gerring and Martha Dounton: St. Geo. Han. Sq.
i. 35.

Oxford, 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Gerrish.—Nick.; v. Gerish.

Gervas, Gervis.—Bapt. 'the son of Gervase'; v. Jarvis.

London (1887), 1, 2.

Gery.—Bapt.; v. Geary.

Gethin, Gething, Getting,
Gethen.—Bapt. 'the son of Gethin.' No doubt Welsh, and it is almost equally certain that Gittens is the same name with the genitival s suffixed. Hence probably a personal name; v. Gittens. The final g in Gething is excrescent.

Ellis Gethin, co. Denbigh, matric.
Oxford, 1578: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt.
ii. p. 83.

Maurice Gethin, co. Denbigh, matric.
Oxford, 1578: ibid.

Roger Gethin, co. Salop, Bras. Coll.,
1578: ibid. p. 81.

Humphrey Gethen, of Worthenbury,
1633: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 85.

Lilly Gethin, of Worthenbury, 1633:
ibid.

1793. Married.—William Morgan and Margaret Gethyn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii.
90.

1798.—George Dryden and Eliz.
Gethin: ibid. p. 184.

—James Brechin and Alice Ge-thing: ibid. p. 187.

London, 0, 3, 0; MDB. (Glamorgan),
0, 3, 0, 0; (Montgomery), 1, 0, 0, 0; (co.
Salop), 0, 0, 0, 1.

Geves, Geveson, Gyves,
Jeeves.—Bapt. 'the son of Geve.'
An early North-English form of Geff, which has survived the wear and tear of time in a patronymic form. The nick. of Geoffrey, q.v.

In this case Gyveson (infra) merely stands for Jephson.

William fil. Geve, co. York, 1273. A.
Adam fil. Willfridd Gyveson: Preston
Guild Rolls, p. 6.

Francis fil. Thome Gyveson: ibid.

1610. Nicholas Geeves and Margaret Harbord: Marriage Lic. (Westminster),
p. 19.

Leeds, 1, 0, 0, 2; West Riding Court
Dir., 1, 0, 0, 4; Manchester, 0, 0, 1, 0;
Boston (U.S.), Jeeves, 1.

Gibb, Gibbs, Gibbe, Gibbes, Gibson, Gibby.—Bapt. 'the son of Gilbert,' from nick. Gib; v.
Gilbert.

'How Gyb, good morne: wheder goys thou?'

The Nativity. Towneley Mysteries.

As Tib was the name for a female cat, so was Gib for a male, but the distinction was gradually forgotten:

'Now, master, as I am true wag,
I will be neither late, nor lag,
But go and come with gossip's cheer,
Ere Gib, our cat, can lick her ear.'
Peele's Edward I.

'For right no more than Gibbe, our cat,
That awaiteth mice and rattes to kille.'
Rom. of Rose.

'For who that's but a queen, fair, sober,
wise,
Would from a paddock, from a bat, a
gib,
Such dear concernings hide?'

Hamlet, iii. 4.

Hence such opprobrious epithets as 'flibber-gib,' or 'flitter-gibbet,' found in Latimer, Burton, and, later, Walter Scott. Gib was also applied to a young gosling (v.
Halliwell).

Adam Gibbe, 1311. M.
Perseval Gybson, co. York, W. 11.
Robert Gybbysen, co. York, ibid.
Johannes Gybbson, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 90.

Willelmus Gybson, 1379: ibid. p. 208.
Alicia Gybson, 1379: ibid. p. 144.
Cecilia Gib-wyf, 1379: ibid. p. 28.
Custancia Gibwyf, 1379: ibid. p. 111.
Thomas Gybbys. XX. 1.
Robert Gybbys. FF.

A notorious rascal named Gybb
Selby is mentioned in the Calendar of State Papers for 1562.

Johannes Gyb, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p.
148.

Thomas Gyb-man (the servant of Gib),
1379: ibid.

London, 11, 84, 0, 1, 72, 0; Liverpool
(1887), Gibby, 1; Boston (U.S.), Gibby, 3;
Philadelphia, 21, 76, 0, 0, 228, 0.

Gibbard, Gibberd.—Bapt.
'the son of Gilbert' (q.v.), popularly Gibbert, Gibberd, or Gibbard.
The first order of variation is found in the following entries:

Henry Gibbard, co. Norf., 1273. A.
John Gibbard, co. Norf., ibid.
John Giblerd, co. Camb., ibid.
William Gibberd, co. Glouc., 20 Edw.
I. R.

The second variation was inevitable:

1730. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Timothy Gibbard:
St. Jas. Clerkenwell, p. 190.
1778. Married.—John Gibbard and Ann Eedy: St. Geo. Han. Sq. p. 289.
London, 4, 1.

Gibbens, Gibbin, Gibbins,
Gibbings.—Bapt. 'the son of Gibbert,' from nick. Gib, dim. Gibb-on or Gibb-in; cf. Rob-in, Col-in, &c.
The g in Gibbins is excrescent;
cf. Jennings; v. Gibbon. Instances from a single register show some curious spellings:

1541. Bapt.—Ellen Gybbinnes: St.
Peter, Cornhill, i. 2.
1544.—Joane Gibbynnnes: ibid. p. 3.
1549. Buried—John Gybbens: ibid. p.
109.
1617. Bapt.—Katherine Gybbins: ibid.
p. 66.
London, 1, 1, 17, 7; New York, 2, 1, 5,
1; Philadelphia, 3, 0, 2, 0.

Gibbon, Gibbons, Gibbon-son.—Bapt. 'the son of Gilbert,' from nick. Gibb, dim. Gibb-on;
cf. Alison and Marion from Alice and Mary. 'Gybonn or Gylberde, propy name, Gilbertus': Prompt.
Parv. It proves the great popularity of Gibbon that it should precede Gilbert in the glossary quoted; v. Gilbert. Gybon Waller is a character in one of the Towneley Mysteries.

John Giboun, 1307. M.
Robert Gybbon, 1307. H.
Gibun de Mortemer, temp. Edw. II:
GGG. p. 268.
Nicholas Gybonson, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 292.

Roger Gibonson, 1379: ibid. p. 158.
Robertus Gybonson, 1379: ibid. p. 248.
Gibon Otes, 1439: Rental of Halifax.
Cotton MSS. Vespasian, F. 15, Brit. Mus.
John Gibbonson. F.
1597. Married.—Nicholas Gibbons and
Ellen Chambers: St. Mary Aldermary
(London), p. 9.

John Gibbinson, 1579: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 122.

Margaret Gibbonson, 1623: ibid.
London, 9, 38, 0; Philadelphia, 9, 73, 0.

Giblett.—Bapt. 'the son of Gilbert,' from nick. Gib, dim. Gib-elot; cf. Hewlett from Hew (Hugh); v. Gilbert.

Dera Gibelot, co. Camb., 1273. A.

John Gibbelote, co. York. W. 2.

Henry Gybelot, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 206.

Matilda Giblot, 1579: P. T. Yorks. p. 144.

William Giblet, 1557: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 234.

1675. Married.—William Giblet and Jone Cawdry: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 182.

1766.—John Giblet and Eliz. Montagu: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 154.

London, 2; MDB. (co. Soms.), 9; New York, 1.

Giblin, Gibling.—Bapt. 'the son of Gilbert,' from nick. Gib, dim. Gib-lin. The g is excrement in Gibling; cf. Hewling for Hewlin, q.v. Although I find no early instances there can be no doubt about the origin of this name.

London, 2, 1; New York, 10, 0.

Gidden, Giddens, Giddings, Gittens, Gittins, Gittings.—Local, (1) 'of Gidding,' or (2) 'Gedding.' (1) A parish near Stilton, co. Hunts; (2) a parish near Stowmarket, co. Suffolk. The final s in Giddens and Giddings probably represents the ge and gge (pronounced like hinge) found in the entries below:

Nicholas de Gedding, co. Essex, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

John de Geddinge, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Geoffrey de Geddinge, co. Suff., ibid.

Richard de Geddinge, co. Hunts, ibid.

Henry de Geddinge, co. Hunts, 20 Edw. I. R.

1666. Married.—Peeter Clyne and El-liner Gittings: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 146.

The preceding item is entered in the index as Giddings.

1702. Married.—Richard Gunning and Mary Giddings: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 51.

1744. Bapt.—James, son of John Gidden: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 270.

London, 1, 1, 2, 2, 4, 0; New York, 0, 1, 6, 1, 0, 1.

Giddy.—(1) Nick. 'the giddy.' (2) Local, 'of Gidde.'

Nicholas de Gidd, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Ralph Gydyde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 214.

John Gydyde, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. London, 2.

Gideon.—Bapt. 'the son of Gideon.' But as I find no early instance it is perhaps of Jewish descent and later importation.

Robert Gideon, 1679: Reg. St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 105.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 11.

Gidney, Gedney.—Local, 'of Gedney,' a parish near Wisbech, co. Lincoln. This surname has become corrupted to Kidney, q.v.

Herve de Gedeney, co. Linc., 1273. A.

1689. Married.—John Seayre and Dorcas Gedney: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 46.

1751. Bapt.—Ann, d. Caleb Gedney: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 299.

London, 5, 0; MDB. (Norfolk), 0, 2; New York, 3, 19.

Giffard, Gifford.—Bapt. 'the son of Giffard.'

Giffard le Bretun, 1273. A.

Giffard Piscator, ibid.

Giffard Reynold, co. Bucks, ibid.

Giffard Wyting, co. Soms., ibid.

Giffard de Lucerna, 20 Edw. I. R.

Johanna Juffard, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 54.

Johannes Juffard, 1379: ibid. p. 37.

Henry Giffard, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 101.

London, 5, 14; New York, 0, 25.

Giffen, Giffin.—Bapt. 'the son of Geoffrey,' from the nick. Giff, and dim. Giff-on; cf. Alison, Marion, and Guyon, from Alice, Mary, and Guy. I have but one early instance, but it is a very satisfactory one; cf. Gifkins.

Willelmus Gyffon, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 180.

1640. Buried.—Grace Giffen, kild by a fall: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 171.

London, 1, 2; New York, 2, 8.

Gifkins.—Bapt. 'the son of Geoffrey,' from nick. Giff, with suffix -kin, as in Watkin, Wilkin, &c.; cf. Jeffkins. The Standard, Jan. 27, 1887, says, concerning a town's meeting at Chatham to commemorate the Queen's Jubilee, 'It was influentially attended, and was presided over by the High Constable, Mr. H. J. Gifkins.'

Robertus Gyffe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 156.

Gigger.—Occur; v. Jigger.

Giggler.—? Nick. 'the giggler (?)'. But perhaps a form of juggler.

Robert le Gigelere, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Gilbart, Gelbart.—Bapt. 'the son of Gilbert' (q.v.); cf. Robart for Robert, or Hubbard for Hubert.

London, 2, 0; Oxford, 0, 1.

Gilbert, Gilbertson.—Bapt. 'the son of Gilbert'; Old Frank Giselbert. That at least twenty surnames, more or less familiar, are founded upon 'Gilbert,' need cause little surprise. It seemed to exercise a fascination over our ancestors. The Gilbertines were an English order, founded in the 12th century by St. Gilbert, who was born at Sempringham, co. Lincoln. There were numerous convents of this order at the time of the suppression. The name was naturally popular. The nick, was Gib, the chief dim. 'on'; hence Gibbon. The different corruptions of Gibbon are given in their place. Diminutives in 'let' and 'ling' give us our Giblets and Giblings (Lond. Dir.). Gilpin was formed from Gilb-in (v. Gilpin), and was peculiar to the North of England.

Isolda fil. Gilberti, 1273. A.

Robert Gilbertus, ibid.

Eustace fil. Gilebert, ibid.

Nicholas Gilbertson, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 31.

Johannes Gilberd, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 1.

London, 75, 3; Philadelphia, 192, 1; New York (Gilbertson), 4.

Gilby, Gilbee, Gilbey, Gillbee, Gillbey.—(1) Local, 'of Gilby,' a hamlet in the parish of Pilham, co. Lincoln. (2) Local, 'of Kilby,' a parish in co. Leicester, six miles from Leicester. It seems certain that this is one solution; v. Kilbey. (3) Bapt. 'the son of Gilbert,' from the pet Gilbie; cf. Charley, Teddie, &c. The following entry confirms this strongly:

John Gilbeson, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 142.

1571. Richard Gilbye, or Kelby, co. Linc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 51.

1619. Robert Kilbie, co. Leic., ibid. p. 374.

1794. Married.—John Gilby and Mary Jeckins: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 121.

London, 8, o, 3, 1, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., o, 1, o, o, o; New York (Gilby), 1.

Gilder.—Occup. 'the gilder.'

Ralph le Gelder. X.

London, 3; Oxford, 4; New York, 4.

Gildersleve, Gildersleeve, Gilderslieve.—Nick. 'with sleeves braided with gold.' M.E.

gilden, A.S. gyldan, to gild. Gilder is a corruption of Gilden, as the instances below will show. It is curious that the name should still survive. The surname arose in co. Norfolk.

Robert Gyldenesleve, co. Norf., 1273. A. John Gildensleve, Fellow of College of the Holy Cross, Atteburgh, co. Norf., 1421: FF. i. 840.

Robert Gyldensleve, C. R., 15 Hen. VI. John Gildensleve, rector of Little Cressingham, co. Norf., 1588: FF. iv. 111.

In the form of Gildersleeve this surname has reached the United States. The American Journal of Philology was edited, 1880-4, by Basil L. Gildersleeve (v. Quaritch's Catalogue, No. 88, p. 8). The large list of Gildersleaves in the New York Directory seems to point to an early settlement in the new country.

London, 2, o, o; New York, o, 28, 1.

Gildhouse.—Local, 'at the gild-house,' the same as Gild-hall, the place where the trade or craft-gild met.

'Wel semed eche of hem a fayre burgeis,
To sitten in a gild halle on the deis.'

Chaucer, C. T. 372.

William de Gildhous, Close Roll, 18 Edw. III. pt. i. (v. Green, Hist. Eng. People, i. 222).

George Gildus, of Maghull, 1638: Wills at Chester (1621-50), p. 85.

Richard Gildus, of Maghull, 1638: ibid.

With the above cf. Loftus and Saltus for Lofthouse and Salt-house.

Giles.—Bapt. 'the son of Giles,' a curious familiar form for Egidius. It is very difficult to find a Giles in the 13th and 14th centuries registers, as it is all but invariably entered Egidius. Whether or no Giles was originally a contraction of Egidius, or a substitute for it, it is hard to say. The two seem to have nothing in common. I cannot but think that as Gill was familiar for Julia, so Giles at first represented Julius (v. Yonge, i. 188, for an interesting paragraph on the subject). We must remember that exactly the same accident has befallen Jack as representing John, as it does in England, yet, more correctly, James.

Egidius, or Gillus Gowsell, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Jordan fil. Egidii, co. Linc., ibid.

Osbert fil. Egidii, co. Linc., ibid.

1564. Married — Nicholas Giles and Christian Newell: St Mary Aldermary, p. 4.

1576. — Edwarde Giles and Agnes Herne: p. 6.

London, 56; New York, 25.

Gilkins, Gilkes, Gilks, Gilkin.—Bapt. 'the son of William' or 'Guillaume,' from the nick, Gill, and dim. Gil-kin. Possibly from Gill or Jill (v. Gill), but -kin was rarely added to girls' names, Malkin (Mary) being almost the only exception. Gilkes and Gilks are modifications of Gilkins, just as Perkes and Perks are of Perkins, or Dawkes and Dawks of Dawkins. And further, just as Guillaume gave us Gilkin, so William gave us Wilkin; and similarly, just as William gave us Wilcock, so Gilcock once represented Guillaume.

Cecilia Gilkoc, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Gilkinus de Braban, 25 Edw. I: Freeman of York (Surt. Soc.), i. 6.

1753. Married — Samuel Watters and Eleonor Gilks: St. Geo. Chap. Mayfair,

p. 247.
London, o, 3, 4, o; New York (Gilkin), 1.

Gill.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Gill.' Either Gill, nick. of William (Guillaume), or Gill or Jill, the nick of Juliana. Both were in use for a time, but the latter finally ruled supreme, and Will quickly became the nick. of the other; v. Gillson.

Richard fil. Gille, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Gille Hulle, co. Camb., ibid.

Roger Gille, co. Oxf., ibid.

Magota Gill-doghter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 209.

Elizabeth Gylle-doghter, 1379: ibid. p. 261.

Robert Gille, 1379: ibid. p. 11.

(2) Local, 'at the gill' or 'ghyll,' a deep glen or ravine.

Johannes del Gill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 295.

Magota del Gylle, 1379: ibid. p. 212.

1609. Married — John Gill and Eliz. Norman: St. Mary Aldermary (London), p. 11.

London, 73; Philadelphia, 132.

Gillam, Gilliam, Gillham.—Bapt. 'the son of William,' an early form of Guillaume.

Petrus Gillam, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 10.

Willelmus Gilliam, 1379: ibid. p. 267.

Gilliam Spyser, 1379: ibid. p. 89.

Ricardus Gillmanan, i.e. the servant of Gillam: ibid. p. 258.

Gillam Treasurer, C. R., 1-2 Philip and Mary, pt. iv.

For modern instances, v. Gillham.

Manchester, (1887), 2, o, o; London (1887), 5, 1, 8; Philadelphia, 11, 7, 2; New York, o, 9, 3.

Gillard.—Nick.; v. Gallard.

Gillbanks, Gilbanks.—Local, 'of Gillbanks.' There is a hamlet in co. Cumb. so called, but every village near a gill has its gill-banks. I had one in my old parish of Ulverston. Of course, the surname is North English.

1788. Married — Isaac Gillbanks, of Kirkby Ireleth, and Isabella Newby, of Ulverston: St. Mary, Ulverston, ii. 432.

West Rid. Court Dir., o, 1; London, 2, o; Liverpool, 3, o.

Gilbard.—Bapt. 'the son of Gilbert' (q.v.); v. Gibbard.

Henry Gilbard, co. Norf., 1273. A.

John Gilbard, co. Norf., ibid.

William Gilberd, co. Wilts, ibid.

Launceston, 2.

Gillett; v. Gillott.

Gillham, Gilliam, Gillam, Gilliams.—Bapt. 'the son of William'; v. Gwilliam or Gwillim. Although Gillham looks local, there is no reason for doubting its connexion with William. For earlier instances, v. Gillam.

1605. Bapt. — William, s. Richard Gyllam: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 46.

1773. Married — Samuel Gillham and Martha Allen: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 227.

1779. — John Gilliam and Ann Turner: ibid. p. 301.

London, 3, 2, 2, o; New York, 3, o, o, o; Philadelphia, 2, 7, 10, 6.

Gillibrand, Gellibrand.—Local, 'of Gelybrand.' Although settled in England at an early period, this seems to be a Scotch surname. It has a firm footing in Lancashire. Preston was its first centre.

Henry Gilibrond, 1313. M.

John Gilibrond, 1313. M.

Laurence de Gelybrand, or Jelibrand, 1360: The Exchequer Rolls of Scotland, ii. 52.

Richard Gelybrand, shereman, 1562: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 30.

1577. Married—John Smyth and Margery Gellybrand: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 7.

Jacobus Gilibrond, 1602: ibid. p. 62.

James Gellibrand, of Preston, felt-maker, 1615: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 122.

Ellen Gillibrand, of Blackburn, 1617: Wills at Chester (1545-1670), pp. 72, 111.

Isabella Jollibrand, of Lathom, 1610: ibid. p. 14.

Hugh Jollibrand, of Lathom, 1608: ibid. London, o, 1; Manchester, 5, o; Blackburn, 4, o; Chorley (Lanc.), 2, o; Preston, 1, o; Philadelphia, 2, o.

Gilling, Gillings, Gillings.—Local, 'of Gilling.' There are two Gillings, both townships, in co. York, one near Richmond, the other near Helmsley. But the instances below suggest localities further south. As in several other cases of local names ending in -ing, the g being sometimes pronounced soft (as in singe) has caused Gilling to become Gillings; cf. Billinge or Billings for Billing.

Adam de Gilling, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Simon Gilling, co. Camb., ibid.

Seer de Gilling, co. Hunts, ibid.

Thomas Gillyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 148.

Thomas de Gillyng, co. Salop, 20 Edw. I. R.

But I find a Yorkshire instance:

Robert de Gillyng, 13 Edw. I: Freeman of York, i. 4.

1609. Married—Edward Lawman and Mary Gillinge: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 35.

1608. — William Taylor and Ann Gilling: St. Antholin (London), p. 112.

London, 1, 3, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1, 1, o.

Gillingham.—Local, 'of Gillingham': (1) a parish in co. Norfolk, near Beccles; (2) a parish in co. Dorset, near Shaftesbury; (3) a parish in co. Kent, near Chatham.

Gild' de Gillingham, co. Dorset, 1273. A.

Robert de Gyllingham, co. Norf., ibid.

Hugh de Gillingham, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.

Robert de Gillingham, co. Norf., ibid.

Richard de Gyllingham, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 215.

1771. Married—William Lawrance and Betty Gillingham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 214.

London, 4; Philadelphia, 56; Boston (U.S.), 4.

Gillman; v. Gilman.

Gillon.—Bapt. 'the son of Giles,' from the dim. Gillon; cf. Mari-on, Gibb-on, &c. Cf. the many references to Egidius (Giles) de Argentinein and Gilon de Argentinein in the Hundred Rolls, where it is evident the allusions are to one and the same person.

London, 1; New York, 16.

Gillott, Gillett.—It is important to observe at the outset that these two well-established surnames have two distinct origins, one masculine, the other feminine, both of the baptismal or personal class. I will deal with the masculine first. (1) Bapt. 'the son of William,' from the N.Fr. Guille (English Will), and dim. Guillot (English Willott or Willett). This made only a slight impression on English nomenclature, the desire to keep it distinct from Gilot, the nick. and dim. of Juliana (v. Gil-lott, 2), causing Williamot, shortened to Wilmot, to predominate. In France the double diminutive Guillotin will be for ever remembered as the surname of the doctor who invented the murderous instrument that bears his name; cf.

Gillotyn Hansake, 20 Hen. VI: Wars of English in France, Henry VI, vol. ii. p. 531.

In the Hundred Rolls we find Gilcock for Wilcock. I proceed to furnish a few instances of the masculine use:

Gwillotus Clerk. C.

Guillot le Balister. E.

Gilot le Heanberger, London. X.

Guillot des Robes, Wardrobe Roll, 4 Edw. III.

Gelot Webster et Johanna uxore ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 50.

Johannes Gillotson: ibid. p. 227.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Juliana,' popularly Gilliam, nick. Jill or Gill, dim. Gillo.

'Husband.

Alle the day long
Thus it fell to my lott, Gylle, I had sich grace.

Wife. It were a fowle blott to be hanged for the case.

Husband. I have skapyd, Jelott, oft as hard a glase.
Towneley Mysteries, p. 106.

This quotation disposes of all doubts on the subject, did they exist. Oddly enough, it gives the initial G in one case and J in the other. In one of the old metrical sermons it is said:

'Robin will Gilot
Leden to the nale,
And sitten there togedres
And tellen ther tale.'

See my English Surnames, 3rd edit. p. 74.

It was through the inconstancy of Gilot we got our dictionary word jilt. I now proceed to furnish instances of the feminine use:

Thomas Taylour et Gilloet uxore ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 120.

Robertus Lyster et Gilloet' uxore ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 125.

Gillote Fox, 1379: ibid.

Johannes Gylotson, 1379: ibid. p. 91.

Willelmus Gylloet, 1379: ibid. p. 150.

Johannes Underhyll et Gylloet' uxore ejus, 1372: ibid. p. 125.

Willelmus Geliot, 1379: ibid. p. 262.

Johannes Gyllyott', 1379: ibid. p. 218.

These will suffice.

London, 5, 30; Philadelphia, 8, 2.

Gillow.—Bapt. 'the son of Gil-low'; no doubt the same as Gilloet (1), q.v. Another attempt to distinguish the masculine Gilloet from the feminine Gilloet or Gilot. The name passed over the borders of Yorkshire into Lancashire.

Gilow serviens (i.e. the servant of) Johannis, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 154.

Gylaw et Agnes uxore ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 89.

Willelmus Gyllow, 1379: ibid. p. 140.

Ricardus Gillow, 1379: ibid. p. 14.

Willelmus Gylowe, 1379: ibid. p. 256.

1662. Richard Gillow, of Brining:

Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 124.

1664. Richard Gillow, of Winmarley:

ibid.

1729. Thomas Gillow, of Winmarley:

ibid. ii. 114.

London, 1; Lancaster, 1.

Gillsland, Gilleland.—Local, 'of Gillsland,' co. Northumberland.

Johanna Gillsland, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 183.

1614. John Leveridge and Rosamund Gillsland: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 26.

Philadelphia, 6, 1.

Gillsland, Gillison, Gilson.—Bapt. 'the son of Juliana,' from the nick. Gill or Jill. Occasionally it may mean 'the son of Giles,' but there is little evidence. The proofs in favour of Jill are conclusive; v. Gill (1) and Gillott (2).

Alan fil. Gille, co. Linc., 1273. A.
William fil. Gille, co. Linc., ibid.
John Gille, London, ibid.
Johannes Gilleson, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 8.
Johannes Gilson, 1379: ibid. p. 13.
Hugo Gilleson, 1379: ibid. p. 49.
Johannes Gilleson, 1379: ibid. p. 69.
Johannes Gylleson, 1379: ibid. p. 270.
1687. Married — Thomas Gilson and Mary Tittle, St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 45.
London, 1, 0, 11; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 17;
Boston (U.S.), Gillison, 1.

Gilman, Gilman. — Bapt. 'the son of Gilmyn.' Through French Guillaume we at length attained William. In the meanwhile the Low Countries brought us Gillemyn or Willemin, which we finally retained with the G prefix.

John Wylemin, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
William Wylemyn, co. Camb., ibid.
John Wylemyn, London, ibid.
Anketus fil. Gilmyn, co. Camb., ibid.
Walter Gilmin, co. Oxf., ibid.
John Gylemyn, co. Bucks, ibid.
Gylemyn Cocle, co. Kent, ibid.
Richard Gilemyn, 1311. M.
Christopher Gylemyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 212.
Waldeof fil. Gilmyn: E. and F., co. Camb., p. 41.
Gilmyn serves Roger Fulbaron, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 231.
Johannes Gylmyne, 1379: ibid.
1546. John Carter and Gylmen Haverd: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 8.
London, 3, 4; Philadelphia, 14, 2.

Gilmichael. — Bapt. 'the son of Gillmichael.' 'Gilmichael' was common, and turned into Gil-michel. The influence of the great Celtic mission at Lindisfarne, on the north of England, is visible as late as the Norman Conquest, for Domesday Book shows four northern proprietors, called respectively Ghilemicel, Ghilander, Ghillepetair, and Ghilebrid' (Yonge, ii. 115); cf. Malcolm.

Gillemighel Adam, co. Lanc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Gilinghal de Merton, 21 Richard II: Furness Coucher Book, l. 188.

Gilmore, Gilmour, Gilmoir, Gilmore. — (1) Local, 'of Gilmoor,' a hamlet in the parish of Bishop Thornton, co. Yorks. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Gilmoir,' Scotch (Gilmory or Gilmoir, 'servant of Mary': Yonge, ii. 115); cf. Gil-michael.

Gilamor fil. Gilandi, c. 1100: E. and F., co. Cumb., p. 143.
Gilamor, 'his cousin,' ibid.
London, 2, 7, 0, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 1, 1, 0; Crockford, 3, 0, 2, 2; Philadelphia, 66, 32, 0, 4.

Gilpin. — Bapt. 'the son of Gilbert' (?), from the dim. Gilb-in; cf. Gibb-on, Mari-on, &c. Gilpin is a well-known patronymic in Furness and Westmoreland. Edwin Gilpin of Kentmere was father of Bernard Gilpin, the Apostle of the North, born in 1517. The solution seems satisfactory. Rob-ert, Lamb-ert, and Gilb-ert took the pet forms of Rob-in, Lamb-in, and Gilb-in. The two latter, by a natural law, have become Lampin and Gilpin.

Gilbert Gylpin. H.
1548. Married — Henry Fones and Alyce Gylpyn: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 5.
Richard Gillpin, of Aldingham, 1614: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 124.
Roger Gilping, of Littledale, 1666: ibid.

A curious corruption of Gilpin occurs in the following entry:

1689. Married — Phillip Hartley and Ann Giltpen: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, p. 205.
London, 1; West Riding Court Dir., 2; Ulverston, 1; Philadelphia, 30.

Gilyard. — Nick.; v. Gallard.
West Riding Court Dir., 1.

Gimingham. — Local, 'of Gimingham,' a parish near North Walsham, co. Norfolk.

John de Gytingham, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Reynier de Gytingham, co. Norf., ibid.
London, 1.

Gimson. — Bapt. 'the son of Jim'; v. Gem.
London, 2; MDB. (co. Camb.), 3.

Gingell. — Local, 'of Gingdale,' some spot in co. Wilts or Gloucester. I have not identified the place, but Gingell is thus originated. The surname is still closely connected with the district in which it arose. As Charles Dickens got Pickwick from the neighbourhood of Bath, it is possible that Alfred Jingle came from the same quarter.

Michael de Gingedale, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
1762. Married — Richard Saltun stall and Betty Gingell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 114.

London, 2; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 5; (Wilts), 1.

Ginger. — Nick. Probably in allusion to the occupation of the bearer, a spicer; cf. Pepper, Mustard, Peascod, Freshherring, &c. Richard Peppercorn was a spicer, 1379; v. Peppercorn. It may have reference, of course, to some moral characteristic. M.E. gingivere, O.F. gengibre.

Godfrey Gyngivre, 1313. M.
Agnes Gyngyvere, London. X.
London, 6; New York, 1.

Gipp, Gippes, Gipson, Gypson. — Bapt. 'the son of Gilbert,' from nick. Gibb, sharpened to Gipp; cf. Hoppes for Hobbs, or Hopson for Hobson; v. Gibb and Gilbert. While this appears to be the natural solution, it must not be forgotten that Geoffrey gave us Jephson, that its early nick. was Gef, and that Gep may have been another nick. familiar to the period.

Johannes Gepson, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 7.
Johannes Gepson, 1379: ibid. p. 64.
Robertus Jepson, 1379: p. 109.
Thomas Gepson, 1379: p. 123.
Cf. Alicia Geppe-doghter, 1397: ibid. p. 237.
Agnes Gef-doghter, 1379: ibid. p. 27.
Alicia Gef-doghter, 1379: ibid. p. 124.
Alicia Gefray-wyf, 1379: ibid.

The last two are entered together, evidently mother and daughter.

London Court Dir., 0, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 1, 0.

Girardot. — Bapt. 'the son of Gerard,' dim. Girard-ot. A French name, an immigration. Lower says it came in after the revocation of the Edict of Nantes.

London, 1; Crockford, 1; New York, 1.

Girdler. — Occup. 'the girdler,' a maker of waistbands or belts. A girdler's gild seems to have existed in all the larger towns. The 'girdellers' formed part of the procession (1415) in the York Pageant. At Norwich, in 1533, they walked with the coverlet-weavers and darnick-weavers (Blomefield, Norfolk, ii. 148); at Chester, with the poynters, card-makers, and hatters (Ormerod's Cheshire, i. 300). Cocke Lorelle's Bote includes 'gyrdelers, for-borers, and webbers.'

Adam le Gurdere, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
Geoffrey le Gurdler, co. Bucks, ibid.
William Gurdeler, co. Oxfr., ibid.
Ralph le Gurdeler, Close Roll, 35 Edw. I.

Robert le Girdlere, c. 1300. M.
Gilbert le Haxby, gyrdeler, 21 Edw. I.
Freemen of York, i. 5.
Henricus Girdelar, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 159.
London, 3; Philadelphia, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Girdlestone.—Local, 'of Gridleston,' some spot seemingly in co. Somerset. In fact this is all but certain, as Gridel and Gridelston occur together in a roll of that county.

Robert Gridel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 177.

Geoffrey de Gridelston, co. Soms., ibid.
Thus the meaning of the surname is 'the town (i.e. farm) of Gridel'; v. Town.

1608-9. Married—Henry Gurdelston (co. Norf.), and Joannah Busbey: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 47.
London, 4; Crockford, 4.

Gisborne, Gisborne, Gisburn, Gisborn.—Local, 'of Gisburne,' a parish seven miles from Clitheroe, co. York.

Thomas de Gysburn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 285.
Willelmus de Gisburn, 1307: ibid. p. 272.
London, 3, 2, 0, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 0, 3, 0; Liverpool, 1, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia (Gisburn), 1.

Gishard.—Occup. 'the gooseherd'; v. Gozzard.

Giskin.—Bapt. Probably Flemish.

Gyskynde la Chambre, Patent Roll, 17 Ric. II. pt. ii.

Gislingham.—Local, 'of Gislingham,' a parish in co. Suffolk, five miles from Eye. The spellings are many and curious in early registers. I have selected the more remarkable.

Robert de Gyssislyngham, co. Norf., 1273. A.
William de Gislingham, co. Suff., ibid.
William de Gyselyngham, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.
1770. Married—George Fain and Ann Gislingham: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 198.
London, 1.

Gissing.—Local, 'of Gissing,'

a parish in co. Norfolk, four miles from Diss.

Adam de Gissing, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Stephen de Gissinge, co. Norf., ibid.
London, 3.

Gittens, Gittins.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Gethin' (?), a Welsh name; v. Gethin. I have no absolute proof of the above derivation, but as Gethin and Gittens with their variants run side by side in Wales and the English border counties, there can be little doubt as to the reasonableness of the idea. (2) Local; v. Gidden. This does not concern the Welsh surname with its variants. The following proves that Gethin was pronounced Gittin:

Richard Gittin, of Malpas, 1603: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 72.

The following was evidently a Welsh marriage:

1629. John Pughe and Eliz. Gittins: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 195.
Jane Gittens, of Lea, 1672: Wills at Chester (1621-80), p. 104.

Thus Gethin or Gittin is to Gittins or Gittens as Evan is to Evans, or William to Williams.

London, 2, 4; MDB. (Salop), 4, 6; (Flintshire), 0, 1; (Denbigh), 0, 1; (Radnor), 0, 1; New York, 1, 0.

Gladning, Glading.—Bapt. 'the son of Gladwin,' modified to Gladding. The g is excrement (v. Gladwin); cf. Golding for Goldwin, and probably Harding for Hardwin.

London, 6, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 26; New York, 2, 0.

Gladman.—Bapt. 'the son of Gladman'; cf. Gladwin. Probably a personal name; cf. Bateman, Tiddiman, &c. The suffix -man seems rather an augmentative than a corruption of -mond or -mund, although Gladmond seems a natural solution. In any case it is almost certain that the name was personal at first, and was either Gladman or Gladmond.

1666. John Gladman and Eliz. Shephard: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 43.
1747. Bapt.—Emila, d. William Gladman: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 44.
London, 4.

Gladstone, Gledstanes.—Local, 'of the Gledstanes.' A Scotch surname. The final s was dropped in quite modern times. Probably the stones or rocks frequented by the gledes, or kites; v. Glede.

William de Gledstansys, co. York. W. 1.
Johannes Gledstanis de Wynitonhaw, 1497: TTT. p. xvi.

Andrew Gledstanis, 1497: ibid.
1547. 'Item, to Thonne Gledstanis and Archebald Banker, quihikes of befor war payit to the xv day of July instante, etc., xxviii': TTT. p. lxxxiii.

Philp Gledstanis, 1541: TTT. p. 211.
1668. George Gladstone (York) and Mary Capper: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 162.

London, 6, 1; New York, 2, 0.

Gladwin.—Bapt. 'the son of Gladwin,' one of the endless personal names with -win as suffix; cf. Baldwin, Unwin, Godwin, &c.

Walter Gladewyne, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Roger Gladewyne, co. Camb., ibid.
Radulphus fil. Gladewini. J.
1672. Bapt.—Katherine, d. William Gladwin: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 102.
London, 4; Oxford, 1; New York, 3.

Glaisher.—Occup. 'the glazier'; v. Glazer.

Emanewell Runwell, glasher, 1642: Reg. St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 88.
London, 2.

Glaister.—Occup. 'the glazier,' with termination in ster; cf. Slaster for Slater, Blaxter for Bleacher, &c.

London, 1; Manchester, 1; Bolton, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Glaisyer.—Occup. 'the glazier'; v. Glazer.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1.
Glasbrook, Glassbrooke.—Local; v. Glazebrook.

Oxford, 1, 1.
Glasscock.—Local; v. Glasscock.
London, 1.

Glaser, Glasier.—Occup. 'the glazier'; v. Glazer.

London, 2, 1; New York, 24, 0.

Glasscock, Glasscott, Glasscott.—Local, 'of Glascode.' A manifest corruption of Glascode, a township in the parish of Tamworth, co. Warwick. The Irish family of Glasscott claim extraction from the Glasscocks of High Estre, co. Essex (Lower).

'To my father's, where Charles Glasscock was overjoyed to see how things are now': Pepys's Diary, 1659, p. 11.

John Glasecok, C. R., 32 Hen. VI.
London, 3, 0, 0; New York (Glascott), 1.

Glasswright.—Occup. 'the glasswright,' a maker of glass. Glaser in the instances below is strictly the adj.; cf. gold-en, lin-en, wooll-en. The author of the History of Newcastle and Gateshead, curiously enough, describes one of his local worthies under date 1351 as Henry Glassen Wright (p. 138). Three names would have astonished the said Henry's contemporaries not a little.

Walterus Glassenwryght, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 51.

Robertus de Spalding, glasenwryght, 1379: ibid. p. 48.

Walter Glasenwryght, W. 15.

Nicholas le Glaswryght, London. X.
Thomas le Glaswryghte, London, ibid.

Glasyher.—Occup. 'the glazier'; v. Glazer; cf. Glaisher.

London, 3.

Glazebrook, Glassbrooke.—Local, 'of Glassbrook,' originally Glasenbrook, i.e. the stream with a glassy appearance. With the adjective glasen, cf. gold-en, lind-en (strictly the lind, or linden tree), &c.; see a similar instance under Glasswright.

Elena de Glasenbroke, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 263.

1675-6. Bapt.—Mary, d. Robert Glasebrooke: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 121.

London, 8, 0; Liverpool (1887), 3, 0; Oxford, 0, 1.

Glazer, Glazier.—Occup. 'the glazier.' The different forms of this name in the London Directory are Glaisher, Glaser, Glasier, Glasyher, Glazer, and Glazier. Other surnames from the manufacture of glass are Glasswright (q.v.) and Glassman. The i in Glazier is equivalent to the y in Bowyer and Sawyer, and the h in Glaisher is the result of careless treatment of the extra syllable.

Adam Glasere, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 49.
Robert Glazier, temp. 1560. Z.
London, 1, 1; New York, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 24.

Gleadowe.—Local, 'of Gledhow,' a hamlet two or three miles from Leeds; v. How (2) and Glede.

The meaning is 'the how frequented by kites.'

Allexander de Gledow, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 126.

Henricus de Gledchow, 1379: ibid.
London, 1.

Glede, Glide, Glyde, Glead.—Nick. 'the glede,' a species of kite. 'And the glede, and the kite, and the vulture after his kind': Deut. xiv. 13. A.S. glida, a kite.

John Glide, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Henry le Glide, c. 1300. M.

Adam le Glide, ibid.

Simon Glide. B.

William le Glede, C. R., 14 Edw. II.

William Glide, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.

Kirby's Quest, p. 151.

Symon Glede, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 67.

1632. Married—Thomas Milton and Mary Glide: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 64.

West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 0, 1, 0;

London, 0, 0, 0, 1; MDB. (co. Soms.),

0, 0, 8, 0.

Gledhill, Gleadhill, Gledhall, Gleadall.—Local, 'of Gledhill,' a well-known Yorkshire surname. I have not identified the spot so termed. It will, I doubt not, be found in the West Riding. Probably it means 'the hill frequented by gledes'; v. Glede, and cf. Gladstone and Gleadowe.

Ricardus de Gledhill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 185.

Thomas de Gledhill, 1379: ibid.

West Rid. Court Dir., 13, 2, 1, 2;

London, 4, 0, 0, 0; New York, 3, 0, 0, 0.

Glendenning, Glendinning, Glendening, Glendining, Glindinning.—Local, 'of Glendinning,' an ancient estate at Wester-kirk, co. Dumfries (Lower). This surname, with its variants, is steadily penetrating England, but I believe the immigration began in comparatively recent times.

Adam de Glendonwyn, 1286: The Debateable Land, by R. Bruce Armstrong, pp. 158-61.

Simon de Glendonning, 1398: ibid.

John de Glendonewyne, 1479: ibid.

1772. Married—Frederick Glendinning and Rebecca Brown: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 222.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 5, 0, 0, 0;

London, 0, 0, 1, 1, 0; Liverpool, 1, 2, 0,

0, 1; Philadelphia, 8, 2, 6, 0, 0.

Glenman.—?

John le Glenman, Rot. Fin., 7 Edw. I.

Glew.—Nick. 'one of joyous disposition,' glee; M.E. glee, also glew and glew: Havelok, 2332; A.S. gleow, gliw (v. Skeat and Halliwell).

Agnes Glewe, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Roger Glewe, co. Hunts, ibid.

Johannes Glugh, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 66.

Thomas G'we, 1370: ibid.

Ricardus G'we, 1379: ibid. p. 35.

London, 3; Leeds, 1; New York, 2.

Glitheroe.—Local, 'of Clitheroe,' co. Lanc.; v. Clithero.

Liverpool, 1.

Glossop, Glassup.—Local, 'of Glossop,' a parish in the High Peak of Derbyshire, on the Lanc. border.

1605. Married—John Sumner and Ann Glossop: Reg. Prestbury, Ches., p. 172.

1682. Clifford Glossopp, de Hatton Garden, London: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 186.

1768. Married—Simeon Smith and Ann Glassap: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 173.

London, 2, 0; Manchester, 3, 0;

Liverpool, 1, 1; West Rid. Court Dir.,

4, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Glover.—Occup. 'the glover.' Entries of this name are rare in the earlier registers, 'le Gaunter' being the general form; v. Gauter.

Richard le Glover, co. Bedf., 1273. A.

Cristiana la Glover. H.

Johannes Cowper, glouer (u for v),

1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 41.

Elias Glouer, et Magota uxor ejus,

Doncaster: ibid. p. 46.

Thomas Glouer, et Sibilla uxor ejus,

Doncaster: ibid.

Hugo Glouer, glouer, Ripon: ibid.

p. 251.

1685. Married—William Baker and Eliz. Glover: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 44.

London, 48; Crookford, 11; West Rid.

Court Dir., 17; New York, 45.

Glyde; v. Glede.

Gobbett.—Bapt. 'the son of Godbold,' q.v. This is the natural solution. At the same time the surname looks like a diminutive. Gabbett and Gabbott are diminutives of Gabriel, from the nick. Gabb. If Gabb was provincially pronounced Gobb, we should have to refer Gobbett to Gabriel. Nevertheless Godbold seems the natural parent. The first instance below almost settles the point; cf. Arnold for Arnaud, and Arnett for Arnott, an exact parallel; also Garbett for Gerbold.

John Gobaud, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
John Gobet, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.:
Kirby's Quest, p. 175.
Elizota Gobett, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 238.
Agnes Gobet, 1379: ibid. p. 33.
Ricardus Gobet, 1379: ibid. p. 54.
Johannes Gobet, 1370: ibid. p. 213.
Alderman George Gobbet, sometime sheriff of this city, Nov. 7, 1723, Norwich:
FF. iv. 314.
London, 3.

Gobby, Gobey.—Bapt. 'the son of Gobey,' probably a nick, or pet form of Godbold, q.v. In any case the surname is of personal origin. The 17th and 18th century forms were as various as it was possible to make them. I append a few instances from one register in London.

Nigel Gobey, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Richard Gobey, co. Norf., ibid.
1615. Married—Willyam Dunkerton and Sara Goebye: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,
iii. 41.
1665. — Ritchard Gobee and Mary
Ward: ibid. p. 123.
1666. — William Bate and Marget
Gobye: ibid. p. 125.
1705. — Edward Watson and Jane
Gobbe: ibid. p. 228.
London, 5, 1.

Godard, Godart.—Bapt. 'the son of Godard'; v. Goddard.

Godbehere, Goodbehere, Godber.—Bapt. 'the son of Godber,' which perhaps is an abbreviation of Godbert. That the surname is taken from the cry 'God be here' is absurd. Of course the spelling has become imitative, which has itself helped to suggest such an origin. Lower says, 'I have met with it as a surname in Sussex, temp. Hen. III.'

John Godbehere, C. R., 34 Hen. VI.
1588. Bapt.—John, son of Richard
Godbehere: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 20.
Richard Godbeare, temp. Eliz. Z.
John Godbehere, 1628: St. Mary
Aldermay (London), p. 165.
John Goodbeere, of Deane parish, co.
Lanc: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 73.
London, o, 1, o; Derby, 1, o, o; Manchester (1887), 4, 2, 1.

Godbold, Godbolt, Gobbett.
—Bapt. 'the son of Godbold' (not in Yonge). 'Occurs in Domesday as a previous A.S. tenant' (Lower).

Godbold (without surname). J.
Godbold de Writel, Hen. III—Edw. I:
K. p. 270.

Richard Godbold, co. Norf., 8 Eliz.:
FF. vii. 427.
Thomas Godbold, co. Norf., 15 Jas. I:
ibid. x. 43.
1681. Married—Thomas Godbould and Eliz. Casewell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell,
iii. 190.
London, 5, 2, 3; Boston (U.S.), 6, o, o.

Goddard, Godart, Godard.
—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Godard.'
This personal name obtained a strong footing in England, and has left a large number of descendants. It corresponds to the German
Gotthard (v. Yonge, ii. 176).

Godard de Thurton, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Simon Goddard, London, ibid.
John fil. Godard, co. Camb., ibid.
Peter Godard, co. Norf., 20 Edw. I. R.
Goddard Freebodye, temp. Eliz. Z.
(2) Nick. 'the good herd'; cf.
Goodgroom, Goodknaves, &c.

Symon Godhird, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 207.
Alicia Gorder, 1379: ibid. p. 191.

It is doubtful whether this sobriquet had much influence on (1), which is the true parent of our Goddards.

1716. Bapt.—Joseph, s. Joseph Godard:
St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 165.
London, 47, 2, o; New York, 18, o, 2;
Boston (U.S.), 50, o, o.

Godden, Godding.—Bapt.; v.
Godwin.

Godfrey, Godfree, Godfreed.
—Bapt. 'the son of Godfrey'; v.
Geoffrey. Godfrey of Lorraine, the famous Crusader, made this personal name as familiar as did Cœur de Lion his own. But Richard was an Englishman, and Godfrey was not. Therefore in this country, at least, Richard obtained the superiority. But coming at the epoch of hereditary surnames both have wielded an enormous influence upon nomenclature.

'And sire Godefray Go-wel.'
Piers. P. 5196.
Henricus fil. Godefridi, 7 Hen. II:
Pipe Roll, iv. 57.
Peter fil. Godfrey, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Alan Godefray, co. Kent, ibid.
Willelmus Godefray, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 124.
1614. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Stephen Godfrye:
St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 73.
London, 31, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 45, o, o.

Godinot.—Bapt. 'the son of Godwin,' from O. F. Godin, dim.
Godinot. 'Henry Godynot (Close

Roll, 23 Edw. III. pt. ii), feminine
Godinette' (Yonge, ii. 175); v.
Woodnott.

Godkin.—Bapt. 'the son of Godfrey' (?), from Godkin, a dim.
Probably this form was directly imported from the Low Countries.

Godekin de Coufeld, London, 1273. A.
Godekin de Cusa, London, ibid.
Derby, 1; Preston, 1; New York, 2.

Godlee, Godley, Godly.—
Local, 'of Godley,' a township in the parish of Mottram-in-Longden-dale, Cheshire.

Robert de Godelegh, 1294: East
Cheshire, ii. 156.
Henry de Godelegh, 1299: ibid.
William de Godelegh, 1349: ibid. p. 154.
Gilbert de Godelegh, 1349: ibid.
Hamelinus de Godelee, 35 Edw. I:
BBB. p. 743.

Willelmus de Godlay, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 193.
Cecilia de Godelay, 1379: ibid.
1775. Married—John Shead and Margaret Godly: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 257.
London, 2, 2, o; Manchester, o, 1, o;
Philadelphia, o, 5, o.

Godly is found as a Puritan font-name, but it has nothing to do with the origin of the surname.
It came too late to influence anything but Christian names, and soon became unfashionable in that category.

1639. Edward Burton and Godley
Neale: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 38.

It is found still earlier:

1579. Bapt.—Godlye, d. Richard Fauterell: Warbleton, Sussex.
1611. Bapt.—Godly, d. Henry Gray.
Joane Stander and Godly Gotherd, sutures: South Berstead, Sussex.

I could furnish other instances
(vide my Curiosities of Puritan Nomenclature, pp. 152-3).

Godliman.—Local, 'of Godalming,' co. Surrey, formerly, and still popularly, so called. Lower has Godliman as an existing surname in his Patr. Brit. Doubtless he had met with it in the neighbouring county of Sussex, where he spent so many years of his life.

'Jone Inwood, of Goddlemen, in co. Surrey': Visitation of London, 1633-5, p. 162.
1666-7. Married—Samuell Carr and Anne Hall, of Godlyman, co. Surrey: St.
Dionis Backchurch, p. 45.
1702. Married—George Wild and Mary
Godliman: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 75.

Godling.—Bapt. 'the son of Good,' q.v., from the dim. God-elin; cf. Hewling.

Godelena Deye, Close Roll, 30 Edw. I. Godlena atte Heglond, Patent Roll, 4 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Godman.—Bapt. 'the son of Godmund.' Of course Godman may be a variant of Goodman, q.v. In fact the instances are strongly in favour of that solution. Still Godmund existed, and this would inevitably become Godman; cf. Osman for Osmund, and Wyman for Wymond.

Ricardus Godmund, co. Suff., 1273. A. Godman le (de la ?) Grene, co. Norf., ibid.

Martin Godman, co. Essex, ibid.
Lucas Godman, co. Norf., ibid.
1671. Richard Sell and Mary Godman : Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 194. London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Godolphin.—Local, 'of Godolphin,' a hamlet in the parish of Breage, five miles from Helston, co. Cornwall, anciently written Godolcan or Godolghan. 'John de Godolphin is said to have possessed the manor at the time of the Conquest' (Lower, quoting Gilbert's Cornwall, i. 520).

1669. Francis Godolphin (co. Wilts) and Eliz. Mordaunt : Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 167. London, 1.

Godric, Goodrich, Goodrick, Goodridge.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Godric.' So common as to make Godric and Godiva the Jack and Jill of their day; v. Goodeve.

Walter Goderiche, co. Bedf., 1273. A. William Godriche, co. Oxf., ibid.
Stephen Godrich, co. Suff., ibid.
Ambrosius fil. Godricge, co. Camb., ibid.
Robert fil. Godric. J.
William Godrick. H.
Godric, abbot of Winchcombe : Freeman, Norman Conquest, iv. 177.
Godric, sheriff of Berkshire : ibid. p. 38.
Henry Godrych, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III : Kirby's Quest, p. 125.
Robertus Goderik, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 260.

With Goodridge, cf. Aldridge for Aldrich.

(2) Local, 'of Goodrich'; v. Guttridge (2).

London, 3, 3, 6; Philadelphia, 0, 10, 0, 0.

Godsall, Godsall.—(1) Local, 'of Godshill,' a parish in the Isle of Wight, near Newport.

Hugo de Gaddeshull, co. Southampt., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Godsoll.' Lower quotes Mr. Ferguson, who says that Godesilus was an early Burgundian king. One thing is certain, the majority of our God-sells and Godsalls are of personal, or, as we should now say, of baptismal origin.

Amice Godsoll, co. Camb., 1273. A. Cecilia Godsoll, co. Camb., ibid.
Augustin Godsoucle, co. Hunts, ibid.
Basilia Godsoweale, co. Norf., ibid.
Radulphus Godsalle, tailleur, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 115.
London, 0, 7; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Godsallve, Godsallve, Godsallve.—Nick. 'on God's half,' i.e. on the side of God, possibly a Crusading name, otherwise a religious title relating to some perpetual vow. It is recorded that Agnes, the sister of Thomas à Becket, married a member of an old city family, Theobald Agodshalf (in Latin, ex parte Dei), who was baron of Hulles or Helles in Ireland (Historic Towns, edited by E. A. Freeman). Again, it might have been part of a property made over to a monastery or church.

Henry à Godeshalve, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Cf. Walter Goduspart, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III : Kirby's Quest, p. 202.
William de Godeshalve, C. R., 15 Edw. III. pt. ii.

'Item, given to the nurse and mydwife of Maistres Goddeshalf, my ladies grace being godmother to his childe, 1536 : Privy Purse Exp., Princess Mary, p. 19.
Thomas Godsallve. W. g.
Barbara Godsallve. FF.
1647. Bapt.—Charles, son of John Godsallve : Reg. St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 135.
Thomas Godshalf, or Godsallve, of Warton, 1588 : Lancashire Wills at Richmond, pp. 124-5.
Rowland Godshalf, of Newton, 1650 : ibid.

Bryan Godsallve, of Berwick, 1607 : ibid.

From these forms Godsallve naturally came into existence.

Liverpool (Godsallve), 1.

Godsfold.—Local, 'of Godesfold.' Probably without any religious significance, simply meaning the fold or enclosure of Gode or Good, a personal name; v. Good.

John de Godesfold, C. R., 16 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Godsknight.—Nick. 'God's servant.'

John Goddesknyght, C. R., 5 Edw. II.

Godson.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Gode' or 'Good.' A common fontal name (v. Good and Goodison), found also as Gott, probably a Flemish form.

Cf. Gotte le Mazoun, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Ralph fil. Godde, co. Warw., ibid.
Thomas fil. Gode, co. Camb., ibid.
Walter fil. Gode, co. Suff., ibid.
Willelmus Gotson, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 234.

(2) Nick. 'the godson,' i.e. the spiritual relation. It is curious to note that Godson and Godmother are found in the Hundred Rolls. Had Godson belonged to (1) it would have been set down as 'fil. Gode.' Understood as a sponsorial title it was necessary to enter it in full.

William Godeson, co. Camb., 1273. A. William Godmoder, co. Camb., ibid.
Richard Godsome, co. Camb., ibid.
1388. William Godeson : Cal. of Wills in the Court of Husting (2).
Richard Fitz-Dieu, marchant, 12 Edw. III : Freeman of York, i. 33.
Cf. Agnes Goddoghter, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 55.
London, 4; Philadelphia, 1; New York, 1.

Godspenny.—Nick. 'earnest-money.' 'A God's pennie, an earnest penny' : Florio, p. 39.

Thomas Godespeny, Close Roll, 3 Edw. III.

Godwin, Godden, Godding, Godin, Goding, Godon.—Bapt. 'the son of Godwin'; v. Goodwin. The common suffix -win was corrupted to -in and -ing apart from French forms; cf. Gunning for Gunwin, Boddin or Boddin for Baldwin. Thus the g is excrement. It is manifest, however, that most of the instances below are French forms. v. Golden.

Godin de Bech, co. Camb., 1273. A. Godun le Bere, co. Camb., ibid.
Roger Godin, co. Camb., ibid.
William Godin, co. Oxf., ibid.
John fil. Godini, co. Hunts, ibid.
Alice Goding, co. Camb., ibid.
Alice Godon, co. Oxf., ibid.
Gaudinus de Albo Monast'io, Hen. III. K. Gaudinus de Aseby, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.
London, 26, 7, 1, 1, 2, 0; New York, 15, 1, 0, 0, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 22, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0.

Goff, Goffe.—Nick, 'the gough,' i.e. the red-complexioned. A Welsh nickname, taken from the complexion of the face or hair; v. Gough.

Roger Goffe, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Jevan Gogh, co. Camb., 1325. M.
'Another time, he, and Pinchbacke, and Dr. Goffe, now a religious man;' Pepys' Diary, 1666, p. 325.

This was Dr. Gough, clerk of the Queen's Closet and her Assistant Confessor.

London, 16, 1; New York, 18, 1.

Goffee, Guffey.—? Bapt. 'the son of Govy (?)'. This curious surname in the London Directory would seem to defy elucidation, and yet we have evidence of its established position in the 13th century in the neighbourhood of C. Hunts. I furnish a few instances.

Bartelot Govi, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Augustin Govi, co. Hunts, ibid.
Eusebius Govi, co. Hunts, ibid.
Thomas Govy, co. Hunts, ibid.
1665. Married—George Guffie and Christibala Baizley: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 117.

London, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Goggin, Gogin.—Bapt. 'the son of Goggin.' The O.F. nick. for Margaret was Gogo (Yonge, ii. 266-7). The popular dim. would be Gogin. The entries of this form in the Hundred Rolls are so many that it was evidently very familiar. The final g, of course, is excrement, as in Jenning for Jenin. 'James Goggin, head gamekeeper to Mr. Crosbie, Ardfert Abbey, . . . was surprised to find his house in the possession of a gang of moon-lighters' (Standard, Monday, Dec. 20, 1886). I only suggest the above as the entry Gogwine seems to denote one of the innumerable font-names with the suffix -win; cf. Baldwin, Aylwin, Unwin, &c. (cf. Golden for Goldwin).

Michael Goggyng, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Hervus Goging, co. Camb., ibid.
Agnes Gogwine, co. Bucks, ibid.
Alice Gogun, co. Oxf., ibid.
London, 1, 0; Boston, 0, 8.

Gold, Golder, Good.—Bapt. 'the son of Gold.' All from A.S. gold, metaphorically precious; later on Precious itself became a font-name and then a surname (v. Precious). For intrusive u in Gould, cf. Gouldfinch and Gouldsmith (Lond. Dir.). Golde and Goldus (1086, Domesday) are personal names.

Adam Gold, 1273. A.
Golda Imayn, ibid.
Golda Bassat, co. Camb., ibid.
Golda de Rosa, co. Kent, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Willelmus Golde, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 28
Ricardus Gold', 1379: ibid. p. 277.
1396. Golda Barnby: Cal. of Wills in the Court of Husting (2).

Gold is also found as a nickname, where Gold is equivalent to golden, i.e. of a bright deep yellow complexion.

Adam le Gold, C. R., 21 Edw. III. pt. ii. London, 9, 49, 7; Philadelphia, 21, 54, 3.

Goldbeater.—Occup. 'the gold-beater'; cf. Leadbeater.

Robert le Goldbeter, co. Glouc., 1273. A.
Julian le Goldbeter, C. R., 49 Hen. III.
Bartholomew le Goldbeter. C.
1467. 'Thomas Goldbeter, buried by Katharine his wife; he was a glazier, but gentleman of coat armour.' St. Peter per Mountergate, Norwich: FF. iv. 94.

Golden, Golding, Goulden, Goulding, Goolden, Goolding.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Goldwin,' q.v. For change of suffix -win into -en, -in, and -ing, v. Godwin and Goggin. It was quite general before the close of the 13th century. But again French influences are traceable in some of the instances below.

Golding Palmarius, co. Kent, 1273. A.
Hilde Golden, co. Camb., ibid.
Nicholas Goldin, co. Oxf., ibid.
Thomas Goldine, co. Oxf., ibid.
Hugo Golding, co. Suff., ibid.
Willelmus Goldyng, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 228.
Robertus Goldyng, pelliparius, 1379: ibid. p. 222.
Isabella Goldyng, 1379: P. T. Howden-shire, p. 26.

The family of Golden, Broad Chalke, co. Wilts. are entered Golding in 1563; Goulden, 1707; and Golden, 1672 (Reg. Broad Chalke, pp. 1, 24, 70).

(2) Nick. 'the golden,' probably from the complexion of the hair; cf. Goldenlock.

Henry le Galden, 1316. M.
Henry le Gilden, 1325. M.

Roger le Gildene, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 222.

London, 0, 34, 5, 9, 2, 1; West Rid. Court Dir. (Golden), 2; Philadelphia, 70, 0, 0, 4, 0, 0.

Goldenlock.—Nick. 'with the golden lock'; cf. Silverlock.

Walter Guldeloc, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Geoffrey Gildeneloc, co. Norf., ibid.
Gildeneloc Cachellus (i.e. the Catchpole), so styled to distinguish him from his neighbour Steward Cachellus, co. Norf., 1273. A. i. 439.

Goldfinch.—Nick. 'the goldfinch.'

Agnes Goldfinche, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
William Goldfynch. B.
Ricardus Goldfynch, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 72.

John Goldfynche, C. R., 13 Hen. IV. 1649. Ambrose Starke married Mary Goldfinch: Reg. Canterbury Cath. p. 57.

The marriage of Lavinia Maria Goldfinch was announced in the Standard, May 12, 1887.

Mr. R. Goldfinch, of Herne Bay, has discovered the fossilized remains of a northern elephant projecting from the clay close by the beach. (Manchester Courier, Feb. 29, 1888.)

London, 1.

Goldhawk.—Nick. 'the goldhawk.'

John Goldhawk: Close Roll, 2 Hen. IV. pt. i.

London, 1.

Golding.—Bapt.; v. Golden.

Goldingay, Goldinjay, Goodenday, Goldinger.—Local, 'of Goldinghay,' i.e. the hay or enclosure of Golding the proprietor. I have not found the spot (v. Hay and Golden); cf. Billingay.

1647. Married—Nathaniell Browne and Grace Gouldinghay: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 81.

Birmingham (1884), 2, 1, 0, 0; Manchester (1887), 0, 0, 1, 1.

Goldingham.—Local, 'of Goldingham.'

William de Goldingham, co. Suff., 1273. A.

John de Goldyngham, co. Suff., 20 Edw. I. R.

Alan de Goldingham, co. Norf., ibid. 1620. Married—James Gouldingham and Eline Sessyons: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 60.

1663.—Stephen Goldingham and Margaret Reading: ibid. p. 114.
Crockford, 2.

Goldington.—Local, 'of Goldington,' a parish in co. Bedford, two miles from Bedford.

Peter de Goldington, co. Bucks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Alfredus de Goldington, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Roger de Goldyngton, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R.

William de Goldington, co. Kent, ibid.

1631. Married—Francys Gouldington and Ann Boyfield: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 62.

1675. —Thomas Goldington, of Harrow-the-Hill, and Margaret Toothacre: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 41.

Goldman.—Bapt. 'the son of Goldman,' compounded of the personal name Gold and the augmentative man; cf. Bateman, Tiddiman.

1626. Robert Gouldman and Catherine Newton: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 185. 1649. Married—Michael Evans and Joyce Gouldman: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 26.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 11; Philadelphia, 23.

Goldney.—Local, 'of Goldney.' I cannot find the spot. The suffix is evidently -hey or -hegh; v. Hey and Haig.

Thomas Gildenegh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 116.

William Gildenegh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Richard Gyldeneghe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 127.

London, 2.

Goldring.—Bapt. 'the son of Goldring.' Evidently some early personal name with Gold for prefix; cf. Goldwin.

John Goldring, co. Camb., 1273. A. Richard Goldring, co. Camb., ibid.

Edmund Goldrun, co. Wilts, ibid.

William Goldryng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 136.

Henry Goldryng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

1398. John Goldryng: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting (2).

1786. Married—Zachariah Goldring (co. Surrey) and Eliz. Smith: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 386.

London, 3.

Goldsbrough, Goldsbury, Goldsbro', Goldsberry.—Local, 'of Goldsborough,' a parish near Knaresborough, W. Rid. Yorks; lit. 'the borough of Gold,' the proprietor; v. Gold and Burrough.

1675. Edwin Griffin and Anne Goldsborough: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 244.

1695. Married—Christopher Goldsborough and Sibel Lewis: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 216.

1734. Buried—Sarah, wife of Captain William Goldsborough: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 303.

London, 0, 1, 1, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 1, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 10, 0, 0, 2.

Goldsmith.—Occur, 'the goldsmith,' generally Latinized in Norman-Fr. registers.

Geoffrey Aurifaber, co. Salop, 1273. A. Walter Aurifaber, co. Oxf., ibid.

Richard le Goldsmythe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 205.

Thomas Goldsmyth, goldsmyth, of Wakefield, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 160.

Johannes fil. Galfridi, goldsmych: ibid. p. 71.

Hugo Goldsmyth, ibid.

Agnes Goldsmyche, ibid. p. 73.

London, 26; Philadelphia, 55.

Goldson; v. Gouldstone.

Goldspink.—Nick, 'the goldfinch,' 'Spink, the chaffinch. Var. dial.' Halliwell. v. Spink.

London, 1.

Goldsworthy, Golsworthy, Galsworthy.—Local, 'of Goldsworth' or 'Goldsworthy,' lit. 'the worth of Gold,' i.e. the estate of Gold, the first settler; v. Gold and Worth. I cannot discover the spot: cf. Kenworthy and Langworthy for Kenworth and Langworth.

London, 5, 1, 0; MDB. (Bucks), 1, 0, 0; Devon Farmers' Dir., 0, 0, 1.

Goldthorp, Goldthorpe.—Local, 'of Goldthorp,' i.e. the thorp of Gold, the proprietor; v. Gold and Thorp. A Yorkshire surname.

West Riding Court Dir., 7, 1; Philadelphia, 3, 2.

Goldwin.—Bapt. 'the son of Goldwin.' For French and corrupted forms, v. Golden. Goldwin is a Domesday personal name, and became a favourite. It is one of the endless compounds with -win as suffix; cf. Unwin, Goodwin, Baldwin, &c.

William Goldwyn, co. Northumberland, 1273. A.

Richard Goldwyne, co. Sussex, ibid.

Joldewin fil. Savarici, Pipe Roll, 5 Hen. II. Richard Joldewyne, 20 Edw. I. R.

Magota Goldewyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 53.

Thomas Goldwyne, C. R., 45 Edw. III. Gilbert Gyldewyne, C. R., 12 Hen. IV.

Gilbert Golewyne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 103.

1730. Married—Goldwin Piner and Hannah Beley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 327.

1781. —John Goldwin and Eliz. Robinson: ibid.

London, 1; New York, 1.

Goldwyer.—? Bapt. 'the son of Goldwire' (?). One of the many compounds of Gold, q. v.

Thomas Goldwire, C. R., 45 Edw. III. Petition of Jane Goldwyer, 'a pore afflicted creator': Cal. State Papers (Domestic), 1580, i. 703.

'John Goldwire was ejected from the vicarage of Arundel, co. Sussex, in 1662': N. and Q., Aug. 13, 1887.

London, 1.

Golightly, Gellatly, Galletly.

—? Nick. 'go lightly.' A sobriquet for a messenger, a pursuivant, herald, harbinger (?); cf. Lightfoot, Hobblerot, &c. A North-English surname. Possibly the name is local as ending in -ly (!ley). Nevertheless it was extremely common for pursuivants to have nicknames of this kind.

Roger Galichtley, 1313. M. James Golyghtlye, co. York. W. 9.

'Rec^d of William Golightly, 103: 1622: VVV. p. 157.

Henry Golightly, 1654: Hist. of Alnwick, p. 79.

1648. Bapt. —James, s. James Gallantly, St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 91.

1649. —Henry, s. James Gallatley: ibid. p. 92.

London, 0, 3, 2; Crockford, 3, 0, 0.

Golland.—Bapt.; v. Jolland; cf. Goslin and Joslin.

Gomersall, Gomersal.—Local, 'of Gomersal' ('Great and Little'), two villages in the parish of Birstall, near Dewsbury, co. York.

Hugo de Gomersall, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 207.

Willelmus de Gomersall (of Gomersall), 1379: ibid. p. 185.

London, 3, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Gomm, Gomme, Gumm.—Bapt. 'the son of Gom,' a long-forgotten personal name.

Matilda fil. Gume, co. Camb., 1273. A. Richard Gom, co. Camb., ibid.

John Gom, co. Camb., ibid.

Kadulpho Gomo, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 167.

London, 10, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0.

Gooch, Gutch, Goodge, Goudge, Gudge.—Bapt. 'the son of Guch.' This personal name, probably used by both sexes, has escaped the vigilant eye of Miss Yonge; but it was well established for a time, and has left many descendants. In Yorkshire the surname seems to have settled down into Gutch, in Norfolk into Gooch; and Goodge, Goudge, Gudge, and Gouge are other and more general variants. In Wales we meet with Gouch or Goch in the 14th century. Dr. William Gouge, born 1575, was a learned Puritan, whose commentary on the Hebrews is still consulted. The d in Goodge, &c., is intrusive, but it is found so early as 1379; v. infra.

John fil. Guche, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Roger Guch, co. Wilts, ibid.
Gilbert Goche, co. Norf., ibid.
John Goche, co. Camb., ibid.
Evan ap-Gouch, 1313. M.
Lewlyn ap-Ithel Goch, 1325. M.
Johannes Thorpe, frankeleyn, et Guche uxore ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 160.

Goch Delyn, 1384: Hist. Ant. St. David's, p. 373.

Goch Morydydych, ibid.
1572. Married—John Robertes and Joan Goudgeson: St. Mary Aldermary (London), p. 5.

1590. Bapt.—Ellen, d. Robert Gooche, merchant of Yarmouth: St. Peter, Cornhill, p. 36.

1626. Mathew Goche and Cicely Rockwood: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 184.

1630. Margaret, fil. John Gouch, co. Norf.: FF. ix. 207.

1665. Thomas Gwydatt and Anne Gooche: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 43.
1668. Married—John Goodge and Anne Nichols: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 146.

London, 21, 3, 0, 10, 1; York (Gutch), 2; West Riding Court Dir., 1; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (Norfolk), Gooch, 8.

Good, Goode.—(1) Nick. 'the good,' corresponding to French le bon.

Richard le Gode, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 195.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Gode.' This is the source of most of our Goods; cf. Goodwin and Godwin as compounds.

Goda Herrt, 1273. A.

William fil. Gode, ibid.

Goda Poggel, ibid.

Norman fil. Gode, ibid.

Goda de Castre, ibid.
Gode de Scorham, temp. 1300: FFF. p. 124.

Hawen Cropure et Gude uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 162.

Gode de Berewyk, Hen. III—Edw. I: K. p. 155.

Hugo Gud', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 175.

Cecilia Gud', 1379: ibid.

Robertus Godde and Elena uxor ejus: ibid. p. 26.

Willelmus Gude: ibid. p. 63.

1402. Goda Pope: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting (2).

1770. Married—Bartholomew Goode and Mary Caporn: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 200.

1805.—Abraham Good and Eliz. Turner: ibid. ii. 337.

London, 26, 26; Philadelphia, 48, 3.

Goodair.—Bapt. 'the son of Gudhir' (Yonge, ii. 173); v. Goodier.

Eva Godayr, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 160.
London, 2; Manchester, 2; Preston, 4.

Goodale, Goodall.—Local, 'of Goldale,' now Gowardall, a township in the parish of Snaith, co. York, formerly Goldale.

Villa de Goldale, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 132.

This surname has ramified and spread in a remarkable manner.

Johannes Godhale, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 6.

Ricardus de Goldall, 1379: ibid. p. 139.

Johannes Godhall, 1379: ibid. p. 118.

Agnes Godhall, 1379: P. T. Howdenshire, p. 32.

Johannes Gudhall, 1379: ibid. p. 29.

1635. Married—Thomas Goodall and Alice Pluen: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 66.

London, 4, 13; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 20; Boston (U.S.), 16, 1; Philadelphia, 2, 16.

Goodanew; v. Goodenough, of which it is a variant; cf. enough and the provincial enow.

'Charles Goodanew, news agent, 42, Vauxhall St.: Plymouth Dir. 1873.

Goodbarne, Goodban, Goodbun.—Nick. 'the good bairn'; M.E. barn, a child. A North-English form of the more general Goodchild, q.v.

Thomas Godbarne, Fines Roll, 11 Edw. I.

Robertus Gudbarn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 102.

Willelmus Gudbarn, 1379: ibid. p. 256.

Isolda Godebarn, 1379: ibid.

London, 0, 2, 1; Tadcaster, 1, 0, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 0, 0.

Goodbehere.—?Bapt.; v. Godbehere.

Goodbody.—Nick. Possibly a free translation of the French Beaucoqs as Handsomebody is of Gentilcoqs. But there is no reason why it should not be of native growth. 'He's a good soul,' 'He's a kind body,' are still in popular use; cf. busybody, an early compound.

Alicia Godbodi, 1273. A.
1721. Bapt.—Jacob, s. Thomas Gibbody: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 130.
London, 5; New York, 3.

Goodbrand.—Bapt. 'the son of Goodbrand,' lit. good sword or God's sword.

Walter Godisbrond, 1273. A.
London, 2.

Goodchap.—Nick. Looks colloquial and familiar. 'Good cheap,' extremely cheap. It answers to bon marché in Cotgrave. In Douce's Collection is a fragment of an early book printed by Caxton, who promises to sell it 'good chepe' (Halliwell). Probably a hawk's cry; v. Peascod.

Ricardus Godchepe, co. Camb., 1273. A.
William Godchepe, co. Suff., ibid.
Jordan Godchepe, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

Lower says, 'The corresponding family name Goed Koop is found in Holland': Patr. Brit. p. 133.

London, 1.

Goodchild.—Nick. 'the good child'; cf. Goodbarne.

Johanna Godechylde, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 167.
London, 16; Philadelphia, 11.

Gooddie, Gooddy, Gooday, Goodhay, Goody, Goodey.—

(1) Bapt. 'the son of Goday,' an early personal name, one of the many compounds of god or good; cf. Godwin and Goodwin. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Gode,' a favourite girl's name in the 13th and 14th centuries. No doubt this would be popularly 'Goody'; cf. 'Goody Two Shoes.' v. Good (2).

William Gody, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 112.
Henricus Goday, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 285.

Willelmus Goday, 1379: ibid. p. 220.
Willelmus Goday, senior, 1379: ibid.

1617. William Goodday and Anne Smith: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 50.
1626. Thomas Goody and Susan Read: ibid. p. 177.
London (1884), o, 3, o, 0, 4, 0; Manchester, 4, 1, 1, 1, 0, 0; New York (Goodey), 2.

Goodenough.—? Local. Probably from Godin (v. Godinot), the name of the first settler, and hough, haugh, or how, a hill, a mound. Oddly enough, we have the opposite seeming characteristic in Badenough, which is proved to be local by the entry 'Seignor de Badenough' (19 Edw. I): Furness Coucher, p. 178, Cheth. Soc. This entry occurs several times.

Geoffrey Godynogh, co. Kent, 1273. A. Radulphus Godenogh, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 118.

Johannes Godynogh, 1379: ibid.
Robertus Gudynegh, 1379: ibid. p. 114.
1667. Richard Goodenough and Sarah Harrison: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 137.
London, 2; New York, 0.

Goodered.—Bapt.; v. Goodred.
London, 1.

Gooderson.—Bapt.; v. Goodison, cf. Patterson for Pattison.
London, 2; New York, 3.

Goodes.—Bapt.; v. Goodus.

Goodeve.—Bapt. 'the son of Godiva' (Yonge, ii. 176). A common name in Domesday. Godric and Godiva were the Jack and Jill of their period. The Norman nobles derisively styled Henry I and his Queen by these two names. Professor Freeman, quoting William of Malmesbury, says, 'Norman insolence mocked at the English king and his English lady under the English names of Godric and Godgifu' (v. 170). This personal name lasted till the 17th century.

John Godyf, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Godefe de Okerige, co. Norf., ibid.
Walter Godhyve, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 105.
Henry Godhyve, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 91.
William Godeth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 142.
Gudytha Foloufast, 1379: ibid. p. 246.
Goditha Bybbesworth, C. R., 7 Edw. IV.
Goodech, wife of John Seymour, 1597: Abstract of Somersetshire Wills, p. 24.
1608. Bapt.—Goodife, d. John Whetton: Jas St. Clerkenwell, i. 55.

1661. Bapt.—William, s. John and Goodeth Hampton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 212.

London, 3; Bristol, 4; New York, 2.

Goodfellow.—Nick. 'the good fellow,' a good companion, an honest mate; cf. Goodfriend.

'Ne no knyght ne no squyer
'That wolde be a good felawe.'

A Lytell Geste of Robin Hode.
Roger Godfelawe, co. Essex, 1273. A.
William Godfelawe, C. R., 1 Hen. V.
Thomas Godfelewe. H.

Cf. Truefellow, Longfellow, Stringfellow, &c.

London, 7; Philadelphia, 29.

Goodfriend.—Nick. 'the good friend'; cf. Goodchild, Goodfellow.
Cf. Robertus Gudefeir, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 121.
Willelmus Godfeire, 1379: ibid. p. 112.

Fere, in the North Country and Scotland, means 'a friend, companion.'

Philadelphia, 1; New York, 2.

Goodgame.—Nick.; v. Goodgroom.

MDb. (co. Oxford), 1.

Goodge.—Bapt. 'the son of Guch'; v. Gooch.

Goodger.—Bapt. 'the son of Godeyer'; v. Goodier. A corruption of Goodier, just as Woodger is of Woodier or Woodyer; cf. Gudgeon for Goodison.

1785. Married—William Goodger and Mary Siver (or Siven): St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 372.

—James Goodger and Eliz. Feast: ibid. p. 380.
London, 2; Oxford, 2.

Goodgroom, Goodgame, Gooddrum, Gooderham, Goodrem, Goodrum.—Nick. 'the good groom'; M.E. grom. A common entry in the Hundred Rolls. If the reader will repeat to himself Goodgroom several times he will see, in default of a local origin, that Gooderham was an inevitable corruption. This view is strongly sustained by the fact that there are no Goodgrooms in our directories, which for so popular a nickname would be curious if no corruptions existed.

Symon Godegrom, co. Sussex, 1273. A.
Robert le Godegrom, co. Hunts, ibid.
John Godegrom. H.

Robert Godgrom, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 158.

John le Godegrom, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 212.

1529-30. Richard Goodgame and Elinor Blacton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 7.

1623. John Weekes and Eliz. Goodgame: ibid. ii. 132.

1701. Bapt.—Anne, d. of William Goodgrome: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 140.
London, 0, 0, 0, 2, 1, 0; MDb. (Norfolk), 0, 0, 0, 2, 0, 2; (co. Oxford), Goodgame, 1.

Goodhart, Goodheart.—(1) Nick. 'good heart,' the kindhearted; M.E. herte, heart; cf. Bunker. Allied to such names as Cœur de Lion, Trueman, Goodfellow, &c.

Alexander Godherthe. E.
Walter Godherthe, ibid.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Godard' (?), possibly in some cases an imitative corruption; v. Goddard. The following first two entries are manifestly variants of Godard:

Richard Godart, co. Bucks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Adam Godart, co. Camb., 1273. A.
1658. Married—John Lyon and Lucey Goodhart: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 100.
London, 5, 1; New York, 6, 4.

Goodherring.—Nick. Probably a fish-hawker who cried 'good herring' in the streets; cf. Peascod and Freshherring. This surname seems to have lingered on in the form of Gooderin.

Adam Godharing, 1273. A.
1568. Married—Hercules Gooderyn and Eliz. Gayre: St. Mary Aldermay (London), p. 4.

Goodhew, Goodhugh, Goodhue.—Nick. 'good Hugh.' A common spelling of Hugh was Hew, found in parish registers till the close of last century. Hence also Goodhew. One of a class of compounds made out of the favourite font-names of the time; cf. Goodrobert, Prettyjohn, Meiklejohn, and the French Bonjean. Goodhue is the chief American form. 'Nicholas Goodhue went out to Virginia in the ship James in 1635' (Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 108).

John Godhug, co. Essex, 1273. A.
Hugh Godhewe, 1307. M.
William Godhugh, 1305. M.
London, 4, 3, 0; New York, 1, 0, 3.

Goodhind.—Nick. 'the good hind,' i.e. the good hine, the good servant. Exactly equivalent to Goodknav and Goodgroom, q.v.; v. Hind and Hine.

Johannes Godehyue et uxor ejus, webster, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 220.

No doubt this is a misreading for Godehyne.

Taunton (co. Somerset), (1884), 1.

Goodier, Goodger, Goodyear, Goodyer, Goodear.—Bapt. 'the son of Gudhir' or 'Gudvar' (Yonge, ii. 173, 175). Englished to Godeyer. Goodyear is the favourite modern form, as was likely, being imitative. Another variant is Goodair, q.v.

Cest' Godyer, co. Hunts, 1273. A. John Godeyer, C. R., 10 Ric. II. Willelmus Godeyere, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 107.

Simon Godeyere, smyth, 1379: ibid. p. 20.

Willelmus Godeyere, 1379: ibid. 1613. John Appleton and Susan Goodier: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 23. 1626-7. Edward Burford and Anne Goodyear: ibid. p. 184.

The Liverpool Directory has Goedere. Cf.

1636. Thomas Goodere and Mary Bartlett: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 228. London, 2, 5, 2, 0; Manchester, 11, 0, 2, 0, 1; West Rid. Court Dir. (Goodyear), 2; New York (Goodyear), 8; Boston (U.S.) (Goodyer), 1.

Gooding, Goodden, Goodinge, Goodings, Goodin.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Goodwin,' q.v. From the form Godwin (q.v.) just the same variants have issued. The suffix -win, even when not the French in, commonly became in, en, and ing. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Gooding'; cf. Harding, Browning, &c.

London, 10, 1, 1, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 10, 0, 0, 0, 1.

Goodison, Goodisson, Gooderson, Goodson.—Bapt. (1) 'the son of Godith' (v. Goodeve), or (2) 'the son of Goodier' (v. Goodair), or (3) 'the son of Gode' (v. Good). Probably all are now mixed up.

John Godithson, Pardons Roll, 17 Ric. II.

William Godythson, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 244.

Gudytha Poloufast, 1379: ibid. p. 247. Johannes Godyeson, 1379: ibid. p. 87.

Ricardus Godeson, 1379: ibid. p. 45. Margareta Gudson, wyf, 1379: ibid.

p. 114. William Godeson, co. Camb., 1273. A. Richard Godsone, co. Camb., ibid. Willelmus Godeth, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 142. Robertus Guditsun, 1379: ibid. p. 144. London, 1, 1, 2, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 5, 0, 0, 0; Stanning (co. York), 2, 0, 0, 0; Leeds, 3, 0, 0, 0; Liverpool (1887), (Goodson), 2; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 0, 1.

Goodjohn.—Nick. 'good John,' a direct translation of the early imported Bonjean; cf. Smallwriter, Whitbread, &c. Possibly for Goodison; v. Gudgeon.

MDB. (co. Cambridge), 2.

Goodknav.—Nick. 'the good knave,' i.e. good servant; M.E. knave, a lad or servant. 'Knave, or ladde, garcio': Prompt. Parv. 'All had hire lever han borne a knave child.' Chaucer, C. T. 8320.

Henry Godknav, co. Camb., 1273. A. William Godknav, co. Bucks, ibid.

Geoffrey Godeknav, co. Oxfr., ibid. Gilbert Godknav. B.

William Godknav. D.

Cf. Johannes Jakkesknav, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 268.

Thomas Wyllknav, 1379: ibid. p. 269. Thomas Gabknav, 1379: ibid. p. 13.

Goodknav would sound odd in the 19th century. I do not find any modern instances of the surname.

Goodlad.—Nick. 'the good lad,' i.e. good servant; v. Goodknav. Almost all my instances refer to county York.

Robertus Godelad', 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 45.

Johannes Godeladd', 1379: ibid. p. 128. Ricardus Gudlad', 1379: ibid. p. 152.

Thomas Gudelade, 1379: ibid. p. 299. Willelmus Gudeladde, 1379: ibid. London, 1.

Goodlake.—Bapt. 'the son of Gudleik' (Yonge, ii. 174, 318), or more probably the A.S. Guthlac; v. Cutlack.

1550. Thomas, son of Goodlake Cote: Reg. St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 75.

1552. Edward, son of Goodlake Cotte: ibid. p. 203.

1596. Mr. Goodluck Cott: ibid.

This was probably a Dutch family. London, 2; Oxford, 1.

Goodlamb.—Nick. 'the good lamb'; cf. Whitelam.

William Godlomb, co. Norf., 1273. A. James Godlambe, C. R., 9 Edw. II. Aykys (fem), Godlomb, co. Norf., ibid.

Goodland.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Jodland' or 'Godland'; v. Golland and Jolland. (2) Local, 'of Goodland.'

Richard fil. Jodlani, 1273. A.

Hugo Godland, ibid.

Henricus de Godland, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 184.

London, 3; New York, 1.

Goodlass.—? Local. It is odd that we should have both Goodlad and Goodlass in our directories.

Liverpool (1887), 1.

Goodliffe, Goodliff.—Bapt. 'the son of Godeleva,' a form of Godiva (Yonge, ii. 176). St. Godeleva of Terouenne was murdered in 1070. Godeliva la Ferrur, temp. Hen. III. T. London, 1, 0; New York, 3, 2.

Goodman, Godman, Gudeman.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Godmund,' corrupted to Goodman; cf. Osman, Wyman, Roseaman, &c., from Osmund, Wymond, Rosamund, &c.

Richard Godmund, co. Suff., 1273. A. Godman Bru, co. Norf., ibid.

Alan fil. Godemanni, co. Camb., ibid.

Godman Omet, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 245.

Godman le Glaggere. J. Herbert fil. Godman. C.

(2) Occup. Equivalent to householder, the godman as opposed to goodwife; cf. husband and housewife. 'The godman of the house': Matt. xx. 11. 'The godman is not at home': Prov. vii. 19. See Husband.

Muriel Godeman, co. Camb., 1273. A. Henry le Godman, co. Camb., ibid.

Willelmus Gudeman, 1376: P. T. Yorks, p. 177.

Johannes Godeman, 1379: ibid. p. 219. Willelmus Godeman, 1379: ibid. p. 118.

John Godeman, C. R., 18 Ric. II.

'Will Grame, godman of Medop,' 1602: Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westm. and Cumb., vol. i. p. cxiv.

1654. Buried—Charles, s. Charles Goodman: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 246.

London, 39, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 96, 1, 1.

Goodred, Goodred.—Bapt. 'the son of Godred,' possibly a variant of Godard; v. Goddard.

Robert Godred, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R. Dominus Godred, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Isabel Godrid, co. Camb., ibid.

John Godred, co. Camb., 1273. A.
William Godrad, co. Wilts, 20 Edw. I. R.
Robert Goodred, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 289.

As a baptismal name Goodred seems to have lingered on in Lincolnshire till the 16th century.

'Anthony Gilby, Elizabeth his wife, and Goddred their sonne' were admitted into the 'Englishe Church and Congregation at Geneva,' Oct. 13, 1555. Gilby was born in Lincolnshire, and fled on the accession of Mary: v. Burn's Hist. Parish Registers (1862), p. 275.

1690. Married—Matthias Goodred and Eliz. Taylor: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 208.

London, 1, 1.

Goodrich, Goodrick, Goodridge.—Bapt.; v. Godrich.

Goodrobert.—Nick. 'good Robert'; cf. Bonjean, Prettijohn, Goodhew.

Robert Goderobert, P.

Goodshipman.—Nick. 'the able seaman'; v. Shipman.

John Godeshipman, C. R., 44 Edw. III.

Goodsmith.—Nick. 'the good smith,' probably referring to his abilities at the forge, not to his moral character.

Robert Godsmith, 1468. W. II.

Goodson.—Bapt.; v. Goodison.

Goodspeed.—Nick.; lit. 'good success,' as a sobriquet applied to a fortunate man.

Robert Godspeede, C. R., 9 Hen. IV.

John Godspede, C. R., 19 Ric. II.

Ralph Godsped. A.

Probably a direct translation of Bonaventure, q.v.

Philadelphia, 1; Boston (U.S.), 16; New York, 3.

Goodswain.—Nick. 'the good swain,' equivalent to Goodfellow, q.v.

Henry Godesweyn, 1273. A.

John Godswayn, co. Hunts, ibid.

John Godesweyn, c. 1300. M.

Roger Goodswayn, Pardon Roll, 6 Ric. II.

John Godeswayne was Fellow of Exeter College, 1436: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 22.

Goodus, Goodes (?).—Bapt. 'the son of Godhus' or 'Godus'; cf. Aldus or Aldhouse. This personal name seems to have been popular in Yorkshire.

Roger Godhus, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Hugh Godhos, co. Bucks, ibid.

Ricardus Wryght et Agnes uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 54.

Gudus filia ejus, 1379: ibid.

Johannes Godus et Cecilia uxor ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 68.

Ricardus Perkykson et Gudus uxor ejus, 1379: ibid. p. 20.

Thomas Gudus, 1379: ibid. p. 21.

Godus Tholyn, wpf, 1379: ibid.

1618. Henry Ruggesby and Mary Goodes: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 65. London, 0, 5; Philadelphia, 0, 3.

Goodwin, Godwin, Goodwyn.—Bapt. 'the son of Godwin' (Yonge, ii. 175); v. Godwin. The Goodwin Sands received its title from Godwin, Earl of Wessex, to whom the land belonged.

Godwin Lambesune, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Lucas fil. Godwin, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Alice fil. Godwine, co. Oxf., ibid.

Hugh fil. Godewin, co. Salop, ibid.

William fil. Godewyni, co. Norf., ibid.

John Godwin, co. Oxf., ibid.

William Godwyn, co. Linc., ibid.

Godwin Gonelord, co. Kent, 20 Edw. I. R.

Godwin Pescodde. FF.

Willelmus Godewyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 221.

Johannes Godewyn, 1379: ibid.

William Godewyn or Goodwyn, 1448:

Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 2.

1567. Bapt.—John, s. John Goodwyn:

St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 4.

London, 7, 26, 1; Philadelphia, 86, 22, 0.

Goody.—Bapt.; v. Gooddie.

Goodyer.—Bapt.; v. Goodier.

Googe.—Bapt. 'the son of Guch'; v. Gooch.

Goold.—Bapt. 'the son of Gold,' q.v.

Gooden, Goodling.—Bapt.; v. Golden.

Goose, Goos.—(1) Nick. 'the goose'; v. Goss (1). (2) Bapt. 'the son of Goce'; v. Goss (2). Goose has been a familiar surname in Norfolk for six centuries, and I give that family a separate article because I believe they have no connexion with the nickname, but are of baptismal origin. Just as our Goslings represent the old personal name Gocelin, so Goose in Norfolk represents its parent, the old personal name Goce. Hence also the Norfolk Gooches; v. Gooch.

Joose de Ram, Norwich, 1571: FF. iii. 288.

John Goose, of Lawick, husbandman, 1598: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 125.

Thomas Goose, of Winnerley, 1585: ibid.

MDb. (Norfolk), 4, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 6.

Gooseman, Goosman.—Occup. 'the gooseman,' a goose-herd, a tender of geese; cf. Swanherd.

Great Grimsby (1884), 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Goosetree, Goostrey, Goostrey.—Local, 'of Goostrey,' a village in Cheshire, near Holmes Chapel.

William de Goostree, 1339: East Ches. ii. 646.

Cicely de Goostree, 1339: ibid.

Manchester (1887), 1, 0, 0; Birmingham (1884), 0, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), (Goostrey), 2.

Gorbold.—Bapt. 'the son of Gerbold' (Yonge, ii. 328); v. Garbett.

William Gorebald, co. Camb., 1273. A. London, 2.

Gore, Goreway.—Local, 'at the gore,' 'at the gore-way.' I confine myself to the local meaning of the word. As a local term Bailey says, 'Gore, a small narrow slip of land.' Skeat says, 'Gore, a triangular piece let into a garment, a triangular slip of land.' Halliwell says, 'Gore, a small narrow slip of ground' (quoting Kennett, Gloss. p. 80). Evidently a gore was a piece of land in shape of the gore of a garment; v. Skeat, Gore (2). A gore is a three-cornered slip of cloth let in a slit to widen the girth of a garment.

'A barm-cloth, as white as morwe milk, Upon her lendes, ful of many a gore.'

Chaucer, The Miller's T. 3237.

William ad le Gorewege, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Alan atte Gore, co. Essex, ibid.

William de Gora, co. Wilts, ibid.

Thomas de la Gore, co. Suff., 20 Edw. I. R.

Simon atte Gore, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 84.

Adam Gorwege, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 106.

1614-5. Richard Gorwaye and Jane Wright: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 30.

1619. Thomas Pegrin and Mary Gore: ibid. p. 76.

Cf. Adam Grengore (i.e. the green gore), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 275.

London, 14, 0; Philadelphia, 12, 0.

Gorham.—Local, 'of Gorham.' William de Gorham, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Hugh de Gorham, co. Linc., ibid.

With the following, cf. American Barnum for Barnham:

1642. Bapt.—Mary, d. John Gorum, butcher: St. Peter, Cornhill, 1. 89. London, 3; MDB. (Hunts), 1; Philadelphia, 6.

Goring, Gorrington.—Local, 'of Goring,' parishes in dioc. of Chichester and Oxford. Mr. Lower, writing of a county with which he was so familiar, says, 'Gorrington and Goring, both Sussex surnames, and doubtless modifications of the ancient local name Goring in that county. As in the case of Harding, the g in the latter of these two forms has been improperly softened, and the pronunciation is Gorrinje' (Patr. Brit. p. 134).

Priorissa de Goringe, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Philip Goring, co. Wilts, ibid. 1622. Bapt.—Hester, d. Richard Goringe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, 1. 95.

1667. Herbert Hay and Margaret Goring, of Lewes: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 135.

London, 5, 5; New York, 3, o.

Gorman.—Bapt. 'the son of Gormund'; cf. Osman and Wyman from Osmund and Wymond. Perhaps related to the Irish Gorman and O'Gorman. Lower says, 'Gormund is an old Scotticism from the French gourmand, an enormous eater, a glutton.' This is not a happy solution, as the surname is not a Scotch one.

William Gormund, co. Wilts, 1273. A. London, 5; New York, 130.

Gorrington.—Local; v. Goring.

Horst, Gorse.—Local, 'at the gorse'; cf. Furse, q.v. Corrupted into Horst. Thus the t in Horst is excrement. The surname is chiefly found in cos. Lanc. and Ches.

'Ralph Gorse, or Horst, B.A., second master of Chester Grammar School, 1640; master of Winwick Grammar School, co. Lanc., 1666; master of Prestbury Grammar School, co. Ches., 1667'; v. Earwaker's East Ches. ii. 519. His nephew was Thomas Horst.

Cf. William Newton-de-Gorses, 1609, Wiltshire: ibid. 1. 105.

William de Gorz, cos. Warw. and Leic., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Johannes Garsce, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 68. Liverpool, 5, 2; Manchester, 1, o; London, 2, o.

Horstidge, Horstige, Horstige, Gossage, Horstige, Horstuch.—Local, 'of Horstuch,' a spot in the parish of Ormskirk, co. Lanc. The many variants are curious but natural. The t is intrusive; cf. the Lancashire surname Gorse and Horst, which represents one and the same name.

James Gorseuch, of Gorseuch, Scarisbrick, gent., 1615: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 74.

James Gorseuch, of Ormskirk, 1605: ibid.

Ellen Gorseuch, of Knowsley, widow, 1575: ibid.

Henry Gorseage, of Kirkdale, 1579: ibid.

Peter Sant, of Horstich, 1609: ibid.

Henry Horstich, of West Derby, Liverpool, 1669: ibid. (1660-80), p. 106.

Edward Gorseuche, 1602: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 62.

Jacobus Gorseuch de Gorseuch, gent., 1642: ibid. p. 112.

Liverpool, 1, 1, 1, 1, o, o; Southport (Horstige), 1; London (Gorseuch), 3.

Horstuch.—Local; v. Horstidge.

Horwill.—Local, 'at the gorewell'; v. Gore.

Walter de Gorewell, co. Essex, 1273. A. London, 1; New York, 1.

Gosbell.—Bapt.; v. Gospell.

Goshawk.—Nick, 'the gose-hawk,' literally goose-hawk (v. Skeat). But perhaps for Gosschalk (q.v.), which form of Gottschalk occurs in the London Directory. In such a case it would be imitative.

William Goshawke, rector of Bawsey, co. Norf., 1540: FF. viii. 346.

North Creak (co. Norfolk), 3; MDB. (Suffolk), 1.

Goslett.—Bapt. 'the son of Goce,' from double dim. Gocelot or Gocelot, of which I cannot find an early instance; cf. Roblett (Robelot) from Rob, Robert, or Hewlett (Hewelot) from Hew, i.e. Hugh; v. Joyce and Goss (2).

Charles Goslett: Visit. Glouc. (1623), p. 67.

1773. Married—Arthur Goslet and Martha Kemp: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 228. London, 2.

Goslin, Gosline, Gosling, Goslings, Gossling, Gosling.—Bapt. 'the son of Goce' or 'Josse,' from dim. Gocelin or Josselin. In Gosling the g is excrement; cf. Rawling, Tomling, Jennings, &c.; v. Goss (2) and Joslin.

Goslinus Dapifer, temp. 1109: Lincolnshire Survey, p. 6.

Gilbert, son of Gocelin: ibid. p. 2.

Goselina fil. Gawyne, co. Camb., 1273. A. Symon Goseling, co. Norf., ibid.

Gauselin Johannes, 20 Edw. I. R. Matilda fil. Gocelini, 20 Edw. I.: BBB.

p. 755. Goslinus Dayvill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 33.

Robert Geslyng, 1379: ibid. p. 43.

'John Goslin, Master of Gonville and Caius Coll., Camb.' (1566?-1626): Dict. Nat. Biog. xxii. 265.

John Gosling (d. 1733), chorister: ibid. London, 4, o, 19, 1, o, 5; Philadelphia,

2, 5, 2, o, 4, o.

Gospatrick.—Bapt. 'the son of Gospatric.'

Gospatrick fil. Mapbennoc, 1159: RRR.

p. 2. Walden' fil. Gospatricii, 1185: ibid.

p. 40. Gospatric fil. Raven, 1177: KKK. p. 26.

Eilaf fil. Gospatric, 1160: ibid. p. 10.

Gospatrick fil. Ormi, 21 Ric. II: Furness Coucher Book, i. 188.

Gospell, Gosbell.—Bapt. 'the son of Godesbal,' an imitative corruption.

Hugh Godesbal, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Katherine Gesebolle, co. Hunts, ibid.

After five centuries the descendants of the above are found in the same district.

1736. Married—Gilbert Seabrook and Mary Gosbell, co. Bucks: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 17.

Gospell still exists. I have seen it, but forgot to note my instance down.

London, o, 1.

Goss, Gosse.—(1) Nick, 'the goose'; M.E. gos; cf. Duck, Drake, Wildgoose, &c.

1502. 'Item, delivered to John Goose, my Lord of Yorkes fole (fool) in reward, 12d': Privy Purse Exp., Elizabeth of York, p. 2.

Isabel le Gous, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Walter le Gows, co. Camb., ibid.

Michael le Goys, co. Soms., ibid.

Richard le Gos, C. R., 36 Hen. III.

John le Goos, 1313 M.

Richard le Goos, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 136.

Cicilia Gous, 1379: P. T. Yorks, p. 44.
Johannes Gosse, 1379: ibid. p. 117.
1538. Elyzabeth Goose, d. of Robarte
Goose: St. Dionis Backchurch (London),
p. 71.

A curious conjunction of names is found in the first of the following entries:

1549. Married—Nicholas Ferret and
Agnes Goose: St. Dionis Backchurch
(London), p. 2.

'Thomas Goose was executed at Car-stang, co. Lanc., Feb. 14, 1716, for joining the Scotch insurgents in 1715': Baines'
Lanc. ii. 533.

Although Wildgoose still exists,
our Gooses (I may not say Geese) have now stuck to Goss as a preferable form.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Goce,' whence dim. Gocelin or Josselin;
v. Goose (2) and Goslin. Although the diminutive has quite overshadowed the root-name, it was decidedly popular in its day. For full account, v. Joyce. In a hamlet containing fourteen householders there are found the two following names:

Simon Joce, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:
Kirby's Quest, p. 207.

William Goose, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:
ibid.

Cf. the hard and soft g in Gocelin and Goslin.

London, 7, 0; Crockford, 2, 2; Philadelphia, 6, 2.

Gossage; v. Gorstidge.

Gosschalk, Gottchalk, Gottschalek. — Bapt. 'the son of Gottschalk.' Though a modern German immigrant surname, it was very early introduced into England as a font-name by the Flemings; it scarcely can be said, however, to have taken root.

Godescallus (without surname), co.
Salop, 1273. A.

William Godescalc, co. Ox., ibid.
Godescalke de Estlaund, co. Linc.,
ibid.

Godefry fil. Godescallus. C.
Godescalus Armorer, co. York. W. 2.
London, 1, 0, 0; Manchester, 0, 1, 1;
Philadelphia, 0, 0, 4.

Gosset, Gossett.—Bapt. 'the son of Goce' or 'Josse,' from dim.
Gocet or Josset; v. Joyce.

Isabella Josset, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Robert Josset, co. Camb., ibid.
London, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Gossip.—Nick. 'the gossip' or 'godsib,' lit. god-relative, a sponsor in baptism (v. Skeat). Crony is a later meaning.

Willelmus Gossyp, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 20.

Emma Gosyp, 1379: ibid. p. 21.

Isabella Gossyp, 1379: ibid.

West Rid. Court Dir., 2; Doncaster, 1.

Gostling.—Bapt.; v. Goslin.
The t is intrusive.

Gothard, Goddard, God-
art.—Occur. 'the goatherd; A.S. gat and herd, as in cowherd, shepherd; v. Herd. Gothard in Yorkshire is undoubtedly the descendant of some old goatherd who took his surname from the occupation.

'Barning of Goddesbrigg, 3000 kine and oxen, 4000 sheep and gate,' 1587:
Nicolson and Burn, Hist. Westm. and
Cumb., i. p. xxxvi.

Symon Godhird, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 207.

Johannes Gaybyrd, 1379: ibid. p. 273.

John Godherd, co. York, 1470. W. 11.

Robert Gaytherd, co. York, 1472, ibid.

Roland Gateard, co. York. W. 9.

Robert Gatherd, co. York, ibid.

Of course Goddard (q.v.) has a different origin from the above, but none the less it is certain that in some cases Gothard has assimilated itself thereto.

London, 2, 48, 2; Sheffield, 1, 7, 0;
Huddersfield, 1, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 21, 0.

Gotobed.—Bapt. 'the son of Godbert.' This surname must unquestionably be referred back to Godebert (Yonge, ii. 177), though after a time the name has itself suggested a jeu d'esprit.

The following instances will suffice for evidence:

Roger Godberd, co. Notts, 1273. A.

John Gotebedde, co. Camb., ibid.

Roger Godeberd. J.

Henry Gotobed, temp. 1580. Z.

Johannes Gotobedde (RR. 1) seems to mark the divergence into a pleasantry. Mr. Lower quotes
'Robert Gotobedd, Winchelsea,
20 Edw. I. Juliana Gotobedde, ibid.' A mere nickname would not be found all over the country.
It appears certain that Godebert is the root of all.

1621. Ann Gotobed: Cal. of Wills in
Court of Husting (2).

1760. Married—Charles Godbed and Penelope Cooper: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 94.
London, 2; Manchester, 1; MDB.
(Cambridge), 7.

Gott.—Local, 'at the gott,' a drain or water-channel. A well-known Yorkshire name. In Craven dialect and in Hallamshire a gote or goyt denotes a water-channel from a mill-dam; cf. Gutter; v.
Skeat on gut and Way's Prompt.
Parv. p. 205; cf. the Yorkshire
Sykes.

John de la Gote, 3 Edw. III: Freemen of York, i. 25.

Johannes del Gote, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 6.

Magota del Gote, 1379: ibid. p. 7.

Johanna atte Gotte, 1379: P. T. Howdeshire, p. 5.

Robertus atte Gotte, 1379: ibid.

London, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 11;
New York, 4.

Gottchalk, Gottschalek; v.
Gosschalk.

Goudge.—Bapt. 'the son of Guch'; v. Gooch.

Gough. — Nick. (Welsh) 'the red-complexioned'; v. Goff. One of the very few nicknames that can be found in Welsh directories.

Robert Gogh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:
Kirby's Quest, p. 237.

London, 23; Philadelphia, 13.

Goulborn, Goulburn, Gouldbourne, Gouldburn. — Local,
'of Golborne,' a small township
in the parish of Winwick, co. Lanc.

'In the reign of Henry III, Thomas de Goldebur' held of the King the third part of the fee of one Knight; and William, the son of Hamo, held three bovates in Goldburn of the gift of Augustine, father of the said Thomas': Baines' Lanc. ii. 212.
Manchester, 2, 1, 1.

Gould.—Bapt.; v. Gold.

Gouldstone, Goulstone, Gulson, Goulson, Goldson, Goulston.—Personal, 'the son of Gold-stan.' Although these surnames look local, it is very doubtful whether such be the case. I cannot find any spot so called, and all early instances are without the prefix de or de la. On the other hand, Goldstan would be a likely personal name; cf. Wulfstan and Goldwin.

Hugh Goldston, co. Bedf., 1273. A.
Michael Goldston, co. Bedf., ibid.

Ralph Goldston, co. Bedf., 1273. A.
 Geoffrey Goldston, co. Bucks, Hen.
 III-Edw. I. K.
 William Goldstan, co. Linc., 20 Edw.
 I. R.
 Johannes Gulderson, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
 P. 148.
 1678. Lancelot Addison and Jane
 Gouldston (or Gulston): Marriage Alleg.
 (Canterbury), p. 179.
 1761. Married—Henry Goldstone and Frances Ford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 100.
 1764. — Samuel Godson and Hannah
 Cordery: ibid. p. 128.
 London, 6, 4, 3, 0, 0, 0; Liverpool
 (1887), 0, 0, 0, 1, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.),
 (Goulston), 6.

Goundrey; v. Gundry.

Gourder, Gourdmaker. — Occup. 'the gourder,' one who carried liquor in a vessel called a gourd, perhaps so called from its shape (Halliwell).

'To the Mancelpe he toke the gourd again.' Chaucer, C. T. 17031.
 Martin le Gourdmaker, 11 Edw. III:
 Freeman of York, i. 32.
 Philip de Turnay, gourder, 3 Edw.
 III: ibid. p. 25.

Although not a surname, this last entry may interest the student.

Gow. — Occup. 'the smith'
 (Gaelic).
 London, 7; New York, 3.

Goward. — ? Local. Probably, as suggested by Lower, a corrupted form of Gower (q.v.) with an ex-crescent d; cf. Simmonds for Simmons. Nevertheless it may be a personal name, and mean 'the son of Goward,' i. e. Godward.
 This is strongly corroborated by the existence of Goward in the Hundred Rolls of 1273 A. D.

Wydo Goward, co. Norf., 1273. A.
 1613. Married—Robert Godward and
 Susan Remnant: St. Dionis Backchurch
 (London), p. 18.
 1666. — Ritchard Biggs and Mary
 Goward: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 127.
 London, 3; Boston (U.S.), 5.

Gower. — Local, a variant of Gore, q.v.; cf. Power.

David Gower, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:
 Kirby's Quest, p. 89.
 London, 21; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Gozzard, Gishard. — Occup.
 'the gooseherd,' a tender of geese.
 One of many compounds of herd;
 cf. Coward, Calvert, and Stoddart.

Gooseherd was a Yorkshire surname, and still remains there as Gozzard and Gishard. These solutions are absolutely certain.

Joan Gushyrde, co. York. W. 11.
 Agnes Gushyrd, co. York, ibid.
 John Gooshewed, co. York. W. 19.
 London, 1, 0; Leeds, 1, 0; Rotherham,
 0, 1.

Grace, Gras, Grass. — (1) Nick.
 'le gras,' the fat, the lusty. Common to every early register. The personal name Grace came far too late to affect surnames. Nevertheless cf. Gracio de Frese, C. R.,
 1 Edw. II.

Ascelin le Gras, co. Norf., Hen. III-
 Edw. I. K.
 Roger Grassus, co. Linc., ibid.
 Roger le Gras, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
 Alan le Gras, co. York, ibid.
 Hugh le Gras, co. Linc., ibid.
 Richard le Gras, co. Berks, 20 Edw. I. R.
 Amabel le Gras, c. 1300. M.
 Thomas Gras fil. Johannis Pomeray,
 Pardons Roll, 12 Ric. II.

(2) Local, 'at the grass,' from residence thereby.

William atte Grase, co. Soms., 1 Edw.
 III: Kirby's Quest, p. 110.
 1548. Married—Roberte Dowethe and Eliz. Grace: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 5.
 1574. Bapt.—Margery, d. Thomas
 Grace: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 8.
 1744. Married—Thomas Grace and
 Mary Hotchkis: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 33.
 London, 12, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 60, 1, 0.

Gradwell, Graddell. — Local,
 'of Gradwell' or 'Gradwells,' now
 a farm in the township of Ulnes-
 Walton, in the parish of Croston, co. Lanc. The surname has spread in the surrounding district.

Richard Gradell, 1542: Preston Guild
 Rolls, p. 15.
 John Graddell, clericus, 1562: ibid. p. 21.
 Edward Graddell, 1622: ibid. p. 68.
 Thomas Gradwell, 1642: ibid. p. 130.
 Richard Gradell, of Preston, 1550:
 Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 125.
 Roger Graddell, of Wood Plumptre,
 1680: ibid.
 Manchester, 6, 0; Preston, 3, 0; Liverpool, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Grafton. — Local, 'of Grafton,' parishes in diocs. of Peterborough, Worcester, Hereford, and Salisbury. The Yorkshire instances below concern Marton-cum-Grafton, a parish three miles from Boroughbridge, in the liberty of Knaresborough.

William de Grafton, 2 Edw. II: Freemen of York, i. 12.
 Robertus de Grafton, 1379: P. T.
 Yorks. p. 243.
 Alicia de Grafton, 1379: ibid. p. 295.
 London, 6; Philadelphia, 2.

Grain. — Bapt. 'the son of Grain.' In spite of the local entry below, this name must have a personal origin. There are nearly a dozen Graynesons in the Yorkshire Poll Tax. I only give a few instances. The forms Graynewife and Grayneman, too, strongly corroborate this view; v. Crane (2).

Willelmus de Grayne, 1379: P. T.
 Yorks. p. 156.
 Walterus Grayne, 1379: ibid.
 Thomas Grayne, 1379: ibid. p. 4.
 Johannes Grayneson, 1379: ibid. p. 32.
 Ricardus Grayneson, 1379: ibid. p. 122.
 Robertus Grayneson, 1379: ibid.
 Willelmus Grayne, husband, 1379:
 P. T. Howdenshire, p. 23.
 Alanus Grayne, brewster, 1379: ibid.
 p. 24.
 Cf. Alicia Graynewyfe (i. e. the wife of Grayne), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 123.
 Willelmus Grayne-man (i. e. the servant of Grayne), 1379: ibid. p. 241.
 Thomas Grayne-barn (i. e. the child of Grayne), 1379: ibid. p. 201.
 London, 4; Oxford, 4; Philadelphia, 1.

Graindorge. — (1) Local, 'de Grandorge,' a Norman name which settled, among other places, in Craven, co. York. This surname in various guises still lives in the West Riding; v. Grandage.
 (2) Nick. 'a barley-corn'; cf. English
 'John Barleycorn'; v. Lower,
 Patr. Brit. pp. 18 and 136.

William Graindeorge, 1127: Furness
 Coucher Book, i. 25.
 William Greindeorge, co. York, 1273. A.
 William Greyndeorge, C. R., 7 Edw. I.
 Johannes Greyndorge, 33 Edw. I:
 BBB. p. 696.

A curious corruption is found in the following:

Margareta Dangorge, 1379: P. T.
 Yorks. p. 39.

Almost as curious is the modern
 Yorkshire form of Crandige:

George Crandidge: Pontefract Dir.

But Grandage (q.v.) is the modern form.

Grainge. — Local; v. Grange.

Granger. — Occup.; v. Granger.

Grammer.—Occup. 'the grammar,' a teacher of grammar, a grammarian.

William Gramery, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Andrew le Gramayre, co. York, ibid. William Grammaticus. J. Richard le Gramayre. G. William le Gramary, M.P. for co. Ebor., C. R., 20 Edw. III. pt. ii. Johanna Gramary, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 153. 1647. Bapt.—Eliz., d. Jonathan Grammer: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 167. 1648.—John, s. Jonathan Grammar: ibid. p. 171. London, 4; New York, 2.

Grandage, Grandridge.—(1) Local. The name occurs early in co. York, and is still found there as Grandage and Crandidge; v. Graindorge. (2) Nick.; v. Graindorge (2).

Nicholas Grandage, armatus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 274. Thomas Grandage, 1379: ibid. Robertus Grandage, 1379: ibid. Christopher Grandorge, 1631, vicar of Broughton in Craven. West Rid. Court Dir., 3, 0; Dewsbury, 0, 1.

Grandison.—Local? It is thought that this surname came from the Netherlands (v. Lower).

Otto de Grandisono, co. Cardigan, Edw. I. R. William de Grandisono, co. Glouc., ibid. Boston (U.S.), 1.

Grange, Grainge.—Local, 'at the grange'; O.F. grange, a granary, or barn for corn. 'Johannes attes Prious, et Alicia uxor ejus, fermour del graunge': 1379, P. T. Yorks. p. 71.

Johannes del Grange, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 30. Simon del Graunge, 1379: ibid. p. 19. Alicia del Graunge, 1379: ibid. p. 21. Gregorius del Grange, 1379: ibid. p. 39. London, 3, 1; Oxford, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 5, 0.

Grangeman.—Occup. 'the grangeman,' the same as Granger, q.v.

Willelmus Grangman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 227.

Granger, Grainger.—Occup. 'the granger,' one who kept a grange or granary, a farmer; v. Grange.

Johannes Graunger, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 288.

Willelmus Graungere, 1379: ibid. p. 66. Henricus Graunger, 1379: P. T. Howdeshire, p. 24. Thomas Graynger. F. London, 8, 10; West Rid. Court Dir., 6, 1; New York, 21, 4.

Grant.—(1) Nick. 'le grand,' great, large. A sobriquet for one of big and broad proportions, a giant in size. This surname has ramified very strongly in Scotland.

Gregory le Grant, co. Camb., 1273. A. John le Graunt, co. Oxf., ibid. Richard le Graunt, co. Wilts, ibid. Hamo le Graunt, co. York, ibid. William le Graunt, co. Berks, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K. Ralph le Grant, co. Wilts, ibid. Thomas Graunte, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 119.

1575. Married—Patrick Grant and Jane Belgrave: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 8. 1648.—Samuell Grant and Sara Hower: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 258.

(2) Nick. 'the son of Grant.' No doubt the origin is the same. Either affixed to a very plump baby (!), or a sobriquet given later on to a very big boy, which sobriquet gradually ousted his baptismal name. School nicknames even now last for a lifetime.

Roger fil. Grant, co. Salop, 1273. A. Grant le Chapman, co. Devon, ibid. London, 71; Philadelphia, 108.

Grantham.—Local, 'of Grantham,' a town in co. Lincoln.

1544. Married—John Grantam and Katheryn Bennet: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 2. London, 7; Philadelphia, 1.

Granville, Granville.—Local; v. Grenville.

Gras, Grass.—Nick. 'fat, lusty'; v. Grace.

Gratton.—Bapt. A variant of Grayson, q.v. This curious but natural corruption is found in Yorkshire, one of the great homes of Grayson. It stands for Grayshon, the h being intrusive, as in Townshend for Townsend, Hodshon for Hodgson, &c.

Cf. Margaret Hodshon, of Little Urswick, 1660: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 153.

Robert Hodshon, of Hawkshead, 1646: ibid.

It only remains to prove that the form Grayshon existed. It is even now in the Leeds and Pudsey directories, the very district where Grayson is so common, and where Gratton has established itself.

Bradford, 2; Leeds, 1.

Grave, Graves.—(1) Local, 'of the grave' (v. Greaves); the earlier form of Greave or Grove. (2) Offic. 'the graff'; v. Graveston.

Edith de la Grava, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Henry de la Grave, co. Oxf., ibid. Hugh de la Grave, co. Soms., ibid. John de la Grave, co. Wilts, ibid. Geoffrey de la Grave, co. Glouc., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K. Sibilla de la Grave, co. Glouc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Robert atte Grave, c. 1300. M. Johannes Grave (u for v), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 282.

Adam Grayf, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 121. Johanna Grayf, 1379: ibid. p. 9. Robertus Grayff, 1379: ibid. 1600. Edmund Grave and Dorothy Smith: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 13. 1607. Married—John Johnson and Rose Graves: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 32. London, 7, 33; Manchester, 4, 2; New York, 1, 35.

Graver.—Occup. 'the graver,' i.e. a digger, a diker. In Furness the following conversation might occur:

'What's ta bin doing?'
'I've bin graving pe-at' (digging peat).
'How's ta done?'
'I've grovin six carts.'

Willelmus Grauer (u for v), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 65.

Walter Grauer (u for v), 1379: ibid. p. 207.

Henricus Grauer (u for v), 1379: ibid. p. 246. London, 1; Philadelphia, 29.

Graveson.—Nick.; v. Grayson. London (1887), 1; Bolton, 1.

Graveston, Grayston.—Bapt. 'the son of the greeve'; v. Grayson. Corruptions of Graveson. Proof, if needed, may be found in the Guild Rolls of Preston; v. Index, where Graysoun, Grayveson, and Grayveston represent the same patronymic.

Manchester, 1, 0; Preston, 0, 1.

Gray, Grey.—(1) Nick. 'the grey,' from the complexion of the hair; cf. Russell, Brown, White, Black, &c. (2) Local, 'de Grey.' I do not know the spot, but (1) is the chief parent.

Robert de Gray, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
John le Gray, co. Camb., ibid.
Eva de Grey, co. Soms., ibid.
Peter le Gray, irenmanager, 13 Edw.
II: Freeman of York, i. 18.
1523. William Knevett and Katharine
Grey: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 3.
London, 123, 21; Philadelphia, 228, 24.

Graygoose.—Nick. 'the graygoose'; cf. the simpler 'Goss,' a common entry in the Hundred Rolls (1273), or Wildgoose.

'Thomas Drywood, gent. of Stifford, Essex, and Mary Graygoose, of St. Andrews, in Hertford, widow of William Graygoose, yeoman,' 1623: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 126.

1630. Henry Graygoose and Elizabeth Hobley: Marriage Lic. (Westminster), p. 38.

Grayhorse.—? Local, 'at the Gray Horse' (?), probably a sign-name. Alexander Grayhorse, Prior of Trentham, Patent Roll, 2 Hen. VII. pt. i. Cf. Whitehorse, Roebuck.

Grayshon.—Nick.; v. Gration.

Grayson, Gresson, Greeson, Grierson, Grearson, Grason.—Nick. 'the son of the reeve'; A.S. gerefa. Yorkshire is the true early home of this name. It is quite possible that Gregson (from Gregory) may have become modified to Gresson in some few cases. Geoffrey, also, may make its claim felt. But, in general, we are bound to assume, judging by the evidence given below, that Grayson and his confrères are descendants of the old English greeve; cf. Wrightson, Taylorson, Herdson, Hindson, &c. v. Grave (2).

Alicia Graydoghter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 188.

Willelmus Grayf, 1379: ibid.

Johannes Grayson, 1379: ibid. p. 186.

Agnes Grayfwyl, 1379: ibid. p. 107.

Thomas Grayfson, 1379: ibid.

Emma Grefeson, 1379: ibid. p. 234.

Thomas Grayfson, 1379: ibid. p. 35.

Thomas Grayfson, 1379: ibid. p. 193.

Johannes Graeson (u for v), 1379: ibid.

p. 279. Johannes Graue (u for v), 1379: ibid.

p. 283.

Mary Grayson, co. York. W. 16.

Cuthbert Greyson (or Greveson), 1516:

Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 98.

John Graveson, of Warton, 1565: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 126.

Gervas Graveson, of Yealand Stors, 1593: ibid.

George Grayson, of Salwicke, 1639: ibid.

John Greason, of Lancaster, 1637: ibid.

Parnell Greyson, of Salwick, 1668: ibid. p. 130.

All these names manifestly belong to one stock, and settle the matter, if any controversy existed. For two corrupted forms, v. Grayshon and Gration.

Sheffield (Grayson), 12; West Rid. Court Dir. (Grayson), 8; Liverpool (1887), 8, 1, 1, 7, 1, 0; Dewsbury (Grason), 1; Philadelphia (Grayson), 6.

Grazier.—Occup. 'the grazier,' a rare term; I only find it once.

William le Grasiere, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Great.—Nick. 'the great,' large, big; cf. Grant.

Henry le Grete, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Peter le Grete, co. Salop, ibid.

Greathead, Greated.—Nick. 'great head,' probably a translation of French Grosseteste, q.v.

Agnes Gretheved, co. Linc., Edw. I-II. R.

Peter Gretheued, C. R., 17 Edw. III. pt. i.

Thomas Grethed. H.

Hugo Grethed, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 206.

Willelmus Grethed, 1379: ibid. p. 198.

1619. Marmaduke Greathead and Katherine Dorrell: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 81.

1755. Married—Thomas Greathead and Ann Spray: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 58.

London, 1, 1.

Greatorex, Great-Rex, Great-rex, Greatorix.—(1) Local, 'at the great ridge'; v. Rigg and Ridge. (2) Local, 'at the great rake or rakes,' 'Rake, a rut, crack, or crevice. North' (Halliwell). In Furness and co. Cumb. it seems to have been a sheep-track up the fells. But of this I cannot speak positively. I had both Rake and Out-rake as localities in my late parish (Ulverston). Probably Raikes owes its origin to one of these many places. Thus Greatorex seems to be either 'of the great ridge' or 'of the great rakes,' from residence thereby. If the former, then ridge has been sharpened into rex.

1582. Augustine Brandon and Eliz. Greatracks, of Westham, co. Essex: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 110.

1647. Married—Samuel Gratrix and Jane Wingfield: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 81.

1659. Married—John Greatrake and Ursula Whitaker: ibid. p. 101.

1697. — James Berry and Rebecca Greatrick: ibid. p. 217.

London, 10, 1, 1, 0; Manchester, 6, 0, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 2, 0.

Greaves, Greeves.—Local, 'at the greave' or 'greaves.' For variants and many instances, v. Grave and Graver. Equivalent to Grove, q.v. Originally a glade or lane cut through the trees in the forest; from English verb grave, to cut; A.S. graf, a grove.

'For so raythely thay rusche with roselde speris,

That the raskaille was rade, and rane to the grefes.'

Morte Arthure, MS. Lincoln, F. 83 (Halliwell).

Fairfax speaks of the 'Wind in holts and shady greaves.'

Agnes de Greues (u for v), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 267.

1610. Bapt.—May, d. John Greaves, peutier: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 94.

London, 25, 4; Manchester, 19, 0;

Philadelphia, 29, 6.

Gredley.—Local, 'of Gredley.'

Adam Gredle, co. Lanc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Robert de Gredle, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Thomas Gredley, co. Notts, ibid.

Thawys de Gredley, co. Suff., 20 Edw. I. R.

London, 2.

Gredy.—Local, 'of Gredhey.'

Gredy is an imitative dress. As regards the suffix, v. Hey. The name is evidently a West-country one.

Robert Gredheye, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 244.

MDB. (co. Somerseset), 2.

Greely, Greeley.—Local, 'of Greeley.' I cannot find the spot.

From the evidence below it would seem that the meaning is 'the grey meadow'; v. Ley; cf. Whiteley and Blackley.

Thomas de Greyley, co. Rutland, 1273. A.

Albrius de Greyley, co. Rutland, ibid.

Robert de Greyley, co. Camb., ibid.

Robert Greyleg, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 248.

London, 1, 0; New York, 2, 6.

Green, Greene.—Local, 'at the green,' from residence thereby.

A grassy plat used by the village as common. As every village had its green, it is not surprising that our modern directories team with the name.

Deonisia ate Grene, 1273. A.
 Warin de la Grene, ibid.
 Robert de la Grene, C. R., 3 Edw. I.
 Petrus del Grene, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 10.

Adam del Grene, 1379: ibid. p. 16.
 Willelmus del Grene, 1379: ibid. p. 55.
 London, 340, 10; New York, 265, 111.

Greenacre.—Local, 'of the green acre' or 'green acres'; -acre is not an uncommon suffix to local names. Greenacre means the green field.

Ric. de Grenacres, 6 Edw. III: Oldham Guardian, 'Old Homesteads.'

Arthur Grenachar, 1564: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 254.
 Alexander Grenacres, 1564: ibid. p. 255.
 London, 5.

Greenall.—Local; v. Greenhalgh, of which it is a corruption.

1688. Mr. John Greenhall (Greenhalgh), of Brandlesom, and Mrs. Anne Tatton, of Withinshawe: Reg. Northenden, co. Ches., East Ches. i. 304.

Greenaway, Greenway.—Local, 'at the green way' or 'road'; a intrusive for euphony; cf. Otway and Ottaway. No doubt many spots would be styled the green way, but probably the place denoted in the following has given birth to many of this name: 'John Bridgeman (1577-1652), bishop of Chester, was born at Exeter. His grandfather . . . had, with other issue, two sons, Michael the eldest, . . . and Thomas, of Greenway, Devonshire': Dict. Nat. Biog. vi. 317. This is probably Greenway, in the parish of Churston Ferrers.

Robert Grenewey, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
 John Grenewey, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 81.

John atte Grenewey, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 107.
 Thomas Greenewaie, 1567: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 266.

Thomas Greenway, of Oswaldtwistle, 1618: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 76.
 1643. Married—Robert Hyron and Eliz. Grinnoway: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 257.

London, 6, 0; Plymouth, 0, 2; MDB. (Devonshire), 1, 2; Oxford, 7, 0; New York, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Greenbank.—Local, 'at the green bank,' a common term for small verdant slopes. There is a Greenbank in my old parish (Ulverston) overlooking the church, now covered with houses; cf. Windebank.

1642. Married—William Grover and Alice Greenbanke: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 257.

1661. John Greenbancke (Worcester) and Martha Hanson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 283.

Nicholas Greenbancke, of Caton, 1595: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 127.

Alice Greenbancke, of Caton, 1641: ibid.

London, 1; Manchester, 1; Philadelphia, 4.

Greenett.—Local; v. Greenhead.

Greenfield, Greenfeld.—Local, 'at the green field'; cf. Grenfell.

Willelmus Grenefeld', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 208.

Elena Grenefeld', 1379: ibid. p. 209.
 Birmingham (1884), 3, 0; New York, 11, 2.

Greengarth.—Local, 'at the green garth'; v. Garth.

Henricus Grenegarth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 214.

Greengrass.—Local, 'at the green grass'; cf. Greenfield. I find no early instances.

1623. Married—William Arkinstall and Bridget Greengrass: St. Antholin (London), p. 57.

1657.—Thomas Greengrass and Eliz. Burton: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 33.

Greenhalgh, Greenhough, Greenhow, Greenough, Greenow, Greenup, Greenhaulgh.—Local, 'of Greenhalgh,' a township in the parish of Kirkham, co. Lanc. Also 'of Greenhalgh,' now Greenhalgh Castle, in Garstang parish, co. Lanc. (spelt Greenhaugh; v. Baines' Lanc. ii. 534). With Greenhough and Greenow, cf. enough and enow: halgh = haugh.

Cf. Gilbert del Whithalgh, 1397: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 4.

Arthur Greenhalgh, of Heap, 1576: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 76.

Thomas Greenhalgh, of Ashton in Winck, 1584: ibid.

Robert Greenhough, of Great Sankey, 1613: ibid.

James Greenalgh, of Cornerow, 1672: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 128.

Agnes Greeneoff, of Dalton, 1635: ibid.

Richard Greenope, of Dalton, 1590: ibid. p. 129.

William Greenup, of Colton, 1661: ibid.

A single glance at these wills will show a common origin and stock. Members of the same family are thus entered in the neighbouring register of Ulverston a century later:

1791. Bapt.—William, s. Joseph Greenhow, of Scathwaite: Reg. Ulverston Ch., ii. 519.

1810. Buried—Anne, d. John Greenhough: ibid. p. 639.

Thus every variant is found in entries relating to one stock.

1699. Married—Robert Greenenough and Philadelphia Starr: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 50.

1785. David Greenough, vicar of Gill, Barnoldswick: Whitaker's Craven, p. 86.

London, 1, 1, 3, 2, 1, 0, 0; Manchester, 14, 6, 3, 2, 0, 3, 0; MDB. (co. Lanc.), 8, 1, 0, 1, 0, 1, 1; Philadelphia, 7, 0, 0, 2, 0, 0, 0.

Greenham.—Local, 'of Greenham,' a chapelry in the parish of Thatcham, co. Berks.

Ralph de Greenham, co. Suff., 1273. A.
 Ralph de Greenham, co. Suff., 20 Edw. I. R.

London, 1.

Greenhead, Greenett.—Local, 'at the green head,' i.e. the green promontory. As Greenhead became Greenett so Blackhead became Blackett; cf. also Birkett and Hazlitt.

Willelmus Grenehude, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 143.

Henricus Grenehode, barkar, 1379: ibid. p. 159.

Johannes Grenehode, 1379: ibid. p. 167.

Greenhill.—Local, 'at the green hill,' or more specifically 'of Greenhill': (1) a liberty in the wapentake of Corringham, co. Lincoln; (2) a hamlet in the parish of Harrow, co. Middlesex. But many small spots would be called the green hill, and the surnames may have arisen in half a dozen localities.

John de Grenhill, co. Bedf., 1273. A.
 John de Grenhill, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 137.

Robertus de Grenhill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 73.

Thomas de Grenehill, 1379: ibid. p. 19.
Johannes de Grenehill, 1379: ibid. p. 142.

1750. Married—George Sayer and Mary Greenhill: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 44.
Birmingham (1884), 6; London, 12.

Greenhorn.—Nick. Still existing. A young simpleton, one who is like a young animal whose horns are only just sprouting.

Christopher Greynhorne, co. York. W. 15.

Greynhorne as name of an ox occurs in Towneley Mysteries, p. 8; Halliwell. London, 1; Manchester (1887), 1.

Greenhouse.—Local, 'at the green-house,' from residence thereby or therein.

William de Grenhous, co. Camb., 1273. A.

London, 1; Philadelphia, 3.

Greening, Greenig.—Bapt. 'the son of Greening'; cf. Brown-ing or Harding.

Robert Grenyg, co. Norf., 1273. A.
London, 7, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 9.

Greenleaf.—? Nick. 'Greenleaf, a character in the pageants of Robin Hood' (Lower). No doubt the same as Greenman, q.v. Nevertheless, the surname seems to be local, i.e. Green-cliff; cf. Antliff for Antcliff, and Topliff for Topcliffe.

Johannes de Grenelef et Lora uxor ejus, spicer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 15.
Elen Grenelef, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 222.

This name through early emigration has become strong in America.

'William Greenleaf sailed from Gravesend in 1635 for St. Christopher's': Hotten's Lists of Emigrants, p. 128.

Robert Greenleaf went so early as 1610, and settled at 'Charles Cittie in Virginia'—married, and left children: ibid. p. 204.

New York, 11.

Greenman, Greeneman.—Nick. 'the green man,' signifying a savage. Strutt describes the greenmen of old shows as 'whimsically attired and disguised with droll masks, having large staves or clubs headed with cases of crackers.' The term is still retained in the sign of 'The Greenman and Still' in Oxford Street and other places (Halliwell); cf. Greenleaf. These men, attired in green leaves, were ever an accompaniment in public pageants. The Lord Mayor's Show used to engage their services. 'Then cam 2 grett wodyn with 2 grett clubes all in grene': Machyn's Diary, Oct. 29, 1553. 'On the x of Julee met her (Queen Elizabeth) in the Forest, as she came from hunting, one clad like a savage man all in ivie': Nicholl's Progresses of Queen Elizabeth, i. 494. As with King, q.v., Greenman or Greenleaf became the popular sobriquet of the man who represented the character, and passed on to his children. But see further History of Signboards, pp. 366-7. In spite of all this it is probable that Greenman was the cant name at a still earlier period for a forester, who was always dressed in 'Lincoln' or 'Kendal green,' as all our ballads relate; v. History of Signboards, pp. 367-8.

New York, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 16, 0.

Greenoak.—Local, 'at the green oak'; cf. Greentree.

Cecilia de Greneake, 1379: P. T. Howdeshire, p. 9.

Johannes Grenak, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 205.

Ricardus Greneake, 1379: ibid. p. 291.
1641. Buried—Sarah Greenick, pitt in ye East yard: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 198.

London, 1.

Greenrod, Greenroyd.—Local; v. Grindrod.

Grinslade, Grinslade.—Local, 'of the green slade,' a spot in co. Devon; v. Slade.

'Robertus de Greneaslade tenet in Greneaslade iii p'tem,' co. Devon. K. Antony Greneaslade, temp. Eliz. Z.

'Oct. 27, at Poltimore Church, G. G. Hick to Bessie Grinslade, Stoke Canon': Standard, Oct. 30, 1886.

London, 1, 3.

Greensmith.—Occup. 'the greensmith,' probably a worker in lead or latén.

Henry Greensmith, temp. Eliz. Z.

Richard Greensmythe, ibid.

Edward Greensmith, co. Norf. FF.

Cf. Blacksmith, a worker in iron, Brownsmith in copper and brass, Whitesmith in tin, and Redsmith in gold. It is only in our directories, however, that traces of all these sobriquets exist, Blacksmith and Whitesmith alone remaining as occupative titles. Greensmith may be seen over a hosier's shop in Southport, Lancashire; v. Brownsmith, Redsmith, &c.

Richard Grenesmith, 1611: Reg. St. Mary Aldermay, p. 155.

1768. Married—John Greensmith and Martha Weaver: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 178.

Harrogate, 2; Philadelphia, 6.

Greenstreet.—Local, 'at the green street.'

Johanna de Grenestrate, co. Camb., 1273. A.

1609. Symon Grenestreete and Mary Treswallen: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 166.

London, 3; Crockford, 5.

Greentree.—Local, 'at the green tree'; cf. Rowntree, Crabtree, Langtree, &c.

1762. Married—William Greentree and Hannah Turner: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 108.

Philadelphia, 1.

Greenway.—Local, 'at the green way,' by augmentation more usually Greenaway, q.v.

London, 3; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Greenwebb.—Occup. 'the green-webb,' a weaver of green cloth; cf. Greensmith, a worker in lead or latén. John Grenewebbe, co. Salop (Pardon's Roll, 6 Ric. II); cf. 'Kendal green,' a favourite cloth colour for foresters, woodwards, &c.

Greenwood.—Local, 'at the green-wood,' a well-known Yorkshire name. Of course other spots might give rise to the surname. But it is absolutely certain that some small spot between Huddersfield and Slaithwaite has given birth to the Greenwoods, who have ramified so marvellously in that county.

Johannes de Grenewode et Agnes uxore ejus, farnour de Graunge (Huddersfield), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 179.

Johanna de Grenewod', 1379: ibid. p. 180.

Ricardus de Grenewode, 1379: ibid. 1539. Married—John Leame and Alice Greenwood: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 221.

London, 30; West Rid. Court Dir., 63; Philadelphia, 76.

Greg, Gregg, Gregson.—Bapt. 'the son of Gregory,' from nick. Greg. For some reason or other Gregory was very popular as a font-name in cos. Yorkshire and Lanc. in the 13th and 14th centuries. In North Lancashire, as a result, Gregson became almost a colonial surname. Preston seems to have been the leading centre.

Simon fil. Greg, 1273. A.
Robert Grege, ibid.
Johannes Gregge, 1379: P. T. Howden-shire, pp. 9-10.
Willelmus Gregge, 1379: ibid.
Johannes Gregson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 286.
Henricus Gregson, 1379: ibid.
Hugo Gregson, 1379: ibid. p. 108.
Johanna Greg-doghter, 1379: ibid. p. 290.
Thomas Gregson, of Plumpton, 1540: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 130.
Richard Gregson, of Ingothead, 1587: ibid.

Robert Gregson, of Preston, 1607: ibid.
Christopher Gregson, 1542: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 16.
London, 1, 7, 4; Preston, 0, 0, 14; Manchester, 2, 1, 3; New York, 1, 2, 5; Boston (U.S.) (Gregson), 1.

Gregory.—Bapt. 'the son of Gregory.' This fontal name is now rarely used, but our directories prove a widespread popularity in the 13th and 14th centuries; v. Greg, Greig, Grigg, Gregson, &c. 'In the West it was borne (the name Gregory) by that greatest and best of papal watchmen to whom the English Church looks back as the original awakener of her faith' (Yonge, i. 255).

'Ac Gregory was a good man.'
Piers P. 4625.

No wonder it won great favour in pre-Reformation days, for apart from the great Pope Gregory, a succession of Gregorys sat on the papal chair.

Gregory Grimshaw, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Elyas fil. Gregor, co. Camb., ibid.
Peter Gregory, co. Bedf., ibid.
Richard fil. Gregorii, co. Bucks, ibid.
Gregorius of the Castell, C. R., 9 Ric. II.
Gregory Bodsankorthe, C. R., 10 Ric. II.

I only furnish a few instances. The Hundred Rolls prove a general liking for the name, and thousands of people to-day owe their surnames to the then reigning feeling in its favour.

London, 66; Philadelphia, 66.

Greig.—Bapt. 'the son of Gregory,' from nick. Greg, q.v. Greig is the Scotch form, but it was not always so.

Robert Greyg, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 268.
London, 21; New York, 9.

Grenfell.—Local, 'at the green fell'; v. Fell, a great North-English name. The evidence is not in favour of its being a variant of Grenville. In some cases, however, it may be.

Hugo de Grenfell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 273.
Ricardus de Grenfell, 1379: ibid. p. 278.
London, 1.

Grenville, Granvill, Granville.—Local, 'of Grenville,' doubtless the same as Granville, a familiar seaport of Lower Normandy. The Grenvilles of Wootton, co. Bucks, descend from Richard de Grenville, who came in with the Conqueror in the train of Walter Giffard, Earl of Longueville and Buckingham; v. Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 138. I subjoin a few spellings from the Hundred Rolls:

Thomas de Grenville, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Richard de Grenville, co. Oxf., ibid.
William de Grenville, co. Oxf., ibid.
Adam de Greynville, co. Wilts, ibid.
Eustace de Greynville, co. Bucks, ibid.
1666. Richard Grenvill (co. Bucks) and Elianore Temple: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 115.
1676. Robert Maur and Eliz. Greinville: ibid. p. 256.

London, 1, 1, 4; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 6.

Gresson.—Nick.; v. Grayson.

Gresty, Gristy, Grestey.—Local, 'of Gresty,' a township in the parish of Wyburnbury, co. Chester.

1604. Randle Grastie, of Warford: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 74.
1624. Elizabeth Lownes, of Grestie, co. Ches.: ibid. (1621-50), p. 141.
1639. Humphrey Grestie, of Farnworth: ibid. p. 91.
1648. Henry Grastye, of Warford, co. Ches.: ibid. p. 88.

Later on the surname assumed new variants:

1692. Elizabeth Greastie, of Macclesfield, widow: Wills at Chester (1681-1700).
1696. Joseph Greasty, of Great Warford, gentleman: ibid.

From Greasty the last change took place, viz. to Gresty, and that, with its own variants, is the form found in the district directories.

Manchester, 9, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Chester), 3, 0, 1; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 0.

Greswold.—Local, 'of the greswold,' i.e. the wold whereon the gris or grice fed; v. Grice.

George Greswold, or Grys wolde, or Grysold, 1533: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 176.
London, 2; Philadelphia, 2.

Greville, Greville, Grevel.—Local, 'of Greville.' Lower (Patr. Brit. p. 138) quotes as follows: 'Greville, a parish at the extremity of the isthmus of La Hogue, in Normandy, is supposed to have given name to the Lord of Greville who accompanied the Conqueror; but this is uncertain as there were three distinct fiefs which gave to their possessors the title of Sire de Greville' (M. de Gerville in Mem. Soc. Ant. Norm., 1825).

John de Greville, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
'This family was founded by the wool trade in the 14th cent. by William Grevel, "the flower of the wool-merchants in the whole realm of England," who died, and was buried at Campden, co. Glouc., in 1401': Shirley's Noble and Gentle Men. 1672-3. Henry Grevill and Eliz. Baker: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 213.
London, 4, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 0, 1, 0; New York, 2, 0, 1.

Grew, Grewe.—? Nick. 'the grew.' 'Grew, a greyhound. North' (Halliwell). It is worth noticing, however, that my instances are from Yorkshire. Henry III in 1250 spent his Christmas at York. In the expenditure for that visit appears the provision of '7000 fowls, 1750 partridges, 125 swans, 115 'grues' (an unknown bird), 125 peacocks, 290 pheasants, &c.; v. Miss Holt's paper in Christmas number of The Fireside, 1887, p. 15. As every other bird in the list is a familiar surname to-day, there is no reason why the 'grue' should not be the same.

Johannes Grewe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 48.
Johanna Grewe, 1379: ibid. p. 129.
Agnes Grewe, 1379: ibid. p. 130.
London, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 12, 1.

Grexon.—Bapt. 'the son of Greg' (q.v.); cf. Gregson, of which it is a sharpened form; cf. Baxter and Bagster for Bakester.

Derby, 1.

Greygroom.—Nick. from the colour of hair or clothes.

Robert Greygrom, Fines Roll, 1 Edw. III.

Greylock.—Nick. 'with the grey lock,' a common kind of sobriquet in the surname period; cf. Silverlock, Lovelock, Blacklock, &c.; M.E. lok. But in some cases these are personal names; cf. Havelock or Horlock.

William Greylake, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 115.

Peter Greylake, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 117.

Margery Greylake, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 110.

John Greylock, vicar of Kempston, co. Norf., 1396: FF. ix. 525.

Greyshank.—Nick. 'grey-shanked,' with legs dressed in grey.

Gilbert Greyschanke, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Greystock.—Local, 'of Grey-stock,' a parish eleven miles from Penrith, co. Cumb.

William Graystock, 1542: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 17.

Thomas Graistock, of Garstang, 1561: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 126.

Parnwell Graystocke, of Preston, 1670: ibid.

Henry Graystock, of Ribchester, 1673: ibid.

1739. Bapt.—Margaret, d. Thomas Graystock: Reg. Ulverston Ch. p. 329. Manchester, 1.

Gribble, Grimble, Grimball.—Bapt. 'the son of Grimbald,' a once familiar personal name in England. Gribble is the modern accepted surnominal form, although the more correct Grimble exists. Grimbald, a Saxon saint, was a monk of St. Omer, but placed at Oxford by King Alfred. Amongst the benefactors of Conishead Priory, in Furness, was 'Jordan, fil. Hugh, fil. Grimbald' (West's Ant. of Furness, p. 191). Grimbald of Plessis joined a rebellion against Duke William (Freeman's Norm. Conq. ii. 244).

Grimbaldus Aurifaber, co. Wilts: Domesday.

Grimbald or Grimbaud Pancefor, co. Glouc., 1273. A.

Gregory Grimbawd, co. Oxf., ibid.

Warin Grimboll, co. Suff., ibid.

Mabilia Grymbald, or Grymbaud, co. Linc., 30 Edw. I: BBB. p. 622.

Matilda Grymbard, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 5.

Adam Grymbald, wryght, 1379: ibid. p. 30.

John Grimbald, co. Linc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Robert Grimbaud, co. Northampton: ibid.

1585. Bapt.—Eliz., d. William Grymbolde: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 93.

1586.—Anne, d. William Grymbolde: ibid. p. 94.

1625. Buried.—Thomas Gribble: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 218.

London, 7, 2, 0; MDB. (Lincoln), 0, 3, 0; New York, 1, 0, 2.

Grice.—Nick. 'the grice,' a young pig.

'Gris: porcel': Reliq. Antiq. ii. 79 (Halliwell).

'Gryce, swyne or pygge—porcellus': Prompt Parv. p. 211.

'A grise, porcellus: a swyne': Cath. Ang.

'Goode gees and grys': Piers Plowman, l. 450.

Cf. Pigg, Hogg, Bacon, Purcell.

John le Gris, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Nicholas le Gris, or Grice, bailiff of Norwich, 1250: FF. iii. 59.

Thomas le Gris, 1313. M.

Adam Gris, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 160.

Johannes Gryse, 1379: ibid. p. 27.

London, 11; MDB. (Norfolk), 3; Philadelphia, 13.

Grierson; v. Grayson.

Grieve.—Offic. 'the greve'; v. Grayson.

Liverpool (1887), 4; Philadelphia, 7.

Griffin.—Bapt. (Welsh), 'the son of Griffin' or 'Griffith,' the name of many Welsh princes (Yonge, i.

353-4).

Griffin ap Oweyn. R.

Tuder fil. Griffin, 12 Edw. I: BBB. p. 348.

Griffin Parpoynt, C. R., 5 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Robertus Gryffyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 152.

John Gryffyn, 1379: ibid. p. 141.

Grylyn or Gryffyth Leyson, 1524: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 135.

1564. Bapt.—John, son of Griffyn Hall: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, l. 3.

1584.—Frances, son of Griffyn Jones (in the paper register, as distinct from the vellum, it is Griffith): ibid. p. 16.

London, 56; Philadelphia, 140.

Griffinhoofe.—'This German ne was introduced into England

b, one of the physicians of George

I' (Lower, p. 139). But the name is found earlier.

1574. Buried—Abraham Gryffyn-Hoffe, son of William Gryffyn Hoffe, stranger: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 193. Croxford, 2.

Griffith, Griffiths.—Bapt. (Welsh). A variant of Griffin, q.v.

John ap Griffith, of Bangor, 1585: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 77.

Edward ap Griffith, of Halewood, 1581: ibid.

London, 32, 96; Philadelphia, 150, 51.

Grigg, Griggs, Grigs, Grigson.—Bapt. 'the son of Gregory,' from the nick. Greg or Grig; v. Greg.

'Grigge rapit, dum Davie strepit, comes est quibus Hobbe': Gower.

Speaking generally, and judging by registers, Grigg was popular in the south, and Gregg in the north.

Grigge (without surname), co. Suff., 1273. A.

Richard fil. Grigge, co. Camb., ibid.

Grigge le Fulur, co. Camb., ibid.

Serle Grigg, co. Camb., ibid.

John Grigg, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 114.

Ricardus Grygge, 1415: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 7.

1625. Nicholas Broadhurst and Joane Grigson: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 155.

1626. Robert Griggs and Agnes Parkes: ibid. p. 166.

1633-4. Richard Peacocke and Rechard Grigg: ibid. p. 215.

London, 14, 8, 1, 2; Philadelphia, 13, 9, 0, 0.

Grim, Grimes.—Bapt. 'the son of Grim.' The s is genitive = Grim's son. Grim was common in the 13th century; cf. place-names

Grimston, Grimstead, and Grims-cote in the Hundred Rolls. Also cf.

Grimoldby, Grimshaw, or Grimsditch; v. Grimbart and Grimkettle.

Peter fil. Grim, Pipe Roll, 6 Hen. II.

Alan Grime, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Robert Grim, co. Hunts, ibid.

Warin Grim, co. Camb., ibid.

Henry Grym, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 231.

'Grym de Stanlegh holdeth Stanley, as of ancient tenure, in the name of forestry (circa 1300)': East Cheshire, ii. 7.

Johannes Gryme, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 111.

Ricardus Gryme, 1379: ibid.

Willelmus Gryme, 1379: ibid. p. 245.

Ellen Grime, of Bury, widow, 1575: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 78.

London, 0, 8; West Rid. Court Dir., 2, 0; Philadelphia, 35, 30; New York, 26, 1.

Grimball, -ble; v. Gribble.

Grimbert. — Bapt. 'the son of Grimbert' or 'Grimbard'; v. Yonge, ii. 189. One of the compounds of Grim, q.v.

Matilda Grymbard, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 5.

Grimbly; v. Grimoldby.

Grimes; v. Grim.

Grimkettle, Grimkil.—Bapt. 'the son of Grimketel' (Yonge, ii. 189). A compound of Kettle, q.v. Cf. Arkettle.

Grinchetyl. O.

Grimkettle. FF.

Mathew Paris, under date 1047, says of the Bishopric of Selsey: 'Defuncto Grinkel, Selesiensis pontifice, Hecca regis capellanus successit.'

In compounds Kettle usually became Kill and Kell. Hence the following entry:

Stephen Grimekil, 20 Edw. I. R.

Grimmit, Grimett, Grimmet.—Bapt. 'the son of Grimhild' (v. Yonge, ii. 189). The first stage of corruption would be Grimhilt, next Grimilt, and then finally Grimmit. So early as the 14th century we find Grymyd running side by side with Grymyld:

Johannes Grymyd, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 148.

Johannes Grymyld, 1379: ibid. p. 127. 1555. Married.—John Saunders and Elizabeth Grymholde; St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 3. 1771.—George Grimmett and Mary Reeve; St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 211.

— John Page Crayden and Ann Grimmett: ibid. p. 214.

Manchester (1887), i. o, o; Birmingham, i. 1, 2.

Grimoldby, Grimbleby, Grimby.—Local, 'of Grimoldby,' a parish in Linc., five miles from Louth. 'Alanus de Linc' tenuit in capite . . . 4 bovat' in Grimelbi' (K. p. 339, Hen. III). The surname in its correct form still lives in co. Lincoln, but, like many another surname, fares badly as it gets further from home. Probably the meaning is 'the by (i.e. the dwelling) of Grimwald'; v. Yonge, ii. 189.

Gilbert de Grimmolby, co. Linc., 1273. A. Mariota de Grimmolby, co. Linc., ibid.

John de Grimoldeby, co. Linc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Walterus de Grimoldeby, co. Linc. Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

London, o, i, 1; MDB. (Lincoln), 3, o, o; Oxford, o, o, 2.

Grimond, Grimmond, Garment—Bapt. 'the son of Gardmond' (Yonge, ii. 241); v. Garment.

Edmund Gurmund, co. Norf., 1273. A. John Gurmund, co. Soms., ibid.

Thomas Gurmund, co. Soms., ibid.

Thomas Gurmunt, co. Leic., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

London, i, 2, 1; New York, 3, o, i.

Grimsditch.—Local, 'of Grim's dike,' i.e. the dike of Grim, a Cheshire surname. There is a Grimesdike, a hamlet in the parish of Barwick-in-Elmet near Leeds, co. York; but a Grimsditch in the Hundred of Bucklow, co. Ches., seems to have given rise to this surname; v. Grim and Grimes for the personal name.

Peter Grymesdiche, 1474: East Cheshire, ii. 381 n.

Hugh Grymesdich of Grimesdich, co. Ches.: Visit. Herts, 1572, p. 17.

John Grimsditch, of Grimsdiche: Compositions for Knighthood, Cheshire, 1631 (1545-1620), p. 206.

John Grimsditch, co. Ches., 1674: Exchequer Depositions (1545-1620), p. 138.

Thomas Grimsditch, M.P. for Macclesfield, 1837: East Cheshire, ii. 485.

Liverpool (1887), 2.

Grimshaw.—Local, 'of Grimshaw,' some woody place in South Lancashire, called no doubt after its earliest possessor, Grim (q.v.). This surname is very common in cos. Lanc. and York.

Adam de Grymesshawe, (Tottington) co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Thomas Sagar, of Grimshaw, 1618: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 168.

Alice Grimshaw, of Great Harwood, 1579: ibid. p. 77.

Richard Grimshaw, of Clayton-on-the-Moors, 1575: ibid.

Nicholas Grymeshawe, 1622: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 79.

London, 5; Manchester, 24; Philadelphia, 4.

Grimson.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Grim,' an early personal or font name; v. Grim.

Cecilia Grymeson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 233.

Ellen Grimyson, of Teales, widow, 1616: Lanc. Wills at Richmond, p. 130.

(2) Local, 'of Grimston,' co. York; v. Grimston.

New York, 1.

Grimstead.—Local, 'of Grimstead,' a parish in co. Wilts, i.e.

the homestead of Grim, the first settler or proprietor; v. Grim.

Peter de Grymstede, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 212.

MDb. (co. Soms.), 4.

Grimston, Grimstone.—Local, 'of Grimston' or 'Grimstone.' There are three townships named Grimston in co. York, also a parish near York city. Also two parishes named Grimstone, one in co. Linc., the other in co. Norfolk. The northern localities seem to have originated the surname.

Adam de Grinneston, co. York, 1273. A. William de Grinneston, co. York, ibid.

Godfrey de Grinneston, co. Oxf., ibid.

Johannes de Grymeston, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 210.

Thomas de Grymston, 1379: ibid. p. 132.

William de Grimeston, 16 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 20.

1626. Bapt.—Harbot Kell (sic), the sonne of Sir Henrey Grimston, and the lady Margeritt his wif: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 118.

London, 1, o; Crockford, 2, o; West Rid. Court Dir., 5, o; Philadelphia, o, 2.

Grimwade, Grimwood.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Grimwald' (?); v. Yonge, ii. 189. (2) Local, 'of Grimwood,' i.e. Grim's wood; cf. Grimshaw, i.e. Grim's shaw.

London, 3, 9.

Grinder, Grinter (?), Gren-ter (?).—Occur. 'the grinder.' Very rare.

John Grynder, C. R., 16 Ric. II.

John Grinder, High Sheriff of Gloucester, 1405: Atkyns' Hist. Glouc. p. 39.

Joan, the widow of Richard Grinder, died endowed with Rodley, 24 Hen. VI: Rudder's Hist. Glouc. p. 793.

MDb. (co. Somerset), o, i, 1; New York, o, 1, o.

Grindlay, Grindley.—Local, 'of Grindley,' a township in the parish of Malpas, co. Ches.

1569. Bapt.—Thomas Gryndley, Mottram: Reg. Prestbury (Cheshire), p. 27.

1576. Buried—Margaret Gryndley, Mottram, ibid. p. 54.

London, 2, 1; Manchester, 1, 2; Boston (U.S.), o, 5.

Grindle, Grindell, Grindall.—Local, 'of Grindall,' a chapelry in the parish of Bridlington, E. Rid. Yorks.

Roger de Grendale, co. Hunts, 1273. A. Walter de Grendale, co. York, ibid.

1617. Married—Phillip Hatton and Mary Grindall: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 44.
1630. Bapt.—Judyth, d. William Grindall: ibid. p. 114.
Crockford, 2, 0, 0; Liverpool, 0, 1, 0; New York, 4, 0, 1.

Grindon.—Local, 'of Grindon' or 'Grendon', townships or parishes in cos. Durham, Stafford, Northampton, Warwick, Hereford, and Buckingham.

Robert de Grendon', co. Salop, 1273. A.
Geoffrey de Grendon', co. Oxf., ibid.
John de Grendon', co. Derby, ibid.
Peter de Grendon, co. Northampton, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.
Robert de Grendon, co. Warwick, ibid.
Warin de Grendon, co. Hereford, 20 Edw. I. R.
John de Grendon, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 298.
1749. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Daniel Grendon: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 44.
Manchester, 1.

Grindrod, Greenrod, Greenroyd.—Local, 'of the green road' or 'the green royd'; v. Royd, and cf. Ormerod, Murgatroyd, &c. Grindrod is the usual modern form, in which the d is intrusive. An old wall marks the place where the Greenroyd lay:

William Riding, of Grindrod, in Hundersfield, 1626: Wills at Chester (1621–50), p. 184.

Hundersfield is the eastern division of the parish of Rochdale, co. Lanc.

Rycharde Grenerowde, 1541: Subsidy R., Salford Hundred, vol. xii. p. 145 (Rec. Soc., Lanc. and Ches.).

James Greenrodd, of Manchester, 1617: Wills at Chester (1545–1620), p. 76.

Richard Greenrode, of Inchfield in Rochdale, 1623: ibid. (1621–50), p. 90.
Richard Greenrood, of Broadinge, 1671: ibid. (1660–80), p. 100.

London, 0, 1, 0; Rochdale, 7, 0, 0; Manchester, 5, 0, 0; Bolton, 2, 0, 0; Halifax (Greenroyd), 1; Philadelphia, 12, 0, 0.

Grinold.—? Bapt. 'Grimwald' (Yonge, ii. 189).

Willelmus Gronell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 286.

West Rid. Court Dir., 1; Sheffield, 1.

Grinslade; v. Greenslade.

Grinstead, Grinsted.—Local, 'of Grimstead'; m has become n; cf. Sinkinson for Simkinson, Tonkin for Tomkin, &c.; v. Grim. There are two parishes called Grinstead in the dioc. of Salisbury.

John de Grimstede, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
William de Grinnstede, co. Wilts, ibid.
London, 0, 1; Crockford, 1, 0.

Gripper.—Occup. 'the graper,' a maker of grapes. 'Graip, Grape.' A dung-fork, a three-pronged fork' (Jamieson). 'A grape, ubi forke, tridens': Cath. Ang.

'Two gads of yerne viiis, . . . a grape, 2 yerne forks': Wills and Inventories of the Northern Counties (Surtees Soc.), ii. 171.

1292. Peter le Graper, burgess of Newcastle-on-Tyne: Brand's Hist. of Newcastle, i. 41.

Richard le Graper. H.

Agnes Graper. B.
London, 3.

Grisewood.—Local, 'of Grise-wood,' a wood frequented by grice; v. Grice, and cf. Greswold.

John Gryswood. W. 11.
London, 1.

Gristy.—Local; v. Gresty.

Gritten, Gritton.—(1) Local, 'of Gretton,' a chapelry in the parish of Winchcombe, co. Glouc.; (2) 'of Gretton,' a parish near Rockingham, co. Northampton.

Nicholas de Gretton, co. Glouc., 1273. A.
Thomas de Gretton, co. Glouc., ibid.
Adam de Gretton, co. Camb., ibid.

1665. Richard Squire and Mary Gretton: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 106.

1672. Charles Colman and Eliz. Gritton: ibid. p. 206.
London, 3, 2; New York, 1, 0.

Grocock, -cott, Grocock, -cott; v. Growcock.

Groom, Groome.—Occup. 'the groom,' i.e. the servant; cf. Goodgroom.

Robert le Grom, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Seman le Grom, co. Suff., ibid.
Johannes Grom, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 104.

Robertus Grome, 1379: ibid. p. 113.
Adrian Grom, C. R., 17 Hen. VI.
London, 32, 1; Philadelphia, 28, 9.

Gros, Grose, Gross, Grose, Groce.—Nick. 'the gross,' large, fat, heavy; cf. French Grosjean, equivalent to Scotch Micklejohn; v. Grace.

Almaricus Grossus, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Jordan le Gros, co. Bedf., ibid.
John le Gros, co. Oxf., ibid.

Roger le Gros, co. Norf., 20 Edw. I.
1673. Married—Charles Groce and Eliz. Swallowe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 177.

1678–9. John Manley and Anne Grosse: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 201.

London, 10, 11, 5, 0; Philadelphia, 3, 7, 200, 3, 2.

Groser.—Occup. 'the grocer,' an engrosser, a wholesale dealer, as distinct from regrater, a retail dealer (Liber Albus, Riley, p. 547). Almost too late to get into the directory, as 'spicer' was the earlier term; v. Spicer. It was not till 1617 that the Grocers' became an independent company. 'John Guter, grossarius,' 1310 (Riley's Memorials of London). In 1363 a statute of Edward III speaks of 'Merchauntz nomely Grossers,' because they 'engrossent totes maners des merchandises vendables.' The following is early and curious: 'Laurence de Beton, Hugo le Fourbor, Walter le Grorst Spicer, John de Preston,' &c. These names occur in a list of London tradesmen (Edw. II, R. p. 458).

London, 2.

Grossetete.—Nick. 'grosseteste.' The English form was 'Greathead,' q.v., still existing. Robert Grosseteste, elected bishop of Lincoln in 1235, was born at Stradbroke, co. Suff.

Richard Grocete, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Peter Grossetest, co. York. W. 4.
Robert Groteste, London. X.
London, 1.

Grosvenor.—Offic. 'le grosveneur,' the head hunter. It is said that the family descend from an uncle of Rollo, the founder of Normandy, and that the first settler in England was Gilbert le Grosvenor, nephew of Hugh Lupus, earl of Chester, himself nephew of the Conqueror; v. Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 140.

Robert le Grosvenor. J.
Robert le Grosvenor. T.
1663. Samuel Sommers, girdler, and Sarah Grosvenor: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 98.

1667–8. Thomas Alsopp and Mary Grossevenue: ibid. p. 147.
London, 11; New York, 6.

Grote.—? —. Probably for Great (q.v.) the big, the tall.

William Grote, co. Bedf., 1273. A.
Henry Grote, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 240.
London, 1.

Grove, Groves.—Local, 'at the grove,' a clump of trees, originally a woodland avenue cut out from the forest; v. Grave and Greaves.

Hawysa atte Grove, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 116.
 Stephen atte Grove, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 120.
 Thomas atte Grove, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 251.

Willelmus del Grove, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 35.

1668. Married—George Groves and Dorothy Waterson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 144.

1699. Bapt.—Anne, d. Samuel Grove, tillit painter: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 138.

London, 31, 36; Philadelphia, 24, 54.

Growcock, Grocock, Grocott, Groocott, Grocock.—? Local. The suffix -cock and -cott got confused from the days of the Hundred Rolls (1273); -cock would denote in general a baptismal origin, as in Wilcock; -cot or -cott a local origin, as in Westcot. There is no baptismal name that would be likely to originate the surname. It is most probably local, but I cannot identify the spot; cf. Glasscock for Glascott.

1759. Married—Henry Grocock and Jane Elliott: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 88.

1765. — Benjamin Growcock and Frances Thridgould: ibid. p. 140.

1767. — John Stokes and Ann Grocock: ibid. p. 163.

1782. — Thomas Carel and Sarah Growcot: ibid. p. 339.

Manchester (1887), 1, 3, 3, 0, 0; Liverpool (1887), Groocott, 1; New York (Groocock), 3.

Grubb, Grubbe, Grub. — ? Personal, 'the son of Grub' (?). Burke's Landed Gentry says, 'The family of Grubbe, spelt in the old registers Grube or Groube, migrated from Germany about the year 1430, after the Hussite persecutions, and subsequently settled at Eastwell, in the parish of Potterne, co. Wilts, where they have ever since remained.' As will be seen below, the name occurs two centuries earlier on English soil without the assistance of a foreign persecution to make it respectable.

John Grubbe, co. Norf., 1273. A.
 Alan Grubbe, co. Camb., ibid. p. 107.
 Johannes Grubb', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 106.

Johannes Grubbe, 1379: ibid. p. 5. Also again on pp. 9, 10.

1596. Bapt.—Jane, d. Thomas Grubbe: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 31.

London, 8, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 62, 0, 0; New York (Grub), 6.

Grubber.—Occur. 'the grubber.' The general idea seems to be one who used spade or axe on the turf or close to the roots of trees. 'Grubbare in the erthe, or other thynggys; fossor': Prompt. Parv. The following entry is one amongst many containing names of monastery servants whose surnames represented the offices they severally fulfilled:

1344. 'To John Grubber, for covering the grange, and the long stable, 16d': Accounts of Holy Island Monastery (QQQ. p. 87).

Possibly the roof of both grange and stables was composed of sods, or of wood obtained by grubbing trees.

Ricardus Grubber, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 16.

Johannes Grubber, 1379: ibid.

Agnes Grubber, 1379: p. 93.

Johannes Grobbat, 1379: ibid. p. 82.

Thomas Grubber, 1379: ibid. p. 93.

I dare not say that Grubber is obsolete as a surname, but I have not come across it.

Grundulf.—Bapt. 'the son of Grundulf,' one of the many compounds of Ulf.

Henricus Grundelf, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 273.

Adam Grundolf, 1379: ibid.

Ricardus Grundolf, 1379: ibid. p. 288.

Willelmus Grundolf, 1379: ibid. p. 290.

Grundy.—Bapt. 'the son of Gundry,' q.v. This, variant (with which cf. Brodrick for Baldrick) strongly ramified in South Lancashire, and has extended itself in every direction. It is said that Bury is the home of this particular stock.

James Grundy, of Rumworth, 1579: Wills at Chester, (1545–1620), p. 77.

John Grundy, of Astley, parish of Leigh, 1587: ibid.

Peter Grundy, of Farnworth, 1618: ibid.

'Roger Grundie, in goods, £iii. viiis.' (Rumworth): Subsidy Roll, 1622 (Lanc. and Ches. Rec. Soc. xii. 160).

Manchester, 28; London, 3; Philadelphia, 11.

Guarin, Guerin.—Bapt. 'the son of Guarin'; v. Warin or Wareing, and Warren (2).

Guarinus de Chauncy. E.

Guarinus Banastre. C.

Ivo fil. Guarin, ibid.

Philadelphia, 0, 5.

Gubbin, Gubbins.—Local, 'de Gobion,' seemingly of Norman local origin, registered early as Gubin and Gubyun. Gubbin looks strangely like the diminutive of some forgotten personal name, but all the evidence is strongly in favour of the above solution. Gubbins seems to be a modern innovation. Gubbin was the 18th century form.

John Gobion, London, 1273. A.
 Jocus Gubyun or Gobyun, co. Sussex, ibid.

Thomas Gubin, co. Oxf., ibid.

Reginald Gobion, co. Bedf., ibid.

Richard de Gobyun, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Thomas Gobyon, co. Notts, ibid.

1775. Married—John Gubbin and Eliz.

Scott: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 257.

Crockford, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Gubby; v. Guppy.

Gudge.—Bapt. 'the son of Guch'; v. Gooch.

Gudgeon, Gudgen.—Bapt. A modification of Goodison, q.v. Although not exactly analogous, Hodgson and Dodgson are invariably pronounced to this day in the North as Hodgun and Dodgun; cf. Woodger for Woodyer. Especially notice Dudgeon (London Dir., 4) for Dodgson. Gudgeon travelled out of Yorkshire some generations ago through the Skipton district into Furness, where it is a well-known surname. It is corroborative of my view that Gudgeon is found in the very county (Yorks) where Goodison was so early and so strongly established. v. Goodjohn.

1632. Buried—Ann Goodgion, of Skipton, who in her lifetime had been midwife to 920 children: Reg. Skipton Church.

William Gudgion, wintner, 1652: Rent Roll of Skipton (Dawson's Skipton, p. 199).

London, 3, 1; Manchester (1887), 4, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Guest.—(1) Nick. 'the guest,' the received stranger; M.E. gest. An early form was gist.

'The lighte of grace that gastely giste.' (Halliwell.)

Roger Gest, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

Adam le Gest, Fines Roll, 11 Edw. I.

Laurence le Gist, co. Soms., 1 Edw.

III: Kirby's Quest, p. 104.

Rogerus Gest, 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 88.
Robertus Gest, 1379: ibid. p. 92.

(2) Local.

Gilbert de Geyste, co. Norf., 1273. A. 1604. Buried—Lettis Gest, servant with Mr. Thomas Alford: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 152.
London, 12; Philadelphia, 18.

Guffey; v. Goffee.

Guichard, Whicheord (?), Gichard. — Bapt. 'the son of Guichard'; v. Whiskard for other variants. Whicheord can hardly fail to be a variant.

Richard de Grosse, co. Linc., 1273. A. Gwycharthus Charron, 1315: DDD. i.

74. Guichard de Charron, 1431: ibid. p. 19. John Gychard, 1340: KKK. vol. vi. p. xxxix.
London, 1, 1, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 0, 1.

Guille, Guillet. — Bapt. 'the son of Guillaume,' from nick. Guille, corresponding to our familiar Will; v. Gillott for a fuller history. These and other forms, like Guillaume, are of modern French importation.

London, 3, 2; New York, 2, 0.

Guinness. — Local, probably 'of Guines.'

Baldwin de Ginnes. C.
Radulph de Ginnes, ibid.

But Mr. Lower says, 'A modern corruption of the old Irish Magennis' (Patr. Brit. p. 140).

London, 2; New York, 1; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Guion, Guyon. — Bapt. 'the son of Guy,' from the dim. Guyon; cf. Mari-on, Gibb-on, &c. The great popularity of the other dim. Guiot (v. Wyatt) made Guion rare. But there are three Wyons in the London Directory, and Guyon itself is not extinct.

'Olyvere Guyon, a jakett of blue, and murreye cloth': Wardrobe Accounts, Edw. IV, 1480, p. 164.

With the following entries, cf. Marian for Marion:

John Guion, co. Westm., 1273. A. Nicholas Gyan, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 101.
Cristina Gyan, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

William Gyon, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 287.

Crockford, 0, 3; Sheffield, 3, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 3.

Guise. — (1) Local, 'of Guise,' the district so called in the east of France. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Guy,' whence Guys; cf. Williams, Jones, &c.

Anselm de Gyse, co. Hunts, 1273. A. John de Gyse, co. Berks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

John de Gyse, co. Bedf., 20 Edw. I. R. William de Gyse, co. Norf., ibid.

1675. Thomas Alderne and Ellinor Guise: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 245.

1691. Bapt.—John, s. John Guyes: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 340.

London, 1; Oxford, 3; Philadelphia, 4.

Gull. — (1) Bapt. 'the son of Gull,' equivalent to Gill (Jill), being a more correct nick. of Juliana.

Robert Gulle, co. Linc., 1273. A. Richard Gulle, co. Linc., ibid.

Johannes Gulle, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 14.

Magota Gulle, 1379: ibid.

(2) Nick, 'the gull,' the seabird so called.

Clement le Gul, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Richard le Gul, co. Oxf., ibid.

Thomas Gul, co. Camb., ibid.
London, 2.

Gulliver, Gulliford. — (1) Bapt. 'the son of Gulfer.' 'Gulfer of Villera' made peace and submitted to William (Freeman's Norm. Conq. iv. 640). Probably the Scandinavian Gunnolfir by change of l for n, a common habit (v. Yonge, ii. 317).

Richard Gulavere, co. Northampton, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Roger Gulafre, co. Oxf., ibid.

John Golafre, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Henry Gulafre, co. Norf., ibid.

Peter Golafre, co. Camb., ibid.

Thomas Gulafre, co. Glouc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Godfrey Golofre, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 100.

(2) Local, 'of Guildford,' or perhaps 'Guldeford,' dioc. of Chichester. Lower says, 'Gulliver occurs in London Dir. in juxtaposition with Gulliford, suggesting a common origin.' A correspondent of N. and Q. says, 'The names of Gulliver and Gulliford are quite common in parts of Somerset, about Kilmington, Stourton, and Brewham, and I have frequently seen them spelt both ways' (N. and Q., 2 Ser. iii. 422). These surmises are correct, as the following entries prove:

Walter Gullefer, 1633: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 84.

Walter Gulliford, 1654: ibid. p. 208.

Henry Gulliford, 1670: ibid. ii. 89.

Henry Gulliford, 1671: ibid.

Walter Gulliford, 1672: ibid.

Lawton Gilliver was Pope's bookseller, and it has been suggested that Swift had a grudge against him. Hence Lemuel Gulliver, the initials being the same. Of course Gilliver is but another corruption of the same name. Cf. Telfer and Telford.

1779. Married—Walter Gullifer (co. Essex) and Mary A. Crosby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 303.

(3) ? Bapt. 'the son of Guinevere' (?), one of endless instances of the change of n into l, or vice versa; cf. Phillimore for Finnemore, bannister for baluster. Hence 'Gilliver—a wanton wench' (Halliwell), a memory of the character of the queen, who was 'Bad when little, worse when great.'

London, 4, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1, 1.

Gully. — (1) Local, 'at the gully,' from residence by or in a narrow channel or gully; seemingly a West-country name. (2) Local, 'of Goleheye.' For suffix, v. Hey.

Robert de Goleheye, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 246.

John Gulye, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 105.

London, 1.

Gulson; v. Gouldstone.

Gumbol. — Bapt. 'Grimbold.' This curious corruption is instanced as existing both by Lower and Ferguson. I have not met with it. The Testa de Neville supplies the origin in its different forms of Grimbold:

John Grimbold, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Richard Grimbold, ibid.

Robert Grumbaud, ibid.

Robert Gumbaud, ibid.

As -bald or -bold is the correct suffix, the last would be Gumbold, which would easily lead by the law of imitation to Gumbol. Gumbrell (London Directory) looks as if it belonged to this stock.

(Gumbrell), London, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Gumbrell. — Bapt.; v. Gumbol.

Gumm. — Bapt.; v. Gomm.

Gummer.—Bapt. 'the son of Gomer'; cf. Gomersall, a parish in the W. Rid. of Yorks.

Cumer (G for C?) de Gaunkeville, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K. Gomus (i.e. Gomerus) de Riston, 1273. A.

Simon Gomer, co. York, ibid.
Stephen Gumer, co. Leic., ibid.
Robert Gomar, co. Hunts, ibid.
London, 2; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Gunby, Gunbie.—Local, 'of Gunby,' two parishes in co. Lincoln, one near Spilsby, the other near Colsterworth. The meaning is the by or dwelling of Gunn; v. Guntrip.

Thomas de Gunneby, cos. York and Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.
1542. Married—John Gunby and Eliz. Parett: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 2.
London, 2, 1.

Gundolf.—Bapt. 'the son of Gundolf'; cf. Randolph.

William Gundolf, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 94.

Gundry, Grundy, Goundry, Gunderson.—Bapt. 'the son of Gundred' or 'Gundry,' a once common, but now forgotten font-name, but it has immortalized itself in Mrs. Grundy.

Gundrea, mater Rogeri de Moubraie, 1138, called by Young the historian of Whitby, 'Gundrey Mowbray': FFF. p. 516.

Gundreda Giffard, 28 Edw. I: BBB. p. 581.

Gundred Basingham, temp. Edw. I: Visitation of Yorkshire (1563), p. 361 (Harl. Soc.).

Gundred la Bygote, C. R., 5 Edw. I. Gundrada, daughter of Gerbod and Matilda: Freeman, Norm. Conq. iii. 86.

William of Lancaster, first baron of Kendal, married Gundred, countess of Warwick: West's Ant. of Furness, p. 29.

Grundy seems gradually to have ousted Gundry, although both exist as surnames. The process of change from Gundry to Grundy is shown in the following entry from the Plymouth Directory, 1873:

'William Grundy, dining rooms, 112, Union St.'

where an r is introduced into the first syllable before the r in the second has been yet deposited. It is curious to note that in North Durham, where Gundrey was well known six centuries ago, the surname of Goundry is common. I soon found five in the neighbourhood of Gosforth in August, 1886. Still more interesting was it to find Gunderson in North Shields, an evident patronymic founded on the name.

Gundr' filia Fulco Paynel, 1273. A.
1775. Married—Nathaniel Gundry and Julia Maria Palmer: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 253.

London, 4, 3, 1, 0; Manchester, 0, 28, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0, 0, 0.

✓ Gunn, Gunson, Gunns, Gunnis.—Bapt. 'the son of Gawen,' popularly Gunn. Gunson is well known in the Furness district of North Lanc., and Gawen was till recently a font-name there; v. Gawen.

Matilda fil. Gunne, co. Camb., 1273. A.
William Gunne, co. Suff., ibid.
Nicholas Gunne, co. Hunts, ibid.
Bartholomew Gunson, sup. for B.A., 1514: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 91.

Robert Gunson, of Haverthwaite, 1575: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, p. 131.
Roger Gunson, vicar of Fincham, co. Norf., 1587: FF. vii. 358.

James Gunson, of Tatham, 1595: ibid.
London, 14, 0, 0, 2; Lancashire Court Dir., 1, 4, 0, 0; MDB. (Norfolk), 1, 0, 2, 0; (Suffolk), 3, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 38, 7, 0, 5.

Gunnell.—Bapt. 'the son of Gunnilda,' popularly Gunnell; v. Gunnell.

Gunnilda Diverc, 1273. A.
Gonnilda de Depe, ibid.
William fil. Gunnilde, ibid.
Alan Gunnlyd, ibid.

Stephen fil. Gunnild', ibid.
Gonnild de Coleford, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 166.

Gunnild Hoperis, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 145.

Gunnell' de Caudlouby, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Gunnildā Reyngud, C. R., 23 Edw. I. 1565. Married—John Gunnell and Anne Butler: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 5.

1730.—Thomas Bunney and Ann Gunnell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 7.
London, 3; New York, 1.

Gunner.—Bapt. 'the son of Gunner.' The forms in Domesday are many. In co. Hereford, Gunner; in Berks, Gunnere; in Essex, Gunnerus; in Cheshire, Gunnor; in Devon, Gonnar. The form in Miss Yonge's Glossary is Gunnar (Christian Names, ii. 315).

Gunnora de la More, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Mathew fil. Gunnar, 35 Edw. I: BBB. p. 39.

Guner Wygle. H.
Willelmus Gonnor', 1379: P. T. Yorks.

P. 42.
Michael Gonnar (in charge of artillery!), Issue Roll, 11 Edw. IV.
London, 7; New York, 2.

Gunnery.—Bapt. 'the son of Gundry,' q.v. The variation is a natural one; cf. Hendry and Henery for Henry.

Crockford, 1.

Gunning.—Bapt. 'the son of Gunwyn,' one of the many northern names with prefix Gun; v. Gundry, Gunner, Gunnell, Gunther, Gunter, &c. For corruption into Gunning, cf. Ayling from Aylwin. The g is excrement, as in Jennings, &c.

Gundewyn de Nethergate, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Gerald Gundwyn, co. Suff., ibid.
Gerard Gunwyn, co. Suff., ibid.
Willelmus Gunwyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 79.

The last two entries relate to the same individual.

1752. George William, earl of Coventry, and Maria Gunning: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 47.
London, 6; New York, 20.

Gunson.—Bapt. 'the son of Gunn,' q.v.

Gunther, Gunter.—Bapt. 'the son of Gunter.' Lower says that both Gunther and Gunter appear as tenants in Domesday; v. Gunther, Yonge, ii. 315.

Walter Guntard, co. Norf., 1273. A.
John Gunter, co. Oxf., ibid.
Adam Gunt, 1319: PPP. i. 49.
Gunter fil. Herbert: Pipe Roll, 11 Hen. II. p. 41.

'Mr. William Gunther, Central Works, Oldham, exhibits four turbines' (Manchester Exhibition): Manchester Courier, July 25, 1887.

London, 3, 2; Philadelphia, 14, 1.

Guntun.—Local, 'of Guntun,' parishes in cos. Norfolk and Suffolk. This surname is still a representative name in co. Norfolk. The meaning is 'the town' or 'enclosure' of Gunn; v. Town and Gunn, and cf. Guntrip.

'In 1243, Matthew de Guntun, and Isabel, his wife, had a release for 20s. per ann. of their portion of titles in Castre': FF. xi. 204.

Geoffrey de Gunneton, co. Suff., 1273. A. Adam de Guntone, co. Norf., ibid.
Henry de Gunton, cos. Warw. and Leic., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.
Murdac de Gunton, cos. Warw. and Leic., ibid.

John de Gunton, vicar of Tunstal, co. Norf., 1361: FF. xi. 120.
London, 8; MDB. (Norfolk), 10; (Suffolk), 1; New York, 1.

Guntrip.—Local, 'of Gunthorpe,' a modification; cf. Thripp or Thripp for Thorp. (1) A parish in co. Norf.; (2) a hamlet in the parish of Paston, co. Northampton; (3) a township in the parish of Lowdham, co. Notts; (4) a hamlet in the parish of Belton, co. Rutland. In all cases meaning the 'thorp of Gunn,' the name of the original settler; v. Gunn and Gunson, and cf. the place-names, Gunton, Gunby, and Gunthwaite, &c.

Bartholomew de Gunthorp, London, 20 Edw. I. R.

Robert de Gunthorp, London, ibid.
1623. William Gunthropp and Katherine Gibbons: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 121.

1698. Married—George Houlroyd and Martha Gunthrupp: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 47.

1780.—Peter Truck and Eleanor Gunthorpe: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 312.
Crockford, 1.

Guppy, Gubby (?).—Local, 'of Gopheye,' some spot in the West country. The suffix is -hey, a hedge or enclosure; v. Hey.

Nicholas Gopheye, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 141.

Cf. also Mabilla de Gopeworthly, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid. p. 148.

1412. Robert Guppeye: Cal. of Wills in Court of Husting (2).

1608. Bapt.—Margaret, d. John Goopie: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 54.

London, 2, 2; Exeter, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Soms.), 4, 0; Philadelphia, 2, 0.

Gurdon, Gurden.—Local, 'de Gourdon.' 'This family came into England with the Conqueror from Gourdon, on the borders of Perigord' (B. L. G., quoted by Lower).

Amvina de Gurdon, co. Southampton, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Adam de Gardune, co. Southampton, ibid.

Bartholomew Gurdon, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Thomas Gurdon, co. Oxf., ibid.
Roger Gurdon, co. Camb., ibid.

Adam Gurdon, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 127.

1674. Bapt.—Deborah, d. John Gurdon, merchant: St. Dionis Backchurch (London), p. 120.

1784. Married—Henry Gurden and Eleanor Hall: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 358.
London (1893), 3, 1; Oxford, 0, 6.

Gurney, Gurnay, Gurnee.—Local, 'of Gournai,' probably Gournai-en-Brai, in the arrondissement of Neufchatel. We are told that there were two Hugh de Gournays at the battle of Hastings.

'li viel Hue de Gornai
Ensemble o li sa gent de Brai.'
Roman de Rou (quoted by Lower).

The two Hughs received grants of land in Norfolk, in which county the name is still strong.

Milesenta fil. Hugh de Gorney, co. Bedf., 1273. A.

John de Gurnay, co. Norf., ibid.
Anselm de Gurney, co. Glouc., ibid.

Robert de Gurnay, co. Wilts, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

John de Gorney, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 158.

Robert Gournay, rector of Hethel, co. Norf., 1438: FF. v. 100.

London, 41, 0, 0; MDB. (Norfolk), 13, 0, 0; New York, 10, 0, 6; Philadelphia, 13, 1, 0.

Gusterson.—Bapt. 'the son of Custance,' a corruption of Custerson (v. Custance).

London, 2.

Gutch.—Bapt. 'the son of Guch'; v. Gooch.

Gutlack.—Bapt. 'the son of Gutlach'; v. Goodlake.

London, 1.

Gutter.—Local, 'at the gutter,' from residence thereby; M.E. gotere, v. Gott.

John de la Gotere, Fines Roll, 15 Edw. II.

Andrew de la Gotere, C. R., 32 Edw. I. Philadelphia, 1.

Guttridge, Guttridge.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Godrich,' q.v. (2) Local, 'of Goodrich' or 'Gotheridge,' a parish in co. Hereford.

'Jonathan Swift
Had the gift
By fatherige, motherige,
And by brotherige,
To come from Gotherige:
But now is spoiled clean,
And an Irish dean.'

(Pope's lines on 'Swift's Ancestors,' Globe edit. of Pope's Works, p. 497.) Swift set up a monument to his grandfather in the church at Goodrich.

Thomas de Goderigge, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

1693. Benjamin Browne and Deliverance Guttridge: Marriage Lic. (Canterbury), p. 210.

Deliverance was an occasional Puritan personal name; see my Curiosities of Puritan Nomenclature, pp. 169–70.

London, 7, 3; Philadelphia, 3, 0.

Guy.—Bapt. 'the son of Guy.' It appears to have prevailed in France very early as Guy, Guies, Guyon, and the feminine Guiette' (Yonge, ii. 31). The English dims. were Wyot and Wyon; v. Wyatt. In the days of gunpowder plot and Guy Fawkes the name lost caste, and as a fontal title has never recovered itself.

John fil. Gwydonis, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Robert Gy, co. Camb., ibid.

Guy de Boys. H.
Imbert fil. Guidonis. T.

1573. Bapt.—Jane Gwyte: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 7.

1597.—William, s. Richarde Guy: ibid. p. 32.

1666. Nathaniel Ponder and Mary Guy: Marriage Alleg. (Canterbury), p. 124.

London, 21; Philadelphia, 24.

Guyatt.—Bapt. 'the son of Guy,' from dim. Guy-ot; v. Wyatt. This form has maintained an independent position from the first, although Wyatt is the almost universal English dress; cf. Gwilliam and William.

Johannes Gyott, faber, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 247.

Aleyn Gyot. H.

William Wyett, or Wyat, or Wiotte, or Gwyett, sup. for B.A., 1564: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 251.

1743. Married—John Gyot and Mary Hoskins: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 31.

1753.—William Guyat and Mary Bradford: ibid. p. 50.

1757.—Thomas Gyett and Ann Thompson: ibid. p. 68.

London, 1.

Guyn.—Bapt. 'the son of Guy'; v. Guion.

Gwatkin.—Bapt. 'the son of Walter' (Gualter), from nick. Wat and dim. Wat-kin. Gwatkin, like

Gwillim, is a Welsh form, but adheres more closely to the original; cf. the following entries :

1640. Buried—Katherine, d. Gwalter Oake : St. Antholin (London), p. 73.

1688. Married—Gualter Langley and Jane Scrivener : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 205.

London, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Gwilliam, Gwillim. — Bapt. 'the son of William,' a Welsh form; cf. Gwatkin.

John ap-Gwillim, Chancellor of St. David's, 1351 : Hist. and Ant. St. David's, p. 365.

Guilim ap Griffith, 1450 : East Ches. i. 181.

R. V. A. Gwillim, 1763 : ibid. ii. 301.

1609. Bapt.—Bridgett, d. Richard Guilame : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 56.

1615. Married—Richard Guilyams and Ruth Odill, St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 21.

1764. Married—Gwyllym Bissell and Eliz. Rooke : St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 137.
Manchester, 1, 0; London, 1, 5; Philadelphia, 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 2.

Gwinn, Gwyn, Gwynn, Gwynne, Gwin. — Nick. 'the white' (Welsh), probably from the complexion; cf. English White.

Lewis Gwyn, archdeacon of Cardigan, 1568 : Hist. and Ant. St. David's, p. 360.
London, 1, 2, 6, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 4, 0, 7, 0, 3.

Gwyther. — Bapt. 'the son of Wither'; v. Wither and Withers. Welsh form Gwyther; cf. Gwalter and Gwilliam for Walter and William.

London, 2.

Gye. — Bapt. 'the son of Guy,' q.v. A variant.

London, 3; Philadelphia, 1.

Gylby. — Local; v. Gilbey, of which it is a variant.

London, 1.

Gyles. — Bapt. 'the son of Giles,' q.v. A variant.

1548. — Christning of Anne Gyles : St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 4.
London, 3.

Gynn, Gynne. — Probably variants or corruptions of Gwynn or Gwynne; v. Gwynn.

1668. Married—Thomas Gin and Issa-bell Andrewes : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 145.
London, 1, 1.

Gyot. — Bapt. 'the son of Guyot'; v. Wyatt.

Henry Gyot, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III : Kirby's Quest, p. 225.

H

Habgood, Hopgood. — Bapt. 'the son of Habgood.' One of the numerous terminatives in -good; cf. Thoroughgood, Scattergood, Osgood, &c.

1670. Francis Rickards and Sibbell Hopgood : Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 114.

London, 3, 4; MDB. (co. Berks), 2, 0; (co. Glouc.), 4, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Hablot. — Bapt. 'the son of Herbilot' or 'Hebelot.' Probably a dim. of Herbert.

Richard Herbelette, C. R., 1 Hen. IV. pt. i.

Cf. Hewlett, Roblett, Emelot, Giblett, &c.

Hack. — (1) Bapt. 'the son of Hake,' q.v. This great Scandinavian personal name has made a mark on our local nomenclature, as will be seen further on.

Henry Hak, co. Linc., 1273. A.
William Hack, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III : Kirby's Quest, p. 253.

(2) Local, 'at the hatch,' from residence beside a half-door, still called a hatch. 'Hack, a half-door, a hatch, co. Norfolk' (Halliwell).

Geoffrey de la Hak, co. Devon, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Cf. Kirk and Church, Hackman and Hatchman, &c.

London, 9; New York, 10.

Hacker. — Bapt. 'the son of Haggard'; v. Haggard and Hagger or Hagger; cf. Jagge, in Piers Plowman, for Jack. Slagg and Slack, Haggett and Hackett, go side by side in the same way.

William Hakkere, C. R., 12 Hen. IV. London, 9; Philadelphia, 14.

Hackett, Haggitt, Haggett.

— Bapt. 'the son of Hake,' from dim. Haket. There can be no doubt about this origin. Though forgotten now Hake, Haket, and Hacon were very familiar in the surname period. Hake still survives in co. York as Haggitt (cf. Hick and Higg), more generally Hackett. As with Hack, Hake, and Hacon, the instances naturally are found towards the East coast; v. Hake.

Mabil Haket, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Ralph Haket, co. Bucks, ibid.
Robert Haket, London, ibid.

Thomas Haket, 1379 : P. T. Yorks. p. 13.
Johanna Haket, 1379 : ibid. p. 18.

Rolland Haket, co. Linc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

John Haket, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III : Kirby's Quest, p. 210.

Roger Haket, co. Linc., ibid.

1586. Bapt.—Ralph, s. Richard Hackett : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 17.

1767. Married—Thomas Hackett and Ann Fitzwalter : St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 165.

1802. — William Haggett and Sarah Shepherd : ibid. ii. 270.

London, 9, 0, 1; Leeds, 0, 1, 0; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 1, 0; New York, 56, 0, 0.

Hackford, Hackforth. — (1) Local, 'of Hackford,' two parishes in co. Norfolk. No doubt the meaning is 'the ford of Hake,' a great personal name; v. Hake and Hack (1). (2) Local, 'of Hackforth,' a township in the parish of Hornby, N. Rid. Yorks. I do not think this has any representative in the directories. Both Hackford and Hackforth are, I suspect, of the same Norfolk parentage; v. Ford and Forth.

Nicholas de Hacford, bailiff of Norwich, 1263 : FF. iii. 59.

Matilda de Hakeford, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Ranulph de Hakeford, co. Norf., ibid.

Adam de Hacford, co. Norf., ibid.

Thomas de Hakeford, co. Norf., 20

Edw. I. R.

1501. Bapt. — Warner, s. Nicholas

Hackford : St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 25.

1631. — Eliz., d. John Hackforth : ibid.

i. 119.

London, 1, 1; MDB. (co. Linc.), 1, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Hacking, Hackin.—Local, 'of Hacking,' now Hacking Hall, a place in the township of Billington, in the parish of Blackburn, co. Lancs. A family 'de Hacking' arose there early. The surname has ramified strongly, but has wandered little, there being only one representative in the London Directory. I cannot find it on American soil.

William de Hacking, 1328, Billington: Baines' Lancashire, ii. 86.

1582. Hugh Hackyng, carpenter: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 46.

1602. Robertus Hackinge, filius Hugonis: ibid. p. 48.

1675. William Hacking, of Rainhill: Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 111.

Manchester, 10, 1; Blackburn, 10, 0; London, 1, 0.

Hackland; v. Acland; a variant. New York, 1.

Hacklittie.—Nick. for a lazy woodcutter.

Walter Hackelutel, co. Salop, 1273. A.

Hackman, Hatchman.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Hakeman,' an augmentative of Hake, q.v.; cf. Bateman, Tiddiman, Hickman, &c. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Hagmund.' All terminatives in -mund or -mond become -man; cf. Wayman and Osman for Wymond and Osmund.

Thomas Hakeman, co. Norf., 1273. A. John Hagmund, co. Kent, ibid.

William Hagmund, co. Kent, ibid.

Alan Hagheman, co. Southampton, ibid.

Rotelin Hakeman, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 119.

Richard Hatcheman, C. R., 1 Mary, pt. vi.

1648. Buried—Henry Hatchman, servant to Mr. Kelke, peewterer: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 242.

London, 2, 7; New York, 6, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Hackney.—Local, 'of Hackney,' a parish in co. Middlesex, in the London district. Probably 'the hay (enclosure) of Hacon'; v. Hacon.

Benedict de Hakeneye, London, 1273. A.

Robert de Hakeneye, London, ibid.

Adam de Hakenay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 176.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 14.

Hackshall.—Local, 'of Hackensall,' a hamlet in the parish of Lancaster. A family of Hackenshaw or Hackensall was early located there. For origin of the local name, v. Hacon, and cf. Shallcross and Shawcross.

'In the reign of Ric. I, Geoffrey the Bowman, ancestor of the Sherburnes, was lord of Hackensall . . . and Robert de Hachnesio paid 10 marks in 3 John (1201), for confirmation of his charter': Baines' Lanc. ii. 541.

'In 48 Hen. III, John de Hacunsho held Hacunesho, Persho, and Hamelton': ibid. John de Haconshowe, 1379: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 1.

John de Hacschawe, 1379: ibid. p. 5. London, 2.

Hackwell, Hakewill.—Local, 'of Hackwell,' i.e. the well of Hake; v. Hack (1) and Hake.

Roger de Hakewell, co. Essex, 1273. A. London, 1, 0; Crockford, 0, 1.

Hackworth.—Local, (1) 'of Hackworth,' i.e. the worth or farmstead of Hake; v. Hack (1), Hake, and Worth. (2) 'of Ackworth,' of which in the North it seems to be an aspirated variant; v. Acworth.

Peter de Hakeworth, co. Devon, 1273. A. John de Hakeworth, co. Devon, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

London, 1; Crockford, 1; MDB. (co. Durham), 1.

Hacon.—Bapt. 'the son of Hacon' (allied to Hake, q.v.). In Domesday the forms are Hacon, co. Herts; Hacun, cos. Wilts and Notts. Lower writes, 'Hacon: a family so surnamed reside at Swaffham, co. Norfolk, and are doubtless of Norse extraction. Hacon the Good and Hacon the Broad-shouldered occur among the kings of Norway.' Why the Norfolk Hacons should be of 'Norse extraction' because the font-name Hacon was popular in England in the 12th and 13th centuries is not easy to see. Still more unfortunate is the writer in a further remark: 'In the Hundred Rolls for Suffolk we find mentioned one Semannus Hacon, "Hacon the Sailor," which looks sufficiently Norwegian'. This is to put the cart before the horse with a vengeance, for Semannus is the font-name and Hacon the surname. As a font-name Semannus is simply the Latinized Seman, still surviving in the surname Seaman, q.v. But this 'Norse extraction' is no better nor worse than a hundred conjectures in print at this moment. Cf. Haconby, a parish in co. Linc. Mr. Freeman (Norman Conquest, iii. 219) writes, under date 1052, 'According to another account, Godwine, on his reconciliation with Eadward, gave hostages to the king for his good behaviour in the persons of his youngest son Wulfnoth and his grandson Hakon, the son of Swegen.'

Hugh fil. Hacun, 1178: KKK. vi. 29. Wilbert fil. Hacun, 1188: RRR. p. 61.

Richard fil. Hacun, 1192: ibid. p. 50.

Semannus Hacon, co. Suff., 1273. A.

William fil. Haconis, co. Linc., ibid.

Richard Hakun, co. Linc., ibid.

Johannes Hacun, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 107.

John Hakon, bailiff of Yarmouth, 1395: FF. xi. 324.

William Hacon, vicar of Tunstal, co. Norf., 1384: ibid. xi. 120.

MDB. (Norfolk), 2; (co. Cumberland), 1.

Haddock.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam'; v. Adcock, of which it is a variant; cf. Hadkins, Hadkinson, and Haddy, all from Adam, and standing for Adkins, Adkinson, and Addy.

Johannes Hadcok', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 114.

Johannes Adcok', junior, 1379: ibid.

Boston (U.S.), 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Haddan, Hadden, Haddon.

—Local, 'of Haddon,' parishes in diocs. of Ely and Peterborough.

Robert de Hadden, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Agnes de Haddon', co. Oxf., ibid.

Jordan de Haddone, co. Hunts, ibid.

Cristina de Haddon, co. Oxf., 20 Edw. I. R.

John de Haddon', co. Glouc., ibid.

Ricardus de Hadden', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 16.

London, 3, 5, 4; MDB. (co. Camb.), 0, 2, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 6, 8.

Haddelsey.—Local, 'of Haddelsey,' a chapelry and township in the parish of Birkin, W. R. Yorks, five miles from Selby.

Willelmus de Hathelsay, Lyster, of Selby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 155.

Johannes Hathelsay: ibid. p. 156.

Juliana de Hathelsay: ibid. p. 139.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1.

Haddock.—Local, 'of Haydock,' co. Lanc., q.v. It is a well-known fact that Haddock is an imitative variant of Haydock.

Margaret Haydock, of Eaves, 1663: Lanc. Wills at Richmond, p. 142.

Robert Haydock, of Eaves, 1671: ibid. Ellen Haddock, of Eaves, 1679: ibid. p. 132.

Robert Haddocke, of Eaves, 1669: ibid. Richard Haddock, of Turton, co. Lanc., 1679: Wills at Chester (1660-80), p. 111.

James Haddock, of Samlesbury, co. Lanc., 1678: ibid.

John Haydock, of Turton, co. Lanc., 1666: ibid. p. 124.

George Haydock, of Samlesbury, co. Lanc., 1672: ibid.

Bolton (Lanc.), 6; Liverpool, 4; Manchester, 1; London, 8; New York, 11.

Haddow; v. Hadow.

Haddy.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam'; v. Addy, of which it is a variant; cf. Hadkinson and Adkins, both representing the dim. of Adam. In the same way we find Hoddy for Oddy. These unexpected aspirates are found at an early period.

John Haddy, co. Bedf., 1273. A. Alicia Haddi, co. Camb., ibid.

1808. Married—Thomas Lacy and Mary Haddey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 383. Philadelphia, 2.

Haden; v. Haydon.

Hadfield.—Local, 'of Hadfield,' a parish in co. Derby. This surname has ramified itself in a most marvellous fashion in Lancashire and Yorkshire, having crossed its boundaries into both counties evidently at an early period. Yet London has only one representative.

Sheffield, 17; London, 1; Manchester, 33; Philadelphia, 11.

Hadkinson, Hadkins, Hadkiss.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam,' for Adkinson and Adkins, q.v. All terminatives in -kiss are a modification of -kins; cf. Popkiss. Hadkiss is therefore manifestly Hadkins; cf. Hoddy for Oddy.

London, 0, 1, 2; Manchester, 2, 0, 0.

Hadland.—Local; v. Headland.

Hadley.—Local, 'of Hadley' or 'Hadleigh.' In cos. Essex and Suffolk I find two parishes of Hadleigh, and in co. Middlesex a parish Hadley.

Robertus de Hadleya, co. Suff., 1273. A. Nicholas de Haddileg', co. Salop, ibid. John de Hadlee, London, ibid. London, 11; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 3; New York, 17.

Hadow.—Local, 'of Hadow,' a parish in co. Kent. As in many other cases where -low (v. Low) is lost in -ley (v. Ley), Hadow has evidently been lost in Hadley.

John de Hadlo, co. Kent, 1273. A. Nicholas de Hadlo, co. Kent, ibid. London, 1; MDB. (co. Kent), 3.

Hadnutt.—Local; v. Hoddi-nott.

Hadow, Haddow.—Local.

London, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Bedford), 3, 0; (co. Cambridge), 0, 2.

Hadskis, Hadkiss.—Bapt. 'the son of Adam.' A corruption of Hadkins (q.v.), which is Adkins (q.v.) with an aspirate prefixed; cf. Hotchkiss for Hodgkins, or Popkiss for Hopkins. Hadskis is a curious-looking name, but the derivation is simple enough.

Manchester, 2, 0; London, 0, 2.

Hadwen, -win; v. Hardwin.

Haffenden.—Local, 'of Haffenden,' some spot in co. Kent or Sussex that I cannot discover. The name has existed for many generations at Heathfield in the latter county (v. Lower).

MDB. (co. Sussex), 3; London, 1.

Hagan, Hagon.—Bapt. 'the son of Hagan.' In Domesday Hagon is found in such cases as Hagana, Hagane, and Haganus, all in Norfolk. For history of the name, v. Yonge, ii. 319-20. Possibly Hagan and Hacon (q.v.) are closely related. The Emperor of Germany's new ironclad (1895) is Hagen, after the famous giant of the Nibelungen Saga.

Robert Hakene, co. Norf., 1273. A. William Hakene, co. Norf., ibid. London, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 23, 0.

Hagell.—Bapt. 'the son of Haghel.' One of the many personal names with suffix -el.

William Haghel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 165.

Gilbert Haghel, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 244.

London, 3.

Hagenild, Hahnel (?), Hannel (?).—Bapt. 'the son of Hagenild.'

Hagenild' de Bedewill, co. Norf., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Thomas Haenild, co. Suff., 1273. A. Haenylid (without surname), co. Suff., ibid.

London, 0, 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 2, 0.

Hagg.—Local, 'at the haw'; v. Haig or Hague, of which it is a variant.

Gilbert de Hagha, co. Linc., 1273. A. Thomas Hag, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 87. Willelmus Hag, 1379: ibid.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Cumberland), 2; Philadelphia, 1; New York, 1.

Haggard, Agard.—Bapt. 'the son of Hachard' or 'Hacgard'; v. Hatchard.

Ivo Haggard, co. Suffolk, 1273. A. Ralph Haggard, co. Suffolk, ibid. John Haggard, co. Suffolk, ibid.

London, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Haggas, Haggis, Haggess.—Bapt. 'the son of Agace'; v. Agasson and Aggas. Aspirates come and go as they like in early registers. There cannot be the shadow of a doubt about this derivation. My first instance settles the point.

Emma Hagase, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 269.

1563. Buried—John Haggas, prentis to John Bowthe, merchant-taylor: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 135.

Keighley, 4, 0, 0; West Rid. (Yorks) Court Dir., 3, 0, 0; London, 0, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 0, 1.

Hagger, Haggar.—Bapt. 'the son of Haggard.' The final d has been dropped; v. Haggard; cf. Haggerston, i.e. the town or farm of Hagger.

MDB. (co. Essex), 1, 1; London, 12, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Haggerstone.—Local, 'of Haggerston,' a parish in co. Middlesex.

MDB. (co. Cambridge), 1.

Haggett, Haggatt.—Bapt. 'the son of Hackett,' q.v.

MDB. (co. Glouc.), 1, 1; London, 1, 0; New York, 1, 0.

Hagyard.—Bapt. 'the son of Haggard.' A variant found in co. York; v. Haggard.

Bridlington Quay, East Rid. Yorks, 2.

Haiden.—Local, 'of Haydon,' q.v.

MDB. (co. Glouc.), 2.

Haig, Haigh, Hague.—Local, 'at the haw,' i.e. the hedged field or enclosure; A.S. haga, an enclosure; Du. haag, a hedge; whence Gravenhage, i.e. the count's garden, the place called by us 'the Hague' (v. Skeat, haw). In Yorkshire and Lancashire the same spelling has been adopted as one of the forms of Haig. The spread of Haigh in Yorkshire has been something extraordinary; but it had many representatives to start with.

Gilbert del Hagh', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 50.

Robertus del Hagh', 1379: ibid. p. 131.
Ricardus del Hagh', 1379: ibid. p. 179.
Robert atte Haghe, co. Norf.: FF.

x. 283.
Richard atte Haghe, co. Norf.: ibid. ii. 461.

Roger atte Heygh, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 111.

Thomas Haghe, of the parish of Rochdale, 1604: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 78.

Piers Haigh, of Lymm, 1603: ibid.
James Hague, son of James Hague, 1692: ibid. (1681-1700), p. 104.

Manchester, o. 15, 14; West Rid. Court Dir., 1, 64, 10; New York, 7, 9, 9.

Hail, Haile.—Local; v. Hale.

Hailes.—Local; v. Hales.

Hailstone.—Local, 'of Hailstone,' perhaps for Hallystone, a parish in co. Northumberland.

Johannes de Helistones, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 183.

Ricardus de Helistones, 1379: ibid. 1583. Married—Morgaine Hubble and Tomison (Thomasine) Halestone: St. Antholin (London), p. 30.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Cambridge), 1; (co. Essex), 1.

Hain, Haine, Haines, Hains, Hayn, Hayne, Haynes, Heynes.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Haine,' genitive Haines. That the origin is fontal admits of no doubt. Cf. Hainsworth or Ainsworth, i.e. the farmstead of Hain, the proprietor or tenant; v. Worth. Some of my instances may be related to Hans; v. Hanson.

Thomas fil. Hayene, co. Norf., 1273. A. Ralph Hayne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 180.

William Hayne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid.

Walter Heynes, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid. p. 235.

Ade Heynes, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: ibid.

Cf. Danish Heynssen:

'Heynssen and Martienssen, commission agents': Manchester Directory.

The following entries are interesting:

Johannes Hauneson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 187.

Adam Hauneson, 1379: ibid. p. 179.
Johannes Hayne, 1379: ibid. p. 184.

Robertus Haynson, 1379: ibid. p. 121.
Thomas Hane, 1379: ibid. p. 300.

Alice Heynes, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 160.

(2) Local, 'of Haynes,' a parish in the dioc. of Ely.

1581. Married—Percival Archboll and Susan Heynes: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 7.
London, 2, 2, 27, 4, 2, 10, 69, 1; New York, 1, o, 38, o, 4, 4, 31, o.

Hainsworth.—Local, 'of Hainsworth,' i.e. the farm or worth of Hain, the first settler; v. Hain and Worth. Probably a variant of Ainsworth, q.v.

MDB. (co. Cambridge), 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Hairby.—Local, 'of Hareby,' a parish in co. Lincoln, four miles from Spilsby.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 2.

Hairmonger.—Occup. 'the hairmonger,' one who bought hair for cushions, bolsters, &c.; M.E. her, hair.

Robert le Hyrmonger, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Hugh le Hermonger, co. Hunts, ibid.

Hairproud.—Nick. for some mediaeval Absolom.

Richard le Herprute, co. Wilts, 1273. A.

Hairster.—Occup. 'the hairster,' a dealer in horsehair, for saddles, couches, &c. The Hayresters duly appeared in the Corpus Christi Play, York, 1415 (v. my English Surnames, p. 417). Hayresters, workers in horsehair (v. L. Toulmin Smith's York Mystery Plays, and see an interesting footnote at p. xxv). The occupational term as a surname seems to have lasted till the reign of Henry VII.

John Hayster, goldsmith, 7 Hen. VII.: Freeman of York, i. 216.

Roger de Beverlay, hairster, 28 Edw. I.: ibid. p. 8.

Hake.—Bapt. 'the son of Hake,' A great Scandinavian name that has made its mark on the local nomenclature of the Eastern counties; v. Hackett, Hack, and Hacon. Naturally the instances are upon the East coast.

Aaron fil. Hake, 56 Hen. III.: BBB. p. 158.

Hake fil. Pycetavini, co. Linc., 1273. A. Hacca fil. Pictavini, co. Linc., ibid.

The last two entries refer to the same individual.

Peter fil. Hake, co. Linc., 1273. A. Haco le Muner, co. Suff., ibid.

Hako Strek, co. Suff., ibid.
London, 2; Crockford, 3; New York, 7.

Hakewill; v. Hackwell.

Haldane, Haldean, Halden.—Bapt. 'the son of Haldane'

(Yonge, ii. 432). Haldanus, co. Essex; Halden, co. Cheshire; Haldene, co. Yorks (Domesday).

Waldief fil. Haldeni, Pipe Roll, 5 Hen. II. Haldenus Presbiter, ibid.

Halden de Chillum, 1171: RRR. p. 19. Haldin de Stalham, co. York, 1273. A.

Haldanus Minister, co. Norf., ibid.
Robert Haldeyn, co. Suff., ibid.

John Haldeyn, co. Suff., ibid.

In the Hundred Rolls the personal name (not surname) appears as Haldanus, Haldeyn, Haldeynus, and Haldoyne, all in co. Norfolk.

1747. Married—Morris Flood and Ann Haldin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 38.

London, 2, o, 2; New York, 1, o, 2.

Haldenby.—Local, 'of Haldenby,' a township in the parish of Adlingfleet, W. Rid. Yorks. Of course the meaning is the by or dwelling of Haldane, the first settler; v. Haldane.

Robertus de Haldanby, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 104.

West Rid. (Yorks) Court Dir., 1; Hull, 2.

Hale, Haile, Hail.—Local, 'at the hale,' i.e. Hall (q.v.), from residence there, either as proprietor or servant.

Richard de la Hale, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Walter en le Hale, co. Sussex, ibid.

Robert in the Hale, Close Roll, 2 Edw. I.

John atte Hale, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 161.

Warin in the Hale, Pardons Roll, 9 Ric. II.

Edward Atte-hale, co. Norf., 11 Hen. IV.: FF. vii. 49.

1617. William Hale and Anne Lydyat: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 56.
London, 60, 2, 0; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 23, 5, 3; New York, 52, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.) (Hail), 1.

Hales, Hailes.—Local, 'of Hales': (1) a parish in co. Stafford; (2) a parish in co. Norfolk; (3) a parish (Hales Owen) in co. Worcester.

Alexander de Hales, co. Norf., 1245: FF. viii. 21.

Ralph de Hales, co. York, 20 Edw. I. R.

Richard de Hales, co. Salop, 1273. A.
Robert de Hales, co. Wilts, ibid.
Matilda de Hales, co. Norf., ibid.

Thomas de Hales, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 128.

1575. Charles Hales and Eliz. Fyshe: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 66.

1662. Bapt.—Isabell, d. Henry Hales: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 216.

1805. Married—James Hailes and Marie Donaldson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 320.

London, 24, 3; Philadelphia, 10, 0.

Halestrap.—Local, 'of Hales-thorp.'

MDB. (co. Herts), 2.

Halewood.—Local, 'of Halewood,' a township in the parish of Childwall, co. Lanc.

Richard Hallwood, of Much Woolton, 1603: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 79.

William Hallwood, of Gatacre, within Little Woolton, 1623: ibid. (1621-50), p. 93.

MDB. (co. Lanc.), 3; Liverpool, 1.

Haley.—Local, 'of Hailey,' a parish in the dioc. of Oxford. Also 'of Haighley,' a parish in the dioc. of Norwich. The Halesys of co. York are a different stock, but I cannot identify the locality whence they are sprung.

Petrus Haley, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Johannes de Haylay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 220.

Willelmus Haylay, 1379: ibid.

London, 9; West Rid. Court Dir., 11; Philadelphia, 87.

Halfacre.—Local, 'at the Half-acre,' from residence on a piece of land so termed; v. next article. Possibly Halfnaked was an early imitative corruption; v. Halfnaked. One of M. Pasteur's cures from threatened hydrophobia was Walter Halfacre, a London gentleman (v. Standard, March 3, 1886).

1801. Married—Henry Halfacre and Ann Brown: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 234.

1805. — Joshua Halfacker and Frances Smith: ibid. p. 322.

MDB. (co. Southampton), 2; MDB. (co. Berks), 1; Oxford, 2.

Halfhide.—Local, 'at the Half-hide,' from residence on a piece of land so termed because it was half a hide by measurement; v. Hyde.

1640. Buried—Mary Halfehide: St. Antholin (London), p. 74.
London, 4.

Halfknight, Halfnight.—Offic. 'the half knight,' one not in full knighthood.

Geoffrey Halveknit, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Nicholas Halve Knycht, co. Wilts, ibid.

Clement Halfknyth, Fines Roll, 9 Edw. I.

Alianora Halfknyth, Close Roll, 12 Hen. IV.

That the surname existed till the present generation is proved by the fact that several years ago I saw it stated in a newspaper as a curious coincidence that in a northern town two houses, closely adjacent, were occupied, one by Mr. Doubleday, the other by Mr. Halfnight. Unfortunately I did not make a note of it.

Sunderland, 0, 1.

Halfnaked.—Local, 'of Halfnaked.' Lower says, 'Walter de Halfenaked lived in Sussex in 1314. The manorial estate from which he derived his name is now called Halnaker. It is near Goodwood': Patr. Brit. p. 143. Probably Half-acre (q.v.) is a descendant.

Adam de Halfenaked. H.

Adam de Halnaked, c. 1315. M.

Halford, Holford.—Local, 'of Halford,' a chapelry in the parish of Bromfield, co. Salop; also a parish in co. Warwick, four miles from Shipston. The probable meaning is the hall-ford, the ford by the hall. For a second derivation of Holford, v. Holdford.

Robert de Halford, co. Warw., Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

William de Halford, co. Devon, 1273. A.

William de Holford, co. Oxf., ibid.

1531. Robert Halford and Catherine Molson: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 8.

1695. Married—Thomas Halford and Mary Bacon: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 48.

1706. Thomas Halford (or Halford) and Anne Ottoway: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 335.

London, 18, 4; MDB. (co. Cambridge), 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0; Philadelphia, 5, 0.

Halpenny, Halpenny, Hapenny.—! Local. This surname seems to belong to the nickname class; v. Fivepenny, Ninepence, Twentypence, &c. But probably it is of local parentage.

Robert de Apenny. C.

William Halpeni, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Richard Halpeny, co. Oxf., ibid.

Walter Halpeni, co. Devon, ibid.

Juliana Halpeny, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 101.

Robert Halpeny, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 266.

Johannes Halpenny, theher (i. e. thatcher), 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 282.

1598. Married—William Chatterton and Agnes Halpenny: St. Thomas the Apostle (London), p. 9.

1729. — Thomas Wright and Lydia Halpenny: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 79.

London, 0, 2, 0; Shrewsbury, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 8, 0; Boston (U.S.), Hapenny, 2.

Halgh.—Local, 'at the halgh,' from residence thereby = Haugh (q.v.), a mound, a little hill; cf. Greenhalgh and Ridehalgh; v. Hough and Houghton.

Elias del Halgh, co. Northumb., 20 Edw. I. R.

Andrew de Halgh, co. Lanc., ibid.

Emma del Halgh, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 47.

Johannes de Halgh, 1379: ibid. p. 74.

1546. George Halche and Emma Dey: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 9.

Haliburton; v. Halliburton.

Haliday; v. Halliday.

Halifax, Halifax.—Local, 'of Halifax,' a well-known town in the W. Rid. Yorks.

Johannes Halifax, laborer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 219.

Margreta Halifax, laborer, 1379: ibid.

1779. Married—John Halifax and Letitia Arnold: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 301.

London, 0, 1; Awkley (near Doncaster), 1, 0; Oxford, 1, 0.

Hall.—Local, 'at the hall.' This has, of course, produced separate stocks all over the country, and every local directory teems with the name; v. Hale. The hall was almost as familiar as the green. It seems to have been a kind of superior and more pretentious dwelling, but not 'the Hall,' as understood in the present day.

Roger de la Halle, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Walter de la Halle, co. Salop, ibid.
William atte Halle, C. R., 16 Edw. III.
pt. ii.

Willelmus atte Hall, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 24.

Isabella at ye Halle, ibid. p. 145.
Thomas del Hall, c. Hen. IV.: E. and
F., c6. Cumb., p. 140.
London, 281; New York, 360.

Hallam, Hallum.—Local, 'of Hallam,' i.e. Upper Hallam, a scattered township in the old parish of Sheffield; cf. Hallamshire (v.
Hampshire).

Willelmus de Hallom, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 36.

Elena de Hallum, 1379: ibid. p. 74.
1588-9. Thomas Hallom, cordwainer, and Bridget Michell: Marriage Lic.
(London), 1. 175.

1735. Married—William Hallam and
Jane Griffin: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 16.

1767. — Thomas Hallum and Eliz.
Bingham: ibid. p. 179.

MDb. (co. Derby), 16, o; (co. Essex),
o, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 6, o; Sheffield,
15, o; New York, 1, o.

Hallett.—Local, 'of the hall-head,' i.e. the head of the hall;
cf. Akenhead, Birkenhead, Hollingshead, i.e. the head of the oaks, birches, and hollies. Birkenhead, or Birkhead, is now written Birkett, q.v. Also cf. Blackett for Blackhead.

1691. Bapt.—Nathaniell, son of Nathaniell Hallhead: St. Michael, Cornhill,
p. 155.
London, 23; New York, 16.

Halley.—Local, 'of Halley.'
I cannot find the spot. Derbyshire seems to be the home of the Halesleys. Other references to the county might have been given.

William de Hallee, co. Glouc., 1273. A.
John de Hally, co. Derby, ibid.
William de Hally, co. Derby, ibid.
John Hally, co. Derby, ibid.
1550. Bapt.—Eliz. Hallaye: St.
Michael, Cornhill, p. 75.

1790. Married—Timothy Halley and
Catherine Winnell: St. Geo. Han. Sq.
ii. 42.

London, 4; New York, 8.

Hallgarth, Halgarth.—Local,
'of Hallgarth,' a township in the parish of Pitlington, co. Durham.

MDb. (co. Lincoln), 3, o; Sheffield, o, 1.

Halliburton, Halleburton, Halliburn.—Local.

MDb. (co. Lanc.), 1, 1, 2.

Halliday, Haliday, Holliday.—Bapt. 'the son of Haliday,' a name given to a child born on a holy day; cf. Hobday, Hockaday,
Pentecost, Christmas, Whitsunday,
&c. A.S. hālig, holy.

'And hold wel thyn haliday Heighe til even.'

Piers Plowman, 3664.

Richard Haliday, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
Gerard Haliday, co. Suff., ibid.

Alan Halyday. H.
Willelmus Haliday, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 137.

Johannes Halyday, 1379: ibid. p. 150.
Adam Halyday, 1379: ibid. p. 40.

John Haliday, C. R., 37 Hen. III.
1578. Leonard Hallidaye and Anne

Wincoll: Marriage Lic. (London), 1. 80.

1583. Thomas Wallys and Alice Hollidaye: ibid. 119.

1645. Married—John Holyday and
Alice Case: Canterbury Cath. p. 57.

London, 8, 1, 11; West Rid. Court
Dir., 8, o, 6; Philadelphia, 10, o, 13.

Halliwell, Hollywell, Hollowell, Holliwell.—(1) Local,
'of Halliwell,' a township in the parish of Dean, co. Lanc.; (2) 'of Hollowell,' a parish in the dioc.
of Peterborough. The former of these two places has made Halliwell a familiar surname in South Lancashire. Many small spots styled the Holywell must also have contributed to swell the list of surnames.

Adam de Holewell, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Simon de Holewell, co. Bedf., ibid.

John de Holowell, co. Bucks, ibid.
Godfrey de Haliwell, London, ibid.

Richard de Holewell, co. Hunts, ibid.
John de Halewelle, of Halliwell, Dean,
co. Lanc., 1288: Baines' Lanc. i. 543.

John de Holewell, co. Soms., i Edw.
III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 86.

Edith atte Holywelle, co. Soms., 1
Edw. III.: ibid. p. 197.

William de Halegewelle, co. Devon,
Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Probably this last entry represents the A.S. hālig, holy, pure; later on found as hali or holi. Pure and healthy springs would, no doubt, all over the country take a name after the character of the water, being whole or whole-some— not necessarily sacred or holy, as the word is now understood.

London, 1, 1, o, o; Manchester, 8, o, o, o; Philadelphia, 6, o, 103, o.

Hallmark.—Nick. 'half a mark,' from the coin; cf. Nine-pence, Twelvecence, Hundred-pound, Thousandpound, &c. Nine-pence nearly succeeded in becoming a permanent surname. Halfmark in Hallmark has really done so.

With the corrupted Hallmark, cf.
our ha'penny, which goes even further in the way of corruption.

Robert Alfmarck, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Johannes Half-mark, 1379: P. T.

Yorks. p. 77.
Emma Halmark, Sheffield, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 42.

1388. John Halfmark: Cal. of Wills in the Court of Husting (2).

Manchester, 1; Liverpool, 1; Preston,
1; MDB. (co. Chester), 1.

Hallows, Hallowes.—?
MDb. (co. Derby), 4, 2.

Hallsworth.—Local; v. Holdsworth. It is hard to say whether it belongs to Haldsworth or Hales-worth, to Yorkshire or Suffolk.

1565. William Hallesworthe: Reg.
Univ. Oxf. ii. 14.

1704. Married—John Clark and Jane
Hallsworth: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 108.

Crockford, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Hallward.—Bapt. 'the son of Aylward,' q.v. It is quite possible the origin may be ascribed to some 'keeper of a hall,' as Mr. Lower suggests, but there is no evidence.
The derivation given above is the natural one. This dictionary shows that aspirates are of no account in nomenclature. It is probably an imitative corruption of Aylward.

Johannes Halward, 1379: P. T. Yorks.
p. 161.

1784. Married—Rev. John Hallward and Mary Lambard: St. Geo. Han. Sq.
ii. 364.

MDb. (co. Kent), 1; Crockford, 2.

Hallworth, Halwarth, Halls-worth.—Local, 'of Hallworth.'
I cannot find the spot. With Hallsworth for Hallworth, cf.
Holdsworth for Holdworth, or Huddersfield for the earlier Hudderfield. I feel very certain that Hallworth and Hallsworth are mere variants of Holdsworth (q.v.), a recognized Yorkshire surname.

Johannes de Halworth, 1379: P. T.
Yorks. p. 254.

1704. Married—John Clark and Jane
Hallsworth: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 108.

London, 1, o, o; New York, o, 1, o;
Philadelphia, 1, o, 1.

Halman.—Occup. 'the hall-man,' i.e. the servant at the hall; v. Ladyman, Bowerman.

Willelmus Halleman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 232.

Roger Halman, 1379: ibid.
Johannes Halman, 1379: ibid. p. 59.
1619. William Hallman and Joane Hobbes: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 74. London, 1; New York, 1.

Halmshaw; v. Hampshire.

Halpin, Halpin, Halpen.—Bapt. 'the son of Harpin,' q.v. No doubt a variant. This form is strongly represented in the United States.

1779. Married—John Halpin and Sarah Strode: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 306.
London, 1, 0, 0; West Rid. (Yorks) Court Dir., 1, 0, 0; Liverpool, 2, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 30, 0, 7.

Halsall.—Local, 'of Halsall,' a parish in co. Lanc., three miles from Ormskirk.

Gilbert de Halsale, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Alan de Halsale, co. Lanc., ibid.
Richard Halsall, co. Lanc., 1586: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 150.

Henry Halsall, of Halsall, 1574: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 79.
Ann Halsall, of Halsall, widow, 1589: ibid.

Cuthbert Halsall, of Halsall, 1619: ibid.
1622. Mark Quested and Eliz. Halsall, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 110.
1803. Married—Ralph Halsall and Amey Fenton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 288.
Liverpool, 3; Ormskirk, 1; Manchester, 2; London, 2; New York, 1; Philadelphia, 3.

Halse.—Local, 'at the halse,' from residence thereby. 'Halse, the hazel tree. Co. Somerset' (Halliwell).

Richard atte Halse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 181.

John de Halse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 191.

John de Halse, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 277.

London, 4; Boston (U.S.), 2.

Halsey.—(1) Local, 'of Hallsley.' Although this is the undoubted origin of the name I cannot find the spot. Nothing can be more unsatisfactory (speaking etymologically, not genealogically) than Mr. Lower's quotation from Burke's Landed Gentry, that 'the founder of this family was William Hawse, alias Chamber, to whom Henry VIII granted the rectory and patronage of Great Gaddesden, co. Herts, where, under the name of Halsey, the family have ever since resided': Patr. Brit. p. 144.

1564-5. John Haulsley, Trin. Coll. Oxf.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 24.

In this register Halsey, Haulsee, Hallcé, and Haulsley are placed under the same heading (v. Index, pt. iv). (2) Local, 'at the halse-hey,' i.e. the enclosure of hazel-trees, from residence thereby; v. Halse and Hey.

1565. Married—Robert Halsay and Bridget Dawson: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 4.
1620. Whorwood Shadwell and Eliz. Halsey, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 91.

1741. Married—John Halsey and Mary Lowndes: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 27.
London, 11; MDB. (co. Kent), 1; (co. Hertford), 1; (co. Soms.), 1; Philadelphia, 3.

Halstead, Halsted.—(1) Local, 'at the hall-stead,' from residence thereby or therein; v. Hall and Stead. (2) Local, 'of Halstead,' two parishes, one in co. Essex and the other in co. Kent. Also a township is so called in the parish of Tilton, co. Leicester. (1) supplies the derivation of this place-word. Nearly all our Halsteads hail from Yorkshire, from a spot I cannot discover.

Adam Hallestede, webster, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 96.

Ricardus Hallestedes, osteler, 1379: ibid. p. 47.

1587. John Halsteede, goldsmith, and Anne Lea: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 164.

1618. Richard Halsted, co. York: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 371.

1684. Bapt.—Mary, d. Charles Halstead: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 308.

London, 1, 5; Manchester, 1, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 6, 1; Philadelphia, 16, 0.

Halton.—Local, 'of Halton,' parishes or chapelries in cos. Leicester, Chester, Buckingham, Northumberland, Lincoln (3), York (3), &c.

John de Halton, co. York, 1273. A. Richard de Halton, co. Linc., ibid.
Simon de Halton, co. Salop, ibid.

Robert de Halton, co. Suffolk, 20 Edw. I. R.

Adam de Halton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 193.

Emma de Halton, 1379: ibid.

Johannes de Halton, 1379: ibid. p. 206.
1565-6. Robert Halton and Joanna Drayner: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 32.
1791. Married—John Haughton James and Mary Halton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 54.

London, 4; New York, 2.

Ham.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Hamo,' from nick. Hamme; v. Hamlet and Hammond.

Johannes Hamme, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 44.

(2) Local, 'of the ham'; A.S. ham, a home, a dwelling. Also 'of Ham,' parishes in the diocs. of Canterbury, Salisbury, Rochester, &c. The original meaning is the same.

Robert de la Hamme, co. Sussex, 1273. A.

John de Hamme, co. Wilts, ibid.
William de Ham, co. Camb., ibid.

Alice de Hamme, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 186.

John atte Ham, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 162.

Martin atte Ham, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.

Juliana in le Hame, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 171.

1699. Bapt.—Jonathan, s. Jonathan Ham: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 381.

London, 6; Oxford, 2; New York, 10.

Hambidge; v. Hambridge.

Hamblet, Hamblett.—Bapt. 'the son of Hamon,' from the double dim. Ham-el-ot, whence Hamlet, and with intrusive b Hamblet; v. Hammon, Hamlet, and Hamlin; cf. Hewlett for Hew-el-ot (little Hugh).

Hamlet Ashton, of Glazebrook, 1594: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 6.

Hamblett Ashton, 1622: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 79.

Hamlett Assheton, of Glasbrooke, 1642: ibid. p. 106.

The instances from the Ashton family settle the matter if any doubt existed. Therefore Hamblet or Hamblett is a variant of Hamlet, q.v.

1609. Married—Nathaniell Man and Sara Hamblett: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 17.

1613. Dionisius Smithe and Rebecca Hamblett: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 21.

Manchester, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Chester), 1, 0; New York, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 2.

Hambleton, Hambelton.—Local, 'of Hamilton,' or 'Hambleton,' or 'Hambleton'; v. Hamerton and Hamilton. The b is intrusive.

London, 4, 2; New York, 1, 0.

Hamblin, -bling; v. Hamlin.

Hamblly; v. Hamley.

Hambridge, Hambridge.—Local, 'of Hambridge.' I do not know where this place is. Hambridge is a manifest variant.

1583. Anthony Hambridge and Margaret Temple: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 117.

1802. Married—George Hambridge and Mary White: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 269.

London, 2, 2; Oxford, 0, 2; New York, 0, 1.

Hambro, Hambrow.—Local, 'of Hanbury'; variants of Hanbury or Handborough, q.v. The change from n to m and vice versa is common; cf. Henning and Hemming. I do not think that Hamburgh is the parent; all the evidence is to the contrary.

Nicholas de Hamberegh, co. Kent, 1273. A.

Richard de Hambyr', co. Oxf., ibid.

John de Hamberegh, co. Kent, ibid.

John de Hambury, co. Derby, 20 Edw. I. R.

1574. Married—George Stondes and Joyce Hambre: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 5.

Richard de Hambyr' mentioned above lived in co. Oxford, where lies the parish of Handborough. Carefully compare this with the Oxfordshire instances under Hanbury. I doubt not my statement is correct. Handborough would readily become Hambro or Ham-brow.

London, 2, 1; Boston (U.S.), 12, 0.

Hambrook.—Local, 'of Hambrook,' a chapelry in the parish of Winterbourne, co. Gloucester, six miles from Bristol.

MDb. (co. Kent), 1; London, 1; New York, 2.

Hamburger.—Local, 'the Hamburger,' a native of Hamburg. This is not in all cases a newly imported surname. It occurs in the 13th century.

Reginald le Hamberger, London, 1273. A.

London, 3; New York, 32.

Hamell, Hamel, Hamil, Hamill.—Bapt. 'the son of Hamel'; cf. the local Hamilton, 'the town of Hamil' (v. Town). From the same root as Hamo; v. Hammon and Hamlin.

Isabella Hamell, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 301.

1784. Married—John Ward and Fanny Hamill: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 359.

London, 0, 1, 0, 0; Crockford, 0, 1, 0, 0; Ulverston, 1, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 13, 5, 2, 37.

Hamer.—Local, 'of Hamer,' a village in the parish of Rochdale, co. Lanc. This surname has spread throughout the surrounding district.

John de Heymer, c. Edw. IV: Baines' Lanc. i. 507.

Thurston de Heymer, 1571: ibid.

1590. Samuel Hamer, Bras. Coll.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 180.

1596. James Hamer and Constance Church: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 233.

Edmund Hamer, of Hamer, parish of Rochdale, 1597: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 80.

Henry Haymer, 1572: ibid.

Francis Hamer, of the parish of Bury, 1610: ibid.

Manchester, 13; London, 6; New York, 3.

Hamersly; v. Hammersley.

Hamerton, Hammerton.—Local, 'of Hamerton,' probably the same as Hambleton, a township in the parish of Brayton, near Selby, co. York. The variant is a natural one. 'Near Sutton in Wincle township is a small farm, now known as Hammerton, but formerly called Hammelton, Hambleton, or Hamilton': Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 449.

Geoffrey de Hamertone, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Johannes de Hamyrton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 156.

Johannes de Hamerton, 1379: ibid.

1547-8. William Hamerton and Benet Castelyn: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 12.

1616. Bapt.—Jerome, s. Thomas Hammerton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 74.

1803. Married—Thomas Hammerton and Ann Nicholl: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 280.

West Riding Court Dir., 2, 3; London, 1, 3; Philadelphia, 1, 0.

Hamil, Hamill; v. Hamell.

Hamilton.—Local, 'of Hamilton.' Although there are several Hambletons (diocs. Peterborough, Oxford, and Winchester) and one Hambleton (dioc. Manchester), not to mention smaller spots (v. Hambleton), the Scottish Hamiltons are traced to Hambleton, a manor in co. Bucks (v. Lower, Patr. Brit. p. 144). It is probable that the English Hamiltons are sprung from a dozen different sources. There is a Hambleton, a township in the parish of Brayton, near Selby, co. York. v. Hamell.

William de Hameldene, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Robert de Hameledene, co. Oxf., ibid.

Alexander de Hameldone, co. Bucks, ibid.

Thomas de Hameldene, co. Glouc., ibid.

Richard de Hameleden, co. Surrey: Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Robert (parson of the church at) Hameldon, co. Surrey: 20 Edw. I. R. London, 61.

Hamlet, Hamlett.—Bapt. 'theson of Hamon,' from nick. Ham, and double dim. Ham-el-ot. Later on it assumed the settled form of Hamlet; its rivals were Hamnet and Hamlin, q.v. As a font-name Hamon has nearly disappeared, although Hamlet and Hamnet are still retained in a few old-established families. The Masseys of co. Chester have retained this name for centuries. The forms in the Visitation of Cheshire, 1580 (Harl. Soc., pp. 170-5) are Hamon de Massy, 23 Edw. III; Hamond Massy, temp. Hen. IV; Hamlett Massy, 1566; and Hamnett Massy (p. 124). The De Lacy Inquisition, 1311, has 'The wife of Richard, son of Hamelot.' Both Hamlet and Hamnet were commonly used in the last century as font-names, although their relation as diminutives of Hamon was quite forgotten. Hamlet Winstanley, the painter, was born at Warrington in the year 1700. In Kent's London Directory for 1736 several Hamnets are found as font-names. I furnished an instance in Notes and Queries some years ago of the same person being known as Hamnet or Hamlet. It was in the case of one of the Massyes of Cheshire. Shakespeare's little son was alike Hamnet or Hamlet, after his godfather Hamnet Sadler. A good instance occurs in Privy Purse Expenses, Elizabeth of York (pp. 21 and 63):

Nov. 13, 1502. Item: the same day to Hamlet Clegge, for money by him layed out ... ibid.

June 13, 1502. Item: the same day to Hampnet Clegge, for money by him delivered to the Queene, vis. viiij.

Besides the familiar Hammond the following surnames are undoubtedly sprung from Hamon and its diminutives: Hammett, Hammonds, Hamond, Hamlet, Hamlyn (all from Crockford's Cler. Dir.), Hammatt, Hamlin, Hamling, Hamblet, Hamblin, Hambling, Hampson, Ham, and Hams (all from Lond. Dir.). That Hamo was known as Ham is proved by 'Hamme, son of Adcock, held twenty-nine acres of land': De Lacy Inquisition, 1311.

Hamlet Ashton. AA. 1.
Richard fil. Hamelot. AA. 2.
Hamelot de la Burste. NN.

Hamlet Milot, of Carrington, husbandman, 1587: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 136.

1604-5. Thomas Hamlett, co. Hants: Reg. Univ. Ox. ii. 279.

Ellen Hamlett, of Roby, co. Lanc., 1685: Wills at Chester (1681-1700), p. 107.

1791. Married — Thomas Hamlet and Eliz. Clark: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 58.

Manchester, 4, 1; MDB. (co. Chester), 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 2, 3.

Hamley, Hambly.—Local, 'of Hamley.' I cannot find the spot.

1737. Married — Peter Hambly and Agnes Jenkinson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 19.

1788. Married — Rev. Thomas Hambly (of Widford, Herts) and Ann Hallett: ibid. ii. 10.

MDB. (co. Cornwall), 1, 1; London, 1, 0.

Hamlin, Hamling, Hamlyn, Hamblin, Hambling.—Bapt. 'the son of Hamo' or (Fr.) Hamon, from dim. Hamelin (v. Hammon); cf. Hewling for Hewelin (Hugh). The g in Hamling and Hambling is, of course, excrement, and the h in Hamblin and Hambling is equally, of course, intrusive.

Hamelin de Humpton, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

William Hamelin, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Walter Hamline, co. Linc., ibid.

Hamelin de Godelee, 35 Edw. I.: BBB. p. 743.

Osbert Hamelyn, 1306. M.

Hamelyn de Trap. H.

Hamalin Prepositus. C.

Hamelin (without surname), co. Camb., ibid.

Robertus Hamelyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 297.

Thomas Hamelyn, 1379: ibid. p. 221.

1618. Bapt. — Margaret, d. Thomas

Hamlin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 82.

1799. Married. — John Bean and Ann

Hamblen: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 199.

London, 3, 1, 2, 1, 3; Philadelphia, 7, 0,

2, 3, 1.

Hamman, Hammand.—Bapt. 'the son of Hamon'; v. Hammon.

London, 1, 0; MDB. (co. Cambridge),

0, 1; Oxford, 1, 0.

Hammence.—Bapt. A variant of Hammonds or Hammons, q.v.; cf. Evance for Evans, but v. Hemmence.

MDB. (co. Cambridge), 2.

Hammersley, Hamersly.—

Local, 'of Hamersley,' a locality probably to be found in co. Stafford.

1610. Walter Hamersley, co. Staff.: Reg. Univ. Ox. ii. 265.

1617. William Hamersly, co. Staff.: ibid. p. 310.

1801. Married. — John Ryan and Mary Hamersley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 245.

MDB. (co. Stafford), 7, 0; London, 5, 0;

Manchester, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 7.

Hammersmith, Hamersmith.—Local, 'of Hammersmith,' a parish in co. Middlesex, near London. I find no trace of the surname in England.

Philadelphia, 1, 0; New York, 1, 1.

Hamerton; v. Hamerton.

Hammett, Hammatt, Ham-

mitt.—Bapt. 'the son of Hamon,' modified forms of Hamnett, q.v.

1581. Hammett Penketman and Isabell

Browne: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 103.

1595. Thomas Streete and Margaret

Hammett: ibid. p. 226.

1761. Married — James Lyman and Eliz. Hammett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 102.

London, 3, 1, 0; Manchester, 1, 0, 0;

New York 2, 0, 2; Philadelphia, 7, 0, 5.

Hammon, Hammond, Hammondson.—Bapt. 'the son of Hamon' or, with excrement d (as in Simond), Hamond. A very popular font-name in its day, now all but entirely forgotten. Nevertheless its diminutives, Hamelot,

Hamonet, and Hameline, survived till the 18th century as font-names, the parent having lapsed into oblivion; v. Hamlet, Hamnett, and Hamlin. For Hamondson, v. Hampson, in which form it finally settled down.

Hamund Brande, Sheriff of London, 1203: Riley's Chronicles of the Mayors and Sheriffs of London, p. 187.

Hamund le Mester, co. Hunts, 1273. A.

Hamo, or Hammund de Cursun, co.

Salop, ibid.

Adelina fil. Hamund, co. Hunts, ibid.

Alan Hamund, co. Ox. ibid.

William fil. Hammund, co. Linc., ibid.

Hammond Chyckwell, Lord Mayor of London, 1310: N. and Q., 1857, p. 197.

Hamond Cobeler. H.

John Fitz-hamond (=Fitz-Aymon). D.

Hammond Hansart, 1556: Reg. Univ.

Oxf. p. 231.

1648. Bapt. — Abraham, son of George

Hammon: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 109.

London, 7, 101, 0; Manchester, 0, 7, 0.

Hammons, Hammonds.—

Bapt. 'the son of Hamon'; the d is excrement and the s patronymic; v. Hammon.

Crockford, 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1, 0.

Hamner; v. Hanmer.

Hamnett, Hamonet.—Bapt.

'the son of Hamon,' from dim.

Hamon-et; v. Hammon. This soon became Hamnet. The rival dim. of Hamnet was Hamlet (Hamelot), and frequently both forms are ascribed to the same individual, but they must be kept distinct; v. Hamlet.

Hamnet as a font-name existed till the last century. It was extremely popular in Cheshire for many centuries. As a surname it is naturally found in that district, the Hamonet of the London Directory representing a Frenchman, a teacher of music.

1522-3. Hamnet Shawe and Eliz. Shypman: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 3.

'Hamynet Harrington, gentleman usher,' 1526: Letters and Papers (Foreign and Domestic), Hen. VIII.

Hamnet Burgess, 1619: Wills at Chester, p. 33.

Hammet Warburton, 1631: Lanc. and Ches. Rec. Soc. xli. 206.

1643. Buried — Hamnet Hide, from Mr. Hollingsworth's: St. Antholin (London), p. 76.

1729. Married — John Creighton and Eliz. Hamnet: St. Peter, Cornhill, ii. 79.

London, 0, 1; Manchester, 3, 0.

Hampden.—Local, 'of Hampden,' a parish (divided into Great and Little) in co. Bucks. The famous John Hampden, although born in London, was the son of William Hampden, of Hampden, co. Bucks.

Alexander de Hamden, co. Bucks: Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Alexander de Hamden, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Alexander de Hampden, co. Bucks,
ibid.

1581. Thomas Hamdenne, co. Northampton: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 99.

1591-2. Jerome Horsey and Eliz. Hampden, daughter of Griffin Hampden, late of Hampden, co. Bucks, Esq.: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 195.

London, 1; Crockford, 3.

Hamper.—Offic. 'the hanaper.' The corruption was all but inevitable. A hanaper was a kind of basket in which to store documents, &c. Hence the Hanaper Office, and the familiar hamper (v. English Surnames, 4th edit., p. 388). The hanaper seems to have had charge of the stored-up indentures, &c. 'Hanypere or hamper, canistrum': Prompt. Parv.

Geoffrey le Hanaper, co. Camb., 1273. A.
John Hanaper, co. Hunts, ibid.
William Hanyper, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 232.
London, 2.

Hampermaker.—Occup. 'a maker of hampers or hanapers,' a basket-maker; v. Hamper.

William Hampermaker. H.
Walter Hampermaker. RR. 3.

Hampshire, Hampsheir, Hamsher, Hamshar, Hampshaw, Halmshaw, Hamshaw.—(1) Local, 'of Hallamshire,' easily and naturally corrupted to Hampshire. There can be no doubt about the Yorkshire Hampshires; they are descended from Hallamshire folk. Nine-tenths of our Hampshires = Hallamshire. The order is Hallomshire, Halmshire, Hamshire, and (with customary intrusive p after m, as in Simpson or Thompson) Hampshire. The intermediate link is found in Halmshaw, to be seen in the West Rid. Court Directory.

Thomas de Hallomshire, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 32.
Henricus de Hallomshire, 1379: ibid. p. 2.

Thomas Halmomshire, 1379: ibid. p. 186.
Robertus Hallomshire, 1379: ibid. p. 294.

(2) Local, 'of Hampshire'; cf. Wiltshire, Devonshire, &c.

London, 1, 1, 2, 1, 0, 0, 0; Wakefield (Hampshire), 2; Leeds (Hampshire), 2; Sheffield (Hampshire), 3; Wakefield (Hampshaw), 1; Sheffield, (Hampshaw), 1; West Riding Court Dir. (Halmshaw), 1;

Liversedge (Halmshaw), 2; Balne, Yorks (Hampshaw), 1.

Hampson.—Bapt. 'the son of Hamon' or, with excrement d, 'Hamond'; v. Hammon. Sometimes Hampson (the p is intrusive, as in Simpson or Thompson) is a corruption of Hamondson. Occasionally it may be direct from the nick. Hamme; v. Ham. The Manchester and South Lancashire directories conclusively prove, by the large number of Hampsons they contain, how locally popular was Hamond in the 14th and 15th centuries as a font-name. For an extended proof of this, v. Hamlet.

Robertus Hameson, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 76.

Hamo fil. Hamonis. C.
William Hamerson, temp. Eliz. ZZ.
John Hamson. V. 5.
Alice Hamundson, co. York. W. 2.
John Hamundson, co. York. W. 11.
1551. Married — William Pynebeck and Jone Hamson: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 6.

1553. Bapt. — Alice Hampsonne: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 6.

London, 4; Manchester, 36; Philadelphia, 19.

Hampton.—Local, 'of Hampton.' There are at least thirteen parishes of this name in England, representing the diocs. of Worcester, London, Hereford, Oxford, Exeter, and Lichfield.

John de Hampton, co. Som., 1273. A.
William de Hamptone, co. Hunts, ibid.
Nicholas de Hampton, co. Wilts, ibid.
Philip de Hampton, co. Camb., ibid.
Geoffrey de Hampton, co. Linc., ibid.
1575. John Hampton and Eliz. Laymere: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 67.
1661. Bapt. — William, s. John Hampton: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 212.
London, 12; Philadelphia, 39.

Hanbrook.—Local; v. Hambrook, of which it is a variant; cf. Ransom for Ranson.

MDb. (co. Kent.), 1.

Hanbury, Handbury, Hanberry, Hanbrey, Handbury.—Local, (1) 'of Hanbury,' (a) a parish in co. Stafford, seven miles from Burton; (b) a parish in co. Worcester, four miles from Droitwich; (2) 'of Handborough,' a parish in co. Oxford, three miles from Woodstock. The chief variants of the surname are found in the United States.

Walter de Haneber', or Haneberowe, co. Oxf., 1273. A.

Robert de Hanebergh, co. Oxf., ibid.
Richard de Hanburgh, co. Northampton, 20 Edw. I. K.

Alex. de Haneburgo, co. Staff.: Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

John de Haneber', co. Oxf., ibid.
Thomas de Haneberwe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 226.

John de Haneberwe, co. Soms.: ibid.
Phillip de Handbury, rector of Wells, co. Norf., 1327: FF. ix. 285.

1558. William Hanbury and Alice Ferryman, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 19.

1592. Francis Hanbury, co. Middlesex: Reg. Univ. Oxf. pt. ii. p. 191.

London, 13, 0, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Cambridge), 0, 1, 0, 0, 0; (co. Bucks), 2, 0, 0, 0; New York, 2, 0, 1, 1, 1.

Hanby, Handby.—Local, 'of Hanby,' a hamlet in the parish of Lavington, co. Lincoln. The d in Handby is intrusive; cf. Handcock or Handbury. Also cf. Simmonds for Simmons.

Roger de Hanby, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

1582. Thomas Hanbye and Isabell Wayne: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 112.

1760. Married — William Dand and Jane Hanby: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 184.

MDb. (co. Derby), 1, 1; London, 0, 1.

Hance; v. Hands.

Hancock, Handcock, Hancocks, Hancox.—Bapt. 'the son of John,' from Han, and suffix -cock (v. Hankin); cf. Wilcock, Wilcox, Jeffcock, Simcock, and Simcox; v. Cocks or Cox. The d in Handcock is, of course, intrusive. Hancock was more popular than Hankin, and is found in the Hundred Rolls (1273). I do not find any instance of Hankin in those registers.

Hanecock Birunc, co. York, 1273. A.
Warynus Hancok, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 204.

Agnes Hankok-wyf, 1379: ibid. p. 283.
Robert Hancok, 1379: ibid. p. 82.

Willelmus Hancok', 1379: ibid. p. 45.

1619. Richard Tirrell and Katherine Hancoxe: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 83.

1651. Married — John Steele, batchler, and Abigail Hanncock, vergen: St. Mary Aldermary, p. 22.

1762 — George Handcock and Eleanor Jackson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 110.

London, 49, 0, 1, 1; West Riding Court Dir., 7, 1, 0, 0; Boston (U.S.), 40, 1, 0, 0.

Hand, Hands, Hance.—Bapt. 'the son of John,' from the Dutch imported Han or Hans. The d is excrement, as in Simmonds for Simmons; v. Hancock, Hankin, and Hanson. With Hance, cf. Evance for Evans or Ellice for Ellis.

'Hancee the Luter, iis. vid.': Privy Purse Exp., Princess Mary, p. 104.

Hans Berner. O.

Hans Doubler, ibid.

Hanse et uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 231.

Matilda Han-wyfe, 1379: ibid. p. 16.

Thomas Hand', 1379: ibid. p. 65.

Laurence Hande, 1379: ibid.

1521. John Hance and Johan Audley:

Marriage Lic. (London), i. 2.

1521. Bartholomew Hands and Barbara Kitson: ibid. p. 172.

1594. John Hind' and Joane Simons: ibid. p. 213.

London, 14, 8, 3; Philadelphia, 82, 1, 32.

Handbury; v. Hanbury.

Handby; v. Hanby.

Handcock; v. Hancock.

Handforth, Handford, Hanford.—Local, 'of Handforth,' a township in the parish of Cheadle, co. Chester, formerly Honford or Hondford. For suffix, v. Forth or Ford.

John de Honford, i.e. Handforth, 1370: Earwaker's Hist. East Cheshire, i. 239.

Thomas de Honford, 1398: ibid.

Richard Handforth, of Godley, 1598: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 81.

Hugh Handforth, of Marton, tailor, 1638: ibid. (1621-50), p. 95.

Nicholas Handforth, of Godley, parish of Mottram, 1635: ibid.

1665. Married.—Robert Honforde and Katherine Kyrke: Reg. Prestbury Ch. (co. Ches.), p. 16.

1598. John Hanforth and Joane Cheyney: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 250.

1784. Married.—Jacob Stannard and Harriot Handford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 355.

Manchester, 5, 3, 0; MDB. (co. Chester), 1, 4, 0; London, 0, 7, 0; Philadelphia, 7, 3, 6.

Handley.—Local; v. Hanley.

Handsaker, Handshaker.—

Local, 'of Handsacre,' a parish in co. Stafford, near Rugeley. This surname looks as if it were the sobriquet of some demonstrative welcomer of his friends, but the spelling and pronunciation are simply imitative.

William Hondeshakere, 1302. M. Elizabeth Hondesacre, C. R., 18 Hen. VI.

1623. Rowland Powell and Bridget Handsaker: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 133.

1656. Buried—Joane Hansaker, a pensioner: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 248.

MDB. (co. Stafford), i. 0.

Handsomebody.—Nick. This name somewhat startled the public when it figured in the newspapers a few years ago in a list of honours. No doubt a rough translation of the old Gentilcors.

William Gentilcors. M.

Richard Gentilcors. X.

Handson; v. Hanson; cf. Handcock for Hancock.

MDB. (co. Cornwall), 1; (co. Lincoln), 4.

Handy.—Nick. 'the handy,' the expert, the ready, the attentive; v. Hendy, a M.E. form of the same word.

Robert Handy, C. R., 16 Edw. III. pt. i.

1792. Married—William Handy and Mary Goode: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 84.

1793.—Thomas Handy and Sarah Hodges: ibid. p. 102.

London, 1; Oxford, 1; New York, 22.

Handybody.—Nick. 'the handy body,' the ready, the useful; v. Handy and Hendy, and cf. Goodbody.

Nicholas Hendibody, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 189.

Hane.—Nick. 'the hen' (?) ; cf. A.S. hana, a cock, of which hen is the feminine.

Alicia le Hane, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

Hanger.—Local, 'at the hanger,' from residence beside some sloping grounds so termed; cf. Shelf-hanger, a parish in co. Norwich; Hanging Heaton, a parish in W. Rid. Yorks; Hanging Ditch, in Manchester; and the various Heaning Woods, Heaning Banks, &c., in Furness and co. Cumberland.

'It is divided into a sheep-down, the high wood, and a long hanging wood called the Hanger': White's Hist. Selborne, Letter i.

Richard atte Hanger, C. R., 6 Hen. IV. 1630. Married—John Hanger and Ellin Smyth: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 62.

1643. George Buller and Mary Hanger: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 269.

1717-8. Right Hon. Henry, Lord Colerane and Alice Hanger: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 340.

Oxford, 1; New York, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Hanham, Hannam, Han-nam.—Local, 'of Hanham,' a hamlet in the parish of Britton, co.

Gloucester, five miles from Bristol. With the American variant Han-nam, cf. Barnum for Barnham.

Thomas de Hanam, co. Soms., 1273. A. Roger de Hanam, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.

Kirby's Quest, p. 270.

1587-8. John Hannam, co. Dorset: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 163.

1589. Married—Marriage Lic. (London), i. 180.

1594. Married—Henry Hannam and Marg. Huberden: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 18.

1795. Married—James Hannam and Martha Patty: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 129.

MDB. (co. Dorset), 4, 3, 0; London, 1, 7, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 17.

Hanker.—Occup. 'the anchorite'; M.E. ancure, a hermit. The aspirate is common in the early registers.

John le Hanekere, co. Oxf., 1273. A. Adam Hanekare, co. Oxf., ibid.

1703. Buried—John Peter Hanker, merchant: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 271.

Philadelphia, 1.

Hankey.—? Bapt. 'the son of John' (?). Probably a modification of Hankin, as suggested by Lower (v. Patr. Brit. p. 149); v. Hankin. All the same a spot must be looked for in co. Chester, styled Hankey, which may have given birth to a local surname.

1533. John Hankey, of Churton: Earwaker's East Cheshire, ii. 86 n.

1562. Hugh Hankey, of Churton: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 81.

1610. Robert Hankey, of Darnell: ibid.

1761. Married—John Cholmley and Anne Hankey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 102.

MDB. (co. Kent), 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Hankin, Hanking, Hankins, Hankinson.—Bapt. 'the son of John,' from dim. Johan-kin = Harkin or Jankin; v. Hanson. The English form was Jankin or Jenkin, but Hankin, introduced from the Low Countries, gradually naturalized itself, though it never became actually English. 'Hankin Booby' was a common name for a clown': Chappell's English Songs, i. 73.

'Thus for her love and loss poor Hankin dies,

His amorous soul down flies.'

Musarum Deliciae, 1655.

'Hanekin Almond, varlet of the Countess of Surrey': Household Book of Queen Isabelle, 1358; Cot. MS. Galba. E. xiv.

Alex. Henekyng, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 272.

Hanekin de Fine. E.
 Hanekyn Jocelyn. N.
 Hankyn Maynwaryng. H.
 Randolph Hankynson, temp. Eliz. ZZ.
 Garret Hankinson, temp. Eliz. Z.
 1761. Married — Thomas Hankin and Margaret Wilkinson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 105.
 1782. — Thomas Hankins and Rebecca Hillier: ibid. p. 339.
 1787. — George Hankinson and Mary Smith: ibid. p. 402.
 London, 7, 2, 7, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 6, 9.

Hanks.—Bapt. 'the son of John'; v. Hankin and Hanson. (1) A corruption of Hankins; cf. Perks from Perkins, Dawks from Dawkins, Hawks from Hawkins, &c. (2) Hanka or Hanke was an early Low Country pet-name for John (v. Yonge's Glossary). Introduced into England the patronymic would be Hanks. In either case the origin is practically the same. We find it early on the south-east coast, where we should naturally expect it to appear.

Roger Hanke, co. Norf., 1273. A.
 1564. Bapt.—Eliz. Hances, borne in the feildes: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 2.
 1585. — William, s. Richard Hances: ibid. p. 17.
 1789. Married — William Hanks and Lucy Edwards: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 18.
 London, 7; Oxford, 4; New York, 5.

Hanley, Handley, Handly.—Local, (1) 'of Hanley,' parishes in cos. Stafford, Worcester, and Lincoln; (2) 'of Handley,' parishes in cos. Chester and Dorset.

Tristram de Hanle, co. Suff., 1273. A.
 William de Hanley, co. Salop, ibid.
 Warin de Hannelaye, co. Linc., ibid.
 Robertus de Hanelay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 6.
 Peter de Hanlay, 1379: ibid. p. 48.
 Willelmus de Hanlay, 1379: ibid. p. 174.
 1605. Thomas Hanley and Hester Gosson; Marriage Lic. (London), i. 296.
 1611. Robert Handley, of Manchester: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 81.
 1619. John Handleighe, co. Dorset: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 377.
 Manchester, 11, 2, 0; London, 9, 2, 0; New York, 82, 9, 2.

Hanman, Handman.—Local, 'of Hanham' (q.v.), in co. Glouc. At first sight it would seem to mean 'the servant of Hand' (q.v.); cf. Addiman, Matthewman, Priestman, &c. But the evidence is in favour of a local origin; cf. Sweetnam for Swettenham, Deadman for Debenham, Godliman for Godalming, &c.

1609. John Handman, co. Glouc. (found in 1613 as Hannan): Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 306, iii. 319.
 MDB. (co. Glouc.), 2, 1.

Hamner, Hamner.—Local, 'of Hamner,' a parish in the dioc. of St. Asaph. The change from Hamner to Hammer (an American form) is found as early as the 16th century in England.

William Jenkin, of Hamner, 1568: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 109.
 Lewis Hamner (sic), co. Salop, 1575: Reg. Univ. Oxf. pt. ii. p. 62.
 Edward Hamner, of Seswick, co. Denbigh, 1598: Wills at Chester (1545-1620), p. 81.

Anthony Hamner, of Bellfield, parish of Hamner, 1615: ibid.
 1766. Married — Humphrey Hamner and Catherine Newton: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 153.

London, 1, 0; Manchester, 4, 0; Liverpool, 4, 0; MDB. (co. Denbigh), 2, 0; Boston (U.S.), 1, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Hanmore.—Local, 'of Hammer' (q.v.), a variant which now seems confined to the United States.

1624. Bapt.—Anne, d. Thomas Hammore: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 98.
 1697. — Ann, d. Robert Hammore: ibid. p. 374.
 New York, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

Hannah, Hanna.—Local, 'of Hannah,' a parish in co. Lincoln, three miles from Alford. I believe, however, a large number of Hannas and Hannabs are of Scotch descent, probably variants of the local surname Hannay.

1622. Robert Hanna and Jane Styward: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 110.
 1677. Bapt.—John, s. John Hanna: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 277.
 MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1, 0; London, 4, 1; New York, 8, 30; Philadelphia, 10, 78.

Hannam; v. Hanham.

Hannen, Hannan.—Probably a variant of Hannam (q.v.), being found in the same county.

MDB. (co. Dorset), 1, 0; (co. Wilts), 1, 0; London, 1, 1.

Hanniball, Honeyball, Honeybell, Honiball, Honniball, Annable.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Annable,' 'that perplexing name, Annabella,' as Miss Yonge styles it (Hist. Christian Names, ii. 283).

There is no difficulty about it. Originally it was Amable or Amabel, but very soon became Annabel, whence the Scottish Annaple and Annabella. From this was formed Arabella; cf. Harry from Henry. The Hundred Rolls give the true and earliest forms; v. Annable.

Amabilia (without surname), co. Bucks, 1273. A.

John fil. Amabilie, co. Hunts, ibid.
 John Amable co. Camb., ibid.
 Amabilia de Amet, co. Linc., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.
 Amabil, or Amable, or Amiable de Bydun, co. Bedf., ibid.

The next stage, as above stated, was a change from m to n.

Richard Annabila, C. R., 9 Ric. II.
 John Annable, C. R., 22 Edw. III. pt. i.
 Peter fil. Annabel, 1311. M.
 Johan Brase, et Anabul sa femme, 1370: P. T. Yorks. p. 43.

Annabila de Harpham, co. York. W. 2.

The final stage was to aspirate the initial vowel, so common a practice in names, as shown over and over again in this dictionary (v. Hodson). We may look upon the surname Hanniball therefore as imitative of the famous Hannibal of our school-days.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Hannibal.' Unquestionably in some cases Hanniball and its variants must be looked upon as derived from the historical name. We find it as early as the 13th century:

Mathew Hanybal, C.R., 39 Hen. III. pt. i.
 It was also introduced into England from Italy by spice-merchants and money-lenders:

Peter Haniballus, civis Romanus. C.
 Speaking generally, however, I doubt not the Hanniballs, &c., of our London and other English directories are but imitative, and are in reality derived from the once very familiar girl's name Annable. I may add that Arabella, the Scotch variant of Annabella, was early anticipated by the following entry:

Arable de Meyhamme, co. Kent, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

I append a few instances from modern registers:

Thomas Hannyball, 1513: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 88.

1805. Married—William Green and Margaret Hanniball: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 328.

— John Clarke and Eliz. Honneyball: ibid. p. 331.
London, o, 4, 1, 1, 2, o; Boston (U.S.), Annale, 9.

Hanning.—Local, 'of Hanham'; v. Hanham, Hannen, and Hanman.

MDb. (co. Glouc.), 1.

Hanington.—Local, 'of Hanington,' parishes in cos. Northampton, Wilts, and Hants.

Adam de Hanington, co. Westm., 20 Edw. III. R.

1627. Thomas Gladwin and Frances Hanington: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 188.

1794. Married—Samuel Hanington and Grace Elford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 118.
London, 2; New York, 1; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Hannum; v. Hanham.

Hanrott.—Bapt. 'theson of Henry,' from dim. Henriot; v. Harriot.

Hansard, Hassard, Hazard.—Local, 'the Hansard,' a merchant of one of the Hanse towns, a member of the Hanseatic league. Lower, following Ferguson, says it is a personal name. This is quite possible, but so far as I am aware neither offers any evidence. My instances are from the East coast, which strongly suggests a Hanseatic origin. Luke Hansard, the founder of the Parliamentary Hansard, was born in Norwich in 1752 (Chambers' Encyc. v. 232). As will be seen below, his ancestors were in the same county five centuries earlier. Hassard and Hazard are perhaps modifications; but v. Hassard.

Gilbert Haunsard, co. Linc., 1273. A.
John Haunsard, co. Norf., ibid.
John Hasard, co. York, ibid.
John Haunsard, co. Northampton, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.
Gilbert Haunsard, co. Linc., 20 Edw. I. R.

William Hasard, C. R., 36 Hen. III.
Alan de Haunsard, taverner, 4 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 13.

1624-5. Edward Hassard and Eliz. French: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 151.
1631. John Hansard and Afra Nevins: ibid. p. 204.

London, 3, 2, 4; New York, o, 3, 30.

Hanscomb, Handsecomb, Hanscom, Hanscome.—Local,

'of Hanscomb.' I cannot find the spot. In the United States this surname has ramified strongly as Hanscom. Of course the suffix is -comb; v. Combe.

1618. Robert Hanscombe and Sarah Fells: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 65.

1652. Married—William Hanscom and Mary Tennant: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 88.

1668. — Thomas Wale and Anne Hanscome: ibid. p. 148.

London, 3, o, o, o; MDb. (co. Bucks), o, 2, o, o; Boston (U.S.), o, o, 35, 1.

Hanselin.—Bapt. 'the son of John,' from Dutch nick. Hans, and dim. Hans-elin; cf. Hewling.

Johannes Hanselyn, junr., et Agnes uxor ejus, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 107.

Johannes Hanselyn, senr., et Beatrix uxor ejus, mercer, 1379: ibid.

Wilhelmus Hanselyn et Matilda uxor ejus: ibid. p. 106.

Probably u is a misreading for n in the following:

Hugo Haucelin, or Hauselin, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Ralph Haucelin, co. Linc., ibid.

Hanslip.—Local, 'of Hanslope,' a parish in dioc. of Oxford, co. Bucks. With Hamslope (infra) cf. Hanbrook for Hambrook.

Emma de Hamslope, co. Northampton, Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

William de Hamslope, co. Bucks, 1273. A.

John de Hameslapp, co. Bucks, ibid.
London, 2.

Hansom.—Bapt. 'the son of Hans' (v. Hanson); n frequently becomes m in patronymics where the first syllable ends in n; cf. Ransom for Ranson, Sansom for Sanson, &c. Professor Skeat (v. Hansom), referring to the cab so-called, says, 'An abbreviation for "Hansom's patent safety cab." From the name of the inventor.' When he goes on to say, 'Hansom is no doubt the same as handsome, in which the d is frequently dropped. Many surnames are nicknames,' he is unfortunate. I have never discovered any trace of Handsome as a nickname. The above is the natural and correct origin.

1668. Married—John Hansum and Mary Jepson: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 146.

1772. Married—John Hansom and Mary Abben: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 223.

Barnoldswick, near Shipton (Yorks), 1; New York, 4.

Hanson.—Bapt. 'the son of John,' from the Dutch introduced Han or Hans; v. Hankin. There are few traces of the name in the Hundred Rolls of 1273. The large business done between the English and Low Countries in the 14th century, however, made the foreign forms familiar, especially in counties like Yorkshire.

William Haneson, Pat. Roll, 4 Edw. III. pt. ii.

Richard Hanson, co. York. W. 2.

Matilda Hanwyfe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 26.

Adam Haneson, 1379: ibid.

Robertus Hanson, 1379: ibid. p. 187.

Willelmus Hanson, 1379: ibid. p. 45.

Johanna Hanson, wyf, 1379: ibid. p. 36.

Johannes Haneson, ibid. p. 211.

William Haneson, 1379: Preston

Guild Rolls, p. 2.

1641. Bapt.—Jane, d. Thomas Handsonne: St. Peter, Cornhill, i. 89.

London, 21.

Harber, Harbar, Harbour.

—Occup. 'the harbourer,' one who shelters or harbours people, one who provides lodging; cf. O.F. herberge, 'a lodging, a house, a harbour,' Cotg.; cf. Harbinger.

Geoffrey Herbour, co. Camb., 1273. A.

John Herbour, co. Camb., ibid.

William le Herber. E.

Richard le Hareber. N.

1656. Baried—Anne Harber, servant

with Mr. Kelke: St. Michael, Cornhill,

p. 248.

1785. Married—Thomas Shaw and Ann

Harbour: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 373.

London, 2, 1, 2; Philadelphia, 1, o, o.

Harbage; v. Harbridge.

Harbert, Harbert, Harbord, Harbourd.—Bapt. 'the son of Herbert.' These are modifications rather than corruptions; cf. Hubbard and Hubert, Harman and Herman, Perkins and Parkins.

Henry Herberd, co. Bedf., 1273. A.

Walter Herberd, co. Oxf., ibid.

Adam Herbard, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III:

Kirby's Quest, p. 180.

A via media is found in the following entry:

William Harborte unto Mistress Eliz. Christmas, 1626: St. Mary Aldermay

(London), p. 15.

1624. Bapt.—John, s. Edward Harbort: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 100.

1637. Bapt.—Anne, d. Isaac Harbert: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 135.

1762. Married.—William Curby and Jane Harbeart, or Herbert: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 115.

1783.—George Armytage, barl., and Mary Harbord, d. Sir Harbord Harbord: ibid. p. 350.

London, 1, 0, 3, 0; Liverpool, 0, 0, 3, 1; MDB. (co. Cornwall), 0, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia (Harbert), 6.

Harbidge; v. Harbridge.

Harbin, -son; v. Harbison.

Harbinger, Harberger.—Offic. 'one who goes before his lord to secure lodging' (whence a forerunner); M.E. herbergeour; O.F. herberger, to harbour, to lodge; O.F. herberge, a lodging (v. Harber). Halliwell has a quotation in the above sense from Hall, Henry VIII, f. 36, on Harbergiers.

'By herbergeours that wenten him before.' Chaucer, C. T. 5417.

Wolsey, in 1526, leaving London, had

'his harbingers passing before to provide lodging for his train': Cavendish, i. 87.

Presents on New Year's Day, 'The Harbingers,' xvs. 1542-3; Privy Purse Exp., Princess Mary, p. 103, and see note.

William le Harbeieur. B. Boston (U.S.), 0, 1.

Harbison, Harbeson, Harbin, Harbinson.—Bapt. 'the son of Harberd,' q.v. (i.e. Herbert). The Daily Telegraph (June 30, 1894) announced the marriage of the Rev. W. Harbinson. Hence Harbison and Harbeson are mere modifications of Harbinson, Harbin being the dim. of Harberd; cf. Huskinson and Huskison, Pattinson and Pattison.

London, 1, 0, 1, 0; Philadelphia, 30, 5, 0, 0.

Harborow, Harbrow, Harbroe.—Local, 'of Harborough,' two parishes, one in co. Leic. the other in co. Warwick.

Adam Harborough, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 108.

MDB. (co. Surrey), 0, 1, 1; London, 3, 0, 1.

Harbottle.—Local, 'of Harbottle,' a township in the parish of Hallystone, co. Northumberland.

Richard de Herbotell, 17 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 22.

1537. Ralph Harbotell and Cristina Warren: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 9. London, 3.

Harbour, Harbor.—Occup.; v. Harber.

MDB. (co. Southampton), 2, 1.

Harbridge, Harbage, Harbage.—Local, 'of Harbridge,' a chapelry in the parish of Ringwood, co. Southampton.

MDB. (co. Chester), 5, 0, 0; (co. Warwick), 1, 2, 3; London, 1, 0, 0; Philadelphia, 1, 4, 0.

Harcourt.—Local, 'of Harcourt,' 'A town and ancient chateau, now in ruins, near Brionne in Normandy, which gave title to the French Ducs de Harcourt' (Lower, Patr. Brit. p. 147). It is somewhat curious to note that Harcourt has seldom travelled beyond the lines of patrician life. It is seldom found in the tradesman's directory. It is not so with our Nevilles, Howards, Sinclairs, Mortimers, Pierpoints, Braybrooks, &c. (v. Lower, ibid.)

Ivo de Harecourt: Pipe Roll, 11 Hen. II. p. 84.

London, 4; Boston (U.S.), 1.

Hardaker, Hardiker, Hardacre.—Local, 'of Hardacre.' I cannot find the spot or spots so called. Co. York must be looked upon as the chief centre; cf. Half-acre or Fouracre.

John de Hordacre, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 252.

Willemus Hardaker, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 284.

Nicholaus Harthacre, 1379: ibid. p. 276.

1778. Married.—Thomas Hardaker and Frances Lindley: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 288.

London, 1, 0, 0; Manchester, 2, 1, 0; West Riding (Yorks) Court Dir., 4, 0, 2.

Hardaway.—Local, 'at the hard way,' i.e. the hard road, from residence thereby. The middle a is intrusive for euphony; cf. Green-a-way, Ott-a-way, Hath-a-way, &c.

The Daily Telegraph, April 3, 1894, announces the death at Brentford of George Hardaway.

London, 1.

Hardeastle.—Local, 'of Harde Castle' (?). Mr. Lower writes, 'Must be, I think, a contraction of Harden Castle, the ancient residence of the Scotts of Harden, and a fine specimen in this day of a border fortress, in Roxburghshire' (Patr. Brit. p. 147). This is quite possible. It is found in cos. Northumberland and Durham. I am strongly inclined to this view, but evidence is lacking, so far as my reading goes.

1586. Francis Garladay, sadler, and Ellen Harcastell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 150.

1621. Thomas Hartcastle and Katherine Grace: ibid. ii. 103.

1737. Married.—Robert Hardecastle and Jane Stabells: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 18.

Newcastle, 1; Durham, 1; Stockton-Tees, 1; Northumberland Court Dir., 3; London, 8; New York, 5.

Hardekin.—Bapt. 'the son of Hardy,' from the dim. Harde-kin; cf. Wil-kin, Wat-kin, or Tomp-kin; v. Hardy and Hardman.

Hardekin de Hailesle, co. Essex, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Hardekin (without surname), co. Essex, 1273. A.

William Hardeken, co. Norf., ibid.

John Hardekyn, co. Norf., ibid.

John Hardekin, co. Bedf., ibid.

I fear the surname is extinct, saving it be in Harkin. It would be strange if a surname seemingly so securely settled in several counties should have no descendants.

Harden.—Local, 'of Harden,' a hamlet in the parish of Bingley, W. Rid. Yorks. Other small spots may have been so called. No doubt many of this name are now found as Harding, q.v.

Ricardus de Hareden, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Henry de Hardene, co. Northumb., 20 Edw. I. R.

William de Hardene, co. Sussex, ibid. Willemus de Hardeyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 283.

Adam de Hardeyn, 1379: ibid. 1577-8. James Hardend and Jane Cotton: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 78.

1671. Bapt.—Saray, d. William Harden: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 252.

London, 6; New York, 15.

Harderne; v. Arderne.

MDB. (co. Chester), 2.

Hardfish.—Bapt. 'the son of Hardyfish,' probably a Scandinavian personal name, as it is found in cos. York and Norfolk; v. Hardy.

Clemensia Hardfysche, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 100.

Richard Hardfysche, rector of Rockland Tofts, co. Norf., 1466: FF. i. 474.

John Hardyfish, rector of Reedham, co. Norf., 1466: ibid. xi. 131.

Hardhead.—Nick. 'the hard-headed man.'

Willelmus Hardhede, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 125.

Hardiker; v. Hardaker.

Hardiman; v. Hardman.

Hardiment, Hardyment.—Bapt. 'the son of Hardimund'; cf. Hardfish, and v. Hardy. The suffix -mond or -mund is frequently found modified into -ment; cf. Garmet or Rayment.

MDB. (co. Norfolk), 5, 1.

Harding, Hardinge.—Bapt. 'the son of Harding.' Two columns of Hardings in the London Directory testify to the position once occupied by this name at the font; v. Hardwin.

Hugh Harding, co. Camb., 1273. A. Nicol Harding, co. Oxf. ibid.
Robert fil. Harding. E.
Maurice fil. Harding. E.
Nicholas fil. Hardinge: Pipe Roll, 6 Henry II. p. 59.
Johannes Hardyng', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 140.
Thomas Hardyng', 1379: ibid.
London, 105, 3.

Hardingham.—Local, 'of Hardingham,' a parish in co. Norfolk, near Hingham. Literally 'the ham (homestead) of Harding'; v. Harding. Probably the Somerset instance represents another birthplace of this name.

Cf. John de Hardington, co. Soms., i Edw. III.: Kirby's Quest, p. 160.
London, 5; MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1.

Hardisty, Hardesty, Hardistry.—Local, 'of Hardolfsty,' i.e. the sty of Hardolf, Hardolf being the personal name (one of the endless compounds of Ulf) of the original settler; cf. Thorpinsty Hall, Cartmel, in Furness, which means the sty of Thorpin, now the surname Turpin. A sty was 'a pen, enclosure, cabin,' generally for cattle, poultry, or swine, hence pig-sty. The Hardistys hail from the parish of Fewston, seven miles from Otley. The name is still familiar there, and Hardisty Hill is a spot there. The Hardistys (chiefly farmers) have probably not moved from their home for six centuries.

Johannes de Hardolfsty, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 246.

Stephanus de Hardolfsty, 1379: ibid.

These instances come from Timble Great (Villa de Tymble), a village in the parish of Fewston. The little stock has ramified well. Many of our largest represented surnames hail from a single pair located in a small spot. A large family of boys, who marry, and beget boys, soon sets the ball rolling.

1687. Married—Benjamin Oakeley and Grace Hardistey: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 45.

Fewston, 4, 0, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 7, 0, 0; London, 2, 0, 0; Sheffield, 0, 2, 0; Manchester, 3, 0, 2.

Hardman, Hardiman, Hardeman.—(1) Occup. 'the servant of Hardy,' not to be confounded with Hartman, q.v. The following occur as householders of Tadcaster in 1379 (P. T. Yorks. p. 151):

Willelmus Hardy, marchaunt.
Thomas Hardy, hostiler.
Henricus Hardyman.
Radulfus Hardyman.
Matilda serviens Hardy.
Ricardus Hardyman.

It is quite clear from the above that the Hardys were the masters and the Hardymans the servants. Thus the latter belong to the same class as Matthewman, Ladyman, Vickerman, Jackman, &c., q.v. The surname lived as Hardyman till the 16th century. 'John Hardyman, prebend of Chester, 1563' (Ormerod's Cheshire, i. 223). Every town in Yorkshire has one or two Hardmans in its directory, which is the settled modern form.

1575. Baried — John Hardyman: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 193.

West Riding Court Dir., 3, 0, 0; London, 2, 1, 0; Manchester, 16, 0, 1; MDB. (co. Bucks), 0, 2, 0.

Hardeat.—Local, 'of Hardeat,' a parish in co. Bucks.

William Hardmete, co. Linc., 1273. A. 1674. Thomas Hardmett and Sarah Blackerby: Marriage Lic. (Canterbury), p. 228.
Hull, 1.

Hardress.—Local, 'of Hardres,' two parishes near Canterbury, co. Kent.

Gunnora de Hardres, co. Kent, 1273. A. Robert de Hardres, co. Kent, ibid.

1676. Buried — Hester, d. Sir Richard Hardres, baronett: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 242.

1695. Bapt.—John, son of Mr. Edmund Hardresse: Canterbury Cath. p. 20.

Hardstaff.—Nick. applied to a tipstaff or catchpoll; cf. Shakespear, Wagstaff, &c. Probably the original Hardstaff used his symbol of office freely.

MDB. (co. Derby), 2.

Hardwick, Hardwicke.—Local, 'of Hardwick.' (1) A very small hamlet in the parish of Astoncum-Aughton, co. York; (2) East Hardwick, a township and village in the old parish of Pontefract, co. York; (3) West Hardwick, a hamlet in the parish of Wragby, co. York. Also other spots in co. Derby, &c.

Robert de Herdewyk, Camb. and Hunts, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Henry de Herdewyk, Camb. and Hunts, ibid.

Ermina de Herdwych, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Alicia de Hardwyk, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 40.

Agnes de Herdewik, 1379: ibid. p. 16.

Robertus de Hardewyk, 1379: ibid.

1609. James Williams and Anne Hardwicke: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 316.

1621. Humphrey Hardwicke, co. Worc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 397.

London, 18, 3; West Rid. Court Dir., 10, 1; Boston (U.S.), 13, 0; MDB. (co. Derby), 9, 0.

Hardwin, Hadwin, Hadwen.—Bapt. 'the son of Hardwin'; O.F. Hardouin. Hardvinus de Scalers (Domesday).

Hardwin fil. Brichrith, co. Suff., 1273. A. Godwin fil. Hardwini, co. Norf., ibid.

Philip Hardywn, co. Norf., ibid.
London, 0, 0, 6; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 1, 2.

Hardy.—Nick. 'the hardy'; also a personal name with same meaning. That Hardy was a personal name occasionally is proved by evidence under Hardman and Hardekin. Whether baptized or only nicknamed Hardy, the sobriquet was naturally an acceptable one, and no wonder our modern directories bear witness to its popularity. Hardy is several times mentioned as the name of the page to the huntsman to Bishop Swinfield, 1289-90. He bore no other title (Household Exp., Ric. de Swinfield, Cam. Soc., pp. 136, 142, &c.).

Thomas Hardi, 1273. A.
Richard Hardy, 1307. M.
Thomas Hardy, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 204.
London, 53; Sheffield, 18; West Rid. Court Dir., 24.

Hardycors.—Nick. 'one of hardy frame'; a mongrel word, half English, half French; cf. Handsomebody or Gentilcorps.

Robertus Hardycors, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 202.
Simon Hardcorse. F.

Hardyment; v. Hardiment.

Hare.—Nick. 'the hare,' probably affixed on some one fleet of foot. Naturally looked upon as a complimentary sobriquet, and retained in the family; cf. Light-foot.

Hugh le Hare, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Richard le Hare, co. Hunts, ibid.
Robert le Hare, C. R., 20 Edw. III. pt. i.
Johannes Hare, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 48.
Willelmus Hare, 1379: ibid. p. 119.
London, 24.

Harfield.—Local, 'of Harfield,' a parish in Middlesex, four miles from Uxbridge.

London, 4; New York, 13.

Harford.—Local; v. Hereford.

Hargate, Hargitt.—Local, 'of Hargate,' a hamlet in the parish of Bishop Thorton, co. York. There can be no doubt about the derivation of this name.

Johannes Hargate, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 172.
Alicia Hargat, 1379: ibid.
Johannes Hargat, 1379: ibid. p. 171.
1616. Edmund Hargett: Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 343.
1746. Married—Thomas Hargate and Mary Reynolds: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 277.
London, 0, 1; Sheffield, 2, 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 0, 1.

Hargood.—Bapt. 'the son of Haringod.' This, as can be seen from the evidence below, became Heregod, finally Hargood. The suffix -god is common; cf. Godwin or Goodwin, Scattergood and Thorroughood or Toogood. For the prefix, v. Herring. With Heregod and Hargood, cf. Clerk and Clark, or Herman and Harman.

William Harongaud, co. Suff., 1273. A.
William Heregod, co. Kent, ibid.
John Heringod, co. Kent, ibid.
Stephen Heringod, co. Kent, ibid.
Walter Herigaud, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 246.
1613. Robert Harrigad for a carvell, 1s. 7: Brand's Newcastle, ii. 343.
London, 2.

Hargrave, Hargraves, Hargreave, Hargreaves, Hargroves.—Local, 'of Hargrave,' parishes in diocs. Chester, Ely, Peterborough; grave = grove. Probably the haregrove (v. grove, Skeat). The Hargreaves of Lancashire probably spring from Hargrave, co. Chester.

John de Hargrave, co. Bucks, 1273. A.
John de Hargreve. C.
William de Hargreve, 1296: East Cheshire, ii. 607.
Richard de Hargreve, 1296: ibid.
Henry Hargrevys, 1486, co. York. W. 11.
Ambrose Hargreves, or Hargrave. Bras. Coll., 1586 (co. York): Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 151.
London, 5, 2, 0, 6, 0, 1, 2; Manchester, 4, 4, 3, 39, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Lanc.), Hargreaves, 51.

Harker.—? Occup. Mr. Lower says, 'A corruption of Harcourt.' This seems unsatisfactory. But I can offer nothing better myself. Still I suspect it has some reference to hunting, and may be the sobriquet of the huntsman himself.

MDB. (co. Derby), 4; London, 9.

Harkness, Hartness.—Local, 'of Harkness.' I cannot find the place; cf. Furness, Holderness, &c.
MDB. (co. Cumb.), 1, 3; London, 3, 0.

Harland.—Local, 'of Harland.' Evidently an East Riding name, but I cannot discover the spot.

MDB. (East Rid. Yorks), 7; New York, 6.

Harley.—Local, 'of Harley,' a parish in co. Salop, near Much Wenlock. But doubtless several smaller spots bear this name.

Henry de Herley, co. Berks, 1273. A.
Clemens de Herleghe, co. Soms., ibid.
Adam de Herleg, co. Soms., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
Matilda Herlay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 189.
Willelmus Herlay, 1379: ibid.
1646. Bapt.—Susanna, d. Nicholas Harlye: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 164.
1743. Married—John Harley and Magdalen Lenoir: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 51.
London, 17; Philadelphia, 57.

Harling.—Bapt. 'the son of Harlin,' modified to Harling, with excrement g; v. Golding for Goldwin. Almost every compound in -win is now found as -ing.

Herlewinus (without surname), co. Norf., 1273. A.
Henry Herlewine, co. Kent, ibid.
Thomas Herlewine, co. Linc., ibid.
John Herlewyn, co. Bucks, ibid.
Stephen Harlwyn, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 138.

In the course of another century Herlwin began to assume its present character:

Agnes Herlyng', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 287.
West Riding Court Dir., 1; Ripley, 1; London, 7.

Harlot; v. Arlett.

Harlow.—Local, 'of Harlow,' a parish in co. Essex, twenty-three miles from London.

Richard de Herlawe, co. Essex, 1273. A.
Nicholas de Herlawe, co. Northampton, ibid.
1599. Thomas Harlowe, co. Middlesex: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 239.
1601. John Harlowe, of Enfield, co. Middlesex, and Agnes Searle, co. Essex: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 265.
1647. Bapt.—Alyce, d. John Harlow: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 168.
1795. Married—William Harlow and Jane Gossett: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 128.
London, 6; Philadelphia, 5.

Harman, Herman, Hermon, Hermanson.—Bapt. 'the son of Herman.' As early as Domesday found as Hermannus; cf. the German Hermann. With Harman, cf. Clark and Clerk, Parkins and Perkins, &c.

Nicholas Herman, co. Suffolk, 1273. A.
Cecilia Hereman, co. Hunts, ibid.
Herman de Boys, Issue Roll, 44 Edw. III.
Walter Herman, ibid.

Herman de Francia. C.
 Herman de Alemannia. G.
 Alan Herman, 1293. M.
 Walter Hermanson, Issues of the Exchequer, see Index.
 Thomas Herman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 252.
 Ricardus Harman, 1379: ibid. p. 50.
 John Urmynson, co. York. W. 11.
 Harman Clynke, 1549: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 8.
 Harman Arnold, 1535: ibid. p. 183.
 London, 22, 2, 1, 0.

Harmar, Harmer.—Bapt. 'the son of Herimar' (Yonge, ii. 408). Occurs in Domesday as Hermerus among the tenants-in-chief in Norfolk.

Hermer de Bekeswell, Hen. III-Edw. I: K. p. 293.
 Robert fil. Hermer. C.
 Johannes Hermer, 1379: P. T. Howden-shire, p. 12.
 Ricardus Hermer, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 143.
 Hopkins Harmar. Z.
 1649. Bapt.—Edward, s. Josua Harmer: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 173.
 1804. Married—Benjamin Harmer and Bridget Graniell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 309.
 London, 2, 13; Sheffield, 2, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 72.

Harmsworth.—Local, 'of Harmonsworth', a parish in co. Middlesex.

London, 1; MDB. (co. Southampton), 2.

Harness, Harneis, Harnish.—Bapt. 'the son of Harnes' or 'Hernes.' No doubt a compound of arn (eagle), as in Arnold, and cognate with Ernest. A well-known Lincolnshire surname to-day, and found there six centuries ago.

Robert fil. Hernis', co. Linc., 1273. A.
 John fil. Hernici, co. Linc., ibid.
 Roger Hernays, co. Norf., ibid.
 John Harneys, co. Camb., ibid.
 Herne de Stano, co. Suff., ibid.
 Robert Arnys, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 114.
 Robertus Arnis, 1379: ibid.
 Johanna Ernys, 1379: ibid. p. 173.
 Robert Hernays, 1379: ibid. p. 296.
 Ernys de Hamwell, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
 Philip Harneys, C. R., 47 Hen. III.

With the American form Harnish, cf. German Harnisch, of which four occur in the Philadelphia Directory.

London, 1, 0, 0; Leeds, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (Lincolnshire), 6, 1, 0; Boston (U.S.), 0, 0, 1.

Harnett; v. Arnett; cf. Hives for Ives, &c.

MDB. (co. Kent), 6.

Harold, Harrold, Harrod. (1) Bapt. 'the son of Harold.' This personal name was far less common than might have been expected. It never attained any actual popularity, and was scarcely in use when Richard, Robert, Roger, &c., were rising into a position that through the aid of hereditary surnames has made them immortal.

(2) Local; v. Harrold (2).

Agnes Harald, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
 John Harald, co. Wilts, ibid.
 Reginald Haralt, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Roger Harold, co. Bucks, ibid.
 Gilbert fil. Harold. J.
 Harold fil. Roberti. J.
 Robertus Harald', 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 297.
 Stephen Harald', 1379: ibid.
 1551. Married—Thomas Harralde and Julian Hyde: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 6.
 London, 1, 6, 4.

Harp.—Local, 'at the Harp,' a sign-name; v. Roebuck. Harp, like many other of our surnames, is found in America in abundance, but is hard to find in England.

Florencia atte Harpe, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 207.
 Roger atte Harp, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid.
 John Cook, called atte Harpe, 1388: Cal. of Wills in the Court of Husting (2).
 John atte Harpe, C. R., 7 Hen. V.
 1764. Married—Thomas Morris and Eliz. Harp: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 128.
 Philadelphia, 7.

Harper, Harpur.—Occup. 'the harper,' one who made his living by playing at fair and festival; cf. Fidler, Tabor, Crowther, Piper, &c. Sometimes these names represent an official position, being musical performers in the pay of royalty or the greater lords. 'Harpowre, citharista': Prompt. Parv. p. 228.

Henry le Harpur, co. Camb., 1273. A.
 Ralph le Harpur, co. Oxf., ibid.
 Nicholas le Harpur, co. Camb., ibid.
 Adam le Harper, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 126.
 Thomas le Harpour, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: ibid. p. 131.
 Isabella Herpour, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 7.
 Willelmus Harper, 1379: ibid. p. 190.
 Rogerus Harper, 1379: ibid. p. 282.

1748. Married—Sir Lister Holte and Mary Harpur: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 28.
 London, 56, 0; MDB. (co. Bedford), 1, 1; Boston (U.S.), 30, 0.

Harpham.—Local, 'of Harpham,' a parish in E. Rid. Yorks, near Great Driffeld.

Thomas de Harpam, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 107.
 MDB. (co. Lincoln), 6; West Rid. (Yorks) Court Dir., 1.

Harpin.—Bapt. 'the son of Harpin,' probably from Harfinn; cf. Turpin from Thorfinn. It is found as a personal name in the Hundred Rolls, i. 360 (co. Norfolk).

Thomas Harpyn, co. Norf., 1273. A.
 'Adam Harpin was faulconer to Bishop Swinfield in 1280-90': Household Exp., Ric. de Swinfield, Cam. Soc. p. 15.
 Henricus Harpyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 208.

Magota Harpyn, 1379: ibid.
 Johanna Harpyn, 1379: ibid.
 1714. Bapt.—Mary, d. of Francis Arpin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, ii. 77.
 1739. —Ann, d. of John Harpin: ibid. p. 240.
 MDB. (co. Derby), 1; West Rid. Court Dir., 1; Thurstonland, co. York, 1.

Harpley.—Local, 'of Harpley,' a parish in co. Norfolk, four miles from Rougham.

MDB. (co. Middlesex), 1.

Harraden, Harradine, Harridine, Harroden.—Local, 'of Harrowden,' places in cos. Northampton and Bedford.

John de Harewedon, co. Northampton, 20 Edw. I. R.
 London, 3, 3, 0, 0, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Camb.), 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0; (co. Hertford), 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0; (co. Lincoln), Harroden, 1; (co. Hunts), 0, 1, 0, 0, 2, 0.

Harrier, Harrer.—Offic. 'the harrier' (?), the master of the harriers, hounds for hare-hunting.

John le Hariare, Close Roll, 10 Edw. III.
 Thomassinus, valet of Nicholas le Herier, Close Roll, 4 Edw. I.
 Philadelphia, 0, 5.

Harrises, Harris, Harrison, Harrisson.—Bapt. 'the son of Harry,' this being the English attempt at pronouncing the French Henri. Thus Harry is not a nick of Henry, but the English representative form. Hence our endless Harrisons, not Henrysons. All our kings were popularly known as Harry in their own times. The practice of styling them Henry is quite modern. The feminine Henrietta dates only from the Stuart period, while Harriot or Harriet was in use early enough to become a surname. One or two Henriots occur, but they are quite exceptional. The many columns of Harrises and Harrisons in our directories testify to the great popularity of the name six and seven centuries ago. The first Harry was born on English ground, and for that reason was more favourably regarded than the Conqueror's elder sons (v. Freeman's Norm. Conq. iv. 228.) It is interesting to note that Harry was a common early form of entry, being a kind of half-stage between Fr. Henri and Eng. Harry.

Harry Carpenter, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
John Harry, co. Bucks, ibid.
Henry, or Harry le Notte, co. Warwick:
Henry III-Edw. I. K.
Henry, or Harry de Rokeley, co. Warwick: ibid.
Reginald Herrerson. FF.
1510. John Harris, or Harries: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 73.
1547-8. Edward Broke and Anne Harrys: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 11.
London, 3, 350, 264, 3; Liverpool (Harrison), 2.

Harriman, Harryman.—Occup. 'the servant of Harry'; cf. Matthewman, Addyman, Periman, &c. Mr. Lower says, 'One who harried, a freebooter.' It is curious that I chiefly find the name in co. Cumb., where the Scotch raids were so common in former times. Nevertheless, the origin given above is the natural one, and it belongs to a class that has made a distinct mark upon nomenclature. In the first two instances given below we must remember that the pronunciation of Henry would be much as if spoken in French, Harry being not a pet form of Henry, but a spelling assimilated to the sound.

Ricardus Henryman, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 279.
Wilhelmus Henrیمان, 1379: ibid. p. 155.
Mary Harriman, 1632: St. Dionis Backchurch, p. 103.

1794. Married—John Harriman and Eliz. Tobey: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 118.
1807.—William Harryman and Sarah Steade: ibid. p. 366.
Workington, 1, 0 (Dir. 1829); MDB. (co. Cumberland), 3, 3; (co. Derby), 6, 0; New York, 12, 0.

Harrington.—Local, 'of Harrington,' a town in co. Cumberland.

Ricardus de Heryngton, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 250.
London, 16; Philadelphia, 55.

Harriot, Henriot, Hanrott.—Bapt. 'the son of Harry' or 'Henry,' from the dim. Harri-ot or Henri-ot. As a pet-name for a boy Harriot had become forgotten. Its present popularity it owes to Henrietta Maria, who restored it to life, this time in favour of the girls. From the Caroline period Harriet has held her own. Harriot and Henriot as surnames, however, take us back to the Plantagenets.

Walter Henriot, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 201.
Heriot Heringflet, co. Norf. FF.
Thomas Haryette. G.
William Haryott, ibid.
Alicia Henriot, co. York. W. 2.
Robert Henriot, co. York, ibid.
1550. Married—Gryffyn Mathewe and Jone Harryot: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 6.
1570. Bapt.—Katerin, d. William Harriot: St. Antholin (London), p. 20.
1591. Robert Holman and Anne Harriott: Marriage Lic. (London), p. 194.
London, 0, 0, 2.

Harrobin; v. Horobin.

Harrod; v. Harold.

Harrold.—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Harold,' q.v. (2) Local, 'of Harrold,' a market-town and parish eight miles from Bedford.

MDB. (co. Leic.), 5.

Harrop, Harrup.—Local, 'of Harrop,' a spot in South Lancashire or East Cheshire that I cannot find. This name is chiefly found in the parish of Prestbury, co. Ches. (v. Reg. Prestbury). The meaning seems to be 'the hare-hope'; cf. Haslop, Blenkinsopp, &c.

1560. Buried—James Harrop: Reg. Prestbury (co. Ches.), p. 3.
1563.—Ann Harrop: ibid. p. 12.
1590. Thomas Harrop, of Adlington: Wills at Chester, i. 84.
1592. Oliver Harrop, of Quirk, in Saddleworth: ibid.

Manchester, 21, 0; London, 4, 0; MDB. (co. Bucks), 0, 1.

Harrower.—Occup. 'the harrower,' i.e. a tiller of land.

Geoffrey le Harewere, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Johannes Harower, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 261.
New York, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Harrowsmith; v. Arrowsmith. Probably not a maker of harrows; but v. Harrower.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1.

Harsant, Harsent.—?

MDB. (co. Suffolk), 2, 1; London, 4, 0.

Harse.—? Local.

? Cristina de Harsy, 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 142.
MDB. (co. Soms.), 5; Oxford, 8.

Harslett, Harslet.—? Local, 'at the hare-slade' (?), i.e. a slade frequented by hares. This is more probable than might seem at a first glance; v. Hare and Slade.

Robert de Hareslad, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 166.
London, 1, 1.

Harsley.—Local, 'of Harsley.' East and West Harsley (one a parish, the other a township) are in the N. Rid. Yorks.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 5.

Hart, Harte.—Nick. 'the hart'; cf. Stagg, Roe, Roebuck, Buck, &c., evidently popular as a sobriquet.

John le Hert, co. Kent, 1273. A.
Isabella le Hert, co. Camb., ibid.
Richard le Hert, c. 1300. M.
Richard le Hert, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 96.
Johannes Hert, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 38.
Agnes Hert, 1379: ibid.
Thomas le Hert, or Hart, bailiff of Norwich, 1390: FF. iii. 116.
1578. John Harte and Johanna Kirbye: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 83.
1599. Bapt.—Agnes, d. Henrie Hart: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 35.
London, 150, 0; Sheffield, 2, 0; New York, 277, 2.

Hartcliffe.—Local, 'of Hart-cliff.' Some spot in the W. Rid. Yorks. I have failed to discover it.
Adam de Hertclif, 1379: P.T. Yorks. p. 35.

The above was resident in Bradford, W. Rid. Yorks.

Thomas de Hartclyffe (of Kimberworth): P. T. Yorks. p. 67.
Manchester, 1.

Harting.—Local, 'of Harting,' a parish in dioc. of Chichester, co. Sussex.

John de Herting, co. Essex, 1273. A. London, 3.

Hartland.—Local, 'of Hartland,' a parish in dioc. of Exeter, co. Devon.

Abbas de Hertilaund, co. Devon, 1273. A.

London, 5; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 11.

Hartle.—Local, 'of Hartill,' (1) a parish in the W. Rid. Yorks, eight miles from Worksop; (2) a township in the parish of Bakewell, co. Derby.

Robert de Herthall, co. Derby, 1273. A.
Robert de Herthill, co. Derby, ibid.
Ricardus de Herthill, co. Derby, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Edmundus de Herthille, of Harthill, 1379; P. T. Yorks. p. 14.
Willelmus de Herthille, 1379: ibid. p. 33.
1603. Francis Hartill and Anne Staunge: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 279.
1770. Married—Daniel Hartill and Mary Johnson: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 107.
Sheffield, 1; Manchester, 1; MDB. (co. Derby), 3.

Hartley.—Local, 'of Hartley,' parishes in diocs. of Rochester and Winchester, and hamlets in various places. Also smaller spots, in some cases now forgotten.

Ricardus de Hertlay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 10.

Willelmus de Hertelay, 1379: ibid.

The above lived in the parish of Ecclesfield, W. Rid. Yorks. The surname has ramified in an extraordinary manner in the West Riding. The parentage in all probability will have to be sought for in Ecclesfield parish or the immediate neighbourhood.

Brian de Hertheley, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Richard de Hertleye, co. Salop, ibid.
1623. Christopher Hills and Eliz. Hartley, of Stepnay: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 121.

West Rid. (Yorks) Court Dir., 62; London, 28; Boston (U.S.), 19.

Hartman.—Bapt. 'the son of Hartmund' (Yonge, ii. 414). The suffix -mond or -mund becomes -man; cf. Osman, Wyman, Sickman, &c.; cf. the German Hartmann.

Herteman Hauberck. O. London, 1.

Hartness.—Local, 'of Hartness,' q.v. A corruption.

Liverpool, 2; New York, 1.

Hartnup, Hartnupp.—? Local. MDB. (co. Kent), 2, 2.

Harton.—Local, 'of Harton.' There is a parish of this name in the dioc. of Durham, but probably the entries below concern some smaller place more south.

John de Harton, cos. Bedf. and Bucks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Hugh de Hartone, co. Camb., 1273. A. London, 2.

Hartopp, Hartup.—? Local.

MDB. (co. Leic.), 3, 0; London, 0, 1.

Hartridge.—Local, 'of Hartridge.'

Richard de Herterugge, co. Berks, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

London, 6; MDB. (co. Kent), 4.

Hartshorn, Hartshorne.—Local, 'of Hartshorne,' a parish in the dioc. of Lichfield and co. Derbyshire. Perhaps a piece of land originally so termed from its resemblance to a hart's horn; cf. Langhorn.

Henry de Hartshorn, co. Derby, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Richard de Hertishorn, co. Derby, ibid.
Alice Hertishorn, Fines Roll, 10 Edw. IV.
London, 7, 3; MDB. (co. Derby), 1, 0.

Hartwell.—Local, 'of Hartwell,' parishes in the diocs. of Oxford and Peterborough.

Decennarius de Hertwell, co. Northampton, 1273. A.

Agatha de Hertwell, co. Bucks, ibid.

Robert de Hertwell, co. Bucks, ibid.
London, 3; Oxford, 4.

Hartwright.—Occup.; a corruption of Arkwright, q.v. The half-stage towards this form is met in the following entry:

1610. Baried—Hugh Arthewryght: Reg. Prestbury, co. Ches., p. 187.

But an earlier instance occurs:

George Hartwright, 1455. W. 11.

This is found in the very district in which the surname Arkwright arose.

Manchester, 1; London, 1; Liverpool, 1; MDB. (co. Glouc.), 1.

Harverson, Harveson.—Bapt. 'the son of Harvey,' q.v.

London, 4, 0; Philadelphia, 0, 1.

Harvey, Harvie.—Bapt. 'the son of Harvey.' This great personal name had not become so rare in the 12th and 13th centuries that it could escape surnominal honours. On the contrary, it is still found as a fairly familiar personal name up to the beginning of the 14th century. No modern directory, whether in England or the United States, is without representatives of the surname, and in this manner it has secured immortality. The last two centuries has seen the practice made popular of using surnames for baptismal names. Thus the late Bishop of Carlisle was Harvey Goodwin, although for several centuries Harvey has been obsolete as a personal name.

Harvey Dunning, co. Camb., 1273. A.
Warin Hervei, co. Camb., ibid.
Robert fil. Hervei, co. Linc., ibid.
Hervens de Gos, co. Linc., ibid.
Harveus Belet, co. Oxf., 20 Edw. I. R. London, 142, 4.

Harwar.—?

MDB. (co. Chester), 4; London, 2.

Harward.—Bapt. 'the son of Herward.' No doubt often confused with Harwood; v. Howard (2).

Robert Herward, co. Norf., 1273. A.
Beatrice Hereward, co. Camb., ibid.
Richard Herward, co. Camb., ibid.
Hereward de Hale, co. Northampton, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

John Hereward, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 160.
Randolph Hereward, co. Soms.: ibid. p. 269.

Willelmus Herwarde, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 33.

Agnes Harward', 1379: ibid. p. 160.
1568. William Harward and Alice Canell, or Cavell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 40.

1574-5. Edmund Harward, of London, Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii. 60.

1785. Married—Charles Harward, Dean of Chichester, and Louisa Yonge: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 380.

London, 2; MDB. (co. Derby), 1.

Harwood.—(1) Local, 'of Harewood,' a village and parish about eight miles north of Leeds. Also of Harwood, a township in the parish of Bolton, co. Lanc. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Harward,' q.v. There can be no doubt but that these two names have become inextricably mixed.

Alicia Harewode, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 246.

Nicholas de Harewod: ibid. p. 259.
Robertus de Harwodde, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 300.

Adam de Harwode, 1379: ibid. p. 199.
William de Harwode, of Harwood, 1379: ibid. p. 213.

Manchester, 9; London, 30; West Riding Court Dir., 5; Sheffield, 4; Leeds, 2.

Haselden, -dine; v. Hasleden.

Haseler, Hasler, Haysler.—Occu; v. Hastiler.

London, 1, 1, 1.

Haselgrove.—Local, 'at the hazel-grove.'

MDB. (co. Bedford), 1.

Hasell.—Local, 'at the hazel-tree'; v. Hazell (1).

London, 2.

Haselock.—Bapt.; v. Aslac.

Haske.—Nick. 'harsh, bitter'; M.E. haske. 'Harske, or haske, as sundry frutys': Prompt. Parv.

Thomas le Haske, C. R., 4 Edw. II.

Haskett.—Bapt. 'the son of Hasculf' (?); v. Asculf.

Hascot Musard: Early Hist. Oxford, Parker, p. 384.

Harsculph, or Ascut de Cleasby, 1301. M.

Haskew; v. Askew, of which it is a variant.

MDB. (co. Derby), 1.

Haskill.—Bapt.; v. Askell.

MDB. (co. Monmouth), 1.

Haskins.—Bapt.; v. Hadskis.

London, 3.

Haslam, Haslem, Hasleham, Haselam.—Local, 'of Haslam,' i.e. Hazel-ham. One of the many place-names with Hazel as prefix; cf. Haslop for Hazelhope (?).

West Riding Court Dir., 5, 1, 0, 0; London, 7, 0, 0, 1; Manchester, 7, 0, 1, 0.

Hasleden, Haselden, Haseldine, Haseltine, Heaselden, Hazeldine, Hazzeldine.—Local, 'of the hazel-dean'; M.E. dene, a vale. Many spots would bear this name.

William de Haseldene, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 94.

Adam Haseldene, co. Soms.: ibid. p. 238.

Adam de Haseldene, co. Soms.: ibid. p. 251.

Willelmus de Hesledeyn, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 289.

Jeppe de Hesilden, 1379: ibid. p. 271.

An American variant in the form of Aseltine is found in the Boston Directory.

London, 4, 4, 1, 2, 0, 3, 1; Manchester (Heaselden), 1; Philadelphia (Hassel-tine), 6.

Haslehurst, Haslehust.—Local, 'at the hazel-hurst' (v. Hurst), equivalent to Hazlegrove or Hazlewood, q.v.

London, 2, 2; West Riding Court Dir., 2, 0.

Haslewood.—Local; v. Hazlewood.

Haslop, Haslip, Heslop, Hyslop, Huslop.—Local, 'at the hazel-hope'; v. Hope. I have no doubt as to this origin, but possess no proof to offer.

London, 3, 2, 1, 0, 0; MDB. (co. Cumberland), 0, 0, 3, 1, 1.

Hasluck.—Bapt. 'the son of Aslac,' q.v.

Hassall.—Local, 'of Hassall,' a township in the parish of Sandbach, co. Chester.

London, 2; MDB. (co. Chester), 11; Philadelphia, 2.

Hassard, Hasset, Hazard.—Bapt. 'the son of Hasard.' This personal name has left descendants enough to fill a niche in our directories.

Haseud Sulny, co. Somerset, 1273. A. Thomas Hasard, co. Wilts, ibid.
Geoffrey Hassot, co. Camb., ibid.
John Hasard, co. York, ibid.
1634. Buried—Constance Hasarde, Canterbury Cathedral, p. 117.
London, 2, 2, 4; Crookford, 2, 0, 1.

Hasell.—Local, (1) 'of Hasell,' some spot in co. Oxford. (2) 'at the hazel,' from residence beside some particular hazel-tree; cf. Crabtree, Ash, Birch, &c.; v. Halse, where proof will be found; also v. Hazell.

'Persona de Hassell tenet de feod' Pet' fil. Oliveri, &c.,' co. Oxf., 1273. A.

John de Hassell, co. Oxf., ibid.

Oliver de Hassell, co. Oxf., ibid.

London, 12; Philadelphia, 4.

Hastead, Haystead, Hasted.—Local.

MDB. (co. Norfolk), 1, 1, 0; London, 0, 0, 1.

Haster, Hester.—(1) Occu. Probably the old 'Hayrester' or 'Hairster.' Halliwell says, 'Hayre, a garment made of goat's hair. Hayrester, a maker of hayres.'

'Hayresters, workers in horse-hair (?)' (York Mysteries, Toulmin-Smith). Cecile in the Second Nunne's Tale was thus dressed:

'Under hire robe of gold, that set ful faire,
Had next her flesh, yclad hire in an haire.'
Again:

'Ne she was gay, fresh, ne joliffe,
But seemed to be full entente
To goode workes, and to faire,
And thereto she had on an haire.'
Rom. of. Rose.

The hair garment was seemingly worn for mortification of the flesh by nuns and other religious persons. In the York Mysteries the 'Turnours, Hayresters, and Bolders' (i.e. Bowlers, makers of bowls) went together. Therefore the hairster may have also occupied himself in hair-stuffing of couches and saddles; a kind of upholsterer in fact, since the other two were undoubtedly engaged in wood-work.

(2) Occu; v. Hastiler. O.F. hasteur, a hastiler, one who superintended the roasts.

London, 0, 6; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Hastiler, Hastler, Haseler, Hasler, Haysler.—Occu. 'the hastiler,' i.e. a turn-broach, a kitchen servitor.

Philip le Haster. A.
John Haster. W. 9.
Thurstan le Hastiler. E.
William Hastiler. M.

'Hastlere, that rostythe mete, assator, assarius': Prompt. Parv. Mr. Way, in a valuable note, has several references to the 'hastator' and 'hastalarius,' and compares the French hasteur. He adds, 'Humphrey de Bohun, Earl of Essex, among the household servants mentioned in his will, 1361, as "potager, ferour, barber, ewer," mentions "Will. de Barton, hastiler"' (Royal Wills, p. 52). Among the domestic officers of the Earl of Northumberland, 1511, was a 'yoman cooke . . . who doith hourly attend in the kitching at the haistry for roisting of meat' (Ant. Rep. iv. 244). In Lancashire the hastener is the tin screen for preserving and reflecting the heat when the roast is on the spit. The origin seems plain: 'Haste, a spit or broach' (Cotgrave). Lat. hasta, a lance, a pike. The modern forms of the surname are Haster, Hastiler, Hastler, Haseler, Hasler, and Haysler, all being somewhat rare.

London, 0, 0, 1, 4, 1; Philadelphia (Hassler), 9.

Hastin, Hasting, Hastings.

—(1) Bapt. 'the son of Hasting' (v. Yonge, ii, 384); cf. Browning, Harding, &c.

Hasting Moyse, co. Suff., 1273. A.
William Hasting, co. Oxf., ibid.

(2) Local, 'of Hastings,' in co. Sussex, the principal of the Cinque ports.

Henry de Hastings, co. Bedf., 1273. A.
Richard Hastings, co. Camb., ibid.

The entry above may belong to (1).
Henry de Hastings, co. Northampton, ibid.

1668. Married — Thomas Hastings and Eliz. Martin: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii, 143.

1799. — Maurice Lenthall and Mary Hastings: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii, 206.
London, 2, 0, 20; Philadelphia, 0, 0, 36.

Haswell, Haswell.—Local, 'of Haswell,' a parish in co. Durham. Possibly some other locality bears the same name.

Stephen de Haswell, co. Oxf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

Helia de Haswelle, co. Camb., 1273. A.
1795. Married — William Masterman and Margaret Hasswell: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii, 135.

1804. — John Haswell and Dinah Goodes: ibid. p. 304.
Sunderland, 6, 0; London, 7, 1; New York, 2, 0.

Hatch.—(1) Local, 'at the hatch'; v. Hack (2).

Richard de la Hacche, co. Wilts, 1273. A.
Agnes apud Hache, co. Oxf., ibid.
John atte Hache, co. Oxf., ibid.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Hache'; v. Hack (1). The harder form Hake (q.v.) was more general.

Hache de Wolmersti, co. Linc., 1273. A.
Hacca fil. Pictavini, co. Linc., ibid.
Thomas Hach, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 132.

1620. Bapt.—George, s. Richard Hatch: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i, 147.

1622. Ralph Roades, joyner, and Grace Hatch, widow: Marriage Lic. (London), ii, 111.
London, 21; Philadelphia, 18.

Hatchard, Hatchett, Hatchette.—Bapt. 'the son of Achard,' With Hatchett, cf. Birkett for Birkhead, or Blackett for Blackhead. This corruption is common.

Henry Achard, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
Richard Achard, co. York, ibid.
Achard de Ramisby: Pipe Roll, 11 Hen. II, p. 59.
Achard le Fevre, Hen. III. T.
Isabella Achard, 27 Edw. I.: BBB. p. 570.

Johannes Hachet, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 53.
Margareta Hachet, 1379: ibid. p. 49.
Robertus Achard, 1379: ibid. p. 134.

As this dictionary proves, the aspirate was commonly added to names beginning with a vowel; cf. Hodson (2), Hoddy, or Hanniball (1).

1574. Bapt. — William, s. William Hatchett: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i, 254.

1787. Married — Thomas Hatchard and Jane Smither: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i, 405.

London, 8, 6, 0; New York, 0, 0, 1.

Hatchman; v. Hackman.

Hatechrist. — Nick. This objectionable sobriquet has now disappeared from the directories.

William Hatecrist, co. Bedf., Hen. III—Edw. I. M.
William Hatecrist, co. York. W. 4.

Hatfield, Hatfull.—Local, (1) 'of Hatfield,' an extensive village parish seven miles north-east from Doncaster. Hatfull in the London Directory is a curious-looking corruption. (2) 'of Hatfield,' parishes in cos. Hereford and Hertford.

William of Hatfield, co. Essex, 1273. A.
Agnes de Hatfield, co. Camb., ibid.
Johannes de Haytefeld, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 39.

1606. Buried — Frances, d. Joshua Hatfeild (sic): St. Mary Aldermay, p. 204.

Sheffield, 5, 0; London, 15, 2; West Riding Court Dir., 8, 0; Boston (U.S.), 12, 0.

Hathaway.—Local, 'of Hathaway,' i.e. the heathway. The middle a is intrusive, as in Greenaway, Ottaway, &c.

Willelmus de Haythewy, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 227.

1582. Richard Hathewaye and Annie Madox: Marriage Lic. (London), i, 112.

1621. Francis Hathway: Reg. Univ. Oxf. ii, 400.

George Hathwaye, 1633: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 17.

1734. Married — George Hathaway and Annie Phipps: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i, 262.

London, 5; Philadelphia, 12.

Hatherton.—Local, 'of Hather-ton,' a township in the parish of Wybunbury, co. Chester.

MDB. (co. Chester), 2.

Hathornthwaite.—Local; v. Haythornthwaite.

Hatmaker.—Occup. 'the hat-maker'; cf. Hatter and Hatt.

William Hatmaker. H.
Sibill Hatmaker: Pat. Roll, 3 Edw. VI. pt. ii.

Hatt.—Local, 'at the Hat,' a sign-name, practically equivalent to hatter.

Thomas del Hat, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
Henry Hat, co. Wilts, ibid.

William Hat, co. Norf., ibid.

John atte Hatte. J.
John Hatt, of Leckampstead, co. Berks: Visitation of London, 1635, i, 364.

John Hatt, attorney in Guildhall, 1634: ibid.

London, 3; Oxford, 4.

Hatter.—Occup. 'the hatter,' a manufacturer, a dealer in hats.

Henry le Hatter, co. Hunts, 1273. A.
William le Hattere, co. Oxf., ibid.

Alexander le Hattere, Close Roll, 16 Edw. III. pt. i.

Robert le Hattare, 1301. M.
Edward le Hattere, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 276.

Robertus Hatter, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 46.

Robertus Hatter, 1379: ibid. p. 121.

1618. William Pearce and Frances Hatter, of East Tilbury, co. Essex: Marriage Lic. (London), ii, 61.

I do not find any living representatives of this name in England.

New York, 3.

Hattersley, Hatterslay.—Local, 'of Hattersley,' a township in the parish of Mottram-in-Longdendale, co. Chester.

Willelmus de Hatrylay, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 92.

Amicia Hattisray, 1379: ibid.

1790. Married — George Hattersley and Harriot Langford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii, 195.

Manchester, 6, 0; MDB. (co. Cambridge), 1, 0; London, 1, 1.

Hauberger.—Occup. 'the hauberger,' a maker of hauberks, the coat of ringed metal. Habergeon is a diminutive.

'Sche me fond palfrey and sted,
Helme, haberion, and odour wed.'
Halliwell.

John le Hauberger, Close Roll, 12 Edw. II.
Gilbert le Hauberger. B.
John le Hauberger. N.
Roger le Haubergom, 12 Edw. II :
Freemen of York, i. 18.

Haugh.—Local, 'at the haugh,' from residence thereby. 'Haugh means a mound, equivalent to how, in Silver How, Howgill, Fox How, places in the Lake district' (v. Isaac Taylor's Words and Places, p. 477); v. Halgh, and cf. Houghton and Halghton (s.v. Houghton).

MDb. (co. Cumberland), 2.

Houghton.—Local; v. Houghton.

Hautboys.—Local; O.F. haut-bois. In original sense of a 'high wood,' a 'hautboy being a wooden instrument of a high tone' (Skeat); cf. Boyce.

Adam de Hautboys, C. R., 29 Edw. III.

Hauxwell.—Local, 'of Hawks-well.' Many small farmsteads are called Hawkswell. I had one in my old parish (Ulverston), the birthplace of Judge Fell, the friend of Bradshaw the regicide and the husband of the lady who afterwards married George Fox the Quaker. Derived either from the bird or the personal name, probably the latter, as there is strong evidence of the popularity of this name; cf. Sparrowhawk, at first a personal name, and v. Hauk, Yonge, ii. 283.

John de Haukewell, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Peter de Haukewell, co. Kent, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.
London, i.

Havelock.—Bapt. 'the son of Havlok.' An early personal name. The Havelocks seem to have sprung from co. Durham. 'Geoffrey Gaimar's metrical romance, called Le Lai d'Havelok le Danois, records the valorous doings of a great Danish chieftain' (Lower's Patr. Brit. p. 150). It has always been a rare surname in England, although now immortalized.

John Havelok, C. R., 7 Edw. IV.
MDb. (co. Durham), 1; South Shields, 1; Sunderland, 2.

Haven.—Local, 'at the haven,' from residence thereby.

William del Haven, co. Linc., Edw. I. R.

William atte Haven, co. Essex, 1273. A.
William de la Haven, co. Linc., ibid. London, 1; New York, 7.

Havercake.—Nick. 'haver-cake,' i.e. oatcake.

Matilda Havercake, co. Norf., 1273. A.

Havergal.—Local, 'of Havergill.' I cannot find the particular spot; cf. such other local surnames with suffix -gill as Gaskell, Wintersgill, Fothergill, &c. Somewhat resembling this name is Thomas de Howbergill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 216.

But whether or no it is the original parent I cannot say. If Howbergill became popularly Habbergill, then Havergal would be all but inevitable.

George Heuergell, 1700: Reg. St. Mary Aldermay, London, p. 114.

George Havergill, 1700: ibid. Crockford, 2.

Haverson.—Bapt. 'the son of Harvey.' Harveyson corrupted to Haverson (q.v.), and again to Haverson.

London, i.

Haviland.—Local, 'of Haviland.' I cannot find the spot, and I cannot accept Mr. Lower's solution.

MDb. (co. Sussex), 1; Philadelphia, 16.

Havill, Hovell.—Local, 'de Hautville.' Probably some spot in Normandy. It is found in every conceivable form in early registers, Hautville, Hauville, Hauvill, Hauville, Hauvyle, Havele, Havell, Havile, Havill, and Haville being the commonest. The modern Hovell unfortunately suggests a mean dwelling. It is occasionally Latinized, as Alta Villa.

'In 1196 Sir Ralph de Havile was lord of Erilham, by Norwich. He was a younger brother of Humphrey de Havile, de Alta Villa, or Hautville': FF. vii. 139.

Thomas de Havile, co. Norf., 1266: ibid. p. 140.

Henry de Hauville, co. Norf., 1273. A.
John de Havill, co. Norf., 1318: ibid.

1389-90. John Dawes and Agnes Havell: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 185.
1626-7. Hoogan Hovell, grocer, and Mary Haregrave: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 182.

1801. Married.—Thomas Hovell and Eliz. Furnace: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 316. London, 3, 1; Philadelphia, 0, 2.

Hawcroft.—Local. A Yorkshire surname, therefore probably a corruption of Havercroft (oat-field). A township in the parish of Felkirk, W. Rid. Yorks; cf. Rycroft (rye-field), Barcroft (barley-field), Bancroft (bean-field). But v. Haycraft.

Walterus Hauercroft, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 84.

Adam de Hauercroft, 1379: ibid. p. 111.
West Riding Court Dir., 3; Manchester, 1.

Hawe, Hawes (1), Haws.—Local, 'at the haw,' i.e. garth, yard, or enclosure; v. Hay and Haig.

'And eke ther was a polkat in his hawe.' Chaucer, C. T. 12789.

Cf. a haw-haw, also such local surnames as Haworth, Hawley, Hawthorn, &c. For a second origin of Hawes, v. next article.

Alan del Hawes, co. Camb., 1273. A.
John de la Hwe, co. Hunts, ibid.

Peter in le Hwe, co. Kent, ibid.
Maurice atte-Hawe, rector of Frethorp, co. Norf., 1349: FF. vii. 232.

William atte-Hawe, rector of Newton, co. Norf., 1362: ibid. v. 67.

Thomas del Hawe, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 210.

London, 0, 31, 2.

Hawes (2), Haweis, Hawis-son.—Bapt. 'the son of Hawys,' whence Avise; v. Aves. Hawys occurs as a personal name, without surname, in co. Camb., in the Hundred Rolls (1273), ii. 444.

Reginald fil. Hawise, co. Camb., 1273. A.

Richard Hawyse, co. Oxf., ibid.

Hawis de Stanweye, co. Norf., ibid.

Hawis de Bolron, co. Lanc., 1332: Lay Subsidy (Ryland), p. 93.

Hawis de Quency, co. Linc., Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

Hawis de Ripon, 19 Edw. II: Freeman of York, i. 23.

William Hawys, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 180.

Johannes Hawys, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 38.

Richard Hawisson, mayor of Stockport, 1378: Hist. East Cheshire, i. 464.

London, 31, 0, 0; Crockford, 2, 2, 0.

Hawgood.—Bapt.; v. Hargood.

London, 3.

Hawk, Hawke.—Nick. 'the hawk,' a sobriquet affixed to one of a fierce, or wild, or cruel disposition; cf. Eagle, Falcon, Heron, &c. No doubt, too, Hawk, like Sparrowhawk (q.v.), was a personal name, or, as we should now say, a baptismal name as well as a nickname; v. Hauxwell.

Jocelin de Hawke, co. Linc., 1273. A. Probably this is a misreading for 'le Hawke.'

Thomas Hauke, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 218.

Thomas Hauke, coteler, 1379: ibid. p. 45. Adam Hawke, 1379: ibid. p. 203.

Johannes Hawke, 1379: ibid. 1577. Buried—John Hawke: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 140.

1601-2. Edmund Hawke, skinner, and Avise Bishop: Marriage Lic. (London), i, 267.

London, 0, 4; New York, 5, 2.

Hawken.—Bapt. 'the son of Henry'; v. Hawkin, of which it is a Cornish variant.

MDB. (co. Cornwall), 12.

Hawker.—Occup. 'thehawker,' one who hawked goods from place to place. On the origin of the word, and its connexion with Huckster, v. Skeat. Hucker as well as Huckster (q.v.) existed as surnames in the 13th century.

John le Hauker, co. Wilts, 1273. A. Hugh le Haukere, co. Camb., ibid. Aliée la Haukere, Fines Roll, 11 Edw. I. Robert le Haukere, C. R., 16 Edw. I. John le Haukere, c. 1300. M. Simon le Haukere, B. London, 12; Philadelphia, 1.

Hawkes; v. next article.

Hawkin, Hawking, Hawkings, Hawkins, Hawkes, Hawks.—Bapt. 'the son of Henry' or 'Harry,' from the nick. Hal, dim. Halkin, popularly Hawkin; cf. Shallcross and Shawcross, faw for fall, haw for hall, in various dialects. Mary and Harry formed their nicks, and diminutives on the same lines, as thus: Mary, Mal. Malkin, Mawkin; Harry, Hal, Halkin, Hawkin; v. Malkin.

'Shal noon heraud ne harpaur
Have a fairer garnement
Than Haukyn the actif man.'
Piers Plowman.

Haukyn Ferers. O.
Haukyn Mayne. H.

Haukyn de Hauville. R.
Haukyn Talbotman, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 285.

Henricus Hawkynne, 1379: ibid. p. 166. Johannes Haukyn, 1379: ibid. p. 98.

The g in Hawking is excrement, as in Jennings or Colling. Hawkins is reduced to Hawkes and Hawks, as are Perkins, Dawkins, Jenkins, and Juddins to Perkes, Dawks, Jenks, and Jukes or Jukes.

'William Hawkys, or Hawkyns, B.A., Oct. 1539': Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 195. London, 0, 2, 6, 95, 24, 4; MDB. (co. Cornwall), 1, 1, 5, 1, 0.

Hawkrigg, Hawkridge.—Local, 'of Hawkrigg' or 'Hawkridge,' a parish in co. Somerset. Several places would easily get such a name.

MDB. (co. Cumberland), 1, 0; (co. Lanc.), 5, 0; (co. Notts), 0, 1.

Hawksford, Hawkesford.—Local, 'of Hawksford.' I cannot find the spot.

MDB. (co. Salop), 1, 0; (co. Warwick), 0, 1.

Hawkshaw.—Local, 'of Hawkshaw.' I cannot find the locality; v. Hawk.

Peter Hawkshaw, of Hambleton, 1707: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, ii. 129.

Edward Hawkshawe, of Preston, 1718: ibid.

MDB. (co. Sussex), 1.

Hawksley, Hawksly.—Local, 'of Horkesley,' two parishes (Great and Little) in the dioc. of St. Albans.

Robert de Horkesle, or Robert de Horkely, co. Suff., 1273. A.

Robert de Horkesle, co. Essex, ibid. Walter de Horkelye, co. Norf., Hen. III—Edw. I. K.

London, 8, 0; MDB. (co. Derby), 1, 1.

Hawkswood.—Local, 'of Hawkswood.' I cannot find the spot.

MDB. (co. Warwick), 1.

Hawksworth.—Local, (1) 'of Hawksworth,' a parish in co. Notts, eight miles from Newark. (2) 'of Hawkswith,' a township in the parish of Arnccliffe, W. Rid. Yorks. No doubt originally Hawksworth; cf. Askwith in the same county.

Johannes de Haukesworth, wright, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 35.

Willelmus de Haukesworth, wright, 1379: ibid.

Anabilla de Hewkesworth, vidua, 1379: ibid. p. 219.

1587. John Juneslarde and Margaret Hawkesworth: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 161.

1801. Married—John Bruckner and Sophia Hawksworth: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 243.

West Riding Court Dir., 10; MDB. (co. Derby), 4; London, 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Hawley.—Local, 'of Hawley.' London, 7; MDB. (co. Kent), 4; Philadelphia, 18.

Haworth, Heworth.—Local, 'of Haworth,' a village near Keighley, co. York, whose vicarage is famous as the former residence of Charlotte Brontë, her father being the vicar. Not to be confounded with Howorth, though no doubt the names have become mixed.

Alicia de Haworth, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 11.

Johannes Haueworth, 1379: ibid. p. 194. Johannes de Haworth, 1379: ibid. p. 200.

Otes de Haworth', 1379: ibid. p. 188. 1594. John Haworth, co. Lanc.: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 202.

London, 4, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 6, 0; Thorpe Audlin (near Pontefract), 0, 1; Boston (U.S.), 3, 0.

Hawthorn, Hawthorne.—Local, 'at the hawthorn,' from residence by some prominent hawthorn tree. Perhaps Horethorn has a share in the parentage.

Galfridus Hackthorn, co. Hunts, 1273. A. John atte Horethorne, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 279.

Sabina atte-horethorn. T. Adrian Hawthorne, 1551: Reg. Univ. Oxf. i. 218.

Gilbert Hawthorn, co. Soms., 1589-9: ibid. vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 168.

1597. Married—Walter Hawthorne and Alice Dyer: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 21.

1626. John Hawthorne, co. Berks, and Mary Albanie: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 167.

1793. Married—John Hawthorn and Mary King: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 93.

London, 10, 1; Boston (U.S.), 0, 9.

Hawxhurst.—Local, 'of Hawkshurst.' Probably for Hawkshurst, a parish in co. Sussex; cf. Holdsworth for Holdworth, &c. Philadelphia, 1.

Haxby.—Local, 'of Haxby,' a parish four miles from York.

Johannes de Haxby, mercier, 1 Edw. I: Freeman of York (Surt. Soc.), i. 1.

Gilbertus de Haxby, girdeler, 21-2 Edw. I: Freemen of York (Surt. Soc.), i. 5.
1602-3. Thomas Haxbye and Jane Spence: Marriage Lic. (London), i. 274.
Leeds, 1; MDB. (N. Rid. Yorks), 2; (co. Lincoln), 3.

Haxcell, Haxell.—(1) Local, probably 'of Hawkeswell,' a parish in co. Essex, near Rochford. (2) Local, 'of Haxhill.' I cannot find the spot. But Kirby's Quest seems to prove that the suffix is -hill, not -well. v. Axtell.

John de Haukewell, co. Suff., 1273. A.
Peter de Haukeswell, co. Kent, Hen. III-Edw. I. K.

1404. John Haukeswell, Shaveling, rector of Wilby, co. Norf.: FF. i. 366.
William de Haxhulle, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 187.

1712. Married—George Rossbey and Mary Haxwell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 235.

1762.—George Hawxwell and Hannah Ockford: St. Geo. Han. Sq. i. 115.
MDB. (co. Essex), 1, 0; London, 0, 2.

Hay, Haye, Hayes.—Local, 'at the hay,' i.e. the haw or hedge, an enclosure; cf. Hayward or Haward, a hedge-ward; v. Haig and Hawe. The popular form in the North of England was Haig, Haigh, and Hague.

'But right so as these holtes, and these hayes,
That have in winter dead been and dry,' Chaucer. Troilus.
Eborard de li Heys, co. Norf., 1273. A.
John del Heys, co. Norf., ibid.
Nicholaa de la Hay, co. Linc., ibid.
Robert in the Hay, Close Roll, 18 Ric. II.

Ricardus del Haye, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 178.
Petrus del Hay, 1379: ibid. p. 124.
Cecilia de la Hay, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 111.
William atte Haye. J.
London, 31, 1, 40; West Rid. Court Dir., 6, 0, 6.

Haybiddel, Haybittel.—Office. 'the hay-beadle,' a hayward or keeper, from hay, a hedge, an enclosure, and beadle, a bailiff; v. Hayward. 'This surname is peculiar to cos. Surrey, Sussex, and Kent, where it has flourished for centuries. It may still be found in the neighbourhood of Reigate' (v. Lower's Patr. Brit. and Sussex Arch. Coll. v. 261). The 16th century form was Heybetyll.

1692. Bapt.—Elizabeth, d. Thomas Habetell: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 345.
1694. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Thomas Haybette: ibid. p. 357.

1711. Married—Thomas Kempton and Eliz. Haybette: ibid. iii. 236.

Haycock, -cox; v. Hedgcock.

Haycraft, Haycroft.—Local, 'at the hay-croft,' from residence therein; v. Hay and Croft or Craft.

Hugo de la Heycroft, co. Oxf., 1273. A.
William a la Heycrofte, co. Oxf., ibid.
Robert de Heycrofte, co. Oxf., ibid.
Johannes Haycroft, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 195.

1578. Edward Haycroft or Heycroft: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. iii. p. 72.

1620. Tristram Heycroft and Mary Horner: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 94.

1809. Married—John Haycraft and Ann Jordan: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 413.
London, 3, 1; Manchester, 1, 2; Philadelphia, 0, 1; Oxford, 0, 2.

Haydock.—Local, 'of Haydock,' a manor in the parish of Winwick, co. Lanc. For a well-established corruption, v. Haddock.

Henry de Haydok, co. Lanc., 20 Edw. I. R.

Gilbert de Eydock, or Haidoc, 23 Edw. III: Baines's Lanc. ii. 213.

Gilbert de Haydock, 1330: ibid. p. 206.
John de Haydok, 1379: Preston Guild Rolls, p. 3.
Manchester, 2; Liverpool, 2; New York, 9.

Haydon, Hayden, Heydon, Haydan, Haden.—Local, 'of Haydon,' parishes in cos. Dorset and Essex; also a chapelry in the parish of Warden, co. Northumberland.

Richard de Haydon, or Heydon, co. York, 1273. A.
John de Haydon, co. Soms., ibid.
Agnes de Heydone, co. Oxf., ibid.
Thomas de Heydon, co. Bucks, 20 Edw. I. R.

Philip de Haghdon, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 134.

1574. Francis Haydon or Heydon: Reg. Univ. Oxf. vol. ii. pt. iii. p. 42.

1586. Benjamin Heiden, ibid. i. 204.

1651. Married—Edward Sanderford and Anne Heydon: St. Mary Aldermay, p. 22.

1656. Bapt.—Joseph, s. Thomas and Sara Hayden: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 195.

1658.—Jane, d. Thomas and Sara Haydon: ibid. p. 201.
London, 12, 6, 1, 0, 6; New York, 4, 60, 2, 1, 6.

Hayhurst.—Local, 'of Hayhurst,' some spot in north-east Lancashire, in or near the parish of Ribchester, where the name has existed for centuries. The origin of the word is simple; v. Hay and Hurst, and cf. Haywood, which is a synonym.

Lawrence Hayhurst, of Ribchester, 1571: Lancashire Wills at Richmond, i. 143.

John Hayhurst, of Ribchester, 1672: ibid.
Eliz. Hayhurst, of Dutton, 1675: ibid.
Jane Hayhurst, of Preston, 1677: ibid.
Henry Hayhurst, of Dilworth, 1664: ibid.

MDB. (co. Chester), 2; Preston, 4; Manchester, 6; London, 1; Philadelphia, 6.

Hayland.—Local, 'at the hayland,' i.e. the enclosed land (v. Hay), from residence thereby.

Johannes de Hayland, co. Linc., 1273. A.

Johannes del Haland, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 156.

MDB. (co. Lincoln), 1.

Haylard, Aylard.—Bapt.; v. Allard.

1647. Thomas Lewes and Frances Highlrod: Marriage Lic. (Faculty Office), p. 35.
London, 1, 1.

Haylett, Haylock.—Bapt. 'the son of Heylot.' It is interesting to notice that Haylock runs side by side with Haylett in the several counties where alone the latter now flourishes as a surname, and where as a personal name it is first found. I cannot but consider it a corrupted form. Blomefield has an instance in Norwich, viz.:

Nicholas Heylakke, 1621: FF. iv. 480.
Heylot (without surname), co. Camb., 1273. A.

Emma Heylot, co. Hunts, ibid.
Robert Heylot, co. Bedf., ibid.
Nicholas Heylot, rector of Thurne, co. Norf., 1356: FF. xi. 179.

Daniel Heylet, rector of St. Michael at Pleas, Norwich, 1612: ibid. iv. 327.

William Heylett, vicar of Hevingham, co. Norf., 1658: ibid. vi. 380.

MDB. (Norfolk), 6, 1; (Essex), 1, 1; (Cambridge), 0, 9; London, 1, 9.

Hayley.—Local, 'of Hayley.' Seemingly some spot in co. Yorks.
Johannes de Heylelee, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 186.

Willelmus Haylay, 1379: ibid. p. 220.

1802. Married—Edward Hayley and Ann Abbott: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 253.
West Rid. (Yorks) Court Dir., 1; London, 2.

Hayling, Haylings.—Bapt. 'the son of Heilin'; v. Heylin. The g is excrement.

Haylock.—Bapt.; v. Haylett.

Hayman, Heyman.—(1) ? Offic. 'the hayman' (?), equivalent to Hayward or Heyward, q.v. (2) Bapt. 'the son of Hamon' or 'Hammon,' q.v. The d in Hammond is excrement. There can be little doubt that almost all our Haymans are descended from the once very popular personal name of Hamon. The corruption is purely imitative; for instance, we find a bailiff of Yarmouth, who occupied the office in two separate years, entered as follows:

1450. Haman Pulham: FF. xi. 325.
1454. Hamon Pulham: ibid.

In 1445, also, he is entered Haman; in 1459, Hamon; and in 1465, Haman. There can be no hesitation in accepting this derivation.

1636. Francis Spicer, cordwainer, and Eliz. Heyman: Marriage Lic. (London), ii. 226.

1682. Married—Peetur Heyman and Mary Browne: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 195.

London, 9, 0; New York, 15, 47.

Haymes.—Bapt. 'the son of Haym' or 'Hayms.' Probably a corruption of Hayn or Hayns; v. Hain, and cf. Hemming and Henning.

Hayms Wauter, prior of Blackburnh, co. Norf., c. 1180: FF. ix. 32.

Adam Haym, co. Dorset, 1273. A.

Richard Haym, co. Oxf., ibid.

London, 2.

Hayne, Haynes; v. Hain.

Haysler; v. Hastiler.

Haysom.—Local; v. Heysham.

Haystead; v. Hasteed.

Hayter.—Local, 'of Haytor,' a hundred in co. Devon.

John Haytour, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: Kirby's Quest, p. 169.

John Haytour, co. Soms., 1 Edw. III: p. 178.

1687. Bapt.—Elizabeth, d. John Heyter: Reg. Stourton, co. Wilts, p. 18.

1706.—John, son of Hugh Heyter: ibid. p. 21.

1726.—John, son of William Heytor: ibid. p. 25.

London, 11.

Haythornthwaite, Hathornthwaite.—Local, 'of Hawthornthwaite.' A North-English name; v. Thwaites.

MDB. (co. Lanc.), 4, 2.

Hayton.—Local, 'of Hayton': (1) a parish in co. Cumberland, eight miles from Carlisle; (2) a township in the parish of Aspatria, co. Cumberland; (3) a parish in co. Notts, three miles from East Retford.

MDB. (co. Cumberland), 23; London, 6; Philadelphia, 1.

Hayward, Haward.—(1) Offic. 'the hayward,' a keeper of cattle, literally 'hedge-watcher'; v. Hay or Hey. There were two kinds of Haywards: the hayward of the town or village, who kept the common cattle from straying or trespassing; and the hayward of the lord of the manor, or religious house. See Way's note, Prompt. Parv. p. 234.

'To the hayward of Portham Poolmead, . . . or of all the hay meadows near Gloucester.' Diss. of Glouc. Abbey, 31 Hen. VIII: Rudder's Glouc. pp. 140-1.

'Hayward. A keeper of the common herd of cattle of a town': Bailey's Dict.

(2) Bapt. 'the son of Haward.' For instances and proof, v. Howard.

Adam le Hayward, co. Devon, 1273. A.

Roger le Hayward, co. Bucks, ibid.

Alicia le Heyward, co. Hunts, ibid.

Robert le Heyward, co. Soms., 20 Edw.

I. R.

Nicholas le Hayward, c. 1300. M.

Robertus Hayward, 1379: P. T. Yorks.

p. 151.

Magota Hayward, 1379: ibid.

1598. Thomas Michael and Audrey

Hayward: Marriage Lic. (London), i.

255.

1615. Bapt.—Thomas, s. Richard Hayward: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, i. 73.

1619.—Michael, s. Richard Haward: ibid. p. 85.

1622.—John, s. Richard Hayward: ibid. p. 94.

London, 74, 11; New York, 35, 0; Philadelphia, 18, 0.

Haywood.—Local; v. Heywood.

Hazard; v. Hassard.

Hazeldine, Hazzledine.—Local, 'of the hazel-dean'; v. Hasleden, of which these are variants.

Hazell, Hazle, Hazel.—Local, (1) 'at the hazel,' i.e. the hazel-tree, from residence thereby; (2) 'of Hessele,' a township in the parish of Wragby, co. Yorks.

Cristiana de Hesill, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 119.

Willelmus de Hesill, 1379: ibid. p. 111.

Thomas Hesell, 1379: ibid. p. 75.

1788. Married—Joseph Hazle and

Martha Toms: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 10.

1805.—John Hazell and Sarah Gurney: ibid. p. 323.

London, 18, 3, 0; MDB. (co. Berks),

3, 0, 2.

Hazlegrove, Hesslegrave.—Local, 'at the hazel grove,' from residence thereby; v. Greaves.

London, 1, 0; West Riding Court Dir., 0, 1.

Hazlehurst.—Local, 'at the hazel hurst,' i.e. the hazel wood; v. Hurst and Hazlewood.

MDB. (co. Chester), 6.

Hazlewood, Haslewood, Heselwood, Haselwood.—Local, 'of Hazlewood,' parishes in diocs. Southwell and Norwich. Also Hazlewood, a township in the parish of Skipton, Yorks; and Hazlewood, a township in the parish of Tadcaster, Yorks.

Ricardus de Hesilwode, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 145.

Robertus de Heselwode, 1379: ibid. p. 140.

John Hesilwode, 1379: ibid. p. 142.

1553. Married—John Hasylwood and Katherine Weste: St. Michael, Cornhill, p. 6.

West Rid. Court Dir., 4, 0, 0, 1; London, 3, 2, 0, 0; York (Heselwood), 2.

Hazlitt, Hazlet, Hazlett, Haslet, Haslett.—Local, 'at the hazel head,' i.e. one who dwelt at the head of the hazel wood; cf. Akenhead (the head of the oaks) and Birkenhead (the head of the birks or birches). By corruption Birkenhead or Birkhead became Birkett, just as Beckhead (at the head of the beck, the stream) became Becket. In a similar way Hazelhead narrowed itself into Haslet, &c. Hazlehead is a hamlet in the parish of Thurlstone, W. Rid. Yorks; cf. Haselfoot (i.e. one who dwelt at the foot of the hazel wood), London Directory.—Three years after writing the above I came across :

1582. Roger Haslehead, rector of Croglin, co. Cumb. : Jefferson's Hist. of Leath Ward, p. 102.

London, 4, 2, 0, 0, 0; Philadelphia (U.S.), 3, 6, 41, 2, 13.

Heacock; v. Heathcoat or Heathcock, of which it is an abbreviation. Similarly Heathfield has become Heafeld.

1630. Married—Anthonie Hartley and Margery Heacocke: St. Jas. Clerkenwell, iii. 61.

1788.—John Stephenson and Eleanor Heacock: St. Geo. Han. Sq. ii. 10. London, 1; Philadelphia, 10.

Head.—Local, 'at the head,' from residence at the head of the wood, valley, stream, &c.; cf. Birkett for Birkhead (i.e. at the head of the birks or birches). Head is often found as a suffix in this sense; cf. Akenhead, Birkenhead, Muirhead; possibly sometimes a sign-name; v. Harp and Roebuck.

Thomas del Heved, co. Notts, 1273. Willelmus del Heued, 1379: P. T. Yorks. f. 233.

Cecilia del Heued, 1376: ibid. p. 228. London, 41; MDB. (co. Cumberland), 9; Philadelphia, 5.

Headham.—Local, 'of Headham,' a township in the parish of Gainford, co. Durham.

MDB. (co. Cumberland), 1; (co. Durham), 2; Crockford, 3.

Heading, Hedding, Hedden, Headen, Headdon.—Local, 'of Headdon' or 'Hedon,' parishes in dioc. Southwell and York.

Gerard de Hedon, co. Notts, 1273. A. Symon de Hedon, co. Notts, ibid. Nicholas de Hedon', co. Camb., ibid. Willelmus de Hedon, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 118.

London, 0, 0, 0, 2, 3; MDB. (co. Bedford), 1, 1, 0, 0, 0; (co. Berks), 2, 0, 3, 0, 0.

Headington.—Local, 'of Headington,' a parish in co. Oxford, half a mile from the University city.

Sibel de Hedindon, co. Oxf., 1273. A. William de Hedindon, co. Oxf., ibid. Nicholas de Hedintion, co. Berks, Hen. III.—Edw. I. K.

Osbert de Hedindon, co. Berks, ibid. Johannes de Hedyngton, 1379: P. T. Yorks. p. 73.

Thomas Heddington, 1579: Reg. Univ. Oxf. iii. 79.

